

Part E:

Advanced topics

Part E complements our study of object technology basics by exploring some more leading-edge, but equally important topics: concurrency, distribution, client-server computing and the Internet; persistence and databases; graphical interfaces.