At the time, the department accused McCarthy of "a political strategem." It said some of the persons involved were not in the department, while others had been cleared.

McCarthy said yesterday he believed 24 persons on his list are still with the State Department. He said his information is that two others have been suspended, two have resigned and one has been cleared. Among those involved, he said, are "a foreign affairs specialist, an editor-writer, a divisional assistant. an Ambassador at Large."

The Senator added that he knew all those on the list would be cleared in the State Department's own loyalty procedures. "In four years the State Department has never found a single individual unfit for State Department service in its loyalty proceedings," he said.

Tuesday night on a television program McCarthy offered to give out the names from his office yesterday "if any one of the three major press services will give me assurance in writing they will make those names public without my having named them on the Senate floor.

The Associated Press, United P⇒ss and International News Service refused to give him such assurance. A spokesman for the Associated Press said: "The Associated Press will make no commitments of any kind to Sen. McCarthy. The Associated Press' responsibility is to report the news if and when it happens."

This morning about 20 reporters and photographers appeared at McCarthy's office. Reporters for the Associated Press, United Press and International News Service told the Senator any statements he offered would be handled on the same basis as other news, but they would give him no advance commitments.

McCarthy then made plain that he would not give out the names at his office. He said he was not surprised that the press associations had not given him the assurances he asked. He said hé recognized the danger of libel suits if names were used without the privilege of congressional immunity.

In that connection, Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to have printed in the body of the Ricord, at this point, statements by the Senator from Iowa [Mr. Hickenhooper) and myself, explaining how it happened that certain names were made public.

There being no objection, the statements were ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

EXCERPTS FROM THE CONGRESSIONAL RECORD EXPLAINING WHY NAMES WERE MADE PUBLIC

- 1. Remarks of Senator Hickenhooper. Con-GRESSIONAL RECORD, April 5, 1950, pages 4957.
- 2. Remarks of Senator McCarthy, Con-GRESSIONAL RECORD, March 30, 1950, pages 4434, 4435.

Senator Hickenhooper, Congressional Record, April 5, 1950:

"As a member of the subcommittee of the Committee on Foreign Relations now engaged in the inquiry into the charges of the Senator from Wisconsin, I should like to say that on the day on which the Senator from Wisconsin made his speech at some length on the floor of the Senate, in which he referred to certain cases by number, and so forth--I think it was the 20th of February-at that time the Senator from Wisconsin repeatedly stated and restated on the floor of the Senate that he did not want to make names public, that he would not tell the names to the Senate in public; and, time after time, the Senator from Illinois, the majority leader, rese to demand that he give the names in public, so the whole country would know who the people were that were suspected.

"The Senator from Wisconsin repeatedly said, 'No, I will not make them public.' The Senator from Kentucky, Mr. WITHERS, rose and said he wanted to see the list of The Senator from Wisconsin said. *Come to my office in the morning and I will show you the names.' The Senator from Kentucky said, 'Can I make them public? I intend to make them public if I see them." The Senator from Wisconsin said, 'No; if you are going to make them public, I shall not give you the names."

"The Congressional Record is replete with such statements on the question of the publicity of the names,

"It is a matter of fact also that the junior Senator from Massachusetts and I. both at the first excautive meeting of the subcommittee, suggested and proposed the procedure, that the subcommittee meet in executive session, call the Schator from Wisconsin before it, and ask him to disclose the names in private, together with whatever information he had in connection with the names; but the majority of the subcommittee said no, this must be brought out in public. So they held their first hearing, requiring the Senator from Wisconsin to come, in public, to name the names. I tell the Senator that, If he is not familiar with it, merely to keep the factual history of the publicity of these names accurate.

"I should like to say also that so far as I am concerned, while we did not have the machinery to set up a court of inquiry such as the Canadian spy-ring case called for, we did propose and urge that an inquiry secreey without naming names be made with the facts collected. But we were overruled, and the Schator from Wisconsin was required, or requested, to come before the committee in public hearing, with kiefg lights, television, and all the rest of the fanfare of

Senator McCarthy, Congressional Record, March 30, 1950:

"There has been considerable criticism by a number of well-meaning people of the naming of names in public before the individuals have an opportunity to be heard.

"It might be well, therefore, to briefly cite the record as to why names have been named in public rather than in private. On the 20th of February, as the Senate will recall, I gave to the Senate in some detail 81 cases of individuals whom I stated the files indicated ranged all the way from being bad security risks to very dangerous individuals.

"At that time I pointed out that perhaps some of these individuals would be able to produce facts to offset the effect of the material in the files and show that they were actually loyal employees. I stated in effect—and while I have not had an opportunity to check the number of times in the RECORD, my office tells me that I did so over a dozen times-that I would consider it extremely improper and untair to name names in public before the individuals had a chance to appear in executive session.

The leader of the Democratic Farty, Mr. Lucas, however, on five separate occasions, demanded that the names be publicly named. His first demand was on page 2043 of the RECORD. Again, on page 2046, he had this to say:

"I want to remain here until he names them. That is what I am interested in.

"Again, on page 2049, he said:

"'Will the Senator tell us the name of the man for the RECORD. We are entitled to know who he is. I say this in all serious-

"Again, on page 2053, he said:

"'The Senator should name names before that committee.'

"Again, on page 2063, he said:

"Why does the Senator refuse to divulge names before the Senate?"

"Mr. Withers, also, on almost countless occasions heckled me for the names, stating, on page 2063;

"'Does the Senator realize that I, like all others, am curious to know the names? When the Senator gives the cases the prople and the country at large are entitled to know who they are."

"At that time I, in answer to the urging of the Senator from Illinois and the Senator from Kentucky, stated that I would not give the names in public unless a majority of the Senate demanded that they be made public. and this is all a matter of record.

"After the committee had been appointed and Senator Tydings made chairman, he saw me on the floor of the Senate and stated that a public hearing had been scheduled and asked if I would be ready to appear and testify. At that time I urged that the hearings be in executive session and reminded him of the statements which I made on the Senate floor.

"He informed me that the first hearings would be public and that later we would go into executive session. Later I was informed by the press that Mr. Tydings had made a statement that I could present my cases as I saw fit.

"I again contacted him and told him that, if such were the case, I thought the names should be given in executive session, but was again informed that the first hearings would be public.

"I then contacted my colleague, Senator HICKENLOOPER, and told him that while I thought this might be good politics for the majority members of the committee because of the position in which it would place me, that it was so unfair to some of the individuals who might be able to produce evidence giving them a clean bill of health something should be done.

"I had tried to make it clear that Kenyon case was presented as one of a quence which I had hoped to present first morning, if I had been allowed to ceed. I felt that it was important, no much from the standpoint of Judge K yon, but rather as a typical case to si the complete incompetence of the L Board for the reason that in this can files contained more than 18 docum showing membership in organizations as subversive or Communist-front-tha gardless of this, the Loyalty Board no even went through the motions of ask the judge for an explanation as to why joined these organizations, which the retary of State himself had stated were dence that an employee was a bad seed

"I might say that while at the time ! that the Senator from Illinois was wi wrong in demanding the names be: disturbed by Senator Tydings' very maneuvering of the names into poprint, I am not too sure that perhaps good has not been accomplished.

SUPPLEMENTAL APPROPRIATION FOR DEPARTMENT OF LABOR

Mr. M: HELLAR, Mr. President, I venew my request for unanimous ensent to have the Senate consider the intresolution to which I referred a few inutes ago.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there precion?

4r. WHERRY. Mr. President, reserves the right to object, I should like to k the distinguished chairman of the propriations Committee first to exain the joint resolution, which he will o in any event, I am sure.

Mr. McKELLAR, Yes, I am glad to

Mr. WHERRY. Then I should like to k the Sellator to tell the Senate once ain whother in this case there is such a emergency that the House joint resolution caulant at least be considered by full membership of the Appropriators Committee.

Mr. Mc. CLLAR. The reason is that a Department does not have sufficient ands with which to proceed to underthe a function with which it is charged, and it must be undertaken promptly. Mr. McCARRAN. That is a very good ason.

Mr. WHERRY. Mr. President, I eply appreciate the answer the Senator is given, and I respect him highly. Towever, sometimes that reason—a lack money—is a good one why a measure hould not be passed, of course.

Mr. McKELLAR. Yes, very frequently at is so; I agree entirely with the nator from Nebraska.

Mr. President, I read from the report:
The Department of Agriculture has ruled at all cotton stalks in the Lower Rio rande Valley in Texas must be plowed adre by September 16 in order to control pink ball worm. Stalks in Laredo, Win-Garden, and Eagle Pass areas must be Garden, and Eagle Pass areas must be lowed under by October 1. In the Rio rande Villey alone the crop, which is now any harvested, comprises approximately 1,000 acres, yielding about 700,000 bales, he domestic labor force will have to be gmented in these areas to prevent losses, this important grop.

Other Texas areas and—the Sustes of Ar-

Other Texas areas and-the States of Aransas, Arizona, Missouri, Louisiana, and w Mexico have requested and will require xican Nationals to harvest cotton, while differing will require them beginning the diddle of August for the fruit, vegetable, d cotton harvests, according to the testiny received by the committee.

The basic law requires that employers inburse the Government in amounts up to per worker to cover the costs of transitation and subsistence on route and at expute celters. Of the $950,000 recombided in this resolution $750,000 is for a large first first to be amounted by these controls for the control of the control of administrative expenses, including operation of migration, or recruitment centers in Mexico, reception centers in the United States, and the costs of medical examinations for the workers.

The committee in reporting this interim appropriation expects the Department to assign only the skeleton forces necessary to begin partial operations, and not build up complete personnel complements until the Congress has considered and passed upon the full supplemental request for 1952 now pending before the committee.

That is the situation, and the Department must have the funds for that purpose. The House has passed the joint resolution.

Mr. BRIDGES. Mr. President, will the Senator yield?

Mr. McKELLAR. I yield.

Mr. BRIDGES. When the Senator refers to "the committee"—

Mr. McKELLAR. I was referring to the House committee, not the Senate committee.

Mr. BRIDGES. That is what I thought. This matter has never been before the Senate committee; has it?

Mr. McKELLAR. No, it never has; although it has been before a subcommittee of another Senate committee.

Mr. BRIDGES. Has it been before the Senate Agriculture and Forestry Committee, headed by the Senator from Georgia [Mr. Russell]?

Mr. McKELLAR. No; I think not. Mr. President, the following message is from the Secretary of Labor:

The Secretary called for you, and said to tell you that you would have before you to-day the joint resolution for a very prompt appropriation to take care of migrant Mexican labor. He said to please tell you that if you could get it out today, he would be deeply grateful. It is in the supplemental appropriation bill, Department of Labor, governing migrant foreign labor.

The Senator from Virginia IMr. Even spoke to me a few minutes ago and wanted to know whether this measure applies only to Mexican labor or whether it applies to foreign labor generally. I advised him that it applies only to Mexican labor.

Mr. BRIDGES. Mr. President, will the Senator yield further to me?

Mr. McKELLAR. I yield.

Mr. BRIDGES. Let me say that what I object to in this case—and I think the point was raised by the distinguished minority leader-is that this measure has come to us from the House of Representatives only today. It has not even been before either a subcommittee of the Senate Appropriations Committee or before the full Senate Appropriations Committee. I do not believe there is any pressing need for the passage of this measure. It may be desirable and may have a great deal of merit, but I think the distinguished chairman of the committee will agree with me that this is not the way to legislate. Certainly this sort of high-pressure tactics by those down town to get measures enacted does not appeal to me.

Mr. McKELLAR. I do not agree that it is high-pressured at all.

Mr. BRIDGES. I did not mean that the Senator is engaging in his h-pressure took, but I meant that the Papartment keasing large-possible tacks

Mr. McKELLAR. The Senator from Arizona tells me that a meeting is intended for ternorrow. I would be perfectly willing to have this measure brought up before the committee. The full committee is to meet tomorrow.

Mr. BRIDGES. Yes; and following favorable action by the committee, the joint resolution could be taken up in the Senate c. Monday. Certainly no emergency will develop in connection with this matter during the next 3 days.

Mr. McKELLAR. Yes, although I should like to see prompt action taken on the joint resolution.

Mr. BRIDGES. Certainly. However, I do not think that a few days delay will do any harm. Therefore, I shall object to the present consideration of the joint resolution.

Mr. McKELLAR. Mr. President, I withdraw the request,

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The request is withdrawn,

MORRIS KLEINMAN (S. RES. 119) AND LOUIS ROTHKOPF (S. RES. 120)—MO-TIONS TO RECONSIDER

Mr McFARLAND. Mr. President, if. is now our intention to take u the motions of the distinguished Senator from Washington (Mr. Cain) to reconsider the votes by which Senate Resolutions 119 and 120 were agreed to. I have conferred with the distinguished Senator from Washington and with the distinguished Samtors from Tennessee and Maryland, who tell me they have no objection to the adoption of the motions, with the engress understanding that the resolutions be made the unfinished business, and disposed of immediately. Therefore, I ask unanimous consent that the motions be agreed to, and that the votes by which these two resolutions, Senate Resolution 119 and Senate Resolution 120, were agreed to, be reconsidered. I further ask that Senate Resolution 119 be made the unfinished business before the Lenate, and that, following the disposition of Seante Resolution 11%, Senate Resolution 120 be made the unfinished business.

The PPESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none, and it is so ordered.

DISCLOSURE OF NAMES OF PERSONS ALLEGED TO BE SECURITY RISKS

Mr. McCARTHY. Mr. President, last year I gave the Senate the names of 81 individuals whom I considered dangerous to this country, if allowed to remain in positions of power. At the time that was done, there were constant demands upon the floor of the Senate. many of them made by the then m jority leader, former Senator Lucas. who is no longer a Member of the Senate, that I make the names public on the Senate floor. As I have stated, the majority leader was joined in this demand by a number of other Senators. At that time I refused to comply with the request, and explained why. I told the Senate I felt that, of the 81 cases given the Senate, some were marginal cases, in which the parties might well prove Commenters to be not or bud se-configurations come of level, as that for some of the configurations as should

2. Under this program, all departmental and Foreign Service officers receive complete accurity innestigations. These investigations are exhautive and are made by trained investigators, operating under the direct supervision of a former FBI agent, Mr. Donald Nicholson.

3. The Department does not permit any employee to have access to secret material when it has determined that such access might constitute a danger to the security of the United States. To do otherwise would be contrary to the established security prin-

4. Questions as to the loyalty of any employee of this Department or the Foreign Service result in an up-to-date and full-scale investigation of the individual employee to the following services. ployce by the Federal Burcau of Investigation. The evaluation of this investigation is made by a competent Loyalty Security Board which operates under the chairmanship of Gen. Conrad E. Snow, an experienced and able lawyer of distinct ished reputation and unquestioned integraty.

5. This Board is made up of men of such high qualifications and unquestioned loyalty that I doubt that even the most suspicious person could be able to challenge their credentials.

6. The work of the Board is reviewed administratively by my intendiate office and by the Loyalty Review Board of the Civil Service Commission. Mr. Seth Richardson, a former Assistant Attorney General under ex-President Herbert Hoover, was formerly chairman of the Levalty Roview Board. He was succeeded by the present chairman, ex-Republican Senator from Connecticut, Mr. Hiram Bingham.

