Author Acknowledgments

It's been a long, long process, but somehow we're all still sane. I'd like to thank everyone who's been involved with this project. You've all put in way too many hours, and lost an equal amount of sleep. Once again, Square's incredible staff has done an amazing job helping us put together this guide. Thanks go to Rick Thompson, Fernando Bustamante, and all of Square's Customer Support Reps (I wish I knew all of your names) for all of your assistance from beginning to end. As always, this book would not have been possible without your help. On behalf of everyone at BradyGAMES, I'd also like to thank Andrew Shiozaki and Jun Iwasaki for their help in acquiring materials from Japan and so much more.

To everyone at BradyGAMES, thanks for your hard work and patience. Tim Cox, once again somehow turned all of my text into a book. Michael Owen, whose office I invaded for a couple of weeks. Scott Watanabe, for understanding the direction of this book, and putting together a great design. Debra McBride, for her encouragement and sense of humor. Bob Klunder and Jane Washburne, for putting the book together and dealing with an impossible schedule. Doug Dlin, for assisting us with translations. Lynn Zingraf, Leigh Davis, and David Waybright, for seeing this book through.

Finally, I absolutely must thank my fiancée, Heather, for putting up with my disappearance for the past three months. I'll make it up to you.

Dedication

Last year proved to be one of the hardest years of my life. After losing two very dear family members, I didn't believe things could get any worse, but they did. Only a couple of months later I lost my closest companion and dearest friend. Words can't express the loss I feel.

Introduction to FINAL FANTASY® VIII

You're about to take part in an unimaginable quest to defeat an evil sorceress in a world you hardly know. Vile creatures lurk around every corner, and even your oldest friends can't be trusted. It looks like you're going to need all the help you can get.

Welcome to the Official FINAL FANTASY® VIII Strategy Guide. We've worked hard on this book, side by side with some of Squaresoft's finest, for months upon months to ensure this guide has everything you need to master Final Fantasy VIII. We're now proud to be able to bring all this information to you in what we feel is our best guide ever.

Right away, you might notice that the format of this guide is a bit different from others you may have seen. The information in the walkthrough has been broken down into smaller pieces to make it easier for you to find what you're looking for, and to help you get a better sense of the overall picture. Rather than smothering you with a hand-holding walkthrough, we've provided you with a list of the important objectives at each stage of the game. This has enabled us to keep the text to the point, plus it helps to prevent us from giving away the plot. In fact, our goal is for you to be able to read a section of the guide and know exactly what you need to do, without knowing anything about the surrounding plot lines.

Here's a quick rundown of what you'll find in the guide:

Game Basics: A quick refresher on the basic mechanics of the Final Fantasy world. This is a good section to read when you're first getting started.

Character Section: Everything you could ever want to know about each of the major players in Final Fantasy VIII. This is where you'll learn about each character's Limit Break and Weapons.

Walkthrough: Our new "experiment" in walkthroughs. We think you'll find this section much easier to follow than other strategy guides. We've done our best to ensure that you have absolutely everything you need to not just beat the game, but to destroy the game!

Items: A complete list of the items available in Final Fantasy VIII. You'll also find information on how you can use and refine the various items into other items and magic spells. Keep this section close by, because it will come in handy.

Guardian Forces: If you know Final Fantasy, you know all about summoning creatures to aid you in battle. Final Fantasy VIII takes this idea to the next level with the introduction of Guardian Forces. Not only do they help you in battle, they determine nearly everything about your character. Discover how you can turn an everyday mercenary into a legendary hero through the art of Junctioning.

Magic: Final Fantasy VIII introduces the brand new Draw System. Even if you've played a Final Fantasy game before, you'll want to check out this section and learn all about the new spells and effects.

Card Game: Learn more about Triple Triad, Final Fantasy VIII's built-in card game. Not only is this game fun, it can make a huge difference in how fast you build up your party. Plus, you'll find out how to get every single rare card.

Side Quests and Secrets: No Final Fantasy would be complete without a few Side Quests, and this game has more than ever. Check out the cool Alien Encounter, and discover the hidden Deep Sea Research Center.

Bestiary: You won't believe this section until you see it. This is by far THE MOST COMPLETE bestiary you've ever seen. Anything and everything you could possibly want to know is here. You can even learn which monsters can boost your favorite character's stats using the new Devour ability.

Maps: Having trouble finding your way around? This map section will guide you through and make it easier to find hidden draw points and secret rooms.

So, what are you still reading this for? Get back to the greatest RPG of all time and come back here when you need us. Remember that half the fun of a Final Fantasy game is discovering new things and figuring out the game on your own. Try to avoid reading ahead, and even consider playing through the game once on your own before using this guide. We want you to enjoy this guide, but we want you to enjoy Final Fantasy VIII even more.

Final Fantasy VIII Basics

This chapter will provide some of the basics of playing Final Fantasy VIII. Topics include exploring in and out of towns and dungeons, using the Draw System, building up characters, collecting and refining items, and battling enemies.

Final Fantasy VIII has a wonderful built-in Tutorial in the Main Menu. I suggest you check it out to learn even more about the game.

Basics of Exploration

A large part of any Final Fantasy game is exploring towns, dungeons, mountains, and any other place important people or objects might be hiding. Why is this so important? Because talking to people will help you to better understand the events going on around you. As rich as the story line is, speaking with the people of a village under attack by a horde of misguided soldiers will help you better understand the who, what, why, and where of it all. It's one thing to know that a giant machine is damaging some buildings, but think about how much more moving the plot becomes when you find out what an impact the destruction has had on the townspeople.

Besides just building the plot and enriching the characters, talking also helps guide you through the game. Sometimes you may get stuck out in the open without any real guidance, but speaking with just a few people may help you realize what your next move should be.

People you meet will also sometimes try to assist you by giving you items or leading you to hidden objectives off the main plot. Usually, such items and sub quests offer players huge advantages over those who choose not to partake in them or completely overlook them. No matter how you look at it, exploration is a vital part of Final Fantasy VIII, and you should never be afraid to go looking for alternatives to what you're being told.

Here are some basic things you should keep in mind while exploring:

- Use Save Points often when inside dungeons and cities. When on the World Map, make sure you save before entering any new location. This will save you a lot of frustration in the long run.
- Talk to everyone, and then talk to them again. Most people have more than one thing to say. Never assume that someone has told you everything they have to tell. You should periodically return and speak with various people to see if their reactions have changed.
- Keep a close eye on your characters' stats. You never know when you might run into a nasty creature. Always try to keep everyone reasonably healthy, and keep a good supply of items that remove abnormal status effects just in case you need them.
- Consider keeping multiple saved games. There may be a time when you want to return to a part in the game to get something that you missed or to relive a particularly cool scene. You might even want to try a different approach to a Boss fight or something similar. Use an entire memory card just for Final Fantasy VIII, if you can swing it.
- The enemies in Final Fantasy VIII level up as your characters level up. If you spend a lot of time fighting in one area, you'll soon notice that your enemies are growing stronger and are learning new tricks and spells.
- Some save points are considered to be "Hidden," meaning they're invisible. You can see these Save Points by Junctioning an active character with the Move-Find ability.

Improving Your Characters

This aspect of the game works a bit differently from past Final Fantasy games. Characters still gain experience by defeating enemies, and then level up when they reach a predetermined amount of accumulated experience points. However, now all that is required to go up a level is 1000 experience points, regardless of the level you're trying to achieve. The flip side to this is that your characters' stats increase less from level to level than they have in past Final Fantasy games.

This being the case, you'll have to rely more on Junctioning with Guardian Forces (GFs), which is discussed later in this book. By Junctioning, you can quickly raise a character's stats, but what you raise and by how much is determined largely by the GFs you have and the magic you've stocked. This also means that you must decide which stats and characters you want to give priority to, and which ones you'll choose to ignore. Overall, this enables you to do a great deal of customization, but getting your characters to where you want them to be is very time consuming and requires a great deal of patience.

One aspect of character improvement you have a large amount of control over is the remodeling of weapons. Remodeling requires that you collect specific items in certain amounts. It also requires the assistance of a Junk Shop or the Junk Shop ability. Remodeling isn't expensive, but it can be difficult to find the items you need to remodel your weapons.

One of the best ways to find these items is to collect cards, which you can do by playing Triple Triad with various people in the game. Then after collecting some cards, you can use the Card Mod ability to transform the cards into the necessary items. However, some items you'll have to find, steal, or get by defeating enemies. Refer to each individual character's section for more information on upgrading that character's weapons.

Things to keep in mind about improving your characters:

- There are items and abilities that can increase a character's stats over time or immediately. "Up" items (i.e. Str Up, Spr Up) can raise a specific stat by one point. Characters can Junction "Bonus" abilities (i.e. HP Bonus, Mag Bonus) that boost a particular stat each time the Junctioned character goes up a level. You can even use the Devour ability to slowly raise some stats by eating just the right enemies.
- As the spells you collect improve, you should take a moment and examine each character's stats to ensure that your party is optimally Junctioned. If you don't want to waste time, you can have the game do this for you automatically by selecting the "Auto" function.
- Characters who don't take part in battles, don't receive experience points. You should avoid letting a single character get too far behind everyone else.
- Although Weapons Monthly Magazines will tell you about new weapons, you don't have to have them to remodel any particular weapon. All you need is the proper items in your inventory, and the option to remodel will appear whether or not you've seen the weapon in a magazine. So, technically, you could get the best weapons in the game as early as Disc Two as long as you know what items you're looking for and where to find them.

The Draw System

You'll soon learn that Final Fantasy VIII's Draw System is unique in a lot of ways. Magic Points (MP) are a thing of the past. A magic user is no longer limited to the spells his/her class or job type can learn. Rather, magic is "drawn" from enemies, Draw Points, and refined from items. Outside of battle, you can stock magic for later use. In battles, you can draw magic for immediate use or completely stock up on powerful spells that you can later Junction with a Guardian Force.

Before you get started, you should learn about Draw Points. These are blue/white or purple/white points found in various locations around the world. A character Junctioned with a Draw command can stock magic from a Draw Point for later use. Each Draw Point is unique. Some have weak magic, while others contain forbidden spells that are much more difficult to find. After using a Draw Point, it may take a while before you can draw from it again. This varies a great deal from Draw Point to Draw Point. Some refill almost immediately, while others may never fill again.

There are three types of Draw Points noted in this book: Seen, Unseen, and Hidden.

Seen Draw Points are those you'll see without special aid. Unseen Draw Points are those that are tucked away behind something, like a book shelf. Although Unseen Draw Points may not be visible to you, it doesn't mean that they're invisible. They are typically the hardest kind to find. Hidden Draw Points are usually out in the open, but they're invisible to the naked eye. To locate them, you must either randomly search an area, or Junction the Move-Find ability on an active character, which turns all Hidden Draw Points into Seen Draw Points. Knowing these terms will help you a great deal in using this book. Draw Points tend to provide anywhere from 1 to 15 of a spell. This is often determined by the Draw Point's refill rate and by the length of time since you last drew magic from it.

Refining magic from items requires special Guardian Force abilities. There are many different types, such as T Mag-RF and Mid Mag-RF. T Mag-RF enables you to refine Thunder magic from some items. Mid Mag-RF enables you to refine mid-level spells from low-level spells. For example, you can transform 5 Thunder spells into one Thundara spell using the Mid Mag-RF ability. Overall, this is the most efficient way to build up your magic stock, because it often enables you to get spells way before you could draw them from an enemy.

The most common way to build up your magic stock is to draw them from enemies. During battle, you can use the Draw command to absorb magic from an enemy. The number drawn from an enemy varies from as much as 9 to as little as 1. It's possible that an attempt at drawing may fail. This is usually due to a character's low magic skill, but can sometimes be caused by the type of magic. Higher level magic is much tougher to draw than lower level magic.

Some more things you should know about the Draw System:

- As monsters level up, their spell inventory changes. Higher level monsters carry better magic than their lower level cohorts.
- You can find Draw Points on the World Map. Check places like train tunnels, bends along an island coast, tips of peninsulas, and bridges. These Draw Points are ALWAYS hidden, and you can't see them even if you have the Move/Find ability equipped.
- Enemies can draw magic from your party members. This is a very rare occurrence, but some enemies can draw magic from you and cast it on your party. Others simply draw magic from you and "eat" it. It's also possible for a stock of a spell to be completely blown away.
- There is a limit as to how much magic you can carry. A character can carry 100 of a single spell and 32 different spells. If you start to get overloaded, give some of your weaker magic to inactive characters, or refine it into stronger magic. You can also throw spells away by simply using the ○ button.

Acquiring and Using Items

There are a ton—and I do mean a ton—of items in Final Fantasy VIII. Items come in all sorts of forms, and can be used in many ways. However, the most significant change is that you can refine some items into other items. It typically takes a large stock of an item to do any refining, but acquiring items has also been made easier from other Final Fantasy games.

Most items are gained after battles. Defeated enemies will often drop one or more of an item. The item an enemy drops depends on its level and pure luck. Eventually, you'll also learn how to steal items from your enemies using the Mug ability. This makes it all the more easier to quickly amass a large stock of some of the easier-to-find items. Keep in mind that the items you can steal from an enemy can be very different from the items that they drop.

A more efficient way of getting items is to refine them from cards. Using the Card Mod ability, you can quickly acquire hard-to-find items. If you're willing to put the effort into it, you can actually upgrade weapons earlier and teach Quistis several types of Blue Magic.

Other things you should know about items:

- The maximum number you can hold of any one item is 100. Any time you have 100 of an item, and you acquire more of that item in battle, the additional items are lost. If you have 100 of an item you don't use much, consider refining it into something else or selling some of your stock.
- Enemies can have as many as four items that they randomly drop. The items an enemy drops depends on its level. To determine its level, simply Scan the enemy in battle to check its level. Using this information, you can then refer to the Bestiary to determine which item the enemy will drop at that particular level.

Basics of Battling

Battles play a huge role in all Final Fantasy games. The fate of an entire world often relies upon the outcome of a single battle against a seemingly unstoppable foe. In the early stages of the game, you'll have a good chance to learn how battles work and how to develop a routine you use for certain situations. As you delve deeper into the game, you should work on your speed and setup. By the end of the game, you should be able to fly through menus and quickly locate any item, spell, or ability. It may not seem like much, but the speed at which you act can make a huge difference in some cases.

At the beginning of a battle there are several things that can happen:

First Strike	Your party has the jump on the enemy and can attack first, or run away in some cases.
Struck First	The enemy has the jump on your party, and can attack first or run away.
Back Attack	Either the good guys or the bad guys have sneaked up on the other, resulting in a free shot at their opponents' backs. Any attack against a character's backside causes twice the normal damage.

All of these situations are random occurrences, but you can increase or decrease the odds with certain Guardian Force abilities. Obviously, catching an enemy in either of these situations is a great advantage, but being caught in such situations can be deadly.

When a character's HPs have been reduced to a fourth of his/her normal amount, the gauge will turn yellow as a warning that you desperately need to heal that character. More importantly, it also indicates that the character in question is set to perform a Limit Break. However, these Limit Breaks differ a bit from Final Fantasy VII, where Limit Breaks were built up over time as an enemy repeatedly struck a character. This is great for you, because it enables you to use it to your advantage.

By keeping a character's HPs in the yellow, that character can almost always use his/her Limit Break every turn. Don't get too excited though; by doing so, you are risking death so this tactic isn't recommended during tougher fights.

Now just because your character's HPs are in the yellow doesn't mean that the Limit Break will always be available. Instead, there's just a chance that it will appear. The odds are directly linked to the amount of HPs a character has remaining. For example, a character with 50 HPs will almost always get a Limit Break whereas a character with 500 HPs will not. So how do you beat the system? It's easy. When a character's ATB (Active Time Bar) fills, tap the  button if that character's Limit Break doesn't appear. In effect, this skips the character and gives him/her a second chance. However, don't press too quickly, or you may miss the Limit Break if it appears. Each character's Limit Breaks are different. Refer to the individual character sections for more details.

During battle, there are many abnormal status effects that can be afflicted on your party and on the enemy. The following is a list of the various types:

Status Effect	Symptom	Cure
Silence	Victim can no longer use magic or summon GFs	Echo Screen (item), Esuna (magic)
Confusion	Victim loses all sense of reality and begins randomly attacking any target, even itself)	Remedy (item), Esuna (magic)
Poison	Victim loses HPs each time it performs an action during battle	Antidote (item), Esuna (magic)
Berserk	Victim loses control and goes into a mad rage; character can only use physical attacks and cannot pick targets. Attack strength and player speed is increased slightly	Remedy (item), Esuna (magic)
Slow	Victim's speed is cut in half	Remedy (item), Esuna (magic), Haste (magic)
Blind	Victim loses sight, and hit rate is drastically reduced	Eye Drops (item), Esuna (magic)
Slow Death	A counter appears over the victim's head. If it reaches zero before the end of the battle, the character is knocked out	Dispel (magic)
Petrify	Victim is turned to stone	Soft (item), Esuna (magic)
Zombie	Victim becomes an undead creature	Holy Water (item), Esuna (magic)
Slow Petrify	A counter appears over the victim's head. If it reaches zero before the end of the battle, the character is petrified	Soft (item), Esuna (magic)
Sleep	Victim is put to sleep and cannot act; HPs are not restored	Esuna (magic)
Curse	Victim cannot use Limit Breaks	Holy Water (item), Esuna (magic)
Defense Cut	Victim receives double damage from physical attacks	Esuna (magic)

Other things you should know about battles:

- You can escape from battles by holding down the R2 and L2 buttons on your controller. However, you cannot escape from all battles.
- Pressing the  button skips a "ready" character so that you can get to another character whose ATB has filled.
- Holding down the  button will automatically select the attack option and target the closest enemy. If you have the Cursor: Memory option selected in the Configuration menu, it will select the character's last action. Very, very handy.
- You can remove an enemy's positive status effects (such as Haste, Regen, Double, Reflect, Triple, Protect, Shell, and Aura) by using Dispel magic.

The SeeD Rank

Earning Gil is done a bit differently in Final Fantasy VIII than it was in Final Fantasy VII. Once Squall becomes a SeeD, Balamb Garden pays him a regular salary. In the past, you had to pick up Gil after hard-fought battles. The amount he's paid is based on his SeeD Rank, which is a numeric ranking based on his actions taken throughout the game.

The Dollet Field Exam close to the start of the game determines Squall's initial SeeD Rank. There are seven categories Squall is rated on during the exam. Each one is worth the same amount, but the scores are determined very differently. You'll find the details on each category and how its score is determined in the following information.

As the game progresses, Squall's SeeD Rank will fluctuate depending on his actions. It can rise or fall depending on the decisions you've made, your actions during some battles, and how many enemies you've defeated. It can take some time for your SeeD Rank to increase to the well-paid levels, but you can quickly raise it by taking a series of SeeD Written Tests.

Written Tests are found in your submenu under the Tutorial heading. Each test is comprised of 10 true/false questions based on the world of Final Fantasy VIII. You must answer all 10 questions correctly to raise Squall's SeeD Rank by one. There is no penalty for failing a Written Test, and you can take each test as many times as necessary to pass.

Each Written Test is assigned a level. Squall can take tests up to the level he is currently at himself. For example, if Squall is at Level 15 he can take Written Tests of Level 15 or lower. There are a total of 30 tests, and you can only pass each test once, so don't take any tests you don't have to when maxing out Squall's salary. You may want to retake some tests later if Squall's SeeD Rank takes a sudden dive.

SeeD Ranking Chart

This table discusses how Squall's initial SeeD Rank is determined. SeeD Rank fluctuations are not all based on similar parameters.

Conduct

The Dollet Mission Event determines your Conduct score. The points are determined by how much time remains on the clock when you reach the beach during the evacuation.

Remaining Time	Points
25:00+	100
24:59~24:00	90
23:59~23:00	80
22:59~20:00	70
19:59~19:00	60
18:59~17:00	50
16:59~15:00	40
14:59~10:00	30
9:59~6:00	20
5:59~3:00	10
2:59~0:00	0

Judgement

Judgement is based on the Fire Cavern Event. The less time there is on the clock when you defeat Ifrit, the better your score will be.

Remaining Time	Points
0:00~0:07	100
0:08~0:29	90
0:30~0:59	80
1:00~1:59	70
2:00~2:59	60
3:00~9:59	50
10:00~10:59	40
11:00~11:59	30
12:00~12:59	20
13:00~13:59	10
14:00~14:59	5

Attack

The number of enemies your party defeated during the Dollet Mission Event determines your Attack score. This number does not include enemies defeated by Guardian Forces. Even if an enemy's HP reaches zero more than once during a battle (ie. X-ATM092), only the first time will contribute to the total.

Enemies Defeated	Points
75+	100
25~74	80
15~24	50
10~14	20

Spirit

It's possible to only fight X-ATM092 once during the Dollet Field Exam. After the initial escape from X-ATM092 at the Communications Tower, you'll run for two screens. When you reach the screen with the downward slope, press the ● button to walk instead of run. This will keep the party from being stunned and avoids a second battle against X-ATM092.

Times Escaped	Points
2	70
3~4	50
5~9	30

Attitude

Many things determine attitude:

- 1) The number of people you talk to during the Dollet Field Exam. There is a one point deduction per conversation. This includes talking to people in Balamb. If you talk to Biggs, you will lose two points.

Note

You are not required to initiate conversation at ANY time. The only exception however, occurs when you're with Seifer in Dollet's town square.

- 2) A one point deduction is taken each time you attempt to go toward the Communication Tower before Seifer commands you to do so.
- 3) Each time you jump off the cliff shortcut to reach the Communication Tower (Selphie's shortcut), you receive a five point deduction.
- 4) You lose 10 points if you fail to save the dog while passing through Dollet's town square during your escape from Dollet. Speak with the dog to help it escape.
- 5) If you run into the Cafe to escape from the X-ATM092, you lose 20 points.

Total Deductions	Points
1~8	80
9~13	70
14~17	50
18~24	30
25+	10

Bonus

You will receive a 100 point bonus if you destroy the X-ATM092 (bring its HP to zero). Depending on your level, it has anywhere from 5500 to 6500 HP. It is only possible to destroy it on the bridge.

Useful Commands You Should Know

Run from Battle

Press and hold R2 + L2 until the party runs or you see a message saying you can't run.

Soft Reset

Pause the game and press and hold L1 + L2 + R1 + R2 + Select and press the Start button. The game will fade out and return to the title screen.

Discard Magic

In the Magic Menu inside the Main Menu, select the use option and highlight a spell, and then press the  button to discard the highlighted magic.

Removing Junctioned Magic

In the Junction screen, highlight a Junctioned magic and press the  button.

Remove Battle Displays

During a battle, hold the Select button to make all of the battle display boxes disappear. When you release the button, the boxes will reappear.

Battle Menus

Turn on extra text boxes to assist with targeting by pressing the L1 button during a battle. Pressing L1 a second time turns off the extra boxes.

View Statuses

In battle when you attempt to remove abnormal status effects using magic, items, or abilities a side box appears showing one of the abnormal status effects on the character. You can view the other abnormal effects by pressing the  button, which causes the window to cycle through the abnormal statuses.

Auto Pilot for Ragnarok

While riding in the Ragnarok, open the large World Map and highlight your destination. Press the  button and choose "Yes" and the Ragnarok will pilot itself. You may cancel the auto pilot option by pressing the  button.

Automatic Attack & Draw

In the Configuration Menu, set the Cursor option to Memory. During battle, you can then repeat the action you last took with a character by simply holding down the  button. This is extremely handy when stocking up on magic.

Scan Camera Controls

After using Scan magic, you will see a model of the enemy you targeted. You may manipulate the model using the commands below:

Rotate model	Directional Pad or Analog Stick (not all models rotate)
Zoom	Hold R1 or L1 and use Directional Pad or Analog Stick
Reset	Press L1 and L2 simultaneously

Squall Leonhart

Squall uses a sword called the Gunblade. This rare weapon takes many, many years to master and is therefore rarely used. Currently, there is only one other Gunblade user in Balamb Garden—Seifer Almasy. With the Gunblade, Squall can unleash his special skill, Renzokuken, a deadly series of punishing attacks sometimes followed by a powerful ending move. In the eyes of others, Squall is seen as a silent, cold person. Having this perceived image is fine by him.

Age: 17
Height: 5' 8"

Using Squall's Gunblade

As Squall attacks an enemy, you can significantly raise the damage caused by the attack by pressing the R1 button just before he makes contact. The timing is tricky at first, but soon it will become second nature. A good audio clue is to listen for the swipe of Squall's Gunblade. When you hear it, press R1. This can also be used to enhance Seifer's Gunblade attacks at the beginning of the game.

Squall's Limit Break: Renzokuken

The Renzokuken is a series of Gunblade attacks that cause big damage. When the Limit Break begins, a bar appears at the bottom of the screen. As the light moves across the bar, press R1 when the light enters the small box near the end. Pressing R1 at the right time results in a much stronger attack. If you miss, Squall will still attack, but the attack will be much weaker.

This function can be set to Auto in Squall's Status Screen if you're not comfortable with pressing R1. You can also turn off the indicator box, and attempt to press R1 at the proper time without the indicator's assistance.

At the end of Squall's Renzokuken, an ending attack will sometimes randomly occur. There are four possible ending attacks. Which ending attacks Squall can perform depend upon the weapon he's carrying at that time.

Rough Divide

Squall finishes his Limit Break by charging at a single enemy and performing a rising slash.

Fated Circle

After leaping into the air, Squall twirls his Gunblade and releases a shockwave of energy that hits all enemies.

Blasting Zone

A column of light shoots out of Squall's Gunblade, which he uses to crush his foes.

Lion Heart

Squall knocks a single enemy into the air, and then unleashes a devastating flurry of attacks. This is Squall's strongest Limit Break in the game.

Rinoa Heartilly

A member of the Timber resistance group "Forest Owls," Rinoa fights against the Galbadian President, Vinzer Deling, whose dictatorship has caused great suffering in her homeland for far too long. Rinoa is very emotional, and tends to go with her gut feeling when acting. Her best friend is her dog, Angelo, who often rushes into battle to help Rinoa when she's in trouble.

Rinoa's Limit Break: Combine

Rinoa actually has two different types of Limit Breaks: Angelo and Angel Wing. She begins the game with Angelo, but will receive the Angel Wing Limit Break during Disc Three.

Angelo

Rinoa's pet dog, Angelo, comes to her aid in times of need. Angelo can also show up randomly during battles without being called or just to lend a helping hand. Rinoa can teach Angelo new tricks by finding or purchasing copies of Pet Pals Magazine. Each issue contains one new trick. Read the magazine, and the trick will be added to Angelo's status screen within Rinoa's status screen in the Main menu.

To teach Angelo a trick, access the Angelo status screen and select a trick with an empty or partly filled bar next to it. Tricks with full red bars have already been learned, and can be used in battle. As Rinoa explores the world, the trick will slowly be learned. Keep listening for a confirmation noise, which indicates that Angelo has mastered the trick. You can then select another trick to learn, if one is available.

Angel Wing

Angel Wing is similar to the Berserk status effect. The main difference is that instead of only performing physical attacks, Rinoa will only use magic. Basically, you lose control of Rinoa for the remainder of the battle even if she's K.O.'ed and then revived. Her magic power and speed are boosted slightly to provide her more power. The spells she uses are picked randomly and targeted randomly. Any magic she casts does not come from your stocked magic.

Angelo's Tricks

Trick Name	Learned In...	Trick Effect
Angelo Rush	Starts With	Damages one enemy/random counterattack
Angelo Recover	Pet Pals Vol.2	Restore HP to a party member with low HP/random event
Angelo Reverse	Pet Pals Vol.4	Revive party member from KO/random event
Angelo Search	Pet Pals Vol.5	Find items on the battlefield/random event
Angelo Cannon	Starts With	Damages all enemies/when called
Angelo Strike	Pet Pals Vol.1	Damage one enemy/when called
Invincible Moon	Pet Pals Vol.3	Make all party members invincible/when called
Wishing Star	Pet Pals Vol.6	Damage all enemies/when called

Quistis Treppe

Age: 18
Height: 5' 6"
DoB: October 4
Blood Type: A
Weapon: Chain Whip
Special Skill: Blue Magic

The whip is Quistis' weapon of choice. But when faced with a dangerous situation, she relies more upon Blue Magic. Quistis is much admired in Balamb Garden, and her admirers have even formed a fan club known as the "Trepies." She's a bit of a child prodigy considering she's the youngest instructor at the Garden. However, her actions toward her students sometimes betray her age and undermine her authority, as she lacks the stern demeanor of most Garden staff.

