

and foreign activities of U.S. banking organizations, including those of national banks, state member banks, Edge and agreement corporations, and bank holding companies. Pursuant to these statutory provisions, the Board adopted various regulatory provisions, all of which were consolidated in the Board's Regulation K, setting forth the procedures for making investments and engaging in activities under these statutes. Investments made under these procedures are reported on the FR 2064 whenever the reporting criteria are met. The FR 2064 report is filed no later than the last day of the month following the month in which the reportable investment occurred.

Under the proposed revisions, the FR 2064 would be enlarged from eight to thirteen items and portions of four existing items would be expanded. The reporting threshold for material investments would be increased from $100,000 to $1 million and the basis of the threshold would change from the historical cost of the reporter's investment in the investee to the total cost. Other proposed changes would request information on investments made by U.S. and foreign banking organizations in Edge and agreement corporations and export trading companies and on substantive changes in the activities of a company in which an investment has been made. In addition, reports would be required when the activity of the investee changes and when there is a change in the percentage of the investee's voting rights held by its direct parent or in the percentage of the investee's equity held by the reporting organization. In addition, minor clarifying changes would be made to the report and instructions. The proposed revisions will enable the Federal Reserve to more fully and accurately monitor compliance with the Federal Reserve Act, the Bank Holding Company Act, and the relevant sections of Regulation K. The net effect of the proposed revisions to the FR 2064 on reporting burden will be to increase the annual burden for this report by 450 hours, or 60 percent. The revised FR 2064 report and instructions would be implemented as of March 31, 1996.

Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, December 22, 1995.

Jennifer J. Johnson,

Deputy Secretary of the Board.