7. In the more than 4 years of operation under this procedure, the Loyalty Review Board has never reversed the Department's

8. In conducting this program, the Department has uncovered some employees who did not meet its high security stand-. ards, and these employees have been sop-

As should be perfectly clear from the foregoing, the conduct of the Department's loyalty and security programs are predicated on thoroughly tried and proven Amertean principles. We will continue to operate this program in the same straightforw rd manner in the future, confident that we are taking every reasonable step to assure a completely loyal and trustworthy group of employees. But we will not abandon adherence to those concepts so carefully and deliberately said down in the President's loyalty program, and the will not compromise our legal and et neal responsibilities under pressure of political stratagem or

Sincerely yours.

CARLISTE H. HUMILSINE.

Mr. McCARTHY. Mr. President, I ; find an interesting passage on page 3 of the letter, which reads as follows:

In the mole than 4 years of operation unfider this procedure, the Loyalty Review Board has never reversed the Department's adjudication of a case.

In other words, Mr. Acheson's man is telling how good their board is because it has never been reversed. In view of the fact that they have never found an individual unfit for service, there could never have been an appeal to the Loyalty Review Board, Therefore, since there was never an appeal, there could not , have been a reversal.

However, the Review Board has the power to take up a case on post audit and indicate dissatisfaction with the case. That has been done time and time again. Even though the Secretary says this is not a reversal. As an example of such a case I invite the attention of the Senate to the case of Service. I informed the late unlamented Tydings committee that the Service case had been postaudited, sent back to the Loyalty Board, and that the Review Board said it was handled so badly that it wanted to call in an entirely new board and also asked that Service be brought back from a key spot in India. The State Department immediately issued a press release or called a press conference, I don't recall which, and announced that this was untrue; that McCapthy was lying and that Service's case had not been ordered reopened. I called the Department and told them unless they would issue a true statement of the facts, I would make public the photostats of the Review Board's ruling. Within a half an hour the State Department mysterlously found that the Service case had been ordered reopened and so announced.

I merely mention it because it sheds light on how much credit we can give to the official statements from the State Department. It would seem officials of the Department, who are, like Members of the Senate, servants of the people, would have the decency and honesty to tell the American people the truth.

So much for that.

I should like to make it very clear as I refer to the loyalty board of the State Department that I am not referring to the Civil Service Commission's Loyalty Review Board. That Board, as we all know, was doing an extremely foul job until its head, Seth Richardson, was promoted, and his place was taken over by former Senator Physham, of Connecticut. I think Sellator Bingham is doing the best job anyone could do under the circumstances.

I hesitate praising Senator Bingham because I know any words of praise from me for any Government official certainly endanger's that person's job.

Mr. President, I very much dislike bringing in the names of these individuals, but I frankly do not think I have any other choice. I think, so long as they are being given access to secret material and have been officially charged, that they have no more right to have their names remain secret than would someone who might be charged with reckless driving, embezzlement, or with any other crime or misdemeanor.

I shall briefly run through the cases, Mr. President. The first case is that of an individual well known to all of us, John Carter Vincent. Please keep in mind that these "letters of charges" were not prepared by me; they were prepared as the result of investigations by the FBI or State Department investiga-

Vincent is charged with being a member of the Communist Party, and to the best of my knowledge he is also charged with espionage activities while in Switzerland.

I would suggest to the McCarran committee that if they can obtain the correspondence between the Centerd land!ligence Agency and Dean Acheson's

Same and the first of the second office they will find the correspondence very revealing. I doubt if they will b able to get it, in view of what happene... in the committee this morning. A ve fantastic thing occurred before the Me-Carran committee this morning. General Willoughby was before the commistee and was asked to give information on the communistic activities of certain Government employees, and he read in: the record an order which he receive from the Army saying to him, "Generayou must not give the Senate committee any information about any employee of this Government.'

Inconceivable? Yes. But it is true. It is part of the record.

So, Mr. President, I am not too hopeful that the McCarran committee will be able to get that correspondence.

One of the members of the Loyalty Bourd informs us that Acheson has assured them that the Department not call Vincing or ik from Africa.

Some of the additional information not contained in the letter of charge. which I commend to the attention of the McCarran committee. I refer to the activities of George Ottlik who has bee. working hand in glove with Vincent . Switzerland. Ottlik represented the short-lived Hungarian Communist regime of Bela Kun. He was stationed Beine, Switzerland.

While he was Director of the I Eastern Division in 1945 Vincent wro. a memorandum, which is in his Stat Department file, strongly urging tha General Hodge establish a coalition go er ment between North Korea and South Korea. He objected strenuously to Syngman Rhee and urged that the State Department assist a Mosco.: trained Communist by the name of Ker. Keosek to get the presidency of South Korea. As we also know, Vincent he beth a very close associate of Owen Lattimore. Lattimore has been named by two witnesses as a Communist and . an abent of the Soviet Secret Folice, re spretively.

On page 172 of Wallace's book it pointed out that in 1944 a high officer. of the Soviet Government proposed : toast to Owen Lattimore and John Car ter Vincent.

He proposed a toast, which was quoteby Wallace as follows:

To Owen--

Here we have the top representative of the Soviet, and here is his toast, a quitted by Wallace-

To Owen Lattimes and John Carter Ville cent, American expents on China on v. rests great responsibility for China's

That is to hi found on page 177 Wallace's book. So much for John Ca. te: Vincent.

The next case is the case of William T. Stone. Stone . Communist activiti are legion, and I will not at . Art to deseries all of them. It is of some into est to note that he was one of the c editors of America at America has bee described by the FB1 as a "too" of Sove explanate." He was also one of the bloom of the the state of Facilie Relamsequently about 9 or 16 of the 81 mes were made public. Since that the I have been trying to follow the oursess of the individual cases which are given to the I dings Committee, 81 number, plus is additional names nich were developed during the hearth of I found that a considerable number, and been cleared by the State Detriment, 28, to be exact; and, at a later me, I intend to read into the Ricord of their clearance. Another the of 29 names is still pending before the cyalty Security Board. As to the re-nainder, nothing was done.

In the 29 cases, what is known as "letrs of charges" have been filed. Those tters of charges were not filed by containing they were not filed by anyne outside the Department. They were ed as the result of adverse information eveloped by the Federal Bureau of Instigation or by some of the State Deriment investigators." How to describe letters of charges" best I do not know, scept to say that the best analogy peraps would be that of an information led by a district attorney, or perhaps an edictment returned by a grand jury. The fact that letters of charges have cen filed against these 29 incividuals es not necessarily mean that all of them are guilty of the charges. Some of them may well be able to prove their inscence.

Incidentally, Mr. President, there is no doubt that they will all be cleared. The state Department's Loyalty Beard has a very unusual record. In 4 years of operation, with hundreds and hundreds of tess coming before the Board, cases which came before the Board as the result of investigations conducted by the Pederal Bureau of Investigation, the State Department's Loyalty Board has not found a single man unfit for Government service.

The Commerce Department comes next. The Commerce Department has found somewhat less than 7 percent of the cases which came before its Loyalty Board unfit for Government service. However, that resord is not so bad as it may look, because Storetary Sawyer, upon his own authority, discharged a number of questionable characters before their cases even came before the Loyalter.

alty Board.

I think we can safely say that all these individuals will be cleared, as they were chared by the Tydings committee last year.

Upon learning that these individuals were formally charged, Mr. President, I wrote to former Senator Hirom Bingham, who succeeded Seth Enchardson as Chairman of the Civil Service Loyally Review Board, and asked him whether he would confirm the information which I already had as to which cases were pending. Under date of June 13 he wrote me confirming the information which I had. This letter is available to any Senator who indicates a desire to see it.

I then found that all these individuals, even though they had been formally charged with communistic activities, still, as of this moment, have access to top some and other classified material activities of the condingly wrote the State Department and made a very, very reasonable request. I wrote them under date of July 23, 1951. I ask that this letter be printed in the body of the Record at this point in my remarks, omitting the list of names contained in the letter.

There being no objection, the letter was ordered to be printed in the Record, as follows:

July 23, 1951

Mr. Dean G. Acheson,
Scoretary of State,
Washington, D. C.

DEAR MR SECRETARY: I would appreciate receiving information as to the status of the following 29 cases which I understand are pending before the State Department's loyalty board:

I would also appreciate knowing-

Whether the above individuals have access to classified material while their cases are pending;

2. Whether letters of charges have been filed in all of the above cases.

A short time ago when it was announced that the cases of John Paton Davies and Oliver Clubb had been reopened and they had been suspended, the State Department announced that, under the law, suspension was mandatory. I thereupon wrote the Chairman of the Civil Service Communicion Loyalty Board and asked him why others whose cases were pending before the Loyalty Board, such as John Carter Vincent and Phillip Jessup, and so forth, were not also suspended. The Chairman wrote me under date of July 15, stating that the law does not make suspension mandatory, but leaves the question of the Secretary of State. Do you so understand the law?

If steps have been taken to deny individuals such as Vincent, Jessup, and others whom I have nomed above, access to secret and other classified State Department material I would appreciate being so informed. If no such steps have been taken, I would appreciae receiving your comments as to whether you consider it safe practice to give individuals being investigated for Communist activities free access to State Department material of such a secret nature that it is not available to Members of the Con-

Unless I receive your immediate assurance that steps will be taken to deny access to secret material to those whose cases are punding before your loyalty heard and those who have been formally charged with Commonist activities, I shall feel forced to bring the individual cases to the attention of the public with the hope that public opinion may force aensible action on your part.

Sincerely yours,

JOE MCCARTHY.

Mr. McCARTHY. In that letter I called to the Secretary of State's attention to the very dangerous practice of giving these individuals access to secret material after they had been charged with communistic activity. To my mind, it is like a man who is indicted for emberrlement having completely free access to the funds of the bank while he is being tried.

I told the Secretary of State that unless he would assure me that these persons would be denied access to secret material until his own loyalty board would clear them, I felt I had no choice but to bring the cases to the attention of the Senate and give the Senate a résumé of the 'letters of charges' filed against them, hoping that action by the

and the state of t

Senate or perhaps public opinion would make the Secretary change his policy and adopt a sensible, safe attitude.

I received from the Secretary's office, under date of July 25, a very arrogant letter in which he indicated that he thought it was no business of the Senate, that the State Department is his own little private kingdom where he can do what he pleases, and he refused to assure me that these men would be denied access to secret material.

Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the letter be inserted in the body of the Record at this point.

There being no objection, the letter was ordered to be printed in the ARC-ORD, as follows:

DEPUTY UNDER SPORETARY OF STATE.

Washington, July 25, 1951.
The Honorabie Joseph R. McCanthy,

The Honorable JOSEPH R. MCCARTHY United States Senate.

MY DEAR SENATOR MCCARTHY: As the offair in chart of the operation of the 10. and security programs of the Department of State, I am answering four juster to the Secretary of July 23.

You begin your letter by stating that it is your understanding that the 29 individ-als whom you list are "cases" pendms whom you not the cases
my before the State Department's Loyalty Board." Your understanding is incorrect. The 29 individuals-all of whom you have cited, of course, in your former lists-fall into varying categories. Like your previ-ous lists, this one also includes the names of persons who are not employees of the Deportment of atute, employeds who have been cleared by the Lepartment's Loyalty Security Doard, as well as individuals in process through the loyalty program. Your indis-criminate lumiding together of names and the threat is make, them public is tantamount to holding hostage the reputation and rights of those employees who have been or them. The President's directive of March 18, 1948 (Federal Register, Model 16, 1942) precludes me from furnishing any reports, records, or files relative to the loyalty of empinyces. Disclosure of such information would be prejudicial both to these people as individuals and to the Government's ability to conduct a is upd, just, and Limorable loyeary security program.

Let me once again remind you that the Department of State is operating under the loyalty program laid down by the President in Executive Order No. 1921. This Executive Order No. 1921. This Executive Order No. 1921. This Executive Order, which anyone interested in our national security safeguards should feel duty-bound to study, prescribes a loyalty system which even the most critical have endorsed. This system offers as much protection to the Government as any ethical and American system which could be decised. That it is subject to actack for purely political russias without regard for the ficts is unfortered.

The Department of State, operating under the authorities of the boscalled McCarran Scarity rise; and Public Lot 793 carries out a total country proposal. When I say total I main total: If an a divisible is in a tipe a security risk, he is separated from the Department.

Now, the following points with regard to the Department's lowery that security regards have been said mong thous, but I to I repeat them alons for your benefit as an ity and as briefly as possible.

1. Both the loyalty had accounty pregarate.

1. Both the loyalty had accurity programs of the Dorminon there under my immediate supervision and they are being carried out thomestly etc. effectively. The are also will continue to a but a plant in the on the six maximum, protection to the Generalment

I used the names on the floor of the Senate.

Some members of the press also asked if their newspapers could get the information. I said, "Yes; if your editor will simply tell me that he wants to use the names, he can have them." I received no calls from any editors.

That should, I hope, lay at rest once and for all the silly, asinine claim that A Senator can expose corruption or comminanism, somewhere other than on the Senate floor or before a committee. If he went off the Senate floor and exposed it, no one would hear about it except those within the range of his voice. If we are to have a housecleaning, the people from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and from New Orleans to St. Paul, should have the information about these dangerous characters.

The next one is Daniel F. Markolies, one of the top security mon in the State Department. Originally the appointment of this man was disapproved on the ground that he was a bad loyalty and security risk. He was hired anyway.

The next name is that of Robert Warren Earnett. This is one of the men who was brought into the State Department on the recommendation of the Institute of Pacific Relations. Edward Carter testified to that the other day. He has been active in the Institute for a number of years.

The letter of charges against the Barnetts—both Robert Warren Barnett and his wife, Mrs. Robert Warren Barnett, charges them with close association and constant contact with known Soviet espionage activity.

The next is Sylvia Schimmel, an administrative analyst in the Department of State. The letter of charges in her case is briefer, but substantially the same as that in the case of the Barnetts.

The next is Philip Raine, a regional specialist in the Department of State. He is tied up, in the letter of charges, very closely with Robert T. Miller, who has been identified under oath several times as a Russian espionage agent.

The next is Gertrude Cameron, information and editorial specialist in the Department of State. I recommend this case especially to the McCarran committee,

The next is Paul A. Lifanticff-Lee, an economist in the Department of State. He was born in Russia. His file in the Navy Department, which was transmitted to the State Department, shows that he took secret State Department documents, which were found in his room and picked up by naval intelligence. That is shown by the naval intelligence report.

The next name in Franz Leopold Neumann, a consultant in the Department of State.

The next is John Tipton Fishburn, labor economist in the Department of State.

The next is Victor Myron Hunt, in the Office of Educational Exchange, Department of State.

The next is Arpad Erdos. He is an information specialist in the Department of State. For some time this man was with the Voice of America, but he was promoted, and now has a higher-paid job.

The next is an editor-writer by the name of Frances M. Tuchscher.

The next is Nelson Chipchin, a radio information specialist. This is another case that I recommend especially to the McCarran committee.

The next is Esther Less, also known as Esther Less Kopelewich, an announcer in the Department of State.

The next is Esther Caukin Brunauer, United States representative to the Preparatory Commission of UNESCO, Department of State.

The next is John Patton Davies. Incidentally, since I wrote the State Department, Davies has been cleared, despite the vast amount of information on his communistic activities. I understand he is being promoted and sent to Berlin to act as adviser to McCioy.

One final phase, the prize of them all, against whom charges are now pending, is Philip C. Jessup. The history of this man Jessup is so unusual that I assume some day we shall look back and say: "No: it is impossible. The State Department certainly would not have given this man the top job that he had over in Paris, negotiating with the Russians even as Hiss in a less important capacity did the negotiating at Yalta."