Quistis' Limit Break: Blue Magic

Blue Magic is basically the same as an enemy skill. If you're a Final Fantasy veteran, this should seem very familiar. Final Fantasy V had the Blue Mage job class. Final Fantasy VI (III in the states) had a character named Gau, who would leap onto the enemies' backs, and learn their attacks. In Final Fantasy VII, there was an Enemy Skill Materia that enabled a character to learn an enemy skill after getting hit with it. Obtaining Blue Magic is done a bit differently in Final Fantasy VIII, but the basic idea remains the same.

By finding special items, you can teach Quistis a new Blue Magic skill. These items can be dropped by or stolen from monsters, made using the Card Mod ability, or refined from other items.

Zell Dincht

Zell, a master of close-combat fighting skills, uses kicks and punches to defeat his enemies. Zell also has a great passion for the hot dogs that are sold in Balamb Garden's cafeteria. Never one to cause problems to others, Zell's abundant energy, wild temper, and reactionary style sometimes get him into trouble. People in his hometown of Balamb view him as a "comic-bookish" type of hero, or a klutzy, poorly behaved person.

Zell's Limit Break: Duel

Relying completely on his powerful fists, Zell has developed a fighting style that's all his own. When his HP drops, Zell goes into high gear and nails his opponents with a powerful custom-made combo.

When the game begins, Zell only knows five basic attacks. Throughout the game, Zell can learn new attacks by locating issues of a magazine called Combat King. Each issue will teach Zell a new move.

Combat King Locations

Combat King 001	In a cell on the first floor of the D-District Prison
Combat King 002	Defeat Fujin and Raijin in Balamb
Combat King 003	Get from Zell's girlfriend in Balamb (see Secrets)
Combat King 004	Get from an Esthar Soldier in Esthar (see Disc Three walkthrough)
Combat King 005	Found in Lunatic Pandora during Disc Three (see Disc Three walkthrough)

NOTE

You can buy all the Combat Kings during Disc Three from the Esthar Book Store as long as you have taught the Tonberry GF the Familiar ability.

When the Duel Limit Break is selected, a window appears at the bottom of the screen showing all of the available attacks. To the right is the time limit for the combo. If you don't enter an ending attack before the time limit expires, the combo will end on its own. As you enter attacks, the main window will disappear and reappear with a new set of attacks. Typically, there are two to three options in each window. Sometimes only two moves appear in the window, but you'll notice a blank spot at the bottom. At these times, you can input the Punch Rush (● ●) rather than the two options that appear in the box.

Initially, this may seem difficult, but after learning the attacks you will have no trouble. The following chart lists combo strings that lead to ending attacks. Use these to boost your speed, because you'll know exactly what to press next before the options even appear. You can also set Zell's Duel attacks to Auto in Zell's Status Screen.

Selphie Tilmitt

Selphie is a recent transfer student to Balamb Garden. She grew up in Trabia Garden, located deep in the mountains on the northern continent. Her outgoing personality and sincerity have earned her many friends at Balamb and Trabia Gardens. Currently, she is busy trying to organize the Garden Celebration between training sessions. When fighting, Selphie uses giant Nunchaku and special magic that includes several unique spells.

Selphie's Limit Break: Slot

Early in the game, Selphie's Limit Break is extremely valuable because it enables you to access spells you probably won't see elsewhere for quite some time. In addition, Selphie has several types of magic that can't be found anywhere else in the game:

Full-Cure

In early Boss fights, this spell will come in handy as it completely restores your entire party's HP.

Wall

This spell casts Protect and Shell on all party members. It's a great defensive spell, but kind of rare.

Rapture

Rather than causing damage to an opponent, Rapture attaches angel wings to the enemy's back and flies it right out of the battle. This spell is also rare, and doesn't work against Bosses.

The End

This is Selphie's strongest Limit Break, and perhaps the best one in the game. When Selphie casts this spell, the enemy is taken to a serene field of flowers, where it is put to rest. The End works on regular enemies and Bosses, however, it doesn't affect undead enemies. The End is the most difficult Limit Break to get in Selphie's Slot menu. Your chances of getting it increase when Selphie's level is very high, and when she's in danger of getting knocked out.

When you select Slot, a menu opens in the bottom-left corner of the screen. You'll then see a spell with a number next to it. The spell shown is what will be cast if you choose the cast option; the number indicates how many times the spell will be cast. If you want, choose the "Do Over" command to receive a different spell and number. Targeting of the spells is completely random, but Selphie will not cast protective/curative magic on enemies or attack magic on allies.

Irvine Kinneas

Irvine is touted as an expert marksman who can use special ammo to attack enemies. He puts on airs and attempts to convince those around him that he's a misunderstood loner, an image he uses to his advantage when courting female students. However, when placed in a pressure situation, he tends to shed his tough exterior and quickly loses his composure.

Irvine's Limit Break: Shot

When in trouble, Irvine loads his weapon with special ammunition and assaults his opponents with a hail of bullets. After selecting Shot, choose the type of ammo you want Irvine to use. Consider your enemy before choosing. Do you need the wide-spread damage of Shotgun Ammo, or a powerful punch against a tough beast?

When the Shot Limit Break begins, two windows appear. The one on the left shows which enemy(s) you're targeting. Move the cursor up and down to switch targets while shooting. The window on the right indicates how much ammo is remaining, and the time before the Limit Break ends.

Normal Ammo (Normal Shot)

Inflicts a moderate amount of damage on one enemy, and reloads at an average speed. You can shift your aim between several targets while using this type of Ammo.

Shotgun Ammo (Scatter Shot)

Similar to Normal Ammo, Shotgun Ammo hits every enemy on-screen with each shot.

Dark Ammo (Dark Shot)

Similar to Normal Ammo, but each time you hit an enemy you have a chance of causing several abnormal status effects (Sleep, Blind, Poison, Silence, etc.)

Fire Ammo (Flame Shot)

This fire elemental ammo causes damage to all enemies on-screen. Effective against enemies weak against fire, but doesn't work well on enemies resistant to fire magic. It will heal enemies that absorb fire magic.

Demolition Ammo (Canister Shot)

Although it has a slow load time, it packs a strong punch. Its downside is that you can only target one enemy at a time, although you can still cycle through targets.

Fast Ammo (Quick Shot)

Think machine gun. It's not very strong, but you can quickly unload about 25 rounds into a group of enemies. This ammo's speed makes up for its lack of power. Just make sure you have a healthy supply, or you'll quickly run out.

AP Ammo (Armor Shot)

Armor Piercing (AP) Ammo is much better than the similar Demolition Ammo. It's stronger than Demolition Ammo and the firing rate is much faster.

Pulse Ammo (Hyper Shot)

This is by far the best ammo you can find. It causes maximum damage to a single enemy, and has a great fire rate. Unfortunately, it's difficult to come by.

You can find, buy, or refine ammo. You need to refine most of the good stuff from rare items. Just make sure you keep an ample supply around, because you don't want to run out in the middle of a critical battle.

Note

You can save some ammo by watching the damage each shot causes. If your shots stop causing damage, the enemy no longer has any HP. Press the  button to stop shooting.

Laguna Loire

Laguna is an energetic man with a big heart. Although a bit of a klutz, he's a strong leader who inspires a great deal of loyalty and respect from those around him. His weapon of choice is a machine gun, which can fire multiple shots at enemies posing a threat to his party members. Although he dreams of someday starting a writing career, he's currently serving in the Galbadian Army.

Laguna's Limit Break: Desperado

Laguna tosses a hand grenade, and then empties a few clips of ammo at his enemy before bailing out. This attack hits multiple enemies.

Kiros Seagill

One of Kiros' most distinguishing features are the sharp blades, called Katal, which he wears on both arms. His fighting style is also unique, just like his weapon. He has a very caring personality and a sharp wit. Little is known about Kiros, except that he fights alongside Laguna in Galbadia's Army.

Kiros' Limit Break: Blood Pain

Using his deadly Katal, Kiros goes into a frenzy of quick attacks, causing incredible damage to a single opponent.

Ward Zabac

Ward is a big, powerful man. He carries with him an unusually heavy weapon, the Harpoon, which he throws at attacking enemies. Just like Kiros, Ward has been assigned to fight alongside Laguna in the Galbadian Army. His devotion to his friends is unwavering.

Age: 25
Height: 7' 0"
DoB: February 25

Edea

Very little is known about Edea, other than the fact that she has inherited the Sorceress Power at some point in her life. She only recently appeared for the first time, and seems to be working with Vinzer Deling, the Galbadian President. Her true intentions are unclear, but it seems unlikely that she will bring peace to the warring nation of Galbadia.

SeeD Ranking

As you begin the game, you begin earning or losing points toward your SeeD Ranking that you'll be given later in the game. The SeeD Rankings are broken down into several categories: Conduct, Judgement, Attack, Spirit, and Attitude. Your SeeD Ranking is determined by many factors; the choices you make, the time you spend exploring between missions, how well you obey orders, and by the number of enemies you defeat. If you want to achieve a high SeeD Rank later, you'll need to abide by these factors for now. Check out the SeeD Ranking secrets on p.9 for more information.

Exploring the Garden

The Classroom

At the start of the game simply follow Squall's instructor, Quistis Trepe, until she releases everyone from class. Speak with the other students, and then return to Squall's desk and access the Study Panel. Select the Tutorial section titled "new" and you'll automatically receive your first two Guardian Forces (GF), Quetzacotl and Shiva. Before you equip your two new GFs, take some time to go through the Tutorial section and learn all about the basic controls and concepts in FFVIII.

REMINDER

Most of the time, you can return here if you have a question about how the game works. You can also access the Tutorial section from the Main Menu.

After you finish the Tutorial section, you should consider looking through the rest of the choices on the Study Panel. Once you've had your fill, shut down the Study Panel and exit the classroom.

Starter Deck

After passing the SeeD exam later, you'll want to begin playing cards with people you'll find all over the world. However, you can't start playing until you have at least five cards. You could wait until you find five cards on the battlefield, but you can get a mediocre starting deck of Level 1 cards by stopping and talking to the person standing on the 2nd floor walkway. This deck isn't very strong, but it will become a decent one with the addition of a few stronger cards, which won't take long.

Touring the SeeD Garden

The Garden is very large and full of all kinds of activity. There are 10 major areas that you'll visit quite often, as well as several minor locations that you'll only see at specific points in the story. The following information provides a brief rundown of the major locations and what you'll find at each one.

Dormitory

This is where you'll find Squall's room. At various times during the game, you'll be asked to return here. You can use Squall's bed to restore any lost Hit Points (HP) for your party members or GFs, or save your game using the Save Point.

Parking

Any and all vehicles used by SeeD are stored here. You'll typically only come here when you need a set of wheels.

Training Center

Those wishing to brush up on their fighting skills can visit the Training Center at any time. There are monsters roaming around freely inside the Training Center, so use caution when entering. This is a great place to build up Squall and his GFs at the beginning of the game.

Library

Not only can you meet a lot of interesting people here, you can also pick up useful information and a magazine. Make sure you stop in often.

Front Gate

The great outdoors beckons at the end of this long corridor. If you're not driving to your next objective, you must exit the Garden through the Front Gate. By the way, when you're looking for a game of cards, this is a great place to find challengers.

Infirmary

You'll remember the Infirmary from the beginning of the game. Dr. Kadowaki, the residing physician, is always here to give advice or play a game of cards.

Occult Fan I

Hidden in the second bookcase is a copy of Occult Fan I. This bizarre magazine hints at strange occurrences throughout the world and can help you discover secret events or sub-quests later in the game.

Quad

The Quad is the home of the Garden Festival, but there's not much going on here... yet. Stop by and join the Garden Festival committee if you like.

Cafeteria

Hot dogs are a staple of the SeeD diet. The Cafeteria has hot dogs occasionally, but they always go fast. This is a great area to meet up with people. You should definitely stop by if you're looking to meet someone new.

Classroom

The classrooms are all located on the second floor, however, Squall only has access to Quistis' classroom. This is also the best place to learn more about the game by accessing the Study Panel at Squall's desk in the back.

Cid's Office

Headmaster Cid runs the SeeD Garden from his third floor office. You can only visit his office when he permits it, so don't bother looking for an entrance, because there isn't one yet.

NOTE

If you do not take the transfer student on the tour, there will be no mention of Cid's office at this point in the game. At any rate, you'll be unable to reach this area until later in the game.

Draw Points

Squall begins the game without any stocked magic. Fortunately, there are several Draw Points throughout the Garden. Visit them all to get a headstart on your magic supply.

Most Draw Points can be used an infinite amount of times, but you must wait for the Draw Point to refill after each Draw. However, some Draw Points can only be used once. Most of the time, it takes a while for the Draw Point to refill, so don't wait around. An easy way to tell whether or not you can draw from a Draw Point is by its color. Full Draw Points are purple, while empty Draw Points are Blue.

Leaving the Garden

Meet Quistis at the Front Gate when you're ready to go. Once she joins your party, you'll want to equip her with one of the GF's you received earlier. It isn't necessary to equip her with a GF, but without one she'll only be able to attack during battle.

Once outside, you should take some time to prepare for the Fire Cavern. First, you should look for a few enemies in particular that have some valuable magic. Bite Bugs live in the grassy areas and have Scan and Fire magics, which enables you to examine an enemy's HP and weaknesses. Glacial Eyes also live in the plains, and they have Blizzard, Scan, and Cure magic. Stockpile both types of magic, because they'll be extremely helpful in the Fire Cavern. Along the beach south of the Garden you'll find Fastitocalon-Fs, which also have Blizzard magic, but they are also worth 3 AP each.

By the time you enter the Fire Cavern, you should have a large supply of Blizzard and Cure magic. Remember that both Quistis and Squall can hold 100 of each type of magic, and there's no limit as to how much magic you can draw from a single monster.

It's also a good idea to boost Squall's and Quistis' vital stats by stocking up on a couple of other spells. Using Quezacotl to junction 100 Sleep spells to a character's Magic boosts the Magic stat by a whopping 12 points. This will help immensely during the first Boss fight.

Additionally, you can teach Quezacotl T Mag-RF (Thunder Magic-Refine), which uncovers the skill Mid Mag-RF (Mid-Level Magic-Refine). Learning the Mid Mag-RF ability will enable you to refine one Blizzara from five Blizzard spells. This is particularly useful in the Fire Cavern, because most of the enemies inside have a weakness against Ice magic. Blizzara is even more useful in defeating the Fire Cavern's Boss.

World Map Draw Points

Scattered around the World Map are invisible Draw Points. You'll find one such Draw Point hidden at the entrance to the train tunnel just east of Balamb. This one contains the Esuna spell, which you won't see much of until later in the game. Always check train tunnels and other odd places on the World Map for Draw Points.

Blue Magic: Ultra Waves

Quistis' Limit Breaks are based on Blue Magic, which is a type of magic used by monsters. By collecting special items, Quistis learns new types of Blue Magic, which she can later use in battle. Your first chance to teach Quistis a new Blue Magic is on your way to the Fire Cavern.

You can find an enemy known as Caterchipillar in the forest outside the Fire Cavern. This enemy uses a Blue Magic called Ultra Waves that attacks multiple targets. Defeat a Caterchipillar, and it may drop a special item—Spider Web. Use the item outside of battle to teach Quistis the Blue Magic: Ultra Waves.

FIRE CAVERN

Select a time limit for the test

Locate and defeat the GF Ifrit

Return to Balamb Garden

A cave set in a hillside east of Balamb Garden represents the Fire Cavern. Your goal is to defeat the Boss inside the Fire Cavern under the constraints of a time limit that you choose for yourself. Hopefully, you've prepared well by stocking up on lots of magic and training your GFs.

The Time Limit & Your SeeD Ranking

As Squall approaches the entrance to the cavern, he is asked to choose a time limit for the test. The choices are 10, 20, 30, or 40 minutes. Obviously, the more time you have, the easier the test will be to complete. However, if you want to get a high SeeD Rank at graduation, you'll want to have as little time left on the clock as possible at the end of the battle with Ifrit. Ten minutes should suffice; don't worry though, it's more time than it seems.

The Fire Cavern is short and easy to navigate and the Boss isn't tough if you know its one weakness. Plus, you only need to reach the end of the cavern and defeat the Boss in the time that you chose before entering the cavern. You can take as much time as you like exiting the cavern.

If you do choose 10 minutes, don't pay too much attention to Quistis' comments as you run through the cavern. She doesn't say much that you really need to hear, and you'll need to conserve some time for the Boss fight. Also, try to avoid long, drawn-out battles. Use Blizzard to eliminate any tough enemies you meet and move on quickly. Lastly, avoid drawing from enemies on your way to the Boss fight, and instead wait until you're on your way out. Most of them won't have anything you need right now anyway.

Enemies

Ifrit (Boss)
Bomb
Red Bat
Buel

Draw Points

Fire

Rare Cards

Ifrit (defeat Boss)

Elemental Warfare

The Fire Cavern is full of monsters that have a weakness to Ice magic. Use spells like Blizzard and Blizzara to easily destroy your enemies.

GUARDIAN FORCE ALERT!

IFRIT

HP 1068

AP 20

EXP --

Weak vs. Ice/Absorbs Fire

Ifrrit is the toughest enemy you've faced thus far, but this GF isn't as tough as you might think. This Boss is an Elemental and has a single weakness you can exploit: Ice magic. Before the battle, make sure one of your characters can summon Shiva, who is an Ice Elemental. Also, make sure the other one has Blizzard or Blizzara spells that he/she can cast.

At the start of the battle, immediately summon Shiva and hit Ifrrit with Ice magic, ignoring the use of any physical attacks. If Shiva has learned the Boost ability, don't forget to use it because it can make the battle much quicker. If you're trying to get a higher Seed Rank, you need to watch Ifrrit's HP. When it gets close to 100 HP, just wait for the clock to wind down to about 20-25 seconds and then use Blizzard magic and physical attacks to bring the battle to an end. After winning this battle, you receive a G-Returner, Ifrrit's Card, 20 AP, and Ifrrit becomes one of your GFs.

On Your Way Out

Bombs are great cards! Use Quezacotl's Card ability to convert a few Bombs into cards, or try to win a few from battles. Also, make sure you hit the Fire Draw Point on your way back through the cavern. There's no time limit on your way out.

Seed FIELD EXAM

1 Change uniforms in Squall's dorm room

2 Go to the first floor lobby (Hall) and meet the others

3 Drive west to Balamb

4 Board the assault boat at the dock

After the battle with Ifrit in the Fire Cavern, it's time to return to Balamb Garden and prepare for the Seed Field Exam.

Changing Uniforms

The first place you should visit upon your return to Balamb Garden is Squall's room in the Dormitory section of the Garden. To change uniforms, inspect his bed and then inspect the bed again to rest up before your next challenge. There's also a Save Point here; I suggest you use it. Make sure you return to the main Hall when you're ready to move on.

Traveling

The team will be taking the Garden Car to Balamb to meet up with the others. You probably saw Balamb earlier; it's the city to the west of Balamb Garden. Just stick to the road and you'll find it. Once there, don't waste any time boarding the assault boat. You've got a job to do!

NOTE

You cannot exit the vehicle on your way to Balamb.

DOLLET (Seed FIELD EXAM)

Enemies

- Galbadian Soldier (in town)
- Anacondaur
- Galbadian Soldier
- Geezard
- Elite Soldier (on mountain)
- Galbadian Soldier
- Elite Soldier
- Biggs (Boss)
- Wedge (Boss)
- Elvoret (Boss; Comm Tower)

Draw Point

- Blind (Comm Tower)

Save Points

- Beach, Comm Tower

1 Follow Seifer to Dollet's Central Square

2 Scout the area and then wait for the Galbadian Army to arrive

3 Rescue a Dollet Soldier from an Anacondaur

4 Meet the messenger from "A" Squad

5 Enter the Communications Tower

6 Battle Biggs and Wedge

7 Defeat Elvoret

8 Head back to the beach

9 Escape from X-ATM092

The SeeD Field Exam takes place in a town known as Dollet, which is currently under siege by Galbadian Forces. Your job is to help rid the town of any remaining Galbadian soldiers.

Check Your GFs

Zell and Seifer are now in your party. They don't come equipped with GFs, so you'll need to assign them one if you want them to perform tasks other than attack. At the least, give Zell a GF so he can begin drawing magic and boosting his stats through Junctioning.

NOTE

You can access Quistis, although she's not currently in your party. You should go ahead and give her magic to either Squall or Zell using the "Switch" option in the Main Menu. It's certainly much easier than having Zell draw a bunch of magic you already have stocked elsewhere.

You're Being Graded

Your actions are being watched closely by your SeeD instructors. Act quickly, concentrate on completing your objective, avoid stopping to talk, follow orders, outwit your opponents, and finish battles quickly to get the highest grade possible.

Passing Through

It's difficult to get lost in Dollet. Simply head up the street and follow any order Seifer gives you. During any long pauses, avoid talking to any characters unless it's an order, or wait around until something happens.

Selphie

You can follow Selphie off the cliff if you want, but it might be wiser to walk around so you can get a better look at your surroundings. Such knowledge may be useful a little later. Plus, if you jump off the cliff, you'll have 5 points deducted from your SeeD Ranking. Also, make sure you equip her with one of your three GFs before going anywhere. At this point, Selphie will have whatever Magic Seifer had drawn.

BIGGS

HP	467~705	AP	4	---
EXP	---		---

WEDGE

HP	416~640	AP	4	---
EXP	---		Immune to poison

At the beginning of this fight, you'll only battle against Biggs because Wedge is off on patrol at the moment. Biggs' attacks aren't much stronger than that of a typical Elite Soldier. However, you can draw Esuna magic from Biggs, which is extremely useful for Junctioning and is extremely helpful for removing negative status effects in battles. You should try to draw as much Esuna from Biggs as possible.

Wedge will show up as soon as you cause a large amount of damage to Biggs or once a few minutes have passed. With the two present, you can stock up on magic to your heart's content, because Wedge has a Cure spell that you can draw to stockpile, or use on a party member when their HP's get low. When you're ready to end the fight, focus on Biggs or call upon your strongest GF. Once you inflict damage equal to both characters' HP, they're blown away and the real Boss fight begins.

GUARDIAN FORCE ALERT!

Elvoret

HP 1563~3523

AP 10

EXP --

Immune to Poison/Strong Def. vs Magic (High Spirit)

First, start the battle by drawing Siren from Elvoret. Siren is a new GF that you can Junction after the fight, but ONLY if you draw the new GF out of Elvoret. This Boss is much tougher than Biggs and Wedge. Fortunately, it also has Cure magic you can rely on when your HPs are low.

Elvoret also has a spell you won't see much called Double. This spell enables you to cast a single spell twice in the same turn. This is very handy for later battles, and it Junctions well with several stats. However, Elvoret has a very high defense against magic spells, so avoid using Double unless you want to double up on Cures. Focus on using your strongest GFs, and then rely on your physical attacks only if you have to. For winning this battle, you receive two Elixirs, two Cottages, three G-Returners, and Weapons Mon Mar (the March edition of Weapons Monthly).

X-ATM092

HP 5072~5770

AP 50

EXP --

Weak vs. Thunder/
Immune to Poison

You now have exactly 30 minutes to reach the transport on the beach back to Balamb and a large, solid steel monster is trying to ensure that Squall and the others become permanent residents. The X-ATM092 is built tough—real tough. In fact, it's nearly invincible, but it does have one weakness. Like so many other creatures, X-ATM092 is an Elemental although not in the traditional sense. As a machine, it's weak against Thunder magic. This makes Quezacotl, the Thunder GF, your new best friend.

Hit X-ATM092 with Quezacotl and Thunder magic until it falls, which is after you've caused about 1200 points of damage. When this occurs, you have no option but to escape (hold the L2 and R2 buttons on your controller). If you don't escape, the Boss will get back up and heal itself entirely, meaning you'll have to waste several more minutes knocking it back down again.

There is one trick though: Although the Boss is "invincible," it does have a set amount of HP. If you can deplete its HP before it can repair itself, you'll receive AP (a whopping 50 AP at that) as though you'd destroyed it even though it still repairs itself.

TIP

If you're really good, and Quezacotl's compatibility is near 1000 and it has learned SumMag+10%, 20%, and 30%, and the Boost ability, you can actually receive 400 AP by fighting X-ATM092 eight times and depleting its HP during each battle. Keep in mind, though, that you'll lose some points toward your SeeD Ranking.

Each time you run from X-ATM092, it will repair itself and begin chasing the team back to the transport. When it catches you, you're forced to fight it again. With a 30 minute time limit, you can only afford to fight it a few times. Fortunately, there is only one spot where you must fight. The rest of the times you can dodge the Boss if you react quickly and just keep moving.

The one time you must fight occurs when X-ATM092 first appears; everything else can be dodged. There are three tricky spots to be aware of. The first is the cliff Selphie jumped down earlier. On this screen, you should ALWAYS use the D-pad on your controller and not the Analog Stick. When using the Analog Stick, Squall tends to get hung up on the curved path. With the D-Pad, the game automatically compensates and pushes Squall and the others around the obstacle.

The second tricky spot is the leftmost, downward mountain path. About halfway down the path, use the ▲ button to WALK down the path. Walking will prevent you from losing your balance when the Boss' heavy footsteps leave the party immobile and vulnerable.

The third trouble spot is the bridge, where X-ATM092 leaps over the party to cut them off. When this happens, run back the way you came—but not too fast! X-ATM092 will jump back over the party again attempting to cut them off a second time. Turn back around and keep going toward the transport.

Exit the assault boat and speak with Quistis

Return to Balamb Garden

After their narrow escape from Dollet, the team gets dropped off in Balamb for a little R&R before returning to the Garden to receive their SeeD Rankings.

Homecoming

Balamb is Zell's hometown. Make sure you stop by and say "hello" to his mother, who just so happens to be a card player.

NOTE

While exploring Zell's home, you can find a practical joke. After checking the magazine stack in the living room, you'll find an old copy of Timber Maniacs. In actuality, you haven't found anything at all, but this is your reward for being thorough in your searches.

Queen of Cards

There's a mysterious woman near the train station known as the "Queen of Cards." She can give you information on the current status of the card game, plus she can spread new rules for a fee. You can even challenge her to a game, which sometimes pays off big because she tends to use the "Direct" and "All" trading rules. (For more information on the Card Game, refer to page 161.)

Timber Maniacs!

You can find your first issue of Timber Maniacs on the train platform right next to the signpost in the foreground.

Where to Go?

There isn't much for you to do here. Look around, play some cards, rest up, save... whatever you feel like doing. When you're finished, return to Balamb Garden to get your test score.

Battle Granaldo and the Raldos

Return to Squall's Dorm room

Go to the Front Gate to learn about your first mission

Save your game and use the Magical Lamp if you're ready

Catch a train in Balamb

With the SeeD Field Exam now over, the team heads back to Balamb Garden to get their SeeD Rankings and to prepare for their next assignment.

What To Do?

Stop and talk with Quistis, Xu, and Cid in the main Hall, and then find Seifer outside the Library. When it's time to get your SeeD Rank, you'll hear an announcement over the intercom. Simply follow the instructions given to you. After graduation, return to Quistis' classroom.

Battle Meter

Talk to Cid right after graduation and he'll give you a Battle Meter. You can access it in the Information section of the Tutorial. The Battle Meter provides information on how you're performing.

The Battle Meter indicates how far you've walked, the number of battles you've fought, how many battles you've won, and how many battles you've run from.

SeeD Rank

After graduation, you'll receive your initial SeeD Rank based on your actions in the Fire Cavern, around the Garden, and during the Field Exam. A good starting rank is typically around a six. From this point forward, you'll receive regular paychecks from SeeD based on your SeeD Rank. The higher your rank, the more you're paid. Your SeeD Rank will fluctuate throughout the game based upon your actions. Fulfilling your orders flawlessly and efficiently can sometimes boost your rank, whereas a failed mission or incorrect decision can lower it.

There are also tests you can take to increase your SeeD Rank. Each test that you flawlessly pass raises your SeeD Rank by one. You can take the first test at Squall's Study Panel in Quistis' classroom or by accessing the Tutorial section from the Main Menu.

You can take other tests in the Tutorial section. There are a total of 30 tests that you can take, however, Squall cannot take a test higher than his current level. For example, if Squall is at Level 14, he can only take the first 14 tests. The highest SeeD Rank anyone can obtain is "A," which is the equivalent of Level 30.

Test Answers

You'll find the answers to all of the questions in the SeeD Rank section (p. 9) of this book.

Meeting Quistis

Upon meeting Quistis at the Training Center, you should equip her with at least one GF. The Training Center is full of dangerous creatures. The "Secret Area" Quistis spoke of is in the very back of the Training Center, down the hall and above the Save Point.

