Crosby was past his peak of popularity when 45s and LPs were introduced; while much of his material showed up on these formats, many of his 1930s and 1940s releases did not. The list below is exhaustive as to the availability of Bing's music on vinyl, but probably not complete; it's likely that other singles in the 23000, 24000 and 25000 series exist on 45s, as well as other EPs. —There are differences of opinion on this record. Some claim that it was released in 1954 not long after Gem 221; others claim that it's a 1970s reproduction on a number that Gem never used. As no 78s are known to exist of this title, we lean toward the latter, but would appreciate positive evidence one way or the other.				□ 44-04008	Spread Your Love/ Freedom of Choice	1983	6.00	WARNER BROS.

—Reissue mastered off the cracked Jubilee 78 (see below); the original master has long since disappeared				□ COL-5023	Greatest Hits	1985	10.00	45s
JUBILEE				CURTOM				SUN
□ 5104	Stormy Weather/Sleepy Cowboy	1952	—	□ 8002	Love's Happening	1969	20.00	□ 222	Sitting By My Window/ Don't Do That	1955	1200.
—Unknown on 45 RPM (3 known copies, one of which is cracked, exist on 78); all known 45s are counterfeits. Known counterfeits do not match the proper typeface of the era for the label, and the blue labels are too bright compared to authentic Jubilee 45s of the early 1950s. If a legitimate 45 would be confirmed, it could sell for more than any record ever made!				WINDY C				FIVE TRUMPETS, THE
FIVE SHARPS, THE (2) A completely different group than (1), they were assembled by Jubilee to record a new version of "Stormy Weather" in the midst of the hubbub about the first Five Sharps version. (For the full story, see The Complete Book of Doo-Wop by Gribin and Schiff, Krause Publications, 2000.)				□ 6000 [M]	The Five Stairsteps	1967	25.00	45s

—This was not released in the 1950s; this used the classic 1950s label, either as a lark or an attempt to fool gullible collectors. (Come on; would a group called the Five Shits ever made it onto record in the 1950s?)				NOTE				—Orange vinyl

something's on her mind

Is she looking at me, Is a feeling really happening? It's so easy to see something's on her mind.

Is she really as free, As the girl that she pretends to be? Does she know that I see something's on her mind?

Will she find a way to talk to me? Does she really want my company? Is she thinking like me? Does she wonder if I'm wondering? Is she trying to see something on my mind?

I may be a fool to let her go but I can't begin to tell her so. Does she wish he was me? Does she really want to be with him? Wonder if he can see something's on her mind.