I am not going to take much of the Senate's time on this case. I wish briefly to go through some of the material I have in my hand. Testing my was given by Jessup on two different occasions, the occasion of the first trial of Alger Hiss, and the second trial.

Mr. MUNDT. Mr. President, will the Senator yield?

Mr. McCARTHY. I yield.

Mr. MUNDT. I notice on the list read by the Senator the name of Esther Caukin Brunauer. It seems to me that I recall reading in the newspaper that she had been removed, along with her husband, from Government employment. Am I correct in my recollection?

Mr. McCARTHY. I understand that two of the individuals were suspended. They are Brunauer and Val R. Lorwin. the economist in the State Department. The information is to the effect that they are still on the payroll of the State Department, pending inquiry. Mrs. Erunauer's husband, Stephen Brunauer, was employed in the Navy Department as head of the High Explosives Section. He was named before the Tydings committee last year. The Senator will remember that I asked the Tydings committee to go into executive session and take up his case. They refused to do so. They said, "No, Brunauer has been cleared by the Loyalty Board, and we will not let you smear him."

Former Secretary Matthews did a pretty good job in the case. He took all the evidence against Brunauer and suspended Brunauer. Brunauer would not wait until his case had been decided, but resigned.

I may say, Mr. President, that Brunauer was a very close friend of Noel Field, who, since the Tydings hearing of last year, has disappeared behind the iron curtain. How many of car secrets and the second s he has taken with him behind the ircn curtain, I do not know. I am giving to the Senate a list of 26 names. Of the 26 I understanding two have been surpended, but the State Department w... neither admit nor deny it. My letter .. June 23 gave the State Department . list of 29 names. Of the 29, 2 have resigned, and they are no longer with the State Department. The third individual ual, who holds an important position it the point 4 program, has been cleared Today I am not giving the names of and of the individuals who have been cleared Twenty-eight of the one hundred an five have been cleared. I am not givin their names to the Senate, but instead am giving them to the McCarran committee.

Mr. MUNDT. Mr. President, will the Senator yield?

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Mr SMITH of North Co plina in the chal-Does the Senator from Wr tensin yell to the Senator from South Dakota? Mr. McCARTHY I yield.

Mr. MUNDT. Were those cases passed upon by the new Loyalty Board unde.

former Senator Eingham?

Mr. McCARTHY. Oh, no. I may say to the Senator from South Dakota th if the cases of the individuals involve: had been before the Bingham Board, an if former Senator Bingham had to power to deny them access to secret m. terial. I would not have to get up on tell floor of the Senate to give this information tion. If the case were before the Bingham Board it would certainly not t necessary to give this information. Schator Bingham's Board has no juncdiction whatever over these cases unt the State Department find a man unfi for service. In that case the individu involved can appeal to the Bingha Board. If they do not find num unfit for Government service his case does no come before the Bingham Board. Aft. the State Department clear, an in ... vidual the Bincham Board can, har ever, pick up that case on what is cal a post-audit and send it back to the Sta Department, saying, "We want this careheard." If the State Departmen again clears the individual the Bir. ham Board I understand takes the posttion—which is the opposite from the jor sition taken by the Richardson Board that it can take up the case again a ... order the man removed if that Ber finas him unfit. Whether he has : power to do so under the Law, I am no certain. However, I am glad to heathat he is adopting that position. ${\bf N}$ of the cases covered today have be cleared by the Bin ham Board.

Mr. MUNDT. Mr. President, will Senator yield for a question?

Mr. McCARTHY. Yes.

Mr. MUNDT. Former Senator I ham has publicly announced, howe that he has reversed the property of a Richardson Board, which would that when there was any doubt a whether or not a man was accually Communist spy or a good American and they could not resolve the evidence definitely one way or another, that was their policy to live the benefit of the life to the not ligath and let a

CONGRESSIONAL RICORD—SENATE

Prior to the formation of the present Loyalty Board in the State Department there was a board-I believe it was referred to as the Security Board-and there were some good men on that board but, of course, they are no longer in the Department. In 1945 that Board recommended as follows with regard to this man Stone:

In behalf of the above mentioned it is recommended that action be instituted to terminate his services with the State Department immediately.

The date of that, incidentally, was March 22, 1946. I continue to quote from the Security Board report:

It is suggested to achieve this purpose that an appropriate officer of the Department should inform Mr. Stone that his continued employment in the Department is embarrassing to the Department, and he should be given an opportunity to resign. If he should not resign voluntarily, action should be instructantly instituted under Civil Service dule No. 3 to terminate his services with the Department.

That was ignored by Acheson, who was then Undersecretary of State, and ignored by Stone's immediate superior. who was a man from Connecticut by the name of William Benton. Stone was working immediately under Benton. As to some of Stone's additional activities-incidentally he formed a Washington branch of the Institute of Pacific Relations together with Esther Bruns der, whose husband resigned from the Navy while his loyalty case was pending, and who has been suspended, I understand, from the State Depart-

Stone was also involved in innumerable Communist-front activities. It perhaps should also be mentioned that William Stone was the man who succeeded in keeping George Shaw Wheeler on in an important position in the State Department. Wheeler had been ordered discharged from a key position in the State Department on the ground that he was an active and important member of the Communist Party. William T. Stone, however, intervened in Wheeler's behalf and succeeded in keeping him in his position. Stone labeled Wheeler as the ideal State Department employee. As the Senators will recall, Wheeler left the United States and went behind the iron curtain, at which time he is ued a statement viciously condemning everything America stands for and applauding communism.

On August 4, 1948—this is a matter of interest which is not in the letter of charges, but I call it to the attention of the Senate-on August 4, 1943, Nathan Gregory Silvermaster, the exposed Communist spy, testified under oath that William T. Stone gave him naval-intelligence records. At that time, Stone was Assistant Director of the Board of Economic Warfare. Stone, of course, will be cleared by Acheson's loyalty board. There is no question about that.

Apparently the reason why one of my colleagues [Mr. BENTON] has been squealing so loudly about McCARTHY's attacks on Communists is that some of his friends, such as William T. Stone, are going to be exposed. Stone's name has already cropped up in the McCarran hearings. As I said, the immediate superior of Stone in the State Department was the Senator from Connecticut [Mr. DENTON].

The next case, Mr. President, is the case of Herbert Fierst. Herbert Fierst is a foreign-affairs specialist in the Department of State. A memorandum of August 2, 1946, by Mr. Bannerman, one of the security officers in the Department of State, is to the effect that physical surveillance showed that this man Fierst was in constant contact with members of an espionage group and that he recommended Communists for State Department employment, and was engaged in a number of other Communist activities.

Incidentally the Loyalty Review Board which post-audited the Fierst case about 2½ years also, after he had been cleared and ordered it back to the State Department and said, "We are not satisfied with this. This man is obviously either a Communist or following the line. cannot approve having a man handling top secret material who is chumming with espionage agents."

What do you think happened to the case? The State Department said, "The case is closed,"

Another is Marcia Ruth Harrison, divisional assistant, Department of State. I will not read all the charges. One 15 that she belonged to a vast number of Communist fronts, plus a Communist organization; that she belonged to the Young Communist League was a paid-up member of it.

Next is Robert Ross, radio information specialist, Department of State.

Mr. President, I am not going to read the letters of charges in all these cases, but I will give a few typical cases.

The next is Ella M. Montague. She was born in Russia in 1896. She worked for the Amtorg Trading Corp. The testimony before 3 different committees is that only top members of the Communist Party could work for Amtorg. The Senate will recall that 5 or 6 of the officers of Amtorg were picked up about a year ago and charged with espionage. Under pressure from the State Department they were allowed to return to Russia.

Next is the case of Olga V. Osnaich. At the time of our original investigation she was not yet a citizen of the United States. She may have gotten her papers since, but I do not know. She worked for the Russian Embassy in Turkey for 3 years. Then with the Russian Welfare Society and so forth. One of the significant things here, of course, is that the Russians do not hire people in their embassies unless they are Communists.

Another is Stella Gorden, also known as Estella Gordon, correspondent and research clerk, Department of State. Incidentally, Mr. President, I know that after I have given these cases and the summary of the letter of charges against some, there will be the usual high-pitched screaming and squealing that McCarthy has done this under senatorial immunity.

I thought that charge should be laid to rest once and for all, so the other night before I went on a television broadcast I offered the sponsors to name these individuals. The spontors' lawyers said "No, we do not want you to do that"and I do not blame them. I think it was good legal advice which they gave because, as Louis Budenz and some of the other top former Communists have testified, up to 1945 the orders of the party to members were "Don't under any circumstances sue. We do not want to bring the party into prominence in that way.

In 1945, according to the sworn testimony of reputable witnesses like Budenz, the party line changed, and Communists have standing orders to sue in every case in which anyone was accused of Communist activity. They were told, "Sue, even though you have no chance of winning. If you can bring 5 or 10 or 15 suits against a man you can bleed him white while he is do maing them, and take up all his time, and he can spend no time in the fight against communism."

A good example was William Reming+ ton. The Senate will recall that Remington was named on a radio broadcast— Meet the Press, I believe-as a member of the Communist Party. He promptly filed suit. The radio chain and the insurance company, of course, had no access to Remington's files. They could not prove that he was the Communist he was, so they paid him $10,000. The Senate knows that since that time Remington has been convicted. He was indicted by a New York grand jury and then convicted by a New York jury. The conviction was upheld by a court. It was a conviction based upon perjury, which he said that he was not a Communist. In other words, he was found to be a member of the Communist Party.

I mention that to show that I do not at all blame the sponsor for not manting me to name these people on his

Some members of the press have been shouting that McCARIHY has been giving this information under immunity. so I notified the three press services that if they would have representatives at my office at 10 o'clock the next morning I would give them all the information about these individuals, and give them their names, if I could have some assurance that they wanted to print them, knowing, of course, that they would not, because al. of us have had the experience of members of the press telling us that they cannot use certain information because it might subject their papers to suits for livel or slander. Again, I do not bland them, because if 10 or 15 or 20 Colaminists started libel and slander actions against the newspapers it would consthem a fortune, and they would be busy defending lawsuits

The three press services said, "No; we will take the names but we will give you no assurance that we will propt them." I was assured by one of the men that he knew that under no circuinstances would they print them nilless whitewash job Senator Tydings did. Of course. Mr. President, if Senator Tydings adid not do a whitewash job, then I theated him very unfairly, and then I should not have helped to let the people know what a whitewash job he did do. On the other hand, if Tydings did a whitewash job and if I did not expose that to the people of Maryland, I would be almost as guilty as Tydings

Of course one spy in the Government service is too many. In a case of this sort, when the chairman of the committee is told, "Here is a man who is a Communist spy, and here are the witnesses. Please call them," then when the c'mirman of the committee says, "Oh. ro: I won't," it is rather difficult for me to understand why my friends crutici e me for exposing Mr. Tydinas. In fact I understand that one Senator would like to see the Sanator from Wiscontin expelled from the Senate because he embed our friend, Millard Tydings.

Mr. FENDRICKSON. Mr. President, " the Senator yield?

Mr. McCARTHY. I yield.

Mr. HENDRICKSON. In fairness to the other members of the committee, inasmuch as the Senator from Wisconsin has mentioned one of them who would like to see the Senator from Wisconsin removed, I think it is proper and in order for the Senator from Wisconsin to I mention the Senator in question.

Mr. McCARTHY. The Senator from Connecticut [Mr. Benton] submitted the resolution. I certainly was not referring to the Senator from New Jersey [Mr. HENDRICKSON1.

Mr. President, I call the attention of the Senator from South Dakota to the secret workings and secret minutes of the Levalty Board, under Seth Richardson, which met in April 1950. The Senator will see in the minutes that present at that time were George W. Alger, John H Amen. Harry W. Blair, John Kirkland Clark, Glem W. Collins, Meta Gless, Paul M. Herbert, Garrett S. Hoag, Wilbur LaRoe, Jr., Brunson MacChesney, Arthur W. Macmahon, Henry L. Shattuck, Andrew Steers, Eliot Wadsworth. Leonard D. White, and Chairman Richardson was presiding. In fairness to those who were present, I should say that some of them, as the Schator from South Dakota will note, made a strong I argument to the effect that they should. investigate those individuals completely and thoroughly, regardless of whether the matters involved dealt with loyalty, security, or anything else which would make such persons unfit to serve. The Senator will also note that they then contacted the President and asked him whether they should make the examination, and received word to the effect that they should not, but should check only on overt acts of disloyalty-which resulted in clearance of every one of those persons, because they could not find them lighting a fuze to an H-bomb.

Mr. President, I believe I have covered all the cases now, except one, namely, the case of Philip C. Jessup,

First, let me say that if the Senator from South Lakota would care to see what has happened to a number of the on and chall within I named year, I shall be glad to let him examine the information which has come from the Review Board. I wish he would not give the names of any of the persons who have been cleared, however,

Mr. President, I hold in my hand the testimony of Jessup in the Hiss case. Jessup was unable to be present at the trial; he was out of the country. Accordingly, he made out affidavits.

It is not too difficult to understand how someone might have testified in favor of Hiss at the first trial. However, after all the evidence was brought to the attention of the public, so that men high in the Government service certainly knew that Hiss was a Communist spy, it is rather difficult then to understand how they would come to the defense of Hiss.

Here is the testimony of Jessup during Hiss' second trial:

Question, Mr. Jessup, do you know the reputation of Alger Hiss for loyalty, integrity, and veracity?

Answer, Yes; I do.

Question. What is that reputation? What do you think of it?

Answer, Outstanding,

That is only a minor part of his record. The head of the FEL during his testimony before one of the committees, was asked whether it was significant that an individual belonged to a Communistfront organization. He pointed out that it might or might not be. He pointed out that many fine individuals were duped into joining Communist-front organizations. Of course, that was the aim of the Communist party, to try to get some good, loyal Americans on their lists, so they could use them to deceive people. But, as he said, "If you find that a man belongs to four, five, or six of these organizations, who have been named as fronts doing the work of the Communist Party, they are either so naive that they are dangerous to this Nation in a high Government job, or you can be sure that they are loyal to the Communist Party." That is not a verbatim quote, but as best I can remember it.

One of the other men who was testifying was asked the same question, and he said this: "Well, let us put it this way. If you find that a man belongs to the Lutheran Young Men's Society, you can assume that he is most likely loyal to the principles of the Lutheran Church. If you find that he belongs to the Holy Name Society, you can assume that perhaps he is a Catholic; and," he said, "if you find that he belongs to organizations which are fronts for the Communist Party, then you can assume that he is either a Communist or that he certainly is loyal to the Communist Party.

Mr. Jessup, our Ambassador at Large, was affiliated with not one, not two, not three, not four, but with five organizations officially named as fronts for and doing the work of the Communist party. Here are photostats of official letterheads which show his affiliations.

That is not all. Mr. Jessup exercised editorial control of the publication "Far East Survey," a publication of the Institute of Pacific Robits as, which he be n Communist front. While he had tha editorial control, and while that publcation was following the Communist line down to the last period, who do you think was supporting it? When Frederica Field, a man who proclaims himself be one of America's leading Communi-was on the stand last year, he was aske whether he had contributed to Jessup publication. His answer was, "I refuto answer, on the ground that it migh incriminate me." With some difficulty we dug up the checks covering Commu nist money—believe it or not—over short period of time, totailing $6,090. used for the purpose of supporting the Communist-front publication run by 6": ambassador at large, a publication which. according to sworn testimony, employed many Communist writers. When the evidence was brought to the attention of the Typings Committee, the State Department had to have a press conferewhich it did, at which they said, "No. . here is another example of this nast-McCarthyism." They said, "Just because poor Mr. Jessup took some Commun.s. money, McCarthy is trying to indicate that that is why he followed the Communist line in his publication"-the: theory being, apparently, that Mr. Jessur was so naive that he did not know who the Communists were paying him an were supporting that publication. We can be certain that if Mr. Jessup was that naive, the Communists were not snaive. They knew they were getting 2. dollar's worth, and more, for every dollar they spent. The committee refused to go first the matter, but when I, with my limited staff, could dig up checks totaling $6,000, representing Communist mone we can be very certain that there wer. many more thousands of dollars which Jessup received.

