Q: Who had big ears, weighed seven thousand pounds, and married a handsome prince?

A: Cinderelephant.

Q: What did the ringmaster say when the human cannonball was shot out of the circus tent?

A: "That's going too far!"

Q: Why do trained seals always know what's happening?

A: Because they're on the ball.

Q: What do you call the trained seal when she claps her flippers?

A: The seal of approval.

Q: How do you catch a fairy?

A: Grab its fairy tale.

Show me a cowboy on a giraffe—

And I'll show you someone who is riding high.

Q: When were clocks invented?

A: Once upon a time.

Q: What do you get when the tall man substitutes for the human cannonball?

A: A long shot.

Show me a bumblebee ringing your doorbell—

And I'll show you a humdinger.

Q: What race could neither the tortoise nor the hare enter?

A: The human race.

Show me a pig in a Porsche—

And I'll show you a road hog.

Q: Why couldn't the strong man lift Alexander Graham Bell?

A: Because he could only lift dumbbells.

Q: What do tightrope-walking bears do in the winter?

A: Go into high-bear-nation.

Q: Who does the ringmaster call when someone tries to steal the show?

A: Acro-batman.

Show me a giant—

And I'll show you someone to look up to.

Q: What do you call the dancing poodle when the elephant sits on him?

A: The underdog.

Q: Did the tortoise win the race by a long distance?

A: No, he won by a hare.

Q: How do you fix a flat pumpkin?

A: With a pumpkin patch.

Show me a girl who rides sunbeams—

And I'll show you a girl who travels light.

Q: How long was Cinderella's glass slipper?

A: One foot long.

Q: Why did the ugly stepsister slap the glass slipper?

A: Because the slipper pinched her.

Show me a mamma flea—

And I'll show you a woman who's afraid that her children are going to the dogs.

Q: Why does the ringmaster like to have an artist at the circus?

A: Because an artist can draw crowds.

Q: What do you get when you cross the Frog Prince with Cinderella's footman?

A: Foot Prince.

Show me a flaming arrow—

And I'll show you a fire fly.

Q: What killed the lion tamer?

A: Cat-nip.
