SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: In the Federal Register of May 24, 1995 (60 FR 27406), FDA published a notice announcing a public workshop on Human Tissue for Transplantation and Human Reproductive Tissue: Scientific and Regulatory Issues and Perspectives to be held on June 20 and 21, 1995, from 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., at the National Institutes of Health, Bldg. 45, Natcher Auditorium, 9000 Rockville Pike, Bethesda, MD. The purpose of the workshop is to provide an opportunity for continued discussion of FDA's interim rule on human tissue for transplantation published in the Federal Register of December 14, 1993 (58 FR 65514). The workshop will include discussions of other related issues, including possible regulation of reproductive tissue. The notice stated that one of the objectives of the public workshop is to provide an opportunity for discussion of current screening and testing practices for donors of human tissue for transplantation and human reproductive tissue.

The draft document, developed by a task force composed of FDA staff from CBER, is designed to focus discussion towards specific points on testing and screening donors of human tissue intended for transplantation. The document includes the following topics: Required donor testing, donor suitability and screening test performance, plasma dilution, testing algorithm, sources of information for donor screening, behavioral risk information, clinical evidence of human immunodeficiency virus and hepatitis, and suitable autopsy.

Copies of the draft document will be available at the workshop. A copy of the draft document will be placed on file with the Dockets Management Branch (address above) under the docket number found in brackets in the heading of this notice. To accommodate interested persons who do not attend the workshop, as well as those who will be attending the workshop, FDA is making the draft document available for public comment and will consider such comments in any future rulemaking and in the development of regulatory policies. Comments should be submitted to the Dockets Management Branch (address above) by July 20, 1995.

FDA does not intend this draft document to be all-inclusive. This document does not bind FDA and does not create or confer any rights, privileges, or benefits on or for any private person, but is intended merely for discussion.