Granaldo

HP 1314~9700

AP 5

Flying Monster

EXP --

Weak vs. Wind

Raldos

HP 111~6700

AP 3

EXP --

Granaldo and its sidekicks, three Raldos, have two useful spells: Protect and Shell. Stock up as much as you can on both of them. As you attack, focus on eliminating all three Raldos first. Initially, they don't attack directly, but if you defeat Granaldo before them, the Raldos go into high gear and use their super-speed to decimate your party.

On the other hand, Granaldo isn't nearly as powerful when fighting alone. In fact, Granaldo is weak against Sleep spells. Put this Boss to sleep with its own magic, and then pummel it into submission with attack magic. If the Raldos are still alive while Granaldo is sleeping, they'll wait harmlessly to be picked up by Granaldo.

In the Morning

Check Squall's desk in his new room to find the April edition of Weapons Monthly (Weapons Mon Apr). If you'd like, this is a good time to visit Quistis' classroom and take the first test at Squall's Study Panel. You can also take the test by accessing the Tutorial section from the Main Menu. This is also a good time to play cards; try to get the MiniMog and Quistis Cards.

Selphie's Diary

If you're working on the Garden Festival Committee, you should check out Selphie's new and improved "School Festival Committee" web page via Squall's Study Panel. From this site, you can read about Selphie's thoughts on her latest missions, the progress on the Garden Festival, and you can peek at her on-line diary.

First Mission

Meet everyone at the Front Gate to receive your new assignment. Also, make sure you remember the password phrase given to you by the Garden Faculty member: "But the owls are still around." You'll need the password phrase when you arrive at Timber. After the meeting, speak with Cid and he'll give you a Magical Lamp.

The Magical Lamp

GUARDIAN FORCE ALERT!

Diablos

AP 20

EXP --

Weak vs. Wind

Flying Monster

The Magical Lamp, which you receive from Cid, can be used at any time, however, you should save your game before using it. This lamp acts as a portal to a different dimension, one where the GF Diablos is waiting for its next challenge. When you use the lamp, you are automatically thrust into battle against Diablos. This Boss is very tough, so you may want to build up your party a bit before attempting the fight.

This GF uses Time-based magic to drain its opponents' HP. Gravigia siphons three-fourths of each party member's HP, leaving them near death and ready for Diablos' finishing blow.

You can use one of two strategies for this fight. First, you can draw Diablos' Demi magic and use it against the GF. Although it won't cause as much damage to Diablos as it does to your team, it may be your strongest attack at this point. Demi won't finish off this beast, so continue to pummel Diablos' HPs with a physical attack or attack magic.

Regarding the second strategy, Diablos' Gravigia magic will lower your party's HP to the point that they can use their Limit Breaks. In particular, Selphie's is useful because she can continue to cast Full-Cure spells on the party after each Gravigia attack. However, you may need to use the "● button trick" until her Limit Break is ready (if Selphie's Limit Break doesn't appear when it's her turn to attack, keep pressing the ● button until it appears). You may also have to utilize the "Do Over" option several times to get a Full-Cure.

Choose "Do Over" instead of "Cast" to turn down the spell in the hopes that the next spell will be the one you want. It's kind of like re-rolling dice. After winning the battle, Diablos joins you and you receive its card!

Seifer's Card

Before leaving the Garden, you should challenge Cid to a game of cards. The Headmaster has the rare Seifer Card in his deck, but be careful because Cid is no slouch at cards. If you don't challenge Cid now, you probably won't get another chance for quite some time.

Upon receiving your first assignment, go to Balamb and speak with a conductor and pay 3,000 Gil for a train ticket. When you board the train, speak with Zell and Selphie. However, a mysterious vision leaves them with unanswered questions.

Where to Go

This is the first time you'll meet Laguna Loire and his two companions, Kiros and Ward. Continue forward through the forest, and then cross the log over the river. When you find the armored vehicle on the path, get inside of it to automatically drive to Deling City.

When you arrive at Deling City, you should head for the Galbadia Hotel by walking east. Once there, visit the lounge downstairs. It's here where you'll meet an amazing pianist named Julia. Speak with both Kiros and Ward before and after Julia plays the piano. After the concert, speak with the hotel concierge to find Julia's room. Keep speaking with Julia until the scene switches back to Squall and company aboard the train.

"But the Owls are still around." Now simply follow your escort to the waiting train.

Once you're introduced to Zone and Watts, they'll ask you to go meet "the princess." Go to the last room in the train to find a familiar face.

Anarchist Monthly

When you have the time, check the bulletin board in the Strategy Room. Inside, you'll find several issues of a magazine known as Anarchist Monthly. This magazine will provide lots of information on the Galbadian dictator, Vinzer Deling.

Rinoa's Limit Breaks

Rinoa's Limit Breaks involve her pet dog, Angelo. Like most dogs, Angelo can learn tricks with Rinoa's assistance. These tricks are then randomly used in battle or when Rinoa calls upon Angelo. Her dog begins the game knowing two tricks, but you can learn several others by collecting issues of Pet Pals magazines.

Each issue of Pet Pals magazine teaches a new trick. You found one earlier on the train to Timber, and you can find a second issue lying on Rinoa's bed after the strategy meeting.

Use the magazines by reading them in your inventory. Then enter Rinoa's status menu in the main menu and flip through the pages until you reach Angelo's screen. Tricks with a full red bar are learned tricks and can be used in battle. Empty bars represent unlearned tricks. To learn an unlearned trick, highlight the unlearned trick and exit the main menu. As Rinoa walks around, the trick is slowly learned. When you hear a tone while walking around, you'll know the trick has been fully learned and you can choose another.

The Kidnapping

After re-introducing yourself to Rinoa, you'll follow her to the strategy room where you'll receive details of the Forest Owl's mission.

The plan consists of the following steps:

1. Catch up to the 2nd escort car and sneak onboard
2. Proceed cautiously across the roof of the 2nd escort car
3. Proceed across the roof of the President's car
4. Uncouple the 1st escort car
5. Have the dummy car and your team move in after uncoupling the escort car
6. Uncouple the 2nd escort car
7. Escape with the President's car

Step 1: When the base catches up to the President's train, simply follow Rinoa onto the last car.

Step 2: The 2nd escort car is the one that's supposed to be equipped with heat and motion detectors. Simply stand still at first and watch the soldiers below. When they open their windows, they'll discover that neither of their sophisticated sensors is working, so quickly run across and ignore the whole "stop-and-go" plan.

Step 3: The third step is simple, because there's no one to stop your progress.

The codes are randomly given to Squall at this point. Remember that you only have five seconds to enter each code.

Step 4: During this step, Selphie and Zell will serve as your lookouts. When they yell that a soldier is on its way back, don't waste a second getting back on top of the train car. When both soldiers head back the other way, you can drop down and finish the job. The

Step 5: This part is all up to the guys back at the base. As long as you perform your task within the given time limit, they'll have time to merge with the President's car.

You must keep an eye on the guards by pressing the R1 button. If either guard is on its way back, you should climb up (regardless of how far off the guard is) just to be safe. You now have five codes to enter, but you still have a full five seconds to enter each code.

Step 6: Uncoupling the 2nd escort car is tougher than the first. Selphie and Zell are busy, so this time you don't have a lookout.

Step 7: If you've done your job, this step will occur automatically. If not, you'll have to start again at the last train car you were entering the codes for.

NOTE

Should you complete the mission without getting caught, your SeeD rank will increase one level. However, if you fail any step, you'll be given the chance to start over or to end the game. Starting over places you back at the last car you were entering the codes for, but you lose your chance to boost your SeeD Rank. By choosing to end the game, you can reload your last saved game and try to earn the bonus again.

After completing the mission, you'll appear in the Forest Owl's train. Prepare your party and then talk to Rinoa when you're ready to confront the President.

Fake President

Gerogero

HP	350~3650	AP	20

WARNING!

To use some of the following Boss strategies, you must have one of your characters equip the Item command before entering the Boss fight.

Also, since Zell and Selphie have lost their Junctions, you'll need to reapply their Junctions before talking to Rinoa.

This Boss has two forms. The first form, disguised as the Fake President, isn't very strong or quick, so take your time to draw and use its Cure magic to heal a party member who is low on HP. The second form, however, is much deadlier. Its physical attacks are strong, but what really makes it powerful is its wide array of abnormal status attacks. Fortunately, Gerogero carries Esuna magic, which is capable of removing any abnormal status effects. NEVER LEAVE AN ABNORMAL STATUS EFFECT ON A CHARACTER!! If you do so during this battle, Gerogero may hit all three characters with Berserk or Silence, in effect limiting you to nothing but physical attacks.

Because Gerogero is an undead creature, it has a weakness to Holy and Curative magic. You probably won't have any Holy magic yet, so instead you'll need to rely upon Cure and Cura.

You can cast Double on everyone, and then constantly hit Gerogero with Cure and Cura. Gerogero also has a weakness to Fire, so Ifrit should be particularly effective in this battle.

There is a one-hit kill option in this battle. Using a Phoenix Down, Elixir, or a X-Potion on Gerogero will destroy this Boss instantly.

Because curative magic and items have reverse effects against the undead, a Phoenix Down—which normally restores life—causes instant death. The X-Potion and Elixir—which heal a person entirely—removes all HP of the undead. At this point of the game, you're probably more likely to have a Phoenix Down because Elixirs and X-Potions are more difficult to find. Keep in mind that a Phoenix Down has a chance of failing, whereas the X-Potion and Elixir do not.

MidMag-RF

If you haven't started using (or even learned) the MidMag-RF ability, it's time you did. Using this ability, you can take all of those Fire, Thunder, and Blizzard spells you've been stocking and refine them into Fira, Thundara, and Blizzara spells. Not only do these spells hit harder, they also boost a character's stats more than the basic level one spell does.

This is a particularly good time to refine these spells, because Timber is swarming with Galbadian Soldiers that carry the same types of magic.

Free Potion

Speak to the guy on the bridge that overlooks the train tracks and he'll eventually give you a free Potion. Any time you see him thereafter, he'll give you more free Potions as long as Rinoa or Quistis is in your party.

Magazines Galore

There are a lot of magazines to find in Timber. At the Pet Shop, you can purchase Pet Pals Vol. 3 and 4. At the Timber Maniacs office, it shouldn't be any surprise that you can find an old copy of Timber Maniacs lying on the floor, but you may be a little shocked to find a copy of "Girl Next Door" hidden in the magazine stacks in the lobby. Make sure you get all four of these magazines; each one is worth it.

The Souvenir Shop

There's a small souvenir shop near the train to Balamb. Although the shop doesn't have much to offer, you should pay it a visit and speak to its owner. If your party needs to be healed, she can provide you with clues to the location of the infamous Owl's Tears. If you're lost, she can show you her "easy-to-read" map of Timber. She can also give you a bit of information about Zone's taste in reading materials, which may come in handy some day.

Owl's Tears

Since you can't stay at the local hotel, you'll need to find an alternate way to refresh your party. You can find the Owl's Tears at the small house next to the Dollet train station. The old man living inside will let you drink all you want, which is a good thing because the Owl's Tears completely restore your team's HP and you can't stay at the hotel just yet. To get the Owl's Tears, simply go to the faucet on the left side of the room.

If you're really persistent, however, you can find 500 Gil in the old man's cupboard. This is the old man's secret savings, so if you take it he won't let you have any more Owl's Tears. The choice is yours to make.

Moving the Drifter

There's a drifter blocking the Pub's back door, which subsequently blocks your progress. There are two ways to move the drifter: buy him a drink or give him one of his missing cards.

There are six drinks from which to choose, but the drifter only likes one of the six. Upon speaking with the woman at the bar, you learn that the drifter likes bitter drinks. Now observe the drifter to check out the drink he's currently holding. The following chart makes finding the correct drink a little easier:

	Red	Green	Yellow
Sweet	Mimett	Tantal	Curiel
Bitter	Krakka	Reagan	Sylkis

Answer: The drifter only likes Reagan; he'll turn down anything else. (By the way, you might remember the various drink names from Final Fantasy VII. These were the names given to the different greens you could feed a Chocobo.)

If you would rather not spend 100 Gil buying the drifter a drink, you can simply tell him about the monster card you found after the fight outside the Pub. He's so elated upon hearing this information that he moves out of the way. In addition, he lets you keep the card and gives you another card just for kicks!

Finding Galbadia Garden

Disembark from the train at the first stop, the East Academy, when you are given the option.

Looking directly to the northwest from the East Academy Station, you'll see a small wooded area set between two mountains. This is the wooded area everyone has been talking about. To reach Galbadia Garden, simply pass through the forest.

Upon entering the forest Squall, Quistis, and Selphie fall into another trance. Although Laguna has left Timber, his situation has not improved.

The Excavation Site

This area is comprised of a couple of large loops. Whenever you come to a crossroad, you'll typically want to take the path that leads off the top of the screen (unless you want to backtrack a bit).

This area is also spotted with various traps you can set for the Esthar Soldiers. However, keep in mind that when you set a trap, you're blocking your own way in that same direction. Make sure you thoroughly explore the area before choosing to set traps.

Blue Magic: Degenerator

While running around, you're bound to bump into a monster known as a Gesper. These bumbling cyborgs may not seem like much of a threat, but they have a killer attack called Degenerator that can eliminate a character, no matter how powerful, in a single hit. The plus side is that Gespers carry the Black Hole item, which they sometimes drop. With Black Hole, Quistis can learn the awesome Degenerator magic.

The Old Keys & Other Things

There are many things to find while exploring the excavation site. Some of these items might seem pointless, but you should take the time to seek them out nonetheless.

You can find two Old Keys scattered throughout the second level of the excavation site. You can't see either key on the ground, but if you search the ground in the right area they aren't too difficult to find. The first is located near the beginning of the lower level, close to the Confuse Draw Point. Climb down the ladder, and stay near the left-hand side as you walk down the tunnel. The second Old Key is at the first crossroad close to a pile of debris. You can't keep the keys; regardless of what you do, Laguna always happens to lose them. Don't bother looking around for them again, because they're gone for good.

In another area, you'll find three gray panels on the ground. Laguna can tamper with a lever from one of the panels to set a trap for the Esthar Soldiers. Once you pull the lever, you won't be able to cross the panels again.

Lastly, you'll find a detonation device lying on the ground near the area's end. The device is linked to a couple of nearby boulders. Push the red switch first, and then try the blue switch. This will cause the boulders to fall into a hole in the floor elsewhere. Don't mess the order up, or the boulders will only end up blocking Laguna's path.

Beyond the detonation switch, you'll find a boulder stuck in the side of the wall. Move the boulder to reveal a Cure Draw Point.

Human or Cyborg

There are two types of Esthar Soldiers in the excavation site: Human and Cyborg. The human soldiers are wimps and are easily defeated. On the other hand, the Cyborgs are tough and extremely powerful.

You can differentiate between the two by their stance and color. Always eliminate the Cyborg soldiers first, because of the greater threat that they pose.

Soul Crush

In the last battle, Ward and Kiros are hit with an attack called Soul Crush that reduces their HP to one point each. When you return to the "normal world," make sure you heal Quistis and Selphie (especially if both are currently in your party) because if they only have one HP each, they may be skirting death in the next battle.

8 Go to Galbadia Station and catch the train to Deling City

Power Up!

The forest you passed through to reach Galbadian Garden is a great place to build experience. Most of the monsters in this area (especially the rare Ochu) are worth a lot of Exp and AP—almost as much as the T-Rexaurs from the beginning of the game. This is especially helpful if you're trying to build up Diablos' Mug ability, which requires 200 AP.

Where's the Reception Room?

Upon entering Galbadia Garden, just keep walking forward until you find a hall with several people undergoing forced exercise. Notice the staircase behind them? The Reception Room is at the top of the stairs.

Level 6 Boss Cards

If you have the patience to play a lot, you can win the entire set of Level 6 Boss cards from one person in Galbadia Garden.

There are three people inside a classroom off the east branch of the center path talking about cards. The female of the group has a complete set of the Level 6 Bosses. Of course, getting them all is no small task. She's quite an accomplished player, possessing the best deck you've encountered thus far.

Irvine's Limit Break

Typically, Irvine doesn't need special ammunition to use his gun. However, his Limit Break requires the use of special ammunition that can be bought or refined from items.

Initially, you'll probably have two types of ammunition:

Normal Ammo and Shotgun Ammo. The type of ammunition used determines the effectiveness of the attack. Normal Ammo hits a single target, while Shotgun Ammo attacks all targets on-screen. You can buy both types of ammo from town shops.

During Irvine's Limit Break, you must fiercely press the R1 button to shoot as many times as possible in the allotted time. You may go through 10 rounds of ammunition each time, so it's important to have plenty of ammo on hand. If you don't plan wisely, Irvine's Limit Break might get cut short.

Hop the Train

In order to get anywhere, you must board the train at the Far East Galbadia Train Station located southwest of Galbadia Garden. There's a vehicle blocking the tracks, but it will leave when you board the train.

Time to Upgrade?

By now, you may have the option to begin remodeling your characters' weapons. To get the necessary items, you can refine cards into items. For example, you can refine an Elastoid card, which you may have picked up during Laguna's last adventure, into a Steel Pipe. The Steel Pipe is a necessary item for remodeling Squall's Gunblade and Irvine's shotgun. You can also get Saw Blades from Belhelmels, which are necessary to remodel Rinoa's weapon to the Rising Sun.

Also, if you have the Mug ability, you can steal all of the Steel Pipes you need from Wendigos, which can be found around Deling City.

Transportation

Deling City has a great public transportation system. Speak with the blue-clad attendants to hop onto a bus when it arrives. The bus will then circle the city.

If you have trouble finding Caraway's Mansion, just hop on the bus in front of the Train Station and get off the bus at the very first stop.

Caraway's Quest

The guard outside of Caraway's Mansion asks you to retrieve a code number from the Tomb of the Unknown King. Fortunately, Caraway was nice enough to supply you with a map. You can also purchase a "current location displayer" for 5,000 Gil. This item shows exactly where you are on the tomb map. It helps a little bit, but you don't really need it. Also, make sure you reject the guard's offer to supply you with a hint—this quest isn't tough.

Finding the Tomb

There's a long peninsula northeast of Deling City. At the very end of the peninsula is the Tomb of the Unknown King, which you won't be able to see from Deling City. It's a long walk, so you might want to rent a car.

The Code Number

At the first intersection you reach inside the tomb, you'll see a sword with a blue hilt lying on the ground. Upon inspecting the sword, you'll receive a random "Student ID No." This is the Code Number you're looking for, so you can leave now if you'd like.

However, the Tomb of the Unknown King is also home to a GF, the Brothers, but getting them to join you takes a little work.

Finding Your Way

The layout of the tomb is simple, but it can be very confusing until you get your bearings straight. What makes this area so confusing is that, unlike other maps, when you enter a new screen the perspective is always over Squall's shoulder. This really doesn't present a problem until you start to backtrack and forget that left is now right and right is now left.

A simple strategy to follow is to go to the right at every intersection. By doing so, you stay on the outer loop and you can hit all of the rooms along the outside in the proper order. Also, following this route will eventually return you back to the entrance.

What to Do Inside

After finding the Code Number, you have the optional challenge of finding the Brothers and defeating them. This task requires that you take several steps. First, you must find Sacred and defeat it, which causes it to run away. This also opens up the other two rooms on the outer ring of the maze, which you must locate next and flip two switches. Flipping one switch opens a dam, while the other switch lowers a bridge that you can't see just yet. This enables you to gain access to the center of the maze.

To get there, return to the entrance and then head straight into the center of the maze to find the bridge you lowered earlier. Inside the center room you'll fight the Brothers, so make sure you save first.

GUARDIAN FORCE ALERT!

Sacred

AP 20

EXP --

Weak vs Poison & Wind/
Immune to Earth

The fight against Sacred is easy. Use Sacred's Protect magic immediately and cast it on everyone in your party. This will reduce the effect of Sacred's powerful physical attacks. Sacred also carries the Life spell, so make sure you stock up on it as much as possible. The Life spell is very important to have during battles, plus it Junctions really well.

Casting Float on this Boss will cut off its regenerating HP. This effect doesn't last long, so you may have to cast Float several times during the battle. After the initial prep work, continue to recast Protect whenever necessary and whittle away at the Boss' HP with GFs and physical attacks until Sacred runs away.

GUARDIAN FORCE ALERT!

Sacred

HP	855~36,375	AP	20
EXP	--	Weak vs Poison & Wind/ Immune to Earth

Minotaur

HP	578~27,218	AP	20
EXP	--	Weak vs Wind & Poison/ Absorbs Earth

If you don't have a healthy supply of Float spells, this could turn out to be a long, hard battle. Float serves two purposes in this battle: 1. When cast on both Bosses, it eliminates their HP regeneration ability as long as the spell lasts; 2. It protects your party from the devastating Mad Cow Special when cast on your party members. This works because Sacred and Minotaur are both Earth Elementals. When they are in contact with the ground, the earth slowly restores their HP. However, if you pick them up off the ground, they no longer have that advantage. The Mad Cow Special is also an Earth-based attack.

Therefore, if the party isn't touching the ground, the attack passes harmlessly below them.

Physical attacks work well in this battle, but you'll make quicker work of each Boss by using boosted GF attacks. If you decide to work on each Boss individually, you should focus on Minotaur, because its attacks are much stronger. Winning this Boss fight gets you the Sacred Card and the Minotaur Card, plus you can now Junction with the Brothers GF from this point forward.

HP Boost

Between Deling City and the Tomb of the Unknown King, you'll come across some nasty birds called Thrustaevises. Depending on this creature's level, it may have the Tornado spell in its drawable inventory. Tornado junctions really well to just about any stat, but at this point it's best used to boost everyone's HP. If the Thrustaevises in the area don't have the Tornado spell (due to its current level), you can steal Windmills from them, which can be refined into 20 Tornado spells each.

Got the Code?

When you return to Deling City, you should immediately head for Caraway's Mansion with the Code Number from the Tomb of the Unknown King.

The way you input the code is unique, so pay attention. You must give the "ones" first, "tens" second, and "hundreds" third (if necessary). For example, if the code is 135, you would enter the 5, then the 3, and finally the 1.

Weapons Monthly

When either Rinoa or Squall and Irvine are placed at the base of the Presidential Residence, you can access a manhole leading into the sewers before climbing the stacked boxes. Follow the path to its end to find the May issue of Weapons Monthly (Weapons Mon May).

Switching Around

You'll do a lot of switching between parties during this part of the game. Also, don't forget to switch Junctions each time—you don't want to leave anyone defenseless!

Exiting the Mansion

There's only one way out of Caraway's trap and you must find it. There is one small clue. Check out the painting hanging on the wall. Everything you need to know is right there before you. If you still can't figure it out, check out the section called "The Answer" at the end of this section (see pg. 62). Otherwise, do your best to solve this puzzle on your own.

Also, take some time to talk to Zell and Selphie as they explore the room. Their comments are meant to assist you and to make you laugh.

Getting Through the Sewers

You'll spend a fair amount of time below Deling City, and getting around isn't easy. There are a lot of locked gates and dead ends along the way. However, you should check every gate to make absolutely sure you can't go through.

If you can't figure out where to go, you can also use the water wheels to go up or down a level. Just stand in front of one and press the  button to grab hold. Keep in mind, though, that the water wheels are a one-way ride, so there's no going back.

Blue Magics: Lvl? Death & Electrocute

You can find two more Blue Magics in the sewers below Deling City. Keep your eye out for a creature called Creeps. At Levels 20 to 29, Creeps carry the Curse Spike item, which teaches Quistis the Lvl? Death magic. You'll have other opportunities to get a Curse Spike later in the game, but this is your first opportunity. Also, you can steal Coral Fragments from Creeps. Coral Fragments can teach Quistis the Electrocute Blue Magic.

GUARDIAN FORCE ALERT!

Iguions

HP	127~1747	AP	10
EXP	--	Weak vs Earth & Holy/ Immune to Fire & Poison

To get this Boss fight off to a good start, you should draw the GF Carbuncle from either of the two Iguions. Don't miss this opportunity!!

The Iguions aren't tough. Neither one has much HP, so a strong GF can knock them out in a single shot. However, Ifrit is essentially worthless in this battle, because both Iguions are immune to Fire magic. If you have the Brothers GF, use it because the Iguions are weak against earth magic.

Watch out for the Iguions' Magma Breath. It causes a large amount of damage, and sometimes places a Stone curse spell on its victim. You can easily remove this effect by using Esuna, which you can draw from the Bosses.

If Squall and Irvine get turned to stone, it's game over! Also, make sure you stock up on the Break spell; it Junctions nicely and can turn enemies to stone.

Seifer

HP	176~1150	AP	--
EXP	--	Weak vs Poison

Apparently, Seifer hasn't been working on his fighting skills since he joined Edea. His physical attack is weak, unless he uses his Gunblade properly (which rarely happens).

Seifer's Fira spell is his strongest attack, but you can easily counter it by using your new GF Carbuncle if Squall is equipped with it. If not, just summon your strongest GFs and Seifer will bow out of the fight soon enough.

Edea

AP 20

--

As you would expect, Edea uses a lot of magic—very strong magic at that. Fortunately, Rinoa and Irvine join Squall for this battle, so things should be much easier.

At the start, have the character equipped with Carbuncle summon the GF to cast Reflect on the entire party. Edea will counter this by casting Dispel, but the spell only affects one person at a time. Therefore, she usually ends up spending the next three actions using Dispel. Meanwhile have your other two characters summon GFs or use physical attacks while the third character immediately begins to summon Carbuncle again.

acter immediately begins to summon Carbuncle again.

Although your third party member will never get to attack directly, that character's actions will ensure that Edea never gets to attack with anything more powerful than her Astral Punch once Carbuncle arrives the first time.

Edea carries very strong magic: Cura, Dispel, Double, and Life. Not only is this group of magic strong, but it junctions well to your stats. After casting Carbuncle, you may also want to draw from Edea to stock up on magic. Even if you lose this fight against Edea, you can progress further. However, losing the battle means missing out on 20 AP.

Retrieving the Weapons

As you begin, make sure you Junction Zell with GFs and some magic. You may need to switch Junctioned abilities with another character using the Switch option. The halls are full of enemies, and you don't want to get caught unprepared. The party's weapons are being held on the floor above (the 8th Floor) by two guards. After defeating them, Zell will return the weapons to their rightful owners.

Blue Magic: Micro Missile

One of the robotic guards inside the prison is the GIM52A. This robotic fiend uses the Micro Missile attack, which Quistis can also use providing she finds the right item, the Missile. You can steal a Missile from a GIM52A, or you can hope one will be dropped after a battle with one of the robots.

Wedge

AP --

Immune to Poison

Biggs and Wedge are a bit tougher than they were during the fight on the Dollet Communications Tower, but not by much. You can easily finish them off with a couple of strong GFs, but don't neglect to stock up on Reflect and Regen before the battle is won. Also, if you have the Mug ability, you should steal from them since they're carrying good items.

If you want to have a little fun, try casting Zombie on both Biggs and Wedge. You can then instantly kill them by using a couple of Phoenix Downs or Life spells. However, it's more fun to cast Regen on both of the "Zombied" Bosses, which acts like poison. You can also speed up the effect by casting Haste on them. As noted earlier, this is an easy fight, so don't be afraid to goof around a little.

Another fun trick is to cast Confuse on either character. If Wedge is confused and attacks Biggs, Biggs will immediately counterattack Wedge while yelling at him. If the attack is the other way around, Wedge will yell at Biggs to "Stop picking on me."

Special Card Games

On your way up the floors to save Squall, there are several prisoners who will play cards with you—but at a price. Fortunately, however, each one has an item to give you if you win. On the 5th and 11th Floors, you'll find prisoners who will give you a random item if you can defeat them. The person on the 5th Floor charges 500 Gil per game, while the person on the 11th Floor charges 200 Gil per game. The items you'll receive vary from a Potion to much better items like an HP Up.

A prisoner on the 10th Floor has a better prize for 300 Gil. Defeat this prisoner and you'll receive an upgrade for your Battle Meter called the Character Report. This gives you specific information on each of your characters, so you can see which character you're using the most and who's fought the best. Access the Character Report using the Information headings under the Tutorial section of the Main Menu.

Check All Cells

The prison is full of items for you to pick up. Once the alarms sound, nearly every cell is unlocked. Check behind every door to find useful items, card playing inmates, Draw Points, and Save Points. However, you must be careful while exploring, because the halls are full of monsters and Galbadian guards.