Let us keep in mind, as we read that photostat I have in my hand now, that we are talking aboas the man who re resented the United States in the F Four Conference in Paris, in the fight, if you please, against communism, and if it is possible to find a better analogy than Hiss at Yalta, I do not know when it would be. I have in my hand a photostat of a petition which appeared in the New York Times on February 13, 19, The Senate will recall that, at that time the Communist Party line was that, ... only the United States would destroy an its atomic bombs, if we would tear down our atomic facilities, we would then convince Russia that we were peace-loving and the result would be that the would be no danger of war. That was course, while Russia was obtaining (secrets and fruntically trying to bu her own atomic bombs. It was not to surprising to fine the Daily Worker's ing that-but one would hardly exp that our Ambassado, at Large could it. But I have in my band this p tion, signed by J. ssup. wille't was pu lished in the New York Times on Feruary 13, 1946. Let me refer to two lin in which this petition asks "that the United States at crice stop Te production of atomic borness and allomic mate rial, and that all the material " high he hren ground wide continue to hold his security position. Former Senator Bingham announced immediately when he took over the post that in his odinion such procedure was an utterly indefensible attitude to take, either in a time of war or in a time like this, and he announced that if his board was unable to resolve definitely the question of whether or not a man was actually a Communist spy working for the Government, or a good citizen, and there was no conclusive proof either way, his board would give the benefit of the doubt to the Government and to the 130,000,000 good patriotic Americans, whose interest and future is jeopardized when Communist spies are permitted to remain in the Government service. Is that correct?

Mr McCARTHY. I believe the Senator from South Dakota has stated the situation very correctly. The Richardson Evand apparently took the opposite position. They took the position that unless they could find a man had committed an overt act of disloyalty, they would not recommend his discharge.

Mr. MUNDT. Unless they could find a Communist membership card in his pocket with a stamp on it showing that the dues had been paid currently, they would not consider him a security risk?

Mr. McCARTHY. Not even then, I will say to the Senator from South Daketa. They would not consider that an overt act. For example Remington was proven to have been a member of the Communist Party. Seth Richardson took the position that in view of the fact that it could not be proved that Remington was a member of the Communist Party as of the moment the Board was holding its hearings, they could not discharge him.

M" MUNDT. In other words, he was behind in his dues.

Mr. McCARTHY. It is never possible to prove a man is a Communist at any one Articular moment. He can always say that he quit the party yesterday or the day before. I may say that the Board under Richardson met on April 20, 1950. President Truman had sent to the Board the list of names that I had given to the Tydnigs committee. The Richardson board met in secret session. I shall be glad to show the Senator from South Dakota a copy of the discussion by the Board in its secret hearing. It will show why so many unusual characters are still employed in the State Department. The discussion runs over approximately 20 pages. At first they argued whether or not they could make a fit ding against any of the individuals if they found he was a bad security risk, or whether they had to find that he had committed an overt act of dislovalty. Then there were some arguments as to what an overt act was. They contacted President Truman and they contacted either the Secretary of State or the Attorney General. I do not recall which one it was. In any event they asked for advice, and they were advised that they were not to check into the past of any man's character dealing with the point of whether or not a man was a bod security risk.

The relation till be surprised to find the information should be put in the file, they finally decided against doing it on the ground that if they checked on a man as to whether or not he was a had security risk and put that information in the file, McCarthy or someone else might find out that they had labeled a man a bad security risk and would bring the fact to the attention of the Senate. Therefore they decided not to make such a check. Happily the new chairman of the Board, former Senator Bingham, has to a great extent reversed that procedure, although he is working under a tremendous handicap in that department.

Mr. MUNDT. I thank the Senator for the explanation. I merely wished to point out that fact, so that the country could have confidence in the new Board, and know that the Board had completely reversed the Richardson philosophy. In other words, it is no longer necessary to catch a man with a bomb in his hand or with a Communist membership card in his pocket. The new Board feels that whenever there is a reasonable doubt about a man's character, and it is unable to determine whether he is a loyal American or a Communist spy, and they cannot make a positive affirmation one way or another, the new Board gives the benefit of the doubt to the Government and to the 100,000,000 Americans, whose life and future are entirely in the hands of any disloyal elements that may get into important strategic positions of the Government, whether it be in Defense, State, or any other key spot in Government.

Mr. McCARTHY. I think one of the cases demonstrates very well what the Senator is talking about, namely, the case of John S. Service. That case also shows the weakness of the Loyalty Board structure and its proceedings. The Service case is presently being held before the State Department's Loyalty Board, and apparently will be held there indefinitely. Some of the members of the Review Board are concerned about that, because they do not have jurisdiction until the State Department and its Legalty Board have made their decision. The State Department thus can hold up a case for 2 or 3 years, and while it is pending, the Review Board has no power to make a post-audit or anything else of

To recall some of the facts in the Service case, the Senator from South Dakota will remember that representatives of the FBI testified under oath before the Tydings subcommittee that when Service was in this country, they followed him from the State Department, which he left with large brown envelopes under his arm, to the hotel room of Philip Jaffe, who long has been known as a Communist, and was named as a Communist spy, and later was convicted. The representatives of the FBI said they trailed Service to Jaffe's hotel room; and trailed him away without those envelopes. They testified that they put microphones in Jane's room, and over those microphones they heard conversations going on in that room, and over the microphones they heard Service discuss top-secret milliary information with that Communist spy-information which he was given that Commence & of the stands that I am now referring to testimony by representatives of the FBI.

As we recall, the Tydings subcommittee met and said, in effect, "Isn't it awful, the way McCarthy smeared this poor Mr. Service?" The State Department's Loyalty Board mct and said that Service, was ar. ideal public servant.

However, his case has been reopened, and I am rather interested in seeing, what happens when that case goes before the Schutor Bingham's board.

Mr. MUNDT. Mr. President, it seems to me that the case of William K. Remington is an even more startling illustration of how utterly futile and ineffective the Richardson Board was.

The junior Senator from Michigan has just entered the Chamber, let me say. I recall attending hearings when the Remington case was brought into the picture, I know that when I was a member of the House Committee on U. -American Activities we ventilated the Remington case. By that time the Loyalty Board was in operation, and it had authority to make examinations. It sat and held sessions. Despite the fact that Remington has since then been removed from office and convicted, and I suppose is now in a Federal penitentiary, where he should be, to this late hour the Loyalty Board has never found Pemington to be a loyalty risk; and according to the records of the Loyalty Board, Remington is a good and faithful public servant. So, obviously, that kind of Loyalty Board is worse than nothing, because it gives a false scale of security to the people, and makes them think that the traitors and the treasonable characters will be weeded out of the Government service.

Mr. McCARTHY. Also I should like to say that the Reminsten case was one of the cases I called to the attention of the Tydings subcommittee, and I pointed out that although technically Reminston was not on the Saite Department's payroll, or class on the payroll of the Department of Commerce—

Mr. MUNDT. Yes; Remington had, interestingly enough, the strategic job of determining what kind of military exports would be sent to Russia.

Mr. McCARTHY. That is correct. Of course, as the Schator from South Dahota recalls, Secretary Sawyer ordered Remington discharged. However, Remington appealed to the Richardson Board, and that board ordered him reinstated. While Remin ton was serving in the Department of Commerce that Department did a good job of keeping him away from strategic information. However, later he to bleverly get into the State Department and good job of such information in the way.

Elizabeth Bentley a wified before the committee that Reminaton was one of the couriers for her and for other Communist spies. However the Lynness subcommittee refused so consider her testimony seriously, and the Loyalty Board found Reminator to be a good American.

Incidentally, I may not that next week there will be issued triport which will damn McCaerny from rell is breaking for going from Magnetia and a

The PRESIDING OFFICER (Mr. SMITH of North Carolina in the chair). The Chair recognizes the Senator from New York.

Mr. WHEREY. Mr. President, a parliamentary inquiry. Does not the present occupant of the chair feel that inasmuch as the majority leader has made a speech of the kind we have just heard, in al. fairness the Senator from Wisconsin should be recognized to respond to the speech? He was on his feet, and I think he is entitled to recognition at this point.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair will recognize him. The Chair understands that the Senator from New York will be through in a moment. The Chair will recognize the Senator from Wisconsin. The Chair did not see the Senator from Wisconsin rise.

Mr WHERRY. I thank the Chair. I hope the majority leader will remain on the floor.

Mr. LEHMAN. Mr. President, I did not catch the ruling of the Chair.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair ruled that the Senator from New York has the floor. He is the Senator the Chair first recognized.

Mr. LEHMAN. I thank the Presiding Officer.

Once more the Senate is hearing the names of several persons mentioned and the irresponsible charge made that they are disloyal to the United States or even traitors to their country.

I do not know anything about many of the individuals who have been named here today. I do know that the process of making character in public against the loyalty of certain persons under the protection of congressional immunity is a form of character assassination which tall of us must abhor and condemn. I shall have more to say on this subject, as we all should, at a later date.

One of the names bandied about today is that of Philip C. Jessup, Ambassador at Large, and one of the most distinguished public servants in our Government. One of the most skillful and effective spokesmen of the United States in international affairs, Philip Jessup, whom I know well, has ably served his country during the past few years in exposing, in the forums of the United Nations, the devious purposes and hypocrisy of the Soivet leaders.

He deserves much better of his fellow citizens than the shabby and dastardly treatment which is accorded him here today—

Mr. WHERRY. Mr. President, I make the point of order that the Senator from New York is out of order.

Mr. LEHMAN. - Mr. President, I withdraw the word "dastardly" and I substitute——

Mr. WHERRY. Mr. President, I ask that the rule be enforced.

Mr. LEHMAN. Mr. President, I withdraw the word "dastardly" and I substitute therefor the word "cowardly."

Mr. WHERRY. Mr. President, I raise the point of order that the Senator from New York is out of order, and I ask that the rule be enforce.

The PRESIDING U.FICER. The Senator from New York, under the rule, will take his seat.

Mr. McFARLAND. Mr. President, I move that the Senator from New York be permitted to proceed in order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The question is on agreeing to the motion of the Senator from Arizona.

Mr. WHERRY. Mr. President, is the motion debatable?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair understands it is not.

Mr. WHERRY. That is all right. I will vote to permit the Senator to proceed in order if he will do so in order. If the Senator from New York is not acquainted with rule XIX I will tell him what it provides. It does not make any difference what the Senator thinks of the Senator from Wisconsin; under rule XIX he cannot in any way, directly or indirectly, impute improper motives to him.

Mr. McFARLAND. Mr. President, a parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. WHERRY. Mr. Fresident, I have a right to speak.

Mr. McFARLAND. The motion is not debatable.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The motion is not debatable as the Chair understands.

As the Chair understood, the Senator from New York did not refer by name specifically to any Senator. Apparently the Chair did not hear clearly what the Senator from New York said.

Mr. WHERRY. Mr. President, inasmuch as the distinguished occupant of the chair has made mention of what he heard—

Mr. McFARLAND. Mr. President, I call for the regular order.

Mr. WHERRY. I ask unanimous consent that I may be given 5 minutes to answer the statement made by the distinguished Senator.

Mr. McFARLAND. I call for the regular order.

Mr. WHERRY. I object.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senator from Arizona has called for the regular order. The question is on the motion of the Senator from Arizona that the Senator from New York proceed in order. [Putting the question.] The "ayes" have it, and the Senator from New York may proceed.

Mr. LEHMAN. Mr. President, I wish only on this occasion to offer for insertion into the RECORD at this point statements by three of the greatest Americans of our day. These statements say more than I can about the character and patriotism of Philip Jessup. These statements are not new, but neither are the charges that have been made here. The men whose testimony I now call upon to bear witness to the character of Mr. Philip Jessup, a citizen of the State of New York, are Gen. George C. Marshall, one of the noblest men who have ever lived, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, to whom we owe an unpayable debt of gratitude, and the late venerated Henry L. Stimson, respected by every American citizen. The statements by Generals Marshall and Eisenhower are in the form of letters addressed to Ambassador Jessup. The statement by the late Secretary Henry L. Stimson is in the form of a letter to the editor of the New York Times.

I wish merely to quote the last paragraph of the letter. He writes:

This is no time to let the noisy antics of a few upset the steady purpose of our country or dist act our leaders from their proper tasks. This is rather a time for stern rebuke of such antics and outspoken support of the distinguished public servants against whom they are directed.

Mr. President, I not only fully agree with the words of that great statesman, that great Secretary of War and Secretary of State, Henry L. Stimson, but I go further and say that the time is long overdue when we should have repuked the authors of antics reflecting on men, without supporting the charges with any real evidence.

Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the letters to which I have referred be printed in the body of the RECORD at this point as a part of my remarks.

There being no objection, the letters were ordered to be printed in the Record, as follows:

March 17, 1950. My Dear Jessup: I am shocked and distressed by the attack on your integrity as a public servant.

Throughout your intimate service with me while I was Secretary of State you were clearly outstanding as a representative of the Government both as to your masterful presentations and the firmness of your opposition to all Sovier or Communist attacks or pressures. This was conspiciously the case during your handling on the Security Council of the Berlin blockede issue.

Both the Under Secretary, Mr. Lovett, and I counted, you as a great source of strength, to the State Department during those ...heal days.

Faithfully yours,

G. C. MARSHALL.

MARCH 18, 1950.

My Dean Jessup: I am writing to tell you how much your university deplores the association of your name with the current loyalty investigation in the United States Senate.

Your long and distinguished reloid as a scholar and a public servant has won for you the respect of your colleagues and of the American people as well. No one who has known you can for a moment question the depth or sincerity of your devotion to the principles of Americanism. Your university associates and I are confident that any impression to the contrary will be quickly dispelled as the facts become known.

Sincerely,

DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER,

LOYALTY IN WASHINGTON—METHODS AND MOTURES OF ATTACK ON STATE DEPARTMENT QUESTIONED

To the Editor of the Nev York Times.

The present charges against the Department of State have not in my view deterred much attention. But the very wide prest, notice they have received prompts are a make certain comments.

First, this is most emphatically not to proper way in which to insure loyalty of Government employees. If that had been the real purpose of the accuser, he would have used the fully developed and tested procedure of the executive branch of the Government, under which charks are investigated and weighted by men of both parties and unimpeach is integrity. A constructive result yand may evenual.

the ocean." That is Phillip Jessup. Some interesting information has been developed before the Tydings committee. of course, about Jessup. For example, they produced a letter at the hearing, which the Senate may or may not have seen. A letter which Jessup wrote to Vincent, talking about Frederick Field, the top Communist saying, "We have got to help Freddie all we can"that was when he was about to head a Communist organization-"I suggest a press release as follows." Then Jessup wrote the press release and sent it to Field, a press release which was identical, almost to the last comma, with the Daily Worker's description of this Communist front.

