Particular contracts construed.—A contract relating to local freight business "from and to Newark and Columbus, with stations on the line of said road between those points," does not include the carriage of freights from one intermediate station to another such station. Baltimore, etc., R. Co. v. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co., 55 Fed. 701. Where three railroad companies, one owning a road from A to B and the others roads from B to C, having through traffic arrangements, jointly contracted with a person for the exclusive use of his sleeping cars on their roads, to be run "over the line of said roads" between A and C, and "in connection with the night passenger express through trains between said cities," the contract is not violated by the use of other sleeping cars in trains between B and C which do not also pass over the portion of the road between A and B. Stanley v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co., 18 Ohio St. 552. Where several parties agree to contribute to the cost of operating and maintaining a railroad in proportion to the number of cars shipped over it by each, one is not entitled to claim any reduction in the amount of his contribution on the ground that the cars used by another were of greater capacity. Alleghany Lumber Co. v. Hoyt, 77 Hun (N. Y.) 607, 28 N. Y. Suppl. 182. Where an agreement whereby a railroad company constructs a switch for the joint use of itself and a mining company expressly excepts a certain portion from the use of the mining company, the latter acquires no right to use such excepted portion by a mere permissive use thereof for a time or by the fact that the railroad company built the switch without legislative authority. Coe v. New Jersey Midland R. Co., 28 N. J. Eq. 100 [affirmed in 28 N. J. Eq. 593]. A contract by which one railroad company grants the use of its tracks to another for "all the trains required in the prosecution of its business" gives the latter no right to license other companies in the prosecution of their separate business to run trains over the track without the consent of the former. Dayton, etc., R. Co. v. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co., 25 Ohio Cir. Ct. 705 [affirmed in 67 Ohio St. 523, 67 N. E. 1100]. In a contract between two railroad companies requiring one of them in case flagmen or switchmen were required at a crossing to "pay the entire cost of such flagmen or switchmen" and also "the entire cost and expense of constructing and maintaining all watch houses, signal stations, signals, and other similar appliances that may be now or at any time hereafter required," the term "other similar appliances" does not include an interlocking system at the crossing. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 113 Wis. 161, 87 N. W. 1085, 89 N. W. 180. Where a contract by which one railroad company is to use a part of the track of another, provides that the maintenance of the track shall be charged to the joint account, losses from injuries to employees engaged in the work of maintenance are a part of the cost of the maintenance and chargeable under the contract to the joint account. Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Chesapeake, etc., R. Co., 107 Ky. 191, 53 S. W. 277, 21 Ky. L. Rep. 875.

16. Jacksonville, etc., R. Co. v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 150 Ill. 480, 37 N. E. 924 [affirming 47 Ill. App. 414]; Chicago, etc., under which it was signed,[17] and the conditions then existing.[18] If, however, there is no ambiguity in the language of the contract the court cannot put upon it any construction other than what the words signify,[19] and terms having a particular significance in the usage of persons operating railroads will be given that meaning in construing traffic contracts.[20] Where the contract is fairly and reasonably open to two constructions, one making it legal and the other illegal, the former will be adopted;[21] and where the contract is in any degree in restraint of competition it will be strictly construed and not extended in its application beyond its express provisions,[22] nor will a contract be so construed as to militate against the convenience and comfort of the traveling public if it can fairly be construed otherwise.[23] The practical construction given to the contract by the parties is a material factor in determining its meaning,[24] and where the parties by their acts and declarations have put a practical construction upon the agree-

R. Co. v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 113 Wis. 161, 87 N. W. 1085, 89 N. W. 180.

17. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 113 Wis. 161, 87 N. W. 1085, 89 N. W. 180; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Denver, etc., R. Co., 143 U. S. 596, 12 S. Ct. 479, 36 L. ed. 277 [affirming 45 Fed. 304]; Llanelly R., etc., Co. v. London, etc., R. Co., L. R. 7 H. L. 550, 45 L. J. Ch. 539, 32 L. T. Rep. N. S. 575, 23 Wkly. Rep. 927.

Application of rule.— Where a railroad company was entitled to the use of the terminal facilities of a depot company upon purchase of a certain number of shares of stock of the latter, and tendered the par value which was refused by the depot company, which demanded the market value thereof, a suit was instituted to determine this question. Pending this litigation the companies entered into a contract to remain in force until the question was settled by litigation or agreement by which the railroad company was to use the terminal facilities at a certain monthly rental, which agreement was to be "without prejudice" to the rights in litigation "or otherwise." Litigation as to the price of the stock being determined in favor of the railroad company it was held that the term "without prejudice" could not under the circumstances be construed as applying only to proceedings in the suit pending, and that the railroad company was entitled to have the amount paid in as rental applied as a part payment upon the amount due from it for the stock of the depot company. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. St. Paul Union Depot Co., 54 Minn. 411, 56 N. W. 129.

18. Wiggins Ferry Co. v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 73 Mo. 389, 39 Am. Rep. 519.

Where a contract between a bridge company and certain railroad companies provides that the railroad companies shall pay the cost of maintenance and all necessary repair, and many years afterward owing to an increase of water traffic and regulations of the War Department it becomes necessary to put in a new draw span and fender piers, which would not have been required by any conditions existing or in contemplation of the parties at the time of the contract, the railroad companies are not liable for the cost of such improvements under the contract. Pittsburg, etc., R. Co. v. Dodd, 115 Ky. 176, 72 S. W. 822, 24 Ky. L. Rep. 2057, 74 S. W. 1096, 25 Ky. L. Rep. 255.

19. Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Louisville St. R. Co., 100 Ky. 690, 39 S. W. 42, 19 Ky. L. Rep. 11.

20. Jacksonville, etc., R. Co. v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 150 Ill. 480, 37 N. E. 924 [affirming 47 Ill. App. 414], holding that the term "terminal facilities" in railroad usage does not include tracks other than those used in making up trains, and that a switch service performed by one company for another over tracks leading to the works of a car manufacturing company, not the property of the company performing such services, is not included in its grant of terminal facilities.

21. Wiggins Ferry Co. v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 128 Mo. 224, 27 S. W. 568, 30 S. W. 430 (holding that a contract by a railroad company giving a particular ferry the exclusive handling of its traffic across a river at a particular place will be construed as applying only to rival ferries and will not prevent the railroad company from using a bridge subsequently built, which affords a quicker and more convenient mode of crossing the stream with its freight and passengers); Morris, etc., R. Co. v. Sussex R. Co., 20 N. J. Eq. 542 [reversing 19 N. J. Eq. 13] (holding that a provision in a traffic contract making it applicable to "any future extensions or branches" of the roads will be considered as applying only to such extensions or branches as were authorized to be constructed at the time of the contract); Delaware, etc., R. Co. v. Kutter, 147 Fed. 51, 77 C. C. A. 315.

22. Wiggins Ferry Co. v. Ohio, etc., R. Co., 72 Ill. 360; Wiggins Ferry Co. v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 128 Mo. 224, 27 S. W. 568, 30 S. W. 430.

23. Stanley v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co., 18 Ohio St. 552; Central Trust Co. v. Wabash, etc., R. Co., 29 Fed. 546.

24. St. Joseph Union Depot Co. v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 131 Mo. 291, 31 S. W. 908; Delaware, etc., R. Co. v. Kutter, 147 Fed. 51, 77 C. C. A. 315; Columbus, etc., R. Co. v. Pennsylvania R. Co., 143 Fed. 757, 74 C. C. A. 647.

ment existing between them, the courts will ordinarily adopt and enforce such construction.[25]

4. Assignment of Contract. An agreement between two railroad companies, conferring on each the right to run its cars over the tracks of the other, each retaining the absolute control over its road for all other purposes, confers no interest which can be assigned or leased;[26] but the contract may expressly provide for an assignment of the rights acquired thereunder,[27] and one company may succeed to the rights and liabilities of another under a contract made expressly on behalf of the company "its successors and assigns," [28] or which provides that it shall be binding upon the lessees, assigns, grantees, or successors of each company.[29] An exception in the contract with respect to the rights granted is as binding upon its representatives and assigns as upon the original company.[30]

5. Termination or Modification. A traffic or other operating contract between railroad companies cannot be altered or modified arbitrarily by either party but only by the concurrence of both,[31] and if the contract is fixed by its terms to continue for a certain period it cannot be revoked by either party on notice.[32] A contract may of course be terminated by either party at any time if it contains an express stipulation to that effect; [33] and it has been held that a contract between two railroad companies for trackage, depot, or terminal facilities, containing no provision as to how long it is to remain in force, may be rescinded by either party at any time upon reasonable notice; [34] and where the legislature under a right reserved in the charter of a railroad permits another company to connect with and enter upon and use its tracks for a fixed compensation, such right when acted upon does not constitute a perpetual contract between the companies, and it is competent for the company using the tracks of the other to withdraw from such use and by legislative authority form connections with other roads.[35] Where the same companies at different dates enter into traffic contracts with regard to their respective roads, if it appears that it was not the intention of the parties that the second contract should annul or alter the first, the failure of one of the companies to comply with the second contract will not affect its rights under the terms of the first.[36]

25. Pittsburg, etc., R. Co. v. Dodd, 115 Ky. 176, 72 S. W. 822, 24 Ky. L. Rep. 2057, 74 S. W. 1096, 25 Ky. L. Rep. 255; Hartford, etc., R. Co. v. New York, etc., R. Co., 3 Rob. (N. Y.) 411; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Northern Pac. R. Co., 101 Fed. 792, 42 C. C. A. 25; St. Joseph Union Depot Co. v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 89 Fed. 648, 32 C. C. A. 284.

26. Brooklyn Crosstown R. Co. v. Brooklyn City R. Co., 51 Hun (N. Y.) 600, 3 N. Y. Suppl. 901.

27. Wiggins Ferry Co. v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 73 Mo. 389, 39 Am. Rep. 519; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Denver, etc., R. Co., 46 Fed. 145.

28. Jacksonville, etc., R. Co. v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 150 Ill. 480, 37 N. E. 924 [affirming 47 Ill. App. 414].

29. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Denver, etc., R. Co., 46 Fed. 145.

30. Coe v. New Jersey Midland R. Co., 28 N. J. Eq. 100 [affirmed in 28 N. J. Eq. 593].

31. Philadelphia, etc., R. Co. v. River Front R. Co., 168 Pa. St. 357, 31 Atl. 1098.

32. Cumberland Valley R. Co. v. Gettysburg, etc., R. Co., 177 Pa. St. 519, 35 Atl. 952.

33. Queen City Coal Co. v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 44 S. W. 103, 19 Ky. L. Rep. 1628.

Where a contract between a railroad company and a bridge company provides that it may be terminated by either party upon a certain notice, such a notice given by the railroad company and acted on by both parties terminates the contract, although the railroad company continues to use the bridge. Pittsburg, etc., R. Co. v. Dodd, 115 Ky. 176, 72 S. W. 822, 24 Ky. L. Rep. 2057, 74 S. W. 1096, 25 Ky. L. Rep. 255.

34. Chattanooga, etc., R. Co. v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 44 Fed. 456. But see Llanelly R., etc., Co. v. London, etc., & N. W. R. Co., L. R. 7 H. L. 550, 45 L. J. Ch. 539, 32 L. T. Rep. N. S. 575, 23 Wkly. Rep. 927.

If the companies cannot readjust their relations after the withdrawal of one from an existing contract, the courts will make such ad interim orders as may be necessary to protect the rights of the parties and secure the preservation and operation of the road. Philadelphia, etc., R. Co. v. River Front R. Co., 168 Pa. St. 357, 31 Atl. 1098.

35. Boston, etc., R. Co. v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 5 Cush. (Mass.) 375.

36. Bartlette v. Norwich, etc., R. Co., 33 Conn. 560, holding that where several railroad companies agreed that one of them should build and operate a connecting road and the others contribute a certain propor-

6. Rights, Liabilities, and Remedies.[37] A court of equity will enjoin the execution of a contract by which one railroad company without legislative authority seeks to turn over its road to another company,[38] or unlawfully seeks to acquire the control of a parallel or competing line;[39] and where the road of one company, under the disguise of a traffic contract, has been illegally turned over to another the stock-holders who did not consent thereto may maintain a bill in equity to enjoin a further operation under the contract and for an accounting and the appointment of a receiver.[40] Where the contract is valid the general rules in regard to contracts apply, and the party entitled may sue for and recover the amount due according to the terms of the contract,[41] or the damages sustained by reason of the breach thereof.[42] Courts of equity also have jurisdiction to decree the specific performance of such contracts,[43] and such relief will be granted where an action at law would be inadequate and the contract is capable of specific performance and is not inequitable or contrary to public policy,[44] particularly where its specific performance would be to the interest of the public.[45] Where one railroad company has a contract right to use a portion of the track of another as a part of its line, and such right is afterward denied, the company owning the track will be enjoined from interfering with such use;[46] but injunctive relief against the violation of contracts will not ordinarily be granted where there is a doubt as to the legality of the contract,[47] or plaintiff's right is doubtful or an action at law or in equity prosecuted in the ordinary manner will afford adequate redress.[48] A railroad company in permitting another to use a portion of its tracks is performing the duty of a common carrier in supplying an instrumentality of transportation and may charge only what is a reasonable sum for such use,[49] and a special charter privilege as to rates chargeable by a railroad company does not so inhere in the road as to pass to another company which subsequently acquires the right to operate it.[50] Where a railroad company contracts to allow another to use its right of way upon such terms and for such compensation as may be agreed upon by the companies, and subsequently denies the right to such use upon any terms, tion of the expenses, the earnings of the road to be paid to a trustee for distribution among the companies until their contributions were repaid, and subsequently the same companies agreed that a certain number of express trains should be run over their roads daily, the failure of one of the companies to carry out the contract regarding the express trains on account of its insolvency did not affect the duty of the operating company to apply the net earnings to the repayment of the construction expenses as provided by the first contract.

37. Liability for injuries incident to operation of road see infra, X, C, 5, 6, 7, 10.

38. Winch v. Birkenhead, etc., R. Co., 5 De G. & Sm. 562, 16 Jur. 1035, 64 Eng. Reprint 1243.

39. Pennsylvania R. Co. v. Com., 2 Pa. Cas. 83, 7 Atl. 374 [affirming 1 Pa. Co. Ct. 223].

40. Earle v. Seattle, etc., R. Co., 56 Fed. 909.

41. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co. v. Keokuk, etc., Bridge Co., 131 U. S. 371, 9 S. Ct. 770, 33 L. ed. 157; Green Bay, etc., R. Co. v. Union Steam-Boat Co., 107 U. S. 98, 2 S. Ct. 221, 27 L. ed. 413.

42. Graham v. Macon, etc., R. Co., 120 Ga. 757, 49 S. E. 75; Norfolk, etc., R. Co. v. Shippers' Compress Co., 83 Va. 272, 2 S. E. 139.

43. Union Pac. R. Co. v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 163 U. S. 564, 16 S. Ct. 1173, 41 L. ed. 265 [affirming 51 Fed. 309, 2 C. C. A. 174 (affirming 47 Fed. 15)].

44. Cumberland Valley R. Co. v. Gettysburg, etc., R. Co., 177 Pa. St. 519, 35 Atl. 952; Union Pac. R. Co. v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 163 U. S. 564, 16 S. Ct. 1173, 41 L. ed. 265 [affirming 51 Fed. 309, 2 C. C. A. 174 (affirming 47 Fed. 15)]; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Union Pac. R. Co., 74 Fed. 989; Central Trust Co. v. Wabash, etc., R. Co., 29 Fed. 546; Wolverhampton, etc., R. Co. v. London, etc., R. Co., L. R. 16 Eq. 433, 43 L. J. Ch. 131.

45. Central Trust Co. v. Wabash, etc., R. Co., 29 Fed. 546.

46. Lathrop v. Junction R. Co., 4 Fed. 41; Great Northern R. Co. v. Manchester, etc., R. Co., 5 De G. & Sm. 138, 16 Jur. 146, 64 Eng. Reprint 1053.

47. South Yorkshire R. Co. v. Great Northern R. Co., 3 De G. M. & G. 576, 22 L. J. Ch. 761, 1 Wkly. Rep. 203, 52 Eng. Ch. 203, 43 Eng. Reprint 226.

48. Baltimore, etc., R. Co. v. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co., 1 Ohio Cir. Ct. 100, 1 Ohio Cir. Dec. 60. See also Shrewsbury, etc., R. Co. v. Stour Valley R. Co., 2 De G. M. & G. 866, 51 Eng. Ch. 677, 42 Eng. Reprint 1111.

49. Toledo, etc., R. Co. v. Michigan Cent. R. Co., 5 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 147, 7 Ohio N. P. 376.

50. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co. v. Moore, 33 Ohio St. 384, 31 Am. Rep. 543.

so that a resort to the court is necessary to enforce the right, the court will determine the whole case and settle both the right and the compensation;[51] but in an action by a railroad company to recover for the use of its tracks and terminal facilities, where there is no definite agreement as to the amount to be paid, the amount paid to it for a similar use by other roads, which in fact own all of its stock, affords no test of what is reasonable as between it and another company having no such connection with it.[52] Where the contract between a bridge company and several railroad companies provides that they shall be charged upon an equal basis and that the charges shall be limited to such rates as will produce a certain sum, if the bridge company charges a higher rate the surplus illegally accumulated may be recovered by the railroad companies in the same proportion in which it was paid.[53] Where several railroad companies having termini in a certain city agree to connect their roads and organize a separate company for this purpose, the fact that one of them constructs a portion of the connecting line upon its own land at its own expense makes it the legal owner of that portion,[54] but does not give it any right to prohibit its use by the other companies as a part of the continuous line.[55] A railroad company by giving another company the right to use its tracks does not obligate itself to put the track in repair or make any change in its existing state,[56] and the mere fact that one railroad company is operating a road constructed by another does not establish an assumption by it of an obligation incurred by the latter in the construction of its road;[57] but a company having the control and operation of a railroad will be equally liable with the owner thereof for the continuance of a nuisance growing out of the manner of its construction.[58]

E. Consolidation — 1. Definition and Nature. A consolidation has been defined as being a merger, a union, or amalgamation, by which the stock of the two corporations is made one, by which their property and franchises are combined into one, by which their powers become the powers of one, by which their names are merged into one, and by which the identity of the two practically, if not actually, runs into one.[59] The term "amalgamation" is used in England and in Canada,[60]

51. Central Trust Co. v. Wabash, etc., R. Co., 29 Fed. 546.

52. Peoria, etc., R. Co. v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 127 U. S. 200, 8 S. Ct. 1125, 32 L. ed. 110 [affirming 18 Fed. 484].

53. Louisville Bridge Co. v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 106 Ky. 674, 51 S. W. 185, 21 Ky. L. Rep. 271.

54. Pennsylvania R. Co.'s Appeal, 80 Pa. St. 265.

55. Lathrop v. Junction R. Co., 4 Fed. 41, 14 Fed. Cas. No. 8,110, 9 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 277.

56. Murch v. Concord R. Corp., 29 N. H. 9, 61 Am. Dec. 631.

57. Sheridan v. Atchison, etc., R. Co., 56 Mo. App. 68, where the obligation was to construct a farm crossing.

58. Tate v. Missouri, etc., R. Co., 64 Mo. 149.

59. State v. Montana R. Co., 21 Mont. 221, 242, 53 Pac. 623, 45 L. R. A. 271.

Other definitions are: "When the rights, franchises, and effects of two or more corporations, are, by legal authority and agreement of the parties, combined and united into one whole, and committed to a single corporation, the stock-holders of which are composed of those (so far as they choose to become such) of the companies thus agreeing, this is in law, and according to common understanding, a consolidation of such companies; whether such single corporation, called the consolidated company, be a new one then created, or one of the original companies, continuing in existence with only larger rights, capacities and property." Meyer v. Johnston, 64 Ala. 603, 656. "The consolidation of two or more railroad corporations is the permanent union in their interests, management, and control, either in the formation of a new company out of the consolidated ones, or else by a consolidated management of the old ones unitedly, whilst their distinct corporate entities still remain." Rorer Railroads 588 [quoted in State v. Montana R. Co., 21 Mont. 221, 240, 53 Pac. 623, 45 L. R. A. 271].

60. Eastern Union R. Co. v. Cochrane, 2 C. L. R. 292, 9 Exch. 197, 17 Jur. 1103, 23 L. J. Exch. 61, 7 R. & Can. Cas. 792, 2 Wkly. Rep. 43; Charlton v. Newcastle, etc., R. Co., 5 Jur. N. S. 1096, 7 Wkly. Rep. 731; Yool v. Great Western R. Co., 39 L. J. Ch. 562, 22 L. T. Rep. N. S. 781, 18 Wkly. Rep. 825; Bruff v. Cobbold, 30 L. T. Rep. N. S. 597; Fargey v. Grand Junction R. Co., 4 Ont. 232.

"The term 'amalgamation,' as pointed out by Wood, V. C., in In re Empire Assur. Corp., L. R. 4 Eq. 341, 36 L. J. Ch. 663, 16 L. T. Rep. N. S. 345, 15 Wkly. Rep. 889,

but in this country is not in general use or favorably regarded.[61] The term "consolidation" properly applies to a corporate union,[62] as distinguished from a physical union or connection of the tracks,[63] or business agreement affecting the ownership, operation, use, or control of the roads,[64] and is clearly distinguishable from a purchase by one company of the road of another,[65] lease,[66] traffic agreement,[67] agreement to consolidate at a future date,[68] or the acquisition by one company of stock in another.[69] It has been held that the term "consolidation" may properly be applied to a corporate union effected either by the termination or dissolution of the constituent companies and the creation of a new and distinct company or by the merger of one or more companies into another existing company under the name of the latter which continues in existence but with larger rights and property,[70] while in other cases it has been held that a union of the latter character should be termed a merger instead of a consolidation.[71]

2. Right to Consolidate — a. In General. In the absence of legislative authority, two railroad companies have no power to consolidate,[72] and such authority must be clearly given and cannot be implied from any uncertain or doubtful language in regard to the powers conferred upon such companies,[73] and must also be conferred upon each of the companies entering into the con-has no definite and positive signification. It is employed to denote loosely various operations in themselves widely different, which more or less completely work a transfer of corporate affairs from one corporation to another, and a merger of the former body into the latter." Fargey v. Grand Junction R. Co., 4 Ont. 232, 243.

61. Meyer v. Johnston, 64 Ala. 603; State v. Montana R. Co., 21 Mont. 221, 53 Pac. 623, 45 L. R. A. 271.

62. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Ashling, 160 Ill. 373, 43 N. E. 373 [affirming 56 Ill. App. 327]; Pingree v. Michigan Cent. R. Co., 118 Mich. 314, 76 N. W. 635, 53 L. R. A. 274; State v. Montana R. Co., 21 Mont. 221, 53 Pac. 623, 45 L. R. A. 271.

63. Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Kentucky, 161 U. S. 677, 16 S. Ct. 714, 40 L. ed. 849.

64. Pingree v. Michigan Cent. R. Co., 118 Mich. 314, 76 N. W. 635, 53 L. R. A. 274; Morrill v. Smith County, 89 Tex. 529, 36 S. W. 56.

65. Hawkins v. Georgia Cent. R. Co., 119 Ga. 159, 46 S. E. 82; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Ashling, 160 Ill. 373, 43 N. E. 373 [affirming 56 Ill. App. 327]; Elkins v. Camden, etc., R. Co., 36 N. J. Eq. 5; Mackintosh v. Flint, etc., R. Co., 34 Fed. 582.

66. State v. Montana R. Co., 21 Mont. 221, 53 Pac. 623, 45 L. R. A. 271; Mills v. Central R. Co., 41 N. J. Eq. 1, 2 Atl. 453; Gere v. New York Cent., etc., R. Co., 19 Abb. N. Cas. (N. Y.) 193; Missouri Pac. R. Co. v. Owens, 1 Tex. App. Civ. Cas. § 384.

67. Pingree v. Michigan Cent. R. Co., 118 Mich. 314, 76 N. W. 635, 53 L. R. A. 274; Morrill v. Smith County, 89 Tex. 529, 36 S. W. 56.

68. Shrewsbury, etc., R. Co. v. Stour Valley R. Co., 2 De G. M. & G. 866, 51 Eng. Ch. 677, 42 Eng. Reprint 1111.

69. Elkins v. Camden, etc., R. Co., 36 N. J. Eq. 5. Compare Williamson v. New Jersey Southern R. Co., 26 N. J. Eq. 398.

70. Meyer v. Johnston, 64 Ala. 603; State v. Montana R. Co., 21 Mont. 221, 53 Pac. 623, 45 L. R. A. 271. But see Powell v. North Missouri R. Co., 42 Mo. 63.

71. Lee v. Atlantic Coast Line R. Co., 150 Fed. 775. See also Atlantic, etc., R. Co. v. Georgia, 98 U. S. 359, 25 L. ed. 185; Tomlinson v. Branch, 15 Wall. (U. S.) 460, 21 L. ed. 189.

There is a distinct difference between a consolidation and a merger of two railroad companies. In a consolidation both go out of existence as separate corporations and a new corporation is created which takes their place and property, while in the case of a merger one loses its identity by absorption in the other, which remains in existence and succeeds to its property and issues its own stock to the stock-holders of the merged company. Lee v. Atlantic Coast Line R. Co., 150 Fed. 775.

72. American L. & T. Co. v. Minnesota, etc., R. Co., 157 Ill. 641, 42 N. E. 153; Morrill v. Smith County, 89 Tex. 529, 36 S. W. 56 [reversing (Civ. App. 1895) 33 S. W. 899]; Missouri Pac. R. Co. v. Owens, 1 Tex. App. Civ. Cas. § 384; Pearce v. Madison, etc., R. Co., 21 How. (U. S.) 441, 16 L. ed. 184; Charlton v. Newcastle, etc., R. Co., 5 Jur. N. S. 1096, 7 Wkly. Rep. 731.

73. Morrill v. Smith County, 89 Tex. 529, 36 S. W. 56 [reversing (Civ. App. 1895) 33 S. W. 899]; Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Kentucky, 161 U. S. 677, 16 S. Ct. 714, 40 L. ed. 849.

Statutes not authorizing consolidation.— Authority to "unite" with other roads refers to a physical connection of the tracks, and not to a consolidation or union of franchises (Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Kentucky, 161 U. S. 677, 16 S. Ct. 714, 40 L. ed. 849); and a statute authorizing a railroad company "to connect itself with any other railroad company" refers merely to a traffic consolidation and not a corporate consolidation (Morrill v. Smith County, 89 Tex. 529, 36 S. W. 56 [reversing (Civ. App. 1895) 33 S. W. 899]).

solidation.[74] Authority conferred upon a particular railroad company to consolidate with others does not pass to the resulting consolidated company so as to authorize it to make successive consolidations with other companies;[75] but where the right to consolidate is conferred upon railroad companies generally, subject only to the usual restrictions in regard to parallel or competing lines, the right is not exhausted by a single exercise or affected by the fact that one of the constituent companies is the product of a prior consolidation,[76] and under such a statute there may be a consolidation at the same time of more than two companies.[77] The legislature may authorize the consolidation of two or more railroad companies,[78] and legislative sanction for a consolidation may be given either by a general law or special charter provision,[79] or by statutes passed before the consolidation or by a subsequent legislative ratification,[80] and the legislature may authorize either a modified surrender of the old companies or their total extinction and the creation by their union of a new company.[81] The legislature may revoke a power previously given to consolidate if it has not been executed,[82] or limit a general power previously given so as to exclude consolidations between parallel or competing lines,[83] although there is no reservation of power to alter or amend the charter.[84] The legislature in authorizing a consolidation may also impose such conditions as it may deem proper,[85] and the company by exercising the right impliedly consents to and is bound by the conditions imposed.[86]

b. Continuous or Connecting Lines.[87] There are constitutional or statutory provisions in some jurisdictions expressly authorizing the consolidation of railroad companies whose roads form a connecting and continuous line,[88] and two

74. Morrill v. Smith County, 89 Tex. 529, 36 S. W. 56 [reversing (Civ. App. 1895) 33 S. W. 899]; Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Kentucky, 161 U. S. 677, 16 S. Ct. 714, 40 L. ed. 849. See also Spencer v. Seaboard Air Line R. Co., 137 N. C. 107, 49 S. E. 96, 1 L. R. A. N. S. 604. But see In re Prospect Park, etc., R. Co., 67 N. Y. 371, holding that where power is given by statute to one railroad company to consolidate with any other, whatever other company it selects for a union and finds willing to join it has power to unite with it, although such other company is not named in the statute.

75. Morrill v. Smith County, 89 Tex. 529, 36 S. W. 56 [reversing (Civ. App. 1895) 33 S. W. 899].

76. Smith v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co., 170 Ind. 382, 81 N. E. 501; Taylor v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 57 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 26.

77. Smith v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co., 170 Ind. 382, 81 N. E. 501; Bonner v. Terre Haute, etc., R. Co., 151 Fed. 985, 81 C. C. A. 476.

78. Ohio, etc., R. Co. v. People, 123 Ill. 467, 14 N. E. 874; State v. Maine Cent. R. Co., 66 Me. 488.

79. American L. & T. Co. v. Minnesota, etc., R. Co., 157 Ill. 641, 42 N. E. 153; Spencer v. Seaboard Air Line R. Co., 137 N. C. 107, 49 S. E. 96, 1 L. R. A. N. S. 604.

80. American L. & T. Co. v. Minnesota, etc., R. Co., 157 Ill. 641, 42 N. E. 153.

Effect of curative statutes see infra, VII, E, 2, f.

81. State v. Maine Cent. R. Co., 66 Me. 488.

82. Pearsall v. Great Northern R. Co., 161 U. S. 646, 16 S. Ct. 705, 40 L. ed. 838 [reversing 73 Fed. 933].

83. Pearsall v. Great Northern R. Co., 161 U. S. 646, 16 S. Ct. 705, 40 L. ed. 838 [reversing 73 Fed. 933].

84. Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Kentucky, 161 U. S. 677, 16 S. Ct. 714, 40 L. ed. 849.

85. Ashley v. Ryan, 153 U. S. 436, 14 S. Ct. 865, 38 L. ed. 773 [affirming 49 Ohio St. 504, 31 N. E. 721 (affirming 6 Ohio Cir. Ct. 208, 3 Ohio Cir. Dec. 418)]. See also Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Kentucky, 161 U. S. 677, 16 S. Ct. 714, 40 L. ed. 849.

The legislature may require that proceedings for the condemnation of land through certain counties shall be governed by the provisions of the original charter of one of the companies. Swayze v. New Jersey Midland R. Co., 36 N. J. L. 295.

86. Mobile, etc., R. Co. v. State, 89 Miss. 724, 41 So. 259, 122 Am. St. Rep. 295; Ashley v. Ryan, 153 U. S. 436, 14 S. Ct. 865, 38 L. ed. 773 [affirming 49 Ohio St. 504, 31 N. E. 721 (affirming 6 Ohio Cir. Ct. 208, 3 Ohio Cir. Dec. 418)].

Substitution of annuity for principal debt. — Where on authorizing a consolidation the state agrees to accept in lieu of a debt owing to it by one of the constituent companies, a certain annuity to be paid by the consolidated company, the consolidated company cannot subsequently claim the right to settle the original indebtedness instead of paying the annuity agreed upon. Northern Cent. R. Co. v. Hering, 93 Md. 164, 48 Atl. 461.

87. See, generally, CORPORATIONS, 10 Cyc. 293.

88. Alabama.— Georgia Pac. R. Co. v. Gaines, 88 Ala. 377, 7 So. 382; Georgia Pac. R. Co. v. Wilks, 86 Ala. 478, 6 So. 34.

Nebraska.— State v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 25 Nebr. 156, 41 N. W. 125, 2 L. R. A. 564.

roads may be connected either directly or by an intervening road,[89] or bridge;[90] but while a connection is a prerequisite to continuity, the fact of connection does not necessarily make them continuous.[91] The statutes contemplate that the consolidated road shall form one instead of two or more lines of road,[92] and the provisions must be construed subject to the limitations in regard to the consolidation of parallel or competing lines.[93]

c. Parallel or Competing Lines.[94] The legislature may prohibit the consolidation of parallel or competing lines of railroad,[95] and state legislation of this character, although affecting interstate roads, is within the police power and not an infringement upon the power of congress to regulate interstate commerce,[96] and in many jurisdictions there are constitutional or statutory provisions expressly prohibiting the consolidation of parallel or competing roads.[97] The object of

New Jersey.—Black v. Delaware, etc., Canal Co., 22 N. J. Eq. 130.

New York.—New York Cent., etc., R. Co. v. Yonkers, 103 N. Y. Suppl. 252; People v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 12 Abb. N. Cas. 230.

Ohio.—State v. Vanderbilt, 37 Ohio St. 590; Burke v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co., 10 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 525, 21 Cinc. L. Bul. 11.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 380.

Consolidation prior to construction.—Under a statute authorizing a consolidation of connecting roads, the companies may consolidate prior to the construction and actual connection of the roads. Livingston County v. Portsmouth First Nat. Bank, 128 U. S. 102, 9 S. Ct. 18, 32 L. ed. 359.

The term "adjoining state" in a statute authorizing a consolidation with a connecting road in an adjoining state applies to a state adjoining that into which a company has constructed its road, and is not limited to states adjoining that in which the company is incorporated. Adelbert College v. Toledo, etc., R. Co., 5 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 14, 3 Ohio N. P. 15.

89. Black v. Delaware, etc., Canal Co., 22 N. J. Eq. 130.

Under the Ohio statute it is held that there can be no consolidation where the connection is by means of a leased line and the lessor is not one of the consolidating companies (State v. Vanderbilt, 37 Ohio St. 590); but that two companies may be consolidated, although their lines do not connect directly, where the connection is made by means of a union company located within the limits of a city and designed for furnishing union depot, trackage, and terminal facilities for the roads entering the city, the stock of which is owned in part by the companies entering into the consolidation (Burke v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co., 10 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 525, 21 Cinc. L. Bul. 11).

90. New York Cent., etc., R. Co. v. Yonkers, 103 N. Y. Suppl. 252, holding further that the communicating bridge need not belong to either of the railroad companies but may belong to an independent bridge company.

91. People v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 12 Abb. N. Cas. (N. Y.) 230; State v. Vanderbilt, 37 Ohio St. 590.

92. People v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 12 Abb. N. Cas. (N. Y.) 230.

93. People v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 12 Abb. N. Cas. (N. Y.) 230; State v. Vanderbilt, 37 Ohio St. 590.

94. See, generally, CORPORATIONS, 10 Cyc. 291.

95. Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Com., 161 U. S. 677, 16 S. Ct. 714. 40 L. ed. 849 [affirming 97 Ky. 675, 31 S. W. 476, 17 Ky. L. Rep. 427].

The legislature has power to revoke a general authority previously given to consolidate with other roads which has not been executed, and to provide that it shall not apply to parallel or competing lines (Pearsall v. Great Northern R. Co., 161 U. S. 646, 16 S. Ct. 705, 40 L. ed. 838 [reversing 73 Fed. 933]), although there is no reservation of power to alter or amend the charter (Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Com., 161 U. S. 677, 16 S. Ct. 714, 40 L. ed. 849).

96. Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Com., 161 U. S. 677, 16 S. Ct. 714, 40 L. ed. 849 [affirming 97 Ky. 675, 31 S. W. 476, 17 Ky. L. Rep. 427].

97. Kentucky.—Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Com., 97 Ky. 675, 31 S. W. 476, 17 Ky. L. Rep. 427.

Mississippi.—State v. Mobile, etc., R. Co., 86 Miss. 172, 38 So. 732, 122 Am. St. Rep. 277.

Montana.—State v. Montana R. Co., 21 Mont. 221, 53 Pac. 623, 45 L. R. A. 271.

Nebraska.—State v. Atchison, etc., R. Co., 24 Nebr. 143, 38 N. W. 43, 8 Am. St. Rep. 164.

New Hampshire.—Currier v. Concord R. Corp., 48 N. H. 321.

New York.—Gere v. New York Cent., etc., R. Co., 19 Abb. N. Cas. 193; People v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 12 Abb. N. Cas. 230.

Ohio.*—State v. Vanderbilt, 37 Ohio St. 590.

Texas.—East Line, etc., R. Co. v. State, 75 Tex. 434, 12 S. W. 690.

United States.—Pearsall v. Great Northern R. Co., 161 U. S. 646, 16 S. Ct. 705, 40 L. ed. 838 [reversing 73 Fed. 933]; East St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Jarvis, 92 Fed. 735, 34 C. C. A. 639.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 385.

"Competing roads are those which are rivals in business." People v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 12 Abb. N. Cas. (N. Y.) 230, 240.

The consolidation of terminal railroads doing business in a single city so that the cars these provisions is to prevent monopolies and combinations which would interfere with the benefit to the public resulting from free competition,[98] and they cannot be evaded by means of a judicial sale,[99] or the purchase or transfer of a controlling interest of the stock of one road to another,[1] or any agreement or business consolidation, although not a corporate consolidation, which would have the effect which it is the design of such provisions to prevent;[2] nor will legislative acquiescence in the acquisition by one railroad company of other local and branch lines, although some are parallel to its own, estop the state from opposing a consolidation with a parallel and competing through line running between the same principal termini;[3] but it has been held that these prohibitions in regard to consolidation do not prevent the leasing of one road to a company owning a competing line, in the absence of any similar prohibition in regard to leases.[4] The question as to what roads are within the prohibition must be determined mainly by whether a consolidation would substantially affect competition,[5] and two roads, although in some respects parallel, may not be within the prohibition by reason of not connecting common points,[6] particularly where another road under a different management is located between them;[7] but on the other hand they may be within the prohibition, although not parallel in a mathematical sense,[8] and any roads which are parallel in a general sense and connect the same of the various railroads entering the city may be brought to the union station or to various warehouses over a common track or tracks is not within the application of the constitutional prohibition, which relates to railroad business in its ordinary meaning as carried on by lines of railroads traversing the state. State v. St. Louis Terminal R. Assoc., 182 Mo. 284, 81 S. W. 395.

98. State v. Atchison, etc., R. Co., 24 Nebr. 143, 38 N. W. 43, 8 Am. St. Rep. 164; Currier v. Concord R. Corp., 48 N. H. 321; East St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Jarvis, 92 Fed. 735, 34 C. C. A. 639.

99. Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Com., 161 U. S. 677, 693, 16 S. Ct. 714, 40 L. ed. 849, where the court said: "The inhibition of the Constitution is not against the sale to individuals, though they may chance to be stockholders in a competing line, but against the acquisition by a railway, in any form, of a parallel or competing line. If this could be evaded by going through the form of a judicial sale, the constitutional provision would be of no value."

1. Pearsall v. Great Northern R. Co., 161 U. S. 646, 16 S. Ct. 705, 40 L. ed. 838 [reversing 73 Fed. 933].

2. Currier v. Concord R. Corp., 48 N. H. 321; Pearsall v. Great Northern R. Co., 161 U. S. 646, 16 S. Ct. 705, 40 L. ed. 838 [reversing 73 Fed. 933]; East St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Jarvis, 92 Fed. 735, 34 C. C. A. 639.

3. Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Com., 161 U. S. 677, 16 S. Ct. 714, 40 L. ed. 849.

4. State v. Montana R. Co., 21 Mont. 221, 53 Pac. 623, 45 L. R. A. 271 (where the lease was for ten years); Gere v. New York Cent., etc., R. Co., 19 Abb. N. Cas. (N. Y.) 193 (where the lease was for four hundred and seventy-five years). Contra, State v. Atchison, etc., R. Co., 24 Nebr. 143, 38 N. W. 43, 8 Am. St. Rep. 164 (where the lease was for nine hundred and ninety-nine years and held to be in effect a consolidation and within the constitutional prohibition, but was subsequently permitted upon findings of fact by a referee to the effect that the roads were not in fact competing lines. See State v. Atchison, etc., R. Co., 38 Nebr. 437, 57 N. W. 20); East St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Jarvis, 92 Fed. 735, 34 C. C. A. 639 (holding that a lease for ten years to a competing line is within the prohibition against a consolidation of competing lines).

5. State v. St. Louis Terminal R. Assoc., 182 Mo. 284, 81 S. W. 395; Burke v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co., 10 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 525, 21 Cinc. L. Bul. 11; Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Kentucky, 161 U. S. 677, 16 S. Ct. 714, 40 L. ed. 849; Dady v. Georgia, etc., R. Co., 112 Fed. 838; East St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Jarvis, 92 Fed. 735, 34 C. C. A. 639; Kimball v. Atchison, etc., R. Co., 46 Fed. 888.

If the roads are not in their general features competing, as where they are widely divergent and reach different commercial centers, they are not within the prohibition, although there may be some incidental competition resulting from their crossing and intersecting other lines which serve as feeders (Burke v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co., 10 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 525, 21 Cinc. L. Bul. 11), or crossing streams upon which steamboats are operated (Dady v. Georgia, etc., R. Co., 112 Fed. 838).

Intersecting lines.— The Indiana statute prohibiting the consolidation of one railroad with another which crosses or intersects its line was designated to prevent the absorption of competing lines and does not apply where the intersection is at a terminal point. Smith v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co., 170 Ind. 382, 81 N. E. 501.

6. Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Com., 161 U. S. 677, 16 S. Ct. 714, 40 L. ed. 849; Kimball v. Atchison, etc., R. Co., 46 Fed. 888.

7. Kimball v. Atchison, etc., R. Co., 46 Fed. 888.

8. People v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 12 Abb. N.

principal points so as to constitute competing lines are within the prohibition;[9] and two railroads, although not generally parallel or connecting the same termini, may be competing lines by reason of their relations with, control, or management of other lines than their own.[10]

d. With Foreign Companies.[11] In the absence of legislative authority a railroad company of one state has no right to consolidate with a company of a different state,[12] and the legislature of one state cannot grant any exclusive authority for such a consolidation,[13] nor can the legislatures of two different states unite in forming from two or more existing companies a single company which shall be the same legal entity in both states;[14] but each may authorize a company organized under its own laws to consolidate with a company of the other,[15] and under such authority a consolidation may be effected prior to the construction of the railroads;[16] but a statute authorizing such a consolidation and not in terms retroactive will not validate a consolidation with a foreign company entered into prior to its enactment.[17]

e. Consent of Stock-Holders.[18] A consolidation of two or more railroad companies cannot be effected by the action of the directors alone, but must be done by the stock-holders,[19] and except where at the time of the subscription there were constitutional or statutory provisions authorizing a consolidation or an amendment of the charter,[20] all of the stock-holders must consent,[21] since the relation

Cas. (N. Y.) 230; East St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Jarvis, 92 Fed. 735, 34 C. C. A. 639.

9. State v. Vanderbilt, 37 Ohio St. 590; Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Com., 161 U. S. 677, 16 S. Ct. 714, 40 L. ed. 849.

10. State v. Montana R. Co., 21 Mont. 221, 53 Pac. 623, 45 L. R. A. 271; East Line, etc., R. Co. v. State, 75 Tex. 434, 12 S. W. 609; East St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Jarvis, 92 Fed. 735, 34 C. C. A. 639.

11. See, generally, CORPORATIONS, 10 Cyc. 293.

12. American L. & T. Co. v. Minnesota, etc., R. Co., 157 Ill. 641, 42 N. E. 153.

13. People v. New York, etc., R. Co., 129 N. Y. 474, 29 N. E. 959, 15 L. R. A. 82 [reversing 61 Hun 66, 15 N. Y. Suppl. 635], holding that concurrent legislation on the part of the different states is necessary and that all that one state can do is to authorize a company incorporated under its laws to consolidate with a company of a different state upon like permission being granted by the legislatnre of that state.

14. Ohio, etc., R. Co. v. People, 123 Ill. 467, 14 N. E. 874; Quincy R. Bridge Co. v. Adams County, 88 Ill. 615; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Auditor-Gen., 53 Mich. 79, 18 N. W. 586.

Status of consolidated company see infra, VII, E, 6, e.

15. Bishop v. Brainerd, 28 Conn. 289; Ohio, etc., R. Co. v. People, 123 Ill. 467, 14 N. E. 874; Boardman v. Lake Shore, etc., R. Co., 84 N. Y. 157.

The constitution of the United States which confers upon congress the right to regulate commerce among the several states does not affect the power of the states to authorize the consolidation of different railroads running through such states. Boardman v. Lake Shore, etc., R. Co., 84 N. Y. 157.

In Indiana the statute authorizes railroad companies organized in that state to consolidate with a company organized in an adjoining state and applies to companies organized after as well as before the enactment of the statute. Smith v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co., 170 Ind. 382, 81 N. E. 501.

16. Livingston County v. Portsmouth First Nat. Bank, 128 U. S. 102, 9 S. Ct. 18, 32 L. ed. 359.

17. American L. & T. Co. v. Minnesota, etc., R. Co., 157 Ill. 641, 42 N. E. 153.

18. See, generally, CORPORATIONS, 10 Cyc. 297.

19. Mowrey v. Indianapolis, etc., R. Co., 17 Fed. Cas. No. 9,891, 4 Biss. 78.

20. Market St. R. Co. v. Hellman, 109 Cal. 571, 42 Pac. 225.

21. Alabama.— Nathan v. Tompkins, 82 Ala. 437, 2 So. 747.

Illinois.— Illinois Grand Trunk R. Co. v. Cook, 29 Ill. 237.

Indiana.— Booe v. Junction R. Co., 10 Ind. 93; McCray v. Junction R. Co., 9 Ind. 358.

Kentucky.— Owensboro Deposit Bank v. Barrett, 13 S. W. 337, 11 Ky. L. Rep. 337.

United States.— Mowrey v. Indianapolis, etc., R. Co., 17 Fed. Cas. No. 9,891, 4 Biss. 781.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 389.

Buying out minority.— It has been held that while a dissenting stock-holder may enjoin the consolidation until he is paid for his interest or security given therefor, the majority of the stock-holders may force a consolidation against his consent by buying out his shares at their actual value (Lauman v. Lebanon Valley R. Co., 30 Pa. St. 42, 72 Am. Dec. 685); but elsewhere the reasoning of this decision has been expressly disapproved (Mowrey v. Indianapolis, etc., R. Co., 17 Fed. Cas. No. 9,891, 4 Biss. 781).

Condemning stock of dissenting stock-holders.— In a recent decision it has been held that, although at the time a stock-holder became such, there was no provision authorizing a consolidation, or right reserved to between the stock-holders and the company is contractual and cannot be impaired by the legislature;[22] and while a consolidation, if authorized by the legislature, is not necessarily void, although without the consent of all the stock-holders, it releases them from their subscriptions to the stock of the constituent companies.[23] But subscriptions to the stock of the constituent companies must be deemed to have been made with reference to any constitutional or statutory provisions then existing, authorizing a consolidation of such companies with others,[24] in which case a majority of the stock-holders may exercise the power,[25] and also where there was in existence at the time a right reserved to alter or amend the charter, the legislature may authorize a consolidation by consent of less than all the stock-holders.[26]

f. Effect of Curative Statutes.[27] The legislature may validate an unauthorized or informal consolidation by a subsequent curative act,[28] or recognition of the new company as a corporation de jure;[29] but a statute merely authorizing consolidations such as that previously entered into without authority and not in terms retroactive will not validate the consolidation.[30]

3. Agreements and Proceedings. In some cases the statutes set out the necessary procedure for effecting a consolidation,[31] and there must be a compliance with their provisions,[32] such as the preliminary agreement by the directors,[33] due notice thereof to the stock-holders,[34] and a subsequent ratification by amend the charter, the legislature, although it could not compel a dissenting stock-holder to become a stock-holder in the new company, might authorize a consolidation by a majority of the stock by providing under its power of eminent domain for the condemnation of the stock of a dissenting stock-holder and paying him the value thereof. Spencer v. Seaboard Air Line R. Co., 137 N. C. 107, 49 S. E. 96, 1 L. R. A. N. S. 604.

Where the constituent companies are of different states, the method by which each secures the consent of its own stock-holders is governed by the laws of that state and need not conform to the laws of the other state. Bradford v. Frankfort, etc., R. Co., 142 Ind. 383, 40 N. E. 471, 41 N. E. 819.

22. McCray v. Junction R. Co., 9 Ind. 358; Owensboro Deposit Bank v. Barrett, 13 S. W. 337, 11 Ky. L. Rep. 337.

23. Booe v. Junction R. Co., 10 Ind. 93; McCray v. Junction R. Co., 9 Ind. 358.

Rights and liabilities of stock-holders see infra, VII, E, 6, f.

24. Bish v. Johnson, 21 Ind. 299; Mansfield, etc., R. Co. v. Brown, 26 Ohio St. 223; Bonner v. Terre Haute, etc., R. Co., 151 Fed. 985, 81 C. C. A. 476.

25. Bonner v. Terre Haute, etc., R. Co., 151 Fed. 985, 81 C. C. A. 476.

26. Market St. R. Co. v. Hellman, 109 Cal. 571, 42 Pac. 225; Hale v. Cheshire R. Co., 161 Mass. 443, 37 N. E. 307. See also Bishop v. Brainard, 28 Conn. 289.

If the charter of the company was prior to the constitutional provision authorizing the legislature to alter or amend, a subsequent statutory provision authorizing a consolidation does not authorize a consolidation without the consent of all of the stock-holders. Mowrey v. Indianapolis, etc., R. Co., 17 Fed. Cas. No. 9,891, 4 Biss. 78.

The terms of the consolidation agreed upon by the majority are binding upon the minority where there is a right reserved to alter or amend the charter, and the legislature authorizes a consolidation upon such terms as may be approved by a majority of the stock-holders. Hale v. Cheshire R. Co., 161 Mass. 443, 37 N. E. 307.

27. See, generally, Corporations, 10 Cyc. 316.

28. Bishop v. Brainerd, 28 Conn. 289; Mitchell v. Deeds, 49 Ill. 416, 45 Am. Dec. 621; Illinois Grand Trunk R. Co. v. Cook, 29 Ill. 237; Fisher v. Evansville, etc., R. Co., 7 Ind. 407.

29. Mead v. New York, etc., R. Co., 45 Conn. 199; McAuley v. Columbus, etc., R. Co., 83 Ill. 348.

30. American L. & T. Co. v. Minnesota, etc., R. Co., 157 Ill. 641, 42 N. E. 153.

31. Tuttle v. Michigan Air Line R. Co., 35 Mich. 247; State v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 25 Nebr. 156, 41 N. W. 125, 2 L. R. A. 564; Mansfield, etc., R. Co. v. Brown, 26 Ohio St. 223; Leavenworth County v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 134 U. S. 688, 10 S. Ct. 708, 33 L. ed. 1064 [affirming 25 Fed. 219]; Phinizy v. Augusta, etc., R. Co., 62 Fed. 678.

32. Brown v. Dibble, 65 Mich. 520, 32 N. W. 656; Tuttle v. Michigan Air Line R. Co., 35 Mich. 247; State v. Vanderbilt, 37 Ohio St. 590; Mansfield, etc., R. Co. v. Brown, 26 Ohio St. 223.

33. See Tuttle v. Michigan Air Line R. Co., 35 Mich. 247.

34. Brown v. Dibble, 65 Mich. 520, 32 N. W. 656; Tuttle v. Michigan Air Line R. Co., 35 Mich. 247.

Form and sufficiency of notice.— The notices to the stock-holders of the different companies need not be signed and published jointly by the secretaries of the several companies, but are properly signed and published separately and the notice to the stock-holders of each need be published only in the counties through which that road runs. Wells v. Rodgers, 60 Mich. 525, 27 N. W. 671.

them,[35] and approval by the designated officers of the state,[36] filing with the secretary of state a certificate of articles of consolidation,[37] which must be in the required form,[38] payment of a consolidation tax,[39] or fee for filing the articles of consolidation;[40] and under some of the statutes the election of a new board of directors by the consolidated company is essential to vest in it the title to the property of the constituent companies.[41] A failure, however, strictly to comply with all the provisions of the statute will not necessarily render the consolidation void,[42] and there may be a consolidated corporation de facto, although there were irregularities in the proceedings.[43] A failure on the part of the stock-holders of one of several companies to confirm the agreement of consolidation does not impair it as to the others, where the agreement expressly provided that in such an event the others should perfect and carry out the agreement;[44] but where upon a proposition for the consolidation of certain roads a fund is subscribed and placed in the hands of a committee for the purpose of extending and completing some of the roads so as to form a through line, and one of the roads is refused permission by the legislature to enter into the consolidation, a loan by the committee to that company for the purpose of completing its line is a misappropriation of the fund for which they may be required to account to the subscribers.[45] The statutes frequently authorize railroad companies to consolidate upon such terms as they may agree upon;[46] but such provisions relate only to the adjustment of the interests of the

35. See Tuttle v. Michigan Air Line R. Co., 35 Mich. 247.

36. Brown v. Dibble, 65 Mich. 520, 32 N. W. 656.

37. State v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 145 Ind. 229, 43 N. E. 226; Peninsular R. Co. v. Tharp, 28 Mich. 506.

Upon filing the certificate in the office of the secretary of state the consolidated company becomes a legal corporation, although the certificate has not been recorded. Com. v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 53 Pa. St. 9.

Rights previously acquired not affected.— Where two railroad companies are authorized to consolidate, a failure of the companies to file with the secretary of state the certificate required by the statute does not affect the validity of a conveyance executed before the passage of the statute, whereby one of the companies transferred to the other all its property, rights and franchises. Atlantic, etc., R. Co. v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 66 Mo. 228 [reversing 3 Mo. App. 315].

38. State v. Vanderbilt, 37 Ohio St. 590, holding that the certificate made by the directors of the consolidating companies, under Ohio Rev. St. § 3381, must show the number and the places of residence of the directors of the new company.

Date of agreement.— An agreement for the consolidation of two railroad companies which is duly signed and sealed after the meetings of the stock-holders of both companies has been held and the consolidation ordered is not rendered invalid by the fact that it bears date prior to the meetings. Wells v. Rodgers, 60 Mich. 525, 27 N. W. 671.

39. Ashley v. Ryan, 153 U. S. 436, 14 S. Ct. 865, 38 L. ed. 773 [affirming 49 Ohio St. 504, 31 N. E. 721 (affirming 6 Ohio Cir. Ct. 208, 3 Ohio Cir. Dec. 418)].

40. State v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 145 Ind. 229, 43 N. E. 226.

41. Mansfield, etc., R. Co. v. Drinker, 30 Mich. 124; Mansfield, etc., R. Co. v. Brown, 26 Ohio St. 223.

Time of election.— The new directors cannot be elected until after the consolidation proceedings are consummated by filing the articles of consolidation with the secretary of state. Mansfield, etc., R. Co. v. Brown, 26 Ohio St. 223.

42. Leavenworth County v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 134 U. S. 688, 10 S. Ct. 708, 33 L. ed. 1064 [affirming 25 Fed. 219] (holding that under the Missouri statute requiring that before any railroad companies shall consolidate under the provisions of the act they shall file with the secretary of state a resolution accepting the provisions thereof, passed by a majority vote of the stock of each company, and also file with the secretary of state a certified copy of the articles of agreement with the new corporate name adopted, after which the consolidation shall be considered duly consummated, a failure to file the first resolution as required will not render the consolidation void, where the articles of agreement were filed and the other proceedings duly complied with); Phinizy v. Augusta, etc., R. Co., 62 Fed. 678 (holding that where the agreement of consolidation was accepted, ratified, and recorded in the office of the secretary of state as required by law, the consolidation was not void, so as to preclude the consolidated company from acting as a corporation because the agreement did not have upon it the certificates of the several secretaries of the constituent companies, that it had been accepted by a majority of the stock-holders as required by the statute).

43. See infra, VII, E, 6, b.

44. Phinizy v. Augusta, etc., R. Co., 62 Fed. 678.

45. Gould v. Seney, 9 N. Y. Suppl. 818 [reversing in part 5 N. Y. Suppl. 928].

46. Meyer v. Johnston, 64 Ala. 603; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Ashling, 160 Ill. 373, 43 stock-holders and the administrative details affecting the consolidation,[47] and do not authorize any action inconsistent with the charter provisions or existing statutes,[48] or any contract or agreement between the companies which would conclude the rights of creditors or persons having claims against either of the constituent companies,[49] or a transfer of the property and franchises of the constituent companies to the consolidated company free from the liabilities, duties, and obligations which the former owed to private individuals or to the public generally.[50] Under the New York statute it is held that the companies may by the agreement of consolidation provide for the period of the corporate life of the consolidation company irrespective of any restrictions in the articles of incorporation of either of the constituent companies.[51]

4. Who May Question Validity. Ordinarily the validity of a consolidation or the legal existence of the consolidated company can be attacked only by the state,[52] and cannot be questioned in a collateral proceeding,[53] or even in a direct action or proceeding by private litigants;[54] but this rule applies only where there is at least a corporation de facto,[55] and if there was no statutory authority for the consolidation its validity may be collaterally attacked.[56] It is also held that a stock-holder or subscriber to the stock of one of the constituent companies who did not consent to the consolidation or have any knowledge of the proceedings is not precluded from questioning the validity of the consolidation in an action against him by the consolidated company to recover a stock assessment or enforce his subscription, although the proceedings were sufficient to constitute the new company a corporation de facto.[57]

5. Estoppel to Question Validity. A railroad company formed by a voluntary consolidation, which has succeeded to the property and the exercise of the fran-

N. E. 373 [affirming 56 Ill. App. 327]; State v. Baltimore, etc., R. Co., 77 Md. 489, 26 Atl. 865; Adams v. Yazoo, etc., R. Co., 77 Miss. 194, 24 So. 200, 317, 28 So. 956, 60 L. R. A. 33.

47. State v. Baltimore, etc., R. Co., 77 Md. 489, 26 Atl. 865; Adams v. Yazoo, etc., R. Co., 77 Miss. 194, 24 So. 200, 317, 28 So. 956, 60 L. R. A. 33.

The consolidated company has power to determine the number and amount of shares of that company and to classify such stock into common and preferred and may issue a greater or less number of shares than that of the aggregate of the constituent companies in order to secure an equitable division of property between the stock-holders of such companies. Burke v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co., 10 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 525, 21 Cinc. L. Bul. 11.

48. Adams v. Yazoo, etc., R. Co., 77 Miss. 194, 24 So. 200, 317, 28 So. 956.

49. State v. Baltimore, etc., R. Co., 77 Md. 489, 26 Atl. 865; Fargey v. Grand Junction R. Co., 4 Ont. 232.

50. Tompkins v. Augusta Southern R. Co., 102 Ga. 436, 30 S. E. 992.

51. New York Cent., etc., R. Co. v. Yonkers, 103 N. Y. Suppl. 252.

52. Terhune v. Potts, 47 N. J. L. 218; Bell v. Pennsylvania, etc., R. Co., (N. J. Ch. 1887) 10 Atl. 741; National Docks R. Co. v. New Jersey Cent. R. Co., 32 N. J. Eq. 755; Rothschild v. Rochester, etc., R. Co., 1 Pa. Co. Ct. 620; Honston, etc., R. Co. v. Shirley, 54 Tex. 125; Toledo, etc., R. Co. v. Continental Trust Co., 95 Fed. 497, 36 C. C. A. 155.

53. Smith v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co., 170 Ind. 382, 81 N. E. 501; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Stafford County, 36 Kan. 121, 12 Pac. 593; Hamilton v. Clarion, etc., R. Co., 144 Pa. St. 34, 23 Atl. 53, 13 L. R. A. 779; Rothschild v. Rochester, etc., R. Co., 1 Pa. Co. Ct. 620; Toledo, etc., R. Co. v. Continental Trust Co., 95 Fed. 497, 36 C. C. A. 155; Phinizy v. Augusta, etc., R. Co., 62 Fed. 678.

54. Terhune v. Potts, 47 N. J. L. 218 (holding that where there has been a consolidation de facto, bondholders of the constituent companies cannot maintain an information in the nature of a quo warranto to test the validity of the consolidation); Bell v. Pennsylvania, etc., R. Co., (N. J. Ch. 1887) 10 Atl. 741, (holding that stock-holders of the constituent companies cannot maintain a bill in equity to annul a consolidation made by several railroad companies and to have declared void a mortgage executed by the consolidated company upon the aggregate property); Terhune v. New Jersey Midland R. Co., 38 N. J. Eq. 423 (holding that equity cannot dissolve a company formed by the consolidation of several other companies, on the ground alleged by a stock-holder in one of the original companies that the consolidation was for a fraudulent purpose and was not legally effected).

55. American L. & T. Co. v. Minnesota, etc., R. Co., 157 Ill. 641, 42 N. E. 153.

56. American L. & T. Co. v. Minnesota, etc., R. Co., 157 Ill. 641, 42 N. E. 153.

57. Tuttle v. Michigan Air Line R. Co., 35 Mich. 247; Mansfield, etc., R. Co. v. Stout, 26 Ohio St. 241.

chises of the constituent companies, or induced third persons to contract with it upon the faith of its legal existence as a corporation, is estopped to deny the validity of the consolidation,[58] or its title to property mortgaged by it,[59] or the validity of contracts made by it and of which it has received the benefit,[60] or its liability upon obligations of the constituent companies.[61] This estoppel applies to one of the constituent companies which has participated in all the steps essential to the creation of a de facto corporation by consolidation,[62] and also to the stock-holders of a constituent company who participated in the proceedings of that company by which it agreed to and effected the consolidation,[63] or have enjoyed the benefits of its privileges,[64] or who have been guilty of laches in failing to make any objection until after a long lapse of time, during which rights and equities of third parties have intervened;[65] and a stock-holder who with knowledge of the facts voluntarily participates in the consolidation proceedings will be estopped to assert any right existing against one of the constituent companies which from its nature would be impossible of performance after the consolidation.[66] So also third persons by their dealings with a consolidated company de facto may be estopped to deny the validity of the consolidation.[67]

6. Operation and Effect of Consolidation — a. In General. Upon the consolidation of two or more railroad companies the exact legal status of the consolidated company is somewhat anomalous and hard to define, since technically speaking and for general purposes it is a new corporation, but in some respects and for some purposes should be considered merely as a continuation of the old companies under a new name.[68] The question depends largely upon the provisions of the statute authorizing the consolidation,[69] and the proceedings taken under and by authority thereof.[70] Ordinarily the effect of the consolidation is to create a new company and to dissolve or terminate the existence of the constituent companies,[71] except in so far as their separate existence may be expressly 58. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Ashling, 160 Ill. 373, 43 N. E. 373 [affirming 56 Ill. App. 327]; Racine, etc., R. Co. v. Farmers' L. & T. Co., 49 Ill. 331, 95 Am. Dec. 595; Adelbert College v. Toledo, etc., R. Co., 5 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 14, 3 Ohio N. P. 15; Hamilton v. Clarion, etc., R. Co., 144 Pa. St. 34, 23 Atl. 53, 13 L. R. A. 779; Gulf, etc., R. Co. v. Hutcheson, 3 Tex. App. Civ. Cas. § 96.

59. Racine, etc., R. Co. v. Farmers' L. & T. Co., 49 Ill. 331, 95 Am. Dec. 595.

60. Dimpfel v. Ohio, etc., R. Co., 7 Fed. Cas. No. 3,918, 9 Biss. 127, 8 Reporter 641 [affirmed in 110 U. S. 209, 3 S. Ct. 573, 28 L. ed. 121].

61. Gulf, etc., R. Co. v. Hutcheson, 3 Tex. App. Civ. Cas. § 96.

62. Bradford v. Frankfort, etc., R. Co., 142 Ind. 383, 40 N. E. 741, 41 N. E. 819.

63. Bradford v. Frankfort, etc., R. Co., 142 Ind. 383, 40 N. E. 741, 41 N. E. 819.

64. Rothschild v. Rochester, etc., R. Co., 1 Pa. Co. Ct. 620.

65. Dimpfel v. Ohio, etc., R. Co., 7 Fed. Cas. No. 3,918, 9 Biss. 127, 8 Reporter 641 [affirmed in 110 U. S. 209, 3 S. Ct. 573, 28 L. ed. 121].

66. Tagart v. Northern Cent. R. Co., 29 Md. 557, holding that a person owning stock and bonds of one of the constituent companies who did not exercise an option to have his bonds converted into stock of that company when it was practicable, and acquiesced and participated in the consolidation by which it became impossible to secure the conversion to which he was previously entitled, is estopped to assert such right or recover damages therefor against the consolidated company.

67. Toledo, etc., R. Co. v. Continental Trust Co., 95 Fed. 497, 36 C. C. A. 155, 82 Fed. 642.

Where a city subscribes to the corporate stock of a consolidated company and issues its bonds in payment of the subscription, it is estopped in an action on the bonds to deny the corporate existence of the consolidated company or the validity of the consolidation proceedings. Lewis v. Clarendon, 15 Fed. Cas. No. 8,320, 5 Dill. 329, 6 Reporter 609.

68. Kinion v. Kansas City, etc., R. Co., 39 Mo. App. 382, per Biggs, J.

69. Meyer v. Johnston, 64 Ala. 603; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Ashling, 160 Ill. 373, 43 N. E. 373 [affirming 56 Ill. App. 327]; Keokuk, etc., R. Co. v. Missouri, 152 U. S. 301, 14 S. Ct. 592, 38 L. ed. 450; Central R. etc., Co. v. Georgia, 92 U. S. 665, 23 L. ed. 757.

It is not the material out of which the consolidated company is formed but the act which formed it which must be looked to for its character and status. Shields v. State, 26 Ohio St. 86.

70. Meyer v. Johnston, 64 Ala. 603.

71. Arkansas.— St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Berry, 41 Ark. 509.

Illinois.— People v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 120 Ill. 48, 10 N. E. 657.

continued by the statute for the benefit of creditors,[72] and it has been asserted that such is the uniform and necessary effect of what is properly termed a consolidation; [73] but on the contrary it is held that such is not necessarily or always the case,[74] and that a consolidation may be effected by the absorption or merger of one or more railroad companies into another existing company which becomes the consolidated company, and does not lose its identity but merely continues with enlarged rights, capacities, and property under its original name,[75] or even under a new name without becoming a new company.[76]

b. Invalid or Incomplete Consolidation. An attempted consolidation made without any authority of law does not create even a corporation de facto,[77] and since an illegal consolidation does not create a new company, it does not affect the identity of the constituent companies, which will be liable for any acts done by the so-called consolidated company in the operation of their roads; [78] and where an illegal consolidation is dissolved by the court and a decree entered providing that obligations fairly incurred by the consolidated company for the benefit of the constituent companies shall be paid by them, execution may be issued against them on a judgment recovered against the consolidated company prior to the dissolution;[79] but the constituent companies will not be liable on contracts made by the officers of such consolidated company which were not within the corporate powers of these companies.[80] Where, however, there is authority to consolidate, the consolidated company may be a corporation de facto, although there were irregularities in the consolidation proceedings,[81] or some of the con-

Indiana.— McMahan v. Morrison, 16 Ind. 172, 79 Am. Dec. 418.

Kansas.— Kansas, etc., R. Co. v. Smith, 40 Kan. 192, 19 Pac. 636; Council Grove, etc., R. Co. v. Lawrence, 3 Kan. App. 274, 45 Pac. 125.

Maine.— State v. Maine Cent. R. Co., 66 Me. 488.

Maryland.—State v. Baltimore, etc., R. Co., 77 Md. 489, 26 Atl. 865.

Mississippi.—Adams v. Yazoo, etc., R. Co., 77 Miss. 194, 24 So. 200, 317, 28 So. 956, 60 L. R. A. 33.

Missouri.— State v. Lesueur, 145 Mo. 322, 46 S. W. 1075.

Ohio.— Shields v. State, 26 Ohio St. 86.

United States.— Keokuk, etc., R. Co. v. Missouri, 152 U. S. 301, 14 S. Ct. 592, 38 L. ed. 450; Maine Cent. R. Co. v. Maine, 96 U. S. 499, 24 L. ed. 836; Shields v. Ohio, 95 U. S. 319, 24 L. ed. 357; Ferguson v. Meredith, 1 Wall. 25, 17 L. ed. 604; Ridgway Tp. v. Griswold, 20 Fed. Cas. No. 11,819, 1 McCrary 151.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 450.

Application of rule.— Upon the theory that the original companies are dissolved it is held that where the constituent companies were organized before, and the consolidation effected after, the adoption of a constitutional provision authorizing the alteration, amendment, or repeal of a corporate charter, the consolidated company was subject to the provision and was a company "formed under a general law," within the application of the provision. Shields v. State, 26 Ohio St. 86.

72. State v. Maine Cent. R. Co., 66 Me. 488.

73. Adams v. Yazoo, etc., R. Co., 77 Miss. 194, 24 So. 200, 317, 28 So. 956, 60 L. R. A. 33.

74. Meyer v. Johnston, 64 Ala. 603; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Ashling, 160 Ill. 373, 43 N. E. 373 [affirming 56 Ill. App. 327]; Central R., etc., Co. v. Georgia, 92 U. S. 665, 23 L. ed. 757.

75. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Ashling, 160 Ill. 373, 43 N. E. 373 [affirming 56 Ill. App. 327]; Central R., etc., Co. v. Georgia, 92 U. S. 665, 23 L. ed. 757.

Such consolidation may be effected by one company, pursuant to legislative authority, absorbing another and issuing to the stockholders of the latter shares of its own stock in exchange for that of the company absorbed. Central R., etc., Co. v. Georgia, 92 U. S. 665, 23 L. ed. 757.

76. Meyer v. Johnston, 64 Ala. 603.

77. American L. & T. Co. v. Minnesota, etc., R. Co., 157 Ill. 641, 42 N. E. 153, holding further that the action of the secretary of state in filing and recording the agreement of consolidation was without authority of law and had no effect either to legalize the attempted consolidation or to give it the status of a corporation de facto.

78. Latham v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 38 Hun (N. Y.) 265.

79. Ketcham v. Madison, etc., R. Co., 20 Ind. 260, holding that notice of the motion for execution was properly served upon the presidents of the constituent companies.

80. Pearce v. Madison, etc., R. Co., 21 How. (U. S.) 441, 16 L. ed. 184, holding that where two railroad companies illegally consolidated, no action can be sustained on the notes of the consolidated company, given for the purchase of a steamboat line to run in connection with the railroads, which was an unauthorized departure from the business of these companies.

81. Bradford v. Frankfort, etc., R. Co., 142 Ind. 383, 40 N. E. 741, 41 N. E. 819;

stituent companies did not possess all of the qualifications required by the statute.[82] Unless a statutory authority to consolidate is acted upon and a consolidation effected, the authority to consolidate does not impose any liability upon either company for debts of the other,[83] nor can any conditions imposed by the statute authorizing the consolidation be enforced;[84] but until the consolidation is consummated the constituent companies continue in the full enjoyment of their franchises.[85]

e. As to Property, Rights, and Privileges. The effect of a consolidation upon the rights and privileges of the consolidated company depends largely upon the terms of the statute under which the consolidation is effected.[86] Ordinarily the consolidated company succeeds to all the property of the constituent companies,[87] together with the rights, privileges, and franchises previously enjoyed by them,[88] and the statutes usually so provide;[89] but the consolidated company

Terhune v. New Jersey Midland R. Co., 38 N. J. Eq. 423.

82. Toledo, etc., R. Co. v. Continental Trust Co., 95 Fed. 497, 36 C. C. A. 155.

83. Southgate v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 61 Mo. 89.

84. Gibbes v. Greenville, etc., R. Co., 13 S. C. 228.

85. Mansfield, etc., R. Co. v. Brown, 26 Ohio St. 223, holding that under Ohio Railroad Consolidation Act of 1856, the constituent companies continue in the enjoyment of their franchises and may accept subscriptions to their capital stock until the consolidation is consummated, by filing the agreement of consolidation with the secretary of state.

86. State v. Maine Cent. R. Co., 66 Me. 488.

87. Cashman v. Brownlee, 128 Ind. 266, 27 N. E. 560; New York Cent. R. Co. v. Saratoga, etc., R. Co., 39 Barb. (N. Y.) 289.

The right to rents for the use by another company of a part of one of the consolidated roads passes to the consolidated company as a necessary appurtenance to the ownership of the property. New York Cent. R. Co. v. Saratoga, etc., R. Co., 39 Barb. (N. Y.) 289.

88. Illinois.— Cooper v. Corbin, 105 Ill. 224; Robertson v. Rockford, 21 Ill. 451.

Indiana.— Smith v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co., (1907) 81 N. E. 501; Paine v. Lake Erie, etc., R. Co., 31 Ind. 283.

Louisiana.— Shreveport Traction Co. v. Kansas City, etc., R. Co., 119 La. 759, 44 So. 457.

Mississippi.— Natchez, etc., R. Co. v. Lambert, 70 Miss. 779, 13 So. 33.

New Jersey.— Day v. New York, etc., R. Co., 58 N. J. L. 677, 34 Atl. 1081.

New York.— Prouty v. Michigan Southern, etc., R. Co., 4 Thomps. & C. 230.

North Carolina.— Barker v. Southern R. Co., 137 N. C. 214, 49 S. E. 115.

Pennsylvania.— Com. v. Buffalo, etc., R. Co., 207 Pa. St. 160, 56 Atl. 412.

Tennessee.— Miller v. Lancaster, 5 Coldw. 514.

United States.— Green County v. Conners, 109 U. S. 104, 3 S. Ct. 69, 27 L. ed. 872; Lewis v. Clarendon, 15 Fed. Cas. No. 8,320, 5 Dill. 329, 6 Reporter 609; Branch v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 4 Fed. Cas. No. 1,807, 3 Woods 481.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 448.

A consolidated company succeeds to the right to continue proceedings already instituted by one of the constituent companies for the condemnation of land (California Cent. R. Co. v. Hooper, 76 Cal. 404, 18 Pac. 599; Day v. New York, etc., R. Co., 58 N. J. L. 677, 34 Atl. 1081); the right to condemn land for making local alterations in the line (Smith v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co., (Ind. 1907) 81 N. E. 501); the right to complete the construction of a branch road connecting with one of the constituent roads which the latter had power to construct (State v. Greene County, 54 Mo. 540); the right to receive municipal subscriptions to its capital stock (Scotland County v. Thomas, 94 U. S. 682, 24 L. ed. 219; Lewis v. Clarendon, 15 Fed. Cas. No. 8,320, 5 Dill. 329, 6 Reporter 609); the right to recover on municipal bonds given in aid of the construction of one of the constituent companies (Green County v. Conners, 109 U. S. 104, 3 S. Ct. 69, 27 L. ed. 872); the right to recover on a bond of indemnity given to one of the constituent companies for any damages which might be recovered against it on account of the location of one of its depots (Miller v. Lancaster, 5 Coldw. (Tenn.) 514); the right to compromise and settle a claim against one of the constituent companies and maintain an action to enforce the settlement (Paine v. Lake Erie, etc., R. Co., 31 Ind. 283); and the necessary affidavit required to be made by an officer of one of the constituent companies to secure a certain immunity granted to that company may subsequently be made by the corresponding officer of the consolidated company (Natchez, etc., R. Co. v. Lambert, 70 Miss. 779, 13 So. 33); and where a railroad company limited by its act of incorporation to three tracks consolidates with another having no limit as to the number of tracks which may be used, the consolidated company is not limited to three tracks (New York Cent., etc., R. Co. v. Yonkers, 103 N. Y. Suppl. 252).

89. Ohio, etc., R. Co. v. People, 123 Ill. 467, 14 N. E. 874; Day v. New York, etc., 58 N. J. L. 677, 34 Atl. 1081. See also cases cited supra, note 88.

does not become invested with any other or greater rights than were possessed by the constituent companies,[90] and a consolidation does not in all cases confer upon the new company the sum total of all the rights, powers, and privileges of the constituent companies.[91] The consolidated company succeeds to whatever rights, privileges, and immunities are possessed by each of the constituent companies in common,[92] and also to any special right or privilege enjoyed by one of them alone in so far as it may be separately exercised or enjoyed with respect to the portion of the road or property derived from that company; [93] but a separate right or privilege of one company does not pass to the consolidated company so as to become a general right of that company with respect to the entire road or property,[94] nor do any separate rights of the constituent companies pass to the consolidated company which from their nature cannot be exercised or enjoyed by it under its new constitution.[95]

d. As to Duties and Liabilities. Where there has been a consolidation of two or more railroad companies, the consolidated company becomes liable to perform the duties required of the constituent companies,[96] and to carry out their contracts or respond in damages upon a failure or refusal to do so,[97] and ordinarily becomes subject to all their existing debts and liabilities,[98] or at least 90. Ruggles v. People, 91 Ill. 256.

91. Georgia Pac. R. Co. v. Gaines, 88 Ala. 377, 7 So. 382; Georgia Pac. R. Co. v. Wilks, 86 Ala. 478, 6 So. 34; State v. Maine Cent. R. Co., 66 Me. 488.

Under the Alabama statute it is only when the consolidated roads form a continuous line that the new company succeeds to "all the rights, powers and franchises" of the constituent companies, and except in such cases the right of one of such companies to acquire land other than what is necessary for the purposes of constructing and operating the road does not pass to the consolidated company. Georgia Pac. R. Co. v. Gaines, 88 Ala. 377, 7 So. 382.

92. Mead v. New York, etc., R. Co., 45 Conn. 199; Robertson v. Rockford, 21 Ill. 451; Prouty v. Michigan Southern, etc., R. Co., 4 Thomps. & C. (N. Y.) 230.

93. Natchez, etc., R. Co. v. Lambert, 70 Miss. 779, 13 So. 33; State v. Greene County, 54 Mo. 540; Tomlinson v. Branch, 15 Wall. (U. S.) 460, 21 L. ed. 189.

Immunity from taxation see TAXATION.

94. Tomlinson v. Branch, 15 Wall. (U. S.) 460, 21 L. ed. 189; Philadelphia, etc., R. Co. v. Maryland, 10 How. (U. S.) 376, 13 L. ed. 461.

95. Maine Cent. R. Co. v. Maine, 96 U. S. 499, 24 L. ed. 836 [affirming 66 Me. 488], holding that where the conditions upon which the special rights of the constituent companies existed could be performed only while the companies were distinct corporations operating separate lines, they do not pass to the consolidated company.

96. Peoria, etc., R. Co. v. Coal Valley Min. Co., 68 Ill. 489.

A statutory prohibition relating to one of the constituent companies against removing its workshops from a certain town without the consent of the municipal authorities is binding upon the consolidated company, and it will be liable in damages in case the shops are removed. Whitby v. Grand Trunk R. Co., 3 Ont. L. Rep. 536, 1 Ont. Wkly. Rep. 292.

97. See infra, VII, E, 6, g.

98. Alabama.— Meyer v. Johnston, 53 Ala. 237; Warren v. Mobile, etc., R. Co., 49 Ala. 582.

Georgia.— Montgomery, etc., R. Co. v. Boring, 51 Ga. 582.

Indiana.— Lousiville, etc., R. Co. v. Boney, 117 Ind. 501, 20 N. E. 432, 3 L. R. A. 435; Columbus, etc., R. Co. v. Powell, 40 Ind. 57; Indianapolis, etc., R. Co. v. Jones, 29 Ind. 465, 95 Am. Dec. 654.

Kansas.— Hutchinson, etc., R. Co. v. Fair, (1897) 48 Pac. 591; Berry v. Kansas City, etc., R. Co., 52 Kan. 774, 759, 36 Pac. 724, 34 Pac. 805, 39 Am. St. Rep. 381, 371.

Maryland.— State v. Baltimore, etc., R. Co., 77 Md. 489, 26 Atl. 865.

Michigan.— Batterson v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 53 Mich. 125, 18 N. W. 584.

Texas.— Gulf, etc., R. Co. v. Hutcheson, 3 Tex. App. Civ. Cas. § 96; Missouri Pac. R. Co. v. Owens, 1 Tex. App. Civ. Cas. § 384.

Virginia.— Langhorne v. Richmond R. Co., 91 Va. 369, 22 S. E. 159.

United States.— Bailey v. New York Cent., etc., R. Co., 22 Wall. 604, 22 L. ed. 840; Harrison v. Union Pac. R. Co., 13 Fed. 522, 4 McCrary 264.

Canada.— Brewer v. Lake Erie, etc., R. Co., 2 Can. R. Cas. 257, 2 Ont. Wkly. Rep. 125; Cayley v. Cobourg, etc., R. Co., 14 Grant Ch. (U. C.) 571.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," §§ 448, 453.

Liability for torts of the constituent companies in the operation of their respective roads prior to the consolidation see infra, X, C, 7, b.

The consolidated company may mortgage property received from one of the constituent companies to secure a debt owed by the latter at the time of the consolidation. Wright v. Bundy, 11 Ind. 398.

Consolidation after judicial sale.— Where a railroad company executes a deed of trust upon its road under which the same is sold and the purchaser organizes a new company, to the extent of the assets received from the constituent company which incurred the liability.[99] The statutes authorizing the consolidation frequently impose such liability in express terms,[1] or it is assumed by the articles of consolidation,[2] but the liability exists independently of such provisions as a necessary legal result of the consolidation.[3] In some cases the statutes preserve the separate existence of the constituent companies with respect to their existing debts and liabilities,[4] in which case an action may be instituted against one of the constituent companies after the consolidation upon a liability previously incurred by it,[5] but this is merely a cumulative protection for creditors and does not affect the liability with legislative authority to receive and exercise the franchise, the purchaser takes the property discharged of all debts which were not prior liens, and upon a subsequent consolidation with another company the consolidated company does not become liable for the debts of the original company; and this notwithstanding a statute enacted subsequent to the consolidation provides that on a consolidation the new company shall be liable for all debts of the old, as such statutes are not retroactive (Hatcher v. Toledo, etc., R. Co., 62 Ill. 477); and where one railroad company purchases the property and franchises of another at a sale under a deed of trust, and after such sale and purchase the legislature passes an act for the merger of the two companies, which is not passed in contemplation of an agreement between them but merely in order to authorize the purchasing company to operate the road purchased, the latter company does not thereby subject itself to pay the liabilities of the purchased road (Houston, etc., R. Co. v. Shirley, 54 Tex. 125).

99. Tompkins v. Augusta Southern R. Co., 102 Ga. 436, 30 S. E. 992; Berry v. Kansas City, etc., R. Co., 52 Kan. 774, 759, 36 Pac. 724, 34 Pac. 805, 39 Am. St. Rep. 381, 371; Harrison v. Union Pac. R. Co., 13 Fed. 522, 4 McCrary 264.

Substitution of consolidated company as defendant.— Where, one of the constituent companies having defaulted upon the payment of dividends on its guaranteed stock, plaintiff obtained a judgment for the amount of unpaid dividends, and an order restraining defendant from paying any other dividends or making any disposition of or charge upon the funds or property of the company until payment thereof, an order substituting the consolidated company as a defendant is erroneous, since it affects not merely the property derived from the original defendant but subjects the entire funds and property of the consolidated company to the restraint adjudged against the constituent company. Prouty v. Lake Shore, etc., R. Co., 52 N. Y. 363.

1. Kansas.— Kansas City-Leavenworth R. Co. v. Langley, 70 Kan. 453, 78 Pac. 858.

Maine.— Penley v. Maine Cent. R. Co., 92 Me. 59, 42 Atl. 233.

Massachusetts.— John Hancock Mut. L. Ins. Co. v. Worcester, etc., R. Co., 149 Mass. 214, 21 N. E. 364.

Michigan.— Batterson v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 53 Mich. 125, 18 N. W. 584.

Missouri.— Black v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 110 Mo. App. 198, 85 S. W. 96.

South Carolina.— Pickett v. Southern R. Co., 69 S. C. 445, 48 S. E. 466.

United States.— Bailey v. New York Cent., etc., R. Co., 22 Wall. 604, 22 L. ed. 840.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," §§ 448, 453.

All debts and liabilities "except mortgages."— Under the New York statute which provides that all debts and liabilities of the constituent companies "except mortgages" shall attach to the consolidated company and be enforceable against it as if incurred or contracted by it, an action may be maintained against the consolidated company upon bonds of the constituent companies, although secured by a mortgage upon the property of the latter, since the debt is different from the mortgage which is merely collateral or incident thereto, and the words "except mortgages" are merely intended to confine the property lien created by the mortgage to the property owned prior to the consolidation by the company giving it. Polhemus v. Fitchburg R. Co., 123 N. Y. 502, 26 N. E. 31 [affirming 50 Hun 397, 3 N. Y. Suppl. 327]. Contra, Janes v. Fitchburg R. Co., 50 Hun (N. Y.) 310, 3 N. Y. Suppl. 165.

2. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Marker, 41 Ark. 542; Atlantic Coast Line R. Co. v. Cone, 53 Fla. 1017, 43 So. 514; Western Union R. Co. v. Smith, 75 Ill. 496; Taylor v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 57 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 26.

The consolidated company may assume particular obligations of the constituent companies which the statute provides shall not attach to the new company, the exemptions being merely a privilege which that company may waive. Taylor v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 57 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 26.

3. Tompkins v. Augusta Southern R. Co., 102 Ga. 436, 30 S. E. 992; Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Boney, 117 Ind. 501, 20 N. E. 432, 3 L. R. A. 435; State v. Baltimore, etc., R Co., 77 Md. 489, 26 Atl. 865.

4. Warren v. Mobile, etc., R. Co., 49 Ala. 582; Gale v. Troy, 51 Hun (N. Y.) 470, 4 N. Y. Suppl. 295; Pickett v. Southern R. Co., 69 S. C. 445, 48 S. E. 466; Stewart v. Walterboro, etc., R. Co., 64 S. C. 92, 41 S. E. 827.

5. Gale v. Troy, etc., R. Co., 51 Hun (N. Y.) 470, 4 N. Y. Suppl. 295; Stewart v. Walterboro, etc., R. Co., 64 S. C. 92, 41 S. E. 827.

It is no defense in such an action that defendant has no property but has turned over the same to the consolidated company. Gale of the consolidated company.[6] It has also been provided that the assets of the constituent companies should continue liable for liens and claims against the respective companies, the actions or proceedings to enforce the same to be brought against the consolidated company.[7] If no part of the franchise is reserved to either of the constituent companies, they will not be liable to the public for the performance of duties devolving upon the new company,[8] nor, where the existence of the constituent companies is extinguished by the consolidation, can an action against them be instituted after the consolidation, but any action to enforce liabilities previously incurred by them must be brought against the consolidated company.[9]

e. In Case of Consolidation With Foreign Company. The consolidation of railroad companies of different states has the usual effect as to dissolving or terminating the existence of the constituent companies and creating a new company;[10] but this new company, although having a single name, management, and but one set of stock-holders, is nevertheless a separate corporation in each state,[11] having in each the status of a domestic corporation,[12] and its rights and liabilities in each are derived from and determined by the laws of that state,[13] and are unaf-

v. Troy, etc., R. Co., 51 Hun (N. Y.) 470, 4 N. Y. Suppl. 295.

6. Warren v. Mobile, etc., R. Co., 49 Ala. 582; Pickett v. Southern R. Co., 69 S. C. 445, 48 S. E. 466. But see Joseph v. Southern R. Co., 127 Fed. 606.

7. See Demorest v. Midland R. Co., 10 Ont. Pr. 73.

8. Peoria, etc., R. Co. v. Coal Valley Min. Co., 68 Ill. 489.

9. Indianola R. Co. v. Fryer, 56 Tex. 609.

10. Ohio, etc., R. Co. v. People, 123 Ill. 467, 14 N. E. 874; Ashley v. Ryan, 49 Ohio St. 504, 31 N. E. 721 [affirming 6 Ohio Cir. Ct. 208, 3 Ohio Cir. Dec. 418]; Rio Grande Western R. Co. v. Telluride, etc., R. Co., 16 Utah 125, 51 Pac. 46; Keokuk, etc., R. Co. v. Missouri, 152 U. S. 301, 14 S. Ct. 592, 38 L. ed. 450.

Effect of consolidation in general see supra, VII, E, 6, a.

Effect as to time for completing road.— Where a railroad company of one state, incorporated under a statute providing that unless it completed its road within ten years its act of incorporation should be void, consolidates with a company of a different state prior to the completion of its road and before the expiration of the ten years, the consolidated company is not limited to the unexpired portion of such term for completing the road, but is entitled to ten years from the time the articles of incorporation of the new company are filed. Rio Grande Western R. Co. v. Telluride Power, etc., Co., 16 Utah 125, 51 Pac. 146.

11. Illinois.— Ohio, etc., R. Co. v. People, 123 Ill. 467, 14 N. E. 874; Racine, etc., R. Co. v. Farmers' L. & T., etc., Co., 49 Ill. 331, 45 Am. Dec. 595.

Michigan.—Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Auditor-Gen., 53 Mich. 79, 18 N. W. 586.

Nebraska.— Trester v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 33 Nebr. 171, 49 N. W. 1110.

Ohio.— Ashley v. Ryan, 49 Ohio St. 504, 31 N. E. 721 [affirming 6 Ohio Cir. Ct. 208, 3 Ohio Cir. Dec. 418].

Pennsylvania.— Rothschild v. Rochester, etc., R. Co., 1 Pa. Co. Ct. 620.

United States.— Graham v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 14 Fed. 753.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," §§ 388, 450.

12. Illinois.— Ohio, etc., R. Co. v. People, 123 Ill. 467, 14 N. E. 874.

Indiana.— Smith v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co., 170 Ind. 382, 81 N. E. 501.

Minnesota.— In re St. Paul, etc., R. Co., 36 Minn. 85, 30 N. W. 432.

Nebraska.— Trester v. Missouri, etc., R. Co., 33 Nebr. 171, 49 N. W. 1110.

United States.— Graham v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 14 Fed. 753.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," §§ 388, 448, 450.

Right of eminent domain.— The consolidated company is a domestic corporation within the application of constitutional and statutory provisions relating to the power of exercising the right of eminent domain. Trester v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 33 Nebr. 171, 49 N. W. 1110; State v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 25 Nebr. 156, 41 N. W. 125, 2 L. R. A. 564.

13. Illinois.— Ohio, etc., R. Co. v. People, 123 Ill. 467, 14 N. E. 874; Quincy R. Bridge Co. v. Adams County, 88 Ill. 615.

Michigan.—Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Auditor-Gen., 53 Mich. 79, 18 N. W. 586.

Nebraska.— Trester v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 33 Nebr. 171, 49 N. W. 1110.

New York.— People v. New York, etc., R. Co., 129 N. Y. 474, 29 N. E. 959, 15 L. R. A. 82 [reversing 61 Hun 66, 15 N. Y. Suppl. 635].

Ohio.— Ashley v. Ryan, 49 Ohio St. 504, 31 N. E. 721 [affirming 6 Ohio Cir. Ct. 208, 3 Ohio Cir. Dec. 418].

Pennsylvania.— Rothschild v. Rochester, etc., R. Co., 1 Pa. Co. Ct. 620.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," §§ 388, 448, 450.

Each state may legislate in respect to the company and its operations in that state as if no consolidation had taken place. Peik v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 94 U. S. 164, 24 L. ed.

fected by the law of the other,[14] or in other words, the new corporation stands in each state as the original company stood in that state with the same rights and liabilities.[15] But the consolidated company having but a single management, name, and corporate seal must necessarily act in the transaction of its business as a single company,[16] and its directors, stock-holders, and officers may hold meetings and transact corporate business in either of the states,[17] and the consolidated company is not subject to a state constitutional provision requiring that a majority of the directors of any railroad company incorporated by the laws of that state shall be residents of that state.[18] The consolidated company in each state succeeds to the rights and privileges of the original company in that state,[19] and may exercise with regard to the entire road and property whatever rights it enjoys under the laws of both states,[20] such as the issuance of preferred or guaranteed stock,[21] or the issuance of bonds and the execution of mortgages on its property,[22] which may cover property situated in both states;[23] but the action of the company in one state in issuing bonds and executing mortgages which are valid in that state will not create a debt which will bind the property of the company in the other state, unless valid according to the laws of that state.[24]

f. Rights and Liabilities of Stock-Holders and Subscribers to Stock. Stock-holders of one of the constituent companies may maintain a bill in equity to enjoin a proposed consolidation for which there is no legislative authority.[25] So also where the consent of all the stock-holders is necessary, any dissenting stock-holder may sue to enjoin the consolidation,[26] and if the consolidation is effected without his consent he is released from his subscription to the stock of the constituent company,[27] and may maintain a suit against the consolidated company to recover the value of his interest in the constituent company wrongfully appropriated by it,[28]

97, holding that the legislature of one state may prescribe the maximum rates for transportation to be charged in that state.

14. Quincy R. Bridge Co. v. Adams County, 88 Ill. 615; Rothschild v. Rochester, etc., R. Co., 1 Pa. Co. Ct. 620; Minot v. Philadelphia, etc., R. Co., 18 Wall. (U. S.) 206, 21 L. ed. 888.

15. Ohio, etc., R. Co. v. People, 123 Ill. 467, 14 N. E. 874; Minot v. Philadelphia, etc., R. Co., 18 Wall. (U. S.) 206, 21 L. ed. 888.

The result of this rule is that the consolidated company may and frequently does possess very different rights, powers, and privileges and is subject to different liabilities in the different states in which the roads composing it are located. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Auditor-Gen., 53 Mich. 79, 18 N. W. 586.

16. Racine, etc., R. Co. v. Farmers' L. & T. Co., 49 Ill. 331, 95 Am. Dec. 595.

17. Ohio, etc., R. Co. v. People, 123 Ill. 467, 14 N. E. 874; Graham v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 14 Fed. 753.

18. Ohio, etc., R. Co. v. People, 123 Ill. 467, 14 N. E. 874.

19. Mead v. New York, etc., R. Co., 45 Conn. 199; Cooper v. Corbin, 105 Ill. 224; Rio Grande Western R. Co. v. Telluride Power, etc., Co., 16 Utah 125, 51 Pac. 146.

20. Mead v. New York, etc., R. Co., 45 Conn. 199; Prouty v. Michigan Southern, etc., R. Co., 4 Thomps. & C. (N. Y.) 230.

21. Prouty v. Michigan Southern, etc., R. Co., 4 Thomps. & C. (N. Y.) 230.

22. Mead v. New York, etc., R. Co., 45 Conn. 199.

23. Racine, etc., R. Co. v. Farmers' L. & T. Co., 49 Ill. 331, 95 Am. Dec. 595.

24. Rothschild v. Rochester, etc., R. Co., 1 Pa. Co. Ct. 620.

25. Charlton v. Newcastle, etc., R. Co., 5 Jur. N. S. 1096, 7 Wkly. Rep. 731.

26. Nathan v. Tompkins, 82 Ala. 437, 2 So. 747; Mowrey v. Indianapolis, etc., R. Co., 17 Fed. Cas. No. 9,891, 4 Biss. 78.

A stock-holder is not estopped to object to a consolidation when submitted to the stock-holders because he did not previously oppose it as a director. Mowrey v. Indianapolis, etc., R. Co., 17 Fed. Cas. No. 9,891, 4 Biss. 78.

27. Illinois Grand Trunk R. Co. v. Cook, 29 Ill. 237; Booe v. Junction R. Co., 10 Ind. 93; McCray v. Junction R. Co., 9 Ind. 358.

A dissenting stock-holder may enjoin the foreclosure of a mortgage executed by him to secure the payment of notes given for stock in one of the constituent companies. Illinois Grand Trunk R. Co. v. Cook, 29 Ill. 237.

If the consolidation was one of the original purposes for which the constituent company was organized, a consolidation authorized after a subscription to the stock does not release a dissenting stock-holder. Hanna v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 20 Ind. 30.

28. Owensboro Deposit Bank v. Barrett, 13 S. W. 337, 11 Ky. L. Rep. 910; Douglass v. Concord, etc., R. Co., 72 N. H. 26, 54 Atl. 883; International, etc., R. Co. v. Bremond, 53 Tex. 96. See also Lauman v. Lebanon Valley R. Co., 30 Pa. St. 42, 72 Am. Dec. 685.

but he cannot recover a personal judgment against its directors.[29] To entitle a dissenting stock-holder to equitable relief by injunction or to declare the consolidation invalid, he must not be guilty of laches in making his objection,[30] but such a delay as would preclude the right to such relief will not affect his right to recover from the consolidated company the value of his interest in the constituent company.[31] The statutes or articles of consolidation ordinarily fix upon a basis of exchange of stock in the old companies for that of the new,[32] and the statutes provide for the payment of dissenting stock-holders or those who refuse to convert their stock for the value thereof,[33] with the procedure for determining its value.[34] A dissenting stock-holder is not released if at the time of his subscription there was in existence a constitutional or statutory provision authorizing the consolidation,[35] or a right reserved to alter or amend the charter, and the legislature has authorized a consolidation by consent of less than the entire number of stock-holders.[36] Since the consolidated company succeeds to the rights and property of the constituent companies,[37] it may, except as to dissenting stock-holders who are thereby released, sue for and recover any unpaid subscriptions to stock of the constituent companies,[38] and where the subscription was made subject to certain conditions and there were statutes authorizing a consolidation, the consolidated company may perform the conditions and enforce the subscription.[39] Subscriptions to stock of the constituent companies as to which the subscribers are not released become assets of the consolidated company, and creditors of that company upon its insolvency may maintain a creditor's bill to enforce the liability thereon.[40] Where a stock-holder in one of the constituent companies sells his interest to the consolidated company, which consists only of his interest as a stock-holder in the former company, he is not entitled to a vendor's lien upon the right of way.[41] An immunity from liability for debts of the corporation enjoyed by stock-holders of the constituent companies does not, in the absence of express provision, pass to the stock-holders of the consolidated company.[42]

29. International, etc., R. Co. v. Bremond, 53 Tex. 96.

30. Bell v. Pennsylvania, etc., R. Co., (N. J. Ch. 1887) 10 Atl. 741; Spencer v. Seaboard Air Line R. Co., 137 N. C. 107, 49 S. E. 96, 1 L. R. A. N. S. 604.

31. Douglass v. Concord, etc., R. Co., 72 N. H. 26, 54 Atl. 883; International, etc., R. Co. v. Bremond, 53 Tex. 96.

32. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Ashling, 160 Ill. 373, 43 N. E. 373 [affirming 56 Ill. App. 327]; John Hancock Mut. L. Ins. Co. v. Worcester, etc., R. Co., 149 Mass. 214, 21 N. E. 364; Capley v. Cobourg, etc., R. Co., 14 Grant Ch. (U. C.) 571.

Where the articles of consolidation provide for the issuance of stock of the consolidated company in certain proportions in exchange for stock of the constituent companies, stock-holders of the latter cannot maintain any action against the consolidated company to compel the issuance of such stock that they could not have maintained against the constituent companies prior to the consolidation. Babcock v. Schuylkill, etc., R. Co., 133 N. Y. 420, 31 N. E. 30 [affirming 15 N. Y. Suppl. 193], holding that where the articles of consolidation provided that stock-holders of the constituent companies should be entitled to receive one share of stock in the consolidated company for every two shares of the constituent company, a suit to compel the issuance of full-paid shares of the consolidated company in this proportion for shares of the constituent company on which plaintiff had paid up only ten per cent, was properly dismissed.

33. Douglass v. Concord, etc., R. Co., 72 N. H. 26, 54 Atl. 883; Spencer v. Seaboard Air Line R. Co., 137 N. C. 107, 49 S. E. 96, 1 L. R. A. N. S. 604; Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co. v. Garrett, 50 Ohio St. 405, 34 N. E. 493.

34. Douglass v. Concord, etc., R. Co., 72 N. H. 26, 54 Atl. 883; Spencer v. Seaboard Air Line R. Co., 137 N. C. 107, 49 S. E. 96, 1 L. R. A. N. S. 604; Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co. v. Garrett, 50 Ohio St. 405, 34 N. E. 493.

35. Bish v. Johnson, 21 Ind. 299; Sparrow v. Evansville, etc., R. Co., 7 Ind. 369; Mansfield, etc., R. Co. v. Brown, 26 Ohio St. 223.

36. Market St. R. Co. v. Hellman, 109 Cal. 571, 42 Pac. 225; Hale v. Cheshire R. Co., 161 Mass. 443, 37 N. E. 307.

37. See supra, VII, E, 6, c.

38. Sparrow v. Evansville, etc., R. Co., 7 Ind. 369; Mansfield, etc., R. Co. v. Brown, 26 Ohio St. 223; Cork, etc., R. Co. v. Paterson, 18 C. B. 414, 86 E. C. L. 414.

39. Mansfield, etc., R. Co. v. Stout, 26 Ohio St. 241.

40. Hamilton v. Clarion, etc., R. Co., 144 Pa. St. 34, 23 Atl. 53, 13 L. R. A. 779.

41. Cross v. Burlington, etc., R. Co., 58 Iowa 62, 12 N. W. 71.

42. Minneapolis, etc., R. Co. v. Gardner, 177 U. S. 332, 20 S. Ct. 656, 44 L. ed. 793 [affirming 73 Minn. 517, 76 N. W. 282].

g. Contracts and Conveyances. The consolidated company succeeds to the contract obligations and liabilities of the constituent companies,[43] and may be required specifically to perform the same,[44] or respond in damages,[45] and is bound by any covenants in deeds of rights of way made to the constituent companies,[46] and its rights therein are subject to be defeated by conditions in the deeds by which they were conveyed to the original companies.[47] The consolidated company also succeeds to the contract rights and privileges of the constituent companies,[48] and may maintain actions to enforce the same.[49] It takes such contracts, however, subject to any conditions specified therein which must be performed in order to authorize a recovery,[50] and if it is unable to do so according to the terms of the contract it cannot recover thereon;[51] but if it can perform the con-

43. Arkansas.— Sappington v. Little Rock, etc., R. Co., 37 Ark. 23, contract to construct road-bed so as to protect plaintiff's property from overflow.

Georgia.— Tompkins v. Augusta Southern R. Co., 102 Ga. 436, 30 S. E. 992, contract of carriage.

Illinois.— Western Union R. Co. v. Smith, 75 Ill. 496, contract for work and labor.

Texas.— Missouri, etc., R. Co. v. Carter, 95 Tex. 461, 68 S. W. 159, contract to build and maintain a switch for the convenience of a mill-owner.

United States.— Continental Trust Co. v. Toledo, etc., R. Co., 86 Fed. 929.

England.— Lindsey v. Great Northern R. Co., 10 Hare 664, 17 Jur. 522, 22 L. J. Ch. 995, 1 Wkly. Rep. 257, 44 Eng. Ch. 643, 68 Eng. Reprint 1094, contract to build station and stop trains at specified place.

Canada.— Whitby v. Grand Trunk R. Co., 32 Ont. 99 (contract to maintain workshops in a certain town during operation of the road); Fargey v. Grand Junction R. Co., 4 Ont. 232 (contract to construct a cattle pass).

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 452.

Contracts for use of sleeping cars.—Where one of the constituent companies contracts with a sleeping-car company to haul and use the cars of that company exclusively for a certain period "on its own line of road, and all roads which it now controls, or may hereafter control, by ownership, lease, or otherwise," the contract binds the consolidated company to haul such cars on all roads owned or controlled by the old company at the time of the consolidation, but does not extend the operation of the contract to other roads acquired by the consolidated company. Pullman's Palace-Car Co. v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 115 U. S. 587, 6 S. Ct. 194, 29 L. ed. 499 [affirming 11 Fed. 634, 3 McCrary 645].

44. Boardman v. Lake Shore, etc., R. Co., 84 N. Y. 157; Union Pac. R. Co. v. McAlpine, 129 U. S. 305, 9 S. Ct. 286, 32 L. ed. 673 [affirming 23 Fed. 168].

45. India Mut. Ins. Co. v. Worcester, etc., R. Co., (Mass. 1890) 25 N. E. 975; Day v. Worcester, etc., R. Co., 151 Mass. 302, 23 N. E. 824; John Hancock Mut. L. Ins. Co. v. Worcester, etc., R. Co., 149 Mass. 214, 21 N. E. 364; Whitby v. Grand Trunk R. Co., 32 Ont. 99.

Refusal to honor ticket.— If the consolidated company refuses to honor a ticket issued prior to the consolidation by one of the constituent companies and which has not expired by limitation, and ejects the person offering it from its train, it will be liable in damages. Tompkins v. Augusta Southern R. Co., 102 Ga. 436, 30 S. E. 992.

46. Mobile, etc., R. Co. v. Gilmer, 85 Ala. 422, 5 So. 138, covenant to establish a flag station or depot upon land of grantee and to permit him to cultivate the right of way so long as the privilege did not interfere with the requirements of the company.

47. Hickox v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 78 Mich. 615, 44 N. W. 143.

48. Indiana.— Sparrow v. Evansville, etc., R. Co., 7 Ind. 369.

New York.— New York Cent. R. Co. v. Saratoga, etc., R. Co., 39 Barb. 289.

Ohio.— Mansfield, etc., R. Co. v. Brown, 26 Ohio St. 223.

Texas.— Missouri, etc., R. Co. v. Carter, 95 Tex. 461, 68 S. W. 159.

United States.— Lightner v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 15 Fed. Cas. No. 8,343, 1 Lowell 338.

England.— In re Wansbeck R. Co., L. R. 1 C. P. 269, 12 Jur. N. S. 746.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 452.

Right to use patented devices.— Where each of the constituent companies had contracted for the privilege of using a patent axle box on all cars which they then owned or might thereafter own, the right to such use passes to the consolidated company. Lightner v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 15 Fed. Cas. No. 8,343, 1 Lowell 338.

Leases and rents.— Where one of the constituent companies had leased to another company the right to use a part of its track, the consolidated company succeeds to the right to recover the rents specified and to the benefit of any stipulations in the lease with regard to an increased rental after a certain period. New York Cent., etc., R. Co. v. Saratoga, etc., R. Co., 39 Barb. (N. Y.) 289.

49. Sparrow v. Evansville, etc., R. Co., 7 Ind. 369; Mansfield, etc., R. Co. v. Brown, 26 Ohio St. 223.

50. Brown v. Dibble, 65 Mich. 520, 32 N. W. 656.

51. New Jersey Midland R. Co. v. Strait, 35 N. J. L. 322, holding that where defendant contracted to take at a certain price bonds of a certain railroad company, which afterward consolidated with another company, the consolidated company could not tender its own bonds, although of equal or greater value and dition and the statutes in force at the time of the contract authorized a consolidation, it is entitled to do so and recover upon the contract.[52] The consolidated company may also recover upon a bond given with sureties by an agent of one of the constituent companies to such company and its successors, where the agent is continued in the employment of the consolidated company with the same duties and the defalcation occurs subsequent to the consolidation.[53]

h. Liens and Mortgages. A consolidation does not affect existing liens but the consolidated company takes the property of the constituent companies subject to such liens,[54] and is chargeable with notice thereof,[55] and so the consolidation does not affect the rights of mortgage creditors;[56] but a consolidation does not create any lien in favor of creditors of the constituent companies who previously had none,[57] and the lien created by a subsequent mortgage executed by the consolidated company upon the consolidated property takes precedence of any unsecured claims of creditors of the constituent companies.[58]

i. Effect as to Actions Pending.[59] In some cases it has been held that the consolidation of two or more railroad companies works such a dissolution of the constituent companies as to abate any pending actions by or against them;[60] but in others it is held that the consolidation does not abate pending actions,[61] and recover on the contract, the consideration offered not being that agreed for.

52. Mansfield, etc., R. Co. v. Stout, 26 Ohio St. 223.

53. Pennsylvania, etc., R. Co. v. Harkins, 149 Pa. St. 121, 24 Atl. 175; Eastern Union R. Co. v. Cochrane, 2 C. L. R. 292, 9 Exch. 197, 17 Jur. 1103, 23 L. J. Exch. 61, 2 Wkly. Rep. 43, 7 R. & Can. Cas. 792; London, etc., R. Co. v. Goodwin, 3 Exch. 736, 18 L. J. Exch. 337.

54. Maine.— Hamlin v. Jerrard, 72 Me. 62.

Massachusetts.— Shaw v. Norfolk County R. Co., 16 Gray 407.

Mississippi.—Mississippi Valley Co. v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 58 Miss. 846.

New York.— Vilas v. Page, 106 N. Y. 439, 13 N. E. 743.

United States.— Rutten v. Union Pac. R. Co., 17 Fed. 480; Western Div. R. Co. v. Drew, 29 Fed. Cas. No. 17,434, 3 Woods 691.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 453.

55. Mississippi Valley Co. v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 58 Miss. 846; Western Div. R. Co. v. Drew, 29 Fed. Cas. No. 17,434, 3 Woods 691.

56. Eaton, etc., R. Co. v. Hunt, 20 Ind. 457; Hamlin v. Jerrard, 72 Me. 62; Shaw v. Norfolk County R. Co., 16 Gray (Mass.) 407.

Repairs and improvements made upon the mortgaged property by the consolidated company are considered as accessions thereto and are subject to the mortgage having the prior lien. Hamlin v. Jerrard, 72 Me. 62.

57. Wabash, etc., R. Co. v. Ham, 114 U. S. 587, 5 S. Ct. 1081, 29 L. ed. 235.

No lien is created in favor of bondholders of the constituent companies where none previously existed, by a stipulation in the agreement of consolidation that such bonds should "be protected by said consolidated company," nor do such bondholders acquire any lien by virtue of a subsequent mortgage executed by the consolidated company to secure bonds issued by it, although the object of the mortgage as shown by its recitals was that all the company's indebtedness, including that of the constituent companies, "should be consolidated into one and the same mortgage debt upon equitable principles." Wabash, etc., R. Co. v. Ham, 114 U. S. 587, 5 S. Ct. 1081, 29 L. ed. 235. Contra, Compton v. Wabash, etc., R. Co., 45 Ohio St. 592, 16 N. E. 110, 18 N. E. 380.

58. Wabash, etc., R. Co. v. Ham, 114 U. S. 587, 5 S. Ct. 1081, 29 L. ed. 235.

59. See, generally, CORPORATIONS, 10 Cyc. 310.

60. Kansas, etc., R. Co. v. Smith, 40 Kan. 192, 19 Pac. 636; Wagner v. Atchison, etc., R. Co., 9 Kan. App. 661, 58 Pac. 1018; Council Grove, etc., R. Co. v. Lawrence, 3 Kan. App. 274, 45 Pac. 125.

Effect on pending appeals.— Where a consolidation is effected pending an appeal from a judgment against one of the constituent companies, the proceedings in error must be dismissed unless there is an order of revivor against the consolidated company, made in accordance with the provisions of the statute and with the consent of the new company in cases where such consent is necessary. Cunkle v. Interstate R. Co., 54 Kan. 194, 40 Pac. 184.

61. Florida.—Atlantic Coast Line R. Co. v. Cone, 53 Fla. 1017, 43 So. 514.

Illinois.— Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Ashling, 160 Ill. 373, 43 N. E. 373 [affirming 56 Ill. App. 327].

Michigan.— See Swartwout v. Michigan Air Line R. Co., 24 Mich. 389.

Mississippi.— Shackleford v. Mississippi Cent. R. Co., 52 Miss. 159.

Missouri.— Kinion v. Kansas City, etc., R. Co., 39 Mo. App. 574.

Pennsylvania.— Baltimore, etc., R. Co. v. Musselman, 2 Grant 348.

Tennessee.— East Tennessee, etc., R. Co. v. Evans, 6 Heisk. 607.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 454.

In Illinois and New York the statutes expressly provide that pending actions shall that the consolidated company may be made a party by amendment of the pleadings,[62] and without being brought into court by a new service of process,[63] or that the consolidated company may be substituted as a defendant after verdict and judgment rendered against it,[64] or that the pending action may be prosecuted to judgment against the constituent company and execution thereon issued against the property of that company in the hands of the consolidated company;[65] but where the act authorizing the consolidation preserves the corporate existence of the constituent companies and their liability for existing obligations, a judgment cannot be rendered against the consolidated company in an action pending against one of the constituent companies, unless the former is made a party, although it has assumed the liabilities of the constituent companies.[66]

7. Actions By or Against Consolidated Company. To enforce against the consolidated company a liability previously incurred by one of the constituent companies the consolidated company may be sued directly in an action at law[67] in its own name,[68] and a judgment in personam rendered against it;[69] but the declaration should show against which of the constituent companies the cause of action arose, and allege the facts necessary to show a liability therefor on the part of defendant.[70] In pleading the consolidation it is not necessary to set out the steps taken to effect it,[71] but is sufficient to allege that the companies were authorized to and did consolidate;[72] and, if the consolidation was under the laws of another state, to set out the statutes and allege that their provisions were complied with and the consolidation effected.[73] Where railroad companies of two different states consolidate, in whichever state the consolidated company is sued it is proper to designate it as a corporation created by and existing under the laws of that state.[74] A general denial by a consolidated company, although by statute admitting its corporate existence, does not admit the allegation of consolidation upon which its liability depends.[75] In an action against the consolidated company to enforce a liability of one of the constituent companies, the directors or officers of the new company are not necessary or proper parties.[76] Where one railroad company has been authorized to consolidate with another under the name of the latter, in order to render the latter liable for a debt of the former plaintiff must prove that the proposed consolidation was in fact effected;[77] and conversely, to authorize the consolidated company to recover upon a right of action existing in favor of another company, it must show that the consolidation has been duly consummated, so as to constitute it the legal successor of not abate by reason of the consolidation. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Ashling, 160 Ill. 373, 43 N. E. 373 [affirming 56 Ill. App. 327]; Gale v. Troy, etc., R. Co., 51 Hun (N. Y.) 470, 4 N. Y. Suppl. 295.

62. Kinion v. Kansas City, etc., R. Co., 39 Mo. App. 574.

Condemnation proceedings.—Where the consolidation is effected during the pendency of condemnation proceedings the consolidated company may be substituted as a party. California Cent. R. Co. v. Hooper, 76 Cal. 404, 18 Pac. 599; Day v. New York, etc., R. Co., 58 N. J. L. 677, 34 Atl. 1081.

63. Kinion v. Kansas City, etc., R. Co., 39 Mo. App. 574; Kinion v. Kansas City, etc., R. Co., 39 Mo. App. 382.

64. Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Summers, 131 Ind. 241, 30 N. E. 873.

65. Atlantic Coast Line R. Co. v. Cone, 53 Fla. 1017, 43 So. 514.

66. Selma, etc., R. Co. v. Harbin, 40 Ga. 706.

67. Langhorne v. Richmond R. Co., 91 Va. 369, 22 S. E. 159.

68. Columbus, etc., R. Co. v. Skidmore, 69 Ill. 566; Eaton, etc., R. Co. v. Hunt, 20 Ind. 457; Boardman v. Lake Shore, etc., R. Co., 84 N. Y. 157; Langhorne v. Richmond R. Co., 91 Va. 369, 22 S. E. 159.

69. Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Boney, 117 Ind. 501, 20 N. E. 432, 3 L. R. A. 435.

70. Marquette, etc., R. Co. v. Langton, 32 Mich. 251.

71. Rothschild v. Rio Grande Western R. Co., 18 N. Y. Suppl. 548; Collins v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 14 Wis. 492.

72. Collins v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 14 Wis. 492.

73. Rothschild v. Rio Grande Western R. Co., 18 N. Y. Suppl. 548.

74. Central Trust Co. v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 41 Fed. 551.

Status of company as a domestic corporation in each state see supra, VII, E, 6, e.

75. Koons v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 23 Iowa 493.

76. Chase v. Vanderbilt, 62 N. Y. 307.

77. Southgate v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 61 Mo. 89.

the former company;[78] and the same rule applies in an action by a third person upon a claim originally existing in favor of one of the constituent companies and assigned to plaintiff by the consolidated company.[79]

VIII. INDEBTEDNESS, SECURITIES, LIENS, AND MORTGAGES.*

A. Nature and Extent of Liabilities[80] — 1. In General. Within the limits prescribed by its charter or governing statutes, a railroad company, as a general rule, has power to incur any indebtedness or obligation necessary to carry out the purposes and objects for which it was created,[81] including indebtedness for construction.[82] Under some of such charter or statutory provisions, the railroad company cannot incur an indebtedness exceeding a certain amount,[83] and under others, it cannot incur a single obligation of less than a certain amount.[84] A railroad company has no power to make, and is not liable upon, contracts or obligations which are outside of its purposes and objects,[85] or outside of the powers which it can delegate to its officers;[86] and this applies, although its business is benefited as a direct result of such contract,[87] as every person who enters into an obligation with it is bound at his peril to take notice of the legal limits of its capacity to contract;[88] although it is held in some jurisdictions that, notwithstanding the act creating the obligation is ultra vires, if the railroad company, with the permission and acquiescence of the stock-holders, holds itself out as competent to contract and carry on its business under color of law and procures credit and induces creditors to part with money on the faith of such contract, the contract will be binding in a court of equity not only on the corporation but also on the stock-holders.[89] A railroad company is also liable upon such obligations as its charter, which it has accepted, or governing statute, expressly imposes upon it.[90]

78. Mansfield, etc., R. Co. v. Brown, 26 Ohio St. 223.

It will be presumed, in the absence of any showing to the contrary, that there has been an election of a board of directors of the new company so as to vest in it the rights of the constituent companies, where it is shown that there was a consolidation, and that the consolidated company has since been doing business under the new name (Detroit, etc., R. Co. v. Starnes, 38 Mich. 698); but where the date of such election is material and the facts relating thereto as alleged in the complaint are denied, the burden is upon plaintiff to show that it occurred at such time as to entitle it to maintain the action (Mansfield, etc., R. Co. v. Brown, 26 Ohio St. 223).

79. Brown v. Dibble, 65 Mich. 520, 32 N. W. 656.

80. Effect of consolidation see supra, VII, E, 6.

Effect of lease of road see supra, VII, C.

Liabilities for work, labor, or materials used in construction of road see supra, VI, I.

81. Belfast, etc., R. Co. v. Belfast, 77 Me. 445, 1 Atl. 362. See also Smith v. Nashua, etc., R. Co., 27 N. H. 86, 94, 59 Am. Dec. 364.

A railroad corporation has no power to assume a share of the accidental losses happening in the through business of a connecting railroad. State v. Concord R. Corp., 62 N. H. 375.

82. Belfast, etc., R. Co. v. Belfast, 77 Me. 445, 1 Atl. 362, holding that a railroad company has power to incur indebtedness for the construction of its road, notwithstanding it has by vote pledged itself not to begin construction until sufficient stock is subscribed to complete it, and thereafter has enacted a by-law providing that no assessment shall be made on the shares until such amount is subscribed. And see supra, VI, I.

83. See, generally, CORPORATIONS, 10 Cyc. 1103, 1104, 1171.

84. Eastern Tp.'s Bank v. St. Johnsbury, etc., R. Co., 40 Fed. 423, holding, however, that under Vt. Rev. Laws, § 3350, requiring the obligations of a railroad company to be for not less than one hundred dollars each, a guaranty by the lessor of a railroad to "pay the interest upon the within bond as specified in the interest coupons thereto attached" is not a separate promise to pay each coupon, but is a guaranty of the whole interest to become due on the bonds, and although each coupon is for less than one hundred dollars the guaranty is not prohibited by such statute.

85. George v. Nevada Cent. R. Co., 22 Nev. 228, 38 Pac. 441.

86. George v. Nevada Cent. R. Co., 22 Nev. 228, 38 Pac. 441.

87. George v. Nevada Cent. R. Co., 22 Nev. 228, 38 Pac. 441. And see CORPORATIONS, 10 Cyc. 1146 et seq.

88. George v. Nevada Cent. R. Co., 22 Nev. 228, 38 Pac. 441.

89. Johnson v. Mercantile Trust, etc., Co., 94 Ga. 324, 21 S. E. 576. See also, generally, CORPORATIONS, 10 Cyc. 1154 et seq.

90. State v. New Orleans, etc., R. Co., 3 Rob. (La.) 418, holding that under the act of

*By Henry H. Skyles.

2. Borrowing Money.[91] As a general rule a railroad company like other private or quasi-public corporations,[92] unless restrained by statute,[93] has power to borrow money for purposes incidental to its organization and operation,[94] such as for the purpose of constructing its road;[95] and to make and issue therefor negotiable paper,[96] bonds,[97] and mortgages.[98] This power, however, may be subject to statutory restrictions,[99] such as that the company cannot borrow at a rate of interest exceeding a certain per cent.[1] But it has been held that a railroad company is not exempt from the rule that forbids a corporation which has received the full benefit of a loan from avoiding its liability therefor by reason of a statute limiting the amount of indebtedness which it may incur.[2] If money for the use of the railroad company is borrowed upon the personal credit of an officer or agent of the company, and the lender accepts such personal responsibility, he cannot afterward make the company his debtor therefor.[3]

3. Making and Indorsement of Negotiable Instruments. As incidental to its power to borrow money and incur other indebtedness, a railroad company, like other private corporations,[4] unless restrained by its charter or governing statutes,[5] has power to make, accept, and indorse negotiable paper in payment or settlement of debts which it may incur in the course of its legitimate business or in respect to any matter within the purposes of its creation.[6] Under this power,

March 1, 1836, section 1, amending the charter of the New Orleans and Carrollton Railroad Company, providing that "the company shall pay to the State, in ten equal annual instalments from the acceptance of the present act, seventy-five thousand dollars to be employed by the State" for certain purposes, the state is entitled to recover, whether such purposes have been commenced or not, since the railroad company has nothing to do with the appropriation of the amount it contracted to pay.

Constables' wages.— Where a statute provides for the appointment of constables, during the construction of the railway and works, to be paid by the company, the latter's liability for such wages does not cease with the opening of the line, but continues so long as workmen are employed in completing any of the works. North British R. Co. v. Horne, 5 R. & Can. Cas. 231.

91. Liens for loans and advances see infra, VIII, A, 6, f.

92. See, generally, Corporations, 10 Cyc. 1101 et seq.

93. Savannah, etc., R. Co. v. Lancaster, 62 Ala. 555.

94. Savannah, etc., R. Co. v. Lancaster, 62 Ala. 555; Kelly v. Alabama, etc., R. Co., 58 Ala. 489; Richards v. Merrimack, etc., R. Co., 44 N. H. 127; Gloninger v. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co., 139 Pa. St. 13, 21 Atl. 211, holding that such power will be implied from the power to mortgage.

In England and Canada, however, a railroad company has no power, in the absence of statute, to borrow money (Commercial Bank v. Great Western R. Co., 13 L. T. Rep. N. S. 105. See Yorkshire R. Wagon Co. v. Maclure. 21 Ch. D. 309, 51 L. J. Ch. 857, 47 L. T. Rep. N. S. 290, 30 Wkly. Rep. 761. And see Corporations, 10 Cyc. 1101 note 72); and one advancing money to such a company is bound to ascertain for himself at his own risk whether the loan is authorized by the shareholders and has no right to assume that the directors have authority to borrow (Commercial Bank v. Great Western R. Co., supra).

95. Savannah, etc., R. Co. v. Lancaster, 62 Ala. 555; Gloninger v. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co., 139 Pa. St. 13, 21 Atl. 211.

96. See infra, VIII, A, 3.

97. See infra, VIII, A, 4.

98. See infra, VIII, A, 7.

99. See Southwestern Arkansas, etc., R. Co. v. Hays, 63 Ark. 355, 38 S. W. 665.

1. Southwestern Arkansas, etc., R. Co. v. Hays, 63 Ark. 355, 38 S. W. 665 (seven per cent under Sandels & H. Dig. § 6268); Metropolitan Trust Co. v. Railroad Equipment Co., 108 Fed. 913, 48 C. C. A. 135 (seven per cent under Ohio Rev. St. § 3287).

2. Beach v. Wakefield, 107 Iowa 567, 76 N. W. 688, 78 N. W. 197.

3. Strider v. Winchester, etc., R. Co., 21 Gratt. (Va.) 440.

4. See Corporations, 10 Cyc. 1111–1122, where this subject is fully treated.

5. Southwestern Arkansas, etc., R. Co. v. Hays, 63 Ark. 355, 38 S. W. 665 (holding that the mere fact that a note is made by a railroad company does not bring it within Sandels & H. Dig. § 6268, under which railroad companies have no power to borrow money at a rate of interest exceeding seven per cent per annum, as it may not have been given for borrowed money); Richmond, etc., R. Co. v. Snead, 19 Gratt. (Va.) 354, 100 Am. Dec. 670.

6. Southwestern Arkansas, etc., R. Co. v. Hays, 63 Ark. 355, 38 S. W. 665; Smead v. Indianapolis, etc., R. Co., 11 Ind. 104; Hamilton v. Newcastle, etc., R. Co., 9 Ind. 359; Richards v. Merrimack, etc., R. Co., 44 N. H. 127.

Lease warrants.— Under Ohio Rev. St. § 3287, which authorizes railroad companies to issue bonds or notes and secure the same by a pledge of their property or income, a railroad company has power to issue so-called "lease warrants" for deferred payments on a railroad company may make and issue negotiable bonds,[7] or negotiable certificates payable in money or bonds.[8] But except in so far as authorized by its charter or governing statutes,[9] a railroad company has no general power to make or accept negotiable instruments for purposes foreign to its creation,[10] such as accommodation paper to aid in an undertaking not contemplated by its charter.[11] But even where the making or indorsement is without authority, a railroad company may be held liable for money paid for it by another on paper.[12]

4. MAKING AND ISSUE OF BONDS — a. Power to Issue. A railroad company may have express power to make and issue bonds by virtue of its charter or governing statutes,[13] or like other private corporations,[14] this power may be implied from its power to mortgage its property,[15] or borrow money,[16] or from its power to incur any other indebtedness in carrying out the legitimate purposes of its creation;[17] equipment, the title to which remains in the seller until all such warrants are paid and then passes to the company. Metropolitan Trust Co. v. Railroad Equipment Co., 108 Fed. 913, 48 C. C. A. 135.

Usury.— The effect of Ohio Rev. St. § 3282, authorizing railroad companies to borrow money at a rate of interest not exceeding seven per cent and to issue bonds or notes for the same, and of section 3290, which provides that the directors may sell or negotiate such bonds or notes at not less than seventy-five per cent of par, is to exempt railroad companies from the operation of the general usury statute; and notes or lease warrants issued by a railroad company for deferred payments on equipment bought are valid, although their amount is greater than the sum due on the price of such equipment with the legal rate of interest, but not greater than would have been required if they had borne interest at seven per cent and been discounted at seventy-five per cent of par. Metropolitan Trust Co. v. Railroad Equipment Co., 108 Fed. 913, 48 C. C. A. 135; Metropolitan Trust Co. v. Columbus, etc., R. Co., 93 Fed. 702.

In England and Canada, however, the rule is stated that a railroad company has no power to make or indorse negotiable paper (Bateman v. Mid-Wales, L. R. 1 C. P. 499, Harr. & R. 508, 12 Jur. N. S. 453, 35 L. J. C. P. 205, 14 Wkly. Rep. 672, holding also that the question of such power is properly raised by a plea denying the acceptance, although the acceptance was given by order of the directors under the seal of the company; Topping v. Buffalo, etc., R. Co., 6 U. C. C. P. 141; Brockville, etc., R. Co. v. Canada Cent. R. Co., 41 U. C. Q. B. 431), unless such power is expressly or by necessary implication, conferred upon it by its charter or other governing statute (Peruvian R. Co. v. Thames, etc., Ins. Co., L. R. 2 Ch. 617, 36 L. J. Ch. 864, 16 L. T. Rep. N. S. 644, 15 Wkly. Rep. 1002; Commercial Bank v. Great Western R. Co., 13 L. T. Rep. N. S. 105; Kingston Mar. R. Co. v. Gunn, 3 U. C. Q. B. 368).

7. Miller v. New York, etc., R. Co., 8 Abb. Pr. (N. Y.) 431, 18 How. Pr. 374.

8. Pusey v. New Jersey West Line R. Co., 14 Abb. Pr. N. S. (N. Y.) 434, holding that a railroad company authorized to construct a road and to issue and negotiate bonds for that purpose may issue negotiable certificates payable in money or bonds in payment for work done in the construction of the road.

9. Smead v. Indianapolis, etc., R. Co., 11 Ind. 104, holding that under a charter power to contract with a connecting road for its use, etc., a railroad company has power to execute notes or bills to pay the expenses of altering the gauge of such other road.

10. Smead v. Indianapolis, etc., R. Co., 11 Ind. 104.

11. Smead v. Indianapolis, etc., R. Co., 11 Ind. 104.

12. Brockville, etc., R. Co. v. Canada Cent. R. Co., 41 U. C. Q. B. 431, holding this to be true in case of money paid by an accommodation indorser. See also, generally, MONEY PAID, 27 Cyc. 832.

13. See Coe v. Columbus, etc., R. Co., 10 Ohio St. 372, 75 Am. Dec. 518; Fountaine v. Carmarthen, etc., R. Co., L. R. 5 Eq. 316, 37 L. J. Ch. 429, 16 Wkly. Rep. 476; West Cornwall R. Co. v. Mowatt, 12 Jur. 407, 17 L. J. Ch. 366, holding, however, that under a power to issue debentures for money borrowed, the company has no power to issue them in respect to an agreement for discount on shares sold.

14. See, generally, CORPORATIONS, 10 Cyc. 1167 et seq.

15. Gloninger v. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co., 139 Pa. St. 13, 21 Atl. 211.

16. Miller v. New York, etc., R. Co., 8 Abb. Pr. (N. Y.) 431, 18 How. Pr. 374; In re Mersey R. Co., [1895] 2 Ch. 287, 64 L. J. Ch. 625, 72 L. T. Rep. N. S. 735, 12 Reports 345 (under Railway Companies Act (1867), § 24).

Bonds pledged as security for a pre-existing debt by a railroad company authorized "from time to time to borrow such sums of money as may be necessary for completing and finishing and operating its road" and to issue bonds as security are valid. Duncomb v. New York, etc., R. Co., 84 N. Y. 190 [reversing 22 Hun 133].

17. Mead v. New York, etc., R. Co., 45 Conn. 199; Craven v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 77 N. C. 289; Raymond v. Spring Grove, etc., R. Co., 10 Ohio Dec. (Reprint), 416, 21 Cinc. L. Bul. 103; Philadelphia, etc., R. Co. v. Lewis, 33 Pa. St. 33, 75 Am. Dec. 574.

Lloyd's bonds which merely acknowledge and this includes the power to issue them in exchange for bonds previously issued,[18] or at a discount,[19] except in so far as restrained or prohibited by charter or statutory provisions.[20] A constitutional or statutory provision which prohibits railroad companies from issuing stock or bonds except for money, labor, or property actually received and applied to the purposes for which the company was created does not interfere with the usual methods of raising money by issuing stock and bonds for legitimate corporate purposes,[21] as for the purpose of raising money to pay debts incurred in constructing and equipping its road;[22] nor does it prohibit the company from delivering bonds as advance payment on a contract obligation of as great value as the bonds.[23]

b. What Law Governs. Where a railroad extends through two or more states and is incorporated by the laws of each, an issue of bonds if valid under the laws of the state in which they are issued is valid everywhere, notwithstanding they would have been invalid if issued under the laws of one or more of such other states through which the road runs.[24]

c. Forms, Requisites, and Validity — (i) In General. Ordinarily a railroad company may issue its bonds in any form or upon any conditions it sees proper, so long as not unauthorized,[25] such as in the form of bonds convertible into stock.[26] But it is necessary that all the charter, statutory, or constitutional requirements in respect thereto be complied with, as that they be issued within the restrictions and only for the purposes prescribed by such provisions,[27] and in the mode author-a debt and promise to pay in the future see In re Cork, etc., R. Co., L. R. 4 Ch. 748, 39 L. J. Ch. 277, 21 L. T. Rep. N. S. 735, 18 Wkly. Rep. 26; Chambers v. Manchester etc., R. Co., 5 B. & S. 588, 33 L. J. Q. B. 268, 10 Jur. N. S. 700, 10 L. T. Rep. N. S. 715, 12 Wkly. Rep. 980, 117 E. C. L. 588; White v. Carmarthen, etc., R. Co., 1 Hem. & M. 786, 33 L. J. Ch. 93, 9 L. T. Rep. N. S. 439, 11 L. T. Rep. N. S. 179 note, 12 Wkly. Rep. 68, 71 Eng. Reprint 344.

18. Mead v. New York, etc., R. Co., 45 Conn. 199.

19. Coe v. Columbus, etc., R. Co., 10 Ohio St. 373, 75 Am. Dec. 518.

20. Craven v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 77 N. C. 289.

In ascertaining the price for which bonds of a railroad company were sold, for the purpose of determining their validity under a statute prohibiting their sale for less than seventy-five per cent of their par value, but which fixed no minimum limit on the sale of stock, where an amount of both bonds and stock were issued to a contractor in consideration of a reorganization agreement, it is not necessary that the value of the consideration received by the company should be equally distributed between both bonds and stock according to the amount of each issue to the contractor, but the stock may properly be computed in the payment at its market value; nor is the value of what was actually done by the contractor the measure of consideration received by the company for the bonds, but the value of what he undertook by his contract to do. Toledo, etc., R. Co. v. Continental Trust Co., 95 Fed. 497, 36 C. C. A. 155, 96 Fed. 784, 37 C. C. A. 587 [modifying 86 Fed. 929].

21. Peoria, etc., R. Co. v. Thompson, 103 Ill. 187; Memphis, etc., R. Co. v. Dow, 120 U. S. 287, 7 S. Ct. 482, 30 L. ed. 595.

22. Peoria, etc., R. Co. v. Thompson, 103 Ill. 187 (holding this to be true in respect to an issue of bonds before the work to be paid for has been actually done); Com. v. Lehigh Ave. R. Co., 129 Pa. St. 405, 18 Atl. 414, 498, 5 L. R. A. 367 (construing Const. art. 16, § 7).

23. Hudson River, etc., R. Co. v. Hanfield, 36 N. Y. App. Div. 605, 55 N. Y. Suppl. 877. on contract to construct the railroad.

24. Atwood v. Shenandoah Valley R. Co., 85 Va. 966, 9 S. E. 748, holding that bonds issued by a railroad company under its charter powers in the state of Virginia are valid, notwithstanding they would have been void if issued in Maryland or West Virginia by which states the railroad company was also incorporated.

25. Willoughby v. Chicago Junction R., etc., Co., 50 N. J. Eq. 656, 25 Atl. 277.

Where the words or terms of a railroad bond are equivocal, or not entirely clear, the court may consider the deed of trust in connection with the bond, to ascertain the real contract between the company and the bondholders. Shoemaker v. Dayton, etc., R. Co., 10 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 12, 18 Cinc. L. Bul. 43.

26. Belmont v. Erie R. Co., 52 Barb. (N. Y.) 637 (holding this power to exist, when exercised in good faith, although it increases the amount of the capital stock beyond that fixed by the charter); Van Allen v. Illinois Cent. R. Co., 7 Bosw. (N. Y.) 515; Ramsey v. Erie R. Co., 38 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 193 (although it increases the capital stock beyond the amount fixed by the charter); Denney v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co., 28 Ohio St. 108.

27. Peoria, etc., R. Co. v. Thompson, 103 Ill. 187; East Boston Freight R. Co. v. Hubbard, 10 Allen (Mass.) 459 note (holding that under St. (1852) c. 286, bonds issued ized;[28] although in respect to bona fide holders, such bonds may be valid, although invalid as between the original parties.[29] Thus ordinarily bonds are invalid if for an amount in excess of the limit prescribed by the company's charter or governing statutes.[30] So a railroad company has no power, under its general authority to borrow money, to issue irredeemable or perpetual bonds which may in effect increase its capital stock and change the rights of its existing creditors,[31] and such an issue may be restrained by injunction at the suit of stock-holders.[32] But where bonds are issued in good faith to pay or secure some legitimate corporate indebtedness, they are not rendered invalid by the mere fact that they are issued for a sum in excess of the indebtedness which they are issued to secure.[33] Nor is an issue of bonds invalid as against the company merely because of some irregularity or fraud which does not affect the company's liability as principal debtor.[34] Bonds secured by a mortgage are not rendered invalid because of a want of power to execute the mortgage.[35] A subsequent creditor of a railroad company cannot without authority are void, together with the mortgage given to secure them); Kemble v. Wilmington, etc., R. Co., 14 Fed. Cas. No. 7,684, 13 Phila. (Pa.) 469, 5 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 172 (holding that Pa. Act, April 8, 1861, does not authorize railroad companies organized thereunder to issue bonds otherwise than for a new, adequate, or valuable consideration increasing the available funds of the company). See also Quebec v. Quebec Cent. R. Co., 10 Can. Sup. Ct. 563.

Consolidated company.—Although N. Y. Laws (1850), c. 225, § 28, subd. 10, providing that railroad corporations may borrow such sums as are necessary for completing, finishing, and operating their roads, and issue bonds for the money borrowed, and secure the repayment by mortgage on the corporate property and franchises, which section was made applicable to consolidated corporations under Laws (1869), c. 917, § 8, may have been designed to carry with it an implication that mortgage bonds could not be issued for any other purpose, such limitation was removed as to consolidated companies by section 2 of the act of 1869. Taylor v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 57 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 26.

28. East Boston Freight Co. v. Hubbard, 10 Allen (Mass.) 459 note.

29. See infra, VIII, A, 4, e, (II).

30. Baker v. Guarantee Trust, etc., Co., (N. J. Ch. 1895) 31 Atl. 174; Raymond v. Spring Grove, etc., R. Co., 10 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 416, 21 Cinc. L. Bul. 103 (holding that where bonds are issued in excess of the amount allowed by law, there can be no recovery on the bonds, against the individual stock-holders and directors who caused the issue); New Castle, Northern R. Co. v. Simpson, 21 Fed. 533; Fountaine v. Carmarthen R. Co., L. R. 5 Eq. 316, 37 L. J. Ch. 429, 16 Wkly. Rep. 476. Compare Belmont v. Erie R. Co., 52 Barb. (N. Y.) 637.

Under the Pennsylvania act of April 18, 1874, a contract for the issuance of bonds which increases the company's indebtedness beyond the amount of its capital stock subscribed, etc., is void. New Castle Northern R. Co. v. Simpson, 21 Fed. 533.

In determining whether there has been an overissue of bonds, where a contractor is to be paid for building a railroad in the bonds and stock of the corporation as the work progresses, only the labor and materials actually paid for by the contractor can be taken into account, even if stock paid for but not issued can be considered; since the corporation itself is liable for labor and materials not paid for. Baker v. Guarantee Trust, etc., Co., (N. J. Ch. 1895) 31 Atl. 174.

31. Taylor v. Philadelphia, etc., R. Co., 7 Fed. 386, 14 Phila. (Pa.) 479.

32. Taylor v. Philadelphia, etc., R. Co., 7 Fed. 386, 14 Phila. (Pa.) 479.

33. Sioux City, etc., R. Co. v. Manhattan Trust Co., 92 Fed. 428, 34 C. C. A. 431 (holding that railroad stock and bonds issued in exchange for the stock and bonds of a former company, not shown to have been invalid, in pursuance of a reorganization scheme, which, so far as it appears, was entered into in good faith by the issuing company, are not invalid under Nebr. Const. art. 11, § 5 Consol. St. (1891) p. 72, which provides that a railroad company shall not issue stock or bonds except for money, labor, or property actually received, and that fictitious issues of stock or bonds shall be void, merely because at the time of the exchange the cash value of the physical property and franchises acquired by the reorganization company was not equal to the par value of its securities); Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Rockaway Valley R. Co., 69 Fed. 9 (holding that railroad bonds issued to pay for the construction of a road are not rendered invalid by the fact that the road was constructed for less than the amount of the bonds, where the contract for the construction was fairly made and carried out and called for that amount).

34. Kelly v. Alabama, etc., R. Co., 58 Ala. 489, holding that, although railroad bonds be indorsed in fraud under the internal improvement law, such void indorsement, while releasing the state as surety for the railroad company, will not release the company from its liability for the bonds secured.

35. Illinois Trust, etc., Bank v. Pacific R. Co., 117 Cal. 332, 49 Pac. 197; Philadelphia, etc., R. Co. v. Lewis, 33 Pa. St. 33, 75 Am. Dec. 574.

attack the validity of bonds on grounds which the railroad company has waived or does not question.[36]

(II) VALIDITY IN HANDS OF DIRECTORS. Under some statutes the purchase of railroad stock, bonds, or securities by a director of the company, either directly or indirectly, for less than their par value is voidable.[37] Such statutes, however, apply only to original sales made by the company and do not affect the validity of bonds which a director has acquired an interest in through a third person.[38]

(III) ESTOPPEL TO DENY VALIDITY. A railroad company may be estopped by its conduct to deny the validity of an issue of bonds.[39]

d. Negotiation or Sale — (I) IN GENERAL. The negotiability of railroad bonds is governed, in the absence of special statute, by the rules applicable to the negotiability of corporate bonds generally.[40] Ordinarily the disposition or sale of such bonds is regulated by statute.[41] Authority to issue and dispose of railroad

36. Toledo, etc., R. Co. v. Continental Trust Co., 95 Fed. 497, 36 C. C. A. 155, 96 Fed. 784, 37 C. C. A. 587 [modifying 86 Fed. 929], holding that where a full settlement has been made between a railroad company and a contractor to whom the company issued bonds in payment for work, which settlement was acquiesced in by all parties in interest, subsequent creditors of the company cannot attack the validity of the bonds on the ground of fraud on the part of the contractor by a failure properly to perform the contract.

37. Toledo, etc., R. Co. v. Continental Trust Co., 95 Fed. 497, 36 C. C. A. 155, 96 Fed. 784, 37 C. C. A. 587 [modifying 86 Fed. 929], construing Ohio Rev. St. § 3313.

38. Toledo, etc., R. Co. v. Continental Trust Co., 95 Fed. 497, 36 C. C. A. 155, 96 Fed. 784, 37 C. C. A. 587 [modifying 86 Fed. 929], holding that the acquiring of an interest in bonds by a director through a contractor, to whom the company had contracted to deliver them in payment for work after they had been issued by the company and deposited with trustees to be delivered to the contractor as the work progressed, either by direct purchase or by a secret agreement made after such issuance and deposit, does not invalidate such bonds.

A verbal option given to certain creditors by a contractor to purchase bonds from him at less than par after they are earned under his contract in consideration of their consent, as bondholders of a prior company, to a certain plan of reorganization, which agreement was wholly collateral to his contract with the company, does not invalidate such bonds in the hands of the directors. Toledo, etc., R. Co. v. Continental Trust Co., 95 Fed. 497, 36 C. C. A. 155, 96 Fed. 784, 37 C. C. A. 587 [modifying 86 Fed. 929].

Subsequent creditors cannot attack the validity of such bonds in the hands of directors, where it is not questioned by the corporation or its stock-holders. Toledo, etc., R. Co. v. Continental Trust Co., 95 Fed. 497, 36 C. C. A. 155, 96 Fed. 784, 37 C. C. A. 587 [modifying 86 Fed. 929].

39. Singer v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 6 Mo. App. 427; Shoemaker v. Dayton, etc., R. Co., 10 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 252, 19 Cinc. L. Bul. 322, holding that a railroad company may be estopped from disputing the validity of bonds issued by it without authority where it has, with the full knowledge of all the facts, redeemed a large amount of the bonds and paid interest on them for many years.

40. See CORPORATIONS, 10 Cyc. 1172, 1173.

The usage and practice of railroad companies, and of capitalists and business men, and decisions of the courts have made this class of securities negotiable instruments. White v. Vermont, etc., R. Co., 21 How. (U. S.) 575, 16 L. ed. 221.

Interest coupons attached to such a bond, and which refer to the bond, partake of the same character as the bond itself; and this character is not changed by cutting them off from the bond; and although an action may be maintained upon the coupons without production of the bond, a recovery must be based upon the obligations contained in the bond. McClelland v. Norfolk Southern R. Co., 110 N. Y. 461, 18 N. E. 237, 6 Am. St. Rep. 397, 1 L. R. A. 299.

Overdue and unpaid interest coupons do not of themselves make the bonds to which they are attached non-negotiable. Indiana, etc., R. Co. v. Sprague, 103 U. S. 756, 26 L. ed. 554.

An option given a mortgage trustee to declare a railroad bond due before the time of payment in case of default in the payment of interest does not affect the negotiability of such bond. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Northern Trust Co., 90 Ill. App. 460.

41. McGregor v. Covington, etc., R. Co., 1 Disn. (Ohio) 509, 12 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 763 (holding, however, that a statute authorizing a sale of bonds of railroad companies at such prices as the directors may choose to take for them does not apply to foreign corporations); Continental Trust Co. v. Toledo, etc., R. Co., 82 Fed. 642 (holding that Ohio Rev. St. § 3290, regulating the rates and prices at which railroad corporations may sell their bonds and other securities, does not invalidate bonds received by a contractor for work done, unless it is clear that the cost of the work was palpably less than the statutory price of the bonds, so that the parties knew it to be so when the contract was made); Toronto Gen. Trusts Corp. v. Cenbonds for the purpose of raising money for corporate purposes authorizes a pledge of them for such purposes.[42] Where such bonds, complete in form, and negotiable by delivery, are placed in the custody of the president or other managing officer of the company, he thereby becomes clothed with an apparent authority to dispose of them,[43] and to fill in necessary blanks, such as inserting the obligee's name.[44]

(II) Rights of Creditors Against Subscribers to Bonds. Railroad mortgage bondholders who subscribe to its debenture bonds, agreeing to pay specified portions of their subscription as called for, in effect agree to loan the company money and receive the bonds as security; and such transaction does not create any trust in favor of creditors of the railroad company;[45] and such bondholders do not thereby become liable to creditors of the company for the amounts unpaid on such agreement on the analogy of the liability of stock-holders to the extent of unpaid stock subscriptions.[46] Nor where the agreement is executory have such creditors any remedy in equity to reach and apply the amount so due as property belonging to the debtor.[47]

e. Rights of Bondholders Generally[48] — (I) In General. Ordinarily the rights of a purchaser or pledgee of railroad bonds are governed by the rules applicable to sales and pledges of bonds generally;[49] but these rights may be varied by tral Ontario R. Co., 4 Can. R. Cas. 359, 10 Ont. L. Rep. 347, 5 Ont. Wkly. Rep. 600 [reversing 3 Can. R. Cas. 344, 7 Ont. L. Rep. 660, 3 Ont. Wkly. Rep. 520]; Toronto Bank v. Cobourg, etc., R. Co., 7 Ont. 1.

42. Illinois Trust, etc., Bank v. Pacific R. Co., 117 Cal. 332, 49 Pac. 197; Farmers' L. & T. R. Co. v. Toledo, etc., R. Co., 54 Fed. 759, 4 C. C. A. 561 (holding that a railroad company is authorized under Howell Annot. St. Mich. § 3352, to pledge its bonds for money borrowed); Duncomb v. New York, etc., R. Co., 84 N. Y. 190 (holding that a railroad company authorized to issue bonds to raise money for the operation of the road may pledge its bonds as security for its office rent). See, generally, Pledges, 31 Cyc. 779.

43. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co. v. Lynde, 55 Ohio St. 23, 44 N. E. 596, holding also that if without the consent or knowledge of the company he wrongfully and for his own benefit negotiates them, and in due course of business before due, to one who pays therefor their fair value, without notice of any restriction on such apparent power of disposition, the transaction confers upon such purchaser a valid title to the bonds so purchased and entitles him to a lien against the mortgaged property for their payment.

44. Toronto Bank v. Cobourg, etc., R. Co., 7 Ont. 1.

45. Pettibone v. Toledo, etc., R. Co., 148 Mass. 411, 19 N. E. 337, 1 L. R. A. 787, holding that the fact that the debenture bonds are issued to enable the corporation to complete its road does not create any trust in favor of creditors whose claims are for supplies furnished in the construction of the road.

46. Pettibone v. Toledo, etc., R. Co., 148 Mass. 411, 19 N. E. 337, 1 L. R. A. 787.

47. Pettibone v. Toledo, etc., R. Co., 148 Mass. 411, 19 N. E. 337, 1 L. R. A. 787, holding that where the contract between the corporation and the subscribers to the bonds is executory on both sides and not assignable by either party, it is not within Pub. St. c. 151, § 2, cl. 11, giving creditors a remedy in equity to reach and apply "any property, right, title, or interest, legal or equitable," belonging to a debtor.

48. Priorities between bondholders see infra, VIII, A, 9, m, (I).

Right to interest see infra, VIII, A, 10.

Purchase by bondholders at foreclosure sale see infra, VIII, B, 15.

Rights of bondholders on reorganization after foreclosure sale see infra, VIII, B, 16, b.

49. See Vermont, etc., R. Co. v. Vermont Cent. R. Co., 34 Vt. 1; and, generally, Bonds, 5 Cyc. 784 et seq.; Corporations, 10 Cyc. 1173 et seq.; Pledges, 31 Cyc. 779.

Each bondholder sustains a contractual relation to every other bondholder, so that in dealing with the common security, he cannot pursue a wholly selfish course, prejudicial to the community in interest. Lyman v. Kansas City, etc., R. Co., 101 Fed. 636.

A purchaser of railroad bonds is entitled to recover the face value of the bonds regardless of what he paid for them. Jesup v. Racine City Bank, 14 Wis. 331; Wade v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 149 U. S. 327, 13 S. Ct. 892, 37 L. ed. 755, holding this to be true where there is no infirmity or defense between the antecedent parties to the bonds.

A pledgee of railroad bonds is entitled to recover only the amount of his indebtedness, with interest, which the bonds were pledged to secure (Rice's Appeal, 79 Pa. St. 168 [reversing 9 Phila. 294]; Jesup v. Racine City Bank, 14 Wis. 331; London Financial Assoc. v. Wrexham, etc., R. Co., L. R. 18 Eq. 566, 30 L. T. Rep. N. S. 491. And see, generally, Pledges, 31 Cyc. 779); and this rule also applies to a subsequent holder of such bonds with notice of the character of the transaction between the railroad company and the pledgee (Simmons v. Taylor, 23 Fed. 849).

the special contract under which the purchase or pledge is made.[50] Negotiable railroad bonds, valid on their face, are good in the hands of bona fide purchasers for value,[51] notwithstanding their issuance or application may have been such as to make them voidable in the hands of the original taker.[52] Such a holder, in the absence of notice to the contrary, has a right to assume that all charter and statutory requirements in respect to the issuance and application of the bonds have been complied with.[53] In accordance with this principle, railroad bonds are valid in the hands of such a purchaser, although they were issued in violation of restrictions in the charter,[54] especially where such restrictions are for the benefit of shareholders and they make no objection to the issuance or application.[55] Holders of non-negotiable railroad bonds, however, take them subject to all defenses, legal and equitable, of the company which issues them;[56] and the stock-holders of the company cannot claim that they will suffer irreparable injury if the bonds pass into the hands of purchasers for value without notice,[57] and have no right on that ground to an injunction, restraining the issue of the bonds, or to its continuance if already granted.[58]

(II) WHO ARE BONA FIDE HOLDERS. In accordance with the rules governing the holders of bonds generally,[59] a person is a bona fide holder of railroad bonds within the meaning of the above rule, who purchases the bonds in the open

Illegal Lloyd's bonds in the hands of assignee see Chambers v. Manchester, etc., R. Co., 5 B. & S. 588, 10 Jur. N. S. 700, 33 L. J. Q. B. 268, 10 L. T. Rep. N. S. 715, 12 Wkly. Rep. 980, 117 E. C. L. 588.

Injunction to restrain application for legislation that might affect bondholder's rights see Gregory v. Canada Imp. Co., Russ. Eq. Dec. (Nova Scotia) 358.

50. See Singer v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 6 Mo. App. 427; Vose v. Bronson, 6 Wall. (U. S.) 452, 18 L. ed. 846; Dwight v. Smith, 13 Fed. 50, holding that the question whether bondholders who have acquired their bonds since money in the hands of the trustees applicable to the bonds accrued are entitled to share in that money depends upon the nature of the right and of the transaction by which they acquired the bonds.

Designation by lot.— The object of a provision in a contract requiring that bonds of each purchaser be designated by lot is for the purpose of treating all bondholders alike, and therefore such designation is unnecessary when all the bonds are held by one person. Ohio, etc., R. Co. v. Short, 6 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 703, 7 Am. L. Rec. 474.

A purchaser of bonds under an assurance that no further indebtedness shall be placed upon a portion of the road then constructed enjoys all his rights against the company, unaffected by those of a purchaser of bonds issued subsequently in violation of the assurance. McMurray v. Moran, 134 U. S. 150, 10 S. Ct. 427, 33 L. ed. 814; Union Trust Co. v. Nevada, etc., R. Co., 20 Fed. 80.

51. Peoria, etc., R. Co. v. Thompson, 103 Ill. 187; Porter v. Pittsburg Bessemer Steel Co., 122 U. S. 267, 7 S. Ct. 1206, 30 L. ed. 1210, 120 U. S. 649, 7 S. Ct. 741, 30 L. ed. 830.

52. Grant v. Green, 46 Ill. 469 (holding that where railroad bonds are issued in good faith and within corporate powers and the transaction in other respects is a real one, their validity in the hands of innocent holders is not affected by the fact that the purposes for which they were issued were not fully carried out); Galveston, etc., R. Co. v. Cowdrey, 11 Wall. (U. S.) 459, 20 L. ed. 199; Long Island L. & T. Co. v. Columbia, etc., R. Co., 65 Fed. 455 See also London Financial Assoc. v. Wrexham, etc., R. Co., L. R. 18 Eq. 566, 30 L. T. Rep. N. S. 491.

Bonds indorsed by the state are valid in the hands of a bona fide purchaser for value, although they were misapplied by the railroad company. Morton v. New Orleans, etc., R., etc., Co., 79 Ala. 590; Gilman v. New Orleans, etc., R. Co., 72 Ala. 566.

53. Ellsworth v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 98 N. Y. 553 [affirming 33 Hun 7].

54. Ellsworth v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 98 N. Y. 553 [affirming 33 Hun 7] (holding that as against a bona fide holder of bonds issued by a railroad company, it may not be shown that restrictions imposed by its charter on its power to issue bonds were violated, as such corporations in general have power to issue bonds); Fidelity Ins., etc., Co. v. Western Pennsylvania, etc., R. Co., 138 Pa. St. 494, 21 Atl. 21, 21 Am. St. Rep. 911 (holding that the fact that a railroad company has violated its charter by the issuance of bonds secured by a mortgage in an amount greater than twice its paid-up capital stock will not entitle the company's general creditors who became such with notice of the mortgage to share in the proceeds of the foreclosure sale on an equality with the bona fide purchasers of the bonds).

55. Tyrell v. Cairo, etc., R. Co., 7 Mo. App. 294.

56. Kissel v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 44 Misc. (N. Y.) 156, 89 N. Y. Suppl. 796.

57. Kissel v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 44 Misc. (N. Y.) 156, 89 N. Y. Suppl. 796.

58. Kissel v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 44 Misc. (N. Y.) 156, 89 N. Y. Suppl. 796.

59. See, generally, BONDS, 5 Cyc. 795 et seq.; CORPORATIONS, 10 Cyc. 1176.

market, supposing them to be valid and having no notice to the contrary,[60] or who acquires them from a bona fide holder, even though he is not himself a holder without notice;[61] and except where fraud in the inception of the bonds is shown,[62] the presumption is that holders of negotiable bonds are bona fide holders for value,[63] especially where the recitals on the face of the bonds lull and satisfy inquiry.[64] A purchaser of such bonds, however, is bound to take notice of all facts affecting their validity which are apparent on the face of the bonds,[65] or which the circumstances attending their issuance or transfer and which are sufficient to excite suspicion in the mind of a prudent person, call to his attention.[66] Where the bonds are issued under a public statute, every purchaser of such bonds is put upon inquiry as to the terms of such statute and is bound at his peril to take notice of them.[67]

(III) MODIFICATION OF CONTRACT BY REORGANIZATION SCHEME. Every railroad bondholder secured by a mortgage is equally entitled under the agreement made with him to be protected in all the advantages legally secured by it,[68] and except where such authority is given by statute,[69] or by the instrument cre-

60. Galveston, etc., R. Co. v. Cowdrey, 11 Wall. (U. S.) 459, 20 L. ed. 199.

Where the persons to whom the bonds are issued by a railroad company have notice of the facts showing their illegality, such bonds will be void in their hands. Chicago v. Cameron, 120 Ill. 447, 11 N. E. 899 [affirming 22 Ill. App. 91].

61. Porter v. Pittsburg Bessemer Steel Co., 122 U. S. 267, 7 S. Ct. 1206, 30 L. ed. 1210, 120 U. S. 649, 7 S. Ct. 741, 30 L. ed. 830].

62. Shellenberger v. Altoona, etc., Connecting R. Co., 212 Pa. St. 413, 61 Atl. 1000, 108 Am. St. Rep. 876.

The holder of such bonds must establish the fact that he is a bona fide purchaser and mere possession of the bonds is insufficient for this purpose. Shellenberger v. Altoona, etc., Connecting R. Co., 212 Pa. St. 413, 61 Atl. 1000, 108 Am. St. Rep. 876; Simmons v. Taylor, 38 Fed. 682.

63. Gilman v. New Orleans, etc., R. Co., 72 Ala. 566; Shellenberger v. Altoona, etc., Connecting R. Co., 212 Pa. St. 413, 61 Atl. 1000, 108 Am. St. Rep. 876.

64. Stanton v. Alabama, etc., R. Co., 22 Fed. Cas. No. 13,297, 2 Woods 523.

65. Parsons v. Jackson, 99 U. S. 434, 25 L. ed. 457 (uncertainty of amount payable apparent on face of bond); Stanton v. Alabama, etc., R. Co., 22 Fed. Cas. No. 13,297, 2 Woods 523.

Where interest coupons refer to the bonds to which they are attached and such bonds and the mortgage given to secure the same contain conditions which affect the negotiability of the bonds, the holder of such coupons is chargeable with notice of such terms. McClelland v. Norfolk Southern R. Co., 110 N. Y. 469, 18 N. E. 237, 6 Am. St. Rep. 397, 1 L. R. A. 299.

Terms in mortgage or deed of trust.— Where reference is made on the face of the bonds to such matters, the purchaser of the bonds is bound to take notice of the terms of the mortgage or deed of trust which was executed to secure the bonds. Morton v. New Orleans, etc., R. Co., etc., 79 Ala. 590; Grant v. Winona, etc., R. Co., 85 Minn. 422, 89 N. W. 60 [limiting Guilford v. Minneapolis, etc., R. Co., 48 Minn. 560, 51 N. W. 658, 31 Am. St. Rep. 694] (holding that where a railway bond contains a statement that it is one of a series of bonds secured by a mortgage upon the property of a railroad, it puts a purchaser thereof on inquiry as to all the powers conferred upon the trustee on the foreclosure thereof); Taylor v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 57 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 26. But see Raymond v. Spring Grove, etc., R. Co., 10 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 416, 21 Cinc. L. Bul. 103.

66. Gilman v. New Orleans, etc., R. Co., 72 Ala. 566 (purchase at greatly inadequate price); Riggs v. Pennsylvania, etc., R. Co., 16 Fed. 804 (holding that where railroad bonds, secured by mortgage, are signed and issued by a trustee, whose duty, it usually would be considered, was to act for the bondholders in enforcing payments to them, and to bring suit against the company for covenants broken, and not necessarily to place upon the market the bonds for sale, and the bonds sold are for a very small per cent of the face value, the purchaser thereof is put upon inquiry in regard to the regularity or validity of their issue).

67. Morton v. New Orleans, etc., R. Co., etc., 79 Ala. 590; Gilman v. New Orleans, etc., R. Co., 72 Ala. 566.

68. Taylor v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 55 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 275.