Oomba Moombas

Depending on the selections you make when a choice is given, several Moombas may appear out of nowhere to help you in various ways. A couple of Moombas will give you valuable items. Other Moombas will offer to create a shortcut for you on one of the prison floors. What this does is remove the barrier in between the staircases so that you don't have to go all the way around the perimeter. So how do you get the Moombas to appear? When given a choice, stand your ground, be brave, and fight for what is just. If you lack courage, lie, or submit to authority, the Moombas won't appear.

The Lift

After leaving the Torture Room, press the red button on the lift's control panel when Zell instructs you to do so. When the control room reaches the bottom level, head to the right through the doorway. Continue forward until you reach another doorway, and press the  button to cause the doorway to implode.

All of the fights you faced while pushing your way through the prison should have prepared you for this dangerous battle. The Elite Soldier acts as support for the two GIM52As, which makes eliminating the Elite Soldier your top priority. With their leader out of the way, it's just a matter of dealing with the GIM52As and any support magic cast on them.

Use Dispel magic (which you can draw from the GIM52As) to remove any support magic like Protect that the Elite Soldier might have cast on them. Then hit both GIM52As hard with Thunder magic and Quezacotl.

Getting Inside

There's a place to scan an ID Card between the two doors inside the first building. Don't worry about finding an ID Card. A member of your party will have found one inside the stolen vehicle earlier.

What To Do

Your goal is to sneak through the base and sabotage the missile launch. To do so, speak with all the soldiers scattered throughout the base and follow their orders. You'll get the chance to sabotage the terminal in the circuit room, alter the missiles' error ratio, disable the launch mechanism, and set the base to self-destruct.

Along the way, you'll have several options while talking to the soldiers. It's best to always play it cool so you can keep your identity a secret until you reach the Launch Control Room. By doing so, you can quietly go about the process of sabotaging the base.

Setting the Missiles Off Course

The Missile Control Panel is located next to the Missile Launch Bay's door. Inspect it and you'll be given a close-up view of the panel's screen. First, select "Target." Next, select "Set Error Ratio" and hold right on the directional button to set the Error Ratio to maximum. Select "Data Upload," and then select "Yes" to upload the data.

Control Panel Secret

You can toy around a bit with the Missile Control Panel. Choose to go to the Equipment inspection screen and you'll see the equipment used by the Galbadian Army. Hold down both the  and  buttons and press up or down on the control pad. The scene will switch to either a dancing Galbadian Soldier or Elite Soldier. Pretty strange stuff.

Setting the Time Limit

When setting the auto self-destruct mechanism, you're given the choice of 10 to 40 minutes. You should only need 10 minutes if you weren't found out. If you were found out, you shouldn't need more than 20 minutes. Choosing a time limit of 20 minutes or less enables you to use the door in the room with the self-destruct device. This door is a quick shortcut to the base's exit and much easier than backtracking through the base.

Busted!

If you get caught, you're forced to face random encounters inside the base and you won't be able to change the missiles' error ratio at first. Instead, you'll have to set the self-destruct mechanism and then fight your way back into the base while the self-destruct countdown continues. During this time, it helps to have Diablos' Enc Half or Enc None abilities to limit the random encounters you face. If you are forced into a random battle, you should immediately escape from it so as to limit the amount of time wasted.

To access the missiles' Control Panel, you must get an ID Card and a password from the downed Soldier next to the Launch Control Room stairs. The downed Soldier will only appear once you reach the base's entrance. Quickly return to the Control Panel, get the Soldier's ID and password ("EDEA"), and then access the Control Panel. Go to "Target," select "Set Error Ratio," and set it to maximum. Choose "Data Upload" and then exit the Control Panel. Upon exiting the base, you'll have a very short amount of time to fight the upcoming Boss.

Raising the SeeD Rank

You have two opportunities to increase your SeeD Rank in this event. First, get through this entire section without getting caught by the guards. Second, exit the base and defeat the Boss within 10 minutes.

BGH251F2

HP 4200~8400

AP 20

EXP --

Immune to Poison

BGH251F2 is a heavy-duty battle tank with extremely powerful attacks. However, as solid as it might look, it's weak against Thunder, Earth, and Water magic, which makes destroying it much easier.

To cut down on the damage caused by this Boss' attacks, you can draw Protect from it. However, if you're short on time, it's better to just hit the Boss hard with Quezacotl and other GFs (preferably not Brothers due to the length of the GF's animation). After destroying the Boss, the crew (two Galbadian Soldiers and an Elite Soldier) will remain behind to continue the fight. They're not powerful enemies, so finishing them off isn't difficult.

TRY AGAIN...

You will lose this battle and the game will end if:

- 1) The time expires while fighting the Boss;
- 2) Your party members are all defeated in the battle;
- 3) You did not set the Error Ratio to maximum on the Control Panel.

Finding Headmaster Cid

No one knows where Headmaster Cid is except Xu, but she's nowhere to be found. Before she appears, there's a series of tasks you must perform.

There are SeeDs fighting off monsters in each branch of Balamb Garden: Library, Training Center, Parking Lot, Dormitory, Cafeteria, Quad, and Infirmary. You must visit each area and help them out before Xu will appear near the elevator. You can then speak with her on the second floor. After finding her, she'll take you to see Cid.

Tip

Make sure you speak with the SeeDs you assist. Most of them will give you an item.

An Old Friend

You'll find Nida, the other SeeD who graduated with Squall, in front of the Infirmary. Be sure you stop by to say hello.

Getting Around Underground

The following are a few tips to help you navigate the MD Level of Balamb Garden:

- The elevator controls don't work, so you'll have to find another way out. Check the floor to find an access panel that you can open.

- After exiting the elevator, you'll need to open a large hatch at the end of the hall.

- Use the large valve wheel to open the doors in the previous room. It takes a great deal of effort to move the wheel. See if you can tap the  button fast enough to move it using just Squall. Exit the room and go down the new ladder.

- After climbing up the ladder and turning on the computer, you'll need to go down into the pit below. Look for a green light on a gate in the railing that leads to a ladder.

- There's a large lever next to the Save Point. Throw the lever to open the bay doors on the other side of the bridge. Head across the bridge to fight the Bosses, two Oilboyles, and then climb down the ladder at the bridge's end.

- All that's needed to start the large gears in motion is a couple of twists on the center column in the control panel. You can ignore all of the other parts.

Oilboyles

HP	1068	AP	20	---
EXP	---	Weak vs. Ice/Absorbs Fire

The Oilboyles have one major weakness: Fire. With this knowledge in hand, you can finish this battle quickly by summoning Ifrit a couple of times (once if Ifrit is beefed up). It also helps if you took Squall's advice earlier and equipped everyone with the Elem-Atk-J ability with Fire, Fira, or Firaga.

The only thing you really need to worry about are the different status attacks the Oilboyles cast. If a character gets hit with an abnormal status effect, simply draw the Esuna spell from an Oilboyle and cast it on the affected party member.

NORG

AP 20

EXP --

Weak vs. Wind/Immune to Poison

NORG's vast wealth has afforded him a virtual fortress known as the NORG Pod. The Garden Master locks himself inside the pod, and uses the pod's left and right Orbs to cast a variety of magic at his foes.

The trick to fighting the NORG Pod is to balance the acts of attacking the central door where NORG is hiding, and attacking the Orbs so that NORG can't use the Pod's magic. The Pods shift colors to show their readiness. Blue signifies the least ready, yellow means the Pod is warming up, while Red signals that the Orb is ready to cast magic. By attacking the Orbs, you can force them to shift back one or two colors. By following this tactic, you can essentially keep them from ever casting magic as long as you're willing to dedicate a couple of characters to attacking them.

GUARDIAN FORCE ALERT!

NORG (Cont.)

AP 20

EXP --

Weak vs Wind/

--

There are two ways to go about this fight. The slower approach is to have two of your characters focus on attacking the NORG Orbs so that they're constantly a blue color. Meanwhile, have the third character focus on the NORG Pod and, later, NORG. A faster way is to summon the GF Carbuncle at the beginning of the battle. Carbuncle's Reflect spell will protect the party from most of the magic the Left Orb uses and from some of NORG's magic. One of your characters should then focus on attacking the Right Orb. The Right Orb uses Dispel magic to remove the Reflect spell from your characters, so you must keep it at blue or yellow to avoid having to constantly summon Carbuncle. The other two characters can then focus on the NORG Pod and NORG.

Most GFs work really well in this battle. They won't inflict much damage to the Pods, but NORG is weak defensively without his NORG Pod for protection. Also, make sure you use the Mug ability if you have it. NORG and the two Orbs have rare items ripe for plunder. Last, but certainly not least, make sure you draw the Leviathan GF from NORG. You don't want to miss this awesome GF!

Hidden Draw Point

After the battle with NORG, you can draw Bio from the wreckage. By standing in front of the wreckage, you can see a Draw Point hidden in the ball of light. You don't need to be close to the Draw Point; just stand with Squall's toes against the very front of NORG's Pod and use the Draw Point normally.

If you didn't get the Seifer Card from Cid earlier in the game, this is your chance. Speak with him after he gives Squall his orders and Cid will play cards, albeit hesitantly.

Occult Fan III

On the path below the one leading to Balamb Garden's observation deck you'll find a Master Fisherman. Speak with him and when you get the opportunity select,

"What are you talking about?" and he'll reward you with a copy of Occult Fan III.

Quezacotl Card & Martine

After speaking with the Mayor, why not challenge him to a game of cards? If you're lucky, you can win the Quezacotl GF Card from him.

Also, check to the right of the Mayor's house to find Martine, the Headmaster of Galbadia Garden you met earlier. He's an excellent card player and has all of the Level 7 Boss Cards at his disposal. You can try to win them all, if you have the patience!

Blue Magic: Gatling Gun

On your way to the train station during the attack, you'll most likely run into a SAM08G enemy. Steal an item called Running Fire from one of these nasty looking robots and you'll be able to teach Quistis the Gatling Gun Blue Magic.

This Boss is already badly beaten up, but it's still a threat. Handle it the same way you did in the previous fight: strong Thunder based magic, Quezacotl, and physical attacks.

Also, make sure you use the Mug ability to steal a piece of Adamantine from BGF251F2. It may not have an immediate use, but it will come in handy later when you remodel your weapons.

The Master Fisherman

When you first enter FH, you should drop down below the path connecting FH to Balamb Garden and find the Master Fisherman. He'll give you a copy of Occult Fan III, and then ask you to meet him at the Inn later. Comply with his request, and you'll learn a lot more about FH and the people in it. Also, you'll receive a Megalixir if you stick around to hear his entire story. You must visit the Master Fisherman when you first arrive at FH. Otherwise he'll disappear and you'll miss your chance to meet him.

The Long Lost Son

After fighting BGF251F2, leave the Train Station area and then return there again. New people will now be in the area, including a person you may have heard of if you've been talking to everyone. The man on the left side of the area is the son of one of the cafeteria workers back at Balamb Garden. Speak with him and convince him to return to Balamb Garden.

If you want to leave the town before you liberate it, you can do so by helping out the Big Bad Rascal. While visiting Zell's mother, speak with him and he'll leave the house. Then visit the neighbors next door to find him consoling the Hotel Owner's daughter. He will then head to the town entrance to check on the Hotel Owner and his wife. You can assist him by causing a distraction. Talk to the guard while he talks to the Hotel Owner, and then meet him back in town. After expressing his appreciation for your assistance, he will offer to cause a distraction for you if you ever need to get out of town.

Zell's Room

Since you can't stay at the hotel, Zell will finally cave in and let you visit his room. All you need to do is try to go up the stairs in his house.

You can get a special reaction from each party member the first time you visit Zell's room. Also, make sure that you check out his punching bag.

The Search for the Captain

The Captain is difficult to find because he moves around so much; however, he's left a long line of clues for you to follow. After finding Ma Dincht and speaking with the guards at the Hotel, you can begin your search. Follow the line of clues in this order:

- The Dock
- Zell's house
- Train Station
- The Dock
- Train Station
- The Hotel

Other Ways to Find the Captain

Besides tracking the Captain down using the various clues found around Balamb, you can also use two other tactics to locate him.

If you simply wait around for a really long time (15 minutes or so) and don't do anything, you can approach the hotel and the Captain will be back from his patrol. You can also talk to the dog on the dock, and it will lead you back to the hotel instead of the train station.

Another way is to locate the hidden reporter. Around the dock area, you'll find a reporter hiding underneath the vehicle closest to the screen. You can pay the reporter for clues to the Captain's whereabouts. The fee increases depending on the type of clue you desire (gold, silver, or bronze). If you purchase a "gold" clue, the reporter will lead you straight to the captain's current location.

Raijin

HP 400~11,600

AP 10

EXP --

Weak vs Poison/Absorbs Thunder

Two Galbadian Soldiers accompany Raijin. You may want to get rid of one of them and save the other to draw Cure magic when needed. Raijin is very strong and well trained, but only attacks with powerful physical attacks. Do yourself a favor and draw

Protect from Raijin and cast it on everyone in your party. This will help defend against Raijin's onslaught. Blind and Sleep are also very effective.

You can attack Raijin with your GFs to speed up the battle, but DO NOT summon Quezacotl or use Thunder based magic. Raijin absorbs Thunder magic and Quezacotl, which cures him. Diablos works particularly well against Raijin.

GUARDIAN FORCE ALERT!

Fujin

HP 300~8700

AP 10

EXP --

Weak vs Poison/Absorbs Wind

Raijin

HP 5400~22,600

AP 12

EXP --

Weak vs Poison/Absorbs Lightning

Raijin comes back strong for round two and his partner in crime, Fujin, joins in this time. Start off by drawing Protect from Raijin and casting it on your party. Also, make sure you immediately draw the Pandemona GF from Fujin. Although Fujin uses strong magic, resist the urge to summon Carbuncle during this battle, as Reflect will only work against you. Fujin's strongest spell passes right through Reflect, so all Reflect does is prevent you from healing your characters.

Raijin's HPs are less in this battle, but his attack power is much higher. He's also learned a new attack called the Raijin Special that typically causes around 800 points of damage if your characters aren't protected. This makes him the greater threat, so focus your assault on him. Fujin, on the other hand, has Cure magic, so you should try to keep her around, as you may need to draw it later in the battle.

If you mugged Raijin in the last battle, you should do so again. He has two more Str Up items ripe for the picking. Also, if you resort to magic or GFs, you should once again avoid using Quezacotl. Raijin still absorbs Thunder magic, and Fujin absorbs Wind magic, so avoid using spells such as Thunder and Aero.

NOTE

If you accidentally have Thunder or Wind magic Junctioned to a character's attack, you can have that character draw magic from one enemy and use it on the other. For example, you can draw Aero from Fujin and cast it on Raijin, or you can draw Thunder from Raijin and cast it on Fujin. By using this tactic, you can avoid exhausting your own magic reserves.

Hidden Treasure

Speak with the Trabia Garden student holding a book in the classroom to learn about a hidden treasure. The book says the treasure is buried five steps south of the gargoyle statue. The statue is back at the front gate. Stand in front of it, and walk approximately five steps forward and search the ground. You'll find the August issue of Weapons Monthly.

Optional Side Quests!!

You've come to a point in the game where you can opt to continue with the main story, or take a moment to complete a few Side Quests. Optional events (a.k.a. Side Quests) enable you to find new GFs and powerful items that you normally wouldn't find, but they do require you to turn your attention away from your main objectives for a bit. If you're curious about what you can do now, flip to the "Side Quests" (see p. 166) section of this book and check out the Shumi Village, Winhill, and Centra Ruins events, to name a few.

Finding the Orphanage

Edea's House is far to the south at the very tip of the Centra continent on the Cape of Good Hope. To find it, simply circle the southernmost continent until you find a peninsula with a lighthouse and a small white building. You can inspect the building when you get there, but you can't go inside.

The Hovering Ship

To the northeast of Edea's House, you'll see a large hovering ship. This is actually Galbadia Garden, which has been transformed in the same style as Balamb Garden. Save your game and then board Balamb Garden. Head straight for Galbadia Garden to initiate an encounter.

Giving Orders

If you give too many orders, or forget to give a crucial order, Nida will scold Squall. To avoid this from happening, stick to the basics: preparing for the attack, defending Balamb Garden, and taking care of the junior classmen. If you want, go ahead and throw in a few more. The comment about the hot dogs is worth choosing!

Free Item

Make sure you check on everyone on the second floor of the Garden. Squall will order those standing around to get to their positions. However, one student, on the second floor, will give you a useful item—a Cottage.

Shifting Characters

Once again, you'll be shifting between characters as you did in Deling City. Make sure you use the Switch command, and then Junction your GFs and magic each time to your other party members to avoid leaving a party member undefended.

Easy Victory

The Garden is full of Galbadia's best machines and soldiers. You can easily defeat these enemies by Junctioning Death as a Status-Attack Junction and Thunder as an Elemental-Attack Junction. The Death Junction will kill most soldiers in a single hit. The Thunder Junction will increase the damage inflicted to most machines.

Squall's Battle

When an opposing soldier pins down Squall, don't try to run and don't threaten the enemy. Doing so will only cause an injury to Squall. Instead, choose to "Look around for another option" and examine the Emergency Exit door and select the option to "Press the button for the emergency exit."

Once you're in the battle, you have four controls. The normal three are Punch (△ button), Block (□ button), and Kick (× button). The punch attack is very powerful, but also very slow. You should only use it when the enemy has been hit by another attack or has been blocked. The kick attack is quick and is a great way to counter an enemy punch, but it causes very little damage.

You'll need to use more than the kick attack if you want to win the battle.

The block option (□ button) enables you to block an enemy attack. You should use this a lot to counter kicks. The fourth hidden attack is the Deathblow (○ button). After blocking several enemy attacks, you'll get the chance to use the Deathblow. This attack is extremely powerful and can nearly knock out the enemy with a single hit. Weaken the enemy a bit with kicks and punches, and then block until you get the Deathblow to finish off the enemy.

Getting Around in Galbadia Garden

You're not a welcome visitor in Galbadia Garden, a fact made clear by the roaming monsters and locked doors. Your goal is to find three students who have the Card Keys you need to get through the locked doors.

Card Key 1 is located on the second floor and should be your first target. You can use this key to enter a locked room on the bottom floor, which leads to the hockey rink. There's another student on the other side of the rink hiding in a classroom. This student has Card Key 2. You can use this key to enter the door on the third floor, which leads to an area that should look familiar.

Go the main hall and head to the left. You'll find the last key, Card Key 3 in a classroom. Take the key up to the elevator next to the Reception Room you visited on your first trip to Galbadia Garden.

GUARDIAN FORCE ALERT!

Cerberus

AP 30

EXP --

Immune to Wind/Absorbs Thunder

(Optional)

In the center of the main hall you'll see a large beast. It's up to you whether or not you battle Cerberus, but if you don't you'll miss an opportunity to get a new GF.

Before the battle, make sure no one in your party has Thunder Elemental-Attack Junctioned; otherwise, that person will be unable to use physical attacks because they will heal Cerberus.

Cerberus isn't tough as long as you can keep it from using its Triple spell on itself. To do so, simply counter the Triple spell with Dispel. This will severely limit Cerberus' attack options.

Also, make sure you stock up on Triple if you haven't already, because it Junctions quite well. Don't forget to steal the Spd-J Scroll from this Boss before the end of the battle.

Seifer

AP 20

EXP --

Weak vs Poison

Seifer has improved a great deal since your last encounter. He now uses his Gunblade better, plus he has a wicked special attack called Demon Slice that causes around 1,500 points of damage.

You should begin the battle by drawing Haste from Seifer and casting it on your party members. Then use whatever you want to defeat Seifer. This really isn't a tough battle as long as you keep everyone's HP in check. When Seifer's HP gets low, he'll begin using Hi-Potions, however they won't be strong enough to save him!

GUARDIAN FORCE ALERT!

Seifer

HP	1200~7400	AP	---
EXP	---	Weak vs Poison

Edea

EXP	---	---

To reach Edea, you must fight Seifer a second time. He has fewer HP in this battle, but his attack power has increased. Use the same basic strategy you used during the first fight, and you should be just fine. Try to steal a Hero from Seifer if you get the opportunity.

Once Seifer is out of the way, Edea will take his place. Edea is much stronger than she was before, and the Carbuncle trick you used during the first fight won't work this time around because most of her magic can't be reflected.

Edea uses a strong spell called Maelstrom and will cast Death spells when her HPs get low. If possible, you should have your characters Junction Death to Status-Def to avoid a one-hit kill. Also, make sure you immediately draw the Alexander GF from Edea, and then use physical attacks and Diablos to quickly wear her down. You can steal a Royal Crown from Edea if you have the Mug ability.

EDEA'S HOUSE

1 Go to Sorceress Edea's House

2 Speak with Cid and Edea

3 Visit Rinoa in the Infirmary

4 Fight off the Ruby Dragon

5 Return to Edea's House

6 Get a letter and directions from Edea

Challenge CC Members

Are you ready to take on the best of the best? The CC group is a collection of seven card-playing fanatics. Each person has a solid set of cards, and knows how to work the rules in their favor. By defeating each of them, you can collect some rare cards and bulk up your collection of cards for modifying later on if necessary. This is your first opportunity to challenge them. If you're ready, check the "Side Quests" section for more information on the CC group.

What's Happened To NORG?

Check the basement level to discover that NORG's "egg" has apparently hatched. There are two apologetic Shumi looking around, but no one has anything to say about the hatched "egg" yet.

Edea's Card

While visiting Edea's House, make sure you challenge Edea to a game of cards. She's tough, but you'll want to get Edea's Card from her.

Also, if you haven't received the Seifer Card from Cid yet, this is a good time to do so.

Draw Points

- Timber Maniacs (Bedroom/on floor)
- Weapons Monthly July Issue (Training Center/on ground)

Rare Cards

- Leviathan (CC Joker/Training Center)
- Carbuncle (CC Heart/Bridge)
- Gilgamesh (CC King/Dormitory)
- Edea (Edea/Edea's House)

The Big Movie

After speaking with Rinoa, you'll be sent back into the past again. This time you're forced into a mini-game against a Ruby Dragon. Laguna has two options during the battle: Defend (  button) and Attack (  button). (If you have a turbo controller, you can set the Attack button to auto-fire to quickly win the battle.)

Battle the Ruby Dragon by defending against its short, quick attack, and then rapidly tap the Attack button to counterattack as the enemy prepares a longer, slower attack. Continue to repeat this pattern until the Ruby Dragon is defeated.

After the fight, you're forced down a hill where you'll battle the Ruby Dragon a second time. You can either fight immediately, or take a moment to ensure that your party members are properly equipped. You should definitely take a moment to equip Kiros and Ward, because they aren't Junctioned with any GFs. There's also a Save Point to the left. This is not a Boss fight, although the Ruby Dragon is a powerful enemy.

Ruby Dragon

The Ruby Dragon is a Fire Elemental, so summon Shiva if you have the GF equipped or use Ice Magic. Demi is also a very effective spell. You can also Junction Ice Magic to your attack and Fire to your defense if you want the added insurance, but you shouldn't need it. Be sure not to cast any Fire or Wind based magic, as it will cure the Ruby Dragon.

Finding the Ship

Return to Edea's House and speak with Edea. She'll tell you to look for the White Seed Ship, which is in a hidden location somewhere around the Centra Continent. She'll also give you a letter that will enable you to board the White Seed Ship once you locate it.

Edea's Letter

You can make a little extra Gil with Edea's Letter. Take it to a shop and you can sell it for 125 Gil. It isn't much, but it can help if you're short on cash. Return to Edea's House and speak with Edea again. She'll scold you and then hand over another letter. You can continue to sell her letters and get new ones to your heart's content. Granted this isn't a great money maker, but it's kind of humorous.

The White Seed Ship is hidden in a cove north of Edea's House. Check your map and compare it to the one shown here. The ship isn't tall, so keep your eyes open for its silver sails and brown body.

You'll notice a chain of islands that somewhat resembles skeletal fingers. You'll find a small channel flowing through the islands on the east side of this land formation. Pass through the channel heading east and immediately turn south. This is where you'll find the hidden White Seed Ship.

Girl Next Door

Did you get that copy of the Girl Next Door magazine from Timber Maniacs way back on Disc One? Now's your chance to use it! Visit Zone on the bridge of the Seed Ship and talk to him several times. Eventually, he'll notice that you have a copy of Girl Next Door (assuming you do indeed have it) and asks if you'll give it to him. You can turn him down, ask him for Gil, or just give it to him for free. Be a chum and give it to Zone for free.

In return Zone will give you a Rename Card and the Shiva Card. Not a bad trade. (If you didn't get the Girl Next Door magazine, it's inside the Timber Maniacs building in the front lobby, which is located in Timber. You can always get it now, and then return to the White Seed Ship.)

GREAT SALT LAKE

Enter Great Salt Lake

Defeat Abadon

Locate the hidden door

Navigating the Lake

There are two paths through the Great Salt Lake. The easy path takes you through the bottom of the lake and contains no surprises.

However, the upper path is home to two Draw Points. Getting there is easy, although you may miss it at first.

There's a large monster's skull on the ground near the entrance. Climb across the skull, and then use the monster's spine as a path to the ledges above. Continue using the bones as paths until you find both Draw Points. When you reach the end of the upper path, you must jump down to the lower path and continue forward.

EXP --

Weak vs Fire & Holy

Undead Monster

This is one of those rare moments when your characters announce an enemy's weakness at the beginning of the battle. The Abadon is a huge, undead monster that can shift between two forms. Its original form is powerful; however, it lacks a good defense. Abadon's second form has a strong defense against both physical and magical attacks, and focuses on using magical attacks against your party.

Abadon (Cont.)

HP 510~17,010

AP 40

Undead Monster

EXP --

Weak vs Fire & Holy

Abadon causes a lot of bad status effects. Its claw attack in its original form can cause Curse. The second form tends to often cast Confuse and Blind. If you have Treatment equipped, it will come in handy, but those of you who don't can draw Esuna from Abadon.

Although Abadon is weak against Fire and Holy magic, neither will cause as much damage as the Recover ability. Use it on Abadon to cause 9999 points of damage against this Boss. Also, Alexander's Revive ability (if you have it) can instantly kill Abadon. You can also accomplish this by using a Phoenix Down, just like the Gerogero Boss fight earlier in the game. Also, avoid casting Curaga against the Boss, because it doesn't cause much damage. However, if Cure or Curaga is all that you have, then use them.

Dead End?

After the Boss fight, you must follow the trail right into the next screen and watch the background. Notice the shape that is being outlined? Obviously, there's something hidden there. Have Squall search the background to find what you've been looking for.

Rare Cards

Ward (Dr. Odine)

Laguna's Visit

Make sure you equip Ward and Kiros right away for their first battle. Each party member's Junctions have been dropped, with the exception of Squall's/Laguna's. As you fight, be very careful against the Gesper. This creature has the powerful Degenerator attack. The Gesper can eliminate one of your characters with a single hit from this attack.

As you pass through the Lunatic Pandora Lab, make sure you listen to Dr. Odine's conversation. You'll overhear a reference to a copy of Weapons Monthly. As you pass through the lab a second time, you'll see it on the ground near the bottom of the screen. This is the first issue of Weapons Monthly ever to be published.

At Dr. Odine's Lab, you can't get in the door in front of you. Ride the elevator up to the control room above, and use the brown switches on the wall to unlock the door below. Return to the ground floor to find Ellone.

Exploring Esthar

The quickest way around Esthar comes courtesy of the lifts found virtually everywhere. These lifts will take you to all of the major attractions throughout the city, and you don't need to visit most of the side paths. Don't forget to stop at the Shopping Mall, where you'll find a lot of good items for sale. This is especially true if you have the GF Tonberry's Familiar ability, which adds a lot of items to each shop's inventory.

Free Items

Sometimes the shops in Esthar will give you free items. Cloud's Shop will give you a Hi-Potion and an X-Potion. Johnny's Shop gives you a Hi-Potion and a Mega-Potion. Karen's Shop will randomly give you a Hi-Potion, and then a Mega-Phoenix later. The best item is the Rosetta Stone that Cheryl's Shop is giving away.

To leave Esthar, you can either rent a car or simply walk out. If you have the money, it's worth paying the 3500 Gil to rent a car. You have a lot of distance to cover, and there are a lot of nasty creatures outside. If you choose to walk, you should use the elevator located in the center of the Rent-A-Car station.

Occult Fan IV & Combat King 004

During your first visit to Esthar (while dropping off Rinoa), you should seek out the Presidential Aide wearing white and blue in front of the Airstation. After speaking with him, return to the Presidential Palace. Just outside the room where you left Rinoa and Odine, you'll find the Presidential Secretary standing outside the door. Speak with him, and he'll complain about the President's growing collection of magazines. When he walks away, you can find the Occult Fan IV lying on the ground where he was standing.