Last year, when we were trying to dig some of the Communists out of Government, the President made a speech. As I recall, it was made over a Nationwide hook-up. In it he said it was a great mistake to do what I was doing, that we were endangering national unity. He said, "Now, if McChathy or anyone else has any information about Communists or anyone who is bad for the country, let him send the informa-tion to me, Harry S. Truman." He said, "I will take action. You should not do it the way McCarthy is doing it."

Mr. President, when we got this material regarding Jessup, I decided I would call the President's bluff, so we sent all of it to him. We sent him copies of the magazine which Jessup was publistung, which contained articles which followed the Communist line right down to the last period. One would think it was the Cominform's calcial program, and rightly so, because the articles were being written by men who have been identified under oath as Communists. Vie sent him photostats of the checks. showing that the Communists were supporting Jessup's publication. We sent him a copy of the petition of Jessup, saying "Let us destroy our atomic bomb." We sent him copies of Jessup's testimony praising Alger Hiss. We sent him photostats showing that Mr. Jessup was affiliated with Live organizations which had been officially named as fronts for and doing the work for the Communist Party.

I said, "Now, Mr. President, take action. Here is some evidence. Certainly you cannot say this man is good for America. He has been found at every time and place where disaster has struck America and success has come to Soviet

The President took action. What do Senators think the President's action was? It consisted of giving Philip C. Jersup top secret clearance to all atomic and hydrogen-bomb information. Of all the stupidly stubborn and stubbornly stupid examples of playing with the lives of American boys, I think that tops them ai..

Mr. President, in closing, let me say, again, that I very much dislike having to name these individuals who are under charges of Communist activities. I begged the Secretary of State to deny them access to secret material, and told him if he did not do so I would have to name them. He refused. Some of them may be able to prove that they are neither security no. loyalty risks. If so, they have been hurt by this publicity. and I regret it. But if an individual is accused of reckless driving, jumping a stop sign, or embezzling from a bank, the American people get that information. So why should not the American people be informed when their servants are accused of Communist activities as a result of FBI investigations.

Mr. McFARLAND. Mr. President, I regret that I find it necessary to address the Senate of the United States this afternoon. It is regrettable because the majority leader should not have to make any remarks dealing with the responsibility of a Member of this great body: it is regrettable that any Member must be reminded of the tradition of service in this body which requires the highest degree of integrity in the performance of his duty.

Mr. President, for over a century and a half the Senate has been known as a body of integrity, of honor, and of dignity. It was because of what we read when we were in school about those who preceded us that some of us had the inspiration to make membership in the United States Senate our goal: we felt it would be a distinguished honor to serve in this body.

To be a Member of the United States Senate imposes on one certain responsibilities to his fellow men, to his Government, and to his Nation. If any Senator has evidence that any man has committed a high crime, or if he has evidence that any man serving in the Government is disloyal, he has the solemn duty to place that evidence before a proper taibunal. If a court of justice does not act. he has of course the responsibility of placing the evidence before his colleagues. Mr. President, our forefathers, when they wrote the Constitution of the United States, granted us certain immunity on the floor of the Senate. Why? Because it was their opinion that the Members of this body could always be relied upon never to charge any individual unfairly or unjustly, never tear down his character, or hurt his good name unless compelling evidence against him was in their possession.

Mr. President, just as it is the duty of a Member of the Senate to lay before the proper tribunal or to lay before a court or before this body evidence, he has a like responsibility never to say one word against the good name of an individual unless he has the evidence to support the charge. If he has such evidence, it is his duty to lay it before the Senate at the time he makes the charge against the individual.

When I was a small boy my mother taught me that when one takes from an individual his good name, that individual has been stripped of his most valuable possession.

I have sat on the floor of the Senate and heard men charged, by innuendo and inference, with disloyalty, and even with high crimes and misdemeanors. without any substantial evidence of the charge being laid before the Senate of the United States.

Mr. President, I have sat on this floor and heard one Senator, by innuendo and insinuation, charge a high official of this and the state of t

Government, a man who had served his country for a lifetime with distinction and honor, with being a traiter or a near traitor. Tragically there seems to be no easy way to cope with a situation like that, since to attempt to refute such charges merely dignifies the assertion, There is only one way to meet that kind of conduct and it is to remind Member. of their duty and responsibility.

The distinguished junior Senator from. Maine [Mrs. Smith] is on the floor. want to congratulate her on a statement which she made in the Senate on June 18, 1951, a statement we all may take to heart. I should like to read the last two paragraphs of her remarks:

As an American I am shocked at the way Republicans and Democrats alike are playing directly into the Communist design of confuse, divide, and conquer.

As an American I do not want a Democratic administration whitewash or cover-up any more than I want a Republican smear or witch hunt.

As an American Y e demnis Pupublican Fascist just as much as I condemn a Repuil lican Communist. They are equally dangerous to you and the and to our country. As an American I want to see our Nation recapture the strength and unity it once had when we fought the enemy instead of ourselves.

Mr. President, I emphasize that when a man's good name is taken away by insinuations and immuendoes he has been done a great injustice I desire to add Mr. President-

M. McPARLAMD No; I do not yield. Mr. McCARTHY I did not think the Senator would. ILaughter in the galleries

Mr. McFARLAND. I desire to emphasize, Mr. President, that when one is unjustly accused of disloyalty to his country an equally great injustice is being done our country and our free institutions. Ah, Mr. President, our enemy, the Kremlin, would like very much to have those charged with responsibility for ou Government unjustly brought under suspicion and distrust, to have us distrust each other and fight among ourselves and accuse each other. When we do that we serve their purpose just as effectively as one of their paid agents.

Mr. President, it is beneath the dignity of Members of the Senate to smear any individual. It behooves us to liave valid and substantial evidence when an individual is mentioned by us as being disloyal to his country. No Senator should become a character assassin.

I suggest, Mr. President, that when the name of any Member of the Senate becomes an adjective for much linging, we have come a fur yay from the tract tion of those great mill, who priceded t here, we have torn down the disnity and standing and respect that this bou should enjoy; we have come to a time when a halt must be called.

I hope we may recamine the spains of the junior Senator from M. . . (Mr. Swith), and that we will also by the principles which that distinguished Sea-

I am surprised to think that the mafority leader feels that it is unfair of me to try to force the Secretary of State to do what any loyal American would do. I suggest that the majority leader, together with inembers of his party who did considerable crying about the smearing of Owen Lattimore, go over and listen to the testimony given before the McCarran committee.

I suggest also that my friends on the other side of the aisle who are doing everything possible to label their party as a party of Communists and crooks, go ov . and see some good Democrats , sitting on the McCarran committee, men who are Americans first and Democrats second.

Today on the floor of the Cenate I saw the Senator from Nevada 1Mr. Mc-CARRY, who was celebrating his seventy-fifth birthday, a really star-spangled American and a credit to may party. I am sare he represents the loyal Democrat: of this Nation rather than those who get up and scream to high heaven and say, "Joe McCARTHY, you are smearing the poor, innocent Communists." SALE IY MARSHALL PLAN NATIONS OF STRATEGIC WAR MATERIALS

Mr. KEM. Mr. President, on behalf of the Senator from Nebraska (Mr. WHERRY), the Smator from Virginia IMr. Dyrol, the Senator from Nevada [Mr. Malone), and myself, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill to amend section 1202, Public Law 45, Highty-second Congress, the so-called Kem amendment

There being no objection, the bill (S. 1987) providing for the termination of assistance to foreign countries exporting war materials to Russia or her satellites, introduced by Mr. Kem (for himself, Mr. WHIRRY, Mr. BYRD, and Mr. MALONE), was received, read twice by its title, and referred to the Committee on Foreign / lelations.

Mr. KEM. Mr. President, this bill would make the fullowing changes in the present law:

First, It would make its provisions applicable to military as well as economic and financial assistance. This would bring within the coverage of the amendment Marshall plan nations who are now engaged in selling strategic war materials to the Reds, and who are now receiving military but not economic assistance from the United States.

Second. It would make its provisions apply regardless of whether the Armed Forces of the United States are actively engaged in hostilities.

Third. It would a like out the proviso that exceptions to the provisions of the amendment may be made at the discretion of the National Security Council.

When the Kem amendment was adopted by the Senate the Senator from Arizona [Mr. HAYDEN] said:

My criticism is that the amendment does not go far enough, in that it would be effective only while the United States is actually engaged in hostilities.

Another criticism is that it deales economic assistance, but it does not deny military assistance. I cam: : understand why we should allow any kind of military assistance to any country to which we are denying economic assistance.

We have learned from experience that if we are to stop arming the Communists through our allies, Congress must pass an iron-clad, escape-proof law, that is mandatory upon the President. Two laws with built-in loopheles have failed to accomplish their objective.

Section 1304, Public Law 843, Eightyfirst Congress, approved September 27, 1950, provided that no economic or financial assistance was to be provided by the United States to any foreign country whose trade with Russia or its satellites, including Red China, was found by the United States National Security Council to be "contrary to the security interests of the United States."

Under this law, the National Security Council, of which President Truman is Chairman, took no effective action to halt the shocking sale of strategic materials by Marshall-plan countries to the very enemy now killing and maining our boys in Korea. No action was taken despite the fact that the late Admiral Forrest Sherman told the Senate committees investigating the MacArthur dismissal that the Joint Chiefs of Staff on March 28, 1951, advised the Secretary of Defense that growing military assistance to Communist China by non-Communist countries other than the United States constituted "a direct threat to the security interests of the United States."

The failure of the National Security Council to act constituted a callous disregard of the safety and velfare of the American boys in Korea. It was contrary to the express will of the Congress.

On May 9, 1951, I introduced, on behalf of myself and other senators, an amendment to the third supplemental appropriations bill providing that economic or financial assistance would be automatically shut off to any country which continues to sell war materials to the Communists. The Senate approved this amendment unanimously. After the conference committee had made certain changes, including the addition of the ill-fated and misused exception clause, both Houses of Congress approved the bill as amended.

In taking this action, the Congress made clear that it was dissatisfied with the steps which had been taken to halt the flow of war goods to the enemy.

On June 16, 1951, Congress and the American people were shocked and amazed to learn that the National Security Council had suspended entirely the operation of the war-goods-ban amendment for 90 days.

The amendment provides "that exceptions to those provisions may be made upon an official determination of the National Security Council that such exception is in the security interest of the United States."

To except is defined by Webster as "to leave out from a number of a whole."

The National Security Council suspended the whole amendment. This meat-ax approach is entirely unjustified and unjustifiable. This action has no and the second of the second o moral, legal, or constitutional basis. It is a flagrant disregard of the express intent of the elected representatives of the people.

Since the National Security Council suspended the amendment more than 5,000 American boys have been killed or wounded in Korea. The shipment of strategic was materials-and I do not mean women's bathing suits to the Rods who killed or wounded those boys has gone on

I have obtained fresh evidence that Marshall-plan countries are continuing their vicious sales of strategic materials to the Communists, including the Chinese Reds and North Koreans.

Department of Commerce officials tell us that during the first 3 months of 1951 alone Italy exported $1,151,000 worth of ball and roller bearings to countries behind the iron curtain. When asked specifically if these shipments are continuing at the present time the answer Department of Comme, e officials give is these san ments are continuing.

Durnin May 1951 the British Socialist Government permitted $275,968 worth of machine tools to be exported to the Soviet Union, compared with only $54,-406 during May 1950. During the 5 months ending May 31, 1951, $1,539,865 worth of machine tools were sold by the British to the U.S.S. R. and $1,633,943 worth of electrical generating sets and generators.

I offer the proposed changes in the present law as a way to hait this shameful business.

The Battle bill recently passed by the Fluse will not, in my judgment, meet the situation. It is another discretionary Inw We have had experience with two discretionary laws, and the traffic between Mar-hall-plan countries and the Russian bloc in strategic war materials has gone on unabated. What we need is a mandatory law with teeth in it.

Mr. WHERRY. Mr. President, will the Senator yield? Mr. KEM. I yield.

Mr. WHERRY. What the do inguished Senator from Missouri is expressing is that under the so-called escape clause, as it is interpreted by ECA. there is permitted to consinue in the law a loophole by means of which countries are enabled to engage in the damnable traffic, regardless of the fact that the Senate intended, as I believe it intends now, to have on the books a mandatory statute which would prohibit such traffic. Am I correct?

Mr. KEM. That is exactly correct.

Mr. WHERRY. The Schater from Missouri, who has taken an interest in the subject, is now asking the Senate to amend the legislation spongored by him so as to delute the escape clause and make the provisions of the legislation mandatory, just as the Cenator from Arizona (Mr. Haypen) said it should be made mandatory when the Senate adopted the so-called Kem amendment, Is that correct?

Mr. KEM. That is correct However, I do not believe that the Schator from Arizona touched on that point. The escape clause had not been inserted when the bill paind the Senat: The escape clause was put into the bil. in conference, from the present charges would have been achieved far more surely and effectively by use of the existing procedure. The fact that the accuser has wholly ignored this well-established method indicates that his internal is of a different character.

Econd, no matter what else may occur, the present charges have already spattered mus upon individuals or the highest interprety, and in the present state of the world the denial cannot always overtake the accusation. It should by now be wholly elect that indiscriminate accusations of this section doubly offensive, they demage the insecrit, and they help protect the guilty. For if the now, it is so studid as to connect a real like Ambassador Jessup with computation, are not all such accupations made suspect?

REACTION ABROAD

Ind. and more important by far, the mode of the present charges directly and desperously impedes the conduct of the force numers of our Government. It creates about a feeling that we are trightened and surpleious of each other; it diverts our attending a problems of our folcium affairs: it is, the of many high offents that they described problems and early against the following such extensive replies as that of Mr. Bassup. Not one of these effects would have resulted from a disinterested study of the loyalty of any suspected State Department employees; each of them is the direct retuent mean.

Fourth, it seems to me quite clear that the real monite of the accuration this clue is to see the discount upon the Selectary of State of the Chined States. This man is not trong to give indight new Communists in the State Deputtment; he is hoping against hope that he is I find some. For unitely, the Secreta of State needs no defense from me. No one who knows his extraordinary record of able and disinterested public service can believe that he is in any danger from these like that he is in any danger from these like men. It is already devices that in any test of personal confidence the men of homer, in both parties, will choose to stand with

But there is more at stake in this matter than the rise or fall of dividuals. What is at stake is the effective conduct of our foreign policy.

RESPONSIBILITY OF OFFICE

Errry Secretary of State, second only to his president, and alone among appointive offices of the Government, stands before the world as the representative of the United States of America. No man who holds this came can fail to feel the extraordinary responsibility he carries for service to the country and his peace. No man has a greater right to ask the sympathetic support and the cooperation of his fellow citizens, and mode is more properly exempt from the ordinary trials of political advantage from personal aperok on a Secretary of State is a man who seek political advantage from damage to his country.

Mr. McCARTHY. Mr. President, I am very sorry that the majority leader surrendered the floor before I could ask him any questions.

This is a very serious matter. The majority leader has a very important position. I am such that he class not want to do what so many in his party have been doing—that he, labeling a once great party as a party which such s for the protection of Communists and creoks in Government.

Mr. McCARTHY. Mr. President, I am rather surprised at the majority leader. In view of the fact that he is the leader of the Democratic Party, I should like to ask him now if he thinks it was terribly unfair to have "smeared" Mr. Remington isst year. They conside d the evidence against Remington and indied him. Thank God there was a good jury and a good judge to try him. They found that man guilty.