69. Gates v. Boston, etc., Air-Line R. Co., 53 Conn. 333, 5 Atl. 695 (holding that where a railroad fails and the mortgage has to be foreclosed, the legislature has full power to authorize the bondholders by a vote of the majority and with an equal opportunity to all to organize as a new corporation with the rights of the old company; and a dissenting minority have no private rights that can be successfully asserted against such action); Canada Southern R. Co. v. Gebhard, 109 U. S. 527, 3 S. Ct. 363, 27 L. ed. 1020 (holding that where the parliament of the dominion of Canada authorizes a corporation existing under its authority, to enforce upon its mortgage creditors a settlement by which ating the trust,[70] no agreement or scheme of reorganization, without foreclosure, can be entered into by a trustee and some of the bondholders, which would prejudicially affect the rights of other bondholders, without their assent.[71]

(IV) Powers, Acts, and Proceedings of Committees or Agents For Bondholders.[72] Where the holders of railroad bonds enter into an agreement by which they authorize a committee or agent to represent them in exchanging or disposing of their bonds or in otherwise representing their rights, the validity of the acts or contracts of such committee or agent in representing them will depend upon the terms of the agreement by which the authority is given.[73]

they are to receive other securities of the corporation in place of their mortgage bonds, and the scheme is assented to by a large majority of the bondholders, and the rights of the citizens of the United States who are bondholders to participate in the reorganization on the same terms as Canadians or other British subjects is preserved and recognized, the settlement is binding upon the bondholders who are citizens of the United States and who sue in the courts of the United States to recover on their bonds).

70. See Sage v. Iowa Cent. R. Co., 99 U. S. 334, 25 L. ed. 394.

71. Hollister v. Stewart, 111 N. Y. 644, 19 N. E. 782; Taylor v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 55 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 275; Fidelity Ins., etc., Co. v. Western Pennsylvania, etc., R. Co., 138 Pa. St. 494, 21 Atl. 21, 21 Am. St. Rep. 911 (holding that where officers of a railroad company have violated its charter by issuing bonds secured by a mortgage in an amount greater than twice its paid-up capital, an agreement between the railroad company and one advancing money to pay the interest of the coupons on the bonds under which the one making the advances is treated as an original bondholder and allowed to share equally in the proceeds of the foreclosure sale is not valid as against the bondholders who were not consulted and who did not consent to the agreement); Poland v. Lemoille Valley R. Co., 52 Vt. 144.

Mere silence of a bondholder is not sufficient to show his consent to the reorganization scheme. Philadelphia, etc., R. Co. v. Love, 125 Pa. St. 488, 17 Atl. 455.

Amount due dissenting bondholder immaterial.— That the amount due a dissenting bondholder and the extent to which he may be entitled to participate in the advantages of the security may be, comparatively speaking, not very significant does not justify the court in disregarding the above principle, it being enough that a material right may be prejudiced and the party deprived of the full advantage of his contract and security, to require that the court shall not interpose to his manifest injury. Taylor v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 55 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 275.

First takers or any successive holders of such bonds cannot diminish the security, or in any way affect the rights of any subsequent bona fide holders. Belden v. Burke, 72 Hun (N. Y.) 51, 25 N. Y. Suppl. 601 [reversed on the facts in 147 N. Y. 542, 42 N. E. 261]. Thus where a railroad mortgage recites that covenants contained therein shall inure to the benefit of successive holders of the bonds it is given to secure, the first taker of the bonds, which are negotiable in form, cannot enter into any agreement with the railroad company or its officers abrogating the mortgage covenants so as to bind a subsequent bona fide purchaser of the bonds for value before maturity; and such a purchaser has the right to look to the mortgage, which is a matter of public record, with full assurance that the conditions contained therein will be enforced for his benefit. Belden v. Burke, 72 Hun (N. Y.) 51, 25 N. Y. Suppl. 601 [reversing 20 N. Y. Suppl. 320, and reversed on the facts in 147 N. Y. 542, 42 N. E. 261].

Fraud.— That a first taker of the bonds had full knowledge of the covenants in the mortgage at the time he accepted the bonds in satisfaction of a loan previously made by it to the officers of a railroad company and their associates to enable them to secure all the stock of the company will not render him liable to a subsequent bondholder as a participant in the fraud of the officers, unless it is shown that at the time the loan was made the first taker had knowledge of the officers' intention to mislead subsequent bondholders by the insertion of the covenant in the mortgage. Belden v. Burke, 72 Hun (N. Y.) 51, 25 N. Y. Suppl. 601 [reversed on the facts in 147 N. Y. 542, 42 N. E. 261].

72. Purchasing committee see infra, VIII, B, 15, b.

73. Brooks v. Dick, 17 N. Y. Suppl. 259 (holding that where a committee representing railway bondholders, after foreclosure of the mortgage securing their bonds, is authorized to exchange such bonds received by it for bonds of a new company or of a consolidated company of equal value, and is also empowered to pay certain debts and liens from the bonds received by it on such exchange, the committee is authorized to contract with others for the cancellation and discharge of such indebtedness and devote a portion of the bonds so received to that purpose; and the fact that the committee could only exchange for bonds of equal value gives the bondholders no right to receive the same intact); Olcott v. Powers, 15 N. Y. Suppl. 263 (holding that under special authority given to a committee to contract to sell the bonds to a third person, a contract made by the committee pursuant to a resolution adopted by a majority of the bondholders at a meeting called by the committee to consider the proposition of the purchaser, and assented to by two thirds of the stock-holders, is valid as against the non-assenting minority, and it is not necessary at a called meeting of the bondholders to amend or reconsider the bondholders' agreement); Langdon v. Vermont, etc., R. Co., 53 Vt. 228 (holding that bondholders are all bound by the acts of such committee within the scope of its authority).

(v) Refunding Debt and Substitution of Bonds. The rights and liabilities of bondholders under an agreement providing for the refunding of their indebtedness and the substitution of new for old bonds depend upon the terms of the agreement.[74] Thus, under an agreement by a holder of railroad bonds to surrender them on receipt of other new bonds, the railroad company is not bound to deliver the stipulated new bonds until all of the outstanding old bonds are surrendered to it,[75] or their absence accounted for and adequate security offered to indemnify the company against liability to any adverse claimant,[76] even though a decree entered by the consent of the parties has directed a cancellation of the old bonds and a discharge of the mortgage securing them.[77] But where the surrender of the old bonds is not dependent upon any contingency, and is without reservation, the bondholder thereby gives up his lien under the old mortgage and takes one under the new mortgage.[78] A bondholder who is a party to such an agreement cannot set up a secret agreement between himself and the company to the detriment of other holders of new bonds without notice of his equity.[79] Nor can a bondholder who has not consented and who does not exchange claim any greater rights than he is entitled to under his old contract.[80] Where the holders of coupons under an earlier issue accept in payment bonds issued under a later statute giving them a preference over the earlier bonds, but which statute is subsequently declared unconstitutional, the holders of such new bonds are estopped from claiming a lien therefor under the earlier act;[81] and although there

74. See Sutliff v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co., 24 Ohio St. 147.

An exchange of old bonds for new ones, under a mortgage authorizing such exchange, and requiring the trustee to hold the old bonds as collateral for the new ones, until all the old bonds were surrendered, when the entire issue was to be canceled, is binding on the holders of such new bonds, although the entire issue was never surrendered, and they are not entitled to have their old bonds back. Central Trust Co. v. Marietta, etc., R. Co., 73 Fed. 589.

75. Union Pac. R. Co. v. Stewart, 95 U. S. 279, 24 L. ed. 431.

76. Union Pac. R. Co. v. Stewart, 95 U. S. 279, 24 L. ed. 431.

77. Union Pac. R. Co. v. Stewart, 95 U. S. 279, 24 L. ed. 431.

78. Union Trust Co. v. Illinois Midland R. Co., 117 U. S. 434, 6 S. Ct. 809, 29 L. ed. 963 (holding also that bonds surrendered and exchanged absolutely and marked "canceled" cannot be reinstated and put on a footing with bonds not exchanged); New York Security, etc., Co. v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 102 Fed. 382 (holding that the exchange works a novation of the debt, and operates as an extinguishment of the bonds surrendered).

Where no action is taken by the company to keep the surrendered bonds alive, and it subsequently issues a second series of bonds secured by a new mortgage, the recitals of prior indebtedness in which show such bonds to have been paid, the equities of purchasers of bonds of such new issue, and of subsequent purchasers of unexchanged bonds secured by the same mortgage, in reliance upon the extinguishment of a large part of the debt thereby secured, are superior to any equity in favor of the holders of the first bonds, whether acquired by exchange or purchase, to have the surrendered bonds kept alive and enforced as collateral security to their holdings. New York Security, etc., Co. v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 102 Fed. 382.

79. Ex p. White, 2 S. C. 469.

80. Barry v. Missouri, etc., R. Co., 34 Fed. 829, holding that where provision is made for the retiring of a series of secured income bonds and issuing new bonds in exchange, the bonds surrendered to be held by a trust company uncanceled until all are retired, a bondholder who does not consent to surrender his bonds is not entitled, in an accounting under the mortgage, to claim for interest due him more of the income than his share would have been had no bonds been surrendered.

81. Hand v. Savannah, etc., R. Co., 17 S. C. 219, holding that such bonds are not entitled to the rank held by the coupons which they are given to satisfy.

The fact that some coupons of the first-lien bonds were paid in state guaranteed bonds under the later statute raises no equity for the payment of the unfunded coupons of the same class and dates, in preference to the bonds and later coupons; such unfunded coupons are entitled to take only their pro rata with other bonds and coupons of the first lien not postponed by settlement or the estoppel of their owners. Hand v. Savannah, etc., R. Co., 17 S. C. 219.

The holders of first-lien bonds retaining that rank are exclusively entitled to the benefit of the first lien and cannot be required to share that benefit with the second statute lien to the extent of the quantity is no presumption of fact that persons owning the coupons also owned the bonds,[82] parties holding such coupons uncanceled are entitled to prove their claims in like manner as the original holders could have done.[83] The acceptance of receivers' certificates by bondholders does not, in the absence of an express or implied agreement to that effect, operate as a waiver of the lien of the bonds,[84] or as a novation.[85]

(VI) BONDS CONVERTIBLE INTO STOCK. Where a railroad company issues bonds convertible into stock of the company at the option of the holder, the rights of such bondholder depend upon the terms of the statute or contract which authorizes the conversion.[86] This option must be exercised by the bondholder within the time specified, if any,[87] or if no time is specified, within a reasonable time;[88] and if the company refuses or fails to make such exchange upon a proper of the first lien removed by the estoppel of parties holding under it. Hand v. Savannah, etc., R. Co., 17 S. C. 219.

82. Hand v. Savannah, etc., R. Co., 17 S. C. 219.

83. Hand v. Savannah, etc., R. Co., 17 S. C. 219.

84. Skiddy v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 22 Fed. Cas. No. 12,922, 3 Hughes 320.

85. Skiddy v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 22 Fed. Cas. No. 12,922, 3 Hughes 320.

86. Van Allen v. Illinois Cent. R. Co., 7 Bosw. (N. Y.) 515; Campbell v. London, etc., R. Co., 5 Hare 519, 11 Jur. 651, 4 R. & Can. Cas. 475, 26 Eng. Ch. 519, 67 Eng. Reprint 1017, loan notes. See also Jones v. Canada Cent. R. Co., 46 U. C. Q. B. 250.

This option is available only to the actual holder of the bonds, and so long as he continues such (Denney v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co., 28 Ohio St. 108); and he cannot retain the bonds for the benefit of himself and future assignees and assign his right of action against the company for a breach of the stipulation giving him such option (Denney v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co., supra); nor after he has assigned the bonds to another, can he maintain an action to recover damages from the company for its refusal, prior to the assignment, to convert the bonds (Denney v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co., supra); and therefore a petition for damages sustained by reason of a refusal of the company to convert the bonds is fatally defective in not alleging that plaintiffs were, at the commencement of the action, the holders of the bonds on which the suit was brought (Denney v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co., supra).

Where the option is exercised prior to the declaration of a dividend and the bondholder receives stock issued prior to that time, he is entitled to share in the dividend (Jones v. Terre Haute, etc., R. Co., 57 N. Y. 196); but he is not entitled to dividends declared prior to his demand for the stock (Sutliff v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co., 24 Ohio St. 147). Thus where interest is allowed to the bondholders up to the date of the first dividend and is paid by issuing to them new stock, the sum so paid, however, not exceeding the net earnings of the road during the time named, a bondholder who has been regularly paid the interest on his bonds up to the time of the dividend and who then elects to change his bonds into stock is only entitled to receive stock to the amount of the principal sum specified in the bonds and can claim no part of the new stock so issued by the company or any compensation or allowance in stock or otherwise on account thereof. Sutliff v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co., supra.

Where the bonds are converted in bad faith for the purpose of keeping the control of the company in the hands of the board of directors, a court of equity will interfere on the ground of fraud. Wm. H. Baldwin v. Hillsborough, etc., R. Co., 1 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 546, 10 West. L. J. 356.

87. Carpenter v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 119 N. Y. App. Div. 169, 104 N. Y. Suppl. 152 (holding that under a stipulation in the bonds that they may be converted into preferred stock at any time within ten days after any dividend is declared and becomes payable on the preferred stock, on surrender of the bonds and unmatured coupons, a bondholder who presents his bonds sixty days after a dividend has become payable and after all the coupons have matured and been paid is not entitled to exchange the same for preferred stock); Muhlenberg v. Philadelphia, etc., R. Co., 47 Pa. St. 16. See Campbell v. London, etc., R. Co., 5 Hare 519, 11 Jur. 651, 4 R. & Can. Cas. 475, 26 Eng. Ch. 519, 67 Eng. Reprint 1017 (loan notes); Pearson v. London, etc., R. Co., 9 Jur. 341, 14 L. J. Ch. 412, 4 R. & Can. Cas. 62, 14 Sim. 541, 37 Eng. Ch. 541, 60 Eng. Reprint 468. Thus, a stipulation and certificate accompanying the bonds which entitles the holder to a stated number of shares of the company's preferred stock at any time within ten days after any dividend shall be declared and become payable upon said stock does not entitle the bondholder to tender bonds in payment of the preferred stock sold months after their maturity and after the railroad company had deposited money for the payment of the bonds at the place of payment designated therein. Loomis v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 102 Fed. 233, 42 C. C. A. 290.

An agreement extending the time of payment before maturity of the bonds does not extend the right of conversion after the time limited. Muhlenberg v. Philadelphia, etc., R. Co., 47 Pa. St. 16.

88. Tagart v. Northern Cent. R. Co., 29 Md. 557; Chaffee v. Middlesex R. Co., 146 Mass. 224, 16 N. E. 34.

Where the bonds are convertible at or before maturity, the option should be exercised demand, the bondholder may recover damages for a breach of the agreement,[89] or sue in equity for specific performance.[90] A holder of such bonds is not a stockholder, or entitled to the rights of such, until a conversion has been made.[91] Where a company issuing convertible bonds is afterward consolidated with another company, under a statute or agreement by which the liabilities of the old company are imposed upon or assumed by the new company, a holder of such bonds may demand a compliance with his contract by the new company and upon its refusal to do so may recover damages occasioned thereby;[92] or, where the consolidation is upon terms of perfect equality, the new company is bound to deliver its own stock for such bonds on demand, or to pay the damages occasioned by a refusal.[93]

(VII) RIGHT OF BONDHOLDERS TO REGISTER AND VOTE AT CORPORATE MEETINGS. Under some statutes railroad bondholders may be given the right to vote at stock-holders' meetings, their right in this respect being regulated by the agreement under which they acquire the bonds, and the governing statutes.[94] But such right cannot be given to bondholders where it is inconsistent with or contrary to the constitution, or the railroad company's charter, or the governing statutes.[95] Under the Canadian statutes, where at any time interest on railroad on or before that day. Chaffee v. Middlesex, R. Co., 146 Mass. 224, 16 N. E. 34, holding that where they mature on Sunday, it is too late to present them for conversion on Monday.

89. Chaffee v. Middlesex R. Co., 146 Mass. 224, 16 N. E. 34; Van Allen v. Illinois Cent. R. Co., 7 Bosw. (N. Y.) 515.

Defenses.—It is no defense to a demand for such stock that the company could acquire none except in the open market at a ruinous rate, or that no other bondholder had made such a demand. Bratten v. Catawissa R. Co., 211 Pa. St. 21, 60 Atl. 319.

The measure of damages in such case is the market value of the stock at the time of the demand (Bratten v. Catawissa R. Co., 211 Pa. St. 21, 60 Atl. 319); or, where instalments are still due on the bonds, the difference between the market value of the stock at the time the demand for it is made and the amount of instalments previously called in and interest on such instalments, with interest on such difference from the time of the demand to the day of the verdict (Van Allen v. Illinois Cent. R. Co., 7 Bosw. (N. Y.) 515).

90. Chaffee v. Middlesex R. Co., 146 Mass. 224, 16 N. E. 34, holding, however, that a suit for specific performance cannot be maintained where there is no unissued stock of the company at the time the bonds are convertible, and a demand is made.

91. See Parkinson v. West End St. R. Co., 173 Mass. 446, 53 N. E. 891.

92. John Hancock Mut. Ins. Co. v. Worcester, etc., R. Co., 149 Mass. 214, 21 N. E. 364; Cayley v. Cobourg, etc., R. Co., 14 Grant Ch. (U. C.) 571. Compare Tagart v. Northern Cent. R. Co., 29 Md. 557; Parkinson v. West End St. R. Co., 173 Mass. 446, 53 N. E. 891.

Estoppel.— Where the bondholder does not elect to have his bonds converted at the time of the consolidation, when it is practicable, and acquiesces and participates in an arrangement by which such conversion becomes impossible afterward, he is bound by his election and precluded from impeaching the arrangement, which at the time it was made was satisfactory to him. Tagart v. Northern Cent. R. Co., 29 Md. 557.

Notice.— A bondholder cannot be deprived by a consolidation of his privilege of having his bonds converted into stock of the company issuing them and relegated to the rights conferred upon him instead by the articles of consolidation until he has had a fair opportunity, after notice of the contemplated change, to exercise his original rights, and has elected not to do so. Rosenkrans v. Lafayette, etc., R. Co., 18 Fed. 513.

93. India Mut. Ins. Co. v. Worcester, etc., R. Co., (Mass. 1890) 25 N. E. 975; Day v. Worcester, etc., R. Co., 151 Mass. 302, 23 N. E. 824. See also Child v. New York, etc., R. Co., 129 Mass. 170.

94. Phillips v. Eastern R. Co., 138 Mass. 122 (holders of certificates of indebtedness entitled to vote for directors under St. (1876) c. 236); Hart v. Odgensburg, etc., R. Co., 69 Hun (N. Y.) 378, 23 N. Y. Suppl. 639 (income mortgage bondholders entitled to vote for directors upon registering their bonds thirty days before the election); State v. McDaniel, 22 Ohio St. 354 (holding that where a railroad company reorganized under the act of April 11, 1861, and in the agreement therefor it was stipulated that certain bonds of the original company should be assumed by the new company, and the holder thereof entitled to vote at all meetings of stock-holders upon conditions specified, which a bondholder performed, such holder was entitled to vote without further action on the part of the new company).

An executory agreement by such a bondholder to sell and deliver his bonds does not deprive him of his voting privilege. State v. McDaniel, 22 Ohio St. 354.

95. Durkee v. People, 155 Ill. 354, 40 N. E. 626, 46 Am. St. Rep. 340 [affirming 53 Ill. App. 396], holding that a by-law of a railroad company empowering bondholders to bonds remains unpaid and owing,[96] the holders of such bonds at the next ensuing general annual meeting,[97] or at special meetings,[98] of the company shall have the same rights and privileges and qualifications for directors and for voting as are attached to shareholders,[99] provided the bonds and any transfers thereof shall have been first registered in the same manner as is provided for the registration of shares generally.[1]

5. Guaranty and Suretyship[2] — a. In General. As a general rule a railroad company, like other private corporations other than surety or guaranty companies,[3] has no power to enter into any contract or indorsement by which it becomes a guarantor or surety, or otherwise lends its credit to another person or company,[4] vote at stock-holders' meetings and a provision of such bonds giving such right to vote are void under the constitutional and statutory provisions requiring the directors to be stock-holders, and elected at the annual meeting of the stock-holders by a majority in value of the stock, upon a cumulative system of voting, and not otherwise.

96. In re Thomson, etc., R. Co., 8 Ont. Pr. 423, 9 Ont. Pr. 119 (holding that, where objection is made that it did not appear that the company had made default in payment of the interest, the coupons not being shown to have been presented at the place named for payment, the fact that the company never had been ready to pay them there or elsewhere is a sufficient answer to the objection); Weddell v. Ritchie, 4 R. & Can. Cas. 347, 10 Ont. L. Rep. 5, 5 Ont. Wkly. Rep. 733.

97. The words "at the next general meeting" are merely indicative of the earliest period at which such bondholders might vote, and the statute does not require a new registration in order to entitle the bondholders to vote at any subsequent meeting so long as the interest remains unpaid. Hendrie v. Grand Trunk R. Co., 2 Ont. 441; Weddell v. Ritchie, 4 Can. R. Cas. 347, 10 Ont. L. Rep. 5, 5 Ont. Wkly. Rep. 733.

98. Hendrie v. Grand Trunk R. Co., 2 Ont. 441 (holding that where a statute extends the bondholder's right to vote at special meetings, such bondholder has a right to vote on all subjects coming before the special meeting); In re Osler, etc., R. Co., 8 Ont. Pr. 506.

99. Hendrie v. Grand Trunk R. Co., 2 Ont. 441; Weddell v. Ritchie, 4 Can. R. Cas. 347, 10 Ont. L. Rep. 5, 5 Ont. Wkly. Rep. 733.

Each bondholder has as many votes as he has bonds.— Weddell v. Ritchie, 4 Can. R. Cas. 347, 10 Ont. L. Rep. 5, 5 Ont. Wkly. Rep. 733; Bunting v. Laidlaw, 8 Ont. Pr. 538.

Where the votes of registered bondholders are rejected, an arrangement upon which the vote was had, although confirmed by two thirds of the actual shareholders present or represented, is nevertheless not properly confirmed within the meaning of the statute, and an action to compel specific performance of the arrangement will be dismissed. Hendrie v. Grand Trunk R. Co., 2 Ont. 441.

1. Hendrie v. Grand Trunk R. Co., 2 Ont. 441.

The production or registration of transfers is not necessary to registration of the bonds. In re Johnson, etc., R. Co., 8 Ont. Pr. 535; In re Osler, etc., R. Co., 8 Ont. Pr. 506.

Proof of prima facie title to the bonds is sufficient to entitle one to a registration of bonds (In re Thomson, etc., R. Co., 9 Ont. Pr. 119; In re Johnson, etc., R. Co., 8 Ont. Pr. 535); and the mere fact that such bondholders were directors of the company is no objection, where it is not denied that they had done what was necessary under the statute to entitle them to become holders (In re Thomson, etc., R. Co., supra).

Mandamus should issue to compel the company to register the bonds of holders who are entitled to qualify and vote under the statute. In re Thomson, etc., R. Co., 8 Ont. Pr. 423, 9 Ont. Pr. 119. See also In re Johnson, etc., R. Co., 8 Ont. Pr. 535; In re Osler, etc., R. Co., 8 Ont. Pr. 506.

A demand for registration upon the assistant secretary of the company is sufficient where it is shown that he performed all the duties of the secretary's office. In re Thomson, etc., R. Co., 9 Ont. Pr. 119.

2. Power of the government to guarantee interest on railroad bonds see Quebec v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 8 Quebec Q. B. 42.

3. See, generally, Corporations, 10 Cyc. 1109 et seq.

4. Smead v. Indianapolis, etc., R. Co., 11 Ind. 104; Northside R. Co. v. Worthington, 88 Tex. 562, 30 S. W. 1055, 53 Am. St. Rep. 778; Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Louisville Trust Co., 174 U. S. 552, 19 S. Ct. 817, 43 L. ed. 1081 [modifying 75 Fed. 433, 22 C. C. A. 378]; Pennsylvania R. Co. v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 118 U. S. 290, 6 S. Ct. 1094, 30 L. ed. 83; Macgregor v. Dover, etc., R. Co., 18 Q. B. 618, 17 Jur. 21, 22 L. J. Q. B. 69, 7 R. & Can. Cas. 227, 83 E. C. L. 618; Colman v. Eastern Counties R. Co., 10 Beav. 1, 11 Jur. 74, 16 L. J. Ch. 73, 4 R. & Can. Cas. 513, 50 Eng. Reprint 481; East Anglian R. Co. v. Eastern Counties R. Co., 11 C. B. 775, 16 Jur. 249, 21 L. J. C. P. 23, 73 E. C. L. 775.

Illustrations.— Thus in the absence of an explicit grant of such power, a railroad company has no authority to guarantee a specified dividend on the stock of a grain elevator company as a premium to induce a subscriber to take such stock, although the guarantee may have been made in part consideration of necessary services to be rendered for the company by the subscriber. Memphis Grain, even though it may derive some indirect benefit from the guaranty,[5] except in so far as it is expressly authorized to do so by its charter or other statute,[6] and except where the power to do so is implied from the company's general powers, as being necessary and proper to enable it to accomplish the objects for which it was created, and in the conduct of its business;[7] and where such a guaranty, or etc., Elevator Co. v. Memphis, etc., R. Co., 85 Tenn. 703, 5 S. W. 52, 4 Am. St. Rep. 798. So a railroad company has no power to guarantee the payment of expenses of a musical festival, although the guaranty was made with the reasonable belief that the festival would be of great pecuniary benefit to the company, and expenses were incurred in reliance upon such guaranty. Davis v. Old Colony R. Co., 131 Mass. 258, 41 Am. Rep. 221. But see State Bd. of Agriculture v. Citizens St. R. Co., 47 Ind. 407, 17 Am. Rep. 702. Since under the Indiana statutes a railroad company has no power to lease a line of road of another company, a company is not brought within the terms of 2 Burns Rev. St. Ind. (1894) § 5216, authorizing a company "whose line of railway extends across the state in either direction" to become a guarantor of the bonds of a railroad of an adjoining state under certain conditions, by the fact that it is operating a leased line across the state; and its guaranty of bonds of the company of another state building a connecting line is ultra vires and cannot be enforced. Central Trust Co. v. Indiana, etc., R. Co., 98 Fed. 666, 39 C. C. A. 220. So a contract by which a railroad company, not empowered by its charter, guarantees the payment of interest and dividends on bonds and stock of a hotel company on the line of its road, is ultra vires and void; and it makes no difference that the payment is called commissions on traffic receipts from and to certain stations (Western Maryland R. Co. v. Blue Ridge Hotel Co., 102 Md. 307, 62 Atl. 351, 111 Am. St. Rep. 362, 1 L. R. A. N. S. 887); nor does the fact that the hotel company expended money in the erection of its building upon the faith of such guaranty estop the railroad company to set up the defense that the contract is void (Western Maryland R. Co. v. Blue Ridge Hotel Co., supra).

5. Davis v. Old Colony R. Co., 131 Mass. 258, 41 Am. Rep. 221; Northside R. Co. v. Worthington, 88 Tex. 562, 30 S. W. 1055, 53 Am. St. Rep. 778; Colman v. Eastern Counties R. Co., 10 Beav. 1, 11 Jur. 74, 16 L. J. Ch. 73, 4 R. & Can. Cas. 513, 50 Eng. Reprint 481.

6. Western Maryland R. Co. v. Blue Ridge Hotel Co., 102 Md. 307, 62 Atl. 351, 111 Am. St. Rep. 362, 1 L. R. A. N. S. 887; Connecticut Mut. L. Ins. Co. v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co., 41 Barb. (N. Y.) 9, 26 How. Pr. 225; Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Louisville Trust Co., 174 U. S. 552, 19 S. Ct. 817, 43 L. ed. 1081 [modifying 75 Fed. 433, 22 C. C. A. 378] (construing Ind. Laws (1883), p. 182, c. 127; Horner Rev. St. §§ 3951*a*–3951*c*); Zabriskie v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co., 23 How. (U. S.) 381, 16 L. ed. 488; Central Trust Co. v. Indiana, etc., R. Co., 98 Fed. 666, 39 C. C. A. 220.

Statutory requirements must be complied with in entering into a contract of guaranty. See Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Louisville Trust Co., 174 U. S. 552, 19 S. Ct. 817, 43 L. ed. 1081 [modifying 75 Fed. 433, 22 C. C. A. 378].

Sanction by stock-holders.—A guaranty by a railroad company of the bonds of a connecting line, pursuant to the power given by the charter of the company, for the purpose of securing valuable business connections, is not a fundamental change in the purpose and object of the corporation and an exercise of such power by the directors need not be sanctioned by the stockholders, in the absence of a statutory requirement. Louisville Trust Co. v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 75 Fed. 433, 22 C. C. A. 378.

Repeal of statutes.—Ind. St. March 8, 1883 (Laws (1883), p. 182, c. 127, Horner Rev. St. §§ 3951*a*–3951*c*), authorizing railroad companies organized under the laws of that state to guarantee the bonds of a company of another state under certain circumstances, and in a prescribed manner supersedes and repeals, as to matters within its scope and terms, provisions of all former statutes of the state on the subject. Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Louisville Trust Co., 174 U. S. 552, 19 S. Ct. 817, 43 L. ed. 1081 [modifying 75 Fed. 433, 22 C. C. A. 378].

7. Green Bay, etc., R. Co. v. Union Steamboat Co., 107 U. S. 98, 2 S. Ct. 221, 27 L. ed. 413; Codman v. Vermont, etc., R. Co., 5 Fed. Cas. No. 2,935, 16 Blatchf. 165 (guaranty of notes issued to pay floating debt for the construction of the road); Colman v. Eastern Counties R. Co., 10 Beav. 1, 11 Jur. 74, 16 L. J. Ch. 73, 4 R. & Can. Cas. 513, 50 Eng. Reprint 481.

Illustrations.—Thus it is within the powers of a railroad company to become guarantor of a contract made by a construction company for the services of an engineer, to be rendered in the construction of its road; and it is not relieved from liability by a subsequent change in its obligations by which the services are not required. Mathesius v. Brooklyn Heights R. Co., 96 Fed. 792. So a railroad corporation may, for a valuable consideration, guarantee the payment of a debt which it may directly contract to pay. Low v. California Pac. R. Co., 52 Cal. 53, 28 Am. Rep. 629. So a guaranty that certain lots of a land company will become worth a certain price, and an agreement to pay the difference between such price and what the lots would bring at auction, in order to procure a right of way over streets running through land owned by the land company, is not ultra vires. Vanderveer v.

a contract to give one, is for an unauthorized purpose, it has been held that it is strictly ultra vires, unlawful, and void, and incapable of being made good by ratification or estoppel.[8] But a railroad company having power to receive and dispose of the securities of another company has power to guarantee such securities;[9] and power to make contracts for leasing and operating the road of another company implies power to include in the lease a guaranty of the securities of such other company as part of the consideration.[10] The validity and effect of a contract of guaranty when entered into by a railroad company with authority is regulated by the rules governing guaranties generally.[11]

b. Rights of Purchasers of Securities Guaranteed. Where a contract of Asbury Park, etc., St. R. Co., 82 Fed. 355.

Where a railroad company buys property subject to a mortgage securing bonds, it may guarantee the payment thereof, if such guaranty is taken as payment pro tanto of its debt. Ellerman v. Chicago Junction R., etc., Co., 49 N. J. Eq. 217, 23 Atl. 287.

8. Western Maryland R. Co. v. Blue Ridge Hotel Co., 102 Md. 307, 62 Atl. 351, 111 Am. St. Rep. 362, 1 L. R. A. 887 (holding that where a railroad company made an ultra vires contract by which it guaranteed the payment of interest and dividend on the bonds and stock of a hotel company, to aid in the improvement of the latter's property, and thereafter received nothing of benefit from the hotel company except increased earnings for transportation of passengers and freight over its road, it was not precluded from subsequently claiming that the contract was ultra vires and void); Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Louisville Trust Co., 174 U. S. 552, 19 S. Ct. 817, 43 L. ed. 1081 [modifying 75 Fed. 433, 22 C. C. A. 378]; Central Trust Co. v. Indiana, etc., R. Co., 98 Fed. 666, 39 C. C. A. 220.

9. Low v. California Pac. R. Co., 52 Cal. 53, 28 Am. Rep. 629; Madison, etc., R. Co. v. Norwich Sav. Soc., 24 Ind. 457; Ellerman v. Chicago Junction R., etc., Co., 49 N. J. Eq. 217, 23 Atl. 287; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Howard, 7 Wall. (U. S.) 392, 19 L. ed. 117; Rogers Locomotive, etc., Works v. Southern R. Assoc., 34 Fed. 278 (holding that a railroad company which has power by its charter to issue its own bonds has power to guarantee the bonds of another railroad company which it receives in payment of a debt and sells for value or transfers in payment of its own debts, the guaranty being given to augment the credit of the bonds and obtain an adequate price for them); Opdyke v. Pacific R. Co., 18 Fed. Cas. No. 10,546, 3 Dill. 55.

10. Atchison, etc., R. Co. v. Fletcher, 35 Kan. 236, 10 Pac. 596.

Under Vt. Rev. Laws, § 3303, authorizing railroad companies to lease and operate the roads of other companies, a contract of lease by which the lessee guarantees the payment of interest on bonds given in payment for the construction of the road, the interest being the same amount and payable at the same time as the agreed rent, is valid. Eastern Tps'. Bank v. St. Johnsbury, etc., R. Co., 40 Fed. 423.

An additional contract made by a railroad company after it has guaranteed the bonds of another company under a lease of the road of such company, and after the commencement of a branch line and issue of new bonds, that "with regard to the lease of said branch, it shall be used and operated in the same manner and on the same terms as the main line," refers merely to the leasing and operation and does not include an agreement to guarantee the branch line bonds. Dows v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 7 Fed. Cas. No. 4,048.

11. See, generally, GUARANTY, 20 Cyc. 1392.

Mere parol declarations and promises by the officers and directors of a railroad company to guarantee the bonds of another company will not bind the railroad company. Dows v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 7 Fed. Cas. No. 4,048.

Consideration.— Where a railroad company holds stock in another company and the latter's road will become a feeder to the former's line, there is a sufficient consideration for a guaranty by the former of bonds issued by the latter to aid in the construction of its road. Harrison v. Union Pac. R. Co., 13 Fed. 522, 4 McCrary 264. So an arrangement between several connecting railroad companies for the purpose of securing a uniform gauge of the several roads and thus increasing the business and profits of each, forms a sufficient consideration for a guaranty by one of the companies of payment of securities issued by another. Connecticut Mut L. Ins. Co. v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co., 41 Barb. (N. Y.) 9, 26 How. Pr. 225. The words "for value received" on an indorsement of guaranty import a sufficient consideration and a company so indorsing is not to be deemed an accommodation indorser or guarantor. Connecticut Mut. L. Ins. Co. v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co., 41 Barb. (N. Y.) 9, 26 How. Pr. 225.

A guaranty may be valid, although the security to which it is annexed be void.— Connecticut Mut. L. Ins. Co. v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co., 41 Barb. (N. Y.) 9, 26 How. Pr. 225. See, generally, GUARANTY, 20 Cyc. 1420 et seq.

Cancellation.— Where a contract of guaranty is upon certain conditions, a retaking and resumption of control of the consideration, upon a breach of such condition operates as a cancellation of the contract so far as it remains executory. U. S. Trust Co. v. Western Contract Co., 81 Fed. 454, 26 C. C. A. 472.

guaranty is strictly ultra vires, all purchasers of the securities guaranteed are chargeable with notice of the railroad company's want of power and cannot enforce the guaranty.[12] Where, however, the guaranty is merely voidable by reason of some irregularity in the exercise of the power, or in other words, where it is only ultra vires as between the corporators because it is in violation of their rights, or because of some defect in the contract which may not be binding on the corporation, the guaranty, although invalid in the hands of a holder with notice,[13] is good and enforceable in the hands of a bona fide holder, without notice.[14] In such cases both the company as an entity and the stock-holders as such may be estopped from repudiating the guaranty as against one who has made investments and acted upon the faith of such guaranty.[15]

6. Liens Generally[16] — a. In General. A railroad company has a general power to give a lien on its property for purposes within the scope of the power conferred on it to construct and operate a railway,[17] unless this power is expressly negatived by its charter or governing statutes;[18] and an express power to borrow and give specified securities will not exclude this general power.[19] In the absence of statute, liens on railroad property are governed by the rules regulating liens generally.[20] The rights and liabilities under a lien may be controlled by the con-

12. Smead v. Indianapolis, etc., R. Co., 11 Ind. 104; Central Trust Co. v. Indiana, etc., R. Co., 98 Fed. 666, 39 C. C. A. 220.

13. Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Louisville Trust Co., 174 U. S. 552, 19 S. Ct. 817, 43 L. ed. 1081 [modifying 75 Fed. 433, 22 C. C. A. 378].

14. Atchison, etc., R. Co. v. Fletcher, 35 Kan. 236, 10 Pac. 596; Connecticut Mut. L. Ins. Co. v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co., 41 Barb. (N. Y.) 9, 26 How. Pr. 225; Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Louisville Trust Co., 174 U. S. 552, 19 S. Ct. 817, 43 L. ed. 1081 [modifying 75 Fed. 433, 22 C. C. A. 378].

Illustrations.— Thus where a railroad company of Indiana, being empowered by the statute of the state upon a petition by the holders of a majority of the stock, to guarantee the bonds of a company of an adjoining state, the construction of whose road would be beneficial to its own business, such a guaranty, although made without a petition or assent of its stock-holders, and therefore illegal and voidable, is not ultra vires; and, when made on negotiable bonds by its proper officers under the seal of the corporation authorized thereto by its directors, may be enforced by a bona fide purchaser of such bonds in the market having no notice of the irregularity. Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Louisville Trust Co., 174 U. S. 552, 19 S. Ct. 817, 43 L. ed. 1081 [modifying 75 Fed. 433, 22 C. C. A. 378 (reversing 69 Fed. 431)].

Holders of guaranteed securities have a right to presume that the guarantors have done their duty and have proceeded regularly in the execution of their powers (Connecticut Mut. L. Ins. Co. v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co., 41 Barb. (N. Y.) 9, 26 How. Pr. 225), and are not bound to examine the records of the guarantor company, which are private records, to ascertain whether its power has been exercised (Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Louisville Trust Co., 174 U. S. 552, 19 S. Ct. 817, 43 L. ed. 1081 [modifying 75 Fed. 433, 22 C. C. A. 378]).

15. Cozart v. Georgia R., etc., Co., 54 Ga. 379; State Board of Agriculture v. Citizens' St. R. Co., 47 Ind. 407, 17 Am. Rep. 702; Zabriskie v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co., 23 How. (U. S.) 381, 16 L. ed. 488.

Illustrations.— Thus where a railroad company empowered by a statute to execute a guaranty of bonds of another company under certain conditions has executed such guaranty, it cannot urge its non-compliance with the conditions to defeat its liability thereon against bona fide holders of the bonds. Central Trust Co. v. Indiana, etc., R. Co., 98 Fed. 666, 39 C. C. A. 220. So a guarantor railroad company is liable to the bona fide holder of bonds, although its charter contained no authority to make an accommodation guaranty, as it is within the corporate powers of the guarantor to sell and guarantee bonds held by it in the usual course of business, and particularly where the guaranty appeared on its face and from a circular of the grantor's agent who sold the bonds, to be such a contract, as the company had power to make. Madison, etc., R. Co. v. Norwich Sav. Soc., 24 Ind. 457. So a guaranty by one railroad company of the bonds of another is obligatory in favor of the purchaser of the bonds, on the faith of the guaranty, notwithstanding it may, in its inception, have been ultra vires, and that the consideration did not appear. Arnot v. Erie R. Co., 67 N. Y. 315 [affirming 5 Hun 608].

16. Liens arising from management of road by receiver see Receivers.

17. Charlebois v. Great North West Cent. R. Co., 9 Manitoba 1.

18. Charlebois v. Great North West Cent. R. Co., 9 Manitoba 1.

19. Charlebois v. Great North West Cent. R. Co., 9 Manitoba 1.

20. See Merriman v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 66 Fed. 663, 14 C. C. A. 36, holding that where plaintiffs, by creditors' bill, acquire a lien on an equity of redemption on a railroad sold under foreclosure, they have no lien on bonds substituted for such equity tract under which the particular lien is created.[21] But where the lien is created by statute, the rights and liabilities thereunder are regulated by such statute.[22] A judgment against a railroad company becomes a lien upon its road and realty in the same manner as upon the real estate of a natural person.[23]

b. What Law Governs. The validity and effect of railroad liens are determined by the law of the place where the property is situated on which the liens are sought to be enforced.[24]

c. Loss or Waiver of Lien — (i) In General. The loss or waiver of a lien on railroad property is, in the absence of statute, regulated by the rules governing liens generally.[25] A mechanic's lien on railroad property may be waived or lost by the acceptance of other security for the claim.[26] But a contract for such security has the effect of a waiver only upon the performance of the contract,[27] in a suit between their debtor and the purchaser in foreclosure to which they are not parties. And see, generally, LIENS, 25 Cyc. 655.

Equitable liens.— An agreement to build a branch road and convey it to the railroad company in consideration of the payment to the party so building of all the freights earned on such branch until the cost is repaid creates an equitable lien on such freight which will be enforced against the receiver of the railroad company appointed in proceedings to foreclose a prior mortgage. Fidelity Ins., etc., Co. v. Norfolk, etc., R. Co., 72 Fed. 704.

A guaranty by a railroad company of the payment of state bonds delivered to it, indorsed on the bonds, gives no lien for their payment upon its property, and does not prevent the company from giving a mortgage on its property to secure bonds issued by it, a sale on the foreclosure of which gives title to the property. McKittrick v. Arkansas Cent. R. Co., 152 U. S. 473, 14 S. Ct. 661, 38 L. ed. 518.

21. Vermont, etc., R. Co. v. Vermont Cent. R. Co., 34 Vt. 1, holding that where under a lease between two railroads one furnished the money to complete the other, and, on such completion, was to take possession and operate the latter road, and was to have a lien on the tolls, fares, etc., of both roads as security for the payment of the stipulated rent, the lien is enforceable for the rents in arrear on so much of the road as was constructed and used.

22. Hill v. La Crosse, etc., R. Co., 11 Wis. 214 (holding that, so far as a railroad company's liability for its property subjected to liens is concerned, there is no distinction between a lien created by a mortgage and a mechanic's lien under the statute); Western Div. R. Co. v. Drew, 25 Fed. Cas. No. 17,434, 3 Woods 691 (holding that the lien of bondholders on railroad property created by statute is regulated by such statute notwithstanding the fact that without its aid a resulting equity would have arisen in favor of such bondholders).

23. Ludlow v. Clinton Line R. Co., 15 Fed. Cas. No. 8,600, 1 Flipp. 25. See also, generally, JUDGMENTS, 23 Cyc. 1350 et seq.

A judgment recovered against a railroad company after the road has been sold under a mortgage foreclosure and the sale confirmed (Jeffrey v. Moran, 101 U. S. 285, 25 L. ed. 785), or after its entire equity of redemption has been extinguished by such a sale and its property and franchises are in the entire possession and control of the purchaser as owner (Baltimore Trust, etc., Co. v. Hofstetter, 85 Fed. 75, 29 C. C. A. 35) does not become a lien at law on the road; nor in equity upon the fund arising from the sale where the proceeds of the sale are less than the mortgage debt (Jeffrey v. Moran, 101 U. S. 285, 25 L. ed. 785).

24. Midland Valley R. Co. v. Moran Bolt, etc., Mfg. Co., 80 Ark. 399, 97 S. W. 679; Barney, etc., Mfg. Co. v. Hart, 1 S. W. 414, 8 Ky. L. Rep. 223 (holding that the lien of a builder for the purchase-price of the cars made in another state and brought into the state of Kentucky is governed by the laws of Kentucky); Nichols v. Mase, 94 N. Y. 160.

Demands not a statutory lien in one state when presented in another state in which they would be statutory liens if they had arisen there are entitled to the same status as statutory liens. Blair v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 19 Fed. 861.

25. See Sykes v. Brockville, etc., R. Co., 9 Grant Ch. (U. C.) 9, holding that the right to a specific lien on debentures is waived by a reference of all matters in difference to aribitration and an award in the lien claimant's favor. And see, generally, LIENS, 25 Cyc. 673 et seq.

A lien for rolling stock furnished may be lost by delivering the stock of the company without making any special provision to receive a payment. Coe v. Pennock, 5 Fed. Cas. No. 2,942 [affirmed in 23 How. 117, 16 L. ed. 436].

26. Kilpatrick v. Kansas City, etc., R. Co., 38 Nebr. 620, 57 N. W. 664, 41 Am. St. Rep. 741; Meyer v. Delaware R. Constr. Co., 100 U. S. 457, 25 L. ed. 593; Ohio Falls Car Mfg. Co. v. Central Trust Co., 71 Fed. 916, 18 C. C. A. 386; Central Trust Co. v. Richmond, etc., R. Co., 68 Fed. 90, 15 C. C. A. 273, 41 L. R. A. 458. Compare Flynn v. Des Moines, etc., R. Co., 63 Iowa 490, 19 N. W. 312, holding that the taking of collateral security for an indebtedness does not prevent the party from obtaining a mechanic's lien that he would be otherwise entitled to.

27. Baumhoff v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 171 Mo. 120, 71 S. W. 156, 94 Am. St. Rep. 770; and where the contract is inconsistent with an intent to retain the lien;[28] or, in some jurisdictions, only where it affirmatively appears that there was an intent to look to such security and not to the lien.[29]

(11) Liens For Public Aid Granted. A lien in favor of a state for public aid granted to a railroad company may ordinarily be released or waived by the state, by an act of the legislature,[30] or by a foreclosure under the statute;[31] or such release may be accomplished by way of a compromise, notwithstanding a constitutional prohibition against a release.[32] If a lien attaches in favor of the state alone, it may be released or postponed by the state, although the bonds which the lien secures are outstanding and unpaid;[33] but where such lien also attaches in favor of the bondholders, it cannot be waived or postponed by the state alone.[34]

d. Liens For Right of Way or Land Granted. In accordance with the general rules governing vendors' liens,[35] a vendor of land to a railroad company for a right of way or other purpose is entitled to the same lien upon the land sold for the Central Trust Co. v. Richmond, etc., R. Co., 68 Fed. 90, 15 C. C. A. 273, 41 L. R. A. 458.

28. Carnegie v. Lancaster, etc., R. Co., 3 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 343, 1 Ohio N. P. 300, holding, however, that an agreement to extend the time of payment on the giving of additional security does not waive the lien.

Stipulation to pay out of certain fund.— A stipulation in a contract between a railroad company and a construction company that the former will pay the latter out of a certain fund is at most an appropriation of such fund, and is not such a taking by the construction company of a collateral security as to vitiate its mechanic's lien. Delaware R. Constr. Co. v. Davenport, etc., R. Co., 46 Iowa 406; Meyer v. Delaware R. Constr. Co., 100 U. S. 457, 25 L. ed. 593.

29. McIlheney v. Binz, 80 Tex. 1, 13 S. W. 655, 26 Am. St. Rep. 705; Hale v. Burlington, etc., R. Co., 13 Fed. 203, 2 McCrary 558.

30. See Stevens v. Memphis, etc., R. Co., 114 U. S. 663, 5 S. Ct. 974, 1098, 29 L. ed. 281.

Missouri acts of 1865 and 1881, authorizing the Hannibal, etc., R. Co. to issue bonds secured by a mortgage superior to the lien of the state for aid granted provided that the proceeds of the bonds be paid to the state, are not in conflict with Mo. Const. (1875) art. 4, §§ 50, 51, prohibiting the legislature "to release or alienate the lien held by the State from any railroad or in any wise change the tenor or meaning, or pass any Act explanatory thereof; but the same shall be enforced in accordance with the original terms upon which it was acquired." Rolston v. Crittenden, 120 U. S. 390, 7 S. Ct. 599, 30 L. ed. 721 [affirming 10 Fed. 254, 3 McCrary 332]. But see answers to questions propounded by Governor Fletcher, June 27, 1866, 37 Mo. 139.

Waiver and substitution.— Where a state in full possession of a railroad upon an express trust to continue until state bonds loaned to the company are paid or exchanged, empowers by an act of legislature a county of the state to loan its bonds to the company and authorizes the commissioner receiving the reduced earnings to pay into the county treasury a sufficient sum to meet the interest on the county bonds, the state thereby waives its lien pro tanto in favor of the county, which becomes substituted thereto. Ketchum v. Pacific R. Co., 14 Fed. Cas. Nos. 7,739, 7,740, 4 Dill. 78, 87 note [affirmed in 101 U. S. 306, 25 L. ed. 999].

New York Act Dec. 14, 1847 (Laws (1847), c. 471), entitled "An act to release the prior lien of the state on the Hudson and Berkshire Railroad" did not release, reduce, or compromise the debt created against such company by Act April 28, 1840 (Laws (1840), c. 178), passed for the aid of said company; nor did such act release from the mortgage to the state created by the latter act, any of the property covered by that mortgage. Darby v. Wright, 6 Fed. Cas. No. 3,574, 3 Blatchf. 170.

31. Stevens v. Memphis, etc., R. Co., 114 U. S. 663, 5 S. Ct. 974, 1098, 29 L. ed. 281.

32. Woodson v. Murdock, 22 Wall. (U. S.) 351, 22 L. ed. 716, holding that the provision of the Missouri constitution which ordains that the general assembly shall have no power to release the lien held by the state on any railroad does not prevent the state from making a compromise of any debt due it or to become due, although the constitutional ordinance adopted at the same time as the state constitution relating to the payment of state and railroad indebtedness, after providing for a sale by the state of any railroad in debt to it, and for the possible case of a purchase by the state of the road, provides for a sale of the road after the state has so become owner, ordaining in such case "that no sale shall be made without reserving a lien for all sums remaining due."

33. Stevens v. Memphis, etc., R. Co., 114 U. S. 663, 5 S. Ct. 974, 1098, 29 L. ed. 281 [distinguishing Hand v. Savannah, etc., R. Co., 12 S. C. 314].

34. Gibbes v. Greenville, etc., R. Co., 13 S. C. 228; Hand v. Savannah, etc., R. Co., 12 S. C. 314.

35. See, generally, VENDOR AND PURCHASER.

unpaid purchase-money as an ordinary vendor,[36] except where he accepts other security therefor with the intention to rely solely upon it for payment.[37] This lien attaches as well where the sale is by operation of law as where it is by voluntary contract,[38] and attaches against the vendee and all subsequent purchasers with notice.[39] A lien for right of way is on the whole line of road and not only upon the particular piece of ground sold.[40] Ordinarily the same remedies exist for enforcing such lien as in the case of a vendor to other persons.[41] Upon default in payment, as in other cases, the vendor may have a sale of the land,[42] although the railroad is actually made and ready for traffic;[43] and may have a receiver appointed of the rents, issues, and profits of the land, until the sale, for the purpose of enforcing the lien.[44] The unpaid vendor may also be entitled to an injunction restraining the company from running trains or otherwise using the land, where the land is unsalable or he cannot otherwise recover his purchase-money;[45] but as 36. Springfield, etc., R. Co. v. Stewart, 51 Ark. 285, 10 S. W. 767; Dayton, etc., R. Co. v. Lewton, 20 Ohio St. 401 (holding a vendor to have an equitable lien where the legal title to the land is still retained by him); Hempfield R. Co. v. Thornburg, 1 W. Va. 261; Wing v. Tottenham, etc., R. Co., L. R. 3 Ch. 740, 37 L. J. Ch. 654, 16 Wkly. Rep. 1098; St. Germans v. Crystal Palace R. Co., L. R. 11 Eq. 568, 24 L. T. Rep. N. S. 288, 19 Wkly. Rep. 584; Winchester v. Mid-Hants R. Co., L. R. 5 Eq. 17, 37 L. J. Ch. 64, 17 L. T. Rep. N. S. 161, 16 Wkly. Rep. 72; Walker v. Ware, etc., R. Co., L. R. 1 Eq. 195, 12 Jur. N. S. 18, 35 Beav. 52, 14 Wkly. Rep. 158, 35 L. J. Ch. 94, 13 L. T. Rep. N. S. 517, 55 Eng. Reprint 813; Keane v. Athenry, etc., R. Co., 19 Wkly. Rep. 43, 318.

That the railway against which such lien exists is purchased by another company under statutory authority does not deprive unpaid owners of any lien they had for the price of land theretofore sold to the old company. Paterson v. Buffalo, etc., R. Co., 17 Grant Ch. (U. C.) 521.

Entry by the company under the English Lands Clauses Consolidation Act, § 85, does not deprive the vendor of his lien. Walker v. Wade, etc., R. Co., L. R. 1 Eq. 195, 35 Beav. 52, 12 Jur. N. S. 18, 35 L. J. Ch. 94, 13 L. T. Rep. N. S. 517, 14 Wkly. Rep. 158, 55 Eng. Reprint 813.

One conveying a right of way without retaining a claim against the company or lien on the land for the price cannot call to account the treasurer of a fund raised by voluntary subscription for the purpose of placing the road in the company's hands, free of encumbrance. Crisman v. Smith, 44 N. J. Eq. 238, 14 Atl. 484.

37. Springfield, etc., R. Co. v. Stewart, 51 Ark. 285, 10 S. W. 767.

Payment of money as security, under an agreement entered into before the price is determined, does not deprive the vendor of his lien. Walker v. Ware, etc., R. Co., L. R. 1 Eq. 195, 35 Beav. 52, 12 Jur. N. S. 18, 35 L. J. Ch. 94, 13 L. T. Rep. N. S. 517, 14 Wkly. Rep. 158, 55 Eng. Reprint 813.

The rights and franchises of a railroad company do not prevail over a vendor's lien; and where land is sold to a railroad company for the purposes of the road, and a mortgage taken to secure the unpaid purchase-money, the lien is not thereby lost. Galt v. Erie, etc., R. Co., 14 Grant Ch. (U. C.) 499, 15 Grant Ch. (U. C.) 637.

38. Mims v. Macon, etc., R. Co., 3 Ga. 333.

39. Mims v. Macon, etc., R. Co., 3 Ga. 333.

40. Crosby v. Morristown, etc., R. Co., (Tenn. Ch. App. 1897) 42 S. W. 507.

41. See Wing v. Tottenham, etc., R. Co., L. R. 3 Ch. 740, 37 L. J. Ch. 654, 16 Wkly. Rep. 1098.

42. Munns v. Isle of Wight R. Co., L. R. 5 Ch. 414, 39 L. J. Ch. 522, 23 L. T. Rep. N. S. 96, 18 Wkly. Rep. 781 [reversing L. R. 8 Eq. 653, 17 Wkly. Rep. 1081]; Wing v. Tottenham, etc., R. Co., L. R. 3 Ch. 740, 37 L. J. Ch. 654, 16 Wkly. Rep. 1098; Lycett v. Stafford, etc., R. Co., L. R. 13 Eq. 261, 41 L. J. Ch. 474, 25 L. T. Rep. N. S. 870; Walker v. Ware, etc., R. Co., L. R. 1 Eq. 195, 35 Beav. 52, 12 Jur. N. S. 18, 13 L. T. Rep. N. S. 517, 14 Wkly. Rep. 158, 55 Eng. Reprint 813; Keane v. Athenry, etc., R. Co., 19 Wkly. Rep. 43, 318.

43. Munns v. Isle of Wight R. Co., L. R. 5 Ch. 414, 39 L. J. Ch. 522, 23 L. T. Rep. N. S. 96, 18 Wkly. Rep. 781 [reversing L. R. 8 Eq. 653, 17 Wkly. Rep. 1081]; Wing v. Tottenham, etc., R. Co., L. R. 3 Ch. 740, 37 L. J. Ch. 654, 16 Wkly. Rep. 1098. And see cases cited in the preceding note.

Effect of sale.— Land of a railroad company sold to enforce the vendor's lien for unpaid purchase-money is sold free from all claims of the public to use it as a highway. Munns v. Isle of Wight R. Co., L. R. 5 Ch. 414, 39 L. J. Ch. 522, 23 L. T. Rep. N. S. 96, 18 Wkly. Rep. 781.

44. Munns v. Isle of Wight R. Co., L. R. 5 Ch. 414, 39 L. J. Ch. 522, 23 L. T. Rep. N. S. 96, 18 Wkly. Rep. 781; St. Germans v. Crystal Palace R. Co., L. R. 11 Eq. 568, 24 L. T. Rep. N. S. 288, 19 Wkly. Rep. 584; Winchester v. Mid-Hants R. Co., L. R. 5 Eq. 17, 37 L. J. Ch. 64, 17 L. T. Rep. N. S. 161, 16 Wkly. Rep. 72.

45. Allgood v. Merrybent, etc., R. Co., 33 Ch. D. 571, 55 L. J. Ch. 743, 55 L. T. Rep. N. S. 835, 35 Wkly. Rep. 180 (holding that the court will on default in payment, and where the land is unsalable, grant an injunction to restrain the railroad company from running trains over the road and from con-this remedy renders the land useless to both parties, it ordinarily will not be granted, until a sale, or at least until all reasonable efforts have been made to sell the land.[46]

e. Liens For Rolling Stock Furnished. The validity and effect of a lien for rolling stock furnished to a railroad company under a contract of sale reserving title depends upon its compliance with the statutory requirements, such as recordation within a specified time.[47]

f. Liens For Loans or Advances. A person making advances or loans to a railroad company upon its request or promise may be entitled to a lien on its property therefor,[48] particularly where they are made on the faith of a bond and mortgage.[49] Where, under an arrangement scaling down a railroad company's indebtedness, a creditor surrenders his bonds and receives new ones for all except a small portion of the reduced indebtedness to him, he is entitled to a lien equal to that of other bond and mortgage creditors for the whole amount due him.[50] But an agreement by a railroad company to prefer its bondholders in the disposition of a certain fund gives them no lien on such fund.[51]

tinuing in possession of the land); Winchester v. Mid-Hants R. Co., L. R. 5 Eq. 17, 37 L. J. Ch. 64, 17 L. T. Rep. N. S. 161, 16 Wkly. Rep. 72. See Cosens v. Bagnor R. Co., L. R. 1 Ch. 594, 12 Jur. N. S. 738, 36 L. J. Ch. 104, 15 L. T. Rep. N. S. 168, 14 Wkly. Rep. 1002.

46. Munns v. Isle of Wight R. Co., L. R. 5 Ch. 414, 39 L. J. Ch. 522, 23 L. T. Rep. N. S. 96, 18 Wkly. Rep. 781 [reversing L. R. 8 Eq. 653, 17 Wkly. Rep. 1081] (holding an injunction until a sale not the proper form of relief, as it would make the land useless to both parties); Bell v. Northampton, etc., R. Co., L. R. 2 Ch. 100, 36 L. J. Ch. 319, 15 L. T. Rep. N. S. 169, 15 Wkly. Rep. 27; Lycett v. Stafford, etc., R. Co., L. R. 13 Eq. 261, 41 L. J. Ch. 474, 25 L. T. Rep. N. S. 870; Williams v. Aylesbury, etc., R. Co., 28 L. T. Rep. N. S. 547, 21 Wkly. Rep. 819 (holding that an injunction to restrain the company from using the land ought not to be awarded, at all events until after another attempt had been made to sell the land); Keane v. Athenry, etc., R. Co., 19 Wkly. Rep. 43, 318.

47. Newgass v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 56 Fed. 676, construing Va. Code, § 2462, which provides that a conditional sale of rolling stock to a railroad company where legal title is reserved to the vendor until the purchase-money is paid shall be void as to creditors and bona fide purchasers of the vendee unless the contract is recorded as therein required and "each locomotive and car be plainly and permanently marked with the name of the vendor on both sides thereof followed by the word 'owner.'"

Contract by foreign corporations.— Ga. Laws (1889), p. 188, invalidating contracts for the sale of rolling stock made, or to be made, to the owner or operator of a railway within the state of Georgia, with reservation of title and requiring such contracts to be recorded within six months after execution, has no application to such a contract made before the passage of such act by two foreign corporations outside of the state, for the sale of rolling stock to be used within the state. Central Trust Co. v. Marietta, etc., R. Co., 48 Fed. 865, 1 C. C. A. 130.

A lien for rolling stock reserved by contract under Va. Code, § 2462, is in no wise inconsistent with the existence of a lien under section 4025, which gives to all who furnish supplies necessary to the operation of a railway "a prior lien on the franchise, gross earnings, and all the real and personal property" of the road upon condition that the claim be recorded as required by section 2486. Newgass v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 56 Fed. 676.

48. Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Stuttgart, 92 Fed. 246 (holding that the payment of taxes at the request of the company will create such a lien); Badgerow v. Manhattan Trust Co., 64 Fed. 931 (holding that the fact that complainants and others subscribed to a fund for the construction of a railroad, on an agreement by defendant that certain bonds should be set apart for and delivered to them, is probably sufficient to establish an equitable lien in complainants' favor).

One loaning money to a company owning all the stock of a railroad company cannot, as a party to an equitable proceeding against the railroad company alone, be allowed, by virtue of his right as an alleged creditor of the railroad company, payment of the loan out of earnings of such company which came into the hands of the receiver while the road was being operated by him, although the receiver had previously used portions of such earnings in paying interest to the bondholders secured by the mortgage, and in making betterments and improvements on the railroad property which largely increased the value of the bondholders' security. Macon Exch. Bank v. Macon Constr. Co., 97 Ga. 1, 25 S. E. 326, 33 L. R. A. 800.

49. Porter v. Pittsburg Bessemer Steel Co., 120 U. S. 649, 7 S. Ct. 741, 30 L. ed. 830, 122 U. S. 267, 7 S. Ct. 1206, 30 L. ed. 1210, holding this to be true in respect to a bona fide holder for value of such bonds for the amount of the loan made thereon. See also U. S. Trust Co. v. Western Contract Co., 81 Fed. 454, 26 C. C. A. 472.

50. Blair v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 23 Fed. 524.

51. Newby v. Oregon Cent. R. Co., 18 Fed. Cas. No. 10,144, Deady 609.

g. Liens For Damages. A grantor of property to a railroad company for a right of way is entitled to a lien for damages caused by a breach of the contract contained in the instrument conveying such property, as in failing to construct the road in the manner agreed upon;[52] such as for damages caused by its failure to fence and build crossings along or over the right of way according to agreement;[53] although a failure to build fences as agreed upon does not entitle such owner to a lien for a trespass outside the right of way,[54] or for damages caused by negligent construction of the road.[55] It has been held that this lien is confined to that portion of the road covered by the contract.[56] Under some statutes a person is entitled to a lien for any loss or damage to the person or property sustained from a railroad upon his compliance with the statutory requirements.[57]

h. Liens For Public Aid Granted — (i) In General. Where the federal or state government grants aid to a railroad company by guaranteeing its bonds or by authorizing an issuance of federal, state, or county bonds in aid of the company, it does not thereby acquire a lien on the property of the railroad company,[58] unless the statute authorizing such guaranty or issue expressly provides for such a lien,[59]

52. Dayton, etc., R. Co. v. Lewton, 20 Ohio St. 401 (holding such a grantor entitled to an equitable lien for damages caused by the non-construction of cattle-guards at crossings in compliance with the contract); Levy v. Tatum, (Tex. Civ. App. 1897) 43 S. W. 941. See also Crosby v. Morristown, etc., R. Co., (Tenn. Ch. App. 1897) 42 S. W. 507.

53. Hull v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 65 Iowa 713, 22 N. W. 940; Davies v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 56 Iowa 192, 9 N. W. 117; Varner v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 55 Iowa 677, 8 N. W. 634.

54. Hull v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 65 Iowa 713, 22 N. W. 940.

55. Hull v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 65 Iowa 713, 22 N. W. 940; Tolle v. Owensboro, etc., R. Co., 111 Ky. 623, 64 S. W. 455, 23 Ky. L. Rep. 864, holding that no lien exists upon a railroad for damages recovered by temporary injuries resulting from negligence in the construction of the road, as from the negligent failure to construct a sufficient culvert under an embankment.

56. Davies v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 56 Iowa 192, 9 N. W. 117; Varner v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 55 Iowa 677, 8 N. W. 634.

57. Kansas City Southern R. Co. v. King, 74 Ark. 366, 85 S. W. 1131 (construing Kirby Dig. §§ 6661–6663); Winter v. Iowa Cent. R. Co., 111 Iowa 342, 82 N. W. 760 (holding, however, that under Code (1873), § 1309, making a judgment against a railroad company for injuries a lien on the property of the corporation situated in the county where the judgment is obtained, such judgment is not a lien on the property where it is afterward reversed and the property sold before the recovery of a second judgment); State Trust Co. v. Kansas City, etc., R. Co., 115 Fed. 367 (holding that Sandels & H. Dig. Ark. § 6251, was not repealed by the act of March 31, 1899, in so far as rights previously accrued are concerned).

Tenn. St. (Milliken & V. Code, § 1271), declaring that no railroad company shall have power to give a mortgage which shall be valid against judgments and decrees for damages occasioned to persons or property in the operation of the road, does not create any lien in favor of such claims but merely postpones the mortgage to them; and hence a purchaser at a foreclosure sale takes the property free from liability for such claims, unless they have become liens by contract or some legal proceeding. Baltimore Trust, etc., Co. v. Hofstetter, 85 Fed. 75, 29 C. C. A. 35. Thus a judgment for personal injuries, rendered pending a general creditors' suit to wind up the affairs of the company, and in which a receiver was appointed, and the property sold, and notice to present claims published, is not a lien on the assets of the company which can be enforced against a purchaser at the receiver's sale. Barnett v. East Tennessee, etc., R. Co., (Ch. App. 1898) 48 S. W. 817.

Personal judgment.— A lien created by Kirby Dig. §§ 6661–6663, in favor of persons sustaining loss or damage to person or property, against railroads causing such loss or damage, does not entitle a person injured to a personal judgment against a purchaser of the railroad subject to the lien where such purchaser is not otherwise liable on the claim. Kansas City Southern R. Co. v. King, 74 Ark. 366, 85 S. W. 1131.

58. McKittrick v. Arkansas Cent. R. Co., 152 U. S. 473, 14 S. Ct. 661, 38 L. ed. 518, holding that Ark. Acts, July 21, 1868, and April 10, 1869, did not create a lien on the property of a railroad company for whose benefit state bonds were issued, and that neither the state nor its bondholders were entitled to sequestration of the income and revenue arising from the property in the hands of the purchasers thereof under foreclosure of mortgage.

59. Colt v. Barnes, 64 Ala. 108; Gibbes v. Greenville, etc., R. Co., 13 S. C. 228; McGraw v. Memphis, etc., R. Co., 5 Coldw. (Tenn.) 434; Wilson v. Boyce, 92 U. S. 320, 23 L. ed. 608; Cincinnati v. Morgan, 3 Wall. (U. S.) 275, 18 L. ed. 146 (holding that to acquire such a lien upon the corpus of the road, as against all mortgages and encumbrancers, it is necessary that the statute express in terms not doubtful the intention to give a or the terms of the statute are such as clearly show an intention that such a lien should be created.[60]

(II) NATURE AND EXTENT OF LIEN. The nature and extent of such a lien depends upon the wording of the statute under which it arises.[61] Such a lien ordinarily operates as a specific appropriation of the property of the company to the payment of the bonds, on default of principal and interest;[62] and is not restricted to the portion of the road then finished, or to the property then owned by the company, but extends to the entire road, its franchises and all the property then belonging to it or afterward acquired.[63]

(III) PERSONS ENTITLED TO BENEFIT OF LIEN. Where bonds are issued by a state in aid of a railroad company, such bonds become the debt of the state and the statutory lien in its favor does not inure to the benefit of bona fide holders of such bonds,[64] unless the terms of the statute extend such lien to them;[65] nor does an indorsement by a railroad company of such bonds give a lien to holders thereof.[66] But on the other hand it is held that since a creditor is entitled to all securities or franchises which the surety may receive from the principal debtor, the statutory lien arising upon an indorsement of railroad bonds by the state lien); Wilson v. Ward's Lumber Co., 67 Fed. 674; Knevals v. Florida Cent., etc., R. Co., 66 Fed. 224, 13 C. C. A. 410. See Tompkins v. Little Rock, etc., R. Co., 125 U. S. 109, 8 S. Ct. 762, 31 L. ed. 615 [affirming 18 Fed. 344, 5 McCrary 597, and reversing 21 Fed. 370, 15 Fed. 6].

60. Ketchum v. St. Louis, 101 U. S. 306, 25 L. ed. 999 (holding that Mo. Act, Jan. 7, 1865, authorizing the county of St. Louis to issue its bonds for a certain amount to aid in the construction of a certain railroad and providing that the fund commissioners of the railroad company, or the person having the custody of its bonds should, every month after issuance of such bonds, pay to the county out of the earnings of the railroad, a certain sum to meet the interest on the bonds, created on its acceptance by the company and the county, an equitable lien or charge in favor of the county on the earnings of the railroad to the extent necessary to meet the interest on the bonds as it accrued); U. S. v. Kansas Pac. R. Co., 99 U. S. 455, 25 L. ed. 289; U. S. v. Central Pac. R. Co., 99 U. S. 449, 25 L. ed. 287 [reversing 25 Fed. Cas. No. 14,763, 4 Sawy. 341].

Where state bonds so issued are void, they do not create a lien on railroad property in favor of the state. Tompkins v. Little Rock, etc., R. Co., 125 U. S. 109, 8 S. Ct. 762, 31 L. ed. 615 [affirming 18 Fed. 344, 5 McCrary 597, and reversing 21 Fed. 370, 15 Fed. 6].

61. Forrest v. Luddington, 68 Ala. 1; U. S. v. Kansas Pac. R. Co., 99 U. S. 455, 25 L. ed. 289, holding that bonds granted by the United States to the Kansas Pacific Railroad Company under the act of July 1, 1862 (12 U. S. St. at L. 489), are not a lien on, nor is the company liable for five per cent of the net earnings of, that portion of its road west of the one-hundredth meridian.

Moneys earned by a railroad company in working its road are not comprehended within the lien arising under Tenn. Act, Feb. 11, 1862, c. 151, authorizing the issue and loan of bonds of the state to the Memphis and Ohio Railroad Company and investing the state with a lien upon that property. McGraw v. Memphis, etc., R. Co., 5 Coldw. (Tenn.) 434.

62. Forrest v. Luddington, 68 Ala. 1, holding this to be true where a state indorses the bonds of a railroad company and takes a lien on the road and equipment as a security for the payment of the bonds.

63. Colt v. Barnes, 64 Ala. 108 (under Ala. Act, Feb. 21, 1870); Wilson v. Beckwith, 140 Mo. 359, 41 S. W. 985 [overruling Wilson v. Beckwith, 117 Mo. 61, 22 S. W. 639]; Whitehead v. Vineyard, 50 Mo. 30 (holding that a lien of the state upon the Iron Mountain Railroad Lands created by Sess. Act (1851), p. 266, embraces lands acquired by the road after the creation of the lien); Wilson v. Boyce, 92 U. S. 320, 23 L. ed. 608 [affirming 30 Fed. Cas. No. 17,793, 2 Dill. 539] (holding that the lien of the state under the Missouri act of March 3, 1857, extended to lands which had before that time been granted by congress to aid in the construction of the road, and by the state to the railroad company and that the lien of the state was not confined to the road and such property immediately connected with the road as was necessary for its operation); Wilson v. Ward Lumber Co., 67 Fed. 674.

64. McKittrick v. Arkansas Cent. R. Co., 152 U. S. 473, 14 S. Ct. 661, 38 L. ed. 518; Tompkins v. Little Rock, etc., R. Co., 125 U. S. 109, 8 S. Ct. 762, 31 L. ed. 615 [affirming 18 Fed. 344, 5 McCrary 597, and reversing 21 Fed. 370, 15 Fed. 6]; Stevens v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 3 Fed. 673, 2 Flipp. 715.

65. Florida Cent. R. Co. v. Schutte, 103 U. S. 118, 26 L. ed. 327.

66. McKittrick v. Arkansas Cent. R. Co., 152 U. S. 473, 14 S. Ct. 661, 38 L. ed. 518, holding also that such indorsement does not prevent the company from giving a mortgage of its property to secure bonds it may issue.

is a security for the payment of the indorsed bonds and operates as a specific appropriation of the property and franchises of the railroad company to their payment which the bondholders may enforce whenever default shall be made by the company in the payment of the principal or interest.[67] The summary remedies given by statute for the enforcement of the liens of the state to secure it against loss by reason of its indorsement of the bonds of a railroad company can only be exercised by the state;[68] but where the state has failed to exercise such remedies and disclaims its liability for the indorsed bonds, such statutes afford no obstacle to a resort to a court of equity by the bondholders for the enforcement of the statutory lien for their benefit,[69] and the fact that the state cannot be made a party to the suit, no relief being asked against it, does not affect the jurisdiction of the court or the equity of the bill.[70] Where such bonds, issued in exchange for railroad bonds secured by a statutory mortgage, are declared invalid, the holders of the bonds may, in equity, enforce the mortgage for their own benefit.[71]

i. Liens For Labor or Supplies[72] — (i) IN GENERAL. Independently of statute, a person selling goods to a railroad company may have a lien thereon for the unpaid purchase-money so long as he retains actual or constructive control of the goods;[73] or an equitable lien for services or supplies furnished may arise by virtue of the contract between the railroad company and the party furnishing them.[74] In most jurisdictions, however, statutes have been enacted which give to every mechanic, builder, artisan, workman, or other person who shall do or perform any work or labor upon or furnish any materials, machinery, fixtures, or other things toward the equipment or to facilitate the operation of a railroad a paramount lien therefor on the road-bed and other property of the company.[75]

67. Morton v. New Orleans, etc., R., etc., Co., 79 Ala. 590; Gilman v. New Orleans, etc., R. Co., 72 Ala. 566; Forrest v. Luddington, 68 Ala. 1 (holding this to be true, although the governor of the state is directed by the statute to file a bill for the foreclosure on default of the payment of the bonds); Gibbes v. Greenville, etc., R. Co., 13 S. C. 228; Hand v. Savannah, etc., R. Co., 12 S. C. 314.

68. Forrest v. Luddington, 68 Ala. 1.

69. Forrest v. Luddington, 68 Ala. 1.

70. Forrest v. Luddington, 68 Ala. 1.

71. Western Div. Western North Carolina R. Co. v. Drew, 29 Fed. Cas. No. 17,434, 3 Woods 691.

72. Liability for work, labor, or materials used in the construction of the road in general see supra, VI, I.

Priority of liens for labor and supplies see infra, VIII, A, 9, g.

73. Ware River R. Co. v. Vibbard, 114 Mass. 447. See also, generally, SALES.

74. Denison, etc., R. Co. v. Raney-Alton Mercantile Co., 3 Indian Terr. 104, 53 S. W. 496 (to the extent that the supplies bettered the property of the company); Fidelity Ins., etc., Co. v. Shenandoah Valley R. Co., 33 W. Va. 761, 11 S. E. 58; Dillon v. Barnard, 21 Wall. (U. S.) 430, 22 L. ed. 673 [affirming 7 Fed. Cas. No. 3,915, Holmes 386], holding, however, that in order to create an equitable lien for future services upon particular funds, there must be in addition to an express promise by the railroad company upon which the contractor relies some act of appropriation on the part of the company depriving itself of the control of the funds and conferring upon the contractor the right to have them applied to his payment when the services are rendered or the materials are furnished. See also Myer v. Dupont, 79 Ky. 416.

75. Midland Valley R. Co. v. Moran Bolt, etc., Mfg. Co., 80 Ark. 399, 97 S. W. 679; Tucker v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 59 Ark. 81, 26 S. W. 375; Herrin v. Warren, 61 Miss. 509 (construing Acts (1882), p. 115, and Code, § 1379); Luttrell v. Knoxville, etc., R. Co., (Tenn. 1907) 105 S. W. 565 (construing Acts (1883), c. 220, § 3, as amended by Acts (1891), c. 98, § 1); Fox v. Seal, 22 Wall. (U. S.) 424, 22 L. ed. 774; Central Trust Co. v. Richmond, etc., R. Co., 68 Fed. 90, 15 C. C. A. 273, 41 L. R. A. 458 [affirmed in 68 Fed. 105, 15 C. C. A. 289, 34 L. R. A. 625]. And see the statutes of the several states.

A constitutional provision requiring the legislature to pass laws to protect laborers on railroads, etc., does not impose any lien on the road-bed and franchise of a railroad company for labor and materials furnished thereto, nor does it require the legislature to do so. Central, etc., R. Co. v. Henning, 52 Tex. 466; Tyler Tap R. Co. v. Driscol, 52 Tex. 13.

Repeal of statute.— Oreg. Laws (1889), p. 75, giving railroad subcontractors, materialmen, and laborers a lien, supersedes, and by implication repeals the prior Mechanics' Lien Law as applied to railroads. Ban v. Columbia Southern R. Co., 109 Fed. 499.

Consistency of liens.— A contract under which cars are furnished to a railroad com-

The intent and object of such statutes is to protect laborers and persons furnishing materials for the construction and repair of railroads,[76] and to give a security for the debt.[77] The existence and extent of such lien therefore, being in derogation of the common law, must depend wholly upon the provisions of the statute,[78] which must be strictly construed in respect at least to the ascertainment of the rights of the parties entitled;[79] although where the lien has once attached the statute should be liberally construed as to its remedial part.[80] And since the statute itself fixes the limit beyond which the right to a lien does not exist,[81] and presupposes a right of action in the party claiming the lien, the lien is not intended to confer a right of action where none existed without it.[82] Nor does the lien exist for claims not provided for by the statute,[83] such as for damages arising from a breach of contract.[84] But where the statute applies, a debt in whatever shape it may be has the benefit of the lien given by the statute,[85] and may be enforced against a purchaser of the railroad within the time limited by statute for its enforcement, although such purchaser's title was acquired without notice of the lien.[86]

(11) Retroactive Effect of Statutory Provisions. Ordinarily such a statute relates only to the labor and materials furnished after its passage and gives no right to a lien for labor and materials furnished before it was enacted.[87] It does not give a lien for labor or supplies furnished under a contract executed prior to its passage,[88] although the labor or materials were furnished after the statute took effect.[89] But it has been held that, although the contract is entered into prior to the passage of such a statute, if the property subject to such lien was not in existence when the statute was enacted, but only comes into existence afterward by labor and supplies furnished under the contract, the party furnishing pany and providing for payment of the purchase-money in monthly instalments with the right in the vendor on default to take possession of the cars and sell, returning any surplus after payment of outstanding notes to the vendee, is not inconsistent with his lien for supplies under the statute and the fact that such vendor puts his name on the cars as owner and records the contract as required in the case of conditional sales, does not amount to a waiver of his statutory lien for supplies. Newgass v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 56 Fed. 676.

76. Dudley v. Toledo, etc., R. Co., 65 Mich. 655, 32 N. W. 884.

77. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co. v. Shera, 36 Ind. App. 315, 73 N. E. 293.

78. St. Johns, etc., R. Co. v. Bartola, 28 Fla. 82, 9 So. 853; Midland R. Co. v. Wilcox, 122 Ind. 84, 23 N. E. 506; Cincinnati, etc., R. Co. v. Shera, 36 Ind. App. 315, 73 N. E. 293; Noll v. Cumberland Plateau R. Co., 112 Tenn. 140, 79 S. W. 380; Laidlaw v. Portland, etc., R. Co., 42 Wash. 292, 84 Pac. 855, construing Acts (1893), p. 32, c. 24, § 1.

79. Tucker v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 59 Ark. 81, 26 S. W. 375; Cincinnati, etc., R. Co. v. Shera, 36 Ind. App. 315, 73 N. E. 293; Cleburne Nat. Bank v. Gulf, etc., R. Co., 95 Tex. 176, 66 S. W. 203.

80. Tucker v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 59 Ark. 81, 26 S. W. 375; Cincinnati, etc., R. Co. v. Shera, 36 Ind. App. 315, 73 N. E. 293.

81. Tucker v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 59 Ark. 81, 26 S. W. 375.

82. Tucker v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 59 Ark. 81, 26 S. W. 375.

83. St. Johns, etc., R. Co. v. Bartola, 28 Fla. 82, 9 So. 853; Cleburne Nat. Bank v. Gulf, etc., R. Co., 95 Tex. 176, 66 S. W. 203, holding that Rev. St. art. 3312, giving to mechanics, laborers, and operatives who perform labor in the construction of any railroad a lien "on such railroad and its equipments," does not give a lien to mechanics and laborers performing labor in the erection of machine-shops, work-shops, roundhouses, etc., on land belonging to the company and adjoining its right of way.

84. St. Johns, etc., R. Co. v. Bartola, 28 Fla. 82, 9 So. 853.

85. Fox v. Seal, 22 Wall. (U. S.) 424, 22 L. ed. 774, holding that under a general resolution in the Pennsylvania act of Jan. 21, 1843, prohibiting railroad companies and similar corporations from mortgaging or transferring their property so as to defeat laborers employed in the construction of work, the lien of such laborers is not merged in any judgment by the contractor against the company for his debt, or by any proceedings upon such judgment.

86. Brown v. Buck, 54 Ark. 453, 16 S. W. 195.

87. Arbuckle v. Illinois Midland R. Co., 81 Ill. 429.

88. Choctaw, etc., R. Co. v. Speer Hardware Co., 71 Ark. 126, 71 S. W. 267; Choctaw, etc., R. Co. v. Sullivan, 70 Ark. 262, 68 S. W. 495 (holding that the contract is governed by the law in force at the time of its execution); Parker v. Massachusetts R. Co., 115 Mass. 580.

89. Parker v. Massachusetts R. Co., 115 Mass. 580.

such labor and supplies is entitled to a lien under the statute, and that such application of the statute invades no right of property.[90]

(III) APPLICATION OF GENERAL MECHANICS' LIEN LAW. As a rule the general mechanics' lien laws do not apply to railroads;[91] and although a statute may expressly provide for such liens on a railroad,[92] or its language or intent may clearly include railroads,[93] such construction will not be put upon a general mechanics' lien law unless the language of the statute clearly requires it to be done.[94]

(IV) NATURE AND PURPOSE OF LABOR, MATERIAL, OR EXPENDITURE. The right to such a lien rests upon the theory that the labor or materials have gone into the building of the road and to that extent added to its value, and therefore a lien for such labor and material should be given to him who does the one or furnishes the other;[95] and beyond this the statute should never be carried unless imperatively demanded by the language used.[96] Accordingly the right to such a lien is ordinarily restricted to claims for labor performed or materials furnished for use in the construction or repair of the road,[97] or which, although

90. Knoxville, etc., R. Co. v. Hoge, 26 S. W. 534, 16 Ky. L. Rep. 9.

91. Arkansas.— Dano v. Mississippi, etc., R. Co., 27 Ark. 564.

Missouri.— Dunn v. North Missouri R. Co., 24 Mo. 493.

Ohio.— Rutherfoord v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 35 Ohio St. 559 [affirming 5 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 584, 6 Am. L. Rec. 758], holding that Act (1877), § 1 [74 Ohio L. p. 168], giving a mechanic's lien on "any house, mill, manufactory, or other building or appurtenance, fixture, bridge, or other structure," etc., for labor performed and machinery or materials furnished by the contractor "for erecting, altering, repairing or removing" the same, does not authorize such a lien upon a railroad.

Texas.— Central, etc., R. Co. v. Henning, 52 Tex. 466; Tyler Tap R. Co. v. Driscol, 52 Tex. 13.

United States.— Buncombe County v. Tommey, 115 U. S. 122, 5 S. Ct. 626, 29 L. ed. 308 [construing N. C. Act, March 28, 1870 (Pub. Laws, c. 206, p. 263)]; Cleveland, etc., R. Co. v. Knickerbocker Trust Co., 86 Fed. 73; Pennsylvania Steel Co. v. J. E. Potts Salt, etc., Co., 63 Fed. 11, 11 C. C. A. 11; Industrial, etc., Guaranty Co. v. Electrical Supply Co., 58 Fed. 732, 7 C. C. A. 471 (holding that the General Lien Law of Ohio (Rev. St. § 3184, as amended by the act of April 15, 1889) gives no right to a lien upon a railroad for material used in and for its construction.

See also MECHANICS' LIENS, 27 Cyc. 26.

The specific requirements for a mechanic's lien do not apply to the statute providing for liens upon railroads, but the general principles applicable to liens, when not modified by statute, do apply. Atlantic Dynamite Co. v Baltimore, etc., R. Co., 101 Ill. App. 13.

A lien upon a railroad bridge for work performed and material furnished cannot be obtained, in Ohio, under the ordinary mechanics' law, but must be obtained under the act of April 10, 1884, known as the Railroad Lien Law. Cleveland, etc., R. Co. v. Knickerbocker Trust Co., 86 Fed. 73. But see Bowman v. Springfield, etc., R. Co., 1 Ohio Cir. Ct. 64, 1 Ohio Cir. Dec. 39.

92. Schaghticoke Powder Co. v. Greenwich, etc., R. Co., 183 N. Y. 306, 76 N. E. 153, 11 Am. St. Rep. 751, 2 L. R. A. N. S. 288, holding that Laws (1897), c. 418, §§ 2, 3, authorizing a mechanic's lien and providing that the term "real property" shall include in addition, all bridges, and trestle work, and structures connected therewith, erected for the use of a railroad, places such structures in the category of real property, so that a lien may be acquired against a railroad company for materials furnished in the construction of its road. And see the statutes of the several states.

93. Buncombe County v. Tommey, 115 U. S. 122, 5 S. Ct. 626, 29 L. ed. 308; Ban v. Columbia Southern R. Co., 117 Fed. 21, 54 C. C. A. 407 [reversing 109 Fed. 499]; Giant Powder Co. v. Oregon Pac. R. Co., 42 Fed. 470, 8 L. R. A. 700, holding that Oreg. Comp. Laws (1887), § 3669, which provides for mechanics' liens upon "any building, wharf, bridge, ditch, flume, tunnel, fence, machinery, or aqueduct, or any other structure" authorizes a lien upon a railroad as properly coming under the head of "other structure."

94. Tyler Tap R. Co. v. Driscol, 52 Tex. 13; Buncombe County v. Tommey, 115 U. S. 122, 5 S. Ct. 1186, 29 L. ed. 305; Pennsylvania Steel Co. v. J. E. Potts Salt, etc., Co., 63 Fed. 11, 11 C. C. A. 11.

95. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co. v. Shera, 36 Ind. App. 315, 73 N. E. 293; Central Trust Co. v. Texas, etc., R. Co., 23 Fed. 703.

96. Indiana, etc., R. Co. v. Shera, 36 Ind. App. 315, 73 N. E. 293; Central Trust Co. v. Texas, etc., R. Co., 23 Fed. 703.

97. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Rogers, 72 Ark. 270, 79 S. W. 794 (holding that it is necessary under such statute that the services be performed for and be beneficial to the railroad company); Dudley v. Toledo, etc., R. Co., 65 Mich. 655, 32 N. W. 884; Industrial, etc., Guaranty Co. v. Electrical Supply Co., 58 Fed. 732, 7 C. C. A. 471 (holding that the lien cannot be extended to a claim for furnishing an electric lighting not actually incorporated in the road, is necessary for the work.[98] The term "materials," within the meaning of such statute, ordinarily applies only to materials entering into the construction of the road and thereafter invisible except as they survive in tangible results,[99] such as blasting powder or explosives furnished to a contractor and used in preparing the road-bed;[1] but it does not apply to materials which, while used in the doing of the work survive its performance and remain the property of the owner,[2] or which only very remotely enter into the construction of the road,[3] such as materials furnished to be used in the erection of boarding-houses for men and stables for horses;[4] nor, in the absence of a statutory provision to that effect, does it apply to teams[5] or tools[6] used upon the work; or plant for hotel premises at the instance of a railroad company); Central Trust Co. v. Texas, etc., R. Co., 23 Fed. 703.

Digging a well at a stock-yard owned by a railroad company is "work of any kind in the construction or repair of a railroad," for which the laborer is entitled to a lien under Ind. Rev. St. (1894) § 7265. Wabash R. Co. v. Achemire, 19 Ind. App. 482, 49 N. E. 835.

Whether the materials were sold to the railroad company or to its contractor is immaterial if they were used in the construction of the railroad. Ozark, etc., Cent. R. Co. v. Moran Balt., etc., Mfg. Co., 75 Ark. 106, 86 S. W. 848.

98. Dean v. Reynolds, 12 Ind. App. 97, 39 N. E. 763 (work done in grubbing and clearing the right of way essential to the grading and building of the road); Rapauno Chemical Co. v. Greenfield, etc., R. Co., 59 Mo. App. 6; Andrews v. St. Louis Tunnel R. Co., 16 Mo. App. 299 [disapproving Knapp v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 6 Mo. App. 205].

A contractor who loads ballast belonging to a railroad company on its cars from pits located at the end of a spur whence it is transported and unloaded by the company upon its road-bed in improving and repairing the same is entitled to a lien under Mo. Rev. St. (1889) § 6741, giving a lien to such persons as do the work in improving or constructing a road-bed, if the contract is made with the railroad company, its agents, or contractors. Sweem v. Atchison, etc., R. Co., 85 Mo. App. 87.

99. Dudley v. Toledo, etc., R. Co., 65 Mich. 655, 32 N. W. 884; Pennsylvania Co. v. Mehaffey, 75 Ohio St. 432, 80 N. E. 177, 116 Am. St. Rep. 746; Central Trust Co. v. Texas, etc., R. Co., 27 Fed. 178.

1. Rapauno Chemical Co. v. Greenfield, etc., R. Co., 59 Mo. App. 6; Schaghticoke Powder Co. v. Greenwich, etc., R. Co., 183 N. Y. 306, 76 N. E. 153, 111 Am. St. Rep. 751, 2 L. R. A. N. S. 288; Luttrell v. Knoxville, etc., R. Co., (Tenn. 1907) 105 S. W. 565; Hercules Powder Co. v. Knoxville, etc., R. Co., 113 Tenn. 382, 83 S. W. 354, 106 Am. St. Rep. 836, 67 L. R. A. 487; Giant Powder Co. v. Oregon Pac. R. Co., 42 Fed. 470, 8 L. R. A. 700. Compare Indiana Powder Co. v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 116 Mo. App. 364, 92 S. W. 150, holding that where plaintiff sold blasting powder to a contractor with which to quarry rock from his own land to be broken and delivered to defendant railroad company, and the purpose for which and the place where the rock was to be used, if at all, by the railroad company was not stated in the contract, complainant was not entitled to a lien on the railroad for the value of the powder so furnished under Mo. Rev. St. (1889) § 4239.

2. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Love, 74 Ark. 528, 86 S. W. 395; Schaghticoke Powder Co. v. Greenwich, etc., R. Co., 183 N. Y. 306, 76 N. E. 153, 111 Am. St. Rep. 751, 2 L. R. A. N. S. 288; Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Allen, 1 Tex. App. Civ. Cas. § 568; Frick v. Norfolk, etc., R. Co., 86 Fed. 725, 32 C. C. A. 31; Central Trust Co. v. Texas, etc., R. Co., 27 Fed. 178.

Illustrations.— Gasoline, gasoline torches, and coal oil used for lighting a railroad tunnel while in process of construction, packing, mattocks, cotton waste, electric light supplies, carts, tools, shovels, spades, blacksmith tools, wagons, scrapers, plows, machines, machinery, derricks, derrick crabs, cables, and repairs for all these, are not lienable, within Tenn. Acts (1883), c. 220, § 3, as amended by Acts (1891), c. 98, § 1. Luttrell v. Knoxville, etc., R. Co., (Tenn. 1907) 105 S. W. 565.

3. Carson v. Shelton, 107 S. W. 793, 32 Ky. L. Rep. 1083, 15 L. R. A. N. S. 509.

Too remote.— Tableware and commissary supplies furnished to a subcontractor and materials furnished to the workmen in part payment for their labor are not lienable, as the sense in which they enter into the construction of the road is too remote. Luttrell v. Knoxville, etc., R. Co., (Tenn. 1907) 105 S. W. 565. Groceries furnished a subcontractor to supply his boarding-house where he boards his laborers, are not "supplies" within Ky. St. (1903) § 2492. Carson v. Shelton, 107 S. W. 793, 32 Ky. L. Rep. 1083, 15 L. R. A. N. S. 509. See also Ferguson v. Despo, 8 Ind. App. 523, 34 N. E. 575.

4. Stewart-Chute Lumber Co. v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 33 Nebr. 29, 49 N. W. 769, 28 Nebr. 39, 44 N. W. 47; Luttrell v. Knoxville, etc., R. Co., (Tenn. 1907) 105 S. W. 565.

5. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Love, 74 Ark. 528, 86 S. W. 395; Dudley v. Toledo, etc., R. Co., 65 Mich. 655, 32 N. W. 884; Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Allen, 1 Tex. App. Civ. Cas. § 568.

6. Luttrell v. Knoxville, etc., R. Co., (Tenn. 1907) 105 S. W. 565; Waters-Pierce Oil Co. v. U. S., etc., Trust Co., 44 Tex. Civ. App. 397, 99 S. W. 212; Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Allen, 1 Tex. App. Civ. Cas. § 568.

to medical services rendered,[7] or clothing or board furnished to laborers;[8] or to lubricating or illuminating oil for running the road;[9] or to food furnished for teams;[10] or to coal consumed in the operation of a steam shovel used by a contractor.[11] The term "labor" applies to manual labor of persons employed.[12] A lien cannot be acquired under such a statute for money expended in acquiring a right of way,[13] paying salaries or expenses of a construction company,[14] paying a commission for guaranteeing a contract of such company,[15] or for hiring teams,[16] or other legal expenses.[17] It is also necessary that, in order that a person may be entitled to such a lien, the labor and materials be furnished in such a manner that the railroad company would be liable to pay the contractor or materialman for them.[18] Such lien does not arise where the labor or material is furnished to a principal contractor in his individual capacity.[19]

(v) Delivery and Use of Materials. The lien for materials furnished attaches as soon as the materials are delivered,[20] regardless of whether they are actually used in the construction of the road.[21] But there can be no lien for materials contracted for and prepared but never delivered.[22] Nor can a contractor have a lien for material lost by his negligence, although the title to it had passed to the company.[23]

7. Newgass v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 56 Fed. 676.

8. Dudley v. Toledo, etc., R. Co., 65 Mich. 655, 32 N. W. 884; Newgass v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 56 Fed. 676.

9. Waters-Pierce Oil Co. v. U. S., etc., Trust Co., 44 Tex. Civ. App. 397, 99 S. W. 212; Central Trust Co. v. Texas, etc., R. Co., 23 Fed. 703.

10. Dudley v. Toledo, etc., R. Co., 65 Mich. 655, 32 N. W. 884; Pennsylvania Co. v. Mehaffey, 75 Ohio St. 432, 80 N. E. 177, 116 Am. St. Rep. 746, construing Rev. St. §§ 3208, 3211.

11. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co. v. Shera, 36 Ind. App. 315, 73 N. E. 293.

12. Dudley v. Toledo, etc., R. Co., 65 Mich. 655, 32 N. W. 884.

The services of a foreman who superintends and directs laborers in the work of construction or repair is within a statute giving "the laborer or other person who shall perform work or labor" a lien for his services. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Love, 74 Ark. 528, 86 S. W. 395. See also Ferguson v. Despo, 8 Ind. App. 523, 34 N. E. 575.

13. Richmond, etc., Constr. Co. v. Richmond, etc., R. Co., 68 Fed. 105, 15 C. C. A. 289, 34 L. R. A. 625.

14. Richmond, etc., Constr. Co. v. Richmond, etc., R. Co., 68 Fed. 105, 15 C. C. A. 289, 34 L. R. A. 625.

15. Richmond, etc., Constr. Co. v. Richmond, etc., R. Co., 68 Fed. 105, 15 C. C. A. 289, 34 L. R. A. 625.

16. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Love, 74 Ark. 528, 86 S. W. 395.

17. Richmond, etc., Constr. Co. v. Richmond, etc., R. Co., 68 Fed. 105, 15 C. C. A. 289, 34 L. R. A. 625.

18. Central Trust Co. v. Bridges, 57 Fed. 753, 6 C. C. A. 539, holding that the fact that the money obtained on a draft given by a railroad company to its principal contractor for construction of its road was used by him to pay for the labor and material will not create a labor or materialman's lien on the railroad in favor of the holder of the draft.

Materials furnished to a contractor for, and used by him in the construction of, a railroad are to be regarded as furnished to the railroad company. Heltzell v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 77 Mo. 315.

19. Central Trust Co. v. Bridges, 57 Fed. 753, 6 C. C. A. 539.

20. Stewart-Chute Lumber Co. v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 28 Nebr. 39, 44 N. W. 47; Central Trust Co. v. Richmond, etc., R. Co., 68 Fed. 90, 15 C. C. A. 273, 41 L. R. A. 458; Central Trust Co. v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 54 Fed. 598.

21. Stewart-Chute Lumber Co. v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 28 Nebr. 39, 44 N. W. 47 (holding that such lien attaches immediately upon the furnishing of the material to the subcontractor, in good faith by the materialman, and that it is not necessary to allege or prove the actual application of such material to the purpose intended); Luttrell v. Knoxville, etc., R. Co., (Tenn. 1907) 105 S. W. 565; Westinghouse Air Brake Co. v. Kansas City Southern R. Co., 137 Fed. 26, 71 C. C. A. 1 [reversing 128 Fed. 129, 129 Fed. 455] (holding that the furnishing to a railroad company of proper materials for the construction of its road or equipment is sufficient to sustain a mechanic's lien under Mo. Rev. St. (1899) § 4239 et seq., without proof of their application for that purpose); Central Trust Co. v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 54 Fed. 598.

That only a portion of the material furnished is used will not prevent a lien attaching for the whole amount delivered. Neilson v. Iowa Eastern R. Co., 51 Iowa 184, 1 N. W. 434, 33 Am. Rep. 124, 51 Iowa 714, 3 N. W. 779.

22. Richmond, etc., Constr. Co. v. Richmond, etc., R. Co., 68 Fed. 105, 15 C. C. A. 289, 34 L. R. A. 625.

23. Richmond, etc., Constr. Co. v. Richmond, etc., R. Co., 68 Fed. 105, 15 C. C. A. 289, 34 L. R. A. 625.

(VI) PROPERTY COVERED BY LIEN. As a general rule a statutory lien for labor and materials furnished to a railroad company attaches to the entire road;[24] and cannot be enforced against a separate part of the road,[25] although such part may be all of the road which the lienor constructed or aided to construct.[26] This rule, however, is subject to the modification that the lien extends only to the completed portion of the road,[27] and not to a projected portion to be completed thereafter;[28] but the fact that the road as projected when the labor and materials are furnished is not fully completed will not defeat the lien.[29] Likewise the lien extends only to the interest in the road of the company by which the laborer or mechanic is employed.[30] Except where the statute provides otherwise,[31] such lien attaches only to real estate,[32] and does not attach to the rolling stock and

24. California.— Cox v. Western Pac. R. Co., 44 Cal. 18, holding that a contractor who grades a section only of the road cannot file a lien on that section alone.

Georgia.— Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Candler, 87 Ga. 241, 13 S. E. 560.

Indiana.— Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Canada, etc., R. Co., 127 Ind. 250, 26 N. E. 784, 11 L. R. A. 740 (holding that where a lien is obtained by laborers and materialmen against a railroad running continuously through several counties by filing such a notice as the law requires in one county, the lien extends to the proceeds of a sale of the entire road); Midland R. Co. v. Wilcox, 122 Ind. 84, 23 N. E. 506; Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Boney, 117 Ind. 501, 20 N. E. 432, 3 L. R. A. 435.

Missouri.— Bagnell Timber Co. v. Missouri, etc., R. Co., 180 Mo. 420, 79 S. W. 1130; Cranston v. Union Trust Co., 75 Mo. 29. Mo. Rev. St. (1887) c. 102, art. 4, giving a lien for labor and material expended in constructing a railroad on "the roadbed, station houses, depots, bridges, rolling stock, real estate and improvements of such railroad," covers the company's railroad within the state whatever the stage of its construction, length of its route, or number of counties through which it is located and includes its right of way. Bethune v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co., 149 Mo. 587, 51 S. W. 465.

United States.— Central Trust Co. v. Wabash, etc., R. Co., 30 Fed. 332.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 491.

Compare Adams v. Grand Island, etc., R. Co., 12 S. D. 424, 81 N. W. 960, 10 S. D. 239, 72 N. W. 577.

That some of the lines of a railroad's system have been paying and others not does not justify a casting of the entire burden of such lien upon the latter. Central Trust Co. v. Wabash, etc., R. Co., 30 Fed. 332.

Under the mechanics' lien law of Oregon a subcontractor who performs work in building an extension of a railroad may claim and enforce a lien therefor upon such extension only, and the fact that he does not include in his claim the entire road of the company does not violate any public policy of the state, or give the company any ground to object to his claim. Ban v. Columbia Southern R. Co., 117 Fed. 21, 54 C. C. A. 407 [reversing 109 Fed. 499].

25. Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Candler, 87 Ga. 241, 13 S. E. 560; Graham v. Mt. Sterling Coalwood Co., 14 Bush (Ky.) 425, 29 Am. Rep. 412; Cranston v. Union Trust Co., 75 Mo. 29 (not against so much of the road only as is benefited by the labor); Knapp v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 74 Mo. 374 [affirming 6 Mo. App. 205]. Compare Waters-Pierce Oil Co. v. U. S., etc., Trust Co., 44 Tex. Civ. App. 397, 99 S. W. 212 (holding that under Const. art. 16, § 37, and Sayles Rev. Civ. St. art. 3294, the lien attaches only on the particular building or article made or repaired with the material furnished); Central Trust Co. v. Georgia Pac. R. Co., 83 Fed. 386 (holding that if railroad contractors have a lien under the Mississippi statute superior to an earlier mortgage such superiority is limited to the embankments and structures actually made by them as distinguished from the land and right of way).

26. Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Candler, 87 Ga. 241, 13 S. E. 560.

27. Nielson v. Iowa Eastern R. Co., 51 Iowa 184, 1 N. W. 434, 33 Am. Rep. 124, 51 Iowa 714, 3 N. W. 779.

28. Nielson v. Iowa Eastern R. Co., 51 Iowa 184, 1 N. W. 434, 33 Am. Rep. 124, 51 Iowa 714, 3 N. W. 779.

29. Nielson v. Iowa Eastern R. Co., 51 Iowa 184, 1 N. W. 434, 33 Am. Rep. 124, 51 Iowa 714, 3 N. W. 779.

30. Breed v. Nagle, 46 Ga. 112, holding that the lien given by the act of 1869 to laborers or mechanics for labor and material furnished in the construction of a railroad extends only to the interest in the road of the company by which the laborer or mechanic is employed; and if that company is a lessee of the railroad the lien extends only to his interest as such.

31. Brown v. Buck, 54 Ark. 453, 16 S. W. 195, holding that under the act of March 19, 1887, any one who furnishes materials to build any railroad is entitled to a lien upon the road-bed, equipment, or appurtenances of the road, irrespective of whether it is owned by an incorporated company, a firm, or individuals in common.

Under Va. Code, § 2485, one who furnishes supplies necessary to the operation of a railway has "a prior lien on the franchise, gross earnings, and on all the real and personal property" of the road, upon condition that the claim be recorded as required by section 2486. Newgass v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 56 Fed. 676.

32. See Nielson v. Iowa Eastern R. Co., 51 Iowa 714, 3 N. W. 779.

other movables belonging to the company,[33] nor does it attach to the franchise of the company.[34]

(VII) AMOUNT, COMMENCEMENT, AND DURATION OF LIEN. The commencement and duration of such lien is regulated by the statute.[35] Ordinarily the lien originates as an incipient or inchoate lien with the beginning of the work,[36] or with the delivery of the materials,[37] and continues as such until perfected, in the manner prescribed, such as by the filing of notice,[38] or until it is lost by a failure to comply with such requirements within the prescribed time.[39] The amount of such lien in favor of a person other than the principal contractor under some statutes is measured by the reasonable value of the labor and materials furnished regardless of the price agreed upon between the claimant and the contractor,[40] and payment to the contractor, after the lien claimant has perfected his lien by filing notice or otherwise, will not defeat his rights.[41] Under other statutes, however, the lien of a subcontractor is limited to the price agreed upon to be paid by the company to the original contractor,[42] and shall not in any case

33. Nielson v. Iowa Eastern R. Co., 51 Iowa 184, 1 N. W. 434, 33 Am. Rep. 124; New England Car Spring Co. v. Baltimore, etc., R. Co., 11 Md. 81, 69 Am. Dec. 181; Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Allen, 1 Tex. App. Civ. Cas. § 568.

34. Nielson v. Iowa Eastern R. Co., 51 Iowa 714, 3 N. W. 779; Bethune v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co., 149 Mo. 537, 51 S. W. 465.

35. Brown v. Buck, 54 Ark. 453, 16 S. W. 195, holding that the lien under the act of March 19, 1887, continues against the owners of a railroad for the space of one year after it accrues whether the ownership is acquired before or after the lien attached. And see the statutes of the several states.

In Illinois, under Hurd Rev. St. (1899) c. 82, § 14, relating to railroad liens and providing that the lien created shall continue for three months from the time of the performance of the subcontract, or doing of the work, or furnishing the material, except when suit shall be commenced by petition, where, in a suit by a subcontractor having a lien to enforce payment upon material furnished the contractor, it appears that the material was furnished in January, 1900, and the contractors who were necessary parties were not made parties until December 19, the right to the lien is lost, as a suit as to parties brought in by amendment is begun only from the time of the amendment. Atlantic Dynamite Co. v. Baltimore, etc., R. Co., 101 Ill. App. 13.

36. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Kerr, 153 Ill. 182, 38 N. E. 638; Delaware R. Constr. Co. v. Davenport, etc., R. Co., 46 Iowa 406; Central Trust Co. v. Richmond, etc., R. Co., 68 Fed. 90, 15 C. C. A. 273, 41 L. R. A. 458.

37. See supra, VIII, A, 6, i, (v).

38. Central Trust Co. v. Richmond, etc., R. Co., 68 Fed. 90, 15 C. C. A. 273, 41 L. R. A. 458, construing Barbour & C. St. Ky. §§ 2492-2495. And see infra, VIII, A, 6, i, (XI).

The lien of a subcontractor of railroad work attaches, under the statute, when the work is commenced, and continues until it is finished, but the same remains inchoate until the notice required by the statute is given. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Kerr, 153 Ill. 182, 38 N. E. 638.

39. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Kerr, 153 Ill. 182, 38 N. E. 638 (holding that the provision in Rev. St. § 57, c. 82, that no subcontractor's lien "shall attach" until notice shall have been served as required in that section, means that the inchoate lien will cease, and not become a fixed lien, if the notice is not given); Central Trust Co. v. Richmond, etc., R. Co., 68 Fed. 90, 15 C. C. A. 273, 41 L. R. A. 458.

40. Morris v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 123 Ind. 489, 24 N. E. 335; Chapman v. Elgin, etc., R. Co., 11 Ind. App. 632, 39 N. E. 289.

41. Indiana, etc., R. Co. v. Larrew, 130 Ind. 368, 30 N. E. 517; Central Trust Co. v. Richmond, 68 Fed. 90, 15 C. C. A. 273, 41 L. R. A. 458.

42. Ban v. Columbia Southern R. Co., 109 Fed. 499, construing Oreg. Law (1889), p. 75.

Payments to subcontractors, where their claims exceed the whole price payable to the principal contractor, are primarily applicable to that part of their claims which cannot be secured by their pro rata liens (Central Trust Co. v. Richmond, etc., R. Co., 68 Fed. 90, 15 C. C. A. 273, 41 L. R. A. 458), and in the absence of fraud, the fact that a bargain between a contractor and a subcontractor is a hard one is no reason for applying a different rule (Richmond, etc., Constr. Co. v. Richmond, etc., R. Co., 68 Fed. 105, 15 C. C. A. 289, 34 L. R. A. 625).

In estimating the value of the contract price to be paid to a contractor in stock and bonds for the purpose of limiting the liens of subcontractors, the market value of such bonds and stock should be taken (Central Trust Co. v. Richmond, etc., R. Co., 68 Fed. 90, 15 C. C. A. 273, 41 L. R. A. 458); and a value given to the bonds by the use of the stock in connection with them may be taken into account (Central Trust Co. v. Richmond, etc., R. Co., 68 Fed. 90, 15 C. C. A. 273, 41 L. R. A. 458); and where the railroad company has agreed with the contractor to pay certain interest on such bonds, such interest should be deducted (Central Trust Co. v. Richmond, etc., R. Co., supra).

exceed the amount due from the railroad company to the principal contractor,[43] at the time of the service of notice on the company by the subcontractor,[44] or at the time the bill of items of the labor and material furnished is furnished to the company;[45] and if there is nothing due to the lien claimants' contractor at the time the lien cannot be enforced against the railroad.[46] Where there are several subcontractors entitled to liens, the amount due to the principal contractor should be apportioned among all of them according to the whole amount of their lienable claims, whether actually perfected or not.[47]

(VIII) LOCALITY OF ROAD AND PLACE OF CONTRACT. The right to such lien is not confined to one county where the labor or material is furnished in two or more counties; but it fastens upon the entire and continuous line of the road and may be enforced in any of the counties through which the road runs.[48] Nor under some statutes is it essential to the enforcement of the lien within a particular state that the labor be performed or the materials delivered within that state.[49]

(IX) CONTRACTS SUPPORTING LIEN. A contract such as is required to support a laborer's or mechanic's lien need not be express or in writing, but may be oral or implied.[50] But such a lien, being a creature of the statute, cannot owe its existence to an agreement alone.[51]

43. Sweem v. Atchison, etc., R. Co., 85 Mo. App. 87 (holding that the charge of a subcontractor suing for a lien must not be greater than that of the original contractor, but the railroad company, to secure the protection of the statute, must interpose such matter as a defense, and the subcontractor need not allege or prove that his charge is not greater than that of his principal); Adams v. Grand Island, etc., R. Co., 10 S. D. 239, 72 N. W. 577, 12 S. D. 424, 81 N. W. 960; Ban v. Columbia Southern R. Co., 109 Fed. 499.

44. Coleman v. Oregonian R. Co., 25 Oreg. 286, 35 Pac. 656; Central Trust Co. v. Bridges, 57 Fed. 753, 6 C. C. A. 539.

45. Dudley v. Toledo, etc., R. Co., 65 Mich. 655, 32 N. W. 884.

46. Nash v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 62 Iowa 49, 17 N. W. 106; Roland v. Centerville, etc., R. Co., 61 Iowa 380, 16 N. W. 355; Congdon, etc., Hardware Co. v. Grand Island, etc., R. Co., 14 S. D. 575, 86 N. W. 633 (holding that where plaintiff who furnished supplies to a subcontractor fails to file his statements for a lien within the statutory period, and the contractor fully pays the subcontractor, the statute does not entitle plaintiff to a lien against the railroad, although the company has not paid the contractor); Central Trust Co. v. Bridges, 57 Fed. 753, 6 C. C. A. 539.

47. Central Trust Co. v. Richmond, etc., R. Co., 68 Fed. 90, 15 C. C. A. 273, 41 L. R. A. 458.

48. Midland R. Co. v. Wilcox, 122 Ind. 84, 12 N. E. 506, holding that under the act of July 18, 1885 (Elliott Suppl. §§ 1699–1704), providing that the lien shall be on the railroad within the "county" in which the labor and material is performed and furnished, the legislature did not intend to limit the lien to a single county, and that where the work extends into two or more counties it may be enforced in any one of the counties as to the entire line of unfinished road.

49. Thompson v. St. Paul City R. Co., 45 Minn. 13, 47 N. W. 259 (so construing Gen. St. (1878) c. 90, § 1); Carnegie v. Lancaster, etc., R. Co., 3 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 343, 1 Ohio N. P. 300 (holding that one furnishing material for the construction of a railroad within the state under a contract with the company or the contractor, by the terms of which the material is delivered outside of the state, is entitled to a lien on the road).

Under Mo. St. (Rev. St. (1899) § 4239), however, providing that persons doing work or furnishing ties, etc., for a railroad company shall have a lien on the property of the company, it is held that a person furnishing ties in another state which are used outside of Missouri is not entitled to a lien on the property of the railroad company in the state. Bagnell Timber Co. v. Missouri, etc., R. Co., 180 Mo. 420, 79 S. W. 1130 [overruling St. Louis Bridge, etc., Co. v. Memphis, etc., R. Co., 72 Mo. 664].

Under the Arkansas statute (Kirby Dig. § 666) a materialman is entitled to a lien for so much of the material as is furnished and used in that state. Midland Valley R. Co. v. Moran Bolt, etc., Mfg. Co., 80 Ark. 399, 97 S. W. 679.

50. Nielson v. Iowa Eastern R. Co., 51 Iowa 184, 1 N. W. 434, 33 Am. Rep. 124, holding this to be true under Rev. St. § 1846, giving a mechanic's lien for material furnished "under or by virtue of a contract."

51. Texas, etc., R. Co. v. McCaughey, 62 Tex. 271 (holding that an agreement to which the laborer is not a party made between a railroad company and a contractor that board furnished the laborer by the contractor shall be deducted from his wages and constitute a lien upon the property of the company does not give a contractor a laborer's lien); Gulf, etc., R. Co. v. Winder, 26 Tex. Civ. App. 263, 63 S. W. 1043 (holding that the fact that the railroad company's contract with a construction company for work done in the construction of its roadbed provided that payment therefor was not to be made until the bonds of the railroad company were "sold or hypothecated" does not affect the right of laborers to a lien given by Rev. St. arts. 3312, 3313, where such provision is not contained in the contract between such laborers and the construction company).

(x) Persons Entitled to Liens — (a) In General. The persons entitled to claim a statutory lien for labor done or material furnished depends upon the wording of the particular statute under which the lien is claimed,[52] and unless the claimant is within the class designated by the statutory provision under which he claims a lien, he is not entitled to such lien.[53] Some statutes extend to contractors and subcontractors furnishing work and labor as well as to those actually performing labor.[54] Under other statutory provisions, however, a distinction is clearly marked between those who contract for labor and material and the persons who actually perform labor and actually furnish material;[55] some of the provisions of such statutes extending only to laborers or mechanics who actually do the work or furnish the material,[56] and not to a contractor or subcontractor who merely furnishes labor or materials and does not perform any labor or work personally.[57] Under some statutes no one is entitled to a lien unless his contract is directly with the railroad company,[58] or unless there is some privity between him and the railroad company,[59] even though the labor or supplies furnished inure to the benefit of the company.[60] A mere creditor of one entitled to such a lien has no right to the lien, although money loaned by him may have been used to furnish the materials supplied to the railroad company.[61]

(b) Who Are Contractors. A contractor within the meaning of a statutory provision giving such lien to contractors is one who furnishes labor or materials under a contract directly with the railroad company or through a duly authorized officer or agent.[62]

52. See Van Frank v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 93 Mo. App. 412, 67 S. W. 688.

Under Mo. Rev. St. (1889) § 6741, and Rev. St. (1899) § 4239, providing that "all persons" performing any work or furnishing any material under contract with the railroad company in constructing or improving the road, bridges, etc., of such company, shall have a lien therefor on the railroad property, a civil engineer who surveyed and staked out a railroad and then superintended the building of the road is entitled to a lien for his salary (Van Frank v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 93 Mo. App. 412, 67 S. W. 688), as is also a foreman, for his wages, who directs the work of laborers in improving a railroad (Sweem v. Atchison, etc., R. Co., 85 Mo. App. 87).

53. Tucker v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 59 Ark. 81, 26 S. W. 375; Templin v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 73 Iowa 548, 35 N. W. 634.

The general superintendent of a railroad and a construction company, working on a salary, has no lien for services rendered while the company was constructing the road, he not being a mechanic or a contractor within the lien law. McDonald v. Charleston, etc., R. Co., 93 Tenn. 281, 24 S. W. 252.

54. Couper v. Gaboury, 69 Fed. 7, 16 C. C. A. 112, construing the Florida act of June 3, 1887.

55. Savannah, etc., R. Co. v. Callahan, 49 Ga. 506; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Sturgis, 44 Mich. 538, 7 N. W. 213.

56. Ozark, etc., R. Co. v. Moran Bolt, etc., Co., 75 Ark. 106, 86 S. W. 848; St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Love, 74 Ark. 528, 86 S. W. 395; Little Rock, etc., R. Co. v. Spencer, 65 Ark. 183, 47 S. W. 196, 42 L. R. A. 334; Breed v. Nagle, 46 Ga. 112; Eastern Texas R. Co. v. Davis, 37 Tex. Civ. App. 342, 83 S. W. 883; Gulf, etc., R. Co. v. Winder, 26 Tex. Civ. App. 263, 63 S. W. 1043.

57. Little Rock, etc., R. Co. v. Spencer, 65 Ark. 183, 47 S. W. 196, 42 L. R. A. 334; Eastern Texas R. Co. v. Davis, 37 Tex. Civ. App. 342, 83 S. W. 883, holding that a subcontractor for certain railroad construction work who agreed to distribute certain ties for the contractor, and thereafter did a large part of the work by hired hands, is only entitled to a lien under Rev. St. (1895) arts. 3312, 3313, for ties distributed by the personal use of his own team. See also Bartlett v. Patterson, 9 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 73, 10 Cinc. L. Bul. 367; and infra, VIII, A, 6, i, (x), (c).

58. Arbuckle v. Illinois, etc., R. Co., 81 Ill. 429.

59. Tucker v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 59 Ark. 81, 26 S. W. 375; Howard v. Moore, 20 Fla. 163; Richardson v. Norfolk, etc., R. Co., 37 W. Va. 641, 17 S. E. 195.

60. Tucker v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 59 Ark. 81, 26 S. W. 375.

61. Fowler v. Buffalo, etc., R. Co., Sheld. (N. Y.) 525 (holding that under Laws (1871), c. 872, § 5, and Laws (1870), c. 529, a creditor of a subcontractor cannot acquire a lien on bridges and trestle work erected for a railroad); Mellon v. Morristown, etc., R. Co., (Tenn. Ch. App. 1895) 35 S. W. 464.

62. Templin v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 73

(c) Mechanics and Persons Performing Labor. As to who is a laborer or employee within the meaning of these statutes also depends upon the wording of the particular statute.[63] Ordinarily, however, the term as used in these statutes includes only persons other than officers, managers, or general superintendents,[64] who actually perform manual work and labor,[65] in the construction, repair, or operation of the road,[66] but has been held to include the foreman or superintendent of a gang of laborers engaged in construction or repair work,[67] a civil engineer,[68] or a bookkeeper;[69] but it has been held not to extend to one

Iowa 548, 35 N. W. 634 (holding that where one railroad company sells its road to another before completion and agrees with the president of the latter to complete the same, the seller is a contractor); Hearne v. Chillicothe, etc., R. Co., 53 Mo. 224 (holding that a person furnishing material to a railroad company under a contract with its president is a general contractor within the meaning of the Mechanics' Lien Law); Central Trust Co. v. Bridges, 57 Fed. 753, 6 C. C. A. 539 (holding that under the Tennessee act of March 29, 1883, relating to railroad contractor's liens, the contractor must deal directly with the company in order to secure a lien for work or material).

A contractor with a construction company, which as far as creditors are concerned is in fact the same as the railroad company, is entitled to a lien as an original contractor with the railroad company. Wick v. Ft. Plain, etc., R. Co., 27 N. Y. App. Div. 577, 50 N. Y. Suppl. 479; McDonald v. Charleston, etc., R. Co., 93 Tenn. 281, 24 S. W. 252.

Engineers who are engaged in laying out a railroad under a contractor whose contract provides that the railroad company shall pay for their services are entitled to have liens as contractors against the railroad company. Central Trust Co. v. Condon, 67 Fed. 84, 14 C. C. A. 314.

A contractor whose contract has been set aside at the suit of the railroad company as ultra vires, but who has been allowed compensation for work actually done under the contract, is entitled to a mechanic's lien under the Pennsylvania resolution of Jan. 21, 1843. New Castle, etc., R. Co. v. Simpson, 26 Fed. 133.

Where one railroad company assumes the management of another, all the earnings of both being deposited in a common fund from which all expenses of both are paid, the former is not a supplier of materials or a contractor with the latter so as to be entitled to a lien on the property of the latter for the amount expended by it over and above the amount received from it, as any such excess is only an advance of money. U. S. Trust Co. v. Western Contract Co., 81 Fed. 454, 26 C. C. A. 472.

63. Bladen v. Marietta, etc., R. Co., 97 Tenn. 392, 37 S. W. 135, holding that cooks for a crew building a railroad bridge are entitled to a lien under Tenn. Act (1891), p. 215, c. 98. And see cases cited infra, notes 64–75.

64. Wick v. Ft. Plain, etc., R. Co., 27 N. Y. App. Div. 577, 50 N. Y. Suppl. 479; McDonald v. Charleston, etc., R. Co., 93 Tenn. 281, 24 S. W. 252.

65. Mornan v. Carroll, 35 Iowa 22 (holding that under Revision (1860), § 1869, a day laborer employed upon the construction of a railroad can establish a mechanic's lien for his wages); Balch v. New York, etc., R. Co., 46 N. Y. 521; Wick v. Ft. Plain, etc., R. Co., 27 N. Y. App. Div. 577, 50 N. Y. Suppl. 479; Gilchrist v. Helena Hot Springs, etc., R. Co., 58 Fed. 708 (holding that persons who occupy the position of managing agent and superintendent of trains, but who also on occasion run trains, clean cars, repair tracks, or act as "general utility" men must be considered as performing work and labor within Mont. Comp. St. c. 25, § 707).

66. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Mathews, 75 Tex. 92, 12 S. W. 976.

Under a Texas statute (Sayles Civ. St. art. 3179*a*) the word "laborer" means one who performs manual services in the construction, repair, or operation contemplated by the statute, and does not embrace one who may work in preparing ties or other materials to be used in the construction of the road. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Mathews, 75 Tex. 92, 12 S. W. 976; St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Lyle, 6 Tex. Civ. App. 753, 26 S. W. 264. Sayles Annot. Civ. St. (1897) art. 3312, giving a prior lien to laborers, etc., performing labor or working with teams or otherwise in the operation or repair of a railroad, includes persons who clear weeds, grass, and bushes off a right of way with their own labor, and who take down and put up a right of way fence. Missouri, etc., R. Co. v. Bryan, (Tex. Civ. App. 1908) 107 S. W. 572.

67. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Love, 74 Ark. 528, 86 S. W. 395; Sweem v. Atchison, etc., R. Co., 85 Mo. App. 87; Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Allen, 1 Tex. App. Civ. Cas. § 568.

68. Wick v. Ft. Plain, etc., R. Co., 27 N. Y. App. Div. 577, 50 N. Y. Suppl. 479. But see Pennsylvania, etc., R. Co. v. Leuffer, 84 Pa. St. 168, 24 Am. Rep. 189 [reversing 11 Phila. 548]; Gulf, etc., R. Co. v. Berry, 31 Tex. Civ. App. 408, 72 S. W. 1049, holding that a civil engineer is not entitled to a lien for wages earned by him in the construction of a railroad under Texas Rev. St. art. 3312, being neither a mechanic, laborer, nor operator.

"All persons who perform labor or furnish labor" as used in Ky. Laws (1888), embraces the services of a civil engineer who actually superintended and directed the construction of the work. Central Trust Co. v. Richmond, etc., R. Co., 54 Fed. 723.

69. Wick v. Ft. Plain, etc., R. Co., 27 N. Y.

who merely has charge of the company's office and of the receipts and keeps in a book the time of the workmen as handed to him.[70] Nor does the term "laborer" extend to contractors or subcontractors who supply laborers and teams,[71] even though they personally expend labor with that of the laborers employed by them;[72] but such contractor or subcontractor must rely upon the statute giving a lien in favor of persons furnishing labor or material.[73] A teamster is a laborer so far as his own personal services are concerned,[74] but has been held not to be such as respects the use of his team.[75]

(D) Subcontractors and Persons Dealing With Them. A subcontractor within the meaning of these statutes is one who furnishes labor or material under a contract with the principal contractor;[76] and to acquire a lien he must bring himself within the statute providing for subcontractors,[77] and can have no lien under a statute providing for contractors only.[78] A subcontractor's lien under some statutes is independent of that of the principal contractor or of its waiver or loss.[79] Some statutes, while including subcontractors or persons furnishing labor or material to the principal contractor, do not embrace one who furnishes labor or materials under a contract with a subcontractor.[80] Under other statutes, how-

App. Div. 577, 50 N. Y. Suppl. 479, working for daily or monthly wages. But see Milligan v. San Antonio, etc., R. Co., (Tex. Civ. App. 1898) 46 S. W. 918, holding that under Rev. St. (1895) art. 3312, a bookkeeper and auditor in the employ of a construction company which built a railroad is not a laborer, mechanic, or operative and is therefore not entitled to a lien thereon for the amount due him for his services.

A bookkeeper for a crew building a railroad bridge is entitled to a lien under Tenn. Act (1891), p. 215, c. 98, declaring that every person who performs any part of the work in grading any railroad roadway or aids in the construction of its bridges, etc., or who performs any valuable services, manual or professional, by which any railroad receives a benefit, shall have a lien. Bladen v. Marietta, etc., R. Co., 97 Tenn. 392, 37 S. W. 135.

70. Gilchrist v. Helena Hot Springs, etc., R. Co., 58 Fed. 708.

71. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Sturgis, 44 Mich. 538, 7 N. W. 213; Balch v. New York, etc., R. Co., 46 N. Y. 521; Central, etc., R. Co. v. Henning, 52 Tex. 466; Tyler Tap R. Co. v. Discol. 52 Tex. 13; Tod v. Kentucky Union R. Co., 52 Fed. 241, 3 C. C. A. 60, 18 L. R. A. 305.

A contractor or subcontractor procuring railroad construction work to be done through the labor of others is not within Tex. Rev. St. (1895) arts. 3312, 3313, imposing a lien on railroad property for the protection of laborers and mechanics who may perform labor with teams or tools in its construction or repair. Eastern Texas R. Co. v. Davis, 37 Tex. Civ. App. 342, 83 S. W. 883. Nor do such statutes give a lien to a subcontractor or one who lets teams to a contractor to use on the railroad, in payment of a debt owing the contractor, who continued to use them after the debt was paid. Eastern Texas R. Co. v. Foley, 30 Tex. Civ. App. 129, 69 S. W. 1030. Nor was such a contractor or subcontractor entitled to a lien under Rev. Civ. St. art. 3179*a*. Krakauer v. Locke, 6 Tex. Civ. App. 446, 25 S. W. 700; Parks v. Locke, (Tex. Civ. App. 1894) 25 S. W. 702.

72. Rogers v. Dexter, etc., R. Co., 85 Me. 372, 27 Atl. 257, 21 L. R. A. 528.

73. Tod v. Kentucky Union R. Co., 52 Fed. 41, 3 C. C. A. 60, 18 L. R. A. 305.

74. Mann v. Burt, 35 Kan. 10, 10 Pac. 95.

75. Mann v. Burt, 35 Kan. 10, 10 Pac. 95 (holding that if a price is fixed for the joint labor of the teamster and team the debt is indivisible and the company is not chargeable therefor); Balch v. New York, etc., R. Co., 46 N. Y. 521. But see Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Sturgis, 44 Mich. 538, 7 N. W. 213; Missouri, etc., R. Co. v. Bryan, (Tex. Civ. App. 1908) 107 S. W. 572; Eastern Texas R. Co. v. Davis, 37 Tex. Civ. App. 342, 83 S. W. 883 (under Rev. St. (1895) arts. 3312, 3313); Eastern Texas R. Co. v. Foley, 30 Tex. Civ. App. 129, 69 S. W. 1030.

76. Templin v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 73 Iowa 548, 35 N. W. 634.

A day laborer employed by and a man who furnishes material to a contractor for railroad construction are not subcontractors within the meaning of the lien law. Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Canadian, etc., R. Co., 127 Ind. 250, 26 N. E. 784, 11 L. R. A. 740.

77. Templin v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 73 Iowa 548, 35 N. W. 634.

78. Tucker v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 59 Ark. 81, 26 S. W. 375 (holding that a subcontractor has no lien under Laws (1887), p. 96, giving a lien to contractors and certain others who work and labor in the construction of a railroad); Cartter v. Rome, etc., Constr. Co., 89 Ga. 158, 15 S. E. 36; Richardson v. Norfolk, etc., R. Co., 37 W. Va. 641, 17 S. E. 195.

79. Central Trust Co. v. Richmond, etc., R. Co., 68 Fed. 90, 15 C. C. A. 273, 41 L. R. A. 458.

80. Howard v. Moore, 20 Fla. 163; Cairo, etc., R. Co. v. Watson, 85 Ill. 531; Smith Bridge Co. v. Louisville, etc., Air Line R. Co., 72 Ill. 506; Utter v. Crane, 37 Iowa 631; Central Trust Co. v. Richmond, etc., R. Co., 54 Fed. 723, construing Ky. Laws (1888).

ever, the lien is extended to subcontractors of the second,[81] or even third degree,[82] and to persons doing labor for or furnishing material to either of these.[83]

(E) Assignees or Purchasers of Claims. In some jurisdictions it is held that such a lien is a personal right that is not assignable at law;[84] nor in such jurisdictions can one acquire such lien by paying off the lien claims and taking up the certificates of indebtedness,[85] even though he does so at the request of the railroad company.[86] In other jurisdictions, however, it is held that, in the absence of statute to that effect, the right to such a lien is not a mere personal privilege, but that the lien may be assigned so as to entitle the assignee to enforce it under the statute;[87] and hence that the lien passes with an assignment of the contract or certified evidences of the lien indebtedness,[88] such as laborers' time checks.[89] Under some statutes it is held that where the lien is inchoate, all the statutory requirements not having been complied with, it cannot be assigned so as to entitle 81. Arkansas.— Midland Valley R. Co. v. Moran Bolt, etc., Mfg. Co., 80 Ark. 399, 97 S. W. 679; St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Love, 74 Ark. 528, 86 S. W. 395. See St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Henry, (1905) 86 S. W. 841; St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Rogers, 72 Ark. 270, 79 S. W. 794; Choctaw, etc., R. Co. v. Speer Hardware Co., 71 Ark. 126, 71 S. W. 267, holding that under the act of March 31, 1899, no lien is given for supplies to employees of subcontractors not in privity with the railroad company.

Indiana.— Pere Marquette R. Co. v. Smith, 36 Ind. App. 439, 74 N. E. 545.

Minnesota.— Spafford v. Duluth, etc., R. Co., 48 Minn. 515, 51 N. W. 469, under Mechanic's Lien Law as amended in 1874.

Texas.— Austin, etc., R. Co. v. Daniels, 62 Tex. 70.

Wisconsin.— Mundt v. Sheboygan, etc., R. Co., 31 Wis. 451.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 498.

One who lets his team and teamster to a subcontractor to do work in constructing a railroad is entitled to a lien under Minn. St. (1889) c. 200, § 3. Perry v. Duluth Transfer R. Co., 56 Minn. 306, 57 N. W. 792.

82. Eccleston v. Hetting, 17 Mont. 88, 42 Pac. 105, holding that where parties contracted to furnish ties to a railroad company and afterward sublet the contract to one who contracted with plaintiff to haul and deliver the ties, plaintiff was entitled to a mechanic's lien for his labor.

83. Pere Marquette R. Co. v. Smith, 36 Ind. App. 439, 74 N. E. 545 (holding that Burns Annot. St. (1901) § 7265, giving a lien to one performing labor in construction of a railroad under a contract with a subcontractor of the railroad company, extends to a laborer of one having a subcontract under a subcontractor); Pere Marquette R. Co. v. Baertz, 36 Ind. App. 408, 74 N. E. 51; Austin, etc., R. Co. v. Daniels, 62 Tex. 70.

84. Dano v. Mississippi, etc., R. Co., 27 Ark. 564; Cairo, etc., R. Co. v. Fackney, 78 Ill. 116.

85. Cairo, etc., R. Co. v. Fackney, 78 Ill. 116.

86. Cairo, etc., R. Co. v. Fackney, 78 Ill. 116.

87. Indiana.— Midland R. Co. v. Wilcox, 122 Ind. 84, 23 N. E. 506.

Iowa.— Kent v. Muscatine, etc., R. Co., 115 Iowa 383, 88 N. W. 935.

Michigan.— Dudley v. Toledo, etc., R. Co., 65 Mich. 655, 32 N. W. 884; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Sturgis, 44 Mich. 538, 7 N. W. 213.

Missouri.— Little Rock Trust Co. v. Southern Missouri, etc., R. Co., 195 Mo. 669, 93 S. W. 944, construing Rev. St. (1899) § 4256, permitting such assignment.

Ohio.— Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 10 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 481, 21 Cinc. L. Bul. 275, holding that claims for supplies furnished for the construction of a railroad under Rev. St. § 3398, may be assigned and judgment thereon taken by the assignee.

Texas.— McIlhenny v. Binz, 80 Tex. 1, 13 S. W. 655, 26 Am. St. Rep. 705; Austin, etc., R. Co. v. Daniels, 62 Tex. 70 (holding that the lien passes with an assignment of the accounts); Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Allen, 1 Tex. App. Civ. Cas. § 568. See also Texas, etc., R. Co. v. McCaughey, 62 Tex. 271.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 499.

A subcontractor cannot, on paying the wages of his employees, take an assignment of their liens and enforce them against the road. Krakauer v. Locke, 6 Tex. Civ. App. 446, 25 S. W. 700.

88. Midland R. Co. v. Wilcox, 122 Ind. 84, 23 N. E. 506 (holding that the assignment of estimates for amounts due from contractors certified to by the railroad company for whom the work was done, and of the contract with the company, carries the right of lien for the estimates and for work done before and after the assignment); Austin, etc., R. Co. v. Rucker, 59 Tex. 587.

89. Pere Marquette R. Co. v. Baertz, 36 Ind. App. 408, 74 N. E. 51 (holding that where there is evidence that the checks were indorsed by the laborers to whom issued, and purchased by plaintiff at the suggestion of the maker, it is sufficient to show an assignment of the laborers' claims with their right to a lien); Kent v. Muscatine, etc., R. Co., 115 Iowa 383, 88 N. W. 935; Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Dorman, (Tex. Civ. App. 1901) 62 S. W. 1086; Texas, etc., R. Co. v. McMullen, 1 Tex. App. Civ. Cas. § 160.

the assignee to perfect or create the lien by complying with such requirements;[90] but after the lien has once been perfected it may be assigned so as to entitle the assignee to enforce it.[91]

(XI) NOTICE, REGISTRATION, OR FILING OF LIEN — (A) In General. Although the doing of work and furnishing materials gives an inchoate lien or right to acquire a lien,[92] yet in order to perfect a valid and enforceable lien superior to other liens, it is necessary that the lien claimant should at least substantially comply with all the statutory requirements and take all the steps required by the statute.[93] The statutes providing for such lien usually prescribe that the lien claimant, in order to perfect his lien, shall file or have recorded,[94] in a designated place,[95] at or within a designated time,[96] an instrument in the nature of a

90. Fleming v. Greener, 41 Ind. App. 77, 83 N. E. 354; Frailey v. Winchester, etc., R. Co., 96 Ky. 570, 29 S. W. 446, 16 Ky. L. Rep. 645 (holding that under Gen. St. (1888) appendix, p. 88, if the person who performs the labor or furnishes the labor, material or teams fails to file a sworn statement as required by the statute, one to whom he assigns the claim cannot acquire a lien by making the required statement and affidavit in his stead; and the lien being a statutory right no rule of equity can be invoked to give relief which the statute fails to furnish); O'Connor v. Current River R. Co., 111 Mo. 185, 20 S. W. 16 (holding that a mechanic's lien on a railroad will not lie in favor of an assignee where the claim had been assigned before the account was filed in the office of the circuit court); Brown v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 36 Mo. App. 458; Griswold v. Carthage, etc., R. Co., 18 Mo. App. 52; Norman v. Edington, 115 Tenn. 309, 89 S. W. 744 (holding that under Shannon Code, § 3580, creating a laborer's lien for labor performed in railroad construction and requiring that the laborer shall give written notice thereof to the railroad company within ninety days, no lien can be enforced by assignees of claims for services so rendered where the required notice was not given).

A purchaser of labor tickets cannot acquire a lien therefor under the Kentucky statute providing for a lien on a railroad in favor of one furnishing labor for the construction or improvement thereof. Frailey v. Winchester, etc., R. Co., 96 Ky. 570, 29 S. W. 446, 16 Ky. L. Rep. 645.

91. O'Connor v. Current River R. Co., 111 Mo. 185, 20 S. W. 16; Norman v. Edington, 115 Tenn. 309, 89 S. W. 744.

92. See supra, VIII, A, 6, i, (VII).

93. Greeley, etc., R. Co. v. Harris, 12 Colo. 226, 20 Pac. 764; Cairo, etc., R. Co. v. Cauble, 4 Ill. App. 133; Van Frank v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 89 Mo. App. 573, holding that where a claimant has not attempted to enforce his lien under Rev. St. (1889) § 4239 et seq., he is not entitled to a lien on a different theory against the proceeds of a sale of the property.

Failure of the clerk of the court to forward a copy of the account to the secretary of state as required by Rev. St. § 3203, will not defeat a mechanic's lien against the railroad. St. Louis Bridge, etc., Co. v. Memphis, etc., R. Co., 72 Mo. 664.

94. Barney, etc., Mfg. Co. v. Hart, 1 S. W. 414, 8 Ky. L. Rep. 223; State v. Mexican Gulf R. Co., 5 La. Ann. 333 (holding that one claiming a privilege for materials furnished for the use of a railroad which exceeds five hundred dollars in amount must show that he has recorded the claim under Civ. Code, arts. 32, 39); Meyer v. Egbert, 101 U. S. 728, 25 L. ed. 1078; Brooks v. Burlington, etc., R. Co., 101 U. S. 443, 25 L. ed. 1057 (holding that where a subcontractor has filed his claim in due form against the contractor and the company and within the required time, the validity of his lien is not affected by the fact that he has not also presented to the company a settlement had between himself and the contractor).

That a contractor files his claim in a court of equity which has taken possession of the property by its receivers, and that such claim is allowed as a valid indebtedness of the company does not relieve him from complying with the statutory requirements as to filing and recording the contract or claim in order to entitle him to a mechanic's lien therefor. Houston First Nat. Bank v. Ewing, 103 Fed. 168, 43 C. C. A. 150.

95. Arkansas Cent. R. Co. v. McKay, 30 Ark. 682.

County.— Under some statutes it is held that in order to obtain a lien upon a railroad a laborer or materialman is only required to file notice in the proper office in the county, where he furnished the material or did the work, through which the road runs (Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Canada, etc., R. Co., 127 Ind. 250, 26 N. E. 784, 11 L. R. A. 740), or in each county in which the labor was performed (Richmond, etc., Constr. Co. v. Richmond, etc., R. Co., 68 Fed. 105, 15 C. C. A. 289, 34 L. R. A. 625); and that one notice filed in each of the proper counties will cover the entire line of the road, where it is included in one contract and where the work had been done upon it and materials furnished for it as a continuous line (Midland R. Co. v. Wilcox, 122 Ind. 84, 23 N. E. 506). Under other statutes, however, it is held that a lien upon the property of a railroad company as an entirety can be secured only by filing the claim in the clerk's office in every county through which the road passes. Boston v. Chesapeake, etc., R. Co., 76 Va. 180, construing Code (1873), c. 115, § 3, cl. 11.

96. See infra, VIII, A, 6, i, (XI), (C).

claim, notice, or statement of lien, showing that a lien is claimed and sought to be enforced against the railroad company.[97] Under a statute providing that a failure to file a statement shall not defeat the lien except as against purchasers and encumbrancers,[98] a statement filed limits the amount of the lien only with respect to purchasers and incumbrancers.[99]

(B) Notice of Claim or Lien. In addition to filing or recording the claim or statement, a person, other than the principal contractor, who wishes to acquire a lien is generally required to give notice to the company, or its authorized agent or trustee, in the prescribed time and manner, that he has furnished labor or material for which he has not been paid, and that he intends to claim his lien;[1] and mere knowledge by the company that a certain person is doing work and furnishing materials is not sufficient to entitle such person to a lien without other notice by or on his behalf.[2] It is generally required that the notice shall be in writing, and compliance with the statute in this respect is essential.[3] Except

97. Greeley, etc., R. Co. v. Harris, 12 Colo. 226, 20 Pac. 764; Fleming v. Greener, 41 Ind. App. 77, 83 N. E. 354; Tod v. Kentucky Union R. Co., 52 Fed. 241, 3 C. C. A. 60, 18 L. R. A. 305; Giant Powder Co. v. Oregon Pac. R. Co., 42 Fed. 470, 8 L. R. A. 700.

Under an Iowa statute, Code, § 2091, providing that laborers shall have a lien on any tax voted in aid of a railroad company for the amount due them for labor performed in the construction of the road, no statement of the demand due need be filed, or other act indicative of an intent to claim the lien done, to entitle the laborer to avail himself thereof. Kent v. Muscatine, etc., R. Co., 115 Iowa 383, 88 N. W. 935.

98. Neilson v. Iowa Eastern R. Co., 51 Iowa 184, 1 N. W. 434, 33 Am. Rep. 124.

99. Neilson v. Iowa Eastern R. Co., 51 Iowa 184, 1 N. W. 434, 33 Am. Rep. 124, holding that a statement filed under such statute with the clerk does not, as against persons to whom material is furnished, limit the amount of the lien.

1. Colorado.— Under Lien Act (1881), § 4, providing that every mechanic shall have a lien by serving on the person for whose structure the work has been performed, or upon his agent in charge, or, where there is no agent, by posting in a conspicuous place on the structure a statement, etc., unless a statement is served as required a claimant is not entitled to a decree establishing his lien. Greeley, etc., R. Co. v. Harris, 12 Colo. 226, 20 Pac. 764. The notice required by section 5 of such statute to be filed in the office of the clerk and recorder of the county is in addition to and does not take the place of the statement required by section 4. Greeley, etc., R. Co. v. Harris, supra.

Illinois.— Cairo, etc., R. Co. v. Cauble, 85 Ill. 555.

Indiana.— Indiana, etc., R. Co. v. Larrew, 130 Ind. 368, 30 N. E. 517; Ferguson v. Despo, 8 Ind. App. 523, 34 N. E. 575.

Iowa.— Lounsbury v. Iowa, etc., R. Co., 49 Iowa 255. Compare Johnson v. Des Moines, etc., R. Co., 129 Iowa 281, 105 N. W. 509, holding that where a company was indebted to the contractor for construction in an amount greatly in excess of a subcontractor's claim at the time of institution of suit by the latter to enforce a lien for such claim, it is immaterial to the enforcement of the lien whether the subcontractor served notice of his claim on the railroad company within the prescribed time after the completion of the work.

Missouri.— Morgan v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 76 Mo. 161, under Rev. St. (1879) §§ 3200–3216. Notice of a claim against a railroad company for services or material required by section 787 of such statute is to fix a personal liability on the company and not to establish a lien. Morgan v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., supra. But under Rev. St. (1899) §§ 4241, 1057, twenty days' notice is not necessary to create a lien in favor of laborers employed by a subcontractor to grade the road. Kasper v. St. Louis Terminal R. Co., 101 Mo. App. 323, 74 S. W. 145.

Ohio.— Scioto Valley R. Co. v. McCoy, 42 Ohio St. 251.

Tennessee.—Norman v. Edington, 115 Tenn. 309, 89 S. W. 744, holding that the notice required under Shannon Code, § 3580, is to be given by the persons claiming the lien and cannot be given by an assignee of the claimant.

United States.— Central Trust Co. v. Bridges, 57 Fed. 753, 6 C. C. A. 539, holding that under the Tennessee act of March 29, 1883, a subcontractor must serve notice on the railroad company of the principal contractor's failure to pay him.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 501.

A declaration served upon the railroad company by the claimant, containing a count based upon a lien, is a sufficient notice under Tenn. Act (1883), c. 220. Central Trust Co. v. Condon, 67 Fed. 84, 14 C. C. A. 314.

2. Lounsbury v. Iowa, etc., R. Co., 49 Iowa 255.

Notice of plaintiff's claim given to the company at a time when something was due from it to its contractor does not render the service of the statement required by statute unnecessary. Greeley, etc., R. Co. v. Harris, 12 Colo. 226, 20 Pac. 764.

3. Pou v. Covington, etc., R. Co., 84 Ga. 311, 10 S. E. 744; Lounsbury v. Iowa, etc., R. Co., 49 Iowa 255; Scioto Valley R. Co. v. McCoy, 42 Ohio St. 251; Norman v. Edington, 115 Tenn. 309, 89 S. W. 744.

where the statute prescribes a certain manner in which service of the notice shall be made,[4] personal service of the notice is required,[5] and personal service on a domestic company in such case may be made, where service cannot be had on its chief officer or managing agent, by service on any officer whose official relation to the governing body or managing agent or chief officer is such as would make it his duty to communicate such notice to such body, agent, or officer; [6] but service on a station agent,[7] or on a person who has desk room in the office of the company but who has no connection with its officers,[8] is insufficient.

(c) Time For Filing Lien or Giving Notice. It is also essential to the existence of such a lien that the claim or statement shall be filed within the time limited by statute,[9] and that the required notice be served upon the company within the prescribed time.[10] The statutes usually provide that the claim or statement

4. Rapauno Chemical Co. v. Greenfield, etc., R. Co., 59 Mo. App. 6 (holding that under Rev. St. (1889) § 2565, service upon the general manager of the company is insufficient unless it appears that he had the immediate supervision of the section of the road on which the materials were used); Scioto Valley R. Co. v. McCoy, 42 Ohio St. 251 (holding that under 51 Ohio Laws, p. 51, providing that notice shall be served upon the secretary or other officer or agent of said railroad company, service on a director is sufficient).

Filing notice with the circuit clerk is not sufficient unless the president and secretary of the company do not reside and cannot be found in the county. Cairo, etc., R. Co. v. Cauble, 85 Ill. 555.

Under Colo. Sess. Laws (1889), p. 249, § 3, requiring the claimant to serve a statement on the owner of the property, his agent or trustee, service by delivery to the clerk of the superintendent of the owner is insufficient in the absence of evidence that the statement was delivered by him to the superintendent. Union Pac. R. Co. v. Davidson, 21 Colo. 93, 39 Pac. 1095.

5. Pou v. Covington, etc., R. Co., 84 Ga. 311, 10 S. E. 744; Williams v. Dittenhoefer, 188 Mo. 134, 86 S. W. 242; Dalton v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 113 Mo. App. 71, 87 S. W. 610.

6. Williams v. Dittenhoefer, 188 Mo. 134, 86 S. W. 242; Heltzell v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 77 Mo. 315, holding that the secretary of the corporation is such an officer upon whom the notice may be served.

7. Williams v. Dittenhoefer, 188 Mo. 134, 86 S. W. 242; Dalton v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 113 Mo. App. 71, 87 S. W. 610.

An indorsement on a copy of a lien statement admitting that it was served on a certain person, described as station agent for defendant railroad company, is insufficient to show that it was left at the business office of defendant corporation with the agent in charge. Williams v. Dittenhoefer, 188 Mo. 134, 86 S. W. 242.

Station agents of a foreign railroad corporation are so far its representatives as to receive notice of a claim for services to enforce a lien under Mo. Rev. St. (1879) §§ 3200–3216. Morgan v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 76 Mo. 161.

8. Heltzel v. Kansas City, etc., R. Co., 77 Mo. 482.

9. Arkansas Cent. R. Co. v. McKay, 30 Ark. 682; Bear v. Burlington, etc., R. Co., 48 Iowa 619; Tod v. Kentucky Union R. Co., 52 Fed. 241.

Under a Kentucky statute each contractor or subcontractor should file his lien within sixty days after the end of the month in which he completes his own work, and not from the end of that in which the work of the last contractor or subcontractor engaged is completed. Central Trust Co. v. Richmond, etc., R. Co., 54 Fed. 723, 68 Fed. 90, 15 C. C. A. 273, 41 L. R. A. 458.

Under an Iowa statute (Act 16 Gen. Assembly, c. 100, § 7) a subcontractor shall have sixty days from the last day of the month in which his work was done, within which to file his claim. Sandval v. Ford, 55 Iowa 461, 8 N. W. 324, holding that the word "done" in this statute means "performed" and does not mean "completed"; so that for the work performed in each calendar month the claim of lien must be filed within sixty days from the end of the month.

Sale of road.— Where a lien for materials furnished is not filed within the statutory time and the road is sold on foreclosure to the bondholders, notice of such lien will not be imputed to the bondholders from the mere fact of an entry in the books of the old company concerning the claim due plaintiff. Bear v. Burlington, etc., R. Co., 48 Iowa 619. But where during the progress of contract work for a railroad company it sells out to another company and the latter assumes to pay its grantor's debts, it is not necessary for the contractors to file their lien within the prescribed time of the date of the sale, in order to preserve their lien against the second named company, since the contract will support a lien against the former company, and all who take the property with notice of the obligation. Williams v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 112 Mo. 463, 20 S. W. 631, 34 Am. St. Rep. 403.

10. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Moran, 187 Ill. 316, 58 N. E. 335 [affirming 85 Ill. App. 543 (construing Rev. St. c. 82, § 3)]; Sandval v. Ford, 55 Iowa 461, 8 N. W. 324 (construing Act 16 Gen. Assembly, c. 100, § 7). See also Delaware R. Constr. Co. v. Davenport, etc., R. Co., 46 Iowa 406.

shall be filed within a designated period from the time the claim falls due,[11] in which case the period runs from the time the last instalment falls due; [12] or within a designated period after the claimant has completed the work or furnished the materials for which the lien is claimed,[13] in which case the period runs from the date on which the last item is done or furnished,[14] under each separate contract.[15]

Filing by a laborer with the clerk of the district court of his written settlement with the subcontractor within the thirty days allowed by Laws (1875), c. 49, is a sufficient giving of notice of the settlement to the owner and the contractor as required by the statute. Bundy v. Keokuk, etc., R. Co., 49 Iowa 207.

11. Newgass v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 56 Fed. 676, construing Va. Code, § 2486.

12. Newgass v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 56 Fed. 676.

Under a Missouri statute a materialman has been held entitled to a lien for the whole amount due him for materials furnished for a railroad under an open and current account, if the last item of the account accrued subsequently to the time in which a lien could be filed. Central Trust Co. v. Texas, etc., R. Co., 23 Fed. 673.

13. California.— Cox v. Western Pac. R. Co., 44 Cal. 18.

Iowa.— Bear v. Burlington, etc., R. Co., 48 Iowa 619.

South Dakota.— Congdon v. Grand Island, etc., R. Co., 14 S. D. 575, 86 N. W. 633.

Washington.— Seattle v. Ah Kow, 2 Wash. Terr. 36, 3 Pac. 188, holding that under Laws (1877), sixty days from the completion of the work, or from cessation of labor thereon, is allowed to the original contractor only, and every person save him has but thirty days.

United States.— Central Trust Co. v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 54 Fed. 598, construing Mo. Rev. St. § 6743.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 502.

14. Atlantic Dynamite Co. v. Baltimore, etc., R. Co., 101 Ill. App. 13; Carnegie v. Lancaster, etc., R. Co., 3 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 343, 1 Ohio N. P. 300; Hercules Powder Co. v. Knoxville, etc., R. Co., 113 Tenn. 382, 83 S. W. 354, 106 Am. St. Rep. 836, 67 L. R. A. 487; Cleveland, etc., R. Co. v. Knickerbocker Trust Co., 86 Fed. 73; Central Trust Co. v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 54 Fed. 598.

Where the work is delayed from time to time by mutual agreement between the railroad company and the subcontractor, and ultimately it is agreed that the railroad company shall furnish the labor and put up the material already procured by the subcontractor, and the subcontractor is not released from liability to furnish material until the work is actually completed, notice of a lien filed within the statutory period after the actual completion of the work by the company is in time, although it is not filed until more than the statutory period after the agreement was made, and although the subcontractor did no work and furnished no more material after that date. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Moran, 187 Ill. 316, 58 N. E. 335 [affirming 85 Ill. App. 543].

Where a contract to furnish engines provides for placing them in position and for a thirty days' test, the limitation within which a lien may be perfected does not begin to run until they are placed in position, adjusted, and put in operation. Frick Co. v. Norfolk, etc., R. Co., 86 Fed. 725, 32 C. C. A. 31.

15. Lyon v. New York, etc., R. Co., 127 Mass. 101; Frick Co. v. Norfolk, etc., R. Co., 86 Fed. 725, 32 C. C. A. 31, holding that where materials and labor are furnished a railroad company as they are from time to time ordered, and not in fulfilment of a single contract, the limitation within which a lien therefor may be perfected begins to run on each item at the time it is furnished.

Where separate orders for entirely different kinds of material are given about a month apart for railroad supplies, such orders are separate contracts, and in order to obtain a lien, separate claims must be filed from the date of the last item furnished under each order. Central Trust Co. v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 54 Fed. 598.

Where materials are ordered in car-load lots, each order being separate and each invoice payable on shipment or at any particular time thereafter, a lien cannot exist for materials furnished more than ninety days prior to filing an account, notwithstanding a part was furnished within such time. Heltzell v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 77 Mo. 315.

Entire contract.— But where materials are furnished or delivered pursuant to a contract to furnish the same as needed by the company, the several deliveries are so connected as an entirety that a notice of lien within the statutory period from the date of the last delivery secures a lien for all the deliveries, although some are made more than such period before the notice of the lien. Hercules Powder Co. v. Knoxville, etc., R. Co., 113 Tenn. 382, 83 S. W. 354, 106 Am. St. Rep. 836, 67 L. R. A. 487. Thus a contract for the sale of a certain amount of iron to be delivered in specified quantities at fixed times is an entire contract, so that the time for perfecting a valid lien for all of it is to be determined by the date of delivery of the last shipment, and an agreement to extend the time of payment of the first shipment in giving additional security does not make the contract severable. Carnegie v. Lancaster, etc., R. Co., 3 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 343, 1 Ohio N. P. 300. So the fact that the last shipment of materials was not delivered because of notice that the purchaser was insolvent and had abandoned the work does not affect the seller's right of lien for

Where such period has commenced to run by reason of the completion of the work or furnishing of the materials, the claimant cannot thereafter extend or revive the time by doing or furnishing small items and thereby fix a date upon which the period must commence anew,[16] especially where the doing or furnishing of such items is merely colorable, and the real intention is to save or restore a right which is already imperiled or lost.[17] Where, however, even after the contract is substantially completed the claimant does further work or furnishes further materials which is necessary for the proper performance of the contract, and this is done in good faith, the period for filing the lien will run from the period of doing such work or the furnishing of such material.[18] So the running of the period is suspended by a decree of court for an account.[19]

(D) Sufficiency of Statement of Claim. A notice, claim, or statement must substantially comply with all the requirements of the statute,[20] and all matters which the statute requires to be stated must be substantially set forth.[21] Thus prior materials furnished, although furnished more than the statutory period prior to the notice of lien. Hercules Powder Co. v. Knoxville, etc., R. Co., supra.

16. Westinghouse Air Brake Co. v. Kansas City Southern R. Co., 137 Fed. 26, 71 C. C. A. 1 [reversing 129 Fed. 455]; Central Trust Co. v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 54 Fed. 598.

17. Central Trust Co. v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 54 Fed. 598.

18. Gordon v. San Francisco, etc., R. Co., 86 Cal. 620, 25 Pac. 125, holding that in determining whether a mechanic's lien against a railroad company was filed within the statutory period from the completion of the work, it is proper to count as part of the work the time spent in doing work which, although not contemplated by the contract, was such that the contractor's obligations to the company would not terminate until it was completed.

19. Newgass v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 56 Fed. 676, holding that where a creditor's bill is filed against a railroad company and the court refers the case to a commission to determine the claims and their priorities, this suspends the running of the six months upon which the claim for lien for supplies is required to be filed by Va. Code, § 2486.

20. Colorado.— Greeley, etc., R. Co. v. Harris, 12 Colo. 226, 20 Pac. 764.

Missouri.— Peters v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 24 Mo. 586, holding that notices by railroad laborers of an intention to claim their liens "to the Iron Mountain railroad and to the officers, agents and servants thereof," stating amount, number of days of labor, time performed, and the contractor from whom due are sufficient.

New York.— Mahley v. German Bank, 52 N. Y. App. Div. 131, 64 N. Y. Suppl. 1080, notice of lien held sufficient under Laws (1897), c. 418, § 9.

Ohio.— Rousculp v. Ohio Southern R. Co., 19 Ohio Cir. Ct. 436, 10 Ohio Cir. Dec. 621, holding that under Rev. St. § 3208, a contractor who accepted a promissory note of the company as evidence of his claim for labor and material furnished and made no reference to such note in his lien, did not thereby waive his right to a lien as it was not necessary to refer to or describe the note in such lien.

Pennsylvania.— Este v. Pennsylvania R. Co., 13 Pa. Dist. 451.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 503.

The notice need not be accompanied with a copy of the contract between the original contractor and the railroad company since the contract mentioned in the statute refers to the one between the subcontractor and his principal. Cairo, etc., R. Co. v. Cauble, 4 Ill. App. 133.

Where improper words used in a notice can be stricken out as surplusage and leave the notice complete, the notice will be sufficient. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Kerr, 153 Ill. 182, 38 N. E. 638, holding that where a notice of a subcontractor's lien was addressed to the president of the "St. Louis, and Peoria R. Co.," but claimed a lien for work done "for the said Chicago and Peoria R. Co.," while the copy of the contract attached to the notice clearly showed that the work was done on the "St. Louis and Peoria R. Co.," the notice was sufficient and the words "Chicago and Peoria R. Co." surplusage.

Under Ky. Laws (1888), providing that persons who furnish labor or materials in the construction of railroads must file a verified statement of the amount claimed in the clerk's office within sixty days after the last day of the last month in which any labor was performed and materials or teams furnished, the statute is sufficiently complied with in the case of laborers hired by the month, who while working filed a statement and claim for the previous month for which they had not been paid and after they ceased working filed another statement for such labor performed after and not included in the first statement. Central Trust Co. v. Richmond, etc., R. Co., 54 Fed. 723.

21. Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Orman, 3 N. M. 365, 9 Pac. 595, holding that no lien can be allowed for labor and materials not embraced in the claim and notice of lien.

A requirement that the statement must set forth the amount due, for which the lien is claimed, does not necessitate a detailed statement of the claim. Central Trust Co. v. Richmond, etc., R. Co., 54 Fed. 723.

it is provided under some statutes that the notice or claim shall state the name of the person or company by whom the claimant was employed and to whom he furnished the materials,[22] designating, if there are several persons, what portion was furnished to each severally,[23] except where there is but one contract;[24] and shall state the company's interest or ownership in the land over which the road is constructed;[25] shall correctly describe the property to be charged;[26] and shall clearly and definitely set forth the nature and amount of the labor and materials for which the lien is claimed,[27] the agreed price or value,[28] the whole contract price for the material or labor,[29] and the dates when the work was done or materials furnished.[30] Where the work is done or the materials furnished under separate contracts, there should be separate accounts or claims filed under each contract.[31] Defects in such notice, however, may be waived by the company, as where it makes no objection thereto in the trial court.[32]

(E) Successive or Amended Statements or Liens. Under some statutes it is held that the filing of one claim or account, sufficient to create a lien under the statute, exhausts the contractor's power to encumber the property, and that successive liens for the same labor and materials cannot be filed, even within the statutory period;[33] and that the prescribed time within which the lien may be enforced after filing cannot be extended by the filing of an amendment or a new lien.[34] But even under such statutes, if the first lien filed is defective another lien may be filed within the prescribed period.[35]

j. Traffic Balance Liens. In at least one jurisdiction a statutory lien exists in favor of one railroad company on the property of a connecting railroad com-

22. Bringham v. Knox, 127 Cal. 40, 59 Pac. 198 (claim held sufficient under Cal. Code Civ. Proc. § 1183); Gordan Hardware Co. v. San Francisco, etc., R. Co., (Cal. 1889) 22 Pac. 406, (1890) 23 Pac. 1025.