Once again during your first visit to Esthar, you should seek out a lone Esthar Soldier on a high catwalk in the center of the city. After speaking with him, proceed with the game. When Zell returns to Esthar later, speak with the soldier a second time before visiting Odine's Lab. The soldier will say, "I'm done with this," and will leave behind the Combat King 004.

On the Way to Lunar Gate

There are four places you can visit in the area outside of Esthar: Lunatic Pandora Laboratory, Sorceress Monument, Lunar Gate, and Tears' Point. All four locations are now highlighted on the World Map.

Before you head for Lunar Gate, however, you should take a quick detour and go to Tears' Point. There's a valuable item at Tears' Point known as the Solomon Ring. To use it, you'll need 18 items: six Steel Pipes, six Remedy+, and six Malboro Tentacles. This item enables you to summon the GF Doomtrain. Also, there are two Draw Points along the way. One contains Life, while the other has Reflect.

You can get the necessary items by stealing Steel Pipes from Wendigos, using the Medicine Level Up ability to create Remedy+, and by stealing (or winning) Malboro Tentacles from Malboros. You don't have to fight Doomtrain, and once you summon it, it joins you without putting you through another grueling test.

Blue Magic: Bad Breath

Outside Esthar, you may take part in a battle with a creature called a Malboro. These nasty plants have a wicked status attack called Bad Breath, which hits your entire party with nearly every abnormal status effect in the game. The only plus side is that you can steal or win Malboro Tentacles from these creatures. This item enables Quistis to learn the Blue Magic, Bad Breath.

Catching Lunatic Pandora

You only have 20 minutes to reach Lunatic Pandora before it completely passes over the city. This won't be an easy task if you don't know the city well, because you only have pictures of three areas to go by. If you miss Lunatic Pandora at one of the contact points, you must rush to the next one. The following information will guide you from each contact point to the next.

As soon as you leave Dr. Odine's Lab, press the ○ button to access the picture of where Lunatic Pandora will arrive next. Doing so should help you considerably. The first thing you will notice is that the lifts are all on the fritz for some reason, which means you must walk around the city. Also, you'll notice that Galbadian forces have now infested the city, so there will be random encounters.

Each time you reach the entry point of Lunatic Pandora, you'll fight some Galbadian troops. They serve as a diversionary tactic to draw you away from Lunatic Pandora as it continues to pass through the city. If you fail to defeat the troops quickly, Lunatic Pandora will pass you by and you'll have to head to the next contact point.

Contact Point #1 (Center of the City)

Arrives between 15:00 and 12:00

From Dr. Odine's Lab, head off the right side of the screen to the Central Gate and then take the path out through the top. Go up the stairs on the next screen and out the left side to reach the first contact point.

Contact Point #2 (Skyway Crossing)

Arrives between 10:00 and 5:00

From the first contact point, head off the right side of the screen and back down the stairs. Exit via the path at the bottom, which places you back at the Central Gate. Head to the right through the Shopping Mall to an intersection two screens further. Go to the left from the intersection to find the second contact point.

Contact Point #3 (North of the Shopping Mall)

Arrives between 3:00 and 0:00

From the second contact point, head back to the right and then down at the crossroads. This will place you at the third—and final—contact point. You must defeat the Galbadian guards in order to enter Lunatic Pandora at this contact point before the timer reaches 0:00.

Once inside Lunatic Pandora, it doesn't matter which way you go. What happens next is unavoidable, so don't think you did anything wrong.

LUNAR BASE

Talk to Piet in the Lunar Dock, and then pick up Rinoa

Place Rinoa in the Med Lab, and follow Piet to the Control Room

Examine the monitor, and then find Ellone on the second floor

Return to the Med Lab

Alexander & Laguna Cards

While on the Lunar Base, you can acquire the Alexander Card by challenging Piet and the Laguna Card by challenging Ellone. This task may prove to be tough, because almost every rule is in effect on the Lunar Base.

Space Rescue

Squall must attempt a daring rescue. All you must do to help is to line up the victim with Squall's open arms. This is fairly easy, because you have plenty of time to line up for the grab.

Simply push toward the tumbling person until that person is lined up directly with the center of the screen. As the victim draws closer to Squall, it will be much easier to make smaller adjustments. You have a limited amount of booster jet fuel, which you can use by pressing the  button. The boosters move you a lot faster, but your supply of fuel is very limited and should be used sparingly.

RAGNAROK

Find the clue on how to defeat the Propagators

Eliminate the Purple Propagators

Destroy the Red Propagators

Eradicate the Yellow Propagators

Exterminate the Green Propagators

Find the Bridge

Go to the passenger deck to regroup

Return to the Bridge

Fly to the Sorceress Memorial

Clearing the Ragnarok

Just your luck. The Ragnarok is full of nasty monsters known as Propagators. These creatures aren't that tough, but they're very strong and difficult to kill off—permanently. By inspecting the computer terminals in the ship, you'll discover that although Propagators may have a nasty nature, they do help each other out. If one gets killed, its partner will eventually come and revive it. This being the case, the only way to keep a Propagator from regenerating is to kill them in pairs.

There are a total of eight Propagators on board the Ragnarok, with four color variations: Yellow, Green, Red, and Purple. The different colors mark the different pairs. Therefore, to clear the ship of Propagators you must eliminate them in colored pairs. Once you grasp this concept, the actual task isn't nearly as tough.

Note

When in battle, casting Blind and Silence on the Propagators severely limits their chances of inflicting any damage to your party members. You can make this easier by Junctioning 100 Pain spells to either Rinoa's or Squall's weapon.

Start with the Purple Propagator, the one you first saw on your way into the ship inside the Hangar area. After eliminating it, head through the cargo doors and take a quick left through the door in the corridor before the Red Propagator can attack you. The Purple Propagator is in the next room.

After defeating the Purple Propagators, return to the previous room and eliminate the first Red Propagator. Now head back to the Hangar where you defeated the first Purple Propagator, and climb the stairs to the catwalk above. Apparently, this Red Propagator has made the catwalk its new home.

With both the Red and Purple Propagators eliminated, it's time to take on the Yellows. Return to the Air Room where you first entered the Ragnarok to find the first of the Yellow Propagators. After eliminating it, pass through the rooms you've already cleared to find the Passenger Deck. (The Passenger Deck is located through the doorway to the left of the Green Propagator standing on the elevator platform. Inside is an extremely aggressive Yellow Propagator.

After eliminating the first six Propagators, it's time to finish off the Green Propagators. Start with the one resting on the elevator platform next to the Passenger Deck. Only one left! Head back down to the Hangar where you started this whole process, and you'll see a small door on the right side of the back wall. The last of the Propagators is waiting inside.

With all of the Propagators destroyed, the Ragnarok is yours to do with as you wish. Ride the elevator platform to the bridge and take the Ragnarok back home.

Landing at Esthar

In case you haven't already noticed, you can land the Ragnarok at Esthar's Airstation. Look for a building with a landing pad on top. When you're over the building, a message appears with the name "Esthar/Airstation." Press the  button as you normally would to land and your party will appear outside the Airstation complex in Esthar. This is much easier than parking the Ragnarok outside Esthar and walking across town.

Check Your Party

Upon returning to Esthar, immediately check each party members' Junctions. Zell and Rinoa are forced into your party, so they may not be Junctioned with GFs. Because the city is overrun with creatures, it would be a bad idea not to switch Junctions.

Also, it's been a while since Rinoa was last in your party. You should check her status and make sure Angelo is learning a new trick. Rinoa may also be several levels behind your other characters, so take good care of her during any upcoming battles.

Last, but not least, Rinoa has a new type of Limit Break. With her new sorceress powers, she can choose to use the Angel Wing instead of calling on Angelo. Angel Wing enables Rinoa to cast a continuous chain of spells without having them removed from her inventory. The down side is that you never know what spell will be next, plus you lose control of Rinoa for the remainder of the battle. The effect is similar to having a party member "berserked," except that in this case Rinoa uses magical attacks instead of physical attacks. This effect also causes Rinoa's magic strength to increase, thus inflicting more damage.

Squall Card

Challenge Laguna to a game of cards in his chamber, or once you're on board the Ragnarok. If you're lucky, you can win the Squall Card from him.

LUNATIC PANDORA

Raijin (2nd rnd.)

HP	5400-22,600	AP	12	---
EXP	---	Weak vs. Ice/Poison		---

Once again you must battle Fujin and Raijin. In essence, this battle is similar to the previous one; however, the two Bosses have grown stronger over time.

Fujin now has the Sai attack, which reduces a character to a single HP. You can counter this by having one of your characters equipped with the Recover ability, or you can draw Curaga magic from Fujin. She also spends a lot of time casting support magic. You may want to cast Reflect on both Bosses and on your party to help counter her barrage of magic.

Begin this battle by summoning the Doomtrain GF. Its negative status attack will leave Fujin and Raijin nearly paralyzed for the remainder of the battle. Diablos and Cactuar also inflict major damage.

Navigating Lunatic Pandora

Finding your way around Lunatic Pandora is a lot easier than it may seem at first. Find either Elevator Two or Elevator Three and ride down to the central hall where three elevators meet. Use Elevator One to reach a new area, and then just go straight ahead. There are a lot of side paths scattered throughout the area, but all eventually lead to a dead end.

The Laguna Effect

Depending on the actions you took while exploring the Excavation Site (a.k.a. Lunatic Pandora's Excavation Site), you may be able to locate some useful items and Draw Points. The following covers the action taken by Laguna in the past and the result in the present:

As Laguna: Pick up the first Old Key near the ladder in the lower level.

Later Effect: You can now access an Ultima Draw Point hidden in a doorway past the floor panels.

As Laguna: Remove a lever from the middle floor panel to set a trap for the Esthar Soldiers.

Later Effect: The floor panel is now open and inside is a Silence Draw Point.

As Laguna: Find the second Old Key at the first intersection.

Later Effect: The door at the base of the long ladder is now open. Inside you can find a LuvLuvG item.

As Laguna: Find the gray detonator, and press the red switch prior to pushing the blue switch.

Later Effect: Both boulders fall into gaps in the floor, which enables you to get to some of the secrets listed here. It also enables you to reach a copy of Combat King 005.

As Laguna: Move the rock away from a tunnel wall to reveal a Cure Draw Point.

Later Effect: Searching the spot where the Draw Point once was, reveals a hidden Spd-J Scroll.

Easy Battles

You'll soon notice that random encounters inside Lunatic Pandora are too easy to be real. All the monsters you will encounter are level one monsters. So, although the battles are easy, your characters won't receive much experience from the battles.

Also, keep this in mind if you want to steal useful items like Energy Crystals from Behemoths. You may need to use the Lvl Up ability to strengthen your enemies.

Blue Magic: Mighty Guard

You're sure to run into a Behemoth or two while exploring Lunatic Pandora. Behemoths carry a useful item called Barrier, which enables Quistis to learn the protective Blue Magic, Mighty Guard. You can either steal this item, or wait for a Behemoth to drop one.

Mobile Type 8

HP 30,400-46,400

AP 40

Flying Monster

EXP --

Weak vs Thunder

Like most machines, the Mobile Type 8 has a weakness to Thunder magic, so this is a good time to use Quezacotl. However, don't forget to steal items from all three parts of this Boss (its main body and its probes). All three have great items ripe for the taking.

This Boss has two forms. The first is its normal form in which all three pieces are attached. This form isn't too dangerous, but it does counterattack whenever it's hit in the main body. This counterattack, Twin Homing Laser, only causes around 600 points of damage, so it isn't much of a concern.

When the Boss shifts to its second form, it is preparing to use its ultimate attack, the Corona. This attack drains all three party members down to a single HP. When this occurs, immediately cease all attacks as a counterattack from one of the probes could kill one of your characters in this weakened state. Quickly begin healing or use your Limit Breaks, as each character should get the opportunity to use them. Using Limit Breaks is risky, but you may be able to defeat the Boss before it can counterattack, thereby eliminating the need to heal everyone.

To quickly heal, draw Curaga from the Left Probe. This probably won't fully heal everyone, but it should be enough to keep everyone alive for now. If you use Limit Breaks, you should be able to destroy the Boss quickly as long as the Limit Breaks used are good ones. Whatever you do, act quickly or this Boss will quickly finish you off with its follow-up attack, Medigo Flame. This attack causes around 2000 points of damage to each party member.

WARNING!!!

Before fighting Seifer, you should do a quick status check on your party. Due to Mobile Type 8's Corona attack, several of your party members may only have one Hit Point remaining. DO NOT ENTER BATTLE WITHOUT HEALING THESE CHARACTERS! Seifer will quickly eliminate them, possibly leaving you with only a single character to fight against him.

Seifer

HP 3700~34,500

AP 40

EXP --

Weak vs. Poison

Although Seifer is stronger than ever, this isn't a tough battle. Seifer is carrying the Aura spell, which you should draw from him. A character affected by the Aura spell can easily get his/her Limit Break, regardless of how high his/her HP is at the time. Stock up on this spell while you have the chance, and cast it on each of your party members.

Using Aura, you can quickly beat Seifer into submission. Don't move too fast though, or you'll miss the chance to steal from Seifer.

Gilgamesh

As the battle with Seifer begins, Odin will appear if you took the time to find this semi-GF earlier in the game. Don't get too confident though; Seifer has a nasty surprise in store for Odin.

A new semi-GF, Gilgamesh, will appear and take the fallen Odin's place. After a few moments, Gilgamesh will appear and end the battle with Seifer. From this point forward, Odin will no longer appear randomly, but Gilgamesh will take up where Odin left off.

Where to Go

There's been a slight change to this area. In the area where you earlier fought Mobile Type 8, you'll now discover that the structure to the right of the path has dropped a bridge. Cross over and then climb up the structure to reach a ledge above. This leads to your next battle.

Adel

HP 6000~51,000 AP ---
EXP ---

As you might have guessed, Adel is a bit rusty after all those years of confinement. It also doesn't help that she's a little preoccupied with Rinoa. This battle is a bit tricky, because you can't use attacks that will damage both Rinoa and Adel. Well, you can, but it isn't recommended. However, those who are brave enough to tempt fate can steal some Megalixirs from the helpless Rinoa. Just don't hurt her too much. If Rinoa gets killed during the battle, it's game over!

Start the battle by drawing Regen from Rinoa and casting it on everyone in your party (including Rinoa). Casting Regen will protect you from Adel's attacks by healing your party periodically. Also, make sure you steal the Samantha Soul from Adel, and then focus on attacking her.

Just use normal attacks, and don't worry about Adel's Ultima spell. It really doesn't cause that much damage. Adel will periodically absorb some of Rinoa's hit points in order to restore herself. If you haven't cast the Regen spell on Rinoa, then make sure that you cast a Cure spell on her after Adel has absorbed Rinoa's hit points a few times. As long as you attack quickly, this won't be much of a factor. Make sure you focus on stealing items, and then concentrate on attacking Adel. Also, don't forget to recast the Regen spell when it runs out.

TIME-COMPRESSED WORLD

Sorceress Battles

Upon arriving in the time-compressed world, you're greeted by a long chain of fights against unnamed Sorceresses. None of them are very powerful, however, when given a chance they can cause some serious havoc. Quickly eliminate them using standard physical attacks. You may want to steal from them all, because you can build up your supply of the various magical stones they're carrying.

ply of the various magical stones they're carrying.

The final Sorceress fight is the only one you must worry about. Take this opportunity to stock up on Holy magic, but watch out for the Sorceress' counterattack, which causes between 1000 and 2000 points of damage. When the Sorceress begins to count down from five, she is preparing to cast Ultima. When this occurs, quickly heal your party. During the countdown, the Sorceress will not counterattack, so unload with everything you have.

What to Do Next

Your options are limited in the time-compressed world. You can no longer enter any towns, but you can still check out dungeons, Chocobo Forests, and you can explore a bit. The Ragnarok still exists, but finding it isn't easy. Before you explore Edea's House, check your characters and make sure you're satisfied with your characters' levels, spell stocks, and items. To exit Edea's House and Ultimecia's Castle, you must use one of three portals near the castle's entrance.

When climbing the gigantic chain outside the castle, you'll notice three portals set in stone arches. Face a portal and press the  button to leap across the chasm and land on the portal's edge. Each portal takes you to a different spot on the World Map. The lowest portal places you in Galbadia's Wilburn Hill area, near the destroyed Missile Base.

The middle portal leads to Centra's Serengetti Plains, close to the Centra Ruins. The highest portal takes you to the coast of Esthar on the edge of Grandidi Forest, which is close to the sacred Chocobo Forest.

Finding the Ragnarok

The Ragnarok is still around and full of people from the C.C. Group, provided that you defeated the C.C. Group's King earlier in the game. It's a long trek, but you can win some rare cards that you may have missed throughout your journey from the C.C. Group's members. You can also use the Ragnarok to find the Queen of Cards, who's hiding somewhere on the World Map.

While the journey to the Ragnarok isn't tough, it is very long and slow. After going through the second portal outside Ultimecia's Castle, you'll arrive in Centra's Serengetti Plains area just a bit north of the Centra Ruins. Check the World Map and you'll see a red dot southeast of your position. The red dot signifies the Ragnarok. To reach it, you need to find transportation across the ocean, and without the Garden, you must rely on Chocobos.

While on foot, head to the northwest and wrap your way around the bay to the Chocobo Forest on the northeast tip of the Centra continent. Get a Chocobo and return the way you came. Ride the Chocobo to the southern border until you spot a beach. Ride across the ocean to the continent below, which will take you very, very close to Edea's House.

From Edea's House, travel to the east along the mountains. However, keep an eye out for a small pass through the middle of the mountain range.

On the other side, you'll find the Kashkabald Desert and the Ragnarok. There's a fourth portal near the Ragnarok. Upon entering this portal, a new portal will appear in front of Ultimecia's Castle. Now you can travel to this location any time you wish.

Finding the Queen of Cards

After finding the Ragnarok, you can begin your hunt for the Queen of Cards and explore the world. The Queen of Cards is hiding in the Abadan Plains, just to the south of Esthar.

You'll find her near the escape pod crash site (the same place where you found Piet on Disc Three). Keep in mind that there's no visible sign of the crash from the World Map. To locate it, you must scour the southern tip of the plains until you enter the area.

20 Challenge Ultimécia to the final battle

Sealed Abilities

Upon entering Ultimécia's Castle, nearly all of your party members' abilities are sealed off. This means you won't be able to use Draw Points, draw magic from enemies, use Save Points, revive fallen characters, use magic, items, and GF Abilities, or perform Limit Breaks. In battle, your party members will only have the Attack command. Outside of battle, you can perform some basic tasks, like Junctioning and rearranging Magic, but you won't be able to use GF abilities or heal characters with items or magic.

It should be fairly obvious that you don't want to fight the mighty Ultimécia with your party in this condition. Therefore, you'll need to "unlock" your abilities. To do so, you must explore the castle and solve a series of puzzles to lure out Ultimécia's servants. There are a total of eight puzzles, and it won't be easy defeating the Bosses without the use of your full powers.

Rather than dragging you around the castle from Boss to Boss, the following will guide you through each Boss individually. This will give you a chance to figure things out on your own; you can then refer to this guide if you have trouble locating or defeating a particular Boss. As a reference, the Bosses are listed in the order you should fight them.

What Are Those Green Circles?

The green circles seen throughout the castle are switch points. These switches aren't levers, but instead a place where you can switch between your two parties. This will become necessary to solve some of the puzzles.

Make sure that when you switch between parties, you also switch junctioned abilities. You definitely don't want to enter a fight with only the Attack command unless you absolutely have to do so.

Getting Along Without

Although you can't use magic, you can still Junction spells to your Elem-Atk and Stat-Atk. Initially, you may want to Junction Drain to each party member's Stat-Atk. Therefore, on each hit a character takes, he/she will heal himself/herself. This will help keep their HPs up during tough battles. You can also Junction useful spells like Pain, Sleep, and Death so that you get the benefits of the magic without having to cast the spells.

Many of the Bosses use a specific elemental attack. If you customize your defenses before these fights, you can actually get the Boss to heal you instead of hurt you. You may also want to look at each Boss in the Bestiary (see pg. 194) so that you can better prepare for the battle if you decide not to read the individual strategies.

A large part of how well you will perform is determined by the order in which you choose to release your party's abilities. I suggest starting off with Magic or GF Abilities. Magic and GF Abilities will give you the ability to heal your party with Cure magic or the Recover ability. Plus, it provides the added punch you'll need for some of the tougher Bosses with higher defenses.

Don't forget about the Save Point outside on the steps of the castle. After exiting the front door, your abilities that were removed inside the castle return, so you can regularly save and heal your party. You may need to visit here often at first. However, remember that as soon as you re-enter the castle, your abilities—except those you've previously released—will be sealed up again.

Sphinxaur/Sphinxara

HP 10,000

AP 30

--

This is the easiest of Ultimecia's servants, and should be your first target. You can see the Sphinxaur from just inside the front door. It resides at the top of the stairs in the Front Foyer. Ascend the stairs and approach Sphinxaur to enter combat.

At this point, you should only be able to use the Attack Command. This Boss has low HP, it's slow, and its attacks are weaker than you might expect. It can summon creatures to assist it, but they're typically weak creatures like Jelleyes. Additionally, this Boss likes to use Ice magic, so you may want to junction Blizzaga to each party member's Elem-Def.

Tri-Point

HP	2400~22,400	AP	30
EXP	--		--

Flying Monster

To reach Tri-Point, head up the stairs in the Front Foyer and go through the door at the top. This places you above a huge chandelier. As you walk on the chandelier, it will plummet to the room below. The force of the impact disperses your party, but it also destroys a rusted trap door below the chandelier. Open the trap door to the Wine Cellar below to find Tri-Point.

This Boss only seems tough, so if you plan carefully you won't have any problems. Junction as much Thunder magic as possible to each character's Elem-Def. Each time you attack this Boss with physical attacks, it will counterattack with its Mega Spark. This is a Thunder-based attack that hits everyone, causing big damage. However, if your party is prepared to absorb Thunder magic, it will heal your party instead of harm it.

Tri-Point has an elemental weakness to either Fire or Ice, but switches between the two each time it gets hit. To avoid this problem, just make sure your party is prepared to absorb the Mega Spark, and then beat Tri-Point into submission.

WARNING! Do not fight Krysta until after you've released either Magic or your GFs. Personally, I wouldn't try this fight until I could summon GFs, but let your own style of play dictate your decision.

Krysta

HP 5200~16,000

AP 30

EXP --

Immune to Ice

Flying Monster

Start this fight by having your second party climb the stairs in the Front Foyer, and then proceed through the door at the top. Once again, walking on the large chandelier causes it to crash to the room below. On the right side of the screen, you'll notice a green circle next to a lever. Have your second party stand in the circle in order to flip the lever.

Switch to your main party and have them find their way up the stairs to the top of the chandelier. With the second party holding the lever, the main party can cross the chandelier without it falling. You'll find Krysta on the other side of the terrace.

Krysta doesn't have a lot of HP, but its crystalline body provides an extremely high defense against physical or magic attacks. This Boss also counterattacks any physical or magic attack with a punch that can cause close to 3000 hit points of damage. You can counter this attack by summoning powerful GFs. Diablos and Cactuar (or Demi for magic users) works really well in this battle. After summoning both GFs, the battle may be over before it actually begins. If you use magic, cast Meltdown before using spells such as Tornado, Meteor or Ultima.

Also, Krysta won't counterattack summoned creatures. In effect, this means that it will just stand motionless throughout most of the fight. However, be aware of Krysta's final attack—an Ultima spell.

Go through the door on the right side of the balcony in the Front Foyer, and follow the path to an art gallery. You'll find two floors worth of paintings in the gallery. Upon examining them, you'll discover that all but one painting has a title. Your task is to discover the title of the large painting by combining the titles of other paintings in the gallery.

At first, this may seem like an impossible task, however, it's really quite simple. Following are the lists of all 12 titles:

• IGNUS
(Fire)

• INANDANTIA
(Flood)

• IUDICIUM
(Judgment)

• INTERVIGILIUM
(Sleep)

• VIGIL
(Watchman)

• VIVIDARIUM
(Garden)

• VIATOR
(Messenger)

• VENUS
(Love)

• XIPHIAS
(Swordfish)

• XERAMPELINAE
(Red Clothes)

• XYSTUS
(Tree-lined Road)

• INAUDAX
(Cowardice)

NOTE

It is imperative that you inspect all of the paintings even though you have this list. Otherwise, the titles will not appear when you go to name the large painting.

It is extremely difficult to look at a painting and decipher its name with only the choices to work with. As luck would have it, though, there's a clue nearby. Climb the steps to the second floor and check out the clock etched into the floor below. This is your clue. Can you figure it out from here?

If you don't understand, look at the numbers the hands are pointing to: VIII, III, and VI. All three numbers correspond with one of the paintings around you. Now try again to figure it out on your own.

Here is one last clue if you still don't see the relationship. The numbers represent the letters in three of the titles. The "V" represents the letter "V" and the "T" represents the letter "I."

HERE'S THE ANSWER! Quickly look away if you want to figure this out on your own. In essence, the "V" on two of the numbers indicates that you should use only titles that have a "V" in them. The "I"s represent the exact number of "I"s in the titles.

Thus, VIII stands for VIVIDARIUM, IIII stands for INTERVIGILIUM, and VI stands for VIATOR. Enter the three titles in the order you would read a clock: hour, minute, and second. So the answer is VIVIDARIUM ET INTERVIGILIUM ET VIATOR, or In the Garden Sleeps a Messenger.

Trauma

EXP	--	Weak vs Wind

Flying Monster

After solving this puzzle, you'll find that a new Boss, Trauma, has appeared behind you. Trauma has a lot of HP and a solid defense against physical attacks. It can also create Dromas, which are miniature versions of itself.

Trauma's main attack is its Mega Pulse Cannon, a devastating attack that hits each of your characters hard. The Dromas also have Pulse Cannons, however, they're not as powerful.

Begin the battle by summoning Doomtrain if possible. This will probably eliminate any Dromas, plus it should weaken Trauma's defenses. Follow this up with the Pandemona and Cactuar GFs to really attack Trauma's remaining defenses. Any non-summoning character should use physical attacks or act as a "medic" for the others.

Red Giant

HP	30,000	AP	30
EXP	--	--

--

Beyond the art gallery, you'll find a room with a staircase leading into a dungeon. While inside the dungeon, pass through the left door to enter a cell with a decaying corpse. There's a shining key (the Prison Key) in the corpses' hand. You need the Prison

Key to get out of the cell once you're locked inside. The only problem is that taking the key makes the Red Giant appear, and this Boss isn't going to let you leave without a fight.

Start the fight by summoning Doomtrain. This should blind the Boss and weaken its defenses. With the Boss blinded, it will have a difficult time hitting your party. Plus, with its defenses weakened, physical attacks will prove effective. Finish this Boss off with GFs, such as Quezacotl and Cactuar.

Gargantua

EXP	---	---	---	---

From the Front Foyer, follow the hall on the bottom-left of the screen until you reach a shaky bridge.

While on the bridge, you'll notice an item. Every step you take shakes the bridge, causing the item to move closer and closer to the edge. To keep the bridge motionless, press and hold the button to walk instead of run.

This will enable you to pick up the item. If you're using the Analog joystick, push it slightly to the right to make your party walk.

The item, the Armory Key, is used to unlock the armory in the dungeon room. If you fail to stop running and the key falls from the bridge, all is not lost. Return to the dungeon and check the water trough closest to the door. You should find a shiny object in the water. This is the Armory Key, which was washed along the stream to this point.

You'll find a Vysage waiting in the back of the armory; however, this is no ordinary Vysage. After defeating all three parts, including Lefty and Righty, a lumbering behemoth, known as Gargantua, will crawl out of the ground. Gargantua is similar to Krysta, because of its power and magic attacks. It will respond to physical attacks with its Counter Twist counterattack, which causes around 2000 points of damage, so you'll need to use magic or GFs.

Also, be prepared to cure abnormal status effects, because Gargantua uses Berserk on your party. This leaves your party no other option but to use physical attacks, which the Boss can counterattack.

To be really prepared for this battle, Junction Earth magic to your party's Elem-Def and Berserk to their Stat-Def. By doing so, Gargantua will have a tough time causing damage to your characters.

Catoblepas

HP 10,500~60,000

AP 30

EXP --

Weak vs Earth & Water/
Absorbs Thunder

Search the fountain outside the Chapel to find the Treasure Vault Key, which unlocks the Treasure Vault. To find the Treasure Vault, take the top left exit in the Front Foyer. It's tucked away on the left side in the tilted hallway.

