

1967

INTERNATIONAL HEADLINES: Israel defeats Arab forces in a six-day war which ends with Israeli occupation of the Sinai Peninsula and other key territories. U.S. troops in Vietnam approach 500,000, exceeding the Korean War at its peak. Domestic antiwar protests continue to grow, climaxed by a march on the Pentagon in October. Montreal's Expo '67 is one of the most successful world's fairs ever.

NATIONAL HEADLINES: What begins as the counterculture summer of love ends as the long hot summer of racial violence in Detroit and other U.S. cities. Three U.S. astronauts — Gus Grissom, Edward White and Roger Chaffee — die when their Apollo spacecraft burns in a simulated launch. Thurgood Marshall becomes the first black U.S. Supreme Court Justice.

FADS AND FASHION: Posters — ranging from pop art, humor and movie stars to political protest — burst into national popularity.

SPORTS: The Green Bay Packers defeat the Kansas City Chiefs in the first Super Bowl between the champions of the NFL and AFL. Carl Yastrzemski leads the Boston Red Sox to victory in one of baseball's greatest pennant races, but Boston falls to the St. Louis Cardinals in the World Series. Wilt Chamberlain and the Philadelphia 76ers compile the NBA's best-ever record en route to their first championship. John Wooden's UCLA Bruins win the first of an amazing seven consecutive national college basketball championships, led by Lew Alcindor (later known as Kareem Abdul-Jabbar). O.J. Simpson helps carry the University of Southern California to the unofficial national college football title. American Jim Ryan establishes a record for the mile run which will stand for eight years.

MOVIES: Bonnie And Clyde (starring Warren Beatty and Faye Dunaway) is the year's most-discussed film. Other top moneymakers include The Graduate, The Jungle Book, Guess Who's Coming To Dinner, and The Dirty Dozen. The top Oscar winner is In The Heat Of The Night (starring Rod Steiger and Sidney Poitier).

TELEVISION: The most popular shows include The Andy Griffith Show, The Lucy Show, Gomer Pyle, U.S.M.C., Gunsmoke, and Family Affair. Bill Cosby is a three-time Emmy Award winner opposite Robert Culp in I Spy.

THEATER: Cabaret is the year's top musical. The hit musical You're A Good Man, Charlie Brown reflects the popularity of Charles Schultz' comic strip characters.

BOOKS: The Confessions Of Nat Turner by William Styron will earn the Pulitzer Prize for fiction.