23. Gordan Hardware Co. v. San Francisco, etc., R. Co., (Cal. 1889) 22 Pac. 406, (1890) 23 Pac. 1025.

24. Harmon v. San Francisco, etc., R. Co., 86 Cal. 617, 25 Pac. 124, (1890) 23 Pac. 1024, holding that under Cal. Code Civ. Proc. § 1187, requiring the lienor's claim to state the name of the person to whom he furnished the materials, one who furnishes materials to a railroad contractor and afterward to his assignee need not state what portion he furnished to each since there is but one contract and the company has to settle only with the assignee.

25. Vincent v. Snoqualmie Mill Co., 7 Wash. 566, 35 Pac. 396.

26. Adams v. Grand Island, etc., R. Co., 12 S. D. 424, 81 S. W. 960, 10 S. D. 239, 72 N. W. 577 (construing Comp. Laws, § 5470); Giant Powder Co. v. Oregon Pac. R. Co., 42 Fed. 470, 8 L. R. A. 700 (holding that a person entitled to a lien may in his notice of lien confine his claim to that portion or section of the road in the construction of which his material was used).

27. Gordan Hardware Co. v. San Francisco, etc., R. Co., (Cal. 1889) 22 Pac. 406, holding that a description of the materials furnished as "nails, spikes, iron, steel, picks, shovels and other like material" is too indefinite and uncertain to sustain a lien.

If lienable and non-lienable accounts are blended so that they cannot be separated, it will cause the whole claim to be rejected. Sweem v. Atchison, etc., R. Co., 85 Mo. App. 87. But a mere trivial matter not embraced in the account will not have the effect to destroy the lien. Sweem v. Atchison, etc., R. Co., 85 Mo. App. 87.

An item for work done after the lien account had been sworn to and filed should be excluded from the lien account. Lyons v. Carter, 84 Mo. App. 483; Mahley v. German Bank, 52 N. Y. App. Div. 131, 64 N. Y. Suppl. 1080.

28. Mahley v. German Bank, 52 N. Y. App. Div. 131, 64 N. Y. Suppl. 1080.

29. Mahley v. German Bank, 52 N. Y. App. Div. 131, 64 N. Y. Suppl. 1080.

30. Koken Iron Works v. Robertson Ave. R. Co., 141 Mo. 228, 44 S. W. 269; Mahley v. German Bank, 52 N. Y. App. Div. 131, 64 N. Y. Suppl. 1080.

31. O'Connor v. Current River R. Co., 111 Mo. 185, 20 S. W. 16 (holding that charges for work done under two distinct contracts cannot be blended together in one mechanic's lien); Central Trust Co. v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 54 Fed. 598.

32. Luttrell v. Knoxville, etc., R. Co., (Tenn. 1907) 105 S. W. 565.

33. Cox v. Western Pac. R. Co., 44 Cal. 18 (holding that the lien laws of California do not enable a railroad contractor to file successive liens for successive portions of work done under an entire contract, nor to file separate liens upon distinct portions of the road as they are successively completed, but that only one lien can be acquired, and it must apply to the whole road); Battle v. McArthur, 49 Fed. 715 (construing Mo. Rev. St. (1879) §§ 3202, 3205].

34. Battle v. McArthur, 49 Fed. 715.

35. Williams v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 112 Mo. 463, 20 S. W. 631, 34 Am. St. Rep. 403.

pany for a balance due from the latter under a traffic agreement for the interchange of business.[36]

7. Mortgages and Trust Deeds[37] — a. Power to Mortgage — (i) In General. Although it is held in some jurisdictions that a railroad company, like private corporations generally, has the power to mortgage its property, real and personal, unless restrained by its charter or statutes,[38] by the weight of authority, such a company, since it is a quasi-public corporation and as such is charged with public duties, has no power to mortgage its property and franchises,[39] unless such power is granted to it by the legislature either in express words,[40] or by reasonable and necessary implication therefrom,[41] as from its authority to borrow

36. International, etc., R. Co. v. Coolidge, 26 Tex. Civ. App. 595, 62 S. W. 1097, holding that Rev. St. art. 4538, providing that every railway interchanging business with another connecting railway is a trustee for such connecting railway, and that money due shall be a lien on the property of the connecting railway to the extent of balances due each quarter, which lien shall be superior to all other liens save laborers' liens, was not intended to restrict the lien of a connecting railway for a balance due to the same species of property covered by a laborer's lien, but that such lien extended to all assets of the road including lands given to the road as a bonus but not used in the business of the road.

37. Corporate mortgages generally see Corporations, 10 Cyc. 1182 et seq.

Who may execute corporate mortgages generally see Corporations, 10 Cyc. 1198 et seq.

Ratification by corporations generally see Corporations, 10 Cyc. 1069 et seq., 1202.

38. Savannah, etc., R. Co. v. Lancaster, 62 Ala. 555; Kelly v. Alabama, etc., R. Co., 58 Ala. 489; Mobile, etc., R. Co. v. Talman, 15 Ala. 472; Allen v. Montgomery R. Co., 11 Ala. 437; Miller v. Rutland, etc., R. Co., 36 Vt. 452, holding that a railroad company has power to mortgage its road and the franchise in the road to procure rails for the construction of the road. See also Kennebec, etc., R. Co. v. Portland, etc., R. Co., 59 Me. 9 [citing Shepley v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 55 Me. 395, 407, where the court said: "The doctrine that all railroad mortgages made without the consent of the Legislature are illegal and void, because they may operate as a permanent transfer of the corporate powers from the original corporators to another body, seems to us to have little to commend it but much to condemn it"].

39. State v. Mexican Gulf R. Co., 3 Rob. (La.) 513; Atkinson v. Marietta, etc., R. Co., 15 Ohio St. 21. And see cases cited infra, notes 40–44.

40. California.— Bishop v. McKillican, 124 Cal. 321, 57 Pac. 76, 71 Am. St. Rep. 68.

Florida.— State v. Florida Cent. R. Co., 15 Fla. 690, holding that under the legislation of Florida, the Florida Central Railroad Company had power to execute a bond which was to be a mortgage by virtue of the statute and without the execution of an additional mortgage to secure it; and to such bond when executed attached the lien, power, and duty of the state as trustee under the statute.

Georgia.— Georgia, etc., R. Co. v. Barton, 101 Ga. 466, 28 S. E. 482, construing Code (1882), § 1689*i*.

Illinois.— Palmer v. Forbes, 23 Ill. 301.

Louisiana.— State v. Morgan, 28 La. Ann. 482 (holding that prior to the act of 1856, authorizing railroad companies to mortgage their property and franchises, the railroad companies in this state had no authority to execute such a mortgage); State v. Mexican Gulf R. Co., 3 Rob. 513.

New Jersey.— Baker v. Guaranty Trust, etc., Co., (Ch. 1895) 31 Atl. 174.

New York.— Platt v. New York, etc., R. Co., 9 N. Y. App. Div. 87, 41 N. Y. Suppl. 42 [affirming 17 Misc. 22, 39 N. Y. Suppl. 871, and affirmed in 153 N. Y. 670, 48 N. E. 1106], construing Laws (1850), c. 140, § 10, and Laws (1892), c. 676, § 4, subd. 10.

Pennsylvania.— Gloninger v. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co., 139 Pa. St. 13, 21 Atl. 211 (holding that, where such power is expressly given by its charter, it is not necessary to the exercise of the power that it be expressly authorized to issue bonds thereafter, as that is a necessary incident of the power to mortgage); Rothschild v. Rochester, etc., R. Co., 1 Pa. Co. Ct. 620.

Tennessee.— Frazier v. East Tennessee, etc., R. Co., 88 Tenn. 138, 12 S. W. 537.

Texas.— Galveston, etc., R. Co. v. Fontaine, 23 Tex. Civ. App. 519, 57 S. W. 872.

United States.— Compton v. Jesup, 68 Fed. 263, 15 C. C. A. 397.

England.— Hart v. Eastern Union R. Co., 7 Exch. 246, 6 R. & Can. Cas. 818.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 505.

Legislative authority to mortgage includes power to make a deed trust in the nature of a mortgage. Pullan v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 20 Fed. Cas. No. 11,461, 4 Biss. 35.

41. State v. Florida Cent. R. Co., 15 Fla. 690; Bardstown, etc., R. Co. v. Metcalfe, 4 Metc. (Ky.) 199, 81 Am. Dec. 541; East Boston Freight R. Co. v. Eastern R. Co., 13 Allen (Mass.) 422; Coe v. Columbus, etc., R. Co., 10 Ohio St. 372, 75 Am. Dec. 518; Miller v. Rattermann, 10 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 555, 12 Cinc. L. Bul. 99, holding that it is within the power of a railroad company to renew an old mortgage debt by issuing preferred stock and executing a mortgage to a trustee for the holders of such stock to money on its credit,[42] and to execute such securities in amount and kind as it may deem expedient;[43] or from its authority to alienate, sell, or dispose of its property.[44] And according to the weight of authority a mortgage executed without such authority is invalid,[45] except where it is subsequently ratified by an act of the legislature.[46] It has been held, however, that the above rule does not apply to property which is not essential to or of use in the fulfilment of the company's public purposes and not necessary to enable it to perform its public duties; but that such property may be mortgaged without statutory authority.[47]

(II) Limitation of Power in General. Where this power is statutory, the conditions upon and limitations within which it may be exercised are ordinarily regulated by the statute authorizing the mortgage.[48] The statutes usually limit the amount of indebtedness or obligations for which a railroad mortgage may be issued.[49] Where the power to mortgage is a special one, ordinarily it cannot be exercised for any other purpose than that expressed in the statute authorizing the power,[50] but statutory authority to mortgage to secure the payment of debts contracted in constructing and completing the road[51] has been held to include not only the completion of the road as authorized at the time of the passage of the statute, but also the necessary acquisition of rolling-stock and the building or acquisition of such branches as may thereafter be authorized;[52] and the mere secure the fulfilment of the obligations of the company with respect thereto.

42. Electric Lighting Co. v. Rust, 117 Ala. 680, 23 So. 751; Bardstown, etc., R. Co. v. Metcalfe, 4 Metc. (Ky.) 199, 81 Am. Dec. 541; Ludlow v. Hurd, 1 Disn. (Ohio) 552, 12 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 791; Carey v. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co., 2 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 85, 1 West. L. Month. 338; Parker v. New Orleans, etc., R. Co., 33 Fed. 693.

43. Pierce v. Milwaukee, etc., R. Co., 24 Wis. 551, 1 Am. Rep. 203.

44. McAllister v. Plant, 54 Miss. 106; Branch v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 4 Fed. Cas. No. 1,807, 3 Woods 481; Bickford v. Grand Junction R. Co., 1 Can. Sup. Ct. 696 [reversing 23 Grant Ch. (U. C.) 302].

45. See cases cited supra, notes 39–44.

46. See infra, VIII, A, 7, b, (III).

47. Platt v. Union Pac. R. Co., 99 U. S. 48, 25 L. ed. 424 (holding that the reason of the rule is inapplicable to a mortgage of property which is not a part of the road and in no way connected with its use); Bickford v. Grand Junction R. Co., 1 Can. Sup. Ct. 696. See also Gardner v. London, etc., R. Co., L. R. 2 Ch. 201, 36 L. J. Ch. 323, 15 L. T. Rep. N. S. 552, 15 Wkly. Rep. 324.

48. Richards v. Merrimack, 44 N. H. 127 (holding, however, that the power of a railroad company to borrow money and mortgage its property is not limited by the usual clause in its charter providing that shares shall not be assessed over one hundred dollars and that if more money is necessary it shall be raised by creating new shares); Rothschild v. Rochester, etc., R. Co., 1 Pa. Co. Ct. 620 (holding that a mortgage of the property of a railroad company is an increase of its indebtedness which can be affected only by complying with the Const. art. 16, § 7, and with the act of assembly of April 18, 1874, passed to enforce such constitutional provision).

The Tennessee act of March 15, 1881, does not repeal the limitation on a railroad company's mortgaging power contained in the act of March 24, 1877, which inhibits the railroad company "to give or create any mortgage or other kind of lien on its railway property in this State, which shall be valid and binding against judgments and decrees and executions therefrom for timber furnished and work or labor done on, or for damages done to persons and property in the operation of its railroad in this State." Frazier v. East Tennessee, etc., R. Co., 88 Tenn. 138, 12 S. W. 537.

49. Beach v. Wakefield, 107 Iowa 567, 76 N. W. 688, 78 N. W. 197 (construing Code (1873), § 1061, and Laws 20 Gen. Assembly, c. 22; 21 Gen. Assembly, c. 57); Baker v. Guarantee Trust, etc., Co., (N. J. Ch. 1895) 31 Atl. 174 (holding that the power of a railroad company to mortgage its property and franchises is limited strictly to borrowing money on its mortgage bonds and to the amount of cash paid in on account of subscriptions to its capital stock); Flynn v. Coney Island, etc., R. Co., 26 N. Y. App. Div. 416, 50 N. Y. Suppl. 74 (holding that section 2 of the "Stock Corporation Law," restricting the amount of corporate obligations secured by bonds, is applicable to railroad corporations and that the amount of a railroad mortgage must be limited either by the amount of the capital stock, or by two thirds of the value of the property of the company, if that be greater than the capital stock).

A mortgage executed to secure a void issue of bonds under Mass. St. (1854) c. 286, is also void. East Boston Freight R. Co. v. Hubbard, 10 Allen (Mass.) 459 note.

50. Frazier v. East Tennessee, etc., R. Co., 88 Tenn. 138, 12 S. W. 537.

51. McLane v. Placerville, etc., R. Co., 66 Cal. 606, 6 Pac. 748.

52. Gloninger v. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co., 139 Pa. St. 13, 21 Atl. 211. But see Frazier v. East Tennessee, etc., R. Co., 88 Tenn. 138, 12 S. W. 527.

fact that the company is specially authorized to execute a mortgage for a particular purpose does not take away or abridge its general powers to execute mortgages.[53] If the statute is a special one applicable only to a certain railroad, another railroad company cannot avail itself of its provisions to authorize a mortgage made by it.[54]

(III) PROPERTY SUBJECT TO BE MORTGAGED — (A) In General. The power to mortgage a railroad ordinarily embraces every species of property owned by the company necessary for the operation of the road,[55] although this power may be controlled by the particular statute by which it is conferred.[56] Power to mortgage the franchises and property of a railroad company implies as incidental thereto the power to mortgage every kind of property that may be necessary to the enjoyment of the franchises and road.[57] A general power to mortgage the whole road includes power to mortgage any part of it.[58]

(B) Franchises. Ordinarily a railroad company may mortgage its franchises and corporate rights only where it has statutory authority to do so;[59] and an

53. Mobile, etc., R. Co. v. Talman, 15 Ala. 472; Allen v. Montgomery, etc., R. Co., 11 Ala. 437; Bickford v. Grand Junction R. Co., 1 Can. Sup. Ct. 696 [reversing 23 Grant Ch. (U. C.) 302], holding that the statutory power to borrow money and secure loans cannot be considered as implying that the company's powers to mortgage are to be limited to that object.

54. Georgia Southern, etc., R. Co. v. Barton, 101 Ga. 466, 28 S. E. 842 (holding that where the charter of a railroad company in express terms defines and limits its power to mortgage, a general provision in a preceding section of the charter authorizing the company to build a railroad "and the same to use, equip, and enjoy all the rights, privileges and immunities granted to" another railroad company, does not confer upon the former company the mortgaging power of the latter under its charter); Central Trust Co. v. East Tennessee, etc., R. Co., 69 Fed. 658.

55. Ludlow v. Hurd, 1 Disn. (Ohio) 552, 12 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 791; Gardner v. London, etc., R. Co., L. R. 2 Ch. 201, 36 L. J. Ch. 323, 15 L. T. Rep. N. S. 552, 15 Wkly. Rep. 324.

A right of way of a railroad is of such a nature as to be capable of being pledged to the state as security for a loan, and on failure of redemption of being sold and transferred so as to vest the easement in the purchaser. Junction R. Co. v. Ruggles, 7 Ohio St. 1.

56. Taber v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 15 Ind. 459 (holding that the power to mortgage conferred by Loc. Laws (1851), p. 43, had reference only to such lands and property as the company could lawfully acquire, and could not therefore have included such as were not necessary for the purposes of the road); Bath v. Miller, 51 Me. 341 (holding that St. (1860) c. 450, 475, authorizing the extension of a certain railroad and a mortgage of "the original road" and "of the extension," treating them as distinct roads, and as having separate and distinct franchises, does not authorize a mortgage of the whole road as a unit, and therefore not of property purchased by the earnings of the whole road after its completion).

57. Phillips v. Winslow, 18 B. Mon. (Ky.) 431, 68 Am. Dec. 729; Coe v. Columbus, etc., R. Co., 10 Ohio St. 372, 75 Am. Dec. 518; Dunham v. Earl, 8 Fed. Cas. No. 4,149.

A mortgage of land, acquired and held solely for exercising a railroad franchise, as security for the bonds of the road under a power "to pledge the entire road, fixtures, and equipment with all the appurtenances, income, and resources thereof" will be valid without special legislative authority to execute it. Coe v. Columbus, etc., R. Co., 10 Ohio St. 372, 75 Am. Dec. 518.

58. East Boston Freight R. Co. v. Eastern R. Co., 13 Allen (Mass.) 422; Chartiers R. Co. v. Hodgens, 85 Pa. St. 501; Minnesota Co. v. St. Paul Co., 2 Wall. (U. S.) 609, 17 L. ed. 886 (holding that a railroad company owning the whole of a long railroad and all the rolling stock upon it may assign the particular portions of such rolling stock to particular divisions, and mortgage each portion with the division to which it is assigned); Pullan v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 20 Fed. Cas. No. 11,461, 4 Biss. 35. But see East Boston Freight R. Co. v. Hubbard, 10 Allen (Mass.) 459 note.

59. Iowa.— Dunham v. Isett, 15 Iowa 284, holding that whether under Code (1851), c. 43, the corporate franchise of a railroad company can be mortgaged, it may be mortgaged under Act March 28, 1858, c. 25, p. 19.

Massachusetts.— East Boston Freight R. Co. v. Eastern R. Co., 13 Allen 422; Com. v. Smith, 10 Allen 448, 87 Am. Dec. 672, holding that a railroad company has no power at common law to mortgage its franchises.

Minnesota.— First Div. St. Paul, etc., R. Co. v. Parcher, 14 Minn. 297, holding that section 21 of its charter as well as art. 9, § 10, of the constitution adopted April 15, 1858, authorized the Minn. & Pac. R. Co. to mortgage its corporate franchise.

Mississippi.— McAllister v. Plant, 54 Miss. 106.

New Hampshire.— Pierce v. Emery, 32 N. H. 484.

New York.— Hoyle v. Plattsburgh, etc., R. Co., 51 Barb. 45 [reversed on other grounds in 54 N. Y. 314, 13 Am. Rep. 595].

Ohio.— Coe v. Columbus, etc., R. Co., 10 Ohio St. 372, 75 Am. Dec. 518.

express authority for a railroad company to mortgage its road, income, or other property does not imply power to mortgage its franchises,[60] or such other property as is absolutely essential to the exercise of the franchises; [61] although in some jurisdictions it is held that while a power to mortgage the road and other property does not include the power to mortgage the franchise of being a corporation,[62] or the franchise of exemption from taxation,[63] it does include power to mortgage such franchises as are not necessarily corporate rights, such as the franchise to build, own, and manage a road and to take tolls thereon, and are necessary to the enjoyment of the road; [64] and it has been held that this power may be implied from the charter power to borrow money.[65] A railroad company lawfully purchasing its franchise has implied authority to mortgage it for the purchase-money.[66] But a previously unauthorized mortgage of franchises may be made valid as between the parties by a subsequent act of the legislature.[67] Nor will the fact that a mortgage attempting to convey property and franchise is inoperative as to the franchise render the mortgage entirely void; but it operates to convey the property.[68]

(c) Income, Rents, and Profits. A railroad company ordinarily has no power to mortgage its income, rents, and profits,[69] except where such authority is given

Texas.— Houston, etc., R. Co. v. Shirley, 54 Tex. 125.

United States.— Hall v. Sullivan R. Co., 11 Fed. Cas. No. 5,948, Brunn. Col. Cas. 613; Pullan v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 20 Fed. Cas. No. 11,461, 4 Biss. 35.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 508.

Compare Miller v. Rutland, etc., R. Co., 36 Vt. 452, holding that a railroad company may mortgage its road and franchises to procure rails for the construction of a road, although the title of the corporation to the whole of the road is not perfected.

The mere fact of incorporation for the purpose of owning and managing a railroad, and with authority to exercise the right of eminent domain, will not authorize a railroad company to mortgage its franchises. Com. v. Smith, 10 Allen (Mass.) 448, 87 Am. Dec. 672.

60. Missouri Pac. R. Co. v. Owens, 1 Tex. App. Civ. Cas. § 384; Randolph v. Wilmington, etc., R. Co., 20 Fed. Cas. No. 11,563, 11 Phila. (Pa.) 502; Pullan v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 20 Fed. Cas. No. 11,461, 4 Biss. 35.

61. Missouri Pac. R. Co. v. Owens, 1 Tex. App. Civ. Cas. § 384.

62. Bardstown, etc., R. Co. v. Metcalfe, 4 Metc. (Ky.) 199, 81 Am. Dec. 541; Atkinson v. Marietta, etc., R. Co., 15 Ohio St. 21; Memphis, etc., R. Co. v. Berry, 112 U. S. 609, 5 S. Ct. 299, 28 L. ed. 837; Branch v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 4 Fed. Cas. No. 1,807, 3 Woods 481.

The franchise to exist as a corporation pertains to the stock-holders as such, and each one's interest therein accompanies the transfer of his share of stock. By statute in Alabama, the purchasers of a railroad are enabled to constitute themselves into a body corporate, and have all the rights and franchises in respect to it the company was vested with. Meyer v. Johnston, 53 Ala. 237.

63. Morgan v. Louisiana, 93 U. S. 217, 23 L. ed. 860.

64. Meyer v. Johnston, 53 Ala. 237 (holding that the franchise which a railroad company in this state transfers by its mortgage is not its franchise to exist as a corporation, but only such of its franchises or privileges as will enable the grantee to have the same use and beneficial enjoyment of the property as the company itself had and that especially is this the case when the charter merely authorizes the company to mortgage "its means, property and effects," without express mention of franchises); Bardstown, etc., R. Co. v. Metcalfe, 4 Metc. (Ky.) 199, 81 Am. Dec. 541; Coe v. Columbus, etc., R. Co., 10 Ohio St. 372, 75 Am. Dec. 518; Pierce v. Milwaukee, etc., R. Co., 24 Wis. 551, 1 Am. Rep. 203 (holding that a railroad company authorized by its charter "to borrow money" and execute "such securities in amount and kind" as it might deem expedient may mortgage its entire road with its franchises); Branch v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 4 Fed. Cas. No. 1,807, 3 Woods 481.

A grant of a right of way through certain streets with the right to construct its railroad thereon and occupy them in its use is a franchise which may be mortgaged. New Orleans, etc., R. Co. v. Delamore, 114 U. S. 501, 5 S. Ct. 1009, 29 L. ed. 244.

65. Bardstown, etc., R. Co. v. Metcalfe, 4 Metc. (Ky.) 199, 81 Am. Dec. 541.

66. Memphis, etc., R. Co. v. Dow, 19 Fed. 388.

67. Hall v. Sullivan R. Co., 11 Fed. Cas. No. 5,948, Brunn. Col. Cas. 613.

68. Butler v. Rahm, 46 Md. 541; Gloninger v. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co., 139 Pa. St. 13, 21 Atl. 211.

69. Georgia Southern, etc., R. Co. v. Barton, 101 Ga. 466, 28 S. E. 842. But see Kelly v. Alabama, etc., R. Co., 58 Ala. 489, holding that a resolution of railroad directors, authorizing an issuance of bonds to raise money, and execution of a deed of trust to secure the same, etc., "and on all the real and personal property," etc., authorizes a trust deed conveying the tolls, freights, rents, income, etc.

to it by statute;[70] and this power will not be implied from authority to mortgage its property and franchises.[71] Where such power is given, the company, in order to make the pledge effectual, may stipulate in the mortgage that, on default of the trustee named therein, the mortgagee may take possession and operate the railroad and receive its earnings.[72]

(D) After-Acquired Property. The power to mortgage railroad property and franchises includes the power to mortgage future-acquired property [73] as well as property owned by it at the time of the execution of the instrument; and as soon as the property is acquired or comes into existence the mortgage operates upon it,[74] and creates an equitable lien or mortgage upon it.[75]

b. Form, Requisites, and Validity — (I) NATURE AND ESSENTIALS OF CONVEYANCES IN GENERAL. In accordance with the rules regulating mort-

70. Jessup v. Bridge, 11 Iowa 572, 79 Am. Dec. 513; Seibert v. Minneapolis, etc., R. Co., 52 Minn. 246, 53 N. W. 1151; Carey v. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co., 2 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 85, 1 West. L. Month. 338 (holding, however, that this power extends only to such income as is not necessary for the maintenance and operation of the road); Welch v. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co., 2 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 5, 1 West. L. Month. 87.

71. Georgia Southern, etc., R. Co. v. Barton, 101 Ga. 466, 28 S. E. 842, construing Code (1882), § 1689*i*.

72. Seibert v Minneapolis, etc., R. Co., 52 Minn. 246, 53 N. W. 1151.

73. Alabama.— Meyer v. Johnston, 53 Ala. 237.

Connecticut.— Buck v. Seymour, 46 Conn. 156.

Georgia.— McTighe v. Macon Constr. Co., 94 Ga. 306, 21 S. E. 701, 47 Am. St. Rep. 153, 32 L. R. A. 208, holding also that a de facto company may make such a mortgage.

Illinois.— Quincy v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 94 Ill. 537.

Iowa.— Jessup v. Bridge, 11 Iowa 572, 79 Am. Dec. 513.

Louisiana.— Bell v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 34 La. Ann. 785, holding that the prohibitions against mortgaging future property, found in the civil code, relate to ordinary transactions between individuals, and do not apply to railroad corporations.

Michigan.— Pere Marquette R. Co. v. Graham, 136 Mich. 444, 99 N. W. 408.

Missouri.— Omaha, etc., R. Co. v. Wabash, etc., R. Co., 108 Mo. 298, 18 S. W. 1101.

New Hampshire.— Pierce v. Emery, 32 N. H. 484.

New Jersey.— Baker v. Guarantee Trust, etc., Co., (Ch. 1895) 31 Atl. 174 (holding that neither the statute authorizing a railroad company to mortgage its property and franchises, nor the policy of the law forbids the giving of a mortgage on a railroad not yet built or on property not yet acquired by the company); Williamson v. New Jersey South R. Co., 26 N. J. Eq. 398.

New York.— Seymour v. Canandaigua, etc., R. Co., 25 Barb. 284, 14 How. Pr. 531, holding that the words "corporate property and franchises" as used in Gen. R. Act (1850), subd. 10, § 28, include all the rights and interests of a railroad corporation, and that it was the intention of the legislature to authorize such corporation to mortgage all or singular the property of the corporation, with its rights and interests acquired and to be acquired, as an entirety.

Ohio.— Coe v. Peacock, 14 Ohio St. 187; Coe v. Columbus, etc., R. Co., 10 Ohio St. 372, 75 Am. Dec. 518; Ludlow v. Hurd, 1 Disn. 522, 12 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 791; Welch v. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co., 2 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 5, 1 West. L. Month. 87.

Tennessee.— Clay v. East Tennessee, etc., R. Co., 6 Heisk. 421.

Wisconsin.— Pierce v. Milwaukee, etc., R. Co., 24 Wis. 551, 1 Am. Rep. 203.

United States.— Galveston, etc., R. Co. v. Cowdrey, 11 Wall. 459, 20 L. ed. 199; Pennock v. Coe, 23 How. 117, 16 L. ed. 436; Central Trust Co. v. Chattanooga, etc., R. Co., 94 Fed. 275, 36 C. C. A. 241; Compton v. Jesup, 68 Fed. 263, 15 C. C. A. 397; Blackburn v. Selma, etc., R. Co., 3 Fed. Cas. No. 1,467, 2 Flipp. 525.

Under La. Rev. St. §§ 726, 727, 2396, 2397, a railroad company, when authorized to borrow money for construction purposes, may mortgage such property as it may acquire in the future. Parker v. New Orleans, etc., R. Co., 33 Fed. 693. But see State v. New Orleans, etc., R. Co., 4 Rob. 231; State v. Mexican Gulf R. Co., 3 Rob. 513.

74. Meyer v. Johnston, 53 Ala. 237; Parker v. New Orleans, etc., R. Co., 33 Fed. 693.

75. Illinois.— Hunt v. Bullock, 23 Ill. 320.

Ohio.— Welch v. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co., 2 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 5, 1 West. L. Month. 87. Under the registry law of Ohio a mortgage of lands to be afterward acquired being a mere contract to convey such lands as security or as it has been termed an equitable mortgage, it has no validity against third persons who acquire a legal interest in and liens upon the property. Coe v. Columbus, etc., R. Co., 10 Ohio St. 372, 75 Am. Dec. 518.

Pennsylvania.— Philadelphia, etc., R. Co. v. Woelpper, 64 Pa. St. 366, 3 Am. Rep. 596.

Tennessee.— Clay v. East Tennessee, etc., R. Co., 6 Heisk. 421.

England.— Holroyd v. Marshall, 10 H. L. Cas. 191, 9 Jur. N. S. 213, 33 L. J. Ch. 193, 7 L. T. Rep. N. S. 172, 11 Wkly. Rep. 171, 11 Eng. Reprint 999.

gages generally,[76] and in the absence of statute, no particular form is necessary to constitute a mortgage of railroad property; but it is only requisite that the instrument or instruments should evince a present purpose on the part of the company to convey the title to specified property, sufficiently described, to a designated person as mortgagee or trustee to be held by him as security for the payment of a certain indebtedness, or for the performance of some other act on its part.[77] Ordinarily a mortgage on railroad property is made in the form of a trust deed, the secured bondholders thereunder being entitled, through the intervention of the trustees, to the same benefits as if they were made parties to the instrument.[78] Thus a deed of trust executed by a railroad company to secure the payment of bonds and coupons is in effect a mortgage.[79] The trustee therein may in general be any person,[80] or be a foreign corporation or trust company,[81] or even a director or officer of the company.[82] In equity, almost any instrument or agreement showing an intention to pledge railroad property as security for its indebtedness will be considered or treated as a mortgage,[83] although it lacks the formal requisites of a mortgage, and is insufficient to constitute a mortgage at common law or under the statute, or although it is so defectively executed as to be invalid as a legal instrument,[84] or although it amounts to no more than an unexecuted contract to give a lien or mortgage,[85] provided the con-

76. See MORTGAGES, 27 Cyc. 1078 et seq.

77. See In re York, etc., R. Co., 50 Me. 552, 52 Me. 82, conveyance held to be a mortgage and not a deed of trust.

A contract between a manufacturer of cars and a railroad company by which the latter is bound to pay the price of certain cars delivered to it by the former, either paying its notes or by surrendering the property to be sold in order to make payments, is a mortgage. Herryford v. Davis, 102 U. S. 235, 26 L. ed. 160.

A bill of sale by a railroad company to the manufacturer of certain rolling stock which has been delivered and partly paid for, with an agreement for a lease by the company and ownership by it when paid for, constitutes in effect a mortgage. Potter v. Boston Locomotive Works, 1 Gray (Mass.) 154.

Taking preferred stock has been held to be a contract for an advance of money to the company and the same as a purchase of the company's bonds and only another form of mortgage. See West Chester, etc., R. Co. v. Jackson, 77 Pa. St. 321.

A contract whereby cars and locomotives are leased to a railroad company, which agrees to pay for every car and locomotive so delivered an annual rent, for a certain period, at the end of which the cars and locomotives are to become the property of the railroad company, with a proviso that upon default of payment of the annual rent, or failure to observe any of the covenants of the lease, the rights of the company shall be determined and the property reclaimed by the lessors, is a mortgage, and not a lease. Frank v. Denver, etc., R. Co., 23 Fed. 123.

Bonds creating a lien upon railroad property and intended as security for an indebtedness are in effect mortgages and are governed by the laws relating to mortgages. King v. Tuscumbia, etc., R. Co., 14 Fed. Cas. No. 7,808.

78. McLane v. Placerville, etc., R. Co., 66 Cal. 606, 6 Pac. 748; Butler v. Rahm, 46 Md. 541; Southern Pac. R. Co. v. Doyle, 11 Fed. 253, 8 Sawy. 60.

Me. Rev. St. (1857) c. 61, § 51 et seq., and St. (1858) c. 30, relative "to trustees of railroads," and regulating the proceedings to be had when a railroad has been conveyed to trustees for the use of bondholders contemplate the execution of a deed of trust, and not the execution of a mortgage. In re York, etc., R. Co., 50 Me. 552.

79. Coe v. Johnson, 18 Ind. 218; Wisconsin Cent. R. Co. v. Wisconsin River Land Co., 71 Wis. 94, 36 N. W. 837.

80. Ellis v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 107 Mass. 1. See also, generally, MORTGAGES, 27 Cyc. 1046; TRUSTS.

81. Hervey v. Illinois Midland R. Co., 28 Fed. 169; Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 27 Fed. 146.

82. Ellis v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 107 Mass. 1.

83. See Barney, etc., Mfg. Co. v. Hart, 1 S. W. 414, 8 Ky. L. Rep. 223; Ketchum v. Pacific R. Co., 14 Fed. Cas. No. 7,739, 4 Dill. 78 [affirmed in 101 U. S. 289, 25 L. ed. 932].

84. Miller v. Rutland, etc., R. Co., 36 Vt. 452 (holding that a mortgage executed by the president of a railroad company in his own name intending it to be a valid mortgage of the company, although not the deed of the corporation, should be regarded as an equitable mortgage and valid as against the company and against holders of bonds secured by subsequent mortgages executed by the company to trustees with notice of the existence of such mortgage); Central Trust Co. v. Bridges, 57 Fed. 753, 6 C. C. A. 539.

85. Waco Tap R. Co. v. Shirley, 45 Tex. 355; Poland v. Lamoille Valley R. Co., 52 Vt. 144; Holroyd v. Marshall, 10 H. L. Cas. 191, 9 Jur. N. S. 213, 33 L. J. Ch. 193, 7 L. T. Rep. N. S. 172, 11 Wkly. Rep. 171, 11 Eng. Reprint 999.

An unexecuted promise to execute a mortgage under which the mortgagor goes into tract is one of which a court of equity will decree specific performance.[86] Under some statutes bonds issued by,[87] or in aid of,[88] a railroad company constitute a mortgage on its property without the execution of an additional mortgage to secure the same.

(II) REQUISITES AND VALIDITY. It is essential that the mortgage shall be based upon a valuable consideration,[89] and if it is made upon an inadequate consideration as part of an illegal and fraudulent scheme, it is null and void,[90] even in the hands of a bona fide holder.[91] Except where there are special statutory provisions governing such mortgages, a railroad mortgage is regulated by the limitations, prohibitions, or other requirements applicable to mortgages generally,[92] such as to mode of execution;[93] and this applies to mortgages of personal property, it being necessary in the absence of statute otherwise that all the requirements as to chattel mortgages generally be complied with.[94]

(III) RETROACTIVE AND CURATIVE STATUTES. A railroad mortgage which is ultra vires, as being made without legislative authority, may be subsequently ratified or cured by an act of the legislature, and thereby made as binding as if originally authorized,[95] so far as the state and the public are con-possession is in equity equivalent to a mortgage as between the parties. Texas Western R. Co. v. Gentry, 69 Tex. 625, 8 S. W. 98.

86. Holroyd v. Marshall, 10 H. L. Cas. 191, 9 Jur. N. S. 213, 33 L. J. Ch. 193, 7 L. T. Rep. N. S. 172, 11 Wkly. Rep. 171, 11 Eng. Reprint 999.

87. State v. Florida Cent. R. Co., 15 Fla. 690; Brunswick, etc., R. Co. v. Hughes, 52 Ga. 557.

88. U. S. v. Union Pac. R. Co., 91 U. S. 72, 23 L. ed. 224; Tompkins v. Little Rock, etc., R. Co., 15 Fed. 6. See State v. Mexican Gulf R. Co., 3 Rob. (La.) 513.

89. Union Trust Co. v. New York, etc., R. Co., 9 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 773, 17 Cinc. L. Bul. 176.

Consideration of mortgages generally see MORTGAGES, 27 Cyc. 1049 et seq.

90. Union Trust Co. v. New York, etc., R. Co., 9 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 773, 17 Cinc. L. Bul. 176.

91. Union Trust Co. v. New York, etc., R. Co., 9 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 773, 17 Cinc. L. Bul. 176.

92. Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Oregon, etc., R. Co., 24 Fed. 407, holding that the clause in section 3 of the Oregon act of Oct. 26, 1882 (Sess. Laws, p. 65), commonly called the "Mortgage Tax Law," which declares that all mortgages whereby land in more than one county "is made security for the payment of a debt, shall be void," applies to a mortgage executed by a railroad company of its road and other property in several counties, and that therefore such mortgage is void and of no effect. It is stated in the opinion of the court in this case, however, that by the act of 1885 (Sess. Laws, p. 9), railroad mortgages thereafter executed are taken out of the operation of this clause.

93. Bishop v. McKillican, 124 Cal. 321, 57 Pac. 76, 71 Am. St. Rep. 68 (holding that where the statute conferring the power on railroad companies to execute mortgages does not prescribe the mode of execution, the mode and manner of the execution of mortgages of real and personal property by such company is that prescribed by the statutes for the execution of such mortgages in general); Palmer v. Forbes, 23 Ill. 301.

The acknowledgment of a railroad mortgage may be made in another state from that in which the company was organized and its property is located. Hodder v. Kentucky, etc., R. Co., 7 Fed. 793.

94. Hunt v. Bullock, 23 Ill. 320 (holding that unless a mortgage of the personal property of a railroad conforms to the requirements of the law in regard to chattel mortgages, the property covered by it will be liable to attachment and sale on execution by the creditors of the road); Richards v. Merrimack, etc., R. Co., 44 N. H. 127.

A failure of agents to sign the oath professedly as acting for the company does not invalidate a mortgage of personalty of a railroad company sworn to by the agents executing it. Richards v. Merrimack, etc., R. Co., 44 N. H. 127.

A mortgage or trust deed of personalty not accompanied by an affidavit of good faith as required by Wash. Code, § 1648, is void as against a judgment creditor, in respect to rolling stock and other movable property. Illinois Trust, etc., Bank v. Seattle Electric R., etc., Co., 82 Fed. 936, 27 C. C. A. 268.

A deed of trust of personalty which provides for the possession to remain with the railroad company not acknowledged before a justice of the peace of the district in which the company has its principal office or place of business, and where no memorandum of the same, with a list of the property embraced in it, is entered on the justice's docket, is void as against third persons. Hunt v. Bullock, 23 Ill. 320.

95. Illinois.— Hatcher v. Toledo, etc., R. Co., 62 Ill. 477.

Iowa.— Dunham v. Isett, 15 Iowa 284.

Maine.— Shepley v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 55 Me. 395.

Massachusetts.— Shaw v. Norfolk County R. Co., 5 Gray 162.

New Hampshire.— Richards v. Merrimack, etc., R. Co., 44 N. H. 127.

cerned.[96] But it cannot, by such curative statute, change the vested rights of individuals in respect to such mortgage; but such rights are to be determined by the laws in force when they accrued.[97] Thus, so far as the state and public are concerned, a mortgage by a railroad company of its corporate franchises without authority in its charter may be ratified and rendered valid by subsequent legislative enactment, since the right to object to such mortgage is one that affects the public alone and the legislature as the representatives of the people may waive it by a subsequent act.[98] But the legislature cannot subsequently confirm a fraudulent foreclosure sale of the mortgaged property.[99]

(iv) Assent of Shareholders or Directors. Under some statutes it is essential to the validity of a railroad mortgage that shareholders of a given number or amount consent thereto,[1] or that the mortgage be authorized by a vote of the directors;[2] although where the directors are given general power to mortgage, the fact that by other sections of the statute the company cannot do certain other things without the concurrence of the stock-holders does not require such concurrence in the execution of a mortgage.[3]

(v) Necessity and Effect of Registration. Railroad mortgages, like other mortgages, must be recorded in the manner prescribed in order to charge third parties with notice thereof;[4] and unless a railroad mortgage is acknowledged and recorded as required by the laws of the state where the property is situated, it will not establish a lien on such property in favor of the mortgagee as against

New Jersey.— See Kelly v. Boylan, 32 N. J. Eq. 581 [reversed in 36 N. J. Eq. 331, on the ground that the act of April 21, 1876, is prospective only].

Ohio.— Coe v. Columbus, etc., R. Co., 10 Ohio St. 372, 75 Am. Dec. 518.

United States.— Galveston, etc., R. Co. v. Cowdrey, 11 Wall. 459, 20 L. ed. 199 (holding that the Texas act of Dec. 19, 1857, providing that the property and franchises of a railroad company shall be subject to payment of its debts and legal liabilities extends to mortgages executed before the passage of the law as well as after); Hall v. Sullivan R. Co., 14 Fed. Cas. No. 5,948, Brunn. Col. Cas. 613.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 512.

A legislative act authorizing the trustees to sell the road is a ratification of a mortgage so far as the state and public are concerned. Richards v. Merrimack, etc., R. Co., 44 N. H. 127.

96. Richards v. Merrimack, etc., R. Co., 44 N. H. 127.

97. Richards v. Merrimack, etc., R. Co., 44 N. H. 127.

An execution creditor, having acquired priority over a chattel mortgage by reason of the failure of the mortgagor to file his mortgage or take immediate possession of the property mortgaged is not deprived of his priority by a subsequent act of the legislature making the filing unnecessary when the mortgage is registered as a conveyance of lands. Williamson v. New Jersey Southern R. Co., 29 N. J. Eq. 311.

98. Hatcher v. Toledo, etc., R. Co., 62 Ill. 477. See Hall v. Sullivan R. Co., 11 Fed. Cas. No. 5,948, Brunn. Col. Cas. 613.

99. White Mountains R. Co. v. White Mountains R. Co., 50 N. H. 50.

1. Galveston, etc., R. Co. v. Fontaine, 23 Tex. Civ. App. 519, 57 S. W. 872 (holding, however, that the authorization of stockholders as required by Rev. St. art. 4487, is not required as a condition to the execution of a mortgage to secure an extension of time for the payment of a lien on the property, since such mortgage creates no new lien; the purpose of the statute being to restrict the power of the railroad company to incur liabilities to become a lien on their franchises and property); Hervey v. Illinois Midland R. Co., 28 Fed. 169 (holding that the provision of the Illinois General Railroad Act that the assent of two thirds in amount of the stock shall be essential to the validity of any mortgage applies only to companies formed under that act). And see the statutes of the several states.

As to corporate mortgages generally see CORPORATIONS, 10 Cyc. 1190 et seq.

2. See McLane v. Placerville, etc., R. Co., 66 Cal. 606, 6 Pac. 748; and, generally, CORPORATIONS, 10 Cyc. 1198 et seq.

3. Hodder v. Kentucky, etc., R. Co., 7 Fed. 793.

4. See Gilchrist v. Helena, etc., R. Co., 47 Fed. 593, holding that Mont. Cod. St. (1888) p. 824, § 706, relating to mortgages by railroad companies and providing that the records in the office of the secretary of state of a mortgage by a railroad company whose line is wholly or in part in Montana shall be notice to all parties without further records, is not repealed by Mont. Cod. St. (1888) p. 1073, §§ 1555, 1538.

Conflict of laws.— Where a railroad mortgage made in one state on property situated there is valid by the laws of that state, it will be recognized and enforced in another state, although there has been no compliance with the laws of such other state requiring chattel mortgages to be filed therein. Winslow v. Troy Iron, etc., Factory, 1 Disn. (Ohio) 229, 12 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 591.

subsequent bona fide creditors, purchasers, and mortgagees,[5] although as between the parties to the mortgage it is valid without registration.[6] Except where there are special statutes or charter provisions relating to the acknowledgment and recording of railroad mortgages,[7] the acknowledgment and recordation of such mortgages are regulated by the statutes applicable to mortgages generally.[8] Under some statutes a railroad mortgage covering the realty and the franchises as well as the personalty connected therewith and used for railroad purposes, is not subject to the statutes regarding the acknowledgment and recording of chattel mortgages, and if the mortgage is recorded in the manner prescribed for mortgages of real estate it is valid,[9] particularly where another statute makes special provision for railroad mortgages.[10] But under other statutes where a mortgage purporting to cover real and personal property is not executed in the manner prescribed for mortgages of personal property but only as a mortgage of real property, it is void as to the personal property.[11] Thus in some jurisdictions a mortgage of rolling stock is regarded as a chattel mortgage and must be executed and recorded in the manner prescribed for such mortgages generally.[12] But in other jurisdictions it is held that rolling stock as well as other articles of personalty which are essential to the use of the road are to be regarded as fixtures and pass under a mortgage of the road, so that such a mortgage is not within the statutes providing for the filing and recording of chattel mortgages;[13] although, even

5. Barney v. Hart, 1 S. W. 414, 8 Ky. L. Rep. 223; Coe v. New Jersey Midland R. Co., 31 N. J. Eq. 105; State Trust Co. v. Kansas City, etc., R. Co., 120 Fed. 398; Frank v. Denver, etc., R. Co., 23 Fed. 123.

6. State Trust Co. v. Kansas City, etc., R. Co., 120 Fed. 398; Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Mississippi Cent. R. Co., 12 Fed. Cas. No. 7,008.

7. See Boston, etc., R. Co. v. Coffin, 50 Conn. 150 (holding that the recording of a mortgage on a railroad in the office of the secretary of state has the same effect that it would have if recorded in all of the towns along the line of such road); Parker v. New Orleans, etc., R. Co., 33 Fed. 693 (holding that it is not necessary under La. Rev. St. §§ 726, 727, 2396, 2397, Rev. Laws (1904), § 2428, to the validity of a railroad mortgage given to raise money for construction purposes that it should be reinscribed).

8. See Stevens v. Buffalo, etc., R. Co., 31 Barb. (N. Y.) 590; and cases cited infra, notes 9–16.

9. Cooper v. Corbin, 105 Ill. 224 (holding that a deed of trust by a railroad company of all its properties and franchises recorded in every county through which the road runs is valid, although not acknowledged in accordance with the chattel mortgage act); Peoria, etc., R. Co. v. Thompson, 103 Ill. 187; Platt v. New York, etc., R. Co., 9 N. Y. App. Div. 87, 41 N. Y. Suppl. 42 [affirming 17 Misc. 22, 39 N. Y. Suppl. 871, and affirmed in 153 N. Y. 670, 48 N. E. 1106] (under Laws (1868), c. 779); Hammock v. Farmers' L. & T. Co., 105 U. S. 77, 26 L. ed. 1111; Metropolitan Trust Co. v. Pennsylvania, etc., R. Co., 25 Fed. 760 (holding also that section 86 of the New Jersey act, respecting railroads, has not been repealed by section 18 of the act of March 25, 1881); Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. St. Joseph, etc., R. Co., 8 Fed. Cas. No. 4,669, 3 Dill. 412. Compare Boylan v. Kelly, 36 N. J. Eq. 331 [reversing 32 N. J. Eq. 581]; Hoyle v. Plattsburgh, etc., R. Co., 54 N. Y. 314, 13 Am. Rep. 595 [reversing 51 Barb. 45].

10. Southern California Motor-Road Co. v. Union L. & T. Co., 64 Fed. 450, 12 C. C. A. 215 [modifying 51 Fed. 840]; Metropolitan Trust Co. v. Pennsylvania, etc., R. Co., 25 Fed. 760.

11. Bishop v. McKillican, 124 Cal. 321, 57 Pac. 76, 71 Am. St. Rep. 68; Illinois Trust, etc., Bank v. Seattle Electric R., etc., Co., 82 Fed. 936, 27 C. C. A. 268. But see Southern California Motor-Road Co. v. Union L. & T. Co., 64 Fed. 450, 12 C. C. A. 215 [modifying 51 Fed. 840], construing Cal. Civ. Code, §§ 456, 2955, 2959.

12. Potter v. Boston Locomotive Works, 12 Gray (Mass.) 154; Williamson v. New Jersey Southern R. Co., 29 N. J. Eq. 311 [reversing 28 N. J. Eq. 277] (holding that a mortgage by a railroad company on its roadbed and franchises together with its engines, cars, and rolling stock, so far as regards the latter class of property is a chattel mortgage within the provisions of the act concerning chattel mortgages); Radebaugh v. Tacoma, etc., R. Co., 8 Wash. 570, 36 Pac. 460 (holding that under Gen. St. § 1646 et seq., a mortgage upon real estate of the railroad company and purporting to cover rolling stock also does not bind the latter class of property where the instrument is executed and recorded as a real estate mortgage, and does not comply with the formalities required in the execution of chattel mortgages); Hervey v. Rhode Island Locomotive Works, 93 U. S. 664, 23 L. ed. 1003.

13. Platt v. New York, etc., R. Co., 9 N. Y. App. Div. 87, 41 N. Y. Suppl. 42 [affirming 17 Misc. 22, 39 N. Y. Suppl. 871, and affirmed in 153 N. Y. 670, 48 N. E. 1106]; Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Hendrickson, 25 Barb.

in the later jurisdictions, a different principle applies to such other personal property as may be used or is commonly used for other than railroad purposes.[14] Under some statutes the recordation of a chattel mortgage of railroad property is not necessary where the mortgagee takes possession of the property before a levy or seizure in behalf of those as to whom it was otherwise void.[15] All persons are chargeable with notice of a mortgage taken by a state to secure a loan made by it to a railroad company in pursuance of a public statute, although the mortgage is not recorded.[16]

(VI) NECESSITY FOR DELIVERY. In some jurisdictions a chattel mortgage under which the mortgagor is permitted to retain possession of the mortgaged property with a power of disposition is void as against creditors,[17] except as to such property as is necessary to carry on the business of the road.[18] Thus where a railroad company is empowered to pledge its income, since it owes a duty to the public to operate its road, the power to pledge carries with it as an incident the power to dispose of sufficient income for the two-fold purpose of creating mortgage liabilities and of discharging its duties to the public,[19] and to the extent therefore that the mortgage permits the disposal of income to provide means of repairing and running its road such a provision in the mortgage does not render it void.[20]

(VII) PERSONS ENTITLED OR ESTOPPED TO DENY VALIDITY.[21] Such requirements as are for the benefit of stock-holders can be taken advantage of only by such stock-holders; and a creditor cannot dispute the validity of the mortgage on the ground that some of such requirements have not been complied with.[22] A participant in a fraudulent issue of railroad bonds cannot dispute the validity of a mortgage executed to secure them.[23] Where the company has exceeded the statutory limit of indebtedness and has executed a mortgage on its property to secure the debt which is not in itself opposed to public policy, neither the company nor any creditor or encumbrancer whose rights accrued subsequent to such mortgage, and with notice thereof, has any standing to question its validity on that ground.[24] A bondholder who accepts his bonds, referring on their face to the mortgage given to secure them, and retains such bonds without objection for an unreasonable length of time, is estopped from questioning the validity of any provision in the mortgage.[25] A railroad construction company which, before the road is turned over to the company for which it is being built, mortgages some of the property for money used in building the road, cannot avoid the mortgage on the ground that it was not the owner of the property at the time the

(N. Y.) 484; Herryford v. Davis, 102 U. S. 235, 26 L. ed. 160 (construing laws of Missouri); Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. St. Joseph, etc., R. Co., 8 Fed. Cas. No. 4,669, 3 Dill. 412. But see Hoyle v. Plattsburgh, etc., R. Co., 54 N. Y. 314, 13 Am. Rep. 595 [reversing 51 Barb. 45 (affirming 47 Barb. 104)]; Stevens v. Buffalo, etc., R. Co., 31 Barb. (N. Y.) 590.

14. Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. St. Joseph, etc., R. Co., 8 Fed. Cas. No. 4,669, 3 Dill. 412.

15. State Trust Co. v. Kansas City, etc., R. Co., 120 Fed. 398. And see, generally, CHATTEL MORTGAGES, 6 Cyc. 1054.

16. Memphis, etc., R. Co. v. State, 37 Ark. 632.

17. Williamson v. New Jersey Southern R. Co., 29 N. J. Eq. 311; Coe v. Peacock, 14 Ohio St. 187; Welch v. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co., 2 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 5, 1 West. L. Month. 87.

18. Covey v. Pittsburg, etc., R. Co., 3 Phila. (Pa.) 173.

19. Welch v. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co., 2 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 5, 1 West. L. Month. 87.

20. Welch v. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co., 2 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 5, 1 West. L. Month. 87.

21. As to corporate mortgages generally see CORPORATIONS, 10 Cyc. 1195 et seq.

22. Hervey v. Illinois Midland R. Co., 28 Fed. 169.

23. Reed's Appeal, 122 Pa. St. 565, 16 Atl. 100.

24. Beach v. Wakefield, 107 Iowa 567, 76 N. W. 688, 78 N. W. 197, holding that the rule that creditors and junior lienors of a corporation executing a mortgage exceeding its limit of indebtedness who may acquire their rights subsequent to such mortgage are estopped with the corporation to question its validity does not except a railroad corporation from its operation because of the latter's quasi-public character and functions.

25. Lyman v. Kansas City, etc., R. Co., 101 Fed. 636.

mortgage was given.[26] A person whose right or claim depends upon the same instruments that operate to make a railroad mortgage valid cannot deny the validity of such mortgage on the ground that such instruments are invalid.[27]

c. Construction and Operation Generally[28] — (I) IN GENERAL. The construction and operation of railroad mortgages is ordinarily regulated by the rules applying to the construction and operation of mortgages generally,[29] and as in the case of other mortgages the elementary rule to be followed is to ascertain the intention of the parties from the mortgage, interpreted in the light of the attending circumstances, and if possible give effect to such intention.[30] The statute under which the mortgage is executed may be referred to in construing the mortgage.[31] A mortgage of railroad rights and property does not free the remaining interest of the company in that property from liability for other debts.[32]

(II) WHAT LAW GOVERNS. In the absence of some special statute to the contrary, railroad mortgages are subject to the same laws as all other mortgages.[33]

d. Property and Funds Included — (I) IN GENERAL. The nature, location, and extent of the property covered by a railroad mortgage depends upon the intention of the parties, which must be determined from the description of the property contained in the mortgage, interpreted according to the established 26. Hardin v. Iowa R., etc., Co., 78 Iowa 726, 43 N. W. 543, 6 L. R. A. 52.

27. Beekman v. Hudson River West Shore R. Co., 35 Fed. 3.

28. As to application of proceeds of mortgage see infra, VIII, A, 8.

As to debts and obligations secured see infra, VIII, A, 7, e.

As to interest see infra, VIII, A, 10.

As to priorities see infra, VIII, A, 9.

As to property and funds included see infra, VIII, A, 7, d.

As to rights, duties, and liabilities of mortgagees and trustees see infra, VIII, A, 7, f.

29. See MORTGAGES, 27 Cyc. 1135 et seq.

Particular mortgages construed.— Under a railroad mortgage of all its property and also all its tolls, income, rents, issues, and profits, with the affirmative right of possession and management of the road in the mortgagors, the mortgagors have a legal right to contract for such articles as would enter into the expense of maintaining and operating the road. Parkhurst v. Northern Cent. R. Co., 19 Md. 472, 81 Am. Dec. 648. A provision for the expenditure of money received from the sale of part of the property clear of the mortgage is not complied with by the expenditure of other money before the receipt of the purchase-money of the property sold, unless it is expended under circumstances such as connect the antecedent expenditure and the purchase-money together in such way as to show that the expenditure is made with the expectation of reimbursement out of the purchase-money and in reliance upon the receipt thereof for that purpose. Long Dock Co. v. Morris, etc., R. Co., (N. J. Ch. 1887) 9 Atl. 194.

Where general and special terms are employed in the mortgage, the special terms will control the general ones if there is a repugnancy. Pullan v. Cincinnati, etc., Air-Line R. Co., 20 Fed. Cas. No. 11,461, 4 Biss. 35.

Where the mortgage and bond secured thereby contain inconsistent provisions, those contained in the bond will prevail. Rothschild v. Rio Grande Western R. Co., 84 Hun (N. Y.) 103, 32 N. Y. Suppl. 37 [affirmed in 17 N. Y. App. Div. 635, 45 N. Y. Suppl. 1147, 31 N. Y. App. Div. 630, 53 N. Y. Suppl. 1113 (affirmed in 164 N. Y. 594, 595, 58 N. E. 1091, 1092)].

30. Parkhurst v. Northern Cent. R. Co., 19 Md. 472, 81 Am. Dec. 648.

Particular mortgage construed.— A clause providing for the payment of principal and interest without "any deduction" in respect of "any taxes" refers only to taxes which might be levied upon the mortgaged property while in the mortgagor's possession, and does not constitute a contract not to deduct the duty imposed by the revenue act. Haight v. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co., 6 Wall. (U. S.) 15, 18 L. ed. 818. A mortgage to secure the payment of dividends to the holders of certificates purporting to be certificates of preferred stock is an incident to the principal obligation; and the terms and purport of the certificates express the real intention of the parties even though some of the stipulations of the mortgage may be apparently inconsistent with the intent as expressed by the certificates. Miller v. Ratterman, 47 Ohio St. 141, 24 N. E. 496 [reversing 10 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 555, 22 Cinc. L. Bul. 99].

Although the mortgage does not contain words of inheritance the intention to pass the fee may be gathered from its provisions; and where for the execution of its provisions an estate in fee simple must be vested in a trustee the record of the mortgage in full is notice that the mortgage is intended to pass the fee. Randolph v. New Jersey West Line R. Co., 28 N. J. Eq. 49.

31. Northern Cent. R. Co. v. State, 17 Md. 8.

32. Coe v. Columbus, etc., R. Co., 10 Ohio St. 372, 75 Am. Dec. 518.

33. Hunt v. Bullock, 23 Ill. 320; Palmer v. Forbes, 23 Ill. 301. And see, generally, MORTGAGES, 27 Cyc. 1133.

rules of construction, and aided by extrinsic evidence for purposes of identification and limitation,[34] reference being had to the statute authorizing the mortgage,[35] and if possible such a construction must be given to the mortgage as to carry out the intention of the parties in respect to the property to be conveyed.[36] In the absence of restrictive words, the natural import of the language used in the description must be adjudged the intent and scope of the mortgage.[37] Thus a mortgage of the road with its corporate privileges and appurtenances covers the entire surveyed line of the railroad, to its whole extent;[38] but at the same time covers only such property as is useful and necessary and employed in the construction, maintenance, operation, preservation, repair, or security of the road;[39] and therefore does not embrace property not used or to be used in connection with the

Where it does not appear where a mortgage upon a railroad operating in several states was executed the court of one state will not be bound to adopt the construction given by the courts of another of such states to a similar mortgage, but it will be presumed that the courts of such other state will construe the instrument in accordance with the common-law rule. Mississippi Valley, etc., R. Co. v. U. S. Express Co., 81 Ill. 534.

34. See Buck v. Memphis, etc., R. Co., 4 Cent. L. J. 430; Chapman v. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co., 26 W. Va. 299 (mortgage by Pennsylvania company chartered to build a road from near Pittsburg to the Pennsylvania state line held to convey no property in West Virginia); Hodder v. Kentucky, etc., R. Co., 7 Fed. 793. And see, generally, MORTGAGES, 27 Cyc. 1137 et seq.

Where general words of description are followed by particular words the latter will control the former if there be a repugnancy. Pullan v. Cincinnati, etc., Air-Line R. Co., 20 Fed. Cas. No. 11,461, 4 Biss. 35. Thus an enumeration of the property and rights intended to be conveyed limits and explains previous general words of description. Butler v. Rahm, 46 Md. 541.

Reference to other instruments.— The recording of a mortgage of railroad property described generally "as the same is located by survey duly filed in the office of the clerk of the county" gives no notice of specific property, if in fact the survey was not filed until six months thereafter. Bird v. New Jersey, etc., R. Co., 3 N. Y. App. Div. 344, 38 N. Y. Suppl. 281. So the description contained in a second mortgage cannot be aided by that contained in a first mortgage, if the second contains no reference to the former mortgage, and expresses no intention that the later shall cover the same property as the first. McIlhenny v. Binz, 80 Tex. 1, 13 S. W. 655, 26 Am. St. Rep. 705.

In determining whether property is real or personal in its nature so as to be included within a mortgage of the property of the road, it has been held that the ground on which a railroad is built as well as the structures, depot, grounds, buildings, turntables, rolling stock, rails, ties, chairs, spikes, and the like, and all other material brought upon the ground of the railroad company designed to be attached to the railroad is real estate; but fuel, oil, and the like which are designed for consumption in the use and which may be sold and carried away and used as well for other purposes as in the operation of the road, and when taken away have no distinguishing marks to show that they are designed for railroad uses, are personal property. Palmer v. Forbes, 23 Ill. 301. See also Hunt v. Bullock, 23 Ill. 320.

35. Coe v. New Jersey Midland R. Co., 31 N. J. Eq. 105.

Where an act of the legislature contemplates a mortgage of all the company's estate, a mortgage given pursuant to such authority will be regarded as intended to convey the whole estate, unless the contrary appears. Coe v. New Jersey Midland R. Co., 31 N. J. Eq. 105.

36. See Hoyle v. Plattsburgh, etc., R. Co., 51 Barb. (N. Y.) 45 [reversed on other grounds in 54 N. Y. 314, 13 Am. Rep. 595].

37. Central Trust Co. v. Kneeland, 138 U. S. 414, 11 S. Ct. 357, 34 L. ed. 1014, holding that where a company, incorporated to construct a railroad between two cities named as its termini, gives a mortgage which expressly covers its line constructed or to be constructed between the main termini together with all the stations, depots, grounds, engine-houses, machine shops, buildings, and erections now or hereafter appertaining thereto, such description of the line of railroad creates a lien upon its terminal facilities in those cities, and is not limited to so much of the road as is found within the city limits of those places.

38. Eldridge v. Smith, 34 Vt. 484; Central Trust Co. v. Chattanooga, etc., R. Co., 89 Fed. 388.

39. Morgan v. Donovan, 58 Ala. 241.

A depot building, as against a mechanic's lien, is property connected with the line of the railroad and regarded as part of the mortgaged premises covered by a mortgage containing a general description covering the railroad line, depots, station houses, etc. Coe v. New Jersey Midland R. Co., 31 N. J. Eq. 105.

That property purchased was intended for use on a railroad controlled under an invalid lease, and used in connection with the railroad owned by the company, does not exclude it from the operation of a mortgage covering all property acquired by the company which might be used as a part of its railroad or might be necessary for the construction or operation thereof. Buck v. Seymour, 46 Conn. 156.

railroad, and in the promotion of the direct and proximate purposes of its construction.[40] So except where the company has authority to mortgage its corporate franchises,[41] a mortgage of the railroad and franchise does not convey its corporate existence or its general corporate powers, but only such franchises as are necessary to make the conveyance beneficial to the grantees, to maintain and manage the railroad and receive the profits thereof.[42] Where the mortgage specifically enumerates certain classes of property to be covered by the mortgage, ordinarily it will not cover other classes of property not named,[43] although the words "all other property" are used in connection with the specific description, as these words so used refer only to the classes of property enumerated.[44] In England a debenture or mortgage of the "undertaking" of a railroad company and of the rates and tolls arising out of the undertaking gives the debenture holder a charge upon the undertaking generally as a going concern and upon the tolls and sums of money owned by the company,[45] and includes the tolls and property of the company as proprietors,[46] but not stock or property as carriers,[47] nor does it give a specific charge upon the lands of the company,[48] or upon the rolling stock.[49]

(II) Nature of Title of Mortgagor. Unless restricted to some particular interest or estate, a railroad mortgage, like other mortgages,[50] conveys all title or interest, whether legal or equitable, which the company then has in the mortgaged property,[51] and a mortgage on the equitable title of certain railroad property will not be postponed to a subsequent mortgage on the legal title given to secure its own indebtedness.[52] But it does not attach to property to which the railroad company has never had a consummated right or equity.[53]

(III) Designation of Property by Mortgagor. Where a mortgage on the rolling stock of a certain division of a railroad contains a covenant to designate in a certain mode as belonging to that division a certain proportion of the whole rolling stock owned by the company, as against subsequent mortgagees

40. Morgan v. Donovan, 58 Ala. 241.

Property purchased of an opposition steamship line not with a view of employing it in connection with the business of the road, but simply to withdraw it from the business to prevent competition, is not covered by such a mortgage. Morgan v. Donovan, 58 Ala. 241.

41. First Div. St. Paul, etc., R. Co. v. Parcher, 14 Minn. 297, holding that a mortgage upon the "roads, lands, and franchises" of a corporation includes the corporate franchise, or the right to be a corporation, where the corporation had authority under its charter and the constitution of the state to mortgage the corporate franchise.

42. Chadwick v. Old Colony R. Co., 171 Mass. 239, 50 N. E. 629; Eldridge v. Smith, 34 Vt. 484.

43. Alabama v. Montague, 117 U. S. 602, 611, 6 S. Ct. 911, 914, 29 L. ed. 1000, 1003; Smith v. McCullough, 104 U. S. 25, 26 L. ed. 637.

44. Brainerd v. Peck, 34 Vt. 496; Alabama v. Montague, 117 U. S. 602, 611, 6 St. Ct. 911, 914, 29 L. ed. 1000, 1003.

45. Gardner v. London, etc., R. Co., L. R. 2 Ch. 201, 36 L. J. Ch. 232, 15 L. T. Rep. N. S. 552, 15 Wkly. Rep. 324.

46. Hart v. Eastern Union R. Co., 7 Exch. 246, 6 R. & Can. Cas. 818.

47. Hart v. Eastern Union R. Co., 7 Exch. 246, 6 R. & Can. Cas. 818.

48. Wickham v. New Brunswick, etc., R. Co., L. R. 1 P. C. 64, 12 Jur. N. S. 34, 35 L. J. P. C. 6, 14 L. T. Rep. N. S. 311, 14 Wkly. Rep. 251; Doe v. St. Helen's, etc., R. Co., 2 Q. B. 364, 1 G. & D. 663, 6 Jur. 641, 11 L. J. Q. B. 6, 2 R. & Can. Cas. 756, 42 E. C. L. 715; Hart v. Eastern Union R. Co., 7 Exch. 246, 6 R. & Can. Cas. 818; Gardner v. London, etc., R. Co., L. R. 2 Ch. 201, 36 L. J. Ch. 323, 15 L. T. Rep. N. S. 552, 15 Wkly. Rep. 324.

49. Gardner v. London, etc., R. Co., L. R. 2 Ch. 201, 36 L. J. Ch. 323, 15 L. T. Rep. N. S. 552, 15 Wkly. Rep. 324.

50. See, generally, Mortgages, 27 Cyc. 1138 et seq.

51. Kneeland v. Luce, 141 U. S. 491, 12 S. Ct. 32, 35 L. ed. 830 (mortgagee held to have an equitable lien on the road, although the mortgagor had no legal title thereto); Central Trust Co. v. Kneeland, 138 U. S. 414, 11 S. Ct. 357, 34 L. ed. 1014.

Where lands are bought by the commissioner of a railroad company for its use, and the deeds are taken to a director of the company, on the execution of the deeds to such director, the company becomes seized with the legal estate in the lands described in the deeds, so as to render them subject to the lien and operation of a mortgage from the company to trustees for the bondholders. Buffalo, etc., R. Co. v. Lampson, 47 Barb. (N. Y.) 533.

52. Central Trust Co. v. Kneeland, 138 U. S. 414, 11 S. Ct. 357, 34 L. ed. 1014.

53. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Loewenthal, 93 Ill. 433.

of the entire system of the railroad, the first mortgage covers only such rolling stock as is thereafter designated as belonging to the division named;[54] and the lien of such mortgage on the rolling stock which has been designated is not lost by subsequent obliteration of the designations, where such rolling stock is otherwise traceable, as against the mortgagor or others claiming under a subsequent mortgage of the entire road and appurtenant rolling stock, who take with notice of the former lien created thereby.[55]

(iv) Right of Way and Other Lands. A railroad mortgage in general terms of all its property and franchises covers only land used for the road.[56] In the absence of a specific reservation, a mortgage of railroad real estate includes its right of way on such realty;[57] but does not cover a portion of the route which was partially constructed but which was abandoned for another route.[58] A mortgage of real estate used or appropriated or connected with the railroad embraces only real estate used or appropriated for operating or maintaining the road,[59] and does not cover real estate which has not been used or appropriated for such purposes,[60] such as town lots held by the road,[61] unless directly appurtenant to the railroad and indispensably necessary to the enjoyment of its franchises,[62] or lands acquired for subdivision and sale,[63] or a hotel in nowise connected with the railroad system.[64] A mortgage on all lands included in the location of the road or used for railroad purposes embraces such lands lying outside of the lay-out of the road as are actually needed for and used by the road;[65] but it does not embrace lands so situated but not used by the company for railroad purposes,[66] although purchased with the company's funds and in connection with the right of way.[67] On the other hand a mortgage of all lands outside the right of way which are not actually used for railroad purposes does not embrace lands within the right of way or those without but actually used for such purposes.[68] If the mortgage specifically described the land to be charged, ordinarily it will not include other lands not so described.[69]

(v) Rolling Stock, Tracks, and Other Personal Property. A mortgage generally of the road and all other property, real and personal, appertaining or appurtenant to the road, embraces rolling stock,[70] and all other per-

54. U. S. Trust Co. v. Wabash Western R. Co., 38 Fed. 891, holding this to be true, although the whole amount covenanted for was not so designated.

55. U. S. Trust Co. v. Wabash Western R. Co., 38 Fed. 891.

56. Youngman v. Elmira, etc., R. Co., 65 Pa. St. 278.

57. Hardin v. Iowa R., etc., Co., 78 Iowa 726, 43 N. W. 543, 6 L. R. A. 52; Bosworth v. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co., 1 Ohio Cir. Ct. 69, 1 Ohio Cir. Dec. 42 [affirmed in 46 Ohio St. 81, 18 N. E. 533, 2 L. R. A. 199], holding that a grant and release to a railroad company to enter upon lands and select a strip thereof for a right of way and to hold the same for the purpose of the railroad as long as may be necessary will pass by a subsequent mortgage and sale thereunder.

58. Meyer v. Johnston, 53 Ala. 237, holding also that such abandoned route reverted to the owners of the soil.

59. Eldridge v. Smith, 34 Vt. 484.

A conveyance in trust of railroad lands "intended for the use and accommodation of said road" applies to the intention of the company in respect to the use of the land at the time the mortgage is executed and not to the original design when purchasing it. Eldridge v. Smith, 34 Vt. 484.

60. Walsh v. Barton, 24 Ohio St. 28; Hatry v. Painesville, etc., R. Co., 1 Ohio Cir. Ct. 426, 1 Ohio Cir. Dec. 238.

61. Shamokin Valley R. Co. v. Livermore, 47 Pa. St. 465, 86 Am. Dec. 552.

62. Shamokin Valley R. Co. v. Livermore, 47 Pa. St. 465, 86 Am. Dec. 552.

It is a question of fact for the jury whether town lots owned by a railroad company are indispensable to the enjoyment of its franchises, so as to be bound by a mortgage of the road "with its corporate privileges and appurtenances." Shamokin Valley R. Co. v. Livermore, 47 Pa. St. 465, 86 Am. Dec. 552.

63. Pardee v. Aldridge, 189 U. S. 429, 23 S. Ct. 514, 47 L. ed. 883 [affirming 24 Tex. Civ. App. 254, 60 S. W. 789].

64. Guaranty Trust Co. v. Atlantic Coast Electric R. Co., 132 Fed. 68.

65. Boston, etc., R. Co. v. Coffin, 50 Conn. 150.

66. Boston, etc., R. Co. v. Coffin, 50 Conn. 150.

67. Boston, etc., R. Co. v. Coffin, 50 Conn. 150.

68. See Boston, etc., R. Co. v. Coffin, 50 Conn. 150.

69. Alabama v. Montague, 117 U. S. 602, 611, 6 S. Ct. 911, 914, 29 L. ed. 1000, 1003.

70. Henshaw v. Bellows Falls Bank, 10

sonal property which is indispensable, or at least useful to the operation of the road;[71] but it does not embrace personal property which is not appurtenant to the road,[72] and therefore does not include stock in an elevator company which owns and operates an elevator near the road,[73] or steamboats used in connection with the road beyond its terminus.[74] So a mortgage of the road, its tolls and revenues, covers all the rolling stock and fixtures whether movable or immovable, essential to the production of tolls and revenues.[75] It has been held that the rolling stock of a railroad is realty so as to pass by a mortgage of the real estate;[76] but on the other hand it has been held to be personalty and therefore not embraced in a mortgage of the realty and fixtures in the absence of other words embracing chattels.[77] A specific description or enumeration of the personalty covered ordinarily excludes all other kinds of personalty;[78] but where the specific description is followed by general words, such as "all other property," it also covers property kindred to that specifically mentioned,[79] and in such case it at least covers the property mentioned although it be too uncertain to cover more.[80]

(VI) EARNINGS, INCOME, AND OTHER FUNDS. Where the mortgage does not embrace income, rents, and profits, the mortgagee is not entitled to a lien on such funds earned and received by the company while it is in possession of the mortgaged property,[81] except those received after the mortgagee has filed a bill

Gray (Mass.) 568; Pullan v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 20 Fed. Cas. No. 11,461, 4 Biss. 35, holding that a mortgage of all property of the company, including the right of way, and land occupied, and all rails and other materials used thereon, or procured therefor, includes the rolling stock of the road.

A mortgage lien upon rolling stock is not lost by its being withdrawn from present use upon a broad gauge road and changed to meet a contemplated narrowing of the gauge, notwithstanding the stock on the road is kept up and improved at the same time that these materials for a narrow-gauge road are withdrawn. Hamlin v. Jerrard, 72 Me. 62.

71. Coe v. McBrown, 22 Ind. 252, where such a mortgage was held to embrace wood provided for the use of the road from time to time. See also Yorkshire R. Wagon Co. v. Maclure, 21 Ch. D. 309, 51 L. J. Ch. 857, 47 L. T. Rep. N. S. 290, 30 Wkly. Rep. 761.

Cast-off articles, fragments, and old materials, once forming part of a road or used in its operation, still continue under the mortgage if a proper and judicial management of the road requires that they should be recast or exchanged for new articles for the uses of the road, and a power in the mortgage authorizing the company to sell such articles does not invalidate the mortgage as to them. Coopers v. Wolf, 15 Ohio St. 523.

Old iron rails taken up from the road as unfit for further use are included in a deed of trust as part of the railroad property including road-bed, rails, etc.; and the trustees are entitled to have the same applied to pay interest upon bonds in preference to subsequent execution creditors of the company. Salem First Nat. Bank v. Anderson, 75 Va. 250.

72. See Humphreys v. McKissock, 140 U. S. 304, 11 S. Ct. 779, 35 L. ed. 473.

73. Humphreys v. McKissock, 140 U. S. 304, 11 S. Ct. 779, 35 L. ed. 473.

74. Parish v. Wheeler, 22 N. Y. 494; Hatry v. Painesville, etc., R. Co., 1 Ohio Cir. Ct. 426, 1 Ohio Cir. Dec. 238.

75. State v. Northern Cent. R. Co., 18 Md. 193.

76. Palmer v. Forbes, 23 Ill. 301; Michigan Cent. R. Co. v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 1 Ill. App. 399.

Rolling stock, rails, ties, chairs, spikes, and all other property brought upon the realty, if intended to be attached thereto, are covered by a mortgage thereof. Palmer v. Forbes, 23 Ill. 301.

77. Williamson v. New Jersey Southern R. Co., 29 N. J. Eq. 311 [reversing 28 N. J. Eq. 277]; Hoyle v. Plattsburgh, etc., R. Co., 54 N. Y. 314, 13 Am. Rep. 595 [reversing 51 Barb. 45]; Bement v. Plattsburgh, etc., R. Co., 47 Barb. (N. Y.) 104 (holding that rolling stock of a railroad does not pass by foreclosure and sale under a mortgage, the terms of which did not include such rolling stock as personal property, as such stock is not a fixture); Beardsley v. Ontario Bank, 31 Barb. (N. Y.) 619; Radebaugh v. Tacoma, etc., R. Co., 8 Wash. 570, 36 Pac. 460 (holding that both the constitution and the statutes declare rolling stock of a railroad company to be personal property).

78. Smith v. McCullough, 104 U. S. 25, 26 L. ed. 637, holding that a mortgage of railroad property with a specific description of the different kinds of such property does not include municipal bonds issued in aid of the road and not specifically mentioned in such description.

79. Raymond v. Clark, 46 Conn. 129.

80. Pennock v. Coe, 23 How. (U. S.) 117, 16 L. ed. 436, holding that a mortgage on locomotives and all other personalty covers the locomotives even if it be too uncertain to cover other property.

81. Rumsey v. People's R. Co., 91 Mo. App. 202 (holding that where a mortgage does not embrace the earnings and rents of a rail-of foreclosure and demanded possession.[82] And even where the mortgage in terms gives a lien upon the rents, income, and profits, if the mortgagor is permitted to remain in possession of the mortgaged property until default, and to receive the rents and profits, the mortgage is a prior lien only upon the net earnings of the company while in possession after the payment of expenses of operation;[83] and until possession of the mortgaged premises is actually taken by the mortgagee or trustee,[84] or the proper judicial authority intervenes,[85] as by the appointment of a receiver in foreclosure proceedings,[86] or until a demand is made therefor or for a surrender of possession under the mortgage,[87] all such funds belong to the railroad company and are subject to its control; and the company is not bound to account to the mortgagee therefor, nor is the mortgagee entitled to assert a right to such funds in the hands of the company,[88] or in the road company the mortgagee is not entitled to this fund under foreclosure proceedings); Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Cary, 13 Wis. 110; U. S. Trust Co. v. Wabash R. Co., 150 U. S. 287, 14 S. Ct. 86, 37 L. ed. 1085.

82. U. S. Trust Co. v. Wabash R. Co., 150 U. S. 287, 14 S. Ct. 86, 37 L. ed. 1085.

83. Kentucky.— Schmidt v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 95 Ky. 289, 25 S. W. 494, 26 S. W. 547, 15 Ky. L. Rep. 785.

Maryland.— Parkhurst v. Northern Cent. R. Co., 19 Md. 472, 81 Am. Dec. 648.

Minnesota.— Seibert v. Minneapolis, etc., R. Co., 58 Minn. 39, 59 N. W. 822.

Ohio.— Darst v. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co., 3 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 199, 4 Wkly. L. Gaz. 377; McCormack v. Central Ohio R. Co., 3 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 103, 3 Wkly. L. Gaz. 218; Carey v. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co., 2 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 85, 1 West. L. Month. 338.

Tennessee.— Clay v. East Tennessee, etc., R. Co., 6 Heisk. 421.

United States.— Hale v. Frost, 99 U. S. 389, 25 L. ed. 419; Fosdick v. Schall, 99 U. S. 235, 25 L. ed. 339.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 525.

Net earnings are ascertained by deducting from the gross receipts of a railroad business its proportional share of operating the entire road. Schmidt v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 95 Ky. 289, 25 S. W. 494, 26 S. W. 547, 15 Ky. L. Rep. 785. But in determining such net earnings the company is not entitled to deduct from its gross earnings a loss incurred in selling income bonds at a discount or the difference between the rate of interest certain bondholders agreed to accept and the rate the company originally agreed to pay, or a floating debt contracted before the income mortgage was executed; but the company is entitled to deduct not only amounts used in operating and repairing the road but also amounts for which it has become liable on such accounts. Barry v. Missouri, etc., R. Co., 27 Fed. 1.

The earnings of business carried in both directions is covered by a mortgage given on the net earnings of all business coming to a certain road from or over another road. Schmidt v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 95 Ky. 289, 25 S. W. 494, 26 S. W. 547, 15 Ky. L. Rep. 785.

84. Ellis v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 107 Mass. 1; Coe v. Beckwith, 31 Barb. (N. Y.) 339; Gilman v. Illinois, etc., Tel. Co., 91 U. S. 603, 23 L. ed. 405.

85. Gilman v. Illinois, etc., Tel. Co., 91 U. S. 603, 23 L. ed. 405.

86. Platt v. New York, etc., R. Co., 63 N. Y. App. Div. 401, 71 N. Y. Suppl. 913 [reversed on other grounds in 170 N. Y. 451, 63 N. E. 532], holding, however, that such a receiver is not entitled to earnings collected before his appointment.

87. Mississippi Valley, etc., R. Co. v. U. S. Express Co., 81 Ill. 534; Sage v. Memphis, etc., R. Co., 125 U. S. 361, 8 S. Ct. 887, 31 L. ed. 694; Dow v. Memphis, etc., R. Co., 124 U. S. 652, 8 S. Ct. 673, 21 L. ed. 565 [reversing 20 Fed. 768]; Galveston, etc., R. Co. v. Cowdrey, 11 Wall. (U. S.) 459, 20 L. ed. 199.

Commencement of a suit in equity to enforce a surrender of possession to the trustees under the mortgage, in accordance with its terms, is a demand for possession, and if the trustees are then entitled to possession the company must account from that time. Dow v. Memphis, etc., R. Co., 124 U. S. 652, 8 S. Ct. 673, 21 L. ed. 565 [reversing 20 Fed. 768].

A decree entitling the trustees to possession of the road under the provision of the mortgage also entitles them, there being no debts for current expenses, to receive all profits earned since the commencement of the suit, the effect of the decree being to establish their right to possession at the time the suit was begun, and to make the company's possession after that date wrongful. Dow v. Memphis, etc., R. Co., 124 U. S. 652, 8 S. Ct. 673, 21 L. ed. 565 [reversing 20 Fed. 768].

88. Illinois.— Mississippi Valley, etc., R. Co. v. U. S. Express Co., 81 Ill. 534.

Maine.— Noyes v. Rich, 52 Me. 115.

Minnesota.— De Graff v. Thompson, 24 Minn. 452.

New York.— Platt v. New York, etc., R. Co., 63 N. Y. App. Div. 401, 71 N. Y. Suppl. 913 [reversed on other grounds in 170 N. Y. 451, 63 N. E. 532].

Virginia.— Frayser v. Richmond, etc., R. Co., 81 Va. 388; Gibert v. Washington City, etc., R. Co., 33 Gratt. 645.

United States.— Hale v. Frost, 99 U. S. 389, 25 L. ed. 419; Fosdick v. Schall, 99 U. S. 235, 25 L. ed. 339; Gilman v. Illinois, etc., Tel. Co., 91 U. S. 603, 23 L. ed. 405; Mercantile Trust Co. v. Baltimore, etc., R.

hands of a receiver appointed on behalf of a judgment creditor.[89] Until such possession or demand therefor, such funds are liable to the creditors of the railroad company as if no mortgage existed.[90] It has been held, however, that funds in the hands of the treasurer of a railroad company at the time of the execution of a mortgage of all its property are embraced therein and cannot be held against the paramount right of the trustees by a creditor of the company, although the trustees have permitted the company to use and manage the road and its other property.[91] Notwithstanding the above general rule, the parties may agree in the mortgage that such future earnings and profits shall be held in equity by the mortgagee, and under such an agreement the earnings and income whenever received are operated upon by the mortgage and the party receiving them holds them in trust for whoever is in equity entitled to them.[92] After a mortgagee or trustee takes possession of the mortgaged premises, the mortgage covers all future income and earnings;[93] and thereafter such earnings are no longer subject to execution or garnishment.[94] An unpaid balance due on a subscription to the stock of a railroad company is not included in a mortgage of the right of way and other property.[95]

(VII) AFTER-ACQUIRED PROPERTY — (A) In General. At common law a railroad mortgage of after-acquired property is inoperative as to such property, on the theory that a person cannot grant or convey an effective title to anything to which he has no right.[96] In equity, however, such a mortgage is upheld and liberally construed;[97] and it is well settled that where the terms of the mortgage show an intention to embrace after-acquired property,[98] the mortgage will attach as an equitable lien upon all after-acquired property, embraced in the terms of the mortgage, as soon as it is acquired or comes into existence,[99] whether the prop-

Co., 94 Fed. 722; Williamson v. New Albany, etc., R. Co., 30 Fed. Cas. No. 17,753, 1 Biss. 198.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 525.

89. Sage v. Memphis, etc., R. Co., 125 U. S. 361, 8 S. Ct. 887, 31 L. ed. 694.

90. Smith v. Eastern R. Co., 124 Mass. 154; Merchants' Bank v. Petersburg R. Co., 12 Phila. (Pa.) 482; Gilman v. Illinois, etc., Tel. Co., 91 U. S. 603, 23 L. ed. 405.

91. Woodman v. York, etc., R. Co., 45 Me. 207. See Buck v. Memphis, etc., R. Co., 4 Cent. L. J. 430.

92. Pullan v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 20 Fed. Cas. No. 11,462, 5 Biss. 237.

93. Galena, etc., R. Co. v. Menzies, 26 Ill. 121; Frayser v. Richmond, etc., R. Co., 81 Va. 388; Gibert v. Washington City, etc., R. Co., 33 Gratt. (Va.) 645.

94. Mississippi Valley, etc., R. Co. v. U. S. Express Co., 81 Ill. 534; Galena, etc., R. Co. v. Menzies, 26 Ill. 121.

95. Dean v. Biggs, 25 Hun (N. Y.) 122, holding that such balance is not included in the mortgage of a right of way and the other property of the company, its chattels and things pertaining thereto, its charter rights, privileges, and franchises, and all its estate, right, title, interest, property, and possession, claims, and demands whatsoever.

96. Emerson v. European, etc., R. Co., 67 Me. 387, 24 Am. Rep. 39; Pierce v. Emery, 32 N. H. 484; Coe v. Pennock, 5 Fed. Cas. No. 2,942; Dunham v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 8 Fed. Cas. No. 4,148.

97. Little Rock, etc., R. Co. v. Page, 35 Ark. 304.

98. Coopers v. Wolf, 15 Ohio St. 523. See also infra, VIII, A, 7, d, (VII), (C); and cases cited infra, note 99.

A reasonably certain description of the after-acquired property intended to be included in the mortgage should be contained in the mortgage. Calhoun v. Memphis, etc., R. Co., 4 Fed. Cas. No. 2,309, 2 Flipp. 442, 8 Reporter 395. A description of after-acquired property as "all property which may hereafter belong to said company and be used as a part of said road" is not too indefinite. Buck v. Seymour, 46 Conn. 156.

99. Alabama.— Meyer v. Johnston, 53 Ala. 237, 64 Ala. 603.

Arkansas.— Little Rock, etc., R., Co. v. Page, 35 Ark. 304.

Illinois.— Frost v. Galesburg, etc., R. Co., 167 Ill. 161, 47 N. E. 357; Quincy v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 94 Ill. 537.

Louisiana.— Bell v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 34 La. Ann. 785.

Missouri.—St. Joseph, etc., R. Co. v. Smith, 170 Mo. 327, 70 S. W. 700.

New Hampshire.— Pierce v. Emery, 32 N. H. 484.

New Jersey.— Williamson v. New Jersey Southern R. Co., 25 N. J. Eq. 13.

New York.— Nichols v. Mase, 94 N. Y. 160; Stevens v. Watson, 4 Abb. Dec. 302, 45 How. Pr. 104; Platt v. New York, etc., R. Co., 9 N. Y. App. Div. 87, 41 N. Y. Suppl. 42 [affirming 17 Misc. 22, 39 N. Y. Suppl. 871, and affirmed in 153 N. Y. 670, 154 N. Y. 742, 48 N. E. 1106, 49 N. E. 1103]; Benjamin v. Elmira, etc., R. Co., 49 Barb. 441; Seymour v. Canandaigua, etc., R. Co., 25 Barb. 284, 14 How. Pr. 531.

Ohio.— Coopers v. Wolf, 15 Ohio St. 523.

erty is acquired by the company under its old name or under its new name after reorganization.[1] But such a mortgage does not cover property which the railroad company had no power to acquire or hold when the mortgage was executed, and the acquisition of which was not in contemplation at that time.[2] It is held that an after-acquired property clause extends only to property subsequently acquired by the mortgagor company,[3] and therefore does not cover property acquired by a consolidated company into which the mortgagor company has been merged, as against a mortgagee of the consolidated company.[4]

(B) Title or Interest Covered. The above rule that a railroad mortgage attaches in equity to after-acquired property applies not only to property to which it acquires the legal title, but also to that to which it acquires only a full equitable title.[5] But this lien operates upon the property only in the condition in which it is at the time it is acquired, or in other words, attaches only to such interest as the mortgagor company acquires;[6] and therefore is subject to any covenant, lien, encumbrance, or other charge existing upon the property at that time, although junior in point of time;[7] although it may be enforced against the mortgagor company and all persons claiming rights which have accrued after the mortgage

Pennsylvania.— Philadelphia, etc., R. Co. v. Woelpper, 64 Pa. St. 366, 3 Am. Rep. 596.

Vermont.— Brainerd v. Peck, 34 Vt. 496.

Wisconsin.— Pierce v. Milwaukee, etc., R. Co., 24 Wis. 551, 1 Am. Rep. 203.

United States.— Central Trust Co. v. Kneeland, 138 U. S. 414, 34 L. ed. 1014; Pennock v. Coe, 23 How. 117, 16 L. ed. 436; Guaranty Trust Co. v. Atlantic Coast Electric R. Co., 138 Fed. 517, 71 C. C. A. 41 [affirming 132 Fed. 68]; Parker v. New Orleans, etc., R. Co., 33 Fed. 693 [affirmed in 143 U. S. 42, 12 S. Ct. 364, 36 L. ed. 66]; Barnard v. Norwich, etc., R. Co., 2 Fed. Cas. No. 1,007, 4 Cliff. 351, 14 Nat. Bankr. Reg. 469; Dunham v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 8 Fed. Cas. No. 4,148 [reversed on other grounds in 1 Wall. 254, 17 L. ed. 584].

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," §§ 526, 527.

A covenant in the mortgage that the money secured should be applied to the equipment which should stand pledged is enforceable in equity, and therefore equity will sanction its voluntary performance. Pennock v. Coe, 23 How. (U. S.) 117, 16 L. ed. 436.

A covenant for further assurance, contained in a first mortgage executed by a railway company to trustees to secure its bonds, operates as an equitable lien upon the after-acquired property. Stevens v. Watson, 4 Abb. Dec. (N. Y.) 302, 45 How. Pr. 104.

Equity treats a mortgage of property to be afterward acquired, as a contract binding in conscience, to execute a mortgage upon it at the instant it comes into being, and will enforce specific performance; and if no specific performance is requested it considers the mortgage as already executed, and binds everybody to respect the equitable lien who knows of it, or without knowing of it has got the property without valuable consideration. Little Rock, etc., R. Co. v. Page, 35 Ark. 304.

1. Meyer v. Johnston, 53 Ala. 237, 64 Ala. 603.

2. Meyer v. Johnston, 53 Ala. 237, 64 Ala. 603.

3. New York Security, etc., Co. v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 102 Fed. 382.

4. New York Security, etc., Co. v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 102 Fed. 382.

5. Boston, etc., R. Co. v. Coffin, 50 Conn. 150 (holding that lands purchased after the mortgage is made pass, although the legal title was in the president and treasurer of the company in their private names, said lands having been procured with the funds of the company and being held in trust for it); Central Trust Co. v. Kneeland, 138 U. S. 414, 34 L. ed. 1014; Toledo, etc., R. Co. v. Hamilton, 134 U. S. 296, 10 S. Ct. 546, 33 L. ed. 905.

Inchoate rights.—A railroad mortgage covering after-acquired property attaches to the company's right to a deed of lands under a contract to convey, executed after the execution of the mortgage, and continues to attach to it as the right grows in value, whether the increased value arises from payments and improvements made by the company, or by a new consolidated company which took the entire property and assumed the first company's debts. Hamlin v. European, etc., R. Co., 72 Me. 83.

6. Meyer v. Johnston, 53 Ala. 237, 64 Ala. 603; Lake Erie, etc., R. Co. v. Priest, 131 Ind. 413, 31 N. E. 77; Williamson v. New Jersey Southern R. Co., 28 N. J. Eq. 277 [reversed on other grounds in 29 N. J. Eq. 311]; Central Trust Co. v. Kneeland, 138 U. S. 414, 11 S. Ct. 357, 34 L. ed. 1014; New Orleans, etc., R. Co. v. Mellen, 12 Wall. (U. S.) 362, 20 L. ed. 434; Western Union Tel. Co. v. Burlington, etc., R. Co., 11 Fed. 1, 3 McCrary 130.

7. Meyer v. Johnston, 53 Ala. 237, 64 Ala. 603; Lake Erie, etc., R. Co. v. Priest, 131 Ind. 413, 31 N. E. 77; Coe v. Delaware, etc., R. Co., 34 N. J. Eq. 266; Williamson v. New Jersey Southern R. Co., 28 N. J. Eq. 277 [reversed on other grounds in 29 N. J. Eq. 311]; New Orleans, etc., R. Co. v. Mellen, 12 Wall. (U. S.) 362, 20 L. ed. 434; Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Denver, etc., R. Co., 126 Fed. 46, 60 C. C. A. 588; Frank v. Denver, attached,[8] and especially as against claimants under a junior mortgage which by its terms is subject to the prior mortgage,[9] and against junior judgment creditors.[10] This latter rule, however, is subject to the qualification that, although the railroad mortgage is subject to liens and charges existing at the time it is acquired on rolling stock and other loose property susceptible of separate ownership and of separate liens,[11] yet in regard to rails and other articles which become affixed to and a part of the railroad, the lien of a prior mortgage will prevail in favor of bona fide creditors as against any encumbrance thereon in favor of the furnisher of the property,[12] as against a reservation of title in such furnisher or seller.[13]

(c) Necessity For Words of Futurity. It has been held that where a railroad company is empowered to mortgage all of its property, privileges, and franchises, such a mortgage is a conveyance of the property and franchises as an entire thing, and that therefore after-acquired property essential thereto passes as an incident or accession to the franchise to acquire property without the employment of words of futurity.[14] By the weight of authority, however, in order for a mortgage to pass after-acquired property, it should contain either words of futurity, or the language should at least be such as to show an intention to convey such property.[15]

(d) Property Must Be Necessary and Appurtenant to Road and Specifically Described. Ordinarily, in order that after-acquired property may be embraced in a railroad mortgage describing after-acquired property in general terms, it must be such property as appertains or is appurtenant to the road and is necessary to the enjoyment of the franchise or the operation of the road;[16] or if it is etc., R. Co., 23 Fed. 123; Loomis v. Davenport, etc., R. Co., 17 Fed. 301, 3 McCrary 489.

8. East Alabama R. Co. v. East Tennessee, etc., R. Co., 78 Ala. 275; Bell v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 34 La. Ann. 785; Stevens v. Watson, 4 Abb. Dec. (N. Y.) 302, 45 How. Pr. 104.

9. Pierce v. Emery, 32 N. H. 484; Stevens v. Watson, 4 Abb. Dec. (N. Y.) 302, 45 How. Pr. 104.

10. Stevens v. Watson, 4 Abb. Dec. (N. Y.) 302, 45 How. Pr. 104.

11. Fosdick v. Southwestern Car Co., 99 U. S. 256, 25 L. ed. 344; Fosdick v. Schall, 99 U. S. 235, 25 L. ed. 339 (holding that where the owner of rolling stock sold the same to a railroad company, reserving title in the cars until the purchase-price was paid, the lien of a mortgage executed prior to the sale covering after-acquired property did not attach to the rolling stock on its delivery to the company so as to defeat the seller of the right to reclaim it as against the mortgage); New Orleans, etc., R. Co. v. Mellen, 12 Wall. (U. S.) 362, 20 L. ed. 434.

12. Porter v. Pittsburg Bessemer Steel Co., 122 U. S. 267, 7 S. Ct. 1206, 30 L. ed. 1210, 120 U. S. 649, 7 S. Ct. 741, 30 L. ed. 830; New Orleans, etc., R. Co. v. Mellen, 12 Wall. (U. S.) 362, 20 L. ed. 434.

13. Porter v. Pittsburg Bessemer Steel Co., 122 U. S. 267, 7 S. Ct. 1206, 30 L. ed. 1210, 120 U. S. 649, 7 S. Ct. 741, 30 L. ed. 830. Compare Western Union Tel. Co. v. Burlington, etc., R. Co., 11 Fed. 1, 3 McCrary 130.

14. See Pierce v. Emery, 32 N. H. 484; Louisville Trust Co. v. Cincinnati Inclined-Plane R. Co., 91 Fed. 699; Parker v. New Orleans, etc., R. Co., 33 Fed. 693 [affirmed in 143 U. S. 42, 12 S. Ct. 364, 36 L. ed. 66]. Compare Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Commercial Bank, 11 Wis. 207, holding that the doctrine that where a railroad company mortgages its entire road and all its franchises, any after-acquired property will pass to the mortgagee as an incident to the franchise of acquiring property cannot be applied to a case where several mortgages are given on separate divisions of the road.

On the doctrine of accretion without particular mention of the property afterward acquired, a mortgage by a railroad company will pass under a general description, property subsequently acquired, which is essential to its use, and which may be fairly taken as a part and parcel of the road. Calhoun v. Memphis, etc., R. Co., 4 Fed. Cas. No. 2,309, 2 Flipp. 442.

15. St. Joseph, etc., R. Co. v. Smith, 170 Mo. 327, 70 S. W. 700; Seymour v. Canandaigua, etc., R. Co., 25 Barb. (N. Y.) 284, 14 How. Pr. 531; Pennock v. Coe, 23 How. (U. S.) 117, 16 L. ed. 436; Louisville Trust Co. v. Cincinnati Inclined-Plane R. Co., 91 Fed. 699, holding that there is nothing in the statutes of Ohio relating to the extension of lines of railroad, or authorizing a change in the proposed location of such lines, which has the effect of extending a railroad mortgage by operation of law, to cover after-acquired property which would not be included by the terms of the mortgage, construed by the rules of the common law.

A mortgage of "all and singular, its franchises and property, both real and personal" cannot be held by such language to include property subsequently acquired through the exercise of a franchise it then possesses for the purpose of adding to or extending its line. Louisville Trust Co. v. Cincinnati Inclined-Plane R. Co., 91 Fed. 699.

16. Morgan v. Donovan, 58 Ala. 241; Chi-

not such property, there must be a special description of it in the mortgage.[17] This does not mean, however, that the property should be property without which the railroad could not be operated; but it means all property reasonably necessary and convenient to the operation of the road, and includes such property as the company may thereafter deem it best to acquire for the most profitable use of the franchises and the greatest benefit to the public.[18]

(E) Right of Way and Other Lands. A general mortgage of a railroad company embracing its road and all after-acquired property appertaining or appurtenant to the road covers only lands which are appurtenant to and connected with the actual operation of the road;[19] and therefore does not include lands which do not appertain to or are not so connected with the road;[20] and if the intention is to include such after-acquired lands not so connected with the road, they should be described in the mortgage with reasonable certainty.[21] Thus such an after-acquired property clause has been held to include a hotel, erected on after-acquired land near a depot on the line of the road, for the purpose of an eating-house and to accommodate employees, passengers, and others,[22] or lands subsequently acquired for a right of way,[23] or lands purchased with the design of using them for railroad purposes, although they are subsequently found unsuitable for such purposes and not so used,[24] or lands subsequently contracted for for the purpose of acquiring additional facilities for the accommodation of engines and cars,[25] or lands over which the road is at the time located, although the title thereto or right of way therein is not acquired until subsequently;[26] but it has been held not to include a tract of land afterward purchased and laid out in town lots,[27] or lands donated by the government in aid of the construction of the road,[28] or lands obtained for subdivision and sale,[29] or a lot of woodland lying some distance from the track and used to supply wood and timber on the road,[30] or property acquired adjacent to depot grounds and leased for a barber shop, grocery, and other usages entirely foreign to the operation of the road.[31]

eago, etc., R. Co. v. Tice, 232 Ill. 232, 83 N. E. 818; Shirley v. Waco Tap R. Co., 78 Tex. 131, 10 S. W. 543; Pardee v. Aldridge, 189 U. S. 429, 23 S. Ct. 514, 47 L. ed. 883 [affirming 24 Tex. Civ. App. 254, 60 S. W. 789].

17. Shirley v. Waco Tap R. Co., 78 Tex. 131, 10 S. W. 543.

18. Buck v. Seymour, 46 Conn. 156.

19. Connecticut.— Boston, etc., R. Co. v. Coffin, 50 Conn. 150.

Michigan.— Pere Marquette R. Co. v. Graham, 136 Mich. 444, 99 N. W. 408.

Missouri.— St. Joseph, etc., R. Co. v. Smith, 170 Mo. 327, 70 S. W. 700, holding such mortgage to cover lands subsequently deeded to the company for a railroad right of way and railroad stock-yards and houses.

New York.— Stevens v. Watson, 4 Abb. Dec. 302, 45 How. Pr. 104.

Wisconsin.— Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Fisher, 17 Wis. 114.

United States.— Calhoun v. Memphis, etc., R. Co., 4 Fed. Cas. No. 2,309, 2 Flipp. 442, 8 Reporter 395.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 528.

The presumption is that after-acquired lands are necessary for the company and are properly acquired by it. Stevens v. Watson, 4 Abb. Dec. (N. Y.) 302, 45 How. Pr. 104.

20. Boston, etc., Air Line R. Co. v. Coffin, 50 Conn. 150; Mississippi Valley Co. v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 58 Miss. 896, 38 Am. Rep. 348; Walsh v. Barton, 24 Ohio St. 28; Pardee v. Aldridge, 189 U. S. 429, 23 S. Ct. 514, 47 L. ed. 883 [affirming 24 Tex. Civ. App. 254, 60 S. W. 789]; New Orleans, etc., R. Co. v. Union Trust Co., 41 Fed. 717.

21. Calhoun v. Memphis, etc., R. Co., 4 Fed. Cas. No. 2,309, 2 Flipp. 442, 8 Reporter 395.

22. Omaha, etc., R. Co. v. Wabash, etc., R. Co., 108 Mo. 298, 18 S. W. 1101; U. S. Trust Co. v. Wabash, etc., R. Co., 32 Fed. 480. Compare Mississippi Valley Co. v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 58 Miss. 896, 38 Am. Rep. 348.

23. Seymour v. Canandaigua, etc., R. Co., 25 Barb. (N. Y.) 284, 14 How. Pr. 531.

24. Hawkins v. Mercantile Trust, etc., Co., 96 Ga. 580, 23 S. E. 498.

25. Hamlin v. European, etc., R. Co., 72 Me. 83.

26. Pierce v. Milwaukee, etc., R. Co., 24 Wis. 551, 1 Am. Rep. 203.

27. Calhoun v. Memphis, etc., R. Co., 4 Fed. Cas. No. 2,309, 2 Flipp. 442, 8 Reporter 395.

28. Shirley v. Waco Tap R. Co., 78 Tex. 131, 10 S. W. 543; New Orleans Pac. R. Co. v. Parker, 143 U. S. 42, 12 S. Ct. 364, 36 L. ed. 66.

29. Pardee v. Aldridge, 189 U. S. 429, 23 S. Ct. 514, 47 L. ed. 883 [affirming 24 Tex. Civ. App. 254, 60 S. W. 789].

30. Dinsmore v. Racine, etc., R. Co., 12 Wis. 649.

31. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. McGuire, 31

Nor does such mortgage embrace lands which at the time of the execution of the mortgage the company had no right to accept and which are subsequently acquired under the authority of the legislature.[32]

(F) Rolling Stock and Other Personalty. Where the terms of the mortgage are sufficient to show such intention, a railroad mortgage will attach, in equity, to after-acquired rolling stock, as soon as it is acquired and placed upon the road,[33] and to tracks,[34] rails,[35] fuel,[36] and other supplies and personalty incident to and indispensable to the use and enjoyment of other property conveyed;[37] and the

Ind. App. 110, 65 N. E. 932, 99 Am. St. Rep. 249.

32. Meyer v. Johnston, 53 Ala. 237, 64 Ala. 603.

33. Alabama.— Meyer v. Johnston, 53 Ala. 237, 64 Ala. 603.

Kentucky.—Phillips v. Winslow, 18 B. Mon. 431, 68 Am. Dec. 729.

Maine.— Morrill v. Noyes, 56 Me. 458, 96 Am. Dec. 486.

Massachusetts.—Howe v. Freeman, 14 Gray 566, holding that cars subsequently purchased by the corporation were included in the mortgage, although the mortgagees had not taken possession for foreclosure.

Pennsylvania.— Philadelphia, etc., R. Co. v. Woelpper, 64 Pa. St. 366, 3 Am. Rep. 596.

United States.— Pennock v. Coe, 23 How. 117, 16 L. ed. 436; Manhattan Trust Co. v. Sioux City, etc., R. Co., 68 Fed. 72.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 529.

Illustrations.— Thus a mortgage which in terms covers "all the following, present, and in future to be acquired property" of the railroad company, naming in the description of such property its engines, cars, and machinery, covers not only cars, engines, and machinery in existence at the date of the mortgage but such as are to take their place and are subsequently added to them by the company. Shaw v. Bill, 95 U. S. 10, 24 L. ed. 333. So a mortgage covering all after-acquired property will include rolling stock, although it is personal property under the state constitution. Scott v. Clinton, etc., R. Co., 21 Fed. Cas. No. 12,527, 6 Biss. 529. So a trust deed by a corporation of all its lands, fixtures, structures, etc., then owned and thereafter to be owned, by it, includes cars, locomotives, and other rolling stock from time to time acquired by the company, either under its old name or its new name, after reorganization. Meyer v. Johnston, 53 Ala. 237, 64 Ala. 603. So a mortgage by a railroad company in Ohio, where the power exists, under the law, to mortgage after-acquired property, which, although it contains no after-acquired property clause in terms, includes the railroad and rolling stock, and all the tolls, incomes, issues, and profits to accrue from the same or any part thereof, extends to and covers also future-acquired rolling stock and equipment purchased for, and needed in the operation of, the road mortgaged, and without which the income covered by the mortgage could not be earned. Louisville Trust Co. v. Cincinnati Inclined-Plane R. Co., 91 Fed. 699. But a clause in a mortgage by a railroad company covering "all and singular, the cars and rolling stock . . . of said company" cannot be extended by construction to include any more than the cars and rolling stock then owned by the mortgagor. Louisville Trust Co. v. Cincinnati Inclined-Plane R. Co., supra.

Repairs and improvements upon rolling stock are in the nature of accessions to a mortgaged chattel and subject to the mortgage covering the rolling stock. Hamlin v. Jerrard, 72 Me. 62.

34. Mercantile Trust, etc., Co. v. Roanoke etc., R. Co., 109 Fed. 3.

Track laid on land of another company.— Where a railroad company furnishes the ties and rails and lays a spur track upon a road-bed owned by another, under an agreement between them, such track does not become a part of the realty, as between the parties, but remains the property of the company, and passes by a sale under a mortgage previously given by it, covering after-acquired property. Mercantile Trust, etc., Co. v. Roanoke, etc., R. Co., 109 Fed. 3.

35. Weetjen v. St. Paul, etc., R. Co., 4 Hun (N. Y.) 529.

36. Phillips v. Winslow, 18 B. Mon. (Ky.) 431, 68 Am. Dec. 729; Dunham v. Earl, 8 Fed. Cas. No. 4,149, holding that a mortgage expressly including all after-acquired personal property covers fuel collected and stored by the company for the use of its engines.

37. Kentucky.— Phillips v. Winslow, 18 B. Mon. 431, 68 Am. Dec. 729.

New Hampshire.— Pierce v. Emery, 32 N. H. 484.

New York.— Platt v. New York, etc., R. Co., 9 N. Y. App. Div. 87, 41 N. Y. Suppl. 42 [affirming 17 Misc. 22, 39 N. Y. Suppl. 871, and affirmed in 153 N. Y. 670, 48 N. E. 1106, 154 N. Y. 742, 49 N. E. 1103].

Ohio.— Coe v. Peacock, 14 Ohio St. 187.

Canada.— Lanark v. Cameron, 9 U. C. C. P. 109.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 529.

Office furniture.—A mortgage of railroad property, embracing after-acquired property, includes office furniture, suitable in kind and of the necessary amount, provided for the use of the employees of the company in the performance of their daily duties, as well as for the directors to transact their business. Ludlow v. Hurd, 1 Disn. (Ohio) 522, 12 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 791.

Property not included.—A mortgage containing the words: "And all other personal property belonging to said company, as the same now is in use by said company, or as the same may be hereafter changed or re-fact that the transaction by which the property is obtained is called a lease does not vary this rule, if it is in reality a sale, and the title is retained in the so-called lessor as security for the purchase-price,[38] although the mortgage will attach in such case subject to such lien or encumbrance;[39] and such mortgagee's lien will be superior to the claims of subsequent creditors, purchasers, and mortgagees,[40] but subject to liens or encumbrances existing upon it when acquired.[41] But the mere fact that rolling stock is placed upon a railroad does not affix it thereto, and therefore a mortgage, although in terms covering after-acquired rolling stock, does not attach to rolling stock temporarily placed upon the road under a contract with the company then operating it.[42]

(G) Enlarged or Extended Road. A mortgage upon the road and all property, privileges, franchises, etc., acquired and to be acquired, will embrace a portion of the road projected or contemplated at the time of the execution of the mortgage but thereafter completed or constructed,[43] notwithstanding a change in the route if it is in the general direction authorized,[44] and notwithstanding a consolidation with other companies and change of name,[45] and although it is completed by a contractor on the company's failure to do so.[46] Such a mortgage will also embrace a subsequently purchased road or right of way which is within the chartered limits of the mortgagor company, and which it might have constructed if it had not been purchased;[47] or a subsequently acquired or constructed newed by said company," does not embrace certain machinery for "burnetizing" ties and timber so as to render them more durable, which machinery was not in existence at the time of the mortgage, and took the place of nothing that was therein specified. Brainerd v. Peck, 34 Vt. 496. So a mortgage by a railroad company of its stock, materials, and every other kind of personal property which shall be used for operating said railroad does not profess to cover railroad chairs afterward bought by the company, but which were never used. Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Commercial Bank, 11 Wis. 207, 15 Wis. 424, 82 Am. Dec. 689. So where a railroad company by virtue of an act of the legislature mortgaged not all of the property "then" owned by both the new and old portions of the road, but "all the property of said extension subsequently to be acquired," it was held that wood subsequently purchased with the earnings and for the use of the whole road and not belonging exclusively to the extension would not pass by the mortgage, and might therefore be attached. Bath v. Miller, 53 Me. 308.

38. Kentucky Contracting, etc., Co. v. Continental Trust Co., 108 Fed. 1, 47 C. C. A. 143.

39. Kentucky Contracting, etc., Co. v. Continental Trust Co., 108 Fed. 1, 47 C. C. A. 143. See Fosdick v. Southwestern Car Co., 99 U. S. 256, 25 L. ed. 344; Fosdick v. Schall, 99 U. S. 235, 25 L. ed. 339.

40. Pierce v. Emery, 32 N. H. 484 (holding that under the mortgage in this case the trustees were entitled to hold personal property, acquired by the road after the mortgage, against subsequent mortgagees of the specific property so acquired); Weetjen v. St. Paul, etc., R. Co., 4 Hun (N. Y.) 529 (holding that where a mortgage of railroad property provided that it should cover all after-acquired property, and iron rails acquired after the execution of the mortgage were pledged to firms of which the trustee under the mortgage was a member, to secure advances made thereon to the road, the knowledge of the trustee was the knowledge of the firm, and the latter could not claim to hold the iron as bona fide purchasers without notice as against the bondholders); Ludlow v. Hurd, 1 Disn. (Ohio) 522, 12 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 791; Pennock v. Coe, 23 How. (U. S.) 117, 16 L. ed. 436 (holding that the mortgage was superior to the claims of subsequent mortgagees and bondholders who recovered judgment, issued execution, and had it levied on part of the rolling stock of the company which was not in existence when the first mortgage was given); Scott v. Clinton, etc., R. Co., 21 Fed. Cas. No. 12,527, 6 Biss. 529, execution creditor.

41. Meyer v. Johnston, 53 Ala. 237, 64 Ala. 603.

42. Hardesty v. Pyle, 15 Fed. 778.

43. Meyer v. Johnston, 53 Ala. 237, 64 Ala. 603; Hatry v. Painesville, etc., R. Co., 1 Ohio Cir. Ct. 426, 1 Ohio Cir. Dec. 238; Texas Western R. Co. v. Gentry, 69 Tex. 625, 8 S. W. 98; New York Guaranty Trust Co. v. Atlantic Coast Electric R. Co., 132 Fed. 68; Central Trust Co. v. Chattanooga, etc., R. Co., 89 Fed. 388.

44. Meyer v. Johnston, 53 Ala. 237, 64 Ala. 603; Elwell v. Grand St., etc., R. Co., 67 Barb. (N. Y.) 83, holding that a mortgage upon a projected railroad, describing the road according to plans, should be enforced against the road as built, although the plans are changed in favor of persons who have loaned money upon the faith of it.

45. Meyer v. Johnston, 64 Ala. 603.

46. Dunham v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 1 Wall. (U. S.) 254, 17 L. ed. 584.

47. East Alabama R. Co. v. Tennessee, etc., R. Co., 78 Ala. 274; Branch v. Jesup, 106 U. S. 468, 1 S. Ct. 495, 27 L. ed. 279; Cen-branch road or spur track,[48] although not in contemplation at the time of the mortgage;[49] and may be broad enough to embrace a leasehold of another road, subsequently leased to be used in connection with its own road.[50] But it does not include a line of road afterward unauthorizedly constructed[51] or purchased;[52] nor does it cover a lease, of its own road, to which the mortgagee was not a party;[53] or a separate branch road thereafter constructed under a special charter,[54] or amendment of its original charter;[55] or a subsequently purchased road, which at the time of its purchase is not connected with the mortgagor's road.[56] So a mortgage in terms limited to the road then owned does not cover an after-acquired line or extension;[57] and a mortgage by one railroad company which built part of the road and then abandoned its operation does not cover that part of the road which is completed by another and separate company.[58] Nor does a mortgage of the main line from one terminus to another and the franchises acquired and to be acquired pertaining to that line, cover lands and franchises thereafter acquired through an extension of the road beyond one terminus, since the extension is not a part of the main line, or pertaining thereto, although acquired to be used in connection therewith.[59]

(H) Earnings, Income, and Other Funds. A railroad mortgage of future earnings or income is inoperative at law,[60] and even in equity a mortgage of the future earnings of the road does not embrace the proceeds of a subsequent extension constructed under authority of an amendment to the company's charter, as against attaching creditors of such proceeds.[61] But ordinarily, in equity, the mortgagee's security extends to income subsequently accruing, even after default.[62] When a railroad mortgage purporting to cover net income or earnings specifies the lines from which such income is to be derived, the lines so described constitute the income fund pledged,[63] and in ascertaining the net income the company cantral Trust Co. v. Washington County R. Co., 124 Fed. 813.

48. Coe v. Delaware, etc., R. Co., 34 N. J. Eq. 266; Seymour v. Canandaigua, etc., R. Co., 25 Barb. (N. Y.) 284, 14 How. Pr. 531 (holding the mortgage to cover a branch road from the main track which was not laid out or even projected at the time of the original location, as a legitimate incident to the main road); Central Trust Co. v. Washington County R. Co., 124 Fed. 813.

49. Coe v. Delaware, etc., R. Co., 34 N. J. Eq. 266, holding that when a mortgage is given by a railroad company on its franchises and on its road to be thereafter built, and a branch road, not in contemplation at the date of such encumbrance, is afterward laid and built, such branch road will pass under such mortgage, subject to the burdens put upon it by the company in the course, and as incidents of, its acquisition.

50. Guaranty Trust Co. v. Atlantic Coast Electric R. Co., 138 Fed. 517 [affirming 132 Fed. 68]; Columbia Finance, etc., Co. v. Kentucky Union R. Co., 60 Fed. 794, 9 C. C. A. 264 (holding that a railroad mortgage covering "all the corporate rights, privileges, franchises, and immunities, and all things in action, contracts, claims, and demands of the said party of the first part, whether now owned or hereafter acquired in connection or relating to the said railroad," is sufficient to include a subsequently acquired lease of a belt railway whereby the company acquired access to a city at one of its terminals); Barnard v. Norwich, etc., R. Co., 2 Fed. Cas. No. 1,007, 4 Cliff. 351. See Central Trust Co. v. Kneeland, 138 U. S. 414, 11 S. Ct. 357, 34 L. ed. 1014.

Title to such leased road is good in the hands of the trustee under the mortgage, as against subsequent assignees in bankruptcy of the mortgagor. Barnard v. Norwich, etc., R. Co., 2 Fed. Cas. No. 1,007, 4 Cliff. 351.

51. Hodder v. Kentucky, etc., R. Co., 7 Fed. 793.

52. Hodder v. Kentucky, etc., R. Co., 7 Fed. 793.

53. Moran v. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co., 32 Fed. 878.

54. Meyer v. Johnston, 53 Ala. 237, 64 Ala. 603.

55. Alexandria, etc., R. Co. v. Graham, 31 Gratt. (Va.) 769.

56. Murray v. Farmville, etc., R. Co., 101 Va. 262, 43 S. E. 553.

57. Louisville Trust Co. v. Cincinnati Inclined-Plane R. Co., 91 Fed. 699.

58. Smythe v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 22 Fed. Cas. No. 13,135, 8 Reporter 709. See Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Lowenthal, 93 Ill. 433.

59. Randolph v. New Jersey West Line R. Co., 28 N. J. Eq. 49.

60. Emerson v. European, etc., R. Co., 67 Me. 387, 24 Am. Rep. 39.

61. Alexandria, etc., R. Co. v. Graham, 31 Gratt. (Va.) 769.

62. Central Trust Co. v. Chattanooga, etc., R. Co., 94 Fed. 275, 36 C. C. A. 241.

63. Spies v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 40 Fed. 34, 6 L. R. A. 565.

not charge against the income of such lines the expenses or losses incurred in operating additional after-acquired lines.[64]

(VIII) ESTOPPEL OF MORTGAGOR AND MORTGAGEE. The estoppel of the mortgagor and mortgagee to a railroad mortgage to dispute title is regulated by the rules governing mortgages generally.[65] The mere fact that a subsequent mortgage declares that it is subject to certain prior mortgages given by the railroad company, and that they are superior liens on the property therein described, acquired and to be acquired, does not estop the company from denying that such prior mortgages covered certain property embraced in the subsequent mortgage.[66] An erroneous recital of the resolution of the directors authorizing the execution of a mortgage does not estop the mortgagee to show the correct resolution, authorizing a mortgage of after-acquired property.[67]

e. Debts and Obligations Secured — (I) IN GENERAL. What debts and obligations are secured by a particular railroad mortgage is governed by the rules regulating the debts and obligations secured by mortgages generally.[68] Thus where the mortgage purports to secure certain coupons and bonds and substantially describes the same, it will secure the debt evidenced thereby,[69] although the coupons and bonds were irregularly issued.[70] But where the mortgage in terms secures an indebtedness of a specified class or kind, it cannot be made to cover obligations or liabilities not falling within the designated class.[71] A provision in the mortgage for compensation to the trustees for services which they may render does not give to such a trustee a lien for his services.[72] In the absence of an agreement otherwise, where certificates of indebtedness secured by a mortgage are exchanged for preferred stock, the holders of such stock are merely stock-holders and hold it in subordination to the claims of the residue of the holders of the certificates of indebtedness, under the mortgage.[73]

(II) BONDS ISSUED UNDER MORTGAGE. What bonds or bonded indebtedness is secured by a railroad mortgage depends upon the terms of the mortgage construed in connection with the company's charter or governing statutes and the circumstances attending its execution; [74] and if there is any doubt or ambiguity as to whether certain bonds are secured by a particular mortgage it may be removed by parol evidence,[75] as by evidence that no other bonds were executed or issued than those it is claimed the mortgage secures.[76] If it clearly appears from the evidence that the bonds in question are the ones referred to in the mortgage ordinarily it is sufficient to show that they are the bonds secured.[77] Thus bonds

64. Spies v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 40 Fed. 34, 6 L. R. A. 565.

65. See MORTGAGES, 27 Cyc. 1153.

66. Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Racine Commercial Bank, 15 Wis. 424, 82 Am. Dec. 689.

67. Hatry v. Painesville, etc., R. Co., 1 Ohio Cir. Ct. 426, 1 Ohio Cir. Dec. 238.

68. See, generally, MORTGAGES, 27 Cyc. 1056 et seq.

Any doubt or ambiguity as to whether a certain indebtedness is secured by a particular mortgage may be removed by parol evidence. Butler v. Rahm, 46 Md. 541.

69. Mason v. York, etc., R. Co., 52 Me. 82.

70. Mason v. York, etc., R. Co., 52 Me. 82.

71. Mason v. York, etc., R. Co., 52 Me. 82, holding that a mortgage to secure the payment of certain bonds and coupons does not secure the claim of an indorser of notes of the company.

72. Mercantile Trust, etc., Co. v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 99 N. C. 139, 5 S. E. 417.

73. Phillips v. Eastern R. Co., 138 Mass. 122.

74. See Day v. Ogdensburgh, etc., R. Co., 107 N. Y. 129, 15 N. E. 765 (holding that where first consolidated mortgage bonds and income mortgage bonds are issued, only the principal of the latter being secured by the mortgage, interest being payable out of the net earnings as determined by the directors, such income bondholders have no lien on the road for the payment of the interest and are bound by the decision of the directors); Atwood v. Shenandoah Valley R. Co., 85 Va. 966, 9 S. E. 748.

Where the state guarantees bonds of a railroad company issued in exchange for its outstanding mortgage bonds, with the provision that the bonds so taken up shall stand as security to the state until all the bonds secured by mortgage shall be retired, the state is entitled to the benefit of the mortgage as regards the mortgage bonds taken up so long as any of such bonds remain outstanding. Gibbes v. Greenville, etc., R. Co., 13 S. C. 228.

75. Butler v. Rahm, 46 Md. 541.

76. Butler v. Rahm, 46 Md. 541.

77. Butler v Rahm, 46 Md. 541.

dated prior to the date of the mortgage are secured thereby where they are clearly described in the mortgage and there is nothing in the mortgage inconsistent with the fact that they had been before executed.[78] A mortgage executed to secure bonds issued for a certain purpose does not secure bonds issued for a different purpose or bonds illegally issued, except as they come into the hands of bona fide purchasers for value and without notice.[79] A mortgage made to secure bonds to be thereafter issued is inoperative as security unless the bonds are actually issued to bona fide creditors, before the liens of other creditors attach to the property conveyed.[80] Where a statute authorizes a general mortgage for the benefit of creditors but contains no provision for contingent liabilities, bonds of another company indorsed and guaranteed by the mortgagor company, but not yet due, are not covered by the security of such mortgage.[81] Where a mortgage provides for the retirement of certain bonds without providing for the manner of effecting such retirement, the mode thereof is in the discretion of the company and in order for a bondholder to participate in the security of the mortgage he must comply with the terms dictated by it.[82] Consent by the holders of a portion of first mortgage bonds to the issue of preference bonds of like character to be a lien on the road prior to their bonds is a mere equitable mortgage or pledge of the interest under the first mortgage of those who consented, as security for the payment of the preference bonds,[83] and does not change the rights under the mortgage of the non-assenting bondholders.[84]

f. Rights, Duties, and Liabilities of Mortgagees and Trustees[85] — (i) APPOINTMENT, TENURE, AND REMOVAL. As in the case of other mortgages,[86] a railroad mortgage or deed of trust may make express provision for the removal or appointment of a trustee upon the death, resignation, removal, absence, disability, or refusal to act of one or more of the trustees first named,[87] in which case the mode of supplying vacancies provided for in the mortgage governs the appointment and not the general law.[88] Ordinarily the mortgage provides that upon the vacancy of a trusteeship all of the trustee's estate, right, interest, power, and control shall be divested and cease,[89] and that the trust estate shall vest in the remaining trustee or trustees with or without power to fill vacancies;[90] or that the vacancy shall be supplied by the remaining trustees as by appointment from the bondholders;[91] or that a successor shall be appointed by the bondholders,[92] or by the company;[93] or that a successor shall be approved or appointed

78. Butler v. Rahm, 46 Md. 541.

79. Central Trust Co. v. California, etc., R. Co., 110 Fed. 70.

80. Allen v. Montgomery, 11 Ala. 437.

81. Merchants' Nat. Bank v. Eastern R. Co., 124 Mass. 518.

82. Claflin v. South Carolina R. Co., 8 Fed. 118, 4 Hughes 12.

83. Poland v. Lamoille Valley R. Co., 52 Vt. 144.

84. Poland v. Lamoille Valley R. Co., 52 Vt. 144.

85. Liability for injuries arising from operation of road see infra, X, C, 8.

86. See MORTGAGES, 27 Cyc. 1046 et seq.

87. See Pillsbury v. Consolidated European, etc., R. Co., 69 Me. 394.

Collateral attack.— Where a change of trustee has been made in apparent conformity to the mortgage, the legality of the change cannot be collaterally determined on the application of individual bondholders to be permitted to intervene in a suit to foreclose the mortgage instituted by the substituted trustee. Bowling Green Trust Co. v. Virginia Pass., etc., Co., 132 Fed. 921.

88. Macon, etc., R. Co. v. Georgia R. Co. 63 Ga. 103; Pillsbury v. Consolidated European, etc., R. Co., 69 Me. 394.

89. Pillsbury v. Consolidated European, etc., R. Co., 69 Me. 394.

90. Ellis v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 107 Mass. 1.

91. Richards v. Merrimack, etc., R. Co., 44 N. H. 127, holding also that the election of persons who have procured bonds for the purpose of qualifying themselves for trusteeship will not be invalid if no intention of fraud is shown.

92. Tarbell's Appeal, 7 Pa. Super. Ct. 283, holding that where a clause in a railroad mortgage provides that in the event of the resignation or refusal to act of the trustee, the railroad company shall have power to appoint a new trustee, but that any trustee thus appointed may at any time be superseded by a new appointment made by the holders of a majority of the bonds secured by the mortgage, the bondholders may, upon the resignation of such a trustee, appoint a successor without an application to the court.

93. Tarbell's Appeal, 7 Pa. Super. Ct. 283.

by a designated court,[94] upon a proper proceeding by the bondholders,[95] or by the directors of the company.[96] And although it may be provided by statute that in the absence of a provision in the mortgage for supplying such vacancy, a designated court may appoint a new trustee,[97] a court of equity may, for a sufficient reason,[98] and upon a proper application and notice, make a removal and new appointment independently of statutory authority or any directions in the mortgage; [99] and to a proceeding in equity for such a removal or appointment the mortgagor and surviving trustees are necessary parties.[1] Power of the court in this respect is not defeated by the formation of a new corporation by a majority of the bondholders; [2] or by a foreclosure promoted by the bondholders, the trustees not being parties thereto, and a sale of the equity of redemption on execution to the new corporation; [3] or by the creation of a new debt, secured by a mortgage, for the extension of the road; [4] or by estoppel through laches and because a majority of the bonds was represented at the organization of the new corporation.[5] Except where the mortgage or deed of trust provides that the same title and power shall vest in the successors,[6] the appointment of a new 94. Pillsbury v. Consolidated European, etc., R. Co., 69 Me. 394.

Notice of approval.— If the mortgage provides for filling a vacancy by a nomination ex parte of one of the beneficiaries and approval by the judge of the superior court, notice to the mortgagor of the application for approval is not required. Macon, etc., R. Co. v. Georgia R. Co., 63 Ga. 103.

95. Pillsbury v. Consolidated European, etc., R. Co., 69 Me. 394, request in writing by one or more bondholders.

96. Pillsbury v. Consolidated European, etc., R. Co., 69 Me. 394.

97. See Pillsbury v. Consolidated European, etc., R. Co., 69 Me. 394.

98. See Beadleson v. Knapp, 13 Abb. Pr. N. S. (N. Y.) 335.

A trustee's refusal to convey trust property as required by a decree of foreclosure of a mortgage is cause for removal in the absence of an adequate reason for such refusal. Harrison v. Union Trust Co., 144 N. Y. 326, 39 N. E. 353.

Misappropriation of funds.— Where a trustee is appointed by a surety company of a sinking fund to pay the company's debts and the trust deed allows him to invest the moneys in such securities as the president or board of directors might recommend but without any previous direction he loans a portion to a firm of which he is a senior member and which soon afterward becomes insolvent, he should be removed and a receiver appointed to take charge of the funds pending an investigation of his acts (North Carolina R. Co. v. Wilson, 81 N. C. 223), and his misconduct in this respect is not relieved by his taking collaterals to secure such loan which he thought to be good at the time of taking them (North Carolina R. Co. v. Wilson, supra).

99. In re Anson, 85 Me. 79, 26 Atl. 996; Tarbell's Appeal, 7 Pa. Super. Ct. 283. But see Washington, etc., R. Co. v. Alexandria, etc., R. Co., 19 Gratt. (Va.) 592, 100 Am. Dec. 710, holding that if the deed of trust provides for notice to the president or a director of the company, the jurisdiction of the court depends upon the giving of such notice.

Special statutory provisions regarding the election of trustees by the bondholders are merely cumulative and not restrictive and therefore do not interfere with the equity jurisdiction of the court to appoint a new trustee in such case. In re Anson, 85 Me. 79, 26 Atl. 996.

Notice.— An order substituting a new trustee without the required notice for one who has gone and remains in the enemy's line in time of war is null and void. Washington, etc., R. Co. v. Alexandria, etc., R. Co., 19 Gratt. (Va.) 592, 100 Am. Dec. 710.

A non-resident and absent trustee may be removed by a court of equity and the appointment of another in his stead be made ex parte, where service on the absent trustee is impossible. Ketchum v. Mobile, etc., R. Co., 14 Fed. Cas. No. 7,737, 2 Woods 532.

That the absent trustee is within a country at war with the country in which the court is sitting does not detract from its power to remove him and appoint another but furnishes a good reason for its exercise. And where such trustee soon after the cessation of hostilities learns of his removal and the appointment of another in his stead and for an unreasonable length of time makes no claim to his trusteeship and does not act as trustee, he will be held to have abandoned his office as trustee and to have acquiesced in the appointment of his successor. Ketchum v. Mobile, etc., R. Co., 14 Fed. Cas. No. 7,737, 2 Woods 532.

1. In re Anson, 85 Me. 79, 26 Atl. 996.

A creditor whose claim is payable out of a sinking fund for which a trustee has been appointed is not a necessary party to a proceeding for the trustee's removal. North Carolina R. Co. v. Wilson, 81 N. C. 223.

2. In re Anson, 85 Me. 79, 26 Atl. 996.

3. In re Anson, 85 Me. 79, 26 Atl. 996.

4. In re Anson, 85 Me. 79, 26 Atl. 996.

5. In re Anson, 85 Me. 79, 26 Atl. 996.

6. Craft v. Indiana, etc., R. Co., 166 Ill. 580, 46 N. E. 1132 (holding that trustees lawfully appointed to succeed deceased trustees originally appointed may execute a power of sale thereunder without an additional written conveyance of the property to them where the trustee is not complete until the property is vested in him and therefore the court usually embraces in a decree appointing such trustee a direction for a proper conveyance to him from his co-trustees.[7] The power of removal is not absolute and a removal cannot be made capriciously or except for sufficient causes, affecting the faithfulness and capacity of the trustee,[8] or the interest of the cestuis que trustent,[9] or perhaps on account of public interest.[10] It is also well settled in chancery practice that trustees are not to be removed or discharged from part of their trust leaving them burdened and responsible for the remainder;[11] nor will such a trust be discharged until fully performed or the cestuis que trustent are in a condition to manage it themselves.[12] As the trustee's duties are personal in their character and incapable of delegation, his office of trustee becomes vacant by his voluntarily removing to and becoming a resident of a foreign country;[13] but a citizen of the United States may act as trustee in any state in the Union.[14] A trustee, once having assumed his office, is morally and legally bound to continue in the performance of his duties until discharged by an order of the court of chancery,[15] or by the unanimous consent of the cestuis que trustent,[16] which in case a number of such cestuis que trustent are under a disability can be had only through the agency of a court of equity.[17] The fact that the trustee parts with the bonds required by his qualification does not prevent him from being charged as trustee.[18]

(II) NATURE OF DUTIES. The duties of trustees under a railroad mortgage are regulated by the general rules of law which affect all trustees;[19] and the law of the state where the mortgage is executed and the mortgaged property situated furnishes the rule for determining the rights of mortgagees after condition broken.[20] The duties assumed by a trustee to whom a railroad mortgage is made for the benefit of bondholders are those which are defined by the instrument creating the trust,[21] and such other duties as are imposed upon him by the relation of the parties and the situation and character of the trust property, which duties may change from time to time as circumstances change.[22] Until the actual foreclosure deed provides that upon the death of the trustees therein named the same title and powers vested in them shall vest in their successors); Ellis v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 107 Mass. 1.

7. Pillsbury v. Consolidated European, etc., R. Co., 69 Me. 394; Ellis v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 107 Mass. 1.

8. Beadleson v. Knapp, 13 Abb. Pr. N. S. (N. Y.) 335 (holding that a trustee will not be removed on the ground that he declines to employ counsel for the foreclosure of a first mortgage and declines to elect to act as trustee under one of the mortgages and to resign his trusteeship under the other, where it appears that his action is the result of sound judgment on his part and not against the interest of any of the bondholders); Sturges v. Knapp, 31 Vt. 1.

9. Sturges v. Knapp, 31 Vt. 1.

10. Sturges v. Knapp, 31 Vt. 1.

11. Sturges v. Knapp, 31 Vt. 1.

12. Sturges v. Knapp, 31 Vt. 1.

13. Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Hughes, 11 Hun (N. Y.) 130; Hughes v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 47 N. Y. Super. Ct. 531.

14. Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 27 Fed. 146.

15. Sturges v. Knapp, 31 Vt. 1. Compare Tarbell's Appeal, 7 Pa. Super. Ct. 283.

16. Sturges v. Knapp, 31 Vt. 1.

17. Sturges v. Knapp, 31 Vt. 1.

18. Richards v. Merrimack, etc., R. Co., 44 N. H. 127.

19. First Nat. F. Ins. Co. v. Salisbury, 130 Mass. 303. See also, generally, MORTGAGES, 27 Cyc. 1229 et seq.; TRUSTS.

20. Dow v. Memphis, etc., R. Co., 20 Fed. 260.

Me. Rev. St. (1857) c. 51, § 51, and St. (1858) c. 30, relating to trustees of railroads apply to cases where the trust, the trustee, and the cestuis que trustent are all created by one and the same instrument; and not to a case where a mortgage is made to an individual to secure him and his assigns who subsequently became holders of the bonds to be issued by him; and should such a mortgagee transfer any part of the bonds, he would hold the mortgaged estate as mortgagee for the part not transferred and as trustee for the holders of the portion transferred precisely as any mortgagee would do under similar circumstances, but neither before nor after such transfer would he be such a trustee as the statute contemplates. In re York, etc., R. Co., 50 Me. 552, 52 Me. 82.

21. Frishmuth v. Farmers' L. & T. Co., 95 Fed. 5 [affirmed in 107 Fed. 169, 46 C. C. A. 222]; Denver, etc., R. Co. v. U. S. Trust Co., 41 Fed. 720 (construction of authority to issue bonds); Riker v. Alsop, 27 Fed. 251.

22. Sturges v. Knapp, 31 Vt. 1; Frishmuth v. Farmers' L. & T. Co., 95 Fed. 5 [affirmed in 107 Fed. 169, 46 C. C. A. 222].

Bailees or agents.— Where boats are delivered to mortgage trustees of a railroad com-of the mortgage the trusts imposed upon the trustees are ordinarily entirely fiduciary and executory;[23] and where the mortgage deed is amply secured, and so long as prompt payment is made, the office of the trustees is rather passive and their duties are ordinarily performed by the corporation or its officers.[24] After a forfeiture occurs, however, either by non-payment of interest or principal, or both, the duties of the trustees become active and responsible.[25] It then becomes their duty to take possession of the road and its fixtures and to manage and control the same for the benefit of all parties interested.[26] If the principal or interest on bonds become due and is unpaid and the trustees have not the means to pay it, it will be their absolute duty to proceed against the property.[27]

(III) Extent of Duties in General. Within the limitations of the above rules, it is the duty of the trustee in possession to manage the property in a reasonably prudent and careful manner so as to keep it in a good state of preservation in order to make it available for the payment of the bonds both both principal and interest,[28] being authorized for this purpose to institute and defend proceedings affecting the trust property,[29] to incur necessary expenses,[30] and even under some circumstances to borrow money upon receiver's certificates.[31] This must be so until some organization of the bondholders and the acquiring of some capacity to act by a majority, or in some such way as to enable them to discharge the new class of duties thrown upon them by the forfeiture of the condition of the mortgage and the surrendering of the road with its incidents and fixtures.[32] The trustee must take care that the property is not wasted or depreciated,[33] and that its income is not improperly diverted from the payment of principal or interest on the mortgage debt as it accrues,[34] and that the proceeds of the obligations and securities are properly applied to purposes of the trust.[35] The rule in ordinary cases is that the mortgagee can always claim the rents, income, or profits of the mortgaged property, after forfeiture of the mortgage;[36] but he is required to be active in making the claim, either by giving notice to the tenants or lessees in possession or by filing his bill for the purpose of foreclosure in a court of equity,[37] or if the road be in the hands of a third party, by demanding pany which are not included in the mortgage, the trustees become bailees or agents of the company with all its rights as against strangers interfering with the boats. Parish v. Wheeler, 22 N. Y. 494.

23. Sturges v. Knapp, 31 Vt. 1.

24. Sturges v. Knapp, 31 Vt. 1; Frishmuth v. Farmers' L. & T. Co., 95 Fed. 5 [affirmed in 107 Fed. 169, 46 C. C. A. 222].

25. Sturges v. Knapp, 31 Vt. 1.

26. Sturges v. Knapp, 31 Vt. 1. And see infra, VIII, A, 7, f, (VIII).

27. Florida v. Anderson, 91 U. S. 667, 23 L. ed. 290.

28. Sturges v. Knapp, 31 Vt. 1. See U. S. Trust Co. v. Wabash Western R. Co., 150 U. S. 287, 14 S. Ct. 86, 37 L. ed. 1085.

29. Seney v. Wabash Western R. Co., 150 U. S. 310, 14 S. Ct. 94, 37 L. ed. 1092; U. S. Trust Co. v. Wabash Western R. Co., 150 U. S. 287, 14 S. Ct. 86, 37 L. ed. 1085.

Notice.— Trustees of a railroad mortgage of a leased line who are parties to a bill under which a receiver is appointed for the lessee company are bound to take notice of all orders to the receiver affecting their interests and if they deem such orders injurious should at once ask the court to cancel or modify the same. U. S. Trust Co. v. Wabash Western R. Co., 150 U. S. 287, 14 S. Ct. 86, 37 L. ed. 1085.

30. See infra, VIII, A, 7, f, (IX).

31. Shaw v. Little Rock, etc., R. Co., 100 U. S. 605, 25 L. ed. 757, holding, however, that except under extraordinary circumstances, the power of the court ought never to be exercised in enabling the trustees, where the railroad is unfinished, to borrow money by reason of receivers' certificates which create a paramount lien upon the property, in order to complete the work.

32. Sturges v. Knapp, 31 Vt. 1.

33. First Nat. F. Ins. Co. v. Salisbury, 130 Mass. 303.

34. First Nat. F. Ins. Co. v. Salisbury, 130 Mass. 303.

Where money applicable to the payment of bonds comes into the hands of the trustees, each bondholder becomes immediately entitled to the share of the money applicable to his bond, and can immediately recover the same. Dwight v. Smith, 13 Fed. 50.

35. Little Rock, etc., R. Co. v. Huntington, 120 U. S. 160, 7 S. Ct. 517, 30 L. ed. 591; Frishmuth v. Farmers' L. & T. Co., 95 Fed. 5.

36. Johnston v. Riddle, 70 Ala. 219.

37. Johnston v. Riddle, 70 Ala. 219; U. S. Trust Co. v. Wabash Western R. Co., 150 U. S. 287, 14 S. Ct. 86, 37 L. ed. 1085, holding that, where the mortgagees demand immediate possession and the court without their assent makes an order for surrendering to them after thirty days, they are equitably entitled to rentals for that period; but if on the other possession of such party;[38] and in the absence of a claim by notice, he obtains no lien on such rents, income, or profits, by the mere filing of his bill, or even by the service of a summons on defendants.[39] To secure this right or lien, he must procure the appointment of a receiver by the court;[40] and until notice is given by taking possession or otherwise, or a receiver is duly appointed, the mortgagor is entitled to continue his enjoyment of the rents, he being regarded, in equity, as the real and true owner of the property as against everybody excepting only the mortgagee.[41] A trustee cannot waive defaults and release the mortgagor company from its obligations to the bondholders,[42] nor has he power to change or impair any legal right of the bondholders.[43] Before an actual foreclosure of the mortgage the trustees are the only responsible parties in regard to the management of the property;[44] and they cannot be relieved from this responsibility except by a decree of a court of chancery.[45] After foreclosure, although the contingent interests are mostly cut off and the number and character of the ultimate cestuis que trustent very much changed, the duties of the trustees and the necessity of their continuing to act remain much the same.[46] A trustee cannot delegate the performance of his duties to another;[47] nor can any one but the trustee enforce the covenants and conditions of the mortgage,[48] or take proper measures to protect the interests of bondholders in respect to matters not provided for by the terms of the instrument.[49] Where a bondholder has a statutory lien on a railroad he cannot avail himself of it directly as he could if it were a mortgage given to secure the bonds alone, but he must induce the trustees to act in the mode pointed out by statute.[50]

(IV) REPRESENTATION OF MORTGAGOR, BONDHOLDERS, AND OTHER BENEFICIARIES. While a trustee is selected by the mortgagor and represents it,[51] he also represents those who may become the holders of the bonds and is bound to act in good faith and exercise reasonable care and prudence for the protection of their interests,[52] and must not be guilty of any acts of fraud or collusion,[53] or hand an order is entered by consent giving them possession at the end of thirty days, they are not entitled to rentals for the intervening time.

Money voluntarily deposited to the credit of the trustee for the payment of coupons cannot be claimed by him, where he has not taken possession or run the road, or taken any action against the company by virtue of the trust deed. Coe v. Beckwith, 31 Barb. (N. Y.) 339, 10 Abb. Pr. 296. But if the company runs the road and deposits money from the income to the credit of the trustee, upon the same trusts as those specified by the mortgage, he by that act acquires a title thereto. Coe v. Beckwith, supra. Authority for such deposits by the directors may be presumed, as it would be a breach of duty for them to make such deposits without authority. Coe v. Beckwith, supra.

38. U. S. Trust Co. v. Wabash Western R. Co., 150 U. S. 287, 14 S. Ct. 86, 37 L. ed. 1085.

39. Johnston v. Riddle, 70 Ala. 219.

40. Johnston v. Riddle, 70 Ala. 219.

41. Johnston v. Riddle, 70 Ala. 219.

42. Hollister v. Stewart, 111 N. Y. 644, 19 N. E. 782.

43. Hollister v. Stewart, 111 N. Y. 644, 19 N. E. 782.

44. Sturges v. Knapp, 31 Vt. 1.

45. Sturges v. Knapp, 31 Vt. 1.

46. Sturges v. Knapp, 31 Vt. 1.

47. Merrill v. Farmers' L. & T. Co., 24 Hun (N. Y.) 297, holding that a trustee is liable for damages sustained by reason of his having permitted a majority of the bondholders to institute and carry on foreclosure proceedings without his personal supervision and control.

48. Frishmuth v. Farmers' L. & T. Co., 95 Fed. 5 [affirmed in 107 Fed. 169, 46 C. C. A. 222].

49. Frishmuth v. Farmers' L. & T. Co., 95 Fed. 5 [affirmed in 107 Fed. 169, 46 C. C. A. 222].

50. Florida v. Anderson, 91 U. S. 667, 23 L. ed. 290.

51. Frishmuth v. Farmers' L. & T. Co., 95 Fed. 5 [affirmed in 107 Fed. 169, 46 C. C. A. 222].

52. First Nat. F. Ins. Co. v. Salisbury, 130 Mass. 303; Loeb v. Chur, 3 Silv. Sup. (N. Y.) 147, 6 N. Y. Suppl. 296 [affirmed in 125 N. Y. 726, 27 N. E. 756] (holding that since the interest which he represents is the interest of the mortgagee and it is only this which he is under any legal liability to protect, the general creditors of the railroad company cannot complain that the trustee improperly gives a release of errors in a decree adjudicating that the rights of the company have become vested in another corporation); Frishmuth v. Farmers' L. & T. Co., 95 Fed. 5 [affirmed in 107 Fed. 169, 46 C. C. A. 222]; Bound v. South Carolina R. Co., 50 Fed. 853.

53. Bound v. South Carolina R. Co., 50 Fed. 853; London Credit Co. v. Arkansas Cent. R. Co., 15 Fed. 46, 5 McCrary 23; Cottam v. Eastern Counties R. Co., 1 Johns. & H. 243, 30 L. J. Ch. 217, 6 Jur. N. S. 1367, 3 of self-interest prejudicial to the interests of the bondholders;[54] otherwise he is liable to the bondholders for any breach of duty as trustee he may commit.[55] And conversely the bondholders or beneficiaries are bound by all acts done in good faith by such trustee on their behalf.[56] So a trustee's duty to the bondholders is to them severally and he is not at liberty to follow the advice or wishes of the majority unless specially authorized.[57] He has no right, as against and without the consent of a bondholder in the absence of provisions in the mortgage authorizing it, to waive and condone defaults in the payment of principal or interest on the bonds,[58] or to assent to and recognize a new mortgage given priority over the mortgage securing such bondholder.[59] And if, upon the request of bondholders, a trustee in any case refuses or neglects to act, whatever rights as against

L. T. Rep. N. S. 465, 9 Wkly. Rep. 49, 70 Eng. Reprint 737, holding that the possession by one of three trustees of railroad debentures gives him no implied authority to deal with them, and a transfer of such bonds by forging his co-trustees' signatures is void.

54. Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Northern Pac. R. Co., 66 Fed. 169 (holding that the rule that courts are to deal with bondholders only through their trustees does not apply where it appears that the trustees are in a position prejudicial to the interests of the bondholders); Bound v. South Carolina R. Co., 50 Fed. 853. And see infra, VIII, A, 7, f, (XI).

55. Rhinelander v. Farmers' L. & T. Co., 172 N. Y. 519, 65 N. E. 499 [affirming 58 N. Y. App. Div. 473, 619, 69 N. Y. Suppl. 437, 1144] (holding that where a trustee fails to carry out the provisions of the mortgage as to the issuing of bonds and paying out the proceeds thereof, it is a breach of his duty as trustee rendering him liable to the bondholders); Riker v. Alsop, 27 Fed. 251 [reversed on other grounds in 155 U. S. 448, 15 S. Ct. 162, 39 L. ed. 218].

Defending suit.— A trustee cannot be held liable to bondholders because of his failure to defend a suit for the forfeiture of a land grant to which the company would have been entitled on making a certain payment, where it is not shown that there was any defense, or that the rights of the company had not been previously lost without fault of the trustee. Frishmuth v. Farmers' L. & T. Co., 107 Fed. 169, 46 C. C. A. 222 [affirming 95 Fed. 5].

Where under a plan to reorganize a railroad trustees are appointed to whom the bondholders are to surrender one third of their bonds and receive stock in lieu thereof, and the trustees are to hold the surrendered bonds for the benefit of all who concurred in the plan; and some non-concurring bondholders afterward institute suit to sell the road, and the trustees buy it in and convey it to a newly organized corporation without preserving and recognizing a paramount lien in the holders for two thirds of their bonds not surrendered, the trustees are personally liable to the bondholders for the amount of such bonds. Riker v. Alsop, 27 Fed. 251 [reversed on the facts in 155 U. S. 448, 15 S. Ct. 162, 39 L. ed. 218].

Where at the time the mortgage is made the railroad company is without substantial property aside from its franchises and the security is practically to be created by the use of the proceeds of the bonds which ought to be issued by the trustee, the proceeds to be used for specified purposes, and the company fails to comply with the requirements of the mortgage, diverting the proceeds of bonds received, a further issuance of bonds to it without taking measures to see that they are properly applied is a breach of the trust for which the trustee can be held liable by the bondholders. Frishmuth v. Farmers' L. & T. Co., 95 Fed. 5 [affirmed in 107 Fed. 169, 46 C. C. A. 222].

A trustee who becomes such subsequent to certain acts done by other trustees and joins in subsequent acts belonging to the same transaction, without inquiring whether they would prejudice the rights of the bondholders or other beneficiaries, is liable with the original trustees for losses occasioned thereby. Riker v. Alsop, 27 Fed. 251 [reversed on the facts in 155 U. S. 448, 15 S. Ct. 162, 39 L. ed. 218].

56. London Credit Co. v. Arkansas Cent. R. Co., 15 Fed. 46, 5 McCrary 23.

The assent of trustees to the acquisition of a lien superior to their mortgage is binding on the bondholders. Pierce v. Emery, 32 N. H. 484.

Notice to the trustees of the existence of rights or encumbrances on the mortgaged property is notice to the bondholders (Haven v. Emery, 33 N. H. 66; Miller v. Rutland, etc., R. Co., 36 Vt. 452); and it makes no difference that the bonds are negotiable (Miller v. Rutland, etc., R. Co., supra).

In legal proceedings affecting the trust to which the bondholders are not actual parties, the trustee represents the bondholders, and whatever binds him, if he acts in good faith, binds them. Shaw v. Little Rock, etc., R. Co., 100 U. S. 605, 25 L. ed. 757. And see Rochester Trust, etc., Co. v. Oneonta, etc., R. Co., 122 N. Y. App. Div. 193, 107 N. Y. Suppl. 237.

57. Hollister v. Stewart, 111 N. Y. 644, 19 N. E. 782; Toler v. East Tennessee, etc., R. Co., 67 Fed. 168, holding that the trustee is bound to exercise his judgment and discretion in the interest of all the bondholders and not in behalf of the majority bondholders alone.

58. Hollister v. Stewart, 111 N. Y. 644, 19 N. E. 782.

59. Hollister v. Stewart, 111 N. Y. 644, 19 N. E. 782.

the mortgagor are vested in the trustee inure to the benefit of the bondholders and are enforceable by them.[60] But where, although the trustees have been guilty of a breach of trust, there is some excuse for their acts, they will be held liable only as trustees and not personally.[61]

(v) SALE OF PROPERTY. A trustee may sell the railroad or other trust property where empowered by the mortgage to do so, provided he sells in the manner prescribed thereby;[62] but in the absence of such power contained in the mortgage, the trustee may sell only upon authority from the court,[63] and if he sells without making application for such authority, it is a breach of trust which renders him personally liable for any damage to the bondholders occasioned thereby;[64] and even where the power to sell upon a certain contingency is contained in the mortgage, the execution of such trust may be controlled by a court of equity at the suit of cestuis qui trustent.[65] Where a trustee is empowered to sell on such terms and conditions as he may deem best, he has power to warrant title to the property sold.[66] Where the sale is made by trustees and the company participates in the sale, it is estopped to deny the authority of the trustees to execute the deed conveying the land in question.[67] But where trustees holding the title to lands for the benefit of a railroad company convey a certain part of the same for their own personal benefit, such conveyance is voidable as against the railroad company,[68] although it is valid as to one claiming by title adverse to that held by the railroad company.[69]

(vi) LEASE OF PROPERTY. After a breach of conditions in the mortgage, the trustees may, in the exercise of their discretion for the best interests of all parties in interest, lease the road,[70] upon such terms and conditions as the trustees may deem best.[71] Such lease may be executed by a trustee even after foreclosure,[72] particularly where the bondholders are in an unorganized state.[73] Before condition broken the mortgagor, if permitted to remain in possession and control of the property, may execute a lease thereof;[74] but this authority terminates upon the breach of the conditions of the mortgage,[75] and the trustees cannot by oral assent confirm a lease executed by the mortgagor thereafter.[76]

60. O'Beirne v. Allegheny, etc., R. Co., 151 N. Y. 372, 45 N. E. 873 [affirming 80 Hun 570, 30 N. Y. Suppl. 588].

On refusal of a trustee to sue for specific performance of an agreement made by the mortgagor company, a mortgage bondholder may maintain such an action against the mortgagor company on behalf of himself and other bondholders similarly situated, before default in the bonds. O'Beirne v. Allegheny, etc., R. Co., 151 N. Y. 372, 45 N. E. 873 [affirming 80 Hun 570, 30 N. Y. Suppl. 588].

61. Hollister v. Stewart, 111 N. Y. 644, 19 N. E. 782.

62. See Dubuque, etc., R. Co. v. Pierson, 70 Fed. 303, 17 C. C. A. 401.

63. James v. Cowing, 17 Hun (N. Y.) 256 [reversed on other grounds in 82 N. Y. 449].

64. James v. Cowing, 17 Hun (N. Y.) 256 [reversed on other grounds in 82 N. Y. 449].

65. Youngman v. Elmira, etc., R. Co., 65 Pa. St. 278, holding also that the court's decision as to its jurisdiction cannot be impeached collaterally.

66. Dubuque, etc., R. Co. v. Pierson, 70 Fed. 303, 17 C. C. A. 401.

67. Wood v. Dubuque, etc., R. Co., 28 Fed. 910.

68. Miller v. Iowa Land Co., 56 Iowa 374, 9 N. W. 316.

69. Miller v. Iowa Land Co., 56 Iowa 374, 9 N. W. 316.

70. Sturges v. Knapp, 31 Vt. 1, holding that where the trustees have no rolling stock and equipment and no means of purchasing any, they cannot be required to attempt to operate the road on their own account, except as a matter of strict necessity and practicability, and that under such circumstances they act judicially in leasing the road.

Informality in the terms of the lease or unreasonableness in its provisions is not ground for avoiding the lease by the lessors or those they represent, unless the contract is ultra vires. Sturges v. Knapp, 31 Vt. 1.

That the trustees discuss and agree upon a lease does not make a binding lease, nor estop one of their number from denying such lease. Pond v. Vermont Valley R. Co., 19 Fed. Cas. No. 11,264.

Rights of bondholders under a lease providing for the payment of net earnings to them cannot be defeated by the failure of the lessor to pay the sums due from it to the lessee under the contract. Schmidtz v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 101 Ky. 441, 41 S. W. 1015, 19 Ky. L. Rep. 666, 38 L. R. A. 809.

71. Sturges v. Knapp, 31 Vt. 1.

72. Sturges v. Knapp, 31 Vt. 1.

73. Sturges v. Knapp, 31 Vt. 1.

74. Haven v. Adams, 4 Allen (Mass.) 80.

75. Haven v. Adams, 4 Allen (Mass.) 80.

76. Haven v. Adams, 4 Allen (Mass.) 80.

(VII) POWER TO BID IN PROPERTY. Trustees may be empowered to bid in the property at the request of the majority of the bondholders at a foreclosure sale;[77] or this power may be given to them by an order of the court upon such terms as the order prescribes;[78] and if necessary to protect the interests of the bondholders it may be the duty of the trustees to bid in the property in default of bidders, independent of an order and decree authorizing them to do so.[79]

(VIII) POSSESSION AND OPERATION OF ROAD[80] — (A) In General. Under a morfgage reserving the sole and exclusive management and control of the property to the mortgagor until default, the right of possession until such default is in the mortgagor.[81] A railroad mortgage, however, usually provides that the mortgage trustee shall take possession upon default in the payment of principal or interest,[82] and upon compliance with such requirements as the mortgage may provide.[83] Under such a mortgage the mortgagor company is usually entitled to remain in possession and operation of the road until default,[84] and where the trustee has obtained possession on default and the railroad company has paid all past due instalments and is in a condition to meet future instalments, it may be entitled to a return of the possession of the property ;[85] although it has been held that in the absence of a stipulation in a mortgage giving the mortgagor company the right to possession until default, the mortgagee or trustee has the right to take possession at any time;[86] and in case of a manifest purpose on the part of the mortgagor to waste or destroy the property, or not to apply the income to pay-

77. See James v. Cowing, 82 N. Y. 449 [reversing 17 Hun 256].

78. James v. Cowing, 82 N. Y. 449 [reversing 17 Hun 256].

Where the order merely fixes the minimum at which the trustee may allow others to buy, he may in his discretion bid a larger sum. James v. Cowing, 82 N. Y. 449 [reversing 17 Hun 256].

79. Rogers v. Wheeler, 2 Lans. (N. Y.) 486 [affirmed in 43 N. Y. 598], holding that the trustees for mortgage bondholders of a railroad company are bound to bid in the property if necessary to protect the interests of their cestuis que trustent, independently of a decree of foreclosure and sale under the mortgage authorizing them in default of bidders to purchase the mortgaged property as proceeds to operate the road and receive the income thereof.

80. Possession and use of property under mortgages generally see MORTGAGES, 27 Cyc. 1234 et seq.

81. First Nat. F. Ins. Co. v. Salisbury, 130 Mass. 303; Southern Pac. R. Co. v. Doyle, 11 Fed. 253, 8 Sawy. 60.

A mortgagor retaining possession is presumed to be the mortgagee's agent in operating the road. Watts v. Sweeney, 127 Ind. 116, 26 N. E. 680, 22 Am. St. Rep. 615.

82. Macon, etc., R. Co. v. Georgia R. Co., 63 Ga. 103; First Nat. F. Ins. Co. v. Salisbury, 130 Mass. 303 (holding that, although the mortgage provides that until default the mortgagor company shall remain in possession and that on default and on request of one half in amount of the holders of the bonds the trustee shall sell the property and apply the proceeds upon the payment of the bonds, on default the trustees have the power to foreclose and take possession of the property, although not requested so to do by one half in amount of the bondholders); Shaw v. Norfolk County R. Co., 5 Gray (Mass.) 162; Seibert v. Minneapolis, etc., R. Co., 52 Minn. 246, 53 N. W. 1151; In re New Paltz, etc., R. Co., 26 Misc. (N. Y.) 324, 56 N. Y. Suppl. 1060, holding that the trustee is entitled to take possession and operate the road, as against a permanent receiver appointed in proceedings to dissolve the company.

A mortgage which gives the trustees power to take possession of the road and use it in certain contingencies, and, at their discretion, on certain conditions, to sell it, contemplates that they may do the former only, or both The trustees need not confine themselves to either measure, but they may first enter and then sell the road, using the road for the purposes of the trust until a sale is effected. Macon, etc., R. Co. v. Georgia R. Co., 63 Ga. 103.