Inside the Treasure Vault, there's a treasure box puzzle. Your goal is to have all four boxes open at the same time. As a guide, we'll number the boxes from 1~4, going from right to left.

#1 moves 1 & 2

#2 moves 1, 2, & 3

#3 moves 2, 3, & 4

#4 moves 3 & 4

Step 1: Shut box #1

Step 2: Shut box #4

Step 3: Shut box #2

Step 4: Open box #3

In four easy steps, all four boxes should open and the Boss, Catoblepas, will appear in the middle of the room.

Start the battle by summoning Doomtrain to blind and slow the Boss, plus this will reduce its defenses. This will make the rest of the battle a breeze.

Leviathan and Brothers work well in this battle, however, you should avoid using Quezacotl because Quezacotl actually heals Catoblepas, as does any Thunder magic. Also, note that this Boss has Meteor, which you should draw. The Meteor spell works well against this Boss if you have a strong magic user, which you should at this point in the game.

After landing the final blow, Catoblepas will unleash one final Meteor spell, so keep an eye on each party member's HPs.

Tiamat

HP 21,200~89,600

AP 30

Flying Monster

EXP --

Strong vs Fire & Thunder/
Immune to Wind

Climb the Clock Tower until you reach a large swinging bell. On the left side of the tower, stand near the edge and press the  button to jump onto the bell when it is close to your party. Your party will jump off the bell and onto a small ledge. Pass through the hole in the wall to find Tiamat.

Tiamat is a GF gone bad, due to Ultimecia's control. It acts (and looks) a lot like Bahamut, but it isn't as powerful. Tiamat's only attack is its Dark Flare attack, which is very powerful. When it's not attacking, it simply waits for its next opportunity to use Dark Flare.

Because Dark Flare takes a long time to charge, take this opportunity to protect your party with the Shield spell. Also, heal each party member and hit Tiamat with everything you've got.

Start the battle by summoning Doomtrain to slow Tiamat and weaken its defenses. This will make the already slow countdown to Dark Flare even slower. Follow this up by summoning any powerful GFs except Ifrit, Quezacotl, and Pandemona. If you have Eden don't be afraid to use it. You should have plenty of time to summon Eden between Dark Flares.

This battle is fairly easy, as long as you keep everyone healthy and use Shield magic to cut down the power of the Dark Flare attack.

NUTHIN' BUT THE BEST

This is an optional battle. You do not need to defeat Omega Weapon in order to finish the game or "unlock" your party's abilities. Omega Weapon is extremely challenging and the rewards for defeating it are minimal. It's more of a test to see just how good of a player you truly are... so how good are you?

Also, after defeating Omega Weapon, a new heading, "Proof of Omega," appears in the Tutorial section of the Main Menu.

Omega Weapon

AP 250

EXP --

Weak vs. Ice/Absorbs Fire

There's another switch point near the fountain. Leave your main party at the switch point, and take control of your party. Exit the Front Foyer via the door on the upper-right side of the room. There's a large bell in the ceiling of the very next room. To summon Omega Weapon, you must ring the bell. To do so, have the leader of your secondary party pull the rope at the base of the stairs.

Upon doing so, a timer will appear in the corner of the screen. The timing indicates the time you have to find Omega Weapon and to initiate the battle. Quickly run your secondary party to the switch

point in the same room and take control of your main party. Then run to the Chapel where the organ is to find the hulking Omega Weapon. To initiate combat, simply run into the Boss.

Preparations for Battle

This is no ordinary battle, so you must plan ahead of time. Before you ring the bell, take some time to refine some items from cards, rearrange your spells and items, upgrade your weapons, and make sure everyone is healthy.

Use your Card Mod ability to refine 100 Megalixirs from the Bahamut card, 100 LuvLuvGs from the Chubby Chocobo card, and 10 Holy Wars from the Gilgamesh card. Move the Megalixirs and Holy Wars to the front of your item inventory, along with any Mega Phoenixes in your inventory. Use the 100 LuvLuvGs on the three characters in your main party so that each character is at full compatibility (1000) with each of the GFs he/she is equipped with. You'll need your GFs to arrive quickly in the upcoming battle.

Examine your party's Junctions. Junction 100 Death spells to each party member's Stat-Def. Omega Weapon uses a Level 5 Death spell that can wipe out the entire party in a single shot, so be prepared for it. Check your party's Command Abilities. Make sure everyone can summon GFs and draw magic. Additionally, have at least two magic users, two people who can use items, and you may want to equip the Recover and Revive abilities.

Also, check your Character Abilities and remove any Bonus or Mug abilities. Replace these with abilities that increase your characters' vital statistics with a focus on Speed, Strength, and Magic. You may also want to equip abilities like Auto-Potion or Auto-Haste, but stay away from equipping Auto-Reflect.

Make sure Squall has his ultimate weapon, Lion Heart. This enables him to perform the Lion Heart Limit Break, which can cause close to 100,000 points of damage to Omega Weapon. If Zell and Irvine are in your party, upgrade their weapons as well because they will use them in their Limit Breaks. The female characters probably won't use their weapons throughout the entire battle, so upgrading isn't necessary.

Check your GFs. Make sure Cerberus, Eden, and Doomtrain are all Junctioned to a character taking part in the battle. Also, Junction each GF on a different character so that you can cast all three simultaneously. Also, make sure Eden IS NOT Junctioned to Squall; he'll have other things to do besides summoning GFs.

Make sure that you have a small supply of Aura spells (at least 18) in the Magic inventory of a character equipped with the Magic Command Ability. You should also have a supply of Full-Life and Curaga spells just in case you need them.

That should do it! If you find you've forgotten something once you enter the battle, you can always try to regroup for a second assault.

An Epic Battle

Let me start off by recommending a party. I like Zell, Rinoa, and Squall for this battle. Give Zell Eden and the Item Command Ability. Give Rinoa the Magic Command Ability and Doomtrain. Give Squall Cerberus and the Magic Command Ability. Granted, a lot more goes into this setup, but these are the only specifics. You don't have to set up your party in this fashion, it just happens to be my personal favorite.

As the battle begins, quickly summon Doomtrain, Cerberus, and Eden, however, DO NOT boost Doomtrain. Doing so will heal the Boss, but it will also weaken its defenses. This will enable you to cause double the damage using physical attacks, such as Squall's Limit Break. Cerberus will set up your spell casters with Double and Triple, which you'll use next. Eden will deal out the first dose of major damage. Attempt to boost Eden as high as possible to inflict maximum damage.

After the GFs do their work, have a spell caster use Aura on each party member, or at least the two characters without Eden. Now the two characters not using Eden will be able to dominate Omega Weapon with repeated Limit Breaks. With any luck, Squall will use the Lion Heart Limit Break several times in a row.

War on the party. This will make everyone temporarily invincible. It's important to do this after Aura is cast, because Holy War blocks magic. Without the Aura spell, you'll need to rely more on GFs and strong magic.

If you followed my suggestion, Zell will constantly summon Eden after using Holy War and Squall and Rinoa will begin using their Limit Breaks. Make sure that if you choose Rinoa, only select the Combine Limit Break. You can't afford to lose control of her for the remainder of the battle.

With Aura in place, have the character equipped with the Item Command Ability use Holy

Everyone should keep this up until either the Holy War or Aura spell wears off. Aura will typically end before the Holy War effect. During the remaining seconds of the Holy War effect, you may want to stock up on Ultima, Holy, Flare, and Meteor spells from Omega Weapon. This is your best shot to get a full 100 Ultimas.

When the effect of Holy War ends, quickly recast Aura on everyone and use another Holy War. Follow the same tactics and continue recasting any time you need to. This battle will take a long time, however, if you use this strategy you won't lose unless something goes horribly wrong.

For defeating Omega Weapon, you receive a Three Stars. Not much of a prize for such a tough fight, but the chance to stock up on strong spells is well worth the effort.

The Organ & the Floodgate Key

There's one more task to undertake. If you choose to follow these steps, you can find a rare Rosetta Stone, which might come in handy before you challenge Ultimecia.

First you must find the Floodgate Key. Follow the top-left hall from the Front Foyer and you'll eventually reach a room with two elevators. To get the elevators to operate, you must load both sides simultaneously. The trick is that the higher party must weigh more than the lower party; otherwise, the elevators won't work. Place all the males in the higher elevator, while placing all the females in the lower elevator. You don't have to put all the guys in one, but you should have at least two guys to one girl.

After the lighter party gets lifted up, enter the room to find a small storage area. On the floor, you'll find the Floodgate Key. Take the Floodgate Key to the Dungeon and use it to unlock the lever in the middle of the room. Move the lever to close the floodgate, which stops the flow of water.

Now head for the organ in the Chapel area. You may have been wondering what this was for. There's a dark hall to the right of the fountain in front of the Chapel. Inside the hall you'll find a gate made of spears. These spears retract when the organ is played properly. To play it properly, you must hit all eight keys (buttons) simultaneously. Once you've done so, go check the gate. If some of the spears are still up, return to the organ and try it again.

Once you've done so, go check the gate. If some of the spears are still up, return to the organ and try it again.

When the gate is completely lowered, you can pass through it to find a short canal. By closing the floodgate earlier, you drained the canal of water, so you can walk around inside of it. (If the canal is full of water, you need to go back and shut the floodgate.) In the dry canal, you'll find a box containing a Rosetta Stone. You'll also find a door that leads to the cell in the Dungeon.

Ultimecia Awaits

Ultimecia awaits your arrival beyond the Clock Tower. The battles ahead are difficult, but not as tough as Omega Weapon. If you have trouble, just rely on the strategy in the Omega Weapon section. Otherwise, have fun and experiment a little.

FINAL FANTASY VIII

GUARDIAN FORCES

FINAL FANTASY VIII introduces us to the Guardian Force (GF), a new type of creature that a character can summon. You'll acquire several of these creatures throughout the game, relying on them heavily throughout its entirety. Guardian Forces will assist you in battles, strengthen your characters with new abilities and Junctioned magic, and they will help you acquire new magic, items, and even cards.

Guardian Forces

From Final Fantasy II to Final Fantasy VII, summoned creatures have always been there to lend a helping hand in the heat of battle. Final Fantasy VIII has pushed the summoned creature's role even further with the introduction of Guardian Forces. They're still the same powerful creatures you've come to know and love, and you'll see a lot of familiar faces, but this time their role is much larger than it has been in the past.

Rather than just assisting in battle, Guardian Forces actually determine the vital stats and abilities of the character they're Junctioned with. Face it, without a GF backing him up, Squall is pretty much an ordinary guy thrown into an extraordinary circumstance. Granted GFs don't do it all on their own, but they're the basis on which a character is built upon.

Junctioning with a GF

Junctioning may sound complicated at first, however, it's really quite simple. Open the Main menu and select the Junction option, and then select a character. At first, only the Junction option will be highlighted, because a GF must be Junctioned to a character before the other options become available.

Choose to Junction and select the GF option. A list of all of the GFs you've had join you thus far will be shown. Those in white are available for Junctioning. Grayed out GFs are already Junctioned to the character you've chosen. GFs whose names are opaque are already Junctioned to a different character. These GFs cannot be selected until they have been removed from the character they're currently Junctioned to.

After selecting a GF, back out of the screen using the  button. You must next Junction magic to your character's stats using the GF's Junction abilities, assuming that the GF has at least one. Junction abilities increase a vital stat by enabling you to Junction stocked magic to the stat. Different types of magic have different effects on the various stats. You don't have to Junction magic yourself. If you want, you can select the Auto option, and then choose to have the game prioritize increasing a character's Attack Power (Atk), Magic Power (Mag), or Defense (Def). The game will then automatically choose from the character's stocked magic, and make appropriate Junctions based on what you've chosen.

Note

Always double-check the game's decisions when using the Auto Junction command. The game doesn't make any decisions based on your surroundings, and may equip spells to your attack or defense that you'd rather it didn't.

After boosting the character's stats, it's time to set the character's abilities. The top three abilities are Command abilities. These are the options available to the character during a battle. Character's start the game with the Attack ability, but must be given additional Command abilities. Be very careful when setting these abilities. You'll almost always want everyone in your party to have the ability to Draw Magic. Also, it's important to have at least one person who can use Magic and one who can use Items.

The two abilities below the Command abilities are the Character abilities. These give your character additional bonuses to vital stats and other benefits. You can eventually have as many as four Character abilities equipped on a character, but at the beginning of the game you'll have to make due with just two.

Now your character is ready for battle. Over time, you'll get a feel for setting up your characters to take full advantage of the abilities you've chosen.

GF Growth

GFs grow throughout the game in a way that's very similar to your own characters. Just as your characters gain experience and go up levels, so do your GFs. Any GFs Junctioned to characters in a battle receive an amount of experience equal to what the character they're Junctioned to receives. However, if more than one GF is equipped on a character, the experience gets divided into equal shares between the GFs.

Besides Exp (Experience Points), GFs also gain AP (Ability Points). AP is learned to teach GFs new abilities and comes in much smaller portions than Exp. AP is earned after any battle during which a GF was Junctioned to a character in the battle. If more than one GF is Junctioned to a character, the GFs still receive the full AP amount rather than having to split it among them equally.

Items can also teach GFs some abilities. In fact, you can only get some abilities by using these rare items. Overall, it's much more effective to use an item to learn an ability than to wait for a GF to earn a bunch of AP.

As GFs grow in strength, their Attack Power and HP also grow. The maximum level for any GF is 100. Teaching a GF certain GF Abilities, like HP+10%, can alter both a GF's Attack Power and HP. The effect of these abilities is cumulative, so it's best to teach a GF as many of these abilities as possible.

A Love/Hate Relationship

Guardian Forces are like any pet. The more they like a character, the quicker they'll respond to his/her call. This is known as a Guardian Forces' Compatibility. Never overlook this when Junctioning a GF with a character. If a GF has a particularly low compatibility with a character, it may take an eternity for the GF to appear in battle. While waiting for the GF to appear, it will absorb damage targeted at the Junctioned character.

In tougher battles, a low compatibility is a mark for death. You should try to get all of the GFs you use regularly up to at least a compatibility rating of 800, but try hard to get the rating closer to 1000, which is the maximum.

The compatibility rating can be raised in many ways. The easiest (and best) way is by summoning a GF. This raises the compatibility rating in most all cases by 20 points. If a GF is an elemental, you can also raise the compatibility by having a character cast magic of the same elemental type as the Junctioned GF. Healing GFs using curative GF Medicines will also raise a GF's compatibility slightly. Lastly, you can find and use lots of items outside of battle as a sort of sacrifice that boost a GF's compatibility with a character.

A GF's compatibility rating can also be lowered. This is typically due to the fact that you haven't been using a Junctioned GF, and have been using other Junctioned GFs regularly. GFs are as jealous as they are loyal.

Teaching an Old GF a New Trick

Every GF begins the game with its basic set of abilities. Some abilities will have already been learned, while others will need a little work. There will also be some abilities that you can't even see until you've taught a GF some of its starting abilities.

Only one ability can be learned at a time, so teaching a GF a full 22 abilities can take some time. In some cases, you may no longer need an ability as it may have lost its effect. For example, once a GF learns the ST-Def-Jx2, the ST-Def-J ability no longer has any effect. You can use an item known as Amnesia Greens to make the GF forget the ST-Def-J ability, which in turn enables you to replace it with a new ability by using an item whenever you choose to do so.

You can guide your GFs on what they learn by accessing the GF section in the Main menu. Pay close attention to each GF, and try to personalize them to fit your style of play. In the beginning, focus on SumMag+ abilities and Boost to strengthen the GFs' attacks. Then focus on Junction abilities to strengthen your party's vital stats.

Note

Quezacotl

Elemental: Thunder

Starting Level: 1

Starting HP: 300

Found At: Access Squall's study panel from his desk in the classroom at Balamb Garden. Select the Tutorial option and Quezacotl will automatically be added to your GF inventory along with Shiva.

GF's Attack: Thunder Storm

Quezacotl's attack is elemental Thunder based. It's particularly good against any type of machine/robotic enemy.

Useful Abilities: One of Quezacotl's best abilities is the Card Mod. This ability enables you to refine items from Cards, and makes it much easier to upgrade weapons and to teach Quistis new types of Blue Magic. The Card command ability is also useful at the beginning of the game. Your starting deck is fairly weak, but the Card ability will enable you to immediately add some powerful Cards to your deck by changing enemies into cards.

SHIVA

Elemental: Ice

Starting Level: 1

Starting HP: 298

Found At: Access Squall's study panel from his desk in the classroom at Balamb Garden. Select the Tutorial option and Shiva will automatically be added to your GF inventory along with Quezacotl.

GF's Attack: Diamond Dust

Shiva's attack is elemental Ice based. The attack is very powerful against fire elemental creatures.

Useful Abilities: Shiva's Vitality+ and Spirit+ abilities are useful for improving a character's stats at the beginning of the game. These abilities enable one of your characters to have a strong defense against physical and magic attacks without having a lot of powerful magic for Junctioning to Vitality or Spirit. The Doom ability is also useful until you gain the ability to draw or refine Death spells later in the game. This ability enables you to cast Slow Death on a single enemy, which is handy when facing some strong monsters.

IFRIT

Elemental: Fire
Starting Level: 1
Starting HP: 305

Found At: Ifrith is located at the end of the Fire Cavern. You must defeat this GF before it will join you in battle.

GF's Attack: Hell Fire

Ifrith's attack is elemental Fire based. It's most effective against Ice elemental creatures.

Useful Abilities: Ifrith's HP-J ability is a must-have early in the game. This ability provides at least one of your characters with a solid HP base, which in turn gives you the stamina for long fights and the ability to resist powerful attacks. The Str Bonus ability is great if you can learn it while your characters are still at low levels. Each time a character equipped with the Str Bonus ability levels up, the Str Bonus ability increases that character's Strength by one point. If you equip it on one character long enough, that character will be a real powerhouse by the end of the game.

SIREN

Elemental: None (casts Silence)
Starting Level: 3
Starting HP: 391

Found At: You must draw Siren during the Boss fight with Elvoret on top of the Dollet Communications Tower.

GF's Attack: Silent Voice

Siren's attack is non-elemental. This makes it safer to use than previous GFs, but its attack power is less than most other GFs. The attack does have a side effect in that it attempts to affect enemies with the Silence status.

Useful Abilities: By far one of Siren's best abilities is the Move-Find ability. With this ability, you can see hidden Save Points and Draw Points as you explore the various locations. However, Draw Points on the World Map will remain invisible even if Move-Find is equipped. Without it, you'll have to rely on maps or just plain guesswork. Treatment is another great ability. With this ability, you can instantly cure almost any type of abnormal status effect. Siren is also one of the few Guardian Forces with the ST-Atk-J and ST-Def-Jx2 abilities. These abilities enable you to Junction magic that causes or defends against abnormal status effects with your attack and defense. When used properly, these abilities are extremely helpful and powerful throughout the entire game.

BROTHERS

Elemental: Earth

Starting Level: 7

Starting HP: 670

Found At: The Brothers GF is located in the Tomb of the Unknown King. You must defeat one of the minotaur brothers (Sacred) first, and then defeat the two of them together to have them join you.

GF's Attack: Brotherly Love

The Brothers' attack is elemental Earth based. This makes the attack worthless against flying creatures, because those types of creatures don't touch the ground.

Useful Abilities: The Brothers' HP+ and HP Bonus abilities are great to have at any time. Of course, the earlier you get the HP Bonus ability the better, because the character equipped with this ability gains 30 extra HP each time he/she levels up. Defend is an underrated ability that enables you to avoid damage from any attack, however, you'll probably want to pass it up for other useful abilities.

DIABLOS

Elemental: None

Starting Level: 9

Starting HP: 730

Found At: Speak with Headmaster Cid before leaving for Timber and he'll give you a cursed Magical Lamp. Use the lamp in your inventory, and you'll get teleported into battle against Diablos. You must defeat Diablos before it will join your party.

GF's Attack: Dark Messenger

Diablos' non-elemental attack may not seem like much at the start. You can expect it to cause less than 100 points of damage to most creatures when you first get Diablos. After the GF gets some experience, its attack quickly becomes one of the most lethal attacks in the game. There are a lot of enemies that are immune to Diablos' attack.

Useful Abilities: Mug is one of the best abilities in the entire game. This ability enables you to steal useful and, oftentimes, rare items from your enemies. Until you gain this ability, you'll never truly appreciate its usefulness. With it, you can upgrade weapons faster, teach Guardian Forces rare abilities, and create hard-to-find magic and items through refining. Diablos' Abilityx3 ability is also useful. It enables a character to equip three GF abilities instead of the normal two.

CARBUNCLE

Elemental: None (casts Reflect)

Starting Level: 16

Starting HP: 1220

Find At: You must draw Carbuncle during the Boss fight with the Iguions (Disc One).

GF's Attack: Ruby Light

Carbuncle doesn't actually attack the enemy. Instead, it casts Reflect on your entire party. This is a handy defensive maneuver, and is usually available before Reflect or Triple magic begins to appear.

Useful Abilities: Carbuncle's most valuable abilities are ST-Atk-J, ST-Def-J and Abilityx3. All three abilities are somewhat rare and extremely useful under any conditions, just as they are with Diablos and Siren. The Vit Bonus and Counter abilities are also worthwhile. The Vit Bonus increases a Junctioned character's Vitality by one point each time the character levels up. This enables you to create a character with a powerful defense against physical attacks. Counter gives your character the chance to randomly counterattack an enemy when attacked.

Leviathan

Elemental: Water

Starting Level: 17

Starting HP: 1349

Find At: Leviathan must be drawn from the Boss NORG during the battle at Balamb Garden (Disc Two).

GF's Attack: Tsunami

Leviathan's attack is elemental Water based. This is by far the strongest Water attack you'll find, so it comes in handy fighting the few creatures with a weakness to Water magic.

Useful Abilities: Without a doubt, Leviathan's most useful ability is Recover. It enables you to completely restore a single character's HP without using magic. Also, Leviathan cannot be Silenced, so you can use the Recover ability at times when you wouldn't be able to use items or magic. The Spr Bonus ability is also handy if you can get it at an early level. Equipping this on a low level character early in the game will give that character an extremely strong defense against magic later on.

PANDEMONA

Elemental: Wind

Starting Level: 19

Starting HP: 1442

Find At: You can draw Pandemona from Fujin during the Boss fight with Fujin and Raijin (Disc 2).

GF's Attack: Tornado Zone

Pandemona's attack is elemental Wind based. There are a lot of enemies with a weakness to Wind magic, and there's not much to choose from when it comes to Wind based magic. Pandemona's Tornado Zone is a welcome addition.

Useful Abilities: Pandemona's abilities provide a character with superhuman speed. With Spd-J, Spd+20/40%, and Initiative you'll be able to finish battles before the enemy even draws its weapon. If you're willing to devote enough space, you can also equip Pandemona's Str-J and Str+20/40% abilities to create a speedy powerhouse of a character.

CERBERUS

Elemental: None (casts Double & Triple)

Starting Level: 23

Starting HP: 1490

Find At: You can challenge Cerberus while you're in the main hall of Galbadia Garden (Disc Two). You must defeat Cerberus before it will join you.

GF's Attack: Counter Rockets

This isn't actually an attack, but it does cast Double and Triple magic on your entire party. This is handy, but you'll want to get the GF's compatibility up so that Cerberus arrives quickly at the beginning of a battle.

Useful Abilities: Let's face it: Cerberus has one of the best sets of abilities you'll find. Its various Junction abilities enable you to raise a variety of statistics. The ST-Atk-J and ST-Def-Jx4 abilities also enable you to cause havoc on the enemy with sneaky abnormal status attacks, while keeping the Junctioned character nearly impervious to abnormal statuses. Add on the speed boosting abilities, and it's hard to find a better GF.

ALEXANDER

Elemental: Holy

Starting Level: 25

HP: 1925

Find At: You must draw Alexander from Edea during the Boss fight inside Galbadia Garden (Disc Two).

GF's Attack: Holy Judgement

Alexander's attack is elemental Holy based. It's extremely effective against the undead or creatures affected with Zombie. This attack isn't very powerful at first, but if you put time into building up Alexander, you can make good use of its attack by Junctioning Zombie magic to a character's weapon using the Status Attack Junctioning ability. Basically, this enables you to force an elemental weakness onto an enemy.

Useful Abilities: The Med LV Up ability may not seem like much, but you'll probably need it for the UFO Side Quest and to use the Solomon Ring. Alexander's Revive ability is great during later parts of the game, like the fight with Ultima Weapon. This ability enables you to quickly revive and cure a K.O.'ed character. The Elem-Def-Jx4 is also a great ability, but it may take you a while to get it. I suggest putting it off until you've earned the 200 AP necessary to learn the Revive ability.

DOOMTRAIN

Elemental: Poison (casts abnormal status)

Starting Level: 28

HP: 2521

Find At: You can find a ring called the Solomon Ring at Tears' Point in Esthar. Also, you need to gather six of the following items: Malboro Tentacles, Remedy+, and Steel Pipes and use the ring. Doomtrain will accept the items and join your party. (First available during Disc Three.)

GF's Attack: Runaway Train

Doomtrain's attack is elemental Poison based. This makes it particularly useful against human enemies, like Galbadian Soldiers. The attack also attempts to cause several abnormal status effects including Poison, Darkness, Silence, Berserk, Sleep, Doom, Curse, Petrify, Confuse, and VIT 0. Sometimes it's worth casting even if the enemy is immune to or absorbs Poison damage just to inflict some of the abnormal statuses.

Useful Abilities: Doomtrain has four very useful abilities in Elem-Atk-J, ST-Atk-J, Elem-Def-Jx4, and ST-Def-Jx4. All of these are a bit hard to come by and to get them on a single GF is truly incredible. The Forbid Med-RF is great, but it is difficult to get the items for it. Junk Shop, on the other hand, is a bit more practical, but shouldn't really be a priority until Disc Four.

BAHAMUT

Elemental: None

Starting Level: 35

HP: 3274

Find At: Once you have the Ragnarok in Disc Three, you can begin searching for the Deep Sea Research Center in the southwest corner of the World Map. Inside, you must answer Bahamut's questions correctly and then defeat the GF before it will join you.

GF's Attack: Mega Flare

Bahamut's non-elemental attack isn't extremely powerful, however, the attack animation is long and enables you to boost the GF close to the 250 maximum.

Useful Abilities: Obviously, Abilityx4 makes getting this GF well worth the effort. The Rare Item ability is also nice to have if you're into collecting absolutely everything the game has to offer. It's also nice to equip a second person with the Mug ability if you're out to build up your item stock.

JUMBO CACTUAR

Elemental: None

Starting Level: 20

HP: 1766

Find At: Cactuar Island is a small, desert island east of the Centra Ruins. In the desert sands, you'll see a small green creature that randomly appears. This small creature is the Jumbo Cactuar, an ancient Cactuar that has grown to enormous proportions. Use the Ragnarok to land on the island and chase down the Jumbo Cactuar. Defeat it and you'll get the Cactuar GF.

GF's Attack: 1,000 Needles

Cactuar's attack is the second most powerful GF attack in the game. The damage inflicted is directly related to the Cactuar's level. 1,000 Needles causes 1,000 points of damage for every 10 levels of Cactuar's experience. So at level 100, the attack causes 10,000 points of non-elemental damage. Also, the damage from Cactuar's attack cannot be reduced by a high defense or support magic, plus Boosting isn't necessary.

Useful Abilites: Cactuar's big prize is its five Bonus abilities. They should enable you to customize your characters just about any way you want. Unfortunately, you get Cactuar so late in the game you may not really get to enjoy the full benefit of the bonuses.

TONBERRY KING

Elemental: None

Starting Level: 30

HP: 2596

Find At: You must fight and defeat 18 plus Tonberrys at the Centra Ruins. After defeating enough Tonberrys, the Tonberry King will appear. Defeat the Tonberry King and it will join you as a GF.

GF's Attack: Chef's Knife

Tonberry's attack targets a single creature at random. The attack isn't very powerful at first, but it becomes much more valuable over time. The animation for the attack is relatively short, so you won't be able to do much Boosting.

Useful Abilities: Once you have Tonberry on your side, your shopping experiences will be much more enjoyable. The Familiar ability adds items to every shop, some of which are relatively difficult to find. Call Shop is also nice, because it lets you revisit any shop you've been to in the past. This is extremely handy in Disc Four. The LV Down and LV Up abilities are also kind of fun. Use them to beef up weaker monsters or to give more pathetic creatures a fearsome bite. Adjusting creatures' levels enables you to customize your battles and choose when you want a tough battle or gain a rare item from an enemy.

