Dear colleagues,

Our colleagues attending the ISS/Prague conference yesterday met the Turkish delegation and asked them the right questions about what we discussed yesterday.

The result: no cooperation at all. They categorically deny any involvement in the case. I told our people to insist and to explain them that such media exposures are not beneficial for anybody. Again, total denial.

I am sure that we will not get any help from them.

So we have scheduled a meeting in Milan next week in order to decide what do to with this client. All the options are on the table, that is, we could well decide to stop supporting them.

I will keep you informed.

Regards,

David