83. Union Trust Co. v. Missouri, etc., R. Co., 26 Fed. 485, holding that under the particular mortgage the trustee could not hold possession of the road unless the bondholders had either exercised their option in declaring the principal sum due and payable, or had demanded the foreclosure of the mortgage.

84. See Union Trust Co. v. Missouri, etc., R. Co., 26 Fed. 485.

85. Union Trust Co. v. Missouri, etc., R. Co., 26 Fed. 485.

A surrender of possession of the road to the railroad company may be ordered where the principal does not accrue for many years, and past-due instalments of interest have been tendered and paid to the trustee in possession. Union Trust Co. v. Missouri, etc., R. Co., 26 Fed. 485.

86. First Nat. F. Ins. Co. v. Salisbury, 130 Mass. 303.

ment of interest, to the injury of the bondholders, it is his duty to enter and take possession of the property, and manage it for the security of the cestuis que trustent.[87] Trustees in possession have sufficient power in the nature of a franchise to enable them to discharge the duties which the public have a right to demand in keeping in repair and operating the road; [88] and for this purpose they may use their own proper names or adopt any other name they may choose, and are not bound to do business in the name of the company to whose rights they have succeeded; [89] or they may appoint an agent to manage the road without personally going upon the premises themselves.[90] But the trustees' power to take possession must be exerted upon all the property mortgaged.[91] A trustee in possession under authority of the mortgage is the company's agent in the management of the road and it is liable to third persons for his acts.[92] Trustees who purchase at a foreclosure sale and operate the road under a decree authorizing them to do so are liable as common carriers for goods received by them while thus operating the road,[93] and they are not in possession of the property as receivers, and are not relieved from liability on the ground that they stood in that relation to the court, since they are accountable, not to the court, but to the bondholders; [94] nor are they released from their liability as common carriers by a conveyance of the property to a new company organized in obedience to a decree of court, where the act or contract as common carrier was done or entered into before the transfer took place.[95] The trustees' right to possession upon default under a mortgage giving them such right is superior to that of a contractor who claims possession under a contract with the railroad company, and who holds bonds secured by the mortgage.[96] Under a statute giving the state a lien for aid granted, certain state officers may take possession and operate the road upon default.[97] Since the legal title of the trustees to the property of the railroad company is only for the

87. First Nat. F. Ins. Co. v. Salisbury, 130 Mass. 303.

88. Palmer v. Forbes, 23 Ill. 301; Jones v. Seligman, 81 N. Y. 190 [affirming 16 Hun 230], holding that the trustees under a mortgage operating a railroad are liable to a landowner for a neglect to maintain fences and farm crossings, and that he may enforce performance of such duty without resort to an action for damages given by Laws (1854), c. 285, § 8.

89. Palmer v. Forbes, 23 Ill. 301.

90. Palmer v. Forbes, 23 Ill. 301; Rice v. St. Paul, etc., R. Co., 24 Minn. 464, holding that where an article of a railroad mortgage authorizes trustees on default to take possession, hold, and use the road, operating the same by their superintendents, managers, receivers, or servants or other attorney or agents, the receiver meant is one of the trustees and not a technical receiver to be appointed by the court.

91. Coe v. Peacock, 14 Ohio St. 197.

92. Rio Grande R. Co. v. Cross, 5 Tex. Civ. App. 454, 23 S. W. 529, 1004, holding that the company is liable for goods lost in transitu over the road during the trustee's management.

93. Barter v. Wheeler, 49 N. H. 9, 6 Am. Rep. 434; Rogers v. Wheeler, 43 N. Y. 598 [affirming 2 Lans. 486].

94. Rogers v. Wheeler, 43 N. Y. 598 [affirming 2 Lans. 486].

95. Rogers v. Wheeler, 43 N. Y. 598 [affirming 2 Lans. 486].

96. Allen v. Dallas, etc., R. Co., 1 Fed. Cas. No. 221, 3 Woods 316.

97. Hand v. Savannah, etc., R. Co., 8 S. C. 207.

The words "income and revenue" in a statute providing that in case of default by the railroad company on the bonds, the state may take possession of the income and revenues of the company, necessarily embrace the earnings of the road. Tompkins v. Little Rock, etc., R. Co., 15 Fed. 6.

Under S. C. Act (1869), § 5, proceedings by a controller-general to take possession of the road are not barred by a decree of the circuit court transferring the possession of the road to the receiver and the advisory board, to be operated for the benefit of the creditors and stock-holders of the road. Hand v. Savannah, etc., R. Co., 8 S. C. 207. The authority conferred upon the controller-general by such act is not in conflict with the rights of the creditors of the road, nor does it impair the obligation of the contract between the state and the holders of the bonds issued by the corporation and guaranteed by the state under the act of 1856. Hand v. Savannah, etc., R. Co., supra. Nor is the act of 1869, authorizing the controller-general on a certain contingency to take possession of the Savannah & Charleston railroad, repealed by the act of 1871, directing proceedings for the foreclosure to be taken against all railroad companies which had failed to pay the interest due upon the bonds of the companies guaranteed by the state. Hand v. Savannah, etc., R. Co., supra. Nor does such act in authorizing and directing the controller-general to take possession of the road on the company's becoming insolpurpose of executing the trusts, and a court of equity has like power of execution, where such court has obtained possession of the mortgaged property it will not surrender it, unless it is apparent that the trustees can better execute the trust in justice to all parties.[98]

(B) Contracts. Trustees in possession of and operating a railroad are liable upon the contracts of operatives employed upon the road to the same extent as the corporation would have been had it continued in possession.[99] But a trustee entering into possession and operating the road is not bound by contracts made by the mortgagor while in possession under the mortgage,[1] unless such contracts were expressly authorized by the mortgage.[2]

(IX) Compensation and Expenses. Trustees are entitled to reimbursement for all expenses reasonably and necessarily incurred in the execution of the trust,[3] such as reasonable counsel fees and costs expended in prosecuting and defending proper proceedings to protect the trust property,[4] and are entitled to reasonable compensation for their services,[5] including compensation for services rendered, and fees and costs in foreclosure proceedings,[6] provided such services or expenditures are within the line of the duties imposed upon them by the instrument creating the trust.[7] If the trustee is appointed upon a specific compensation and after he has rendered services is discharged, he is entitled to the compensation agreed upon.[8] Where the mortgagor railroad company in the trust deed reserves the right to sell the land and pay the proceeds of the sales thereof vent and failing to pay the guaranteed bonds authorize the performance of an act which could only be performed through the instrumentality of the judicial department of the state. Hand v. Savannah, etc., R. Co., supra.

98. Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Mississippi Cent. R. Co., 12 Fed. Cas. No. 7,008.

99. Sprague v. Smith, 29 Vt. 421, 70 Am. Dec. 424.

1. Ellis v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 107 Mass. 1.

2. Ellis v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 107 Mass. 1.

3. Ellis v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 107 Mass. 1; Central Trust Co. v. Wabash, etc., R. Co., 36 Fed. 622.

4. Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Schmidt, 107 S. W. 745, 33 Ky. L. Rep. 346; Central Trust Co. v. Wabash, etc., R. Co., 36 Fed. 622.

Where a suit by a trustee is unnecessary, he should not be allowed counsel fees therefor. Bound v. South Carolina R. Co., 62 Fed. 636.

5. Palmer v. Forbes, 23 Ill. 301; Gilman v. Des Moines Valley R. Co., 41 Iowa 22 (holding trustees entitled to two per cent on the par value of bonds received in exchange for land sold by them); Ellis v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 107 Mass. 1; Bound v. South Carolina R. Co., 62 Fed. 536 (holding trustee not entitled to compensation for services rendered in unnecessary suit); Easton v. Houston, etc., R. Co., 40 Fed. 189 (holding that in foreclosure proceedings the allowance of five hundred dollars was ample compensation for the services of a trustee of the mortgage of which there was only one bond of five hundred dollars outstanding, the balance of the issue of one million five hundred thousand dollars being deposited with a trust company, his services in the litigation being merely nominal and going no further than the use of his name); Central Trust Co. v. Wabash, etc., R. Co., 36 Fed. 622; Dow v. Memphis, etc., R. Co., 32 Fed. 185, 23 Blatchf. 84 (trustee held entitled only to one per cent compensation allowed by N. Y. Rev. St. p. 2, c. 6, tit. 3, art. 3, § 58).

A trustee of a senior divisional mortgage who is made party defendant to a bill to foreclose a junior general mortgage is entitled to be reimbursed out of the proceeds of sale, for his services and for counsel fees in the proceedings, although he has filed a bill in another court to foreclose the divisional mortgage and procured the appointment of a separate receiver for that division. Central Trust Co. v. Wabash, etc., R. Co., 36 Fed. 622.

Where in foreclosure proceedings on a second railroad mortgage the lien of the first mortgage is not questioned, the sole duty of the trustee under the first mortgage is to see that the amount due thereunder is determined and a decree made conserving the interests of the bondholders and for anything further he is not entitled to compensation or counsel fees. Bound v. South Carolina R. Co., 62 Fed. 536.

6. Phinizy v. Augusta, etc., R. Co., 98 Fed. 776; Mercantile Trust Co. v. Missouri, etc., R. Co., 41 Fed. 8, where the mortgage makes provision for such expenses.

The allowance to trustees for their services in relation to a foreclosure will be proportioned to the amount of service actually required and rendered; and where they do not take possession of the property, and no duties are required of them in its administration or in the distribution of the proceeds, a comparatively small allowance will be made them. Phinizy v. Augusta, etc., R. Co., 98 Fed. 776.

7. Tracy v. Gravios R. Co., 13 Mo. App. 295 [affirmed in 84 Mo. 210].

8. Maury v. Chesapeake, etc., R. Co., 27 Gratt. (Va.) 698.

to the trustees after deducting expenses incurred in executing the trust, it may retain the proper amount for expenses in making the sales and may also pay the taxes out of the proceeds thereof.[9]

(x) Individual Interest in Transactions. Where everything is honestly done by the trustee and the rights of others have not been prejudiced to his advantage the mere fact of interest on his part in the transaction is not sufficient to justify the court in withholding a confirmation of his acts.[10] But the trustee should not acquire adverse interests, or put himself in a position or relation which is antagonistic or hostile to the interests of the bondholders.[11] Thus where he holds the legal title to the trust property for the benefit of its bondholders, he cannot speculate with the trust property.[12] He cannot purchase an outstanding title and hold it for his own use [13] even though such title is acquired by purchase at a judicial sale,[14] or is superior to the one conveyed to him in trust.[15] Nor can a trustee who has acquired such outstanding title require the company in an action of ejectment to refund to him the amount paid for such title.[16] The mere fact that some of the trustees were holders of bonds secured by their trust is not sufficient to make them incompetent to consent to a decree of foreclosure embodying a plan of reorganization.[17]

(xi) Actions, Remedies, and Proceedings By or Against Mortgagees and Trustees — (a) In General — (1) Against Trustees. If the trustees fail to perform their duties, either through wilfulness, indifference, or error of judgment, the bondholders or other beneficiaries who are aggrieved by their conduct may obtain relief in equity,[18] as by a bill to compel the trustee to take possession and manage the mortgaged property,[19] or to compel them to

9. Nickerson v. Atchison, etc., R. Co., 17 Fed. 408, 3 McCrary 455.

10. Shaw v. Little Rock, etc., R. Co., 100 U. S. 605, 25 L. ed. 757.

11. Baker v. Springfield, etc., R. Co., 86 Mo. 75.

12. Baker v. Springfield, etc., R. Co., 86 Mo. 75.

13. Baker v. Springfield, etc., R. Co., 86 Mo. 75.

14. Baker v. Springfield, etc., R. Co., 86 Mo. 75.

15. Baker v. Springfield, etc., R. Co., 86 Mo. 75.

16. Baker v. Springfield, etc., R. Co., 86 Mo. 75.

17. Shaw v. Little Rock, etc., R. Co., 100 U. S. 605, 25 L. ed. 757.

18. First Nat. F. Ins. Co. v. Salisbury, 130 Mass. 303; Florida v. Anderson, 91 U. S. 667, 23 L. ed. 290.

A bill praying that the trustees be compelled to record a mortgage and that such mortgage be declared a prior lien over other mortgages should be denied, where the evidence does not establish satisfactorily the organization of the railroad company at the time of the issuance of the bonds, or the existence of the mortgage securing the same. Riggs v. Pennsylvania, etc., R. Co., 16 Fed. 804.

A suit against trustees for negligent administration of their trust must be brought on behalf of all the bondholders similarly situated and who may choose to come in, and cannot be maintained by individual bondholders on their own behalf. Frishmuth v. Farmers' L. & T. Co., 95 Fed. 5.

The mortgagor is not a necessary party to a suit by bondholders against the trustee for negligent administration of his trust. Frishmuth v. Farmers' L. & T. Co., 95 Fed. 5.

19. First Nat. F. Ins. Co. v. Salisbury, 130 Mass. 303, holding that a bill brought by less than one sixth in amount of the holders of the bonds secured by a railroad mortgage, against the trustees thereunder, to compel them to take possession, and which alleges a default in the payment of interest, and that the corporation had signified a purpose not to pay interest unless the holders of the bonds would take a rate less than that specified, and that its net income was insufficient to enable it to pay interest, and that it was applying the income to unsecured debts, and that there was danger that if this course continued the property would be inadequate security for the payment of the mortgage, is sufficient on demurrer.

Defenses.— It is no defense to a bill by the holders of first mortgage bonds to compel the trustees named therein to take possession of the mortgaged property after the company's default, that litigation may be necessary to ascertain what property is covered by the mortgage, or that a great burden and personal liability for injuries done and debts subsequently incurred will thereby be imposed upon such trustees. First Nat. F. Ins. Co. v. Salisbury, 130 Mass. 303.

Parties.— In a suit by part of the holders of first mortgage bonds against trustees to compel them to take possession of the mortgaged property, other holders of bonds of the same issue will be allowed to come in as plaintiffs; but subsequent mortgage bondholders are not necessary parties, where the trustees are the same under both mortgages. First Nat. F. Ins. Co. v. Salisbury, 130 Mass. 303.

properly apply moneys received as trustees;[20] or the bondholders may compel them to act by mandamus.[21] Where the trustees abandon their trust or have been remiss in their duty, the bondholders or other beneficiaries may also take proper steps in equity to have them removed and new trustees appointed;[22] and may sue such trustees for damages sustained by reason of their misconduct.[23] A petition seeking to hold a trustee of a railroad liable to pay a judgment received against the company is defective where it does not allege what moneys of the company had come into the hands of the trustee.[24]

(2) By Trustees. At common law if the mortgagor company makes default in payment, the mortgagee or trustee being entitled to the possession of the mortgaged property may maintain ejectment therefor.[25] While a court of equity will not take possession and operate a railroad at the instance of a trustee or mortgagee except by an action to foreclose the mortgage,[26] yet the trustee being entitled on default to take possession under the terms of the mortgage,[27] if prevented from doing so may, without bringing an action to foreclose, apply to a court of equity to be put into possession,[28] the proper remedy in such case being a bill for the specific enforcement of the mortgagee's or trustee's rights.[29] When questions of difficulty arise, the trustee may also apply to a court of equity for instructions in the execution of his trust.[30] A trustee may sue for the specific performance of a contract leasing the road, for the benefit of bondholders,[31] or to compel the execution of a conveyance to the railroad company, under a contract of sale.[32] So after condition broken the trustee may maintain an action

20. Dwight v. Smith, 13 Fed. 50, holding that where there has accrued a large amount of money applicable and not applied on the bonds after satisfying prior liens, the bondholders are entitled to relief against those having the money.

21. Florida v. Anderson, 91 U. S. 667, 23 L. ed. 290.

22. Stevens v. Eldridge, 23 Fed. Cas. No. 13,396, 4 Cliff. 348.

23. James v. Cowing, 17 Hun (N. Y.) 256 [reversed on other grounds in 82 N. Y. 449].

The measure of damages to a bondholder who has sued a trustee for misconduct in improperly selling corporate property is the value of his proportionate part of the property thus wrongfully sold. James v. Cowing, 82 N. Y. 449 [reversing 17 Hun 256].

24. Nicholson v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 55 Ind. 504.

25. Dow v. Memphis, etc., R. Co., 20 Fed. 260; Galt v. Erie, etc., R. Co., 19 U. C. C. P. 357.

26. Seibert v. Minneapolis, etc., R. Co., 52 Minn. 246, 53 N. W. 1151.

27. See supra, VIII, A, 7, f, (VIII).

28. Seibert v. Minneapolis, etc., R. Co., 52 Minn. 246, 53 N. W. 1151.

29. Shepley v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 55 Me. 395 (holding that if the mortgage was a valid one, a court of equity has jurisdiction to decree specific performance of a stipulation in the mortgage authorizing the trustees to take possession of the mortgaged property for the non-payment of the bonds); Dow v. Memphis, etc., R. Co., 20 Fed. 260 (holding that where a railroad mortgage embraces a road, rolling stock, and other personal property of the company, the proper remedy of the mortgagee to obtain possession of the mortgaged property after condition broken is by a bill in equity for specific enforcement of the mortgagee's rights).

Cumulative remedies.— A stipulation in a railroad mortgage that in case of default in the payment of interest for sixty days it should be obligatory on the trustees named in the mortgage upon the written request of one third in interest of the holders of the bonds to take possession, operate, and sell the road and other mortgaged property is cumulative as a remedy and not exclusive of the remedies given by law. Dow v. Memphis, etc., R. Co., 20 Fed. 260.

30. Coe v. Beckwith, 31 Barb. (N. Y.) 339.

Parties.— In such an action all the creditors need not, in case they are numerous and unknown to plaintiff, be joined as parties (Coe v. Beckwith, 31 Barb. (N. Y.) 339); nor need a sheriff who holds a warrant of attachment on income of the road deposited by the company to the credit of the trustee for the payment of interest coupons, or a depositary of the fund, be made parties, where plaintiff in the attachment suit has been joined as a party (Coe v. Beckwith, supra).

31. Schmidtz v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 101 Ky. 441, 41 S. W. 1015, 19 Ky. L. Rep. 666, 38 L. R. A. 809, holding that a railroad lease providing for the payment of net earnings to the holders of mortgage bonds of the lessor is for the benefit not only of the lessor and lessee but of the bondholders, and that the trustee for the bondholders may sue for the specific performance of the contract for their benefit.

32. Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Fisher, 17 Wis. 114; Boston Safe-Deposit, etc., Co. v. Bankers', etc., Tel. Co., 36 Fed. 288 [affirmed in 147 U. S. 431, 13 S. Ct. 396, 37 L. ed. 231].

for any material injury to the property that would amount to restrainable waste;[33] but where the property is in possession and use of the mortgagor under the terms of the mortgage, the trustee cannot sue the mortgagor for such depreciation as would or might follow from its use;[34] nor can a trustee maintain an action before condition broken for waste which might have been actionable after condition broken;[35] nor can the mortgagee or trustee sue a lessee on a covenant to repair which would or might have followed the use of the property by the mortgagor.[36] Where the old trustees have been removed and new ones appointed, the latter are the proper parties to seek redress on behalf of the bondholders against third persons.[37]

(B) Injunction. In accordance with the rules regulating injunctions generally,[38] bondholders may obtain an injunction to restrain a diversion of the funds or property covered by the mortgage,[39] or to restrain the trustees from carrying into effect an agreement whereby the terms of the mortgage as to the time of payment and rate of interest are changed;[40] or where a trustee incapacitates himself from discharging his duties an injunction will lie to restrain him from acting as trustee,[41] and from further prosecuting an action as such.[42] Likewise the remedy by injunction will be exercised in favor of a trustee acting under a railroad mortgage upon all its property, for the security of bondholders;[43] and a mortgagee or trustee may at any time have an injunction to restrain waste that will impair the bondholders' security.[44] So an injunction will lie at the instance of subsequent encumbrancers to restrain trustees under a prior mortgage from executing the trusts prejudicially to their interests.[45] While as a general rule an injunction in one state will lie to enjoin an action at law in another state,[46] it has been held that where mortgage trustees of a railroad company as such have no property subject to sequestration within the state an injunction will not lie to enjoin

33. Grand Trunk R. Co. v. Central Vermont R. Co., 91 Fed. 696.

34. Grand Trunk R. Co. v. Central Vermont R. Co., 91 Fed. 696.

35. Grand Trunk R. Co. v. Central Vermont R. Co., 91 Fed. 696.

36. Grand Trunk R. Co. v. Central Vermont R. Co., 91 Fed. 696.

37. Stevens v. Eldridge, 23 Fed. Cas. No. 13,396, 4 Cliff. 348.

38. See, generally, INJUNCTIONS, 22 Cyc. 724.

39. Weetjen v. St. Paul, etc., R. Co., 4 Hun (N. Y.) 529; Shoemaker v. Dayton, etc., R. Co., 10 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 12, 18 Cinc. L. Bul. 43, holding that a court of equity on the application of holders of income bonds of a railroad company, for themselves and other bondholders, should take cognizance of the trust and restrain the corporation from diverting the funds to which the bondholders are entitled to look for the payment of their interest.

40. Reinach v. Meyer, 55 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 283, holding also that an objection that an application to confirm the agreement which was denied was made in an action in which the first mortgage bondholders were not made parties is of no force.

The injunction should be continued where it is clear that if the trustee of one class of bondholders is permitted to carry out the agreement injustice will be done to another class of bondholders. Reinach v. Meyer, 55 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 283.

The injunction will be continued pendente lite where it is doubtful whether the agreement is valid or not. Reinach v. Meyer, 55 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 283.

41. Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Hughes, 11 Hun (N. Y.) 130.

42. Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Hughes, 11 Hun (N. Y.) 130.

43. Roberts v. Denver, etc., R. Co., 8 Colo. App. 504, 46 Pac. 880; Felton v. Potomac F. Ins. Co., 4 Del. Ch. 573 (holding that at the suit of the trustees under a first mortgage who hold possession of the railroad and property under the mortgage, an injunction will be awarded to restrain the seizure of a locomotive off the line of the road under a foreign attachment by the holder of coupons of bonds of a second mortgage); Winslow v. Troy Iron, etc., Factory, 1 Disn. (Ohio) 229, 12 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 591 (holding that an injunction will lie at the instance of a trustee to prevent the sale of the driving wheels of a locomotive temporarily detached for the purpose of repair and afterward levied on by other creditors of the corporation); Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Fisher, 17 Wis. 114; Holroyd v. Marshall, 10 H. L. Cas. 191, 9 Jur. N. S. 213, 33 L. J. Ch. 193, 7 L. T. Rep. N. S. 172, 11 Wkly. Rep. 171, 11 Eng. Reprint 999 (holding that a mortgagee of future-acquired property may have an injunction as soon as it comes into his possession to restrain its removal).

44. Grand Trunk R. Co. v. Central Vermont R. Co., 91 Fed. 696.

45. Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Mississippi Cent. R. Co., 12 Fed. Cas. No. 7,008.

46. Bellows Falls Bank v. Rutland, etc., R. Co., 28 Vt. 470.

such trustees from prosecuting an action in another state, as there would be no means of enforcing the injunction.[47]

(c) Accounting. Trustees or mortgagees are bound to account for all profits or advantages obtained by them through their positions as mortgagees or trustees.[48] One who is a sole trustee under a railroad mortgage is a necessary party to a suit against the railroad company for an accounting,[49] and on the failure to join him as such the bill should be dismissed.[50] Trustees appointed by the court in pursuance of legislative authority may be ordered at any time upon the application of a party interested, to report or account to the court, without any express provision to that effect in the statute or in the order of appointment.[51] The rule that where a party seeking equitable relief is bound to pay some unascertainable amount before relief can be granted, it is not necessary to pay or tender the amount before bringing suit, but that it will be sufficient if he offers in his complaint to pay or perform whatever obligations rest upon him in that regard, applies in an action against a trustee to compel him to account concerning the trust fund or property,[52] especially where it appears that he repudiated the trust before the action was brought.[53]

8. Application of Proceeds of Obligations and Securities.[54] The proceeds of mortgage obligations and securities must be applied to the purposes and in the manner specified in the mortgage or deed of trust,[55] such as to the extinguishment

47. Bellows Falls Bank v. Rutland, etc., R. Co., 28 Vt. 470.

48. Cram v. Farmers' L. & T. Co., 5 Rob. (N. Y.) 226, holding that trustees are bound to account for the whole of the proceeds of a sale, and not entitled to deduct therefrom advances made by them for the purpose of operating the road.

This liability to account is not imposed as a punishment for a breach of duty, but arises from a trustee's agency for his cestuis que trustent who have a right by ratifying and adopting his acts to obtain the benefit of them. Cram v. Farmers' L. & T. Co., 5 Rob. (N. Y.) 226.

The statute of limitations does not, as a general rule, affect a trustee's obligation to account until there has been a denial or a repudiation of the trust. Zebley v. Farmers' L. & T. Co., 139 N. Y. 461, 34 N. E. 1067 [reversing 63 Hun 541, 18 N. Y. Suppl. 526].

Where the bondholders disaffirm a foreclosure sale under which the trustee received checks which he failed to collect and the bondholders secure a new sale at which they, in a new corporate capacity, become purchasers, there is no cause of action for an accounting against the trustee with respect to the uncollected checks. Harrison v. Union Trust Co., 144 N. Y. 326, 39 N. E. 353.

Parties.— Where trustees under two mortgages of separate sections of a railroad are sued for an accounting by the bondholders of one of the sections, the bondholders of the other section are necessary parties. Cram v. Farmers' L. & T. Co., 5 Rob. (N. Y.) 226.

Pleading.— A complaint against a trustee for an accounting should allege that defendant had been in possession of some part of the road or received some of its income or ought to have done so, and was chargeable therefor or that the trustee had title to the road or had funds to which the bondholders were entitled. Harrison v. Union Trust Co., 144 N. Y. 326, 39 N. E. 353. So where an action is brought by a bondholder for an accounting against a railroad company wherein he makes the trustee under the mortgage defendant, it must be alleged and proved that such trustee had been requested to bring such action and that he neglected and failed to do so, and that he is therefore made a defendant in the action. Morgan v. Kansas Pac. R. Co., 15 Fed. 55, 21 Blatchf. 134.

49. Morgan v. Kansas Pac. R. Co., 15 Fed. 55, 21 Blatchf. 134.

That he was not and could not be found within the district to be served with process does not excuse his not being joined as a party, where the issue is as to whether he was requested and refused to sue. Morgan v. Kansas Pac. R. Co., 15 Fed. 55, 21 Blatchf. 134.

50. Morgan v. Kansas Pac. R. Co., 15 Fed. 55, 21 Blatchf. 134.

51. In re Eastern R. Co., 120 Mass. 412.

52. Zebley v. Farmers' L. & T. Co., 139 N. Y. 461, 34 N. E. 1067 [reversing 53 Hun 541, 18 N. Y. Suppl. 526].

53. Zebley v. Farmers' L. & T. Co., 139 N. Y. 461, 34 N. E. 1067 [reversing 53 Hun 541, 18 N. Y. Suppl. 526].

54. Applications of earning, income, and sinking fund see infra, VIII, A, 11.

Disposition of proceeds of foreclosure sale see infra, VIII, B, 17.

55. Claflin v. South Carolina R. Co., 8 Fed. 118, 4 Hughes 12, bonds held to be regularly issued and properly applied to a floating debt.

Salaries of the officers of the railroad company are a necessary part of the expenses of construction of the road and may be paid out of the construction fund or with the bonds to be used to raise construction funds, of the floating debt of the company,[56] and to the retirement of secured bonds;[57] or the mortgage may provide that a specified portion of the bonds shall be delivered to certain officers of the railroad company to be applied to the improvement of the railroad property,[58] and to the purchase of such real estate and other property as the interests of the railroad company may require,[59] upon proper demands and specific statements of the latter indicating a purpose to use the bonds in accordance with the provisions of the mortgage.[60] Such provisions in the mortgage impress an express trust upon such proceeds requiring their application to the designated purposes;[61] and it is the duty of the trustee in the mortgage to see that such trust is properly enforced,[62] and in case he refuses or neglects to do unless restricted by the charter. Blackburn v. Selma, etc., R. Co., 3 Fed. Cas. No. 1,467, 2 Flipp. 525.

Fraud.— It is fraud on the bondholders for the stock-holders and officers of the railroad company to divert to their individual use proceeds which the mortgage provided should be applied in double-tracking and improving the railroad and in purchasing such real estate or other property as the interests of the company might require. Belden v. Burke, 72 Hun (N. Y.) 51, 25 N. Y. Suppl. 601 [reversing 20 N. Y. Suppl. 320, and reversed on other grounds in 147 N. Y. 542, 42 N. E. 261].

56. Claflin v. South Carolina R. Co., 8 Fed. 118, 4 Hughes 12.

57. Claflin v. South Carolina R. Co., 8 Fed. 118, 4 Hughes 12, holding also that where a second mortgage on railroad property recites that the proceeds of the bonds secured thereby shall be so applied, bonds purchased by the company with the proceeds of such second mortgage bonds should be delivered up and canceled.

58. Belden v. Burke, 72 Hun (N. Y.) 51, 25 N. Y. Suppl. 601 [reversing 20 N. Y. Suppl. 320, and reversed on other grounds in 147 N. Y. 542, 42 N. E. 261], holding that where a railroad mortgage stipulates that the mortgagee is to be the trustee for the holders of the bonds secured by the mortgage, that the bonds are to be certified by the trustee, and that a specified portion shall be delivered to the president and vice-president of the railroad company, a further covenant in the mortgage that these officers will apply the proceeds of the bonds so delivered to the improvement of the railroad property becomes operative and binding on the railroad company as soon as the bonds are so certified and delivered.

Misapplication.— Under such provision the application of a portion of the proceeds by such officers to the repayment of a loan made by a bank and used by them in acquiring the stock of the railroad company is a breach of a covenant that such proceeds will be used in the improvement of the railroad property. Belden v. Burke, 72 Hun (N. Y.) 51, 25 N. Y. Suppl. 601 [reversing 20 N. Y. Suppl. 320, and reversed on other grounds in 147 N. Y. 542, 42 N. E. 261]. It is likewise a breach of such covenant for such officers to use another portion of the proceeds in paying for coal lands which they had purchased and afterward sold to the railroad company, where the mortgage embraces the coal lands as well as the railroad property. Belden v. Burke, supra.

59. Belden v. Burke, 72 Hun (N. Y.) 51, 25 N. Y. Suppl. 601 [reversing 20 N. Y. Suppl. 320, and reversed on other grounds in 147 N. Y. 542, 42 N. E. 261], holding that the investment of a portion of the proceeds of the bonds in the stock of a coal company cannot be considered as an acquisition of "other property" within the meaning of a covenant in the mortgage that the proceeds of the bonds shall be used in equipping and improving the railroad "and in purchasing such real estate and other property" as the interests of the railroad company may require.

60. Fleisher v. Farmers' L. & T. Co., 58 N. Y. App. Div. 473, 69 N. Y. Suppl. 437 [affirmed in 172 N. Y. 519, 65 N. E. 499], holding certain statements, although not specifically describing the purposes for which the proceeds of the bonds were to be applied, sufficient to authorize the trustee's action in issuing the bonds.

61. Belden v. Burke, 72 Hun (N. Y.) 51, 25 N. Y. Suppl. 601 [reversing 20 N. Y. Suppl. 320, and reversed on other grounds in 147 N. Y. 542, 42 N. E. 261]; Central Trust Co. v. Burke, 2 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 96, 1 Ohio N. P. 169.

62. Belden v. Burke, 72 Hun (N. Y.) 51, 25 N. Y. Suppl. 601 [reversing 20 N. Y. Suppl. 320, and reversed on other grounds in 147 N. Y. 542, 42 N. E. 261]; Frishmuth v. Farmers' L. & T. Co., 95 Fed. 5 (holding that where the railroad company notably fails to comply with the requirements of the mortgage by diverting the proceeds of bonds received, a further issuance of bonds to it without taking measures to see that they are properly applied is a breach of trust for which the trustee can be held liable by the bondholders); Dows v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 7 Fed. Cas. No. 4,048.

Where the charter of a consolidated company recites the uses to which money derived from the sale of its bonds is to be put and a trust agreement is entered on in accordance with the terms of the charter, and the bonds are sold under a prospectus pointing out a source of inquiry as to the charter and trust, but misstating the purpose for which the money is to be used, the trustees are not liable to the bondholders where they use the money in accordance with the trust agreement but not in the manner set out in the so it may be enforced by any persons afterward becoming holders of the bonds,[63] except that holders of the bonds who acquire them with full notice of a misapplication of the proceeds cannot enforce them against the railroad company.[64] So a covenant in a mortgage to devote the proceeds of the bonds secured thereby to the improvement of the mortgage property for the benefit of future bondholders cannot, after such bonds are sold under an agreement by which the covenant is in effect abrogated, be enforced in equity by one who subsequently buys some of the bonds, not relying on the mortgage covenant, but upon his own judgment, after full inquiry with knowledge of the exact situation, and who shows no actual or prospective loss by the transaction.[65]

9. Priorities of Liens and Mortgages[66] — a. In General. The priorities of railroad liens are determined by the lex fori.[67] As a general rule liens on railroad property, as in the case of liens generally, have priority according to the order of time at which they attach,[68] and a railroad company cannot by an act of its own displace a prior by a later lien.[69] The priority of such liens, however, may be otherwise regulated by statute,[70] or by agreement between the prospectus. Banque Franco-Egyptienne v. Brown, 34 Fed. 162.

63. Belden v. Burke, 72 Hun (N. Y.) 51, 25 N. Y. Suppl. 601 [reversing 20 N. Y. Suppl. 320, and reversed on other grounds in 147 N. Y. 542, 42 N. E. 261] (holding that a bona fide holder of a portion of the bonds may bring the suit in favor of himself and of all others similarly situated); Central Trust Co. v. Burke, 2 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 96, 1 Ohio N. P. 169.

That the railroad bonds were issued and exchanged for state bonds in order that the stock-holders of the railroad company might use the proceeds of the state bonds for their own private advantage, and that they are so used, and not for the purposes contemplated by the statute which authorized the exchange, is no defense against the railroad bonds in the hands of bona fide holders. Western Div. Western North Carolina R. Co. v. Drew, 29 Fed. Cas. No. 17,434, 3 Woods 691.

Following money into the hands of third persons.— Where a railroad company sells its bonds by an agent who issues a prospectus stating for what uses the money is to be applied, no fiduciary relation exists between the bondholder and the company, and a bondholder cannot pursue the money as a trust fund where the company has parted with it to another for a different use, who has obtained title to it, as between himself and the company, since it is only where money is held in a fiduciary character that it can be followed into the hands of a third person. Banque Franco-Egyptienne v. Brown, 34 Fed. 162.

64. Chicago v. Cameron, 120 Ill. 447, 11 N. E. 899.

65. Belden v. Burke, 147 N. Y. 542, 42 N. E. 261 [reversing 72 Hun 51, 25 N. Y. Suppl. 601, and affirming 20 N. Y. Suppl. 320].

66. As affected by property and funds included in mortgage see supra, VIII, A, 7, d.

Priorities of receivers' certificates and other claims against receivers as determined by principals governing priorities in receivership actions see Receivers.

67. Central Trust Co. v. East Tennessee, etc., R. Co., 69 Fed. 658, holding that where a mortgage executed by a Tennessee railroad company, the road of which extends into Georgia, is in course of foreclosure and ancillary proceedings are had in Georgia, the priority over the mortgage of judgments recovered in Georgia on causes of action therein arising and filed in the Georgia court, is determinable by the laws of Georgia.

Where the property of an insolvent railroad company consists of a leasehold interest in a road extending into or through different states and the rolling stock used in operating the same, and creditors' suits are commenced in the federal courts in each of the several jurisdictions, and judgment creditors in the different states are, by the local statutes, given a priority of lien on certain of the property of the company, in the distribution of assets the proceeds of such property will be apportioned according to the mileage in each state and the judgments therein given priority as to the respective portions. Thomas v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 91 Fed. 195.

68. Clay v. East Tennessee, etc., R. Co., 6 Heisk. (Tenn.) 421; Galveston, etc., R. Co. v. Cowdrey, 11 Wall. (U. S.) 459, 20 L. ed. 199; Skiddy v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 22 Fed. Cas. No. 12,922, 3 Hughes 320 (holding that a valid equitable lien as against subsequent encumbrancers or their agents is created by an agreement that the so-called preferred stock of a railroad company shall be a lien of a certain class provided the agreement is brought to their knowledge); Smythe v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 22 Fed. Cas. No. 13,135, 8 Reporter 709; Yorkshire R. Wagon Co. v. Maclure, 21 Ch. D. 309, 51 L. J. Ch. 857, 47 L. T. Rep. N. S. 290, 30 Wkly. Rep. 761; Re Arauco Co., 79 L. T. Rep. N. S. 336.

Undisputed claims having undoubted priority may be ordered paid in advance of the adjustment of the rights of other creditors whose claims are inferior. Hand v. Savannah, etc., R. Co., 13 S. C. 467.

69. Meyer v. Johnston, 53 Ala. 237.

70. See the statutes of the several states. And see Chattanooga, etc., R. Co. v. Evans, 66 Fed. 809, 14 C. C. A. 116; In re Mersey parties.[71] The above rule also is subject to the rule that secured creditors are preferred to unsecured ones,[72] and that statutory liens should be paid before mortgage bonds.[73] Equitable liens payable solely out of the earnings of the road should be paid out of the corpus of the property only after the mortgage bonds have been satisfied.[74] Judgment creditors should be postponed to prior mortgages.[75] Liens which are concurrent, or which are made equal by the terms of the mortgage have no preference as between themselves but each lienor is entitled to his pro rata share of the fund or property to which the liens attach.[76]

b. Necessity and Effect of Registration — (i) In General. Except where regulated by special statute,[77] the general laws regulating the recording of liens and mortgages apply to railroad liens and mortgages, requiring that they shall be recorded in order that they may have a preference over subsequent claims or liens,[78] unless, in some jurisdictions, the subsequent lienor has notice of the prior unrecorded mortgage or lien at the time he acquires his lien.[79] Thus, in order that a railroad mortgage may be effective as against subsequent lienors, it should be recorded in every county in which the road is laid.[80] An unrecorded or defect-

R. Co., [1895] 2 Ch. 287, 64 L. J. Ch. 625, 72 L. T. Rep. N. S. 735, 12 Reports 345 (construing section 24 of the Companies' Clauses Act, 1863); In re Hull, etc., R. Co., 40 Ch. D. 119, 58 L. J. Ch. 205, 59 L. T. Rep. N. S. 877, 37 Wkly. Rep. 145 [affirming 59 L. T. Rep. N. S. 302] (construing section 23 of the Railroad Companies' Act of 1867); Harrison v. Cornwall Minerals R. Co., 18 Ch. D. 334, 51 L. J. Ch. 98, 45 L. T. Rep. N. S. 498; In re Burry Port, etc., R. Co., 54 L. J. Ch. 710, 52 L. T. Rep. N. S. 842, 33 Wkly. Rep. 741; Robinson v. Cambrian R. Co., 17 Wkly. Rep. 441; In re Cobourgh, etc., R. Co., 16 Grant Ch. (U. C.) 571.

71. Mason v. York, etc., R. Co., 52 Me. 82.

72. See Skiddy v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 22 Fed. Cas. No. 12,922, 3 Hughes 320; In re Liskeard, etc., R. Co., [1903] 2 Ch. 681, 72 L. J. Ch. 754, 89 L. T. Rep. 437, 19 T. L. R. 653; In re General South American Co., 2 Ch. D. 337, 34 L. T. Rep. N. S. 706, 24 Wkly. Rep. 891, holding that shareholders holding debentures purporting to charge all the property of the company have priority over the general creditors of the company and their priority is not affected by an imperfection in the registry of debentures kept by the company.

73. Blair v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 25 Fed. 232.

74. Blair v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 25 Fed. 232. And see infra, VIII, A, 9, g.

75. Coe v. Columbus, etc., R. Co., 10 Ohio St. 372, 75 Am. Dec. 518, holding that the fact that a judgment debt against a railroad company whose property is covered by a mortgage is for money lent for payment of interest and taxes gives the creditor no greater right as against the mortgagee than other judgment creditors of the road, to levy on the interest of the road not covered by the mortgage if the levy will impair the mortgagee's security; and this is true, although the mortgage being defectively executed is merely an executory contract creating an equitable lien on the property.

76. Dunham v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 1 Wall. (U. S.) 254, 17 L. ed. 584.

Mortgage debentures have no priority as respects each other but are on an equality; and one debenture holder is not entitled to issue execution otherwise than as trustee for himself and all other debenture holders entitled to be paid pari passu with himself. Bowen v. Brecon R. Co., L. R. 3 Eq. 541, 36 L. J. Ch. 344, 16 L. T. Rep. N. S. 6, 15 Wkly. Rep. 482.

77. Wilson v. Beckwith, 117 Mo. 61, 22 S. W. 639, construing the act of Dec. 11, 1855 (Loc. Laws (1855), p. 468), providing that the state might issue aid bonds to a railroad company; that the company should signify its acceptance by filing a receipt therefor, and that when recorded in the office of the secretary of state, each certificate of acceptance would be a mortgage of the road; and holding that, although the act was not recorded with the recorder of deeds in the counties where the lands of the road were situated, yet all persons claiming under a deed of trust executed by the company on the road, which deed of trust stated that it was subject to the lien of the state created under the act, took subject to all certificates previously filed with the secretary of state.

78. New Orleans, etc., R. Co. v. Mellen, 12 Wall. (U. S.) 362, 20 L. ed. 434. And see supra, VIII, A, 7, b, (v); and, generally, Mortgages, 27 Cyc. 1155 et seq.

79. Mead v. New York, etc., R. Co., 45 Conn. 199, holding that a creditor of a railroad company who, with knowledge of an outstanding unrecorded mortgage, attaches and afterward levies his execution on the mortgage property, obtains no priority of title. Compare Stevens v. Buffalo, etc., R. Co., 31 Barb. (N. Y.) 590.

80. Ludlow v. Clinton Line R. Co., 15 Fed. Cas. No. 8,600, 1 Flipp. 25. Compare Wilson v. Beckwith, 117 Mo. 61, 22 S. W. 639.

Where a railroad passes through several counties and a mortgage thereof is recorded in one of those counties before judgment recovered against the company by a stranger, but is not recorded in the other counties, he has a priority of lien over the judgment upon the part of the road lying in that particular ively recorded mortgage is inferior to a subsequent judgment,[81] or to a subsequent attachment lien covering the same property;[82] and the mere fact that a prior claim or lien may appear from the company's records does not give it precedence over subsequent liens on the same property.[83] But an unliquidated claim is inferior to a subsequent mortgage which is recorded before the claim is reduced to judgment.[84] Bona fide holders of overissued bonds have an equitable lien which, although unrecorded, is superior to the unrecorded lien of income bonds subsequently issued,[85] but inferior to that of a subsequently recorded mortgage.[86]

(II) Rolling Stock, Supplies, Etc. In some jurisdictions a mortgage purporting to cover rolling stock, supplies, and other personal property, unless recorded in the manner prescribed for chattel mortgages, is invalid as far as such property is concerned as to subsequent creditors and encumbrancers of the railroad company.[87] The lien of such a mortgage, although covering after-acquired property, is subject to the lien or rights of one who thereafter conditionally sells or leases cars or other rolling stock to the railroad company with reservation of title, although the conditional sale or lease is unrecorded;[88] and this rule is not affected by a statutory provision requiring the reservation in such cases to be in writing and recorded, as such provision is intended only for the benefit of subsequent purchasers and creditors of the vendee.[89] It has been held that where such lease or conditional sale amounts in fact to a mortgage, unless it is acknowledged and recorded as a mortgage, it will not establish a lien as against attachment and execution creditors,[90] or purchasers from the railroad company.[91]

c. Priorities Between Mortgages and Other Claims in General. As a general rule as between a mortgage of railroad property and other claims constituting liens thereon, that which is prior in time is prior in right,[92] except as to certain county, but not upon such portions of it as lie in the other counties; nor is such subsequent lien in such other counties superseded by a subsequent recording of the mortgage therein. Ludlow v. Clinton Line R. Co., 15 Fed. Cas. No. 8,600, 1 Flipp. 25.

81. Coe v. New Jersey Midland R. Co., 31 N. J. Eq. 105, holding that unrecorded mortgages of franchises and equipment of an insolvent railroad corporation are not valid against subsequent judgment creditors, who, but for the receivership obtained in a suit to foreclose one of the mortgages, might have made a valid levy on the equipment.

82. Claflin v. South Carolina R. Co., 8 Fed. 118, 4 Hughes 12.

83. Blair v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 25 Fed. 684 [affirmed in 133 U. S. 534, 10 S. Ct. 338, 33 L. ed. 721].

84. Fogg v. Blair, 133 U. S. 534, 10 S. Ct. 338, 33 L. ed. 721 [affirmed in 25 Fed. 684].

85. Stephens v. Benton, 1 Duv. (Ky.) 112.

86. Stephens v. Benton, 1 Duv. (Ky.) 112.

87. Hoyle v. Plattsburgh, etc., R. Co., 54 N. Y. 314, 13 Am. Rep. 595 [reversing 51 Barb. 45]; Stevens v. Buffalo, etc., R. Co., 31 Barb. (N. Y.) 590, holding also that if a subsequent judgment creditor levies upon such rolling stock and sells the same by virtue of an execution issued on his judgment, the purchaser will be entitled to hold the same discharged of the lien of the prior mortgage. And see supra, VIII, A, 7, b, (v). But see Williamson v. New Jersey Southern R. Co., 28 N. J. Eq. 277 [reversed on other grounds in 29 N. J. Eq. 311].

Notice to a judgment creditor of an existing mortgage on the rolling stock is no answer to his objection that the mortgage has not been filed for record. Stevens v. Buffalo, etc., R. Co., 31 Barb. (N. Y.) 590.

88. Meyer v. Western Car Co., 102 U. S. 1, 26 L. ed. 59; Newgass v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 56 Fed. 676; Central Trust Co. v. Marietta, etc., R. Co., 48 Fed. 868, 1 C. C. A. 133.

89. Central Trust Co. v. Marietta, etc., R. Co., 48 Fed. 868, 1 C. C. A. 133.

90. Frank v. Denver, etc., R. Co., 23 Fed. 123.

91. Frank v. Denver, etc., R. Co., 23 Fed. 123.

92. Dunham v. Isett, 15 Iowa 284 (holding that a provision in a mortgage that "all of the rights of the bondholders or trustee, are subject to the possession, control and management of the directors of said company until default" does not give creditors under contracts made before default and after the mortgage a preference over the mortgage liens); Miller v. Rattermann, 10 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 555, 22 Cinc. L. Bul. 99 [reversed on other grounds in 47 Ohio St. 141, 24 N. E. 496]; Salem First Nat. Bank v. Anderson, 75 Va. 250 (holding that a mortgage by a railroad company of all its personal property including road-bed and rails entitles the trustees thereof to rails taken from the road to apply on the mortgage in preference to a subsequent execution creditor of the company).

The title of a debenture holder of a railway company is prior to that of any subsequent judgment creditor who has obtained an elegit; and if his security is in danger of being impaired by such judgment creditor, varieties of liens specially favored by law,[93] or as to liens which are given preference by an agreement between the parties.[94] Ordinarily a railroad mortgage takes precedence over debts due creditors of the company whether created before or subsequently to the mortgage,[95] unless such creditors have a prior equitable right.[96] Since a mortgage on railroad property covers only such interest in the property as the company has at the time the mortgage attaches,[97] it is subject to any liens by which the property comes into the company's possession.[98] A mortgage covering after-acquired property will take precedence over the claim of a contractor who has afterward completed an unbuilt part of the road under an agreement that he shall retain possession of the road and apply the earnings to the liquidation of his debt and who has retained possession under his agreement;[99] or a mortgage on the property of an old railroad company given by its successor is entitled to priority over the claims of a creditor for services and advances to the old company who did not obtain a judgment against either company until he may file a bill to protect his security, although the time fixed for the payment of the debenture holder has not arrived. Wildy v. Mid-Hants R. Co., 18 L. T. Rep. N. S. 73, 16 Wkly. Rep. 409.

93. See infra, VIII, A, 9, g, h.

94. Fidelity Ins., etc., Co. v. Shenandoah Valley R. Co., 32 W. Va. 244, 9 S. E. 180, 33 W. Va. 761, 11 S. E. 58; South Eastern R. Co. v. Jortin, 6 H. L. Cas. 425, 4 Jur. N. S. 467, 27 L. J. Ch. 145, 10 Eng. Reprint 1360.

95. Seaboard Air-Line R. Co. v. Knickerbocker Trust Co., 125 Ga. 463, 54 S. E. 138; Central Trust Co. v. Bridges, 57 Fed. 753, 6 C. C. A. 539.

A surety upon a supersedeas bond given by a railroad company while apparently solvent and not in default in interest, if compelled after the insolvency of the company to pay the judgment appealed from, is not entitled to be repaid from the proceeds of the property of the company in preference to a mortgagee thereof. Whitely v. Central Trust Co., 76 Fed. 74, 22 C. C. A. 67, 34 L. R. A. 303.

A lien of a trustee and bondholders under a mortgage is superior to that of one claiming under an agreement by the mortgagor railroad company to pay as part of the purchase-price any judgment that might be recovered in a personal injury action against its vendor, in so far as the trustee and bondholders are purchasers for value without notice. Ingram v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 107 S. W. 239, 32 Ky. L. Rep. 849.

96. Gregg v. Mercantile Trust Co., 109 Fed. 220, 38 C. C. A. 318; Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Missouri, etc., R. Co., 21 Fed. 264.

Equitable lien on trust funds.— Where the stock-holders of a railroad company to relieve themselves of their statutory liability for its debts subscribe a loan to the company to pay the floating debt, the money so acquired is a trust fund for creditors, and any portion misappropriated may be followed by them into the hands of a reorganized company, and an equitable lien exists in their favor thereon to the amount of their claims superior to the first mortgage on the road. Hatry v. Painesville, etc., R. Co., 1 Ohio Cir. Ct. 426, 1 Ohio Cir. Dec. 238 [affirmed in 23 Cinc. L. Bul. 281].

An agreement or order to pay a certain demand out of the proceeds of sale of first bonds sold by the company does not constitute an agreement to set apart any specific earnings or profits and therefore does not constitute an equitable lien, so as to take precedence of a mortgage executed to a company afterward purchasing the railroad property before the issue of the bonds. Roberts v. Central Trust Co., 128 Fed. 882, 63 C. C. A. 220 [affirming 110 Fed. 70].

Estoppel.— Where the company, before the mortgage to trustees was executed, owned a carload of railroad iron subject to the lien of the United States for duties and agreed with plaintiffs that they might pay the duty, that the company might lay the iron on its track, and that plaintiffs, if the company did not repay them the money paid for duties within a specified time, might take up the iron and hold it as security for the money advanced, and the iron having passed according to this bargain into the possession of the company, the lien for the duties is gone and cannot be asserted by plaintiffs against the mortgage of the trustees. Pierce v. Emery, 32 N. H. 484.

Subrogation.—A railway company when on the verge of insolvency paid the interest on its debenture stock with money borrowed from its bankers. The bank claimed against the company's assets payment in full of the loan in priority to any further payments to the debenture stock-holders, on the ground that, the interest of the stock being a charge on the company's undertaking, they were entitled by subrogation to the benefit of the charge. It was held that the bank could not be treated as assignee of the stock-holders' right to their interest, and that the claim therefore failed. In re Wrexham, etc., R. Co., [1898] 2 Ch. 663, 68 L. J. Ch. 28, 79 L. T. Rep. N. S. 463, 47 Wkly. Rep. 172.

97. See supra, VIII, A, 7, d, (VII), (B).

98. New Orleans, etc., R. Co. v. Mellen, 12 Wall. (U. S.) 362, 20 L. ed. 434.

99. Dunham v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 1 Wall. (U. S.) 254, 17 L. ed. 584 [reversing 8 Fed. Cas. No. 4,148].

some years after the mortgage was given,[1] and the nature of whose services and advances does not entitle him to a statutory lien on the property of the old company.[2] But a mortgagee of a railroad has no preference over a judgment creditor, at whose instance a receiver is appointed, to surplus earnings which have accumulated in the hands of the receiver prior to the filing of the bill of foreclosure.[3] A recorded mortgage held by the trustee before any bonds are issued or any mortgage debt created is held by such trustee merely as the agent of the railroad company, so that mechanics' liens which attached prior to the issuance of any bonds are prior in lien.[4]

d. Liens For Public Aid Granted. The priority of a lien on railroad property in favor of a state, county, or municipality as security for its issuing or indorsing bonds or subscribing to stock in aid of the company is usually regulated by the statute, or provision of the constitution, authorizing the granting of such aid.[5] Some statutes expressly provide that such liens shall be prior and superior to all liens or encumbrances created by the company and all other claims existing or to exist against it.[6] Persons dealing with a railroad company are bound to take notice of a public statute giving a state or a county a lien on railroad property for public aid granted to it,[7] and such lien therefore is superior to claims of purchasers of the property of such company,[8] and to its bonds issued under a mortgage subsequently executed,[9] and to the holder of a tax certificate which by statute is receivable by the company for freight and passage.[10] But where under such a statute first mortgage bonds are transferred to the state as security for bonds issued by it in aid of a road, the state as holder of such first mortgage bonds has no priority over other bonds of the same issue held by individuals.[11] So the lien of the state under such a statute is subordinate to the interest and claim of a vendor of railroad property reserved in the deed of conveyance,[12] or to the lien of a person who has recovered judgment for the value of his land taken for the

1. Fogg v. Blair, 133 U. S. 534, 10 S. Ct. 338, 33 L. ed. 721 [affirming 22 Fed. 36, 25 Fed. 684].

2. Fogg v. Blair, 133 U. S. 534, 10 S. Ct. 338, 33 L. ed. 721 [affirming 22 Fed. 36, 25 Fed. 684].

3. Veatch v. American L. & T. Co., 84 Fed. 274, 28 C. C. A. 384 [affirming 79 Fed. 471, 25 C. C. A. 39].

4. Reynolds v. Manhattan Trust Co., 83 Fed. 593, 27 C. C. A. 620.

5. State v. Jacksonville, etc., R. Co., 16 Fla. 708 (holding that the lien of the trustees of the internal improvement fund is prior to that of the state); State v. Lagrange, etc., R. Co., 4 Humphr. (Tenn.) 488; Mercantile Trust Co. v. Baltimore, etc., R. Co., 82 Fed. 360 (holding that where by a statute authorizing a state to subscribe to the stock of a railroad company the interest and dividends of the state are to be paid from the "profits," the state does not become a creditor of the company, but is a preferred stock-holder having no equitable lien on the property of the company which entitles the holder of the stock to dividends from the earnings of the road in preference to the payment of a mortgage indebtedness subsequently contracted). Compare Sinking Fund Com'rs v. Northern Bank, 1 Metc. (Ky.) 174.

Where an act of congress of July 1, 1862, provided for the issue of United States bonds to aid in the construction of the Union Pacific railroad, which bonds were to be a first mortgage on the road, and also provided that a certain per cent of the net earnings of the road should be annually applied to the payment of the bonds, and a later act of July 2, 1864, amending the former, authorized the company to issue its first mortgage bonds and subordinated the lien of the United States bonds thereto, the latter act postponed the payment of such certain per cent of the net earnings to the government until the interest on the first mortgage bonds thereby authorized had been paid. U. S. v. Sioux City, etc., R. Co., 99 U. S. 491, 25 L. ed. 292; U. S. v. Central Pac. R. Co., 99 U. S. 449, 25 L. ed. 287; Union Pac. R. Co. v. U. S., 99 U. S. 402, 25 L. ed. 274 [reversing 13 Ct. Cl. 401].

6. Colt v. Barnes, 64 Ala. 108, construing the act of Feb. 21, 1870.

7. Ketchum v. St. Louis, 101 U. S. 306, 25 L. ed. 999 [affirming 14 Fed. Cas. Nos. 7,739, 7,740, 4 Dill. 78, 87 note]; Tompkins v. Little Rock, etc., R. Co., 15 Fed. 6.

8. Ketchum v. St. Louis, 101 U. S. 306, 25 L. ed. 999 [affirming 14 Fed. Cas. Nos. 7,739, 7,740, 4 Dill. 78, 87 note].

9. Ketchum v. St. Louis, 101 U. S. 306, 25 L. ed. 999 [affirming 14 Fed. Cas. Nos. 7,739, 7,740, 4 Dill. 78, 87 note].

10. State v. Nashville, etc., R. Co., 7 Lea (Tenn.) 15.

11. Minnesota, etc., R. Co. v. Sibley, 2 Minn. 13.

12. Tennessee, etc., R. Co. v. East Alabama R. Co., 73 Ala. 426.

road,[13] or to mortgagees who have become such under a subsequent statute authorizing the railroad company to borrow money and mortgage its property.[14] The holders of bonds so issued and indorsed by the state are entitled to priority over junior encumbrancers,[15] unless they have waived or lost their priority by some act on their part.[16] The holders of bonds indorsed by the state are not bound to look primarily to the state for payment, and neither the railroad company nor junior encumbrancers can object that such holders have made no effort to obtain payment from the state;[17] nor will the first bondholders be required to look primarily to the state for payment on the ground that they hold a double security.[18]

e. Liens For Right of Way or Land Granted. Except where the vendor has waived his right to priority,[19] or the vendor's lien is a secret one of which the mortgage bondholders had no notice,[20] the lien of a vendor of land sold or taken for railroad purposes for the unpaid purchase-price thereof or for just compensation, if no price has been fixed, is superior to that of a mortgage on the road,[21] although the mortgage contains an after-acquired property clause,[22] particularly to that of a subsequent mortgage,[23] and particularly where the sale is a conditional 13. White v. Nashville, etc., R. Co., 7 Heisk. (Tenn.) 518.

14. Brown v. State, 62 Md. 439.

15. Hand v. Savannah, etc., R. Co., 12 S. C. 314, 17 S. C. 219.

Postponement.— Where a state indorsing the corporate bonds of a railroad and reserving a statutory lien afterward attempts to postpone the lien and let in a new issue of bonds, which attempt is void, the holders of first lien bonds retaining that rank are exclusively entitled to the benefit of the first lien and cannot be required to share that benefit with the second statute lien to the extent of the quantity of the first lien removed by the estoppel of parties holding under it. Hand v. Savannah, etc., R. Co., 12 S. C. 314, 17 S. C. 219.

16. Hand v. Savannah, etc., R. Co., 12 S. C. 314, holding that where by the act of 1869 certain bonds were issued for money borrowed in aid of a railroad and the lien held by the state on the road under the act of 1856 was to become subordinate to such bonds and other bonds guaranteed by the state which were to be issued in exchange for past-due coupons of 1856, the parties receiving these guaranteed bonds in exchange for coupons thereby surrendered all rights to claims for the coupons or bonds so received or the protection of the lien created by the act of 1856, and by such funding of coupons they accepted the postponement of the lien of 1856 as to all bonds and coupons of the same class owned by them at that time.

Estoppel.— Where a state indorsed railroad bonds and reserved a statutory lien and afterward attempted to postpone the lien to let in a new issue of the bonds, the former bondholders are not estopped from asserting their prior lien because, knowing of this attempt, they, without objection, permitted money raised thereunder to be expended upon the improvement of the mortgaged premises. Hand v. Savannah, etc., R. Co., 12 S. C. 314. Nor are they estopped from asserting their rights under the statutory lien by reason of the fact that they accepted payment of their coupons from the company after the rebuilding of the road under a later statute. Hand v. Savannah, etc., R. Co., supra. Nor because of their failure to oppose the passage of the act postponing the lien. Hand v. Savannah, etc., R. Co., supra.

Burden of proof.— On the issue of such estoppel, the question whether the holder of bonds and coupons secured by the lien has accepted in payment of his past-due coupons, bonds issued under a statute postponing such lien is one of fact and the burden is on him who asserts the estoppel. Hand v. Savannah, etc., R. Co., 17 S. C. 219.

Evidence.—And upon such issue entries in the handwriting of a deceased treasurer, in the regularly kept books of the company, are competent evidence to show who funded the coupons and received in exchange therefor bonds under the later statute. Hand v. Savannah, etc., R. Co., 17 S. C. 219.

17. Hand v. Savannah, etc., R. Co., 12 S. C. 314.

18. Hand v. Savannah, etc., R. Co., 12 S. C. 314.

19. Fisk v. Potter, 2 Abb. Dec. (N. Y.) 138, 2 Keyes 64.

20. Fisk v. Potter, 2 Abb. Dec. (N. Y.) 138, 2 Keyes 64.

21. Central Trust Co. v. Bridges, 57 Fed. 753, 6 C. C. A. 539.

22. Central Trust Co. v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 81 Fed. 772, holding that railroad mortgage bondholders who by virtue of a future-acquired property clause in the mortgage obtain an interest in or lien upon lands condemned for the use of the company hold subject to the claim of the prior owner for the purchase-money. But see Pierce v. Milwaukee, etc., R. Co., 24 Wis. 551, 1 Am. Rep. 203.

23. Hatry v. Painesville, etc., R. Co., 1 Ohio Cir. Ct. 426, 1 Ohio Cir Dec. 238 [affirmed in 23 Cinc. L. Bul. 281]; Central Trust Co. v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 81 Fed. 772, holding that holders of railroad bonds secured by a mortgage made after certain property has been taken for the use of the road or before compensation has been made one.[24] Such lien is also superior to the lien of bonds issued or indorsed by the state,[25] or to other subsequent lienors.[26]

f. Liens For Rolling Stock Furnished. A railroad mortgage covering after-acquired property is superior to a lien or claim on subsequently acquired rolling stock in favor of a lessor of such property,[27] under a lease which in fact amounts to a purchase of the property by the company,[28] or to a mortgage thereof by the company,[29] or which is otherwise a mere device to prevent the property from coming under the after-acquired property clause.[30] Such mortgage is also superior to a chattel mortgage, by the furnisher of the rolling stock, to a director and general counsel of the railroad company,[31] or to a claim for equipment of a furnisher who relies on the credit of the company and on an indorser of notes taken by him from the railroad company in payment.[32] But such mortgage is inferior to the rights or lien of a vendor of such rolling stock under a conditional sale;[33] or to a bona fide lessor of such rolling stock, with reservation of title;[34] although such mortgage is superior to the rights of a vendor who delivers the rolling stock without any condition or reservation as to payment.[35] Nor can a vendor claim such lien as against a prior lien if he obtains a judgment against the company for his work.[36] take subject to the compensation which may be adjudged therefor and are bound by the judgment, although they were not parties to the suit upon which it was rendered.

24. Tennessee, etc., R. Co. v. East Alabama R. Co., 73 Ala. 426; Wright v. Kentucky, etc., R. Co., 117 U. S. 72, 6 S. Ct. 697, 29 L. ed. 821.

25. Hand v. Savannah, etc., R. Co., 12 S. C. 314.

26. Wright v. Kentucky, etc., R. Co., 117 U. S. 72, 6 S. Ct. 697, 29 L. ed. 821, holding that where an uncompleted road-bed is transferred to a railroad company by a contract providing that the title shall not vest until the performance of certain conditions, the construction company, having notice of the contract and the conditions, can acquire no lien for work done on the property superior to the vendor's right to take the same for breach of condition.

27. Manhattan Trust Co. v. Sioux City, etc., R. Co., 68 Fed. 72, holding that a railroad mortgage covering after-acquired property is prior to any lien existing in favor of a lessor of depot grounds under McClain Code Iowa, § 2192, on rolling stock delivered to the railroad company before its use on depot grounds.

28. McGourkey v. Toledo, etc., R. Co., 146 U. S. 536, 13 S. Ct. 170, 36 L. ed. 1079 [affirming 36 Fed. 520].

29. McGourkey v. Toledo, etc., R. Co., 146 U. S. 536, 13 S. Ct. 170, 36 L. ed. 1079 [affirming 36 Fed. 520].

30. McGourkey v. Toledo, etc., R. Co., 146 U. S. 536, 13 S. Ct. 170, 36 L. ed. 1079 [affirming 36 Fed. 520].

31. Flanagan Bank v. Graham, 42 Oreg. 403, 71 Pac. 137, 790.

32. Continental Trust Co. v. Toledo, etc., R. Co., 93 Fed. 532, holding that a manufacturer who furnished locomotives to a railroad company in part on credit, taking notes for such deferred payment indorsed by a third person, must be held to have relied upon the credit of the company and the indorser, and is not entitled to a lien on the company's property superior to that of a prior mortgage, although the locomotives were needed to enable the company to continue the operation of the road.

33. Fosdick v. Schall, 99 U. S. 235, 25 L. ed. 339; Metropolitan Trust Co. v. Railroad Equipment Co., 108 Fed. 913, 48 C. C. A. 135 (holding that a corporation making a conditional sale of equipment to a railroad company, retaining title until the full payment of notes given for the price, on the foreclosure of a mortgage covering all the property of the company before payment, is entitled to take back the equipment, or in case the mortgagees elect to retain it, to a first lien thereon for the amount still due without any deduction on account of expenditures made by the railroad company or its receiver for the preservation or improvement of such property); Metropolitan Trust Co. v. Columbus, etc., R. Co., 93 Fed. 702 (holding that a corporation making a conditional sale of equipment to a railroad company, rental to be paid therefor, and applied on the purchase-price and the title to remain in the seller until full payment, on a foreclosure of mortgages against the railroad company before full payment, is entitled to take back the equipment, or in case the mortgagees elect to retain it, the first lien on the property for the amount still due thereon); Central Trust Co. v. Marietta, etc., R. Co., 48 Fed. 864, 1 C. C. A. 139 (holding also that where such rolling stock was supplied to an improvement company which turned it over to a railroad company, the original vendor could take nothing by a resale to him by the improvement company of such rolling stock). Compare Wallbridge v. Farwell, 18 Can. Sup. Ct. 1.

34. Central Trust Co. v. Ohio Southern R. Co., 17 Ohio Cir. Ct. 633, 9 Ohio Cir. Dec. 317.

35. Coe v. Pennock, 5 Fed. Cas. No. 2,942 [affirmed in 23 How. 117, 16 L. ed. 436].

36. Coe v. Pennock, 5 Fed. Cas. No. 2,942

g. Liens For Construction, Labor, or Supplies — (i) IN GENERAL. Although the doctrine is of recent origin, it has become settled law in this country that in the final distribution of the assets of an insolvent railroad corporation which has been placed in the hands of a receiver there are certain claims against the fund which, under certain circumstances, are entitled to priority of payment over the debts of the corporation secured by mortgage upon its property.[37] Thus, except where there is a statutory provision to the contrary,[38] the rule is well settled in equity that where a railroad company becomes insolvent and is placed in the hands of a receiver, current debts for wages of employees, equipment, useful improvements, necessary repairs, and other necessary expenses incurred in operating the road are entitled to, and the court may order that they shall, be a charge upon the current earnings of the road superior to the claims of creditors secured by a mortgage on the corpus of the railroad property,[39] or on the [affirmed in 23 How. 117, 16 L. ed. 436], holding also that if he obtains a judgment against the company for the work, an execution cannot be levied on the rolling stock on which a former lien exists.

37. McIlhenney v. Binz, 80 Tex. 1, 13 S. W. 655, 26 Am. St. Rep. 705; Louisville Trust Co. v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 174 U. S. 674, 19 S. Ct. 827, 43 L. ed. 1130 [reversing 84 Fed. 539, 28 C. C. A. 202], holding that in railroad foreclosure proceedings accompanied by a receivership, it is the duty of the court at times to give to certain unsecured claims a priority over the mortgage debt.

38. Alexander v. Mercantile Trust, etc., Co., 100 Ga. 537, 28 S. E. 235 (holding that under Civ. Code, § 2719 et seq., the demands secured by legal liens at the time of filing a bill of foreclosure should first be paid and should not be postponed in favor of charges against the property in favor of persons whose claims are superior in equity but not secured by a legal lien); New York Cent. Trust Co. v. Thurman, 94 Ga. 735, 20 S. E. 141.

39. Alabama.— Drennen v. Mercantile Trust, etc., Co., 115 Ala. 592, 23 So. 164, 67 Am. St. Rep. 72, 39 L. R. A. 623.

Arkansas.— Barstow v. Pine Bluff, etc., R. Co., 57 Ark. 334, 21 S. W. 652.

Colorado.— Grand Junction First Nat. Bank v. Wyman, 16 Colo. App. 468, 66 Pac. 456.

New York.— Townsend v. Oneonta, etc., R. Co., 88 N. Y. App. Div. 208, 84 N. Y. Suppl. 427; Brown v. New York, etc., R. Co., 19 How. Pr. 84.

Texas.— McIlhenny v. Binz, 80 Tex. 1, 13 S. W. 655, 26 Am. St. Rep. 705.

Utah.— New York Cent. Trust Co. v. Utah Cent. R. Co., 16 Utah 12, 50 Pac. 813.

Virginia.— Smith v. Washington City, etc., R. Co., 33 Gratt. 617.

Washington.— Bellingham Bay Imp. Co. v. Fairhaven, etc., R. Co., 17 Wash. 371, 49 Pac. 514.

United States.— Lackawanna Iron, etc., Co. v. Farmers' L. & T. Co., 176 U. S. 298, 20 S. Ct. 363, 40 L. ed. 475; Virginia, etc., Coal Co. v. Georgia Cent. R., etc., Co., 170 U. S. 355, 18 S. Ct. 657, 42 L. ed. 1068; Kneeland v. American L. & T. Co., 136 U. S. 89, 10 S. Ct. 950, 34 L. ed. 379; St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co., 125 U. S. 658, 8 S. Ct. 1011, 31 L. ed. 832; Union Trust Co. v. Morrison, 125 U. S. 591, 8 S. Ct. 1004, 31 L. ed. 825; Burnham v. Bowen, 111 U. S. 776, 4 S. Ct. 675, 28 L. ed. 596; Union Trust Co. v. Souther, 107 U. S. 591, 2 S. Ct. 295, 27 L. ed. 488; Hale v. Frost, 99 U. S. 389, 25 L. ed. 419; Fosdick v. Schall, 99 U. S. 235, 25 L. ed. 339; Rodger Ballast Car Co. v. Omaha, etc., R. Co., 154 Fed. 629, 83 C. C. A. 403; Southern R. Co. v. Ensign Mfg. Co., 117 Fed. 417, 54 C. C. A. 591; Monsarrat v. Mercantile Trust Co., 109 Fed. 230, 48 C. C. A. 328; Rhode Island Locomotive Works v. Continental Trust Co., 108 Fed. 5, 47 C. C. A. 147; International Trust Co. v. T. B. Townsend Brick, etc., Co., 95 Fed. 850, 37 C. C. A. 396; Grand Trunk R. Co. v. Central Vermont R. Co., 88 Fed. 620 (holding this to be true as against a mortgage on which the first default of interest occurred during the receivership, where the stock of supplies coming into the hands of the receivers exceeded the amount of such claims and it appears that the net earnings under the receivership to the time of default on the mortgage interest, together with the betterments made, also largely exceeded such claims); Southern R. Co. v. Tillett, 76 Fed. 507, 22 C. C. A. 303; New England R. Co. v. Carnegie Steel Co., 75 Fed. 54, 21 C. C. A. 219; Bound v. South Carolina R. Co., 58 Fed. 473, 7 C. C. A. 322; Thomas v. Peoria, etc., R. Co., 36 Fed. 808; Farmers' Loan, etc., Co. v. Vicksburg, etc., R. Co., 33 Fed. 778; Calhoun v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 14 Fed. 9, 9 Biss. 330; Taylor v. Philadelphia, etc., R. Co., 7 Fed. 377. See Northern Pac. R. Co. v. Lamont, 69 Fed. 23, 16 C. C. A. 364; Denniston v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 7 Fed. Cas. No. 3,800, 4 Biss. 414.

England.— See Proffitt v. Wye Valley R. Co., 64 L. T. Rep. N. S. 669.

Canada.— Sage v. Shore Line R. Co., 2 N. Brunsw. Eq. 321. See Wallbridge v. Farwell, 18 Can. Sup. Ct. 1.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," §§ 563–567; and, generally, RECEIVERS.

The reason for this rule, which is generally applied only to railroads, is because of their quasi-public character. They obtain and use certain franchises granted by the public and in consideration thereof must income,[40] or as against other general creditors,[41] unless the claimant has lost or waived his right to a preference.[42] In some jurisdictions this preference is protected by statute.[43] The income out of which the mortgagee is to be paid is the net income obtained by deducting from the gross earnings what is required for necessary operating and managing expenses, proper equipment, and useful improvements;[44] subserve the interests of the public. Especially must every railroad be kept a going concern. To this end their earnings are first applied to debts incurred for labor and supplies necessary to keep the road in actual operation. In this way not only is the public interest served, but the value of the property covered by the mortgage is maintained, and the interests of all concerned not allowed to go to ruin. Southern R. Co. v. Ensign Mfg. Co., 117 Fed. 417, 54 C. C. A. 591. The reason for the rule has also been stated to be "not because the creditors to whom such debts are due have in law a lien upon the mortgaged property or the income, but because, in a sense, the officers of the company are trustees of the earnings for the benefit of the different classes of creditors and the stock-holders; and if they give to one class of creditors that which properly belongs to another, the court may, upon an adjustment of the accounts, so use the income which comes into its own hands, as, if practicable, to restore the parties to their original equitable rights." Fosdick v. Schall, 99 U. S. 235, 253, 25 L. ed. 339.

This preference exists upon all the lines of the railroad system prior in right to both local and general mortgages. Central Trust Co. v. Wabash, etc., R. Co., 30 Fed. 332.

Equity cannot be cut off.— The equity of one who furnished supplies shortly before the appointment of receivers to be paid out of funds or income in their hands cannot be cut off before he becomes a party to the proceedings, by orders entered at the instance of the mortgage creditors. New England R. Co. v. Carnegie Steel Co., 75 Fed. 54, 21 C. C. A. 213.

An attaching creditor who has attached tolls before they came into the hands of the trustees, and before default, acquires a lien thereon superior to that of the trustees. Clay v. East Tennessee, etc., R. Co., 6 Heisk. (Tenn.) 421.

Current income, within the meaning of this rule, does not include the proceeds of mileage sold in bulk, at a discount, over other railroads, for which the railroad company acts in issuing the same, the proceeds not having been accounted for to them, but used for its own purposes. Gregg v. Metropolitan Trust Co., 124 Fed. 721, 59 C. C. A. 637.

40. Darst v. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co., 3 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 199, 4 Wkly. L. Gaz. 377. And see the cases cited supra, note 39.

41. Ruhlender v. Chesapeake, etc., R. Co., 91 Fed. 5, 33 C. C. A. 299, holding that a receivership, although obtained in a suit in behalf of general creditors, does not entitle such creditors to payment from the earnings under the receivership in preference to claims usually denominated "debts of the income" and which are preferential charges thereon as against all other creditors.

42. State Trust Co. v. Kansas City, etc., R. Co., 129 Fed. 455, holding that the filing of a statement under a statute for a mechanic's lien for the debt waives the right to afterward assert an equitable preferential lien in a foreclosure suit.

Prosecuting an action on the claim to a final judgment before the commencement of a suit to foreclose a mortgage does not cause the creditor to lose his right to a preference. Central Trust Co. v. Clark, 81 Fed. 269, 26 C. C. A. 397.

Laches.— Laches of a creditor in asserting his claim may deprive him of his right to an equitable preference. Stewart v. Wisconsin Cent. R. Co., 95 Fed. 577; Grand Trunk R. Co. v. Central Vermont R. Co., 78 Fed. 690, holding that where a lessee is bound to pay from gross earnings certain prior claims before paying anything to the bondholders, but the holders of these claims permit payment to the bondholders first, they then become common unsecured creditors of the lessee whose claims on the appointment of a receiver are not entitled to preference out of subsequently accruing earnings. But the delay of the one furnishing the supplies shortly before the receivership to interpose his claim until after the mortgage creditors have interposed by foreclosure proceedings will not bar his recovery, if there are still assets from which the claim may be paid. New England R. Co. v. Carnegie Steel Co., 75 Fed. 54, 21 C. C. A. 219. So laches in asserting the demand does not cause the priority of such claim to be lost if an action at law to enforce the demand has not been barred by the statute of limitations. Bellingham Bay Imp. Co. v. Fairhaven, etc., R. Co., 17 Wash. 371, 49 Pac. 514.

43. See Darst v. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co., 3 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 199, 4 Wkly. L. Gaz. 377; Bell v. St. Johnsbury, etc., R. Co., 76 Vt. 42, 56 Atl. 105 (construing St. § 3803); Farmers' Loan, etc., Co. v. Vicksburg, etc., R. Co., 33 Fed. 778, construing Miss. Code, § 1033, which provides that no mortgage on the income, future earnings, or rolling stock of a railroad shall be valid against debts contracted in carrying on the business of the corporation; and holding that such statute does not give a prior lien to the holders of such claims, but merely prevents those claiming a prior lien under such mortgage from setting it up to defeat such claims.

44. Barstow v. Pine Bluff, etc., R. Co., 57 Ark. 334, 21 S. W. 652; Clay v. East Tennessee, etc., R. Co., 6 Heisk. (Tenn.) 421; Fosdick v. Schall, 99 U. S. 235, 25 L. ed. 339; Rodger Ballast Car Co. v. Omaha, etc., R. Co., 154 Fed. 629, 83 C. C. A. 403.

and every railroad mortgagee in accepting his security impliedly agrees that the current debts made in the ordinary course of business shall be met from the current receipts before he has any claim upon the income;[45] and if in the operation of the railroad by trustees or a receiver, earnings or income which should have been used in meeting obligations for current labor and supplies are diverted from this purpose and are used for the benefit of the mortgage creditors, as by paying interest, purchasing property, and making permanent improvements, such diversion must be made good, and is entitled to a priority of payment out of the corpus of the mortgaged property or its proceeds,[46] to the extent that the labor or supplies have contributed to the permanent improvement or betterment of the corporate property,[47] or in so far as the gross earnings of the company have been diverted from the payment thereof and paid to the bondholders.[48] But where there has been no such diversion,[49] or where the earnings of the road are more

45. Southern R. Co. v. Carnegie Steel Co., 176 U. S. 257, 20 S. Ct. 347, 44 L. ed. 458 [affirming 76 Fed. 492, 22 C. C. A. 289]; Fosdick v. Schall, 99 U. S. 235, 25 L. ed. 339; Rodger Ballast Car Co. v. Omaha, etc., R. Co., 154 Fed. 629, 83 C. C. A. 403.

46. Alabama.— Drennen v. Mercantile Trust, etc., Co., 115 Ala. 592, 23 So. 164, 67 Am. St. Rep. 72, 39 L. R. A. 623.

Arkansas.— Barstow v. Pine Bluff, etc., R. Co., 57 Ark. 334, 21 S. W. 652.

Colorado.— Grand Junction First Nat. Bank v. Wyman, 16 Colo. App. 468, 66 Pac. 456.

Missouri.— Van Frank v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 89 Mo. App. 489.

Texas.— McIlhenny v. Binz, 80 Tex. 1, 13 S. W. 655, 26 Am. St. Rep. 705; Waters-Pierce Oil Co. v. U. S., etc., Trust Co., 44 Tex. Civ. App. 397, 99 S. W. 212.

Utah.— New York Cent. Trust Co. v. Utah Cent. R. Co., 16 Utah 12, 50 Pac. 813; Litzenberger v. Jarvis-Conklin Trust Co., 8 Utah 15, 28 Pac. 871.

Washington.— Bellingham Bay Imp. Co. v. Fairhaven, etc., R. Co., 17 Wash. 371, 49 Pac. 514.

United States.— Southern R. Co. v. Carnegie Steel Co., 176 U. S. 257, 20 S. Ct. 347, 44 L. ed. 458 [affirming 76 Fed. 492, 22 C. C. A. 289]; Kneeland v. American L. & T. Co., 136 U. S. 89, 10 S. Ct. 950, 34 L. ed. 379; St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co., 125 U. S. 658, 8 S. Ct. 1011, 31 L. ed. 832; Burnham v. Bowen, 111 U. S. 776, 4 S. Ct. 675, 28 L. ed. 596; Union Trust Co. v. Walker, 107 U. S. 596, 2 S. Ct. 299, 27 L. ed. 490; Fordyce v. Kansas City, etc., Connecting R. Co., 145 Fed. 566; Southern R. Co. v. Ensign Mfg. Co., 117 Fed. 417, 54 C. C. A. 591; Gregg v. Mercantile Trust Co., 109 Fed. 220, 48 C. C. A. 318; Rhode Island Locomotive Works v. Continental Trust Co., 108 Fed. 5, 47 C. C. A. 147; International Trust Co. v. T. B. Townsend Brick, etc., Co., 95 Fed. 850, 37 C. C. A. 396; Southern R. Co. v. Tillett, 76 Fed. 507, 22 C. C. A. 303; Pennsylvania Finance Co. v. Charleston, etc., R. Co., 62 Fed. 205, 10 C. C. A. 323; Calhoun v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 14 Fed. 9, 9 Biss. 330. See Toledo, etc., R. Co. v. Hamilton, 134 U. S. 296, 10 S. Ct. 546, 33 L. ed. 905.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," §§ 563–567.

Dependent on diversion.— The right of one furnishing supplies to a preference over the mortgagee is dependent upon the fact that there has been a diversion of the net earnings of the mortgaged property over and above the necessary expenditures for operation and that such diversion has inured to the benefit of the mortgagee and the burden rests upon the claimant of such preference to establish such facts. Kansas L. & T. Co. v. Sedalia Electric R., etc., Co., 108 Fed. 702.

The diversion need not be prior to the receivership.— Virginia, etc., Coal Co. v. Georgia Cent. R., etc., Co., 170 U. S. 355, 18 S. Ct. 657, 42 L. ed. 1068 [affirming 66 Fed. 803, 14 C. C. A. 112].

47. Drennen v. Mercantile Trust, etc., Co., 115 Ala. 592, 23 So. 164, 67 Am. St. Rep. 72, 39 L. R. A. 623. And see the cases cited supra, note 46.

48. Drennen v. Mercantile Trust, etc., Co., 115 Ala. 592, 23 So. 164, 67 Am. St. Rep. 72, 39 L. R. A. 623. And see the cases cited supra, note 46.

49. Hammerly v. Mercantile Trust, etc., Co., 123 Ala. 596, 26 So. 646; Waters-Pierce Oil Co. v. U. S., etc., Trust Co., 44 Tex. Civ. App. 397, 99 S. W. 212; Gregg v. Metropolitan Trust Co., 197 U. S. 183, 25 S. Ct. 415, 49 L. ed. 717 [affirming 124 Fed. 721, 59 C. C. A. 637]; St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co., 125 U. S. 658, 8 S. Ct. 1011, 31 L. ed. 832; Penn v. Calhoun, 121 U. S. 251, 7 S. Ct. 906, 30 L. ed. 915; Niles Tool Works Co. v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 112 Fed. 561, 50 C. C. A. 390; Monsarrat v. Mercantile Trust Co., 109 Fed. 230, 48 C. C. A. 328; Rhode Island Locomotive Works v. Continental Trust Co., 108 Fed. 5, 47 C. C. A. 147; International Trust Co. v. T. B. Townsend Brick, etc., Co., 95 Fed. 850, 37 C. C. A. 396; Farmers' L. & T. Co., v. Northern Pac. R. Co., 68 Fed. 36; U. S. Trust Co. v. New York, etc., R. Co., 25 Fed. 800. Compare Cleveland, etc., R. Co. v. Knickerbocker Trust Co., 86 Fed. 73.

A secretary rendering services to a railroad company six months prior to the appointment of a receiver is not entitled to priority over mortgage bondholders where there has been no diversion of earnings for than sufficient to pay all its operating expenses,[50] labor and supply claimants are ordinarily not entitled to priority out of the corpus of the railroad property unless the terms of the mortgage permit of such priority;[51] although it has been held that the court may in its discretion, in accordance with the facts and circumstances of the particular case, and where the current income is insufficient, order such claim to prior payment out of the proceeds of sale, notwithstanding there has been no diversion of the income.[52] But this equitable right in favor of operating expenses does not exist against second mortgage bondholders for a diversion of current income for the benefit of first mortgage bondholders;[53] nor, it has been held, do these rules apply to a private railroad.[54]

(II) Effect of Lease of Road. As a general rule the above doctrine applies whether the labor or supplies were furnished to the company owning the property or to a lessee thereof.[55] But it has been held that the rule does not apply as against a lessor for improvements made upon a lessor's interest by a receiver of the lessee, where the lease gave the lessee no right to make such improvements at the lessor's expense.[56]

(III) What Constitutes a Diversion. A diversion within the meaning of the above rule means the use of the current income for the payment of claims for labor or supplies or other matters which were not necessary to keep the road a going concern;[57] and may consist in using such income to pay for permanent improvements,[58] rentals,[59] or interest on the mortgage.[60] the benefit of bondholders. Central Trust Co. v. Chattanooga, etc., R. Co., 69 Fed. 295.

50. Security Trust Co. v. Goble R. Co., 44 Oreg. 370, 74 Pac. 919, 75 Pac. 697.

51. New York Cent. Trust Co. v. Utah Cent. R. Co., 16 Utah 12, 50 Pac. 813; Union Trust Co. v. Illinois Midland R. Co., 117 U. S. 434, 6 S. Ct. 809, 29 L. ed. 963; Denniston v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 7 Fed. Cas. No. 3,800, 4 Biss. 414. And see the cases cited supra, notes 49, 50.

52. Pennsylvania Finance Co. v. Charleston, etc., R. Co., 62 Fed. 205, 10 C. C. A. 323. See also Receivers.

53. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co., 125 U. S. 658, 8 S. Ct. 1011, 31 L. ed. 832; Central Trust Co. v. East Tennessee, etc., R. Co., 80 Fed. 624, 26 C. C. A. 30.

54. Grand Junction First Nat. Bank v. Wyman, 16 Colo. App. 468, 66 Pac. 456, holding that where a railroad belongs to a mining company and is not used by the public but only in the operation of the mine, a claim for money borrowed to keep the road in operation should not be given precedence over a mortgage securing the company's bonds.

55. Virginia, etc., Coal Co. v. Georgia Cent. R., etc., Co., 170 U. S. 355, 18 S. Ct. 657, 42 L. ed. 1068 [affirming 66 Fed. 803, 14 C. C. A. 112] (holding also that it is immaterial whether the lease is valid or not); Stewart v. Wisconsin Cent. R. Co., 95 Fed. 577.

56. Felton v. Cincinnati, 95 Fed. 336, 37 C. C. A. 88.

57. Gregg v. Mercantile Trust Co., 109 Fed. 220, 48 C. C. A. 318, holding that the payment of trust certificates issued for cars or equipment furnished which was not necessary to keep the railroad a going concern, and which certificates therefore did not create a debt of the income, is a diversion of such earnings inuring to the benefit of the mortgagees under whose mortgage the equipment passed subject to the lien of the vendor.

Breach of contract.—A breach by a controlling railroad company of a contract requiring income to be first applied to operating expenses can be complained of only by the other company, and does not constitute a diversion of funds so as to entitle a claimant for an injury due to negligence to a preference out of the income as against a mortgagee. Veatch v. American L. & T. Co., 79 Fed. 471, 25 C. C. A. 39.

58. Southern R. Co. v. Carnegie Steel Co., 176 U. S. 257, 20 S. Ct. 347, 44 L. ed. 458 [affirming 76 Fed. 492, 22 C. C. A. 289]; Southern R. Co. v. Tillett, 76 Fed. 507, 22 C. C. A. 303.

59. Southern R. Co. v. Carnegie Steel Co., 176 U. S. 257, 20 S. Ct. 347, 44 L. ed. 458 [affirming 76 Fed. 492, 22 C. C. A. 289]. And see infra, VIII, A, 9, k.

60. Southern R. Co. v. Carnegie Steel Co., 176 U. S. 257, 20 S. Ct. 347, 44 L. ed. 458 [affirming 76 Fed. 492, 22 C. C. A. 289]; Southern R. Co. v. Tillett, 76 Fed. 507, 22 C. C. A. 303. Compare Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Fidelity Ins., etc., Co., (Tex. Civ. App. 1897) 41 S. W. 113.

Giving credit for a certain period to a railroad company to pay for supplies furnished indicates a contemplation that during that period the interest falling due on the mortgage bonds is to be paid out of the earnings and hence such payments are not a diversion of earnings within the above rule. Bound v. South Carolina R. Co., 58 Fed. 473, 7 C. C. A. 322.

A diversion of earnings of a railroad from operating expenses to interest on bonds is not shown by the fact that through an extended period the gross receipts would have been

(IV) REQUISITES OF OPERATING EXPENSES — (A) In General. The mere fact that that which an unsecured creditor of an insolvent railroad company furnished to the company was for the preservation of the property and the benefit of the mortgage securities is not sufficient to give his claim priority over mortgage creditors in the distribution of the net earnings;[61] but before such creditors are entitled to a preference it should reasonably appear from all the circumstances that the debt was one to be fairly regarded as part of the operating expenses of the railroad company, incurred in the ordinary course of the business of the railroad and to be met out of the current receipts;[62] and in this sense operating expenses, or current debts, include only such expenses as are reasonably necessary to operate the railroad and keep it a going concern.[63] Thus "operating expenses" within the application of the above rules have been held to include debts due to connecting lines growing out of an interchange of business,[64] and debts due for the use and occupation of leased property or lines,[65] or for necessary repairs,[66] sufficient to meet all operating expenses if no interest had been paid, since, at the time when there was no default in the payment of operating expenses, the earnings were rightfully appropriated to pay the interest. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co., 125 U. S. 658, 8 S. Ct. 1011, 31 L. ed. 832.

61. Southern R. Co. v. Carnegie Steel Co., 176 U. S. 257, 20 S. Ct. 347, 44 L. ed. 458 [affirming 76 Fed. 492, 22 C. C. A. 289]; Rodger Ballast Car Co. v. Omaha, etc., R. Co., 154 Fed. 629, 83 C. C. A. 403.

62. Southern R. Co. v. Carnegie Steel Co., 176 U. S. 257, 20 S. Ct. 347, 44 L. ed. 458 [affirming 76 Fed. 492, 22 C. C. A. 289]; Rodger Ballast Car Co. v. Omaha, etc., R. Co., 154 Fed. 629, 83 C. C. A. 403.

63. Security Trust Co. v. Goble R. Co., 44 Oreg. 370, 74 Pac. 919, 75 Pac. 697; Southern R. Co. v. Carnegie Steel Co., 176 U. S. 257, 20 S. Ct. 347, 44 L. ed. 458 [affirming 76 Fed. 492, 22 C. C. A. 289]; Virginia, etc., Coal Co. v. Georgia Cent. R., etc., Co., 170 U. S. 355, 18 S. Ct. 657, 42 L. ed. 1068 (holding that this equity is dependent upon the fact that the supplies were sold and specially purchased for the use and were used in the operation of the road and were essential for such operation); Hale v. Frost, 99 U. S. 389, 25 L. ed. 419 (car springs and spirals and supplies for machinery department); Southern R. Co. v. Chapman Jack Co., 117 Fed. 424, 54 C. C. A. 598; Southern R. Co. v. Ensign Mfg. Co., 117 Fed. 417, 54 C. C. A. 591; Cleveland, etc., R. Co. v. Knickerbocker Trust Co., 86 Fed. 73.

Services rendered in a logging venture of a railroad company are not services necessary to keep the road a going concern within the meaning of the above rule. Security Trust Co. v. Goble, etc., R. Co., 44 Oreg. 370, 74 Pac. 919, 75 Pac. 697.

Legal services.— The fact that legal services rendered to a railroad company resulted in benefit to its bondholders does not displace the lien of the latter who are not parties to the contract of employment, in favor of a claim for such services. Pennsylvania Finance Co. v. Charleston, etc., R. Co., 52 Fed. 678. Thus legal services rendered to a railroad company in maintaining before the court the validity of municipal bonds are not of a character to take precedence of the company's mortgage bonds. Pennsylvania Finance Co. v. Charleston, etc., R. Co., 52 Fed. 678. So claims for legal services rendered a railroad company in the ordinary course of its business under special employment, which do not directly contribute in some way to the advantage of the mortgagees do not stand upon the same plane with the labor of operatives or the claims of those who furnish materials or supplies to maintain the road. Gregg v. Mercantile Trust Co., 109 Fed. 220, 48 C. C. A. 318. See In re Mersey R. Co., 64 L. J. Ch. 623, 72 L. T. Rep. N. S. 535.

The annual salary of an attorney of a railroad which falls due only a short time before the road is placed in the hands of a receiver is entitled to priority over mortgage bondholders. Blair v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 23 Fed. 521.

In computing net earnings during a receivership, only such expenditures as are actually made can be deducted from the gross earnings. Bell v. St. Johnsbury, etc.. R. Co., 76 Vt. 42, 56 Atl. 105.

There is no rule of law declaring what constitutes operating expenses of a railroad company, but it is a matter of evidence and determinable like any other fact, and where the witnesses are together in their testimony as to this matter, the preponderance on the point as to what constitutes operating expenses must control. Schmidt v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 119 Ky. 287, 84 S. W. 314, 27 Ky. L. Rep. 21.

64. Van Frank v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 89 Mo. App. 460; St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co.. 125 U. S. 658, 8 S. Ct. 1011, 31 L. ed. 832; Monsarrat v. Mercantile Trust Co., 109 Fed. 230, 48 C. C. A. 328; Gregg v. Mercantile Trust Co., 109 Fed. 220, 48 C. C. A. 318; Ames v. Union Pac. R. Co., 73 Fed. 49; Pennsylvania Finance Co. v. Charleston, etc., R. Co., 62 Fed. 205, 10 C. C. A. 323. Compare Jessup v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 13 Fed. Cas. No. 7,299, 3 Woods 441.

65. See infra, VIII, A, 9, k.

66. Bell v. St. Johnsbury, etc., R. Co., 76 Vt. 42, 56 Atl. 105; Union Trust Co. v. Illinois Midland R. Co., 117 U. S. 434, 6 rails,[67] cross ties essential to the replacement of ties decayed,[68] wages due employees,[69] taxes,[70] compensation or expenses of trustee or receiver in executing the trust,[71] costs of receivership,[72] and debts due for the purchase,[73] or rental of necessary rolling stock;[74] and the fact that such debts were incurred for betterments does not affect the right to have them paid out of the current income where such

S. Ct. 809, 29 L. ed. 963; Southern R. Co. v. Tillett, 76 Fed. 507, 22 C. C. A. 303. Compare Meyer v. Johnston, 53 Ala. 237.

67. Southern R. Co. v. Carnegie Steel Co., 176 U. S. 257, 20 S. Ct. 347, 44 L. ed. 458 [affirming 76 Fed. 492, 22 C. C. A. 289]. Compare Galveston, etc., R. Co. v. Cowdrey, 11 Wall. (U. S.) 459, 20 L. ed. 199.

The use of part of the rails to repair other roads under the company's control and in its possession, whose preservation in a proper condition is vital to its successful operation, will not preclude a right to a preference in payment of that claim over the mortgage debt out of the current income of the railroad. Southern R. Co. v. Carnegie Steel Co., 176 U. S. 257, 20 S. Ct. 347, 44 L. ed. 458 [affirming 76 Fed. 492, 22 C. C. A. 289].

68. Gregg v. Mercantile Trust Co., 109 Fed. 220, 48 C. C. A. 318.

69. Douglass v. Cline, 12 Bush (Ky.) 608; Litzenberger v. Jarvis-Conklin Trust Co., 8 Utah 15, 28 Pac. 871; Union Trust Co. v. Illinois Midland R. Co., 117 U. S. 434, 6 S. Ct. 809, 29 L. ed. 963.

70. U. S. Trust Co. v. Mercantile Trust Co., 88 Fed. 140, 31 C. C. A. 427 [affirming 80 Fed. 18].

71. McIlhenny v. Binz, 80 Tex. 1, 13 S. W. 655, 26 Am. St. Rep. 705; Smith v. Washington City, etc., R. Co., 33 Gratt. (Va.) 617; Union Trust Co. v. Illinois Midland R. Co., 117 U. S. 434, 6 S. Ct. 809, 29 L. ed. 963; Queen Anne's Ferry, etc., Co. v. Queen Anne's R. Co., 148 Fed. 41.

Moneys expended and liabilities incurred by the receivers or trustees in the management of property intrusted to them constitute preferential claims upon the trust estate which must be paid out of its proceeds before it can be distributed to the beneficiaries. Mercantile Trust Co. v. Farmers' L. & T. Co., 81 Fed. 254, 26 C. C. A. 383 [affirming 71 Fed. 601].

72. Van Frank v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 89 Mo. App. 489; In re Wrexham, etc., R. Co., [1900] 1 Ch. 261, 69 L. J. Ch. 291, 82 L. T. Rep. N. S. 33, 16 T. L. R. 169, 48 Wkly. Rep. 311 [modifying 68 L. J. Ch. 115, 80 L. T. Rep. N. S. 648].

Compensation for counsel of a receiver for services necessary to the successful management of the road is an operating expense. Bayliss v. Lafayette, etc., R. Co., 2 Fed. Cas. No. 1,141, 9 Biss. 90, 8 Reporter 579.

Sureties on an appeal-bond for a railroad company having become liable thereon by reason of the company's default, such liability is a current operating expense occurring during the receivership and hence should be paid out of the current earnings. Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Northern Pac. R. Co., 71 Fed. 245.

Expenditures for litigation engaged in by the receivers, but arising from matters anterior to their appointment, and with which they had nothing to do as receivers, cannot be allowed as operating expenses. Bell v. St. Johnsbury, etc., R. Co., 76 Vt. 42, 56 Atl. 105.

73. Gregg v. Mercantile Trust Co., 109 Fed. 220, 48 C. C. A. 318 (holding that a debt incurred for locomotives acquired to give the road additional motive power is not one which is entitled to preference over mortgage debts merely because the locomotives when acquired passed under the mortgage and added to the security of the mortgage; but while that is a fact to be considered it does not alone warrant the displacement of a mortgage lien but it must further appear that the acquisition was reasonably necessary to the useful operation of the road); Rhode Island Locomotive Works v. Continental Trust Co., 108 Fed. 5, 47 C. C. A. 147 (holding, however, that the purchase of certain locomotives was not a necessary current expense). But see Rodger Ballast Car Co. v. Omaha, etc., R. Co., 154 Fed. 629, 83 C. C. A. 403.

74. Mercantile Trust, etc., Co. v. Southern Iron Car Line, 113 Ala. 543, 21 So. 373 (holding that where car rental contracts are continued in force by receivers appointed in foreclosure proceedings, under license from the court, the car rent becomes a lien on the property superior to the lien of the mortgage debt); Lane v. Macon, etc., R. Co., 96 Ga. 630, 24 S. E. 157; St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. O'Hara, 177 Ill. 525, 52 N. E. 734, 53 N. E. 118 [affirming 75 Ill. App. 496]; Re Cornwall Minerals R. Co., 48 L. T. Rep. N. S. 41. But see Union Trust Co. v. Illinois Midland R. Co., 117 U. S. 434, 6 S. Ct. 809, 29 L. ed. 963; Rodger Ballast Car Co. v. Omaha, etc., R. Co., 154 Fed. 629, 83 C. C. A. 403; Grand Trunk R. Co. v. Central Vermont R. Co., 90 Fed. 163 (holding that a claim against a railroad for car rentals or mileage occurring prior to a receivership is not entitled to payment as a preferential debt); Pullman's Palace-Car Co. v. American L. & T. Co., 84 Fed. 18, 28 C. C. A. 263 (holding that the mileage due under a contract for the use of Pullman palace cars is not distinguishable from car rentals and cannot be made a preferred claim on the appointment of a receiver for the railroad company); Mather Humane Stock Transp. Co. v. Anderson, 76 Fed. 164, 22 C. C. A. 109 (holding also that the fact that by the terms of a lease of cars to a railroad company a portion of the rent was not due when receivers for the company were appointed, does not give a claim for that portion of the rent a preference over a mortgage on the road recorded before the making of the betterments were necessary.[75] But it has been held that "operating expenses" do not include claims for damages,[76] or debts for printed matter and stationery,[77] or for advertising matter furnished to the railroad company prior to the appointment of a receiver,[78] or for labor or supplies purchased by the company to be used on a road other than the one which the mortgage covers.[79]

(B) Debts For Original Construction or Permanent Improvements. This rule, however, does not ordinarily apply to debts of original construction, since these debts are supposed to be paid out of the fund arising out of the original sale of stocks and bonds and have no claim upon the current earnings of the road through which alone the equities of preferred creditors are reached;[80] nor should this preference be applied to expenditures for repairs so extensive as to amount to permanent improvements such as a reconstruction or the construction of a new lease). Compare Thomas v. Western Car Co., 149 U. S. 95, 13 S. Ct. 824, 37 L. ed. 663, where the lessor relied upon the general credit of the company.

75. McIlhenny v. Binz, 80 Tex. 1, 13 S. W. 655, 26 Am. St. Rep. 705; Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Vicksburg, etc., R. Co., 33 Fed. 778. Compare Terre Haute, etc., R. Co. v. Harrison, 88 Fed. 913, 32 C. C. A. 130.

76. See infra, VIII, A, 9, j.

77. Van Frank v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 89 Mo. App. 489; Bell v. St. Johnsbury, etc., R. Co., 76 Vt. 42, 56 Atl. 105, holding this to be true under St. § 3803, giving to railroad creditors "having claims for services rendered and materials furnished to keep the road in repair, and run the same" a certain preference in the personalty and net earnings.

Bills for advertising the road, its trains, etc., contracted by a committee while in the management of the road, are for legitimate operating expenses and are entitled to priority as such, equally as though they had been contracted by the trustee in possession. Queen Anne's Ferry, etc., Co. v. Queen Anne's R. Co., 148 Fed. 41.

78. Central Trust Co. v. East Tennessee, etc., R. Co., 80 Fed. 624, 26 C. C. A. 30.

79. Southern R. Co. v. Chapman Jack Co., 117 Fed. 424, 54 C. C. A. 598; Southern R. Co. v. Ensign Mfg. Co., 117 Fed. 417, 54 C. C. A. 591.

80. Arkansas.— Barstow v. Pine Bluff, etc., R. Co., 57 Ark. 334, 21 S. W. 652.

Georgia.— Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Candler, 92 Ga. 249, 18 S. E. 540, holding that a railroad contractor has no priority as against the lien of a mortgage upon a railroad because his supplies or materials went to make up its real value.

Michigan.— Ten Eyck v. Pontiac, etc., R. Co., 114 Mich. 494, 72 N. W. 362.

Texas.— McIlhenny v. Binz, 80 Tex. 1, 13 S. W. 655, 26 Am. St. Rep. 705.

United States.— Lackawanna Iron, etc., Co. v. Farmers' L. & T. Co., 176 U. S. 298, 20 S. Ct. 363, 44 L. ed. 475 [affirming 79 Fed. 202, 24 C. C. A. 487]; Toledo, etc., R. Co. v. Hamilton, 134 U. S. 296, 10 S. Ct. 546, 33 L. ed. 905; Porter v. Pittsburg Bessemer Steel Co., 120 U. S. 649, 7 S. Ct. 741, 30 L. ed. 830, 122 U. S. 267, 7 S. Ct. 1206, 30 L. ed. 1210; Niles Tool Works Co. v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 112 Fed. 561, 50 C. C. A. 390; Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Stuttgart, etc., R. Co., 92 Fed. 246; Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Cape Fear, etc., R. Co., 73 Fed. 712.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," §§ 563–567.

Original construction.— The term has a technical meaning. It is that construction of bridges, grades, culverts, rails, ties, docks, etc., that is necessary to be done before the road can be opened, or before they can be occupied or used, and not such structures as are intended to replace old and wornout counterparts. Cleveland, etc., R. Co. v. Knickerbocker Trust Co., 86 Fed. 73, 76.

Claims of contractors and laborers for labor performed in the construction of a railroad subsequent to the execution of a mortgage on the road will not be allowed except as postponed to the mortgage debt; and this is true whether or not mechanics' or laborers' liens have been filed in the proper court. Contracts made prior to the execution of the mortgage and work done thereunder create no lien superior to that of the mortgage. Claims of contractors and laborers for labor performed in the construction of a railroad subsequent to the execution of the mortgage to secure its bonds will not be allowed except as postponed to the bondholders notwithstanding the work is performed and mechanics' and laborers' liens filed in the proper court before the registration of the mortgage. Tommey v. Spartanburg, etc., R. Co., 7 Fed. 429, 4 Hughes 640.

A claim for cutting down and clearing away timber for the road for its original construction cannot be given preference upon foreclosure of a prior mortgage on the road. Barstow v. Pine Bluff, etc., R. Co., 57 Ark. 334, 21 S. W. 652.

A guarantor of such a debt who pays the debt has no greater claim in equity to a lien on the road superior to the prior mortgage than the original creditor would have if unpaid. Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Stuttgart, etc., R. Co., 92 Fed. 246.

A purchaser of notes executed by one railroad company cannot establish a lien therefor on the property of another superior to that of a prior mortgage, merely because the maker used the proceeds in the construction of the second road. Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Stuttgart, etc., R. Co., 92 Fed. 246.

road.[81] It has been held, however, that there may be construction claims which appeal as strongly to the conscience of a court of equity as the debts which are commonly known as operating expenses;[82] and when mortgages are executed upon an unfinished road and they show upon their face that it was contemplated that the work of construction should be prosecuted to completion, the new road should be considered "a useful improvement," and if the road be put into the hands of a receiver before the work and materials are paid for the holders of the claims for such work and materials should be paid from the net earnings of the road while under control of the court.[83]

(c) Accrual of Indebtedness. In respect to debts incurred before a receiver was appointed, in order that they may be entitled to priority within the meaning of the above rule, they must have been incurred within a reasonable time before the receiver was appointed and left unpaid because of the sudden action of the court in making such appointment.[84] The determination of this period is ordinarily within the sound discretion of the court having jurisdiction of the accounts,[85] and has usually been fixed at six months before the appointment of the receiver,[86] although as to such debts there is no arbitrary six months' rule,[87] and the equities of the case may be such that a claim will be allowed preference if incurred within a year,[88] or even for a longer period, as where the services are rendered or supplies furnished under a continuous contract,[89] or where the delay in enforcing payment was not caused by the creditor.[90] But if the debt has become an ordinary floating

81. Powers v. Jourdan, 4 N. Y. St. 839; Lackawanna Iron, etc., Co. v. Farmers' L. & T. R. Co., 176 U. S. 298, 20 S. Ct. 363, 44 L. ed. 475 [affirming 79 Fed. 262, 24 C. C. A. 487]; Phinizy v. Augusta, etc., R. Co., 62 Fed. 771.

82. McIlhenny v. Binz, 80 Tex. 1, 13 S. W. 655, 26 Am. St. Rep. 705.

83. McIlhenny v. Binz, 80 Tex. 1, 13 S. W. 655, 26 Am. St. Rep. 705.

84. Drennen v. Mercantile Trust, etc., Co., 115 Ala. 592, 23 So. 164, 67 Am. St. Rep. 72, 39 L. R. A. 623; New York Cent. Trust Co. v. Utah Cent. R. Co., 16 Utah 12, 50 Pac. 813; Southern R. Co. v. Ensign Mfg. Co., 117 Fed. 417, 54 C. C. A. 591; Central Trust Co. v. East Tennessee, etc., R. Co., 80 Fed. 624, 26 C. C. A. 30; Morgan's Louisiana, etc., R., etc., Co. v. Farmers' L. & T. Co., 79 Fed. 210, 24 C. C. A. 495; Blair v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 23 Fed. 521 (holding that attorney's fees earned a year and a half before the appointment of a receiver are not entitled to any preference); Gooderham v. Toronto, etc., R. Co., 8 Ont. App. 685.

One whose claim accrued more than seventeen months before the impounding of the property by the mortgage bondholders, and who extended the time for its payment for eighteen months after it was due, is not entitled to a preference over the mortgage bondholders either out of the income or out of the proceeds of the mortgaged property. Westinghouse Air Brake Co. v. Kansas City Southern R. Co., 137 Fed. 26, 71 C. C. A. 1 [reversing on other grounds 128 Fed. 129, 129 Fed. 455].

85. Central Trust Co. v. East Tennessee, etc., R. Co., 80 Fed. 624, 26 C. C. A. 30.

In fixing the time within which such claims will be allowed and ordered paid the court will adopt by analogy the rule of the state statutes in relation to liens on railroads for work done and supplies and materials furnished. Turner v. Indianapolis, etc., R. Co., 24 Fed. Cas. No. 14,258, 8 Biss. (U. S.) 315.

86. Gregg v. Metropolitan Trust Co., 197 U. S. 183, 25 S. Ct. 415, 49 L. ed. 717 [affirming 124 Fed. 721, 59 C. C. A. 637]; Westinghouse Air Brake Co. v. Kansas City S. R. Co., 137 Fed. 26, 71 C. C. A. 1 [reversing on other grounds 128 Fed. 129, 129 Fed. 455]; Southern R. Co. v. Chapman Jack Co., 117 Fed. 424, 54 C. C. A. 598; Monsarrat v. Mercantile Trust Co., 109 Fed. 230, 48 C. C. A. 328; Gregg v. Mercantile Trust Co., 109 Fed. 220, 48 C. C. A. 318; Thomas v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 91 Fed. 195; Central Trust Co. v. East Tennessee, etc., R. Co., 80 Fed. 624, 26 C. C. A. 30; Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Vicksburg, etc., R. Co., 33 Fed. 778; Blair v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 22 Fed. 471. See Cleveland, etc., R. Co. v. Knickerbocker Trust Co., 86 Fed. 73.

The reason that six months is approximately the limited time within which preferential claims must accrue is that there is usually an interval of six months between the dates when instalments of interest upon the bonds fall due, and the mortgages generally so provide, and the warranted inference is that, when an instalment of interest is paid, current expenses to that time have either been paid, or funds to pay them have been lawfully provided. Westinghouse Air Brake Co. v. Kansas City, 137 Fed. 26, 71 C. C. A. 1.

87. Northern Pac. R. Co. v. Lamont, 69 Fed. 23, 16 C. C. A. 364.

88. Vanfrank v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 89 Mo. App. 460; Southern R. Co. v. Carnegie Steel Co., 176 U. S. 257, 20 S. Ct. 347, 44 L. ed. 458 [affirming 76 Fed. 492, 22 C. C. A. 289].

89. Blair v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 22 Fed. 769.

90. Central Trust Co. v. Utah Cent. R. Co., 16 Utah 12, 50 Pac. 813.

debt, which must be determined from the facts of each particular case, it is not entitled to preference.[91]

(D) Debt Contracted on Faith of Current Income. It is also essential, in order that such debts may have priority, that the person furnishing the labor or supplies must have relied upon the fact that the current earnings would be applied to the payment of his debt, and not have contracted upon the personal responsibility of the railroad company or another;[92] and whether the debt was contracted upon the personal credit of the company, without any reference to its receipts, is to be determined in each case by the amount of the debt, the time and terms of payment, and all other circumstances attending the transaction.[93]

(V) Rights of Assignees. An assignee of a claim for labor or supplies furnished to a railroad company has the same right to assert the priority of the assigned claim as the assignor had.[94]

h. Statutory Liens in General. The rights of laborers and materialmen to priority over mortgages and encumbrances on railroad property is in some jurisdictions expressly regulated by statute.[95] Under some statutes a person who

91. Duncan v. Mobile, etc., R. Co., 8 Fed. Cas. No. 4,137, 2 Woods 542. See Brown v. New York, etc., R. Co., 19 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 84.

92. Virginia, etc., Coal Co. v. Central R., etc., Co., 170 U. S. 355, 18 S. Ct. 657, 42 L. ed. 1068; Thomas v. Western Car Co., 149 U. S. 95, 13 S. Ct. 824, 34 L. ed. 663; Penn v. Calhoun, 121 U. S. 251, 7 S. Ct. 906, 30 L. ed. 915; Fordyce v. Kansas City, etc., R. Co., 145 Fed. 566; Southern R. Co. v. Ensign Mfg. Co., 117 Fed. 417, 54 C. C. A. 591; Rhode Island Locomotive Works v. Continental Trust Co., 108 Fed. 5, 47 C. C. A. 147; Ruhlender v. Chesapeake, etc., R. Co., 91 Fed. 5, 33 C. C. A. 299 (holding that where steel rails were sold to an individual on his own credit for the lessee of a railroad, the seller is not entitled to a preferential lien therefor on the property of the lessor); Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Central Trust Co., 87 Fed. 500, 31 C. C. A. 89; Morgan's Louisiana, etc., R., etc., Co. v. Farmers' L. & T. Co., 79 Fed. 210, 24 C. C. A. 495; Skiddy v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 22 Fed. Cas. No. 12,922, 3 Hughes 320.

93. Southern R. Co. v. Carnegie Steel Co., 176 U. S. 257, 20 S. Ct. 347, 44 L. ed. 458 [affirming 76 Fed. 492, 22 C. C. A. 289].

Demanding and receiving collateral security to a large amount for a debt on account of rails to be used in repairing the road is a circumstance tending to show that the seller did not regard itself as entitled to an equitable claim upon net earnings in preference to mortgage creditors, but relied on the general credit of the railroad company. Lackawanna Iron, etc., Co. v. Farmers' L. & T. Co., 176 U. S. 293, 20 S. Ct. 363, 44 L. ed. 475 [affirming 79 Fed. 202, 24 C. C. A. 487]. But the equities of a creditor furnishing that which protects and preserves the mortgage security and materially increases its value are none the less because the original debt was evidenced by the notes of the company, taken for its convenience and renewed for its accommodation. Southern R. Co. v. Carnegie Steel Co., 176 U. S. 257, 20 S. Ct. 347, 44 L. ed. 458 [affirming 76 Fed. 492, 22 C. C. A. 289].

94. Drennen v. Mercantile Trust, etc., Co., 115 Ala. 592, 23 So. 164, 67 Am. St. Rep. 72, 39 L. R. A. 623; Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 10 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 481, 21 Cinc. L. Bul. 275 (holding that the assignee of a claim for supplies furnished in the construction of a railroad under Rev. St. § 3398, is entitled to the same right of priority as the original claimant would have been had the judgment been taken by him); Union Trust Co. v. Walker, 107 U. S. 596, 2 S. Ct. 299, 27 L. ed. 490; Columbus, etc., R. Co.'s Appeal, 109 Fed. 177, 48 C. C. A. 275 (holding that the right of preference attaching to a labor claim against an insolvent railroad company inheres in the claim itself and not in the claimant and passes with the claim to an assignee); Northern Pac. R. Co. v. Lamont, 69 Fed. 23, 16 C. C. A. 364.

95. See Kilpatrick v. Kansas City, etc., R. Co., 38 Nebr. 620, 57 N. W. 664, 41 Am. St. Rep. 741 (construing Comp. St. (1893) c. 54, art. 2, §§ 2, 3); Rousculp v. Ohio Southern R. Co., 19 Ohio Cir. Ct. 436, 10 Ohio Cir. Dec. 621 (construing Rev. St. § 3208, as amended by act of April 6, 1883, and holding the lien of one who had furnished material for the construction of a railroad extension to be prior to the liens of trustees); Poland v. Lamoille Valley R. Co., 52 Vt. 144 (construing Gen. St. c. 28, § 102); Jessup v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 13 Fed. Cas. No. 7,299, 3 Woods 441; and, generally, the statutes of the several states.

Under Va. Code, §§ 2485, 2486, the claim of a telegraph company against a railroad company for services rendered under a contract by which the railroad company was to pay at agreed rates, and by which the accounts were to be settled yearly, is a labor claim and entitled to priority over mortgages if recorded within six months after maturity. Newgass v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 72 Fed. 712.

Under Ky. St. (Barbour & Car. St. §§ 2492-2495) relative to mechanics' liens upon railroads, consent by an owner to the making of a subcontract by the principal contractor and furnishes labor and materials for constructing a railroad, and who complies with certain statutory requirements, has a lien on the road for the amount due him therefor in preference to mortgages and other encumbrances on the road given after the actual commencement of the work of construction,[96] even though the mortgages or liens existed at the time the labor or material were furnished, but were given after the work had commenced,[97] or after the passage of the stat-to such subcontractors having a lien, does not give such subcontractor a principal contractor's lien or a lien superior to mortgages or statutory liens. Richmond, etc., Constr. Co. v. Richmond, etc., R. Co., 68 Fed. 105, 15 C. C. A. 289, 34 L. R. A. 625.

Tenn. Act (1877), c. 72, p. 92, providing that no railroad company shall have power to execute any mortgage or other lien which shall be valid as against judgments for work and labor done or materials furnished, applies only when the work and materials are furnished in such manner that the railroad company would be liable to pay the contractor or materialman for them, and not when they are furnished to a principal contractor in his individual capacity, without establishing a lien in the manner prescribed by the Tennessee act of March 29, 1883. Central Trust Co. v. Bridges, 57 Fed. 753, 6 C. C. A. 539. And if in the latter case judgments are nevertheless fraudulently obtained against the company, the statute will not prevent a court of equity from disregarding them. Central Trust Co. v. Bridges, supra. Nor does the act of 1877 include materials furnished and work done in the company's machine shops on locomotives; or railroad supplies, such as tools, spikes, hardware, etc. Chattanooga, etc., R. Co. v. Evans, 66 Fed. 809, 14 C. C. A. 116.

Rights of holders of certificates entitling them to bonds secured by a mortgage under a Mississippi statute have been held not to be entitled to a first lien as against those who furnished labor and materials for the construction of the road. See Thompson v. Memphis, etc., R. Co., 24 Fed. 338.

96. Collins v. Central Bank, 1 Ga. 435 (construing section 11 of the charter of the Monroe Railroad, etc., Company); St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Kerr, 153 Ill. 182, 38 N. E. 638 (construing Rev. St. c. 82, §§ 55–57, and holding that a subcontractor who has served a proper notice in due time has a lien superior to a mortgage given before service of notice but after commencement of work by him); Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Union Rolling Mills Co., 109 U. S. 702, 3 S. Ct. 594, 27 L. ed. 1081.

Under the laws of Iowa, a mechanic's lien for work done under a contract takes precedence of all encumbrances put on the property by a mortgage or otherwise after the work is commenced (Meyer v. Delaware R. Constr. Co., 100 U. S. 457, 25 L. ed. 593); and work done by a contractor upon a part of a railroad then in process of construction entitles him to a lien over that of a prior mortgage over the entire road (Meyer v. Egbert, 101 U. S. 728, 25 L. ed. 1078). Thus under Iowa Code (1897), §§ 3091–3095, a builder constructing a union depot for a terminal railway and warehouse corporation, which is a railroad company within the statute, and where the building of such depot was the real and primary purpose of the corporation's organization, has a mechanic's lien on the corporation's entire railroad property prior to encumbrances and liens accruing subsequent to the beginning of the work. Beach v. Wakefield, 107 Iowa 567, 76 N. W. 688, 78 N. W. 197.

Under Oreg. Laws (1889), p. 75, which confers on a subcontractor performing work for a contractor of a railroad company, a lien on the road to the amount of the contract price, on serving notice of his lien on the company, such lien attaches only for the amount actually due the contractor from the company at the time notice is served; and hence a judgment creditor of the contractor who has garnished the company for the amount due the contractor is entitled to priority over a subcontractor who afterward files his notice of lien with the company. Coleman v. Oregonian R. Co., 25 Oreg. 286, 35 Pac. 656.

Under the Pennsylvania statute of Jan. 21, 1843, an unpaid contractor, laborer, or workman employed in the construction of a railroad in Pennsylvania has a lien of indefinite duration on such road, which lien has precedence over every right that can be acquired by or under any mortgage made after the debt to the contractor was incurred. Fox v. Seal, 22 Wall. (U. S.) 424, 22 L. ed. 774. And this act was not repealed by the act of April 12, 1851, authorizing a certain railroad company to execute a mortgage. Fox v. Seal, supra.

The North Carolina act of March 1, 1873 (Pub. Laws (1872), c. 131, Battle Revisal, pp. 269, 270, c. 26, §§ 46, 48), applies only to private corporations, and will not give a priority of lien to the claims of materialmen and laborers upon the foreclosure of a railroad mortgage. Buncombe County v. Tommey, 115 U. S. 122, 5 S. Ct. 626, 29 L. ed. 305.

A mortgage on a railroad to be built cannot take priority over the statutory liens of laborers and materialmen for aid in constructing the road, unless the mortgagee is a bona fide purchaser who has actually paid value for bonds secured by the mortgage before he has notice of the liens of laborers and materialmen. Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Canada, etc., R. Co., 127 Ind. 250, 26 N. E. 784, 11 L. R. A. 740.

97. Under the Iowa laws, the lien accorded to mechanics and materialmen employed in the construction of a railroad dates from the commencement of construction and has priority over a mortgage executed during the building, although before the particular work or material for which the claim is made were contributed. Brooks v. Burlington, etc., R.

ute,[98] unless the claimant has waived or is estopped to assert his claim or lien.[99] But such claims for labor and material are generally not entitled to preference over mortgages or encumbrances upon the road given before the work was commenced,[1] or before the statute took effect,[2] unless at the date of the execution and delivery of the mortgage the proposed railroad had only a nominal existence and possessed no right of way or franchises.[3] Such a statutory lien is also superior to an allowance to counsel of the railroad company.[4]

i. Liens For Loans and Advances. Where advances are made or liabilities incurred by third parties at the request and for the benefit of the trustees, receiver, or bondholders under a railroad mortgage, for the purpose of preserving the mortgaged property for the benefit of the bondholders, such advances or liabilities may constitute a preferential claim against the income or corpus of the property for which it was incurred.[5] Thus debts due for advances made upon such request, to pay operating expenses are entitled to priority of payment out of the current income,[6] such as advances made for the purpose of paying taxes,[7] wages due to Co., 101 U. S. 443, 25 L. ed. 1057; Taylor v. Burlington, etc., R. Co., 23 Fed. Cas. No. 13,783, 4 Dill. 570. But under such statutes, the lien of a mechanic for repairs upon a completed railroad is not paramount and superior to the lien of a mortgage executed after the commencement and before the completion of the road, nor will the lien of the mechanic upon the particular work performed by him take precedence of a mortgage, when the improvements he has made constitute an integral part of the road. Bear v. Burlington, etc., R. Co., 48 Iowa 619.

98. Central Trust Co. v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 70 Fed. 282.

99. Poland v. Lamoille Valley R. Co., 52 Vt. 144 (holding, however, that a creditor's priority under Gen. St. c. 28, § 102, is not waived by his taking a note for his claim); Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Union Rolling Mill Co., 109 U. S. 702, 3 S. Ct. 594, 27 L. ed. 1081 (holding that the lien for materials furnished under Ill. Rev. St. c. 82, § 51, is not waived either by a provision of the contract reserving a lien to the contractor or by a credit given the purchaser beyond the statutory time for enforcing the lien); Meyer v. Egbert, 101 U. S. 728, 25 L. ed. 1078 (holding that a railroad contractor who was a stock-holder in a construction company which, when it placed on the market bonds secured by a mortgage, gave a guarantee that the local subscriptions and grants would be sufficient to prepare the road for the reception of the rails, and also undertook to make good any deficiency, is not thereby estopped from setting up his lien as against the mortgagee).

1. See Metropolitan Trust Co. v. Tonawanda Valley, etc., R. Co., 103 N. Y. 245, 8 N. E. 488 [reversing 40 Hun 80]; Reed's Appeal, 122 Pa. St. 565, 16 Atl. 100.

In Texas, under Sayles Rev. Civ. St. arts. 3294–3301, claims for material furnished for the construction or repair of a railroad are subordinate to the rights of holders of the mortgage bonds where the mortgage was on the road at the time of the inception of the lien given by such statute, unless the material was for new construction constituting a betterment whereby the security of the mortgage was increased. Waters-Pierce Oil Co. v. U. S., etc., Trust Co., 44 Tex. Civ. App. 397, 99 S. W. 212.

Prior vendor's lien.—A construction company has no lien upon the road-bed and property of the road as against the conditional vendor of such road under a contract existing before the work had been bona fide begun by such construction company, and where it had actual notice of the contract before that time. Wright v. Kentucky, etc., R. Co., 117 U. S. 72, 6 S. Ct. 697, 29 L. ed. 821.

Under the Ohio railroad lien laws, a lien good as against prior mortgages cannot be obtained for work and labor furnished in the reconstruction of a bridge. Cleveland, etc., R. Co. v. Knickerbocker Trust Co., 86 Fed. 73.

2. Andrews v. St. Louis Tunnel R. Co., 16 Mo. App. 299 (holding that a deed of trust executed prior to the passage of the act providing for liens on railroads is superior to a lien for materials furnished for the road after the passage of the act, but prior to the expiration of the ninety days within which it was not effective); Feike v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 12 Ohio Cir. Ct. 362, 5 Ohio Cir. Dec. 640 (so construing Rev. St. § 3208, amended April 6, 1893); Central Trust Co. v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 70 Fed. 282; Barnhill v. Hampton, etc., R. Co., 3 N. Brunsw. Eq. 371.

3. Kilpatrick v. Kansas City, etc., R. Co., 38 Nebr. 620, 57 N. W. 664, 41 Am. St. Rep. 741.

4. New Castle Northern R. Co. v. Simpson, 26 Fed. 133, construing the Pennsylvania act of Jan. 21, 1843.

5. Jones v. Central Trust Co., 73 Fed. 568, 19 C. C. A. 569; Brockville v. Sherwood, 7 Grant Ch. (U. C.) 297. See Allan v. Manitoba, etc., R. Co., 10 Manitoba 143.

6. Humphreys v. Allen, 100 Ill. 511; Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Vicksburg, etc., R. Co., 33 Fed. 778; Sage v. Shore Line R. Co., 2 N. Brunsw. Eq. 321.

7. Humphreys v. Allen, 100 Ill. 511 (holding that the president of a railway company who advances from his own means money to save the property from levy and sale for unpaid taxes is entitled to a lien on the fund in court for distribution paramount to the claims of other creditors); Farmers' L. & T.

employees,[8] or traffic balances.[9] The mere fact, however, that money loaned to a railroad company is applied to the payment of operating expenses,[10] or to the payment of interest on its first mortgage bonds,[11] does not entitle the lender to a preference over the mortgage bondholders, although the earnings of the road were applied to the payment of interest on the bonds;[12] particularly where the advances amount merely to a loan upon the credit of the company,[13] or where there has been no diversion of such funds to the benefit of the bondholders.[14] Advances for the purpose of completing the construction of a railroad will be postponed in equity to the lien of the mortgage bondholders,[15] unless such advances are made in consequence of the requests. promises, and acts of all the bondholders.[16] One advancing money to pay for certain railroad property, taking title to himself as security, has a lien thereon superior to the mortgagees of the railroad company with notice,[17] and any change in the form of the obligation to him short of an actual payment, does not extinguish his right to priority.[18]

j. Liens For Damages. Under the statutes in some jurisdictions a judgment for damages to property,[19] or for personal injuries,[20] for which the railroad com-

Co. v. Stuttgart, etc., R. Co., 92 Fed. 246 (holding that one who at the request of a railroad company, as its agent, pays taxes due on its property is entitled to a lien thereon for the amount advanced superior to that of a mortgage).

8. Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Vicksburg, etc., R. Co., 33 Fed. 778; Atkins v. Petersburg R. Co., 1 Fed. Cas. No. 604, 3 Hughes 307.

9. Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Vicksburg, etc., R. Co., 33 Fed. 778.

10. Morgan's Louisiana, etc., R., etc., Co. v. Texas Cent. R. Co., 137 U. S. 171, 11 S. Ct. 61, 34 L. ed. 625.

11. Morgan's Louisiana, etc., R., etc., Co. v. Texas Cent. R. Co., 137 U. S. 171, 11 S. Ct. 61, 34 L. ed. 625; Kentucky Contracting, etc., Co. v. Continental Trust Co., 108 Fed. 1, 47 C. C. A. 143.

12. Morgan's Louisiana, etc., R., etc., Co. v. Texas Cent. R. Co., 137 U. S. 171, 11 S. Ct. 61, 34 L. ed. 625.

13. New Jersey Midland R. Co. v. Wortendyke, 27 N. J. Eq. 658; Penn v. Calhoun, 121 U. S. 251, 7 S. Ct. 906, 30 L. ed. 915; Southern Development Co. v. Farmers' L. & T. Co., 79 Fed. 212, 24 C. C. A. 497; Peninsular Iron Co. v. Eells, 68 Fed. 24, 15 C. C. A. 189; Blair v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 23 Fed. 521, holding that one who pays a judgment against a railroad company a few weeks before the appointment of a receiver under an agreement that the amount so advanced shall be repaid by the company is not entitled to priority over bondholders.

14. Penn v. Calhoun, 121 U. S. 251, 7 S. Ct. 906, 30 L. ed. 915.

15. Kelly v. Green Bay, etc., R. Co., 5 Fed. 846, 10 Biss. 151.

16. Kelly v. Green Bay, etc., R. Co., 5 Fed. 846, 10 Biss. 151.

17. Columbus, etc., R. Co.'s Appeal, 109 Fed. 177, 48 C. C. A. 275. Compare Frost v. Galesburg, etc., R. Co., 167 Ill. 161, 47 N. E. 357 [affirming 68 Ill. App. 186].

18. Frost v. Galesburg, etc., R. Co., 167 Ill. 161, 47 N. E. 357 [affirming 68 Ill. App. 186].

19. Hill v. Southern R. Co., (Tenn. Ch. App. 1897) 42 S. W. 888; State v. Port Royal, etc., R. Co., 84 Fed. 67, holding that a judgment against a railroad company for injuries to personal property, when rendered in a suit brought within twelve months from the time the cause of action arose, is a lien prior to that of a railroad mortgage.

Under the Tennessee act of 1877, a judgment against a railroad company for damage caused by the negligent failure to promptly deliver goods which in consequence were burned in the station is one for damages to property in the operation of the road within the meaning of such statute preferring such a judgment over mortgages. Central Trust Co. v. East Tennessee, etc., R. Co., 70 Fed. 764. But such statute does not apply to damages resulting from the detention of freight shipped over the line, unless such damage was occasioned by an actual injury to the property, and unless the same occurred within the state. Chattanooga, etc., R. Co. v. Evans, 66 Fed. 809, 14 C. C. A. 116.

Vt. Rev. Laws (1880), § 3353, giving claims against a railroad company for "the loss of property while in the possession of said corporation" preference over mortgages given by the company, applies only to liabilities growing out of the operation of a railroad within the state, and does not include a claim based upon covenants of a lease of a railroad in another state. Grand Trunk R. Co. v. Central Vermont R. Co., 91 Fed. 696.

20. Burlington, etc., R. Co. v. Verry, 48 Iowa 458 (construing Code (1873), § 1309); Frazier v. East Tennessee, etc., R. Co., 88 Tenn. 138, 12 S. W. 537; Barnett v. East Tennessee, etc., R. Co., (Tenn. Ch. App. 1898) 48 S. W. 817 (construing Acts (1877), c. 12, § 3); Hill v. Southern R. Co., (Tenn. Ch. App. 1897) 42 S. W. 888; King v. Thompson, 110 Fed. 319, 49 C. C. A. 59 (construing Ohio Rev. St. (1880) §§ 3393-3400); Southern R. Co. v. Bouknight, 70 Fed. 442, 17 C. C. A. 181, 30 L. R. A. 823 (holding that S. C. Gen. St. (1882) § 1528, providing that a judgment against a railroad company for personal injuries shall be a lien as of the date of the injury superior to the lien of any mortgage to secure bonds is binding on a mortgagee in a mortgage made after the passage of the

pany is responsible, constitutes a lien on the railroad property prior to that of mortgage creditors,[21] from the date the cause of action arose,[22] unless the claimant has by his own acts waived his lien or estopped himself from asserting it,[23] and except, under some statutes, as to mortgages or liens in existence at the time of the passage of the act.[24] The costs necessarily resulting from the action to procure such judgment and to enforce the lien are entitled to like priority.[25] Under some statutes such claims are not entitled to priority until they have been reduced to judgment even though an action thereon is pending,[26] except where the claim has become liquidated by a settlement with the company.[27] In the absence of statute, however, such priority does not exist over preëxisting liens.[28] Nor does such statute apply to a judgment against a lessee of a railroad so as to render it a lien on the property superior to a mortgage given by the lessor prior to the lease;[29] nor does it give the judgment creditor any right to payment from earnings of the road while in the hands of receivers, where all rights and interests of the lessee in the property and earnings are extinguished by such appointment and a subsequent sale of the property is for less than the mortgage debt.[30] So where a lessee assumes all obligations incurred in the operation of the leased road, including judgments for negligence, accidents, etc., the net earnings of the leased road accruing in the hands of the receivers of the company are not chargeable with judgments obtained during the receivership for losses sustained prior thereto.[31] A claim or judgment for damages, however, is not ordinarily entitled to priority on the ground that it is an operating expense,[32] although it has been held that act, and on a purchaser at a foreclosure sale thereunder); Phinizy v. Augusta, etc., R. Co., 63 Fed. 922; Pennsylvania Finance Co. v. Charleston, etc., R. Co., 62 Fed. 205, 10 C. C. A. 323 (holding that under N. C. Code, §§ 685, 1255, on foreclosure of a railroad mortgage a judgment for personal injuries will take precedence of the mortgage in the distribution of the proceeds of sale, although the action on which judgment was founded was not brought within sixty days of the registration of the mortgage); Central Trust Co. v. Central Iowa R. Co., 38 Fed. 889.

21. Fidelity Ins., etc., Co. v. Norfolk, etc., R. Co., 127 Fed. 662, 62 C. C. A. 388 [affirming 114 Fed. 389 (affirming 90 Fed. 175)].

Under S. C. Gen. St. (1882) § 1528, a purchaser at a foreclosure sale under a mortgage given after the passage of the act by a consolidated company composed of companies of South Carolina and of Georgia, cannot complain of the priority of a judgment entered under the act of South Carolina, against the consolidated company, for injuries received in Georgia. Southern R. Co. v. Bouknight, 70 Fed. 442, 17 C. C. A. 181, 30 L. R. A. 823. So a judgment recovered against a railroad company in South Carolina for an injury caused by a lessee of its road for an act done in Georgia is entitled to the benefit of the South Carolina statute giving such judgment precedence over the mortgage. Central Trust Co. v. Charlotte, etc., R. Co., 65 Fed. 257.

22. Southern R. Co. v. Bouknight, 70 Fed. 442, 17 C. C. A. 181, 30 L. R. A. 823.

A provision that the lien of the judgment shall relate back to the date of the injury is intended only to fix priorities between conflicting liens, and does not destroy the preference of such judgment over mortgages. Southern R. Co. v. Bouknight, 70 Fed. 442, 17 C. C. A. 181, 30 L. R. A. 823.

23. Hill v. Southern R. Co., (Tenn. Ch. App. 1897) 42 S. W. 888, holding that Tenn. Act (1887), c. 12, § 13, providing that no railroad company shall give or create any mortgage or other lien on its property which shall be valid and binding against judgments and executions thereon for damages to persons and property, in the operation of its railroad, does not give the holder of such a judgment the right to assert his claim, where general creditors' proceedings have been instituted and due notice given him to participate therein, and he has failed to do so, and the whole estate has been finally wound up.

24. Phinizy v. Augusta, etc., R. Co., 63 Fed. 922. See Southern R. Co. v. Bouknight, 70 Fed. 442, 17 C. C. A. 181, 30 L. R. A. 823.

25. Central Trust Co. v. Central Iowa R. Co., 38 Fed. 889.

26. Burlington, etc., R. Co. v. Verry, 48 Iowa 458.

27. Frazier v. East Tennessee, etc., R. Co., 88 Tenn. 138, 12 S. W. 537.

28. Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Longworth, 83 Fed. 336, 27 C. C. A. 541 (holding that a judgment creditor whose claim originated in the negligent act of the railroad company's servant is not entitled to a preference over the holders of preëxisting liens); Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Nestelle, 79 Fed. 748, 25 C. C. A. 194; Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Northern Pac. R. Co., 79 Fed. 227, 24 C. C. A. 511.

29. Fidelity Ins., etc., Co. v. Norfolk, etc., R. Co., 127 Fed. 662, 62 C. C. A. 388 [affirming 114 Fed. 389].

30. Fidelity Ins., etc., Co. v. Norfolk, etc., R. Co., 127 Fed. 662, 62 C. C. A. 388 [affirming 114 Fed. 389].

31. Grand Trunk R. Co. v. Central Vermont R. Co., 81 Fed. 60.

32. Fidelity Ins., etc., Co. v. Norfolk, etc., R. Co., 127 Fed. 662, 62 C. C. A. 388 [affirm- where the receiver is in possession, a claim for personal injuries happening during such possession is an operating expense entitled to priority.[33] A claim for damages to abutting property resulting from the construction and operation of a railroad stands on the same footing as a claim for a taking of property and constitutes an equitable lien which has priority over a mortgage of the road.[34]

k. Liens For Rent of Track or Terminal Privileges. Reasonable rentals due for track or terminal privileges which are necessary to keep the road a going concern constitute an operating expense within the meaning of the rule entitling such expenses to priority of payment over mortgage creditors,[35] except where the provisions of the lease clearly indicate that the lessor did not rely upon the rentals as constituting an equitable charge upon the current income.[36] But this rule does not apply to rentals due to leased lines which were not necessary to the operation of the road.[37] Claims for rent, however, are superior in equity to the payment of interest on bonds in the hands of bondholders who had guaraning 114 Fed. 389]; Front St. Cable R. Co. v. Drake, 84 Fed. 257; New York Security, etc., Co. v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 79 Fed. 386 (holding that a judgment for a death loss accruing in the operation of the road cannot be regarded as a necessary operating expense so as to be entitled to priority over a mortgage); Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Green Bay, etc., R. Co., 45 Fed. 664; In re Wrexham, etc., R. Co., [1900] 1 Ch. 261, 69 L. J. Ch. 291, 82 L. T. Rep. N. S. 33, 16 T. L. R. 169, 48 Wkly. Rep. 311 [modifying 68 L. J. Ch. 115, 80 L. T. Rep. N. S. 648].

A claim for the value of goods lost by fire while in possession of the railroad company and before the road is placed in the hands of a receiver is not entitled to a priority before claims of bondholders. Easton v. Houston, etc., R. Co., 38 Fed. 12.

A claim for death by negligence occurring before the appointment of a receiver is not entitled to be paid out of the income or corpus prior to the mortgage debt. Veatch v. American L. & T. Co., 79 Fed. 471, 25 C. C. A. 39.

33. Anderson v. Condict, 93 Fed. 349, 35 C. C. A. 335; Cross v. Evans, 86 Fed. 1, 29 C. C. A. 523.

34. Central Trust Co. v. Thurman, 94 Ga. 735, 20 S. E. 141; Penn Mutual L. Ins. Co. v. Heiss, 141 Ill. 35, 31 N. E. 138, 33 Am. St. Rep. 273; Fordyce v. Kansas City, etc., Connecting R. Co., 145 Fed. 566; Central Trust Co. v. Hennen, 90 Fed. 593, 33 C. C. A. 189. And see EMINENT DOMAIN, 15 Cyc. 933, 1014.

That the mortgage was executed and recorded and the mortgage bonds sold before the judgments were recovered or the rights of action accrued does not destroy the priority of the judgment over the mortgage, where the mortgage is given before the road is built, since the bondholders are chargeable with notice of the acts of the railroad company in completing its road. Penn Mut. L. Ins. Co. v. Heiss, 141 Ill. 35, 31 N. E. 138, 33 Am. St. Rep. 273.

35. Union Trust Co. v. Illinois Midland R. Co., 117 U. S. 434, 6 S. Ct. 809, 29 L. ed. 963 (holding this to be true where without the leased lines the operation of the road would have been impracticable); Manhattan Trust Co. v. Sioux City, etc., R. Co., 102 Fed. 710 (holding that a claim against a railroad company for the rental of terminal property accruing under a lease within six months prior to the receivership is entitled to priority of payment over the bondholders from a fund in court produced by the operation of the road by the receiver as an ordinary and necessary running expense of the road); Central Trust Co. v. Continental Trust Co., 86 Fed. 517, 30 C. C. A. 235 (holding that, where a lease has been adopted by the receiver and court, the rent should be paid as an operating expense, and where the receiver has been unable to procure money for its payment, it is proper, on final decree, to declare the unpaid rentals to be a first lien on the property); Savannah, etc., R. Co. v. Jacksonville, etc., R. Co., 79 Fed. 35, 24 C. C. A. 437; Great Eastern R. Co. v. East London R. Co., 44 L. T. Rep. N. S. 903. See also St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co., 125 U. S. 658, 8 S. Ct. 1011, 31 L. ed. 832. Compare Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Central Trust Co., 87 Fed. 500, 31 C. C. A. 89.

Estoppel.— The lessor of a railroad and the holders of the bonds of the lessee, having consented to a decree whereby receivers and managers were appointed to operate the road for their benefit, are estopped to claim that the debts incurred by the receivers and managers while operating the road are inferior to their claims under a lease and the bonds. Langdon v. Vermont, etc., R. Co., 53 Vt. 228, 54 Vt. 593.

36. Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. New York Cent. Trust Co., 87 Fed. 500, 31 C. C. A. 89.

Claims for the rental of terminal facilities accruing under a perpetual lease which reserves to the lessor the right to terminate it and retake possession of the property with all its additions and improvements made thereon by the lessee, in case of default in payment of rentals for thirty days, are not debts of the income entitled to preference of payment over mortgage debts from the earnings of the road. Gregg v. Mercantile Trust Co., 109 Fed. 220, 48 C. C. A. 318.

37. Central Trust Co. v. Charlotte, etc., R. Co., 65 Fed. 264.

teed the payment of the rent.[38] Rentals due under a lease reserving payment therefor out of the tolls, fares, and income of the road constitute a lien thereon in priority to subsequent mortgages.[39] Where the lessor company covenants to keep up its organization and make all reports required by law such agreement implies that it is to be done at the expense of the lessor company and therefore such expense is not a lien on the property of the road superior to that of bondholders claiming under a mortgage executed by the lessee company.[40]

l. Priorities Between Different Mortgages. The priorities between different mortgages on the same railroad property are regulated by the rules governing priorities between mortgages generally.[41] Thus the order of priority of different railroad mortgages on the same property ordinarily depends upon the order in which they have attached as liens upon such property,[42] unless there are exceptional circumstances which render it equitably fair that a junior mortgage should have the preference,[43] or unless the junior mortgage is given priority by statute.[44] A railroad mortgage covering after-acquired property ordinarily has priority over a subsequent mortgage on the same property,[45] executed by a subsequent grantee,[46] and the fact that a certain portion of the road is built with money raised upon the later mortgage does not give such mortgage priority over an earlier one.[47] Such a mortgage, however, is inferior to a purchase-money mortgage for land acquired by the railroad company,[48] or to a purchase-money mortgage of personal property, susceptible of separate ownership and separate liens, subsequently acquired by the company,[49] even though the latter mortgage is not recorded;[50] although it has been held otherwise where the property purchased becomes annexed to and a part of the property covered by the general mortgage,[51] as where iron rails are laid down and become part of the railroad.[52] A mortgage existing on a railroad at the time it is purchased by another railroad company is superior to a mortgage of the latter company on its road and which attaches to the newly acquired road.[53]

m. Priority Between Bondholders — (i) In General. The priorities of the holders of railroad bonds depend largely upon the terms of the contract under which the bonds were acquired,[54] and upon the equities of the particular case;[55] or preference may be given to certain bonds by the statute authorizing the par-

38. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Indianapolis, etc., R. Co., 21 Fed. Cas. No. 12,236, 9 Biss. 99.

39. Vermont, etc., R. Co. v. Vermont Cent. R. Co., 34 Vt. 1.

40. Vermont, etc., R. Co. v. Vermont Cent. R. Co., 34 Vt. 1.

41. See Columbus, etc., R. Co.'s Appeal, 109 Fed. 177, 48 C. C. A. 275; and, generally, MORTGAGES, 27 Cyc. 1167 et seq.

42. Galveston, etc., R. Co. v. Cowdrey, 11 Wall. (U. S.) 459, 20 L. ed. 199.

43. See Campbell v. Texas, etc., R. Co., 4 Fed. Cas. No. 2,369, 2 Woods 263.

44. Randolph v. Wilmington, etc., R. Co., 20 Fed. Cas. No. 11,563, 11 Phila. (Pa.) 502, holding that a mortgage of a branch line under a special act providing that it shall be a first lien thereon takes precedence of a prior mortgage of the railroad as then "made or to be made."

45. Pierce v. Emery, 32 N. H. 484; Thompson v. White Water Valley R. Co., 132 U. S. 68, 10 S. Ct. 29, 33 L. ed. 256 (holding that a mortgage on all property, materials, rights, and privileges, then or thereafter appertaining to the road, has priority over a subsequent mortgage on the earnings of a section of the road, given to secure money for constructing that section by a lessee, who had stipulated to construct it as one of the considerations of the lease); Columbus, etc., R. Co.'s Appeal, 109 Fed. 177, 48 C. C. A. 275.

46. Wade v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 149 U. S. 327, 13 S. Ct. 892, 37 L. ed. 755.

47. Galveston, etc., R. Co. v. Cowdrey, 11 Wall. (U. S.) 459, 20 L. ed. 199.

48. Hand v. Savannah, etc., R. Co., 12 S. C. 314.

49. New Orleans, etc., R. Co. v. Mellen, 12 Wall. (U. S.) 362, 20 L. ed. 434.

50. New Orleans, etc., R. Co. v. Mellen, 12 Wall. (U. S.) 362, 20 L. ed. 434.

51. New Orleans, etc., R. Co. v. Mellen, 12 Wall. (U. S.) 362, 20 L. ed. 434.

52. New Orleans, etc., R. Co. v. Mellen, 12 Wall. (U. S.) 362, 20 L. ed. 434.

53. Branch v. Atlantic., etc., R. Co., 4 Fed. Cas. No. 1,807, 3 Woods 481.

54. See Pennsylvania R. Co. v. Allegheny Valley R. Co., 48 Fed. 139.

55. Stephens v. Benton, 1 Duv. (Ky.) 112; In re Cork, etc., R. Co., L. R. 4 Ch. 748, 39 L. J. Ch. 277, 21 L. T. Rep. N. S. 735, 18 Wkly. Rep. 226.

ticular issue.[56] Ordinarily, outstanding bonds of a prior issue are entitled to priority over a subsequent issue of bonds,[57] particularly where a decree of foreclosure of the mortgage under which the latter bonds are issued, declares the outstanding bonds a first lien on the road or the proceeds of its sale,[58] and this preference passes to a bona fide holder of such bonds.[59] Unsecured bonds do not ipso facto become a lien upon the corporate property equal in dignity to secured bonds.[60] Bonds of the same issue and secured by the same mortgage have an equality of priority dating from the record of the mortgage, regardless of the time at which the various bonds are negotiated;[61] and the fact that part of an issue of bonds is issued as the purchase-price of certain property gives the bonds so used no prior lien on such property over other bonds of the same issue.[62] The holders of first lien bonds are exclusively entitled to the benefit of the first lien,[63] and where certain holders of such bonds are estopped to assert a preference by reason of their having accepted bonds of another issue, the holders of the first bonds not so estopped are not bound to share their prior lien with the holders of the new bonds to the extent that the first lien was removed by the estoppel;[64] nor are bonds issued in payment of coupons of the first lien bonds entitled to the rank held by the coupons which these bonds satisfied.[65] Where bondholders have a remedy for enforcing the payment of interest in case of default and they fail to enforce such remedy, they have no claim for priority in the distribution of the proceeds of foreclosure over other bondholders of the same class who have received interest.[66] Income bonds entitled to a preference out of the capital stock and income have no priority over mortgage bonds out of the proceeds of the latter.[67] A guarantor of railroad bonds who has made only a partial payment thereof is not entitled to an equal footing with mortgage creditors on the ground of subrogation,[68] since the payment of the whole debt for which the surety is liable is essential to subrogation.[69]

(II) Interest Coupons or Bonds and Securities Substituted Therefor. In the absence of some provision in the mortgage to that effect coupons severed from negotiable bonds secured by a mortgage on railroad property are not entitled to priority of payment over the principal of the bonds or 56. See Herrick v. Grand Trunk R. Co., 7 Can. L. J. 240, construing 12 Vict. c. 29; 18 Vict. c. 74; 19 & 20 Vict. c. 111.

57. Gibbes v. Greenville, etc., R. Co., 13 S. C. 228; Kneeland v. Lawrence, 140 U. S. 209, 11 S. Ct. 786, 35 L. ed. 492.

58. Kneeland v. Lawrence, 140 U. S. 209, 11 S. Ct. 786, 35 L. ed. 492.

59. Kneeland v. Lawrence, 140 U. S. 209, 11 S. Ct. 786, 35 L. ed. 492.

60. Brunswick, etc., R. Co. v. Hughes, 52 Ga. 557.

61. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co. v. Lynde, 55 Ohio St. 23, 44 N. E. 596; Stanton v. Alabama, etc., R. Co., 22 Fed. Cas. No. 13,297, 2 Woods 523, holding further that the fact that bonds of this kind are numbered is not for the purpose of giving one number any advantage over the other, but simply for the convenience of registration and identification, and that bonds bearing a higher number stand on the same footing as those bearing a lower number, and if the mortgage property is inadequate to pay all, are entitled to share pro rata with the others in its proceeds.

Effect of purchase of property by bondholders.— Where upon a sale under a mortgage a committee representing a part of the bondholders purchases the property for cash and the committee had previously advertised its purpose to protect the property, and its invitation to all bondholders to share the expense and result was kept open until the sale, bondholders who did not accept the invitation and were not represented by the committee cannot claim a priority in the distribution of the cash consideration paid by the committee merely because the latter immediately resold the property for sufficient to pay the par value of the bonds represented by it, the order for sale having directed a distribution of the fund received on the sale pari passu among all the bondholders. Bound v. South Carolina R. Co., 71 Fed. 53.

62. Murray v. Farmville, etc., R. Co., 101 Va. 262, 43 S. E. 553.

63. Hand v. Savannah, etc., R. Co., 17 S. C. 219.

64. Hand v. Savannah, etc., R. Co., 17 S. C. 219.

65. Hand v. Savannah, etc., R. Co., 17 S. C. 219.

66. Humphreys v. Morton, 100 Ill. 592.

67. Garrett v. May, 19 Md. 177.

68. Columbia Finance, etc., Co. v. Kentucky Union R. Co., 60 Fed. 794, 9 C. C. A. 264.

69. Columbia Finance, etc., Co. v. Kentucky Union R. Co., 60 Fed. 794, 9 C. C. A. 264.

the coupons subsequently maturing.[70] But where such appears to be the intention of the parties, unpaid coupons should be paid before the principal of any of the bonds,[71] and before coupons or interest falling due at a later period; [72] and detached coupons in the hands of others than the holders of the bonds from which they were detached should be paid before such bonds.[73] Holders of canceled or extinguished coupons are not entitled to any preference over other secured bondholders.[74] New bonds received for coupons or interest by way of substitution therefor are entitled to the same rank and priority as the original debt.[75] But a mere promise or stipulation in the new notes or bonds that a certain amount of the gross earnings is pledged in liquidation of the new securities does not create a specific lien or equitable assignment so as to give a holder thereof priority over the bonded debt out of such earnings.[76]

10. Interest and Coupons — a. In General. Interest on a railroad indebtedness is ordinarily governed by the rules regulating interest generally.[77] Where the interest is reserved by contract, the manner and terms of payment are usually governed by the bonds, mortgage, or other contract by which the interest is reserved.[78] But in the absence of a contract governing the particular case, interest

70. State v. Spartanburg, etc., R. Co., 8 S. C. 129 (holding that where a railroad corporation issued coupon bonds which the state guaranteed in consideration of receiving a lien on the entire franchise and property of the company, and there was a default in the payment of the bonds and interest coupons, and the state's lien was foreclosed, the holders of past-due coupons were not entitled to a priority in the distribution of the proceeds as against holders of bonds not then due; but that such proceeds are distributable pari passu between the holders of the past-due coupons and the holders of the bonds); Ketchum v. Duncan, 96 U. S. 659, 24 L. ed. 868 [affirming 8 Fed. Cas. No. 4,138, 3 Woods 567].

As between a holder of uncanceled coupons received as security for advances to the company, and bondholders who receive the amount of their coupons in ignorance of such transaction, supposing the coupons to have been paid, the bondholders have the prior equity and if upon foreclosure and sale of the mortgaged property the sum realized is insufficient to pay the face of the bonds, the holder of the coupons is not entitled to share in the proceeds. Union Trust Co. v. Monticello, etc., R. Co., 63 N. Y. 311, 20 Am. Rep. 541.

71. Sewall v. Brainerd, 38 Vt. 364 (holding that on the surrender of a railroad and its property to the trustees under a mortgage to secure its bonds, the coupon holders have a right in equity to have the unpaid coupons paid first and paid in the order in which they fell due when such was the presumed intention and expectation of the bondholders in selling and the purchasers in buying); Stevens v. New York, etc., R. Co., 23 Fed. Cas. No. 13,406, 13 Blatchff 412.

72. Stevens v. New York, etc., R. Co., 23 Fed. Cas. No. 13,406, 13 Blatchf. 412.

73. Stevens v. New York, etc., R. Co., 23 Fed. Cas. No. 13,406, 13 Blatchff. 412.

74. Hollister v. Stewart, 111 N. Y. 644, 19 N. E. 782.

75. Gibbes v. Greenville, etc., R. Co., 13 S. C. 228, holding that such new bonds are entitled to a priority over the mortgage bonds. Compare Hand v. Savannah, etc., R. Co., 17 S. C. 219.

76. McIlhenny v. Binz, 80 Tex. 1, 13 S. W. 655, 26 Am. St. Rep. 705.

77. See, generally, Interest, 22 Cyc. 1459 et seq.

As between lienors of different priorities interest should be allowed to the superior lienors from the maturity of the claims. Richmond, etc., Constr. Co. v. Richmond, etc., R. Co., 68 Fed. 105, 15 C. C. A. 289, 34 L. R. A. 625. See also Harrison v. Cornwall Minerals R. Co., 18 Ch. D. 334, 51 L. J. Ch. 98, 45 L. T. Rep. N. S. 498.

78. See Shoemaker v. Dayton, etc., R. Co., 10 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 12, 18 Cinc. L. Bul. 43; Foster v. Mansfield, etc., R. Co., 36 Fed. 627 [affirmed in 146 U. S. 88, 13 S. Ct. 28, 36 L. ed. 899], holding that where a construction company receives bonds in advance of the completion of the work under an agreement by which it agrees to pay all interest accruing before the road became in a condition for traffic, and by which the railroad company also agreed to reimburse the construction company for all interest paid, not properly chargeable to it, the construction company is only bound to pay interest on so many bonds as it received and used to which it was not entitled.

Extension of payment.— Where the mortgage authorizes the bondholders or a part thereof to extend the time of payment of interest, such extension of time must be made in the manner and upon the condition prescribed by the mortgage. McClelland v. Norfolk Southern R. Co., 110 N. Y. 469, 18 N. E. 237, 6 Am. St. Rep. 397, 1 L. R. A. 299, holding that where a mortgage provided that on default for six months in the interest on the bonds secured, the principal should become due at the option of the trustees, and a majority in interest of the bondholders might instruct the trustees to sell the property, or to reverse their election, and extend the time of payment of the interest, but that may be recovered by way of damages.[79] Thus overdue interest coupons carry interest from the time they are payable;[80] and, although the last interest coupons have been paid, if the principal debt is not paid when due it will continue to carry interest, although there is no provision in the bonds to that effect.[81] Where the lien or claim, together with interest thereon, has been converted into a judgment which bears interest, additional interest on the claim cannot thereafter be recovered.[82] A bona fide transferee of bonds or other indebtedness is entitled to recover interest from the time it fell due,[83] and the railroad company cannot set up as against such transferee a collateral defense it may have had against the original holders.[84] A demand for interest due on bonds is sufficient if made by the holders of the bonds or coupons at the place where they are payable,[85] and a further demand by the mortgage trustee is not necessary.[86] After railroad property has passed into the hands of a receiver or of an assignee in insolvency, interest on debts against the railroad company is not ordinarily allowed against funds in the receiver's hands,[87] unless there are funds in the hands of the receivers or their privies, especially applicable to the payment of the claim and which would not be exhausted by the allowance of interest.[88]

b. Rate of Interest. Subject to constitutional limitations the legislature may fix the rate of interest to be allowed on a railroad indebtedness in a particular case.[89] But except where regulated by a special statute,[90] the rate of interest which may be recovered on a railroad indebtedness is governed by the statutes regulating interest generally,[91] and subject to these statutes the railroad company may contract for any rate of interest upon its indebtedness.[92] The reservation of an illegal rate, however, will not prevent a recovery of the original debt with legal interest.[93]

c. Loss, Waiver, or Other Bar of Right. The waiver or loss of interest on railroad bonds or other indebtedness may be effected by the acts of the parties themselves,[94] as by a failure to attempt to recover it within the period of limita-the action of the trustees or the bondholders, in case of a default, should not affect any subsequent default, a majority of the bondholders could not extend the time of payment of interest until after a default of interest thereon of six months.

79. See Connecticut Mut. L. Ins. Co. v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co., 41 Barb. (N. Y.) 9, 26 How. Pr. 225.

80. Connecticut Mut. L. Ins. Co. v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co., 41 Barb. (N. Y.) 9, 26 How. Pr. 225; Gibert v. Washington City, etc., R. Co., 33 Gratt. (Va.) 586.

81. Price v. Great Western R. Co., 16 L. J. Exch. 87, 16 M. & W. 244, 4 R. & Can. Cas. 707.

82. Re European Cent. R. Co., 4 Ch. D. 33, 46 L. J. Ch. 57, 35 L. T. Rep. N. S. 583, 25 Wkly. Rep. 92.

83. McElrath v. Pittsburg, etc., R. Co., 55 Pa. St. 189.

84. McElrath v. Pittsburg, etc., R. Co., 55 Pa. St. 189 (holding that where a railroad company contracted for the construction of its road, and as the work progressed, without giving notice of any claim for damages for delay, delivered to the contractors bonds payable with interest from date, which bonds with some of the interest coupons overdue were transferred, the transferee was entitled to recover interest from the date of the bonds, and the company was estopped to claim damages for delay in the work); McKenzie v. Montreal, etc., R. Co., 29 U. C. C. P. 333.

85. Taber v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 15 Ind. 459.

86. Taber v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 15 Ind. 459.

87. Thomas v. Western Car Co., 149 U. S. 95, 13 S. Ct. 824, 37 L. ed. 663; New England R. Co. v. Carnegie Steel Co., 75 Fed. 54, 21 C. C. A. 219.

88. New England R. Co. v. Carnegie Steel Co., 75 Fed. 54, 21 C. C. A. 219.

89. See Southwestern Arkansas, etc., R. Co. v. Hays, 63 Ark. 355, 38 S. W. 665; Metropolitan Trust Co. v. Railroad Equipment Co., 108 Fed. 913, 48 C. C. A. 135; Campbell v. Texas, etc., R. Co., 4 Fed. Cas. No. 2,369, 2 Woods 263, holding, however, that the addition of a certain per cent to the interest of substituted bonds over and above that allowed on the original bonds is an invasion of the rights of bondholders under the original mortgage. See also Morrison v. Eaton, etc., R. Co., 14 Ind. 110.