Elemental: None

Starting Level: 30

HP: 4786

Find At: After defeating Bahamut at the Deep Sea Research Center, you'll be able to head deeper underwater. Well below the surface you'll encounter Ultima Weapon, if you have enough steam power left to reactivate the excavation site. Eden, the ultimate GF, must be drawn from Ultima Weapon during the battle.

GF's Attack: Eternal Breath

Eden's attack is simply the most powerful attack in the game. On its own, it can cause around 13,000 points of damage. The attack animation is very long and easily allows for Boosting to a full 250. This tends to increase the damage to about 35,000 points of damage.

Useful Abilities: Devour is one of the coolest abilities you'll find. Sure it's a little silly, but with it you actually have the potential to max out several of a character's stats by eating the right type of creatures (refer to the Bestiary for more information). Of course, this process could literally take months, but true Final Fantasy diehards are always up for a good challenge—right?

Card Mod	Refine items from cards

Acquiring Missed GFs

If you missed any GF on your way through the game, you can get them during Disc Four at Ultimecia's Castle. After defeating Sphinxaur, choose to unlock the Draw ability. You'll then be able to draw the following GFs from the corresponding Bosses.

Siren = Tri-Point

Leviathan = Trauma

Pandemona = Red Giant

Carbuncle = Krysta

Cerberus = Gargantua

Alexander = Catoblepas

Eden = Tiamat

Other Guardian Forces

Odin

You must search out Odin's lair inside the Centra Ruins and defeat him if you want him to join your cause. Odin is not a controllable GF. Once he joins you, he'll randomly appear at the start of about 1 in every 10 battles (except Boss fights). Riding through the battlefield on his mighty steed, Odin uses his sword Zantetsuken to cut your enemies in two. This attack kills all enemies on the battlefield. This is sort of a blessing and a curse. It's great when Odin appears and cuts down a powerful creature like a Malboro, but if you're trying to stock up on magic or steal an item from a rare creature it's a bit of a nuisance.

Phoenix

You can only summon Phoenix by using a Phoenix Pinion during a battle. When the Phoenix appears, it revives any K.O.ed characters and restores some of their HP. Phoenix Pinions are hard to come by, but once you've summoned Phoenix there is a random chance that it will appear again later when your party is in trouble.

Boko the Chocobo

As you probably already know, Chocobos are back in Final Fantasy VIII. And once again you can summon a Chocobo to aid you in battle. You won't be able to do this until you've solved a puzzle in at least one of the many Chocobo Forests scattered around the world. During a battle, use a Gysahl Green to lure the Chocobo into attacking your enemies.

MiniMog

MiniMog is more of a GF ability than a GF. By using Mog's Amulet, you can teach a GF the MiniMog ability. When called upon, MiniMog will perform a dance that restores all of your GFs HP. This is great to have at the end of the game when Bosses actually begin targeting GFs. Each time you use MiniMog in battle, it'll cost you Gil. The amount varies based on your character's average level times 100 Gil. So if your average level is 20, it'll cost you 2000 Gil.

Moomba

Moombas are decent fighters due to their massive paws and razor-sharp claws, but it sure doesn't seem like fighting is the first thing they have on their minds. You can call upon a Moomba by using a Friendship item in battle.

Gilgamesh

Near the end of Disc Three, Gilgamesh will appear if you already have Odin at that point. Gilgamesh is a lot like Odin in that you can't control him and he appears randomly. The biggest difference is that Gilgamesh can appear at any point during a battle (even Boss fights). What happens depends on which of his four sword attacks he selects:

Zantetsuken	Cuts all enemies in half, resulting in death
Masamune	Extremely strong attack against all enemies
Excaliber	Strong attack against all enemies
Excalipoor	Causes 1 point of damage to each enemy

Note: Remember the Masamune from Final Fantasy VII? That's the same name used for Sephiroth's incredible sword.

Magic List

The Triple Triad

Triple Triad is Final Fantasy VIII's challenging card game. This is a mini-game like none you've ever seen. Throughout the course of the game, you can collect special cards based on the minor enemies, Bosses, Guardian Forces, and major characters from Final Fantasy VIII. With your deck, you can challenge almost anyone to a game of cards. What are the benefits? Using the Card Mod ability, you can refine the cards you've won into valuable and rare items.

How Do I Play?

First, you need a good starting deck, and you can get one from a person in Balamb Garden at the start of the game. The cards aren't that great, but they're better than nothing at all.

Challenging people to a card game is easy. Approach a person in normal fashion, and press the  button. If the person is a card player, they'll most likely accept your challenge. If not, they'll converse with you normally.

If you've been given an assignment, it's best to wait to play cards on your own free time. The Garden looks down on SeeDs that goof off while on assignments. There's no such thing as too many of one card. If nothing else, use the Card Mod ability to turn your extras into items and sell them for Gil.

Basic Strategy

The biggest challenge Triple Triad presents is the always-changing set of rules. So, while it may seem like a good idea to always play your best hand, many times this is not the case.

When the rules are basic (Same, Open, Sudden Death, and Elemental), all you need are strong cards to win. You can simply overpower your opponent by playing cards that he/she simply cannot beat. However, if some of the more advanced rules (Plus, Same Wall, and Random) are in effect, it's best to back off a bit and try to win the game through strategy, rather than brute force.

Always play defensively. There's no reason to take each card your opponent plays. Play a waiting game with your opponent and plan ahead. Let your opponent trap his/her own cards, and then force certain moves by strategically placing your cards.

Corners typically offer the best defense, while the center spot is obviously the worst. In some cases, though, you may find it beneficial to play a card in the center at the start of the match to limit your opponent's options. This works well against tougher opponents.

Try not to spread the Random rule—it's a killer. And although Open may seem like the best rule in the game, your opponent gains as much from it as you do. Skilled opponents may gain too much from being able to see your hand.

Card-Related Side Quests

There are three card-related Side Quests: The Queen of Cards, the CC Group, and the Alien Encounter. If you want to find all the cards, check out the "Side Quests" section in this book.

Rare Card Locations

The following is a list of the rare cards in Final Fantasy VIII. This section shows each card's whereabouts and how you can get them all.

Level 5 Card

Name: PuPu

Location: Balamb Area

Condition: Must complete the Alien Encounter Side Quest by giving the Alien 5 Elixirs. If the alien is killed, you can't get the card. (See "Side Quests" for more info.)

Level 8 Cards

Name: Chubby Chocobo

Location: Balamb Garden

Condition: Must take part in the Queen of Cards Quest (see "Side Quests" for more info). A male student, who's sitting on a bench outside the Library, has this card.

Name: Angelo

Location: Forest Owl's Train/White SeeD Ship

Condition: Must win from Watts of the Forest Owl's resistance group. Can do so in the Forest Owl's Train (Disc One), or later at the White SeeD Ship (Disc Three).

Name: Gilgamesh

Location: Balamb Garden

Condition: Must take part in the CC Group Side Quest. The CC Group's King has this card. (See "Side Quests" section for more info.)

Name: MiniMog

Location: Balamb Garden

Condition: Challenge the underclassman jogging around the Hall.

Name: Chicobo

Location: Chocobo Sanctuary

Condition: Must visit each Chocobo Forest and solve the puzzles. Then go to the Chocobo Sanctuary to receive this card. (See "Side Quests" for more info.)

Name: Quezacotl

Location: Fisherman's Horizon

Condition: Challenge Mayor Dobe in FH. Try to get this card when you first arrive at FH.

Name: Shiva

Location: White SeeD Ship

Condition: Receive from Zone of the Forest Owls resistance group. He's on the White SeeD's Ship (Disc Three). Must have the "Girl Next Door" magazine (found at Timber Maniacs in Timber) in your inventory before Zone will give up this card. You must give Zone the magazine for free.

Name: Ifrit

Location: Fire Cavern

Condition: Defeat the Fire Cavern's Boss, Ifrit.

Name: Siren

Location: Dollet

Condition: Visit the Pub in Dollet, and challenge the Pub's manager on the second floor. Once you defeat him, he'll take you to a back room, where you can challenge him again and win the Siren Card normally.

Name: Sacred

Location: Tomb of the Unknown King

Condition: Defeat the Brothers in the Tomb of the Unknown King.

Name: Minotaur

Location: Tomb of the Unknown King

Level 9 Cards

Name: Carbuncle

Location: Balamb Garden

Condition: Must take part in the CC Group Side Quest. Heart, a CC Group member, has this card. (See "Side Quests" for more info.)

Name: Diablos

Location: Balamb Garden

Condition: Cid will give you a Magical Lamp before you leave on your first mission. Use the lamp to challenge the GF Diablos. Defeat Diablos to get its card.

Name: Leviathan

Location: Balamb Garden

Condition: Must take part in the CC Group Side Quest. Joker, a CC Group member, has the card. (See "Side Quests" for more info.)

Name: Odin

Location: Centra Ruins

Condition: Take part in the Centra Ruins Side Quest, and defeat the GF Odin. (See "Side Quest" for more info.)

Name: Pandemona

Location: Balamb

Condition: Challenge the Hotel's Owner, who's standing in the street outside the hotel. Must wait until Galbadia's invasion of Balamb has ended.

Name: Cerberus

Location: Galbadia Garden

Condition: While at Galbadia Garden a second time (Disc Two), challenge Cerberus in the central hall. Defeat it to win the card.

Name: Alexander

Location: Lunar Base

Condition: Challenge Piet, the head technician at Lunar Base (Disc Three). Also, you can challenge him later on Disc Three by finding the escape pod's crash site, south of Tears' Point.

Name: Phoenix

Location: Esthar

Condition: Must take part in the Queen of Cards Side Quest. The Presidential Aide inside the Presidential Palace has this card. The aide is in the room you first visit during your initial visit to Esthar. (See "Side Quests" for more info.)

Name: Bahamut

Location: Deep Sea Research Facility

Condition: Locate the Deep Sea Research Center in the southwest corner of the World Map. Go there using the Ragnarok, and challenge the GF Bahamut. Defeat Bahamut to win the card. (See "Side Quests" for more info.)

Name: Doomtrain

Location: Timber

Condition: Must participate in the Queen of Cards Side Quest. The Pub's owner will have this card in his deck once you complete the necessary requirements. (See "Side Quests" for more info.)

Name: Eden

Location: Deep Sea Deposit

Condition: Defeat Bahamut at the Deep Sea Research Center, and go into the facility's lower levels to solve the steam puzzle. You must defeat Ultima Weapon, who carries the GF Eden, to get the card.

Level 10

Name: Ward

Location: Esthar

Condition: Challenge Dr. Odine to a game of cards (Disc Three).

Name: Kiros

Location: Deling City

Condition: Not available until you've completed a portion of the Queen of Cards Sub Quest. A man dressed in black, who stands across the street from the shops in Deling City's shopping district, has this card. (See "Side Quests" for more info.)

Name: Laguna

Location: Lunar Base

Condition: Ellone has this card. Must get this card while on the Lunar Base; if not, you must get it on Disc Four from the Card Queen.

Name: Selphie

Location: Trabia Garden

Condition: Selphie's friend near the gargoyle statue has this card. Challenge her after your first visit to Trabia Garden to get the card.

Name: Quistis

Location: Balamb Garden

Condition: Can win this card from any of the "Trepies" in Balamb Garden. The "Trepies" are: the two girls in the second floor classroom, and the daydreaming guy in the Cafeteria.

Name: Irvine

Location: Fisherman's Horizon

Condition: Must complete the proper portion of the Queen of Cards Side Quest. Flo, Mayor Dobe's wife, has the card. Challenge her in the Mayor's House. (See "Side Quests" for more info.)

Name: Zell

Location: Balamb

Condition: Visit Zell's mother in Balamb with Zell in your party. Challenge Zell's mother to get this card.

Name: Rinoa

Location: Deling City

Condition: Rinoa's Father, General Caraway, has this card, but doesn't use it. To make him use it, intentionally lose your Ifrit Card to him and then win the Rinoa Card from him. You can get the Ifrit Card back from Martine in FH.

Name: Edea

Location: Edea's House

Condition: The evil sorceress carries her own card. Challenge her at her home to get this card (Disc Three).

Name: Seifer

Location: Balamb Garden/Edea's House

Condition: Challenge Cid (Disc One) before your first mission, or on Disc Three at Edea's House.

Name: Squall

Location: Esthar/Ragnarok

Condition: Laguna has Squall's card. You can win it from him at the end of Disc Three (while at Esthar or once everyone is on board the Ragnarok).

SIDE QUESTS AND SECRETS

SHUMI VILLAGE

What Is a Side Quest?

Throughout the game, there are optional events that you can complete to better round out your party and to find useful and rare items. You cannot take part in most of these events until you've reached a certain portion of the game, but once they're available you can complete them at nearly any time you want. In general, though, it's best to take on Side Quest as soon as possible, since some will have a profound effect on the game. In the walkthrough, you'll be pointed to this section occasionally when a new Side Quest is available. Make sure you read through the Side Quest information and then decide whether or not you want to deviate from the story.

The Five Stones

During your trip to Shumi Village, you'll be asked to locate five stones. Here's a short list to assist you in your search.

Blue Stone

This one is easy. The Blue Stone is just to the left of the statue. Examine it and you'll only have four more stones to locate.

Shadow Stone

Return to the surface via the elevator, go down the steps and search to the right in a large shadow that overlaps the shadows cast by the dome overhead. This is where you'll find the ever-elusive Shadow Stone.

Wind Stone

To get this one, you must head back toward the elevator. The Wind Stone is just to the left of the Hotel. Inspect the large boulder and Squall will notice a breeze coming from the stone. Only three more to go!

Life Stone

Think vegetation for this one. You'll find the Life Stone in the tree roots to the right of the Elder's house. The Life Stones are what allow so much vegetation to grow on such a barren rock.

Water Stone

This one isn't as easy as you might think. You can check the stone the frog is sitting on in the pond outside the Artisan's Workshop, but that's not it. The real Water Stone is used for washing; you'll find it in the Artisan's house.

Your Reward

All of that work for a simple Phoenix Pinion?! It doesn't sound like much, but the Phoenix Pinion is a summon spell that can be used only once. Used during battle when your party is in dire straits, a Phoenix will come to your rescue. Just make sure you save it until you absolutely need it. Also, once the Phoenix Pinion is used, the Phoenix Summon spell will randomly appear throughout the remainder of the game when your party members are knocked out in battle.

You're Not Done Yet!

After obtaining the Phoenix Pinion and leaving the village, return to the Workshop and talk to the Elder's Attendant, who's now been assigned to help with the statue. He doesn't feel like helping, so return to the Elder and ask for more assistance. After speaking with the Elder, go outside and speak with the Moomba sitting on the ground.

Follow the Moomba to the Workshop and observe the conversation between Moomba and the Elder's Attendant. Return and speak with the Elder and he'll mention that he needs another person to help build the statue. Return to the Workshop and speak with the Elder's Attendant, who wants the Artisan to help. Now go to the house next to the Workshop and speak with the Artisan, who doesn't want to help either. Go back to the Elder once more, and you'll be asked to find a way to convince the Artisan.

To do so, you must return to Fisherman's Horizon and speak with the Grease Monkey who lives in the Repair Shop near the Train Station. He'll give you a Moomba Doll that you can take back to Shumi Village and give to the Artisan. After presenting the doll to the Artisan, head back to the Elder's house. The Elder will give you a Status Guard for all of your help.

Back Again

If you went through the Master Fisherman's event in FH, he'll make a brief cameo appearance during this quest.

WINHILL

The Vase Quest

Visit the large mansion at the end of Winhill. A person inside will ask you to help locate a missing vase. The vase is broken into several pieces that can be found in the following locations:

Inspect the suit of armor inside the mansion.

Visit the house in the middle of town occupied by an old woman. Check the white flowers toward the foreground of the screen to find a piece of the vase.

Try to grab a Chicobo at the Chocobo Crossing. When you pop it into the air, you should get a piece of the vase. If not, keep trying.

Speak with the woman living in Raine's house several times until she mentions the aroma of the flowers downstairs. Go downstairs, look at the table in the lower, right-hand corner of the screen, examine the flowers, and Raine's ghost will appear behind the bar. Speak with the ghost and Raine's cat will replace it. Inspect the cat to find the final piece of the vase.

Take the pieces back to the person in the mansion to receive a Holy Stone.

Free Items

You can get two free items by grabbing Chicobos at the Chocobo Crossing. You'll receive a Phoenix Pinion and a Gysahl Green if you're quick enough. Also, if you grab too many Chicobos, you can lure out a mother Chocobo.

Note

After the mother Chocobo appears you won't be able to catch any more Chicobos.

CENTRA RUINS (ODIN & TONBERRY KING'S QUESTS)

- Tonberry King (Boss)

Draw Points

- Drain (Courtyard—Hidden)
- Aero (Tower Side)
- Pain (Top of Tower—Hidden)

Odin's Quest

Around the Centra Crater, you'll find a large tower where Odin resides. This is known as the Centra Ruins. The tower is full of dangerous creatures and challenging puzzles. Odin will grant his power to anyone who can climb the tower and defeat him in 20 minutes or less. This is no easy task.

Odin is not a normal GF. Unlike all of the other GFs you've acquired throughout your journey, you cannot summon Odin. At the start of any battle, there is a small chance that Odin will appear at the beginning of the battle and destroy your enemies. Odin will never appear to help you during a Boss fight.

Preparing for the Tower

As stated earlier, the tower is full of deadly enemies. Some of them you've seen before, while others will be a surprise. The most deadly enemies you'll encounter are Tonberrys and Forbiddens. Both enemies are capable of one-hit kills, and their normal attacks are equally powerful.

It should be noted, however, that the bigger threat is the Tonberrys. They have a large amount of HP, so it can take you several minutes to defeat one. With a 20-minute time limit, you can't afford these lengthy battles. In fact, it's best if you don't fight any random encounters at all. To do so, you can either run from every battle or you can use Diablos' GF Abilities Enc-Half or Enc-None. With Enc-Half, you will still have to run from some battles, but considerably less than you would normally. Enc-None enables you to focus on solving the tower's puzzles without the hassle of random encounters.

Climbing the Tower

You'll notice that the altar in front of the elevator is now lit. Upon examining it, a staircase will appear on the right. Follow the stairs to the top. There's a large demon statue with one red eye on the next level. Climb the short ladder on the left, take the eye from the statue, and then climb up the stairs on the right side of the area to the top of the tower.

Go to the left and climb the side of the dome to find a second demon statue with a red eye. Place the left eye in the statue and a code will appear. (You may want to write it down.) Take both eyes out of the demon statue and go downstairs to the first demon statue. After placing both eyes in the demon statue, a place to input the code will appear. Enter the code using the directional button to open a door below. Behind the door you'll find Odin.

GUARDIAN FORCE ALERT!

Odin

AP 20

--

The only tough part about this fight is the time limit. Odin will not attack your party, so you should focus on inflicting as much damage as possible in the amount of time you have remaining. Odin has the spell Triple, which you can draw and then use to cast three spells at once. Stock up on this spell if you have time, because it Junctions extremely well. You should also Mug Odin for the Luck-J Scroll, which teaches a GF the Luck Junction ability.

If you have a lot of magic, you should cast Triple on one or two party members and use it to bombard Odin with powerful spells. Otherwise, avoid using GFs as they often waste too much time.

Both magic and GFs also suffer against Odin's strong magical defenses. Cast Haste on your party members if you're really running short on time, and just pound on Odin with physical attacks. This Boss has a lot of HPs, but it's not as much as you might expect. After winning the battle, you receive Odin's Card, 20 AP, and Odin will now assist you from time to time during battle.

Tonberry King Quest

On your way out of the Centra Ruins, you may want to take on the Tonberry King, a new GF. Take note, however, that this is NOT an easy task. To prepare, I suggest that you stock up on Phoenix Downs and Hi-Potions. I also suggest that the character Junctioned with Diablos be at 100% compatibility with the GF. By doing so, you can count on Diablos to arrive quickly when summoned in the battles. If you can't attain 100% compatibility with Diablos, Junction Diablos to the character with the highest compatibility.

Sounds a bit extreme, doesn't it? It's not when you consider your task. You'll find a lot of Tonberrys near the entrance to the Centra Ruins. Your objective is to defeat 18 to 22 Tonberrys, which will lure out the Tonberry King. If you haven't fought Tonberrys before, you should be advised that they're nasty. They have a lot of HP (20,000 on average), and they can kill a character with a single blow. Tonberrys also have a powerful random counterattack known as Everyone's Grudge. This attack typically causes over 2,000 points of damage to a single character. To top it all off, you only receive 1 AP and no EXP for defeating a single Tonberry.

To defeat them, I suggest that you equip one character with the Item command, and make sure he/she is fully stocked with Hi-Potions. You should also Junction another character with Diablos, and make sure he/she has full compatibility with the GF. Demi is also a very effective spell, as it will reduce a Tonberry's HP by one fourth. During each fight, only have the character equipped with Diablos attack by summoning the GF repeatedly. By doing so, you limit the number of times the Tonberry can counterattack.

This is a race for time against the Tonberry, because once it's in close range to your characters, it will begin using the Chef's Knife. This attack alone causes around 4,000 points of damage. If a Tonberry gets too close, begin unloading on it with all three characters. It helps a great deal to cast Haste on the character with Diablos so that you can summon it as quickly as possible.

After defeating enough Tonberrys, the Tonberry King will appear immediately following your last battle with a Tonberry. You will not exit the last battle. Instead, the Tonberry King will replace the fallen Tonberry, so it's important that everyone be prepared to fight.

GUARDIAN FORCE ALERT!

Tonberry King

AP 20

EXP --

Weak vs. Ice/Absorbs Fire

During the battle with the Tonberry King, Diablos is no longer useful because the Tonberry King is immune to Diablos' attack. Begin using each party member's best GF, and Boost them all as much as possible. The Tonberry King has A LOT OF HP, so you can expect this battle to take as long as half an hour.

The Tonberry King's attacks are just as powerful as the other Tonberrys, but the Boss is much faster. You can counter this advantage by casting Haste on everyone, plus you should also consider using Protect to cut down the damage caused to your party.

Fortunately, the Tonberry King has the Full-Life and Curaga spells that you can use to keep your party in the fight. You may want to dedicate one character to healing everyone, but always have another party member ready to take up this role if the dedicated character is knocked out of the fight.

Note

If this battle is too tough at this stage of the game, you may need to try again once your characters are stronger and more compatible with their GFs.

CHOCOBO FORESTS

Chocobos in FF8

As with past Final Fantasy games, you can find Chocobos and use them as transportation. This time around, however, you'll only find Chocobos in Chocobo Forests, of which there are seven. A Chocobo Forest looks similar to other forests, but they're dome-shaped. In order to catch a Chocobo, you must solve a puzzle in the forest you're visiting. After solving the puzzle, you can find hidden items that make it so you never need to solve the puzzle again. In the following section, you'll learn how to locate all seven forests and we'll provide the answers for each puzzle.

Your First Visit

Upon first entering a Chocobo Forest, you'll meet an interesting boy appropriately named Chocoboy. He'll give you a ChocoWhis and teach you how to use it for a mere 1000 Gil. The ChocoWhis is your tool for locating the baby Chocobos, called Chicobos in forests, so I'm afraid there's no way to get around paying the initial 1000 Gil.

The ChocoWhis has two modes: ChocoSonar and ChocoZiner. ChocoSonar is used to sniff out a Chicobos location. The ChocoWhis will emit a soft ping as you search an area and changes to a fast-pitched, louder ping when you're standing on the right spot. After locating such a spot, you must switch the ChocoWhis over to ChocoZiner mode. Blowing the ChocoZiner will cause a Chicobo(s) to drop from above or go into hiding if you're on the right spot. If you're not on the right spot, a Chicobo will steal your ChocoWhis, thus forcing you to buy a new one from the Chocoboy for 700 Gil.

Solving Puzzles

Your goal in every forest is to call out Chicobos in a pattern that leaves only one Chicobo on the ground. This may take some effort in some of the forests. A lone Chicobo makes the parent Chocobo nervous, and causes it to come out of hiding when you approach its baby and examine it.

After solving the puzzle, you can search for hidden items in the ground. By locating them, the Chocobos become your friends and will no longer hide from you when you enter their forest. If you leave a forest without finding the hidden items, you must solve the puzzle again to get another Chocobo to show itself.

About Chocoboy

While you're attempting to solve the puzzles, Chocoboy will be standing by ready to assist you in several ways. He's not the giving type, though, so you'll have to pay him for his services. Here's a rundown of the things he can do:

ChocoWhis Sales	You can't catch a Chocobo without a ChocoWhis. The first one will cost you 1000 Gil. Any replacements will cost 700 Gil.
Cost: 1000 Gil/700 Gil
Hints	This is the most worthwhile service he provides. Chocoboy tells you the name of the forest you're currently in, and gives you a rather cryptic clue to help you solve the puzzle.
Cost: 100 Gil
Buy Gysahl Greens	These Greens can be used in battle to summon a "GF-like" Chocobo. The Chocobo GF hits your opponents with a flare attack.
Cost: 600 Gil per Green
Questions	For a pittance, the Chocoboy will answer questions about the ChocoWhis and about himself. This option won't assist you in catching a Chocobo, but it may prove useful if you're having trouble using your ChocoWhis.
Cost: 10 Gil
Help Me!	The Chocoboy is willing to catch a Chocobo for you, but at a high cost. Only select this option if you really need a Chocobo and you don't want to deal with the puzzles. You can't find the hidden items using this option, so you'll either have to solve the puzzle later or pay this fee again if you want another Chocobo later on in the game.
Cost: 1200 Gil

Using This Section

In the following pages, you'll find detailed information to help you catch your very own Chocobo. The maps indicate the locations where you must use the ChocoZiner to catch Chocobos, and where you'll find the hidden items. The corresponding charts indicate what occurs when you use the ChocoZiner at each location. A "O" stands for a Chocobo on the ground at the designated point. An "X" stands for a Chocobo in the air. Dashes indicate that it doesn't matter whether or not a Chocobo is present on the ground or in the air when using the ChocoZiner at a location.

Below the chart, you'll find a step-by-step walkthrough on how to solve the puzzle. Just follow along and you can solve each puzzle without having to put any work into it. Additionally, you'll find all the possible solutions for the accompanying puzzle. Some puzzles only have one solution, but some have as many as three.

Chocoboy's Clue: "Be careful where the Sonar reacts."

This is an easy one. Start off by using the ChocoZiner at spot 1 or 2 in order to get both Chicobos back into the trees. Then use the ChocoZiner at spot 3, which brings down all three Chicobos in this area. Head to spot 4 and use the ChocoZiner to bring down the last of the four Chicobos. Return to spot 1 or 2 and use the ChocoZiner one last time to return the three Chicobos at the top back to the trees. Speak with the remaining Chicobo to solve the puzzle. Don't forget to locate the hidden items: Shell Stone and Holy Stone.

Chocoboy's Clue: "You only need to blow the whistle twice."

There are a lot of Chicobos in this area, but don't let that confuse you. If you buy a hint from Chocoboy, he'll tell you that you only need to blow the whistle twice in this area. Start by using the ChocoZiner at spot 1. This action drops three Chicobos from above. Follow this by using the ChocoZiner at either spot 2 or 3 to narrow the three down to one. Be sure to search for the hidden item Flare Stone.

Chocoboy's Clue:

"Chocobowling with 4 bottles, 1 ball."

There are several ways to solve this nasty little puzzle. However, if you want to see the Chocobowling, you must end with spot 5. Begin with spot 1 to bring down three Chicobos. Then use the ChocoZiner at either spot 2 or 4 to set the "pins." Follow this by using the ChocoZiner at spots 3 or 5, which places the "ball." End by using the ChocoZiner at spot 5 and watch the Chicobo's version of a strike. Make sure you get the hidden items Meteor Stone, Flare Stone, and Ultima Stone.

There's only one Chicobo in this area, so it should be easy; unfortunately, it's not. To catch the Chicobo, you must pinpoint the exact spot on the map and this spot is MUCH smaller than the points in other forests. Just slowly search the area marked on the map, and find the spot where the ChocoSonar goes nuts. To find the hidden items in this area, you have to ask the Chocoboy to move. Challenge him to a game of cards, and then choose "Forget it, just move." Search the spot directly where he was standing to find a Protect Stone and a Meteor Stone.

Chocoboy's Clue: "Collect on outer side, then go in."

