published a Notice of Proposed Rulemaking revising 31 CFR part 209 (57 FR 57400). That notice invited comments for a 30 day period ending January 4, 1993. No comments were received. A review of part 209 conducted independently of the formal notice and comment procedure determined that an additional revision to the language of part 209, not included in the December 4, 1992, notice, was necessary. Thus a Supplemental Proposed Rule was published on August 4, 1993 (58 FR 41449). That notice invited comments for a 30 day period ending September 3, 1993. No comments were received.

Since then, other actions have occurred which make 31 CFR part 209 obsolete. First, regulations implemented July 1, 1994, require that financial institutions receive Government ACH transactions through electronic means. (58 FR 21634). This regulatory change to 31 CFR part 210 made a separate part 209 regarding checks unnecessary. Second, revisions have been proposed for 31 CFR part 210, which define the responsibilities and liabilities of the Federal Government, Federal Reserve Banks, financial institutions, receivers, and originators doing business with the Government through the ACH system (59 FR 50112). The 3 revisions proposed for part 210 supersede the savings allotment provisions of part 209 because savings allotment and recurring benefit payments formerly made under the terms of part 209 are made by the ACH method under the terms of part 210.

Rulemaking Analysis

Treasury has determined that this regulation is not a significant regulatory action as defined in Executive Order 12866. Accordingly, a regulatory assessment is not required. It is hereby certified that this revision will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. Accordingly, a regulatory flexibility analysis is not required. The included changes are expected to result in improvements to the ACH process with advantages to institutions and recipients.

The rule does not:
