LIBRARY OF CONGRESS

Copyright Office

[Docket No. RM 94-4A]

Cable Compulsory License: Specialty Station List

AGENCY: Copyright Office, Library of Congress.

ACTION: Notice of final specialty station list.

SUMMARY: The Copyright Office is publishing a new and final list of specialty stations that sent us affidavits claiming they meet specialty station requirements. A specialty station is a commercial broadcast television station that meets requirements set by the Federal Communications Commission under its former distant signal carriage rules at 47 CFR 76.5(kk)(1981). The Office will refer to the list to check broadcast station status when cable systems file semi-annual statements of account under 17 U.S.C. 111.

EFFECTIVE DATE: July 1, 1995.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Marilyn J. Kretsinger, Acting General Counsel, Copyright GC/I&R, P.O. Box 70400, Southwest Station, Washington, DC 20024. Telephone: (202) 707-8380. Fax: (202) 707-8366.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Under the cable compulsory license, section 111 of title 17, United States Code, carriage of a specialty station<sup>1</sup> by a cable operator allows the operator to pay copyright fees at a lower rate than the 3.75% rate that is usually incurred by an operator when it carries non-permitted signals. Specialty station status is determined by reference to former regulations of the Federal Communications Commission at 47 CFR 76.5(kk)(1981). The FCC no longer determines whether or not a station qualifies as a specialty station, however, the Copyright Office updates the specialty station list periodically, because the list remains relevant in connection with the filing of statements of account by cable operators.

The Office created its first specialty station list in 1990, and stated that it would compile new lists at approximately three year intervals. Early this year we published a request for affidavits from stations claiming current specialty station status. 60 FR 4639 (January 24, 1995). We extended the filing deadline from March 27, 1995, to April 24, 1995, in order to accommodate specialty station owners who had been unaware that we were updating the list. 60 FR 1826 (April 1995). On May 9, 1995, we published a list of stations whose affidavits we had received, and requested that any party objecting to any claim to specialty station status submit comments to the Office stating its objections. 60 FR 24659 (May 9, 1995). We received no comments or objections. The Office now publishes a final list of specialty stations, effective July 1, 1995, for the accounting period 1995/2 and thereafter. Copyright Office examiners will refer to this final specialty station list in examining cable systems' claims on their statements of account that particular broadcast stations they carry are specialty stations. Although the Office does not officially place stations filing affidavits after the closing date on the specialty station list, we will accept these affidavits without objection. These late claims will be placed in the public file in the Licensing Division for reference purposes. If a cable system claims specialty station status for a station not on this list, the examiner will determine whether the station has filed an affidavit since the closing date for submitting claims (April 24, 1995).