90. See Memphis, etc., R. Co. v. Dow, 120 U. S. 287, 7 S. Ct. 482, 30 L. ed. 595.

91. See Memphis, etc., R. Co. v. Dow, 120 U. S. 287, 7 S. Ct. 482, 30 L. ed. 595.

92. Memphis, etc., R. Co. v. Dow, 120 U. S. 287, 7 S. Ct. 482, 30 L. ed. 595.

93. Philadelphia, etc., R. Co. v. Lewis, 33 Pa. St. 33, 75 Am. Dec. 574.

94. Lyon v. New York, etc., R. Co., 13 N. Y. St. 732; Pollitz v. Farmers' L. & T. Co., 53 Fed. 210, holding, however, that where a cross complainant of a dissenting bond-tion governing the particular case;[95] or where the interest is claimed as damages, and not by reason of any contract therefor, it will not be allowed if the delay in the payment of the principal debt is a result of the neglect of the creditor to demand and enforce such payment.[96] The recovery of interest on bonds may be lost or barred by the performance or non-performance of certain conditions provided for in the bonds and mortgages.[97] Thus where the income bonds and mortgages provide that no interest shall be recovered until the board of directors shall have adjudged and awarded an ascertained amount as net earnings, there can be no recovery of interest until such amount is adjudged and awarded,[98] unless the board of directors improperly neglect or refuse to take the necessary action.[99] So where mortgage bonds provide that no more interest shall be payable than shall be certified by a vote of the majority of the board of directors to have been earned during the preceding interest period, and that in default of such certificate no interest shall be payable, interest cannot be recovered on such bonds unless the certificate was made,[1] or unless it was unreasonably refused after a request therefor.[2] The fact that the financial agents of a railroad company at a time when it was in a failing condition agreed to purchase and hold the interest coupons on its bonds does not prevent such agents from enforcing payment to them of such coupons, on the ground that it was a breach of trust.[3]

11. Application of Earnings, Income, and Sinking Fund — a. In General. The earnings, income, and profits of a railroad company constitute a trust fund, in the hands of its officers, for the payment of its debts,[4] and should be applied: (1) To the payment of the necessary expenses and liabilities incident to the maintenance and operation of the road;[5] and this is the only fund to which unsecured creditors may have recourse;[6] (2) to the payment of interest on mortgages;[7] and (3) the net earnings or net income thus ascertained by paying or deducting the operating expenses from the gross or current income of the road[8] should be holder has taken the position throughout the suit that complainant could at any time surrender his bonds and receive new ones in lieu thereof, and counsel in their brief have offered to deliver the lieu bonds and cash upon such surrender, the cross complainant is not in a position to insist that complainant had by misconduct forfeited his right to interest.

95. In re Cornwall Minerals R. Co., [1897] 2 Ch. 74, 61 J. P. 345, 535, 66 L. J. Ch. 561, 76 L. T. Rep. N. S. 832, 46 Wkly. Rep. 5 (holding that where debenture stock is issued by a company formed by a special act which incorporates the provisions of Part III of the Companies Clauses Act of 1863, the right to interest on such stock being a statutory one is not barred for twenty years); Toronto Gen. Trusts Corp. v. Central Ontario R. Co., 6 Ont. L. Rep. 534, 2 Ont. Wkly. Rep. 946.

96. McDonald v. Great Western R. Co., 21 U. C. Q. B. 223.

97. Henry v. Syracuse, etc., R. Co., 57 N. Y. Super. Ct. 69, 5 N. Y. Suppl. 437, holding that where it is covenanted that the number of bonds to be paid in each year shall be determined by drawing lots, and that the principal of the bonds so drawn shall be payable at the option of the holders upon the surrender of the bonds drawn with all the coupons thereto belonging, and after a certain date the interest upon the bonds so drawn shall cease, the option of the holders of the bonds so drawn applies only to their right to retain possession of the bonds and that interest on them ceases on the specified date for which they are drawn whether the holders of such bonds surrender them or not.

98. Spies v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 40 Fed. 34, 6 L. R. A. 565.

99. Spies v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 40 Fed. 34, 6 L. R. A. 565.

1. Thomas v. New York, etc., R. Co., 139 N. Y. 163, 34 N. E. 877 [affirming 19 N. Y. Suppl. 766, 22 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 326].

2. Thomas v. New York, etc., R. Co., 139 N. Y. 163, 34 N. E. 877 [affirming 19 N. Y. Suppl. 766, 22 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 326].

3. Ketchum v. Duncan, 96 U. S. 659, 24 L. ed. 868 [affirming 8 Fed. Cas. No. 4,138, 3 Woods 567].

4. Newport, etc., Bridge Co. v. Douglass, 12 Bush (Ky.) 673. And see, generally, Corporations, 10 Cyc. 1249 et seq.

5. Darst v. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co., 3 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 199, 4 Wkly. L. Gaz. 377; McCormack v. Central Ohio R. Co., 3 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 103, 3 Wkly. L. Gaz. 218; Carey v. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co., 2 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 85, 1 West. L. Month. 338. See Gray v. Manitoba, etc., R. Co., [1897] A. C. 254, 66 L. J. P. C. 66 [affirming 11 Manitoba 42]. And see supra, VIII, A, 9, g.

6. Van Frank v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 89 Mo. App. 460.

7. Carey v. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co., 2 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 85, 1 West. L. Month. 338.

8. Ames v. Union Pac. R. Co., 73 Fed. 49.

applied to the payment of liens in the order of their priorities.[9] So long as there are outstanding unliquidated debts which equitably have the right to have the income applied to the satisfaction thereof, a bondholder cannot compel its appropriation to the liquidation of his claim;[10] and in the absence of contract liens, or rights created by legal proceedings, the officers of a railroad company may exercise a reasonable and proper discretion as to the order in which the debts shall be paid,[11] and this discretion cannot be taken from them by notice to the company that a particular creditor intends to demand a preference.[12] Where a trust fund is created to secure a particular class of creditors only, such creditor may be rightfully paid out of such fund.[13] As between creditors of the same class, if the fund applicable to their claims is insufficient to pay all, it should be divided among them pro rata.[14] But the mere fact that a claim, which is a lien on the property of the road, is determined to be a claim of a certain class payable out of the earnings of the road, does not preclude its payment from the proceeds of a sale of the property on which it is a lien if the earnings are insufficient to pay it.[15] In England under some statutes, upon an abandonment of a railroad, the parliamentary deposit required by such statutes may become general assets for the benefit of general creditors.[16]

9. Carey v. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co., 2 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 85, 1 West. L. Month. 338.

Priorities generally see supra, VIII, A, 9.

General judgment creditors, whether their claims arose out of contract or tort, are as much entitled as the mortgage bondholders to participate in the distribution of surplus income accumulating in the hands of a receiver appointed at the instance of stockholders, before the income has been impounded by the mortgage bondholders; and, if there are equitable considerations giving the bondholders a better right, they must be shown by proper averment. Veatch v. American L. & T. Co., 79 Fed. 471, 25 C. C. A. 39 [affirmed in 84 Fed. 274, 28 C. C. A. 384].

Where a mortgagor company holds possession and receives the earnings of the road under the terms of the mortgage, a general judgment creditor of the company is entitled, by virtue of a garnishment on the officers of the railroad company, to the net income of the road to the date of a decree of foreclosure and the appointment of a special receiver, the decree being silent as to such income and the road meanwhile being operated by the company. Gilman v. Illinois, etc., Tel. Co., 91 U. S. 603, 23 L. ed. 405 [affirming 10 Fed. Cas. No. 5,443, 1 McCrary 170].

Net earnings from the operation of a road by a receiver appointed under a general creditors' bill belong to the creditors in the same order of priority and must be preserved in the distribution as the proceeds of the property itself on its sale. Thomas v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 91 Fed. 202.

10. Roberts v. Denver, etc., R. Co., 8 Colo. App. 504, 46 Pac. 880.

11. Newport, etc., Bridge Co. v. Douglass, 12 Bush (Ky.) 673.

12. Newport, etc., Bridge Co. v. Douglass, 12 Bush (Ky.) 673.

13. Hatry v. Painesville, etc., R. Co., 1 Ohio Cir. Ct. 426, 1 Ohio Cir. Dec. 238 [affirmed in 23 Cinc. L. Bul. 281]; Central Trust Co. v. Chattanooga, etc., R. Co., 89 Fed. 388.

Statement of payment.— Under an agreement by which the lessee agrees to apply certain net earnings to the payment of a mortgage bond and coupons and to make quarterly statements as to earnings and expenses, such lessee cannot delay making such statement of payment and afterward set off losses against such net earnings. Schmidt v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 119 Ky. 287, 84 S. W. 314, 27 Ky. L. Rep. 21.

A lease providing for the payment of net earnings to the mortgage bondholders of the lessor, after it is assented to by the bondholders, operates as an irrevocable assignment to them of the net earnings. Grand Trunk R. Co. v. Central Vermont R. Co., 78 Fed. 690. And while the lessee is bound to pay out of the gross earnings certain prior claims before paying anything to bondholders, yet where the holders of such claims let payment be made to the bondholders first, they become common unsecured creditors of the lessee, and, a receiver having been appointed, they are not entitled as against the bondholders to have their claims paid out of the earnings accruing after the appointment of the receiver, where there is nothing to show that the gross earnings prior to the receiver's appointment were not sufficient to pay their claims. Grand Trunk R. Co. v. Central Vermont R. Co., 78 Fed. 690.

14. Hatry v. Painesville, etc., R. Co., 1 Ohio Cir. Ct. 426, 1 Ohio Cir. Dec. 238 [affirmed in 23 Cinc. L. Bul. 281].

15. Vollmer v. San Antonio, etc., R. Co., (Tex. Civ. App. 1898) 47 S. W. 378.

16. See In re Lancashire, etc., R. Co., [1903] 2 Ch. 711, 72 L. J. Ch. 789, 52 Wkly. Rep. 26 [distinguishing In re Wrexham, etc., R. Co., [1900] 1 Ch. 261, 69 L. J. Ch. 291, 82 L. T. Rep. N. S. 33, 16 T. L. R. 169, 48 Wkly. Rep. 311]; Webster v. Petre, 4 Ex. D. 127, 27 Wkly. Rep. 662; In re Waterford, etc., R. Co., Ir. R. 4 Eq. 490, 19 Wkly. Rep.

b. Mortgagees of Stock. Bondholders to whom stock of a railroad company has been mortgaged as collateral security cannot in equity charge the lessee of the mortgaged road with earnings derived under the lease where there is no fraud in the lease;[17] and the fact that the mortgage of such stock was given by the state, which owned a majority of the stock, does not bind the state to use its controlling interest in the road exclusively in the interest of its mortgagees of the stock,[18] nor impress the earnings received by the lessee of the road with a trust for the benefit of such mortgagees.[19]

c. Creation and Maintenance of Sinking Fund. Provision is sometimes made by statute for a railroad sinking fund, which is to be created and maintained out of certain sources of revenue,[20] and applied to certain debts or investments of the company;[21] or provision for such fund may be made by mortgage,[22] or by 145; Re Manchester, etc., R. Co., 45 L. T. Rep. N. S. 129.

General debts to be paid out of such assets have been held to include the costs of a petition by the depositor for the transfer out to him of the bulk of the deposit moneys (In re Laugharne R. Co., L. R. 12 Eq. 454, 19 Wkly. Rep. 1108), and the costs and charges of a solicitor and parliamentary agent, not promoters of the company, for obtaining the statute (In re Kensington Station Act, L. R. 20 Eq. 197, 32 L. T. Rep. N. S. 183, 23 Wkly. Rep. 463), but not to include costs on account of the promotion to the company (In re Barry R. Co., 4 Ch. D. 315, 46 L. J. Ch. 206, 36 L. T. Rep. N. S. 125, 25 Wkly. Rep. 201; In re Brampton, etc., R. Co., L. R. 10 Eq. 613, 39 L. J. Ch. 681, 23 L. T. Rep. N. S. 356, 18 Wkly. Rep. 994).

17. Gibson v. Richmond, etc., R. Co., 37 Fed. 743, 2 L. R. A. 467.

18. Gibson v. Richmond, etc., R. Co., 37 Fed. 743, 2 L. R. A. 467.

19. Gibson v. Richmond, etc., R. Co., 37 Fed. 743, 2 L. R. A. 467.

20. See New England Mut. L. Ins. Co. v. Phillips, 141 Mass. 535, 6 N. E. 534; Phillips v. Eastern R. Co., 138 Mass. 122, construing St. (1876) c. 236, § 13.

Under the Thurman Act (20 U. S. St. at L. 58 [U. S. Comp. St. (1901) p. 3569]), providing that twenty-five per cent of the net earnings of certain railroad companies shall be paid into the treasury of the United States toward the liquidation of bonds loaned to the company by the government, and that the net earnings "shall be ascertained by deducting from the gross amount of their earnings respectively the necessary expenses actually paid within the year in operating the same and keeping the same in a state of repair, and also the sum paid by them respectively within the year in discharge of interest on their first-mortgage bonds, whose lien has priority over the lien of the United States, and excluding from consideration all sums owing or paid by said companies respectively for interest upon any other portion of their indebtedness," the phrase "necessary expenses" is to be liberally construed, embracing expenses of operating in accordance with the demands of business coming to the road and excluding those not conducive to that end (Union Pac. R. Co. v. U. S., 20 Ct. Cl. 70); but expenses for improvements of the road, buildings and equipment, whereby the capital stock was increased in value are not to be deducted from the gross earnings (U. S. v. Central Pac. R. Co., 138 U. S. 84, 11 S. Ct. 285, 34 L. ed. 895). Thus under such act, it has been held that the following items should be excluded as not being proper deductions from the gross receipts of the road: Money needed to place it in proper repair but not actually expended for that purpose; the expenses of the land department; the interest on a funded debt which had priority over the lien of the United States; the fifty per cent retained by the latter from the amount of services rendered to it; but that the following items should be allowed provided they were actually paid out of the earnings of the road and not raised by bonds or stocks: The equipment account or replacing and rebuilding rolling stock, machinery, etc.; the amounts paid for depot grounds and the expenses of the same; and the construction accounts for the improvements and additions to the track, etc. U. S. v. Kansas Pac. R. Co., 99 U. S. 455, 25 L. ed. 289; U. S. v. Central Pac. R. Co., 99 U. S. 449, 25 L. ed. 287; Union Pac. R. Co. v. U. S., 99 U. S. 402, 25 L. ed. 274 [reversing on other grounds 13 Ct. Cl. 401].

21. New England Mut. L. Ins. Co. v. Phillips, 141 Mass. 535, 6 N. E. 534 (holding that the trustees of a railroad by virtue of St. (1876) c. 236, and St. (1885) c. 8, are bound to cancel all certificates of indebtedness purchased by them with the sinking fund as fast as the same are bought); Opinion of Justices, 5 Metc. (Mass.) 596 (construing St. (1838) c. 9, § 3); Fidelity Ins., etc., Co. v. United New Jersey R., etc., Co., 36 N. J. Eq. 405 (holding that where a sinking fund, to provide for the payment of certain railroad mortgage bonds, is by a provision of the bonds to be invested in certain other bonds of the same railroad, the trustee could not be directed, in the absence of the bondholders, to invest in other bonds than those specified, merely because the bonds specified could only be purchased at a premium).

22. Wilds v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 102 N. Y. 410, 7 N. E. 290 [affirming 64 How. Pr. 418].

an agreement entered into between the railroad company and a guarantor of its mortgage bonds.[23]

d. Payment of Interest. Where the mortgage bonds provide that interest on the bonds shall be paid out of the proceeds arising from the sales of certain lands,[24] or from the income of the road,[25] it is the duty of the trustee to so apply such funds; and if during a certain interest period the fund is insufficient to pay the interest then accruing in full, the deficiency will accumulate and become a charge upon such funds subsequently realized,[26] unless it affirmatively appears that this will be contrary to the intention of the parties.[27]

e. Diversion of Funds. It is a diversion or misapplication of funds to apply the income of a railroad to the payment of a floating debt without the consent of the bondholders,[28] even though such application could be made on favorable terms and would be equitable,[29] and probably for the interest of the bondholders.[30] But the fact that claims not entitled to preference have been improperly paid from funds in the hands of receivers does not entitle a mortgagee to insist that the amount shall be deducted from funds applicable to preferred claims.[31] If a part of the funds is misappropriated to the payment of creditors of another class, then to the extent of such misappropriation creditors whose funds are thus misapplied are entitled to priority of payment out of funds belonging to such other class of creditors.[32]

f. Remedies For Enforcement of Rights. A court of equity will interpose at

23. Central R., etc., Co. v. Farmers' L. & T. Co., 116 Fed. 700, holding that where a railroad company guaranteed second mortgage bonds of another company which it controlled, and required the latter to deposit with it as trustee a certain sum each year to create a sinking fund for the payment of the bonds at maturity, and both companies became insolvent and their property was sold under decrees of foreclosure, holders of unpaid guaranteed bonds were entitled in equity to have so much of the proceeds of the sale as equaled the accumulated sinking fund treated as a trust fund and applied to the payment of their bonds, as against the holders of deficiency judgments taken in the foreclosure suits against the guarantors.

In a proceeding by a holder of guaranteed bonds to enforce the payment thereof from the sinking fund which the company issuing them had paid into the hands of the guarantor, as trustee for their redemption at maturity, the question whether or not the guarantee of the bonds of one railroad company by another was ultra vires is immaterial; nor is it any defense to such proceeding that the guarantor was without legal power to undertake the duties of trustee. Central R., etc., Co. v. Farmers' L. & T. Co., 116 Fed. 700.

24. Little Rock, etc., R. Co. v. Huntington, 120 U. S. 160, 7 S. Ct. 517, 30 L. ed. 591.

25. Dayton, etc., R. Co. v. Shoemaker, 3 Ohio Cir. Ct. 473, 2 Ohio Cir. Dec. 270 [affirming 10 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 12, 18 Cinc. L. Bul. 43].

26. Dayton, etc., R. Co. v. Shoemaker, 3 Ohio Cir. Ct. 473 [affirming 10 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 12, 18 Cinc. L. Bul. 43]; Little Rock, etc., R. Co. v. Huntington, 120 U. S. 160, 7 S. Ct. 517, 30 L. ed. 591.

Cumulative interest.— Where income bonds provide for the payment of interest at such rate, not exceeding a given per cent, as the net earnings of the road "will reach to pay," and the deed of trust which secures the bonds recites that the net income after the payment of certain charges and privileges is pledged to the payment of the interest on the bonds for an amount equal to the specified per cent; the interest is cumulative and the bondholders are entitled to be paid interest out of the surplus earnings up to the maximum rate of such per cent and if the net earnings in any year or interest period are insufficient to pay such interest in full, they are entitled to have such deficiency made up out of the future surplus net earnings. Shoemaker v. Dayton, etc., R. Co., 10 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 12, 18 Cinc. L. Bul. 43.

27. Dayton, etc., R. Co. v. Shoemaker, 3 Ohio Cir. Ct. 473, 2 Ohio Cir. Dec. 270 [affirming 10 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 12, 18 Cinc. L. Bul. 43].

28. Duncan v. Mobile, etc., R. Co., 8 Fed. Cas. No. 4,137, 2 Woods 542.

29. Duncan v. Mobile, etc., R. Co., 8 Fed. Cas. No. 4,137, 2 Woods 542.

30. Duncan v. Mobile, etc., R. Co., 8 Fed. Cas. No. 4,137, 2 Woods 542.

31. Grand Trunk R. Co. v. Central Vermont R. Co., 88 Fed. 620.

32. Hatry v. Painesville, etc., R. Co., 1 Ohio Cir. Ct. 426, 1 Ohio Cir. Dec. 238 [affirmed in 23 Cinc. L. Bul. 281]; Mills v. Northern R. Co., L. R. 5 Ch. 621, 23 L. T. Rep. N. S. 719, 19 Wkly. Rep. 171, holding that, where a company has paid for things properly chargeable to capital out of revenue, it is justified in recouping the revenue account at a subsequent time out of capital; and may, if necessary, raise fresh capital under its borrowing powers for that purpose.

the instance of the proper parties to enjoin a misapplication of the income or earnings of a railroad company,[33] or to compel its application to the payment of the proper indebtedness;[34] or, where there has been a failure to properly apply the income or earnings, the creditor may bring a bill in equity for an accounting,[35] except where the obligation to such creditor is merely contractual and not fiduciary;[36] or where there has been a misapplication, the creditor may bring an action at law to recover the amount of the fund which should have been applied to his claim.[37] Where all the preferred claims against a railroad company can be paid 33. Dayton, etc., R. Co. v. Shoemaker, 3 Ohio Cir. Ct. 473, 2 Ohio Cir. Dec. 270 [affirming 10 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 12, 18 Cinc. L. Bul. 43]; Barry v. Missouri, etc., R. Co., 36 Fed. 228, holding that where a company has misapplied its earnings as against an income mortgage, and a decree allows the income bondholders to move for an injunction against further misapplication, and the company relies on a bare denial of a charge of misapplication, giving no figures from which the condition of its business or the manner of disposing of its earnings can be determined, and giving no explanation of the shrinkage of its net earnings, an injunction will be allowed, although for a cause other than the particular one formerly had in view, and although the charge is in part on information and belief.

Where a railroad company has agreed to apply net income in its possession to the payment of certain interest, a court of equity will, at the suit of the bondholder, interpose to prevent the diversion of such fund and compel its application to the payment of interest. Dayton, etc., R. Co. v. Shoemaker, 3 Ohio Cir. Ct. 473, 2 Ohio Cir. Dec. 270 [affirming 10 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 12, 18 Cinc. L. Bul. 43].

A simple contract creditor of a railroad company who has no lien or mortgage upon the assets of the company or any judgment against it cannot maintain a bill in equity to restrain the company from dealing with its assets as it pleases. Mills v. Northern R. Co., L. R. 5 Ch. 621, 23 L. T. Rep. N. S. 719, 19 Wkly. Rep. 171.

34. Lane v. Baughman, 17 Ohio St. 642, 93 Am. Dec. 653; Dayton, etc., R. Co. v. Shoemaker, 3 Ohio Cir. Ct. 473, 2 Ohio Cir. Dec. 270 [affirming 10 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 12, 18 Cinc. L. Bul. 43]; Hatry v. Painesville, etc., R. Co., 1 Ohio Cir. Ct. 426, 1 Ohio Cir. Dec. 258 [affirmed in 23 Cinc. L. Bul. 281]; Darst v. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co., 5 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 199, 4 Wkly. L. Gaz. 377, holding that in an action against a railroad company to compel the application of the income of the road to the payment of the preferred claim of a creditor, the court can require the company or any officer who is a party to apply money then on hand or thereafter to be received in satisfaction of such claim, the order to be enforced by attachment.

Where a railroad company fails to apply its income according to law, a creditor who has a lien on the property of the road by judgment or otherwise may enforce the proper application of such income by petition in the nature of a creditor's bill, and may thereby reach money in the hands of agents as well as property acquired after the execution of the mortgage, if such money and property be not necessary for operating the road. Carey v. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co., 2 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 85, 1 West. L. Month. 338.

35. Buel v. Baltimore, etc., R. Co., 24 Misc. (N. Y.) 646, 53 N. Y. Suppl. 749; Spies v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 40 Fed. 34, 6 L. R. A. 565, holding, however, that the complaint should be dismissed because complainant having alleged a case of fraud should not be permitted to support it on any other ground.

Pleading.— Where a lessee railroad company agrees to apply the net earnings to the payment of a mortgage bond and coupons, and to furnish quarterly an account of operating expenses, etc., on a petition against such lessee for an accounting and its failure to so apply its net earnings or to make such report, plaintiff need not allege that there were net earnings; it being sufficient to set forth the bond, coupons, aver non-payment, and ask for an accounting (Schmidt v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 119 Ky. 287, 84 S. W. 314, 27 Ky. L. Rep. 21); and a petition which seeks to recover not only on the coupons due when the petition was filed, but also to compel payment into court of the net earnings as they might thereafter accrue to meet subsequent coupons, and to provide a fund to meet the bond at maturity, is sufficient without a subsequent amendment, to cover the accounting of net earnings between the filing of the petition and the hearing of the cause (Schmidt v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., supra).

Where in an accounting in favor of income bondholders the company has paid a higher rate of interest than needful on former encumbrances, it cannot charge the difference against the income to the injury of the bondholders in direct contravention of the provisions of the mortgage securing the income bonds. Barry v. Missouri, etc., R. Co., 34 Fed. 829.

36. Thomas v. New York, etc., R. Co., 139 N. Y. 163, 34 N. E. 877, holding that a bondholder could not ask for an accounting of the earnings, as of a trust fund in the company's hands for the bondholders' benefit, the obligation being merely contractual and not fiduciary.

37. U. S. v. Kansas Pac. R. Co., 26 Fed. Cas. No. 15,505, 4 Dill. 367, 1 N. Y. Wkly. Dig. 444 [reversed on other grounds in 99 U. S. 455, 24 L. ed. 289], holding that under the act of July 1, 1862 (12 U. S. St. at L. 489), the government may recover at law of

from the income or property which is not necessary for its operation, each creditor may proceed for himself without making other bondholders or creditors under the mortgage parties.[38] The income of the road may also be attached by a trustee process for operating expenses.[39] Where a railroad mortgage gives bondholders the right to inspect the company's statement of earnings, interest, etc., the extent of their right depends upon the reasonable intent of the language of the mortgage;[40] but, in the absence of such provision in the mortgage, bondholders have no right to such an inspection.[41]

12. PAYMENT, SATISFACTION, RELEASE, OR DISCHARGE[42] — a. In General. Railroad bonds may be discharged by a new issue of bonds in substitution therefor.[43] Bonds delivered merely in furtherance of a device to defraud other creditors must, as to such creditors, be considered paid and canceled.[44] Where trustees of a railroad company purchase a portion of its property at a foreclosure sale in their individual right, their purchase cannot be treated as a payment of the mortgage by them as trustee mortgagees, so as to enable them to set it off against the sum due in a foreclosure suit of the railroad mortgage.[45] As a general rule a merger of bonds and stock does not take place where the interest of the mortgagee does not require it, and where there is no intent that there should be a merger, and where there is none in fact by a union in the same person of the title and mortgage.[46]

b. Right to Make Payment. In the absence of a provision in the contract to that effect, bondholders are not required to accept payment before maturity the Union Pacific and other railroad companies receiving United States bonds, five per cent of the net income until the bonds and interest are paid.

38. Darst v. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co., 3 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 199, 4 Wkly. L. Gaz. 377.

Each judgment creditor of a railroad company having a lien on the property of the road of the first preferred class may proceed for himself against the company to compel the proper application of the income of the road for his benefit and in such action may make the railroad company and mortgagees parties, and in such a proceeding will be entitled to the benefit of his own vigilance. Carey v. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co., 2 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 85, 1 West. L. Month. 338.

39. Smith v. Eastern R. Co., 124 Mass. 154.

40. Pronick v. Metropolitan Trust Co., 67 N. Y. App. Div. 616, 74 N. Y. Suppl. 577, holding that where a mortgage securing bonds of a railroad company provided that, between the first and thirtieth of September in each year, the railroad company should file with the trustee a statement of earnings, etc., and the rate of interest to be paid on the bonds, and that during that period a certain number of bondholders might object in a manner prescribed by the mortgage to the interest and rate, there was an implied grant on the part of bondholders to an inspection of the interest statement; but that the right to inspect such statement was limited to the statement for the current year and that a bondholder could not compel a trustee to exhibit statements for prior years.

41. Pronick v. Metropolitan Trust Co., 67 N. Y. App. Div. 616, 74 N. Y. Suppl. 577.

42. Payment, release, and satisfaction of mortgages generally see MORTGAGES, 27 Cyc. 1386 et seq.

43. Canada Southern R. Co. v. Gebhard, 109 U. S. 527, 3 S. Ct. 363, 27 L. ed. 1020 [reversing 1 Fed. 387, 17 Blatchf. 416], holding that the payment of certain first mortgage railroad bonds executed and issued in the dominion of Canada and payable in the city of New York is discharged by virtue of an act of parliament of the dominion of Canada authorizing such railroad company to issue new bonds in substitution for such former bonds. And see supra, VIII, A, 4, e, (v).

44. Chattanooga, etc., R. Co. v. Evans, 66 Fed. 809, 14 C. C. A. 116, holding that where a railroad company sells its property to another railroad company for guaranteed bonds of the latter and the contract of sale provides that the larger part of these bonds shall be distributed to holders of stock and income bonds of the selling company, which stock and income bonds are to be delivered to the guarantor as a consideration for the guaranty, the income bonds must be considered as paid and canceled as against unsecured creditors of the selling company.

45. Griggs v. Detroit, etc., R. Co., 10 Mich. 117.

46. Ten Eyck v. Pontiac, etc., R. Co., 114 Mich. 494, 72 N. W. 362, holding that one who, as attorney for a railroad company, the promoter of which was H, negotiated a contract with an investment company of which H was president and chief stockholder, by which the investment company was to construct the railroad and receive a certain amount of the stock and mortgage bonds of the railroad company, cannot, as a creditor of the railroad company, and having known all the facts insist upon a merger of the bonds and stock in the hands of H who acquired them through the investment company.

of their bonds,[47] and a statute, the effect of which is to make a mortgage debt become due before the time fixed in the mortgage, cannot be enforced.[48]

c. Payment in Scrip or Other Medium. Where the promise to pay bonds is in the alternative, to pay the principal or interest in money or some other medium of payment, such as scrip, the promisor has an option either to pay in money or its equivalent;[49] but if, when a payment is due, the company does not exercise its option, its right to do so is gone and the promisee is entitled to demand payment in money,[50] without a presentment of the bonds or a demand of payment;[51] nor does the fact that the bondholder had accepted another medium for past payments amount to a waiver of his right to demand money.[52] Under some statutes certificates of indebtedness may be delivered to a creditor in exchange for existing debts and obligations to an equal amount,[53] as the same shall be ascertained and liquidated.[54] A railroad company authorized to sell its bonds at a discount may receive in payment therefor construction material as well as cash.[55] A subcontractor is bound to accept payment as provided for in the principal contract;[56] but if a proper tender is not made to him of the article in which he is to be paid, he may maintain an action for a money judgment.[57] Materialmen and laborers, however, are not bound to accept anything in payment except money whatever may be the contract between the owner and contractor.[58]

47. Missouri, etc., R. Co. v. Union Trust Co., 156 N. Y. 592, 51 N. E. 309 [affirming 87 Hun 377, 34 N. Y. Suppl. 443]; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Pyne, 30 Fed. 86.

48. Randolph v. Middleton, 26 N. J. Eq. 543 [reversing 25 N. J. Eq. 306].

49. Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Marlor, 123 U. S. 687, 8 S. Ct. 311, 31 L. ed. 303 [affirming 19 Fed. 867, 21 Fed. 383, 22 Blatchf. 464].

Waiver.— Where the officers of a railroad company which has agreed to pay certain claims in stock, informs a claimant that if the claim is established the company will pay the "amount with interest," it thereby waives the right to pay in stock. Dubuque, etc., R. Co. v. Pierson, 70 Fed. 303, 17 C. C. A. 401.

50. Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Marlor, 123 U. S. 687, 8 S. Ct. 311, 31 L. ed. 303 [affirming 19 Fed. 867, 21 Fed. 383, 22 Blatchf. 464].

51. Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Marlor, 123 U. S. 687, 8 S. Ct. 311, 31 L. ed. 303 [affirming 19 Fed. 867, 21 Fed. 383, 22 Blatchf. 464].

52. Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Marlor, 123 U. S. 687, 8 S. Ct. 311, 31 L. ed. 303 [affirming 19 Fed. 867, 21 Fed. 383, 22 Blatchf. 464].

Estoppel.— Where a contract with a construction company provided that certificates of indebtedness should issue to the contractor with interest warrants attached, and these warrants were assigned to third persons who for three years accepted part payment of semiannual interest on deferred warrants, although under a true construction of the contract the entire interest should be paid in cash, the certificate holders who had not examined the semiannual statements or the original contract are not estopped from enforcing such contract according to its true meaning. Knapp v. New York, etc., R. Co., 2 Bosw. (N. Y.) 297.

53. Merchants' Nat. Bank v. Eastern R. Co., 124 Mass. 518, construing St. (1876) c. 236.

Laches.— It has been held that a secured creditor of the Eastern Railroad Company is not entitled, after the lapse of four years from the enactment of the statute of 1876, chapter 236, and five years from the time to which, by the terms of the statute, the claims against the corporation were to be made up as cash, to present his claim for adjustment and to receive certificates of indebtedness therefor; he having in the meantime received interest on his debt at a greater rate than he would have received under such certificates. Hamor v. Eastern R. Co., 133 Mass. 315.

A creditor of a railroad company who holds its promissory note and as collateral security for the same certain other notes of the company is not entitled under such statute to sell such collateral security and receive certificates of indebtedness for the balance due on the original note. Merchants' Nat. Bank v. Eastern R. Co., 124 Mass. 518.

54. Merchants' Nat. Bank v. Eastern R. Co., 124 Mass. 518.

In ascertaining the amount for which a certificate of indebtedness under St. (1876) c. 36, is to issue to a secured creditor, the value of the collateral security must first be deducted; and if this security consists of the bond of another corporation guaranteed and indorsed by defendant company, the amount to be applied on the debt is the value of the bond without the indorsement of the bond and guaranty. Merchants' Nat. Bank v. Eastern R. Co., 124 Mass. 518.

55. Coe v. Columbus, etc., R. Co., 10 Ohio St. 372, 75 Am. Dec. 518.

56. Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Canada, etc., R. Co., 127 Ind. 250, 26 N. E. 784, 11 L. R. A. 740.

57. Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Canada, etc., R. Co., 127 Ind. 250, 26 N. E. 784, 11 L. R. A. 740.

58. Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Canada, etc., R. Co., 127 Ind. 250, 26 N. E. 784, 11 L. R. A. 740.

d. Necessity and Effect of Surrender of Evidence of Indebtedness. Where the evidence of indebtedness indicates an intention to that effect, payment thereof can be made only upon delivery or an offer to deliver.[59] Where a railroad mortgage provides that if the net income for any interest period is insufficient to pay the interest coupons for that period the holder shall receive scrip certificates for the deficit, a coupon holder upon which there is a deficit is entitled to the right of a scrip holder whether he surrenders his coupon or not.[60] Railroad bonds which are merely pledged as collateral security are not, when discharged and surrendered, the property of the company liable to be reached by garnishment against an officer of the company receipting for the same, but who in fact never received them.[61] A railroad contractor who has negotiated notes received in part payment of his claim is not first required to take up such notes before obtaining a judgment and lien for his services, but the judgment may provide for their payment out of the sum allowed.[62]

e. Release or Discharge. A lien or claim on railroad property may be released or discharged by a subsequent agreement, between the claimant and the railroad company, which shows an intention to adjust all existing controversies between the parties and to mutually release all existing obligations and liabilities.[63] But a change in the form of the mortgage debt, such as the substitution of new bonds for those originally secured, does not extinguish or affect the lien.[64] If bonds are sold and pass into the hands of a bona fide holder upon the supposition that the sale covers all coupons attached and detached and not paid and canceled, past-due detached coupons in the hands of one not an innocent purchaser for value must be considered as paid and canceled as against such purchaser.[65] Holders of coupons convertible into scrip acquire no vested interest in a mortgage under which the coupons were issued, where the mortgage was released, and the bonds which it secured were destroyed before issuing;[66] and it is immaterial that the release erroneously recites the book in which the mortgage is recorded, the mortgage being otherwise sufficiently described.[67] A lien on the property and franchises of a railroad company will not be discharged by judicial sale unless the lien-holder has been made a party to the proceeding and a decree entered against him providing that his lien shall be discharged by the sale.[68]

13. Enforcement of Liabilities Against Property — a. Nature and Form of Remedy in General. Ordinarily the proper remedy for enforcing payment of a claim payable out of railroad funds or property is a bill in equity for an accounting and distribution of the funds which the railroad company should have applicable thereto,[69] or by a bill to sell the mortgagor company's equity of redemption,[70]

59. See Osborne v. Preston, etc., R. Co., 9 U. C. C. P. 241.

60. Barry v. Missouri, etc., R. Co., 27 Fed. 1.

61. Galena, etc., R. Co. v. Stahl, 103 Ill. 67.

62. McDonald v. Charleston, etc., R. Co., 93 Tenn. 281, 24 S. W. 252.

63. Stewart v. Hoyt, 111 U. S. 373, 4 S. Ct. 519, 28 L. ed. 461.

64. Mowry v. Farmers' L. & T. Co., 76 Fed. 38, 22 C. C. A. 52.

65. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Turner, 79 Mich. 103, 44 N. W. 174.

66. Com. v. Wilmington, etc., R. Co., (Pa. 1889) 17 Atl. 5.

67. Com. v. Wilmington, etc., R. Co., (Pa. 1889) 17 Atl. 5.

68. Fidelity Title, etc., Co. v. Schenley Park, etc., R. Co., 189 Pa. St. 363, 42 Atl. 140, 69 Am. St. Rep. 815.

69. Schneider v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 10 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 364, 20 Cinc. L. Bul. 457; Galt v. Erie, etc., R. Co., 14 Grant Ch (U. C.) 499.

Notice.— Where in a suit by preferred creditors to reach personalty and net earnings during a receivership, a mandate is sent down, affording relief as to "such of the orators as had no notice" of the pendency of a previous cross bill by similar creditors, the notice intended is the formal notice directed by the former decree to be given to all creditors to come in and prove their claims, and not mere knowledge of the pendency of the cross bill (Bell v. St. Johnsbury, etc., R. Co., 76 Vt. 42, 56 Atl. 105); and a publication by the solicitors for the orators in the cross bill, without an order of court or of the master, of an advertisement, asking all creditors to bring in their claims, is without legal efficacy (Bell v. St. Johnsbury, etc., R. Co., supra).

70. Vicksburg, etc., R. Co. v. McCutchen, 52 Miss. 645, holding that the judgment creditors of a railroad company whose road is and not an action at law for a personal judgment against the owner of the road.[71] Where a holder of unpaid coupons which have accumulated by reason of a deficiency of the net earnings applicable thereto brings a suit on some of such bonds for an accounting and afterward sues at law to recover on coupons on other bonds of the same issue, he is entitled to an account in the equity suit not merely for net earnings prior to the commencement of such suit to pay coupons then due, but also for all coupons due and net earnings received after the commencement of the suit until the accounts are stated,[72] and the lawsuits on the coupons should be stayed as plaintiff's rights can be protected in the equity suit.[73] As a general rule a creditor at large or before judgment cannot proceed by a creditor's bill to reach assets of a railroad company even if there be nothing liable to attachment or execution;[74] but where a creditor is entitled to payment out of a specific or trust fund, a petition in the nature of a creditor's bill may be maintained without judgment.[75] It has been held that where railroad property is worth much more than the amount of the debt and interest, it should be leased by public auction for the shortest term that will bring the amount due, and the accruing interest and principal as the same shall become due;[76] but if no one can be found who will take it for a term of years, then it should be sold absolutely, the company to elect whether the property shall be first offered for a term of years.[77] Some statutes also provide for a suspension period during which no action or suit may be commenced on railroad liabilities without leave.[78]

b. Attachment and Execution — (i) IN GENERAL. While as a general rule railroad property may be levied on and sold as an entirety, in the absence of statute, separate parts or parcels thereof which would affect the operation of the road as a whole cannot be taken separately.[79] For no class of creditors should the indispensable means of operating a railroad be taken away until the final sale of the entire road shall be necessary;[80] and it is a well settled rule that except where there is a statutory provision to the contrary,[81] and except where subject to mortgage are not limited to the earnings or income of the company on a bill to obtain satisfaction of their judgments and to sell the equity of redemption subject to priorities and prior encumbrances.

71. Schneider v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 10 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 364, 20 Cinc. L. Bul. 457.

72. Morgan v. Union Pac. R. Co., 11 Fed. 692.

73. Morgan v. Union Pac. R. Co., 11 Fed. 692.

74. Darst v. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co., 3 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 199, 4 Wkly. L. Gaz. 377.

75. Darst v. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co., 3 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 199, 4 Wkly. L. Gaz. 377.

76. Bardstown, etc., R. Co. v. Metcalfe, 4 Metc. (Ky.) 199, 81 Am. Dec. 541; Winchester, etc., R. Co. v. Colfelt, 27 Gratt. (Va.) 777.

77. Bardstown, etc., R. Co. v. Metcalfe, 4 Metc. (Ky.) 199, 81 Am. Dec. 541.

78. London Financial Assoc. v. Wrexham, etc., R. Co., L. R. 18 Eq. 566, 30 L. T. Rep. N. S. 491.

79. Graham v. Mt. Sterling Coalroad Co., 14 Bush (Ky.) 425, 29 Am. Rep. 412; New York Cent. Trust Co. v. Moran, 56 Minn. 188, 57 N. W. 471, 29 L. R. A. 212; Cranston v. Union Trust Co., 75 Mo. 29; Compton v. Jesup, 68 Fed. 263, 15 C. C. A. 397; Georgia v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 10 Fed. Cas. No. 5,351, 3 Woods 434; Ludlow v. Clinton Line R. Co., 15 Fed. Cas. No. 8,600, 1 Flipp. 25 (holding that where there is a judgment against a railroad, and a mortgage of the road which has precedence of the judgment as to that part of the road lying in one county, a sale under execution cannot be made of that part of the road not subject to the prior lien of the mortgage; but the whole road must be appraised and sold together and the proceeds be brought into court and distributed according to the priority of the liens). Compare Weddington v. Carver, (Tex. Civ. App. 1907) 100 S. W. 786.

Where a railroad runs between two points in different states, a sale of that part of the road lying in one state under a levy on a judgment obtained by a bondholder would be an unjustifiable use of a legal right, and restrained on a bill filed by another bondholder. Du Pont v. Boshong, 8 Fed. Cas. No. 4,184, 1 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 378.

80. Carey v. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co., 2 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 85, 1 West. L. Month. 338.

81. Hall v. Carney, 140 Mass. 131, 3 N. E. 14 (holding that railroad cars are, for the purposes of attachment, personal property, and that the Massachusetts statutes treat them as such and provide a special mode of attaching them; and that it is not necessary for an officer in attaching to take possession of them personally, or by a keeper, to preserve the attachment); Texas-Mexican R. Co. v. Wright, 88 Tex. 346, 31 S. W. 613, the attachment or execution is to enforce a specific lien which accrued upon the acquisition of the property by the company,[82] the franchise of a railroad company is not subject to seizure and sale upon execution;[83] and it follows as a natural sequence, that tracks, road-bed, and other lands,[84] easements,[85] rolling stock,[86] and other things essential to the existence of the company and the execution of its corporate duty, and without which its franchise would be of no practical use, cannot be levied upon and sold on execution at law so as to detach them from the franchise and thus destroy its use.[87] Nor can the property be severed

31 L. R. A. 200 (construing Const. art. 10, § 4); Gulf, etc., R. Co. v. Newell, 73 Tex. 334, 11 S. W. 342, 15 Am. St. Rep. 788; Weddington v. Carver, (Tex. Civ. App. 1907) 100 S. W. 786 (construing Sayles Rev. Civ. St. arts. 3313, 4553). See Bowen v. Brecon, etc., R. Co., L. R. 3 Eq. 541, 36 L. J. Ch. 344, 16 L. T. Rep. N. S. 6, 15 Wkly. Rep. 482; Russell v. East Anglian R. Co., 15 Jur. 935, 20 L. J. Ch. 257, 3 MacN. & G. 125, 6 R. & Can. Cas. 501, 49 Eng. Ch. 95, 42 Eng. Reprint 208.

In Pennsylvania the special fieri facias allowed by act of April 7, 1870, Pub. Laws 58, on which such property may be sold (Mausel v. New York, etc., R. Co., 171 Pa. St. 606, 33 Atl. 377; Philadelphia, etc., R. Co.'s Appeal, 70 Pa. St. 355; Buffalo Coal Co. v. Rochester, etc., R. Co., 8 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 126. Compare Oakland R. Co. v. Keenan, 56 Pa. St. 198 (under Act June 16, 1836, § 72); Covey v. Pittsburg, etc., R. Co., 3 Phila. (Pa.) 173) is a substitute for the writ of sequestration under the act of June 16, 1836, section 73, and compliance with conditions precedent to the issuance of the latter is necessary to authorize the former (Mausel v. New York, etc., R. Co., 171 Pa. St. 606, 33 Atl. 377); and if a special fieri facias be issued without a demand first having been made upon the officers of the company and without a levy having been made upon the personal property of the company the writ will be stayed (Mausel v. New York, etc., R. Co., supra).

82. McKay v. Ripley, etc., R. Co., 42 W. Va. 23, 24 S. E. 685 (holding that where one agreed to sell land to a railroad company for a money consideration, and the company entered upon the land with the vendor's consent, and built its railroad, and operated the same for several years, but failed to pay the money consideration, the vendor was entitled to enforce payment thereof as a vendor's lien by separate sale of the specific land); Hill v. La Crosse, etc., R. Co., 11 Wis. 214.

Where land on which is a railroad track is attached, and pending the litigation a railroad company purchases such land, it cannot object to a sale of the land in the attachment proceedings, on the ground that a section of the railroad cannot be sold. Chapman v. Pittsburg, etc., R. Co., 26 W. Va. 299.

83. Illinois.— Hatcher v. Toledo, etc., R. Co., 62 Ill. 477; Bruffett v. Great Western R. Co., 25 Ill. 353.

Indiana.— Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Boney, 117 Ind. 501, 20 N. E. 432, 3 L. R. A. 435.

Louisiana.— New Orleans, etc., R. Co. v. Delamore, 34 La. Ann. 1225; State v. Morgan, 28 La. Ann. 482.

Ohio.— Ludlow v. Hurd, 1 Disn. 522, 12 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 791.

Pennsylvania.— Mausel v. New York, etc., R. Co., 171 Pa. St. 606, 33 Atl. 377.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," §§ 595, 596, 598. And see EXECUTIONS, 17 Cyc. 947.

84. Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Boney, 117 Ind. 501, 20 N. E. 432, 3 L. R. A. 435; Hackley v. Mack, 60 Mich. 591, 27 N. W. 871 (track and road-bed); Coe v. Columbus, etc., R. Co., 10 Ohio St. 372, 75 Am. Dec. 518.

A right of way cannot be sold on execution or otherwise to a purchaser who does not own the franchise. East Alabama R. Co. v. Doe, 114 U. S. 340, 5 S. Ct. 869, 29 L. ed. 136.

A decree directing a sale of a portion of the right of way and road-bed is inoperative, where the road has not been abandoned, or the franchise under which it was built surrendered; and the court may properly refuse to award process for the enforcement of such decree, since the effect of a sale would be merely to cloud the title of the owner of the road and its franchise. Connor v. Tennessee Cent. R. Co., 109 Fed. 931, 48 C. C. A. 730, 54 L. R. A. 687.

85. Western Pennsylvania R. Co. v. Johnston, 59 Pa. St. 290.

86. New York Cent. Trust Co. v. Moran, 56 Minn. 188, 57 N. W. 471, 29 L. R. A. 212; Carey v. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co., 2 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 85, 1 West. L. Month. 338; Covey v. Pittsburg, etc., R. Co., 3 Phila. (Pa.) 173.

87. McColgan v. Baltimore Belt R. Co., 85 Md. 519, 36 Atl. 1026; Northern Pac. R. Co. v. Shimmell, 6 Mont. 161, 9 Pac. 889 (office safe used in facilitating operations of road); Carey v. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co., 2 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 85, 1 West. L. Month. 338; Youngman v. Elmira, etc., R. Co., 65 Pa. St. 278; Loudenschlager v. Benton, 3 Grant (Pa.) 384; Covey v. Pittsburg, etc., R. Co., 3 Phila. (Pa.) 173; Longstreth v. Philadelphia, etc., R. Co., 11 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 94, 309; Connor v. Tennessee Cent. R. Co., 109 Fed. 931, 48 C. C. A. 730, 54 L. R. A. 687.

An injunction may be allowed restraining the removal and sale on execution of portions of the mortgaged property of a railroad upon the application of the mortgagee, when the whole of the mortgaged property is insufficient to pay the mortgage debt. Lane v. Baughman, 17 Ohio St. 642, 93 Am. Dec. 653.

and sold in equity.[88] Some statutes expressly protect the rolling stock of a railroad company from execution.[89] But a creditor may attach the mortgagor company's equity of redemption.[90] Personal property left on the road when the mortgagees of the railroad took possession under their mortgage cannot be taken on execution subsequently issued against the company.[91]

(II) Property Abandoned or Unnecessary For Operation of Road. The above exemption, however, does not apply where the railroad company has ceased the use of its franchises and the performance of its public duties;[92] nor does it apply to surplus lands,[93] unnecessary rolling stock and equipment,[94] or to other property not needed or used for corporate purposes.[95]

(III) Income and Revenues. The income and revenues of a railroad company which are pledged for the payment of outstanding bonds are not liable to attachment by judgment creditors of the company.[96]

14. Actions on Obligations — a. In General. A bondholder may sue in assumpsit for the amount of his unpaid bonds or coupons,[97] notwithstanding the majority in interest of the holders of bonds of the same class have consented to waive their rights secured by the mortgage;[98] and this common-law right cannot

88. Carey v. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co., 2 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 85, 1 West. L. Month. 338.

89. Great Northern R. Co. v. Tahourdin, 13 Q. B. D. 320, 53 L. J. Q. B. 69, 50 L. T. Rep. N. S. 186, 32 Wkly. Rep. 559 (construing Railroad Companies Act (1867), §§ 3, 4); Midland Waggon Co. v. Potteries R. Co., 6 Q. B. D. 36, 50 L. J. Q. B. 6, 43 L. T. Rep. N. S. 511, 29 Wkly. Rep. 78 (holding that, under the Railway Companies Act (1867), § 4, the rolling stock and plant of a railway is protected from seizure on execution by a judgment creditor, and that this protection continues, although the railway is afterward closed for traffic, without any probability of its resuming); In re Manchester, etc., R. Co., [1897] 1 Ch. 276, 66 L. J. Ch. 139, 75 L. T. Rep. N. S. 416, 45 Wkly. Rep. 331 (construing Railway Companies Act (1867), § 4).

Exemption from distress: Under the Railway Rolling Stock Protection Act (1872), § 3, see Easton Estate Co. v. Western Waggon, etc., Co., 50 J. P. 790, 54 L. T. Rep. N. S. 735. Under the Railway Companies Act (1867), § 4, see Eyton v. Denbigh, etc., R. Co., 38 L. J. Ch. 74, 16 Wkly. Rep. 928.

90. Lane v. Baughman, 17 Ohio St. 642, 93 Am. Dec. 653.

91. Palmer v. Forbes, 23 Ill. 301.

92. Gardner v. Mobile, etc., R. Co., 102 Ala. 635, 15 So. 271, 48 Am. St. Rep. 84; Benedict v. Heineberg, 43 Vt. 231 (holding that a portion of a railroad bed abandoned by the company for public service is subject to levy on execution); Connor v. Tennessee Cent. R. Co., 109 Fed. 931, 48 C. C. A. 730, 54 L. R. A. 687.

93. Plymouth R. Co. v. Colwell, 39 Pa. St. 337, 80 Am. Dec. 526 (holding that lands purchased by a railroad company beyond what are actually dedicated to public purposes are liable to be levied in execution and sold as are the lands of any other debtor); In re Ogilvie, L. R. 7 Ch. 174, 41 L. J. Ch. 336; Gardner v. London, etc., R. Co., L. R. 2 Ch. 385, 15 L. T. Rep. N. S. 644, 15 Wkly. Rep. 324; In re Calne R. Co., L. R. 9 Eq. 658; In re Hull, etc., R. Co., L. R. 2 Eq. 262, 35 L. J. Ch. 838, 14 L. T. Rep. N. S. 855, 14 Wkly. Rep. 758; Re Bristol, etc., R. Co., 20 L. T. Rep. N. S. 70.

Land not needed for the operation of the road should be first sold, in enforcing a vendor's lien, and if insufficient the balance of the tract may then be sold. Seasongood v. Miami Valley R. Co., 8 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 739, 9 Cinc. L. Bul. 256.

94. Boston, etc., R. Co. v. Gilmore, 37 N. H. 410, 72 Am. Dec. 336; Coe v. Columbus, etc., R. Co., 10 Ohio St. 372, 75 Am. Dec. 518; Carey v. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co., 2 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 85, 1 West. L. Month. 338.

Coal in the yards of a railroad company may be levied on and sold on execution against the company if there is left an abundant amount necessary to keep the company's trains running and supply all demands for operating the road, until a sufficient supply can be obtained elsewhere. Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Noel, 15 Ky. L. Rep. 493.

95. Carey v. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co., 2 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 85, 1 West. L. Month. 338.

A canal basin is not a legitimate incident to a railroad having no authorized canal connection, and is not protected from levy and sale on execution against the company. Plymouth R. Co. v. Colwell, 39 Pa. St. 337, 80 Am. Dec. 526.

96. Dunham v. Isett, 15 Iowa 284, holding that where the property and revenues of a railroad company are pledged by the company to secure the payment of certain outstanding bonds, and the earnings of the road are insufficient to discharge the interest as it accrues thereon, the revenues so pledged are not subject to attachment by other judgment creditors of the company, and an attachment of the same will be restrained by injunction upon application to a court of equity.

97. Manning v. Norfolk Southern R. Co., 29 Fed. 838.

98. Manning v. Norfolk Southern R. Co., 29 Fed. 838.

be taken away by implications, especially if these are drawn from instruments other than that which is given in direct and positive acknowledgment of the debt.[99] Hence such right is not affected by remedies provided in a mortgage executed simultaneously with the bonds,[1] unless the provisions of the mortgage exclude the common-law right in express terms or by necessary implication.[2] In some jurisdictions, statutory remedies are provided for certain claims, such as for labor and materials, against the railroad company,[3] in which case the statute must be strictly followed, particularly if it gives a remedy where none before existed.[4] An action by a bondholder to enforce an equitable lien in his own behalf, as well as in behalf of those in like interest who may come in and contribute to the expenses of and join in the prosecution of the suit, is binding only on those who are made or become parties to the suit and bear their proportion of the expenses;[5] and a suit brought by an individual bondholder in which no relief is sought or obtained in behalf of other bondholders and in which they are not permitted to become parties is not a bar to subsequent suits of bondholders of the same class.[6]

b. Conditions Precedent. Under some statutes, before a claimant may maintain his action, he must have complied with certain conditions,[7] such as an attempt at adjustment with the superintendent of the road.[8] Such conditions may also be provided for by the terms of the mortgage.[9] But a railroad company cannot take advantage of the non-performance of such conditions where the non-performance was caused by its own wrong.[10] A condition required in order to prevent individual bondholders from prejudicing the lien of the mortgage by litigation for their own benefit and against a reasonable number of those intended to be protected by the mortgage need not be complied with in an action for an accounting and to restrain a diversion of net earnings.[11]

c. Parties. The parties to an action on railroad obligations are regulated by the rules governing parties in civil actions generally.[12] An assignee of rail-

99. Manning v. Norfolk Southern R. Co., 29 Fed. 838.

1. Philadelphia, etc., R. Co. v. Johnson, 54 Pa. St. 127; Manning v. Norfolk Southern R. Co., 29 Fed. 838.

2. Manning v. Norfolk Southern R. Co., 29 Fed. 838.

3. See Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Sturgis, 44 Mich. 538, 7 N. W. 213; Central Trust Co. v. Condon, 67 Fed. 84, 14 C. C. A. 314, construing Tenn. Acts (1883), c. 220.

4. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Sturgis, 44 Mich. 538, 7 N. W. 213.

5. Adelbert College v. Toledo, etc., R. Co., 5 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 14, 3 Ohio N. P. 15, holding further that such a suit does not come under that provision of chancery practice that when the question is one of common or general interest to many persons, or when the parties are very numerous and it is impracticable to bring them all before the court, one or more may sue for the benefit of all.

6. Adelbert College v. Toledo, etc., R. Co., 5 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 14, 3 Ohio N. P. 15.

7. See Mason v. Cooper, 19 Ga. 543; Ferguson v. Despo, 8 Ind. App. 523, 34 N. E. 575, construing Act April 13, 1835, § 1, as amended by Act March, 1889, § 6, Elliott Suppl. § 1710.

8. Mason v. Cooper, 19 Ga. 543.

9. See Buel v. Baltimore, etc., R. Co., 24 Misc. (N. Y.) 646, 53 N. Y. Suppl. 749.

10. Gulf, etc., R. Co. v. Winder, 26 Tex. Civ. App. 263, 63 S. W. 1043, holding that where defendant railroad company issued scrip to its employees payable when the first train over its road reached a certain point and subsequently abandoned the work on the road so that the condition never happened, it cannot postpone the collection of the claims of workmen on the ground that such scrip has never matured.

11. Buel v. Baltimore, etc., R. Co., 24 Misc. (N. Y.) 646, 53 N. Y. Suppl. 749.

12. See Allan v. Manitoba, etc., R. Co., 10 Manitoba 123; Charlebois v. Great North West Cent. R. Co., 9 Manitoba 1; and, generally, PARTIES, 30 Cyc. 1.

A sole trustee under an income mortgage of a railroad company is a necessary party to a suit against such company for an accounting and an injunction, and on failure to join him as such, the bill will be dismissed. Morgan v. Kansas Pac. R. Co., 15 Fed. 55, 21 Blatchf. 134.

In an action for materials and supplies furnished a railroad company under Ohio Rev. St. § 1398, other holders of liens upon the railroad are not necessary or proper parties, in order to permit plaintiff to apply for the determination of the priority of his judgment in a subsequent action to marshal liens on the road. Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 10 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 481, 21 Cinc. L. Bul. 275.

A railroad company and its contractor and subcontractor are necessary parties to a suit on a due-bill given by the contractor in lieu of time checks given to laborers for work in the construction of the road, in which it road bonds, to whom the bonds have not been delivered, is a proper but not a necessary party to an action on the bonds by the assignor,[13] unless the debtor company has some legal defense against the assignee alone.[14] Persons who are not necessary or proper parties may be entitled to intervene in the suit.[15] Under a statute permitting intervention, only such claimants may avail themselves of such remedy as the statute authorizes so to do.[16]

d. Pleadings, Evidence, Instructions, Verdict, and Judgment. Except where regulated by special statute, the rules applying in civil actions generally regulate the pleadings,[17] issues,[18] presumptions and burden of proof,[19] admissibility,[20] or is sought to obtain a personal judgment against the subcontractor, and to enforce a laborer's lien against the railroad. Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Dorman, (Tex. Civ. App. 1901) 62 S. W. 1086.

A non-resident contractor who is a primary debtor of one claiming a mechanic's lien against a railroad company is a necessary party to a suit to enforce such lien, but it is not essential that there should be a personal judgment against him, it being sufficient that he be brought into court by a warning order merely. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Love, 74 Ark. 528, 86 S. W. 395.

The owner of the road is an essential party defendant to an action to establish a lien against the road for labor and material furnished for building the road. Little Rock Trust Co. v. Southern Missouri, etc., R. Co., 195 Mo. 669, 93 S. W. 944 (construing Rev. St. (1899) §§ 4245, 4246, 4248); Lyons v. Carter, 84 Mo. App. 483.

The omission of the lessee of a railroad in a proceeding to establish a lien on the road, as a party, merely renders the lien nugatory as to its rights under the lease, but does not prevent the establishment of a lien, for what it may be worth, against the interest of the owner of the road. Lyons v. Carter, 84 Mo. App. 483.

13. Texas Western R. Co. v. Gentry, 69 Tex. 625, 8 S. W. 98.

14. Texas Western R. Co. v. Gentry, 69 Tex. 625, 8 S. W. 98.

15. Carey v. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co., 2 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 85, 1 West. L. Month. 338, holding that in an action against a railroad company in which judgment against defendant merely is sought, mortgagees are not generally necessary parties defendant; but under Code, § 35, they may be let in to defend on application not only as parties in interest entitled to such equitable remedies as may be afforded by a separate proceeding in equity under the old practice in chancery, but entitled by virtue of this statute to defeat a recovery.

Claimants not within a general order requiring the receivers to pay a certain claim can only be heard upon a petition of intervention, and have no standing to file a motion for payment of their claims in court. Grand Trunk R. Co. v. Central Vermont R. Co., 91 Fed. 561.

16. Gulf, etc., R. Co. v. Winder, 26 Tex. Civ. App. 263, 63 S. W. 1043, holding that under Rev. St. art. 3313, only lien-holders are entitled to intervene in an action against a railroad company for work rendered in the construction of defendant's road-bed.

17. See Veatch v. American L. & T. Co., 79 Fed. 471, 25 C. C. A. 39 (holding that where plaintiffs in judgments against a railroad company for deaths by negligence, claim a preference out of current income as against mortgage bondholders on the ground that when the accident occurred the road was being operated by a company acting as the agent of the bondholder the latter assertion being a mere conclusion of the pleader and the facts on which it is based being vague and general the claim to a preference on that ground should be denied); McKenzie v. Montreal, etc., R. Co., 27 U. C. C. P. 224. And see, generally, PLEADING, 31 Cyc. 1.

A demurrer to a complaint asserting priority of a lien over a mortgage upon an unsecured account for materials and supplies is properly overruled where any item of the account is such as entitles a creditor to a preferred claim. Bellingham Bay Imp. Co. v. Fairhaven, etc., R. Co., 17 Wash. 371, 49 Pac. 514.

A complaint on a railroad bond must allege facts sufficient to show that the bond was issued for an authorized purpose, but need not allege that it was necessary to issue the bonds. Miller v. New York, etc., R. Co., 8 Abb. Pr. (N. Y.) 431, 18 How. Pr. 374.

Pleadings in a statutory action should substantially comply with the terms of the statute. Scioto Valley R. Co. v. Cronin, 38 Ohio St. 122 [affirming 7 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 224, 1 Cinc. L. Bul. 315]. In a statutory action for labor and material, the facts on which the claim is based should be specially pleaded (Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Sturgis, 44 Mich. 538, 7 N. W. 213), and a declaration on the common counts in assumpsit with a mere allusion to the statute is not sufficient (Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Sturgis, supra).

A petition of intervention should set forth in an orderly way, so as to be subject to traverse, the facts necessary for the relief sought. Grand Trunk R. Co. v. Central Vermont R. Co., 91 Fed. 561.

18. See Singer v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 6 Mo. App. 427.

19. Sweem v. Atchison, etc., R. Co., 85 Mo. App. 87, holding that a subcontractor is presumed to rely on his lien and does not have to prove it, as the burden is on the owner to show that he relied on the credit of the contractor alone.

20. Downs v. Union Pac. R. Co., 4 Kan. 201 (holding that, in an action against a railroad company for labor done, under a general denial, alleging that it was not done sufficiency of the evidence,[21] instructions,[22] and verdict and judgment,[23] in an action on an obligation against a railroad company.

15. "Scheme of Arrangement" With Creditors. By statute in England,[24] and Canada,[25] where a railroad company becomes unable to meet its engagements with its creditors, the directors may prepare and file a scheme of arrangement between the company and its creditors, whereby provision is made for the debts of the company.[26] These statutes provide inter alia for stay of actions,[27] stay of execution, attachment, or other process,[28] assent by mortgagees and debenture for the company but for a contractor, the contract of the contractor with the company is admissible in evidence); Bagnell Timber Co. v. Missouri, etc., R. Co., 180 Mo. 420, 79 S. W. 1130 (holding that while Rev. St. (1889) § 4241, providing for the filing of railroad liens, does not require the lien to be verified, yet, where such a lien has an affidavit attached, the signature to which is the only means of identifying the paper or connecting plaintiff with it, it must be regarded as an entire instrument, so that plaintiff is not entitled to read the lien to the jury omitting the affidavit).

An instrument given by a subcontractor in lieu of time checks issued to laborers, which recites that it is issued in lieu of time checks issued for labor performed in the construction of the railroad, is admissible in an action thereon against a subcontractor and the railroad company to enforce the laborer's lien, although the declaration contained therein that it was for work performed in the construction of the road is not binding on the company, it being admissible as against the subcontractor. Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Dorman, (Tex. Civ. App. 1901) 62 S. W. 1086.

A recital in a due-bill given in lieu of time checks that it reserves the labor liens allowed by law to the persons performing the work is admissible in an action against the subcontractor and the railroad company to enforce such lien, for the purpose of showing that the lien has not been waived. Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Dorman, (Tex. Civ. App. 1901) 62 S. W. 1086.

21. Bagnell Timber Co. v. Missouri, etc., R. Co., 180 Mo. 420, 79 S. W. 1130 (holding evidence in an action against a railroad company to enforce a lien for ties and to recover a personal judgment under a contract alleged to have been entered into between plaintiffs and the railroad company and its tie contractors jointly, insufficient to support a finding that the contract was joint); Central Trust Co. v. Georgia Pac. R. Co., 83 Fed. 386 (holding that railroad contractors seeking to assert a lien upon embankments and structures actually erected by them cannot recover anything when they fail to prove what improvements or erections they made with sufficient detail or certainty of value to authorize any findings for any particular amount).

22. Bagnell Timber Co. v. Missouri, etc., R. Co., 180 Mo. 420, 79 S. W. 1130, holding an instruction in respect to a lien for ties so erroneous as to require the reversal of a personal judgment.

23. Galveston, etc., R. Co. v. Howrin, (Tex. 1888) 9 S. W. 661, holding that where in an action for work done on a railroad, the evidence was that plaintiff had been working for a contractor and fearing that he would not be paid was about to quit work when defendant's agent induced him to continue under promise to pay him, and a part of the work was done, and this was several months earlier than alleged in the petition, a verdict for an amount nearly equal to plaintiff's whole claim, as well for the work done before as after the promise was made, should be set aside as contrary to the pleadings and evidence.

24. Railway Companies Act (1867), §§ 8–22.

25. Railway Act (1903), §§ 285–289. And see Re Windsor, etc., R. Co., 3 Cartwr. Cas. (Can.) 387, 16 Nova Scotia 312 (construing Nova Scotia Act (1874), c. 104); Murdoch v. Windsor, etc., R. Co., 3 Cartwr. Cas. (Can.) 368, Russ. Eq. Dec. (Nova Scotia) 137.

26. See In re Baie des Chaleurs R. Co., 9 Can. Exch. 386.

27. See Devas v. East India, etc., Dock Co., 58 L. J. Ch. 522, 61 L. T. Rep. N. S. 217.

Upon the filing of such scheme, the court has power to restrain, upon terms, creditors from proceeding with any action or suit against the company pending the discussion of the scheme; but such power will be exercised only when the court is satisfied that the scheme makes proper provision for the payment of debts. In re Cambrian R. Co., L. R. 3 Ch. 278, 37 L. J. Ch. 409, 18 L. T. Rep. N. S. 522, 16 Wkly. Rep. 346, holding that a scheme providing that instead of payment of the debts of vendors of land and other creditors debenture bonds should be given to the full amount of their claims was not such a provision as would induce a court of chancery to interfere to prevent creditors from pursuing their remedies. And see In re Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 9 Can. Exch. 283. But sections 7 and 9 of the Railroad Companies Act of 1867 apply only to the time between the filing of the scheme of arangement and its enrolment, and after enrolment the court has no jurisdiction without a bill being filed to restrain an action against the company. In re Potteries, etc., R. Co., L. R. 5 Ch. 67, 39 L. J. Ch. 273, 22 L. T. Rep. N. S. 53, 18 Wkly. Rep. 155.

28. In re Potteries, etc., R. Co., L. R. 5 Ch. 67, 39 L. J. Ch. 273, 22 L. T. Rep. N. S. 53, 18 Wkly. Rep. 155 (holding that sections 7 and 9 of the English Railway Companies Act of 1867 does not apply after the enrolment of the scheme so as to require a judgment creditor to obtain leave of court to issue execution); In re Devon, etc., R. Co., holders,[29] preference shareholders,[30] creditors,[31] and others;[32] and for the confirmation,[33] and enrolment and effect of the scheme.[34]

L. R. 6 Eq. 610, 615, 37 L. J. Ch. 914, 18 L. T. Rep. N. S. 631, 17 Wkly. Rep. 133 (holding that, after publication of notice of the filing of a scheme of arrangement by a railway company, creditors of the company will not be allowed, without first obtaining leave of the court, to issue execution upon a scire facias against shareholders of the company). And see Re Cambrian R. Co., 22 L. T. Rep. N. S. 116, 18 Wkly. Rep. 416, (construing the Cambrian Railway Companys Act of 1868); Healey v. Chichester, etc., R. Co., L. R. 9 Eq. 148, 39 L. J. Ch. 387, 21 L. T. Rep. N. S. 811, 18 Wkly. Rep. 270 (construing the Companies' Clauses Consolidation Act, § 36).

Motion for leave.— When a railroad company has filed a scheme which has been sanctioned by one branch of the court, a motion for leave to issue execution must be made in that branch of the court by which the scheme was sanctioned. Christ Church v. East Junction, etc., R. Co., 17 Wkly. Rep. 819.

29. In re East Junction, etc., R. Co., L. R. 8 Eq. 87, 38 L. J. Ch. 522, 21 L. T. Rep. N. S. 86, holding that after a scheme of arrangement has been assented to in writing by three fourths in value of the debenture holders, although dissenting debenture holders are entitled to appear and oppose the scheme, the scheme is binding upon the minority unless it can be shown that the vote of the majority was obtained by fraud.

30. Re Cambrian R. Co., 24 L. T. Rep. N. S. 417, 19 Wkly. Rep. 871, holding that the assent of the preference shareholders must be given in writing.

The assent of holders of preferred one-half shares need not be obtained in writing before the scheme can be confirmed by the court. In re Brighton, etc., R. Co., 44 Ch. D. 28, 59 L. J. Ch. 329, 62 L. T. Rep. N. S. 353, 38 Wkly. Rep. 321.

31. Such scheme when matured becomes binding only on persons who have assented thereto or who are members of classes which under the statutes have become bound by the assent of the requisite majority. In re Cambrian R. Co., L. R. 3 Ch. 278, 37 L. J. Ch. 409, 18 L. T. Rep. N. S. 522, 16 Wkly. Rep. 346. It is not binding upon outside creditors who have not assented thereto. In re East Junction, etc., R. Co., L. R. 8 Eq. 87, 38 L. J. Ch. 522, 21 L. T. Rep. N. S. 86; In re Bristol, etc., R. Co., L. R. 6 Eq. 448, 37 L. J. Ch. 851, 16 Wkly. Rep. 1112; In re Baie des Chaleurs R. Co., 9 Can. Exch. 386.

Rights prejudicially affected.— The assent of the statutory majority of a class to a scheme of arrangement cannot be dispensed with if any existing right of that class is prejudicially affected. In re Neath, etc., R. Co., [1892] 1 Ch. 349, 66 L. T. Rep. N. S. 40, 40 Wkly. Rep. 289 [affirming 61 L. J. Ch. 172]. Whenever confirmation of a scheme prejudicially affecting outside creditors is sought, the court, before confirming it, will require the written consent thereto of all outside creditors. In re Bristol, etc., R. Co., L. R. 6 Eq. 448, 37 L. J. Ch. 851, 16 Wkly. Rep. 1112.

Parties who have recovered a judgment against a railroad company and converted it into a statutory mortgage are not bound by a scheme of arrangement to which they have not assented. Stephens v. Cork, etc., R. Co., Ir. R. 6 Eq. 604.

32. See English Railway Companies Act (1867), §§ 10–15; Canada Railway Act (1903), § 286.

33. See In re West Cork R. Co., Ir. R. 7 Eq. 96; Re Eastern, etc., R. Co., 67 L. T. Rep. N. S. 711; Re Teign Valley R. Co., 17 L. T. Rep. N. S. 201; Robertson v. Wrexham, etc., R. Co., 17 Wkly. Rep. 137.

A scheme should be confirmed where it is a reasonable and honest one and does not in any way exceed the powers afforded by the statute, or deprive the creditors of any legal rights which they possess, but is likely to benefit all persons concerned, the secured and the unsecured creditors as well as the shareholders, and to which no sufficient objection has been established. In re East India, etc., Dock Co., 44 Ch. D. 38, 62 L. T. Rep. N. S. 239, 38 Wkly. Rep. 516; In re Irish, etc., R. Co., Ir. R. 3 Eq. 190.

Such scheme should not be confirmed where it appears that the opposition to it is reasonable and based upon due regard to the interests of those opposing it (see Re Somerset, etc., R. Co., 21 L. T. Rep. N. S. 656, 18 Wkly. Rep. 332; In re Letterkenny R. Co., Ir. R. 4 Eq. 538), or where it appears or is shown that all creditors of the same class are not to receive equitable treatment (In re Baie des Chaleurs R. Co., 9 Can. Exch. 386). The court cannot sanction a scheme which gives to the holders of debenture stock the right to vote like shareholders. Re Stafford, etc., R. Co., 41 L. J. Ch. 777, 20 Wkly. Rep. 921.

Petitioners not in possession.— Where the petitioners for the confirmation of a scheme of arrangement filed under the provisions of Canada Railway Act (1903), § 285, are not in possession of the railway which they seek to mortgage as security for the issue of new bonds, the application to confirm will be refused. In re Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 9 Can. Exch. 413.

34. Stevens v. Mid-Hants R. Co., L. R. 8 Ch. 1064, 42 L. J. Ch. 694, 29 L. T. Rep. N. S. 318, 21 Wkly. Rep. 858 (holding that unpaid vendors of lands sold to the company, and debenture holders of the company, do not, by accepting debenture stock under the provisions of the scheme, lose any priority which they previously had over an elegit creditor who is not bound by the scheme); In re Devon, etc., R. Co., L. R. 6 Eq. 610, 615, 37 L. J. Ch. 914, 18 L. T. Rep. N. S. 631, 17 Wkly. Rep. 133.

A debenture holder, although he has obtained judgment and issued execution against

B. Foreclosure of Liens and Mortgages — 1. Right to Foreclose — a. In General. The foreclosure of a railroad mortgage is, in the absence of provisions in the mortgage to the contrary, ordinarily governed by the rules applicable to the foreclosure of mortgages generally,[35] except in so far as it may be regulated by special statute.[36] A railroad mortgage is an entirety and there can be but one foreclosure.[37] The prior foreclosure of a mortgage of railroad property securing railroad bonds also collaterally secured by trust deeds given by various parties is not a prerequisite to the foreclosure of such trust deeds, where it would be useless and nothing would be realized therefrom.[38]

b. Default in Payment of Principal or Interest. Ordinarily a mortgage given to secure the payment of railroad bonds and interest coupons may be foreclosed by the trustee, or other proper party, immediately on default in payment of any instalment of principal or interest,[39] to the extent of the instalments which are due and unpaid,[40] especially where, by the terms f the mortgage, proceedings a railroad company before the filing of the scheme of arrangement, still remains a debenture holder for the purposes, and is therefore bound by the scheme when assented to by three fourths in value of the holders of the company's debentures, and after enrolment of the scheme will be restrained from taking any further steps to enforce his judgment. In re Potteries, etc., R. Co., L. R. 5 Ch. 67, 39 L. J. Ch. 273, 22 L. T. Rep. N. S. 53, 18 Wkly. Rep. 155.

An outside creditor is not bound by a scheme of arrangement and cannot derive any indirect benefit from it. Stevens v. Mid-Hants R. Co., L. R. 8 Ch. 1064, 42 L. J. Ch. 694, 29 L. T. Rep. N. S. 318, 21 Wkly. Rep. 858.

35. See Mortgages, 27 Cyc. 1439 et seq.

Waiver of default by majority of bondholders see Hollister v. Stewart, 111 N. Y. 644, 19 N. E. 782. Where a mortgage provided that on default in the payment of coupons for ninety days, the principal of the bonds should become due and payable at the option of the trustee, but that a majority of the bondholders might waive the right to consider the principal due, such provision does not affect the right to collect the interest, and although the bondholders might waive the right to consider the principal due, the default in the payment of interest is not thereby waived. Lyon v. New York, etc., R. Co., 13 N. Y. St. 732 [affirmed in 14 Daly 489, 15 N. Y. St. 348].

A mortgagee or judgment creditor of a railroad is not entitled to enforce payment of his demand by sale or foreclosure of the railroad; but is only entitled to have a manager or receiver of the undertaking appointed. Galt v. Erie, etc., R. Co., 14 Grant Ch. (U. C.) 499.

36. Kennebec, etc., R. Co. v. Portland, etc., R. Co., 59 Me. 9 (holding that Pub. Laws (1857), c. 57, providing for the foreclosure of valid mortgages "whenever any railroad company shall have mortgaged its franchise" reaches all this class of conveyances and the words used are sufficiently retroactive to apply to mortgages executed before its passage); Austin, etc., R. Co. v. Daniels, 62 Tex. 70 (construing Act Feb. 18, 1879, Rev. St. appendix, p. 4, § 1).

37. Gates v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 53 Conn. 333, 5 Atl. 695.

38. Chicago, etc., Land Co. v. Peck, 112 Ill. 408.

39. Central Trust Co. v. New York City, etc., R. Co., 33 Hun (N. Y.) 513; Pennsylvania L. Ins., etc., Co. v. Philadelphia, etc., R. Co., 69 Fed. 482; Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 61 Fed. 543; Mercantile Trust Co. v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 61 Fed. 372; Central Trust Co. v. Texas, etc., R. Co., 23 Fed. 846.

A tender of interest, unless of interest due on all the bonds, is insufficient to arrest an action by a bondholder suing on behalf of himself and others to foreclose a mortgage securing the bonds, for default in payment of interest thereon. Van Benthuysen v. Central New England, etc., R. Co., 17 N. Y. Suppl. 709.

That the mortgagee has failed to keep correct accounts is no ground for restraining him from proceeding on the mortgage, where there is no proof that the debt has been paid. Spring Brook R. Co. v. Lehigh Coal, etc., R. Co., 2 Lack. Leg. N. (Pa.) 258.

40. Long Island L. & T. Co. v. Long Island City, etc., R. Co., 85 N. Y. App. Div. 36, 82 N. Y. Suppl. 644 [affirmed in 178 N. Y. 588, 70 N. E. 1102]; Goodman v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 2 Disn. (Ohio) 176 (holding that where a deed of trust was given to secure the payment of principal and interest of certain railroad bonds, so much of the premises as is necessary may be sold to pay arrears of interest, although no part of the principal has become due); London Credit Co. v. Arkansas Cent. R. Co., 15 Fed. 46, 5 McCrary 23.

Where no provision making the principal due on default in the payment of interest is contained in the mortgage, powers given by the mortgage to the trustee after default for a stated period in the payment of interest, to take possession of the mortgaged property and sell the same, and apply the proceeds to the payment of interest, do not change the maturity of the principal so as to authorize a foreclosure for the entire debt on default in the payment of interest. McFadden v. Mays' Landing, etc., R. Co., 49 N. J. Eq. 176, 22 Atl. 932.

for the collection of interest by ordinary judgment and execution at law is forbidden;[41] and although the mortgage fails to provide expressly for immediate foreclosure on such default.[42] This right to immediately institute foreclosure proceedings for the payment of interest is not affected by provisions for cumulative remedies in the mortgage, as that in case of default in the payment of interest for a specified period the principal shall become due and payable and the trustee be entitled to take possession with or without entry or foreclosure, and operate or sell the property,[43] especially where the laws of the state in which the mortgaged property is situated forbid sales under powers of such character, out of court.[44] Nor where the mortgagor is permitted to remain in possession is the trustee's right of foreclosure for an unpaid instalment affected by a further provision that on default in the payment of interest for a specified time, it should be the duty of the trustee to enforce the rights of the bondholders upon the request of a specified number or percentage of the bondholders, although such request has not been made,[45] as such request is necessary only where the trustee wishes to proceed to foreclose or take possession without the intervention of any court,[46] or where the bondholders wish to coerce the trustee to proceed by a foreclosure action.[47] So a provision authorizing a majority of the bondholders on default to notify the trustee to take no further steps to sell the property until another default refers merely to a summary sale by the trustee alone and a suit to foreclose may be maintained notwithstanding the opposition of the majority.[48] Where the railroad company is hopelessly insolvent, a railroad mortgage may sometimes be foreclosed, although as to the indebtedness secured by it there has been no default.[49] Where the mortgage provides that the principal shall become due

41. Pennsylvania L. Ins., etc., Co. v. Philadelphia, etc., R. Co., 69 Fed. 482.

42. Central Trust Co. v. Texas, etc., R. Co., 23 Fed. 846.

43. Eaton, etc., R. Co. v. Hunt, 20 Ind. 457 (holding that the power given to a trustee to sell is a cumulative remedy and does not deprive the bondholders of the right to foreclose); Long Island L. & T. Co. v. Long Island City, etc., R. Co., 85 N. Y. App. Div. 36, 82 N. Y. Suppl. 644 [affirmed in 178 N. Y. 588, 70 N. E. 1102]; Central Trust Co. v. New York City, etc., R. Co., 33 Hun (N. Y.) 513 (holding that a provision for an entry by the trustee after ten months' default in the payment of interest does not prevent a foreclosure for the interest at any time after default); State Trust Co. v. Kansas City, etc., R. Co., 120 Fed. 398; Central Trust Co. v. Texas, etc., R. Co., 23 Fed. 846; Dow v. Memphis, etc., R. Co., 20 Fed. 260; Alexander v. Iowa Cent. R. Co., 1 Fed. Cas. No. 166, 3 Dill. 487.

A waiver of a condition, requiring six months' default before foreclosure, by the company is not of itself a fraud on the stock-holders. Chicago, etc., Rapid Transit Co. v. Northern Trust Co., 90 Ill. App. 460 [affirmed in 195 Ill. 288, 63 N. E. 136].

44. Alexander v. Iowa Cent. R. Co., 1 Fed. Cas. No. 166, 3 Dill. 487.

45. First Nat. F. Ins. Co. v. Salisbury, 130 Mass. 303; Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 61 Fed. 543; Mercantile Trust Co. v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 61 Fed. 372; Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 27 Fed. 146 (holding that the provisions which prohibit the trustee without the consent of a majority of the bonds to declare the principal due upon maturity and take possession of the mortgaged property, operate or sell it or maintain a foreclosure suit for the principal before the maturity of the bonds do not abrogate the right of a trustee at the request of a single bondholder, to foreclose for a default in the payment of interest); Dow v. Memphis, etc., R. Co., 20 Fed. 260; London Credit Co. v. Arkansas Cent. R. Co., 15 Fed. 46, 5 McCrary 23.

A trustee's right to foreclose in its discretion is not dependent on the request of the bondholders, where the mortgage authorizes foreclosure by the trustee if default is made in the payment of interest, and authorizes a majority of the bondholders to request foreclosure. Knickerbocker Trust Co. v. Oneonta, etc., R. Co., 116 N. Y. App. Div. 78, 101 N. Y. Suppl. 241 [affirmed in 188 N. Y. 38, 80 N. E. 568].

46. Morgan's Louisiana, etc., R., etc., Co. v. Texas Cent. R. Co., 137 U. S. 171, 11 S. Ct. 61, 34 L. ed. 625.

47. Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. New York, etc., R. Co., 78 Hun (N. Y.) 213, 28 N. Y. Suppl. 933 [reversed on other grounds in 150 N. Y. 410, 44 N. E. 1043, 55 Am. St. Rep. 689, 34 L. R. A. 76, 94 N. Y. Suppl. 928].

48. Toler v. East Tennessee, etc., R. Co., 67 Fed. 168.

49. McIlhenny v. Binz, 80 Tex. 1, 13 S. W. 655, 26 Am. St. Rep. 705, holding that where a railroad company alleged its insolvency and prayed for a sale of its property and the distribution of its proceeds among its creditors, and a receiver was appointed, and a mortgage creditor filed a cross bill asking foreclosure of the mortgages on both of which default in the payment of interest had been for purposes of foreclosure upon a default in interest continuing for a specified time, the trustee may, upon the default continuing for such length of time, proceed to the collection of the whole amount of principal and interest by a bill in equity without a formal declaration of the maturity of such principal, unless the mortgage so requires.[50]

c. Persons Entitled to Sue in General. The right to proceed for the foreclosure of a railroad mortgage is in the legal holder of the mortgage, the mortgagee, or trustee,[51] or in the actual creditor, that is, the one who is the real and beneficial owner of the debt or obligation secured, and who is entitled to receive the money due.[52] A guarantor of railroad mortgage bonds, who by the express terms of the mortgage is to be subrogated to all the rights of the mortgagees in respect to payments made by him has a right to foreclose for interest payments made by him,[53] and this right cannot be denied on the ground that, as he would still remain bound on his guarantee, he would have the right to further foreclosures for future payments.[54]

d. Rights, Remedies, and Powers of Trustees. A trustee under a railroad mortgage is ordinarily the proper party to institute foreclosure proceedings for a breach of conditions in the mortgage.[55] In making a foreclosure a large discretion is vested in the trustee,[56] and any limitations upon his power to institute foreclosure proceedings should be strictly construed;[57] although he should be governed by the voice of the majority of bondholders secured, acting in good faith and asking what is not inconsistent with the provisions of the trust.[58] But the bondholders not being necessary parties to a foreclosure proceeding by a trustee,[59] they cannot control the action of the trustee so long as he is not guilty of misconduct or proves himself incompetent or appears to have an adverse interest.[60] A provision authorizing the trustee to refuse to institute foreclosure proceedings until properly indemnified does not restrict or limit his rights in the matter of instituting suit.[61] Where a trustee's title has become divested he has no right to represent the bondholders in foreclosure proceedings.[62] If a part of the trustees made, but the debt secured by the second only was due, both mortgages were properly foreclosed, although by its terms the first mortgage was not subject to foreclosure until default in payment of the principal at maturity.

50. Morgan's Louisiana, etc., R., etc., Co. v. Texas Cent. R. Co., 137 U. S. 171, 11 S. Ct. 61, 34 L. ed. 625.

51. See Boston, etc., Air Line R. Co. v. Coffin, 50 Conn. 150. And see infra, VIII, B, 1, d; and, generally, MORTGAGES, 27 Cyc. 1543.

52. Sinking Fund Com'rs v. Northern Bank, 1 Metc. (Ky.) 174, holding that a pledgor of railroad bonds on which interest is not paid has the right to ask for the foreclosure of a mortgage whether the nominal mortgagee desires it or not.

53. Dows v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 7 Fed. Cas. No. 4,048 [affirmed in 94 U. S. 444, 24 L. ed. 207].

54. Dows v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 7 Fed. Cas. No. 4,048 [affirmed in 94 U. S. 444, 24 L. ed. 207].

55. Phillips v. Southern Div. Chesapeake, etc., R. Co., 110 Ky. 33, 60 S. W. 941, 22 Ky. L. Rep. 1530; Seibert v. Minneapolis, etc., R. Co., 52 Minn. 148, 53 N. W. 1134, 38 Am. St. Rep. 530, 20 L. R. A. 535; Mercantile Trust Co. v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 61 Fed. 372.

56. Gates v. Boston, etc., Air-Line R. Co., 53 Conn. 333, 5 Atl. 695.

That a competing railroad had secured control of the mortgagor company and diverted traffic from it in order to prevent it from paying interest on the bonds thereby compelling a foreclosure does not affect the right of a trustee to foreclose. Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. New York, etc., R. Co., 94 N. Y. Suppl. 928.

57. Guaranty Trust, etc., Co. v. Green Cove Springs, etc., R. Co., 139 U. S. 137, 11 S. Ct. 512, 35 L. ed. 116; Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 61 Fed. 543.

A provision which prohibits foreclosure and judicial sale, by providing that the mode of sale by the trustee set forth in the deed shall be exclusive of all others, is an attempt to oust the courts of jurisdiction and is invalid. Guaranty Trust, etc., Co. v. Green Cove Springs, etc., R. Co., 139 U. S. 137, 11 S. Ct. 512, 35 L. ed. 116.

58. Gates v. Boston, etc., Air-Line R. Co., 53 Conn. 333, 5 Atl. 695. See Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. New York, etc., R. Co., 150 N. Y. 410, 44 N. E. 1043, 55 Am. St. Rep. 689, 34 L. R. A. 76.

59. See infra, VIII, B, 6.

60. Phillips v. Southern Div. Chesapeake, etc., R. Co., 110 Ky. 33, 60 S. W. 941, 22 Ky. L. Rep. 1530.

61. Phillips v. Southern Div. Chesapeake, etc., R. Co., 110 Ky. 33, 60 S. W. 941, 22 Ky. L. Rep. 1530.

62. Barnes v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 122 U. S. 1, 7 S. Ct. 1043, 30 L. ed. 1128.

refuse to act, a foreclosure suit may be prosecuted by the remaining trustee or trustees and those refusing to act may be made defendants.[63] So where one of several trustees dies, the surviving trustee or trustees may maintain the suit.[64]

e. Rights and Remedies of Bondholders. Foreclosure proceedings may be instituted by a bondholder, or any other beneficiary, for himself and others where the trustee unreasonably neglects or refuses to do so,[65] or where the trustee is not a proper person to represent the bondholders or other beneficiaries, either by reason of interests hostile to the parties, or conduct prejudicial to their rights, or for other reasons,[66] or where the trustees are dead.[67] In such a case a single bondholder may sue without the consent of the other bondholders,[68] and it is no defense that he is actuated by improper motives.[69] A provision in a railroad mortgage that there shall be a request by a certain number or percentage of the bondholders to the trustee to institute the foreclosure proceedings before a bondholder may institute a foreclosure suit should be strictly complied with,[70] unless it appears that such compliance is impossible,[71] or the trustees' interests are antagonistic.[72] Such a bill should ordinarily be filed against the company by one or more of the bondholders on behalf of themselves and all other bondholders similarly situated;[73] although an averment to this effect is unnecessary where

63. Phillips v. Southern Div. Chesapeake, etc., R. Co., 110 Ky. 33, 60 S. W. 941, 22 Ky. L. Rep. 1530.

64. Phillips v. Southern Div. Chesapeake, etc., R. Co., 110 Ky. 33, 60 S. W. 941, 22 Ky. L. Rep. 1530. Compare Shaw v. Norfolk County R. Co., 5 Gray (Mass.) 162, holding that a foreclosure suit by several trustees does not abate on the death of one of the trustees but must be postponed until the vacancy is filled.

65. Phillips v. Southern Div. Chesapeake, etc., R. Co., 110 Ky. 33, 60 S. W. 941, 22 Ky. L. Rep. 1530; Seibert v. Minneapolis, etc., R. Co., 52 Minn. 148, 53 N. W. 1134, 38 Am. St. Rep. 530, 20 L. R. A. 535; Van Benthuysen v. Central New England, etc., R. Co., 17 N. Y. Suppl. 709; Beekman v. Hudson River West Shore R. Co., 35 Fed. 3; Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 27 Fed. 146; Alexander v. Iowa Cent. R. Co., 1 Fed. Cas. No. 166, 3 Dill. 487.

Stipulation limiting right of bondholder.— The bondholders may agree among themselves on what conditions the right to foreclose may be exercised by an individual bondholder, and a provision in the mortgage that no proceedings in law or equity shall be taken by any bondholder secured thereby to foreclose the equity of redemption independently of the trustee. until after the refusal of the trustee to comply with a requisition first made on him by the holders of a certain percentage of the bonds secured by such mortgage, is reasonable and valid. Seibert v. Minneapolis, etc., R. Co., 52 Minn. 148, 53 N. W. 1134, 38 Am. St. Rep. 530, 20 L. R. A. 535. The effect of such stipulation is not to divest the bondholders of their right to judicial remedies or to oust the courts of their jurisdiction. but is merely the imposition of certain conditions on themselves in respect to the exercise of that right. Seibert v. Minneapolis, etc., R. Co., supra. So one who accepts bonds secured by a mortgage providing that the same shall not be foreclosed without the request therefor by a majority of the bondholders thereunder cannot restrain the making of an agreement by such majority that they will not request such foreclosure. Emery v. New York, etc., R. Co., 9 Misc. (N. Y.) 310, 30 N. Y. Suppl. 306, 1131.

The holder of any one of a series of bonds secured by a railroad mortgage made to trustees may, on refusal of the trustees so to do, maintain a suit for the foreclosure of the mortgage, for default in the payment of interest. McFadden v. Mays' Landing, etc., R. Co., 49 N. J. Eq. 176, 22 Atl. 932.

A provision giving the majority bondholders an option to declare the principal due on default of payment of interest does not prevent a single bondholder from foreclosing for interest. Alexander v. Iowa Cent. R. Co., 1 Fed. Cas. No. 166, 3 Dill. 487.

That the mortgage gives the trustee the right to take possession and sell the road for default in the payment of interest does not exclude the right of a bondholder to judicial foreclosure. Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Schmidt, 52 S. W. 835, 21 Ky. L. Rep. 556.

66. Mercantile Trust Co. v. Lamoille Valley R. Co., 17 Fed. Cas. No. 9,432, 16 Blatchf. 324.

67. Galveston, etc., R. Co. v. Cowdrey, 11 Wall. (U. S.) 459, 20 L. ed. 199.

68. Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Schmidt, 52 S. W. 835, 21 Ky. L. Rep. 556.

69. Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Schmidt, 52 S. W. 835, 21 Ky. L. Rep. 556.

70. Cochran v. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co., 150 Fed. 682.

Ratification by bondholder of suit by trustee without such request see London Credit Co. v. Arkansas Cent. R. Co., 15 Fed. 46, 5 McCrary 23.

71. Cochran v. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co., 150 Fed. 682.

72. Cochran v. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co., 150 Fed. 682.

73. Mason v. York, etc., R. Co., 52 Me. 82; McFadden v. Mays' Landing, etc., R. Co., 49 N. J. Eq. 176, 22 Atl. 932; Wright v.

default has been made only on the bonds of complainant; [74] and if there are several successive mortgages, and the complainants hold bonds secured by each mortgage, the bill may be filed on behalf of themselves and all the bondholders under each mortgage.[75] Where the mortgage security is doubtful, no one even professing to act in behalf of all who may come in and contribute to the expenses of the suit can proceed alone against the company and ask a sale of the property mortgaged, but the other bondholders should be made parties.[76] A provision requiring the request of one fourth of the bondholders under a railroad mortgage before foreclosure will not prevent foreclosure at the suit of a smaller number where more than three fourths of the bonds are held by a party who is charged in the bill with having caused the default by misappropriating the earnings of the road.[77] If the complainants to a bill of foreclosure to which the trustee has been made defendant elect to dismiss the bill as to the trustee, the court has the discretion to allow the trustee to file a bill for the benefit of all the bondholders.[78] But where a trustee has properly instituted a foreclosure suit, a bondholder cannot prosecute an independent suit of foreclosure, but can only be heard for his individual rights by coming into the trustee's pending suit.[79] Where some of the bondholders do not wish to foreclose, they may be allowed to purchase the bonds of those desiring a foreclosure and pay all costs, and thereby stay the proceedings.[80]

2. Foreclosure Without Action — a. Under Lien For Public Aid Granted. The foreclosure of a lien or mortgage on railroad property for public aid granted to it is usually regulated by the statute under which such lien or mortgage is created.[81] Under such statutes it is usually provided that, upon default or breach of the conditions under which the aid was granted, the proper officers may enter and sell the road in the prescribed manner,[82] although a court of equity may interpose to restrain a sale of the railroad property where a sale under the circumstances would be inequitable.[83] But under such statutes a sale cannot be made without Ohio, etc., R. Co., 1 Disn. (Ohio) 465, 12 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 736; New Orleans Pac. R. Co. v. Parker, 143 U. S. 42, 12 S. Ct. 364. 36 L. ed. 66; Galveston, etc., R. Co. v. Cowdrey, 11 Wall. (U. S.) 459, 20 L. ed. 199.

A holder of overdue interest coupons cannot maintain an action in his own name to compel a trustee to enforce payment of such bonds and interest by a sale of the property covered by the deed of trust, which was executed to secure a series of negotiable bonds with non-negotiable interest coupons attached. Wright v. Ohio, etc., R. Co., 1 Disn. (Ohio) 465, 12 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 736.

74. McFadden v. Mays' Landing, etc., R. Co., 49 N. J. Eq. 176, 22 Atl. 932.

75. Galveston, etc., R. Co. v. Cowdrey, 11 Wall. (U. S.) 459, 20 L. ed. 199.

76. Nashville, etc., R. Co. v. Orr, 18 Wall. (U. S.) 471. 21 L. ed. 810.

77. Linder v. Hartwell R. Co., 73 Fed. 320.

78. Alexander v. Iowa Cent. R. Co., 1 Fed. Cas. No. 166, 3 Dill. 487.

79. Stern v. Wisconsin Cent. R. Co., 22 Fed. Cas. No. 13,378, 8 Reporter 488, 1 Fed. 555.

80. Tillinghast v. Troy, etc., R. Co., 48 Hun (N. Y.) 420, 1 N. Y. Suppl. 243 [affirmed in 121 N. Y. 649, 24 N. E. 1091].

81. See the statutes of the several states. And see Perry v. Clinton, etc., R. Co., 11 Rob. (La.) 412.

82. State v. Jacksonville, etc., R. Co., 16 Fla. 708 (construing the act of Jan. 16, 1855); State v. McKay, 43 Mo. 594 (construing the act of Feb. 19, 1866); In re Answers to Questions, 37 Mo. 129 (construing the act of April 8, 1865); Johnson v. Atlantic, etc., Transit Co., 156 U. S. 618, 15 S. Ct. 520, 39 L. ed. 556 (construing the Florida act of Jan. 8, 1853).

Under a Florida statute, the trustees of the internal improvement fund of the state having sold certain railroads for the purpose of taking up a state indebtedness with the purchase-money, and such purchase-money not being thereafter paid, any of the bonds of the state sought to be canceled remaining in the hands of a purchaser are under the control of the trustees rather than the holder. Littlefield v. Bloxham, 117 U. S. 419, 6 S. Ct. 793, 29 L. ed. 930.

In Texas, neither under the act of Aug. 15, 1870, nor under the joint resolution of May 18, 1871, could the governor of Texas, after a sale had been made to the state of the Houston Tap, etc., railroad, exact from a subsequent purchaser a bond conditioned that the purchaser would keep such railroad in running order and that he would not remove or cause to be removed any of the iron from the track of such railroad or any of the rolling stock therefrom. Ireland v. Taylor, 68 Tex. 158, 4 S. W. 65.

83. Ralston v. Crittenden, 13 Fed. 508, 3 McCrary 344, holding that the sale of a railroad for interest due the state, which interest amounts to less than the sum which the com-preserving a lien upon all the property and franchises sold for the purchase-money, if it is not paid at the time of the sale.[84]

b. By Exercise of Power of Sale. Where a railroad mortgage or deed of trust authorizes the trustees on a breach of conditions to take possession and sell the property, the trustees may, when the conditions of the deed are broken, take possession and sell in the manner and upon the terms prescribed by the deed, without a foreclosure before the courts;[85] and if they proceed to sell in the manner prescribed,[86] and after compliance with any conditions in the deed,[87] the sale will divest the title of the railroad company.[88] If a power of sale is to be executed by the trustee on certain contingencies, he may be controlled, restrained, and directed by a court of equity at the suit of parties standing in the relation of cestuis que trustent, the rule for his guidance being derived from the instrument itself.[89]

3. Defenses. The defenses to an action to foreclose a railroad mortgage are ordinarily regulated by the general rules governing defenses to foreclosures of mortgages.[90] It is a good defense to such an action that the defaulted bonds or coupons have been paid,[91] that a prior suit of foreclosure is pending,[92] or that the railroad company has misapplied its earnings in order to bring about a default.[93] But it is not a good defense that the value of the railroad stock is abnormally depressed by the financial conditions,[94] or by false reports and harassing suits by complainants,[95] and that there is good ground to anticipate a substantial pany must pay in order to discharge its liability to the state, will be enjoined.

84. In re Answers to Questions, 37 Mo. 129.

85. Brunswick, etc., R. Co. v. Hughes, 52 Ga. 557; Mason v. York, etc., R. Co., 52 Me. 82; Bradley v. Chester Valley R. Co., 36 Pa. St. 141.

Foreclosure by exercise of power of sale in general see Mortgages, 27 Cyc. 1449 et seq.

A trustee with power of sale has the right to decide in the first instance as to the right of the bondholders to have the property sold to pay the bonds; but persons representing the railroad company have the concurrent right of appeal to the courts for an adjudication upon the claims and rights of the alleged bondholders. Western Div. Western North Carolina R. Co. v. Drew, 29 Fed. Cas. No. 17,433, 3 Woods 674.

A Michigan statute (Howell Annot. St. § 3351), authorizing the execution of mortgages by railroad companies with such power therein for sale as shall in the judgment of the board be found expedient, excepts railroad mortgages from the general statutes relating to foreclosure of real estate mortgages. Ten Eyck v. Pontiac, etc., R. Co., 114 Mich. 494, 72 N. W. 362.

Where a power of sale is to be exercised by a trustee in case of continued default for sixty days after notice to the mortgagor of an intention to sell, but not until the sale has been previously advertised for sixty days, the two periods are not synchronous, but successive; the term required for the advertisement to run does not begin until the term of the prescribed notice has expired. Macon, etc., R. Co. v. Georgia R. Co., 63 Ga. 103.

86. Macon, etc., R. Co. v. Georgia R. Co., 63 Ga. 103 (notice of sale to mortgagor); Brunswick, etc., R. Co. v. Hughes, 52 Ga. 557.

87. Macon, etc., R. Co. v. Georgia R. Co., 63 Ga. 103. See also Western Div. Western North Carolina R. Co. v. Drew, 29 Fed. Cas. No. 17,433, 3 Woods 674.

88. Brunswick, etc., R. Co. v. Hughes, 52 Ga. 557; Coe v. New Jersey Midland R. Co., 31 N. J. Eq. 105.

89. Bradley v. Chester Valley R. Co., 36 Pa. St. 141.

90. See, generally, Mortgages, 27 Cyc. 1549 et seq.

Fraud.— Where upon default on railroad bonds a majority of the bondholders request the trustees to institute foreclosure proceedings, the mere fact that certain bondholders, including the president of the road, retained counsel for the company for the purpose of procuring service of process in a genuine action to foreclose mortgages does not constitute a fraud as to second mortgage bondholders who had at the time no knowledge of such action. Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Green Bay, etc., R. Co., 6 Fed. 100, 10 Biss. 203.

91. Chamberlain v. Connecticut Cent. R Co., 54 Conn. 472, 9 Atl. 244.

92. Mercantile Trust Co. v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 70 Fed. 518, holding that where the trustee in a second mortgage has begun suit for foreclosure, making the trustee in the first mortgage a party and receivers of the road have been appointed and taken possession, a first mortgagee will not be permitted to bring an independent suit for the foreclosure of that mortgage.

93. Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. New York, etc., R. Co., 150 N. Y. 410, 44 N. E. 1043, 55 Am. St. Rep. 689, 34 L. R. A. 76 [reversing 78 Hun 213, 28 N. Y. Suppl. 933], holding such defense available to a stock-holder.

94. Toler v. East Tennessee, etc., R. Co., 67 Fed. 168.

95. Toler v. East Tennessee, etc., R. Co., 67 Fed. 168.

enhancement of the value;[96] or that complainants are bringing the suit in the interests of a rival company that it may purchase the railroad while the price is depressed;[97] that complainant, a purchaser of bonds, purchased them from, and at the request of, the lessee of the mortgaged railroad and that he instituted foreclosure proceedings as a means of relieving the lessee from the inconvenience or loss arising from the operation of the road;[98] or that the mortgagor had leased the road, where such lease was made without the mortgagee's consent;[99] nor can a defense be founded on equities arising between the mortgagor and a third party.[1] Nor can a railroad company, or its stock-holders or a purchaser, deny the validity of its incorporation in a suit to foreclose a mortgage which it has executed.[2] A defendant may be estopped from setting up matters of defense which otherwise would be good.[3] Intervening bondholders who are within the protection of the court cannot insist upon the alleged misconduct of a trustee in commencing a foreclosure suit, as a ground for denying the foreclosure.[4] As a general rule a claim or demand of defendant against complainant in a foreclosure suit cannot be set up by way of counter-claim or set-off.[5] In an action by an assignee, the mortgagor company may ordinarily set up the same defenses as would be available to it if the action was by the original holder.[6] Matters which are available as a defense in a foreclosure action cannot be made the basis of a suit to enjoin such action.[7]

4. Jurisdiction and Powers of the Court. In the absence of special statute

96. Toler v. East Tennessee, etc., R. Co., 67 Fed. 168.

97. Toler v. East Tennessee, etc., R. Co., 67 Fed. 168.

98. McFadden v. Mays' Landing, etc., R. Co., 49 N. J. Eq. 176, 22 Atl. 932.

99. Hale v. Nashua, etc., R. Co., 60 N. H. 333.

1. Peoria, etc., R. Co. v. Thompson, 103 Ill. 187; Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Rockaway Valley R. Co., 69 Fed. 9 (holding that an agreement between bondholders and a lessee of the road cannot be interposed by a bondholder to prevent the foreclosure of a mortgage); Foster v. Mansfield, etc., R. Co., 36 Fed. 627 [affirmed in 146 U. S. 88, 13 S. Ct. 28, 36 L. ed. 899] (holding that an agreement of a construction company to pay the interest is no defense to a bill of foreclosure brought by the trustees at the instance of a company to whom the bonds were negotiated).

A statutory remedy given to a state and affording a paramount lien for its indorsement of bonds is enforceable by the state alone, and cannot be set up by purchasers of the railroad in a contest between them and the holders of indorsed bonds secured also by the corporation's mortgage, to defeat the latter in foreclosing such mortgage. Kelly v. Alabama, etc., R. Co., 58 Ala. 489.

2. Coe v. New Jersey Midland R. Co., 31 N. J. Eq. 105; Hatry v. Painesville, etc., R. Co., 1 Ohio Cir. Ct. 426, 2 Ohio Cir. Dec. 238 [affirmed in 23 Cinc. L. Bul. 281]; Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Toledo, etc., R. Co., 67 Fed. 49; Beekman v. Hudson River West Shore R. Co., 35 Fed. 3.

3. Chicago, etc., Rapid Transit R. Co. v. Northern Trust Co., 90 Ill. App. 460 [affirmed in 195 Ill. 288, 63 N. E. 136] (holding that where trustees under a railroad mortgage declare the debt matured without request from the required number of stockholders, and the company acquiesces in such declaration, it is not entitled to resist foreclosure on the ground that no such request has been made, in the absence of any objection by the bondholders); Central Trust Co. v. Washington County R. Co., 124 Fed. 813 (holding that where at the time a railroad was constructed no objection was made to the contract by which the company's stocks and bonds were issued in payment therefor, it could not subsequently be objected, after a long acquiescence, in a suit to foreclose a mortgage securing the bonds, that the actual cost of construction was only two thirds of the par value of the bonds issued in payment therefor, and that the bonded indebtedness secured should therefore be scaled).

4. Dows v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 7 Fed. Cas. No. 4,048 [affirmed in 94 U. S. 444, 24 L. ed. 207].

5. Ryan v. Anglesea R. Co., (N. J. Ch. 1888) 12 Atl. 539, holding that the receiver of a railroad, made a party defendant in an action to foreclose a mortgage, cannot set up an agreement with complainant by which he was to hold the road for complainant's benefit, the latter to pay all the costs and expenses, it not appearing that it was intended to secure to the receiver the right to set off his fees and costs against the amount of the mortgage.

6. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Loewenthal, 93 Ill. 433. And see, generally, Mortgages, 27 Cyc. 1553.

7. Waymire v. San Francisco, etc., R. Co., 112 Cal. 646, 44 Pac. 1086, holding that the fact that bonds had been transferred without consideration being available as a defense to the foreclosure action, an injunction could not be granted at the instance of stockholders to enjoin the foreclosure on that ground.

otherwise, the rules governing the jurisdiction and powers of courts in the foreclosure of liens and mortgages generally apply to actions for the foreclosure of liens and mortgages on railroad property.[8] A court of equity has jurisdiction to foreclose such liens or mortgages,[9] and it has power to decree a sale of the mortgaged railroad property on default in payment of interest, although the terms of the mortgage do not authorize such sale, and the bonds secured by the mortgage have not matured, if it appears that there is an urgent necessity for the sale.[10] Where a court of equity has jurisdiction of the parties and of the property as an entire indivisible thing, it may in its discretion foreclose a mortgage on railroad property, although embracing lands in another state, and may direct a sale thereof, and the execution of a proper conveyance to the purchaser.[11] But it has been held that where a road in one state is consolidated with a road in another state and a mortgage existed on the latter road at the time of the consolidation,

8. See, generally, MORTGAGES, 27 Cyc. 1516 et seq.

In Texas the county court has jurisdiction in an action to foreclose a mechanic's lien on railroad property where the amount claimed is within the jurisdiction of the court; and the fact that the value of the railroad exceeds the jurisdictional amount does not take away its jurisdiction, since the whole property of the road is not to be sold but only so much as shall be sufficient to satisfy the lien. Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Allen, 1 Tex. App. Civ. Cas. § 568. But a statute giving the county court jurisdiction to foreclose a laborer's lien on the "equipment" of a railway does not give it jurisdiction to foreclose a lien on the road-bed, or on any property of the road not embraced within the meaning of the word. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Sandal, 3 Tex. App. Civ. Cas. § 379.

In New York the superior court of Buffalo has no jurisdiction of proceedings to enforce a lien for labor and materials furnished in the construction of bridges and trestle work for a railroad, under Laws (1844), c. 305, as amended by Laws (1870), c. 529. Fowler v. Buffalo, etc., R. Co., Sheld. 525.

Curing defect.— Where the legislature, after a decree of sale in proceedings to foreclose a railroad mortgage, passes a law to carry the decree into effect, any defect in the jurisdiction of the court is thereby cured. Youngman v. Elmira, etc., R. Co., 65 Pa. St. 278.

Justices of the peace.— The paramount lien created in Arkansas by Kirby Dig. §§ 6661–6663, in favor of a person sustaining a loss or damage to personal property against a railroad causing such loss or damage, cannot be declared and enforced in a suit before a justice of the peace. Kansas City Southern R. Co. v. King, 74 Ark. 366, 85 S. W. 1131.

Exclusive jurisdiction.— In a suit to foreclose a mortgage executed by a railroad company, brought against the company and certain mechanics' lien claimants in the county within which the company has franchises, and not in the county in which its principal business office is located and in which its land is situated, the court has exclusive jurisdiction of the entire controversy including the right of the lien claimants to enforce their lien for work done in the county in which the company has its principal business office. Prather Engineering Co. v. Genesee Cir. Judge, 149 Mich. 53, 112 N. W. 502.

The pendency in the state courts of a suit by the trustees of a railroad mortgage to foreclose is not a bar to a similar suit in the federal court by a bondholder secured thereby. Beekman v. Hudson River West Shore R. Co., 35 Fed. 3.

9. Luttrell v. Knoxville, etc., R. Co., (Tenn. 1907) 105 S. W. 565; Noll v. Cumberland Plateau R. Co., 112 Tenn. 140, 79 S. W. 380.

10. McLane v. Placerville, etc., R. Co., 66 Cal. 606, 6 Pac. 748, holding that such a necessity appears where the railroad company is insolvent, and a subsequent purchaser under a junior encumbrance will not discharge the interest, and the road must be run at a loss if operated by the trustee, and the road if unused must and will decay, and cannot be then repaired for lack of funds by the trustee.

11. Macon, etc., R. Co. v. Parker, 9 Ga. 377; Craft v. Indianapolis, etc., R. Co., 166 Ill. 580, 46 N. E. 1132 (holding that a court of general equity jurisdiction having the necessary parties before it has jurisdiction to foreclose a trust mortgage on a railroad and its franchises, although a part of the line is outside the state, or to direct trustees to make a sale under the power in the mortgage); McElrath v. Pittsburg, etc., R. Co., 55 Pa. St. 189; Wilmer v. Atlanta, etc., Air-Line R. Co., 30 Fed. Cas. No. 17,776, 2 Woods 447. But see Grey v. Manitoba, etc., R. Co., [1897] A. C. 254, 66 L. J. P. C. 66 [affirming 11 Manitoba 42].

Where there are sundry fieri facias against an insolvent railroad company, threatening to seize and sell the road, with its equipments, extending one hundred miles in length through six different counties, equity will take jurisdiction of the matter, direct a sale of the entire property for the benefit of all concerned, and distribute the fund according to the practice and usage in chancery, in a creditor's suit against executors and administrators. In such a case, no other court but that of chancery possesses adequate jurisdiction to reach and dispose of the entire merits. Macon, etc., R. Co. v. Parker, 9 Ga. 377.

the mortgagee can maintain an action in the courts of the state in which the mortgaged road is situated, and have a sale of the road within the limits of such state,[12] and that no jurisdiction exists in the courts of the former state to foreclose such mortgage.[13] Where the property has been sold and transferred under a foreclosure decree, the court has no further jurisdiction in the suit to entertain a petition to enforce a claim against the property or to require the payment by the purchaser of any claim which has not been filed as required by the decree.[14]

5. Limitations and Laches. The time within which a suit to foreclose a lien or mortgage on railroad property is, as in the case of a foreclosure of liens or mortgages generally, usually regulated by statute,[15] and if not brought within the time specified, the lien loses its validity.[16] Independently of statute a court of equity may refuse to decree a foreclosure where a complainant has been guilty of unreasonable delay in instituting his proceedings, such as a delay sufficient to raise the presumption that the claim has either been paid or abandoned,[17] although as a general rule a delay short of the whole period allowed by the statute of limitations will not have this effect.[18]

6. Parties[19] — a. In General. As a general rule all persons interested in the proceedings for the foreclosure of a railroad mortgage should be made parties.[20] But there are exceptions to this rule, particularly in foreclosure proceedings in federal courts,[21] and ordinarily it is enough that sufficient parties to represent all the adverse interests of plaintiffs and defendants are brought before the court.[22] In a suit by bondholders or others for the foreclosure of a railroad mortgage, the trustees of the mortgage bondholders should be made parties.[23] The doctrine

12. Eaton, etc., R. Co. v. Hunt, 20 Ind. 457.

13. Eaton, etc., R. Co. v. Hunt, 20 Ind. 457.

14. Grand Trunk R. Co. v. Central Vermont R. Co., 103 Fed. 740.

15. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Love, 74 Ark. 528, 86 S. W. 395, holding that under the direct provisions of the statute an action to enforce a mechanic's lien against a railroad must be brought within one year after the claim accrues. See also, generally, Mortgages, 27 Cyc. 1558 et seq.

Under Ga. Code, §§ 1979, 1982, a suit on a contractor's lien must be brought within twelve months from the date of the record, although the road has been seized by the governor; and a suit within the meaning of the statute is not commenced until service of process on defendant. Cherry v. North, etc., R. Co., 65 Ga. 633.

Under Ill. Rev. St. (1874) c. 82, a suit to enforce a mechanic's lien against a railroad must be begun within three months from the time of the performance of the work or furnishing the material. Cairo, etc., R. Co. v. Canble, 4 Ill. App. 133. See also Arbuckle v. Illinois Midland R. Co., 81 Ill. 429.

Under Tex. Rev. St. art. 3315, prescribing twelve months as the period of limitation for suits for the enforcement of mechanics' and laborers' liens, the limitation does not begin to run until the suit can be brought, and if the wages are payable in the future, not until the time specified has come. Gulf, etc., R. Co. v. Berry, 31 Tex. Civ. App. 408, 72 S. W. 1049.

16. Cherry v. North, etc., R. Co., 65 Ga. 633.

17. Woods v. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co., 99 Pa. St. 101; Gunnison v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 117 Fed. 629. And see, generally, Mortgages, 27 Cyc. 1562.

18. Bellingham Bay Imp. Co. v. Fairhaven, etc., R. Co., 17 Wash. 371, 79 Pac. 514, holding that the equitable lien obtained upon the assets of a railroad company by furnishing the labor and material used for operating the road is not barred by laches before the claim is barred by the statute of limitations.

19. Parties to foreclosure of mortgages generally see Mortgages, 27 Cyc. 1562 et seq.

20. Bowling Green Trust Co. v. Virginia Pass., etc., Co., 132 Fed. 921.

Waiver of objection of want of necessary parties see Luttrell v. Knoxville, etc., R. Co., (Tenn. 1907) 105 S. W. 565.

21. Bowling Green Trust Co. v. Virginia Pass., etc., Co., 132 Fed. 921.

22. Kerp v. Michigan Lake Shore R. Co., 14 Fed. Cas. No. 7,727.

Where there are successive mortgages and the trustees of a prior mortgage file a bill to foreclose the same, all the bondholders under a subsequent mortgage need not be made parties to the suit. Campbell v. Texas, etc., R. Co., 4 Fed. Cas. No. 2,366, 1 Woods 368.

Assignor.—When the title to bonds, claimed by both parties to the bill by different assignments from the same person making no claim to the bonds, is in dispute, it is not necessary to join the assignor as a party. Hale v. Nashua, etc., R. Co., 60 N. H. 333.

23. Hale v. Nashua, etc., R. Co., 60 N. H. 333; Stevens v. Union Trust Co., 57 Hun (N. Y.) 498, 11 N. Y. Suppl. 268; Alexander v. Iowa Cent. R. Co., 1 Fed. Cas. No. 166, 3 Dill. 487.

also seems to be well settled that a trustee in a mortgage or trust deed speaks and acts for the bondholders and other beneficiaries, and that the latter are neither necessary nor proper parties unless the fitness of the particular trustee or his conduct as such in failing to efficiently, honestly, or impartially discharge his duty is brought in question,[24] particularly where the bondholders are numerous.[25] They may be admitted as parties, however, where the trustee is guilty of misconduct or shows himself incompetent to properly execute the trust or where he is shown to have interests adverse to those of the bondholders.[26] Proper but not necessary parties to a suit of foreclosure are the owner of the equity of redemption,[27] a lessee in possession of the mortgaged premises,[28] junior encumbrancers,[29] and others who are so connected with the subject-matter that their presence before the court cannot be objected to as a misjoinder, although a full and com-

In a suit by first mortgage bondholders, who are also holders of a second mortgage on a part of the road, praying for an account of the earnings from different parts of the road or for a foreclosure and appointment of a receiver, the trustees of a second mortgage are necessary parties. Mercantile Trust Co. v. Portland, etc., R. Co., 10 Fed. 604.

Control of proceedings.— Where the trustees apply to come in and have been admitted as complainants in a bill of foreclosure, they must control the proceedings. Richards v. Chesapeake, etc., R. Co., 20 Fed. Cas. No. 11,771, 1 Hughes 28.

The getting of a consent decree by bondholders for a sale of the road to pay their bonds in a proceeding in which neither the state nor trustees were represented, when the latter were pursuing their lawful remedy to subject the road to the payment of the purchase-money, is an inequitable interference with and a fraud upon the bondholders' rights. Florida v. Anderson, 91 U. S. 667, 23 L. ed. 290.

24. Illinois.— See St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Kerr, 153 Ill. 182, 38 N. E. 638 [affirming 48 Ill. App. 496]; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Peck, 112 Ill. 408.

Kentucky.— Phillips v. Southern Div. Chesapeake, etc., R. Co., 110 Ky. 33, 60 S. W. 941, 22 Ky. L. Rep. 1530. But see Bardstown, etc., R. Co. v. Metcalfe, 4 Metc. 199, 81 Am. Dec. 541.

Massachusetts.— Shaw v. Norfolk County R. Co., 5 Gray 162.

New Jersey.— Williamson v. New Jersey Southern R. Co., 25 N. J. Eq. 13.

Ohio.— Coe v. Columbus, etc., R. Co., 10 Ohio St. 372, 75 Am. Dec. 518, holding that where the legal title to property is conveyed in trust to secure railroad bondholders, the bondholders are neither necessary nor proper parties to a suit of foreclosure, and for the appointment of a receiver.

Pennsylvania.—McElrath v. Pittsburg, etc., R. Co., 68 Pa. St. 37.

United States.— Bowling Green Trust Co. v. Virginia Pass., etc., Co., 132 Fed. 921; Grand Trunk R. Co. v. Central Vermont R. Co., 88 Fed. 622 (holding that where a mortgage to secure railroad bonds provides that it may be foreclosed upon default at the request of a majority of the bondholders, a bill filed by the trustee alleging such default and request is not subject to demurrer because the bondholders are not joined as orators); Clyde v. Richmond, etc., R. Co., 55 Fed. 445; Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Kansas City, etc., R. Co., 53 Fed. 182; Campbell v. Texas, etc., R. Co., 4 Fed. Cas. No. 2,366, 1 Woods 368; Dows v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 7 Fed. Cas. No. 4,048; Kerp v. Michigan Lake Shore R. Co., 14 Fed. Cas. No. 7,727; Skiddy v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 22 Fed. Cas. No. 12,922, 3 Hughes 320.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 615.

25. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Kerr, 153 Ill. 182, 38 N. E. 638 [affirming 48 Ill. App. 496]; Chicago, etc., R. Land Co. v. Peck, 112 Ill. 408; Bardstown, etc., R. Co. v. Metcalfe, 4 Metc. (Ky.) 199, 81 Am. Dec. 541; Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Kansas City, etc., R. Co., 53 Fed. 182; Campbell v. Texas, etc., R. Co., 4 Fed. Cas. No. 2,366, 1 Woods 368.

26. Phillips v. Southern Div. Chesapeake, etc., R. Co., 110 Ky. 33, 60 S. W. 941, 22 Ky. L. Rep. 1530; Williamson v. New Jersey Southern R. Co., 25 N. J. Eq. 13; McElrath v. Pittsburg, etc., R. Co., 68 Pa. St. 37. Compare Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Northern Pac. R. Co., 70 Fed. 423 (holding that in a suit by a trustee under several necessarily conflicting mortgages of a railroad and its various branches, plaintiff cannot fairly represent both sides of the controversy and representatives of the bondholders in different mortgages will hence be permitted to be made parties); Toler v. East Tennessee, etc., R. Co., 67 Fed. 168 (holding that in a suit by minority bondholders to foreclose a railroad mortgage, the majority bondholders may be made parties on a claim that under the mortgage there can be no foreclosure without permission of such majority); Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Northern Pac. R. Co., 66 Fed. 169 (holding that a provision in a mortgage that no holder of a bond secured thereby shall institute a suit to foreclose, except after a refusal by the trustee, does not prevent a court of equity from admitting a bondholder as a party in a suit brought by the trustee if such admission is otherwise proper); Campbell v. Texas, etc., R. Co., 4 Fed. Cas. No. 2,366, 1 Woods 368.

27. Beekman v. Hudson River West Shore R. Co., 35 Fed. 3.

28. Chamberlain v. Connecticut Cent. R. Co., 54 Conn. 472, 9 Atl. 244; Beekman v. Hudson River, West Shore R. Co., 35 Fed. 3.

29. Forrest v. Luddington, 68 Ala. 1.

plete decree could be made without regard to their rights.[30] A general creditor is neither a necessary nor a proper party to such a suit.[31] Where separate mortgages are given on distinct portions of a road at different times to secure the debts of separate creditors, one mortgagee is not a necessary party to a suit which another mortgagee may bring to foreclose his mortgage;[32] and where it appears that the making of a subsequent mortgagee a party to the foreclosure suit hinders and delays the suit the bill should be dismissed as to him.[33] Neither the state nor the holders of state bonds issued in aid of a railroad company and guaranteed by the company, under a statute which does not make the bonds a lien on the road, are necessary parties to a foreclosure of a mortgage on the railroad;[34] nor is a state which is an indorser of bonds secured by a statutory mortgage a necessary party to a suit brought by the holders of the bonds to foreclose the mortgage.[35] Where at the time of commencement of the foreclosure suit an action is pending on behalf of the people to dissolve the railroad company on the ground of insolvency, neither a temporary receiver appointed in that action nor the people are necessary parties to the foreclosure suit,[36] although the court has power in its discretion to allow the people or the receiver to intervene therein.[37]

b. Foreclosure of Mechanics' Liens. In the absence of a special statutory provision otherwise, the parties to a proceeding to enforce a lien for work and labor or material furnished against railroad property are regulated by the rules governing parties to a foreclosure of mechanics' liens generally.[38] Thus in such an action the owner of the road is generally a necessary party defendant;[39] although it is not necessary that all the companies interested in the railroad be made parties to the proceedings.[40] In an action for material and labor furnished under a contract with the contractor such contractor is a necessary party defendant.[41] So in an action by a subcontractor to foreclose a mechanic's lien based on the claim that the contractor has been fully paid in advance by the terms of Persons becoming encumbrancers pending proceedings to foreclose are not necessary parties to a bill of foreclosure. Youngman v. Elmira, etc., R. Co., 65 Pa. St. 278.

30. Phillips v. Southern Div. Chesapeake, etc., R. Co., 110 Ky. 33, 60 S. W. 941, 22 Ky. L. Rep. 1530; Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Cape Fear, etc., R. Co., 71 Fed. 38; Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Houston, etc., R. Co., 44 Fed. 115.

31. Herring v. New York, etc., R. Co., 105 N. Y. 340, 12 N. E. 763 (holding that unsecured creditors are not necessary or proper parties to and have no right to intervene in an action to foreclose a mortgage upon railroad property and franchises); Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. New Rochelle, etc., R. Co., 57 Hun (N. Y.) 376, 10 N. Y. Suppl. 810 [affirmed in 126 N. Y. 624, 27 N. E. 410].

32. Bronson v. La Crosse, etc., R. Co., 2 Black (U. S.) 524, 17 L. ed. 347.

Where a second mortgage covers leased lines without touching the rights of lessors and the foreclosure is a part of the suit in which all the property is in the hands of receivers, neither the mortgagor, the first mortgagee, nor any lessor is in strictness a necessary party. Grand Trunk R. Co. v. Central Vermont R. Co., 88 Fed. 622.

33. Richards v. Chesapeake, etc., R. Co., 20 Fed. Cas. No. 11,771, 1 Hughes 28.

34. McKittrick v. Arkansas Cent. R. Co., 152 U. S. 473, 14 S. Ct. 661, 38 L. ed. 518.

35. Young v. Montgomery, etc., R. Co., 30 Fed. Cas. No. 18,166, 2 Woods 606.

36. Herring v. New York, etc., R. Co., 105 N. Y. 340, 12 N. E. 763.

37. Herring v. New York, etc., R. Co., 105 N. Y. 340, 12 N. E. 763. And see infra, VIII, B, 6, c.

38. See, generally, MECHANICS' LIENS, 27 Cyc. 344 et seq.

Attorneys for a railroad contractor to whom the latter is indebted for legal services in acquiring the right of way and who holds title deeds and other papers relative to the construction of the road upon which they claim a lien, are not proper parties to a suit by a subcontractor to foreclose a mechanic's lien upon the road. Hilton Bridge Constr. Co. v. New York Cent., etc., R. Co., 145 N. Y. 390, 40 N. E. 86 [affirming 84 Hun 225, 32 N. Y. Suppl. 514].

39. Little Rock Trust Co. v. Southern Missouri, etc., R. Co., 195 Mo. 669, 93 S. W. 944; Lyons v. Carter, 84 Mo. App. 483; Mackler v. Mississippi River, etc., R. Co., 62 Mo. App. 677 (holding that where an owner of a railroad contracted for labor to be performed on it and afterward leased the road for a term of years, such owner must be joined with the lessee as a party defendant in an action brought to enforce the lien for the labor performed under the contract); Central Trust Co. v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 54 Fed. 598.

40. Morgan v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 76 Mo. 161.

41. Eastern Texas R. Co. v. Davis, 37 Tex. Civ. App. 342, 83 S. W. 883.

his contract, the owner, although admitting that he has paid the contractor and accepted the work when finished, may make the contractor and an assignee of the contractor parties to the suit.[42] So in an action to enforce the lien of a laborer of a subcontractor, the contractor should be made a party in order that the railroad company may obtain a judgment which will protect it in a settlement with the contractor.[43] In an action by an assignee to enforce such a lien for labor performed for a subcontractor both the contractor and the subcontractor are necessary parties.[44] So in a suit to enforce a lien founded on an unadjudicated claim for materials furnished to a subcontractor, to whom the principal contractor let part of the work, the subcontractor is a necessary party.[45]

c. Interveners and New Parties. As a general rule any person having such an interest in or lien upon the mortgaged premises and in the debt secured that his rights might be compromised by a decree in his absence can be allowed to intervene or be made a new party in the foreclosure, on his own petition,[46] or by a supplemental bill,[47] except where he has an adequate remedy at law by an independent suit;[48] and if the claimant having a right of intervention neglects or refuses to come in and entitle himself to the benefit of a decree, equity will not assist him to set aside and annul it.[49] This rule may be applied in favor of 42. Hilton Bridge Constr. Co. v. New York Cent., etc., R. Co., 145 N. Y. 390, 40 N. E. 86 [affirming 84 Hun 225, 32 N. Y. Suppl. 514].

43. Jasper, etc., R. Co. v. Peek, (Tex. Civ. App. 1907) 102 S. W. 776.

44. Austin, etc., R. Co. v. Rucker, 59 Tex. 587.

45. Luttrell v. Knoxville, etc., R. Co., (Tenn. 1907) 105 S. W. 565.

46. Colorado.— Grand Junction First Nat. Bank v. Wyman, 16 Colo. App. 468, 66 Pac. 456.

Georgia.— Macon, etc., R. Co. v. Parker, 9 Ga. 377.

New Jersey.— Hewitt v. Montclair R. Co., 25 N. J. Eq. 100 [affirmed in 27 N. J. Eq. 479].

New York.— Herring v. New York, etc., R. Co., 105 N. Y. 340, 12 N. E. 763.

West Virginia.— Fidelity Ins., etc., Co. v. Shenandoah Valley R. Co., 32 W. Va. 244, 9 S. E. 180.

United States.— Central Trust Co. v. Condon, 67 Fed. 84, 14 C. C. A. 314; Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Texas Western R. Co., 32 Fed. 359, intervention allowed even after decree.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 616; and, generally, MORTGAGES, 27 Cyc. 1580 et seq.

The right of a telegraph company to establish lines along the right of way of a railroad company whose property is in the hands of receivers pending foreclosure may be presented and adjudicated by intervention in a foreclosure suit. Union Trust Co. v. Atchison, etc., R. Co., 8 N. M. 327, 43 Pac. 701; Mercantile Trust Co. v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 63 Fed. 513.

Intervention by certificate holders.—A receiver who issues certificates which are a lien on the road and who has in his hands funds from which they should be paid if valid is a necessary party defendant to an intervention by the certificate holders in a suit to foreclose the mortgage on the road (Central Trust Co. v. Sheffield, etc., Coal, etc., Co., 44 Fed. 526); but the complainant in the original suit is not a proper party defendant to such intervention where it appears that he no longer has an interest in the fund in controversy and no relief is asked as against him (Central Trust Co. v. Sheffield, etc., Coal, etc., Co., supra); and the fact that the principal of the certificates is not due will not make the intervention premature if the interest thereon is then due and unpaid (Central Trust Co. v. Sheffield, etc., Coal, etc., Co., supra).

Where the road passes into two states in each of which it is a domestic corporation, and the trustee in a mortgage on the whole road first brings a suit in one state to foreclose, and afterward an ancillary suit in the other state for the same purpose, he cannot prevent a lien creditor of the company who has not filed his claim in the first suit from intervening in the second to establish his lien. Fidelity Ins., etc., Co. v. Shenandoah Valley R. Co., 32 W. Va. 244, 9 S. E. 180.

Intervention for taxes — parties.— Where the original suit is still pending, and the order confirming the sale of the railroad specifies that any taxes which may finally be adjudged to be a lien upon the property shall be a liability on the railroad, this is sufficient notice to such purchasers of a claim for taxes; and in an intervening petition filed in the original suit to collect delinquent taxes the purchasers at such sale need not be made parties thereto. U. S. Trust Co. v. Territory, 10 N. M. 416, 62 Pac. 987.

47. Baass v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 39 Wis. 296; Mercantile Trust Co. v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 70 Fed. 518; Fitzgerald v. Evans, 49 Fed. 426, 1 C. C. A. 307.

48. Van Frank v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 93 Mo. App. 412, 67 S. W. 688 (construing Rev. St. (1889) § 6741; Rev. St. (1899) æ 4349); Bartlett v. Patterson, 9 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 73, 10 Cinc. L. Bul. 367.

49. Macon, etc., R. Co. v. Parker, 9 Ga. 377.

interventions by individual bondholders seeking to be heard in an action by the mortgage trustee, or other bondholders who are not properly protecting their interests,[50] or in favor of the representatives of such bondholders [51] or of purchasers at the foreclosure sale.[52] But claimants will not be allowed to intervene after a long delay when the whole case is about to be closed unless they offer to become responsible for what has occurred or what might from the delay thereafter occur.[53] Nor can a claimant intervene in respect to a matter which is foreign to the litigation in the foreclosure suit,[54] or where the controversy or intervention is beyond the jurisdiction of the court.[55] A railroad stock-holder will not be allowed to intervene in a foreclosure suit unless he charges fraud or collusion between plaintiffs and the defendant company.[56]

7. Process and Appearance. In accordance with the rules governing process and notice or appearance in foreclosure suits generally,[57] in order that a decree in a suit for the foreclosure of a lien or mortgage on railroad property may be binding on parties whose presence is essential thereto, it is necessary that such parties voluntarily appear or be served with process or notice.[58] In a foreclosure

50. Williamson v. New Jersey Southern R. Co., 25 N. J. Eq. 13; De Betz's Petition, 9 Abb. N. Cas. (N. Y.) 246; Coe v. Columbus, etc., R. Co., 10 Ohio St. 372, 75 Am. Dec. 518 (holding that bondholders are not entitled to intervene where there is no imputation against the trustee which could make it necessary for them to intervene in the foreclosure suit); Bowling Green Trust Co. v. Virginia Pass., etc., Co., 132 Fed. 921; New York Cent. Trust Co. v. California, etc., R. Co., 110 Fed. 70 [affirmed in 128 Fed. 882, 63 C. C. A. 220]; New York Cent. Trust Co. v. Marietta, etc., R. Co., 63 Fed. 492; Clyde v. Richmond, etc., R. Co., 55 Fed. 445 (holding that bondholders are not entitled to intervene in the absence of a showing of negligence on the part of the trustee in protecting their interests or that there is any conflict between the various interests represented by the trustee).

Bondholders, if aggrieved by a decree rendered in a suit to which the trustee of the mortgage was a party, can intervene and become actual parties, and then make such application to the court for relief as is competent for parties to make in the same suit; or they may institute such other auxiliary, revisory, or supplemental proceedings as a party to the suit might institute. Campbell v. Texas, etc., R. Co., 4 Fed. Cas. No. 2,366, 1 Woods 368.

51. Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Northern Pac. R. Co., 66 Fed. 169.

52. Grand Trunk R. Co. v. Vermont Cent. R. Co., 91 Fed. 569; Fitzgerald v. Evans, 49 Fed. 426, 1 C. C. A. 307.

A purchaser of part of the road, including stock, machinery, franchises, etc., of the entire road, under the senior mortgage, cannot intervene in a suit brought against the company by a junior mortgagee, for the purpose of keeping down the amount of the decree. Bronson v. La Crosse, etc., R. Co., 2 Black (U. S.) 524, 17 L. ed. 347.

53. Central Trust Co. v. Texas, etc., R. Co., 24 Fed. 153.

The failure of an unsecured creditor to at once intervene in foreclosure suits is not fatal to his rights, since he is not bound to presume that any purpose for shutting out his rights was in the minds of the parties to the foreclosure suit (Louisville Trust Co. v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 174 U. S. 674, 19 S. Ct. 827, 43 L. ed. 1130 [reversing 84 Fed. 539, 28 C. C. A. 202]); and such a creditor is not dilatory merely because of the filing of a bill against the company for a receiver, on behalf of a judgment creditor and all other creditors of the alleged insolvent company, where no action was taken to notify any creditors, or to bring them into court to present their claims, and where it is not shown that the unsecured creditor had any notice of the suit (Louisville Trust Co. v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., supra).

54. Cutting v. Florida R., etc., Co., 45 Fed. 444.

55. Cutting v. Florida R., etc., Co., 45 Fed. 444.

56. Guarantee Trust, etc., Co. v. Duluth, etc., R. Co., 70 Fed. 803; New York Cent. Trust Co. v. Marietta, etc., R. Co., 48 Fed. 14.

57. See, generally, Mechanics' Liens, 27 Cyc. 362 et seq.; Mortgages, 27 Cyc. 1584 et seq.

58. Hassall v. Wilcox, 130 U. S. 493, 9 S. Ct. 590, 32 L. ed. 1001, holding that under Tex. Gen. Laws (1879), c. 12, providing that laborers on railroads shall have a lien prior to all others upon such railroads and that the same may be enforced by action, it is essential to such proceeding that there should be at least constructive notice by some form of publication or advertisement to adverse claimants to appear and maintain their rights, and where no provision is made for notice either personal or constructive to such adverse claimants, the proceedings cannot be sustained as proceedings in rem. See Fitzgerald v. Evans, 49 Fed. 426, 1 C. C. A. 307.

Service on a railroad company, which is not made a party to the suit and which is not shown to have any connection with the subject-matter of the suit, is not sufficient to bring into court another company which is made a party and which is alleged to be the suit by junior mortgagees, senior mortgagees can be made parties only by service of process or voluntary appearance,[59] and a general notice calling upon them to present their claims is not sufficient,[60] except where they are represented by trustees who are actual parties to the suit, in which case a notice calling upon them to present their claims before the master will be effectual.[61]

8. Pleading — a. Declaration, Bill, or Complaint — (i) In General. A declaration, bill, or complaint in a suit in equity to foreclose should conform to the ordinary rules of chancery pleading and the allegations therein be distinct and specific,[62] and should contain a proper statement of all the facts essential to the complainant's cause of action and connect defendant or defendants with the liability asserted under the mortgage, and an appropriate prayer of relief.[63] Thus it should allege facts showing complainant's ownership of the debt and the right to maintain the action,[64] and the default relied upon as the basis of the suit.[65]

(ii) Enforcement of Lien For Labor and Supplies. A complaint or petition in an action to foreclose a lien for labor and work or materials furnished a railroad company should conform to the requirements of the statute and should allege all the facts upon which such lien arises and which authorize its enforcement under the statute.[66] owner of the res sought to be subjected to the lien. Little Rock Trust Co. v. Southern Missouri, etc., R. Co., 195 Mo. 669, 93 S. W. 944.

59. Young v. Montgomery, etc., R. Co., 30 Fed. Cas. No. 18,166, 2 Woods 606.

60. Young v. Montgomery, etc., R. Co., 30 Fed. Cas. No. 18,166, 2 Woods 606.

61. Young v. Montgomery, etc., R. Co., 30 Fed. Cas. No. 18,166, 2 Woods 606.

62. Savannah, etc., R. Co. v. Lancaster, 62 Ala. 555; Barnes v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 2 Fed. Cas. No. 1,016, 8 Biss. 514, 8 Reporter 776 [affirmed in 122 U. S. 1, 7 S. Ct. 1043, 30 L. ed. 1128].

63. Savannah, etc., R. Co. v. Lancaster, 62 Ala. 555; Vermont, etc., R. Co. v. Vermont Cent. R. Co., 50 Vt. 500. And see, generally, Mortgages, 27 Cyc. 1590 et seq.

In a foreclosure suit by a bondholder, the neglect or refusal of the trustee to act, or a vacancy of his office, must be alleged and proved. Phillips v. Southern Div. Chesapeake, etc., R. Co., 110 Ky. 33, 60 S. W. 941, 22 Ky. L. Rep. 1530.

Multifariousness.—A bill in equity by bondholders seeking to foreclose a railroad mortgage, and also to recover bonds claimed by a part of plaintiffs and alleged to be wrongfully held by one of defendants, is not bad for multifariousness. Hale v. Nashua, etc., R. Co., 60 N. H. 333.

64. Toler v. East Tennessee, etc., R. Co., 67 Fed. 168, holding that on foreclosure of a mortgage for default in the payment of interest coupons an allegation that they are due and wholly unpaid "to your orator and other holders of said bonds" is a sufficient allegation of ownership.

65. Savannah, etc., R. Co. v. Lancaster, 62 Ala. 555, holding that where a deed of trust or mortgage made by a railroad company to secure an issue of bonds and interest thereon provides that on default of payment of interest for six months the principal shall also become due, a bill by the trustees for foreclosure averring such default in the payment of interest is not demurrable because it fails to allege that the interest coupons were presented for payment at the office or agency at which they were payable.

66. Arkansas.— Tucker v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 59 Ark. 81, 26 S. W. 375, holding that a complaint by a subcontractor to enforce a lien under Laws (1887), p. 96, is demurrable where it fails to show any privity of contract between himself and the company, and that the company was indebted to the principal contractor who was not made a party.

Georgia.— Cartter v. Rome, etc., Constr. Co., 89 Ga. 158, 15 S. E. 36.

Illinois.— Atlantic Dynamite Co. v. Baltimore, etc., R. Co., 101 Ill. App. 13, holding that under Hurd Rev. St. (1899) c. 82, §§ 8, 9, an allegation that the materials furnished were used in the railroad is a material allegation.

Indiana.— Dean v. Reynolds, 12 Ind. App. 97, 39 N. E. 763.

Indian Territory.— Denison, etc., R. Co. v. Raney-Alton Mercantile Co., 3 Indian Terr. 104, 53 S. W. 496.

Michigan.— Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Sturgis, 44 Mich. 538, 7 N. W. 213.

Missouri.— O'Connor v. Current River R. Co., 111 Mo. 185, 20 S. W. 16 (petition by assignee of account before lien filed held insufficient); Ireland v. Atchison, etc., R. Co., 79 Mo. 572.

United States.— Central Trust Co. v. Condon, 67 Fed. 84, 14 C. C. A. 314, holding that under Tenn. Acts (1883), c. 220, a creditor's bill against a railroad company and all claimants setting out the facts from which either a principal or subcontractor's lien might be held to arise and claiming the former but asking that the latter be allowed if held to be the proper relief is a compliance with the requirements of a suit to enforce a subcontractor's lien.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 619; and, generally, Mechanics' Liens, 27 Cyc. 367 et seq.

Sufficiency of petition as to notice under Ill. Rev. St. (1874) c. 672, § 534 (see Cairo,

b. Plea, Answer, and Subsequent Pleadings. The answer, plea, or subsequent pleading to a bill of foreclosure of a railroad mortgage is regulated by the rules governing pleas, answers, and subsequent pleadings in foreclosure suits generally,[67] such as that the plea or answer must be responsive to the bill or complaint and controvert all its material allegations.[68] Where one entitled to a statutory lien upon the property of an insolvent railroad company intervenes in a suit to foreclose a mortgage on such property for the purpose of having his claim decreed priority over the mortgage debts, the original suit and the relief claimed by the intervener both being equitable, a plea of an adequate remedy at law is not necessary to entitle defendants to avail themselves of that defense.[69]

9. Issues, Proof, and Variance. In accordance with the rules governing issues, proof, and variance in civil cases generally, and particularly those relating to foreclosure suits,[70] questions as to the amounts and validity of the bonds secured will be determined on the hearing;[71] but in a foreclosure suit a question as to an adverse title to part of the mortgaged premises pending between the receiver of the railroad and a third party cannot be litigated;[72] nor can an issue as to the identity of the bondholder be raised where the right of the trustee to foreclose the mortgage is not dependent upon a request of the bondholders.[73] The question of ownership of the bonds secured cannot properly be raised in the foreclosure suit, as such question properly comes up for consideration on the distribution of the proceeds.[74]

10. Evidence. The rules of evidence applying in foreclosure suits generally [75] etc., R. Co. v. Cauble, 85 Ill. 555); and under N. C. Code, § 1492 (see Moore v. Cape Fear, etc., R. Co., 112 N. C. 236, 17 S. E. 152).

67. See Sioux City, etc., R. Co. v. Manhattan Trust Co., 92 Fed. 428, 34 C. C. A. 431, holding that in a suit by a trustee to foreclose a railroad mortgage, the question of the ownership of the bonds secured properly comes up for consideration on distribution of the proceeds of the sale, and not before; and that allegations in the answer of the mortgagor seeking to raise such question are properly stricken out by the court. And see. generally, Mortgages, 27 Cyc. 1600 et seq.

Leave to file answer after delay see Central Trust Co. v. Texas, etc., R. Co., 23 Fed. 846, 24 Fed. 151.

Answer and cross complaint by a lessee company see Chamberlain v. Connecticut Cent. R. Co., 54 Conn. 472, 9 Atl. 244.

68. Chamberlain v. Connecticut Cent. R. Co., 54 Conn. 472, 9 Atl. 244; Brooks v. Vermont Cent. R. Co., 4 Fed. Cas. No. 1,964, 14 Blatchf. 463.

Cross bill.— Where a bill of foreclosure is filed by one who has no title in the mortgage, there can be no foreclosure unless the trustee in the mortgage files a cross bill for that purpose. American L. & T. Co. v. East, etc., R. Co., 37 Fed. 242.

69. Van Frank v. Brooks, 93 Mo. App. 412, 67 S. W. 688.

70. See Neilson v. Iowa Eastern R. Co., 51 Iowa 184, 1 N. W. 434, 33 Am. Rep. 124; and, generally, Mortgages, 27 Cyc. 1609 et seq.; Trial.

Variance.— There is no variance between a statement in a lien that the claimant contracted with the railroad company and a statement in the petition to enforce it that he contracted with a corporation acting as the agent or trustee of the railroad company. Mackler v. Mississippi River, etc., R. Co., 52 Mo. App. 516.

Admissions.— In an action to enforce a lien against a railroad for supplies furnished, a contention that no such lien could exist from verbal promises which were not made to complainant is untenable, where the promises made were embodied in the pleadings, for an admission in the pleading is conclusive for all purposes of the cause whether the facts relate to the parties or to third persons. Denison, etc., R. Co. v. Raney-Alton Mercantile Co., 3 Indian Terr. 104, 53 S. W. 496.

71. Guaranty Trust, etc., Co. v. Green Cove Springs, etc., R. Co., 139 U. S. 137, 11 S. Ct. 512, 35 L. ed. 116.

72. Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Green Bay, etc., R. Co., 6 Fed. 100, 10 Biss. 203.

73. Knickerbocker Trust Co. v. Oneonta, etc., R. Co., 116 N. Y. App. Div. 78, 101 N. Y. Suppl. 241 [affirmed in 188 N. Y. 38, 80 N. E. 568].

74. Sioux City, etc., R. Co. v. Manhattan Trust Co., 92 Fed. 428, 34 C. C. A. 431; Toler v. East Tennessee, etc., R. Co., 67 Fed. 168.

Where a trustee is authorized to foreclose in his discretion on default in payment of interest, an issue attempted to be raised as to the ownership of certain of the bonds secured by the mortgage as between rival claimants is immaterial to the trustee's right to foreclose, although the mortgage provided that the trustee should not be bound to recognize any person as a bondholder unless or until his bonds were submitted to the trustee for inspection if required and his title satisfactorily established, if disputed. Knickerbocker Trust Co. v. Oneonta, etc., R. Co., 116 N. Y. App. Div. 78, 101 N. Y. Suppl. 241 [affirmed in 188 N. Y. 38, 80 N. E. 568].

75. See Mechanics' Liens, 27 Cyc. 407 et seq.; Mortgages, 27 Cyc. 1612 et seq.

apply to the presumptions and burden of proof,[76] admissibility,[77] and the weight and sufficiency [78] of the evidence in a suit to foreclose a lien or mortgage on railroad property.

11. TRIAL OR HEARING AND REFERENCE. The trial or hearing of a foreclosure suit against a railroad company is governed by the rules governing foreclosure suits generally.[79] In accordance with such rules, the question as to the amount due upon the lien or mortgage may be referred to a master or referee to find and report upon, and exceptions may then be filed to his report and a decree made upon the hearing and determination of such exceptions.[80] A reference may also be had to

76. Grattan Tp. v. Chilton, 97 Fed. 145, 38 C. C. A. 84, holding that where under Nebr. Comp. St. (1897) p. 800, § 4023, bonds were voted, and were issued by the proper officers after the road was complete, they, or the coupons therefrom, are prima facie evidence that the statute had been complied with, and, if the statute had not been complied with, that such fact must be pleaded and proved as an affirmative defense in an action on such bonds or coupons.

Under the Kentucky act of March 20, 1876, giving a lien for supplies actually used in operating a railroad, the burden of proof is on the claimant to show what part of the supplies furnished by him was actually used for the operation of the road. Tod v. Kentucky Union R. Co., 52 Fed. 241, 3 C. C. A. 60, 18 L. R. A. 305.

Where the holder of a judgment for materials and supplies furnished under Ohio Rev. St. § 3398, claims priority over mortgages existing before the supplies were furnished, the burden of proof is upon him to show not only that he has obtained such judgment but that the cause of action upon which it was obtained was such as to come within the terms of such section of the statute. Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 10 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 481, 21 Cinc. L. Bul. 275.

77. Neilson v. Iowa Eastern R. Co., 51 Iowa 184, 1 N. W. 434, 33 Am. Rep. 124, 51 Iowa 714, 3 N. W. 779, holding that in an action for the enforcement of a materialman's lien against a railroad for materials furnished under a written contract, parol evidence of the use of such materials in such road is not improper); Jasper, etc., R. Co. v. Peek, (Tex. Civ. App. 1907) 102 S. W. 776 (holding that a laborer employed by a subcontractor of a contractor for the construction of a railroad who sues to enforce his lien for work done in the construction of the railroad may establish his case against the railroad company by showing that the work was performed under the employment of a subcontractor connected with the contractor, although the latter is not a party).

Proof of notice.— A notice of lien filed in a county clerk's office cannot be proved by a certified copy thereof from such office; nor is the certificate of the county clerk stating when it was filed proper evidence of that fact. Sampson v. Buffalo, etc., R. Co., 2 Hun (N. Y.) 512, 4 Thomps. & C. 600.

78. Pere Marquette R. Co. v. Baertz, 36 Ind. App. 408, 74 N. E. 51; Dudley v. Toledo, etc., R. Co., 65 Mich. 655, 32 N. W. 884 (construing Howell Annot. St. §§ 3423–3425); Rapauno Chemical Co. v. Greenfield, etc., R. Co., 59 Mo. App. 6 (holding that proof that one to whom giant powder was furnished by a materialman seeking to enforce a lien therefor against a railroad company was the subcontractor for the necessary work in preparing a portion of the company's railroad for the reception of ties and iron, is sufficient prima facie proof of his authority to contract for such powder for the purposes of the work); Tennis v. Wetzel, etc., R. Co., 140 Fed. 193 (holding evidence insufficient to sustain the claim of defendant that the work of complainant under the contract for labor and material was performed with such negligence and incompetency as to defeat complainant's right to recover for the same or entitle defendant to recoup damages).

79. See Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Candler, 87 Ga. 241, 13 S. E. 560, holding a particular verdict not to set up a lien upon the whole railroad referred to therein, but only upon a certain part. And see, generally, MORTGAGES, 27 Cyc. 1637 et seq.

Intervener.— Where a judgment creditor whose judgment was recovered before the appointment of a receiver and who lives at a distance from the place where the court was held intervenes in a foreclosure suit against the railroad, he should be given the fullest opportunity of a hearing, and technical rules should not be enforced against him, and upon the payment of costs by him an order confirming the master's report may be set aside at his instance and the matter referred back to the master. Central Trust Co. v. Wabash, etc., R. Co., 27 Fed. 175.

80. See Central Trust Co. v. Unadilla Valley R. Co., 35 Misc. (N. Y.) 604, 72 N. Y. Suppl. 189, holding that allegations by holders of a portion of the bonds that a foreclosure is necessary because the persons controlling the road and substantially all the other bonds failed to pay the interest and improperly diverted the funds of the road was insufficient to prevent a reference to compute the amount due on default if such parties could appear on such reference, and testify in support of their claims. And see, generally, MORTGAGES, 27 Cyc. 1638 et seq.

Outstanding bonds pledged as collateral may be included by the referee in his estimate of the amount due. Peck v. New York, etc., R. Co., 59 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 419.

Allowance of rent.— Where the referee is instructed to allow reasonable rent for the consider the ownership and validity of bonds,[81] or to ascertain and fix the priorities of the various encumbrances on the railroad property.[82] Where a reference is made to ascertain the gross earnings and expenses of a certain section of the road covered by a mortgage, and it appears that such section has not been operated separately, but as a part of the whole road, and that the railroad company, although under a legal obligation to keep a separate account of the income and expenses of such section, has failed to do so, it is not an erroneous principle for the master to make a pro rata estimate of the earnings and expenses of the whole road.[83]

12. Judgment or Decree — a. In General. The judgment or decree in a foreclosure suit of a railroad lien or mortgage is ordinarily governed by the rules applicable to judgments and decrees in foreclosure suits generally.[84] Ordinarily such judgment or decree is in rem,[85] and should declare the fact, nature, and extent of the default which constitutes the breach of the condition of the mortgage,[86] and the amount then due;[87] but it need not establish that a particular instalment is due to any particular person;[88] and such decree is not to be regarded as final as to the debts entitled to share in the distribution, for any other creditor may challenge the debts when the claims are produced in the master's office and have ascertainment and classification.[89] But it has been held that where that use of rolling stock, eight per cent will be held to be too low a rent for the use of such stock, where it appears that the owners thereof were to bear all the loss and deterioration. Pullan v. Cincinnati, etc., Air-Line R. Co., 20 Fed. Cas. No. 11,462, 5 Biss. 237.

Exceptions to report.—The corporation cannot urge as an exception to the report of a master appointed to ascertain the amount of a claim that he did not accompany his report with the evidence heard by him where such defendant railroad company did not appear at the hearing, although notified to do so, and demand that the evidence be taken down. Denison, etc., R. Co. v. Raney-Alton Mercantile Co., 3 Indian Terr. 104, 53 S. W. 496. But where, on a proceeding to enforce a lien for supplies furnished, the court appointed an appraiser to ascertain the value of improvements which were made on the property, the adoption of his report over defendant's exception will not be disturbed where no exception is taken at the time of the appointment to the ascertaining of such value by appraisers, rather than by jury. Denison, etc., R. Co. v. Raney-Alton Mercantile Co., 3 Indian Terr. 104, 53 S. W. 496.

A stock-holder's dismissal of his exceptions to an auditor's finding cannot be objected to by an intervening bondholder. Weed v. Gainesville, etc., R. Co., 119 Ga. 576, 46 S. E. 885.

Evidence.— On a hearing before a master or referee where evidence is offered, and its competency or admissibility is objected to, the master should receive it subject to the objection, so that the court may pass upon the matter on review. Kansas L. & T. Co. v. Sedalia Electric R., etc., Co., 108 Fed. 702.

81. Weed v. Gainesville, etc., R. Co., 119 Ga. 576, 46 S. E. 885; Guaranty Trust Co. v. Atlantic Coast Electric R. Co., 132 Fed. 68 (holding that where a trust mortgage is given by a railroad company to secure its bonds and questions arise as to whether some of the bonds were legally issued, a decree for the sale of the mortgaged property need not be stayed before the determination of such questions, but they may be considered upon a reference to the master after the making of the decree of sale); Sioux City, etc., R. Co. v. Manhattan Trust Co., 92 Fed. 428, 34 C. C. A. 431; Toler v. East Tennessee, etc., R. Co., 67 Fed. 168.

82. Kansas L. & T. Co. v. Sedalia Electric R., etc., Co., 108 Fed. 702.

The findings of a master to whom the claim of an intervener in a railroad foreclosure suit to preference of payment over the mortgagee has been referred should show whether there has been a diversion of net income since the intervener's claim accrued and whether, if so, it inured to the benefit of the mortgagee, and his report should contain a summary statement of the evidence on which his conclusions are based, with reference to the evidence in the record, showing the amount diverted, and the particular manner in which it was used, to enable the court to see from the facts found, whether it went into improvements of the property or its betterment, or the payment of interest. Kansas L. & T. Co. v. Sedalia Electric R., etc., Co., 108 Fed. 702.

83. Pullan v. Cincinnati, etc., Air-Line R. Co., 20 Fed. Cas. No. 11,462, 5 Biss. 237.

84. See, generally, Mortgages, 27 Cyc. 1641 et seq.

85. See Welsh v. First Div. St. Paul, etc., R. Co., 25 Minn. 314; Rothschild v. Rochester, etc., R. Co., 1 Pa. Co. Ct. 620; Tod v. Kentucky Union R. Co., 52 Fed. 241, 3 C. C. A. 60, 18 L. R. A. 305.

86. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Fosdick, 106 U. S. 47, 1 S. Ct. 10, 27 L. ed. 47; Toler v. East Tennessee, etc., R. Co., 67 Fed. 168.

87. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Fosdick, 106 U. S. 47, 1 S. Ct. 10, 27 L. ed. 47.

88. Toler v. East Tennessee, etc., R. Co., 67 Fed. 168.

89. Toler v. East Tennessee, etc., R. Co., 67 Fed. 168.

part of a right of way on which labor was performed was a part of an entire system of a railroad and necessary for the carrying out of the railroad duties to the public so that it could not be sold apart from the entire line to foreclose a laborer's or materialman's lien it was proper for the court in the exercise of its equity powers to direct a personal judgment against the railroad company.[90] The amount of the debt for which a foreclosure decree may be given is only the amount actually due and unpaid to complainant.[91] In its usual form, a decree of foreclosure should contain an order for the sale of the mortgaged premises for the satisfaction of the debt,[92] reserving the right to any party to redeem on paying the several amounts found due with costs; [93] and in decreeing a sale the court is not bound by a mode of procedure prescribed by the mortgage in case of a sale by the trustee without foreclosure, but should exercise a sound discretion, having due regard to the interests of all parties.[94]

b. Adjudication of Claims of Interveners or Other Creditors. It is proper for the foreclosure decree when warranted by the pleadings and proof to settle and determine all claims and questions raised between the parties to the suit as to the ownership of the debt, the liability for it, or exoneration from it, the proportion in which it should be shared,[95] or of its priority or preference,[96] and 90. Pere Marquette R. Co. v. Baertz, 36 Ind. App. 408, 74 N. E. 51.

A personal judgment may be given a laborer who has a lien on the road for work done under a subcontractor in the construction of the road, the road being practically completed, although the company is not yet engaged in the business of a common carrier. Pere Marquette R. Co. v. Baertz, 36 Ind. App. 408, 74 N. E. 51.

Under Mo. Rev. St. (1889) c. 102, art. 4, providing that, in an action to enforce a lien on a railroad for labor done thereon, no personal judgment shall be rendered except as against such defendants as might be sued thereon in an ordinary action at law, it is not proper to render a personal judgment against a railroad company in an action by a subcontractor to enforce such a lien. Bethune v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co., 149 Mo. 587, 51 S. W. 465.

Form of lien.— In an action for the enforcement of a mechanic's lien against railroad property, the decree should be against the railroad company and the original contractor (Cairo, etc., R. Co. v. Cauble, 4 Ill. App. 133. And see MECHANICS' LIENS, 27 Cyc. 429 text and note 81); and should describe the property to which the lien is to apply (Bethune v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co., 149 Mo. 587, 51 S. W. 465).

91. Union Trust Co. v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 24 Fed. Cas. No. 14,403, 5 Dill. 1.

92. Wetzel, etc., R. Co. v. Tennis Bros. Co., 145 Fed. 458, 75 C. C. A. 266 [affirming 140 Fed. 193]; Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 27 Fed. 146. But see Breeze v. Midland R. Co., 26 Grant Ch. (U. C.) 225.

93. Bound v. South Carolina R. Co., 58 Fed. 473, 7 C. C. A. 322.

94. Low v. Blackford, 87 Fed. 392, 31 C. C. A. 15. Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Green Bay, etc., R. Co., 6 Fed. 100, 10 Biss. 203.

