

Belize

Lord Ashcroft grew up in Belize after his father had been posted there by the Foreign Office. In 1982 he revisited the country and fell in love with its people and culture for a second time. Lord Ashcroft is now a major investor in Belize. He also funds educational charitable projects in Belize and neighbouring islands. Between 1998 – 2000 he was the Belizean Ambassador to the United Nations. He was nominated for his knighthood by the Belizean government.