From what the tolderity leader say; today, apparently no leels that it was very unfair to name Reminston. Some of the other individuals whom we are naming will also be convicted, even as Remington was.

INTERNATIONAL CHILDREN'S EMER-GENCY FUND—COMMUNICATION FROM THE PRESIDENT (H. DOC. NO. 225;

The VICE PRESIDENT laid before the Senate a communication from the President of the United States, visich was read and referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations, as follows:

THE WHITE HOUSE,

Washington, August 9, 1951.
The honorable the Vice President of THE UNITED STATES.

Washington, D. C.

DEAR MR. VICE PRESIDENT: I am writing to ask that the Congress authorize a contribution of $12,000,000 by United States to the International Children's Emergency Fund. This sum would be authorized for the current fiscal year.

The General Assembly of the United Nations, on December 1, 1959, extended the operations of the Children's Fund for a period of 3 years. Since the authorization to make financial contributions to the fund expired last June 30, we can now make no further contribution without this new authority from the Congress.

The United States has a long tradition of participation in, and financial support for, international children's welfare work. Nothing is more consistent with our basic interests or more representative of our humanitarian ideals.

The Children's Fund has done a ma constructive job over the last 4 years. Europe, it has helped more than 15,00 006 children. The main work of the fu has now shifted from Europe to the u derdeveloped areas of Asia and La-America. Here the fund will bring s plies and services to help meet una needs of children and to strengthen : permanent child welfare programs the countries themselves.

I know that the Congress is aware the many past accomplishments of a Children's Fund. I am confident it the people of this country want to co tinue to support the great work the fu is doing. There is real need to carry this work. Millions of children with helped.

I have asked the Secretary of Stat prepare draft legislation to carry out ... recommendation. It is my hope that 'Congress will find it possible to give consideration of this measure.

Sincerely yours,

Sen. M'Carthy Lists 26 Under Loyalty Quiz

__Jessup and Vincent Accused of Red Ties

By PHILIP DODD

Sen. McCarthy (R) of Wisconsin yesterday gave the Senate the names of 26 State department employes who, he said, had been charged with communistic activities but were kept on the department's payroll and had access to secret material.

Heading McCarthy's list were Ambassador-at-large Philip C. ressup and John Carte: Vincent, former minister to Switzerland and now consul general at Tangiers. Others on the list ranged from a clerk-typist to a divisional assist-McCarthy's Senate speech was another chapter in his running fight with the Administration over charges of communism in the State department. He said he made yesterday's list public because the department would not assure him the accused individuals would be denied access to secret data while their cases were pending.

One of those on his latest list. John Patton Davies, also has been cleared, McCorthy said. Davies, he said, had been sent to Germany as an adviser to the occupation authorities.

McCarthy said he "understood" two others have been suspended; by the department. They were Mrs. Esther Caukin Brunauer, an Anterican representative to the United Nations economic and social council, and Val R. Lorwin, an economist.

Smear Tactics Charged

The State department issued a statement charging McCarthy had used "smear tactics" and had made public a "misleading" list of names. Deputy State Undersecretary Humelsine said Mc-Carthy's list included the names of persons not employed by the State department, employes who have been cleared by the loyalty board, and others in the process of being cleared.

"I can only hope," Humelsine said, "that the men and women who have been or may be cleared realize they have become the victims of a bitter attack not subscribed to by responsible citizens."

McCarthy told the Senate "letters of charges" based on "adverse information" developed by the FBI have been filed against the persons on his list.

McCarthy said he had no doubt that all 26 would be cleared be-cause of the "very unusual record" of the State department's loyalty board.

McCarthy said he wrote State Secretary Acheson July 23, after. learning of the cases he listed yesterday, stating that unless he were assured the 29 employes would be denied access to secret daja, he would have no choice but to call the Senate's attention to the list.

Senate Given 26 Names By McCarthy

By the Associated Press

Senator Joseph R. McCarthy listed for the Senate yesterday what he said were the names of over 20 State Department officials and employes whose loyalty is under question. He topped his roll call with Ambas sador Philip C. Messup as "the prize of them all."

The State Department shortly afterwards got out a statement in which it said the Wisconsin Republican had used "smear tactics" and was deliberately violating the fundamental tenet of "freedom from intimidation."

The statement said McCarthy's list includes the names of "persons who are not employes of the Department of State, employes who have been cleared by the Department's Loyalty Security Board, as well as individuals in process through the loyalty program."

No names were mentioned in the statement.

In his Senate speech, McCarthy declared that Jessup, ambassador-at-large, has "negoti-ded with the Russians much as Hiss negotiated with them at Yalta."

This was a reference to Alger Hiss, former State Department official now serving a prison term on conviction of lying when he swore he never gave secret papers to a Communist spy ring courier.

McCarthy said he had turned over a total of 106 names of Government employes suspected for loyalty but that 28 of them had been cleared.

McCarthy delivered his speech is before crowded galleries but only about half the Senators were at their desks

He twitted the Democrats by noting that former Senate Democratic Leader Scott W. Lucas (III.), who challenged McCarthy lait year to make names public "is no longer with us," and that Sen. Millard E. Tydings (D-Md) "also is no longer with us."

Alluding to that, McCarthy said that if he had not gone into Maryland to "expose the whitewash job I'd be as guilty as Tydings."

Most of those McCarthy named as under loyalty investigation hold relatively minor posts in the Government.

At the outset, McCarthy said he had "no doubt" that all would be cleared by the State Department's own loyalty board.

But he said the persons face "letters of charges" and their cases are under review by the board.

The first name he mentioned was that of John Carter Vincent, consul general at Tangiers and former minister to Switzerland.

The second person named by McCarthy was "William T Stone, information and editorial specialist, Department of State."

McCarthy said Stone formerly was associated with the magatine "Amerasia" and that the BI classed this as a "tool drespionage."

The added that Stone also was a former officer in the Institute of Pacific Relations, an organization now being investigated by the Senate Internal Security subcommittee, headed by Senator Pat McCarran (D-Nev.).

McCarthy next named Robert Warren Barnett, assistant advisor on Japanese economic affairs, and Mrs. Barnett, consultant, foreign affairs specialist. He said Barnett was "brought into the State Department" by the Institute of Pacific Relations."

McCarthy said the Barnetts had "constant contacts with Soviet espionage activities."

He described the case of Sylvia Schimmel, whom he listed as an administrative analyst, as "similar" to that of the Barneys.

You Could Be on McCarthy's List

In closing his Senate speech in which he gave the names of State Department employes who, he says, are suspected of disloyalty, Senator McCarthy made this statement in the form of a rhetorical question addressed to himself:

If an individual is accused of reckless driving, jumping a stop sign, or embezzling from a bank, the American people get that information. So why should not the American people be informed when their servants are accused of Communist activities as a result of FBI investigations?

Senator McCarthy knows the answer to his own question.

When laws are violated in this country—such as laws against reckless driving, disobeying traffic regulations, embezzlement, etc.—the accused person has a right to a public trial. The charges must be proved in court beyond a reasonable doubt. The accusers must face the accused. The accused has the right of counsel, the right of appeal, the right to a jury and all the other rights a free people have secured to prevent the tyranny of injustice by Government or anybody else.

A charge of disloyalty, based on information furnished to a Government department by the FBI or by other sources—other sources including Senator McCarthy—does not necessarily mean that the person so charged has violated any law. It there is valid reason to believe a law has been violated, the accused is prosecuted in open court, with resulting publicity.

There is no law against membership in the Communist Party, unless such membership involves a charge of conspiracy against the Government. There is no law against membership in the subversive organizations listed by the Attorney General. Such membership, in itself, involves no violation of law.

But the Government has wisely decided against employment of Communists, those who are affiliated with subversive organizations of those whose associations with such organizations cast doubt on an employe's loyalty. If the evidence against such an employe is not complete, yet a doubt remains, that doubt is resolved in favor of the employing Government—not, as in a court of law, in favor of the defendant.

When the FBI obtains information which reflects on the loyalty of an employe, that information is forwarded to the Government department concerned. As Senator McCarthy knows, and as FBI Director Hoover has taken pains to point out time and again, that information is not evaluated by the FBI. In other words, the FBI does not undertake to say that the information is to be accepted on its face as evidence of disloyalty or other guilt. The evaluation is left to others, such as the loyalty boards, which investigate the nature of the information, hear the accused, and attempt to reach a fair conclusion. If doubt remains, the employe is fired or permitted to resign.

In Senator McCarthy's list of State Department employes, about half of them have already been cleared after investigation. Some are awaiting hearings. Some of them are going through the business twice. The question posed by Senator McCarthy is why they should be protected by secrecy during this process.

The Government's position is that it is unfair to subject an employe to the opprobrium of publicity, linking his name with an unproved allegation of disloyalty and thus condemning him, without the benefit of any semblance of trial, to the resulting stigma.

Is that right or is it wrong?

Would you, a cit.zen convinced of your own loyalty to your Government, welcome publicity if the FBI turned in a report to your employer based on the unevaluated information of anonymous informers to the effect that you were a Communist, and if it were publicly announced that you were under investigation for disloyalty on the strength of "FBI investigation"?

If you believe that this would be fair to you, you agree with Senator McCarthy in making public the names of people who may be entirely innocent of any disloyalty yet, in Senator Mc-Carthy's own words, are accused of Communist a tivities as a result of FBI investigations."

But if you do agree that in your own case this would be unjust, you cannot agree with Senator McCarthy.

By Associated Press

McCarran (D) of Nevada said yesterday his internal security subcommittee might be willing to act as referee in the quarrel between Sen. McCarthy (R) of Wisconsin and the State department over the loyalty of department employes.

On the Senate floor Thursday
McCarthy named 26 persons, including Ambassador at large Philip

Among those named by McCarthy was John Carter Vincent, former minister to Switzerland and now chief of the American mission in Tangiers.

Vincent said at Tangiers he is discusted with McCarthy's "nefarious campaign of attack against State department officials."

Fierst, on vacation, telephoned a reply to the State department.

"I have just received word of Sen. McCarthy's charges against me Thursday," Fierst said. "The charges are entirely faise. I am not and have never been a Communist, pro-Communist or fellow-traveler. I am a loyal American in every sense of the word."

Once Was Investigated

Fierst said that in 1946 State department security officers reported to the department "certain of my activities about which they were not fully informed." He said they investigated further and "learned that these activities were actually part of my official duties, designed to further our national interests."

Asked how many new leads Senator McCarthy had given on possible subversive employes. Mr. Humelsine replied "very few indeed." He said the Senator has been picking up old lists of em-ployes already cleared. He adjed that Senator McCarthy provided "a couple of new names" but each of these cases was carefully investigated and the employes were cleared.

Mr. Humelsine said it's true that because of Senator Mc-Carthy's repeated charges, some employes—even high officials— "are becoming afraid to make candid reports to the State Department."

He said in some cases, "it derends on circumstances," ployes mentioned by Senator Mc-Carthy and others as possibly subversive, who have been cleared, have access to secret papers.

At one point in the Acheson-Knight exchange the State Department said approximately $90,-000,000 in arms and ordnance has been given Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist Chinese forces on Formosa, and $300,000,000 more isscheduled this year.

In addition, the department: mentioned a "609 - man" United States military mission on Formosa "assisting in the reorganization of Chiang's forces."

On June 24, Maj, Gen. William C. Chase head of the mission, said in Taipeh, Formosa, the United States group had 1,250 members.

Apparently the State Department information was based on figures obtained several weeks or months earlier, indicating a rapid increase in size of the United States mission.

"Official Reply Called Misleading"

Records of Testimony Made Before Congressional Committees
Contradict Snow's Statement on State Department Reds

To what extent have Communists and Communist sympathizers infiltrated the United States Government and particularly the State Department in recent years?

An answer to this question is attempted in a speech by Chairman Conrad E. Snow of the Loyalty Security Board of the State Department. He has made some very significant statements ments which unquestionably will attract the attention of Congressional Committees as they examine further what appears to be an official reply to various charges leveled in recent months.

The first point that strikes the eye is the argument that, even if there were Communists or sympathizers in the State Department, they did very little harm at most. Here is the exact language by Chairman Snow on this point:

"I can say confidently that there are no known Communists in Government. If there are any secre. Communists—Communists who join no Communist fronts and speak no Communist sentiments—of course I cannot say, for they are not known.

The Hiss case and the case of Judith Coplon in the Justice Department have done more harm in terms of public confidence than any harm Hiss or Coplosi ever did in the delivery of classified papers. Both worked in absolute secrecy—their best friends were ignorant of their acts. Neither would have been employed by Government for a day after their acts were discovered. But a swallow does not make a summer-neither do these two cases make out an infiltration of Government by Communists.'

The foregoing assertion will be challenged, and, in fact, is contradicted by records of the testimony made before congressional committees.

Thus, the declaration that Alger Hiss, for example, would never have been kept in Government employ for a day after his acts were discovered, is not borne out by the testimony given by Whittaker Chambers, a confessed Russian spy, who has told congressional committees that as early as 1939 he notified the State Department that Hiss had given him secret papers. The record shows that Hiss not only continued in the State Department for years afterward. but that he played a very important part in the preparations for and in the discussions which went on at the Yalta conference as recently as 1945.

The statement by chairman Snow says also:

"Since December 17, 1947, when the President's loyalty program was implemented by directive of the Loyalty Review Board of the Civil Service Commission, the Loyalty Security Board of the State Department has had before it over 500 eases of State Department employes who have been investigated for loyalty by the Federal Bureau of Investigation—the FBI—and not one case has been found of a present Communist working in the State Department.

"Over that period eight employes have been held to be security risks, but not one of those admitted present membership in the Communist Party, nor was there evidence of present membership."

A reading of the foregoing statement by those who have not followed closely the controversy over the loyalty program would lead to the impression that infiltration in the State Department hasn't occurred because no "present" Communist can be found. The strongest argument of the anti-Communist group in America has been that former Communists either stayed on in Government employ or were permitted to resign without an explanation of what harm they had done while in Government employ.

In the statement above quoted, the words "present Comunist" or "present membership" were not underlined by the speaker, but there are many observers who insist that the presence of former Communists today in highly confidential posts is bad security.

Chairman Snow reveals that since 1947 "about 40 other employes have elected to resign during the process of investigation and adjudication of loyalty." He adds

"What might have been found in their cases, had they gone to hearing of course, I do not know. But this small number—less than 50 in all—out of a department of 94,000 employes—who have either been held to be security risks or who have for one reason or another desired not to face investigation, does not indicate any noticeable infiltration of Communists in Government."

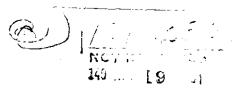

What is the importance of the word "noticeable"? It will a be noted that Klaus Fuchs who was cleared through a faulty system in which the State Department shares responsibility, stole American atom-comb secrets. Yet it can be said he is just one employe out of the thousands of employes of our own and foreign governments who have dealt with classified information in recent years. To use 50 in ratio to 94,000 is misleading in itself. Not all the 94,000 employes of the State Department have anything to do with confidential information. It is a rather small group which has access to secrets, and there is no way of knowing whether the 50 who have either been dismissed or resigned had such access. The public is entitled to information on this point as well as to information as to just what part was played by Alger Hiss and others who are admitted now to have been bad security risks.

White House Aide Accused As Ex-Red

BY WILLARD EDWARDS

Charges of communism in both the White House and the State department seized the Senate's attention yesterday. The twin developments:

1. Sen. McCarthy (R) of Wisconsin, in a Senate speech, revealed loyalty board files on Philleo Nash. 42. a $17.500 adviser to President Truman, which showed that Nash had been accused of membership in the Communist party "in close contact with the Communist underground in Washington" and whose former home in Toronto, had been used by a Canadian spy ring in the early 40s as a rendevous.