95. Alabama.— Morton v. New Orleans, etc., R. Co., etc., Assoc., 79 Ala. 590.

Illinois.— Penn Mut. L. Ins. Co. v. Heiss, 141 Ill. 35, 31 N. E. 138, 33 Am. St. Rep. 273, holding that where judgments have been entered against a railroad company by default for damages caused by the construction of a railroad in a public street, it is proper for a court of equity, when asked to make such judgment payable out of the proceeds of the foreclosure sale of the railroad before payment of the mortgage debt, to open the judgments and require a reassessment of the damages by a jury.

Kentucky.— Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Schmidt, 52 S. W. 835, 21 Ky. L. Rep. 556.

Ohio.— Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 10 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 481, 21 Cinc. L. Bul. 275.

United States.— Toledo, etc., R. Co. v. Continental Trust Co., 95 Fed. 497, 36 C. C. A. 155 [modifying 86 Fed. 929] (holding also that it is not necessary that the decree of foreclosure should await the establishing and adjustment of all claims filed in an ancillary creditor's suit); Wheeling Bridge, etc., R. Co. v. Reymann Brewing Co., 90 Fed. 189, 32 C. C. A. 571.

Where receivers and managers are appointed to operate a railroad for the benefit of a lessor of the road and mortgage bondholders of the lessee, claims growing out of the maintenance of the railroad by the receivers and managers will be adjudicated without an amendment of the foreclosure proceedings to cover their claims. Langdon v. Vermont, etc., R. Co., 54 Vt. 593.

Release.— Where the operating expenses of a railroad in the hands of a receiver and manager are sufficient in amount to entirely consume the income and earnings of the road, the lessor, who is entitled to a certain per cent of the cost of the construction of the road to be paid from the earnings and income, and bondholders, the interest on whose bonds is in default, will be directed to release their interest in the property to a trustee to hold for their benefit. Langdon v. Vermont, etc., R. Co., 54 Vt. 593.

96. Colt v. Barnes, 64 Ala. 108 (holding it may provide for an accounting between the parties.[97] But the decree should save and reserve any rights arising under a hostile and paramount title.[98] The court may pass a final decree as to the ascertained debts and retain the bill for the enforcement of further liens thereafter to be proved and established.[99]

c. Nature and Extent of Property. As a general rule a foreclosure decree can order a sale only of the entire road, and a judgment or decree which attempts to foreclose a lien or mortgage on a specified portion of the road instead of on the whole road is void,[1] except where the property is divisible, in which case a sale should be ordered of so much as will satisfy the amount due.[2] Lands which are not included in the railroad mortgage may be sold under a decree of foreclosure, where the facts shown establish an equitable lien in favor of bondholders secured by the mortgage.[3] Where a railroad company, with the consent of a vendee, has constructed its road over land, and in an action to foreclose the vendor's lien the proceeds of the land outside of the right of way are insufficient to satisfy the lien, the right of way with the improvements thereon should not be sold to satisfy the lien for the balance, but should be condemned, the value thereof being ascertained by taking the value of the land and damages to the rest of the tract caused by the taking, and a judgment with a lien on the road-bed to secure its payment entered against the company for the amount so ascertained.[4] A judgment foreclosing a laborer's lien on the equipment of a railroad need not specify the particular articles on which it is to operate but it is sufficient to declare the lien foreclosed upon the equipment to an extent sufficient to satisfy the judgment.[5]

d. Provisions as to Bids and Terms of Sale. The decree should also prescribe the terms and conditions of the sale, and these terms may, if equity requires it, be different from the terms stipulated in the mortgage itself.[6] Thus the decree may prescribe that part of the bid shall be for cash,[7] or that a part may be paid in bonds secured by the foreclosed mortgage;[8] and that the sale shall be made subject to certain outstanding obligations;[9] or upon a subsequent presentation of that where it appears in foreclosure proceedings for the benefit of all the bondholders that a part of the bonds have been indorsed by the state under the act of Feb. 21, 1870, no motion or petition is necessary to enable the chancellor to decree the priority of the bonds so indorsed); Bank of Commerce v. Central Coal, etc., Co., 115 Fed. 878, 53 C. C. A. 334; Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Green Bay, etc., R. Co., 6 Fed. 100, 10 Biss. 203.

97. Langdon v. Vermont, etc., R. Co., 54 Vt. 593; Linder v. Hartwell R. Co., 73 Fed. 320 (holding that, although the mortgagor can use the earnings of the mortgaged property without accounting until foreclosure, this rule does not prevent a decree in a suit for the foreclosure of a railroad mortgage for an accounting by another company which is alleged to have diverted the earnings of the mortgagor company while in control thereof); Thomas v. Peoria, etc., R. Co., 36 Fed. 808 (holding, however, that a contract of lease of cars to the mortgagor company, by the car company, dominated by the same persons, cannot be made the basis of an accounting for the use of the leased cars).

98. Compton v. Jesup, 68 Fed. 263, 15 C. C. A. 397.

99. Langdon v. Vermont, etc., R. Co., 54 Vt. 593.

1. Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Candler, 87 Ga. 241, 13 S. E. 560 (construing Code, § 1990); Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Loewenthal, 93 Ill. 433; Bardstown, etc., R. Co. v. Metcalfe, 4 Metc. (Ky.) 199, 81 Am. Dec. 541.

2. Bardstown, etc., R. Co. v. Metcalfe, 4 Metc. (Ky.) 199, 81 Am. Dec. 541.

3. Chicago, etc., Rapid Transit R. Co. v. Northern Trust Co., 90 Ill. App. 460 [affirmed in 195 Ill. 288, 63 N. E. 136].

4. Finnell v. Louisville Southern R. Co., 99 Ky. 570, 36 S. W. 553, 18 Ky. L. Rep. 410.

5. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Sandal, 3 Tex. App. Civ. Cas. § 379.

6. Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Green Bay, etc., R. Co., 6 Fed. 100, 10 Biss. 203, holding that the court is not bound to adopt the provisions of the mortgage as to the application of the bonds upon the bid of the purchaser, or as to the proportion in which such bonds should be received or as to the manner in which their value should be ascertained.

7. Sage v. Iowa Cent. R. Co., 99 U. S. 334, 25 L. ed. 394.

8. Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Green Bay, etc., R. Co., 6 Fed. 100, 10 Biss. 203.

Where the decree authorizes the mortgage bonds to be applied on the purchase of a railroad upon a foreclosure sale, it is not essential that such decree should determine the percentage value of such bonds before the sale actually took place. Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Green Bay, etc., R. Co., 6 Fed. 100, 10 Biss. 203.

9. Bound v. South Carolina R. Co., 58 Fed.

intervening claims, the court may require as a condition precedent to the confirmation of the sale that the purchaser shall make a larger cash payment to meet all exigencies than that fixed by the terms of the decree;[10] and the court may order that the property shall not be sold for less than a certain sum;[11] or it may name an upset price large enough to cover costs and all allowances made by the court for receiver's certificates and interest, liens prior to the bonds, amounts diverted from the earnings and all undetermined claims which will be settled before the confirmation and sale.[12]

e. Parties and Pleadings. A decree of foreclosure is limited by the bill or complaint, and ordinarily cannot grant any relief not prayed for;[13] although a prayer for general relief will authorize any action in the complainant's favor, shown by the proofs to be just and equitable and not inconsistent with the pleadings;[14] and although the specific relief sought is a strict foreclosure, a decree for a sale of the property and for the enforcement of an agreement contained in the mortgage is appropriate under a prayer for general relief.[15] Where all the claims are before the court with prayers for general affirmative relief, it may decree a sale of the property free from all liens.[16] But where all the parties are not represented before the court, a decree which directs a sale free of all liens and encumbrances without making provision for other bondholders, subsequent mortgagees, and other creditors is fatally defective.[17] All persons properly represented before the court in a foreclosure proceeding, whether as plaintiffs or defendants, or who are charged with notice of such proceedings, are bound and concluded by the decree rendered therein and estopped from disputing the validity of the proceedings or the title of the purchaser.[18] This rule includes persons acquiring interests in the mortgaged premises pending the foreclosure proceedings.[19] Thus a judgment 473, 7 C. C. A. 322, holding that a decree for sale under foreclosure of a road which is in the hands of a receiver may properly direct that the sale be made subject to outstanding obligations of the receiver, at the same time requiring the receiver to file a statement thereof in detail so that the amount may be known with sufficient certainty to enable intending purchasers to bid with confidence.

10. Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Green Bay, etc., R. Co., 6 Fed. 100, 10 Biss. 203.

11. McIlhenny v. Binz, 80 Tex. 1, 30 S. W. 655, 26 Am. St. Rep. 705.

12. New York Cent. Trust Co. v. Washington County R. Co., 124 Fed. 813; Blair v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 25 Fed. 232.

13. St. Johns, etc., R. Co. v. Bartola, 28 Fla. 82, 9 So. 853, holding that under a bill in equity to enforce a lien given by Laws (1879), c. 3132, for labor performed on a railroad, it is error to render a decree for a larger sum than is claimed by plaintiff in the special prayer for relief, although there is also a prayer for general relief.

14. Sage v. Iowa Cent. R. Co., 99 U. S. 334, 25 L. ed. 394.

15. Sage v. Iowa Cent. R. Co., 99 U. S. 334, 25 L. ed. 394.

16. Bound v. South Carolina R. Co., 58 Fed. 473, 7 C. C. A. 322.

17. New Orleans Pac. R. Co. v. Parker, 143 U. S. 42, 12 S. Ct. 364, 36 L. ed. 66 [affirming 33 Fed. 693].

18. Omaha, etc., R. Co. v. O'Neill, 81 Iowa 463, 46 N. W. 1100; Real Estate Trust Co. v. Perry County R. Co., 213 Pa. St. 57, 63, 62 Atl. 25, 27 (holding that bondholders having notice of the decree and proceedings have no standing to petition many years thereafter for a change of the decree so as to correct any inequality among the bondholders); Milwaukee, etc., R. Co. v. Soutter, 2 Wall. (U. S.) 600, 17 L. ed. 886; Central Trust Co. v. Wabash, etc., R. Co., 30 Fed. 332 (holding that it is too late after the decree and sale for holders of underlying mortgage bonds to object to the manner in which the earnings of the system had been applied prior to the decree and proceedings to foreclose their mortgage, and too late for the court to so correct the decree as to change the rights of the purchaser); Wilmer v. Atlanta, etc., R. Co., 30 Fed. Cas. No. 17,776, 2 Woods 447. Compare Simmons v. Taylor, 23 Fed. 849.

Where the parties are numerous and the bill for foreclosure is brought by certain bondholders on behalf of themselves and all other bondholders whose bonds were secured by the same deed who chose to come in as complainants, and where they share the expenses of the suit, it is not a valid objection to the making of a decree in accordance with the prayer of the bill that all of the bondholders were not made actual parties, as they may be allowed to come in as complainants or may propound their claims before the master. Wilmer v. Atlanta, etc., R. Co., 30 Fed. Cas. No. 17,776, 2 Woods 447.

Collateral attack.— Questions relating to the validity of a decree directing foreclosure of the mortgage cannot be raised by objections to the confirmation of the sale. Crouch v. Dakota, etc., R. Co., 18 S. D. 540, 101 N. W. 722; New York Cent. Trust Co. v. Peoria, etc., R. Co., 118 Fed. 30, 55 C. C. A. 52.

19. Jackson v. Centerville, etc., R. Co., 64 or decree in a foreclosure suit fairly brought and honestly and regularly conducted by a bondholder for the benefit of all the bondholders is conclusive and binding upon all the parties represented therein;[20] but if such suit is not conducted in good faith and is used as an instrument to acquire advantages for plaintiff at the expense of those whom he has assumed to protect, the latter will not be bound thereby.[21] So if the trustees of a mortgage on a railroad are parties to the suit, a decree rendered in the case is as binding on the bondholders secured by it, as if they had been made parties, unless they can show some fraud practised upon, or connived at, by the trustees themselves.[22] But persons having an interest in or lien upon the road who are not joined as parties in a foreclosure suit are not bound or in any way affected by the decree therein unless they consent thereto.[23] A party who has intervened in a foreclosure suit to which there are several parties defendant will not, upon the rendering of a decree and the dismissal of all the parties save one from whom the intervener claims relief, lose his standing in the action.[24]

f. Payment and Discharge. The formal method of decreeing a foreclosure is to order that defendant pay in a limited time the amount found due by the decree and that in default thereof it shall be foreclosed with its equity of redemption or that the property shall be sold and the proceeds applied as directed.[25] Where the decree provides that defendant shall have a last opportunity to avert a sale of the property by paying what is due with interest and costs it is for the court to determine in the exercise of its sound discretion as to what is a reasonable time to allow for payment.[26] Where only a part of the mortgage debt is due, upon payment of such amount the foreclosure decree will be suspended until a default again occurs.[27] Where the amount due has been passed on and finally fixed by the court and the right of the mortgagor to pay the sum thus

Iowa 292, 20 N. W. 442; Youngman v. Elmira, etc., R. Co., 65 Pa. St. 278.

20. Stevens v. Union Trust Co., 57 Hun (N. Y.) 498, 11 N. Y. Suppl. 268.

21. Stevens v. Union Trust Co., 57 Hun (N. Y.) 498, 11 N. Y. Suppl. 268.

22. Campbell v. Texas, etc., R. Co., 4 Fed. Cas. No. 2,366, 1 Woods 368; Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Northern Pac. R. Co., 94 Fed. 454; Morgan's Louisiana, etc., R., etc., Co. v. Moran, 91 Fed. 22, 33 C. C. A. 313; Credit Co. v. Arkansas Cent. R. Co., 15 Fed. 46, 5 McCrary 23.

After confirmation of the sale of a railroad under decree of foreclosure, holders of the mortgage bonds will not be allowed, at a subsequent term, to be made parties to the original foreclosure suit, for the purpose of impeaching the decree, sale, and confirmation as fraudulent, although in the order of confirmation the power to make further order is expressly reserved. Wetmore v. St. Paul, etc., R. Co., 3 Fed. 177, 1 McCrary 466.

23. Stevens v. Union Trust Co., 57 Hun (N. Y.) 498, 11 N. Y. Suppl. 268; Hassall v. Wilcox, 130 U. S. 493, 9 S. Ct. 590, 32 L. ed. 1001; Zimmerman v. Kansas City Northwestern R. Co., 144 Fed. 622, 75 C. C. A. 424; Central Trust Co. v. Florida R., etc., Co., 43 Fed. 751; Union Trust Co. v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 24 Fed. Cas. No. 14,403, 5 Dill. 1, holding that on the foreclosure of a blanket mortgage given by a consolidated company containing a covenant to pay interest on mortgages given by the separate owners, the decree cannot extend to the latter where the holders are not made parties.

Decree making accepters of benefits consent thereto see Wood v. Dubuque, etc., R. Co., 28 Fed. 910.

Where some of the company's property is claimed to be covered by two mortgages, the question thus raised cannot be determined in a foreclosure suit brought by one of the mortgagees, to which the other mortgagee is not a party. Bronson v. La Crosse, etc., R. Co., 2 Black (U. S.) 524, 17 L. ed. 347.

Where several suits ancillary to one another are instituted in the several districts through which a railroad runs and an identical decree is entered in all providing for a unit sale, such suits are to be regarded as distinct and the provisions of the decree as separately applicable to the portions of the road within the several districts, and accordingly parties to the suits cannot represent in one district the rights of lienors upon property lying in another district. Compton v. Jesup, 68 Fed. 263, 15 C. C. A. 397.

24. Joliet Iron, etc., Co. v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 51 Iowa 300, 1 N. W. 761.

25. Cairo, etc., R. Co. v. Cauble, 4 Ill. App. 133; Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 27 Fed. 146.

26. Chicago, etc., Rapid Transit R. Co. v. Northern Trust Co., 90 Ill. App. 460 [affirmed in 195 Ill. 288, 63 N. E. 136]; Columbia Finance, etc., Co. v. Kentucky Union R. Co., 60 Fed. 794, 9 C. C. A. 264, holding that an allowance of four months is not an abuse of such discretion.

27. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Fosdick, 106 U. S. 47, 27 L. ed. 47; Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 27 Fed. 146.

settled and fixed is clear, the court then has no discretion to withhold such restoration and refuse to discharge the receiver.[28]

g. Opening, Vacating, or Modifying.[29] A final decree of foreclosure cannot be vacated by the court of its own motion after the expiration of the term at which it was granted.[30] But it may subsequently amend, modify, or open the decree of sale as to the mode of its execution, the manner of sale, the publication of such sale, the distribution of proceeds arising therefrom, or as to any other matter which does not change its essential parts,[31] provided the application therefor is seasonably made.[32] Where a decree of sale prescribes a limitation within which claims may be presented, the court may, in its discretion, in decreeing a confirmation of the sale, abrogate such limitation.[33]

h. Operation and Effect. The rules governing the operation and effect of foreclosure decrees generally apply to judgments or decrees foreclosing liens and mortgages on railroad property.[34] Thus a decree of foreclosure and sale is a final decree, although further directions may be necessary with reference to its execution,[35]

28. Milwaukee, etc., R. Co. v. Soutter, 2 Wall. (U. S.) 510, 17 L. ed. 900.

29. Opening or vacating judgment of foreclosure of mortgages generally see MORTGAGES, 27 Cyc. 1665 et seq.

Opening and vacating sale see infra, VIII, B, 13, h.

30. Central Trust Co. v. Grant Locomotive Works, 135 U. S. 207, 10 S. Ct. 736, 34 L. ed. 97; Turner v. Indianapolis, etc., R. Co., 24 Fed. Cas. No. 14,259, 3 Biss. 380.

31. Farmers' Loan Co. v. Oregon Pac. R. Co., 28 Oreg. 44, 40 Pac. 1089 (holding that where the original decree for sale directed the property to be sold as an entirety for cash and that so much of the price "as is not required to be paid in cash may be paid in receivers' certificates," a subsequent supplemental order directing a sale to be made for cash in United States gold coin is not an essential modification of the original decree); Carey v. Houston, etc., R. Co., 45 Fed. 438, 52 Fed. 671; Dow v. Memphis, etc., R. Co., 20 Fed. 768 [reversed on other grounds in 124 U. S. 652, 8 S. Ct. 673, 31 L. ed. 565]; Turner v. Indianapolis, etc., R. Co., 24 Fed. Cas. No. 14,250, 8 Biss. 380 (holding that a decree for the sale of a railroad providing that the purchaser shall pay enough money to liquidate certain judgments, etc., may be amended at a subsequent term by providing that the property shall be sold subject to such judgments).

Consent judgment directing sale vacated and defendants allowed to come in and defend see Toronto Gen. Trusts Corp. v. Central Ontario R. Co., 6 Ont. L. Rep. 1, 2 Ont. Wkly. Rep. 259.

32. Duncan v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 88 Fed. 840, 4 Hughes 125 (holding that, where more than a year and a half has elapsed since the entry of a final decree of foreclosure and sale, such decree will not be modified by the court so as to reduce the amount of the cash payment required by such decree on an application made only two days before the date fixed for the sale); Carey v. Houston, etc., R. Co., 45 Fed. 438, 52 Fed. 671.

33. Olcott v. Headrick, 141 U. S. 543, 12 S. Ct. 81, 35 L. ed. 851.

34. Welsh v. First Div. St. Paul, etc., R. Co., 25 Minn. 314, holding that the effect of a judgment in a proceeding to foreclose a mortgage given by a railroad company to trustees to secure an issue of negotiable bonds is to determine the amount of the mortgage debts so as to know how much of a security will be required to satisfy the same. And see, generally, MORTGAGES, 27 Cyc. 1669 et seq.

Effect on lease.— Where railroad mortgage bonds matured ten years before the expiration of a lease executed at the same time the mortgage was executed, and which expressly provided for the execution of the mortgage, the mortgage, although it referred to the lease by way of explanation of the purpose for which the mortgage bonds were issued, was not taken subject to the lease and its foreclosure terminates the lease. Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Schmidt, 52 S. W. 835, 21 Ky. L. Rep. 556. But an unexecuted decree of sale of a portion of a leased railroad for the purpose of satisfying a mortgage made prior to the lease is not such an eviction of the lessee, by paramount title, as to terminate the lease. Pittsburg, etc., R. Co. v. Columbus, etc., R. Co., 19 Fed. Cas. No. 11,197, 8 Biss. 456.

Effect on property without the state.—A decree of sale made by a court of New York in proceedings for the foreclosure of a railroad mortgage brought in accordance with the code of civil procedure of that state and a deed made by a master or commissioner in pursuance of such decree of sale are ineffective to pass title to property in Pennsylvania. Rothschild v. Rochester, etc., R. Co., 1 Pa. Co. Ct. 620.

A final decree, whereby the purchasers at the foreclosure sale are vested with a title free from all liens for receiver's debts, operates to set aside so much of a previous order authorizing the issue of receiver's certificates as made them a paramount lien on the road, and transfers the lien of the certificate, if any, to the proceeds of the sale. Mercantile Trust Co. v. Kanawha, etc., R. Co., 58 Fed. 6, 7 C. C. A. 3.

35. Bronson v. La Crosse, etc., R. Co., 2 Black (U. S.) 524, 17 L. ed. 347.

or although it may permit the subsequent assertion and litigation of claims upon the proceeds of sale.[36] But it does not of itself merge the debt secured by the mortgage or extinguish its lien, although these results follow where the decree is enforced by a valid and regular sale.[37]

13. Sale — a. In General. A foreclosure sale of railroad property is governed by the rules regulating foreclosure sales generally.[38] Thus a sale must be supported by and within the limits and conditi ns prescribed by the decree ordering the sale to be made,[39] and if the officer or master or commissioner in making the sale wrongfully interprets the order of the court, the sale is invalid,[40] even though the court has confirmed the record of the sale, but without its attention being directed to the mistake, or any issue being raised as to what the order really meant.[41] As a general rule the sale should be at public auction.[42] But where the court is fully informed as to the selling value of the property, it may authorize a private sale.[43] Objections based on any substantial irregularity in the proceedings preliminary and leading up to the sale and which are prejudicial to the party objecting should be made to the confirmation of the sale; but questions relating to the validity of the decree cannot ordinarily be raised by objections to the confirmation of the sale.[44]

b. Notice and Appraisement. Due notice of the sale must be given in accordance with the provisions of the decree or statute governing such sales,[45] such as that such notice shall be published in certain newspapers,[46] and shall definitely describe the property to be sold.[47] It is also necessary under some statutes that

36. Central Trust Co. v. Western North Carolina R. Co., 89 Fed. 24. See also New York Guaranty, etc., Co. v. Tacoma R., etc., Co., 83 Fed. 365, 27 C. C. A. 550.

37. Columbus, etc., R. Co.'s Appeal, 109 Fed. 177, 48 C. C. A. 275 (holding, however, the terms of the decree to be inconsistent with the retention of any lien on the property sold for the unpaid purchase-money which could be enforced by the court in a subsequent foreclosure suit); St. Louis Southwestern R. Co. v. Jackson, 95 Fed. 560, 37 C. C. A. 165.

Adjudication of claims.— A finding that the petitioner's claim filed upon a petition of intervention in a foreclosure suit "is a lien on said mortgaged premises so purchased" at the sale, followed by an order for its payment from the fund in court, is merely a matter of inducement to the order for payment, and not an adjudication that the lien on the property still continues. St. Louis Southwestern R. Co. v. Jackson, 95 Fed. 560, 37 C. C. A. 165.

38. See, generally, Mortgages, 27 Cyc. 1680 et seq.

Mortgaged premises must be sold to satisfy the whole debt and not a part thereof; and where a seizing creditor of a railroad company sues for an instalment of a debt, secured by a mortgage, the property mortgaged must be sold for the whole debt on such terms of credit as are granted by the original mortgage. Branner v. Hardy, 18 La. Ann. 537.

39. Milwaukee, etc., R. Co. v. Soutter, 2 Wall. (U. S.) 609, 17 L. ed. 886.

Where the receiver makes a sale under authority of a decree and such sale is confirmed by the court, it is valid, notwithstanding the provisions of a statute stating that "when any property is ordered to be sold by the decree of any Chancery Court . . . such sale shall in all cases be made by the register of the court ordering the same" as such statute is merely directory and not mandatory. Rome, etc., R. Co. v. Sibert, 97 Ala. 393, 12 So. 69, construing Code, § 3600.

40. Milwaukee, etc., R. Co. v. Soutter, 2 Wall. (U. S.) 609, 17 L. ed. 886.

41. Milwaukee, etc., R. Co. v. Soutter, 2 Wall. (U. S.) 609, 17 L. ed. 886.

42. See Bound v. South Carolina R. Co., 46 Fed. 315.

43. Bound v. South Carolina R. Co., 46 Fed. 315, holding further that the opinion of one person not shown to be an expert and who must derive his knowledge from the opinion of others is not sufficient information to justify the court in ordering such a sale.

44. New York Cent. Trust Co. v. Peoria, etc., R. Co., 118 Fed. 30, 55 C. C. A. 52.

45. Trust Co. v. Mauch Chunk, etc., R. Co., 1 Lehigh Co. L. J. (Pa.) 84. And see, generally, Mortgages, 27 Cyc. 1689 et seq.

46. Sage v. Iowa Cent. R. Co., 99 U. S. 334, 25 L. ed. 394, holding that where notice was ordered to be published in a certain newspaper and it was published in another into which the first newspaper was merged but in which its identity remained, its publication was a substantial compliance with the order.

In Illinois, Rev. St. (1874) p. 713, 2 Starr & C. Annot. St. c. 95, § 14, providing that sales of real estate under mortgage shall be, on notice, published in the county or counties where the property is situated and no sale shall be made, except in such county or counties, does not apply to sale of a line of railroad with its equipment, franchises, etc. Craft v. Indiana, etc., R. Co., 166 Ill. 580, 46 N. E. 1132.

47. Milwaukee, etc., R. Co. v. Milwaukee, the property shall be appraised in order to determine its actual value as a preliminary to the sale.[48]

c. Time For Sale. Where it is to the interest of all the parties concerned and the existing conditions otherwise require it, the court may order an immediate sale,[49] although all conflicting rights have not been adjudicated,[50] and even pending foreclosure proceedings.[51] Ordinarily, however, where the rights of the parties have not been established, a sale cannot be ordered without the consent of all the parties,[52] or until the rights of the various parties are fully ascertained and determined.[53] Nor should an immediate sale be ordered where there is a reasonable prospect of payment by a faithful application of the profits of the road.[54] Under some statutes a sale cannot be ordered until after the expiration of a specified time after the decree of foreclosure.[55] The court also has power to order a postponement of the sale on petition of parties in interest, and should do so where any good cause is shown, such as that a sale on the day originally appointed would be unfair or oppressive or would result in material loss.[56] But where the relative priorities of the various classes of creditors entitled to participate in the proceeds of the sale are ascertained, and the conditions are such that an early sale is indispensable, the sale will not be postponed until the interests of the individual creditors have been adjusted and the class to which their demands belong has been ascertained.[57] Nor will a sale be postponed merely because a road is more prosperous than for some time past, where it would take some years of such prosperity to pay the already overdue instalments.[58] It is too late two days before the date fixed for the sale to ask for its postponement without a tender of the debt or what is equivalent to a tender.[59]

d. Nature and Extent of Property Included in Sale. A foreclosure sale includes only the property which the decree ordered to be sold together with the accompanying rights and franchises necessary to its profitable use, and lawfully included etc., R. Co., 20 Wis. 174, 88 Am. Dec. 740, holding that the description should be so definite that purchasers may know what they are purchasing.

48. Southwestern Arkansas, etc., R. Co. v. Hays, 63 Ark. 355, 38 S. W. 665 (holding that a statute requiring an appraisement of the property before sale under powers contained in mortgage and trust deeds does not apply to a sale under a decree of foreclosure); Coe v. Columbus, etc., R. Co., 10 Ohio St. 372, 75 Am. Dec. 518 (as to real property); Columbia Finance, etc., Co. v. Kentucky Union R. Co., 60 Fed. 794, 9 C. C. A. 264. And see, generally, MORTGAGES, 27 Cyc. 1684 et seq.

49. Bound v. South Carolina R. Co., 50 Fed. 853, holding that where most of the lien-holders of a railroad are urging a sale and it appears that, in spite of the exercise of ability and great economy by the receiver during the past three years, no interest has been paid on any of the securities for a year, the property will be ordered sold, although the sale is opposed by one class of bondholders.

50. Cleveland First Nat. Bank v. Shedd, 121 U. S. 74, 7 S. Ct. 807, 30 L. ed. 877 (holding this to be true where the railroad was depreciating while in the hands of the court and the adjustment of conflicting rights could take place as well after as before the sale); Bound v. South Carolina R. Co., 50 Fed. 853; Turner v. Indianapolis, etc., R. Co., 24 Fed. Cas. No. 14,259, 8 Biss. 380 (holding that a railroad may be sold subject to claims against it as finally adjudicated where the amount depends upon a long course of litigation).

51. Middleton v. New Jersey, etc., R. Co., 26 N. J. Eq. 269 [reversed on the facts in 27 N. J. Eq. 557].

52. Bound v. South Carolina R. Co., 46 Fed. 315.

53. Pennsylvania R. Co. v. Allegheny Valley R. Co., 42 Fed. 82.

54. Coe v. Pennock, 5 Fed. Cas. No. 2,942 [affirmed in 23 How. 117, 16 L. ed. 436].

55. Benedict v. St. Joseph, etc., R. Co., 19 Fed. 173, holding also that Kan. Comp. Laws, § 3983, providing that no order for the sale of railroad property mortgaged with a waiver of appraisement can be ordered by the court until the expiration of six months after the decree of foreclosure, is binding on the federal courts.

56. U. S., etc., Trust Co. v. Young, (Tex. Civ. App. 1907) 101 S. W. 1045, holding that where property of a railroad company in the hands of a receiver was ordered sold under a foreclosure judgment and a part of it was in litigation, which necessarily depreciated its value and would have lessened the amount of the bid at the sale, the court was justified in postponing the sale until the litigation was settled.

57. Hand v. Savannah, etc., R. Co., 13 S. C. 467.

58. Duncan v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 88 Fed. 840, 4 Hughes 125.

59. Duncan v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 88 Fed. 840, 4 Hughes 125.

in the mortgage and sale,[60] and a sale of more property than is authorized by the decree to be sold is invalid.[61] As a general rule the railroad cannot be cut into fragments and separate portions sold at different sales, but a sale under a decree of sale of the road and all property rights and franchises must be as an entirety,[62] although the road runs through several counties or states.[63] Where, however, the property is susceptible of division, the court may order it to be sold separately.[64] The purchaser, however, takes his title subject to all prior rights or liens of which he had or ought to have had notice and which are not cut off by 60. Randolph v. Wilmington, etc., R. Co., 11 Phila. (Pa.) 502. See also Westinghouse Electric, etc., Co. v. New Paltz, etc., Traction Co., 32 Misc. (N. Y.) 132, 65 N. Y. Suppl. 644.

Where the decree directs a sale of the road, the franchises of the company, right of way, depots, rolling stock, tools, and all other property of the company, real, personal, and mixed, the purchaser at such sale is not entitled to the money, the surplus earnings of the road, in the hands of the receiver, but is entitled to all cars, engines, and other property placed on the road by the receiver in the discharge of his duty to carry on the business of the road and keep it in repair. Strang v. Montgomery, etc., R. Co., 23 Fed. Cas. No. 13,523, 3 Woods 613.

61. Milwaukee, etc., R. Co. v. Soutter, 2 Wall. (U. S.) 609, 17 L. ed. 886, holding that where the marshal sold more of the property than he was ordered to sell, a confirmation of the sale did not validate the sale of the property improperly included, especially where the court afterward ordered that the property set forth in the decree be delivered to the purchaser, the presumption being that the court was not aware of the fact that the marshal had sold property not mentioned in the order of sale.

62. Macon, etc., R. Co. v. Parker, 9 Ga. 377; Connor v. Tennessee Cent. R. Co., 109 Fed. 931, 48 C. C. A. 730, 54 L. R. A. 687; Knevals v. Florida Cent., etc., R. Co., 66 Fed. 224, 13 C. C. A. 410; Wilmer v. Atlanta, etc., R. Co., 30 Fed. Cas. No. 17,776, 2 Woods 447. And see supra, VIII, A, 13. Compare Central Ontario R. Co. v. Trusts, etc., Co., [1905] A. C. 576, 74 L. J. P. C. 116, 93 L. T. Rep. N. S. 317, 21 T. L. R. 732, 4 Can. R. Cas. 340 [affirming 4 Can R. Cas. 328, 8 Ont. L. Rep. 342, 3 Ont. Wkly. Rep. 910 (affirming 2 Can. R. Cas. 274, 6 Ont. L. Rep. 1, 2 Ont. Wkly. Rep. 259)].

Where a single mortgage to secure three series of bonds each of which constitute a first lien upon one of the three divisions of a road and a second lien upon the other two is foreclosed in equity, the three divisions should not be sold separately, nor should the property be offered both in separate divisions and as an entirety, and the most advantageous bid accepted; but the entire property should be sold as an entirety and the proceeds apportioned among the bondholders of the three classes according to the relative value of the three divisions. Low v. Blackford, 87 Fed. 392, 31 C. C. A. 15 [affirming 82 Fed. 344].

Where two mortgages are given, one on the western section of the road and afterward one on its eastern section, both mortgages covering the rolling stock used on the entire line embracing both sections and both are foreclosed, the rolling stock belongs to the company which purchased under the senior mortgage. Minnesota Co v. St. Paul Co., 6 Wall. (U. S.) 742, 18 L. ed. 856.

Ark. Const. art. 17, § 11, which provides that the rolling stock of a railroad company shall be personal property and liable to execution and sale like personal property of individuals does not prohibit a sale as an entirety of railroad property including rolling stock, where it does not prejudice the interests of any one. Southwestern Arkansas, etc., R. Co. v. Hays, 63 Ark. 355, 38 S. W. 665.

63. Macon, etc., R. Co. v. Parker, 9 Ga. 377; Hand v. Savannah, etc., R. Co., 12 S. C. 314, holding that where a part of the railroad is in one state and part in another, a court of the first state in ordering the foreclosure sale should order a sale of the entire road, so much thereof as lay in the second state being subject to the liens existing in that state.

Mo. Rev. St. (1889) c. 102, art. 4, requiring that under the special fieri facias authorized thereby to satisfy a lien against a railroad for labor "the writ shall be returnable as in ordinary executions, and the advertisement, sale and conveyance of real estate under the same shall be made as under ordinary execution" does not preclude the sale of a railroad as a whole on which a lien exists, because it is not within the limits of a single county, since the method thus adopted is not beyond the purpose of the fieri facias to satisfy the lien from a sale of the road as a whole. Bethune v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co., 149 Mo. 587, 51 S. W. 465.

64. Southwestern Arkansas, etc., R. Co. v. Hays, 63 Ark. 355, 38 S. W. 665 (holding that the refusal of the chancellor, in a suit to foreclose a mortgage of the road-bed and rolling stock of a railroad company, to order the road-bed and rolling stock to be sold as an entirety, as requested by the mortgagor, is not error where it does not appear that all of the rolling stock is needed for the operation of the road, and where it was left to the commissioner's discretion to sell the property as an entirety or separately, as he might deem most expedient); Bardstown, etc., R. Co. v. Metcalfe, 4 Metc. (Ky.) 199, 81 Am. Dec. 541.

A decree which directs the commissioner to sell "all of said property" will not be held to require a sale of the road-bed and rolling stock separately merely because the the foreclosure proceedings.[65] In some jurisdictions, although the mortgage treats the property as an entirety, yet as respects the remedy, it is to be severed and the realty and personalty is sold according to the rules relating to the disposition of property so situated.[66]

e. Price and Terms of Sale.[67] A wide discretion as to the details and terms of sale in view of the nature of the property may be exercised in the foreclosure of a mortgage of all the real estate, fixtures, and franchise right of operation of a railroad.[68] Ordinarily the officer making the sale has no authority to sell on credit, particularly where the decree directs a sale for cash.[69] It is competent to require an immediate deposit by the purchaser of a reasonable part of his bid.[70]

f. Persons Entitled to Purchase. Who may become the purchasers at a foreclosure sale may be expressly provided for by the mortgage itself,[71] or by statute,[72] but as a general rule one who occupies a position of trust or confidence toward the mortgagor company, such as would make it inequitable for him to acquire the title for himself, cannot become a purchaser.[73] Thus a director of a company being a fiduciary cannot purchase the property of the company at a judicial sale without the consent of the company or permission of the chancellor who decreed the sale,[74] and where the purchase is made by such a person, the company is entitled to a surrender of the road on placing the purchaser in statu quo.[75] So where all persons have an opportunity to bid, the fact that the road is purchased by the president of the company in his individual right will not in itself raise a trust relation between him and a holder of the bonds of the company which will entitle the latter to treat him as a trustee of the property so purchased.[76] It has been held that a purchase by a mortgage trustee is voidable, although not absolutely void;[77] but junior mortgage creditors can only avoid such sale by tender-court refused to specifically direct that they be sold together as an entirety. Southwestern Arkansas, etc., R. Co. v. Hays, 63 Ark. 355, 38 S. W. 665.

65. Western Union Tel. Co. v. Burlington, etc., R. Co., 11 Fed. 1, 3 McCrary 130.

66. Coe v. Columbus, etc., R. Co., 10 Ohio St. 372, 75 Am. Dec. 518.

67. Terms and conditions of foreclosure sales generally see MORTGAGES, 27 Cyc. 1699.

68. Coe v. Columbus, etc., R. Co., 10 Ohio St. 372, 75 Am. Dec. 518; Rutland R. Co. v. Beique, 37 Can. Sup. Ct. 303 [affirming 10 Can. Exch. 139].

The holders of preferred stock, constituting a lien on the corporate property and earnings second only to the first mortgage, may not use the stock to make up the amount of their bid on foreclosure sale of the property, after paying adjudicated claims of creditors, as this would, in effect, be dividing the property of the corporation among them to the prejudice of any creditors not parties to the suit. Continental Trust Co. v. Toledo, etc., R. Co., 86 Fed. 929.

69. Pindle v. Pennsylvania, etc., R. Co., 1 Lehigh Val. L. Rep. (Pa.) 201.

70. Hand v. Savannah, etc., R. Co., 13 S. C. 467.

Right of bidder to return of deposit see Feike v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 3 Ohio Cir. Ct. 72, 2 Ohio Cir. Dec. 41.

71. Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Iowa Cent. R. Co., 8 Fed. Cas. No. 4,664, 4 Dill. 546, holding that where a deed of trust of railroad property provides that on foreclosure the property may be sold and conveyed by the trustee to such person or company as the holders of a majority of the outstanding bonds may, in writing, request or direct, the court will not direct the trustee to convey the property to the company named in the absence of evidence that such company has been designated as the company to whom the property shall be transferred.

72. Boston, etc., R. Co. v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 65 N. H. 393, 23 Atl. 529 (holding that under Laws (1881), c. 232, relating to the foreclosure sale of the Manchester and Keene railroad and authorizing "any railroad company" to purchase it, the purchase by the Boston and Lowell Railroad Company was legal); Rothchild v. Memphis, etc., R. Co., 113 Fed. 476, 51 C. C. A. 310 (construing Tenn. Acts (1881), c. 82).

73. Pacific R. Co. v. Ketchum, 101 U. S. 289, 25 L. ed. 932.

A purchase by a solicitor of a railroad company in a foreclosure sale is not of itself necessarily invalid, but it will be closely scrutinized and until impeached must stand. Pacific R. Co. v. Ketchum, 101 U. S. 289, 25 L. ed. 932.

74. Covington, etc., R. Co. v. Bowler, 9 Bush (Ky.) 468.

75. Covington, etc., R. Co. v. Bowler, 9 Bush (Ky.) 468.

76. London Credit Co. v. Arkansas Cent. R. Co., 15 Fed. 46, 5 McCrary 23.

77. Kitchen v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 69 Mo. 224; Cunningham v. Macon, etc., R. Co., 156 U. S. 400, 15 S. Ct. 361, 39 L. ed. 471.

A purchase by the trustee gives the railroad company the right to redeem provided

ing reimbursement.[78] A junior encumbrancer may become the purchaser.[79] Under some statutes the purchaser must be one capable not only of owning the property, but also of exercising the rights and powers and of assuming the duties incident to such ownership.[80]

g. Persons Entitled to Question Validity. As a general rule every person whose rights are injuriously affected by a decree of foreclosure and a sale under it has a right to move to set aside the sale, although he was not a party to the action.[81] Such objection may be made by the mortgagor company,[82] or by bondholders,[83] or stock-holders.[84] But a party who otherwise would be entitled to raise objections to the validity or irregularity of foreclosure and sale may be prevented from doing so on principles of estoppel, as where he fails to interpose his objections by a proper proceeding and at a proper time,[85] or where he participates in the sale or bids.[86]

h. Opening and Vacating Sale and Resale.[87] A court of equity may vacate or set aside a foreclosure sale which is shown to be tainted with fraud or deceit,[88] the company exercises the right within a reasonable time and before new equities have intervened. Kitchen v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 69 Mo. 224.

78. Cunningham v. Macon, etc., R. Co., 156 U. S. 400, 15 S. Ct. 361, 39 L. ed. 471.

79. Nova Scotia Cent. R. Co. v. Halifax Banking Co., 21 Can. Sup. Ct. 536.

80. Texas Southern R. Co. v. Harle, (Tex. 1907) 105 S. W. 1107 [reversing (Civ. App. 1907) 101 S. W. 878], holding this to be true under Rev. St. (1895) art. 4559, which provides that the purchaser or purchasers of the entire road-bed, track, franchise, and chartered rights of a railroad company on execution or judicial sale, etc., and their associates, may exercise all powers and franchises granted to the company by its charter and the general laws and shall be deemed to be the true owners of the charter and corporators thereunder and shall have power to construct and work the road upon the same terms imposed by the charter and general laws.

The purchaser may have "associates" under such statute, and they may be other than those who made the purchase. Texas Southern R. Co. v. Harle, (Tex. 1907) 105 S. W. 1107 [reversing (Civ. App. 1907) 101 S. W. 878].

Where a married woman purchases a railroad at judicial sale under Rev. St. (1895) § 4549, even if she is under disability by reason of her coverture to assume the responsibilities of a purchaser as to the control and management of the property, yet there is no objection to a suitable person taking title in his name and undertaking the responsibilities of a purchaser and at the same time acting as her trustee so far as to give her the returns from operating the property, and this equitable interest she and her husband have power in spite of the coverture to exchange for stock in a company organized to take over the road. Texas Southern R. Co. v. Harle, (Tex. 1907) 105 S. W. 1107 [reversing (Civ. App. 1907) 101 S. W. 878].

81. Wenger v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 114 Fed. 34, 51 C. C. A. 660. And see, generally, MORTGAGES, 27 Cyc. 1710 et seq.

82. Delaware, etc., R. Co. v. Scranton, 34 N. J. Eq. 429; Youngman v. Elmira, etc., R. Co., 65 Pa. St. 278.

83. Youngman v. Elmira, etc., R. Co., 65 Pa. St. 278.

84. Rothschild v. Rochester, etc., R. Co., 1 Pa. Co. Ct. 620.

A shareholder who has accepted and disposed of bonds of the company illegally issued, while precluded from questioning the validity of the bonds and mortgage securing the same, is not barred of his right as a stock-holder to assert want of title in the purchaser of the corporate property under foreclosure of a mortgage. Rothschild v. Rochester, etc., R. Co., 1 Pa. Co. Ct. 620.

85. Racine, etc., R. Co. v. Farmers' L. & T. Co., 86 Ill. 187; Crouch v. Dakota, etc., R. Co., 13 S. D. 540, 101 N. W. 722; Union Trust Co. v. Illinois Midland R. Co., 117 U. S. 434, 6 S. Ct. 809, 29 L. ed. 963.

86. Blanks v. Farmers' L. & T. Co., 122 Fed. 849, 59 C. C. A. 59. Compare Chapman v. Pittsburg, etc., R. Co., 26 W. Va. 299.

87. Opening or setting aside foreclosure sales generally see MORTGAGES, 27 Cyc. 1710 et seq.

88. Kurtz v. Philadelphia, etc., R. Co., 187 Pa. St. 59, 40 Atl. 988; McKittrick v. Arkansas Cent. R. Co., 152 U. S. 473, 14 S. Ct. 661, 38 L. ed. 518; Leavenworth County v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 134 U. S. 688, 10 S. Ct. 708, 33 L. ed. 1064 [affirming 25 Fed. 219]; James v. Milwaukee, etc., R. Co., 6 Wall. (U. S.) 752, 18 L. ed. 885, fraudulent notice of sale held sufficient to vitiate sale.

A sale to a committee of reorganization by whose plan the stock-holders of a mortgagor appear to obtain some benefit in the purchasing company is open to the closest scrutiny where general creditors of the mortgagor are left unprovided for; but where the foreclosure is instituted and carried on in the ordinary course for the honest purpose only of enforcing rights of bondholders, the mere fact that the stock-holders of the old company may, under a purchasing arrangement, be given some interest in the securities of the new in exchange for their stock, while it may be indicative of fraud, does not render the

as where the purchase has been made in pursuance of a corrupt scheme to gain possession of the railroad property inequitably;[89] or where the sale has been made for such a grossly inadequate consideration as to raise a presumption of fraud and unfair dealing.[90] A sale may also be set aside at the instance of the party injured on the ground of mistake or surprise.[91] But generally a motion to vacate cannot be based on grounds of objection which were or might have been set up in defense to the foreclosure suit or against the confirmation of the sale.[92] Nor will a sale be set aside for any defects or irregularities which do not invalidate the title of the purchaser or work substantial or real injury to the rights of any party in interest.[93] In ordering the sale to be set aside, the court should also make such orders as may be necessary to place the parties in the position they occupied before the sale, and to protect intervening parties.[94] Where a lienor is entitled to be paid his lien out of the proceeds of such sale and his claim is not paid within a reasonable time out of such proceeds, a resale of the property may be ordered.[95] But a resale will not be ordered on an offer of a larger bid without the support of some special circumstances in aid of it, particularly where it appears that the expenses of a resale would be large and the creditors would receive only a small additional sum and that the purchaser desires to immediately equip and operate the railroad and that the public interest requires that the operation should be begun as soon as possible.[96]

i. Operation and Effect. A sale under a decree of foreclosure of all the property and franchises of a railroad company and a conveyance of such property and franchises to the purchaser as directed by the court operates to divest the company of all its right, title, and interest therein and leaves to it only its franchise to exist as a corporation.[97] Thereafter the company cannot by any act or negligence of its own subject the property so sold or the franchises of the company to exercise the rights, powers, and privileges of a railroad company sale fraudulent per se, and a general creditor of the old company cannot successfully attack such sale without showing actual fraud and that the property of such company has, by reason of such fraud, been placed beyond his reach on execution. Wenger v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 114 Fed. 34, 51 C. C. A. 660.

89. Price v. Utah, etc., R. Co., 4 Utah 72, 6 Pac. 528; James v. Milwaukee, etc., R. Co., 6 Wall. (U. S.) 752, 18 L. ed. 885.

90. Wesson v. Chapman, 76 Hun (N. Y.) 592, 28 N. Y. Suppl. 192; Price v. Utah, etc., R. Co., 4 Utah 72, 6 Pac. 528. See Meyer v. Utah, etc., R. Co., 3 Utah 280, 3 Pac. 393.

Mere inadequacy of price which is not sufficient to show that the sale was not the result of fair dealing is not a sufficient ground for setting aside the sale. Turner v. Indianapolis, etc., R. Co., 24 Fed. Cas. No. 14,259, 8 Biss. 380. But the inadequacy must be so gross as to shock the conscience and show that it is not the result of fair dealings or an honest price. Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Oregon Pac. R. Co., 28 Oreg. 44, 40 Pac. 1089; Turner v. Indianapolis, etc., R. Co., 24 Fed. Cas. No. 14,259, 8 Biss. 380.

Where parties desire to have the sale set aside for inadequacy of the bid, they must show that some person, who is responsible, will make an advance bid. Turner v. Indianapolis, etc., R. Co., 24 Fed. Cas. No. 14,259, 8 Biss. 380.

91. Peck v. New Jersey, etc., R. Co., 22 Hun (N. Y.) 129 [affirmed in 85 N. Y. 246].

92. Delaware, etc., R. Co. v. Scranton, 34 N. J. Eq. 429; Meyer v. Utah, etc., R. Co., 3 Utah 280, 3 Pac. 393; Robinson v. Iron R. Co., 135 U. S. 522, 10 S. Ct. 907, 34 L. ed. 276.

93. Walker v. Montpelier, etc., R. Co., 30 N. J. Eq. 525.

94. James v. Milwaukee, etc., R. Co., 6 Wall. (U. S.) 752, 18 L. ed. 885.

95. Compton v. Jesup, 167 U. S. 1, 17 S. Ct. 795, 42 L. ed. 55, 68 Fed. 263, 15 C. C. A. 397; Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Newman, 127 U. S. 649, 8 S. Ct. 1364, 32 L. ed. 303.

Where the purchaser refuses to apply the surplus of such sale to the payment pro rata of all matured coupons or bonds of the same grade as the one upon which the seizure and sale is made, which are presented and demanded, it is the duty of the sheriff to reoffer the property for sale. Branner v. Hardy, 18 La. Ann. 537.

Where a railroad's right to redeem from a sale of foreclosure has become barred, the holders of outstanding liens who had not been made parties to the first proceeding are not entitled to another sale of the property but are only entitled to a decree allowing them a reasonable time to redeem. Crouch v. Dakota, etc., R. Co., 18 S. D. 540, 101 N. W. 722.

96. Wesson v. Chapman, 76 Hun (N. Y.) 592, 28 N. Y. Suppl. 192.

97. Sodus Bay, etc., R. Co. v. Lapham, 43 Hun (N. Y.) 314, 6 N. Y. St. 159; New in connection therewith to any liability.[98] Such sale vests the purchaser with the entire title of the railroad company, not only to the physical property sold but also to the franchises to operate the same as a railroad.[99]

14. Rights and Liabilities of Purchasers — a. Corporate Capacity, Franchises, and Powers of Original Company. Unless authorized by statute,[1] a purchaser at a foreclosure sale under a mortgage of the franchises and property of a railroad company does not, by virtue of his purchase, acquire the franchise of the company to exist as a corporation;[2] but such purchase and transfer confers a right to reorganize as a new corporation subject to the laws existing at the time of the reorganization,[3] and as such to have possession of the property,[4] and to succeed to all the rights and privileges of the old company appurtenant to the maintenance and operation of the road,[5] such as the right to maintain and operate the road,[6] and receive the rents and profits, except such as accrued before the purchaser became invested with the title and right of possession;[7] nor is the purchaser entitled to the earnings of the road after confirmation of a sale if he persistently delays compliance with his bid and has not paid the purchase-money.[8] But in the absence of express direction in the statute to that effect, or of an equivalent implication by necessary construction, a special statutory exemption or privilege granted to a railroad company,[9] such as immunity from taxation,[10] or

York Cent. Trust Co. v. Western North Carolina R. Co., 112 Fed. 471.

The title of a subsequent purchaser from the company of its lands is destroyed by a sale of them under the mortgage. Wilson v. Boyce, 92 U. S. 320, 23 L. ed. 608.

98. New York Cent. Trust Co. v. Western North Carolina R. Co., 112 Fed. 471.

99. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Fosdick, 106 U. S. 47, 1 S. Ct. 10, 27 L. ed. 47; Gunnison v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 117 Fed. 629.

1. See Vicksburg, etc., R. Co. v. Elmore, 46 La. Ann. 1237, 15 So. 701 (under Act 38, 1877); First Div. St. Paul, etc., R. Co. v. Parcher, 14 Minn. 297 [construing Laws Ex. Sess. (1857) c. 1, and amendment to constitution, art. 9, § 10, adopted April 15, 1858].

Under Tex. Rev. St. § 4260, the purchasers at a judicial sale of a railroad corporation succeed to all its rights, powers, and privileges and may continue business in its name, no change of name being required or notice to be given, and in its dealings with strangers it need not show by what authority it claims its succession. Acres v. Moyne, 59 Tex. 623.

2. Bruffett v. Great Western R. Co., 25 Ill. 353; Atkinson v. Marietta, etc., R. Co., 15 Ohio St. 21; Norfolk, etc., R. Co. v. Pendleton, 156 U. S. 667, 15 S. Ct. 413, 39 L. ed. 574 [affirming 86 Va. 1004, 11 S. E. 1062, 88 Va. 350, 13 S. E. 709]; Memphis, etc., R. Co. v. Berry Com'rs, 112 U. S. 609, 5 S. Ct. 299, 28 L. ed. 837.

3. Dow v. Beidelman, 49 Ark. 325, 5 S. W. 297 (under Const. art. 17, § 10); Norfolk, etc., R. Co. v. Pendleton, 156 U. S. 667, 15 S. Ct. 413, 39 L. ed. 574 [affirming 86 Va. 1004, 11 S. E. 1062, 88 Va. 350, 13 S. E. 709].

4. Central Trust Co. v. Western North Carolina R. Co., 89 Fed. 24, holding that the fact that the purchaser of a North Carolina railroad at foreclosure sale is a Virginia corporation is not an objection that any private person can urge against the purchasers in possession of the property.

5. Com. v. Central Pass. R. Co., 52 Pa. St. 506; Miller v. Rutland, etc., R. Co., 36 Vt. 452; Connor v. Tennessee Cent. R. Co., 109 Fed. 931, 48 C. C. A. 730, 54 L. R. A. 687.

6. Memphis, etc., R. Co. v. Berry, 112 U. S. 609, 5 S. Ct. 299, 28 L. ed. 837.

Although natural persons cannot exercise the franchises conferred by a state on railroads where they bid in the property of such railroads, they may hold it including the franchises and transmit it intact to a corporation authorized to exercise the franchises. Parker v. Elmira, etc., R. Co., 165 N. Y. 274, 59 N. E. 81 [affirming 27 N. Y. App. Div. 383, 49 N. Y. Suppl. 1127].

Motive power.— The fact that the lessee of a railroad surrendered its rights for the purpose of enabling the lessor company to accept the benefits of a statute, conditioned that steam should not be used as a motive power on the road, does not preclude the lessee company, after purchasing the road at a foreclosure sale, from operating it with steam. People v. Long Island R. Co., 60 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 395.

7. Downs v. Farmers' L. & T. Co., 79 Fed. 215, 24 C. C. A. 500.

8. Boyle v. Farmers' L. & T. Co., 88 Fed. 930, 32 C. C. A. 142.

9. Dow v. Beidelman, 49 Ark. 325, 5 S. W. 297; Little Rock, etc., R. Co. v. McGehee, 41 Ark. 202; St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Gill, 156 U. S. 649, 15 S. Ct. 484, 39 L. ed. 567; Flint, etc., R. Co. v. U. S., 112 U. S. 737, 5 S. Ct. 368, 28 L. ed. 862; St. Paul, etc., R. Co. v. U. S., 112 U. S. 733, 5 S. Ct. 366, 28 L. ed. 861.

10. Norfolk, etc., R. Co. v. Pendleton, 156 U. S. 667, 15 S. Ct. 413, 39 L. ed. 574 [affirming 86 Va. 1004, 11 S. E. 1062, 88 Va. 350, 13 S. E. 709]; St. Louis, etc., R. Co.

a right to fix and determine rates of fare,[11] does not accompany the property in its transfer to a purchaser under foreclosure.

b. Grantees or Successors of Purchasers. A grantee or successor of such purchaser is entitled to all the rights of the original purchaser,[12] and is also charged with infirmities of title arising from illegality in the sale, and with claims or equities which would have been available against the original purchaser,[13] except in so far as he is entitled to protection in the character of a purchaser in good faith without notice,[14] or except in so far as the duty or liability is incurred or imposed upon the original purchasers personally.[15]

c. Construction, Maintenance, and Operation. A purchaser of a railroad under foreclosure is also bound to perform the duties to the public which are coupled with the enjoyment of the corporate privileges and which the original company owed to the public,[16] such as the duty of properly constructing, repairing, equipping, and operating the road.[17] But a purchaser's duty to construct is

v. Gill, 156 U. S. 649, 15 S. Ct. 484, 39 L. ed. 567; Memphis, etc., R. Co. v. Berry, 112 U. S. 609, 5 S. Ct. 299, 28 L. ed. 837. And see, generally, TAXATION. But see Atlantic, etc., R. Co. v. Allen, 15 Fla. 637.

11. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Gill, 156 U. S. 649, 15 S. Ct. 484, 39 L. ed. 567; Matthews v. North Carolina Corp. Com'rs, 97 Fed. 400. But compare Railroad Com'r v. Grand Rapids, etc., R. Co., 130 Mich. 248, 89 N. W. 967 (construing 2 Comp. Laws (1897), § 6224); Parker v. Elmira, etc., R. Co., 165 N. Y. 274, 59 N. E. 81 [affirming 27 N. Y. App. Div. 383, 49 N. Y. Suppl. 1127]; Grand Rapids, etc., R. Co. v. Osborn, 193 U. S. 17, 24 S. Ct. 310, 48 L. ed. 598 (holding that purchasers of a railroad, not having any right to demand to be incorporated under the laws of a state, but voluntarily accepting the privileges and benefits of an incorporation law, are bound by the provisions of existing laws regulating rates of fare and are, as well as the corporation formed, estopped from repudiating the burdens attached by the statute to the privilege of becoming a corporation); Ball v. Rutland R. Co., 93 Fed. 513.

12. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Towle, 10 Ind. App. 540, 37 N. E. 358 (defendant held not bound by a traffic contract disclaimed by the original purchaser); Pittsburg, etc., R. Co. v. Bosworth, 46 Ohio St. 81, 18 N. E. 533, 2 L. R. A. 199 [affirming 1 Ohio Cir. Ct. 69, 1 Ohio Cir. Dec. 42] (holding that where a contract made by a landowner to a railroad company granted to the latter a right of way over his land for a certain specified consideration, the landowner agreeing to erect and maintain fences, the lessee of the railroad which had succeeded to the rights of the former company by purchase at foreclosure sale is entitled to the benefit of the grant of the right of way).

Under Tenn. Laws (1881), c. 9, as amended by Laws (1887), c. 198, and Laws (1891), c. 61, and under Laws (1877), c. 12, § 2, c. 20, a railroad corporation of another state which had been recognized by an act of the Tennessee legislature and which had become the purchaser of lines of railroads in the state formerly owned by Tennessee companies, from one who acquired title thereto through foreclosure sales, became vested by virtue of such statutes with all the powers with reference thereto possessed by the mortgagor companies, including the power to lease such lines to any corporation competent under the laws of the state to become the lessee thereof. Rogers v. Nashville, etc., R. Co., 91 Fed. 299, 33 C. C. A. 517.

13. State v. Iowa Cent. R. Co., 83 Iowa 720, 50 N. W. 280; Vilas v. Page, 106 N. Y. 439, 13 N. E. 743; Frazier v. East Tennessee, etc., R. Co., 88 Tenn. 138, 12 S. W. 537; Florida v. Anderson, 91 U. S. 667, 23 L. ed. 290.

14. Vilas v. Page, 106 N. Y. 439, 13 N. E. 743; Frazier v. East Tennessee, etc., R. Co., 88 Tenn. 138, 12 S. W. 537.

Where the purchaser is a representative of a mortgage bondholder, his conveyance by a quitclaim deed to several different corporations afterward consolidated does not constitute the consolidation corporation a bona fide purchaser without notice, the consideration paid being expressed to be the capital stock of the new company, the old bondholders thus becoming stock-holders of the new corporation; and bondholders under a mortgage executed by the new corporation being notified by the recitals of the mortgage take their bonds subject to the purchase-money lien. Continental Trust Co. v. American Surety Co., 80 Fed. 180, 25 C. C. A. 364.

15. Holland v. Lee, 71 Md. 338, 18 Atl. 661, holding certain bonds to be the individual obligations of the signers, the original purchasers of the road.

16. New York, etc., R. Co. v. State, 50 N. J. L. 303, 13 Atl. 1 [affirmed in 53 N. J. L. 244, 23 Atl. 168].

That the purchaser has leased a part of the road required to be operated by the decree of foreclosure, to another company, and that such portion is being operated in connection with the line of the lessor company, does not excuse the purchaser from its liability under a decree requiring it to operate such portion of the line. State v. Iowa Cent. R. Co., 83 Iowa 720, 50 N. W. 280.

17. State v. Jack, 145 Fed. 281, 76 C. C. A. 165 [affirming 113 Fed. 823], holding, however, that the purchasers were not bound sevlimited to the portion mortgaged and purchased by him; and where the old company has completed only a part of its road and this part is mortgaged and sold, the purchaser is not bound to complete the whole road.[18]

d. Injuries. A purchaser at a foreclosure sale is not liable for injuries occurring while the road was in possession of the old company or a receiver,[19] except where the decree of foreclosure and sale requires the purchaser to assume such liability,[20] and except where the acts causing the injury are done by the receiver as the purchaser's agent.[21] But a purchaser will be liable for damages due to the continuance by it of a nuisance created by the mortgagor company or receiver, of which such purchaser had notice.[22]

e. Contracts in General. The purchaser at a foreclosure sale is also not bound by contracts made by the mortgagor company, whether such contracts are leases, eral years after the railroad had been dismantled to replace the same in the same condition it was when dismantled in order that the road could be operated by others as a public highway.

The duty of building and keeping in repair bridges across highways which was imposed on the railroad company by its charter devolves upon a new corporation which purchased the franchises and property of the old corporation at a sale under a decree of foreclosure and which organized itself under N. Y. Revision, p. 916, § 56. New York, etc., R. Co. v. State, 50 N. J. L. 303, 13 Atl. 1 [affirmed in 53 N. J. L. 244, 23 Atl. 168]; Montclair Tp. v. New York, etc., R. Co., 45 N. J. Eq. 436, 18 Atl. 242.

A railway company is bound to construct its road to and from the several points named in its charter, and, when built, to run its trains over its entire line, in such a manner as to afford reasonable facilities for the prompt and efficient transaction of such legitimate business as may be offered to it on any and every part of its road; and this obligation is equally binding on its successors. No part of the road can be abandoned without rendering its franchises liable to forfeiture. People v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 120 Ill. 48, 10 N. E. 657.

18. Chartiers R. Co. v. Hodgens, 85 Pa. St. 501.

19. Georgia.— Seaboard Air-Line R. Co. v. Knickerbocker Trust Co., 125 Ga. 463, 54 S. E. 138.

Indian Territory.— Atchison, etc., R. Co. v. Young, 3 Indian Terr. 60, 53 S. W. 481.

Iowa.— White v. Keokuk, etc., R. Co., 52 Iowa 97, 2 N. W. 1016.

Missouri.— George v. Wabash Western R. Co., 40 Mo. App. 433.

New York.— Metz v. Buffalo, etc., R. Co., 58 N. Y. 61, 17 Am. Rep. 201.

South Carolina.— Hammond v. Port Royal, etc., R. Co., 15 S. C. 10.

Texas.— Houston Electric St. R. Co. v. Bell, (Civ. App. 1897) 42 S. W. 772; Holman v. Galveston, etc., R. Co., 14 Tex. Civ. App. 499, 37 S. W. 464.

Injuries from operation generally see infra, X, C, 3, c, (II).

Liability for injuries as to purchasers under sales other than foreclosure sales see supra, VII, B, 4.

N. C. Code, § 1255, making liens for judgments for torts superior to mortgages of incorporated companies, does not render property purchased at a foreclosure sale of a railroad company liable for the satisfaction of a judgment recovered on a tort alleged to have been committed by the mortgagor after the sale. Julian v. Central Trust Co., 193 U. S. 93, 24 S. Ct. 399, 48 L. ed. 629 [affirming 115 Fed. 956, 53 C. C. A. 438].

20. Brown v. Wabash R. Co., 96 Ill. 297; Sloan v. Iowa Cent. R. Co., 62 Iowa 728, 16 N. W. 331; Atchison, etc., R. Co. v. Cunningham, 59 Kan. 722, 54 Pac. 1055 (holding that where the terms of the decree of the United States court directing a sale of a railroad required the purchasers as a part consideration to pay all liabilities incurred by the receivers before delivery of possession of the property, one who sustained injuries while the railroad was operated by the receiver may maintain an action against the purchasers in the state court and is not required to resort to the court which entered the decree); Central Trust Co. v. Denver, etc., R. Co., 97 Fed. 239, 38 C. C. A. 143; Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Central R. Co., 17 Fed. 758, 5 McCrary 421; Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Central R. Co., 7 Fed. 537, 2 McCrary 181.

Under a decree that any purchaser shall take subject to all unpaid claims of landowners for damages for property taken, injured, or destroyed in the construction of the railroad, a purchaser is not liable upon a judgment rendered prior to the sale against the old company for a trespass in entering upon plaintiff's land and constructing its road without leave, especially where it appeared that after obtaining the judgment plaintiff had granted a right of way to the old company. Campbell v. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co., 137 Pa. St. 574, 20 Atl. 949.

21. Houston, etc., R. Co. v. Bath, 17 Tex. Civ. App. 697, 44 S. W. 595, holding that the possession of a railroad by a receiver after sale, confirmation, deed, and expiration of the time within which the court ordered delivery of the property to the purchaser, being at the instance and for the benefit of the purchaser, is as the purchaser's agent and it is liable for damages to a shipper occurring during the same.

22. George v. Wabash Western R. Co., 40 Mo. App. 433.

sales, mortgages, guarantees,[23] or traffic contracts,[24] except such as are a lien upon or otherwise bind the property and franchises purchased,[25] and except where the purchaser either expressly or by necessary implication adopts or assumes the contract previously made with the mortgagor company,[26] or liability thereon is provided for in the decree,[27] or created by statute;[28] or unless the contract is 23. Iowa.— Hunter v. Burlington, etc., R. Co., 84 Iowa 605, 51 N. W. 64.

Kansas.— Hukle v. Atchison, etc., R. Co., 71 Kan. 251, 80 Pac. 603.
New York.— People v. Rome, etc., R. Co., 103 N. Y. 95, 8 N. E. 369.
South Carolina.— Hammond v. Port Royal, etc., R. Co., 15 S. C. 10.
Virginia.— Sherwood v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 94 Va. 291, 26 S. E. 943.
Wisconsin.— Menasha v. Milwaukee, etc., R. Co., 52 Wis. 414, 9 N. W. 396.
United States.— Hoard v. Chesapeake, etc., R. Co., 123 U. S. 222, 8 S. Ct. 74, 31 L. ed. 130.
See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 648.
Removal of switch.— Where plaintiff and others living near a railroad constructed a grade and furnished cross-ties for a switch for neighborhood convenience, under a contract with the company that the switch should remain permanently, and the road and franchises of the contracting company were subsequently sold under a decree of foreclosure and purchased by defendant, defendant could remove the switch unless it assumed the original contract in accordance with the provisions of the act of March 3, 1865, section 3. Smith v. Indianapolis, etc., R. Co., Wils. (Ind.) 88.

24. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co. v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 9 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 493, 6 Ohio N. P. 427, holding that where a railroad company which had a freight contract with another line was sold on foreclosure, and the order of sale directed the receiver to sell the road with all appurtenances but did not mention contracts with other roads, such contract did not pass as appurtenant to the road. Compare Tennessee v. Quintard, 80 Fed. 829, 26 C. C. A. 165.

25. Menasha v. Milwaukee, etc., R. Co., 52 Wis. 414, 9 N. W. 396.

26. Smith v. Indianapolis, etc., R. Co., Wils. (Ind.) 88; Hukle v. Atchison, etc., R. Co., 71 Kan. 251, 80 Pac. 603; South Carolina R. Co. v. Wilmington, etc., R. Co., 7 S. C. 410; Tennessee v. Quintard, 80 Fed. 829, 26 C. C. A. 165.
Illustrations.—Thus where, after a master's sale of a railroad, but before confirmation thereof, a third party intervenes asserting a right to have the railroad in the hands of the purchaser bound by a traffic agreement made with the receiver before the sale and the purchaser does not then ask to be relieved from his bid but submits to a decree confirming the sale and reserving the rights of the intervener for future determination, this amounts to an election by the purchaser to take the property burdened with the contract if the same shall be upheld by the courts. Tennessee v. Quintard, 80 Fed. 829, 26 C. C. A. 165. So where a railroad company and a telegraph company agree to construct a line of telegraph on the former's road and afterward the road is sold under a foreclosure to which the telegraph company is not a party, to a new company having notice of such agreement and the new company continues for several years to enjoy performance by the telegraph company, which expends large sums on the faith that the agreement has been adopted, such agreement is binding on the new company, although it may not run with the land and although the mortgage on which the foreclosure was made was prior to the agreement. Western Union Tel. Co. v. Atlantic, etc., Tel. Co., 7 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 163, 284, 1 Cinc. L. Bul. 201, 2 Cinc. L. Bul. 74. So where a railroad company built on its right of way a switch for a patron who paid the cost and took possession under an agreement that if the railroad company or its successors desired to have possession of the switch he should be repaid the cost, and the property was sold on foreclosure by the federal court to which the occupant of the switch was not a party and the receiver in possession pending foreclosure respected the occupant's exclusive claim, such occupant can recover the cost for constructing the switch from the company taking possession on foreclosure. Kansas City, North Western, etc., R. Co. v. Frohwerk, 68 Kan. 292, 74 Pac. 1124. So where an agreement was made between plaintiff and a receiver of a railroad whereby under certain conditions plaintiff was to have a lien on the road, and this agreement was consented to by the representatives of a purchasing committee appointed by the road and such committee had notice of this fact and the conditions were fulfilled and plaintiff's lien established, and the road was bought at foreclosure by the committee for its principal, purchasers of the road, the latter were not purchasers for value without notice, and took the property subject to plaintiff's lien. Vilas v. Page, 106 N. Y. 439, 13 N. E. 743. But the mere fact that purchasers continued to receive coal under a contract with the mortgagor company until notified by the coal company that the contracts would be renewed at the expiration of a year, of which renewal clause the purchaser was ignorant, does not constitute an adoption by the purchasers of such clause. Sloss Iron, etc., Co. v. South Carolina, etc., R. Co., 85 Fed. 133, 29 C. C. A. 50.

27. Amsden v. Dubuque, etc., R. Co., 13 Iowa 132; Hukle v. Atchison, etc., R. Co., 71 Kan. 251, 80 Pac. 603.

28. Hukle v. Atchison, etc., R. Co., 71 Kan. 251, 80 Pac. 603; Mason City, etc., R. Co. v. Union Pac. R. Co., 124 Fed. 409 [affirmed in 128 Fed. 230, 64 C. C. A. 348].

one running with the land and which would have passed under a deed of the road.[29] A purchaser is not bound by an obligation of a railroad company of a strictly personal character.[30] The decree of foreclosure and sale may expressly provide that the purchaser may be at liberty to abandon or disclaim certain agreements made by the mortgagor company.[31]

f. Right of Way and Other Interests in Land. The purchaser also acquires all right, title, and interest of the mortgagor company in and to the railroad property covered by the description contained in the mortgage and decree of sale.[32] Thus a railroad company's interest in the right of way will pass to a purchaser under a foreclosure of a mortgage embracing all of the company's right in the property,[33] as does also all other property, rights, and franchises covered by

29. Lake Erie, etc., R. Co. v. Priest, 131 Ind. 413, 31 N. E. 77; Midland R. Co. v. Fisher, 125 Ind. 19, 24 N. E. 756, 21 Am. St. Rep. 189, 8 L. R. A. 604; Rome, etc., R. Co. v. Ontario Southern R. Co., 16 Hun (N. Y.) 445.

30. Gulf, etc., R. Co. v. Newell, 73 Tex. 334, 11 S. W. 342, 15 Am. St. Rep. 788 (contract to maintain a depot at a certain place); Menasha v. Milwaukee, etc., R. Co., 52 Wis. 414, 9 N. W. 396.

A contract with a county making a subscription or donation in aid of a railroad in consideration of its performing certain conditions is merely a personal undertaking and not a covenant running with the land, and hence is not binding on the purchaser of the road under foreclosure. People v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 120 Ill. 48, 10 N. E. 657.

31. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Towle, 10 Ind. App. 540, 37 N. E. 358; Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 44 Fed. 653.

32. Western Pennsylvania R. Co. v. Johnston, 59 Pa. St. 290; Everett v. Galveston, etc., R. Co., 28 Tex. Civ. App. 528, 67 S. W. 453, holding that title to land which was never occupied by the right of way or roadbed or used by the company does not pass.

Estate or interest acquired by purchasers under foreclosures generally see MORTGAGES, 27 Cyc. 1723 et seq.

A grant by a municipal corporation of a right of way through certain streets of the municipality, with the right to construct its railroad thereon and occupy them in its use, is a franchise which may be mortgaged and pass to the purchaser at a sale under foreclosure of the mortgage. New Orleans, etc., R. Co. v. Delamore, 114 U. S. 501, 5 S. Ct. 1009, 29 L. ed. 244.

Fee.—Where a tract of land, through which a railroad right of way runs, has been sold in a judicial proceeding foreclosing a mortgage, in which proceeding no reference is made to the right of way, and no reservation of the fee therein is made, the fee passes to the purchaser. McLemore v. Charleston, etc., R. Co., 111 Tenn. 639, 69 S. W. 338. But the mere fact that the map of a railroad filed with a mortgage executed by it shows its tracks laid in a street does not justify a purchaser at foreclosure in believing that he acquires title to the fee in the street, the record title to which is in the abutting owner, with nothing to show that it had ever been divested by condemnation proceedings or by a license authorizing the construction of the road. Syracuse Solar Salt Co. v. Rome, etc., R. Co., 67 Hun (N. Y.) 153, 22 N. Y. Suppl. 321.

33. Harshbarger v. Midland R. Co., 131 Ind. 177, 27 N. E. 352, 30 N. E. 1083 (holding that, where a railroad company's road is sold on foreclosure, there is no abandonment of the rights acquired by the old company over the land on which the road-bed is made, and the purchaser takes possession by virtue of its purchase as successor to its rights); Columbus, etc., R. Co. v. Braden, 110 Ind. 558, 11 N. E. 357; Barker v. Southern R. Co., 137 N. C. 214, 49 S. E. 115 (construing Laws (1854–1855), c. 229, § 11); Pittsburg, etc., R. Co. v. Bosworth, 46 Ohio St. 81, 18 N. E. 533, 2 L. R. A. 199 [affirming 1 Ohio Cir. Ct. 69, 1 Ohio Cir. Dec. 42]; Junction R. Co. v. Ruggles, 7 Ohio St. 1; Crouch v. Dakota, etc., R. Co., 18 S. D. 540, 101 N. W. 722.

Road on street.— Where a railroad obtains from a municipal corporation its unconditional consent to the construction of a railroad on one of its streets, a purchaser at foreclosure sale of all the property, rights, and franchises of the railroad acquires its rights to the use of the whole street including the part over which no road had been actually constructed and it can exercise such right without further consent from the city (Denison, etc., R. Co. v. St. Louis South Western R. Co., 96 Tex. 233, 72 S. W. 161 [affirming 30 Tex. Civ. App. 474, 72 S. W. 201]); and the fact that the charter of the purchasing company confers on it power to occupy the streets of the city in question for right-of-way purposes, subject to the condition precedent that it obtain the city's consent, does not require it to surrender the right of way which it has acquired by its purchase and reacquire the same by the exercise of its charter powers (Denison, etc., R. Co. v. St. Louis South Western R. Co., supra).

The sale of a railroad under a mortgage before the damages of the landowner are paid or secured will not divest the right of such landowner to recover compensation for the occupancy of his land from the purchaser of the railroad at the sale under the mortgage. Western Pennsylvania R. Co. v. Johnston, 59 Pa. St. 290.

the foreclosed mortgage and adapted to the purchaser's use and substantially described in the deed of conveyance.[34] But such purchaser takes no title to land which had been purchased by the railroad company without power to do so, although the mortgage covered all its property, franchises, etc.[35] The purchaser also takes the property subject to easements in the adjoining landowners,[36] or in other railroad companies,[37] and subject to any other reservations, conditions, or restrictions imposed by the instrument under which the mortgagor's title vested.[38]

g. Leases. Where a purchaser under foreclosure of the property, rights, and franchises of a railroad company which had leased a certain line or a part thereof from another company enters into possession and operates the leased road, such purchaser is bound by the terms of the lease with the mortgagor company so long as it remains in possession and use thereof,[39] although there has been no formal assignment of the lease,[40] and although the leased line is not included in the property purchased, as in such case, if the purchaser enters into possession and operates it, he must be regarded as an assignee of the lease and liable for the rents which the original lessee had agreed to pay,[41] except in so far as the lease has been modified by an agreement between the lessor and the lessee.[42] The purchaser, however, may abandon or disclaim a lease made by the mortgagor company pending foreclosure proceedings, particularly where the terms of the decree give the purchaser such right.[43]

h. Indebtedness, Securities, Liens, and Mortgages. A purchaser under foreclosure of the property and franchises of a railroad company is not liable merely by reason of its succession, for the debts of the old company not secured by prior liens,[44] unless such purchaser expressly or by necessary implication agrees

34. Pere Marquette R. Co. v. Graham, 136 Mich. 444, 99 N. W. 408; Crouch v. Dakota, etc., R. Co., 18 S. D. 540, 101 N. W. 722; Jack v. Williams, 106 Fed. 259.

35. Youngman v. Elmira, etc., R. Co., 65 Pa. St. 278.

36. Hunter v. Burlington, etc., R. Co., 84 Iowa 605, 51 N. W. 64.

Habitual use of a pass way under a railroad, stipulated for in the oral grant of the right of way, is sufficient to charge the purchaser of the road with knowledge of the grantor's rights therein. Swan v. Burlington, etc., R. Co., 72 Iowa 650, 34 N. W. 457.

37. Union Pac. R. Co. v. Mason City, etc., R. Co., 199 U. S. 160, 26 S. Ct. 19, 50 L. ed. 134 [affirming 128 Fed. 230, 64 C. C. A. 348]; Joy v. St. Louis, 138 U. S. 1, 11 S. Ct. 243, 34 L. ed. 843 [affirming 29 Fed. 546].

A covenant to permit other railroad companies to use the right of way is binding on a subsequent purchaser with notice, particularly where such covenant is a link in the chain of title between the mortgagee and such purchaser. Joy v. St. Louis, 138 U. S. 1, 11 S. Ct. 243, 34 L. ed. 843 [affirming 29 Fed. 546].

38. New York, etc., R. Co. v. Stanley, 35 N. J. Eq. 283.

39. Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Illinois Cent. R. Co., 174 Ill. 448, 51 N. E. 824 (holding that where a railroad company mortgaged its property and subsequently by lease was permitted to maintain its tracks across those of another and the former road was sold under foreclosure and the purchaser conveyed the property to one who leased it to another, the terms of the former lease were binding on the last lessee even after the original term had expired without a renewal being made, where such lessee remained in possession); St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. East St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 39 Ill. App. 354 [affirmed in 139 Ill. 401, 28 N. E. 1088]; St. Joseph Union Depot Co. v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 89 Fed. 648, 32 C. C. A. 284 (holding that where a corporation purchasing a railroad sold on foreclosure continues to use depot facilities, the right to which was acquired by the mortgagor by a contract made after the execution of the mortgage, claiming that it succeeded to such right by its purchase, it is bound by the contract of its predecessor for the payment of rent).

Assumpsit.— The purchaser of a railroad at foreclosure is liable in assumpsit for the use and occupation of a line of which the company had a lease. Jacksonville, etc., R. Co. v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 150 Ill. 480, 37 N. E. 924 [affirming 47 Ill. App. 414].

40. Jacksonville, etc., R. Co. v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 150 Ill. 480, 37 N. E. 924 [affirming 47 Ill. App. 414].

41. Frank v. New York, etc., R. Co., 122 N. Y. 197, 25 N. E. 332 [modifying 7 N. Y. St. 814].

42. Frank v. New York, etc., R. Co., 122 N. Y. 197, 25 N. E. 332 [modifying 7 N. Y. St. 814].

43. Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 44 Fed. 653.

Waiver of right to disclaim see Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 44 Fed. 653.

44. Arkansas.— Kansas City Southern R. Co. v. King, 74 Ark. 366, 85 S. W. 1131.

Georgia.— Seaboard Air-Line R. Co. v.

to pay or assume the same,[45] or unless the purchaser's liability therefor is provided for in the decree,[46] or, as is sometimes the case, such liability is Knickerbocker Trust Co., 125 Ga. 463, 54 S. E. 138.

Illinois.— Bruffett v. Great Western R. Co., 25 Ill. 353.

Indiana.— Midland R. Co. v. Fisher, 125 Ind. 19, 24 N. E. 756, 21 Am. St. Rep. 189, 8 L. R. A. 604; Lake Erie, etc., R. Co. v. Griffin, 92 Ind. 487.

Iowa.— Brockert v. Iowa Cent. R. Co., 93 Iowa 132, 61 N. W. 405.

Louisiana.— Bell v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 34 La. Ann. 785, holding that a purchaser at foreclosure sale of after-acquired property covered by the mortgage cannot be affected by a judgment obtained against the property after the recording of the mortgage.

Michigan.— Cook v. Detroit, etc., R. Co., 43 Mich. 349, 5 N. W. 390, holding that a railroad company does not by purchasing a railroad on foreclosure and organizing and filing a statutory declaration in accordance with Laws (1859), § 2373, become responsible for the prior unsecured debts of the foreclosed company.

Nebraska.— Lincoln Tp. v. Kansas City, etc., R. Co., 77 Nebr. 79, 108 N. W. 140.

South Dakota.— Crouch v. Dakota, etc., R. Co., 18 S. D. 540, 101 N. W. 722.

Wisconsin.— Gilman v. Sheboygan, etc., R. Co., 37 Wis. 317; Smith v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 18 Wis. 17.

United States.— McKittrick v. Arkansas Cent. R. Co., 152 U. S. 473, 14 S. Ct. 661, 38 L. ed. 518.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 651.

In North Carolina the corporate property of a North Carolina railroad company covered by a legally authorized mortgage of all its franchises and property does not continue liable for the debts of such company, accruing after sale on foreclosure proceedings to a non-resident railroad company authorized by its charter to make the purchase, because of the failure of the latter to exercise the privilege conferred by Code, §§ 697, 698, 1936, 2005, of organizing a domestic corporation to operate the purchased property. Julian v. Central Trust Co., 193 U. S. 93, 24 S. Ct. 399, 48 L. ed. 629 [affirming 115 Fed. 956, 53 C. C. A. 438].

45. Illinois.— Bruffett v. Great Western R. Co., 25 Ill. 353.

Indiana.— Lake Erie, etc., R. Co. v. Griffin, 92 Ind. 487.

New York.—Taylor v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 57 How. Pr. 26.

Texas.— Missouri, etc., R. Co. v. Lacy, 13 Tex. Civ. App. 391, 35 S. W. 505. See Houston, etc., R. Co. v. Keller, 8 Tex. Civ. App. 537, 28 S. W. 724.

Wisconsin.— Pfeifer v. Sheboygan, etc., R. Co., 18 Wis. 155, 86 Am. Dec. 751.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 651.

46. Arkansas.— Kansas City Southern R. Co. v. King, 74 Ark. 366, 85 S. W. 1131.

Illinois.— Brown v. Wabash R. Co., 96 Ill. 297; Wabash R. Co. v. Stewart, 41 Ill. App. 640.

Indian Territory.—Atchison, etc., R. Co. v. Young, 3 Indian Terr. 60, 53 S. W. 481.

Kansas.— Hukle v. Atchison, etc., R. Co., 71 Kan. 251, 80 Pac. 603; Atchison, etc., R. Co. v. Cunningham, 59 Kan. 722, 54 Pac. 1055.

United States.—Anderson v. Condict, 93 Fed. 349, 35 C. C. A. 335, 94 Fed. 716, 36 C. C. A. 737 (holding that where a decree for the sale of railroad property in a foreclosure suit contains an independent and unconditional provision that the sale shall be subject to all current liabilities of the receiver, the purchaser takes the property subject to such conditions without regard to the question of priority between such liabilities and the liens under which the sale is made); Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Central R. Co., 7 Fed. 537, 2 McCrary 181. See Central Trust Co. v. Wabash, etc., R. Co., 30 Fed. 332.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 651.

Conditions precedent.— A purchaser under an order of court in a receivership can only be held liable for claims against the receiver according to the terms of such order; and where a railroad in the hands of a receiver acting under the direction of the federal court is ordered to be sold and possession delivered to the purchaser subject to the payment of any claims against the receiver which should be established within a specified time, the purchaser will not be liable by virtue of such order alone to one who fails to have his claim so ascertained and allowed. Houston, etc., R. Co. v. Crawford, 88 Tex. 277, 31 S. W. 176, 53 Am. St. Rep. 752, 28 L. R. A. 761.

Burden of proof.— The burden of proving that obligations incurred by the receiver of a railroad were named in the order directing the sale is on the party seeking to recover them against the purchaser. Atchison, etc., R. Co. v. Young, 3 Indian Terr. 60, 53 S. W. 481.

Power of court.— It is a proper exercise of the chancery power of a court to surrender the property to the purchaser, retaining jurisdiction of the original case, and retaining the authority to enforce the payment of the debts and liabilities incurred by the court's receiver in the operation of the road (Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Central R. Co., 17 Fed. 758, 5 McCrary 521); and after the discharge of a railroad receiver appointed by the court and a delivery of the road to the purchaser at a foreclosure sale ordered by such court, the said court has power to adjudicate a claim against the receiver and to enforce its payment against the purchaser of the road according to the state law (Houston, etc., R. Co. v. Crawford, 88 Tex. 277, 31 S. W. 176, 53 Am. St. Rep. 752, 28 L. R. A. 761).

The mere fact that purchasers knew that certain judgments had been decreed to be first liens on the property does not render the company organized by such purchasers to operate the road liable for the amount created by statute;[47] or unless it affirmatively appears that the circumstances attending the creation of the new corporation and its succession to the property and franchises of the mortgagor company are such as to warrant a finding that it is in reality a continuation of the old company.[48] The purchaser, however, takes his title subject to all prior valid liens and encumbrances of which he had or ought to have had notice, and which are not cut off by the foreclosure proceedings,[49] such as a vendor's lien for the unpaid purchase-money,[50] or a lien in favor of the state for public aid granted;[51] particularly where the decree of foreclosure and sale so provides.[52] Where a decree requires the purchasers to pay all valid claims outstanding against the receiver growing out of the operation of the road by him, such payments are a part of the purchase-price for which the purchasers receive full equivalent in the property conveyed, and they are not entitled to be subrogated to the rights of the holders of claims against the receiver so paid, as creditors of the mortgagor company.[53] And as a general rule the doctrine of caveat emptor as applied to judicial sales operates not only to deprive the purchaser of a railroad sold under foreclosure of any of the judgments. Houston, etc., R. Co. v. Keller, 8 Tex. Civ. App. 537, 28 S. W. 724.

47. See Atchison, etc., R. Co. v. Young, 3 Indian Terr. 60, 53 S. W. 481; Hukle v. Atchison, etc., R. Co., 71 Kan. 251, 80 Pac. 603.

The terms "servant" and "employee" as used in a statute providing that in a foreclosure sale of a railroad the court granting the foreclosure decree shall provide in such decree or otherwise that the purchaser shall "fully pay all sums due and owing by such foreclosed railroad company to any servant or employe of such company" do not include a secretary of such railroad company. Wells v. Southern Minnesota R. Co., 1 Fed. 270, 1 McCrary 18.

Kirby Dig. St. Ark. § 6587, providing that where a corporation or individual purchases any railroad, the purchaser shall hold the same subject to all debts and obligations of the vendor, does not apply to a purchaser of a railroad at a foreclosure sale by a court commissioner, but such purchaser takes the property free from the debts and liabilities of the mortgagor, except such as are prior liens. Kansas City Southern R. Co. v. King, 74 Ark. 366, 85 S. W. 1131.

48. Pfeifer v. Sheboygan, etc., R. Co., 18 Wis. 155, 86 Am. Dec. 751; Smith v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 18 Wis. 17.

49. Kansas City Southern R. Co. v. King, 74 Ark. 366, 85 S. W. 1131; Thompson v. Hollingsworth, 21 Ind. 475; San Antonio, etc., R. Co. v. Bowles, 88 Tex. 634, 32 S. W. 880; Rio Rrande, etc., R. Co. v. Ortiz, 75 Tex. 602, 12 S. W. 1129; Compton v. Jesup, 167 U. S. 1, 17 S. Ct. 795, 42 L. ed. 55; Atchison, etc., R. Co. v. Osborn, 148 Fed. 606, 78 C. C. A. 378. And see infra, VIII, B, 14, i.

Judgments establishing statutory liens against the property may be enforced against the railroad in the hands of a purchaser under foreclosure, although the receiver of the road was not a party to the suit in which the judgment was entered, and the judgment creditor's petition to intervene in the foreclosure was dismissed without prejudice. Blair v. Walker, 26 Fed. 73.

50. Florida v. Anderson, 91 U. S. 667, 23 L. ed. 290. See Houston First Nat. Bank v. Ewing, 103 Fed. 168, 43 C. C. A. 150.

51. See Doggett v. Florida R. Co., 99 U. S. 72, 25 L. ed. 301; Florida v. Anderson, 91 U. S. 667, 23 L. ed. 290.

52. Central Indiana R. Co. v. Grantham, 143 Fed. 43, 52, 74 C. C. A. 197, 206; Grand Trunk R. Co. v. Central Vermont R. Co., 105 Fed. 411; Mercantile Trust Co. v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 99 Fed. 485; Central Trust Co. v. Georgia Pac. R. Co., 87 Fed. 288, 30 C. C. A. 648 (holding that under a foreclosure decree making it a condition of the sale that the purchaser, as part of the consideration, shall satisfy all claims which shall be adjudged by the court to be prior in lien to the mortgage, one who is adjudged to have such prior lien is entitled to payment regardless of its limits or extent on the railroad property, and it is immaterial whether it covers any specific structures or any other integral part of the road); Continental Trust Co. v. American Surety Co., 80 Fed. 180, 25 C. C. A. 364.

Interest.— Where coupons from railroad bonds not bearing interest by their terms were not presented for payment at the designated place where the money was deposited to meet them and the residue of the fund subsequently passed to a purchaser at a foreclosure sale, the holder is not entitled to recover interest from such purchaser. Grand Trunk R. Co. v. Central Vermont R. Co., 105 Fed. 411.

Rights of assignee.— A railroad company taking an assignment acquired by a purchasing committee at a foreclosure sale under a decree providing for payment into court of additional sums if necessary to meet the claims adjudged to be superior liens cannot set up as against claims of this character a title acquired subsequent to the foreclosure sale by purchasing the road at a judicial sale made by another court to enforce a lien claimed to be superior to the mortgage and to the claim in controversy. Baltimore Trust, etc., Co. v. Hofstetter, 85 Fed. 75, 29 C. C. A. 35.

53. Morgan's Louisiana, etc., R., etc., Co. v. Moran, 91 Fed. 22, 33 C. C. A. 313.

recourse against the proceeds of the property on account of existing encumbrances or tax liens on the property, but also of any claim to reimbursement for such liens from a fund in court or in the hands of a receiver, derived from the earnings of the property during the receivership, unless the decree or order of sale, or special equitable considerations, give him a right to such reimbursement.[54]

i. Interveners and Other Claimants. The purchaser is chargeable with notice that a particular lien will or may be claimed where the claimant has intervened in the foreclosure proceedings and obtained leave to proceed in another court to establish his lien;[55] but such purchaser is not bound to look beyond what appears on the face of the record and anticipate a future claim for a lien,[56] and if the claimant fails to bring his claim to the notice of the court he is without remedy after decree and distribution,[57] unless his claim is one which by the decree is imposed upon and subject to which the purchasers acquire title to the property.[58] But a claimant cannot by intervention in the foreclosure proceeding seek to impeach the validity of the decree and sale, as this can only be done by an original suit.[59] Where the purchaser has paid his bid in full according to the decree and the sale is confirmed, he cannot be compelled to further pay a claim which is adjudicated against the receiver after the confirmation of sale.[60] As against an unforeclosed lien, the purchaser may intervene in a suit to enforce such lien and assert the equities and rights to which he succeeds by virtue of his purchase, and if they are such that a sale under such lien will not convey a good title, but merely cloud the title of the intervener, the sale should not be ordered.[61]

j. Vacation or Invalidity of Sale. Where the purchasers at a foreclosure sale of a railroad become such through an arrangement which is a fraud on the creditors, such purchasers are liable as trustees for the full value of the road,[62] and are chargeable with interest on the claims of the complaining creditors from the date of the sale to that of the final decree in the suit to set aside the sale.[63] But although the purchaser was one in bad faith and the sale is set aside, such purchaser may be entitled to compensation for reconstructing and repairing the road and putting it in working order, where it was in a state of complete dilapidation and ruin when bought.[64] Where a purchaser fails to make good his bid, not for want of funds but because he thinks the price too high, he cannot be excused on a resale of the property for a less price from making good the difference if the unsecured creditors will be benefited thereby.[65]

k. Actions or Proceedings By or Against Purchaser. The rules applicable in civil cases generally ordinarily apply in actions or proceedings by or against a purchaser at a foreclosure sale of railroad property, on questions of pleading,[66]

54. Terre Haute, etc., R. Co. v. Harrison, 96 Fed. 907, 37 C. C. A. 615.

55. Loomis v. Davenport, 17 Fed. 301, 3 McCrary 489.

56. Hale v. Burlington, etc., R. Co., 13 Fed. 203, 2 McCrary 558.

57. Anderson v. Condict, 93 Fed. 349, 35 C. C. A. 335, 94 Fed. 716, 36 C. C. A. 437.

58. Anderson v. Condict, 93 Fed. 349, 35 C. C. A. 335, 94 Fed. 716, 36 C. C. A. 437.

59. State Trust Co. v. Kansas City, etc., R. Co., 120 Fed. 398.

60. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. McCammon, 61 Fed. 772, 10 C. C. A. 50.

61. Connor v. Tennessee Cent. R. Co., 109 Fed. 931, 48 C. C. A. 730, 54 L. R. A. 687.

62. Drury v. Milwaukee, etc., R. Co., 7 Wall. (U. S.) 299, 19 L. ed. 40.

63. Drury v. Milwaukee, etc., R. Co., 7 Wall. (U. S.) 299, 19 L. ed. 40.

64. Jackson v. Ludeling, 99 U. S. 513, 25 L. ed. 460.

The rule of compensation in such a case is to allow credit to the possessors for the value of the materials of such improvements as are yet in existence and the cost of the labor bestowed thereon not to exceed their value when delivered up, but not for the improvements which were consumed in the use; and interest on the outlay of the possessors will also be allowed to an amount not exceeding the net earnings or fruits received from the improvements; but such possessors will be accountable for all the fruits received by them from the property and will have a lien on it for any balance found to be due them on such an accounting. Jackson v. Ludeling, 99 U. S. 513, 25 L. ed. 460.

65. Central Trust Co. v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 58 Fed. 500.

66. See Milwaukee, etc., R. Co. v. Milwaukee, etc., R. Co., 20 Wis. 174, 88 Am. Dec. 740, holding that where a complaint to enforce rights of action obtained under a parties,[67] issues, proof, and variance,[68] and evidence.[69] A purchaser or his assignee may have a writ of assistance to recover possession of the road, or a portion thereof, which is unlawfully withheld;[70] or he may maintain ejectment for the mortgaged premises before condition broken unless there is a stipulation to the contrary.[71] Where the property of a railroad company is acquired by another railroad company after foreclosure proceedings which are void as against a holder of bonds guaranteed by the mortgagor company, such bondholder is not entitled to sue the purchasing company in equity and apply the assets so transferred to the payment of his bonds until he has exhausted his legal remedies against the mortgagor.[72]

15. Purchasing Bondholders or Other Creditors — a. In General. Where the bonded indebtedness of a railroad company equals or exceeds the value of the road, it is lawful for the stock-holders, bondholders, and other creditors of such road, or a number of them, to enter into an arrangement by which the property shall be sold under foreclosure and purchased by trustees or a committee for chattel mortgage sale does not aver specifically that such choses in action were sold on foreclosure of the mortgage, or that the price bid for the property was in any way dependent upon the existence of the rights of action mortgaged, it does not show that the plaintiff has a right to maintain the action.

Joinder.— Where a holder of bonds guaranteed by a railroad company deposits them with a trust company for specific uses, and thereafter such company wrongfully refuses to deliver the bonds on demand, the owner cannot join an action to recover them with a suit against another corporation, which has acquired the assets of the guarantor company under void foreclosure proceedings to apply such assets in payment of the bonds, such company being in no way responsible for the trust company's withholding of the bonds. Sawyer v. Atchison, etc., R. Co., 129 Fed. 100, 63 C. C. A. 602 [affirming 119 Fed. 252].

67. Boyle v. Farmers' L. & T. Co., 101 Fed. 184, 41 C. C. A. 291 (holding that the purchaser of railroad property at a foreclosure sale who acts in making the purchase for other parties to whom he at once transfers the title cannot thereafter maintain a petition to require the receiver of the property during the foreclosure proceedings to pay taxes assessed thereon during the receivership); Thompson v. Northern Pac. R. Co., 93 Fed. 384, 35 C. C. A. 357 (holding that under a decree which requires the purchaser of the property, as a part of the consideration therefor, to pay all valid demands against the receivers growing out of their operation of the road and reserves the right of the court to enforce such claims against the property, the purchaser is a proper party defendant to an action on such a claim, being entitled to defend, and in an action commenced after the property has been conveyed to him and the receivers have been discharged he may properly be made sole defendant).

68. See the cases cited infra, this note.

On an issue as to whether the title to rolling stock passed to purchasers under a foreclosure sale of the property of a railroad which had possession thereof as a bailee, the bailor may show that his title to the rolling stock has been recognized by the president of the railroad company claiming it under the sale, and that such company in its sworn report to the secretary of the interior stated that the rolling stock belonged to one under whom the bailor claimed. Collins v. Bellefonte Cent. R. Co., 171 Pa. St. 243, 33 Atl. 331. And on such issue the bailor may introduce evidence that his claim to the property was made known to all bidders at the sale. Collins v. Bellefonte Cent. R. Co., supra.

69. Kansas City Southern R. Co. v. King, 74 Ark. 366, 85 S. W. 1131, holding that, in a suit against a purchaser to enforce a liability incurred by the railroad company prior to the purchase, there can be no recovery on account of provisions in the foreclosure decree subjecting the purchaser to the liabilities incurred by the railroad company where the decree is not introduced in evidence and there is nothing in the case to show that it contained such provisions.

Burden of proof.— On a general foreclosure sale of the property of a railroad company, the burden is on the one alleging that certain land belonging to it did not pass to the purchasers to show this fact. Kevals v. Florida Cent., etc., R. Co., 66 Fed. 224, 13 C. C. A. 410.

70. Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 44 Fed. 653. See, generally, Mortgages, 27 Cyc. 1740.

The validity of a lease given by a receiver pendente lite should not be determined on a motion for a writ of assistance to obtain possession. Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Staten Island Belt Line R. Co., 6 N. Y. App. Div. 148, 39 N. Y. Suppl. 996.

71. Youngman v. Elmira, etc., R. Co., 65 Pa. St. 278, holding that where a railroad mortgage covering all the real property, franchises, etc., of a railroad company is foreclosed and the mortgaged property is sold and conveyed by the trustee in the mortgage to the purchaser, he and his assignees stand in the same shoes as the mortgagees and are entitled to maintain such action.

72. Sawyer v. Atchison, etc., R. Co., 129 Fed. 100, 63 C. C. A. 602 [affirming 119 Fed. 252].

their benefit and a new company organized to receive the property,[73] unless such arrangement is made in fraud of other creditors.[74] Such an agreement may be made between the creditors and bondholders without the concurrence of the stock-holders,[75] or between bondholders and stock-holders,[76] or between the bondholders themselves.[77] Provisions for a reorganization scheme by the bondholders on foreclosure may be made in the mortgage securing the bonds.[78]

b. Rights, Powers, and Proceedings of Committees. The rights, powers, and liabilities of a reorganization committee are usually governed by the agreement under which they are appointed and act.[79] Ordinarily they are given a large 73. Cushman v. Bonfield, 139 Ill. 219, 28 N. E. 937 [affirming 36 Ill. App. 436]; Kitchen v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 69 Mo. 224; Taylor v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 57 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 26; Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 103 Fed. 110; Memphis, etc., R. Co. v. Dow, 19 Fed. 388; Hancock v. Toledo, etc., R. Co., 9 Fed. 738, 11 Biss. 148.

A decree foreclosing mortgages cannot be impeached because of a prior agreement between the committee of bondholders and officers and directors of the company to form a reorganized company and purchase the property at the sale, and thereby relieve it from the unsecured debts of the company, even though it is part of such agreement that the stock-holders of the old company may obtain stock in the new on payment of a small difference, where the mortgages are due because of default in the payment of interest and the company is in fact insolvent, and it does not appear that the trustees who brought the suit are parties to or had knowledge of the agreement, or that the default which matured the mortgages was due to such agreement. Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 103 Fed. 110.

Illustrations.— A plan of reorganization made by railroad bondholders for the purpose of purchasing the property at foreclosure sale, and by which stock-holders in the old company are permitted to convert their stock into stock in the new company on payment of a stipulated difference is not for that reason fraudulent and void as to general creditors of the old company, where it does not appear that any of the stock-holders, as such, are parties to the plan; that it caused or in any manner affected the foreclosure proceedings, or deprived the general creditors of any rights, so that whatever rights, if any, are secured to the stock-holders are at the expense of the bondholders, and not of the unsecured creditors. Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 103 Fed. 110. So a proposed reorganization to be effected in connection with the foreclosure sale under certain mortgages by which the bonded indebtedness is refunded on longer time and at reduced interest, and which allows each stock-holder to retain his stock on the payment of his pro rata share of the floating debt, is not a fraud on the stock-holders and will not be enjoined at the suit of some of them who do not suggest any other method by which the financial embarrassment of the company can be met. Carey v. Houston, etc., R. Co., 45 Fed. 438. A valid agreement may be made between a railroad company and mortgagees in trust of its road and the bondholders, that after a sale under the mortgage the company shall be so reorganized that the stock-holders and unsecured creditors of the old company shall become stock-holders in the new; and such agreement will modify to that extent the effect of the mortgage sale. Smith v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 18 Wis. 17.

That the parties comprising the purchasers are the same as those comprising the new corporation is no bar to their dealing with each other, as all that the law requires in such cases is that the transaction should be free from fraud and executed in good faith. Thayer v. Wathen, 17 Tex. Civ. App. 382, 44 S. W. 906.

74. Kitchen v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 69 Mo. 224; Louisville Trust Co. v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 174 U. S. 674, 19 S. Ct. 827, 43 L. ed. 1130 [reversing 84 Fed. 539, 28 C. C. A. 202], holding that a reorganization agreement with the intention of excluding from any interest in the property all unsecured creditors is not permissible, and that the confirmation of a sale under such agreement should be refused until the interests of unsecured creditors have been preserved.

75. Taylor v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 57 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 26.

76. Louisville Trust Co. v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 174 U. S. 674, 19 S. Ct. 827, 43 L. ed. 1130 [reversing 84 Fed. 539, 28 C. C. A. 202].

77. Moss v. Geddes, 28 Misc. (N. Y.) 291, 59 N. Y. Suppl. 867.

Bondholders do not occupy a fiduciary relation to each other as a result of their common interest in the mortgage property, and in case of the insolvency of the company any number of such bondholders may legitimately combine together for their mutual protection and may purchase the property at a sale under the mortgage in their own interest without becoming liable to account therefor to other bondholders where they are guilty of no fraud or unfair dealing. Moss v. Geddes, 28 Misc. (N. Y.) 291, 59 N. Y. Suppl. 867.

78. See Child v. New York, etc., R. Co., 129 Mass. 170.

79. Industrial, etc., Trust v. Tod, 52 N. Y. App. Div. 195, 64 N. Y. Suppl. 1093 [reversed on other grounds in 170 N. Y. 233, 63 N. E. 285]; Van Sicklen v. Bartol, 95 Fed. 793.

Loans.— An agreement binding a committee to purchase the mortgaged property and form a new corporation, the committee to use the bonds so far as necessary for purposes of the purchase; the bondholders to deposit discretion in carrying out the reorganization plan,[80] and may be expressly exempted from personal liability for their acts except in cases of wilful malfeasance or gross negligence.[81] The purchasing trustee or committee under such an arrangement becomes a trustee for all the beneficiaries, or at least for such as are parties to the agreement,[82] and as such is accountable to them for the property or its proceeds,[83] and for their acts in carrying out the scheme.[84] If the committee acts in good faith they are entitled to reimbursement for expenses incurred or advances made by them personally or upon their credit in the execution of their trust,[85] and it is not necessary before bringing an action for an accounting that they turn over to the beneficiaries new securities received under the reorganization scheme;[88] nor can they be held liable for the failure of the plan of reorganization, which proved impracticable, if they acted in good faith and with reasonable diligence.[87]

the bonds with a specified trust company, to be delivered to the committee on request, does not restrict the committee to such trust company as the source of the loan. Coppell v. Hollins, 91 Hun (N. Y.) 570, 36 N. Y. Suppl. 500 [affirmed in 159 N. Y. 551, 54 N. E. 1089].

80. Van Siclen v. Bartol, 95 Fed. 793.

Power of the reorganization committee to construe the agreement is authorized by a provision in such agreement, making such construction final, and can be exercised by such committee only when it acts in good faith. Industrial, etc., Trust v. Tod, 52 N. Y. App. Div. 195, 64 N. Y. Suppl. 293 [reversed on other grounds in 170 N. Y. 233, 63 N. E. 285].

The committee may issue only a portion of the authorized stock, leaving the balance unissued, instead of issuing the whole. White v. Wood, 129 N. Y. 527, 29 N. E. 835 [reversing 13 N. Y. Suppl. 631].

81. Industrial, etc., Trust v. Tod, 170 N. Y. 233, 63 N. E. 285 [reversing 52 N. Y. App. Div. 195, 64 N. Y. Suppl. 1093]; Van Siclen v. Bartol, 95 Fed. 793.

82. Cushman v. Bonfield, 139 Ill. 219, 28 N. E. 937 [affirming 36 Ill. App. 436].

83. Cushman v. Bonfield, 139 Ill. 219, 28 N. E. 937 [affirming 36 Ill. App. 436].

Remedies.—Where mortgaged railroad property is purchased by the trustee at foreclosure sale, under a provision in the decree allowing such purchase, and providing that on payment by any bondholder of his proportionate share of the moneys paid by the trustee as expenses of the action, and other moneys directed by the decree to be paid in cash, the purchase should inure to the benefit of any such bondholders; and where the trustee afterward sells the property to a new corporation without the knowledge of such bondholder, and refuses to account to him for his share of the proceeds, such bondholder's remedy is not limited to intervention in the foreclosure suit, but he can sue the trustee for an accounting. Zebley v. Farmers' L. & T. Co., 139 N. Y. 461, 34 N. E. 1067 [reversing 63 Hun 541, 18 N. Y. Suppl. 526]. And the payment or tender of such proportionate share by the bondholder is not necessary as a condition precedent to his right to such an accounting. Zebley v. Farmers' L. & T. Co., supra. The new corporation to which the trustee transferred the trust party is not a necessary party to the action by the bondholder for an accounting, where its title under the sale is not questioned and no relief is asked against it nor any facts stated which would warrant any relief. Zebley v. Farmers' L. & T. Co., supra.

84. Indiana, etc., R. Co. v. Swannell, 157 Ill. 616, 41 N. E. 989, 30 L. R. A. 290 [affirming 54 Ill. App. 260]; Industrial, etc., Trust v. Tod, 52 N. Y. App. Div. 195, 64 N. Y. Suppl. 1093 [reversed on other grounds in 170 N. Y. 233, 63 N. E. 285].

Where a reorganization committee uses bonds of the road deposited with it to purchase the property at foreclosure, without having first prepared a plan of reorganization, as required by the reorganization agreement, and then presents the bonds to the commissioner appointed to effect the sale, who stamps on them an indorsement of a part payment resulting by virtue of such purchase, and the committee then sells the property over the bondholders' protest to a new corporation, such committee is guilty of a breach of contract, and not a conversion. Industrial, etc., Trust v. Tod, 170 N. Y. 233, 63 N. E. 285 [reversing 52 N. Y. App. Div. 195, 64 N. Y. App. Div. 1093].

85. Coppell v. Hollins, 91 Hun (N. Y.) 570, 36 N. Y. Suppl. 500 [affirmed in 159 N. Y. 551, 54 N. E. 1089].

That one of the committee did not act in most of the transactions is immaterial, where the bondholders knew that he would not act in concert with the other members of the committee, and where he had by consent of all parties agreed to abide by the action of the counsel for the committee. Coppell v. Hollins, 91 Hun (N. Y.) 570, 36 N. Y. Suppl. 500 [affirmed in 159 N. Y. 551, 54 N. E. 1089].

Bondholders cannot be charged with the expenses incurred by the committee on a former attempt to reorganize the company, to which they had not assented. Van Siclen v. Bartol, 95 Fed. 793.

86. Coppel v. Hollins, 91 Hun (N. Y.) 570, 36 N. Y. Suppl. 500 [affirmed in 159 N. Y. 551, 54 N. E. 1089].

87. Van Siclen v. Bartol, 95 Fed. 793, holding that a failure to fully set out in a circular to the bondholders the reasons for the abandonment of the plan and the adoption

Parties to the agreement cannot object to acts of the committee which are not injurious to their interests.[88] The terms of the reorganization plan can only be changed by concerted action of the committee or a majority of it in the exercise of its power and for the benefit of the company and not for its own benefit.[89] Where, under the terms of the reorganization plan, the reorganization committee and their successors have the power to vote on a certain per cent of the stock to be issued, the fact that such committee has disposed of stock belonging to them individually does not affect their authority as members of the committee to act as directors and to hold and vote upon the trust stock.[90]

c. Rights of Bondholders, Stock-Holders, and Creditors. After a sale and reorganization under such a scheme, the rights and liabilities of bondholders, stock-holders, and creditors to come into such arrangement are governed by the terms of the agreement.[91] Any bondholder, stock-holder, or other creditor, who by the terms of the agreement is offered the privilege of coming in has a right to be admitted and participate in the benefits of the reorganization,[92] provided he applies to come in within a reasonable time or within the time fixed by the agreement,[93] and complies or offers to comply with other terms or conditions prescribed by the agreement;[94] and in some jurisdictions this is expressly provided by statute.[95] If this right is denied, such person may maintain an action to recover the damages sustained by reason of such refusal,[96] or for a specific enforcement of the agreement.[97] But where the parties come into the arrange-of another does not render the committee liable, where plaintiff, a bondholder, made no inquiry for further information, and by his own negligence failed to respond in time to share in the benefits of the plan as finally carried out.

88. Walker v. Montclair, etc., R. Co., 30 N. J. Eq. 525.

89. Hoopes v. Corbin, 1 N. Y. St. 212.

90. Haines v. Kinderhook, etc., R. Co., 33 N. Y. App. Div. 154, 53 N. Y. Suppl. 368 [affirming 23 Misc. 605, 52 N. Y. Suppl. 1061].

91. Child v. New York, etc., R. Co., 129 Mass. 170 (holding that the holders of certain interest warrants were not entitled to demand stock of the new company in exchange for them); Thayer v. Wathen, 17 Tex. Civ. App. 382, 44 S. W. 906; Lyman v. Kansas City, etc., R. Co., 101 Fed. 636; Mackintosh v. Flint, etc., R. Co., 34 Fed. 582.

92. Walker v. Whelen, 4 Phila. (Pa.) 389.

An agreement for the benefit of bondholders of a certain class entitles all the bondholders of such class to participate in the benefit of the arrangement, and is not confined to persons who had signed the power of attorney given to the agent or committee who made the purchase. Walker v. Whelen, 4 Phila. (Pa.) 389; Sage v. Iowa Cent. R. Co., 99 U. S. 334, 25 L. ed. 394.

93. Dow v. Iowa Cent. R. Co., 144 N. Y. 426, 39 N. E. 398 [affirming 70 Hun 186, 24 N. Y. Suppl. 292]; Thornton v. Wabash R. Co., 81 N. Y. 462; Duncan v. Mobile, etc., R. Co., 8 Fed. Cas. No. 4,139, 3 Woods 597, holding that bondholders not subscribing to the reorganization plan were entitled to participate in the purchase or reorganization on an equal footing with the others provided they should come in by a day named.

94. Carpenter v. Catlin, 44 Barb. (N. Y.) 75, 29 How. Pr. 423; Miller v. Dodge, 28 Misc. (N. Y.) 640, 59 N. Y. Suppl. 1070; Landis v. Western Pennsylvania R. Co., 133 Pa. St. 579, 19 Atl. 556.

95. See Pierce v. Ayer, 88 Me. 100, 33 Atl. 777; Somerset R. Co. v. Pierce, 88 Me. 86, 33 Atl. 772.

Under Ky. St. § 771, providing that upon judicial sale of any railroad the purchaser shall pay in cash, except that if the property be purchased by the holders of securities issued by the company the purchaser shall be required to pay only such amount as the court may deem sufficient to insure compliance with the bid, and the purchaser shall therefore be entitled to pay the bid by payment of money or surrender of securities in proportion as such securities shall be entitled to receive the purchase-money, and that all holders of the same class of securities shall be entitled to have equal rights with such purchaser, all holders of railroad bonds are entitled to membership in a pool organized among the bondholders to purchase the property at foreclosure sale. Reed v. Schmidt, 115 Ky. 67, 72 S. W. 367, 24 Ky. L. Rep. 1889, 61 L. R. A. 270.

96. Reed v. Schmidt, 115 Ky. 67, 72 S. W. 367, 24 Ky. L. Rep. 1889, 61 L. R. A. 270, holding that where the holders of railroad mortgage bonds are improperly excluded from a pool organized by bondholders to purchase the property at foreclosure sale, they are entitled, after the property has been sold by the pool to third parties, to an accounting and to their proportionate share of the proceeds of the transaction.

97. Hitchcock v. New Jersey Midland R. Co., 33 N. J. Eq. 86 [affirmed in 34 N. J. Eq. 278]. See Dester v. Ross, 85 Mich. 370, 48 N. W. 530.

ment, in the absence of fraud or concealment, they are bound thereby,[98] and must either withdraw or accept the plan as a whole,[99] and are not entitled to a rescission of the reorganization agreement after it has been executed by the purchase of the property, the cancellation of the old mortgage, and the payment of a large part of the assumed indebtedness.[1] Ordinarily all the bondholders who were parties to such reorganization scheme are, in equity, the owners of the property so purchased by their trustee, as tenants in common, and are entitled to relief in a suit by one of them, for himself and others similarly situated, their community of right and interest making it admissible in such case for all the other beneficiaries to come into such suit by intervening petitions.[2] A purchase under a reorganization agreement does not divest the property of the original trust, but the purchaser will hold the same in trust for the parties secured by the mortgage or trust deed,[3] and the property may be followed by the bondholders into the hands of a purchaser from the trustee with knowledge of the trust;[4] and the failure of the scheme under which the purchase was made will not divest or extinguish the trust,[5] nor will the failure of some of the cestuis que trustent to perform their undertakings with the purchaser have any effect upon the rights of others who comply with their agreement;[6] nor will their equitable rights be affected by 98. Crawshay v. Soutter, 6 Wall. (U. S.) 739, 18 L. ed. 845.

99. Miller v. Dodge, 28 Misc. (N. Y.) 640, 59 N. Y. Suppl. 1070.

1. Columbus, etc., R. Co.'s Appeals, 109 Fed. 177, 48 C. C. A. 275.

2. Indiana, etc., R. Co. v. Swannell, 157 Ill. 616, 41 N. E. 989, 30 L. R. A. 290 [affirming 54 Ill. App. 260].

3. Indiana, etc., R. Co. v. Swannell, 157 Ill. 616, 41 N. E. 989, 30 L. R. A. 290 [affirming 54 Ill. App. 260]; Cushman v. Bonfield, 139 Ill. 219, 28 N. E. 937 [affirming 36 Ill. App. 436].

Where a reorganization plan makes no provision for protecting the interests of bondholders, a bondholder who has failed to pay his share of the costs and expenses, and to whom his bonds have been returned by the trustee, has a right to enforce the trust, since the trustee could not rescind the trust agreement after he had obtained title in pursuance of it. Indiana, etc., R. Co. v. Swannell, 157 Ill. 616, 41 N. E. 989, 30 L. R. A. 290 [affirming 54 Ill. App. 260]. Where such bondholder, with full knowledge of the trust reposed in the purchaser at the foreclosure sale, and of the equitable interests of the other bondholders in the property bought, sells and conveys the property to another, and receives and retains for his own use the proceeds of such sale, he will be required to account for such proceeds to the other holders of bonds. Cushman v. Bonfield, 139 Ill. 219, 28 N. E. 937 [affirming 36 Ill. App. 436]. In such case, the concealment of the sale of the property, and the negotiations for the sale by such party from the other bondholders, is evidence of fraud and deception. The fact that he may have been the holder of a majority of the bonds, and had the right to dictate a sale of the property, will not change the result, nor will the fact that a bondholder whose rights were denied may have at some time consented to a sale of the property, or may have had an adverse interest. To deprive him of all right to participate in the sale is evidence of fraud. Cushman v. Bonfield, 139 Ill. 219, 28 N. E. 937 [affirming 36 Ill. App. 436].

The return by such trustee to a bondholder, of the latter's bonds, upon an order receipting in full for the bonds and discharging the trustee from all liability, does not release the equities that such bondholder has in the property purchased by such trustee, and transferred by him to another company. Indiana, etc., R. Co. v. Swannell, 157 Ill. 616, 41 N. E. 989, 30 L. R. A. 290 [affirming 54 Ill. App. 260].

4. Indiana, etc., R. Co. v. Swannell, 157 Ill. 616, 41 N. E. 989, 30 L. R. A. 290 [affirming 54 Ill. App. 260].

A purchaser with notice of the trust, either express or implied, becomes himself a trustee of the property for the beneficiary, and is bound in the same manner as the original trustee, even though he purchases for a valuable consideration. Indiana, etc., R. Co. v. Swannell, 157 Ill. 616, 41 N. E. 989, 30 L. R. A. 290 [affirming 54 Ill. App. 260].

5. Cushman v. Bonfield, 139 Ill. 219, 28 N. E. 937 [affirming 36 Ill. App. 436].

A release by a bondholder of the trustee in the reorganization scheme from all further duty or liability, and a waiver of all rights obtained through or by him, will not preclude such bondholder from following the railroad property purchased by such trustee in his official capacity and transferred by him with notice to another company. Indiana, etc., R. Co. v. Swannell, 157 Ill. 616, 41 N. E. 989, 30 L. R. A. 290 [affirming 54 Ill. App. 260].

6. Indiana, etc., R. Co. v. Swannell, 157 Ill. 616, 41 N. E. 989, 30 L. R. A. 290 [affirming 54 Ill. App. 260]; Cushman v. Bonfield, 139 Ill. 219, 28 N. E. 937 [affirming 36 Ill. App. 436].

In such case, the sale having been made in the interest of all the bondholders, he, as one of such bondholders, will become entitled to an equitable interest proportionate to the the failure of the trustee to properly apply assessments paid by them.[7] Bondholders purchasing under such an agreement have the equitable right, after stating the cost and charges of the litigation and trust, to pay the residue of their bid in bonds.[8]

16. Reorganization by Purchasers — a. In General. Purchasers at a foreclosure sale of railroad property and franchises may organize a corporation under such name as they may adopt;[9] and in most jurisdictions there are statutory provisions authorizing or requiring purchasers at such sale to organize a new company for the purposes of the transfer.[10] Such statutory provisions, however, do not apply where the purchaser is a corporation already existing and capable of holding the railroad property and exercising the franchise;[11] or where the purchasing company does not contemplate operating or maintaining the line of the old company.[12]

b. Rights of Bondholders, Stock-Holders, and Creditors. The effect of a foreclosure sale and reorganization, unless it is impeached for fraud, is to extinguish all the rights of the stock-holders of the old company,[13] and thereafter they have no rights in the reorganized company except such as are secured to them, if any, by the decree of foreclosure or by voluntary arrangement among the parties in interest.[14] After the reorganization the rights of the bondholders, stock-holders, and creditors of the old company who have assented to or come into the reorganized company depend upon the terms of the reorganization plan,[15] and the governing statutes.[16] Thus it may be arranged that the new securities to be numher of bonds he owns, while the equitable interests of the other bondholders will remain unaffected; and if he is compelled to pay more than his share of the expenses of securing the title, he will be entitled to contribution from the other bondholders. Cushman v. Bonfield, 139 Ill. 219, 28 N. E. 937 [affirming 36 Ill. App. 436].

7. Cushman v. Bonfield, 139 Ill. 219, 28 N. E. 937 [affirming 36 Ill. App. 436].

8. Duncan v. Mobile, etc., R. Co., 8 Fed. Cas. No. 4,139, 3 Woods 597.

9. Vicksburg, etc., R. Co. v. Elmore, 46 La. Ann. 1237, 15 So. 701.

10. See Railroad Com'rs v. Grand Rapids, etc., R. Co., 130 Mich. 248, 89 N. W. 967 (construing Comp. Laws (1897), § 6227); Dester v. Ross, 85 Mich. 370, 45 N. W. 530; People v. Brooklyn, etc., R. Co., 89 N. Y. 75 (construing N. Y. Railroad Acts, Laws (1854), c. 282, § 1; Laws (1873), c. 469, § 1, c. 710, § 1); Texas Southern R. Co. v. Harle, (Tex. 1907) 105 S. W. 1107 [reversing (Civ. App. 1907) 101 S. W. 878] (construing Rev. St. (1895) art. 4550). And see the statutes of the several states; and Jones Corp. Bonds & Mortg. (3d ed.) 772, for a collection of the statutes on this subject.

Reorganization and reincorporation of corporations in general see Corporations, 10 Cyc. 281 et seq.

Under the Georgia act of Dec. 15, 1894, purchasers organizing a corporation under such statute must file a petition for that purpose with the secretary of state, which petition must be verified, and there must be a certificate of incorporation, although it was otherwise under the act of Dec. 17, 1892. Thomas v. Milledgeville R. Co., 99 Ga. 714, 27 S. E. 756. The issuance by the secretary of state of a certificate of incorporation to such purchasers does not ipso facto create a corporation authorized to operate the railroad and exercise the franchises of that company; such corporation does not come into complete existence until after organization under the certificate in the manner prescribed. Watson v. Albany, etc., R. Co., 111 Ga. 10, 36 S. E. 324.

The ownership of the property by the new company is not affected by the fact that the company was organized for the purpose of raising money upon bonds which failed of realization, since, as soon as organized, the company acquired a legal existence, owed duties fixed by law, and was no longer subject to the will of the organizers. Texas Southern R. Co. v. Harle, (Tex. 1907) 105 S. W. 1107 [reversing (Civ. App. 1907) 101 S. W. 878].

11. People v. Brooklyn, etc., R. Co., 89 N. Y. 75.

12. Munson v. Syracuse, etc., R. Co., 103 N. Y. 58, 8 N. E. 355, construing Laws (1873), c. 710.

13. Thornton v. Wabash R. Co., 81 N. Y. 462; Dow v. Iowa Cent. R. Co., 70 Hun (N. Y.) 186, 24 N. Y. Suppl. 292 [affirmed in 144 N. Y. 426, 39 N. E. 398]; Carpenter v. Catlin, 44 Barb. (N. Y.) 75, 29 How. Pr. 423. See Fosdick v. Green, 1 Cinc. Super. Ct. 537.

14. Vatable v. New York, etc., R. Co., 96 N. Y. 50; Thornton v. Wabash R. Co., 81 N. Y. 462.

15. See Davidson v. Mexican Nat. R. Co., 58 Fed. 653; Central Trust Co. v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 58 Fed. 500.

16. See Pratt v. Munson, 84 N. Y. 582, holding, however, that the provision of Laws (1853), c. 502, § 2, permitting a stockholder of a railroad company within six months after a foreclosure sale to acquire stock of the company purchasing, upon payissued by the new company shall be exchanged for and extinguish the bonds of the old company,[17] where the demand therefor is made in proper time,[18] and one who has consented to the agreement may be compelled to surrender his old bonds and accept the new ones as provided therein.[19] The consummation of such a plan operates as a payment of the old bonds,[20] and the former holders thereof have no claim upon the proceeds of the sale as unsecured creditors, to the amount by which the sum realized falls below the amount of such bonds.[21] If a stock-holder, bondholder, or other creditor refuses or fails to come into the reorganization, or to comply with certain conditions until after the expiration of the specified time, he can claim no right to participate therein,[22] even though he was ignorant of the agreement until after the expiration of the time fixed, and in such case his only remedy, if any, would be to attack the foreclosure.[23] Where the plan of reorganization is not prohibited by law, a stock-holder, bondholder, or general creditor who takes part in the reorganization is estopped, in the absence of fraud, to attack the reorganization as ultra vires.[24] Where, however, there has been fraud in the reorganization plan, the transfer of the property may be set aside in equity.[25]

c. Rights and Liabilities of Reorganized Company.[26] As a general rule the new company succeeds to all the property, rights, privileges, and duties of the old company,[27] except such as were granted to the latter company by a special statute,[28] and except such as were not covered by the mortgage under which the road was sold.[29] But the property purchased at the foreclosure sale, where a new charter is secured and a reorganization had thereunder, must be transferred by the purchasers to the new company,[30] and the new company may issue bonds for the property bought.[31] As a general rule the reorganized or new company is not bound by the debts or obligations of the old corporation,[32] except where ment of a proportionate share of the price, was repealed by the act of 1854, amending the General Railroad Act, and by the act of 1874, to facilitate the reorganization of railroads sold under mortgage.

17. Houston, etc., R. Co. v. Keller, 90 Tex. 214, 37 S. W. 1062 [reversing (Civ. App. 1896) 36 S. W. 859].

18. Hoopes v. Corbin, 1 N. Y. St. 212.

19. Pollitz v. Farmers' L. & T. Co., 53 Fed. 210.

20. Houston, etc., R. Co. v. Keller, 90 Tex. 214, 37 S. W. 1062 [reversing (Civ. App. 1896) 36 S. W. 859].

21. Central Trust Co. v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 58 Fed. 500.

Judgment creditors who have advanced money to the railroad company and who are included in the reorganization agreement on the same basis as the bondholders are in a like position after the completion of the scheme by the delivery of the road to the new company, and their claims also must be considered as paid. Central Trust Co. v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 58 Fed. 500.

22. Vatable v. New York, etc., R. Co., 96 N. Y. 50 [reversing 9 Abb. N. Cas. 271, 11 Abb. N. Cas. 133]; Thornton v. Wabash R. Co., 81 N. Y. 462; Carpenter v. Catlin, 44 Barb. (N. Y.) 75, 29 How. Pr. 423 (holding that a bondholder who signed the agreement and failed to surrender his bonds on request has no right to claim any benefits under the agreement after the purchase of the road, and the formation of a new company); Columbus, etc., R. Co.'s Appeal, 109 Fed. 177, 48 C. C. A. 275; Wetmore v. St. Paul, etc., R. Co., 3 Fed. 177, 1 McCrary 466, 29 Fed. Cas. No. 17,469, 5 Dill. 531.

23. Thornton v. Wabash R. Co., 81 N. Y. 462; Hoopes v. Corbin, 1 N. Y. St. 212.

24. Hollins v. St. Paul, etc., R. Co., 9 N. Y. Suppl. 909.

25. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Des Moines, etc., R. Co., 101 Fed. 632.

26. Liability of reorganized company to taxation see TAXATION.

27. Pollard v. Maddox, 28 Ala. 321; Vicksburg, etc., R. Co. v. Elmore, 46 La. Ann. 1237, 15 So. 701; Pierce v. Ayer, 88 Me. 100, 33 Atl. 777; Somerset R. Co. v. Pierce, 88 Me. 86, 33 Atl. 772; Gray v. Massachusetts Cent. R. Co., 171 Mass. 116, 50 N. E. 549.

28. Dow v. Beidelman, 49 Ark. 325, 5 S. W. 297. And see supra, VIII, B, 14, a.

29. Wilmington, etc., R. Co. v. Downward, (Del. 1888) 14 Atl. 720.

30. Thayer v. Wathen, 17 Tex. Civ. App. 382, 44 S. W. 906.

31. Thayer v. Wathen, 17 Tex. Civ. App. 382, 44 S. W. 906, so held under Rev. Sts. (1895) art. 4584*e*.

32. Illinois.— Morgan County v. Thomas, 76 Ill. 120.

Indiana.— Moyer v. Ft. Wayne, etc., R. Co., 132 Ind. 88, 31 N. E. 567.

Michigan.— Cook v. Detroit, etc., R. Co., 43 Mich. 349, 5 N. W. 390.

New York.— People v. Rome, etc., R. Co., 103 N. Y. 95, 8 N. E. 369.

Wisconsin.— Gilman v. Sheboygan, etc., R.

the circumstances are such as to warrant the conclusion that the new company is not a special and distinct company but merely a continuation of the old company, and hence the same person in law,[33] and except where the new company has either in express terms or by reasonable implication assumed the debts and obligations of the old company,[34] and except where this liability is imposed by the statute under which the reorganization takes place,[35] or by the decree of foreclosure and sale,[36] and except as to such claims as constitute a paramount lien on the property or fund received under the purchase.[37] The new company, however, is liable to account for the railroad property to a holder of bonds of the old company who has not come into the reorganization,[38] but it is not liable for the operation of the road during the time intervening between the purchase and its organization, unless its possession during that time is affirmatively shown.[39] After a sale under the mortgage and a subsequent sale by the purchaser to a new company the receiver of the old company cannot, by a summary process, compel the officers of the new company to turn over to him the books of the old company, which books passed into their possession when the property changed hands and have been used as the books of the new company, although the same persons were officers of the old company.[40] Where the new company has come by the property fraudulently it cannot, when deprived of its possession, recover for repairs or improvements or for encumbrances paid by it while in possession.[41]

17. Disposition of Proceeds and Surplus. The distribution of the proceeds of a foreclosure sale of railroad property is ordinarily governed by the rules applicable to the distribution of the proceeds of foreclosure sales generally.[42] Ordi-

Co., 37 Wis. 317; Vilas v. Milwaukee, etc., R. Co., 17 Wis. 497.

United States.— Hoard v. Chesapeake, etc., R. Co., 123 U. S. 222, 8 S. Ct. 74, 37 L. ed. 130; Sullivan v. Portland, etc., R. Co., 94 U. S. 806, 24 L. ed. 324.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 661. And see supra, VIII, B, 14, e, h.

Where a railroad company is incorporated by a special act authorizing its organization, etc., on the purchase of another road under foreclosure there is no privity between the two companies, so as to render the new company to which the assets of the old are sold liable for the latter's debts. Stewart's Appeal, 72 Pa. St. 291.

33. See Wilson v. Chesapeake, etc., R. Co., 21 Gratt. (Va.) 654.

34. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Miller, 43 Ill. 199; Columbus, etc., R. Co.'s Appeal, 109 Fed. 177, 48 C. C. A. 275; Dubuque, etc., R. Co. v. Pierson, 70 Fed. 303, 17 C. C. A. 401.

A new promise by the reorganized company must be shown, and in order to prove such there must be shown some action on the part of the directors of the reorganized company, from which a promise can be fairly inferred; the mere certificate of their secretary that the amount was due on specified items will be insufficient to prove a new promise or to bind the company, unless it appears that he had been empowered to adjust the claim. American Cent. R. Co. v. Miles, 52 Ill. 174.

Where judgment for land condemned for the road has been rendered against the railroad company, which judgment remains unpaid, and after a sale of the entire road and franchises under foreclosure a new company is organized, which takes possession of the road and occupies the land, the new company is liable in equity to pay the judgment on the ground of having adopted the original transaction. Lake Erie, etc., R. Co. v. Griffin, 92 Ind. 487.

35. Keeler v. Atchison, etc., R. Co., 92 Fed. 545, 34 C. C. A. 523, construing Kan. Sess. Laws (1876), c. 110, § 1.

36. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Farmers' L. & T. Co., 79 Fed. 158; Wood v. Dubuque, etc., R. Co., 28 Fed. 910; Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Central R. Co., 17 Fed. 758, 5 McCrary 421.

37. Morgan County v. Thomas, 76 Ill. 120; Stratton v. European, etc., R. Co., 76 Me. 269; Western Div. Western North Carolina R. Co. v. Drew, 29 Fed. Cas. No. 17,434, 3 Woods 691.

38. Brooks v. Vermont Cent. R. Co., 22 Fed. 211.

39. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co. v. Fierst, 96 Pa. St. 144.

40. Olmsted v. Rochester, etc., R. Co., 46 Hun (N. Y.) 552, holding further that the receiver must institute some proceeding for their surrender, to which the new company must be made a party, to the end that there may be a determination of the ownership.

41. Milwaukee, etc., R. Co. v. Soutter, 13 Wall. (U. S.) 517, 20 L. ed. 543.

42. See Mortgages, 27 Cyc. 1761 et seq.

Waiver.— That a claimant holds a note of the debtor company secured by its mortgage bonds under an agreement that the note is "to be payment when paid" does not waive a right to claim payment from the proceeds of the sale on foreclosure of the debtor company's railroad. Pennsylvania Finance Co. v. Charleston, etc., R. Co., 62 Fed. 205, 10 C. C. A. 323.

Where the proceeds are in court, the court may order that so much of the proceeds as narily the proceeds should be distributed: (1) To the payment of all proper costs and expenses attendant upon the foreclosure proceedings and sale;[43] (2) to the payment of any claims allowed by the court or by statute as superior to the lien of the mortgage or lien foreclosed;[44] (3) to the foreclosed mortgage debt,[45] and the surplus, if any, to other lienors or creditors according to their legal priorities, or, if none, to the mortgagor.[46] Where several debts or claims are equally entitled to be paid out of the proceeds, they are entitled to share ratably therein;[47] and where, after the court has ordered a pro rata distribution among those who have proved their claims, and after some of them have received their proportion, others come in, it is unjust to allow the latter the same proportion in the undistributed balance, but the whole account should be recast at a lower rate, each creditor who had been settled with being required to make a pro rata refund.[48] The fact that a railroad extending into different states cannot be sold on execution at law and can be reached only by proceedings in equity does not render the proceeds of such a road when sold under foreclosure equitable assets which can be administered irrespective of legal priority.[49] Where in a suit by a junior lienor to foreclose a mortgage of all the lands, franchises, and property of a railroad, a prior mortgagee of part of the lands intervenes, such mortgagee is not entitled to have the amount of his mortgage paid out of the funds in the hands of the receiver or out of the proceeds of a sale made pursuant to the decree of foreclosure, subject to such mortgage, since such sale passes only the equity of redemption.[50] Where claimant's lien covers only a portion of the road he is entitled to distribution out of only such proportion of the proceeds of the sale of the entire property as the value of the portion on which his lien exists bears to the value of the entire road.[51] is necessary to pay the claimants then before the court shall be so used, and that the remainder be paid out by the commissioners according to the foreclosure decree. Clews v. First Mortg. Bondholders, 51 Ga. 131.

One having a lien on an equity of redemption in a railroad cannot complain of the disposition of the money paid therefor so long as the liens prior to his exceed the value of the equity of redemption. Merriman v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 66 Fed. 663, 14 C. C. A. 36.

43. Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Stuttgart, etc., R. Co., 106 Fed. 565.

44. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Fosdick, 106 U. S. 47, 1 S. Ct. 10, 27 L. ed. 47; Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Stuttgart, etc., R. Co., 106 Fed. 565; Thomas v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 91 Fed. 202; Central Trust Co. v. Clark, 81 Fed. 269, 26 C. C. A. 397.

45. See Park v. Candler, 113 Ga. 647, 39 S. E. 89; Security Sav., etc., Co. v. Goble, etc., R. Co., 44 Oreg. 370, 74 Pac. 919, 75 Pac. 697; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Fosdick, 106 U. S. 47, 1 S. Ct. 10, 27 L. ed. 47.

Proceeds of the sale of personal property covered by the mortgage are equally applicable to the payment of the mortgage indebtedness with the proceeds of the sale of the real estate. Security Sav., etc., Co. v. Goble, etc., R. Co., 44 Oreg. 370, 74 Pac. 919, 75 Pac. 697.

46. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Fosdick, 106 U. S. 47, 1 S. Ct. 10, 27 L. ed. 47; State Trust Co. v. Kansas City, etc., R. Co., 120 Fed. 398; Central Trust Co. v. East Tennessee, etc., R. Co., 69 Fed. 658.

Priorities generally see supra, VIII, A, 9.

Surrender of title papers.— Where title papers belonging to the railroad company placed in the hands of a person to be held until amounts due certain persons are paid are surrendered under order of the court having charge of the company's property in insolvency proceedings, and the assets are thereby increased, the debts for which they are held should be paid out of the funds from the sale of the road next after the right-of-way claims. McDonald v. Charleston, etc., R. Co., 93 Tenn. 281, 24 S. W. 252.

Personal liability of purchaser.— The purchaser of mortgaged railroad property at a sheriff's sale is personally bound for the surplus of the adjudication, and holds such surplus subject to the claims of inferior mortgage creditors who have for their security a special mortgage on the property sold. Branner v. Hardy, 18 La. Ann. 537.

Unissued bonds and coupons taken up and canceled are not entitled to participate in the proceeds of a foreclosure sale. Atlantic Trust Co. v. Kinderhook, etc., R. Co., 17 N. Y. App. Div. 212, 45 N. Y. Suppl. 492.

47. Morton v. New Orleans, etc., R., etc., Co., 79 Ala. 590; Branner v. Hardy, 18 La. Ann. 537; State v. Mexican Gulf R. Co., 5 La. Ann. 333.

48. Pinkard v. Allen, 75 Ala. 73.

49. Central Trust Co. v. East Tennessee, etc., R. Co., 69 Fed. 658.

50. Woodworth v. Blair, 112 U. S. 8, 5 S. Ct. 6, 28 L. ed. 615.

51. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Loewenthal, 93 Ill. 433 (holding that on the foreclosure of

18. Review of Proceedings. The review of foreclosure proceedings on railroad property is generally regulated by the rules applicable to reviews of foreclosure proceedings generally.[52] As a general rule the appeal brings up nothing but errors legally assigned, and the review will be restricted to the specific questions thus pointed out and designated for review.[53] Thus the appellate court will not review decisions upon points resting wholly in the discretion of the lower court, unless an abuse of such discretion is shown;[54] nor will it review such errors as have been waived or acquiesced in by the parties concerned.[55] It will not review an alleged error respecting the property in a railroad foreclosure suit, and the allowance of amounts due to holders of mortgage bonds, if the evidence presented before the master is not brought before it, and if no objection to the proof was taken below.[56] Where the record on appeal is too meager for the appellate court to determine whether there was error in the decree, such decree must be affirmed.[57] General creditors are not injured by a release of errors by the trustee in an action in which an adjudication that the property had become vested in another corporation was had, where it appears that the company was hopelessly insolvent and that under no circumstances could the general creditors receive anything out of the assets.[58] A supersedeas will not be granted on an appeal from an order confirming a foreclosure sale, where the main decree was not superseded on appeal therefrom.[59]

19. Fees and Costs.[60] Allowances may properly be made from the fund realized on foreclosure to compensate counsel for services rendered for the common benefit in preserving or protecting the railroad property,[61] particularly where a mortgage on a railroad commenced by the mortgagor company and completed by another company, the proceeds of the sale must be distributed in the proportion which the work done by the mortgagor company bears to the value of the entire road as completed by the new company); Hand v. Savannah, etc., R. Co., 17 S. C. 219. See Low v. Blackford, 87 Fed. 392, 31 C. C. A. 15 [affirming 82 Fed. 344].

52. See Mortgages, 27 Cyc. 1673 et seq.

Parties.— Receivers in a suit to foreclose a railroad mortgage, who had been finally discharged prior to the filing of an intervening petition to establish a judgment recovered against them as a claim against a fund reserved by the court after sale of the road to cover such claims, and who were not made parties to the petition are not necessary parties on an appeal from the decree entered thereon. St. Louis Southwestern R. Co. v. Jackson, 95 Fed. 560, 37 C. C. A. 165. So, upon petition for a bill of review upon decree of foreclosure of a railroad mortgage by second mortgage bondholders, they cannot object to the decree on the ground that persons claiming title adversely to a part of the mortgage premises were not made parties, where they deny the railroad company's title to such disputed property. Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Green Bay, etc., R. Co., 6 Fed. 100, 10 Biss. 203.

53. Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Green Bay, etc., R. Co., 6 Fed. 100, 10 Biss. 203, holding that the court may take into consideration the laches of the petitioner in not presenting the petition for nearly two years after the decree had been filed and within a few days before the sale was advertised to take place, where there are no averments in the petition sufficient to excuse the delay of such person in presenting his petition.

An agreement entered into between the bondholders for the proposed organization of the road can only be considered to the extent that the particular interests of the petitioner might be involved. Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Green Bay, etc., R. Co., 6 Fed. 100, 10 Biss. 203.

54. Central Trust Co. v. Grant Locomotive Works, 135 U. S. 207, 10 S. Ct. 736, 34 L. ed. 97, holding that the refusal of the court to allow a mortgagee to amend and supplement its petition for a rehearing of an order making certain expenses a prior lien on the property of the company, and to file it as an original bill of review as of that date, after the time limited by statute for taking an appeal therefor, is a matter of discretion.

55. Guion v. Liverpool, etc., Ins. Co., 109 U. S. 173, 3 S. Ct. 108, 27 L. ed. 895; Indiana Southern R. Co. v. Liverpool, etc., Ins. Co., 109 U. S. 168, 3 S. Ct. 108, 27 L. ed. 895.

56. Indiana Southern R. Co. v. Liverpool, etc., Ins. Co., 109 U. S. 168, 3 S. Ct. 108, 27 L. ed. 895.

57. Kneeland v. Luce, 141 U. S. 437, 12 S. Ct. 39, 35 L. ed. 808.

58. Loeb v. Chur, 3 Silv. Sup. (N. Y.) 147, 6 N. Y. Suppl. 296.

59. Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Iowa Cent. R. Co., 8 Fed. Cas. No. 4,664, 4 Dill. 546.

60. Compensation and expenses of trustee see supra, VIII, A, 7, f, (IX).

Costs and fees in foreclosure suits generally see Mortgages, 27 Cyc. 1775 et seq.

61. Phinizy v. Augusta, etc., R. Co., 98 Fed. 776.

Illustrations.— Thus, where the holder of second-mortgage railroad bonds brings suit provision therefor is made in the foreclosed mortgage,[62] the amount of the fees to be allowed depending upon the nature, extent, and difficulty of the services rendered, the amount involved, and other pertinent circumstances of the case, and being very largely in the discretion of the court, so that its decision will not be reversed, unless an abuse of discretion is shown by the allowance of an entirely unwarranted or excessive fee.[63] Counsel, however, who appear and represent the individual interests of particular parties do not come within this rule.[64] Allowance should also be made for a sheriff's or other officer's fees or compensation,[65] and for reasonable compensation to a master appointed in the foreclosure suit.[66]

20. Redemption[67] — a. Right of Redemption in General. A mortgagor company and those succeeding to its title, or any person having a title or interest in the mortgaged premises which would be prejudiced by a foreclosure, is entitled to redeem from the lien or mortgage existing on the railroad property.[68] As to the right to redeem from the foreclosure sale, however, the law is not so well for the appointment of a receiver, and a receiver is thereupon appointed with the consent of all interested parties and to the advantage of all, the services rendered by complainant's attorneys being for the common benefit should be paid for from the assets of the company. Bound v. South Carolina R. Co., 43 Fed. 404. So where, in the foreclosure of a railroad mortgage, complainant is the holder of a majority of the bonds secured, and the trustee, by agreement with complainant, has declined to act in the foreclosure proceedings and is made a co-defendant, and full allowance has been made to the counsel of complainant and to the receiver for his services, all for duties which by the mortgage were assigned to the trustee, it is not error to refuse an allowance to the trustee's counsel. Philadelphia Inv. Co. v. Ohio, etc., R. Co., 46 Fed. 696.

Where the mortgaged property is insufficient to pay the mortgages, an order cannot be made for an allowance of fees to counsel of the mortgagor, to be paid out of money in the hands of the receiver. Mercantile Trust Co. v. Missouri, etc., R. Co., 41 Fed. 8.

62. Seibert v. Minneapolis, etc., R. Co., 58 Minn. 65, 59 N. W. 826; Southern California Motor-Road Co. v. Union L. & T. Co., 64 Fed. 450, 12 C. C. A. 215.

Where the mortgage so provides, counsel fees should be allowed pursuant to the terms of the mortgage rather than on equitable principles. Seibert v. Minneapolis, etc., R. Co., 58 Minn. 65, 59 N. W. 826 [modifying 58 Minn. 58, 57 N. W. 1068].

63. Easton v. Houston, etc., R. Co., 40 Fed. 189; Walker v. Quincy, etc., R. Co., 28 Fed. 734.

In federal courts, where the question of fees to be allowed counsel for their services in the foreclosure of a railroad mortgage is submitted to the court, it is not bound by any contract made by the trustee, or by any state law or practice, but is governed entirely by the rules of federal courts of equity which require that the allowance shall be a reasonable one, in view of all the circumstances of the case and the usages and practice of the bar to which they belong. Phinizy v. Augusta, etc., R. Co., 98 Fed. 776.

Minn. Gen. St. (1878) c. 81, § 44, fixing the amount of attorney's fees to be allowed on foreclosure of a mortgage of land, does not apply to an ordinary railroad mortgage. Seibert v. Minneapolis, etc., R. Co., 58 Minn. 65, 59 N. W. 826.

64. Phinizy v. Augusta, etc., R. Co., 98 Fed. 776 (holding that counsel who appear for parties who intervene and unsuccessfully contest the validity of the mortgage do not come within this rule); Bound v. South Carolina R. Co., 59 Fed. 509.

65. Gilman v. Des Moines Valley R. Co., 42 Iowa 495.

Under Ala. Code, § 3600, providing that "when any property is ordered to be sold by the decree of a chancery court, such sale shall in all cases be made by the register of the court ordering the same," the register will not be entitled to commissions on a sale which he merely directs, the sale being made by a receiver under the direction of a court, instead of by the register. Rome, etc., R. Co. v. Sibert, 97 Ala. 393, 12 So. 69.

66. Brown v. King, 62 Fed. 529, 10 C. C. A. 541.

67. Redemption generally see Mortgages, 27 Cyc. 1799 et seq.

68. Simmons v. Taylor, 23 Fed. 849.

Purchasers at a foreclosure under a first mortgage have a right in equity to redeem from a second mortgage, and in proceeding to foreclose the second mortgage a decree should be added declaring that such mortgage is a lien on the properties mortgaged, and that if the same is not paid such property shall be sold to satisfy such lien. Simmons v. Taylor, 23 Fed. 849.

Where a railroad company owning a road lying in two states, chartered by both, mortgages its whole road and franchises, and its right of redemption in one state is sold on execution, the purchaser is entitled to redeem the whole road. Wood v. Goodwin, 49 Me. 260, 77 Am. Dec. 259.

Parties.— Where a bill is brought against a railroad company in possession, and a portion of its members, to redeem the road from a mortgage, alleging that defendants are partakers of the income of the road, all who have been connected with the mortgages of the railroad, so as to render them liable for the income under it, should be made parties settled. While an equity of redemption from such a sale exists, while the trustees are in possession of the road and operating it for the benefit of bondholders,[69] or at any time prior to the confirmation of the sale, by bringing into court the amount due and costs; [70] yet in the absence of a statute to the contrary, a valid foreclosure and sale, duly confirmed, extinguishes the equity of redemption,[71] and the only remedy in such a case, if any, is by a suit to vacate the decree.[72] In some jurisdictions, however, a statutory right to redeem is given under which a specified time is generally allowed for redemption before the decree or sale is made final; [73] although, even in such jurisdictions, a general statute applying to redemptions of land in ordinary cases does not apply in case of a railroad foreclosure.[74] A right to redeem from the sale may also be given by the decree of foreclosure.[75] A right of redemption to which a mortgagor company is entitled, after surrender of the property to the state to which it has been mortgaged, cannot be enforced by a suit against the state in its own courts.[76] Where a railroad company, which has the apparent legal title to the equity of redemption of a mortgage on another road, held and operated by the mortgage trustees, has paid off and canceled part of the mortgage and stands ready to pay off the balance, it is entitled to possession pending a suit by stock-holders of the mortgagor company to render void such apparent legal title.[77]

b. Rights of Creditors. A judgment creditor of the mortgagor or owner of the equity of redemption has a right to redeem, provided he does so in the mode prescribed by statute.[78] Where a railroad company owning equities of redemption in the roads of two former companies consolidated to form it is merged by consolidation into another company by proceedings which fix upon its property a lien in favor of its creditors, such lien is one upon the separate equities of redemption, and the lienors have the same right of separate redemption from the mortgages as the railroad company.[79] Where a railroad company's right to redemption from a sale on foreclosure of certain liens has become barred, the holders of other outstanding liens who had not been made parties to the first proceedings defendant. Kennebec, etc., R. Co. v. Portland, etc., R. Co., 54 Me. 173.

69. Ashuelot R. Co. v. Elliot, 52 N. H. 387, 57 N. H. 397.

70. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Fosdick, 106 U. S. 47, 1 S. Ct. 10, 27 L. ed. 47.

71. Turner v. Indianapolis, etc., R. Co., 24 Fed. Cas. No. 14,259, 8 Biss. 380.

72. Delaware, etc., R. Co. v. Scranton, 34 N. J. Eq. 429.

73. See the statutes of the several states. And see Porter v. Pittsburg Bessemer Steel Co., 122 U. S. 267, 7 S. Ct. 1206, 30 L. ed. 1210, 120 U. S. 649, 7 S. Ct. 741, 30 L. ed. 830 (construing Ind. Rev. St. (1881) §§ 770–776); Columbia Finance, etc., Co. v. Kentucky Union R. Co., 60 Fed. 794, 9 C. C. A. 264; Jackson, etc., Co. v. Burlington, etc., R. Co., 29 Fed. 474 (construing Vt. Act, March 3, 1873).

74. Columbia Finance, etc., Co. v. Kentucky Union R. Co., 60 Fed. 794, 9 C. C. A. 264, holding that where railroad franchises and property are mortgaged and are to be sold on foreclosure, they are to be treated as an entirety, and that this entirety is not "real estate," within Ky. Gen. St. c. 63, art. 8, which allows one year for redemption, when the property does not bring two thirds of its appraised value.

Ill. Rev. St. (1845) c. 57, § 15, providing that land sold under mortgage may be redeemed, does not apply to a sale of railroad property, where the mortgage covers the personal as well as the real property, and hence where the franchise and property, real and personal, of a railroad corporation are sold in foreclosure proceedings, the sale may be made without right of redemption. Peoria, etc., R. Co. v. Thompson, 103 Ill. 187; Hammock v. Farmers L. & T. Co., 105 U. S. 77, 26 L. ed. 1111.

75. Simmons v. Taylor, 38 Fed. 682.

76. Troy, etc., R. Co. v. Com., 127 Mass. 43.

77. Barnard v. Hartford, etc., R. Co., 2 Fed. Cas. No. 1,003.

78. Vicksburg, etc., R. Co. v. McCutchen, 52 Miss. 645.

Such right cannot be defeated by the railroad company by its exacting a deed of trust with a long time to run. Vicksburg, etc., R. Co. v. McCutchen, 52 Miss. 645.

Parties.— None of the mortgagees, trustees, or beneficiaries are necessary parties to a bill by a judgment creditor of a railroad corporation whose road and property are subject to trust deeds and other encumbrances praying for a decree for the sale of the equity of redemption, subject to all liens, priorities, and encumbrances, and for a writ of possession to place the purchaser in possession. Vicksburg, etc., R. Co. v. McCutchen, 52 Miss. 645.

79. Compton v. Jesup, 68 Fed. 263, 15 C. C. A. 397, 167 U. S. 1, 17 S. Ct. 795, 42 L. ed. 55.

are not entitled to another sale of the property, but are only entitled to a decree allowing them a reasonable time to redeem.[80] Where the legal title to a railroad has been acquired by the holders of certain liens thereon, they are entitled to maintain a bill of strict foreclosure to cut off the equity and right of junior encumbrancers to redeem.[81]

c. Bar or Waiver of Right. In accordance with the rules regulating the bar or waiver of rights of redemption generally,[82] a right to an equity of redemption may be waived or barred by a long and unreasonable delay in asserting the right, amounting to laches, which is not attributable to ignorance, and which is not explained or sufficiently excused; [83] or by any declarations or conduct on the part of the person entitled to the right, which amounts to a positive and definite relinquishment or surrender of the right; [84] or it may be barred by his failure to redeem within the time limited by the decree of foreclosure.[85]

21. Proceedings to Set Aside Foreclosure. The general rules applicable to proceedings to set aside foreclosures generally govern proceedings to set aside a foreclosure of railroad property,[86] as on questions of pleading,[87] or parties.[88] The party objecting must move promptly and act with diligence, and an unreasonable delay in the assertion of his objections, amounting to laches, and not explained or excused, is sufficient to bar him from relief.[89] In a suit to set aside a foreclosure the validity and sufficiency of the proceedings in the foreclosure suit prior to the sale cannot be questioned,[90] nor can other matters which were proper for adjudication in the foreclosure suit.[91] The decree under such a bill should be no broader than is required by the pleadings.[92]

80. Crouch v. Dakota, etc., R. Co., 18 S. D. 540, 101 N. W. 722.

81. Crouch v. Dakota, etc., R. Co., 18 S. D. 540, 101 N. W. 722.

82. See, generally, Mortgages, 27 Cyc. 1815 et seq.

83. Simmons v. Burlington, etc., R. Co., 159 U. S. 278, 16 S. Ct. 1, 40 L. ed. 150; Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Forest Park, etc., R. Co., 65 Fed. 882, 13 C. C. A. 186.

84. Simmons v. Taylor, 38 Fed. 682.

85. Simmons v. Taylor, 38 Fed. 682.

86. See New York Cent. Trust Co. v. Peoria, etc., R. Co., 104 Fed. 420, 43 C. C. A. 616, holding that a holder of second-mortgage bonds of a railroad company, who was an active participant in litigation resulting in decrees foreclosing the mortgages on the property, and its sale thereunder, is not entitled to file a petition of intervention three years after such decrees were entered, attacking the validity of the proceedings on account of an alleged fraudulent collusion between the receivers and other bondholders, by which the foreclosure of the first mortgages was brought about, where it does not appear that he has been deprived of any rights which were accorded to any other bondholder, or that he sustained any injury from such alleged fraud, if it existed. And see, generally, Mortgages, 27 Cyc. 1717 et seq.

A stock-holder of a railroad company may file a bill to set aside a foreclosure sale as fraudulent on behalf of the corporation, after the directors have refused to do so. Foster v. Mansfield, etc., R. Co., 36 Fed. 627 [affirmed in 146 U. S. 88, 13 S. Ct. 28, 36 L. ed. 899].

An alleged agreement between a committee of income bondholders and a committee of first-mortgage bondholders, as individuals, by which the former were to participate in the reorganization of the company, cannot be considered in such suit, where the members of the latter committee are not made parties. Robinson v. Iron R. Co., 135 U. S. 522, 10 S. Ct. 907, 34 L. ed. 276.

87. Robinson v. Iron R. Co., 135 U. S. 522, 10 S. Ct. 907, 34 L. ed. 276, holding a bill to be demurrable, where there is no allegation of actual fraud in the sale, no offer to redeem from it, and no averment of consideration or mutuality in an alleged agreement between two committees, or that the property was sold for less than its actual value.

88. Wenger v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 114 Fed. 34, 51 C. C. A. 660, holding that to a suit in equity by a creditor of a railroad company to enforce his claim against the property of such company, which has been sold in foreclosure proceedings, and passed into the hands of a reorganized company, on the ground that such sale and purchase were fraudulent, a corporation which owns all the stock of the new company and the trustee for its bondholders are both necessary parties, and a bill which neither joins them as parties nor shows that they cannot be made defendants is demurrable.

89. Raphael v. Rio Grande Western R. Co., 132 Fed. 12, 65 C. C. A. 632; New York Cent. Trust Co. v. Peoria, etc., R. Co., 104 Fed. 418, 43 C. C. A. 613; Foster v. Mansfield, etc., R. Co., 36 Fed. 627 [affirmed in 146 U. S. 88, 13 S. Ct. 28, 36 L. ed. 899].

90. Robinson v. Iron R. Co., 135 U. S. 522, 10 S. Ct. 907, 34 L. ed. 276.

91. Robinson v. Iron R. Co., 135 U. S. 522, 10 S. Ct. 907, 34 L. ed. 276.

92. Barnes v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 122

IX. RECEIVERS.*

A. In General.[93] It is now well settled that the court may in a proper case place a railroad in the hands of a receiver;[94] but the power is always exercised with reluctance and only in case of manifest necessity in order to preserve the property and protect the rights of those interested therein,[95] and a receiver will not be appointed where such necessity is not shown,[96] or there is another adequate remedy at law or in equity,[97] or a receiver if appointed would have no duties to perform,[98] or where it appears that a greater injury would result from the appointment of a receiver than from leaving the road in the hands of the present management.[99] The general rule also is that to justify the appointment of a receiver there must be a suit pending,[1] the appointment of a receiver being merely ancillary to the relief demanded in such suit;[2] but it has been held that where a case is presented which demands relief which can best be given by a receivership, such relief will not necessarily be refused because the time has not arrived when other substantial relief can be asked.[3] A receiver will not be appointed where it appears that the suit is collusive and designed to accomplish some fraudulent or improper purpose;[4] but it is not sufficient evidence of a fraudulent collusion that the officers or directors of the company concurred in the application for the appointment,[5] or admitted the truth of the allegations of the bill.[6] Provision for the appointment of receivers is in some cases expressly made by statute,[7] but the

U. S. 1, 7 S. Ct. 1043, 30 L. ed. 1128 [affirming 2 Fed. Cas. No. 1,061, 8 Biss. 514, 8 Reporter 776].

93. Accounting and compensation of receivers see RECEIVERS.

Actions by or against receivers see RECEIVERS.

Allowance and payment of claims see RECEIVERS.

Liabilities on bonds or undertakings in receivership proceedings see RECEIVERS.

Priorities of liens and claims see RECEIVERS.

Receiver's certificate see RECEIVERS.

Supervision and instruction of court see RECEIVERS.

Wrongful receiverships see RECEIVERS.

94. Meyer v. Johnston, 53 Ala. 237; State v. Jacksonville, etc., R. Co., 15 Fla. 201; Stevens v. Davidson, 18 Gratt. (Va.) 819, 98 Am. Dec. 692; Cole v. Philadelphia, etc., R. Co., 140 Fed. 944.

95. Meyer v. Johnston, 53 Ala. 237; State v. Jacksonville, etc., R. Co., 15 Fla. 201; Merriam v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 136 Mo. 145, 36 S. W. 630; Milwaukee, etc., R. Co. v. Soutter, 2 Wall. (U. S.) 510, 17 L. ed. 900; Tysen v. Wabash R. Co., 24 Fed. Cas. No. 14,315, 8 Biss. 247.

96. Merriam v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 136 Mo. 145, 36 S. W. 630; Rochester v. Bronson, 41 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 78.

