INTERNATIONAL HEADLINES: The war in Vietnam escalates with over 100,000 U.S. troops and an intensive bombing campaign. The first significant campus protests against the war begin. U.S. Marines are sent to the Dominican Republic to prevent an allegedly imminent leftist takeover.

NATIONAL HEADLINES: After two months of nationally-watched civil rights demonstrations in Selma, Alabama, President Johnson wins congressional approval of the historic Voting Rights Act, which will make blacks a major political force in the South. Black nationalist leader Malcolm X is shot to death in New York. The Medicare program for senior citizens' medical assistance and federal aid to education become law. It is a big year for the U.S. space program with the first spacewalk and the first rendezvous of spacecraft. A power failure in a Toronto plant, the biggest outage in history, blacks out 80,000 square miles from southeastern Canada to Boston.

FADS AND FASHION: The ultra-resilient Super Ball is the biggest toy fad since the Hula Hoop. Skateboarding is in the midst of its first wave of national popularity.

SPORTS: Sandy Koufax leads the Los Angeles Dodgers to World Series victory over the Minnesota Twins. The great Willie Mays hits 52 home runs. It is the Green Bay Packers over the the Cleveland Browns for the NFL championship; a year later, Cleveland's Jim Brown will retire at the peak of his remarkable career to go into movies. Australia's Ken Rosewall and Rod Laver dominate professional tennis.

MOVIES: Foreign settings provide big profits for box-office moneymakers The Sound Of Music (starring Julie Andrews), Doctor Zhivago, Thunderball, and Those Magnificent Men In Their Flying Machines.

TELEVISION: Bonanza remains the most popular series, followed by Gomer Pyle, U.S.M.C., The Lucy Show, The Red Skelton Hour, and The Andy Griffith Show. The success of the James Bond movies inspires two successful series, Get Smart and The Man From U.N.C.L.E.

THEATER: Neil Simon's The Odd Couple is Broadway's hottest comedy.

BOOKS: Ralph Nader's Unsafe At Any Speed launches a broad new consumer movement.