Rosinger Testifies

2. The Senate internal security subcommittee heard Lawrence K. Rosinger, one of State Secretary Acheson's China policy advisers in 1949, refuse to answer the testimony of three previous witnesses that he was a Communist party member. Rosinger pleaded possible self-incrimination. He also refused to discuss his relationships with a number of individuals, in the government and out, on the ground that he might involve himself in trouble with the law.

Nash, McCarthy's White House target, succeeded David K. Niles as an assistant to the President in charge of advising on "minority problem: "

He was a lecturer on anthropology at the University of Toronto from 1937 to 1941, then came to Washington as special assistant to the director of the domestic branch of the office of war information. He was assigned to the White House on June 7, 1941, from the get rid of Nash.

From Nash in the White House came a denunciation of the charges as "a contemptible lie." He denied ever having been a Communist party member and blamed his sister's anti-McCarthy activities for the senator's blast.

The Senate subcommittee's questioning of Rosinger, 36, now a free-land writer, was featured by his sparring with acting chairman Ferguson (P) of Michigan. At the end, Ferguson said pending legislation, compelling witnesses to testify before congressional committees by granting them immunity from future prosecution, must be approved quickly if the investigating processes are to continue.

Rosinser was confronted by subcommittee counsel Robert Morris with earlier testimony of William Cannin: Karl Wittfogel and Louis Budenz that Rosinger had been a Communist party member and was known to them as such. He asked if he was now or ever had been a Communist.

"I respectfully decline to answer, relying on my privilege under the lifth amendment to the Constitution," he answered.

Admits Knowing Some

Rosinger was asked concerning the elationships with persons identified as Communists before the subcommittee and with other persons not thus identified. He pleaded possible self-incrimination in refusing to answer questions about a number of persons, but freely conceded his acquaintance with others.

Among those about whom he refused to testify were Alger Hiss, State department official serving a five-year sentence for perjury to conceal espionage. Frederick V Flood, financial sponsor of chromunist movements; Andrew 1967, a Navy lieutenant involved in the Amerasia espionage case of 1945; Julian Wadieigh, a State department officer who confessed espionage during the Hiss trial, and many others of lesser note.

The witness said he knew Ambassador Jessup only slightly. He at first denied knowing John S. Service, diplomat recently fired after a logalty board hearing, but later admitted having met him once of wice.

Truman Bans Release Of Data on Employes In State Department

Cites 'Public Interest' In Order to Acheson; 5 Tightens Information Rules

By Joseph A. Fox

President Truman today told Secretary of State Acheson not to turn over requested departmental loyalty-security data to a Senate Appropriations Subcommittee, declaring that such action "would be clearly contrary to the public interest."

At the same time, the President ightened the rules under which loyalty or security information may be given to Congressional in-estigators. In a long letter to the Secretary of State, the President stood on a jour-year-old order safeduard-ing employe loyalty data arainst unrestricted circulation, declaring that to do otherwise would mean the reputations of hundreds of leval Gove ament employes would be pilloria, and the entire civil Sirvice would be severly demoral-

Detailed Data Asked.

The State Department, long under fire by Capitol Hill loyalty probers, received a request from the Appropriations Subcommittee for detailed information on the departmental loyalty-security prowram, which fell into four catepories:

1. Complete files on specified cases. Detailed information concerning the substance of investigative reports in certain additional cases and the procedural steps taken in the handling of various individual cases.

2. The names of all present and colmer State Department employes who have been investigated under the Federal employes' loyalty program or the department's security program, along with the status or disposition of the respective cases.

The President rulen out response to the first three questions entirely, and while h∈ said there was no objection to giving the names of officers who have sat as members of the loyalty-security board, it would be "entirely improper" to disclose individual votes •

"If this type of information were divulged freely," the Presi-dent said, "the danger of intimidation would be great and the objectivity, fairness and impartiality of board members would be seriously prejudiced."

Permits Two Queries.

In tightening up the regulations, the President said: "Hereafter no information regarding individual lloyalty or security cases shall be provided in response to inquiries fro moutside the executive branch unless such inquiries are made in writing. State Dept.
Loyalty Files
Denied Senate

President Truman yesterday ordered Secretary of State Dean Acheson to turn down a Senate committee request for detailed information and complete files on the State Department's loyal-ty-security cases.

The President told Acheson in letter that granting the request would be "clearly contrary" to the public interest and mean:

"The reputations of hundreds of loyal Government employes would be pilloried and the entire Civil Service would be severely demoralized."

He also said that if all Government agencies were to release such information, "the overall result would be to wreck the Federal employes loyalty program,"

The request for the fires came from a Senate appropriations subcommittee.

Benton Says Ouster Of McCarthy Would Be Blow at Red Cause

By W. H. Shippen Senators McCarthy and Benton were back in the ring today, after a wordy exchange which bruised tempers on both sides.

The Wisconsin Republican still was firing the questions. Once he opened a line of attack, however, he appeared to take at least as much punishment as he handed out.

The hearing room in the Senate Office Building was browded with apectators for the second, pre-trial phase of Senator McCarthy's $2 million suit against the Democrat from Connecticut.

Sees Blow to Reds.

The opponents sought to score these points in the opening bout:

- 1. Senator Benton said Senator McCarthy's removal from public life would be a blow at the Communist cause. He added he doubted if the Politouro would trade the Senator for a billion dollars worth of propaganda.
- 2. Senator McCarthy tried to show that the case against him was prepared by Senator Benton with the aid of the Democratic National Committee. He declared the move had the backing of the Communist press and party.
- 3. Senator Benton said he began his fight on communism long before Senator McCarthy entered the field. He pointed out that the Daily Worker was attacking him years before the Red mouthpiece ever heard of Senator McCarthy.
- 4. Senator McCarthy declared he would ask District Court to compel Senator Benton to name the friends who offered to help raise $50,000 to defend him from the suit for damages.
- 5. Senator Benton said Senator McCarthy's "loaded" questions were part of a "pattern of fraud and deceit," which he had charged in his statement to the investigating subcommittee.
- 6. Senator McCarthy brought out that Senator Benton had conferred with Columnist Drew Pearson in recent months. Mr. Pearson is suing Senator McCarthy and others for $5.1 million on charges of assault and conspiracy to run him out of business.

TO JULLUS

"What Would You Both

Senator McCarthy kept asking his opponent a hypothetical cunstion. He asked Senator Benton to assume that he had learned of "dangerous" employes from a loyalty standpoint in the Government and had been unable to obtain action either from the proper Federal agencies or the President.

What would you have done in my case?" he demanded.

The Senator was referring to his statement in the Senate that he had the names of 57 card-carrying Communists employed in the State Department.

charter Reuto replied he was a layer reported the matter to the Loyalty Board or to the FBI. He said he would have sought action from those delegated to investigate such cases. If no action was taken, he added, he could "imagine a case" that might have compelled him to report to the Senate.

Cites John S. Service Case

Senator Benton refused, however, to comment on a specific case Senator McCarthy mentioned—that of John S. Service, who has been dismissed from the State Department.

Senator McCarthy said that here was a case where a man was known to be living with a Chinese spy in the employ of the Societs.

"If you could not get rid of that man by any means, what would you have done?" Senator McCarthy ashed.

Senator Benton pointed out this was a problem for the Leadily Board and not to be decided on "casual," one-sided statements.

He raised the possibility that a Foreign Service employe might be instructed to go and live with a Chinese, under certain circumstances.

Senator Benton added he was "not prepared to defend the State Department" at the pre-trial hearing. He said that while he could visualize circumstances that would force him to take a case to the floor of the Senate, he would do so with extreme relustance after exhausting every other remedy.

Warrs of Reds' Benefit.

"This is a time of great danfer to the country, because of Communist imperialism." Senator Benton said. "When a Senator goes on the floor with that kind of a charge, he adds immeasurably to the danger."

Such an action, he said, would make headlines all over the world, which would be used by the Reds to undermine confidence in the leadership of the United

"These matters are seized by our enemies and turned against us," he said. "We should recognize the menace.

"I know of no way to further Red propaganda more effectively than to take such cases to the Senate in an attack on our leaders. The first Red objective is to destroy the faith of our people in their leagers."

Under questioning, Senator Benton said Kenneth Birkhead helped provide him with some of the material he used in a statement before the subcommittee inquiring into Senator McCarthy's fitness to hold his seat.

The witness explained Mr. Birkhead's primary work wat in behalf of the election of Democratic Senators. He said Mr. Birkhead "did some leg work" and collected materia: 'wholly from the public records."

Senato. Benton explained he rewrote the statement he submitted to the subcommittee four times and took sole responsibility for it.

Says No One Helped Him.

"Who on the Democratic National Committee aided you in preparation of material for the statement?" Senator McCarthy asked.

Senator Benton said no one from the committee had helped him, but that he regretted having mentioned casually to a publicity man or, the committee that he was introducing a resolution last August looking toward the ouster of Senator McCart'n.

He said he felt this was unfortunate because the impression was given that someone had advised him on his plan to seek the expulsion of Senator McCarthy. Senator Benton claimed responsibility for this idea without assistance from anybody.

Senator McCarthy asked who had promised Senator Benton they would help to raise $50,000 to Coffeed him against the suit.

Set. at Bente, so afterner Theodore Kiendl, instructed Amnot to answer the Cottion.

Senator Benton said, however, he hoped the money would be contributed. He explained he already had received many offermus in small sums from well-wishers, none except one over $10. He refused to say if garmen union leaders and others had of fered to help raise the $50,000.

Was at Pearson Home.

Asked about his association with Mr. Pearson, Senator Benton said he talked with the columns: at the latter's home last fall and they had jurch at a local hotel several months ago.

He denied, however he had ever seen the record of the pre-tind hearings in the Pearson vs. Mc-Carthy suit.

At the conclusion of yesterday's all-Garage Sign. Sin for McCarthy remarked that he country the proceedings over with him few hours if Mr. Benton would stop giving such long answers to his questions.

Senator Benton: lawyer reported the hearing would be expedited if Senator McCarthy, would quit asking such lengthy questions.

Mr. Kiendl stated he wanted the record to show that while Senaro. McCarthy had announced he would represent himself at the hearings he was flanked by two attorneys.

Senator McCarthy replied to.
Attorney Edward benneth with liams represented him in the Pearson suit, and that Attorne Warren Magee was his lawyer of a $500.000 suit he has brought against a Syracuse (N. Y.) newspaper.

M'CARTHY SAYS KEFAUVER WOOS PINKO SUPPORT

Charges Bribe Offerer Was Protected

Sen. McCarthy (R) of Wisconsin started another political uproar yesterday with publication in magazine form of a documented report on the fight he has waged since February 1950, against communism in the government.

McCarthy accuses Sen. Kefauver (D) of Tennessee, a Democrack Presidential aspirant. of bidding for the support of "left" wing and Communist-controled elements of press and radio" by, attacking the McCarthy exposure of Red burocrats.

He followed up with a charge that Kefauver has suppressed the identity of the man who offered him a bribe of $100,000 or more to protect "certain racketeering activities" when the Tennessean was "Fairman of a crime investiwas enairman of a crime investigation committee. The McCarthy report, published by Dan-Adair Co. to sell at 50 cents a copy, is entitled "McCarthyism—The Fight for America." It contains the answers to hundered of heatile questions the act. dreds of hostile questions flung at McCarthy during the last two years as he named federal offi-cials who were either Communists or supporters of Communist objectives.

Names 10 Officials

In this review the Wisconsin senator names ten officials, originally accused by him, who have since been removed from the government on the grounds that they were either disloyal or bad security risks. He includes a sizzling section on Owen Lattimore, the State department consultant whom he labeled a Soviet agent, and who has just been barred by the State department from leaving the country.

McCarthy leveled his guns on Kefauver in a discussion of congressional immunity. He noted that Kefauver used congressional immunity to charge people with being crooks, gamblers and racket-eers but attacked McCarthy for using the same immunity to ex-pose Communists in government. Noting that his latest publica-tion was not immune from licel action, McCarthy wrote:

65 JUL 21 1952

"Sen. Kefauver in his bid for the support of the left-wing ahd communist-controlled press and adio is his campaign for the residual nomination, has con-licted a running public attack in the exposure. He has been unable to find one single thing good for to find one single thing good for America in my fight against Communists. He has parrotted the stock left-wing phrases about 'smearing innocent people' without of course being able to name a single innocent person who has a single innocent person who has been smeared. No mention is made of the fact that a sizable number of the 'innocent' people have since either gone to jail or have been gotten rid of under the loyalty program."

Recalls Bribe Offer

McCarthy then recalled that in a magazine article in April, 1951, Kefauver declared he had been offered a bribe "in six figures" to prevent a committee investigation, "offering to pay a public official a huge bribe is a serious crime," McCarthy wrote. "Unless the criminal who makes the offer is exposed and prosecuted, he and other criminals and racketeers will rightly understand this is a

More McCarthy Suit Data Due Friday

Additional pre-trial testimony in Senator McCarthy's libel suit against Senator Benton, Democrat, of Connecticut, will be heard Friday in the Senate Office Build-

Four witnesses will appear for Senator Benton in connection with the 10 "case histories" of fraud and deceit which Senator Benton cited before the Senate subcommittee on privileges and elections last September.

Two witnesses will be officials of a Wheeling, W. Va., radio station which presented a speech by Senator McCarthy on February 9, 1950.

Senator Benton has charged the Wisconsin Republican with making false charges during this address to the effect that many known Communists were in the employ of the State Department.

The other witnesses will be ex-Senator Millard E. Tydings of Maryland and Edward P. Morgan. Washington attorney and counsel of the Tydings subcommittee of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee in 1950.

Senator McCarthy has charred that this committee "whitewashed" his claims that the Reds had infiltrated sensitive departments of the Government.

McGranery Charges McCarthy Distorted Justice Brief on Reds

By the Associated Press

Attorney General McGranery last night challenged a quotation read by Senator McCarthy, Republic, of Wisconsin, from a Justice Department document in an effort to support Senator McCarthy's contention that the State Department harbors Communists.

In a formal reply, Mr. McGranery said in effect that Senator Mc-Carthy had lifted the quotation out of conext so that its meaning was distorted.

Senator McCarthy said in a speech at Milwaukee that a Justice Department brief made reference to Soviet plans for obtaining blank American passports "from Communists employed in the State Department."

Mr. McGranery said there had been testimony that Russian secret police in 1928 worked on a plan to have Communists employed in the State Department so it would be easier to obtain illegal passports. But there has been no testimony that the plan was put into effect, he said, and so the sentence did not mean there were Reds in the State Department.

Paragraph Quoted.

The prepared text of Senator McCarthy's Milwaukee address contained this paragraph:

There are those who say there are no longer Communists in Government. I am not going to ask you to take my word for that. I have in my hand the brief prepared by seven lawyers of the Justice Department dated July 28, 1952. Let me read to you from it. 'Illegal passports have been used to expedite travel in foreign countries by members of the Communist Party. Plans have been discussed by leading members of the party and agents of Soviet secret police to obtain; blank American passports from Communists employed in the State Department'."

INDEXED - 19

NOT RESERVED 101 SEP 17 1952

Mr. McGranery's formal replysaid in part:

"The 'brief' to which the Senator referred was the Government's proposed findings of fact submitted to the Subversive Activities Control Board in the case against the Communist Party. The department is pressing proceedings before the board in an effort to force the party to register as a foreign-controlled organization.

