SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Regulatory History

Pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 553, a notice of proposed rulemaking was not published for this regulation and good cause exists for making it effective less than 30 days after Federal Register publication. Publishing a NPRM and delaying its effective date would be contrary to the public interest since immediate action is necessary to ensure the safety of structures and vessels operating in the area of the fireworks display. Due to the complex planning and coordination involved, the sponsor of the event, the Kennewick Chamber of Commerce, was unable to provide the Coast Guard with the final details for the show until 30 days prior to the event. Therefore, sufficient time was not available to publish a proposed rule in advance of the event or to provide a delayed effective date. Following normal rulemaking procedures, in this case, would be impracticable.