Once again, you have a whole mess of Chicobos to work with, but with this group you have to do everything just right. Start off by using the ChocoZiner at spot ① to bring down two Chicobos. Then go to spot ② and one of the Chicobos will leave and another will appear. From here on out, just go straight through the order (③, ④ and ⑤) and you'll add a Chicobo each time until only one remains. After that, make sure you get the items Meteor Stone, Holy Stone, and Ultima Stone.

Solution

The Chocobo Sanctuary

There's one last Chocobo Forest in the world. It's in a place so remote that only someone riding a Chocobo can reach it. Nothing much happens there, but Chocobos sometime congregate in this sacred place.

After solving the puzzles and collecting the hidden items in the previous six forests, you can head for the Chocobo Sanctuary. You can actually go there earlier, but the only things there are Chocobos from the forests you've already solved at that point. When all six Chocobos congregate, they'll perform a special dance for you. Speak with the Chocobo afterwards, and it will reward you with the Chicobo Card. Speak with it a second time, and it will give you some Gysahl Greens, but it will also steal 600 Gil.

Getting to the Chocobo Sanctuary isn't easy, however, it isn't as tough as it seems. Get a Chocobo from the Chocobo Forest north of Trabia Garden. Ride it to the east onto the Heath Peninsula and "examine" the ocean. There's a long strip of shallow water that connects Trabia to Esthar. Follow the shallow water and you'll enter Grandidi Forest. The Chocobo Sanctuary is almost directly to the north. To return to Trabia, simply speak to a Chocobo or speak with Chocoboy, who will find a Chocobo for you to ride back.

OTHER STUFF TO DO

Here are a few other things you can do while exploring:

Timber

By revisiting Timber, you'll get the chance to save a girl from an oncoming train near the Dollet Station. Doing so gets you a free night in the Hotel, plus it enables you to pick up a copy of Timber Maniacs inside the hotel room.

Dollet

You can do a couple of things in Dollet. Visit the local Pub and head upstairs to the blackjack tables. You can find a copy of Timber Maniacs on one of the tables. If you challenge the manager to a card game and win, he'll allow you to enter the Pub's private room where he'll give you five Geezard Cards, four Red Bat Cards, three Buel Cards, two Anaconda Cards, and one Cactuar Card. You can also find a copy of Occult Fan II hidden in the magazine stacks, as well as a couple of other items and useful tidbits of information. In addition, you can win the Siren Card from the manager if you challenge him enough times.

Just down the street from the Pub you'll find the home of an artist with a problem child. Listen in on the argument, and then check out the painting. Follow the artist down to the beach, and speak with him and the girl with him. They'll give you a hint that the bone on the painting is more than it appears. Return to the artist's house and examine the painting again. Recognize the area? It's a section of Dollet. Go there and you'll find a dog. After examining the dog's collar, you'll find a Potion hidden there. You can repeat this two more times to receive a Phoenix Down and a Soft. You don't need to go to the beach each time; instead, just find the dog in the section shown in the painting. You can obtain an X-Potion, a Mega-Potion, and an Elixir if you complete this event during Disc Three.

Deling City

Return to Deling City and visit Rinoa's father again. He admits to having Rinoa's Card, but says that he rarely uses it. However, if you're willing to relinquish your Ifrit Card, he'll consider putting Rinoa's Card into play.

To give him Ifrit, you must put it in your hand and make absolutely sure it's your best card. Intentionally lose the card game and Rinoa's father will take the Ifrit Card. After acknowledging what you've done, Rinoa's father will indeed begin to use Rinoa's Card, so you can now win it from him. To get your Ifrit Card back, you must do a little traveling. Rinoa's father has already lost the Ifrit Card to the one-time headmaster of Galbadia Garden, Martine. You'll find Martine at FH to the right of the Mayor's house. You must challenge him to win back your Ifrit Card.

CHALLENGE CC MEMBERS

Are you ready to take on the best of the best? The CC group is a collection of seven card-playing fanatics. Each person has a solid set of cards, and knows how to work the rules in their favor. By defeating each of them, you can collect some rare cards and bulk up your collection of cards for modifying later on if necessary.

To face the entire CC group, you must challenge them one at a time from the lowest-ranking member to the highest-ranking member. The following list covers the order you must follow when challenging them, where you'll find them, and what rare cards each member has (if any).

(#2) Club

Location: In the Balamb Garden Hallway near the entrance to the Cafeteria.

Appears randomly and is often difficult to find. Club has no rare cards.

(#3) Diamond

Location: In front of the Directory in the Balamb Garden Hallway.

Diamond is actually a pair of female SeeD cadets. They have no rare cards.

(#4) Spade

Location: On the second floor next to the elevator.

Spade is one of two people that normally hangs out in this area. Spade has no rare cards.

(#5) Heart

Location: On the bridge.

This is none other than Xu. She has the Carbuncle Card.

(#6) Joker

Location: Inside the Training Center.

Joker appears randomly, so he isn't always easy to find. He has the Leviathan Card and will upgrade your Battle Meter to include GF information if you defeat him. You can challenge Joker at any time once you have beaten Jack.

(#7) King

Location: Finding King is a bit tougher. Speak with Nida on the bridge and then visit the Infirmary and challenge Dr. Kadowaki to a game. She will suggest that you'll soon find King. Return to your dorm room and take a nap. King will appear while you're resting.

You can win the Gilgamesh Card from King.

If the CC group won't challenge you, it's probably because you haven't been playing enough card games at Balamb Garden. You must build up your reputation as a card player by defeating card players at the Garden. Walk around and win about 15 card games, and then attempt this quest again.

CACTUAR ISLAND

Available When

Disc Three (With Ragnarok)

Difficulty

Hard

Rewards

Great

Unavailable When

N/A

Cactuar Island is a small, desert island on the southeast corner of the Esthar continent. You can distinguish it from all of the other islands in the area due to its landscape and a small, green figure that appears randomly here and there in the desert sands. This small, green figure is known as the Jumbo Cactuar.

The Jumbo Cactuar is an ancient Cactuar that has grown to immense proportions. If you can defeat it, you'll earn the Cactuar GF, but that's no small task. In preparation for this battle, I suggest that you have the Revive and Recover abilities equipped on two different characters. I also suggest that the characters without the Revive ability be able to cast either Life or Full-Life. The Jumbo Cactuar has the ability to eliminate one of your characters with a single attack, so you'll be using Life and Revive a lot. Also, make sure Leviathan is Junctioned to a party member (preferably not the person with the Revive ability), because the Jumbo Cactuar has a weakness to Water magic.

Need Some AP?

If you don't have the skills listed above, they're easy enough to get. Cactuar Island is full of—what else—Cactuars. These creatures are difficult to defeat, because they evade attacks really well and tend to escape from battle in a hurry. Keep in mind, though, that you receive 20 AP for each Cactuar you defeat.

Squall's high hit percentage makes it easy for him to eliminate at least one Cactuar in each battle, so winning just 10 battles can earn you 200 AP. Just make sure you avoid the Jumbo Cactuar until you're ready to do battle.

GUARDIAN FORCE ALERT!

Jumbo Cactuar

AP 20

EXP --

Weak vs Water

This battle is all about patience and controlled attacks. The Jumbo Cactuar utilizes a nasty, random counterattack called 10,000 Needles. This attack causes more than 10,000 points of damage, which can't be reduced by spells like Protect. The rest of the Jumbo Cactuar's attacks are strong, but are nothing to worry about.

Have one of your characters (preferably the one with the Revive ability) serve as a "medic" for the entire fight. Your "medic" will be very busy reviving the other two characters each time they're hit by the 10,000 Needles counterattack. As long as the "medic" never attacks and you constantly use Recover or Cure spells to keep his/her HP at maximum, you'll never have trouble reviving downed party members.

Of the remaining two attacking characters, focus one on constantly using Water magic or physical attacks. The other should concentrate on repeatedly summoning Leviathan. Because the Jumbo Cactuar has a weakness against Water magic, Leviathan can cause around 9999 points of damage with each summon. This will speed up the battle considerably.

After causing substantial damage to the Jumbo Cactuar, you may see a message stating that the Jumbo Cactuar is hesitating. BE VERY CAREFUL AT THIS POINT! This means that the Boss is thinking about running away. Refrain from attacking the Boss, with Leviathan being the exception. You must quickly finish off Jumbo Cactuar with your strongest attacks; if not, you're forced to fight it all over again once it runs. Leviathan's 9999 points of damage is your best bet.

Finding the Deep Sea Research Center isn't easy. It doesn't appear on any map, it's very small, and very, very remote. You can locate it using the mobile Balamb Garden, but you won't be able to land anywhere on it. The only way to the Deep Sea Research Center is landing on top of it, so you'll need to have the Ragnarok to get inside.

Bahamut's Quest

Upon entering the facility, you'll notice a blue, glowing core. Your objective is to walk up to the core. Sounds easy, but it isn't. The random encounter rate in this area is astoundingly high and the Enc-Half and Enc-None abilities don't work in here. You may very well get into a fight every couple of steps you take. There's a trick to getting through this room without having to face random encounters. Notice how the core pulses? If you only move while the core isn't glowing, one or two steps tops, you can avoid any random encounters. If you're not having any luck with this, you can try another trick. Make sure you push in the direction you wish to walk as each battle ends. By doing so, you'll ensure that you're walking as the screen fades back in and before the core can glow. You should be able to take three or four steps this way. If you pause for long, you'll get into a fight as soon as you move even a tiny bit, as the core will have begun to glow again.

At the core, Bahamut will ask you several questions. After each question, you'll be forced to fight a powerful Ruby Dragon and you won't have the opportunity to heal between battles. If you choose the wrong answer, you'll be forced to fight a Ruby Dragon and then be given the same question again until you select the right answer.

The questions and answers are:

Bahamut: "So you wish to challenge me..."

Choose: "It's not our will to fight"

Bahamut: "Begging me for mercy?"

Choose: "Never"

Bahamut: "Damned imbeciles. Why do you wish to fight?"

Choose: Select the third option, which is hidden below "None of your business"

After answering all three questions correctly, you'll be taken into a Boss fight with Bahamut.

GUARDIAN FORCE ALERT!

Bahamut

HP 10,800~90,000

AP 40

EXP --

Weak vs. Ice/Absorbs Fire

Flying Monster

This battle isn't as tough as you might expect it to be. Start the fight by casting Blind on Bahamut if you don't have Blind or Pain Junction to a party member's Status-Atk. This will cut down Bahamut's powers considerably, because half of its attacks are physical attacks.

Now all you have to worry about are Bahamut's magic attacks and its ultimate weapon: Mega Flare. Keep everyone's HP high, and use protective spells like Shell and Protect to cut down on the damage caused by these attacks. When Bahamut uses the Mega Flare, quickly have everyone draw Curaga from the GF so they can heal themselves.

Attack the GF with your best GFs, but avoid Ifrit, Brothers, and Quezacotl. Limit Breaks are great in this fight. Use Aura spells if you have them so that you can easily get every character's Limit Breaks activated.

Under the Sea

After defeating Bahamut, leave the research center by boarding the Ragnarok and then enter the Conference Room. Return to the research center after exiting the Ragnarok and you'll find that the core has been destroyed and there's a passage down to the lower levels. The new area is a strange, rotating structure filled with steam powered airlocks.

Your goal in this section is to work your way down to the bottom floor by using the remaining 20 units of reserve steam power to open the various airlocks. When you reach the bottom, you must have 10 units left in order to start the final control panel.

There are a couple of ways to go about this:

Solution #1 (without Zell)

Floor 1:

4 units spent automatically to open the door to Floor 2.

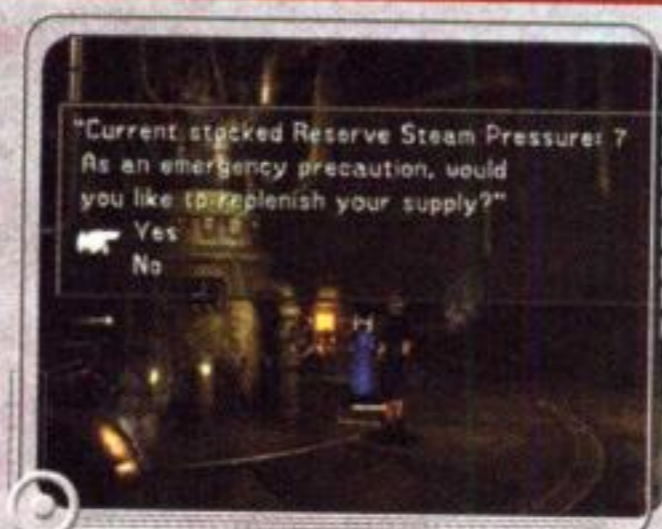

Total RSP: 16

Floor 2:

Spend 2 units to open the door to Floor 3: Sector 2.

Total RSP: 14

Floor 3:

Use the monitor on the left under the stairs and spend 4 units to open the Steam Room. Inside the Steam Room you can use the Esuna Draw Point and use the station there to recharge 7 Units for a total of 17 Units. Use the second station in the main room to spend 1 Unit, and open the door to Floor 4: Sector 6.

Total RSP: 16

Floor 4:

Spend 1 unit to open the door to Floor 5: Sector 9.

Total RSP: 15

Floor 5:

Spend 1 unit to open the door to Floor 6.

Total RSP: 14

Floor 6:

Spend 4 units to open the door into the excavation site.

Total RSP: 10

Solution #2: (With Zell)

Floor 1:

4 units spent automatically to open the door to Floor 2.

Total RSP: 16

Floor 2:

Use 1 unit to open the door to Floor 3: Sector 3.

Total RSP: 15

Floor 3:

Use 1 unit to open the door to Floor 4: Sector 6.

Total RSP: 14

Floor 4:

Use 1 unit to open the door to Floor 5: Sector 9

Total RSP: 13

Floor 5:

Use 1 unit to open the door to Floor 6.

Total RSP: 12

Floor 6:

Inspect the machinery to the right of the levers, and Zell will suggest that he can handle the machine. Allow him to do so, and the door will open without spending any steam units.

Total RSP: 12

With either solution, you'll be able to reach the bottom floor with the required 10 RSP. Make your way through the excavation site, and at the bottom you'll find another control panel. Save your game at the hidden Save Point and use the 10 RSP to activate the final control panel. Inside you'll face a very tough Boss: Ultima Weapon.

Ultima Weapon is no pushover. This beast has 1-hit kills and powerful magic spells that attack the entire party simultaneously. You'll have to use every advantage you have in your arsenal to defeat it.

It helps to have the Revive ability on one of your characters. Make sure you have at least one character who can cast magic and has the Triple, Aura, Curaga, and Meltdown spells in his/her inventory. Also, try to set everyone up so that they can revive fallen characters either with magic, abilities, or items. If you can get Squall's Lionheart weapon, it will help out a lot as well.

Start the fight by casting Haste on everyone to give yourself a speed advantage. Then follow that up by summoning Doomtrain or casting Meltdown on Ultima Weapon to cut its defenses. Also, make sure you draw the Eden GF before you forget. You wouldn't want to miss obtaining the strongest GF in the game!

Cast Triple or use Cerberus so that a magic user can heal everyone at once. Follow this up by casting Aura on everyone if you can. By doing so, you can unload on the Boss with constant Limit Breaks. Keep the pressure up and Ultima Weapon should fall quickly.

Just north of Timber is tranquil Obel Lake. There's a small peninsula in the center of the lake where you can find hidden options if you search the edge of the peninsula.

The options are "Throw a rock" or "Try humming."

After choosing "Try humming" several times, you'll encounter a strange shadowy creature in the water. Speak with the creature and it will ask you to do it a favor by finding its friend, Mr. Monkey. The only clues the creature of Obel Lake gives you are: 1.) Mr. Monkey may have hopped a train toward Dollet; and 2). Mr. Monkey enjoys hanging out in forests.

Head for Dollet and search the forest to the west of the city. During your search, you should eventually encounter Mr. Monkey. After finding Mr. Monkey, return to Obel Lake and speak with the creature of Obel Lake again. It will tell you several cryptic clues:

- "Take a break at the railroad bridge."
- "At the beach in Balamb, something special washes ashore at times."
- "Take some time off at Eldbeak Peninsula."
- "You'll find something on an island east of Timber, too."
- "There's also something on top of a mountain with a lake and cavern."
- "Back in the day, south of here, there used to be a small but beautiful village surrounded by deep forests. Everyone lived a happy life there."
- "Mr. Monkey had a rock like this I think..."

What the creature of Obel Lake is trying to say is that you should visit all of these places to find objects of interest. First, you'll be looking for small rocks in four locations. Here's where you'll find them.

Rock #1: ("Mr. Monkey had a rock like this I think...") You won't get the clue for this one until you've found at least one other rock. Stand at Obel Lake and throw rocks until you get the message reading "The rock skipped many, many times." This may take many tries as the message appears at random. Now head for the forest near Dollet to find Mr. Monkey. Throw rocks at Mr. Monkey until he throws a rock back at you with the inscription "U R H A E O."

Rock #2: (“You’ll find something on an island east of Timber, too.”) The small island east of Timber is the one on the north side of the railroad bridge, known as a part of Mandy Beach. Search the ground to find a small rock with the inscription “R E A I D R.”

Rock #3: (“At the beach in Balamb, something special washes ashore at times.”) There are a lot of rocks on the beach just south of Balamb. Keep searching to eventually find the right one. The small rock found here bears the inscription “S T S L R M.”

Rock #4: (“There’s also something on top of a mountain with a lake and cavern.”) You MUST have the Ragnarok to find this rock. On top of a mountain called the Monterosa Plateau, northwest of Timber, search the ground and you’ll find a bird warming an egg directly above a small cavern with a waterfall in the side of the plateau. Fight off the birds to find a small rock inscribed with the letters “E A S N P D.”

After obtaining all four rocks, return to Obel Lake and speak with the creature again. The rocks will be properly lined up for you to decipher the message. Read from top to bottom, starting on the right side and working toward the left. The message is “Mordred Plains has Treasure.”

Head for Mordred Plains, which is the large plain north of Esthar, and explore the area while searching the ground. Upon searching, you’ll discover four rocks, each with a human face.

Each rock will tell you something different, but you only need to listen to one. The red-faced rock is a liar, so do exactly the opposite of what it says. This will eventually lead you to the treasure. When you search a spot and the red-faced rock says, “The treasure is not here,” you know you’ve found it. Search a second time to discover a Three Stars, which can be used to teach a GF the Expendx3-1 ability.

“Take some time off at Eldbeak Peninsula.” Finally, head for Eldbeak Peninsula, which is on the continent north of Balamb. Search the tip of the peninsula to find a stone pillar with the inscription “TRETIMEASUREATMINOFFDEISLE”.

What does it mean? Well, according to the clue, you should “Take some TIME OFF at Eldbeak Peninsula.” So eliminate the words TIME and OFF from the message and you get “TREASUREATMINDEISLE” or “Treasure at Minde Isle.” Minde Island is a small island located south of Esthar. Search the island to find a Luck-J Scroll.

“Back in the day, south of here, there used to be a small but beautiful village surrounded by deep forests. Everyone lived a happy life there.” This is referring to a weird shaped forest east of Edea’s House with a sort of round clearing in the middle containing a grassy area. If you land here and go into the grassy part, Squall will mention that there is a lot of rubble around. That is all that you can do regarding this clue.

“Take a break at the railroad bridge.” This clue is a hint at the many hidden Draw Points that can be found on railroad bridges.

ALIEN ENCOUNTER

While exploring certain areas, you may have been surprised to encounter a UFO. That's right! Aliens have invaded the world of FFVIII, and it's your job to track them down. You can spot the UFO in the four places shown on this map.

Travel to the highlighted area and walk around until you enter a battle with no enemies. The UFO will appear in the distance, carrying an object, and then it will fly away. You can speed up your search by equipping Diablos' Enc-None ability. Although seeing the UFO is considered an encounter, you can still find the UFO with the Enc-None ability equipped, however, you won't have to deal with fighting any monsters.

Encounter #1:

Winhill Bluffs

Cow

Encounter #2:

Mandy Beach, south of Timber

Moa Head Statue

Encounter #3:

Kashkabald Desert located on an island on the east side of the Centra Ruins

Pyramid

Encounter #4:

Trabia Heath Peninsula, east of Trabia Garden

Strange Symbol

After encountering the UFO in all four locations, pilot the Ragnarok to the plateau just north of Grandidi Forest's Chocobo Forest. After walking around on this plateau, you'll encounter the UFO again; however, this time it's up close and personal. After defeating it, watch it fly off into the background. You will receive an Aegis Amulet for winning this battle.

NOTE

Before moving onward, you should equip one of your characters with the Item command. In addition, you should have five Elixirs in your inventory.

Now return to Balamb and explore the area where Balamb Garden was once positioned (Alcauld Plains). Here you'll encounter the alien known as PuPu. The alien will ask you for an Elixir. Use an Elixir on the Alien, and it will continue to ask you for more Elixirs. Give the PuPu a total of five Elixirs and it will give you the PuPu card.

You can fight the alien if you want to win an Accelerator, however, giving the PuPu Elixirs is the only way to get its one-of-a-kind card.

QUEEN OF CARDS QUEST

At the beginning of the game, you can find the Queen of Cards in Balamb near Balamb Station. She will remain here until you either lose (or win) a rare card (any level eight card or better) to/from her. Once this requirement is fulfilled, speak with her and she'll give you a hint as to her next destination, which can be at one of the following eight places around the world: Balamb, Shumi Village, Dollet, Deling City, Winhill, Esthar, F.H., and Lunar Gate.

The Card Queen's quest takes place in the town of Dollet. When speaking with her normally (using the  button) while in Dollet, you'll notice a fourth option, "About your artist father," that hasn't been available in other cities. When you choose this option, the Card Queen will ask you for a specific card. The first card she requests is the MiniMog Card. To advance the quest you must lose the MiniMog Card to her in a card game. This enables her father to create a new card that you can win from someone elsewhere in the world. Cards created by her father are all rare, and aren't available to you unless you take on the Card Queen's quest.

Giving the Card Queen what she requests prompts her to move to another region. Once again, you must chase her around the world until she returns to Dollet and you can give her the next card she requests. You must do this five times to receive all of the new rare cards. Make sure you save often during this quest, because it can become very frustrating at times.

Paired with this text are several tables. Use the tables to determine the Card Queen's movement, destination, and requests. You may need to pause in the middle of this quest in order to hunt down a card or two you may have missed earlier. Just make sure you note the Card Queen's destination so as to avoid searching several locations when you return to complete the quest at a later time.

NOTE

You can retrieve any of the five cards you are required to give to the Card Queen from her little brother in Dollet. He is the child living with the artist one screen down from the Pub. As soon as you give the Card Queen any of the five requested cards, they are immediately transferred to the boy's inventory. Any other cards lost to the Card Queen must be won back from her in normal fashion.

SOLOMON RING

GUARDIAN FORCE ALERT!

There are four places you can visit in the area outside of Esthar: Lunatic Pandora Laboratory, Sorceress Memorial, Lunar Gate, and Tears' Point. All four locations are now highlighted on the World Map.

Before you head for Lunar Gate, however, you should take a quick detour and go to Tears' Point. There's a valuable item at Tears' Point known as the Solomon Ring. To use it, you'll need

18 items: six Steel Pipes, six

Remedy+, and six Malboro Tentacles. This item enables you to summon the GF Doomtrain.

You can get the necessary items by stealing Steel Pipes from Wendigos, using the Medicine Level Up ability to create Remedy+, and by stealing (or winning) Malboro Tentacles from Malboros. You don't have to fight Doomtrain, and once you summon it, it joins you without putting you through another grueling test.

SECRETS

Gifts from Esthar Shops

Cloud's shop will randomly give you a Hi-Potion during the first visit, and an X-Potion during your second visit. Johnny's Shop will randomly give you a Hi-Potion during the first visit, and a Mega-Potion during your second visit. Karen's Shop will randomly give you a Hi-Potion during the first visit, and a Mega-Phoenix during your second visit. Cheryl's Shop will only randomly give you one item: the Rosetta Stone. Visit Cheryl's Shop during the Lunatic Pandora event in Esthar when you are in control of Zell.

Crash Site

If you missed out on the Alexander Card in the Lunar Base, you can still win it from Piet. The escape pod crashed in the Abadan Plains, which is south of Tears' Point outside of Esthar's cloak. Land on the island and search the area. You can't see the crash site, but you'll automatically get taken there if you step in the right area. Piet is sitting next to the escape pod cursing his bad luck.

Quick AP and EXP

Toward the end of the game, you may need to do some quick level building. If you're looking for AP there's only one place to go: Cactuar Island. Each Cactaur you defeat is worth a whopping 20 AP. In no time, you can learn skills worth 200 AP.

If you need EXP visit either the Island Closest to Heaven, or the Island Closest to Hell. Both are found on either the far east or west coasts. There you'll find only the toughest enemies in the game. Bring Quistis along and leave her HP in the yellow. Then begin each battle by using her Degenerator Limit Break. You'll quickly amass more experience than you ever thought possible. Also, be on the lookout for a mass of Draw Points on both of these islands. They're all "unseen," but they contain the best spells in the game and they all refill quickly.

Control Panel Secret

You can toy around a bit with the Missile Control Panel at the Galbadian Missile Base. Choose to go to the Equipment inspection screen and you'll see the equipment used by the Galbadian Army. Hold down both the △ and ○ buttons and press up or down on the control pad. The scene will switch to either a dancing Galbadian Soldier or Elite Soldier. Pretty strange stuff.

Unlimited Gil

You can make extra Gil with Edea's Letter. Take it to a shop and you can sell it for 125 Gil. It isn't much, but it can help if you're short on cash. Return to Edea's House and speak with Edea again. She'll scold you and then hand over another letter. You can continue to sell her letters and get new ones to your heart's content. Granted this isn't a great money maker, but it's kind of humorous.

The Laguna Effect

Depending on the actions you took while exploring the Excavation Site (a.k.a. Lunatic Pandora's Excavation Site) as Laguna on Disc One, you may be able to locate some useful items and Draw Points when you explore Lunatic Pandora as Squall at the end of Disc Three. The following covers the action taken by Laguna in the past and the result in the present:

As Laguna

Pick up the first Old Key near the Confuse Draw Point.

Later Effect

You can now access an Ultima Draw Point hidden in a doorway past the floor panels.

As Laguna

Remove a lever from the middle floor panel to set a trap for the Esthar Soldiers.

Later Effect

The floor panel is now open and inside is a Silence Draw Point.

As Laguna

Find the gray detonator switch, and press the red switch prior to pushing the blue switch.

Later Effect

The door at the base of the long ladder is now open. Inside you can find a LuvLuvG item.

As Laguna

Find the second Old Key at the first intersection.

Later Effect

Both boulders fall into gaps in the floor, which enables you to get to some of the secrets listed here. It also enables you to reach a copy of Combat King 005.

As Laguna

Move the rock away from a tunnel wall to reveal a Cure Draw Point.

Later Effect

Searching the spot where the Draw Point once was, reveals a hidden Spd-J Scroll.

Finding the Ragnarok on Disc Four

The Ragnarok is still around and full of people from the C.C. Group, provided that you defeated the C.C. Group's King earlier in the game. It's a long trek, but you can win some rare cards that you may have missed throughout your journey from the C.C. Group's members. You can also use the Ragnarok to find the Card Queen, who's hiding somewhere on the World Map.

While the journey to the Ragnarok isn't tough, it is very long and slow. After going through the second portal outside Ultimecia's Castle, you'll arrive in Centra's Serengeti Plains area just a bit north of the Centra Ruins. Check the World Map and you'll see a red dot southeast of your position. The red dot signifies the Ragnarok. To reach it, you need to find transportation across the ocean, and without the Garden, you must rely on Chocobos.

While on foot, head to the northwest and wrap your way around the bay to the Chocobo Forest on the northeast tip of the Centra continent. Get a Chocobo and return the way you came. Ride the Chocobo to the southern border until you spot a beach. Ride across the ocean to the continent below, which will take you very, very close to Edea's House.

From Edea's House, travel to the east along the mountains. However, keep an eye out for a small pass through the middle of the mountain range. On the other side, you'll find the Kashkabald Desert and the Ragnarok. There's a fourth portal near the Ragnarok. Upon entering this portal, a new portal will appear in front of Ultimecia's Castle. Now you can travel to this location any time you wish.

Finding the Queen of Cards on Disc Four

After finding the Ragnarok, you can begin your hunt for the Card Queen and explore the world. The Card Queen is hiding in the Abadan Plains, just to the south of Esthar.

You'll find her near the escape pod crash site (the same place where you found Piet on Disc 3). Keep in mind that there's no visible sign of the crash from the World Map. To locate it, you must scour the southern tip of the plains until you enter the area.