97. Rice v. St. Paul, etc., R. Co., 24 Minn. 464; Merriam v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 136 Mo. 145, 36 S. W. 630; Boston, etc., R. Co. v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 65 N. H. 393, 23 Atl. 529.

98. In re Knott, etc., R. Co., [1901] 2 Ch. 8, 70 L. J. Ch. 463, 84 L. T. Rep. N. S. 433, 17 T. L. R. 353, 49 Wkly. Rep. 469 (holding that the court will not appoint a receiver for a road which is not completed and ready for traffic where it is not suggested that there are any outstanding debts due to the company or any income which the receiver would be entitled to receive, so that if appointed he would have no duties to perform); In re Birmingham, etc., R. Co., 18 Ch. D. 155, 50 L. J. Ch. 594, 45 L. T. Rep. N. S. 164, 29 Wkly. Rep. 908 (holding that a receiver will not be appointed where the company never acquired any land or constructed any road and has no property).

99. Tysen v. Wabash R. Co., 24 Fed. Cas. No. 14,315, 8 Biss. 247.

1. State v. Ross, 122 Mo. 35, 25 S. W. 947, 23 L. R. A. 534. See also, generally, RECEIVERS.

2. State v. Ross, 122 Mo. 435, 25 S. W. 947, 23 L. R. A. 534.

3. Brassey v. New York, etc., R. Co., 19 Fed. 663. See also Central Trust Co. v. Wabash, etc., R. Co., 29 Fed. 618; Wabash, etc., R. Co. v. Central Trust Co., 23 Fed. 513. But see State v. Ross, 122 Mo. 435, 25 S. W. 947, 23 L. R. A. 534.

4. Sage v. Memphis, etc., R. Co., 18 Fed. 571, 5 McCrary 643.

5. Brassey v. New York, etc., R. Co., 19 Fed. 663.

6. Pennsylvania L. Ins., etc., Co. v. Jacksonville, etc., R. Co., 55 Fed. 131, 5 C. C. A. 53.

7. See the statutes of the several states; and the following cases:

California.— McLane v. Placerville, etc., R. Co., 66 Cal. 606, 6 Pac. 748; Sacramento, etc., R. Co. v. San Francisco Super. Ct., 55 Cal. 453.

Kentucky.— Ball v. Maysville, etc., R. Co., 102 Ky. 486, 43 S. W. 731, 19 Ky. L. Rep. 1540, 80 Am. St. Rep. 362; Ingram v. Cinpower of the court to make such appointment is not dependent upon statutory enactment.[8]

* By James A. Gywn.

B. Grounds of Appointment — 1. In General.[9] The propriety of appointing a receiver for a railroad is so dependent upon the circumstances of each particular case that it is impracticable to attempt definitely to state the grounds which will justify such appointment.[10] The matter is ordinarily said to rest in the discretion of the court,[11] which, however, is not arbitrary but to be exercised in accordance with the settled principles governing the appointment of receivers,[12] and always sparingly, cautiously, and with reference to all the circumstances of the particular case.[13] A receiver will not be appointed merely because it would do no harm,[14] or because all the parties consent,[15] or because the company is insolvent,[16] or where it does not appear that the circumstances are such as to make the appointment of a receiver necessary;[17] but where it appears that such relief is necessary to preserve and protect the property and the rights of those interested therein, the appointment will be made.[18] So in order to protect the cinnati, etc., R. Co., 107 S. W. 239, 32 Ky. L. Rep. 849.

New Jersey.— Sewell v. Cape May, etc., R. Co., (Ch. 1887) 9 Atl. 785.

New York.— Rochester v. Bronson, 41 How. Pr. 78.

Tennessee.— State v. Edgefield, etc., R. Co., 6 Lea 353.

Texas.— Bonner v. Hearne, 75 Tex. 242, 12 S. W. 38.

England.— In re Manchester, etc., R. Co., 14 Ch. D. 645, 49 L. J. Ch. 365, 42 L. T. Rep. N. S. 714; Russell v. East Anglian R. Co., 15 Jur. 935, 20 L. J. Ch. 257, 2 Mac. & G. 125, 6 R. & Can. Cas. 501, 49 Eng. Ch. 95, 42 Eng. Reprint 208.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 672 et seq.

Railway ancillary to dock.— A company formed for the purpose of making a dock and afterward authorized by statute to make a short piece of railway over its own land connected with the line of a railroad company and to work it for through traffic is a company "constituted by act of parliament for the purpose of making a railway," and so is a railway company within the meaning of the act of 1867, so that a receiver and manager may be appointed on the application of a judgment creditor, and the receiver and manager may be appointed of the whole undertaking of the company and not merely of the railway belonging to it. In re East India, etc., Dock Co., 38 Ch. D. 576, 57 L. J. Ch. 1053, 59 L. T. Rep. N. S. 236, 36 Wkly. Rep. 849 [affirming 58 L. T. Rep. N. S. 714].

8. Meyer v. Johnston, 53 Ala. 237.

Jurisdiction and powers of court see infra, IX, C, 1.

9. In foreclosure proceedings see Mortgages, 27 Cyc. 1622.

10. Mercantile Trust Co. v. Missouri, etc., R. Co., 36 Fed. 221, 1 L. R. A. 397.

11. Sage v. Memphis, etc., R. Co., 125 U. S. 361, 8 S. Ct. 887, 31 L. ed. 694; Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Winona, etc., R. Co., 59 Fed. 957; Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Kansas City, etc., R. Co., 53 Fed. 182; Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 27 Fed. 146; Williamson v. New Albany, etc., R. Co., 30 Fed. Cas. No. 17,753, 1 Biss. 198.

12. Merriam v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 136 Mo. 145, 36 S. W. 630. See also Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Eakin, 100 Ky. 745, 39 S. W. 416, 19 Ky. L. Rep. 54.

13. Meyer v. Johnston, 53 Ala. 237; Merriam v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 136 Mo. 145, 36 S. W. 630; Sage v. Memphis, etc., R. Co., 125 U. S. 361, 8 S. Ct. 887, 31 L. ed. 694; Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Kansas City, etc., R. Co., 53 Fed. 182; Tysen v. Wabash, etc., R. Co., 24 Fed. Cas. No. 14,315, 8 Biss. 247.

14. Merriam v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 136 Mo. 145, 36 S. W. 630.

15. Whelpley v. Erie R. Co., 29 Fed. Cas. No. 17,504, 6 Blatchf. 271.

16. Meyer v. Johnston, 53 Ala. 237; Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 27 Fed. 146.

17. Merriam v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 136 Mo. 145, 36 S. W. 630; Tysen v. Wabash, etc., R. Co., 24 Fed. Cas. No. 14,315, 8 Biss. 247.

A receiver will not be appointed because during an action to prevent an illegal consolidation of two railroad companies the stock-holders, contrary to an injunction, elected directors for the new company (Cleveland, etc., R. Co. v. Jewett, 37 Ohio St. 649); and in a suit between two railroad companies, each claiming the exclusive right to use the tracks extending through a tunnel, where it appears that the regulations and management by which the tunnel is controlled are sufficient and reasonable, the court will not disturb them by appointing a receiver (Delaware, etc., R. Co. v. Erie R. Co., 21 N. J. Eq. 298); and where a railroad company has sublet a leased lien contrary to the covenants of the lease a receiver will not be appointed in a suit brought by the lessor to enforce a forfeiture of the lease, where it appears that the lessor is responsible and is operating the road (Boston, etc., R. Co. v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 65 N. H. 393, 23 Atl. 529).

18. Ingram v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 107 S. W. 239, 32 Ky. L. Rep. 849; Stevens v. Davidson, 18 Gratt. (Va.) 819, 98 Am. Dec.

security of the bondholders a receiver will be appointed with authority to complete the construction of a railroad, where the company is unable to do so, in order to prevent a forfeiture of its charter,[19] or of a valuable land grant.[20] A receiver may also properly be appointed in proceedings by the state to forfeit the franchise of a railroad company,[21] or where the company has incurred a forfeiture of its charter by a suspension of business.[22] Where a railroad company makes a lease of its road and thereafter executes a trust deed securing bonds of the road a receiver cannot be appointed to take charge of the road as against the lessee at the suit of the bondholders.[23]

2. Default in Payment of Indebtedness. A default in the payment of principal or interest of bonds or mortgages is not of itself sufficient to necessitate the appointment of a receiver,[24] although the company is insolvent;[25] but the matter rests in the discretion of the court,[26] and a receiver will not be appointed where it does not appear to be necessary,[27] or where it appears that it would do more

692; Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Winona, etc., R. Co., 59 Fed. 957; Allen v. Dallas, etc., R. Co., 1 Fed. Cas. No. 221, 3 Woods 316.

A receiver may properly be appointed upon a bill alleging that plaintiff had recovered judgment against one of defendant companies, and that it had transferred its road to the other defendant, and that the grantee had never operated the road and the grantor had no power to make the transfer, which was only made for the purposes of defrauding plaintiff (Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Southworth, 38 Ill. App. 225); and where pending an action for personal injuries against a railroad company the company sells its road to another, the vendee agreeing to pay any judgment recovered, and after the purchase the vendee abandons and ceases to operate a large portion of the road, and allows the property to depreciate, it is sufficient ground for the appointment of a receiver, under the Kentucky statute authorizing such appointment where the property is in danger of being lost or materially injured (Ingram v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 107 S. W. 239, 32 Ky. L. Rep. 849).

Extending receivership.— Where a railroad is in the hands of receivers pending suits of foreclosure and the settlement of priority of liens, it is proper, on the application of a lien-holder claiming a priority, to extend the receivership as to such claim over the portion of the road on which the priority is claimed (Mercantile Trust Co. v. Missouri, etc., R. Co., 41 Fed. 8); and where a railroad has been placed in the hands of a receiver under one mortgage, it may, upon petition of prior mortgagees, be extended for their protection (Farmers', etc., Bank v. Philadelphia, etc., R. Co., 14 Phila. (Pa.) 456).

19. Allen v. Dallas, etc., R. Co., 1 Fed. Cas. No. 221, 3 Woods 316.

20. Allen v. Dallas, etc., R. Co., 1 Fed. Cas. No. 221, 3 Woods 316; Kennedy v. St. Paul, etc., R. Co., 14 Fed. Cas. No. 7,706, 2 Dill. 448. See also Kennedy v. St. Paul, etc., R. Co., 14 Fed. Cas. No. 7,707, 5 Dill. 519, where on an application to issue debentures to raise money to complete a road to prevent the forfeiture of a land grant, the court refused to allow the issue for the purpose of raising the money in the first instance, but authorized the receiver to complete the road with money furnished by the bondholders and after completion to issue debentures for the amount so advanced and used.

21. Texas Trunk R. Co. v. State, 83 Tex. 1, 18 S. W. 199.

22. People v. Northern R. Co., 53 Barb. (N. Y.) 98 [affirmed in 42 N. Y. 217], holding that the judgment of forfeiture may direct the appointment of a receiver notwithstanding the statute makes it the duty of the attorney-general immediately after the rendition of such a judgment to institute proceedings for that purpose, the statute being intended to cover cases where no receiver was appointed in the judgment, and not to prevent the court from rendering complete relief in and by the judgment itself.

23. Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Eakin, 100 Ky. 745, 39 S. W. 416, 19 Ky. L. Rep. 54.

24. Merriam v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 136 Mo. 145, 36 S. W. 630; Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Winona, etc., R. Co., 59 Fed. 957; American L. & T. Co. v. Toledo, etc., R. Co., 29 Fed. 416; Tysen v. Wabash R. Co., 24 Fed. Cas. No. 14,315, 8 Biss. 247; Union Trust Co. v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 24 Fed. Cas. No. 14,402, 4 Dill. 114; Williamson v. New Albany, etc., R. Co., 30 Fed. Cas. No. 17,753, 1 Biss. 198.

25. Merriam v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 136 Mo. 145, 36 S. W. 630.

26. Farmers' Loan, etc., Co. v. Winona, etc., R. Co., 59 Fed. 957; Union Trust Co. v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 24 Fed. Cas. No. 14,402, 4 Dill. 114; Williamson v. New Albany, etc., R. Co., 30 Fed. Cas. No. 17,753, 1 Biss. 198.

27. Rice v. St. Paul, etc., R. Co., 24 Minn. 464; American L. & T. Co. v. Toledo, etc., R. Co., 29 Fed. 416; Union Trust Co. v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 24 Fed. Cas. No. 14,402, 4 Dill. 114; Blair v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 20 Fed. 348.

Although the mortgage covers the income of the road and gives the trustee a right of possession on default, and such possession has been refused, a receiver will not be appointed unless it appears that there will be loss to the bondholders, since the trustee has the usual remedies to obtain possession, and unless there is danger of loss to the bond-harm than good.[28] Such appointment will, however, be made whenever a necessity therefor is shown,[29] as where in addition to the default the company is insolvent and the mortgage security inadequate,[30] particularly if there be other considerations making such appointment proper, as where the officers of the company are acting contrary to the interest of the stock-holders,[31] or misapplying the income of the road,[32] or failing to apply earnings to the payment of interest,[33] or the road is in possession of certain bondholders whose interests are hostile to the other bondholders.[34] The court may also appoint a receiver where by the terms of a deed of trust it is made the duty of the trustee to take possession on default and he fails to do so,[35] or where the mortgage or deed of trust authorizes the mortgagee or trustee upon a default to take possession and operate the road and apply the income to the payment of the indebtedness.[36] So also where the trustees under a prior mortgage take possession and undertake to execute the trust prejudicially to the subsequent encumbrancers the court will take the road out of their possession and place it in the hands of a receiver.[37] Circumstances may also exist where a default is imminent and manifest which will make the appointment of a receiver proper before the default has actually occurred,[38] but ordinarily a receiver will not be appointed before default.[39]

3. Mismanagement of Road. A receiver will not be appointed merely because of internal dissensions regarding the management of the road;[40] but where a railroad has been mortgaged and the company is notoriously insolvent and is wasting the property so as to imperil the security, a receiver will be appointed.[41] Where in a foreclosure suit the bondholders are entitled to take possession by a receiver and manage the property, the fact that it is being properly managed by the company is not ground for refusing to appoint a receiver.[42]

C. Appointment, Qualification, and Tenure — 1. Jurisdiction and Powers of Court.[43] While the appointment of receivers is in some cases regulated by statute,[44] courts of equity have, independently of statute, jurisdiction holders there is no more reason for sequestering the income than any other property of the company. Union Trust Co. v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 24 Fed. Cas. No. 14,402, 4 Dill. 114.

28. Tysen v. Wabash R. Co., 24 Fed. Cas. No. 14,315, 8 Biss. 247.

29. Taylor v. Philadelphia, etc., R. Co., 14 Phila. (Pa.) 451; Putnam v. Jacksonville, etc., R. Co., 61 Fed. 440; Mercantile Trust Co. v. Missouri, etc., R. Co., 36 Fed. 221, 1 L. R. A. 397.

30. Kelly v. Alabama, etc., R. Co., 58 Ala. 489; Central Trust Co. v. Chattanooga, etc., R. Co., 94 Fed. 275, 36 C. C. A. 241; Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Winona, etc., R. Co., 59 Fed. 957; Dow v. Memphis, etc., R. Co., 20 Fed. 260; Kerp v. Michigan, etc., R. Co., 14 Fed. Cas. No. 7,727.

31. Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Winona, etc., R. Co., 59 Fed. 957.

32. Kelly v. Alabama, etc., R. Co., 58 Ala. 489; Dow v. Memphis, etc., R. Co., 20 Fed. 260.

33. Dow v. Memphis, etc., R. Co., 20 Fed. 260; Kerp v. Michigan Lake Shore R. Co., 14 Fed. Cas. No. 7,727.

34. Benedict v. St. Joseph, etc., R. Co., 19 Fed. 173.

35. Wilmer v. Atlanta, etc., Air-Line R. Co., 30 Fed. Cas. No. 17,775, 2 Woods 409, holding further that in such a case the appointment may be made, although it does not appear that the mortgage security is inadequate.

36. McLane v. Placerville, etc., R. Co., 66 Cal. 606, 6 Pac. 748; Sacramento, etc., R. Co. v. San Francisco Super. Ct., 55 Cal. 453. But see Rice v. First Div. St. Paul, etc., R. Co., 24 Minn. 464.

37. Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Mississippi Cent. R. Co., 12 Fed. Cas. No. 7,008.

38. Wabash, etc., R. Co. v. Central Trust Co., 23 Fed. 513; Brassey v. New York, etc., R. Co., 19 Fed. 663.

39. American L. & T. Co. v. Toledo, etc., R. Co., 29 Fed. 416.

40. American L. & T. Co. v. Toledo, etc., R. Co., 29 Fed. 416; Tysen v. Wabash R. Co., 24 Fed. Cas. No. 14,315, 8 Biss. 247.

41. Western Div. Western North Carolina R. Co. v. Drew, 29 Fed. Cas. No. 17,434, 3 Woods 691, holding further that such appointment will be made notwithstanding it is provided by statute that the mortgagee shall not be entitled to possession until after a decree of foreclosure.

42. Van Benthuysen v. Central New England, etc., R. Co., 17 N. Y. Suppl. 709.

43. Concurrent and conflicting jurisdiction of different courts see Courts, 11 Cyc. 988, 1011, 1019.

Power of judge at chambers or in vacation to appoint receivers see Judges, 23 Cyc. 554.

44. Sacramento, etc., R. Co. v. San Francisco Super. Ct., 55 Cal. 453; Cincinnati, etc., to appoint receivers,[45] and in jurisdictions where law and equity are administered by the same court, the power is exercised by courts of general jurisdiction having the powers previously exercised by courts of equity.[46] While a court cannot extend its powers beyond its territorial jurisdiction,[47] it has been held that a court having jurisdiction of the person of the corporation may appoint a receiver for an entire line of railroad, although extending beyond the jurisdiction of the court or running through several different states,[48] and may acquire possession of the property by compelling the company to execute assignments to the receiver;[49] and that the fact that some of the property may be in the hands of third persons so that the receiver may have to invoke the assistance of the courts in other jurisdictions is no ground for refusing to make such appointment, as such assistance will ordinarily be granted through comity;[50] but the usual practice is to institute ancillary proceedings in the different jurisdictions for the appointment of the same person as receiver of the entire property.[51] In foreclosure proceedings the court cannot appoint a receiver except for the property or portion of the road covered by the mortgage;[52] and in case of several distinct roads operated as a general system, the court cannot in a suit to foreclose a mortgage on one of such roads, appoint a receiver for the roads of the other companies which are not affected by the mortgage and are not parties to the suit.[53] In a suit to enforce a contract lien on a mortgaged road the court has jurisdiction, in advance of any application to foreclose the mortgage, to take possession of the property by a receiver and sell the same subject to all superior liens, and distribute the proceeds among those entitled thereto.[54]

2. Proceedings For Appointment. Ordinarily a receiver for a railroad should not be appointed upon an ex parte application,[55] and the court will not appoint

R. Co. v. Sloan, 31 Ohio St. 1; Bonner v. Hearne, 75 Tex. 242, 12 S. W. 38.

The Texas statute providing that a suit for the appointment of a receiver for a corporation shall be brought "in the county where the principal office of said corporation is located" is held by construction in connection with other statutes as merely conferring on the corporation the privilege of having such suits instituted in the county of its principal office and not to deprive the district courts of other counties of the power of making such appointment in case the corporation fails to plead such privilege. Bonner v. Hearne, 75 Tex. 242, 12 S. W. 38.

45. Meyer v. Johnston, 53 Ala. 237.

A federal court may in the exercise of its chancery jurisdiction and without any statutory authority appoint a receiver for a railroad on a proper showing by a proper party. Cole v. Philadelphia, etc., R. Co., 140 Fed. 944.

In Canada the high court of justice has power to appoint a receiver of a railroad company at the instance of a creditor, both where the company being situated within the province is under provincial legislative jurisdiction and also where it is under federal legislative jurisdiction, if there is no federal legislation providing otherwise. Wile v. Bruce Mines R. Co., 11 Ont. L. Rep. 200, 7 Ont. Wkly. Rep. 157.

46. Texas Trunk R. Co. v. State, 83 Tex. 1, 18 S. W. 199.

Appointment in legal action or proceeding. — A state district court having jurisdiction both at law and also that previously exercised by courts of chancery may appoint a receiver in a quo warranto proceeding to forfeit the charter of a railroad company. Texas Trunk R. Co. v. State, 83 Tex. 1, 18 S. W. 199.

47. State v. Jacksonville, etc., R. Co., 15 Fla. 201; Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Gay, 86 Tex. 571, 26 S. W. 599, 25 L. R. A. 52.

In Florida a receiver cannot be appointed by the judge of one circuit to take possession of property of a railroad company in another circuit of that state. State v. Jacksonville, etc., R. Co., 15 Fla. 201.

48. Wilmer v. Atlanta, etc., Air-Line R. Co., 30 Fed. Cas. No. 17,775, 2 Woods 409. See also Port Royal, etc., R. Co. v. King, 93 Ga. 63, 19 S. E. 809, 24 L. R. A. 730; State v. Northern Cent. R. Co., 18 Md. 193. But see Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Gay, 86 Tex. 571, 26 S. W. 599, 25 L. R. A. 52.

49. Wilmer v. Atlanta, etc., Air-Line R. Co., 30 Fed. Cas. No. 17,775, 2 Woods 409.

50. Wilmer v. Atlanta, etc., Air-Line R. Co., 30 Fed. Cas. No. 17,775, 2 Woods 409.

51. Central Trust Co. v. Wabash, etc., R. Co., 29 Fed. 618.

Ancillary appointment see infra, IX, H, 2.

52. State v. Jacksonville, etc., R. Co., 15 Fla. 201; Merriam v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 136 Mo. 145, 36 S. W. 630. But see Rumsey v. Peoples R. Co., 91 Mo. App. 202; Platt v. New York, etc., R. Co., 170 N. Y. 451, 63 N. E. 532 [reversing 63 N. Y. App. Div. 401, 71 N. Y. Suppl. 913].

53. Hook v. Bosworth, 64 Fed. 443, 12 C. C. A. 208.

54. Park v. New York, etc., R. Co., 70 Fed. 641.

55. Wabash R. Co. v. Dykeman, 133 Ind.

a receiver without notice to the adverse party and an opportunity to be heard where it is not shown that a manifest and urgent necessity for such immediate appointment exists,[56] or where a temporary injunction will adequately protect the rights of the parties until such notice can be given.[57] Circumstances may arise, however, under which the appointment of a receiver on an ex parte application without notice will be proper;[58] but to justify such an appointment the bill or petition must allege facts showing it to be necessary,[59] and it is not sufficient merely to allege that such an emergency exists.[60] The bill or petition must in all cases allege sufficient facts to justify the appointment of a receiver,[61] although the fact that the averments were not such as to have made it proper to appoint a receiver will not make the order appointing one a nullity.[62] So also the court should not appoint a receiver merely on a bill filed without being supported by evidence or affidavits,[63] and where the facts alleged as grounds for the appointment are positively denied a receiver will not ordinarily be appointed;[64] but while this is true where the hearing is on bill and answer only, if there is other evidence in support of the bill it will be considered, and if on the evidence the court is of the opinion that a case is made for the appointment of a receiver, such appointment will be made notwithstanding the denials of the answer.[65] The court may appoint a receiver on petition in the pending cause without the filing of an original bill,[66] and the usages of courts of equity as to the manner of appointing receivers where it is not otherwise provided by statute are alike applicable to cases arising under the codes.[67] Where a prior mortgagee fails to take possession a junior encumbrancer whose rights are likely to be injured by the property remaining in possession of the mortgagor may file his bill, and, if sufficient cause 56, 32 N. E. 823; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Cason, 133 Ind. 49, 32 N. E. 827; Cook v. Detroit, etc., R. Co., 45 Mich. 453, 8 N. W. 74; People v. Albany, etc., R. Co., 55 Barb. (N. Y.) 344 [affirmed in 57 N. Y. 161]; Devoe v. Ithaca, etc., R. Co., 5 Paige (N. Y.) 521.

56. Florida.— State v. Jacksonville, etc., R. Co., 15 Fla. 201.

Indiana.— Wabash R. Co. v. Dykeman, 133 Ind. 56, 32 N. E. 823; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Cason, 133 Ind. 49, 32 N. E. 827.

Missouri.— Merriam v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 136 Mo. 145, 36 S. W. 630.

New York.— People v. Albany, etc., R. Co., 55 Barb. 344 [affirmed in 57 N. Y. 161].

Ohio.— Cleveland, etc., R. Co. v. Jewett, 37 Ohio St. 649.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 677.

The non-residence of one defendant is no excuse for failing to give notice to another defendant who is not a non-resident. Wabash R. Co. v. Dykeman, 133 Ind. 56, 32 N. E. 823.

A service of the petition for the appointment of a receiver at the instance of a judgment creditor, under the English statute of 1867, must be made upon the company in the manner prescribed by the statute. Re Beddgelert R. Co., 24 L. T. Rep. N. S. 122, 19 Wkly. Rep. 427.

57. Devoe v. Ithaca, etc., R. Co., 5 Paige (N. Y.) 521.

58. Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Schmidt, 52 S. W. 835, 21 Ky. L. Rep. 556.

In Missouri it is held that where a receiver is appointed ex parte the appointment cannot be made for a longer time than is fairly and reasonably requisite to allow defendant to show cause against a further continuance of the receivership; what is such a reasonable time being dependent upon the circumstances of the particular case. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Wear, 135 Mo. 230, 36 S. W. 357, 658, 33 L. R. A. 341, holding that three months is unreasonably long.

59. Wabash R. Co. v. Dykeman, 133 Ind. 56, 32 N. E. 823; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Cason, 133 Ind. 49, 32 N. E. 827; People v. Albany, etc., R. Co., 55 Barb. (N. Y.) 344 [affirmed in 57 N. Y. 161].

60. Wabash R. Co. v. Dykeman, 133 Ind. 56, 32 N. E. 823.

61. Merriam v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 136 Mo. 145, 36 S. W. 630; Cleveland, etc., R. Co. v. Jewett, 37 Ohio St. 649.

Existence of assets or property.— On an application by creditors for the appointment of a receiver for a railroad company which has been dissolved, the bill must show the existence of property or assets upon which the court can act. Bigelow v. Union Freight R. Co., 137 Mass. 478.

62. Hervey v. Illinois Midland R. Co., 28 Fed. 169.

63. Newcastle, etc., R. Co.'s Appeal, 3 Walk. (Pa.) 281.

64. Rochester v. Bronson, 41 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 78; Whitehouse v. Point Defiance, etc., R. Co., 9 Wash. 558, 38 Pac. 152.

65. Allen v. Dallas, etc., R. Co., 1 Fed. Cas. No. 221, 3 Woods 316. See also Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Kenney, 159 Ind. 72, 62 N. E. 26.

66. Langdon v. Vermont, etc., R. Co., 54 Vt. 593.

67. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co. v. Sloan, 31 Ohio St. 1.

is shown, have the property placed in the hands of a receiver, without making the prior encumbrancers parties;[68] and in a suit by trustees under a railroad mortgage asking for the appointment of a receiver, bondholders under the mortgage are not necessary or proper parties, where the interest of all the bondholders is the same and no misconduct or incompetency on the part of the trustee is charged.[69]

3. Hearing, Order, and Relief Granted. On a motion for the appointment of a receiver the case cannot be heard on its merits as at the final hearing;[70] nor will the court, on an application for the appointment of a receiver, take jurisdiction of and decide questions having no relation to the object for which the receiver is appointed.[71] An application for the appointment of a receiver may be denied temporarily and continued pending negotiations and proceedings which may affect the propriety of making the appointment,[72] and the refusal of a motion for the appointment of a receiver is no bar to a subsequent application by leave of court, even upon the same state of facts;[73] and the order appointing a receiver to take possession of and operate a railroad may be modified or changed by the court without the consent of the parties.[74] It is the better practice for the order appointing the receiver to stipulate as to the debts and liabilities of the company to be paid by the receiver;[75] but it is not essential that the order for the payment of preferred debts should be made at the time and as a condition of the appointment, and if not then made it may be made subsequently.[76] The court in appointing a receiver may impose such terms as a condition of making the appointment as it may deem just and equitable,[77] and the party a king for and accepting the appointment on the conditions imposed will be bound thereby.[78] The court has power to protect its receiver in his possession and control of the property and may enjoin others from interfering therewith;[79] but it cannot, in a suit in which the receiver is appointed, enjoin another railroad company not a party to the suit and not charged with any interference with the property in the possession of the receiver, from discriminating between the receiver's road and the other connecting roads as to the shipments of freight.[80] The court may also determine the compensation to which the receiver shall be entitled.[81]

68. Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Mississippi Cent. R. Co., 12 Fed. Cas. No. 7,008.

69. Skiddy v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 22 Fed. Cas. No. 12,922, 3 Hughes 320, holding that an application of bondholders to be made parties under such circumstances was properly denied.

70. Kerp v. Michigan, etc., R. Co., 14 Fed. Cas. No. 7,727.

71. Taylor v. Philadelphia, etc., R. Co., 7 Fed. 381, holding that the court will not determine the propriety of postponing a meeting called for the election of officers.

72. Central Trust Co. v. Wabash R. Co., 25 Fed. 693.

73. Belmont v. Erie R. Co., 52 Barb. (N. Y.) 637.

74. Ex p. Dunn, 8 S. C. 207.

75. Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Kansas City, etc., R. Co., 53 Fed. 182; Central Trust Co. v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 41 Fed. 551.

76. Central Trust Co. v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 41 Fed. 551; Blair v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 22 Fed. 471.

77. Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Kansas City, etc., R. Co., 53 Fed. 182. See also Fosdick v. Schall, 99 U. S. 235, 25 L. ed. 339; Dow v. Memphis, etc., R. Co., 20 Fed. 260.

If a mortgagee is unwilling to take a receiver on the terms imposed the foreclosure can proceed without a receivership. Central Trust Co. v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 41 Fed. 551.

If the appointment is not made as a favor to the bondholders but as a matter of legal right under an express provision contained in the mortgage in regard to the appointment of a receiver, the court cannot make claims not already constituting a lien a prior lien upon the corpus of the property, where the income of the road is insufficient to pay current expenses. U. S. Trust Co. v. New York, etc., R. Co., 25 Fed. 800.

78. Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Kansas City, etc., R. Co., 53 Fed. 182, holding further that where in a foreclosure suit the trustee in good faith assents to the terms imposed, the bondholders which he represents are as much bound by such assent as if it had been given by them in person.

79. Vermont, etc., R. Co. v. Vermont Cent. R. Co., 46 Vt. 792.

80. Wood v. New York, etc., R. Co., 61 Fed. 236.

81. Re Hull, etc., R. Co., 57 L. T. Rep. N. S. 82, holding that while the court cannot dictate to a person what he shall take it may refuse to appoint or retain as a receiver a person who is unwilling to serve for the compensation allowed.

4. Defenses and Objections to Appointment. The fact that a receiver for a railroad has already been appointed in one action will not prevent the appointment of another receiver in another action by different parties and involving different rights, although affecting the same property; [82] and in a foreclosure suit a receiver may be appointed notwithstanding the road is in the possession of a lessee, where the lessee is a party before the court; [83] nor does the fact that the equipment of a road of one company which is being operated by a different company may be insufficient to enable a receiver to operate it deprive a judgment creditor of a statutory right to have a receiver appointed on the return of his execution unsatisfied.[84] Upon the insolvency of a controlling railroad company, if the allied companies have been carried into the hands of a receiver along with the controlling company they may have receivers of their own appointed.[85]

5. Who May Apply For Appointment. Receivers for railroads may, in a proper case, be appointed upon the application of mortgagees or trustees in a deed of trust,[86] bondholders,[87] stock-holders,[88] creditors,[89] and while it is unusual,[90] it has been held that a receiver may under some circumstances be appointed upon the application of the company itself.[91] The state, although not a creditor of the

82. St. Louis Car Co. v. Stillwater St. R. Co., 53 Minn. 129, 54 N. W. 1064, holding that a receivership in a suit to foreclose a railroad mortgage will not prevent the appointment of a receiver in a suit by a judgment creditor to sequester the property and effects of the company for the benefit of creditors, since the first receivership is only for the purpose of foreclosure, and affects only the property covered by the mortgage, while the latter affects the entire property, and the powers of the receivers in the two cases are entirely different.

83. Kerp v. Michigan, etc., R. Co., 14 Fed. Cas. No. 7,727.

84. Ball v. Maysville, etc., R. Co., 102 Ky. 486, 43 S. W. 731, 18 Ky. L. Rep. 1540, 80 Am. St. Rep. 362.

85. Evans v. Union Pac. R. Co., 58 Fed. 497.

86. McLane v. Placerville, etc., R. Co., 66 Cal. 606, 6 Pac. 748; Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Winona, etc., R. Co., 59 Fed. 957; Phinizy v. Augusta, etc., R. Co., 56 Fed. 273; Mercantile Trust Co. v. Missouri, etc., R. Co., 36 Fed. 221, 1 L. R. A. 397; Gray v. Manitoba, etc., R. Co., 11 Manitoba 42.

87. Taylor v. Philadelphia, etc., R. Co., 14 Phila. (Pa.) 451; Cole v. Philadelphia, etc., R. Co., 140 Fed. 944; Putnam v. Jacksonville, etc., R. Co., 61 Fed. 440.

88. Stevens v. Davidson, 18 Gratt. (Va.) 819, 98 Am. Dec. 692; Cole v. Philadelphia, etc., R. Co., 140 Fed. 944; Earle v. Seattle, etc., R. Co., 56 Fed. 909.

89. Illinois.— Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Southworth, 38 Ill. App. 225.

New York.— Loder v. New York, etc., R. Co., 4 Hun 22.

United States.— Sage v. Memphis, etc., R. Co., 125 U. S. 361, 8 S. Ct. 887, 31 L. ed. 694.

England.— Kingston v. Cowbridge R. Co., 41 L. J. Ch. 152.

Canada.— Peto v. Welland R. Co., 9 Grant Ch. (U. C.) 455.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 680.

The Kentucky statute of 1890 provides that a judgment creditor of a railroad company after execution returned "no property found" in whole or in part may have a receiver for the road appointed. Ball v. Maysville, etc., R. Co., 102 Ky. 486, 43 S. W. 731, 18 Ky. L. Rep. 1540, 80 Am. St. Rep. 362.

Under the New Jersey statute authorizing the appointment of a receiver for a railroad in certain cases "upon the application of any creditor," persons who have guaranteed the payment of a debt of such a company are creditors of the company in respect to such debt within the meaning of the statute. Pennsylvania R. Co. v. Pemberton, etc., R. Co., 28 N. J. Eq. 338.

The English statute of 1867 expressly provides for the appointment of a receiver, and if necessary also a manager, upon application of a judgment creditor (In re Manchester, etc., R. Co., 14 Ch. D. 645, 49 L. J. Ch. 365, 42 L. T. Rep. N. S. 714); but the statute does not apply to a creditor who recovers a judgment upon a contract entered into prior to the passage of the act, although the judgment is recovered subsequently thereto (In re Beddgelert R. Co., 24 L. T. Rep. N. S. 122, 19 Wkly. Rep. 427).

A receiver will not be appointed at the instance of creditors for a railroad company which has been dissolved where it is not shown that there are any assets or property with respect to which the court can act. Bigelow v. Union Freight R. Co., 137 Mass. 478.

90. Atkins v. Wabash, etc., R. Co., 29 Fed. 161.

91. Central Trust Co. v. Wabash, etc., R. Co., 29 Fed. 618; Wabash, etc., R. Co. v. Central Trust Co., 23 Fed. 513; Wabash, etc., R. Co. v. Central Trust Co., 22 Fed. 272. See also Quincy, etc., R. Co. v. Humphreys, 145 U. S. 82, 12 S. Ct. 787, 36 L. ed. 632 [affirming 34 Fed. 259]. But see State v. Ross, 122 Mo. 435, 25 S. W. 947, 23 L. R. A. 534.

company, may, in the interest of the public, apply for the appointment of a receiver in a proceeding to forfeit the charter of the company.[92]

6. Who May or Should Be Appointed. The person appointed as receiver of a railroad should be a person of known character and business capacity,[93] and one who is in a position to represent impartially all the interests concerned.[94] The court in making the appointment should act upon these considerations,[95] and is free to exercise its discretion and cannot be dictated to by bondholders or others interested as to what particular person shall be appointed.[96] The court will not ordinarily appoint an officer or director,[97] or a stock-holder of the road,[98] or an officer of a parallel or competing road,[99] or a party to the suit,[1] or an attorney of one of the parties,[2] or a person pecuniarily interested in the road or under any obligation to those who are.[3] It is also the better practice not to appoint a non-resident,[4] or more than one receiver;[5] but the court may in its discretion appoint a non-resident,[6] or more than one receiver,[7] although if more than one is appointed and they become hostile to each other they should be removed and a single receiver appointed.[8] So also there is no inflexible rule making an officer of the company ineligible to appointment as receiver;[9] and it may not be improper to appoint an officer of the company who was in no way responsible for the condition making the receivership necessary, and whose ability and knowledge of the affairs and needs of the company commend him as a proper person to be appointed,[10] par-

92. Texas Trunk R. Co. v. State, 83 Tex. 1, 18 S. W. 199.

93. Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Cape Fear, etc., R. Co., 62 Fed. 675, holding, however, that where the person appointed possesses the qualifications of character, business ability, and the absence of any pecuniary interest, it is no objection to his appointment that he is not a railroad expert in the sense of being acquainted with all the details of the mechanical work of a railroad plant.

94. Pennsylvania Finance Co. v. Charleston, etc., R. Co., 45 Fed. 436; Atkins v. Wabash, etc., R. Co., 29 Fed 161; Meier v. Kansas Pac. R. Co., 16 Fed. Cas. No. 9,395, 5 Dill. 476, 6 Reporter 642.

95. Re Hull, etc., R. Co., 57 L. T. Rep. N. S. 82.

96. Re Hull, etc., R. Co., 57 L. T. Rep. N. S. 82.

97. Pennsylvania Finance Co. v. Charleston, etc., R. Co., 45 Fed. 436; Atkins v. Wabash, etc., R. Co., 29 Fed. 161.

One under whose management the condition arose leading up to and making necessary the receivership should not be continued in the control of the road as receiver. Atkins v. Wabash, etc., R. Co., 29 Fed. 161; Richards v. Chesapeake, etc., R. Co., 20 Fed. Cas. No. 11,771, 1 Hughes 128.

98. Atkins v. Wabash, etc., R. Co., 29 Fed. 161.

99. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Wear, 135 Mo. 230, 36 S. W. 357, 658, 33 L. R. A. 341, holding that under the Missouri constitution providing that the manager of a railroad company shall not in any way control or act as officer of another railroad company operating a parallel or competing line, the president of one railroad company is not eligible as receiver for a company operating a parallel or competing line.

1. Pennsylvania Finance Co. v. Charleston, etc., R. Co., 45 Fed. 436.

2. Pennsylvania Finance Co. v. Charleston, etc., R. Co., 45 Fed. 436.

3. Meier v. Kansas Pac. R. Co., 16 Fed. Cas. No. 9,395, 5 Dill. 476, 6 Reporter 642.

While a personal interest may stimulate activity and vigilance on the part of the receiver, it is equally liable that such vigilance may when occasion arises be directed unduly to advancing that personal interest. Meier v. Kansas Pac. R. Co., 16 Fed. Cas. No. 9,395, 5 Dill. 476, 6 Reporter 642.

4. Meier v. Kansas Pac. R. Co., 16 Fed. Cas. No. 9,395, 5 Dill. 476, 6 Reporter 642.

5. Meier v. Kansas Pac. R. Co., 16 Fed. Cas. No. 9,395, 5 Dill. 476, 6 Reporter 642.

6. Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Cape Fear, etc., R. Co., 62 Fed. 675. See also Stanton v. Alabama, etc., R. Co., 22 Fed. Cas. No. 13,296, 2 Woods 506.

7. See Stanton v. Alabama, etc., R. Co., 22 Fed. Cas. No. 13,296, 2 Woods 506; Re Hull, etc., R. Co., 57 L. T. Rep. N. S. 82.

8. Meier v. Kansas Pac. R. Co., 16 Fed. Cas. No. 9,395, 5 Dill. 476, 6 Reporter 642.

9. Ralston v. Washington, etc., R. Co., 65 Fed. 557.

10. Ralston v. Washington, etc., R. Co., 65 Fed. 557; Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Northern Pac. R. Co., 61 Fed. 546. See also Bowling Green Trust Co. v. Virginia Pass., etc., Co., 133 Fed. 186.

A director may be appointed manager under the English statute of 1867 providing for the appointment of a receiver for a railroad company and if necessary also a manager. In re Manchester, etc., R. Co., 14 Ch. D. 645, 49 L. J. Ch. 365, 42 L. T. Rep. N. S. 714.

Construction of order.— On a motion to appoint a receiver in an action in the name of the state for the foreclosure of a railroad mortgage, an order that the president and directors of the company continue in the possession and management of the property ticularly where the parties interested consent to his appointment.[11] The English statute of 1867, providing for the appointment of receivers for railroads, also provides for the appointment of a manager if necessary;[12] and it is held that such necessity exists and a manager must be appointed whenever the road is to be operated and continued as a going concern;[13] but it seems that the court may either appoint different persons,[14] or may appoint the same person as receiver and manager.[15] The manager like the receiver is to be appointed by and act under the control of the court.[16]

7. Removal of Receivers and Termination of Receivership.[17] Whenever a receiver takes possession under his appointment he holds as an officer of the court and cannot be ousted except by its order;[18] but the power to remove a receiver is incidental to the power to appoint,[19] and is ordinarily a matter within the discretion of the court.[20] The court will remove a receiver for incompetency,[21] or misconduct,[22] or where it appears that the appointment was procured through collusion and for a fraudulent or improper purpose.[23] So also where a receiver is appointed for a railroad company operating different lines of road, and a road is included under the receivership over which such company has no right of possession or control, but is interested in only as a creditor and stock-holder, such road will be released and discharged from the custody of the receiver.[24] The receivership will be continued as long as may be necessary to carry out the purposes of the appointment,[25] which is a matter within the sound discretion of the court;[26] but the road should be restored to its rightful owners as soon as possible,[27] and the receiver should be discharged and the receivership terminated whenever its under the order of and subject to the court, and that they make report to the court at such times as it may require, constitutes them receivers. Ex p. Brown, 15 S. C. 518; In re Fifty-four First Mortg. Bonds, 15 S. C. 304.

11. Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Northern Pac. R. Co., 61 Fed. 546.

12. In re Manchester, etc., R. Co., 14 Ch. D. 645, 49 L. J. Ch. 365, 42 L. T. Rep. N. S. 714.

13. In re Manchester, etc., R. Co., 14 Ch. D. 645, 49 L. J. Ch. 365, 42 L. T. Rep. N. S. 714.

14. See Re Hull, etc., R. Co., 57 L. T. Rep. N. S. 82.

15. See In re Eastern, etc., R. Co., 45 Ch. D. 367, 63 L. T. Rep. N. S. 604.

16. In re Manchester, etc., R. Co., 14 Ch. D. 645, 49 L. J. Ch. 365, 42 L. T. Rep. N. S. 714.

17. Power of judge at chambers or in vacation to discharge receiver see Judges, 23 Cyc. 554.

18. Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Mississippi Cent. R. Co., 12 Fed. Cas. No. 7,008.

19. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co. v. Sloan, 31 Ohio St. 1.

20. Milwaukee, etc., R. Co. v. Soutter, 154 U. S. 540, 14 S. Ct. 1158, 17 L. ed. 604; Milwaukee, etc., R. Co. v. Howard, 131 U. S. appendix lxxxi, 18 L. ed. 252.

The court will not remove a receiver who is competent and otherwise unobjectionable merely because he is not acceptable to a majority stock-holder (Street v. Maryland Cent. R. Co., 58 Fed. 47); or even where the receiver has been guilty of a breach of duty where it appears that he acted in good faith and under advice of counsel, and to the best of his judgment for the benefit of all parties (Simpson v. Ottawa, etc., R. Co., 1 Ch. Chamb. (U. C.) 337).

21. Atkins v. Wabash, etc., R. Co., 29 Fed. 161.

22. Handy v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co., 31 Fed. 689; Atkins v. Wabash, etc., R. Co., 29 Fed. 161.

Misconduct of an agent of a receiver is not ground for discharging the receiver where it appears that he used due care in selecting and supervising his agents and discharged the wrong-doer as soon as he discovered his misconduct. Clarke v. Georgia Cent. R., etc., Co., 66 Fed. 16.

23. Sage v. Memphis, etc., R. Co., 18 Fed. 571, 5 McCrary 643.

The mere concurrence of the directors in the attempt to secure the appointment of the receiver does not of itself show a fraudulent collusion for which the receiver should be discharged. Brassey v. New York, etc., R. Co., 19 Fed. 663.

24. Georgia Cent. R., etc., Co. v. Farmers' L. & T. Co., 56 Fed. 357.

25. Sewell v. Cape May, etc., R. Co., (N. J. Ch. 1887) 9 Atl. 785; Langdon v. Vermont, etc., R. Co., 54 Vt. 593 [distinguishing Vermont, etc., R. Co. v. Vermont Cent. R. Co., 50 Vt. 500]; Clarke v. Georgia Cent. R., etc., Co., 54 Fed. 556.

26. Milwaukee, etc., R. Co. v. Soutter, 154 U. S. 540, 14 S. Ct. 1158, 17 L. ed. 604.

27. Sewell v. Cape May, etc., R. Co., (N. J. Ch. 1887) 9 Atl. 785; Milwaukee, etc., R. Co. v. Soutter, 2 Wall. (U. S.) 510, 17 L. ed. 900; Platt v. Philadelphia, etc., R. Co., 65 Fed. 872; Dow v. Memphis, etc., R. Co., 20 Fed. 260; Taylor v. Philadelphia, etc., R. Co., 9 Fed. 1.

objects have been accomplished or its continuance is no longer necessary;[28] and where receivers of a railroad company have executed the duty for which they were appointed, it is the right and duty of the party upon whose application they were appointed to see to it that they are discharged if he would avoid the consequences of their continuing to act in that capacity,[29] although the court may act upon its own motion.[30] Where at the time of the receivership one company is operating the road of another, the court will not, on discharging the receiver, determine a controversy between the companies as to the right of possession but will return the road to the company which was in possession at the time of the appointment.[31] A person petitioning the court to remove a receiver for misconduct or incompetency should be prepared not only to prefer specific charges of wrong-doing but to accompany them with proof,[32] but the receiver by answering the petition waives the right to object to it on the ground that the charges were not sufficiently definite.[33]

D. Operation and Effect of Appointment. The appointment of a receiver for a railroad ordinarily has the effect of taking the property out of the possession and control of the company and placing it in the hands of the receiver as the representative of the court.[34] The receiver upon his appointment and qualification is entitled to the possession and control of the property,[35] which the court will assist him in obtaining[36] and subsequently protect against outside interference.[37] The appointment of the receiver does not have the effect of terminating the corporate existence of the company,[38] or affect existing liens or vested property rights,[39] or change the status of unsecured into secured claims.[40] The receiver is not the agent of the railroad company;[41] nor is he, no matter at

28. Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Southworth, 38 Ill. App. 225; Milwaukee, etc., R. Co. v. Soutter, 2 Wall. (U. S.) 510, 17 L. ed. 900; Howard v. La Crosse, etc., R. Co., 12 Fed. Cas. No. 6,760, Woolw. 49.

A refusal to discharge a receiver and terminate the receivership when it is no longer necessary and a right to a restoration of the property is clear is a judicial error which will be corrected on appeal. Milwaukee, etc., R. Co. v. Soutter, 2 Wall. (U. S.) 510, 17 L. ed. 900.

29. Langdon v. Vermont, etc., R. Co., 53 Vt. 228.

30. Platt v. Philadelphia, etc., R. Co., 65 Fed. 872.

31. Long Branch, etc., R. Co. v. Sneden, 26 N. J. Eq. 539.

32. Farmers' L. & T. R. Co. v. Northern Pac. R. Co., 61 Fed. 546.

33. Farmers' L. & T. R. Co. v. Northern Pac. R. Co., 61 Fed. 546.

34. Ohio, etc., R. Co. v. Davis, 23 Ind. 553, 85 Am. Dec. 477; Metz v. Buffalo, etc., R. Co., 58 N. Y. 61, 17 Am. Rep. 201; Ellis v. Indianapolis, etc., R. Co., 5 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 497, 6 Am. L. Rec. 288.

Receiver of rents and profits.— Where a receiver is appointed "of the rents, issues, and profits" of a railroad company, the management of the railroad remains in the hands of the company, but the receiver is entitled to receive the gross receipts and not merely the surplus after the payment of operating expenses. Simpson v. Ottawa, etc., R. Co., 1 Ch. Chamb. (U. C.) 126.

Under the English statute unpaid capital is not receivable by a receiver appointed under section 4 of the Railway Companies Act of 1867, and therefore the appointment of a receiver of the undertaking of a railway company under that act does not affect the right of a judgment creditor to issue execution against unpaid capital, under section 36 of the Companies Clauses Act of 1845. Re West Lancashire R. Co., 63 L. T. Rep. N. S. 56.

35. Union Trust Co. v. Weber, 96 Ill. 346; Secor v. Toledo, etc., R. Co., 21 Fed. Cas. No. 12,605, 7 Biss. 513; Russell v. East Anglian R. Co., 14 Jur. 1033, 20 L. J. Ch. 257, 3 Macn. & G. 104, 6 R. & Can. Cas. 501, 49 Eng. Ch. 80, 42 Eng. Reprint 201.

36. Secor v. Toledo, etc., R. Co., 21 Fed. Cas. No. 12,605, 7 Biss. 513; Russell v. East Anglian R. Co., 14 Jur. 1033, 20 L. J. Ch. 257, 3 Macn. & G. 104, 6 R. & Can. Cas. 501, 49 Eng. Ch. 80, 42 Eng. Reprint 201.

37. Vermont, etc., R. Co. v. Vermont Cent. R. Co., 46 Vt. 792; Secor v. Toledo, etc., R. Co., 21 Fed. Cas. No. 12,605, 7 Biss. 513; Thomas v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 62 Fed. 803; Fidelity Trust, etc., Co. v. Mobile St. R. Co., 53 Fed. 687; Metropolitan Trust Co. v. Columbus, etc., R. Co., 95 Fed. 18; Russell v. East Anglian R. Co., 14 Jur. 1033, 20 L. J. Ch. 257, 3 Macn. & G. 104, 6 R. & Can. Cas. 501, 49 Eng. Ch. 80, 42 Eng. Reprint 201.

38. Fidelity Ins., etc., Co. v. Norfolk, etc., R. Co., 114 Fed. 389 [affirmed in 127 Fed. 662, 62 C. C. A. 388].

39. Union Trust Co. v. Weber, 96 Ill. 346; Ex p. Dunn, 8 S. C. 207.

40. U. S. Trust Co. v. New York, etc., R. Co., 25 Fed. 800.

41. Ohio, etc., R. Co. v. Davis, 23 Ind. 553, 85 Am. Dec. 477; St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Brincker, 65 Kan. 321, 69 Pac. 328; Metz whose instance appointed, the agent or representative of either party to the litigation or any special interest represented therein;[42] but he holds the property as the representative of the court for the benefit of all who may be interested therein or ultimately found to be entitled thereto.[43] The appointment of the receiver is not subject to collateral attack,[44] unless the court was entirely without authority to make such appointment.[45]

E. Contracts and Leases Before Appointment — 1. Contracts. A receiver of a railroad company is not bound by a contract made by the railroad company prior to his appointment and not constituting a lien upon the property,[46] and is not obliged to pay out assets or earnings of the company thereon,[47] nor can he be compelled specifically to perform the same,[48] or held liable in damages for a refusal to do so,[49] unless the contract has been subsequently ratified or adopted,[50] and the receiver is entitled to a reasonable time to look into the con-

v. Buffalo, etc., R. Co., 58 N. Y. 61, 17 Am. Rep. 201; Missouri, etc., R. Co. v. McFadden, 89 Tex. 138, 33 S. W. 853.

42. Central Trust Co. v. Wabash, etc., R. Co., 23 Fed. 863.

43. Quincy, etc., R. Co. v. Humphreys, 145 U. S. 82, 12 S. Ct. 787, 36 L. ed. 632; Memphis, etc., R. Co. v. Hoechner, 67 Fed. 456, 14 C. C. A. 469; Central Trust Co. v. Wabash, etc., R. Co., 23 Fed. 863; Wabash, etc., R. Co. v. Central Trust Co., 22 Fed. 272; In re Mersey R. Co., 37 Ch. D. 610, 57 L. J. Ch. 283, 58 L. T. Rep. N. S. 745, 36 Wkly. Rep. 372.

A judgment creditor who obtains an order for the appointment of a receiver does not acquire any priority or advantage over other judgment creditors, and therefore if the road is already in the hands of a receiver the court should refuse to appoint another receiver at the instance of a different judgment creditor. In re Mersey R. Co., 37 Ch. D. 610, 57 L. J. Ch. 283, 58 L. T. Rep. N. S. 745, 36 Wkly. Rep. 372.

44. Basting v. Ankeny, 64 Minn. 133, 66 N. W. 66; Russell v. East Anglian R. Co., 14 Jur. 1033, 20 L. J. Ch. 257, 3 Macn. & G. 104, 6 R. & Can. Cas. 501, 49 Eng. Ch. 80, 42 Eng. Reprint 201.

45. State v. Ross, 122 Mo. 435, 25 S. W. 947, 23 L. R. A. 534.

46. Spencer v. Brooks, 97 Ga. 681, 25 S. E. 480; Ellis v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 107 Mass. 1; Brown v. Warner, 78 Tex. 543, 14 S. W. 1032, 22 Am. St. Rep. 67, 11 L. R. A. 394; Southern Express Co. v. Western North Carolina R. Co., 99 U. S. 191, 25 L. ed. 319; Whightsel v. Felton, 95 Fed. 923; Manhattan Trust Co. v. Sioux City, etc., R. Co., 81 Fed. 50; Grand Trunk R. Co. v. Central Vermont R. Co., 81 Fed. 541; In re Seattle, etc., R. Co., 61 Fed. 541; Ames v. Union Pac. R. Co., 60 Fed. 966; Central Trust Co. v. Marietta, etc., R. Co., 51 Fed. 15, 16 L. R. A. 90.

Traffic contracts between different roads are not binding upon a receiver of one of the roads (Ames v. Union Pac. R. Co., 60 Fed. 966); and where, under an existing contract for a joint use by another company of a part of the tracks and terminal facilities of the receiver's road, there is due a large amount which is unsecured, he may properly after notice sever the connection between the roads (Elmira Iron, etc., Rolling Mill Co. v. Erie R. Co., 26 N. J. Eq. 284); but the court may order the receiver to adopt an advantageous traffic contract (Seibert v. Minneapolis, etc., R. Co., 58 Minn. 53, 59 N. W. 879); and when both of the contracting roads have been placed in the hands of receivers the court may modify the terms of the contract if unduly burdensome to one of the companies, provided it can be done with due regard to the interest of the other company, so as to make it just and equitable in its application to both (In re New Jersey, etc, R. Co., 29 N. J. Eq. 67).

An agreement between a railroad company and its employees whereby the latter are not to be discharged except for cause to be determined by arbitrators is not binding upon a receiver of the road. In re Seattle, etc., R. Co., 61 Fed. 541.

Where the contract constitutes a statutory lien the court will order the amount due thereunder to be paid according to the priority of the claim. Newgass v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 72 Fed. 712.

A covenant in the grant of a right of way that the railroad company will erect and maintain a station upon the land of the grantor is binding upon a receiver of the road, who is liable in damages for discontinuing the station, although ordered to do so by the court. Levy v. Tatum, (Tex. Civ. App. 1897) 43 S. W. 941.

47. Ellis v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 107 Mass. 1.

Where a railroad company contracted to purchase certain land and constructed its road thereon and then went into the hands of a receiver, it was held, on a petition by the landowner for payment, that as the contract price was exorbitant the court would not order the claim to be paid but would authorize the receiver to pay what was a reasonable compensation. Coe v. New Jersey Midland R. Co., 30 N. J. Eq. 21.

48. Southern Express Co. v. Western North Carolina R. Co., 99 U. S. 191, 25 L. ed. 319; Central Trust Co. v. Marietta, etc., R. Co., 51 Fed. 15, 16 L. R. A. 90.

49. Brown v. Warner, 78 Tex. 543, 14 S. W. 1072, 22 Am. St. Rep. 67, 11 L. R. A. 394; Whightsel v. Felton, 95 Fed. 923; Keeler v. Atchison, etc., R. Co., 92 Fed. 545, 34 C. C. A. 523.

50. Wabash, etc., R. Co. v. Central Trust tract and determine if it is advantageous to adopt it.[51] So also a contract by one receiver creates no legal obligation on a subsequent receiver in the same receivership.[52] The court may authorize a receiver to adopt and carry out an advantageous contract previously made by the company;[53] and if necessary to hold the other party to a performance of a continuing contract may order the receiver to pay amounts due thereunder prior to his appointment as well as those which accrue during the receivership;[54] and where a contract has been adopted the court will see that it is carried out according to its terms, although it may subsequently appear not to be an advantageous contract.[55]

2. Leases. The receiver of a railroad which is operating another road as lessee does not become by reason of his appointment an assignee of the lease and is not bound by its conditions,[56] unless the lease is subsequently adopted;[57] but he has an election subject to the direction of the court whether he will adopt it or not,[58] and is entitled to a reasonable time to investigate the conditions and determine which will be more beneficial to the interests which he represents;[59] and the possession and operation of the road by the receiver during such period,

Co., 22 Fed. 269. See also Brown v. Warner, 78 Tex. 543, 14 S. W. 1072, 22 Am. St. Rep. 67, 11 L. R. A. 394.

Building contract.— Where, at the time a receiver was appointed with authority to carry on the business of the railroad company in all its branches, work was being performed by a contractor in constructing certain buildings under a contract with the company, and the receiver took no steps to terminate the contract for several months, after which he ordered the work to be stopped and made a new contract with the contractor for its completion, it was held that the receiver was liable at the original contract price for the work done from the time of his appointment up to the date when he ordered the work to be stopped. Girard L. Ins., etc., Co. v. Cooper, 51 Fed. 332, 2 C. C. A. 245.

Contract for water-supply.— Where, in consideration of the grant of a right of way, the railroad company agreed to erect a water tank on the land of the grantor and to pay for water supplied from a spring on such land, and the contract was for a long time deemed advantageous and carried out both by the company and the receiver, it was held that the contract was intended to continue as long as the right of way was used and that the receiver had no right to discontinue the use of the water-supply. Howe v. Harding, 76 Tex. 17, 13 S. W. 41, 18 Am. St. Rep. 17.

51. Ames v. Union Pac. R. Co., 60 Fed. 966.

52. Kansas Pac. R. Co. v. Bayles, 19 Colo. 348, 35 Pac. 744; Lehigh Coal, etc., Co. v. New Jersey Central R. Co., 38 N. J. Eq. 175, 41 N. J. Eq. 167, 3 Atl. 134 [reversed on the facts in 43 N. J. Eq. 669, 12 Atl. 188].

It is not a ratification of a contract made by a prior receiver that the second receiver after his appointment paid the amount which had accrued thereunder prior to his appointment. Kansas Pac. R. Co. v. Bayles, 19 Colo. 348, 35 Pac. 744.

If a receiver does not disaffirm or seek a rescission or modification of a contract made by his predecessor within a reasonable time, he will be bound thereby. South Carolina, etc., R. Co. v. South Carolina, etc., R. Co., 93 Fed. 543, 35 C. C. A. 423.

53. Seibert v. Minneapolis, etc., R. Co., 58 Minn. 53, 59 N. W. 879; Newgass v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 72 Fed. 712.

54. Seibert v. Minneapolis, etc., R. Co., 58 Minn. 53, 59 N. W. 879, holding that in order to keep the contract in force the court may order such payments to be made as a claim prior to the lien of a mortgage.

55. Wabash, etc., R. Co. v. Central Trust Co., 22 Fed. 269.

56. Seney v. Wabash, etc., R. Co., 150 U. S. 310, 14 S. Ct. 94, 37 L. ed. 1092; U. S. Trust Co. v. Wabash, etc., R. Co., 150 U. S. 287, 14 S. Ct. 86, 37 L. ed. 1085; St. Joseph, etc., R. Co. v. Humphreys, 145 U. S. 105, 12 S. Ct. 795, 36 L. ed. 690; Quincy, etc., R. Co. v. Humphreys, 145 U. S. 82, 12 S. Ct. 787, 36 L. ed. 632; New York, etc., R. Co. v. New York, etc., R. Co., 58 Fed. 268; Park v. New York, etc., R. Co., 57 Fed. 799.

The lease of a depot is governed by the same principles as stated in the text. Carswell v. Farmers' L. & T. Co., 74 Fed. 88, 20 C. C. A. 282.

Where the mortgage covers the leasehold interest and the receiver is invested with the entire estate, including such interest, and operates the leased line, it has been held that he becomes an assignee of the lease and as such is liable for the rent stipulated. Brown v. Toledo, etc., R. Co., 35 Fed. 444. Compare New York, etc., R. Co. v. New York, etc., R. Co., 58 Fed. 268.

57. Woodruff v. Erie R. Co., 93 N. Y. 609 [reversing 25 Hun 246]; Central Trust Co. v. Continental Trust Co., 86 Fed. 517, 30 C. C. A. 235; Clyde v. Richmond, etc., R. Co., 63 Fed. 21.

58. New York, etc., R. Co. v. New York, etc., R. Co., 58 Fed. 268.

The court is not bound to direct the receiver to adopt the lease of a road that is not paying expenses and thus impose a loss upon the other road. St. Joseph, etc., R. Co. v. Humphreys, 145 U. S. 105, 12 S. Ct. 795, 36 L. ed. 690.

59. U. S. Trust Co. v. Wabash, etc., R. Co., 150 U. S. 287, 14 S. Ct. 86, 37 L. ed.

if without any manifestion of an intention to adopt the lease, or opposition to the right of the lessor to resume possession, does not make the lease binding upon the receiver.[60] It is ordinarily, however, a matter of necessity that the receiver shall take at least a temporary possession of the leased road,[61] and the lessor is ordinarily entitled to compensation for the use of the road while in the hands of the receiver,[62] and certainly where there are not earnings which may be so applied;[63] but the amount and rate of compensation will depend upon the circumstances under which the receiver took and held possession.[64] If no intention was manifested to adopt the lease and no objection or obstacle interposed to the lessor's right to recover possession, the receiver will not be liable for the rents stipulated but only for the fair and reasonable value of the use of the property,[65] and in such case the court will ordinarily limit the amount to be paid according to the net earnings of the road,[66] and refuse the payment of rents where there are no earnings over and above operating expenses.[67] A receiver will be liable, however, according to the terms of the lease where the lessor was not at the time of the appointment entitled to demand possession, and the court did not order the possession restored but indicated by its orders that the rent would be paid,[68] or where the lessor, being entitled to demand possession, did so and the demand was refused by the court, and the receiver allowed to retain possession, although the lease was not finally adopted.[69] The court may order or authorize the adoption of a lease,[70] and in such case the receiver will be bound by the covenants and 1085; St. Joseph, etc., R. Co. v. Humphreys, 145 U. S. 105, 12 S. Ct. 795, 36 L. ed. 690; Quincy, etc., R. Co. v. Humphreys, 145 U. S. 82, 12 S. Ct. 787, 36 L. ed. 632; Johnson v. Lehigh Valley Traction Co., 130 Fed. 932; Carswell v. Farmers' L. & T. Co., 74 Fed. 88, 20 C. C. A. 282; Park v. New York, etc., R. Co., 57 Fed. 799.

60. St. Joseph, etc., R. Co. v. Humphreys, 145 U. S. 105, 12 S. Ct. 795, 36 L. ed. 690; Quincy, etc., R. Co. v. Humphreys, 145 U. S. 82, 12 S. Ct. 787, 36 L. ed. 632 [affirming 34 Fed. 259].

The retention of possession of a depot leased from a depot company for ten months is not an unreasonable time or an adoption of the lease where no intention to adopt it was manifested or possession demanded by the depot company, which on the contrary manifested a preference that the receiver should retain it upon any reasonable terms, and during this period negotiations were pending as to the terms upon which the receiver could afford to retain and use it. Carswell v. Farmers' L. & T. Co., 74 Fed. 88, 20 C. C. A. 282.

61. Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Northern Pac. R. Co., 58 Fed. 257; Central Trust Co. v. Wabash, etc., R. Co., 46 Fed. 26.

62. Woodruff v. Erie, etc., R. Co., 93 N. Y. 609 [reversing 25 Hun 246]; Charlotte, etc., R. Co. v. Chester, etc., R. Co., 118 N. C. 1078, 24 S. E. 769; Clyde v. Richmond, etc., R. Co., 63 Fed. 21; Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Northern Pac. R. Co., 58 Fed. 257.

63. Clyde v. Richmond, etc., R. Co., 63 Fed. 21.

64. Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Northern Pac. R. Co., 58 Fed. 257 [distinguishing Quincy, etc., R. Co. v. Humphreys, 145 U. S. 82, 12 S. Ct. 787, 36 L. ed. 632].

65. New York, etc., R. Co. v. New York, etc., R. Co., 58 Fed. 268.

66. Farrar v. Southwestern R. Co., 116 Ga. 337, 42 S. E. 527; Central Trust Co. v. Wabash, etc., R. Co., 23 Fed. 863.

Where the receiver has already paid to the lessor more than the net earnings of the property while in his possession, the court will not order any other payment to be made out of the corpus of the estate. Park v. New York, etc., R. Co., 57 Fed. 799.

Consent decree.— Where the lessor of a railroad having the right to take possession on default in the payment of rent, by consenting to a decree permits the road to be operated by receivers, the application of the income of the road to the payment of the rent must be postponed until the expenses of the administration of the receivers have been paid. Langdon v. Vermont, etc., R. Co., 54 Vt. 593.

The amount is not necessarily limited according to the actual receipts of the leased road as an equitable basis of compensation, since the value of the leased road as a connecting link in a system may be much greater than the sum actually received for transportation over it. Woodruff v. Erie R. Co., 93 N. Y. 609 [reversing 25 Hun 246].

67. U. S. Trust Co. v. Wabash, etc., R. Co., 150 U. S. 287, 14 S. Ct. 86, 37 L. ed. 1085; Quincy, etc., R. Co. v. Humphreys, 145 U. S. 82, 12 S. Ct. 787, 36 L. ed. 632; Cox v. Terre Haute, etc., R. Co., 133 Fed. 371, 66 C. C. A. 433 [affirming 123 Fed. 439].

68. Brown v. Toledo, etc., R. Co., 35 Fed. 444.

69. Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Northern Pac. R. Co., 58 Fed. 257 [distinguishing Quincy, etc., R. Co. v. Humphreys, 145 U. S. 82, 12 S. Ct. 787, 36 L. ed. 632].

70. Woodruff v. Erie R. Co., 93 N. Y. 609 [reversing 25 Hun 246]; Mercantile Trust Co. v. Farmers' L. & T. Co., 81 Fed. 254, 26 C. C. A. 383 [affirming 71 Fed. 601].

conditions of the lease,[71] and liable for the rents according to the terms stipulated therein,[72] which in such cases become a part of the operating expenses and constitute a prior lien to that of a mortgage.[73]

3. LEASES AND CONDITIONAL SALES OF ROLLING STOCK. Leases of rolling stock, which are in some cases made in the form of a conditional sale,[74] are governed by the general principles above stated,[75] that the receiver is not an assignee of the lease or bound by its terms,[76] unless the lease is subsequently adopted,[77] but is entitled to a reasonable time to decide whether it should be adopted or not.[78] The owner of the cars is, however, ordinarily entitled to demand their possession,[79] and to compensation for their use while in the hands of the receiver,[80] which, if the lease is not adopted or the right of the lessor to resume possession resisted, is ordinarily determined not according to the terms of the lease but according to the fair and reasonable value of such use.[81] The court may authorize the adoption

The question of renouncing or adopting a lease is a question of business policy and not of law and the decision and order of the court are administrative rather than judicial and should not be disturbed by an appellate court unless an abuse of discretion is shown. Mercantile Trust Co. v. Farmers' L. & T. Co., 81 Fed. 254, 26 C. C. A. 383 [affirming 71 Fed. 601].

71. Charlotte, etc., R. Co. v. Chester, etc., R. Co., 118 N. C. 1078, 24 S. E. 769; U. S. Trust Co. v. Mercantile Trust Co., 88 Fed. 140, 31 C. C. A. 427 [affirming 80 Fed. 18]; Clyde v. Richmond, etc., R. Co., 63 Fed. 21.

72. Woodruff v. Erie R. Co., 93 N. Y. 609 [reversing 25 Hun 246]; Central Trust Co. v. Continental Trust Co., 86 Fed. 517, 30 C. C. A. 235.

Where the receiver denies that he is operating the road under the lease, the court will not determine this mixed question of law and fact upon a petition to have the receiver comply with the terms of the lease, where all the parties interested are not before the court. People v. Erie R. Co., 54 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 59.

73. Central Trust Co. v. Continental Trust Co., 86 Fed. 517, 30 C. C. A. 235; Mercantile Trust Co. v. Farmers' L. & T. Co., 81 Fed. 254, 26 C. C. A. 383 [affirming 71 Fed. 601].

Priorities see supra, VIII, A, 9; and, generally, RECEIVERS.

74. See Lane v. Macon, etc., R. Co., 96 Ga. 630, 24 S. E. 157; Sunflower Oil Co. v. Wilson, 142 U. S. 313, 12 S. Ct. 235, 35 L. ed. 1025; Platt v. Philadelphia, etc., R. Co., 84 Fed. 535, 28 C. C. A. 488.

Valuation of cars.— Where, in a foreclosure proceeding, a car company intervened, claiming title to certain cars under a conditional sale, and the case was referred to a master to report upon the advisability of purchasing or returning the cars and also upon their value, it was held that it appearing that the price of rolling stock had gone up ten per cent since the cars were furnished, the master, in estimating their value, properly added ten per cent to the amount for which they were sold before deducting the percentage for wear and tear. Central Trust Co. v. Marietta, etc., R. Co., 48 Fed. 875, 1 C. C. A. 140.

75. See supra, IX, E, 2.

76. Sunflower Oil Co. v. Wilson, 142 U. S. 313, 12 S. Ct. 235, 35 L. ed. 1025; Platt v. Philadelphia, etc., R. Co., 84 Fed. 535, 28 C. C. A. 488. But see Southern Iron Car Line Co. v. East Tennessee, etc., R. Co., (Tenn. Ch. App. 1897) 42 S. W. 529.

77. Mercantile Trust, etc., Co. v. Southern Iron Car Line Co., 113 Ala. 543, 21 So. 373; Easton v. Houston, etc., R. Co., 38 Fed. 784.

A promise by the receiver to apply to the court for authority to pay the rent, and that in the meanwhile he will keep the leased cars in good repair if left in his possession, does not bind the trust estate to pay the rent stipulated in the lease. Coe v. New Jersey Midland R. Co., 27 N. J. Eq. 37.

A contract by the receiver continuing the lease for a limited time, made by order of the court, does not amount to an adoption of the original lease beyond that period. Platt v. Philadelphia, etc., R. Co., 84 Fed. 535, 28 C. C. A. 488.

78. Platt v. Philadelphia, etc., R. Co., 84 Fed. 535, 28 C. C. A. 488.

In case of a lease and conditional sale the receiver is entitled to a reasonable time to elect whether to complete the purchase or to return the cars, paying the rent for the time they have been used by him. Sunflower Oil Co. v. Wilson, 142 U. S. 313, 12 S. Ct. 235, 35 L. ed. 1025.

79. Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 42 Fed. 6.

80. Lane v. Macon, etc., R. Co., 96 Ga. 630, 24 S. E. 157; Coe v. New Jersey Midland, etc., R. Co., 27 N. J. Eq. 37; Platt v. Philadelphia, etc., R. Co., 84 Fed. 535, 28 C. C. A. 488; Thomas v. Peoria, etc., R. Co., 36 Fed. 808; Turner v. Indianapolis, etc., R. Co., 24 Fed. Cas. No. 14,260, 8 Biss. 527, 8 Reporter 453.

Where the receiver turns over the road to another company which operates it as "agent and representative" of the receiver, and agrees to pay "all the expenses of said operations," it is liable for the reasonable value of leased cars retained in the operation of the road. Platt v. Philadelphia, etc., R. Co., 84 Fed. 535, 28 C. C. A. 488.

81. Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 42 Fed. 6. See also Coe v. New Jersey Midland R. Co., 27 N. J. Eq. 37.

Even where the court refuses on demand either to adopt the lease or to return the cars, if the owner of the cars did not except of the lease,[82] and if adopted the receiver is bound by its covenants and conditions,[83] and liable for the rent stipulated therein,[84] which becomes a part of the operating expenses and a preferred claim superior to the lien of a mortgage.[85] So also if a receiver, after adoption of the lease and without the consent of the lessor, leases the cars to another company, he is liable for the rent according to the terms of the original lease.[86]

F. Operation, Control, and Management of Road — 1. In General. Owing to the peculiar nature of a railroad both the public convenience and the private interests in the property demand that when in the hands of a receiver it shall be kept up and maintained as a going concern,[87] and while this is ordinarily done out of the income,[88] and should be whenever the net earnings of the road are sufficient,[89] the court may, when necessary, authorize a receiver to incur an indebtedness for such purposes,[90] such as necessary repairs,[91] or the purchase of rolling stock,[92] and make such indebtedness a first lien upon the property.[93] So also while the court should not ordinarily undertake anything in the nature of a new and distinct enterprise,[94] it is frequently proper for it to authorize something more than the mere operation of the property placed in the hands of the receiver, not as a new enterprise but as a means of better preserving the property or operating it more profitably, such as further works of construction or the leasing of another road.[95] Generally speaking, the court may order or authorize the receiver to the order but acquiesced therein the amount to be paid should be determined not according to the terms of the lease but according to what would be a reasonable rental during the possession of the receiver. Lane v. Macon, etc., R. Co., 96 Ga. 630, 24 S. E. 157.

As to what is a fair and reasonable compensation no definite rule applicable to all cases can be laid down, but generally speaking a fair compensation would be what similar cars to be used in the same manner and upon similar roads would commonly rent for in the open market for the period in question. Thomas v. Peoria, etc., R. Co., 36 Fed. 808.

Where the parties agree as to the value of the use of the cars retained and used by a receiver in a foreclosure suit, the court may properly order such amount to be paid by the receiver. Meyer v. Western Car Co., 102 U. S. 1, 26 L. ed. 59.

Where the officers of the car company and railroad company are the same the terms of the lease cannot be considered as a basis for the amount of compensation to be paid for the use of the cars. Thomas v. Peoria, etc., R. Co., 36 Fed. 808.

82. Mercantile Trust, etc., Co. v. Southern Iron Car Line, 113 Ala. 543, 21 So. 373.

83. Easton v. Houston, etc., R. Co., 38 Fed. 784, holding that the receiver is bound by a covenant in the lease to keep and return the leased cars in good condition and repair.

84. Mercantile Trust, etc., Co. v. Southern Iron Car Line, 113 Ala. 543, 21 So. 373.

85. Mercantile Trust, etc., Co. v. Southern Iron Car Line, 113 Ala. 543, 21 So. 373.

Priority of claims see supra, VIII, A, 9; and, generally, RECEIVERS.

86. Mercantile Trust, etc., Co. v. Southern Iron Car Line, 113 Ala. 543, 21 So. 373.

87. Meyer v. Johnston, 53 Ala. 237; Vanderbilt v. Central R. Co., 43 N. J. Eq. 669, 12 Atl. 188; Hoover v. Montclair, etc., R. Co., 29 N. J. Eq. 4; South Carolina, etc., R. Co. v. Carolina, etc., R. Co., 93 Fed. 543, 35 C. C. A. 423.

88. See Meyer v. Johnston, 53 Ala. 237.

89. Taylor v. Philadelphia, etc., R. Co., 9 Fed. 1, 19 Fed. Cas. No. 11,085*a*, 14 Phila. (Pa.) 501, holding that where the net earnings of the road are sufficient for the purpose the court should not authorize a receiver to borrow money to purchase rolling stock, the only object of the loan being that the net earnings might be applied to the payment of interest on bonds.

90. Meyer v. Johnston, 53 Ala. 237; Hoover v. Montclair, etc., R. Co., 29 N. J. Eq. 4; Vilas v. Page, 106 N. Y. 439, 13 N. E. 743; Union Trust Co. v. Illinois Midland R. Co., 117 U. S. 434, 6 S. Ct. 809, 29 L. ed. 963; Wallace v. Loomis, 97 U. S. 146, 24 L. ed. 895; Stanton v. Alabama, etc., R. Co., 22 Fed. Cas. No. 13,296, 2 Woods 506.

91. Hoover v. Montclair, etc., R. Co., 29 N. J. Eq. 4.

92. Vilas v. Page, 106 N. Y. 439, 13 N. E. 743.

93. Meyer v. Johnston, 53 Ala. 237; Hoover v. Montclair, etc., R. Co., 29 N. J. Eq. 4; Vilas v. Page, 106 N. Y. 439, 13 N. E. 743; Wallace v. Loomis, 97 U. S. 146, 24 L. ed. 895; Stanton v. Alabama, etc., R. Co., 22 Fed. Cas. No. 13,296, 2 Woods 506.

Priorities of claims see supra, VIII, A, 9; and, generally, RECEIVERS.

94. See Mercantile Trust Co. v. Missouri, etc., R. Co., 41 Fed. 8; Ritchie v. Central Ontario R. Co., 7 Ont. L. R. 727, 3 Ont. Wkly. Rep. 609.

95. Mercantile Trust Co. v. Missouri, etc., R. Co., 41 Fed. 8; Kelly v. Green Bay, etc., R. Co., 5 Fed. 846, 10 Biss. 151.

Construction of branch lines. — The court may, if to the advantage of the road in the hands of the receiver, authorize the receiver to do any acts with regard to the preservation and operation of the road which are within the corporate powers of the company; [96] but the receiver cannot exercise nor can the court authorize him to exercise any powers or franchises beyond those of the company to whose possession he succeeds.[97] While the extent of the receiver's authority independently of any previous order or authority from the court cannot well be precisely defined,[98] he is usually clothed with considerable discretionary power in regard to the ordinary affairs of the road and its operation and is not obliged to first submit all matters to the court,[99] and the court will subsequently confirm whatever acts of the receiver it would have authorized in the first instance had such authority been asked.[1] As a receiver is the agent of the court, his authority is necessarily limited to such powers as the court appointing him is authorized to confer,[2] and which were in fact conferred by the order appointing him,[3] or prescribed by statute where his powers are so defined;[4] and he cannot, without the direction of the court, incur expenses on account of the property in his hands beyond what are necessary for its preservation, use, and to apply revenues in his hands to the construction of a branch line. Gibert v. Washington City, etc., R. Co., 33 Gratt. (Va.) 586.

The court will not authorize a receiver to borrow money and issue certificates which will be a first lien on the property for the purpose of completing a portion of the road without the consent of the bondholders and lien-holders, where it does not appear that such additional work of construction will add to the salable value of the road (Philadelphia Inv. Co. v. Ohio, etc., R. Co., 36 Fed. 48); or authorize a receiver to proceed with the construction of a small portion of the incompleted part of a railroad where it is questionable whether such a construction will be of any real benefit to the undertaking, and in the face of the opposition of those of the bondholders whose interest is largely in excess of those desiring it and in the face of a judgment directing a sale of the road (Ritchie v. Central Ontario R. Co., 7 Ont. L. R. 727, 3 Ont. Wkly. Rep. 609).

96. Morrison v. Forman, 177 Ill. 427, 53 N. E. 73; Gibert v. Washington City, etc., R. Co., 33 Gratt. (Va.) 586; South Carolina, etc., R. Co. v. Carolina, etc., R. Co., 93 Fed. 543, 35 C. C. A. 423.

Statutory receivers.— Where a receivership is not created by the court but the receiver is appointed by the governor of the state under an internal improvement statute granting aid to the railroad company, and providing for the appointment of a receiver in certain cases, the receivership is governed by the statute, and the powers of the receiver cannot be enlarged by the court. State v. Edgefield, etc., R. Co., 6 Lea (Tenn.) 353.

Application of Interstate Commerce Act.— The enactment of the Interstate Commerce Act of 1906, commonly known as the Hepburn Act, and providing that after May 1, 1908, it shall be unlawful for a railroad company to transport from one state to another any commodity mined or produced by it or in which it may have an interest, is not sufficient ground for revoking an authority previously given to a receiver for developing a new mine, improving the line of railroad, and making connections with another road, where it does not appear that after the act would take effect the receiver could not market all the coal within the state or make an advantageous disposition of the mining properties without violating the statute, which applies only to interstate traffic. New York Cent. Trust Co. v. Pittsburg, etc., R. Co., 52 Misc. (N. Y.) 195, 101 N. Y. Suppl. 837.

97. Lewis v. Germantown, etc., R. Co., 16 Phila. (Pa.) 608.

98. South Carolina, etc., R. Co. v. Carolina, etc., R. Co., 93 Fed. 543, 35 C. C. A. 423.

99. South Carolina, etc., R. Co. v. Carolina, etc., R. Co., 93 Fed. 543, 35 C. C. A. 423; Phinizy v. Augusta, etc., R. Co., 62 Fed. 771.

Application of rule.—A receiver may, without previous authority from the court, incur ordinary operating expenses, such as salaries and the costs of necessary supplies and materials, and the expenses of keeping the road and rolling stock in order (South Carolina, etc., R. Co. v. Carolina, etc., R. Co., 93 Fed. 543, 35 C. C. A. 423); and may make a contract with another company which is a joint owner and user of a railroad bridge for the making of necessary repairs upon the bridge (Central Trust Co. v. Wabash, etc., R. Co., 52 Fed. 908).

Regulating train service.—An order made by the court adopting a schedule of wages to be paid by the receiver is not violated by the receiver in respect to employees receiving monthly wages by varying the train service to meet changed conditions of traffic, although such change requires somewhat longer hours and more miles of service. Dexter v. Union Pac. R. Co., 75 Fed. 947.

1. Phinizy v. Augusta, etc., R. Co., 62 Fed. 771.

2. International, etc., R. Co. v. Wentworth, 8 Tex. Civ. App. 5, 27 S. W. 680.

3. Gooderham v. Toronto, etc., R. Co., 28 Grant Ch. (U. C.) 212.

4. International, etc., R. Co. v. Wentworth, 8 Tex. Civ. App. 5, 27 S. W. 680.

operation as contemplated by his appointment.[5] The receiver may, and in many cases must, act through agents,[6] and it will be presumed that an agent occupying a certain position under a receiver is invested with the same authority as if he was in the employ of the railroad company.[7] Although the property is in the custody of the court it is operated by the receiver as a common carrier, whose rights and duties are those of a common carrier,[8] and the court should recognize and conform to the established usages and customs in regard to the operation of railroads.[9] A receiver has no right unjustly to discriminate as to rates and facilities between different connecting carriers,[10] or between different shippers;[11] and the court may make such orders as are necessary to compel the receiver properly to perform his duties as a common carrier and to prevent discriminations,[12] and may compel a receiver to repay amounts exacted by unjust discriminations.[13] The court may also adjust differences between the receiver and his employees, and require a receiver to make such contracts or arrangements in regard to rates of wages and conditions of employment as it may deem proper.[14] The receiver must comply with any statutory requirements as to the use and operation of the road,[15] and a receiver appointed by a federal court must operate the road according to the laws of the state in which it is situated.[16] A receiver cannot, without authority from the court, condemn land on behalf of the railroad company,[17] and it has been doubted whether the court may authorize a receiver to do so;[18]

5. International, etc., R. Co. v. Wentworth, 8 Tex. Civ. App. 5, 27 S. W. 680; Cowdrey v. Galveston, etc., R. Co., 93 U. S. 352, 23 L. ed. 950; Charlebois v. Great North West Cent. R. Co., 11 Manitoba 135.

Application of rule.—A receiver has no right to make expenditures to defeat a proposed subsidy from a city to aid in the construction of a competing road, although its construction might diminish the future earnings of the road in his hands (Cowdrey v. Galveston, etc., R. Co., 93 U. S. 352, 23 L. ed. 950); and a receiver has no right to expend money for the maintenance of a reading room for the benefit of employees of the road, since such expenditure is charitable in its nature, and does not properly appertain to the administration of the trust (Langdon v. Vermont, etc., R. Co., 54 Vt. 593).

6. Kansas Pac. R. Co. v. Bayles, 19 Colo. 348, 35 Pac. 744; South Carolina, etc., R. Co. v. Carolina, etc., R. Co., 93 Fed. 543, 35 C. C. A. 423.

7. Kansas Pac. R. Co. v. Bayles, 19 Colo. 348, 35 Pac. 744; Northern Pac. R. Co. v. American Trading Co., 195 U. S. 439, 25 S. Ct. 84, 49 L. ed. 269 [affirming 120 Fed. 873, 57 C. C. A. 533 (reversing 112 Fed. 829)].

8. Beers v. Wabash, etc., R. Co., 34 Fed. 244.

9. Central Trust Co. v. Colorado Midland R. Co., 89 Fed. 560, holding that where a receiver acts in accordance with the common usage of the business in paying claims for lost express matter, upon affidavits as to its value, such evidence should be accepted as sufficient by the court.

10. Cutting v. Florida R., etc., Co., 43 Fed. 747; Beers v. Wabash, etc., R. Co., 34 Fed. 244; Missouri Pac. R. Co. v. Texas, etc., R. Co., 30 Fed. 2.

11. Cincinnati Stock-Yards Co. v. United R. Stock-Yards Co., 8 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 395, 7 Cinc. L. Bul. 295; McCoy v. Marietta, etc., R. Co., 15 Fed. Cas. No. 8,730*b*.

12. Cincinnati Stock-Yards Co. v. United R. Stock-Yards Co., 8 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 395, 7 Cinc. L. Bul. 295; Missouri Pac. R. Co. v. Texas, etc., R. Co., 30 Fed. 2.

A federal court will not enjoin a receiver appointed by and under the control of a state court from discriminating between different shippers, but will leave the petitioner to apply to the state court for the proper relief. McCoy v. Marietta, etc., R. Co., 15 Fed. Cas. No. 8,730*b*.

13. Cutting v. Florida, etc., R. Co., 43 Fed. 747.

14. Waterhouse v. Comer, 55 Fed. 149, 19 L. R. A. 403.

15. Peckham v. Dutchess County R. Co., 145 N. Y. 385, 40 N. E. 15 [modifying 81 Hun 399, 31 N. Y. Suppl. 105], holding that where, after a judgment was rendered against a railroad company, requiring it to construct a farm crossing as required by statute, the company leased its road to another company for which a receiver was subsequently appointed, the receiver should be required to construct the crossing or in case he had not means to do so and the bondholders in whose interest he was appointed would not furnish the means, he should be required to surrender the property upon which the road was constructed to the owner entitled to the crossing and be enjoined from making any further use of it until the judgment was complied with.

16. Erb v. Morasch, 177 U. S. 584, 20 S. Ct. 819, 44 L. ed. 897 [affirming 60 Kan. 251, 56 Pac. 133].

17. Minneapolis Western R. Co. v. Minneapolis, etc., R. Co., 61 Minn. 502, 63 N. W. 1035.

18. See Minneapolis Western R. Co. v. Minneapolis, etc., R. Co., 61 Minn. 502, 63 N. W. 1035.

but it has been held that the court may do so when necessary to complete an undertaking previously commenced by the company and which is essential to the profitable operation of the road.[19]

2. Contracts of Receivers. The court may authorize a receiver to make any contracts necessary for the preservation and operation of the road which are within the corporate powers of the company,[20] and the receiver is ordinarily invested with a broad discretion as to the making of such contracts,[21] and is not required in all cases to first procure authority from the court.[22] So a receiver may without previous authority from the court make contracts for necessities for the operation of the road,[23] make contracts as to rates of transportation,[24] and the giving of such rebates as are not unlawful,[25] contract with a shipper to furnish cars at a certain time and place,[26] and make contracts for through transportation to points beyond the terminus of the road under his control;[27] but a receiver has no right, without the sanction of the court, to make contracts involving a large outlay of money or extending beyond the receivership,[28] and the court will not authorize a large expenditure which is not absolutely essential for the proper maintenance and operation of the road and which can be met only by anticipating income.[29] The receiver's contracts are subject to the approval of the court;[30] but the court will ordinarily recognize and enforce all contracts made in good faith and for a proper purpose, although not previously authorized,[31] even where the contract may seem to be improvident if it has been fully performed in good faith and without notice on the part of the other party as to its improvident character;[32] and where the contract has not been performed and the

19. Morrison v. Forman, 177 Ill. 427, 53 N. E. 73, holding that under such circumstances the court may authorize a receiver to condemn lands for a depot, yards, and sidings.

20. South Carolina, etc., R. Co. v. Carolina, etc., R. Co., 93 Fed. 543, 35 C. C. A. 423, holding that where a road in the hands of a receiver is not paying expenses the receiver may, with the consent of the court, contract with another company to operate it, and may in such contract agree to save the operating company harmless against actions for damages by reason of its operation of the road.

21. Vanderbilt v. Central R. Co., 43 N. J. Eq. 669, 12 Atl. 188; Northern Pac. R. Co. v. American Trading Co., 195 U. S. 439, 25 S. Ct. 84, 49 L. ed. 269 [affirming 120 Fed. 873, 57 C. C. A. 533 (reversing 112 Fed. 829)].

22. Kansas Pac. R. Co. v. Bayles, 19 Colo. 348, 35 Pac. 744; Vanderbilt v. Central R. Co., 43 N. J. Eq. 669, 12 Atl. 188; South Carolina, etc., R. Co. v. Carolina, etc., R. Co., 93 Fed. 543, 35 C. C. A. 423.

Authority from the court is only necessary in those cases where the intention of the receiver is to make contracts involving large expenditures or for extraordinary purposes or creating obligations extending beyond the receivership. South Carolina, etc., R. Co. v. Carolina, etc., R. Co., 93 Fed. 543, 35 C. C. A. 423.

23. South Carolina v. Port Royal, etc., R. Co., 89 Fed. 565.

24. Kansas Pac. R. Co. v. Bayles, 19 Colo. 348, 35 Pac. 744; Bayles v. Kansas Pac. R. Co., 13 Colo. 181, 22 Pac. 341, 5 L. R. A. 480.

The receiver of a railroad may give an unusually low rate in order to introduce into general use a cheap and valuable article which if brought into general demand would add to the freight receipts of the roads handling it. Clarke v. Central R., etc., Co., 66 Fed. 16.

25. Kansas Pac. R. Co. v. Bayles, 19 Colo. 348, 35 Pac. 744; Ex p. Benson, 18 S. C. 38, 44 Am. Rep. 564.

26. San Antonio, etc., R. Co. v. Barnett, (Tex. Civ. App. 1898) 44 S. W. 20 [distinguishing International, etc., R. Co. v. Wentworth, 8 Tex. Civ. App. 5, 27 S. W. 680].

27. Kansas Pac. R. Co. v. Bayles, 19 Colo. 348, 35 Pac. 744; Northern Pac. R. Co. v. American Trading Co., 195 U. S. 439, 25 S. Ct. 84, 49 L. ed. 269 [affirming 120 Fed. 873, 57 C. C. A. 533 (reversing 112 Fed. 829)]. But see International, etc., R. Co. v. Wentworth, 8 Tex. Civ. App. 5, 27 S. W. 680.

28. Chicago Deposit Vault Co. v. McNulta, 153 U. S. 554, 14 S. Ct. 915, 38 L. ed. 819.

29. Lee v. Victoria R. Co., 29 Grant Ch. (U. C.) 110.

30. Vanderbilt v. Central R. Co., 43 N. J. Eq. 669, 12 Atl. 188; Chicago Deposit Vault Co. v. McNulta, 153 U. S. 554, 14 S. Ct. 915, 38 L. ed. 819; South Carolina v. Port Royal, etc., R. Co., 89 Fed. 565.

31. South Carolina, etc., R. Co. v. Carolina, etc., R. Co., 93 Fed. 543, 35 C. C. A. 423; South Carolina v. Port Royal, etc., R. Co., 89 Fed. 565. See also Kerr v. Little, 42 N. J. Eq. 528, 9 Atl. 110 [reversed on the facts in 44 N. J. Eq. 263, 14 Atl. 613].

32. See Vanderbilt v. Central R. Co., 43 N. J. Eq. 669, 12 Atl. 188.

court refuses to order it carried out on account of its improvident character, it may allow the other party compensation for expenditures made in good faith preparatory to carrying out the contract on its part.[33] The receiver may contract through agents,[34] but he cannot delegate to an agent any greater powers than he himself possesses.[35] The contracts of a receiver are not binding upon him personally unless he has pledged his individual credit, but only in his representative capacity.[36] A traffic contract made by a receiver with another road, allowing the latter to operate trains over his road, if without any stipulation as to its continuance, is terminable at the will of the receiver.[37]

3. Making or Taking Leases. The court may, whenever essential to a more profitable operation of the road in the hands of the receiver, authorize the receiver to lease and operate another road;[38] but a receiver has no authority to make a lease without the approval of the court,[39] and a statutory receiver appointed by the governor of the state under a statute granting aid to the company and providing for the appointment of a receiver to operate the road in case of a default in the payment on the part of the railroad company cannot, in the absence of statutory authority, lease the road to another company,[40] even with the consent and approval of the governor.[41]

G. Rights and Liabilities of Company After Discharge of Receiver — 1. In General. Since, when a receiver for a railroad has been duly appointed by a court of competent jurisdiction, the property is in the custody of the court, and the receiver is the agent of the court and not of the company,[42] the railroad company is not ordinarily liable after the discharge of the receiver for any claims arising against the receiver as such during the receivership,[43] whether in contract or in tort.[44] So the company will not ordinarily be liable for claims based upon the negligence or misconduct of the receiver or his employees in the operation of the road,[45] or bound by his contracts,[46] nor can the company enforce against a third person a contract made by such person with the receiver.[47] The rule as to the non-liability of the railroad company is in some cases changed by statute,[48]

33. Vanderbilt v. Central R. Co., 43 N. J. Eq. 669, 12 Atl. 188.

34. Bayles v. Kansas Pac. R. Co., 13 Colo. 181, 22 Pac. 341, 5 L. R. A. 480; Northern Pac. R. Co. v. American Trading Co., 195 U. S. 439, 25 S. Ct. 84, 49 L. ed. 269 [affirming 120 Fed. 873, 57 C. C. A. 533 (reversing 112 Fed. 829)].

35. International, etc., R. Co. v. Wentworth, 8 Tex. Civ. App. 5, 27 S. W. 680.

36. Vanderbilt v. Central R. Co., 43 N. J. Eq. 669, 12 Atl. 188; Newman v. Davenport, 9 Baxt. (Tenn.) 538.

37. Philadelphia Inv. Co. v. Ohio, etc., R. Co., 41 Fed. 378.

38. Gilbert v. Washington City, etc., R. Co., 33 Gratt. (Va.) 586; Mercantile Trust Co. v. Missouri, etc., R. Co., 41 Fed. 8.

39. Chicago Deposit Vault Co. v. McNulta, 153 U. S. 554, 14 S. Ct. 915, 38 L. ed. 819.

40. State v. McMinnville, etc., R. Co., 6 Lea (Tenn.) 369; McMinnville, etc., R. Co. v. Huggins, 3 Baxt. (Tenn.) 177.

Ratification of such a lease can be made only by the legislature and the acceptance of rent if not accepted by any legislative action is not a ratification, and the lease being unauthorized and void the lessee is not entitled to the value of improvements made upon the road. State v. McMinnville, etc., R. Co., 6 Lea (Tenn.) 369.

41. State v. McMinnville, etc., R. Co., 6 Lea (Tenn.) 369.

42. Ohio, etc., R. Co. v. Davis, 23 Ind. 553, 85 Am. Dec. 477; Metz v. Buffalo, etc., R. Co., 58 N. Y. 61, 17 Am. Rep. 201; Ellis v. Indianapolis, etc., R. Co., 5 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 497, 6 Am. L. Rec. 289; Missouri, etc., R. Co. v. McFadden, 89 Tex. 138, 33 S. W. 853.

43. Godfrey v. Ohio, etc., R. Co., 116 Ind. 30, 18 N. E. 61; Ohio, etc., R. Co. v. Davis, 23 Ind. 553, 85 Am. Dec. 477; Metz v. Buffalo, etc., R. Co., 58 N. Y. 61, 17 Am. Rep. 201; Missouri, etc., R. Co. v. McFadden, 89 Tex. 138, 33 S. W. 853; Davis v. Duncan, 19 Fed. 477.

44. Godfrey v. Ohio, etc., R. Co., 116 Ind. 30, 18 N. E. 61.

45. See infra, X, C, 9, c.

46. Ellis v. Indianapolis, etc., R. Co., 5 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 497, 6 Am. L. Rec. 288.

47. Consolidated Coal, etc., Co. v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 9 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 15, 10 Cinc. L. Bul. 42, holding that an agreement with the receiver of a railroad to supply coal for the use of the road for a certain time cannot be enforced by the company after the discharge of the receiver and surrender of the road to the company, although the full term for which such agreement was to be operative has not expired.

48. Yoakum v. Kroeger, (Tex. Civ. App. 1894) 27 S. W. 953; Missouri, etc., R. Co. v. Chilton, 7 Tex. Civ. App. 183, 27 S. W. 272.

or by an express assumption of such liability by the company;[49] and where the road is returned to the company without sale and with permanent improvements made by the receiver out of the net earning of the road collected by him, the company will be liable for claims ar sing against the receiver and payable out of such earnings,[50] to the extent of the funds so diverted.[51] The company will be liable on a contract made by it, although at the time of performance the road is in the hands of a receiver;[52] and a judgment rendered against the company while the roads is in the hands of a receiver operates as a lien upon its property, and if kept alive may be enforced against the property after the discharge of the receiver and its return to the company.[53] A recognition by the court of the maintenance of a bridge over a cut on an abandoned right of way as a charge on the assets in the hands of a receiver imposes no duty upon the company subsequently to maintain the bridge, where no such duty would otherwise exist.[54] Where the receiver is discharged and the court orders all the property to be turned over to a newly organized company, subject to an agreement on the part of such company to pay "all outstanding debts and claims against said receivership," the order does not include a judgment against the old company which was never presented to or allowed by the receiver, and which never became a debt or claim against the receivership.[55]

2. Actions and Proceedings. In an action against a railroad company on a cause of action arising against a receiver, all the facts necessary to show a liability on the part of the company therefor must be alleged and proved,[56] and a special verdict must find upon every issue necessary to establish such liability.[57] Under a statute imposing an absolute liability upon the company for claims arising against the receivership, it is not necessary to allege or prove any investment of funds in betterments on the road.[58] Where the company is liable by

In Texas the statute of 1889 makes the railroad company upon the restoration of its property without sale liable for any unpaid liabilities of the receiver arising out of and during the receivership, without regard to the question of betterments (Yoakum v Kroeger, (Civ. App. 1894) 27 S. W. 953); but the statute has been held not to be applicable to cases where the receiver was appointed by a federal court (Missouri, etc., R. Co. v. Wood, (Civ. App. 1899) 52 S. W. 93); or at least in so far as it provides for the rendition of judgments against a receiver after his discharge in actions pending at that time (Fordyce v. Du Bose, 87 Tex. 78, 26 S. W. 1050; Fordyce v. Beecher, 2 Tex. Civ. App. 29, 21 S. W. 179).

49. Missouri, etc., R. Co. v. Chilton, 7 Tex. Civ. App. 183, 27 S. W. 272.

50. Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Donovan, 86 Tex. 378, 25 S. W. 10; Boggs v. Brown, 82 Tex. 41, 17 S. W. 830; Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Geiger, 79 Tex. 13, 15 S. W. 214; Missouri, etc., R. Co. v. Lacy, 13 Tex. Civ. App. 391, 35 S. W. 505; Garrison v. Texas, etc., R. Co., 10 Tex. Civ. App. 136, 30 S. W. 725; Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Manton, 164 U. S. 636, 17 S. Ct. 216, 41 L. ed. 580 [affirming 60 Fed. 979, 9 C. C. A. 300].

Rejection of claim by federal court.— Where a receiver has been discharged and the property returned to the company with betterments, it is liable on a judgment recovered against the receiver in a state court, although the federal court which appointed the receiver rejected the claim on intervention. Garrison v. Texas, etc., R. Co., 10 Tex. Civ. App. 136, 30 S. W. 725.

51. Missouri, etc., R. Co. v. Lacy, 13 Tex. Civ. App. 391, 35 S. W. 505.

52. Gulf, etc., R. Co. v. Insurance Co. of North America, (Tex. Civ. App. 1894) 28 S. W. 237.

53. Mather v. Cincinnati R. Tunnel Co., 3 Ohio Cir. Ct. 284, 2 Ohio Cir. Dec. 161.

54. Alabama, etc., R. Co. v. Brandon, (Miss. 1893) 14 So. 438.

55. Ferguson v. Toledo, etc., R. Co., 85 N. Y. App. Div. 352, 83 N. Y. Suppl. 283 [affirmed in 183 N. Y. 557, 76 N. E. 1095].

56. Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Adams, 78 Tex. 372, 14 S. W. 666, 22 Am. St. Rep. 56; Howe v. St. Clair, 8 Tex. Civ. App. 101, 27 S. W. 800.

On a petition seeking to establish liens provided for by the Texas statute of 1889, upon property turned over to a company by a receiver, for unpaid liabilities arising during the receivership, the discharge of the receiver must be alleged. Howe v. St. Clair, 8 Tex. Civ. App. 101, 27 So. 800.

If it is shown that betterments were made upon the road and that it was returned to the company without sale, it will be presumed that such betterments were made out of the earnings of the road, and the burden is upon defendant to show the contrary. Missouri, etc., R. Co. v. Chilton, 7 Tex. Civ. App. 183, 27 S. W. 272.

57. Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Watson, 13 Tex. Civ. App. 555, 36 S. W. 290.

58. International, etc., R. Co. v. Cook, 16 reason of the return of the road with betterments, the claim need not be adjusted in the court appointing the receiver, but an action may be brought in another court,[59] and plaintiff may sue at law and recover a personal judgment against the company.[60] In such cases the court has no right to require that such claims shall be established by intervention in the original suit,[61] or within a specified time,[62] and the same rule applies where the liability is imposed by statute.[63] In an action against a railroad company if the receivership has been terminated and the receiver discharged, he is not a necessary party defendant,[64] and if the action is brought against both the receiver and the company judgment may be rendered against the company alone.[65] In the absence of statute a judgment cannot be rendered against a receiver after his discharge which will bind either the property or the railroad company.[66]

H. Foreign and Ancillary Receiverships — 1. Foreign Appointment. A court cannot extend its jurisdiction by the appointment of a receiver,[67] and the authority of a receiver as such is limited by the territorial jurisdiction of the court appointing him,[68] and any recognition accorded him beyond such limits rests entirely upon comity;[69] but through comity the authority of a receiver appointed in one jurisdiction will be recognized in many ways by the courts of other jurisdictions,[70] and generally, whenever to do so would not be contrary to the laws or public policy of the latter jurisdictions, or prejudicial to the rights of their citizens;[71] but such courts will not accord to a foreign receiver rights or powers to which he would not be entitled in the jurisdiction of his appointment.[72]

2. Ancillary Appointment. Where a railroad extending through different states or jurisdictions is placed in the hands of a receiver, it is ordinarily highly desirable that it should be operated under a single management;[73] and while it has been held that in such cases a court of one jurisdiction may appoint a receiver for the entire line if it has jurisdiction of the person of the corporation, and may compel the company to execute assignments of property situated in other jurisdictions to the receiver,[74] the usual practice is to institute ancillary proceedings in the jurisdictions other than that in which the receiver was first appointed,[75] the courts of such jurisdictions, both through comity and to secure a harmonious and more profitable management, Tex. Civ. App. 386, 41 S. W. 665; Yookum v. Kroeger, (Tex. Civ. App. 1894) 27 S. W. 953.

59. Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Geiger, 79 Tex. 13, 15 S. W. 214.

60. Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Manton, 164 U. S. 636, 17 S. Ct. 216, 41 L. ed. 580 [affirming 60 Fed. 979, 9 C. C. A. 300].

61. Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Bailey, 83 Tex. 19, 18 S. W. 481; Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Griffin, 76 Tex. 441, 13 S. W. 471; Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Johnson, 76 Tex. 421, 13 S. W. 463, 18 Am. St. Rep. 60.

62. Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Watts, (Tex. 1891) 18 S. W. 312; Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Johnson, 76 Tex. 421, 13 S. W. 463, 18 Am. St. Rep. 66.

63. Missouri, etc., R. Co. v. Chilton, 7 Tex. Civ. App. 183, 27 S. W. 272.

64. San Antonio, etc., R. Co. v. Barnett, (Tex. Civ. App. 1898) 44 S. W. 20.

65. Bonner v. Blum, (Tex. Civ. App. 1894) 25 S. W. 60.

66. Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Watson, (Tex. Civ. App. 1894) 24 S. W. 952.

67. Atkins v. Wabash, etc., R. Co., 29 Fed. 161.

68. Dillon v. Oregon, etc., R. Co., 66 Fed. 622; Atkins v. Wabash, etc., R. Co., 29 Fed. 161.

69. Bagby v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 86 Pa. St. 291.

70. Guaranty Trust, etc., Co. v. Philadelphia, etc., R. Co., 69 Conn. 709, 38 Atl. 792, 38 L. R. A. 804; Robertson v. Staed, 135 Mo. 135, 36 S. W. 610, 58 Am. St. Rep. 569, 23 L. R. A. 303; Dillon v. Oregon, etc., R. Co., 66 Fed. 622.

71. Robertson v. Staed, 135 Mo. 135, 36 S. W. 610, 58 Am. St. Rep. 569, 33 L. R. A. 203.

72. Bagby v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 86 Pa. St. 291.

73. Port Royal, etc., R. Co. v. King, 93 Ga. 63, 19 S. E. 809, 24 L. R. A. 730; Dillon v. Oregon, etc., R. Co., 66 Fed. 622; New York, etc., R. Co. v. New York, etc., R. Co., 58 Fed. 263.

74. Wilmer v. Atlanta, etc., R. Co., 30 Fed. Cas. No. 17,775, 2 Woods 409. See also supra, IX, C, 1.

75. Central Trust Co. v. Wabash, etc., R. Co., 29 Fed. 618. But see Taylor v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 57 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 9.

Where an ancillary appointment is the only relief demanded the court has refused to entertain jurisdiction of the bill (Mercantile Trust Co. v. Kanawha, etc., R. Co., 39 Fed. 337); but the court may entertain a bill for such purpose or may make such appoint-appointing the same person as receiver.[76] The court of initial proceeding and by which the receiver was first appointed is the court of primary jurisdiction[77] and should direct and control the receiver in regard to the operation and management of the property as a whole, and through comity the courts of ancillary jurisdiction should recognize and assist in carrying out its orders and directions.[78] This rule does not involve a refusal of jurisdiction or surrender of judicial independence on the part of the courts of ancillary appointment;[79] but on the contrary the courts of one jurisdiction cannot, and should not if they had such power, delegate or surrender to the courts of another jurisdiction the powers which the laws of their own states and justice to their own citizens require that they should retain and exercise.[80] The courts of ancillary appointment still have power with regard to the portion of the road or property within their territorial jurisdictions to make such independent orders affecting the operation of that part of the road as the interests of the property may require or the nature of the proceedings in both courts justify,[81] to hear and determine claims,[82] and to pass upon questions of rights of property in their jurisdictions;[83] and where they may properly afford relief will not require their citizens to go into the courts of other jurisdictions for the enforcement of their rights;[84] and comity requires that such acts and orders ment in an ex parte proceeding (Platt v. Philadelphia, etc., R. Co., 54 Fed. 569).

76. Port Royal, etc., R. Co. v. King, 93 Ga. 63, 19 S. E. 809, 24 L. R. A. 730; Dillon v. Oregon, etc., R. Co., 66 Fed. 622; New York, etc., R. Co. v. New York, etc., R. Co., 58 Fed. 268; Central Trust Co. v. Wabash R. Co., 29 Fed. 618.

Circumstances might arise which would justify the appointment of a different person as receiver in the different jurisdictions, but as such appointments tend to break up the road or system and create conflicts between the different courts in the administration of the same property, they should not be made unless strong reasons therefor are presented. New York, etc., R. Co. v. New York, etc., R. Co., 58 Fed. 268.

Removal of receiver.— Where the same receiver has been appointed by the courts of different jurisdictions, the court of ancillary jurisdiction has the power to remove such receiver as to the property within its jurisdiction and appoint a different person (Central Trust Co. v. Wabash, etc., R. Co., 29 Fed. 618); but the practice has been condemned as being in disregard of the comity which should exist between the different courts, it being held that an application for removal should be addressed to the court of primary jurisdiction (Chattanooga, etc., R. Co. v. Felton, 69 Fed. 273).

77. Dillon v. Oregon, etc., R. Co., 66 Fed. 622.

The proceeding ought properly to be instituted in a jurisdiction where the principal offices of the road are located and where there is some material part of its road, and this court should be the court of primary jurisdiction; but where a receiver appointed by the court of a certain district has been recognized for over two years by all the parties and the courts of the different districts traversed by the road as the court of primary jurisdiction, the same person having been appointed by ancillary proceedings in all of such districts, these courts should continue to recognize the original appointing court as the court of primary jurisdiction, although the only property controlled by the railroad company in such district consisted of a leased line which was surrendered to its owners within a month after the receiver was appointed. Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Northern Pac. R. Co., 72 Fed. 26 [overruling Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Northern Pac. R. Co., 69 Fed. 871].

78. Guarantee Trust, etc., Co. v. Philadelphia, etc., R. Co., 69 Conn. 709, 38 Atl. 792, 38 L. R. A. 804; Dillon v. Oregon, etc., R. Co., 66 Fed. 622; Ames v. Union Pac. R. Co., 60 Fed. 966.

The rule is not based upon comity alone but is a rule of utility resting upon sound public policy. Any other rule would tend to break up a road or system of roads into as many different lines as there were courts having jurisdiction over the different portions and to create confusion and conflict of authority and financial loss in its operation. Dillon v. Oregon, etc., R. Co., 66 Fed. 622.

Absolute uniformity is not always possible in the different jurisdictions, since the rights of all parties must be governed by the statutes and course of decision and procedure in each respectively, and as to mere matters of procedure, such as for the allowance and payment of claims, a lack of uniformity in the orders of the different courts is not material. Central Trust Co. v. Texas, etc., R. Co., 22 Fed. 135.

79. Dillon v. Oregon, etc., R. Co., 66 Fed. 622.

80. Taylor v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 57 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 9.

81. Guarantee Trust, etc., Co. v. Philadelphia, etc., R. Co., 69 Conn. 709, 38 Atl. 792, 38 L. R. A. 804.

82. Ames v. Union Pac. R. Co., 60 Fed. 966.

83. Chattanooga, etc., R. Co. v. Felton, 69 Fed. 273.

84. Chattanooga, etc., R. Co. v. Felton, 69 should be respected by the court of primary jurisdiction.[85] Where, however, all the accounts are being filed and settled and disbursements made under the direction of the court of primary jurisdiction, that court is the proper forum in which to apply for the payment of claims.[86] The same receiver may be appointed by different courts and the appointments be merely concurrent, without one being primary and the other ancillary, jurisdiction and control being alike invoked and conceded by each of the tribunals, and each being competent to enforce the observance of obligations arising under its sanction.[87]

3. Actions and Proceedings. While as a general rule a receiver cannot, in the absence of statute, be sued without leave of the court appointing him,[88] a receiver appointed in one jurisdiction may by leave of the court appointing him be sued in another jurisdiction,[89] and in a garnishment proceeding the fact that a receiver is a non-resident is immaterial where he is operating a road within the jurisdiction of the court issuing the garnishee process and where the sum due to the judgment debtor is payable.[90]

X. OPERATION.

A. Duty to Operate and Injuries From Operation*— 1. Nature and Extent of Duty — a. In General.[91] The franchises, rights, and privileges of railroad companies are granted by the state in consideration of the resulting benefits to the public and their acceptance by a railroad company imposes upon it the duty of operating the railroad when constructed,[92] and of doing so in the manner and for the purposes contemplated by its charter,[93] and impartially without discrimination for or against persons demanding similar services,[94] which duties it may be compelled by mandamus or other proper proceeding to perform.[95]

Fed. 273; Ames v. Union Pac. R. Co., 60 Fed. 966.

85. Guarantee Trust, etc., Co. v. Philadelphia, etc., R. Co., 69 Conn. 709, 38 Atl. 792, 38 L. R. A. 804; Ames v. Union Pac. R. Co., 60 Fed. 966.

86. Clyde v. Richmond, etc., R. Co., 56 Fed. 539; Jennings v. Philadelphia, etc., R. Co., 23 Fed. 569.

87. Matter of U. S. Rolling Stock Co., 55 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 286, 57 How. Pr. 16.

88. De Graffenried v. Brunswick, etc., R. Co., 57 Ga. 22; Anderson v. Buffalo, etc., R. Co., 2 Pa. Co. Ct. 402; Barton v. Barbour, 104 U. S. 126, 26 L. ed. 672. See also, generally, Receivers.

Vacating attachment.— Where a receiver appointed in one state and operating a railroad in another is sued in the latter, an attachment issued in such suit will be vacated. Killmer v. Hobart, 58 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 452.

89. Carrey v. Spencer, 36 N. Y. Suppl. 886.

90. Phelan v. Ganebin, 5 Colo. 14, holding further that it is not necessary to obtain leave of the court appointing the receiver in a different state before instituting such proceedings.

91. Duty as common carrier see Carriers, 6 Cyc. 352.

Duty to furnish facilities to express companies see Carriers, 6 Cyc. 374.

Duty to maintain and repair see supra, VI, G.

Failure to operate as a ground of forfeiture of franchise see supra, II, J, 5.

Liability for injury to employees see Master and Servant, 26 Cyc. 1076.

92. Gates v. Boston, etc., Air-Line R. Co., 53 Conn. 333, 5 Atl. 695; People v. New York Cent., etc., R. Co., 28 Hun (N. Y.) 543, 3 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 11; Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Henning, 8 Fed. Cas. No. 4,666; Rex v. Severn, etc., R. Co., 2 B. & Ald. 646, 21 Rev. Rep. 433. But see Reg. v. Great Western R. Co., 62 L. J. Q. B. 572, 69 L. T. Rep. N. S. 572, 9 Reports 1.

93. State v. Hartford, etc., R. Co., 29 Conn. 538; State v. Atlantic Coast Line R. Co., 53 Fla. 650, 44 So. 213. 13 L. R. A. N. S. 320; Union Pac. R. Co. v. Hall, 91 U. S. 343, 23 L. ed. 428 [affirming 28 Fed. Cas. No. 16,601, 4 Dill. 479].

94. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Suffern, 129 Ill. 274, 21 N. E. 824 [affirming 27 Ill. App. 404]; Messenger v. Pennsylvania R. Co., 37 N. J. L. 531, 18 Am. Rep. 754.

95. Connecticut.— State v. Hartford, etc., R. Co., 29 Conn. 538.

Illinois.— Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Suffern, 129 Ill. 274, 21 N. E. 824 [affirming 27 Ill. App. 404].

New York.— People v. New York Cent. etc., R. Co., 28 Hun 543, 3 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 11.

United States.—Union Pac. R. Co. v. Hall, 91 U. S. 343, 23 L. ed. 428 [affirming 28 Fed. Cas. No. 16,601, 4 Dill. 479].

England.— Rex v. Severn, etc., R. Co., 2 B. & Ald. 646, 21 Rev. Rep. 433.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 711.

* By James A. Gwyn.

Conversely a railroad company will not be enjoined from operating its road as a means of compelling it to comply with a contract obligation which it owes to a particular individual.[96] A railroad company may be compelled to operate its road between certain points as a continuous line where its charter expressly so requires,[97] or to operate a ferry which by legislative authority it has acquired as an extension and part of its line,[98] or to resume its duties as a common carrier of freight and passengers which it has virtually suspended owing to a controversy with its employees as to the rate of wages where no sufficient excuse is shown for not providing other employees sufficient to do the work.[99] But in the absence of statute the duty of a railroad company as to operating its road is no greater than the public interests demand and justify,[1] and where there is not sufficient traffic to pay expenses the company will not be required to operate the road at a loss,[2] or to make needed repairs where the road is not paying expenses and the company has not the necessary funds or means of raising them;[3] nor will the lessee of a railroad company under a lease which all parties admit to be void be compelled to operate the road.[4]

b. Abandonment of Road or Portion Thereof.[5] While under a statute which is merely permissive a railroad company cannot be compelled to construct its railroad,[6] yet where a railroad has been constructed and put in operation the company has ordinarily no right to abandon the enterprise,[7] or cease to operate any portion of the road,[8] and it may be compelled to resume the operation,[9] or

96. Taylor v. Florida East Coast R. Co., 54 Fla. 635, 45 So. 574, 16 L. R. A. N. S. 307, holding that the grantor of a right of way cannot sue to enjoin the operation of trains over a line of railroad on the ground that the company has violated a covenant to maintain a spur track and depot upon his land, since the rights of the public require uninterrupted service.

97. Union Pac. R. Co. v. Hall, 91 U. S. 343, 23 L. ed. 428 [affirming 28 Fed. Cas. No. 16,601, 4 Dill. 479].

98. Brownell v. Old Colony R. Co., 164 Mass. 29, 41 N. E. 107, 49 Am. St. Rep. 442, 29 L. R. A. 169.

99. People v. New York Cent., etc., R. Co., 28 Hun (N. Y.) 543, 3 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 11.

1. Com. v. Fitchburg R. Co., 12 Gray (Mass.) 180; Sherwood v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 94 Va. 291, 26 S. E. 943; Jack v. Williams, 113 Fed. 823 [affirmed in 145 Fed. 281, 76 C. C. A. 165].

2. State v. Dodge City, etc., R. Co., 53 Kan. 329, 36 Pac. 755, 24 L. R. A. 564; Jack v. Williams, 113 Fed. 823 [affirmed in 145 Fed. 281, 76 C. C. A. 165].

If there is not sufficient traffic over a particular line of road to pay for the expense of running trains thereon this is sufficient evidence that the public do not require it to be kept in operation and in such case the company may cease operating the road unless this would be contrary to the express provisions of its charter. Morawetz Priv. Corp. § 1119 [quoted in Jack v. Williams, 113 Fed. 823 (affirmed in 145 Fed. 281, 76 C. C. A. 165); People v. Colorado Cent. R. Co., 42 Fed. 638].

3. Ohio, etc., R. Co. v. People, 120 Ill. 200, 11 N. E. 347; State v. Dodge City, etc., R. Co., 53 Kan. 329, 36 Pac. 755, 24 L. R. A. 564.

4. People v. Colorado Cent. R. Co., 42 Fed. 638.

5. Abandonment of location see supra, IV, E, 2.

Removal or abandonment of stations see supra, IV, G, 3.

6. State v. Southern Minnesota R. Co., 18 Minn. 40. See also, generally, supra, VI, A, 1.

7. Gates v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 53 Conn. 333, 5 Atl. 695; Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Henning, 8 Fed. Cas. No. 4,666. But see Reg. v. Great Western R. Co., 62 L. J. Q. B. 572, 69 L. T. Rep. N. S. 572, 9 Reports 1.

8. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Suffern, 129 Ill. 274, 21 N. E. 824 [affirming 27 Ill. App. 404]; Atty.-Gen. v. West Wisconsin R. Co., 36 Wis. 466; Rex v. Severn, etc., R. Co., 2 B. & Ald. 646, 21 Rev. Rep. 433. In People v. Albany R. Co., 37 Barb. (N. Y.) 216 [affirming 11 Abb. Pr. 136, 19 How. Pr. 523, and affirmed in 24 N. Y. 261], a preliminary injunction was granted restraining defendant from taking up the tracks upon a portion of its road which it desired to abandon, but on final hearing the complaint praying the injunction restraining the removal of the track and demanding as relief that the company be required to reopen and operate that portion of the road was dismissed, and on appeal this judgment was affirmed, the justices being divided as to the question of the right of the railroad company to abandon a portion of its road, but agreeing that the remedy was not by suit in equity for specific performance but by mandamus, indictment, or a proceeding to annul the existence of the corporation.

9. Rex v. Severn, etc., R. Co., 2 B. & Ald. 646, 21 Rev. Rep. 433. But see Reg. v. Great Western, etc., R. Co., 62 L. J. Q. B. 572, 69 L. T. Rep. N. S. 572, 9 Reports 1.

to replace a portion of the track which it has wrongfully taken up,[10] or to restore a switch connection.[11] A railroad company may, however, in the absence of statute abandon the operation of a road which cannot be operated except at a loss.[12] Where the road as a whole is profitable the company may be compelled to operate the whole, including an unprofitable portion if bound to do so by its charter, by statute, or by contract with the state;[13] but in the absence of such positive duty whether it will be compelled to continue the operation of an unprofitable portion depends upon the circumstances of the case.[14]

c. Private Branches, Spurs, and Side-Tracks. The term "railroad" includes all side-tracks necessary or convenient for the transaction of the company's business;[15] and if a railroad company controls and operates a switch or side-track as a part of its system, although primarily for the benefit of a particular shipper, it may be compelled to transport freight for others at points along the line where such persons have a right to ship or receive it.[16] But where a switch is constructed for the benefit of a particular shipper, on his land, and subsequently under rights expressly reserved in the contract, the railroad company cancels its agreement and sells the switch to the landowner, he has the exclusive right to the use of the switch,[17] and the railroad company cannot be required to receive the freight of others on or along such private switch of which it has not the management or control.[18] Railroad companies cannot be required to construct switches or spur tracks away from their lines to accommodate individual interests,[19] and if so constructed for the accommodation of a private warehouse, mine, quarry, or the like, may be discontinued by the railroad company in the absence of any contract to continue their operation for a particular length of time,[20] pro-

10. Rex v. Severn, etc., R. Co., 2 B. & Ald. 646, 21 Rev. Rep. 433.

11. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Suffern, 129 Ill. 274, 21 N. E. 824 [affirming 27 Ill. App. 404].

12. Jack v. Williams, 113 Fed. 823 [affirmed in 145 Fed. 281, 76 C. C. A. 165].

13. Brownell v. Old Colony R. Co., 164 Mass. 29, 41 N. E. 107, 49 Am. St. Rep. 442, 29 L. R. A. 169 (holding that where a railroad company has acquired a ferry as an extension and part of its line it may be compelled to operate the ferry in connection with the rest of its line as required by statute, although the ferry alone is unprofitable); State v. Sioux City, etc., R. Co., 7 Nebr. 357 (holding that where a railroad company has received a grant of land from the state upon condition that it shall construct and operate a railroad between certain points the company cannot discontinue the operation of a portion of such line on the ground that it is unprofitable).

14. Sherwood v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 94 Va. 291, 26 S. E. 943, where it was held that, although the road as a whole was profitable, if the abandonment of an unprofitable portion of the road inflicted no particular hardship upon those making the complaint, while its operation would entail a loss by the company far in excess of any benefit conferred, and which in its ultimate effect might embarrass or prevent the performance of other duties in respect to larger interests and affect a greater number of citizens, its operation ought not to be required.

Where a railroad company by consolidation becomes the owner of two lines of road between the same towns, one of which may be abandoned without serious detriment to any considerable number of people, it will not be compelled to operate both where such operation would entail a large expense without adequate return. People v. Rome, etc., R. Co., 103 N. Y. 95, 8 N. E. 369. See also People v. Brooklyn Heights R. Co., 69 N. Y. App. Div. 549, 75 N. Y. Suppl. 202 [affirmed in 172 N. Y. 90, 64 N. E 788].

15. Roby v. State, 76 Nebr. 450, 107 N. W. 766.

16. Bedford-Bowling Green Stone Co. v. Oman, 115 Ky. 369, 73 S. W. 1038, 24 Ky. L. Rep. 2274; Roby v. State, 76 Nebr. 450, 107 N. W. 766.

17. Oman v. Bedford-Bowling Green Stone Co., 134 Fed. 64, 67 C. C. A. 190 [affirming 134 Fed. 441].

18. Bedford-Bowling Green Stone Co. v. Oman, 134 Fed. 441 [affirmed in 134 Fed. 64, 67 C. C. A. 190].

19. Railroad Com'rs v. St. Louis Southwestern R. Co., 35 Tex. Civ. App. 52, 80 S. W. 102, 98 Tex. 67, 1141, holding that the Texas statute providing that the railroad commissioners may require the building of sidings and spur-tracks sufficient to handle the business tendered to railroad companies applies only to such business as comes to the railroad from the public, and does not authorize the commissioners to compel a railroad company to construct switches and spur-tracks away from its line to accommodate individual interests.

20. Bartlett v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 96 Wis. 335, 71 N. W. 598; Mercantile Trust Co. v. Columbus, etc., R. Co., 90 Fed. 148; Jones v. Newport News, etc., R. Co., 65 Fed. 736, 13 C. C. A. 95.

vided a reasonable notice of such intention be given,[21] unless there is some constitutional or statutory provision to the contrary;[22] and where a company is chartered primarily for the conduct of a particular business with the incidental privilege of constructing a railroad for the transportation of its product, which, however, must also transport the produce of others at certain specified rates, the company may, in the absence of any provision to the contrary, discontinue the road whenever its own interests require it, and it is not obliged to continue its operation for the benefit of others.[23]

d. Accommodations and Facilities at Stations.[24] By the common law a railroad company is under no obligation to provide depots or warehouses for the accommodation of passengers awaiting transportation or for the reception or storage of freight;[25] and in the absence of any charter provision, statutory requirement, or order made pursuant to legislative authorization a railroad company cannot be compelled to provide such accommodations[26] or be held liable in damages for injuries to person or property occasioned by its failure to do so.[27] If, however, a railroad company voluntarily erects depots, thereby inviting persons having business with the road to enter and use the same, they must be maintained in a safe condition,[28] and at the time for the arrival and departure of trains must Particular contracts construed.— Where a railroad company agrees to construct a spur-track on its land for the accommodation of a coal dealer, the contract providing that whenever the company "may find it necessary for the accommodation of its business to remove such spur track," no claim for damages shall be made by the coal dealer, the decision of the railroad company to remove it is final, provided it acted in good faith, and, in the absence of evidence that it did not do so, evidence that such removal was not necessary for the accommodation of the company's business is immaterial. Whittemore v. New York, etc., R. Co., 191 Mass. 392, 77 N. E. 717. A railroad company cannot be compelled to maintain a switch built under contract with a private shipper for his use after the company's permission to occupy the street where the switch is located has been terminated by a contract between the railroad company and the city, made pursuant to legislative authority, whereby the company agrees to abolish its grade crossings and elevate its tracks. Swift v. Delaware, etc., R. Co., 66 N. J. Eq. 34, 57 Atl. 456 [affirmed in 66 N. J. Eq. 452, 58 Atl. 939], holding that the contract with the shipper will not be specifically enforced in equity and that the remedy, if any, is by an action at law for damages.

21. Durden v. Southern R. Co., 2 Ga. App. 66, 58 S. E. 299, holding that while a railroad company may, in the absence of statute or agreement, remove or abandon a spur or switch track at a particular place, the manner in which the right is exercised may create a cause of action in favor of one who is damaged thereby, and that if such removal is without reasonable notice the company will be liable to a person who has been accustomed to ship timber from such switch and has timber at the switch awaiting shipment at the time it is discontinued.

22. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Suffern, 129 Ill. 274, 21 N. E. 824 [affirming 27 Ill. App. 404], holding that under a constitutional provision that railroad companies shall permit connections to be made with their tracks so that warehouses, mines, and the like may be reached by the cars of the company, if a switch and side-track has been established leading to a coal mine, the company has no right to discontinue it and may be compelled by mandamus to restore the connection.

Under the Wisconsin statute which provides that if the owner of an elevator, warehouse, or mill constructs at his own expense a track therefrom to a railroad, the railroad company shall permit the connection and operate trains thereon, an action will not lie against a railroad company for failing to operate such a spur-track in connection with plaintiff's warehouse, where it is not shown by the complaint who constructed the track or who owns it. Bartlett v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 96 Wis. 335, 71 N. W. 598.

23. Montell v. Consolidation Coal Co., 45 Md. 16.

24. Statutory regulations see infra, X, B, 3, a.

Location of stations see supra, IV, G.

25. Page v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 129 Ala. 232, 29 So. 676; People v. New York, etc., R. Co., 104 N. Y. 58, 9 N. E. 856, 15 Am. Rep. 484 [reversing 40 Hun 570]; Chaddick v. Lindsay, 5 Okla. 616, 49 Pac. 940. But see State v. Republican Valley R. Co., 17 Nebr. 647, 24 N. W. 329, 52 Am. Rep. 424.

26. People v. New York, etc., R. Co., 104 N. Y. 58, 9 N. E. 856, 15 Am. Rep. 484 [reversing 40 Hun 570]. Contra, State v. Republican Valley R. Co., 17 Nebr. 647, 24 N. W. 329, 52 Am. Rep. 424.

27. Page v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 129 Ala. 232, 29 So. 676; Chaddick v. Lindsay, 5 Okla. 616, 49 Pac. 940.

28. Alabama, etc., R. Co. v. Arnold, 84 Ala. 159, 4 So. 359, 5 Am. St. Rep. 354; be kept open,[29] and properly lighted,[30] and heated.[31] A railroad company may lawfully designate the places abutting on its station platform where the owners of competing omnibus or hack lines shall stand their vehicles to receive and discharge passengers and baggage;[32] but in some cases it has been held that the company has no right to grant to one or more hackmen, to the exclusion of all others, the privilege of entering its station grounds to solicit patronage from incoming passengers.[33]

e. Train Service and Accommodations. A railroad company authorized to condemn land and act as a common carrier must provide such train service and accommodations as will meet the necessities of the general public,[34] and not merely serve private interests;[35] but the extent of its duty in this regard varies as the exigencies of the traffic and its remunerative character demand and justify,[36] and the manner in which it shall conduct its business, including the number and frequency of trains, rests largely in the discretion of the company.[37] While this discretion must be exercised in good faith and with a due regard to the interests of the public,[38] it seems that in the absence of express statutory authority the courts have no power to interfere with it or to require more trains or additional accommodations so long as the railroad company does not suspend or cease its duties as a common carrier,[39] and certainly such an order is unwarranted where McDonald v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 26 Iowa 124, 95 Am. Dec. 114.

29. Draper v. Evansville, etc., R. Co., 165 Ind. 117, 74 N. E. 889.

30. Alabama Great Southern R. Co. v. Arnold, 84 Ala. 159, 4 So. 359, 5 Am. St. Rep. 354; Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Treadway, 143 Ind. 689, 40 N. E. 804, 41 N. E. 794; Patten v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 32 Wis. 524.

31. Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Cornelius, 10 Tex. Civ. App. 125, 30 S. W. 720. Contra, Page v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 129 Ala. 232, 29 So. 676.

32. Lucas v. Herbert, 148 Ind. 64, 47 N. E. 146, 37 L. R. A. 376.

33. Kalamazoo Hack, etc., Co. v. Sootsma, 84 Mich. 194, 47 N. W. 667, 22 Am. St. Rep. 693, 10 L. R. A. 819; State v. Reid, 76 Miss. 211, 24 So. 308, 71 Am. St. Rep. 528, 43 L. R. A. 134; Montana Union R. Co. v. Langlois, 9 Mont. 419, 24 Pac. 208, 18 Am. St. Rep. 745, 8 L. R. A. 753. Contra, Old Colony R. Co. v. Tripp, 147 Mass. 35, 17 N. E. 89, 9 Am. St. Rep. 661; Donovan v. Pennsylvania R. Co., 199 U. S. 279, 26 S. Ct. 91, 50 L. ed. 192 [affirming 124 Fed. 1016, 60 C. C. A. 168]; Hole v. Digby, 27 Wkly. Rep. 884.

34. State v. Atlantic Coast Line R. Co., 53 Fla. 650, 44 So. 213, 13 L. R. A. N. S. 320; State v. Hazelton, etc., R. Co., 40 Ohio St. 504; Dublin, etc., R. Co. v. Midland Great Western R. Co., 8 R. & Can. Tr. Cas. 39; Maidstone v. Southeastern R. Co., 7 R. & Can. Tr. Cas. 99.

35. State v. Hazelton, etc., R. Co., 40 Ohio St. 504, holding that where a railroad company which was chartered with power to condemn land and act as a common carrier constructed a narrow gauge road with heavy grades and sharp curves to coal mines owned by stock-holders of the railroad company and suitable only for the transportation of coal, no passenger cars being run or depots constructed or anything done to secure or accommodate public traffic, such conduct was an abuse of its charter powers for which the charter of the company might be forfeited.

36. Arkansas Midland R. Co. v. Canman, 52 Ark. 517, 13 S. W. 280; Ohio, etc., R. Co. v. People, 120 Ill. 200, 11 N. E. 347; Sussex County v. London, etc., R. Co., 8 R. & Can. Tr. Cas. 17.

37. Ohio, etc., R. Co. v. People, 120 Ill. 200, 11 N. E. 347; People v. Brooklyn Heights R. Co., 69 N. Y. App. Div. 549, 75 N. Y. Suppl. 202 [affirmed in 172 N. Y. 90, 64 N. E. 788]; Caterham R. Co. v. London, etc., R. Co., 1 C. B. N. S. 410, 26 L. J. C. P. 161, 87 E. C. L. 410.

38. State v. Atlantic Coast Line R. Co., 53 Fla. 650, 44 So. 213, 13 L. R. A. N. S. 320; People v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 176 Ill. 512, 52 N. E. 292, 35 L. R. A. 656, (1896) 45 N. E. 824.

39. Ohio, etc., R. Co. v. People, 120 Ill. 200, 11 N. E. 347; People v. Brooklyn Heights R. Co., 69 N. Y. App. Div. 549, 75 N. Y. Suppl. 202 [affirmed in 172 N. Y. 90, 64 N. E. 788]; People v. Long Island R. Co., 31 Hun (N. Y.) 125.

Station agents.— A railroad company cannot be compelled to continue the services of a station agent at an unimportant village of only forty persons where the business does not justify the expense and the stoppage of trains is not discontinued and there are other regular stations within a few miles on each side of the place in question. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. State, 74 Nebr. 77, 103 N. W. 1087.

Effect of contract.— Where a railroad company on being permitted to purchase the road of another company contracts with the state that the terminal facilities at a certain city shall never be less adequate than at the date of purchase it may be required to keep open and operate a sufficient number of trains at a particular station in that city, although it has greatly enlarged and increased the facilities at another of its stations in the same city. State v. Northern R. Co., 89 Minn. 563, 95 N. W. 297.

the road as operated is unable to pay expenses,[40] or where it is not shown that the facilities furnished are not reasonably adequate and the increase demanded would impose an undue hardship upon the company.[41] A railroad company is bound on common-law principles to stop a sufficient number of its trains at stations to meet the demands of public convenience and business necessity;[42] but it is a reasonable regulation on the part of a railroad company that certain trains shall not stop at all stations provided there are enough to serve the purpose of local travel,[43] except as to places where it is expressly required by statute that all trains shall stop.[44] Separate trains for freight and passengers should be run if there is a demand for each class of traffic and the business of the road is sufficiently large and profitable to warrant it,[45] but otherwise this will not be required and mixed trains may be operated.[46] A board of railroad commissioners has no authority to interpret and enforce a contract between a railroad company and private individuals as to the maintenance of a station,[47] but where in consideration of the granting of a right of way the railroad company agrees with a landowner to build a station upon his land and stop all regular trains at it, he may maintain an action for the specific performance of the contract.[48]

2. Proceedings to Compel Operation or Furnishing of Facilities — a. In General. Mandamus is a proper remedy to compel a railroad company to perform a clear legal duty in regard to the operation of its road or providing proper facilities, train service, or accommodations if there is no other adequate remedy.[49] The proper remedy for a breach of duty on the part of a railroad company, in regard to the operation of its road, is not by a suit in equity on behalf of the state to compel specific performance of such duty, but by mandamus, quo warranto,

40. Ohio, etc., R. Co. v. People, 120 Ill. 200, 11 N. E. 347.

41. People v. Long Island R. Co., 31 Hun (N. Y.) 125.

42. People v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 120 Ill. 48, 10 N. E. 657.

Stoppage of through trains.— Where the local train service at a particular place is found by the railroad commissioners to be inadequate a railroad company will be required in the alternative either to stop its through trains or to provide additional local facilities substantially the same as would be afforded by the stoppage of such trains. Railroad Com'rs v. Atlantic Coast Line R. Co., 74 S. C. 80, 54 S. E. 224.

43. Hutchinson v. Southern R. Co., 140 N. C. 123, 52 S. E. 263.

A refusal to designate as a flag station for through trains an unincorporated town containing only a few houses and situated within three miles of a regular station is not an unreasonable regulation. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Adcock, 52 Ark. 406, 12 S. W. 874.

44. People v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 120 Ill. 48, 10 N. E. 657, holding that under the Illinois statute railroad companies must stop all regular passenger trains at the railroad stations of county-seats and may be compelled by mandamus to do so.

In Arkansas by statute, upon the application of not less than fifty citizens of any incorporated town, a railroad company may be compelled to stop all of its trains within such town, provided the corporate authorities shall provide and make tender to the railroad company of sufficient means to defray the reasonable expenses of grading a switch or side-track for the use of the company at such place. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. B'Shears, 59 Ark. 237, 27 S. W. 2, holding, however, that the fact that the company has already constructed all the switches and side-tracks necessary for the stoppage of trains does not affect the necessity of making such tender before the company can be compelled to stop all of its trains at such place. See also St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Crandall, 75 Ark. 89, 86 S. W. 855, 112 Am. St. Rep. 42.

45. People v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 176 Ill. 512, 52 N. E. 292, 35 L. R. A. 656, (1896) 45 N. E. 824, holding further that the sufficiency of the earnings of a railroad company to justify the expense of running separate freight and passenger trains over a certain branch line constituting a part of the system is not to be determined by the profits of that branch alone, but must be determined by the profits of the whole business of the entire road.

46. Arkansas Midland R. Co. v. Canman, 52 Ark. 517, 13 S. W. 280.

47. People v. Railroad Com'rs, 32 N. Y. App. Div. 158, 52 N. Y. Suppl. 901 [affirmed in 158 N. Y. 421, 53 N. E. 163].

48. Lawrence v. Saratoga Lake R. Co., 3 N. Y. St. 743, holding, however, that such a contract does not require the company to run any trains but only to stop such regular trains as it does run.

49. See Mandamus, 26 Cyc. 365 et seq.

Parties.— On mandamus against the lessee of a railroad to compel it to operate the road the lessor company is a necessary party. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Crane, 113 U. S. 424, 5 S. Ct. 578, 28 L. ed. 1064.

or indictment;[50] and where the company is wholly unable to discharge the duties it owes to the public and which the law has imposed upon it, a proceeding in the nature of a quo warranto is the proper remedy, and not mandamus.[51] The non-compliance with a charter provision of a railroad company, requiring it to run through trains between certain towns, does not give any right of action to such towns for damages, but the state alone can maintain an action or proceeding for such disregard of the statute;[52] nor can private individuals who have contributed money for the construction of a line of railroad through a city maintain an action in equity to restrain the company from changing its line and discontinuing the portion running through the city, at least where the injury is not peculiar to them, the remedy being by suit in the name of the proper officer of the state.[53] In some jurisdictions the regulation of the operation of railways is vested primarily in the hands of the railroad commissioners,[54] whose orders may be enforced by mandamus;[55] and in such jurisdictions proceedings on the part of private parties to compel the furnishing of increased facilities should be instituted in the first instance by complaint made to the railroad commissioners.[56]

b. Appointment of Receivers.[57] Under a New Jersey statute if any railroad company in that state fails or neglects to run daily trains on any part of its road for the space of ten days, the chancellor of the state, upon petition of any citizen of the state, may appoint a receiver to operate the road,[58] the statute not, however, applying to roads constructed at a seaside resort, not exceeding four miles in length and intended merely for the transportation of summer travelers and tourists.[59] If the company has in fact failed or neglected to operate its road for the time specified, the court will not stay the application of the statute for an inquiry into

50. People v. Albany, etc., R. Co., 24 N. Y. 261, 82 Am. Dec. 295.

51. Ohio, etc., R. Co. v. People, 120 Ill. 200, 11 N. E. 347.

52. Elizabethtown v. Chesapeake, etc., R. Co., 94 Ky. 377, 22 S. W. 609, 15 Ky. L. Rep. 313.

53. Henry v. Ann Arbor R. Co., 116 Mich. 314, 75 N. W. 886.

54. See the following cases:

Alabama.— Page v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 129 Ala. 232, 29 So. 676.

Florida.— State v. Atlantic Coast Line R. Co., 53 Fla. 650, 44 So. 213, 13 L. R. A. N. S. 320.

Maine.— Railroad Com'rs v. Portland, etc., R. Co., 63 Me. 269, 18 Am. Rep. 208.

Minnesota.— State v. Minneapolis, etc., R. Co., 76 Minn. 469, 79 N. W. 510.

New York.— People v. Brooklyn Heights R. Co., 172 N. Y. 90, 64 N. E. 788 [affirming 69 N. Y. App. Div. 549, 75 N. Y. Suppl. 202].

South Carolina.— Railroad Com'rs v. Atlantic Coast Line R. Co., 74 S. C. 80, 54 S. E. 224.

South Dakota.— State v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 11 S. D. 282, 77 N. W. 104.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," §§ 716, 717.

Review of proceedings.— In South Carolina the court, on application for mandamus to compel compliance with an order of the railroad commissioners, will not review findings of fact made by the commissioners after notice and hearing, in the absence of allegations charging fraud or other grounds for setting aside the adjudication. Railroad Com'rs v. Atlantic Coast Line R. Co., 74 S. C. 80, 54 S. E. 224. In South Dakota, on proceedings to enforce the order of commissioners, the court may review the proceedings of the commissioners and inquire into the facts and circumstances upon which the order was based. State v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 11 S. D. 282, 77 N. W. 104. In New York the determination of the railroad commissioners may be reviewed on certiorari, where the appellate division has the power of reviewing the facts. People v. Brooklyn Heights R. Co., 172 N. Y. 90, 64 N. E. 788.

55. Railroad Com'rs v. Portland, etc., R. Co., 63 Me. 269, 18 Am. Rep. 208; Railroad Com'rs v. Atlantic Coast Line R. Co., 74 S. C. 80, 54 S. E. 224. See also, generally, MANDAMUS, 26 Cyc. 372.

56. People v. Brooklyn Heights R. Co., 172 N. Y. 90, 64 N. E. 788 [affirming 69 N. Y. App. Div. 549, 75 N. Y. Suppl. 202].

57. See, generally, RECEIVERS.

58. In re Long Branch, etc., R. Co., 24 N. J. Eq. 398.

The power of appointment is vested in the office of chancellor and not in the chancellor in his individual capacity, and while a vice-chancellor cannot assume jurisdiction of such a case, except by force of a reference made by the chancellor to this effect, he may do so where the case is so referred. Delaware Bay, etc., R. Co. v. Markley, 45 N. J. Eq. 139, 16 Atl. 436.

59. Delaware Bay, etc., R. Co. v. Markley, 45 N. J. Eq. 139, 16 Atl. 436 [reversing (Ch. 1887) 11 Atl. 261, 737], holding that the exception applies to all roads having the designated characteristics, without regard to the time of their construction, and regardless of the fact that they were incor-the cause of the failure to do so.[60] It is discretionary with the chancellor as to the length of time the operation of the road by the receiver shall continue;[61] but possession will be restored upon satisfactory proof to the chancellor that the company is able and ready to operate the road,[62] provided it is further shown that the petitioning company is at the time of the application also entitled to the possession.[63] In the absence of statute the court will not appoint a receiver ex parte to operate a railroad, unless immediate necessity for such relief is clearly shown.[64]

3. Injuries to Property From Operation of Road — a. In General.[65] Where a railroad is constructed by lawful authority, an adjoining landowner cannot recover for the injury or inconvenience due to the smoke, noise, vibrations, or other incidents necessary to its operation, where it is not operated in a negligent or unlawful manner,[66] although it may be located in the streets of a town or city,[67] porated under a general law imposing the duty of running trains at all times.

60. In re Long Branch, etc., R. Co., 24 N. J. Eq. 398.

61. In re Long Branch, etc., R. Co., 24 N. J. Eq. 402 [affirmed in 26 N. J. Eq. 539].

62. In re Long Branch, etc., R. Co., 24 N. J. Eq. 398.

63. In re Long Branch, etc., R. Co., 24 N. J. Eq. 402 [affirmed in 26 N. J. Eq. 539].

64. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Cason, 133 Ind. 49, 32 N. E. 827, holding that an application for the appointment of a receiver, alleging that executions had been levied upon defendant's rolling stock, preventing its operation; that it and its predecessors were insolvent, and that there were large quantities of freight under contract for immediate shipment, did not allege facts sufficient to justify the appointment of a receiver without notice to the company.

65. Injuries from construction and maintenance see supra, VI, J.

Injuries to animals see infra, X, H.

Injuries from fire see infra, X, I.

66. Indiana.— Dwenger v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 98 Ind. 153.

Kansas.— Atchison, etc., R. Co. v. Armstrong, 71 Kan. 366, 80 Pac. 978, 114 Am. St. Rep. 474, 1 L. R. A. N. S. 113.

Kentucky.— Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Orr, 91 Ky. 109, 15 S. W. 8, 12 Ky. L. Rep. 756; Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Walton, 67 S. W. 988, 24 Ky. L. Rep. 9.

Louisiana.— Werges v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 35 La. Ann. 641.

Michigan.— Grand Rapids, etc., R. Co. v. Heisel, 38 Mich. 62, 31 Am. Rep. 306.

Missouri.— Randle v. Pacific R. Co., 65 Mo. 325.

New Jersey.— Beseman v. Pennsylvania R. Co., 50 N. J. L. 235, 13 Atl. 164 [affirmed in 52 N. J. L. 221, 20 Atl. 169]; Bordentown, etc., Turnpike Road v. Camden, etc., Transp. Co., 17 N. J. L. 314.

New York.— Flinn v. New York Cent., etc., R. Co., 58 Hun 230, 12 N. Y. Suppl. 341; Schenectady First Baptist Church v. Utica, etc., R. Co., 6 Barb. 313.

North Carolina.— Thomason v. Seaboard Air-Line R. Co., 142 N. C. 318, 55 S. E. 205.

Ohio.— Parrot v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 10 Ohio St. 624; Fliehman v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co., 11 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 543, 27 Cinc. L. Bul. 302; Lewis v. Mt. Adams, etc., R. Co., 7 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 566, 3 Cinc. L. Bul. 1007.

Pennsylvania.— Pennsylvania R. Co. v. Marchant, 119 Pa. St. 541, 13 Atl. 690, 4 Am. St. Rep. 659; Struthers v. Dunkirk, etc., R. Co., 87 Pa. St. 282.

Tennessee.— Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Lellyett, 114 Tenn. 368, 85 S. W. 881, 1 L. R. A. N. S. 49.

Texas.— St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Shaw, 99 Tex. 559, 92 S. W. 30, 122 Am. St. Rep. 663, 6 L. R. A. N. S. 245; Houston, etc., R. Co. v. Barr, 44 Tex. Civ. App. 571, 99 S. W. 437.

Virginia.— Fisher v. Seaboard Air-Line R. Co., 102 Va. 363, 46 S. E. 381.

Canada.— Bennett v. Grand Trunk R. Co., 1 Can. R. Cas. 451, 2 Ont. L. Rep. 425; In re Devlin, 40 U. C. Q. B. 160.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," §§ 720, 723.

As an element of damages in condemnation proceedings see Eminent Domain, 15 Cyc. 753.

The fact that the operation of a railroad disturbs religious worship does not render the railroad company liable where the road is located by authority of law and operated in a lawful and proper manner (Dwenger v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 98 Ind. 153; Schenectady First Baptist Church v. Utica, etc., R. Co., 6 Barb. (N. Y.) 313; Taylor v. Seaboard Air-Line R. Co., 145 N. C. 400, 59 S. E. 129, 122 Am. St. Rep. 455), but the company will be liable for wrongful or negligent acts in the operation of its road in the vicinity of a church, which disturb the services and render the place unfit for public worship (Schenectady First Baptist Church v. Schenectady, etc., R. Co., 5 Barb. (N. Y.) 79).

67. Kansas.— Atchison, etc., R. Co. v. Armstrong, 71 Kan. 366, 80 Pac. 978, 114 Am. St. Rep. 474, 1 L. R. A. N. S. 113.

Kentucky.— Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Orr, 91 Ky. 109, 15 S. W. 8, 12 Ky. L. Rep. 756.

Louisiana.— Werges v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 35 La. Ann. 641.

Missouri.— Randle v. Pacific R. Co., 65 Mo. 325.

since the act of operation being authorized by law cannot confer any right of action so long as it is exercised in a lawful and proper manner; [68] and the same rule applies under similar circumstances to the injury or inconvenience due to the location, maintenance, and use of structures and appliances necessarily incident to the operation of the road, such as terminal yards, turn-tables, engine-houses, and the like.[69] The company will, however, be liable for any injury due to its trains being operated in a negligent or improper manner,[70] or due to the negligent or improper manner of locating, using, or maintaining structures and appurte-

Pennsylvania.— Struthers v. Dunkirk, etc., R. Co., 87 Pa. St. 282.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," §§ 720, 723.

Compare Rosenthal v. Taylor, etc., R. Co., 79 Tex. 325, 15 S. W. 268.

Character of abutting owner's interest in street.— Where a railroad company is authorized to operate its trains along or across the streets of a city, and the fee of such streets is not in the adjacent landowners, they cannot recover damages on account of the noise, smoke, etc., where the road is not operated in a negligent or unlawful manner (Colorado Cent. R. Co. v. Mollandin, 4 Colo. 154; Grand Rapids, etc., R. Co. v. Heisel, 38 Mich. 62, 31 Am. Rep. 306); but where the adjoining landowner owns the fee in the street or highway subject only to the public easement the legislature or municipal authorities, or both, cannot authorize its use for the purpose of a railroad without obtaining the consent of such owner or making him compensation therefor, as such use imposes an additional burden not contemplated by its original acquisition or dedication for the purposes of an ordinary highway (Williams v. New York Cent. R. Co., 16 N. Y. 97, 69 Am. Dec. 651 [reversing 18 Barb. 222]); and where a railroad is constructed in a street, without any lawful authority, an adjoining owner may recover for the injury to his property, although not the owner of the fee in the street (Grand Rapids, etc., R. Co. v. Heisel, 47 Mich. 393, 11 N. W. 212).

The operation of a purely private railway over or along public streets cannot be authorized by the municipal authorities, and any adjacent owner, the value of whose property is depreciated thereby, may maintain an action for the damages sustained irrespective of his ownership of the fee in the street. Gustafson v. Hamm, 56 Minn. 334, 57 N. W. 1054, 22 L. R. A. 565.

In Ohio it is provided by statute that railroad companies may by agreement with the municipal authorities occupy a street or other public ground, but that they "shall be responsible for injuries done thereby to private or public property lying upon or near to such ground," which may be recovered in a civil action by the owner thereof (Columbus, etc., R. Co. v. Gardner, 45 Ohio St. 309, 13 N. E. 69; Shepherd v. Baltimore, etc., R. Co., 130 U. S. 426, 9 S. Ct. 598, 32 L. ed. 970), under which statute it is not necessary that the property should be directly on the street on which the road is operated, it being sufficient if it is sufficiently near to the place where the road is operated to be directly injured thereby (Toledo R., etc., Co. v. Meinen, 27 Ohio Cir. Ct. 208; Shepherd v. Baltimore, etc., R. Co., supra); and the owner is entitled to recover full compensation for the depreciation in value of his property (Grafton v. Baltimore, etc., R. Co., 21 Fed. 309), including any special injury or depreciation thereto, due to the noise, smoke, and sparks of fire occasioned by the running of the locomotive and cars along the street (Columbus, etc., R. Co. v. Gardner, supra); but the right of recovery for such damages is personal and does not pass to a grantee of the land in so far as they have occurred at the time of the conveyance (Cincinnati, etc., R. Co. v. Campbell, 51 Ohio St. 328, 37 N. E. 266).

68. Colorado Cent. R. Co. v. Mollandin, 4 Colo. 154; Werges v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 35 La. Ann. 641; Beseman v. Pennsylvania R. Co., 50 N. J. L. 235, 13 Atl. 164 [affirmed in 52 N. J. L. 221, 20 Atl. 169].

Limitation of rule.— The statutory sanction which will justify an injury to private property by a railroad company must be express or must be given by clear and unquestionable implication from the powers expressly conferred. Otherwise the railroad company will be liable for the damages sustained. Cogswell v. New York, etc., R. Co., 103 N. Y. 10, 8 N. E. 537, 57 Am. Rep. 701; Spring v. Delaware, etc., R. Co., 88 Hun (N. Y.) 385, 34 N. Y. Suppl. 810 [affirmed in 157 N. Y. 692, 51 N. E. 1094].

69. Georgia R., etc., Co. v. Maddox, 116 Ga. 64, 42 S. E. 315; Friedman v. New York, etc., R. Co., 89 N. Y. App. Div. 38, 85 N. Y. Suppl. 404 [affirmed in 180 N. Y. 550, 73 N. E. 1123]; Taylor v. Seaboard Air-Line R. Co., 145 N. C. 400, 59 S. E. 129, 122 Am. St. Rep. 455; St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Shaw, 99 Tex. 559, 92 S. W. 30, 122 Am. St. Rep. 663, 6 L. R. A. N. S. 245; Cantelou v. Trinity, etc., R. Co., (Tex. Civ. App. 1907) 101 S. W. 1017.

70. Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Orr, 91 Ky. 109, 15 S. W. 8, 12 Ky. L. Rep. 756; Grand Rapids, etc., R. Co. v. Heisel, 38 Mich. 62, 31 Am. Rep. 306; Thomason v. Seaboard Air-Line R. Co., 142 N. C. 300, 55 S. E. 198.

Operation in violation of statute or ordinance.— The fact that a train is operated in a public street in a manner in violation of a city ordinance does not render the company liable, unless plaintiff can show special damages resulting therefrom to him or his property (Werges v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 35 La. Ann. 641); but where a statute prohibits the running of trains in cities at over nances incident to the operation of the road,[71] although they are necessary to its operation.[72]

b. Nuisances.[73] The operation of a railroad constructed by lawful authority cannot, by reason of the noise, smoke, vibrations, or other objectionable features necessarily incident thereto, be deemed a nuisance in the absence of any negligence or abuse in the manner of its operation,[74] although it may be located along a public a certain speed, and makes the company liable for injuries done by such trains, the statute is applicable to injuries to real as well as personal property where it can be shown that such injury was due to the excessive rate of speed (Porterfield v. Bond, 38 Fed. 391).

Running over hose at fire.— Where at a fire it is necessary in order to reach the water-supply to run the hose across a railroad track, and the servants of the railroad company negligently run over and cut the hose, the railroad company will be liable for damages done by the fire which are due to the cutting off of the water-supply (Metallic Compression Casting Co. v. Fitchburg, R. Co., 109 Mass. 277, 12 Am. Rep. 689; Phenix Ins. Co. v. New York Cent., etc., R. Co., 122 N. Y. App. Div. 113, 106 N. Y. Suppl. 696), notwithstanding the owner of the property destroyed was not the owner of the hose, and the firemen were volunteers, and the railroad company owned the right of way (Metallic Compression Casting Co. v. Fitchburg R. Co., supra); but while the company would be liable if its servants had knowledge of the presence of the hose and could have stopped the train, they are not chargeable with negligence in failing to watch for and discover, especially at night, such obstructions upon the track (Clark v. Grand Trunk Western R. Co., 149 Mich. 440, 112 N. W. 1121).

It is not negligence on the part of a railroad company for which an abutting landowner may recover, that the railroad company operates its freight trains upon the track nearest to the house of such owner, or that it operates thereon trains which are long and heavy, requiring two engines. Flinn v. New York Cent., etc., R. Co., 58 Hun (N. Y.) 230, 12 N. Y. Suppl. 341.

71. Illinois.— Wylie v. Ellwood, 134 Ill. 281, 25 N. E. 570, 23 Am. St. Rep. 673, 9 L. R. A. 726; Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Grabill, 50 Ill. 241; Kuhn v. Illinois Cent. R. Co., 111 Ill. App. 323.

Kentucky.— Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Walton, 67 S. W. 988, 24 Ky. L. Rep. 9.

New York.— Cogswell v. New York, etc., R. Co., 103 N. Y. 10, 8 N. E. 537, 57 Am. Rep. 701; Spring v. Delaware, etc., R. Co., 88 Hun 385, 34 N. Y. Suppl. 810 [affirmed in 157 N. Y. 692, 51 N. E. 1094].

North Carolina.— Thomason v. Seaboard Air-Line R. Co., 142 N. C. 300, 55 S. E. 198.

Texas.— Rainey v. Red River, etc., R. Co., 99 Tex. 276, 89 S. W. 768, 90 S. W. 1096, 122 Am. St. Rep. 622, 3 L. R. A. N. S. 590; Gulf, etc., R. Co. v. Blue, (Civ. App. 1907) 102 S. W. 128; Missouri, etc., R. Co. v. Anderson, 36 Tex. Civ. App. 121, 81 S. W. 781.

United States.— Baltimore, etc., R. Co. v. Fifth Baptist Church, 108 U. S. 317, 2 S. Ct. 719, 27 L. ed. 739.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," §§ 720, 723.

72. Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Walton, 67 S. W. 988, 24 Ky. L. Rep. 9; Cogswell v. New York, etc., R. Co., 103 N. Y. 10, 8 N. E. 537, 57 Am. Rep. 701; Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Edrington, 100 Tex. 496, 101 S. W. 441, 9 L. R. A. N. S. 988.

73. See, generally, NUISANCES, 29 Cyc. 1143.

74. Michigan.— Grand Rapids, etc., R. Co. v. Heisel, 38 Mich. 62, 31 Am. Rep. 306.

New Jersey.— Beseman v. Pennsylvania R. Co., 50 N. J. L. 235, 13 Atl. 164 [affirmed in 52 N. J. L. 221, 20 Atl. 169]; Ridge v. Pennsylvania R. Co., 58 N. J. Eq. 172, 43 Atl. 275.

New York.— Hentz v. Long Island R. Co., 13 Barb. 646; Anderson v. Rochester, etc., R. Co., 9 How. Pr. 553.

North Carolina.— Taylor v. Seaboard Air-Line R. Co., 145 N. C. 400, 59 S. E. 129, 122 Am. St. Rep. 455.

Ohio.— Parrot v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 10 Ohio St. 624; Ross v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 27 Ohio Cir. Ct. 135.

Pennsylvania.— Bell v. Ohio, etc., R. Co., 2 Pittsb. Leg. J. 42.

United States.— Miller v. Long Island R. Co., 17 Fed. Cas. No. 9,580*a*.

Canada.— Bennett v. Grand Trunk R. Co., 1 Can. R. Cas. 451, 2 Ont. L. Rep. 425.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 721.