"The proposed findings to which the Senator referred were based on testimony of witnesses which appeared before the board. His reference to 'plans' discusses to obtain blank American passports from Communists employed in the State Department does not mean that there were Communists employed in the State Department."

Mr. McGranery then said Paul Crouch, an acknowledged former Communist, had testified that in 1928 he was introduced to a man identified as the head of the Rus-! stan secret police in the United States.

Mr. McGranery said Crouch estified in part:

"Then this official . . . pr ceeded to ask a number of ques tions, primarily about the employ ment of Communists in Washing ton, in the State Department, asking if any members of the Young Communist League had jobs in the State Department, where it might be possible for them to secretly obtain possession of blank passports, which, he stated, were needed very much by the Soviet government, and I replied there were no such members, and he directed me if it were possible to try to get such members employed with the State Department and they would be very, very important if the Soviet government could obtain American blank pass-ports."

Mr. McGranery added:

"Nowhere in the entire hearing is there any testimony that the plan was put into effect.

Benion Refusal to Give Communists' Names To McCarthy Upheld

By the Associated Press

A Federal judge ruled yesterday that Senator Benton, Democrat of Connecticut, need not tell Senator McCarthy, Republican of Wisconsin, the names of Communists in the State Department when Mr. Benton served as an assistant secretary.

Judge Matthew McGuire also ruled that Mr. Benton need not tell Senator McCarthy what persons have contributed, or have offered to contribute, to a fund to aid Senator Benton in defending a $2 million libel-slander suit filed, by Senator McCarthy,

Senator Benton refused to answer the questions during the taking of depositions in connection with Senator McCarthy's suit. The suit accusses Senator Benton of unlawfully seeking to oust Senator McCarthy from the Senate.

Senator McCarthy contended the questions were relevant, but: Judge McGuire disagrecci.

Senator Benton has testified he knew there were Communists in the State Department when he was assistant secretary in 1945-47. that he fought them and had some of them fired.

But he refused to name names. He suggested that Senator Mc-Carthy get in touch with State Department officials and "do this on an authoritative basis, rather than by naming names in public hearings on the basis of a recollection many years back."

Senator McCarthy has let it be known that he will go anead with the suit against Senator Benton despite the latter's defeat in the recent election.

State Department Clears 80 Accused By McCarthy in '50

By L. Edgar Prina

The State Department has in-1 med Senator Johnston, Demcc.at, of South Carolina, that none of the 80 persons investigated in 1950 by the Tydings succommittee, following charges by Senator McCarthy, has been found to be a Communist or disleval.

Senator Johnston, chairman of the Senate Civil Figure Committee, said the finding by "this present Republican administration" . . . should "clear up this matter for all Former Senator Tydings, Demthrat, of Maryland, was chairn.sn of the Foreign Relations subcommittee which investigated Senator McCarthy's charges of Communists in the State Department.

Cleared by Tydings.

The Democratic majority of the Tydines group reported the charges were false and accused the Wisconsin Republican of engaging in a hoax. Senator Mc-Carthy called the report a "whitewash." He helped Senator Butler in his campaign to unseat Senator Tydings in 1950

Senator Johnston, whose committee is planning a broad inquery into the Eisenhower adagrastration's employe security program, said he asked the State Department to eneck their records on the 80 individuals. The department's reply was signed by Thurston B. Morton, Assistant Secretary of State for Congressional Relations and a former Congressman.

According to Semajor Johnston, Mr. Morton informed him that 12 of the employes accused by Senator McCarthy were still working in the State Department and that 10 others had transferred to other Government agencies where they were now employed. He added:

"The State Department . . further verifies the findings of the Tydings Committee by stating that, of the 80-odd names given to the Tydings Committee by the Wisconsin Senator as persons then employed, only 40 were in fact employed in the State Department in 1950: had resigned or left the State Department prior to that year and seven . . . had never been employed by the State Depart-

Clears Ex-Workers.

The Senator said that three of the persons accused by Senator McCarthy had resigned or been dropped from the Government rolls, "but that none of these three was found to be Communists or disloyal to our Government."

The State Department letter to the South Carolinian was not released, but it is understood the three persons referred to above were the diplomats John Paton Davies, jr., John Carter Vincent and John Stewart Service.

A hearing board found that there was a "reasonable doubt" as to Mr. Service's loyalty because he made unauthorized disclosures of classified documents in the famous Amerasia case, but emphasized that it was not required to find him disloyal and we do not do so."

Mr. Vincent was ousted in 1953 after Secretary of State Dulles found that his work had been below standard, and Mr. Davies was released last November on grounds that he lacked "judgment, discretion and reliability."

Start at Beginning.

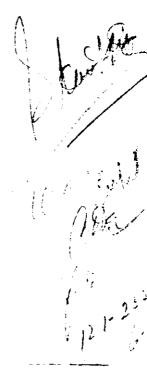

Senator Johnston said he went back to the original McCarthy charges because "in order to proceed in an orderly manner, I thought it desirable to start at the very beginning.

He said he sent the names of the 80 individuals to the State Department for a check last month.

"By letter the State Department has now informed me that not one of these persons who were investigated by the Tydings Committee in 1950 has been proved to be or found to be a Communist or disloyal to our Government," he asserted.

Senator Johnston said that he hoped "in due time" to look into charges in other departments and agencies to ascertain what the facts are in such cases as I have already done in this

Dulies Tidesteps Johnsto MicCarthy Tiff on Communists

Secretary of State Dulles today fled from a senatorial dispute over whether the State Department has discharged any Communists.

The tiff started Sunday when Senator Johnston, Democrat, of South Carolina reported that the State Department had informed him that it had found no Communists among some 80 persons accused by Senator Me-Carthy, Republiach, of Wisconsin.

Senator McCartny replied last night that Senator Johnston "twisted and distorted the facts."

Everyoody agreed that "the facts? were contained in a letter which Assistant Secretary lof State Thruston B. Morton wrote to Schetor Johnston. The State Dep riment and Senator Mc-Carthy made the text of the letter public.

Quizzed by Press.

Mr. Dulles was asked at a news conference today whether Senator Johnson or Senator McCarthy was right. Mr. Dulles replied that the full facts were in the State Department letter. The dispute, he said, was a question of individual judgment.

A reporter asked whether Mr. Dulles could state, without regard to the letter whether the State Department has dischalged any one because of Communist affiliation.

Mr. Dulles told the reporter sharply to read the letter.

The reporter replied that he had read the letter and that was exactly why he was asking: the Sccretary the question.

Mr. Dailes ended the exchange by stating that he was afraid; he could not clarify the letter.

SEN. OLIN D. JOHNSTON (D-S.C.) STOOD FAST, IN THE FACE OF A BLAST FROM SEN. JOSEPH R. MCCARTHY, IN HIS CONTENTION THAT THE STATE DEPARTMENT HAD DISPROVEN MCCARTHY'S CHARGES OF WIDESPREAD COMMUNISM

THE STATE DEPARTMENT,

JOHNSON CALLED UPON MCCARTHY TO NAME ONE STATE DEPARTMENT EMPLOYE WHO HAS BEEN CONVICTED OR PROVEN TO BE A COMMUNIST AFTER BEING CITED MCCARTHY AS A COMMUNIST OR COMMUNIST SUPPORTER.

THE JOHNSTON-MCCARTHY WRANGLE STARTED OVER THE WEEKEND WHEN JOHNSTON SAID A STATE DEPARTMENT LETTER TO HIM MADE CLEAR THAT "NOT ONE OF THE STATE DEPARTMENT EMPLOYES CHARGED (BY MCCARTHY) IN 1950... HAS BEEN FOUND TO BE A COMMUNIST OR DISLOYAL TO THE UNITED STATES."

MCCARTHY IN TURN CHARGED THAT JOHNSTON "TWISTED AND DISTORTED THE FACTS" IN INTERPRETING THE STATE DEPARTMENT LETTER ABOUT ACTIONS TAKEN AGAINST 90 EMPLOYES CITED BY MCCARTHY IN 1950.

MCCARTHY BRANDED JOHNSTONJS INTERPRETATION OF THE LETTER AS EMPT TO DISCREDIT THE FIGHT TO EXPOSE COMMUNISTS.*

JOHNSTON AT FIRST DISMISSED MCCARTHY'S SLAST WITH THE COMMENT: ATTEMPT TO DISCREDIT THE FIGHT

"ME HASN'T SAID A THING." BUT THEN HE ADDED:

"ASK MCCARTHY TO NAME ONE PERSON (ON HIS LIST) THAT HAS BEEN CONVICTED AND PROVEN TO BE A COMMUNIST IN THE PAST FOUR YEARS. MCCARTHY CONTENDED THAT IT WAS NOT THE STATE DEPARTMENT'S JOPROVE THAT A SUSPECTED EMPLOYE ACTUALLY IS A COMMUNIST BUT ONLY JOB TO PROVE THAT A SUSPECTED EMPLOYE ACTUALLY IS A COMMUNIST BUT ONLY TO DEGIDE WHETHER HE IS A SECURITY RISK--A FACT WHICH HE SAID WAS EMPHASIZED IN THE STATE DEPARTMENT LETTER SIGNED BY ASSISTANT SECRETARS OF STATE THRUSTON B. MORTON.

MEANWHILE, MCCARTHY DEMANDED THAT THE STATE DEPARTMENT CLARIFY HOW MANY EMPLOYES IT STILL RETAINS OF THE 90 HE ACCUSED OF BEING COMMUNISTS OR COMMUNIST SUPPORTERS IN 1950.

FROM THE STATE DEPARTMENT BREAKDOWN, MCCARTHY SAID IT IS APPARENT THAT MOST OF THE 90 ARE NO LONGER EMPLOYED AT THE STATE DEPARTMENT.
BUT MCCARTHY SAID THE STATE DEPARTMENT LEFT THE FATE OF 11 UNACCOUNTED FOR, AND APPARENTLY THEY ARE STILL WORKING AT THE STATE DEPARTMENT.

Johnston 'Tortured' Facts of Letter on Reds, McCarthy Says

By James Y. Newton

Senator McCarthy said last night that a senatorial colleague "twisted and distorted the facts" in reporting what the State Department said they had found out about 80 employes whose names were sent them five years ago by the Wisconsin Republican Senator Olin Johnston had said that the State Department wrote him that none of the 80 persons named by Senator Mc-Carth, was found to be a Communist or disloyal.

Senator McCarthy released the department's letter to Senator Johnston as he accused the South Carolinian of "torturing" the truth.

The Wisconsin Republican said that behind Senator Johnston's statement there appeared to be "an attempt to exhume" former Senator Tydings, Democrat, of Maryland, and "bring him back to life for the next campaign."

Probe Called "Whitewash."

Senator Tydings, who was chairman of the subcommittee that investigated in 1950 the McCarthy charge of communism in the State Department, was defeated for re-election later that year. The Tydings investigation, described by Senator McCarthy as a "whitewash." found there was nothing to the McCarthy charges.

McCarthy charges.
Shortly after Senator McCarthy released the department's letter to Senator Johnston, dated January 10, the department released other copies to reporters.

The letter listed what had happened to 69 of the 80 individuals whose names originally were turned over by Senator McCarthy to the Tydings subcommittee. It made no mention of 11 others, presumed still to be on department personnel roles.

Breakdown Given.

In the letter, Assistant Secretary Thruston B. Morton said that it was not up to the department to find whether any of the persons were (A) Communists or (B) disloyal to the United States.

The letter to Senator Johnston gave the following hreet-down.

Removed as security risks—2; removed for "suitability reasons" under personnel regulations—1; resigned during proceedings instituted against them under presidential security orders—3; resigned (other persons)—32; transferred to other agencies—10; termination of limited appointment—4; separated by reduction in force—8; retired—1; died—1 and never employed—7.

Charges Deception.

Saying that Senaior Johnston made a "completely deceptive statement." Senator McCaithy said that some of the 32 who had resigned were under investigation at the time. He added that the seven who were listed as "never employed" included Owen Lattimore, one-time State Department consultant under indictment on perjury charges, and William Remington, who was recently murdered in prison, where he was serving a term for perjury.

The Wisconsin Republican said that in addition to the original list of 80 names sent to Senator Tydings, he later sent two other lists totaling 35 names of other State Department employes.

The Senator said that he was aksing the department for additional information concerning what happened to the other 35 employes and also requesting the names of those on his three lists who are still employed.

He claimed that the State Department's letter confirmed the correctness of his charges in 1950. Senator McCarthy said that he had never accused the persons of being Communists or even necessarily of being disloyal. He said the names he gave the Tydings Committee were of those persons against whom he had evidence that they belonged to the party or Communist front groups. He said the evidence "all the way from extremely damaging to less damaging" and he presumed that some of them were not guilty of any Communist

For The Record, It's Still .000

SEN. OLIN D. JOHNSTON of South Carolina recently sent the State Department the names of some 80 persons said by Sen. Joe McCarthy in 1950 to be Communist employes of that department. Johnston asked what these persons' employment and security status was. Here is what he learned, from Assistant Secretary of State Thurston Morton, and announced this week:

Only 40 of the more than 80 were employed by the State Department in 1950.

seven had never been employed by Twelve are still working for it.

Ten have transfered to other agencies.

How many of the total were Communists? "Not one," said the Department spokesman, of the employes named by McCarthy in those charges was found to be "a Communist or disloyal to our government."

In other words, despite his more than 80 times at bat, and numerous fouls, the Wisconsin senator's batting average is still .000. The monicker "Triple O. Joe" still fits. As Sen. Johnston observed, this check of the records by a Republican administration "should clear up this matter for all time."

Five Years And 80 Investigations Later

At Wheeling, West Virginia in the year 1950 a relatively unknown freshman senator named McCarthy shocked the nation by announcing that he had a list of 205 card-carrying Communists in the Department of State. Later he changed this figure to 81, still later to 57, and after much debate, he finally handed to the old Tydings Committee of the Senate a list of 80. No matter what figure he used, the shock didn't grow less. One Communist in the Department of State, card-carrying or not, is one too many.

Five years have passed, McCarthy has become a national figure, all the people he named on his list have been subjected to fear, and anguish, and scorn, and endless investigation, and now it appears to be finally and definitely established that there were no Communists in the Department of State in 1950, and that none of the people McCarthy named were disloyal. The determination has been made by a Republican administration, acting through its assistant secretary of state, Thurston B. Morton.

Here are the facts as Mr. Morton has given them in his letter to Senator Olin D. Johnston (D) of South Carolina:

Of the 80 employees charged by McCarthy; four have been removed from office finding of Communism or disloyalty; one was removed for "unsuitability," a personnel action not connected with security; three resigned while their cases were being investigated but the investigation concluded with the finding that they were and Conmunists or disloyal; 32 resigned after investigation but for other reasons; ten are still working for the government in other agencies; four had limited appointments for which time has now expired; eight were separated from the Department wher it reduced its forces early in the new administration; one retired honorably; one is now dead; seven were never employed by the State Department, and the rest are still employed.

To give McCarthy his greatest due, it seems probable that the government might have been better off without some of the people McCarthy named as Communists. McCarthy adherants have always argued that they didn't mind his exaggerations so long as there was some truth in what he said. This argument has always seemed to us to be dangerous—would the same people teach a child to tell the truth part of the time?—but it is not pertinent anyhow.

The Republican administration has now revealed that there was no truth in what he said.

Saturder the security program but with no said.
