

Civilization is the amputation of everything that ever happened to us.

An experiment created by aliens unable to have sex.
Civilization is the molestation of everything we could be.

A giant repression melting into suppression

So that YOU never say what YOU mean.

Civilization is breathing down our necks

Splitting us apart.

We are wreckage with beating hearts.

Civilization is a can of hairspray
Spraying for the senseless vain.

Into a hairnet . . .

Only ever meant to be waves,
Civilization, genocide beliefs,

Moralistic
See-through lace blouses

Missiles, ballistic
Lackadaisical

Melancholy red lipstick

When one feels nauseous,
But doesn't feel sick.

Civilization knew who you were before you were even born

Forgave You when you thought You needed forgiving
And You never once surprised THIS civilization
And You never once felt THAT sensation.
