

Alleviating the suffering of others is the essence of veganism and can be embraced by each of us.

Regardless of any other beliefs we hold and however else we choose to lead our lives, we can make a conscious decision to act from kindness and compassion rather than habit and tradition.

