Statutory Authority

The National Wildlife Refuge System Administration Act of 1966, as amended (NWRSA) (16 U.S.C. 668dd), and the Refuge Recreation Act of 1962 (RRA) (16 U.S.C. 460k) govern the administration and public use of national wildlife refuges. Specifically, Section 4(d)(1)(A) of the NWRSA authorizes the Secretary to permit the use of any areas within the National Wildlife Refuge System (Refuge System) for any purpose, including but not limited to hunting, fishing, public recreation and accommodations, and access, when he determines that such uses are compatible with the purposes for which each refuge was established. The Director administers the Refuge System on behalf of the Secretary. The RRA gives the Secretary additional authority to administer refuge areas within the Refuge System for public recreation as an appropriate incidental or secondary use only to the extent that it is practicable and not inconsistent with the primary purposes for which the refuges were established.

Opening Package

In preparation for this opening, the refuge unit has included in its "openings package" for Regional review and approval from the Washington Office the following documents: a management plan for recreational fishing; an environmental assessment; a Finding of No Significant Impact (FONSI); a Section 7 statement, pursuant to the Endangered Species Act, that this opening is not likely to adversely affect a listed species or its critical habitat; and refuge-specific regulations to administer the fishing program. From a review of the totality of these documents, the Service has determined that the opening of the Ohio River Islands National Wildlife Refuge to sport fishing is compatible with the principles of sound wildlife management and will otherwise be in the public interest.

In accordance with the NWRSA and the RRA, the Service has also determined that this opening for sport fishing is compatible and consistent with the primary purposes for which the refuge was established. A brief description of the fishing program is as follows:

Ohio River Islands National Wildlife Refuge

Established in 1990, the Ohio River Islands National Wildlife Refuge is located on the Ohio River from Shippingport, Pennsylvania to Manchester, Ohio. There are currently eighteen islands in the refuge totaling 1,020 acres. Through ongoing acquisition efforts, the refuge has the potential to include all, or portion of, 38 islands located along 362 river miles encompassing up to 3,500 acres of wildlife habitat.

The Ohio River islands and their back channels are recognized for high quality fish and wildlife, recreation, scientific, and natural heritage values. These areas provide some of the regions' highest quality riverine, wetland, and bottomland habitats, and are used by waterfowl, shorebirds, songbirds, warmwater fish, and freshwater mussels.

The Ohio River Islands National Wildlife Refuge was established under the authority of the Fish and Wildlife Act of 1956 (16 U.S.C. 742a-742j). The refuge's primary purposes is "* * * for the development, advancement, management, conservation, and protection of fish and wildlife resources", and "for the benefit of the United States Fish and Wildlife Service, in performing its activities and services." The objectives of the sport fishing program are (1) to provide for the wise use of renewable natural resources, (2) provide an opportunity for sport fishing and minimal interference from other anglers and freedom to participate in a natural setting, and (3) provide sport fishing opportunity when