The use of the main tracks in making up trains will not be enjoined as a nuisance on the ground of annoyance to persons living near such tracks where no abuse or negligent use of its franchise is shown, and this notwithstanding the company is permitted by statute to condemn land for such purposes, the statute making no provision as to the location of such land. Beideman v. Atlantic City R. Co., (N. J. Ch. 1890) 19 Atl. 731.

If a railroad is constructed without authority by a private individual for his own use under a contract with the railroad company which it had no power to make, its operation will be enjoined as a nuisance at the instance of an adjoining landowner. Stewart's Appeal, 56 Pa. St. 413.

Frightening horses on highway.— The fact that the operation of steam locomotives on a railroad constructed parallel with and adjacent to a highway frightens horses and makes travel upon the highway more dangerous does not make the operation of the road a nuisance where its construction and operation are duly authorized by law. Rex v. Pease, 4 street,[75] or pass through a populous village or city;[76] and the same rule applies under similar circumstances to the construction, maintenance, and use of terminal yards and structures and appliances necessarily incident to the operation of the road.[77] But a railroad company may be guilty of maintaining a nuisance by reason of the negligent or improper manner of operating or using its cars and locomotives,[78] or of erecting, using, and maintaining structures and appurtenances incidental to the operation of the road such as engine-houses, cattle-pens, coal-bins, and the like,[79] or making an unauthorized or improper use of streets.[80] The legislature may in the interest of the public welfare require that to be done such as the sounding of bells or whistles which in the absence of statute might be deemed a nuisance,[81] and ordinarily acts authorized by law such as the operation of trains over the road cannot constitute a nuisance unless done in an unauthorized or negligent manner;[82] but if the acts would be a nuisance on common-law grounds this rule can only apply where the statutory authorization is express or clearly implied from the powers expressly granted.[83]

c. Occupation or Obstruction of Streets or Highways. Where a railroad is located by lawful authority upon or across a street or highway, its operation, if not in a negligent or improper manner, is not a nuisance,[84] and furnishes no

B. & Ad. 30, 2 L. J. M. C. 26, 1 N. & M. 690, 24 E. C. L. 24.

75. Grand Rapids, etc., R. Co. v. Heisel, 38 Mich. 62, 31 Am. Rep. 306; Randle v. Pacific R. Co., 65 Mo. 325.

76. Hentz v. Long Island R. Co., 13 Barb. (N. Y.) 646; Anderson v. Rochester, etc., R. Co., 9 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 553.

77. Georgia.— Georgia, etc., R. Co. v. Maddox, 116 Ga. 64, 42 S. E. 315.

Illinois.— Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Dennison, 116 Ill. App. 1; Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Ferrell, 108 Ill. App. 659.

New York.— Friedman v. New York, etc., R. Co., 89 N. Y. App. Div. 38, 85 N. Y. Suppl. 404 [affirmed in 180 N. Y. 550, 73 N. E. 1123].

North Carolina.— Taylor v. Seaboard Air Line R. Co., 145 N. C. 400, 59 S. E. 129, 122 Am. St. Rep. 455.

Texas.— Rainey v. Red River, etc., R. Co., (Civ. App. 1904) 80 S. W. 95 [reversed on other grounds in 99 Tex. 276, 89 S. W. 678, 90 S. W. 1096, 122 Am. St. Rep. 622, 3 L. R. A. N. S. 590].

England.— London, etc., R. Co. v. Truman, 11 App. Cas. 45, 50 J. P. 388, 55 L. J. Ch. 354, 54 L. T. Rep. N. S. 250, 34 Wkly. Rep. 657.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 721.

78. District of Columbia.— Neitzey v. Baltimore, etc., R. Co., 5 Mackey 34.

Indiana.— Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co. v. Welch, 12 Ind. App. 433, 40 N. E. 650.

Kentucky.— Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Com., 80 Ky. 143, 3 Ky. L. Rep. 644, 44 Am. Rep. 468.

New Jersey.— Philadelphia, etc., R. Co. v. State, 61 N. J. L. 71, 38 Atl. 820; Pennsylvania R. Co. v. Thompson, 45 N. J. Eq. 870, 19 Atl. 622; Pennsylvania R. Co. v. Angel, 41 N. J. Eq. 316, 7 Atl. 432, 56 Am. Rep. 1.

New York.— Colgate v. New York Cent., etc., R. Co., 51 Misc. 503, 100 N. Y. Suppl. 650.

North Carolina.— Thomason v. Seahoard Air Line Co., 142 N. C. 300, 55 S. E. 198.

West Virginia.— Mason v. Ohio River R. Co., 51 W. Va. 183, 41 S. E. 418.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 721.

79. Illinois.— Wylie v. Elwood, 134 Ill. 281, 25 N. E. 570, 23 Am. St. Rep. 673, 9 L. R. A. 726; Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Grabill, 50 Ill. 241; Kuhn v. Illinois Cent. R. Co., 111 Ill. App. 323.

New York.— Garvey v. Long Island R. Co., 159 N. Y. 323, 54 N. E. 57, 70 Am. St. Rep. 550 [affirming 9 N. Y. App. Div. 254, 41 N. E. 397]; Cogswell v. New York, etc., R. Co., 103 N. Y. 10, 8 N. E. 537, 57 Am. Rep. 701; Spring v. Delaware, etc., R. Co., 88 Hun 385, 34 N. Y. Suppl. 810 [affirmed in 157 N. Y. 692, 51 N. E. 1094].

North Carolina.— Thomason v. Seaboard Air Line Co., 142 N. C. 300, 55 S. E. 198.

Texas.— Missouri, etc., R. Co. v. Perry, (Civ. App. 1907) 102 S. W. 1169; Missouri, etc., R. Co. v. Anderson, 36 Tex. Civ. App. 121, 81 S. W. 781.

United States.— Baltimore, etc., R. Co. v. Fifth Baptist Church, 108 U. S. 317, 2 S. Ct. 719, 27 L. ed. 739.

England.— Smith v. Midland R. Co., 37 L. T. Rep. N. S. 224, 25 Wkly. Rep. 861, 26 Wkly. Rep. 10.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 721.

80. Galveston, etc., R. Co. v. Miller, (Tex. Civ. App. 1906) 93 S. W. 177; Stockdale v. Rio Grande Western R. Co., 28 Utah 201, 77 Pac. 849.

81. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co. v. Brown, 67 Ind. 45, 33 Am. Rep. 73.

82. Grand Rapids, etc., R. Co. v. Heisel, 38 Mich. 62, 31 Am. Rep. 306; Randle v. Pacific R. Co., 65 Mo. 325; Schenectady First Baptist Church v. Utica, etc., R. Co., 6 Barb. (N. Y.) 313.

83. Cogswell v. New York, etc., R. Co., 103 N. Y. 10, 8 N. E. 537, 57 Am. Rep. 701; Spring v. Delaware, etc., R. Co., 88 Hun (N. Y.) 385, 34 N. Y. Suppl. 810 [affirmed in 157 N. Y. 692, 51 N. E. 1094].

84. See supra, X, A, 3, b.

right of action to adjacent owners for the injury or inconvenience necessarily incident thereto;[85] nor where a railroad company is authorized to construct and operate a railroad in a street can a court restrict the number of trains which may be operated thereon as a condition precedent to the construction of the track.[86] But the right to operate the road confers no authority for using the street in an unauthorized or improper manner,[87] such as converting it into a freight-yard, switch-yard, or place for storing cars or making up trains,[88] or allowing cars loaded with offensive substances to remain in the streets for an unnecessary and unreasonable length of time,[89] and private persons may recover for any special damages sustained by reason of such use.[90] Where a railroad company wrongfully allows its cars to stand so as to obstruct a public crossing, a private individual cannot recover where he has sustained no damage other than the mere delay occasioned to the public generally;[91] but may recover any special damages sustained by him by reason of the obstruction.[92] Municipal authorities have the right in the interest of public safety to authorize or require the construction of gates at street crossings, and when so authorized their construction cannot be enjoined as a nuisance at the instance of adjoining property-owners who may be inconvenienced thereby.[93] A railroad company is not liable for obstructing a private crossing with its trains unless such obstruction was negligent or unnecessary.[94]

85. See supra, X, A, 3, a.

86. Kentucky, etc., Bridge Co. v. Kreiger, 93 Ky. 243, 19 S. W. 738, 14 Ky. L. Rep. 151, holding that while a remedy will be afforded for any actual injury sustained by an improper operation of the railroad, such a condition cannot be imposed in anticipation of injuries to adjoining landowners which may never occur.

87. District of Columbia.— Neitzey v. Baltimore, etc., R. Co., 5 Mackey 34.

New Jersey.— Pennsylvania R. Co. v. Thompson, 45 N. J. Eq. 870, 19 Atl. 622; Pennsylvania R. Co. v. Angel, 41 N. J. Eq. 316, 7 Atl. 432, 56 Am. Rep. 1.

Tennessee.— Harmon v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 87 Tenn. 614, 11 S. W. 703.

Texas.— Galveston, etc., R. Co. v. Miller, (Civ. App. 1906) 93 S. W. 177.

West Virginia.— Mason v. Ohio River R. Co., 51 W. Va. 183, 41 S. E. 418.

United States.— Frankle v. Jackson, 30 Fed. 398.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 722.

Where the railroad company's occupation of a street antedates plaintiff's ownership of the adjoining premises, and the company has always used the street in the manner complained of, and the evidence does not show when the street was opened, or what rights were reserved by abutting property-owners or acquired by the city or defendant's predecessors, it will not be presumed that the company had been continuously a wrongdoer without having acquired the right to such use of the street, and an injunction to restrain the company from using its tracks adjacent to plaintiff's premises, as a place for storing its cars, will not be granted. Mosner v. Rome, etc., R. Co., 51 Hun (N. Y.) 638, 5 N. Y. Suppl. 807.

Improper use by persons dealing with railroad company.— The fact that a railroad company has a right to use a public street for the operation of a railroad does not authorize a lumber company owning abutting property to make any improper use of the street, as by piling lumber thereon and erecting buildings and platforms for the loading of lumber, and obstructing the streets with a large number of cars. Jenks v. Lansing Lumber Co., 97 Iowa 342, 66 N. W. 231.

It is not an improper use of the street occupied by a railroad company to run trains at night as well as during the day, or to run heavy freight trains and to use bells and whistles. Frankle v. Jackson, 30 Fed. 398.

88. Neitzey v. Baltimore, etc., R. Co., 5 Mackey (D. C.) 34; Harmon v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 87 Tenn. 614, 11 S. W. 703; Galveston, etc., R. Co. v. Miller, (Tex. Civ. App. 1906) 92 S. W. 177.

89. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co. v. Welch, 12 Ind. App. 433, 40 N. E. 650; Colgate v. New York Cent., etc., R. Co., 51 Misc. (N. Y.) 503, 100 N. Y. Suppl. 650.

90. Neitzey v. Baltimore, etc., R. Co., 5 Mackey (D. C.) 34.

91. Shields v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 97 Ky. 103, 29 S. W. 978, 16 Ky. L. Rep. 849, 27 L. R. A. 680.

92. Patterson v. Detroit, etc., R. Co., 56 Mich. 172, 22 N. W. 260.

Obstructing access to private business.—A person owning an eating house at a station located on the opposite side of the tracks from the depot cannot recover damages on account of the company leaving cars standing upon its tracks between the depot and his house, where it is not shown that they obstructed any public way or crossing over which plaintiff had the right of passage. Disbrow v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 70 Ill. 246.

93. Textor v. Baltimore, etc., R. Co., 59 Md. 63, 43 Am. Rep. 540; Miller v. Long Island R. Co., 17 Fed. Cas. No. 9,580*a*, 10 Reporter 197.

94. Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Scomp, 98 S. W. 1024, 30 Ky. L. Rep. 487.

d. Actions. The form of action for injury to property by the operation of a railroad in a public street is not an action of trespass but an action on the case, notwithstanding the fee to the center of the street may be in the adjoining owners.[95] Any individual may sue for and recover any special damages to his property due to the wrongful or negligent operation of the road, although the acts complained of may be in the nature of a public nuisance,[96] or he may sue to enjoin the wrongful acts constituting the nuisance.[97] An action for a nuisance in wrongfully operating a railroad in the vicinity of a church in such manner as to disturb the services and render the place unfit for public worship may be brought in the name of the church in its corporate capacity and need not be brought in the name of the individuals affected thereby,[98] and is properly brought against the railroad company as a corporation instead of against the agents who caused the wrongful act complained of.[99] Any cause of action for damages to adjoining property incident to the mere operation of a railroad arises as soon as the road is put in operation and the statute of limitations begins to run from that date;[1] but as to injuries resulting from an improper or negligent operation the cause of action does not accrue until the wrongful act is done and the limitation runs only from that time.[2] In an action for a nuisance if the acts alleged as constituting the nuisance are acts which the company has a right under its charter to do, if done in a legal and proper manner, the complaint must show that such acts were done in a negligent, unlawful, or improper manner;[3] and a complaint which alleges negligence in a general way without setting forth with a reasonable degree of particularity the things done or omitted, so as to show a breach of duty, is defective and subject to demurrer.[4] In an action for injury to property where the circumstances under which it occurred impose no duty upon plaintiff other than to remain passive, an express allegation that it occurred without any contributory negligence on his part is unnecessary.[5] In an action for injury to property by the operation of a railroad evidence is not admissible of similar injuries to the property of other persons,[6] or of personal injuries due to the negligent operation of its trains;[7] and evidence that plaintiff's buildings projected upon the sidewalk of the street so that they were themselves a nuisance is irrelevant.[8] In an action based upon the negligent construction of an engine-house, evidence that the defect complained of was remedied after suit was instituted is not competent as an admission of negligence, but is competent as tending to show that such defect was the cause of the injury complained of.[9] In actions for negligent injury to property, con-

95. Jeffersonville, etc., R. Co. v. Esterlee, 13 Bush (Ky.) 667.

96. Wylie v. Elwood, 134 Ill. 281, 25 N. E. 570, 23 Am. St. Rep. 673, 9 L. R. A. 726; Grand Rapids, etc., R. Co. v. Heisel, 47 Mich. 393, 11 N. W. 212.

97. Colgate v. New York Cent., etc., R. Co., 51 Misc. (N. Y.) 503, 100 N. Y. Suppl. 650; Smith v. Midland R. Co., 37 L. T. Rep. N. S. 224, 25 Wkly. Rep. 861, 26 Wkly. Rep. 10.

98. Schenectady First Baptist Church v. Schenectady, etc., R. Co., 5 Barb. (N. Y.) 79. But see Schenectady First Baptist Church v. Utica, etc., R. Co., 6 Barb. (N. Y.) 313.

Actions by religious societies see generally RELIGIOUS SOCIETIES.

99. Schenectady First Baptist Church v. Schenectady, etc., R. Co., 5 Barb. (N. Y.) 79.

1. Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Orr, 91 Ky. 109, 15 S. W. 8, 12 Ky. L. Rep. 756.

2. Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Orr, 91 Ky. 109, 15 S. W. 8, 12 Ky. L. Rep. 756; Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Zachritz, 13 Ky. L. Rep. 141; Schueller v. San Antonio, etc., R. Co., (Tex. Civ. App. 1907) 102 S. W. 922.

But the statute is a bar, if pleaded, to the recovery of any damages due to the negligent operation of defendant's trains which accrued over five years (under the Kentucky statute), before the commencement of the action. Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Gargan, 15 Ky. L. Rep. 95.

3. Taylor v. Seaboard Air Line R. Co., 145 N. C. 400, 59 S. E. 129, 122 Am. St. Rep. 455.

4. Thomason v. Seaboard Air Line R. Co., 142 N. C. 318, 55 S. E. 205.

5. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co. v. Welch, 12 Ind. App. 433, 40 N. E. 650.

6. Kuhn v. Illinois Cent. R. Co., 111 Ill. App. 323; Jeffersonville, etc., R. Co. v. Esterle, 13 Bush (Ky.) 667.

7. Jeffersonville, etc., R. Co. v. Esterle, 13 Bush (Ky.) 667.

8. Macon v. Harris, 75 Ga. 761.

9. Kuhn v. Illinois Cent. R. Co., 111 Ill. App. 323.

tributory negligence on the part of plaintiff is, as in other actions based upon negligence, a good defense.[10]

B. Statutory, Municipal, and Official Regulations * — 1. Authority, Construction, and Application — a. Power to Impose and Validity of Regulations.[11] The legislature may under the police power of the state[12] subject railroad companies to all such regulations as are reasonable and necessary to promote the public safety, the safety of passengers, property, and the company's employees, and generally to compel the proper performance of their duties to the public and effectuate and promote the object of their creation.[13] The right extends to matters affecting the public convenience as well as the public safety,[14] and such police regulations are valid notwithstanding they may incidentally affect and to some

10. Murphy v. Wilmington, etc., R. Co., 70 N. C. 437, holding that where plaintiff, on going to defendant's warehouse after goods, left his wagon on the main track so as to be in the way of passing trains, he was guilty of such contributory negligence as to bar a recovery for injury to the wagon where the engineer exercised due care to avoid the injury after it was discovered.

11. See Constitutional Law, 8 Cyc. 695.

12. State v. Wabash, etc., R. Co., 83 Mo. 144; Gladson v. Minnesota, 166 U. S. 427, 17 S. Ct. 627, 41 L. ed. 1064; New York, etc., R. Co. v. New York, 165 U. S. 628, 17 S. Ct. 418, 41 L. ed. 853. See also, generally, Constitutional Law, 8 Cyc. 863 et seq.

13. State v. Wabash, etc., R. Co., 83 Mo. 144; People v. New York, etc., R. Co., 55 Hun (N. Y.) 409, 8 N. Y. Suppl. 672 [affirmed in 123 N. Y. 635, 25 N. E. 953]; Thorpe v. Rutland, etc., R. Co., 27 Vt. 140, 62 Am. Dec. 625; Gladson v. Minnesota, 166 U. S. 427, 17 S. Ct. 627, 41 L. ed. 1064. See also, generally, Constitutional Law, 8 Cyc. 871, 874.

Regulations have been held valid requiring locomotive engineers to be examined and licensed by the state authorities (Smith v. Alabama, 124 U. S. 465, 8 S. Ct. 564, 31 L. ed. 508); requiring certain employees to pass a physical examination as to color blindness or other defects of vision, the fee for such examination to be paid by the railroads (Nashville, etc., R. Co. v. Alabama, 128 U. S. 96, 9 S. Ct. 28, 32 L. ed. 352); requiring a heating apparatus so constructed that the fire will be extinguished if the car is overturned (Gause v. Lake Shore, etc., R. Co., 4 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 369, 2 Clev. L. Rep. 44); prohibiting the heating of cars by means of stove or furnace kept inside of the cars (People v. New York, etc., R. Co., 55 Hun (N. Y.) 409, 8 N. Y. Suppl. 672 [affirmed in 123 N. Y. 635, 25 N. E. 953]; New York, etc., R. Co. v. New York, 165 U. S. 628, 17 S. Ct. 418, 41 L. ed. 853); prohibiting the running of freight trains except in certain cases or when carrying certain classes of freight on Sunday (Hennington v. Georgia, 163 U. S. 299, 16 S. Ct. 1086, 41 L. ed. 166); requiring engines to be equipped with a bell or whistle and to give signals at public crossings (Galena, etc., R. Co. v. Loomis, 13 Ill. 548, 56 Am. Dec. 471); requiring passenger cars to be supplied with pure drinking water for the use of the passengers (Southern R. Co. v. State, 125 Ga. 287, 54 S. E. 160, 114 Am. St. Rep. 203); requiring separate coaches for white and colored passengers (Southern Kansas R. Co. v. State, 44 Tex. Civ. App. 218, 99 S. W. 166); limiting the rate of speed of trains to six miles an hour in cities and villages (State v. Wisconsin Cent. R. Co., 128 Wis. 79, 107 N. W. 295); requiring a person or corporation operating a railroad under a contract or lease to have the same recorded in the offices of the secretary of state and the county clerks of the counties through which the road passes (Com. v. Chesapeake, etc., R. Co., 101 Ky. 159, 40 S. W. 250, 19 Ky. L. Rep. 329); and requiring trains to be brought to a full stop before crossing the tracks of another railroad (Lake Shore, etc., R. Co. v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 30 Ohio St. 604).

A statute is unconstitutional which makes a railroad company absolutely liable for double the value of stock killed in case of a failure to report such injury within a specified time, since the requiring of such a notice is not a proper police regulation and the statute imposes an absolute liability regardless of whether the company had knowledge of the injury and regardless of any question of negligence on the part of the company or contributory negligence on the part of the owner of the animal. Jolliffe v. Brown, 14 Wash. 155, 44 Pac. 149, 53 Am. St. Rep. 868.

14. Davidson v. State, 4 Tex. App. 545, 30 Am. Rep. 166.

Regulations have been held valid requiring the erection of depots at the junction or intersection of different railroads (State v. Wabash, etc., R. Co., 83 Mo. 144; Missouri v. Kansas City, etc., R. Co., 32 Fed. 722); requiring passenger trains to stop at stations for not less than five minutes (Davidson v. State, 4 Tex. App. 545, 30 Am. Rep. 166); and requiring all passenger trains operated wholly within the state to stop at all county-seat towns (Gladson v. Minnesota, 166 U. S. 427, 17 S. Ct. 627, 41 L. ed. 1064 [affirming 57 Minn. 385, 59 N. W. 487, 24 L. R. A. 502]).

* By James A. Gwyn.

extent interfere with the transportation of interstate traffic.[15] The legislature may also delegate to railroad commissioners the power to supervise and regulate the operation of railroads;[16] or may delegate to municipal corporations the power to make police regulations affecting the operation of railroads within the corporate limits,[17] and many such regulations have been sustained as valid without express legislative authority for their enactment under the general police powers usually conferred upon or possessed by such bodies;[18] but municipal regulations to be valid must not be unreasonable,[19] uncertain,[20] or in conflict with statutory provisions.[21] Where, however, a railroad company accepts the benefits and privileges of an ordinance granting it a right of way through an incorporated city, it becomes also subject to the burdens imposed by such ordinance.[22] The legislature may also make regulations imposing additional burdens or liabilities where there is a reservation of power to alter or amend the charter,[23] or the regu-

15. New York, etc., R. Co. v. New York, 165 U. S. 628, 17 S. Ct. 418, 41 L. ed. 853; Hennington v. Georgia, 163 U. S. 299, 16 S. Ct. 1086, 41 L. ed. 166; Smith v. Alabama, 124 U. S. 465, 8 S. Ct. 564, 31 L. ed. 508. See also, generally, COMMERCE, 7 Cyc. 422.

16. State v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 76 Kan. 467, 92 Pac. 606; Atlantic Express Co. v. Wilmington, etc., R. Co., 111 N. C. 463, 16 S. E. 393, 32 Am. St. Rep. 805, 18 L. R. A. 393. See also CONSTITUTIONAL LAW, 8 Cyc. 834.

Powers and duties of railroad commissioners see supra, I, C, 3.

17. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co. v. Bowling Green, 57 Ohio St. 336, 49 N. E. 121, 41 L. R. A. 422; Cincinnati, etc., R. Co. v. Sullivan, 32 Ohio St. 152. See, generally, CONSTITUTIONAL LAW, 8 Cyc. 839.

18. Baltimore, etc., R. Co. v. Whiting, 161 Ind. 228, 68 N. E. 266; Whitson v. Franklin, 34 Ind. 392; Seibert v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 188 Mo. 657, 87 S. W. 995, 70 L. R. A. 72; Jackson v. Kansas City, etc., R. Co., 157 Mo. 621, 58 S. W. 32, 80 Am. St. Rep. 650; Robertson v. Wabash, etc., R. Co., 84 Mo. 119. But see Pennsylvania R. Co.'s Case, 213 Pa. St. 373, 62 Atl. 986, 3 L. R. A. N. S. 140 [reversing 27 Pa. Super. Ct. 113].

Validity of municipal regulations relating to signals and lookouts see infra, X, B, 4, b. Rate of speed see infra, X, B, 4, c. Lighting tracks see infra, X, B, 4, e. Signboards, flagmen, and gates at crossings see infra, X, B, 4, f. Obstructing streets and highways see infra, X, B, 5, a.

A grant of the right to use a street for the purpose of a railroad by a city does not deprive the city of the power to subsequently make any proper police regulations as to the operation and use of trains in the street. State v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 141 N. C. 736, 53 S. E. 290.

Private switch-yards.— In the absence of statute a municipality cannot impose regulations upon railroad companies in regard to switching cars within their private switch-yards. Smith v. Chicago Junction R. Co., 127 Ill. App. 89.

19. Southern Indiana R. Co. v. Bedford, 165 Ind. 272, 75 N. E. 268; White v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 44 Mo. App. 540; New Jersey Cent. R. Co. v. Elizabeth, 70 N. J. L. 578, 57 Atl. 404; McCullough v. Franklin Tp., 59 N. J. L. 106, 34 Atl. 1088; Jamaica v. Long Island R. Co., 37 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 379.

An ordinance is not void for unreasonableness which prohibits the letting off of steam by opening safety valves or cylinder cocks while the train is running within the corporate limits, or where the engine is within one hundred feet of a crossing, except for the purpose of allowing the escape of condensed steam on starting an engine (Pittsburg, etc., R. Co. v. Robson, 204 Ill. 254, 68 N. E. 468); or, subject to the same exception, "when the engine is in immediate proximity to any street or railroad crossing in said city" (Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Steckman, 224 Ill. 500, 79 N. E. 602 [affirming 125 Ill. App. 299]).

20. New Jersey Cent. R. Co. v. Elizabeth, 70 N. J. L. 578, 57 Atl. 404, holding that a municipal ordinance imposing certain restrictions on steam railroad companies under penalty upon failure to comply with the provisions of a particular statute is void for uncertainty where the act referred to does not prescribe any duties to be performed by any steam railroad company.

21. Duggan v. Peoria, etc., R. Co., 42 Ill. App. 536; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Dougherty, 12 Ill. App. 181.

Application of rule.— An ordinance prohibiting the blowing of a locomotive whistle within the corporate limitations is invalid in so far as it conflicts with the statute requiring signals to be given in this manner and furnishes no excuse for non-compliance with the statutory requirements. Katzenberger v. Lawo, 90 Tenn. 235, 16 S. W. 611, 25 Am. St. Rep. 681, 13 L. R. A. 185. Where a town is within a metropolitan sanitary district it cannot by ordinance prescribe regulations as to the handling by railroad companies of offensive substances, where such regulations are within the powers and duties which the statute provides are to be "exclusively exercised" by the board of health of such district. Jamaica v. Long Island R. Co., 37 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 379.

22. Chicago Great Western R. Co. v. People, 79 Ill. App. 529.

23. Bulkley v. New York, etc., R. Co., 27

lation is a proper one under the police power of the state.[24] So railroad companies may be made absolutely liable for damages caused by fire communicated from their locomotives,[25] or liable without regard to negligence in the operation of the train in case of injury where certain statutory duties are not complied with,[26] or in such cases the legislature may alter the general rules of evidence and make the fact of the injury prima facie evidence of negligence and place the burden of proof upon the railroad company.[27]

b. Construction and Application of Regulations.[28] If the statute imposing a particular regulation prescribes a penalty for violation thereof, the statute must be strictly construed;[29] but otherwise the statute will be given a liberal construction to carry out and effectuate the intention of the legislature;[30] and in case of successive statutes imposing different or additional regulations the latter will not be construed as impliedly repealing or entirely superseding the former unless the provisions are so inconsistent that they cannot stand together.[31] The ordinary grammatical construction of the statute should prevail unless the context requires a different construction.[32] Where a statute prescribes a certain regulation as to the condition of railroad tracks which must be complied with by a certain date, a company whose road is not completed at the time specified is entitled to a reasonable time thereafter to comply with the statute.[33] The Alabama statute Conn. 479; Baltimore, etc., R. Co. v. Kreager, 61 Ohio St. 312, 56 N. E. 203; Lake Shore, etc., R. Co. v. Sharpe, 38 Ohio St. 150. See also, generally, CONSTITUTIONAL LAW, 8 Cyc. 962.

24. Galena, etc., R. Co. v. Loomis, 13 Ill. 548, 56 Am. Dec. 471; Gillam v. Sioux City, etc., R. Co., 26 Minn. 268, 3 N. W. 353; Mathews v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 121 Mo. 298, 24 S. W. 591, 25 L. R. A. 161; Thorpe v. Rutland, etc., R. Co., 27 Vt. 140, 62 Am. Dec. 625; Nelson v. Vermont, etc., R. Co., 26 Vt. 717, 62 Am. Dec. 614. See also, generally, CONSTITUTIONAL LAW, 8 Cyc. 982.

25. Blackmore v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 162 Mo. 455, 62 S. W. 993; Adams v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 138 Mo. 242, 28 S. W. 496, 29 S. W. 836; Campbell v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 121 Mo. 340, 25 S. W. 936, 42 Am. St. Rep. 530, 25 L. R. A. 175; Mathews v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 121 Mo. 298, 24 S. W. 591, 25 L. R. A. 161; McFarland v. Missouri, etc., R. Co., 94 Mo. App. 336, 68 S. W. 105; Baltimore, etc., R. Co. v. Kreager, 61 Ohio St. 312, 56 N. E. 203; St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Mathews, 165 U. S. 1, 17 S. Ct. 243, 41 L. ed. 611.

26. Indianapolis, etc., R. Co. v. Marshall, 27 Ind. 300; Kansas Pac. R. Co. v. Mower, 16 Kan. 573; Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Kice, 109 Ky. 786, 60 S. W. 705, 22 Ky. L. Rep. 1462.

27. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Reidy, 66 Ill. 43; Diamond v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 6 Mont. 580, 13 Pac. 367; Joliffe v. Brown, 14 Wash. 155, 44 Pac. 149, 53 Am. St. Rep. 868.

The Tennessee statute placing the burden upon the railroad company to show that the statutory duties were complied with as to maintaining a lookout and other precautions to prevent accidents is constitutional. Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Burke, 6 Coldw. 45.

28. See, generally, STATUTES.

29. State v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co., 157 Ind. 288, 61 N. E. 669; Kansas City, etc., R. Co. v. Jones, 73 Miss. 397, 18 S. W. 684; Bonner v. Franklin Co-Operative Assoc., 4 Tex. Civ. App. 166, 23 S. W. 317.

Penalty for violation of regulation see infra, X, B, 7, b, (I).

30. Ohio, etc., R. Co. v. Brubaker, 47 Ill. 462; Tallman v. Syracuse, etc., R. Co., 4 Abb. Dec. (N. Y.) 351, 4 Keyes 128.

31. Jeffersonville, etc., R. Co. v. Dunlap, 112 Ind. 93, 13 N. E. 403; Curry v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 43 Wis. 665.

A statute which imposes a penalty upon railroad companies for the violation of certain regulations is not impliedly repealed by a subsequent statute making the violation a misdemeanor on the part of the officer or agent responsible therefor, there being no repugnancy in the two statutes. Mobile, etc., R. Co. v. Steiner, 61 Ala. 559.

But where two ordinances are so materially inconsistent that they cannot stand together, the latter covering the whole subject-matter of the former, prescribing new conditions with different penalties, the latter will be held to repeal and supersede the former. Terre Haute, etc., R. Co. v. South Bend, 146 Ind. 239, 45 N. E. 324, construing ordinances relating to the lighting of street crossings by railroad companies.

32. Grand Trunk R. Co. v. Washington, [1899] A. C. 275, 68 L. J. P. C. 37, 80 L. T. Rep. N. S. 301 [affirming 28 Can. Sup. Ct. 184 (reversing 24 Ont. App. 183)], construing the Canada statute requiring the blocking and filling of frogs and other spaces under railroad tracks, and holding that the power conferred upon the railway committee of the privy council to dispense with the requirements of section 4, during certain winter months, does not apply to the requirements of section 3 of the statute.

33. Gillin v. Patten, etc., R. Co., 93 Me. 80, 44 Atl. 361, construing the statute of 1889, requiring each railroad company to requiring claims for damages against railroad companies to be either presented in writing or suit brought thereon within a certain n mber of days does not apply to actions for personal injuries.[34] The Georgia statute requiring railroad companies to keep in repair crossings over "public roads or private ways established pursuant to law;" and to give signals at such crossings, does not apply to private ways not established by law;[35] and the term "marks" as used in the Georgia statute requiring "a list of the different marks and brands" of stock killed to be filed with station agents refers only to such marks as are placed upon stock by artificial means for purposes of identification.[36]

2. Companies and Persons to Whom Applicable — a. In General.[37] In the absence of any provision to the contrary in the statute imposing the regulation or the charter of the company, statutory regulations in regard to railroads apply to all companies doing business within the state imposing the regulation,[38] whether chartered or unchartered,[39] and without regard to the time of their incorporation or construction or whether incorporated under general laws or special charters,[40] or whether the company owns the land on which its road is built or has merely a right of way over it;[41] but not to private lines on private property used by the proprietors exclusively for their private purposes.[42] Within the application of the statutes prescribing these regulations the term "railroad" applies to "dummy" lines,[43] "belt" lines maintained by connecting roads for the purpose of transferring freight,[44] and to roads using electricity as a motive power as well as steam adjust, fill, or block the frogs and guard-rails on its track before Jan. 1, 1890.

34. Nicholson v. Mobile, etc., R. Co., 49 Ala. 205.

35. Willingham v. Macon, etc., R. Co., 113 Ga. 374, 38 S. E. 843.

36. Churchill v. Georgia R., etc., Co., 108 Ga. 265, 33 S. E. 972.

37. Companies and persons liable for injuries in general see infra, X, C.

Effect of operation by receiver as to liability for penalties or to indictment see infra, X, B, 7, d; X, B, 8, c.

38. Indianapolis, etc., R. Co. v. Kercheval, 16 Ind. 84; Gillam v. Sioux City, etc., R. Co., 26 Minn. 268, 3 N. W. 353; Staats v. Hudson River R. Co., 4 Abb. Dec. (N. Y.) 287, 3 Keyes 196, 33 How. Pr. 139.

Foreign corporation.— The New York statute of 1854, requiring "every railroad corporation whose line is open for use" to erect and maintain fences, applies to a foreign corporation which had prior to the passage of said act under and by virtue of the act of 1846, wherein was reserved the right to alter or repeal, extended its road within this state in so far as such road is open for use within the state. Purdy v. New York, etc., R. Co., 61 N. Y. 353.

The Kentucky statute requiring railroad companies to erect cattle-guards is not limited to railroads operated for five years, the provision as to five years mentioned in a preceding section of the statute having no reference to this duty. Kentucky Union R. Co. v. Forkner, 40 S. W. 462, 19 Ky. L. Rep. 378.

The Ontario statute requiring railroad companies to pack the frogs on their tracks does not apply to the Grand Trunk Railway Company, since the act expressly limits its application to railroad companies within the legislative control of that province. Monkhouse v. Grand Trunk R. Co., 8 Ont. App. 637; Clegg v. Grand Trunk R. Co., 10 Ont. 708.

39. Diamond v. Northern Pac. R. Co., 6 Mont. 580, 13 Pac. 367.

40. See infra, X, B, 2, b, c.

41. Missouri Pac. R. Co. v. Manson, 31 Kan. 337, 2 Pac. 800 (regulation as to construction of cattle-guards); Baltimore, etc., R. Co. v. Kreager, 61 Ohio St. 312, 56 N. E. 203 (regulation as to liability for fires communicated from locomotives). But see Easton R. Co. v. Portsmouth, 62 N. H. 344, holding that a railroad company is not liable to contribute as one of the "proprietors" of a railroad, to the expense of maintaining gates at highway crossings upon the track of another railroad in which it has no right or interest except a statutory right to use the track at a fixed compensation.

42. Matson v. Baird, 3 App. Cas. 1082, 39 L. T. Rep. N. S. 304, 26 Wkly. Rep. 835, holding that the English statute requiring gates at crossings does not apply to such a railroad.

43. Ensley R. Co. v. Chewning, 93 Ala. 24, 9 So. 458 (regulation requiring signals on approaching a public crossing or regular stopping place); Birmingham Mineral R. Co. v. Jacobs, 92 Ala. 187, 9 So. 320 (regulation requiring trains to stop before crossing another railroad); Katzenberger v. Lawo, 90 Tenn. 235, 16 S. W. 611, 25 Am. St. Rep. 681, 13 L. R. A. 185 (regulations as to lookout and precautions for the prevention of accidents).

44. Toledo, etc., R. Co. v. Bond, 35 Ind. App. 142, 72 N. E. 647, holding that a belt line railroad maintained in a city by two connecting through lines, for the purpose of transferring freight from one to the other, is railroads; [45] and a company will be held to be "operating" a railroad within the application of the statutes if running trains thereon or any purpose,[46] including the operation of trains for construction purposes on incompleted portions.[47] A company operating a road will be held to be the owner thereof within the application of the statutes,[48] and statutes or ordinances applying in terms to any person running or causing trains to be run contrary to certain regulations apply to companies owning or operating the road as well as the servants violating such regulations; [49] but a statute which imposes a liability upon a particular officer or agent is not applicable to any other officer or agent not acting in the capacity named.[50] A statute imposing a liability for wrongful death due to negligence applies to a company operating trains in the course of its business over a private track outside of its chartered limits by the mere license or sufferance of the owner;[51] and a statute requiring trains to be stopped before crossing the tracks of any railroad applies to intersecting lines on which all of the trains are operated by the same company,[52] but not to the intersecting tracks of a switch-yard belonging to the same company; [53] and an ordinance requiring the "proprietors" of railroads to maintain flagmen and bell towers at all crossings does not apply to a company having only a temporary right to run trains over the track of another company subject to its control.[54] A statute in terms applicable to railroads of over a certain length applies to a road of over that length, although not all of the prescribed length is within the state imposing the regulation.[55]

b. Companies Organized Under Special Charters. Statutory regulations in regard to railroad companies apply to those incorporated under special charters as well as under general laws,[56] unless the statute imposing the regulation shows a main track of a steam railroad, within the application of the Indiana statute requiring switches on such railroads to be indicated by a signal light so attached as to indicate safety when the switch is closed and danger when it is open.

45. Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Anchors, 114 Ala. 492, 22 So. 279, 62 Am. St. Rep. 116, regulation as to stopping trains before crossing other railroads.

A change of motive power from steam to electricity on the road of a company which is the successor of a company incorporated under the general statutes as a railroad company does not make the road a street railroad or affect its duty to construct and maintain fences as required by statute. Hannah v. Metropolitan St. R. Co., 81 Mo. App. 78.

Street surface railroads.— The New York Railroad Law of 1892 providing that every railroad corporation shall maintain cattle-guards at road crossings applies to a suburban street surface railroad company incorporated under article 1 of the act, and requires cattle-guards where the track of such company crosses country roads. Evans v. Utica, etc., R. Co., 44 Misc. (N. Y.) 345, 89 N. Y. Suppl. 1089.

46. Glandon v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 68 Iowa 457, 27 N. W. 457.

A railroad constructed by a mining and lumber company and which is operated by a railroad company whenever it is necessary and profitable for the company to do so, although not operated regularly and constantly, is within the application of the Missouri statute requiring that "any railroad corporation running or operating any railroad" shall erect and maintain lawful fences. Webb v. Southern Missouri, etc., R. Co., 92 Mo. App. 53.

47. Glandon v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 68 Iowa 457, 27 N. W. 457 (liability for double the value of stock killed where railroad is not fenced); Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Totten, 1 Kan. App. 558, 42 Pac. 269 (regulation requiring road to be fenced).

48. Indianapolis, etc., R. Co. v. People, 32 Ill. App. 286, regulation prohibiting obstruction of highways.

49. Southern R. Co. v. Jones, 33 Ind. App. 333, 71 N. E. 275 (ordinance regulating speed of trains); Missouri, etc., R. Co. v. Owens, (Tex. Civ. App. 1903) 75 S. W. 579 (ordinance regulating speed of trains).

50. Vaughan v. State, 116 Ga. 841, 43 S. E. 249, regulation prohibiting running of freight trains on Sunday.

51. Com. v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 126 Mass. 61.

52. Chesapeake, etc., R. Co. v. Com., 99 Ky. 175, 35 S. W. 266, 18 Ky. L. Rep. 54.

53. St. Louis Nat. Stock Yards v. Godfrey, 198 Ill. 288, 65 N. E. 90 [affirming 101 Ill. App. 40].

54. Lake Shore, etc., R. Co. v. Kaste, 11 Ill. App. 536.

55. People v. New York, etc., R. Co., 55 Hun (N. Y.) 409, 8 N. Y. Suppl. 672 [affirmed in 123 N. Y. 635, 25 N. E. 953], statute prohibiting heating of cars by stove or furnace kept inside the car.

56. Alabama.— Nashville, etc., R. Co. v. Peacock, 25 Ala. 229.

Illinois.— Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Slater, 129 Ill. 91, 21 N. E. 575, 16 Am. St. Rep. 242, 6 L. R. A. 418.

Indiana.— Indianapolis, etc., R. Co. v. Mara contrary intention, either expressly,[57] or by implication from the character of its provisions,[58] or there is some provision in the charter which prevents its application;[59] and the mere fact that the charter makes provision as to certain duties and how they shall be performed does not affect the right of the state in the exercise of its police power to impose other and further regulations in respect to the same duties,[60] or affect the application of existing general statutes not inconsistent with the provisions of the charter.[61]

c. Effect of Time of Incorporation or Construction. General statutory regulations affecting railroad companies are ordinarily applicable to those incorporated or constructed before as well as after the passage of the act,[62] unless the statute shall, 27 Ind. 300; Indianapolis, etc., R. Co. v. Kercheval, 16 Ind. 84.

Minnesota.— Gillam v. Sioux City, etc., R. Co., 26 Minn. 268, 3 N. W. 353; Whittier v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 24 Minn. 394.

New York.—Staats v. Hudson River R. Co., 4 Abb. Dec. 287, 3 Keyes 196, 33 How. Pr. 139.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 736.

57. Vandorn v. New Jersey, etc., R. Co., 42 N. J. Eq. 463, 8 Atl. 99, holding that the provision of the general railroad act in regard to fencing is confined by its terms to companies formed under that act and has no application to companies incorporated under special charters.

Under a statute making applicable such provisions thereof as are "not inconsistent" with the charters of railroad companies, a provision requiring railroad companies to construct and maintain fences with gates is not inconsistent with a charter provision merely requiring the company to construct and maintain fences and permitting adjoining landowners to construct and maintain gates therein at farm crossings. Staats v. Hudson River R. Co., 4 Abb. Dec. (N. Y.) 287, 3 Keyes 196, 33 How. Pr. 139.

58. Winger v. First Div. St. Paul, etc., R. Co., 22 Minn. 11; Devine v. St. Paul, etc., R. Co., 22 Minn. 8 (each holding that the Minnesota statute of 1872, requiring railroad companies to fence on each side of their tracks, was not intended to apply to roads whose charters required them to fence in certain places, since the subsequent sections of the statute prescribing the liability for failure to fence recognized two different classes of railroads and prescribed a different liability as to a company which had neglected to fence its road "as required by the terms of its charter and the amendments thereof."

The Minnesota statute which as originally enacted was construed as not intended to apply to companies whose charters contained provisions in regard to fencing was amended in 1877 so as to apply generally to all railroad companies. Gillam v. Sioux City, etc., R. Co., 26 Minn. 268, 3 N. W. 353.

59. Daniels v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 62 Mo. 43; Central Trust Co. v. Wabash, etc., R. Co., 30 Fed. 344. See also Indianapolis, etc., R. Co. v. Kercheval, 16 Ind. 84, holding, however, that a clause in a railroad charter providing that no person or body corporate or politic shall interfere therewith or do anything "to detract from, or affect, the profits of said corporation," will not exempt such railroad company from the operation of the statutes in regard to fencing the tracks, neither the cost of such fences nor the amount of damages paid for stock killed being a detraction from the profits of the company within the meaning of the statute.

The legislature cannot deprive the state of its police power and a charter provision giving a railroad company the right to regulate the speed of its trains is a mere license which in the exercise of such power the state may revoke. Cleveland, etc., R. Co. v. Harrington, 131 Ind. 426, 30 N. E. 37. See also Gillam v. Sioux City, etc., R. Co., 26 Minn. 268, 270, 3 N. W. 353, where the court said: "If, in any case, the legislature may bind the state not to exercise this [police] power, an intention so to do cannot be implied, but must appear in express and unmistakable terms."

It will be presumed that a general statute requiring the construction of fences and cattle-guards applies to companies operating under special charters unless a charter provision excepting it from the operation of such statute is pleaded and proved. Whittier v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 24 Minn. 394.

60. Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Slater, 129 Ill. 91, 21 N. E. 575, 16 Am. St. Rep. 242, 6 L. R. A. 418 (holding that the fact that the charter of a railroad company prescribes its duty as to the giving of crossing signals does not prevent the application of a general statute which defines such duty differently from the charter provisions); Gillam v. Sioux City, etc., R. Co., 26 Minn. 268, 3 N. W. 353 (holding that the fact that a charter of a railroad company provided that it should maintain fences at certain places does not prevent the application of a general statute requiring fencing at all places where the road can be fenced); Staats v. Hudson River R. Co., 4 Abb. Dec. (N. Y.) 287, 3 Keyes 196, 33 How. Pr. 139 (holding that a charter provision requiring a railroad company to construct and maintain fences does not prevent the application of a general statute requiring the construction and maintenance of fences with gates or bars).

61. Pratt v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 42 Me. 579.

62. Illinois.—Galena, etc., R. Co. v. Loomis, 13 Ill. 548, 56 Am. Dec. 471.

Indiana.— Indianapolis, etc., R. Co. v. Kercheval, 16 Ind. 84.

provides otherwise.[63] This rule applies in all cases where the regulation is a proper exercise of the police power,[64] or the right to alter or amend the charter is reserved.[65] Conversely, a statute in terms relating to "all existing railroad corporations" extends to railroad companies incorporated after as well as before its passage unless exception is provided in their charters.[66]

3. Equipment, Facilities, and Accommodations — a. Accommodations and Facilities at Stations. While there is no common-law duty to maintain depots or warehouses for the accommodation of freight and passengers,[67] there are statutes in some jurisdictions requiring railroad companies to maintain such buildings[68]

Massachusetts.— Lyman v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 4 Cush. 288.

Minnesota.— Gillam v. Sioux City R. Co., 26 Minn. 268, 3 N. W. 353.

Missouri.— Gorman v. Pacific R. Co., 26 Mo. 441, 72 Am. Dec. 220.

Pennsylvania.— Pennsylvania R. Co. v. Kelly, 31 Pa. St. 372. Compare Shick v. Pennsylvania R. Co., 1 Leg. Gaz. 61.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 737.

Application to particular regulations.— Railroads incorporated or constructed before as well as after the passage of the act have been held subject to the regulations relating to fencing tracks (Norris v. Androscoggin R. Co., 39 Me. 273, 63 Am. Dec. 621; Finch v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 46 Minn. 250, 48 N. W. 915; Trice v. Hannibal, etc., R. Co., 35 Mo. 188; Gorman v. Pacific R. Co., 26 Mo. 441, 72 Am. Dec. 220; Staats v. Hudson River R. Co., 4 Abb. Dec. (N. Y.) 287, 3 Keyes 196, 33 How. Pr. 139; Shurley v. New York, etc., R. Co., 121 Pa. St. 511, 15 Atl. 567), construction of cattle-guards (Bulkley v. New York, etc., R. Co., 27 Conn. 479; Gillam v. Sioux City, etc., R. Co., 26 Minn. 268, 3 N. W. 353; Lake Shore, etc., R. Co. v. Sharpe, 38 Ohio St. 150), crossing signals (Galena, etc., R. Co. v. Loomis, 13 Ill. 548, 56 Am. Dec. 471), liability for fire communicated from locomotives (Lyman v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 4 Cush. (Mass.) 288), and regulations prohibiting the obstruction of public highway crossings (Pennsylvania R. Co. v. Kelly, 31 Pa. St. 372).

Under the Iowa statute requiring the erection of cattle-guards where a railroad "enters or leaves any improved or fenced land" a railroad constructed across unimproved and uninclosed lands which are afterward improved and inclosed must, after such change in the character of the land, be provided with cattle-guards where the road enters and leaves such land. Heskett v. Wabash, etc., R. Co., 61 Iowa 467, 16 N. W. 525.

63. Stearns v. Old Colony, etc., R. Co., 1 Allen (Mass.) 493.

The Massachusetts statute of 1846 requiring railroad companies to erect and maintain fences on both sides of any railroad which they might thereafter construct did not apply to a railroad which was located and partially constructed at the time of its passage (Stearns v. Old Colony, etc., R. Co., 1 Allen 493); but if notwithstanding the road was partially constructed the location was not filed until after the passage of the act the company was bound to erect and maintain fences (Sawyer v. Vermont, etc., R. Co., 105 Mass. 196).

Under the Montana civil code which requires railroad companies to fence their tracks, but provides that its provision shall not apply to corporations previously formed unless they elect to continue their existence under the code in the manner prescribed, a domestic railroad company formed before the code took effect and which has not made an election as provided is not liable for failure to fence its track. Menard v. Montana Cent. R. Co., 22 Mont. 340, 56 Pac. 592.

Under a statute applicable only to roads incorporated after a certain date, if a company incorporated after that date succeeds to the rights and privileges of a company incorporated before the date specified and the road is constructed by the last incorporated company, it is subject to the regulations prescribed by the statute. Rockwell v. New York, etc., R. Co., 51 Conn. 401.

Effect as to lessee of prior incorporation of lessor.— Under a statute in terms inapplicable to railroad companies previously incorporated, the exception of such company does not pass to its lessee which was incorporated after the passage of the act. Robinson v. Southern Pac. R. Co., 105 Cal. 526, 38 Pac. 94, 722, 28 L. R. A. 773.

64. Ohio, etc., R. Co. v. McClelland, 25 Ill. 123; Galena, etc., R. Co. v. Loomis, 13 Ill. 548, 56 Am. Dec. 471; Indianapolis, etc., R. Co. v. Kercheval, 16 Ind. 84; Gillam v. Sioux City, etc., R. Co., 26 Minn. 268, 3 N. W. 353; Gorman v. Pacific R. Co., 26 Mo. 441, 72 Am. Dec. 220.

65. Bulkley v. New York, etc., R. Co., 27 Conn. 479; Jeffersonville, etc., R. Co. v. Gabbert, 25 Ind. 431; Lake Shore, etc., R. Co. v. Sharpe, 38 Ohio St. 150.

66. Indianapolis, etc., R. Co. v. Blackman, 63 Ill. 117.

67. See supra, X, A, 1, d.

68. Minnesota.— State v. Minneapolis, etc., R. Co., 76 Minn. 469, 79 N. W. 510, holding that the Minnesota statute requiring the construction of depots "at all villages" applies only to incorporated villages and that the railroad company cannot be required to construct a station at an unincorporated village.

Missouri.— State v. Wabash, etc., R. Co., 83 Mo. 144, construing the Missouri statute requiring the maintenance of depots at the junction or intersection of different railways.

New Hampshire.—Boothby v. Grand Trunk R. Co., 66 N. H. 342, 34 Atl. 157; Nashua, etc., R. Co. v. Derry, 58 N. H. 65, holding with suitable and convenient waiting-rooms for passengers,[69] and certain accommodations and facilities connected therewith,[70] and to keep the same in proper order and repair,[71] and at the time of the arrival and departure of trains to keep waiting-rooms open for the use of passengers,[72] and properly lighted and heated.[73] In some jurisdictions the statutes require that separate waiting-rooms shall be that a notification of a vote of a town to require a railroad company to locate a depot is equivalent to the "request" prescribed by the New Hampshire statute.

Texas.— San Antonio, etc., R. Co. v. State, 79 Tex. 264, 14 S. W. 1063, construing the statute requiring depots at the junction or intersection of different railroads.

United States.— Missouri v. Kansas City, etc., R. Co., 32 Fed. 722, holding that the Missouri statute requiring the construction and maintenance of depots at the intersection of different railroads is not unconstitutional.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 740.

Statutes not requiring erection of depots.— A railroad company is not required to erect a depot or warehouse for the accommodation of passengers or freight by a statute merely empowering the company to erect such buildings (People v. New York, etc., R. Co., 104 N. Y. 58, 9 N. E. 856, 58 Am. Rep. 484 [reversing 40 Hun 570]), or requiring that a railroad company shall furnish "sufficient accommodation for the transportation" of passengers and property (Chaddick v. Lindsay, 5 Okla. 616, 49 Pac. 940), or empowering railroad commissioners to require the provision of such accommodations, where no order has been made by them pursuant to such authority (Page v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 129 Ala. 232, 29 So. 676).

69. Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Com., 52 S. W. 818, 21 Ky. L. Rep. 569.

A statute requiring "convenient and suitable" waiting-rooms and water-closets is not void for uncertainty (Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Com., 103 Ky. 605, 45 S. W. 880, 46 S. W. 697, 20 Ky. L. Rep. 366); and what is a convenient and suitable waiting-room is a question of fact depending upon the size of the city, town, or station and the number of passengers arriving and departing therefrom (Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Com., 90 S. W. 602, 28 Ky. L. Rep. 802).

70. Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Com., 103 Ky. 605, 45 S. W. 880, 46 S. W. 697, 20 Ky. L. Rep. 366; Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Com., 97 Ky. 207, 30 S. W. 616, 117 Ky. L. Rep. 116.

The "reasonable facilities" at stations which a railroad company is required by statute to provide do not mean all facilities which might be conducive to the convenience of the public, but such facilities as it is reasonable under the circumstances to require the railroad company to provide, and which it is within its power to furnish. Newry Nav. Co. v. Great Northern R. Co., 7 Can. R. & Tr. Cas. 176.

Water-closets.— A "convenient and suitable" water-closet must be accessible to the depot and must be suitable for women and children as well as men (Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Com., 103 Ky. 605, 45 S. W. 880, 46 S. W. 697, 20 Ky. L. Rep. 366); but in a small village if suitable closets are provided they may be kept locked if it is a reasonable precaution to cleanliness and the key left with the station agent without posting any notice that the key can be obtained by applying to him (Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Com., 45 S. W. 362, 20 Ky. L. Rep. 100); and a statute requiring railroad companies to provide water-closets at all stations does not apply to a flag station where there is merely an open platform and no station buildings or offices are kept (State v. Baltimore, etc., R. Co., 61 W. Va. 367, 56 S. E. 518). Under a statute requiring railroad companies to afford all reasonable facilities for receiving, forwarding, and delivering traffic, if the providing of water-closets for the use of passengers is a facility within the application of the statute, the company is not prevented after providing such closets from making a small and reasonable charge for their use and the railroad commissioners cannot require the company to permit them to be used without charge. West Ham v. Great Eastern R. Co., 64 L. J. Q. B. 340, 72 L. T. 395, 9 R. & Can. Tr. Cas. 7.

71. Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Com., 90 S. W. 602, 28 Ky. L. Rep. 802; Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Com., 52 S. W. 818, 21 Ky. L. Rep. 569.

72. Draper v. Evansville, etc., R. Co., 165 Ind. 117, 74 N. E. 889. See also Boothby v. Grand Trunk R. Co., 66 N. H. 342, 34 Atl. 157, holding that a failure to keep a station open and warm in inclement weather at the hour advertised for the departure of trains is a violation of the statute requiring railroad companies to provide "crossings, stations and other facilities for the public."

The Kentucky statute does not require that railroad companies should keep open and maintain depots at flag stations during the night-time. Sandifer v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 89 S. W. 528, 28 Ky. L. Rep. 464.

Under the Texas statute which requires railroad companies to keep their depots lighted, warm, and open to the ingress and egress of passengers for not less than one hour before the arrival and after the departure of all passenger trains, the company is not obliged to keep a waiting-room open and permit a passenger arriving at one A. M. to leave his family therein for several hours until he can walk four and one-half miles into the country and procure a conveyance to carry them away. International, etc., R. Co. v. Pevey, 30 Tex. Civ. App. 460, 70 S. W. 778.

73. Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Cornelius, 10 Tex. Civ. App. 125, 30 S. W. 720; Texas, etc., maintained for white and colored passengers,[74] and that the ticket office shall be open for the sale of tickets a certain length of time before the departure of trains.[75] Railroad commissioners may in some jurisdictions, under the powers delegated to them, require the erection of a depot building,[76] or at an established station require the furnishing of suitable accommodations for freight as well as passengers;[77] but the enforcement of their orders by the courts will depend upon whether, under the circumstances, they are reasonable and just.[78]

b. Facilities For Shipment of Goods.[79] In some jurisdictions there are statutes requiring railroad companies to permit connections to be made on their roads with switches or spur-tracks leading to grain elevators, warehouses, and the like,[80] and to operate cars over such tracks which it may own, control, or have the right to use;[81] but the company cannot be required to operate cars over such tracks except for the purposes specified in the statute,[82] or over a track owned by another which is not reasonably safe.[83] The legislature cannot require a railroad company to permit a private person or corporation to erect a grain elevator or warehouse upon its right of way,[84] nor can railroad commissioners, under the powers vested in them to require the furnishing of adequate facilities, require a railroad company to furnish to a private individual a site upon its right of way for the erection of a grain elevator,[85] even though the railroad company may

R. Co. v. Mayes, (Tex. App. 1890) 15 S. W. 43.

74. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. State, 61 Ark. 9, 31 S. W. 570, holding, however, that the Arkansas statute requiring separate waiting-rooms for white and colored passengers does not require railroad companies to erect depot buildings at places where they have none, and further that a store near a flag station, where customers are accustomed to go while waiting for trains and where railroad tickets are sold on commission, but which the railroad company does not own, occupy, or control, is not a "passenger depot" within the meaning of the statute.

75. Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Com., 102 Ky. 300, 43 S. W. 458, 19 Ky. L. Rep. 1462, 53 L. R. A. 149; Brady v. State, 83 Tenn. 628; Gulf, etc., R. Co. v. Dyer, 43 Tex. Civ. App. 93, 95 S. W. 12; International, etc., R. Co. v. Lister, (Tex. Civ. App. 1902) 72 S. W. 107.

The statutory requirement does not apply to cases where the company has regularly dispensed with the sale of any tickets whatever at a particular station for particular trains, and passengers boarding such trains are charged only the regular ticket rate of fare. Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Com., 102 Ky. 300, 43 S. W. 458, 19 Ky. L. Rep. 1462, 53 L. R. A. 149; Brady v. State, 83 Tenn. 628.

76. Railroad Com'rs v. Portland, etc., R. Co., 63 Me. 269, 18 Am. Rep. 208; State v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 12 S. D. 305, 81 N. W. 503, 47 L. R. A. 569.

77. People v. Delaware, etc., Canal Co., 32 N. Y. App. Div. 120, 52 N. Y. Suppl. 850 [affirmed in 165 N. Y. 362, 59 N. E. 158].

78. State v. Minneapolis, etc., R. Co., 76 Minn. 469, 79 N. W. 510, holding that an order of the railroad commissioners for the building of a passenger station at an unincorporated village of only one hundred inhabitants, in a strictly rural section, and within seven tenths of a mile of a regular freight and passenger station, is unreasonable and will not be enforced.

79. General duties as common carrier as to facilities for shipment of goods see CARRIERS, 6 Cyc. 372.

80. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Suffern, 129 Ill. 274, 21 N. E. 824 [affirming 27 Ill. App. 402]; Hoyt v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 93 Ill. 601; Bartlett v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 96 Wis. 335, 71 N. W. 598.

81. Hoyt v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 93 Ill. 601 (holding, however, that one railroad company cannot be required to deliver consignments of grain at an elevator or warehouse which can be reached only by running cars over the side-track of another company which it has no right to use); Bartlett v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 96 Wis. 335, 71 N. W. 598 (holding that under a statute which provides that the warehouseman shall construct the track at his own expense a railroad company will not be required to operate cars upon a side-track connecting with a warehouse, in the absence of any showing as to who constructed or owned the track).

82. Stetler v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 49 Wis. 609, 6 N. W. 303, holding that under a statute requiring railroad companies to deliver consignments of "grain" to any consignee, elevator, or warehouse which can be reached by a track which it has the right to use, the company cannot be required to run cars over a spur-track owned by another person, for the purpose of delivering any other kind of merchandise.

83. Stetler v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 49 Wis. 609, 6 N. W. 303.

84. State v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 36 Minn. 402, 31 N. W. 365, holding that such a statute is unconstitutional, either as taking the private property of the railroad company for a private use, or for a public use without condemnation proceedings and due compensation being made to the owner.

85. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. State, 50 Nebr.

previously have voluntarily granted such a privilege to some other individual, and the statutes prohibit any unjust discrimination.[86] A statute requiring railroad companies to build sidings and spur-tracks sufficient to handle the business tendered to such railroads does not require the building of switches and spur-tracks away from their lines to accommodate individual interests.[87] Where a statute authorizes individuals to attach cars to the motive power of a state railroad, the right may be denied by the commissioners in charge of the road as to any car which has been condemned as unfit for service.[88]

c. Train Service. The legislature has the right, under the police power of the state, to make all reasonable and necessary regulations to secure the furnishing of an adequate train service at points within the state,[89] although such regulations may incidentally affect and to some extent interfere with interstate traffic;[90] but if all local conditions are adequately met, railroad companies have a legal right to adopt special provisions for through traffic, and legislative interference therewith is unreasonable and an infringement of the constitutional requirements that commerce between states shall be free and unobstructed;[91] and where the regulation of railroads is put in the hands of railroad commissioners, the enforcement by the court of their orders relative to the train service to be furnished should be governed by these principles.[92] There are statutes in a number of the 399, 69 N. W. 955; Missouri Pac. R. Co. v. Nebraska, 164 U. S. 403, 17 S. Ct. 130, 41 L. ed. 489 [reversing 29 Nebr. 550, 45 N. W. 785].

86. Missouri Pac. R. Co. v. Nebraska, 164 U. S. 403, 17 S. Ct. 130, 41 L. ed. 489 [reversing 29 Nebr. 550, 45 N. W. 785].

87. Railroad Commission v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 35 Tex. Civ. App. 52, 80 S. W. 102, 98 Tex. 67, 80 S. W. 1141, holding that the statute applies only to business which comes to the railroad from the public for transportation and that the railroad commissioners have no authority under the statute to order the construction of a spur-track away from the main line for the use of a lumber company.

88. Miller v. Canal Com'rs, 21 Pa. St. 23.

89. Lake Shore, etc., R. Co. v. Ohio, 173 U. S. 285, 19 S. Ct. 465, 43 L. ed. 702 [affirming 8 Ohio Cir. Ct. 220, 4 Ohio Cir. Dec. 406] (holding that the Ohio statute requiring railroad companies to stop three passenger trains daily in each direction if so many are run at all towns of over three thousand inhabitants is constitutional); Gladson v. Minnesota, 166 U. S. 427, 17 S. Ct. 627, 41 L. ed. 1064 [affirming 57 Minn. 385, 59 N. W. 487, 24 L. R. A. 502; and distinguishing Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Illinois, 163 U. S. 142, 16 S. Ct. 1096, 41 L. ed. 107] (holding that the Minnesota statute which requires all regular passenger trains to stop at all county-seat towns, but which expressly excepts through trains entering the state from other states and all transcontinental trains, is constitutional).

Length of time of stoppage.—A statute requiring that the stops of passenger trains at all stations shall be not less than five minutes is a valid police regulation. Davidson v. State, 4 Tex. App. 545, 30 Am. Rep. 166.

The legislature may require the construction of a station house at a particular point on the road and the stoppage of trains at such point, particularly where the power to alter or amend the charter of the company is expressly reserved. Com. v. Eastern R. Co., 103 Mass. 254, 4 Am. Rep. 555.

Separate trains for freight and passengers.—Under a statute requiring all railroad companies to furnish sufficient accommodations for transportation, an order of railroad commissioners requiring a railroad company to operate separate trains for freight and passengers is prima facie reasonable and valid, and will be enforced in the absence of any affirmative showing by the company that it is unreasonable. State v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 76 Kan. 467, 92 Pac. 606.

90. Lake Shore, etc., R. Co. v. Ohio, 173 U. S. 285, 19 S. Ct. 564, 43 L. ed. 703 [affirming 8 Ohio Cir. Ct. 220, 4 Ohio Cir. Dec. 406]; Gladson v. Minnesota, 166 U. S. 427, 17 S. Ct. 627, 41 L. ed. 1064 [affirming 57 Minn. 385, 59 N. W. 487, 24 L. R. A. 502].

91. Cleveland, etc., R. Co. v. Illinois, 177 U. S. 114, 20 S. Ct. 722, 44 L. ed. 868 [reversing 175 Ill. 359, 51 N. E. 842]; Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Illinois, 163 U. S. 142, 16 S. Ct. 1096, 41 L. ed. 107 [reversing 143 Ill. 434, 33 N. E. 173, 19 L. R. A. 119, and overruling Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. People, 105 Ill. 657] (holding that the Illinois statute requiring all regular passenger trains to stop at all county-seat towns, regardless of local conditions and the number of trains stopping at such stations and the character of the traffic carried, is unconstitutional).

92. Railroad Com'rs v. Atlantic Coast Line R. Co., 74 S. C. 80, 54 S. E. 224 (holding that on an application for mandamus to compel the stoppage of certain through trains, upon a finding by the railroad commissioners that the local service was inadequate, the order should be in the alternative, requiring the company either to stop such trains or to provide an additional local service); Railroad Com'rs v. Atlantic Coast Line R. Co., 71 S. C. 130, 50 S. E. 641 (holding that where the states requiring that railroad companies shall run at least one train daily in each direction;[93] that a certain number of trains per day in each direction shall be stopped at all towns of over a certain population;[94] that companies operating entirely within the state shall stop all regular passenger trains at all county-seat towns;[95] that stops of passenger trains at stations shall be of a certain length;[96] that, upon the written application of a certain number of citizens of an incorporated town, a railroad company shall stop all of its trains at such place if the municipal authorities will provide and tender the amount necessary for constructing a switch or track at the place of stoppage;[97] and that where two railroad companies use the same line they shall provide reasonable and proper facilities, and that any contracts between them to the contrary shall be void.[98]

d. Connections and Facilities For Transfers.[99] A constitutional or statutory provision merely authorizing one railroad to connect with other roads is not mandatory but permissive,[1] and need not, in the absence of express limitation, be exercised within any particular time,[2] and a connection once made under such authority may, in the absence of agreement to the contrary, be discontinued without the consent of the other company.[3] So also a provision authorizing one company to connect with other railroads does not confer any right to run its cars over such roads,[4] or any right to a business connection for the purpose of through traffic;[5] and a statutory right on the part of one company to connect with the road of another will not prevent the latter from changing the gauge of its road, at least where the power to do so is granted and accepted before the first comrailroad commissioners have duly ascertained that the train service at a certain point is inadequate, an order for the stoppage of additional trains at such points will be enforced by mandamus); Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Mississippi R. Commission, 138 Fed. 327 [affirmed in 203 U. S. 335, 27 S. Ct. 90, 51 L. ed. 209] (holding that an order of railroad commissioners requiring certain through trains engaged in interstate traffic to stop at a particular station in addition to the local trains already provided is invalid and will not be enforced, and that while the state has a right to demand an adequate train service the right should be exercised by requiring additional local trains and not by interference with interstate traffic).

93. Com. v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 120 Ky. 91, 85 S. W. 712, 27 Ky. L. Rep. 497, holding that the running of a through train which does not stop at way stations is not a compliance with the statute. Compare Com. v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 66 S. W. 753, 23 Ky. L. Rep. 1986.

94. Lake Shore, etc., R. Co. v. Ohio, 173 U. S. 285, 19 S. Ct. 465, 43 L. ed. 702 [affirming 8 Ohio Cir. Ct. 220, 4 Ohio Cir. Dec. 406], Ohio statute requiring the stoppage of three trains per day in each direction if so many are run at all towns of over three thousand inhabitants.

95. Gladson v. Minnesota, 166 U. S. 427, 17 S. Ct. 627, 41 L. ed. 1064 [affirming 57 Minn. 385, 59 N. W. 487, 24 L. R. A. 502].

96. Davidson v. State, 4 Tex. App. 545, 30 Am. Rep. 166, statute requiring passenger trains to stop not less than five minutes at all stations.

97. St. Louis, etc., R Co. v. Crandell, 75 Ark. 89, 86 S. W. 855, 112 Am. St. Rep. 42; St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. B'Shears, 59 Ark. 237, 27 S. W. 2, holding, however, that the railroad company cannot be compelled to comply with the statute until there has been a compliance with its conditions on the part of the municipal authorities.

98. Com. v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 120 Ky. 91, 85 S. W. 712, 27 Ky. L. Rep. 497.

99. Connections of tracks see supra, IV, C, 2.

Connecting carriers see, generally, CARRIERS, 6 Cyc. 478.

Transfer of passengers to another train or line see CARRIERS, 6 Cyc. 584.

1. Richmond v. Dubuque, etc., R. Co., 33 Iowa 422; Androscoggin, etc., R. Co. v. Androscoggin, etc., R. Co., 52 Me. 417.

2. Atlantic, etc., R. Co. v. St. Louis, 66 Mo. 228, holding that, under a statute enacted in 1864, authorizing several railroad companies to connect their lines, and not providing any time for the acceptance of the act, its acceptance by a connection made in 1873 was in time.

3. Androscoggin, etc., R. Co. v. Androscoggin, etc., R. Co., 52 Me. 417; Boston, etc., R. Corp. v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 5 Cush. (Mass.) 375.

4. Pennsylvania R. Co. v. Canal Com'rs, 21 Pa. St. 9.

But if the charter of a railroad company provides that other companies shall have a right to run their cars over such road, the company must permit connections for this purpose, and the charter provision is sufficient authority for other railroad companies to make such connections. Union R. Co. v. Canton R. Co., 105 Md. 12, 65 Atl. 409.

5. Atchison, etc., R. Co. v. Denver, etc., R. Co., 110 U. S. 667, 4 S. Ct. 185, 28 L. ed. 291 [reversing 15 Fed. 650, 13 Fed. 546, 4 McCrary 325].

pany has elected to make the connection.[6] In some cases the statutes provide that one railroad company may operate cars over another road with which it connects with the permission of that road,[7] or expressly prohibit such operation over the connecting road except by consent of that road.[8] There are also provisions which expressly empower railroads to connect with others and require the latter to permit such connection,[9] and provide for an interchange of traffic,[10] or provide that each of two connecting railroad companies shall draw over its road the passengers, freight, or cars of the other,[11] and that the company shall construct such switches, side-tracks, and connections as may be necessary for a transfer of cars,[12] the statutes usually providing for a determination by commissioners of matters in regard to such connections as to which the companies are unable to agree.[13] In other jurisdictions the railroad commissioners may require

6. Androscoggin, etc., R. Co. v. Androscoggin, etc., R. Co., 52 Me. 417.

7. Pennsylvania R. Co. v. Canal Com'rs, 21 Pa. St. 9.

8. Fitchburg R. Co. v. Gage, 12 Gray (Mass.) 393.

9. Portland, etc., R. Co. v. Grand Trunk R. Co., 46 Me. 69; New York, etc., R. Co. v. Erie R. Co., 31 N. Y. App. Div. 378, 52 N. Y. Suppl. 318.

The roads need not actually intersect each other in order to come within the application of the New York statute; but it is sufficient if they are contiguous or so near to each other that the public interests require facilities for an interchange of cars, freight, and passengers. New York, etc., R. Co. v. Erie R. Co., 31 N. Y. App. Div. 378, 52 N. Y. Suppl. 318; Gallagher v. Keating, 27 Misc. (N. Y.) 131, 58 N. Y. Suppl. 366 [affirmed in 40 N. Y. App. Div. 81, 57 N. Y. Suppl. 632, 1123].

Steam railroads and electric or street railroads.— The New York statute which expressly refers to "every railroad corporation" applies to the intersection and connection of steam railroads with electric or street surface railroads. Stillwater, etc., R. Co. v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 171 N. Y. 589, 64 N. E. 511 [reversing 72 N. Y. App. Div. 294, 76 N. Y. Suppl. 69].

A right to connect "only on the easterly side" of another railroad would be lost by constructing the railroad so authorized across the other road, but the mere authority to so construct it will not, until exercised, affect the right to a connection on the easterly side. Portland, etc., R. Co. v. Grand Trunk R. Co., 46 Me. 69.

Necessity for agreement or condemnation. — Under a statute authorizing connections between different railroads and providing that, in case of disagreement as to the place and manner of making the connection, the question shall be determined by commissioners, one railroad company cannot enter upon the right of way of another for the purpose of connecting therewith, without previous agreement or condemnation proceedings. Richmond, etc., R. Co. v. Durham, etc., R. Co., 104 N. C. 658, 10 S. E. 659.

In Canada the board of railroad commissioners may permit one company to make a connection with the line of another company against the consent of the latter. Niagara, etc., R. Co. v. Grand Trunk R. Co., 3 Can. R. Cas. 256.

10. Hudson Valley R. Co. v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 106 N. Y. App. Div. 375, 94 N. Y. Suppl. 545 [affirming 45 Misc. 520, 92 N. Y. Suppl. 928]; New York, etc., R. Co. v. Erie R. Co., 31 N. Y. App. Div. 378, 52 N. Y. Suppl. 318.

But a connection should be legally made according to the provisions of the statute before any order is made by railroad commissioners requiring an interchange of traffic. Patriarche, etc., Canning Co. v. Grand Trunk R. Co., 5 Can. R. Cas. 200.

11. Florida.—Atlantic, etc., R. Co. v. State, 42 Fla. 358, 29 So. 319, 89 Am. St. Rep. 233.

Maine.— Portland, etc., R. Co. v. Grand Trunk R. Co., 46 Me. 69.

Massachusetts.— Boston, etc., R. Co. v. Nashua, etc., R. Co., 157 Mass. 258, 31 N. E. 1067; Fitchburg R. Co. v. Gage, 12 Gray 393.

New York.— Hudson Valley R. Co. v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 106 N. Y. App. Div. 375, 94 N. Y. Suppl. 545 [affirming 45 Misc. 520, 92 N. Y. Suppl. 928].

Tennessee.— Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. State, 9 Baxt. 522.

Texas.— International, etc., R. Co. v. Railroad Commission, 99 Tex. 332, 89 S. W. 961 [affirming (Civ. App. 1905) 86 S. W. 16].

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 742.

12. Atlantic, etc., R. Co. v. State, 42 Fla. 358, 29 So. 319, 89 Am. St. Rep. 233, holding that the statute is constitutional and that the requirement may be enforced by a suit in equity by the state's attorney.

13. Portland, etc., R. Co. v. Grand Trunk R. Co., 46 Me. 69; Lexington, etc., R. Co. v. Fitchburg R. Co., 14 Gray (Mass.) 266; Boston, etc., R. Corp. v. Western R. Co., 14 Gray (Mass.) 253; Jennings v. Delaware, etc., R. Co., 103 N. Y. App. Div. 164, 93 N. Y. Suppl. 374 [affirmed in 190 N. Y. 42, 83 N. E. 1126]; New York, etc., R. Co. v. Erie R. Co., 31 N. Y. App. Div. 378, 52 N. Y. Suppl. 318; Richmond, etc., R. Co. v. Durham, etc., R. Co., 104 N. C. 658, 10 S. E. 659.

In Massachusetts, St. (1869) c. 408, § 5, vesting in railroad commissioners the powers and duties of commissioners appointed by the supreme court under Gen. St. c. 63, § 117, takes away the jurisdiction of that court and all commissioners appointed by it over proceedings pending before those commissioners track connections between different roads for an interchange of cars and traffic.[14] A statutory right to form a connection with another railroad may be enforced by a suit in equity,[15] and where railroad companies are authorized to make connections for an interchange of traffic they may acquire land by purchase or condemnation for the purpose of effecting such connections.[16] A statute authorizing individuals to attach cars to the motive power of the state on a state railroad does not apply to a railroad company where such privilege is withheld by its charter,[17] and if the company cannot do so alone it cannot do so in connection with an individual.[18] A railroad company cannot be required to transfer cars delivered to it by another company from its station to another point as a switching service and at switching rates, where such point is beyond the yard limits and on the main line, and the service is performed by trains under regular despatch orders and not under the direction of the yard-master.[19] A Missouri statute requires the stoppage of all passenger trains at the junction or intersection of other railroads for a sufficient time to transfer passengers, baggage, mails, and express from one road to the other.[20]

e. Equipment of Trains. The legislature has full power and authority to enact any reasonable rules and regulations as to the equipment of trains which tend to increase the safety of operating or traveling thereon.[21] The federal statute known as the Safety Appliance Act contains a number of provisions in regard to the equipment of trains by railroad companies engaged in interstate commerce.[22] This statute prohibits the use of any car in moving interstate traffic which is not provided with couplers coupling automatically by impact and which can be uncoupled without the necessity of going between the ends of the cars,[23] or not provided with secure grab-irons or hand-holds on the ends and sides of the car,[24] and provides that the company shall be liable for a penalty of one hundred dollars for each violation,[25] and that an employee injured by cars in use contrary to the

at the time of its passage. New London Northern R. Co. v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 102 Mass. 386.

Under the Pennsylvania statute authorizing railroad companies to "connect their roads with roads of a similar character" on terms agreed on by the companies, and in case of a failure to agree, providing for the appointment of a jury to determine and fix such terms, the jury can determine only matters relating solely to the physical connection of the roads, and cannot order a transfer to the petitioning road of a part of the other company's road, station, lines, privileges, or franchises. Altoona, etc., R. Co. v. Beach Creek R. Co., 177 Pa. St. 443, 35 Atl. 734.

Exceptions in proceedings to determine matters relating to a proposed connection between two railroads which are not based upon any facts in the case are properly dismissed. In re Ohio River Junction R. Co., 219 Pa. St. 345, 68 Atl. 830.

14. International, etc., R. Co. v. Railroad Commission, 99 Tex. 332, 89 S. W. 961 [affirming (Civ. App. 1905) 86 S. W. 16], holding that the railroad commissioners may require intersecting railroads to make a track connection for an interchange of traffic, although the tracks of such roads do not cross at grade.

Under the Iowa statute providing that railroad companies having intersecting roads shall "whenever ordered by the railroad commissioners" unite and connect their tracks, the commissioners are not required to order such connection regardless of its cost, advisability, or necessity, but should do so only when they deem it best. Smith v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 86 Iowa 202, 53 N. W. 128.

15. Union R. Co. v. Canton R. Co., 105 Md. 12, 65 Atl. 409.

16. Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. State, 9 Baxt. (Tenn.) 522.

17. Pennsylvania R. Co. v. Canal Com'rs, 21 Pa. St. 9.

18. Miller v. Canal Com'rs, 21 Pa. St. 23.

19. State v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 88 Iowa 445, 55 N. W. 331.

20. State v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 105 Mo. App. 207, 79 S. W. 714, holding, however, that the statute does not require the stoppage of all trains where there are no passengers, baggage, etc., to be transferred.

21. Gause v. Lake Shore, etc., R. Co., 4 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 369, 2 Clev. L. Rep. 44.

22. U. S. v. Illinois Cent. R. Co., 156 Fed. 182.

23. Johnson v. Southern Pac. Co., 196 U. S. 1, 25 S. Ct. 158, 49 L. ed. 363; U. S. v. Colorado, etc., R. Co., 157 Fed. 321, 85 C. C. A. 27.

24. U. S. v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 157 Fed. 616; U. S. v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 156 Fed. 193; U. S. v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 143 Fed. 353.

25. Johnson v. Southern Pac. Co., 196 U. S. 1, 25 S. Ct. 158, 49 L. ed. 363; U. S. v. Colorado, etc., R. Co., 157 Fed. 321, 85 C. C. A. 27.

provisions of the act shall not be deemed to have assumed the risk thereby occasioned, although continuing in the employ of the company after notice of such condition.[26] There are also in a number of states statutes requiring the use of automatic or safety couplers,[27] prescribing certain regulations as to brakes and brakemen,[28] requiring the use of heating apparatus so constructed that the fire will be immediately extinguished when the cars are thrown from the track,[29] or prohibiting the heating of cars by means of stoves or furnaces inside the car,[30] requiring passenger trains to be supplied with pure drinking water for the use of passengers,[31] requiring that separate coaches or compartments shall be provided for white and colored passengers,[32] and providing that mixed trains shall be made up with the freight and baggage cars in front of the passenger coaches.[33] The federal Safety Appliance Act above referred to was designed to protect the lives and safety of trainmen and should be so construed as to give effect to that intention,[34] but not so as to make its requirements impracticable, unreasonable, or impossible to perform,[35] or so as to impose an absolute liability for a defect or condition due to unavoidable accident, or which at the time it was impossible for the company to avoid, discover, or repair.[36] The application of the statute 26. Mobile, etc., R. Co. v. Bromberg, 141 Ala. 258, 37 So. 395; Philadelphia, etc., R. Co. v. Winkler, 4 Pennew. (Del.) 387, 56 Atl. 112; Schlemmer v. Buffalo, etc., R. Co., 205 U. S. 1, 27 S. Ct. 407, 51 L. ed. 681; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Voelker, 129 Fed. 522, 65 C. C. A. 226, 70 L. R. A. 264.

27. Taylor v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 188 Mass. 390, 74 N. E. 591 (holding that the Massachusetts statute providing that railroad companies shall not use "in moving traffic" between places in that state a car not equipped with automatic couplers does not apply to a damaged car while being taken to a repair shop); Blanchard v. Detroit, etc., R. Co., 139 Mich. 694, 103 N. W. 170 (holding that the Michigan statute requiring railroad companies to provide "upon each end of every freight car" safety couplers that can be operated without going between the cars does not apply to the couplers on the tenders of locomotives); Thompson v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 51 Nebr. 527, 71 N. W. 61 (holding that the Nebraska statute of 1891, requiring the use of automatic couplers, prohibited the putting in use of any new car not so equipped after the passage of the act, but permitted the continued use of old cars not so equipped until Jan. 1, 1895); Cleveland, etc., R. Co. v. Somers, 24 Ohio Cir. Ct. 67 (holding that the Ohio statute requiring automatic couplers does not apply to electric cars or to a railroad in process of construction and cars in use for that purpose).

28. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Maloney, 77 Ill. App. 191 (holding that the Illinois statute requiring a brake and brakeman upon the rear car of a freight train, unless the brakes are effectually operated by power applied from the locomotive, applies only to trains running from one place or station to another and not to cars being shifted about the yard in making up a train although such cars may be loaded); Mew v. Charleston, etc., R. Co., 55 S. C. 90, 32 S. E. 828 (holding that the South Carolina statute requiring a good and sufficient brake to be attached "to every car used for the transportation of freight except four-wheeled freight cars used only for that purpose," applies to eight-wheeled gondola cars used for hauling gravel and flat cars used for hauling lumber); State v. International, etc., R. Co., 29 Tex. Civ. App. 149, 68 S. W. 534 (holding that the Texas statute requiring a brake and brakeman "upon the hindmost car of all trains transporting passengers and merchandise" applies only to trains carrying both and not to trains carrying passengers only).

29. Gause v. Lake Shore, etc., R. Co., 4 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 369, 2 Clev. L. Rep. 44, holding that to render the company liable for the penalty imposed, it is not necessary that the car should have been actually overturned without the apparatus provided extinguishing the fire.

30. People v. Clark, 14 N. Y. Suppl. 642, 8 N. Y. Cr. 169, 179.

31. Southern R. Co. v. State, 125 Ga. 287, 54 S. E. 160, 114 Am. St. Rep. 203.

32. Com. v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 87 S. W. 262, 27 Ky. L. Rep. 932; Southern Kansas R. Co. v. State, 44 Tex. Civ. App. 218, 99 S. W. 166.

Application of statute.— Under a statute requiring separate coaches or compartments for white and colored passengers, if a train is carrying passengers it must be so equipped whether the particular train is carrying any colored passengers or not, and a press of business does not excuse the company from complying with the statute. Southern Kansas R. Co. v. State, 44 Tex. Civ. App. 218, 99 S. W. 166.

33. See Arkansas Midland R. Co. v. Canman, 52 Ark. 517, 13 S. W. 280.

34. U. S. v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 156 Fed. 180; U. S. v. Atlantic Coast Line R. Co., 153 Fed. 918; U. S. v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 149 Fed. 486.

35. Missouri Pac. R. Co. v. Brinkmeier, 77 Kan. 14, 93 Pac. 621.

36. U. S. v. Illinois Cent. R. Co., 156 Fed 182.

depends upon the fact of engaging in interstate commerce,[37] and extends to all cars except the four-wheeled and logging cars which are expressly excepted.[38] It applies to a locomotive,[39] and its tender,[40] to a steam shovel car,[41] to both ends of the car,[42] to cars in use in carrying interstate traffic, although at the time being hauled empty,[43] and even though they are on their way to a repair shop,[44] or being transferred by a terminal company from one road to another,[45] to a car loaded with materials or property belonging to the railroad company for which it receives no compensation for transportation,[46] to a car left during the course of a trip at a station by one train to be picked up by another,[47] to cars not at the time of the injury actually carrying interstate traffic but being made up for that purpose,[48] and under the statute as amended in 1903 to all cars used on any railroad engaged in interstate traffic, whether the particular car is for local or interstate use.[49] The provision that it shall not be necessary to go between the cars applies to the act

37. U. S. v. Colorado, etc., R. Co., 157 Fed. 321, 85 C. C. A. 27.

What constitutes engaging in interstate commerce.— A railroad company operating a railroad entirely within a single state and transporting thereon articles of commerce shipped in continuous passages from places without the state to stations on its road or vice versa, although free from any connection, control, management, or arrangement with another carrier for a continuous carriage or shipment, is engaged in interstate commerce and within the application of the statute, and no rebilling practised by the railroad company, without any new consents or contracts with the owners, can destroy or affect the interstate character of the shipments or of the transportation. U. S. v. Colorado, etc., R. Co., 157 Fed. 321, 85 C. C. A. 27. A car loaded with freight to be delivered in another state is used in moving interstate traffic by the company hauling it although such company only undertakes to deliver it to a connecting carrier within the same state. U. S. v. Southern R. Co., 135 Fed. 122. But see U. S. v. Geddes, 131 Fed. 452, 65 C. C. A. 320, holding that a narrow gauge road operating entirely within one state is not engaged in hauling interstate commerce because it receives and delivers freight from and to another road operating both within and without the state, where there is no exchange or common use of cars and no through bills of lading are issued by either road or any through rate fixed but each road charges and collects its local freight rate.

38. Schlemmer v. Buffalo, etc., R. Co., 205 U. S. 1, 27 S. Ct. 407, 51 L. ed. 681; U. S. v. Georgia Cent. R. Co., 157 Fed. 893.

This exception need not be negatived in the complaint in an action based upon the statute for personal injuries or to recover the penalty, and the burden rests upon defendant to bring itself within the proviso. Schlemmer v. Buffalo, etc., R. Co., 205 U. S. 1, 27 S. Ct. 407, 51 L. ed. 681; U. S. v. Atlantic Coast Line R. Co., 153 Fed. 918.

39. Johnson v. Southern Pac. Co., 196 U. S. 1, 25 S. Ct. 158, 49 L. ed. 363 [reversing 117 Fed. 462, 54 C. C. A. 508].

40. Philadelphia, etc., R. Co. v. Winkler, 4 Pennew. (Del.) 387, 56 Atl. 112.

41. Schlemmer v. Buffalo, etc., R. Co., 205 U. S. 1, 27 S. Ct. 407, 51 L. ed. 681.

42. U. S. v. Georgia Cent. R. Co., 157 Fed. 893.

43. Johnson v. Southern Pac. Co., 196 U. S. 1, 25 S. Ct. 158, 49 L. ed. 363 [reversing 117 Fed. 462, 54 C. C. A. 508]; U. S. v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 157 Fed. 616; U. S. v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 154 Fed. 516; U. S. v. Great Northern R. Co., 145 Fed. 438; Voelker v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 116 Fed. 867 [reversed on other grounds in 129 Fed. 522, 65 C. C. A. 226, 70 L. R. A. 264].

44. U. S. v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 157 Fed. 616 (where the cars were being hauled from one state to a repair shop in another state); U. S. v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 154 Fed. 516 (where there was a repair shop at the place from which the cars were being taken).

45. U. S. v. Northern Pac. Terminal Co., 144 Fed. 861.

46. U. S. v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 149 Fed. 486.

47. Johnson v. Southern Pac. Co., 196 U. S. 1, 25 S. Ct. 158, 49 L. ed. 363 [reversing 117 Fed. 462, 54 C. C. A. 508].

48. Mobile, etc., R. Co. v. Bromberg, 141 Ala. 258, 37 So. 395.

But the statute does not apply in such cases in the absence of proof that the cars or locomotives were used in interstate commerce. Rosney v. Erie R. Co., 135 Fed. 311, 68 C. C. A. 155.

49. U. S. v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 149 Fed. 486.

The act of 1903 provides that it shall "apply to all trains, locomotives, tenders, cars, and similar vehicles used on any railroad engaged in interstate commerce . . . and to all other locomotives, tenders, and cars, and similar vehicles used in connection therewith;" and in a recent case the court expressed some uncertainty as to whether the phrase "engaged in interstate commerce" referred to the word "railroad" or only to the words "trains, locomotives, etc.," but held that the car in question was within the application of the statute both because it was one ordinarily used in interstate traffic, although at the time being hauled empty, and also because it was attached to a locomotive used in interstate commerce, and therefore being of coupling as well as uncoupling,[50] and to the act of preparing the clutch for the impact by which it is operated.[51] It is also the duty of a railroad company under the statute not only to equip its cars with the appliances required, but thereafter to keep them in proper order and repair so that they can be operated according to the requirements of the act,[52] and to inspect cars delivered to it by other connecting railroads and refuse to transport them if not properly equipped.[53] As to the nature and extent of the liability for using cars on which the appliances have become defective or out of repair the authorities are not entirely uniform. It has been held that knowledge on the part of the company of such defect or condition is not a necessary element of the offense,[54] and some of the cases seem to lay down the rule of liability regardless of the care exercised by the company in regard to discovering and repairing such defects,[55] or at least to impose a very high degree of care and diligence;[56] but other cases, while admitting that a literal construction of the statute would impose an absolute liability,[57] expressly deny that the company is absolutely liable or an insurer of the proper condition of the appliances;[58] and it has been held that if the car has been properly equipped used "in connection therewith." U. S. v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 157 Fed. 616.

50. Southern R. Co. v. Simmons, 105 Va. 651, 55 S. E. 459; Johnson v. Southern Pac. R. Co., 196 U. S. 1, 25 S. Ct. 158, 49 L. ed. 363 [reversing 117 Fed. 462, 54 C. C. A. 508]; U. S. v. Georgia Cent. R. Co., 157 Fed. 893; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Voelker, 129 Fed. 522, 65 C. C. A. 226, 70 L. R. A. 264.

51. Southern R. Co. v. Simmons, 105 Va. 651, 55 S. E. 459; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Voelker, 129 Fed. 522, 65 C. C. A. 226, 70 L. R. A. 264.

52. U. S. v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 156 Fed. 193; U. S. v. Southern Pac. R. Co., 154 Fed. 897; U. S. v. Great Northern R. Co., 150 Fed. 229; U. S. v. Southern R. Co., 135 Fed. 122.

Time and place for repairs.—If a defect occurs during the progress of a trip and it is of such character that it can be repaired at any stage in the journey without serious inconvenience or delay, it should be repaired before the car is moved any further upon its journey (U. S. v. Southern Pac. R. Co., 154 Fed. 897); and if it occurs between stations where there are repair shops and is such that it cannot be repaired without taking the car to such a place, the company, while not liable until there is an opportunity to repair, cannot take the car by one repair shop to another at a more distant place (U. S. v. Southern Pac. R. Co., supra; U. S. v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 149 Fed. 486); but where a defect in the coupling of a loaded car was discovered by defendant, but could not be repaired where the car was without blocking the entire business of the yards, and the place of business of the consignee of the contents of the car was only a short distance away and nearer than the repair track, and the company took the car to the consignee and had it unloaded before taking it to the repair track, it was held that it had adopted the most practicable course and was not guilty of a violation of the statute (U. S. v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 156 Fed. 195).

53. U. S. v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 149 Fed. 486.

54. U. S. v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 156 Fed. 180; U. S. v. Southern Pac. R. Co., 154 Fed. 897; U. S. v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 149 Fed. 486.

55. U. S. v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 156 Fed. 180; U. S. v. Atlantic Coast Line R. Co., 153 Fed. 918; U. S. v. Southern R. Co., 135 Fed. 122.

It is no defense in an action for the penalty where it is shown that defendant hauled over its road a car on which the safety coupler was broken and could not be uncoupled without going between the ends of the cars, for the company to show that it exercised reasonable care in keeping the couplers in repair. U. S. v. Southern R. Co., 135 Fed. 122.

56. U. S. v. Indiana Harbor R. Co., 157 Fed. 565; U. S. v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 156 Fed. 193.

If diligence can be recognized as a defense it must be the highest form of care and diligence. U. S. v. Indiana Harbor R. Co., 157 Fed. 565.

57. See U. S. v. Illinois Cent. R. Co., 156 Fed. 182.

58. Missouri Pac. R. Co. v. Brinkmeier, 77 Kan. 14, 93 Pac. 621; U. S. v. Illinois Cent. R. Co., 156 Fed. 182; U. S. v. Atchison, etc., R. Co., 150 Fed. 442.

The company is not liable where its inspectors failed on the first inspection of a car before delivering it to a connecting line to discover that the chain attached to a lever by which the coupler was operated was broken and the company moved the car to a transfer track, but on a second inspection on the following day discovered and repaired the defect before delivering the car to the other line. U. S. v. Atchison, etc., R. Co., 150 Fed. 442.

If a car is started in proper condition on an interstate journey and the appliances become defective during that journey, the company should not be held liable unless by the use of the utmost degree of diligence which would be used by a highly prudent person under the circumstances it could have discovered and repaired the defect. U. S. v. Illinois Cent. R. Co., 156 Fed. 182.

the company will not be liable for a defective condition subsequently occurring if it has exercised reasonable and ordinary care in regard to discovering and repairing such defects.[59] The statute is violated, although cars are provided with automatic couplers, if they are of different types so that they will not work automatically together,[60] or if the couplers, by reason of their defective condition or other cause, cannot be operated in the usual manner without going between the cars.[61]

f. Employees. In some jurisdictions there are statutes requiring that certain employees of railroad companies shall pass a physical examination for color blindness or other defect of vision,[62] or regulating the number or location of brakemen on the trains.[63]

4. Movement of Trains and Precautions — a. Time-Tables or Registers. In some jurisdictions there are statutes requiring railroad companies to maintain blackboards at stations and register thereon a certain time before the schedule time for the arrival of trains, whether such trains are late or on time and if late how much.[64] The statutes apply only to stations where there is a telegraph office,[65] and do not require the establishment of a telegraph office at a

59. Missouri Pac. R. Co. v. Brinkmeier, 77 Kan. 14, 93 Pac. 621.

60. Johnson v. Southern Pac. R. Co., 196 U. S. 1, 25 S. Ct. 158, 49 L. ed. 363 [reversing 117 Fed. 462, 54 C. C. A. 508].

61. Philadelphia, etc., R. Co. v. Winkler, 4 Pennew. (Del.) 387, 56 Atl. 112; U. S. v. Great Northern R. Co., 150 Fed. 229; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Voelker, 129 Fed. 522, 65 C. C. A. 226, 70 L. R. A. 264.

Chain disconnected.— Although the coupler is in perfect condition if the chain by which it is operated is not connected with the coupler so that the cars may be uncoupled without going between them, the company will be liable. U. S. v. Great Northern R. Co., 150 Fed. 229.

62. Nashville, etc., R. Co. v. State, 83 Ala. 71, 3 So. 702, holding that the requirement is constitutional and valid, and that, while it cannot regulate the making of contracts with employees in another state, it does apply to the employment of persons in the state under contracts made elsewhere.

The fee for examination under the Alabama statute is three dollars for each examination, and is "at the expense of the railroad companies," and the refusal of the company to pay does not relieve the physician accepting the appointment as examiner from the duty of examining and certifying as to the qualifications of applicants who come properly before him and he may be compelled by mandamus to do so. Baldwin v. Kouns, 81 Ala. 272, 2 So. 638.

63. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Maloney, 77 Ill. App. 191 (holding that the Illinois statute requiring a brakeman on the rear car of a freight train does not apply to cars being shifted about the yard in making up the train); Joyner v. South Carolina R. Co., 26 S. C. 49, 1 S. E. 52 (holding that the South Carolina statute on the subject of brakemen which applies in terms to passenger trains and freight trains considered separately, requiring on passenger trains one brakeman to every two cars and on freight trains one upon the rear car of the train, is not applicable to a mixed train); State v. International, etc., R. Co., 29 Tex. Civ. App. 149, 68 S. W. 534 (holding that the Texas statute requiring a brakeman on the rear car of "all trains transporting passengers and merchandise" does not apply to trains carrying passengers only).

A city ordinance prohibiting the movement of freight trains within the city limits unless manned with experienced brakemen "so stationed as to see the danger signals and hear the signals from the engine" contemplates that they shall be so stationed as not only to see and hear the danger signals but be able to give them to those whose duty it is to receive and obey them. Harper v. St. Louis Merchants' Bridge Terminal R. Co., 187 Mo. 575, 86 S. W. 99, holding, however, that the ordinance is complied with, although the brakeman was not on top of the car but was clinging to the side of the car if his duties could be as effectually performed in this manner.

64. Pennsylvania R. Co. v. State, 142 Ind. 428, 41 N. E. 937; State v. Indiana, etc., R. Co., 133 Ind. 69, 32 N. E. 817, 18 L. R. A. 502; State v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co., 8 Ohio Cir. Ct. 604, 4 Ohio Cir. Dec. 372.

The Indiana statute as amended in 1897 provides that any other device which may give the information required in more legible form than is practicable on a blackboard may be substituted therefor, and that the requirement as to registering the time of trains shall not apply to freight trains, mixed trains, or to stations during hours where the company does not regularly have a telegraph operator on duty. Southern R. Co. v. State, (Ind. App. 1904) 72 N. E. 174.

The requirement does not apply to a company operating a mere suburban line where the whole trip from one terminal to the other is made in a shorter period than that during which the notice is required to be posted. State v. Kentucky, etc., Bridge Co., 136 Ind. 195, 35 N. E. 991.

65. State v. Indiana, etc., R. Co., 133 Ind. 69, 32 N. E. 817, 18 L. R. A. 502; State v.

station where there is none or prevent the abandonment of one already established.[66]

b. Signals and Lookouts.[67] There are in many jurisdictions statutes requiring railroad companies to give signals by means of a bell or whistle on approaching public crossings,[68] and continuously thereafter,[69] or at intervals until the crossing is reached or passed,[70] or requiring the giving of such a signal on approaching a station,[71] or before starting a train is within a certain distance from a crossing,[72]

Cleveland, etc., R. Co., 8 Ohio Cir. Ct. 604, 4 Ohio Cir. Dec. 372.

66. Terre Haute, etc., R. Co. v. State, 13 Ind. App. 529, 41 N. E. 952.

67. Construction and effect: As to persons at crossings see infra, X, F, 7. As to persons on track in general see infra, X, E, 2, a, (VIII). As to injuries to animals see infra, X, H, 7, a, b.

68. See the following cases:

Arkansas.— St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Hendricks, 53 Ark. 201, 13 S. W. 699.

Connecticut.— Bates v. New York, etc., R. Co., 60 Conn. 259, 22 Atl. 538.

Illinois.— Mobile, etc., R. Co. v. Davis, 130 Ill. 146, 22 N. E. 850.

Indiana.— Cincinnati, etc., R. Co. v. Hiltzhauer, 99 Ind. 486.

Minnesota.— Palmer v. St. Paul, etc., R. Co., 38 Minn. 415, 38 N. W. 100.

Missouri.— Spiller v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 112 Mo. App. 491, 87 S. W. 43.

Ohio.— Toledo, etc., R. Co. v. Jump, 50 Ohio St. 651, 35 N. E. 1054.

South Carolina.— Brown v. Southern R. Co., 68 S. C. 260, 43 S. E. 794.

Texas.— Houston, etc., R. Co. v. O'Neal, 91 Tex. 671, 47 S. W. 95 [reversing (Civ. App. 1898) 45 S. W. 921].

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," §§ 747, 755.

In Georgia the road crossing referred to in Civ. Code (1895), § 2222, requiring posts to be erected near crossings and a whistle sounded by the engineer on reaching such posts, is the crossing by a railroad of a public highway not only used but maintained as such by proper authorities having the same in charge. Atlantic Coast Line R. Co. v. Bunn, 2 Ga. App. 305, 58 S. E. 538.

The Kentucky statute of 1903 requiring signals at crossings outside of incorporated cities and towns applies to a crossing just within the limits of an incorporated town but which is outside of the settled portion thereof and is in effect a country crossing. Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Molloy, 91 S. W. 685, 28 Ky. L. Rep. 1113.

In New York the statute of 1854 imposed upon railroad companies the duty of giving a signal by bell or whistle eighty rods from a public crossing and also made the engineer who should omit the required signal guilty of a misdemeanor. The statute, in so far as it imposed the duty upon the company, was repealed by the act of 1886, but the provision as to the criminal liability of an engineer is retained in the penal code. Lewis v. New York, etc., R. Co., 123 N. Y. 496, 26 N. E. 357; Petrie v. New York Cent., etc., R. Co., 66 Hun 282, 21 N. Y. Suppl. 159.

A "traveled place," within the application of the South Carolina statute requiring signals to be given by railroad companies at such places, includes a road crossing a railroad track which has been used by the public for twenty years. Kirby v. Southern R. Co., 63 S. C. 494, 41 S. E. 765; Strother v. South Carolina, etc., R. Co., 47 S. C. 375, 25 S. E. 272.

Effect of statute upon common-law duty.— A statute requiring a signal to be given at least sixty rods before the crossing is reached does not abrogate the common-law duty of giving such a signal at a greater distance if by reason of the speed of the train or the character of the crossing reasonable caution demands it. Kinyon v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 118 Iowa 349, 92 N. W. 40, 96 Am. St. Rep. 382.

69. Baltimore, etc., R. Co. v. Wheeler, 63 Ill. App. 193; Houston, etc., R. Co. v. O'Neal, 91 Tex. 671, 47 S. W. 95; Galveston, etc., R. Co. v. Duelm, (Tex. Civ. App. 1893) 23 S. W. 596.

Kicking cars across highways.—A statute requiring the bell or whistle to be sounded continuously for eighty rods before a public highway is reached applies to cases where cars are kicked by an engine across a public highway. Baltimore, etc., R. Co. v. Wheeler, 63 Ill. App. 193.

70. Bates v. New York, etc., R. Co., 60 Conn. 259, 22 Atl. 538; Kirkpatrick v. Missouri, etc., R. Co., 71 Mo. App. 263.

71. Ensley R. Co. v. Chewning, 93 Ala. 24, 9 So. 458; Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Davis, 104 Tenn. 442, 58 S. W. 296; Webb v. East Tennessee, etc., R. Co., 88 Tenn. 119, 12 S. W. 428.

Construction of Tennessee statute.— The Tennessee statute requiring that on approaching a town or city the bell or whistle of an engine shall be sounded when the train is at a distance of one mile therefrom and at short intervals until reaching the depot applies only to incorporated municipalities (Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Collier, 104 Tenn. 189, 54 S. W. 980; Webb v. East Tennessee, etc., R. Co., 88 Tenn. 119, 12 S. W. 428); but applies to any incorporated town situated wholly or in part within the state, although the depot may be beyond the state line (Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Davis, 104 Tenn. 442, 58 S. W. 296); and the distance prescribed of one mile means that distance from the corporate limits of the town and not from the depot or station (Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Davis, supra; Webb v. East Tennessee, etc., etc., R. Co., supra).

72. Brown v. Southern R. Co., 65 S. C. 260, 43 S. E. 794; Littlejohn v. Richmond, etc., R. Co., 49 S. C. 12, 26 S. E. 967, each holding that the statute applies, although the or within a town or city,[73] or to keep a lookout for persons or obstructions upon the track,[74] and on discovery thereof to sound an alarm signal,[75] or on backing trains into a passenger depot to have them preceded by a servant on foot to give warning.[76] The municipal authorities of a town or city may also by ordinance make reasonable regulations as to the signals and lookouts upon trains operated within the city,[77] and such ordinances frequently require that the bell on a locomotive shall be rung continuously while the train is in motion within the city limits,[78] or that trains shall not be backed without a person being stationed on train when started is standing upon the crossing.

73. Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Gardner, 1 Lea (Tenn.) 688.

74. Kansas City Southern R. Co. v. Morris, 80 Ark. 528, 98 S. W. 363; Little Rock, etc., R. Co. v. McQueeney, 78 Ark. 22, 92 S. W. 1120 (holding that the statute applies to the operation of cars and engines in a railroad yard); Payne v. Illinois Cent. R. Co., 155 Fed. 73, 83 C. C. A. 589 (holding that the Tennessee statute, requiring a railroad company to keep someone always on the lookout ahead and on discovering any person or animal upon the road to sound an alarm whistle, and to employ all means to prevent an accident, does not apply where a train is being made up within depot grounds); Rogers v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 136 Fed. 573, 69 C. C. A. 321.

75. Rogers v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 136 Fed. 573, 69 C. C. A. 321, holding that under the Tennessee statute requiring an alarm signal to be sounded when any person or other obstruction appears "upon the road," a person is not upon the road within the application of the statute unless on or sufficiently near the track to be struck or injured by a passing train.

76. Yazoo, etc., R. Co. v. Metcalf, 84 Miss. 242, 36 So. 259, holding that the Mississippi statute which requires that every train or engine backing into a passenger depot "and within fifty feet thereof, shall, for at least three hundred feet before it reaches or comes opposite to such depot," be preceded by a servant on foot to give warning, was intended to afford protection to all persons within three hundred feet of a passenger depot, and the phrase "within fifty feet" thereof refers solely to the question of whether or not the track on which the train is backing goes within the stated distance of the depot.

77. Colorado.— Denver, etc., R. Co. v. Ryan, 17 Colo. 98, 28 Pac. 79, holding that ordinances requiring the ringing of the locomotive bell when approaching or crossing a public street, and the stationing of flagmen at important crossings to give warning of danger, are reasonable and valid regulations.

Illinois.— Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Gilbert, 157 Ill. 354, 41 N. E. 724, holding that under a statute authorizing city councils to "provide protection against the injury to persons, and property in the use of such railroad," the council may by ordinance require engines while passing through the city to keep their bells ringing continuously.

Kentucky.— Cincinnati, etc., R. Co. v. Com., 104 S. W. 771, 31 Ky. L. Rep. 1113, holding that the Kentucky statute authorizes all cities and towns to determine by ordinance what signals shall be given by trains running through the corporate limits, whether upon the streets or crossings.

Texas.— Missouri, etc., R. Co. v. McGlamory, (Civ. App. 1896) 34 S. W. 359, holding that where a city is authorized by its charter "to direct the use and regulate the speed of locomotive engines within the city," an ordinance requiring a bell to be rung on an engine at all times while in motion is valid.

United States.— Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Nelson, 50 Fed. 814, 1 C. C. A. 688, holding that under a charter provision empowering a city council "to direct the use and regulate the speed of locomotive engines in said city," an ordinance prohibiting the running of an engine or car without a bell attached thereto being rung before starting and all the time while in motion within the city is valid.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," §§ 747, 755.

An ordinance is unreasonable which requires that a signal shall be given by an approaching train that a street crossing is free from danger and that it must be given by "a member of the crew operating such approaching locomotive engine or train," since there is no reason why it should not be given by a gateman or other employee not engaged in operating the train. New Jersey Cent. R. Co. v. Elizabeth, 70 N. J. L. 578, 57 Atl. 404.

78. Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Whitaker, 122 Ill. App. 333 (holding that the benefit of such an ordinance extends to employees as well as to the public); Gulf, etc., R. Co. v. Melville, (Tex. Civ. App. 1905) 87 S. W. 863 (holding that an ordinance requiring a locomotive bell to be rung continuously while the train is in motion within the corporate limits applies to the yard of the railroad situated within the city limits, although dedicated by the city to the railroad company for its exclusive use and the public excluded therefrom); Galveston, etc., R. Co. v. Levy, 35 Tex. Civ. App. 107, 79 S. W. 879 (holding that the ordinance does not apply merely to street crossings but to all the places within the city); Missouri, etc., R. Co. v. McGlamory, (Tex. Civ. App. 1896) 34 S. W. 359 (holding that an ordinance requiring a bell to be rung at all times while the train is in motion applies to all portions of the city including the private switch-yard of the company situated within the city); Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Nelson, 9 Tex. Civ. App. 156, 29 S. W. 78.

the rear car to give warning of danger.[79] The statutes requiring crossing signals apply to all public highway crossings,[80] including streets;[81] but not to private crossings,[82] or places within the railroad yard where people have been accustomed to cross solely by sufferance of the company,[83] or a public crossing not at grade,[84] or to trains which are not approaching a crossing.[85] Where the statute requires a signal to be given at a certain distance before reaching a crossing, it has been held that the signal must be given, although the train starts from a point less than the distance from the crossing,[86] but not where a train is pulling away from

79. Baltimore, etc., R. Co. v. Peterson, 156 Ind. 364, 59 N. E. 1044 (holding that the ordinance applies to a private switch-yard of a railroad company situated within the city); Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co. v. McNeil, 34 Ind. App. 310, 69 N. E. 471 (holding that the ordinance applies to the case of a freight train which is cut in two at a street crossing and a portion thereof afterward pushed backward over the crossing in order to couple it with the other section).

80. Mobile, etc., R. Co. v. Davis, 130 Ill. 146, 22 N. E. 850; International, etc., R. Co. v. Dalwigh, (Tex. Civ. App. 1898) 48 S. W. 527.

Under the Kentucky statute which provides that signals shall be sounded "outside of incorporated cities or towns" at a distance of at least fifty rods from the crossing, and that the company "shall give such signals in towns and cities as the legislative authorities thereof may require," the required signal must be given within fifty rods of every crossing outside of the town or city limits, whether the engine when it arrives at the fifty-rod limit is inside or outside of the corporate limits. Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Com., 56 S. W. 409, 21 Ky. L. Rep. 1779.

Under the Georgia statute requiring railroad companies to give certain signals on approaching the crossings of public roads and private ways established pursuant to law, the words "established pursuant to law" relate only to private ways, and such signals must be given at the crossing of any road used by the public and which they have a right to use, whether established by law or acquired by dedication or prescription. Southern R. Co. v. Combs, 124 Ga. 1004, 53 S. E. 508.

81. Mobile, etc., R. Co. v. Davis, 130 Ill. 146, 22 N. E. 850; Elgin, etc., R. Co. v. Hoadley, 122 Ill. App. 165 [affirmed in 220 Ill. 462, 77 N. E. 151]. See also Russell v. Atchison, etc., R. Co., 70 Mo. App. 88; Ray v. Chesapeake, etc., R. Co., 57 W. Va. 333, 50 S. E. 413.

In Iowa the statute expressly excepts street crossings from the requirement of sounding the whistle unless required by an ordinance of the city, but the requirement that the bell shall be rung continuously until the crossing is past applies to street crossings. Golinvaux v. Burlington, etc., R. Co., 125 Iowa 652, 101 N. W. 465.

A city ordinance prohibiting the blowing of a locomotive whistle within the corporate limits cannot suspend the statutory duty of blowing the whistle on approaching crossings, and in so far as it conflicts with the statute is invalid. Curtis v. Gulf, etc., R. Co., 26 Tex. Civ. App. 304, 63 S. W. 149.

82. Georgia.— Comer v. Shaw, 98 Ga. 543, 25 S. E. 733; Georgia R. Co. v. Cox, 61 Ga. 455.

Illinois.— Toledo, etc., R. Co. v. Head, 62 Ill. 233.

Iowa.— Nichols v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 125 Iowa 236, 100 N. W. 1115.

Maryland.— Annapolis, etc., R. Co. v. Pumphrey, 72 Md. 82, 19 Atl. 8.

Minnesota.— Czech v. Great Northern R. Co., 68 Minn. 38, 70 N. W. 791, 64 Am. St. Rep. 452, 38 L. R. A. 302.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," §§ 747, 755.

83. Gurley v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 104 Mo. 211, 16 S. W. 11.

84. Alabama.— Lewis v. Southern R. Co., 143 Ala. 133, 38 So. 1023.

Georgia.— McElroy v. Georgia, etc., R. Co., 98 Ga. 257, 25 S. E. 439.

Illinois.— Cleveland, etc., R. Co. v. Halbert, 179 Ill. 196, 53 N. E. 623 [reversing 75 Ill. App. 592].

Texas.— Missouri, etc., R. Co. v. Thomas, 87 Tex. 282, 28 S. W. 343 [reversing (Civ. App. 1894) 28 S. W. 139].

Wisconsin.— Barron v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 89 Wis. 79, 61 N. W. 303; Jenson v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 86 Wis. 589, 57 N. W. 359, 22 L. R. A. 680.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," §§ 747, 755.

Contra.— Johnson v. Southern Pac. R. Co., 147 Cal. 624, 82 Pac. 306, 1 L. R. A. N. S. 307; People v. New York Cent. R. Co., 13 N. Y. 78 [affirming 25 Barb. 199].

In Ohio the statute expressly requires signals to be given at grade crossings and also where the road crosses any other traveled place "by bridge or otherwise." Toledo, etc., R. Co. v. Jump, 50 Ohio St. 651, 35 N. E. 1054.

85. Houston, etc., R. Co. v. Garcia, (Tex. Civ. App. 1905) 90 S. W. 713.

86. Spiller v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 112 Mo. App. 491, 87 S. W. 43.

In Texas where the statute requires that the whistle shall be blown and the bell rung at least eighty rods from the crossing and the bell kept ringing until the train is stopped or the crossing passed, it is held that if the train be started from a point less than eighty rods from the crossing the signal required at such point need not be given (Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Berry, 32 Tex. Civ. App. 259, 72 S. W. 423; Ft. Worth, etc., R. Co. v. Greer, 29 Tex. Civ. App. 561, 69 S. W. 421. But see Curtis v. Gulf, etc., R.

a crossing which at the time of starting it is entirely obstructing [87] unless the statute also requires a signal to be given on starting the train.[88] If the statute requires a signal by sounding the bell "or" whistle, either is sufficient.[89]

c. Rate of Speed. There are statutory provisions in some jurisdictions limiting the rate of speed at which trains may be operated in towns or cities,[90] or when backing into a passenger depot,[91] or requiring trains to slow up on approaching public crossings.[92] Municipal corporations have the power by ordinance to regulate and restrict the rate of speed of trains and locomotives while running within the corporate limits,[93] and such regulations will be upheld and enforced provided they are reasonable;[94] but an ordinance will be declared invalid if it is Co., 26 Tex. Civ. App. 304, 63 S. W. 149); but that the requirement as to the continuous ringing of the bell applies, although the train is started from a point within the eighty-rod limit (Gulf, etc., R. Co. v. Hall, 34 Tex. Civ. App. 535, 80 S. W. 133. See also Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Bailey, 83 Tex. 19, 18 S. W. 481).

87. Stillson v. Hannibal, etc., R. Co., 67 Mo. 671.

88. Brown v. Southern R. Co., 65 S. C. 260, 43 S. E. 794.

89. East Tennessee, etc., R. Co. v. Deaver, 79 Ala. 216; Ohio, etc., R. Co. v. Reed, 40 Ill. App. 47; Downing v. Missouri, etc., R. Co., 70 Mo. App. 657; Hoover v. Kansas City, etc., R. Co., 69 Mo. App. 557.

90. Seaboard Air-Line R. Co. v. Smith, 53 Fla. 375, 43 So. 235; State v. Wisconsin Cent. R. Co., 133 Wis. 478, 113 N. W. 952; State v. Wisconsin Cent. R. Co., 128 Wis. 79, 107 N. W. 295; O'Brien v. Wisconsin Cent. R. Co., 119 Wis. 7, 96 N. W. 424; Schroeder v. Wisconsin Cent. R. Co., 117 Wis. 33, 93 N. W. 837.

Under the Wisconsin statute of 1898 which provides in section 1809 that in cities and in villages trains shall not be operated faster than six miles per hour until after passing all the traveled streets, and in section 1809*a* that trains may be operated within such limits at the rate of fifteen miles per hour, providing gates are placed and maintained at the street crossings, it is held that the two provisions must be construed together and limit the rate of speed to six miles per hour where no gates have been erected. O'Brien v. Wisconsin Cent. R. Co., 119 Wis. 7, 96 N. W. 424.

91. Yazoo, etc., R. Co. v. Metcalf, 84 Miss. 242, 36 So. 259, not over three miles per hour.

92. Georgia Cent. R. Co. v. Harper, 124 Ga. 836, 53 S. E. 391 (holding that the requirement does not apply where the train starts from a point so near the crossing that the statutory requirement could not be complied with); Comer v. Shaw, 98 Ga. 543, 25 S. E. 733 (holding that the requirement applies only to the crossings of public highways and not to private crossings); McElroy v. Georgia, etc., R. Co., 98 Ga. 257, 25 S. E. 439 (holding that the requirement applies only to grade crossings); Atty.-Gen. v. London, etc., R. Co., [1900] 1 Q. B. 78, 63 J. P. 772, 69 L. J. Q. B. 26, 81 L. T. Rep. N. S. 649, 16 T. L. R. 30 [affirming [1899] 1 Q. B. 72, 38 L. J. Q. B. 34, 79 L. T. Rep. N. S. 412, 15 T. L. R. 39] (holding that a railroad company will be enjoined from violating the requirements of such a statute, and that it is immaterial whether in fact any injury has been done to the public by the violation thereof).

93. Florida.— Seaboard Air Line R. Co. v. Smith, 53 Fla. 375, 43 So. 235.

Indiana.— Baltimore, etc., R. Co. v. Whiting, 161 Ind. 228, 68 N. E. 266; Whitson v. Franklin, 34 Ind. 392.

Kentucky.—Cincinnati, etc., R. Co. v. Com., 104 S. W. 771, 31 Ky. L. Rep. 1113.

Missouri.— Stotler v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 200 Mo. 107, 98 S. W. 509; Gratiot v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 116 Mo. 450, 21 S. W. 1094, 16 L. R. A. 189.

South Carolina.— Boggero v. Southern R. Co., 64 S. C. 104, 41 S. E. 819.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 749. See also, generally, MUNICIPAL CORPORATIONS.

The power of municipal corporations to regulate and limit the speed of trains within the corporate limits is in some cases conferred by the charter or a general statute in express terms (Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Carlinville, 200 Ill. 314, 65 N. E. 730, 93 Am. St. Rep. 190, 60 L. R. A. 391; Cleveland, etc., R. Co. v. Harrington, 131 Ind. 426, 30 N. E. 37; Green v. Delaware, etc., Canal Co., 38 Hun (N. Y.) 51; Missouri, etc., R. Co. v. Owens, (Tex. Civ. App. 1903) 75 S. W. 579), and in others impliedly from the powers expressly granted (Baltimore, etc., R. Co. v. Whiting, 161 Ind. 228, 68 N. E. 266; Jackson v. Kansas City, etc., R. Co., 157 Mo. 621, 58 S. W. 32; Robertson v. Wabash, etc., R. Co., 84 Mo. 119); but exists independently of any statutory authority as a proper municipal police regulation (Whitson v. Franklin, 34 Ind. 392), and extends to all places within the corporate limits, although outside of the limits of public streets and thoroughfares (Green v. Delaware, etc., Canal Co., 38 Hun (N. Y.) 51. Compare New Jersey R., etc., Co. v. Jersey City, 29 N. J. L. 170), and is not affected by the powers vested in railroad commissioners to supervise and regulate the operation of railroads (Boggero v. Southern R. Co., 64 S. C. 104, 41 S. E. 819).

94. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Carlinville, 200 Ill. 314, 65 N. E. 730, 93 Am. St. Rep. 190, 60 L. R. A. 391; Whitson v. Franklin, 34 Ind. 392; Gratiot v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 116 Mo. 450, 21 S. W. 1094, 16 L. R. A. 189; Houston, etc., R. Co. v. Dillard, (Tex. Civ. App. 1906) 94 S. W. 426; St. Louis South-unreasonable,[95] at least in so far or as to localities where it may operate unreasonably,[96] or if it makes any unnecessary or unwarranted discrimination between different competing railroads,[97] or if it conflicts with any statutory provision

western R. Co. v. Bolton, 36 Tex. Civ. App. 87, 81 S. W. 123.

Ordinances have been held to be reasonable and valid which limit the rate of speed within the corporate limits to ten miles per hour (Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Carlinville, 200 Ill. 314, 65 N. E. 730, 93 Am. St. Rep. 190, 60 L. R. A. 391), six miles per hour (Gratiot v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 116 Mo. 450, 21 S. W. 1094, 16 L. R. A. 189; Buffalo v. New York, etc., R. Co., 6 Misc. (N. Y.) 630, 27 N. Y. Suppl. 297 [affirming 23 N. Y. Suppl. 303, 309, and affirmed in 152 N. Y. 276, 46 N. E. 496]; St. Louis Southwestern R. Co. v. Bolton, 36 Tex. Civ. App. 87, 81 S. W. 123), five miles per hour (Washington Southern R. Co. v. Lacey, 94 Va. 460, 26 S. E. 834), or even four miles per hour (Cleveland, etc., R. Co. v. Harrington, 131 Ind. 426, 30 N. E. 37; Whitson v. Franklin, 34 Ind. 392; Weyl v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 40 Minn. 350, 42 N. W. 24). See also Larkin v. Burlington, etc., R. Co., 85 Iowa 492, 52 N. W. 480 (holding that, although a town is situated almost entirely on one side of the right of way, none of the streets crossing it and part of the right of way fenced, an ordinance limiting the rate of speed to ten miles per hour will not be declared invalid where it is not shown how much of the right of way is fenced or how much travel there is across the right of way); Knobloch v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 31 Minn. 402, 18 N. W. 106 (holding that, although a portion of a city is not thickly populated, yet if it is laid out in streets, the population rapidly increasing, and considerable travel crosses the streets, an ordinance limiting the rate of speed to four miles per hour is not so far unreasonable as to that portion of the city as to justify the court in declaring it invalid).

An ordinance requiring trains to come to a full stop before crossing certain streets in a city is a reasonable and valid regulation. Buffalo v. New York, etc., R. Co., 152 N. Y. 276, 46 N. E. 496 [affirming 6 Misc. 630, 27 N. Y. Suppl. 297 (affirming 23 N. Y. Suppl. 303, 309)].

Interference with interstate commerce and mails.— If an ordinance limiting the rate of speed of trains within the corporate limits is a reasonable regulation for the public safety and a fair exercise of the police power vested in the city, it will not be declared invalid on the ground that it imposes a restriction upon the transportation of interstate commerce and the United States mails. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Carlinville, 200 Ill. 314, 65 N. E. 730, 98 Am. St. Rep. 190, 60 L. R. A. 391.

95. Meyers v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 57 Iowa 555, 10 N. W. 896, 42 Am. Rep. 50 (holding that an ordinance limiting the speed of a train to four miles per hour after entering the city limits is unreasonable and void, where for three miles within those limits the railroad passes through agricultural lands and is fenced on both sides); White v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 44 Mo. App. 540 (holding that where the population of a city through which a railroad runs for over a mile does not exceed fifteen hundred inhabitants and only one third of its area is platted the balance being farming land, an ordinance restricting the speed of trains to four miles per hour within the city limits is unreasonable and invalid).

The power of the courts to declare an ordinance limiting the rate of speed of trains invalid on the ground that it is unreasonable extends to cases where the right to regulate the speed of trains is expressly conferred by statute (Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Carlinville, 200 Ill. 314, 65 N. E. 730, 93 Am. St. Rep. 190, 60 L. R. A. 391; Burg v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 90 Iowa 106, 57 N. E. 680, 48 Am. St. Rep. 419. Compare Cleveland, etc., R. Co. v. Harrington, 131 Ind. 426, 30 N. E. 27), unless the details of the municipal regulations authorized are definitely prescribed by the statute (see Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Carlinville, supra); but an ordinance passed pursuant to legislative authority is prima facie valid and should not be declared invalid unless it is clearly shown that it is unreasonable and that the municipal authorities have abused their discretion (Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Carlinville, supra; Knobloch v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 31 Minn. 402, 18 N. W. 106).

A distinction may be made in regard to speed regulations between steam and electric cars, since the latter are more readily controlled than the former. Indianapolis Union R. Co. v. Waddington, 169 Ind. 448, 82 N. E. 1030.

96. Burg v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 90 Iowa 106, 57 N. W. 680, 48 Am. St. Rep. 419 (holding that, where for a long distance through the corporate limits no platted streets were open across the track and the right of way was fenced on both sides, an ordinance limiting the rate of speed to six miles per hour is unreasonable and void as to such portion of the city); Evison v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 45 Minn. 370, 48 N. W. 6, 11 L. R. A. 434 (holding that an ordinance limiting the speed of trains to four miles per hour is unreasonable as applied to a certain part of a railroad in the suburbs of a city running through an unsettled district for three miles or more which is securely fenced on both sides and has but one grade crossing within the entire distance); Plattsburg v. Hagenbush, 98 Mo. App. 669, 73 S. W. 725 (holding that an ordinance limiting the rate of speed to six miles per hour is reasonable and valid as to the thickly populated part of a city, but unreasonable as to a part of a city where there are but few houses near the track, and where to maintain such slow speed heavy trains would have to be doubled in order to pull up the grade).

97. Lake View v. Tate, 130 Ill. 247, 22

upon the same subject.[98] Ordinances limiting the rate of speed of trains within the corporate limits apply to all places within those limits,[99] including the unplatted and unsettled portions thereof,[1] the railroad switch-yards,[2] and lands belonging to the railroad company,[3] and to detached locomotives not hauling cars;[4] and ordinances prohibiting any person from running or permitting any train to be run at over a certain speed apply to the railroad companies as well as to the persons operating the trains.[5] When an ordinance prescribes different speed limits for freight and passenger trains, the fact that a regular freight train is carrying passengers does not authorize it to proceed at the higher rate of speed.[6] An ordinance permitting a higher rate of speed than that allowed by a prior ordinance on the condition that gates are constructed at crossings will not be construed as repealing the prior ordinance as to places where the condition has not been complied with;[7] but under an ordinance prescribing a certain speed limit until gates and signal bells are provided and operated, the limit ceases to be in force as soon as such appliances are constructed and put in operation, and is not revived by a subsequent failure on the part of the company to operate them.[8]

d. Precautions on Crossing Other Railroads.[9] In some jurisdictions there are statutes requiring that, before crossing the track of another railroad, trains must be brought to a full stop,[10] and not allowed to proceed until ascertaining

N. E. 791, 6 L. R. A. 268 [affirming 33 Ill. App. 78].

An ordinance is not invalid as making an unreasonable discrimination between railroads which excepts from the speed limitation prescribed a belt line running local trains around the city for local passenger traffic only, not competing with any other railroad, the fare for riding on which is limited by statute to five cents for each passenger between any two points on the line. Buffalo v. New York, etc., R. Co., 152 N. Y. 276, 46 N. E. 496 [affirming 6 Misc. 630, 27 N. Y. Suppl. 297 (affirming 23 N. Y. Suppl. 303, 309)]. An ordinance is not invalid on the ground of discrimination because it excepts from its operation an electric street car line operating between different points in the suburbs of a city. Erb v. Morasch, 8 Kan. App. 61, 54 Pac. 323.

98. Duggan v. Peoria, etc., R. Co., 42 Ill. App. 536; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Dougherty, 12 Ill. App. 181.

The existence of a statutory regulation in regard to speed in cities will not prevent the enactment of an ordinance upon the same subject broader in its application than the statute, although in so far as the ordinance may conflict with the statute it will of course be inoperative. Seaboard Air Line R. Co. v. Smith, 53 Fla. 375, 43 So. 235.

Under the New York statute of 1889, which provides that in cities of less than fifty thousand inhabitants it shall not be lawful for the common council to restrict the rate of speed of trains to less than thirty miles per hour where gates are established and persons furnished to attend the same, an ordinance is not in conflict with the statute which limits the rate of speed to two miles per hour in a city having more than this number of inhabitants. Haywood v. New York, etc., R. Co., 13 N. Y. Suppl. 177.

99. Whitson v. Franklin, 34 Ind. 392; Erb v. Morasch, 8 Kan. 61, 54 Pac. 323; Texarkana, etc., R. Co. v. Frugia, 43 Tex. Civ. App. 48, 95 S. W. 563; Houston, etc., R. Co. v. Powell, (Tex. Civ. App. 1897) 41 S. W. 695. See also Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Pollock, 195 Ill. 156, 62 N. E. 831 [affirming 93 Ill. App. 483].

1. Whitson v. Franklin, 34 Ind. 392.

2. Houston, etc., R. Co. v. Powell, (Tex. Civ. App. 1897) 41 S. W. 695. But see Green v. Delaware, etc., Canal Co., 38 Hun (N. Y.) 51, holding that where the ordinance in terms limits the rate of speed "while passing through said city," it should be construed as applying only to trains passing through the city and not to the movement of cars and engines in the yard or station grounds while making up trains.

3. Whitson v. Franklin, 34 Ind. 392.

4. East St. Louis Connecting R. Co. v. Reames, 173 Ill. 582, 51 N. E. 68, holding further that, where different rates of speed are prescribed for freight and passenger trains, a freight engine does not, by being detached and used to carry employees to meals, lose its character as a freight engine.

5. Southern R. Co. v. Jones, 33 Ind. App. 333, 71 N. E. 275; Missouri, etc., R. Co. v. Owens, (Tex. Civ. App. 1903) 75 S. W. 579.

6. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Thorson, 68 Ill. App. 288.

7. Graney v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., (Mo. 1897) 38 S. W. 969.

8. Hecker v. Illinois Cent. R. Co., 231 Ill. 574, 83 N. E. 456.

9. To what roads and companies applicable see supra, X, B, 2, a.

10. Alabama.— Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Anchors, 114 Ala. 492, 22 So. 279, 62 Am. St. Rep. 116.

Illinois.— St. Louis Nat. Stock Yards v. Godfrey, 198 Ill. 288, 65 N. E. 90 [affirming 101 Ill. App. 40]; Indianapolis, etc., R. Co. v. People, 91 Ill. 452.

Kentucky.— Chesapeake, etc., R. Co. v.

that the way is clear,[11] or that such precautions shall be taken unless the company maintains flagmen or watchmen or some system of interlocking or other safety appliances which will render it safe for trains to pass without stopping,[12] and the requiring of such precautions is a constitutional and valid exercise of the police power of the state.[13]

e. Lighting Tracks. The legislature may, as a proper exercise of the police power, authorize municipal corporations to require railroad companies to light their tracks at crossings within the municipality,[14] and in some jurisdictions there are statutes conferring such power,[15] and providing that if the railroad company does not light its tracks as required by the statute, the municipality may do so at the company's expense.[16] The ordinance may prescribe any reasonable regulations as to the manner of lighting, the character and location of the lights, and the hours at which they are to be kept lighted;[17] but this power must be reason-

Com., 99 Ky. 175, 35 S. W. 266, 18 Ky. L. Rep. 54.

Ohio.— Lake Shore, etc., R. Co. v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 30 Ohio St. 604.

Texas.—San Antonio, etc., R. Co. v. Bowles, 88 Tex. 634, 32 S. W. 880.

Wisconsin.— Lockwood v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 55 Wis. 50, 12 N. W. 401.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 750.

Crossing street car tracks.—A statute providing that before a street car shall cross over a railroad track at grade some employee of the company shall go ahead and ascertain if the way is clear does not relieve the steam railroad company of the duty of operating its gates so as to indicate to the person operating the street car whether the track is clear. Kopp v. Baltimore, etc., R. Co., 25 Ohio Cir. Ct. 546.

11. Southern R. Co. v. Bonner, 141 Ala. 517, 37 So. 702; St. Louis Nat. Stock Yard v. Godfrey, 198 Ill. 288, 65 N. E. 90 [affirming 101 Ill. App. 40].

The meaning of the requirement that the engineer before proceeding must "know the way to be clear" is not only that the crossings be free from immediate obstruction but free from danger of such obstruction as ought reasonably to be expected, but it does not require knowledge that the way will certainly remain clear against all after occurring or extraordinary happenings. Southern R. Co. v. Bouner, 141 Ala. 517, 37 So. 702.

12. Chesapeake, etc., R. Co. v. Com., 99 Ky. 175, 35 S. W. 266, 18 Ky. L. Rep. 54; Toledo, etc., R. Co. v. Hydell, 25 Ohio Cir. Ct. 579.

One company may contract with another for the employment of levermen to operate an interlocking system at the intersection of their roads, but cannot by such contract shift its responsibility or relieve itself against negligence in the performance of this duty as to the public and third persons. Toledo, etc., R. Co. v. Hydell, 25 Ohio Cir. Ct. 579.

13. Lake Shore, etc., R. Co. v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 30 Ohio St. 604.

The commissioners of the District of Columbia have authority to make such requirements under the police powers delegated to them by congress. Baltimore, etc., R. Co. v. District of Columbia, 10 App. Cas. (D. C.) 111.

A municipal corporation, although authorized by its charter "to regulate the speed and running of locomotive engines and railroad cars through said city," has no right to compel a steam railroad company to stop trains before crossing a street on which a street railway is operated. New Jersey Cent. R. Co. v. Elizabeth, 70 N. J. L. 578, 57 Atl. 404.

14. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co. v. Hartford, 170 Ind. 674, 82 N. E. 787, 85 N. E. 362; Cincinnati, etc., R. Co. v. Bowling Green, 57 Ohio St. 336, 49 N. E. 121, 41 L. R. A. 422; Cincinnati, etc., R. Co. v. Sullivan, 32 Ohio St. 152; Cleveland, etc., R. Co. v. St. Bernard, 15 Ohio Cir. Ct. 588, 8 Ohio Cir. Dec. 385.

15. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Crawfordsville, 164 Ind. 70, 72 N. E. 1025; Cincinnati, etc., R. Co. v. Sullivan, 32 Ohio St. 152.

16. St. Mary v. Lake Erie, etc., R. Co., 60 Ohio St. 136, 53 N. E. 795; Bowling Green v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 9 Ohio Cir. Ct. 524, 6 Ohio Cir. Dec. 531, 10 Ohio Cir. Ct. 63, 4 Ohio Cir. Dec. 39 [affirmed in 57 Ohio St. 336, 49 N. E. 121, 41 L. R. A. 422].

To entitle the city to recover for such lights it is not necessary that they should be placed directly on the track, and if located so as properly to light the track, it is immaterial that they also incidentally light a street of the village. Cleveland, etc., R. Co. v. St. Bernard, 19 Ohio Cir. Ct. 299, 10 Ohio Cir. Dec. 415.

The expense of the lighting may be declared a lien upon any real estate of the company situated within the municipality. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co. v. Sullivan, 32 Ohio St. 152.

17. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co. v. Hartford, 170 Ind. 674, 82 N. E. 787, 85 N. E. 362; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Salem, 170 Ind. 153, 82 N. E. 913; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Crawfordsville, 164 Ind. 70, 72 N. E. 1025; Cincinnati, etc., R. Co. v. Bowling Green, 57 Ohio St. 336, 49 N. E. 121, 41 L. R. A. 422.

Application of rule.— The ordinance may require electric lights if there is an electric light plant within the municipality (Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co. v. Hartford City, 170 Ind. 674, 82 N. E. 787, 85 N. E. 362; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Crawfordsville, 164 Ind. 70, 72 N. E. 1025; Cincinnati, etc., R. Co. v. Bowling Green, 57 Ohio St. 336, 49 N. E. 121 ably exercised according to what may be necessary for the safety of the public at the crossing, and not as a means of compelling a railroad company to light the city streets.[18] An ordinance requiring the lighting of tracks should specify the time within which it must be complied with,[19] and fix definitely the time or times at which the lights shall be kept lighted;[20] but the ordinance will be enforced if sufficiently definite and certain in its terms to inform the company what it is required to do.[21]

f. Sign-Boards, Flagmen, and Gates at Crossings. In some jurisdictions there are statutes requiring railroad companies to maintain sign-boards at crossings,[22] and in others there are general statutes or charter provisions expressly authorizing municipal corporations to require railroad companies to maintain flagmen, switchmen, or gates at crossings,[23] or providing that such a requirement [affirming 9 Ohio Cir. Ct. 524, 6 Ohio Cir. Dec. 531, 10 Ohio Cir. Ct. 524, 4 Ohio Cir. Dec. 39]), and may require the lights to be kept burning for five minutes before the arrival of a train (Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co. v. Hartford City, supra), or may require that they shall be kept burning for not less than thirty minutes prior to the passage of trains and shall be of two thousand candle power where this is the same power as the lights maintained by the municipality (Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Salem, 170 Ind. 153, 82 N. E. 913); but an ordinance will not be sustained which requires electric lights of such high power and brilliancy as to obscure the headlights of locomotives and increase rather than diminish the danger at the crossing (Cleveland, etc., R. Co. v. St. Bernard, 15 Ohio Cir. Ct. 588, 8 Ohio Cir. Dec. 385).

18. Cleveland, etc., R. Co. v. Connersville, 147 Ind. 277, 46 N. E. 579, 62 Am. St. Rep. 418, 37 L. R. A. 175 (holding that an ordinance is invalid which requires a railroad company to light its tracks at crossings every night from dark until dawn by arc lights of two thousand candle power, suspended twenty-five feet above the tracks where the company does not run any train through the city after eight o'clock at night); Shelbyville v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co., 146 Ind. 66, 44 N. E. 929 (holding that an ordinance is invalid which requires a light to be placed at every point where any track crosses a street without regard to the extent or character of the use of such track or whether the safety of the public requires it).

19. Lake Erie, etc., R. Co. v. St. Marys, 14 Ohio Cir. Ct. 202, 7 Ohio Cir. Dec. 661, holding that under the Ohio statute such specification is essential to the validity of the ordinance.

20. Shelbyville v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co., 146 Ind. 66, 44 N. E. 929.

21. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co. v. Hartford City, 170 Ind. 674, 82 N. E. 787, 85 N. E. 362 (holding that an ordinance requiring a railroad company to maintain electric lights at street crossings of sufficient power to light the entire crossing, not to exceed the power of the lights used by the city, and to keep them burning for five minutes before the arrival of each train at all times at night when there is no moon or when the moon is obscured, is not so indefinite as to be invalid); Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Crawfordsville, 164 Ind. 70, 72 N. E. 1025 (holding that an ordinance is not invalid for indefiniteness because it excuses lighting by the company at such times as the moon furnishes sufficient light to light such crossings and at all times when the city lights are not in operation); St. Marys v. Lake Erie, etc., R. Co., 60 Ohio St. 136, 53 N. E. 795 (holding that an ordinance is sufficiently definite which fixes the time within which lighting shall be done as "from the hour of darkness to the hour of daylight on each and every day"); Cincinnati, etc., R. Co. v. Bowling Green, 57 Ohio St. 336, 49 N. E. 121, 41 L. R. A. 422 (holding that an ordinance providing that the lights shall be lighted for the same number of hours "as the said council does now, or may hereafter, require for electric lamps within the limits of said village for lighting streets" is sufficiently definite).

22. Payne v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 44 Iowa 236 (holding, however, that the statute is not retroactive, and that the statutory liability for injuries occasioned by a failure to maintain such signboards does not apply to injuries occurring before the statute took effect); Soule v. Grand Trunk R. Co., 21 U. C. C. P. 308 (holding that the company will not be liable either to a person injured or on the ground of nuisance for having placed the posts supporting a signboard within the limits of the highway if it has located them in a reasonably proper manner with reference to the circumstances of the particular case).

It is a sufficient compliance with a statute requiring railroad companies to erect signboards with the inscription, "Look out for the Locomotive," where the company erects a signboard of suitable size with the words "Railroad Crossing" thereon. State Bd. of Education v. Mobile, etc., R. Co., 72 Miss. 236, 16 So. 489.

23. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Averill, 224 Ill. 516, 79 N. E. 654 [affirming 127 Ill. App. 275]; Altamont v. Baltimore, etc., R. Co., 184 Ill. 47, 56 N. E. 340 [affirming 84 Ill. App. 274]; Concord, etc., R. Co. v. Portsmouth, 64 N. H. 219, 9 Atl. 546; McCullough v. Franklin Tp., 59 N. J. L. 106, 34 Atl. 1088; State v. East Orange Tp., 41 N. J. L. 127.

The legislature has full power under the police power of the state to authorize a may be made by a court of chancery,[24] county court,[25] county commissioners,[26] or railroad commissioners.[27] It has also been held in a number of cases that municipal corporations may, under the general police powers usually conferred upon them to regulate the use of streets or provide for the general welfare and safety, require railroad companies to maintain watchmen, flagmen, or gates at crossings within the corporate limits;[28] but on the contrary it has been held municipal corporation to pass ordinances requiring railroad companies to maintain flagmen at the crossings. State v. East Orange Tp., 41 N. J. L. 127.

The authority can be exercised only by ordinance, and a mere notice to the railroad company by the municipal authorities not preceded by any ordinance is insufficient. Altamont v. Baltimore, etc., R. Co., 184 Ill. 47, 56 N. E. 340 [affirming 84 Ill. App. 274].

At unauthorized crossing.— Under the Rhode Island statute of 1896 providing that railroad companies shall maintain flagmen at highway crossings when in the opinion of the town council it is necessary for the public safety, and the act of 1890, providing that no highway shall be built across any railroad track at grade except by consent of the railroad commissioner, a railroad company is not obliged to maintain flagmen at a grade crossing over a highway not authorized by the railroad commissioner, although the town council has so ordered. McGoran v. New York, etc., R. Co., 25 R. I. 387, 55 Atl. 929.

24. Eckert v. Perth Amboy, 66 N. J. Eq. 437, 57 Atl. 438, holding that to justify the court in making a decree requiring gates or a flagman at a crossing, it is not necessary that the hazardous condition existing at such crossing should have been caused by the railroad company.

25. Matter of Patchogue St. Crossings, 74 Hun (N. Y.) 46, 26 N. Y. Suppl. 293; Matter of Islip Highway Com'rs, 74 Hun (N. Y.) 44, 26 N. Y. Suppl. 384.

Electric bell signals.—Under the New York General Railroad Act of 1890, authorizing the county court to make an order that a flagman or gates shall be maintained at a crossing or to make such other order as may be deemed proper, the court may order an electric bell signal to be placed at a crossing. Matter of Islip Highway Com'rs, 74 Hun (N. Y.) 48, 26 N. Y. Suppl. 385; Matter of Patchogue St. Crossings, 74 Hun (N. Y.) 46, 26 N. Y. Suppl. 293.

Proceedings to enforce regulations.— The commissioners of highways of a town are "local authorities" within the meaning of the New York statute providing that the court may on the application of the local authorities compel a railroad company to station a flagman or place gates at any point where a highway crosses a railroad at grade, and it is immaterial that they are designated in the petition as "highway commissioners" instead of "commissioners of highways" as in the statute, nor is it necessary that the application should state any facts showing the crossing to be dangerous other than the fact that it is a crossing at grade. In re Niagara Highway Com'rs, 72 Hun (N. Y.) 575, 25 N. Y. Suppl. 231.

26. State v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 151 Ind. 474, 51 N. E. 914 (holding, however, that the Indiana statute of 1891, providing that where the tracks crossing a public highway are used for switching purposes, the county commissioners may require the railroad company to keep a flagman at the crossing, does not apply to street crossings since the statute also provides that the trustees of incorporated towns shall have "exclusive power over the streets"); Grand Trunk Western R. Co. v. State, 40 Ind. App. 695, 82 N. E. 1017 (holding that the Indiana statute of 1891 is not void for uncertainty).

27. See Wabash R. Co. v. Railroad Com'r, 120 Mich. 697, 79 N. W. 910; Re Canadian Pac. R. Co., 27 Ont. 559 [affirmed in 25 Ont. App. 65], railway committee of privy council.

28. Georgia.— Western, etc., R. Co. v. Young, 81 Ga. 397, 7 S. E. 912, 12 Am. St. Rep. 320.

Louisiana.— State v. Cozzens, 42 La. Ann. 1069, 8 So. 268.

Minnesota.— Green v. Eastern R. Co., 52 Minn. 79, 53 N. W. 808. But see Red Wing v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 72 Minn. 240, 55 N. W. 223, 71 Am. St. Rep. 485.

Missouri.— Seibert v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 188 Mo. 657, 87 S. W. 995, 70 L. R. A. 72.

Canada.— Liverpool v. Liverpool, etc., R. Co., 35 Nova Scotia 233.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 754.

Specific authority to regulate the speed of railway trains does not restrict a general grant of authority which standing alone would have authorized the adoption of an ordinance requiring a flagman to be kept at a crossing. Green v. Eastern R. Co., 52 Minn. 79, 53 N. W. 808.

If the general power is expressly limited as in the case of the Long Island City charter, which empowers the common council to regulate the use of streets by railroads, but with the reservation that it shall have no power to prohibit or control in any manner the use of steam power on any railroad from any part of Long Island to East river, an ordinance requiring such railroad companies within the city limits to place a flagman at their crossings is invalid. Long Island City v. Long Island R. Co., 79 N. Y. 561 [affirming 8 Hun 58].

Inherent police power.— It has been stated that in the absence of any express grant of even general powers municipal corporations might by ordinance require the maintenance of safety gates at crossings under the inherent police power of a municipality. See that in the absence of express authority the general police powers delegated to municipal corporations do not authorize ordinances requiring flagmen, watchmen, or gates at crossings,[29] and that any authority in this regard which is expressly conferred cannot be extended beyond the terms of the statute.[30] Even where a municipal corporation has a general authority to pass such an ordinance it must, in order to be valid, be reasonable in its application to the particular case.[31]

5. Obstructing Streets and Highways — a. In General.[32] In some jurisdictions there are statutes expressly prohibiting the unnecessary or unreasonable obstruction of the crossings of public highways by railroads,[33] or prohibiting any obstruction of such crossings for more than a certain number of minutes at any one time.[34] A municipal corporation may also by ordinance make such regula-

Seibert v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 188 Mo. 657, 87 S. W. 995, 70 L. R. A. 72.

29. Indiana.— Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co. v. Crown Point, 146 Ind. 421, 45 N. E. 587, 35 L. R. A. 684.

Minnesota.— Red Wing v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 72 Minn. 240, 75 N. W. 223, 71 Am. St. Rep. 485 [distinguishing Green v. Eastern R. Co., 52 Minn. 79, 53 N. W. 808].

New Jersey.— West Jersey, etc., R. Co. v. Bridgeton, 64 N. J. L. 189, 44 Atl. 848.

Ohio.— Ravenna v. Pennsylvania Co., 45 Ohio St. 118, 12 N. E. 445.

Pennsylvania.— In re Pennsylvania R. Co., 213 Pa. St. 373, 62 Atl. 986 [reversing 27 Pa. Super. Ct. 113].

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 754.

30. West Jersey, etc., R. Co. v. Bridgeton, 64 N. J. L. 189, 44 Atl. 848 (holding that express authority to require flagmen or signals does not authorize an ordinance requiring safety gates at street crossings); State v. Heubach, 11 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 679, 28 Cinc. L. Bul. 299 (holding that authority to require gates and watchmen at crossings where the tracks are used for switching or making up trains does not authorize such a requirement at other crossings not so used).

31. Toledo, etc., R. Co. v. Jacksonville, 67 Ill. 37, 16 Am. Rep. 611; McCullough v. Franklin Tp., 59 N. J. L. 106, 34 Atl. 1088.

An ordinance is unreasonable and invalid which requires a railroad company to keep a flagman by day and a red lantern by night at a crossing within the city limits, where there is but a single track and the crossing but little used and not more dangerous than any ordinary crossing (Toledo, etc., R. Co., v. Jacksonville, 67 Ill. 37, 16 Am. Rep. 611); or which requires a railroad company to maintain a flagman at a crossing "between the hours of 7 o'clock, A. M. and 9 o'clock, P. M. of each and every day of the year," where the crossing is over switch-tracks only and such tracks are not in use after six o'clock P. M. nor on Sundays or holidays (Southern Indiana R. Co. v. Bedford, 165 Ind. 272, 75 N. E. 268); or which requires a railroad company to protect street crossings by gates and flagmen during that portion of the night when travelers on the highways as well as trains on the railroad are few and far between (McCullough v. Franklin Tp., 59 N. J. L. 106, 34 Atl. 1088); or which requires a railroad company to maintain gates and flagmen at crossings which are not in fact dangerous (New York, etc., R. Co. v. Bloomfield Tp., 59 N. J. L. 109, 35 Atl. 158); or which requires a railroad company to keep a watchman at a crossing within the corporate limits but which is practically in the open country and little frequented (Com. v. Philadelphia, etc., R. Co., 23 Pa. Super. Ct. 205); but it has been held that an ordinance requiring a railroad company to maintain gates at crossings in a city and to operate them both day and night will be presumed to be reasonable and valid in the absence of any affirmative showing to the contrary (Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Averill, 224 Ill. 516, 79 N. E. 654 [affirming 127 Ill. App. 275]).

32. Penalty for obstructing highways see infra, X, B, 7, a.

Obstruction as an indictable offense see infra, X, B, 8, a, (III).

33. See the statutes of the several states; and the following cases:

Illinois.— Toledo, etc., R. Co. v. People, 81 Ill. 141; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. People, 82 Ill. App. 679.

Indiana.— Becker v. State, 33 Ind. App. 261, 71 N. E. 188.

Maine.— State v. Grand Trunk R. Co., 59 Me. 189.

Massachusetts.— Com. v. New York, etc., R. Co., 112 Mass. 412.

Pennsylvania.— Com. v. Capp, 48 Pa. St. 53.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," §§ 758, 759.

34. Illinois.— Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. People, 82 Ill. App. 679.

Kentucky.— Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Com., 117 Ky. 350, 78 S. W. 124, 79 S. W. 275, 25 Ky. L. Rep. 1452, 2050; Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Com., 45 S. W. 367, 20 Ky. L. Rep. 115.

Massachusetts.— Com. v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 135 Mass. 550; Com. v. New York, etc., R. Co., 112 Mass. 412.

Michigan.— Hinchman v. Pere Marquette R. Co., 136 Mich. 341, 99 N. W. 277, 65 L. R. A. 553.

Mississippi.— Anderson v. Alabama, etc., R. Co., 81 Miss. 587, 33 So. 840; Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. State, 71 Miss. 253, 14 So. 459.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," §§ 758, 759.

tions as to the obstruction of its streets provided they be reasonable;[35] but an ordinance will be declared invalid if unreasonable either as to the rights of the railroad company,[36] or the rights of the public to the free and uninterrupted use of the street.[37] The term "highway" in statutes prohibiting their obstruction applies to all kinds of public ways,[38] but not to a private way.[39] To sustain an action for damages based upon the obstruction of a highway contrary to a statutory regulation it must be shown that the road obstructed was a public highway, that it was obstructed for the length of time prohibited by statute, and that such obstruction was the cause of the injury complained of.[40]

b. What Constitutes Obstruction. To constitute the obstruction of a highway crossing within the application of a statute or ordinance prohibiting the same, it is not necessary that there should have been any person present at the time who was actually prevented from using the crossing;[41] but the obstruction must have been of such a character as to obstruct travel and interfere with the use of the highway,[42] and if not of this character the mere fact that a train or car is left standing so as to project slightly within the limits of a crossing does not constitute an obstruction.[43]

35. Alabama.— Birmingham v. Alabama Great Southern R. Co., 98 Ala. 134, 13 So. 141, holding that an ordinance prohibiting the obstruction of a street for longer than three minutes is reasonable and valid.

Delaware.— McCoy v. Philadelphia, etc., R. Co., 5 Houst. 599, holding that an ordinance prohibiting the obstruction of a street for over ten minutes except in case of accident is valid.

Minnesota.— Duluth v. Mallett, 43 Minn. 204, 45 N. W. 154, holding that an ordinance prohibiting the stopping of a train or locomotive upon any street crossing either for switching or any other purpose except to prevent accident in case of immediate danger is not prima facie unreasonable.

Missouri.— Burger v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 112 Mo. 238, 20 S. W. 439, 34 Am. St. Rep. 379, holding that an ordinance prohibiting the obstruction of a street crossing for over ten minutes is reasonable and valid.

New Jersey.— Pennsylvania R. Co. v. New Jersey City, 47 N. J. L. 286 (holding that an ordinance prohibiting the obstruction of a street crossing for over three minutes is not unreasonable as a whole and will not be declared invalid, although it might be unreasonable as to certain streets); Long v. Jersey City, 37 N. J. L. 348 (holding that an ordinance prohibiting the obstruction of a street crossing for over two minutes is reasonable and valid).

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 759.

An ordinance may be valid in part and invalid in part where there are distinct provisions, some of which are reasonable and some not (Birmingham v. Alabama Great Southern R. Co., 98 Ala. 134, 13 So. 141); and where an ordinance prohibiting the obstruction of street crossings for more than a certain number of minutes at a time is not unreasonable as a whole, it will not be declared invalid because it may be unreasonable as to particular streets, the remedy being to resist its enforcement in such locality (Pennsylvania R. Co. v. Jersey City, 47 N. J. L. 286).

36. Birmingham v. Alabama Great Southern R. Co., 98 Ala. 134, 13 So. 141, holding that an ordinance prohibiting a railroad company from moving cars across a street between the hours of six A. M. and eleven P. M. for the purpose of being distributed in the yards, without regard to whether they are stopped upon the street or not, is unreasonable and void.

37. Gilcrest v. Des Moines, 128 Iowa 49, 102 N. W. 831, holding that an ordinance permitting trains to stand upon street crossings, if not over thirty minutes, is invalid, as unreasonably interfering with the rights of the public to the use of the street and authorizing the maintenance of a public nuisance.

38. Ohio, etc., R. Co. v. People, 39 Ill. App. 473, holding that the term "highway" as used in the statute applies to streets of a city, although the city has, by ordinance passed pursuant to its corporate authority, undertaken to regulate and prevent the obstruction of its streets.

39. Com. v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 135 Mass. 550, holding that the Massachusetts statute prohibiting the obstruction of "a highway, town way or street" does not apply to a private way in a city but only to public ways.

40. Anderson v. Alabama, etc., R. Co., 81 Miss. 587, 33 So. 840.

41. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. People, 82 Ill. App. 679 [distinguishing Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. People, 49 Ill. App. 538, 540, 542].

42. Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. People, 59 Ill. App. 256; Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. People, 49 Ill. App. 538, 540, 542.

But travel need not be absolutely prevented, and it is sufficient to constitute an obstruction where cars are left standing upon each side of the crossing with an opening between them so narrow that only a gentle team could be driven through with safety. Great Western R. Co. v. Decatur, 33 Ill. 381.

43. Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. People, 59 Ill. App. 256; Hinchman v. Pere Marquette R.

6. Fences and Cattle-Guards. The legislature may, under the police power of the state, require railroad companies to fence their tracks or construct cattle-guards,[44] or make the company liable without regard to negligence in the operation of trains in case of failure to do so;[45] and there are in many jurisdictions statutes requiring railroad companies to construct fences or cattle-guards, or both, either generally or at particular places, or imposing certain penalties or liabilities in case of a failure to do so, the terms and applications of which have been fully considered in other parts of this article in connection with the duty to fence or construct cattle-guards where the road passes through private lands or inclosures,[46] and the liabilities growing out of a failure to construct or maintain them wherever required in case of injury to crops,[47] to persons on or near the track,[48] to animals,[49] and to trains and passengers thereon due to collisions with animals upon the track.[50] There is no common-law duty on the part of railroad companies to fence their tracks,[51] and the duties and liabilities in this regard vary or cease with the alteration or repeal of the statutes.[52] A statute in regard to fencing will not, however, be construed as repealing a former statute on the same subject or affecting the duties and liabilities imposed thereby if the two are not inconsistent and can stand together;[53] but a statute requiring in general terms that all railroad companies shall fence their tracks and construct cattle-guards will be construed as repealing a former statute under which such duties were dependent upon the action of the county commissioners in prescribing rules for their construction.[54]

Co., 136 Mich. 341, 99 N. W. 277, 63 L. R. A. 552; Crowley v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 122 Wis. 287, 99 N. W. 1016.

44. Illinois.— Ohio, etc., R. Co. v. McClelland, 25 Ill. 124.

Kansas.— Kansas Pac. R. Co. v. Mower, 16 Kan. 573.

Mississippi.— Kansas City, etc., R. Co. v. Spencer, 72 Miss. 491, 17 So. 168.

Vermont.— Thorpe v. Rutland, etc., R. Co., 27 Vt. 140, 62 Am. Dec. 625.

Virginia.— Sanger v. Chesapeake, etc., R. Co., 102 Va. 86, 45 S. E. 750.

Wisconsin.— Blair v. Milwaukee, etc., R. Co., 20 Wis. 254.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," §§ 762. 763.

45. Indianapolis, etc., R. Co. v. Marshall, 27 Ind. 300; Kansas Pac. R. Co. v. Mower, 16 Kan. 573.

46. See supra, VI, E, 3.

47. See supra, VI, J, 1, g.

48. See infra, X, E, 2, a, (v), (B).

49. See infra, X, H, 4.

50. See infra, X, D, 2, b, (II).

51. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Woodworth, 1 Indian Terr. 20, 35 S. W. 238; Williams v. Michigan Cent. R. Co., 2 Mich. 259, 55 Am. Dec. 59; New Orleans, etc., R. Co. v. Field, 46 Miss. 573.

52. Campbell v. New York, etc., R. Co., 50 Conn. 128, holding that where, after land had been taken for a railroad, a statute requiring railroad companies to fence their lines was repealed and a new one passed requiring them to fence only where the commissioners should order it, the company was not bound in the absence of such order to maintain a fence.

Effect of repeal upon order of commissioners.— Where under a statute requiring railroad companies to fence when ordered by the commissioners, the company was ordered to fence, and after the order the statute was repealed and subsequently reënacted, the duty to fence terminated with the repeal and the order of the commissioners was not revived by the reënactment of the statute. Kane v. New York, etc., R. Co., 49 Conn. 139.

53. Jeffersonville, etc., R. Co. v. Dunlap, 112 Ind. 93, 13 N. E. 403.

Application of rule to particular statutes. —A statute not in terms requiring a fence but making railroad companies liable without regard to negligence for injuries to animals where their roads might be but are not fenced is not repealed by a subsequent statute requiring in express terms that railroads shall be fenced at certain places (Jeffersonville, etc., R. Co. v. Dunlap, 112 Ind. 93, 13 N. E. 409; Pennsylvania Co. v. McCarty, 112 Ind. 322, 13 N. E. 409; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Brown, 33 Ind. App. 603, 71 N. E. 908; Jeffersonville, etc., R. Co. v. Peters, 1 Ind. App. 69, 27 N. E. 299); nor is a statute requiring railroad companies to fence and making them liable for all injuries occasioned by a failure to do so repealed by a statute requiring railroad companies to fence their tracks where they pass through inclosed lands and imposing a penalty to be recovered by the landowner for failure to do so (Curry v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 43 Wis. 665); nor does a statute shifting the duty of keeping the gates at a farm crossing closed from the railroad company to the landowner affect the liability of the railroad company for injury to animals escaping to the railroad track through gates at other places than farm crossings (Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Hughes, 2 Ind. App. 68, 28 N. E. 158).

54. Gowan v. St. Paul, etc., R. Co., 25 Minn. 328.

7. Penalties For Violation of Regulations — a. Power to Impose. Where the legislature has power to make a certain regulation affecting railroad companies, it has also the power to affix a penalty for the violation of such regulation,[55] provided a reasonable time is allowed for compliance with the regulation;[56] and since corporations in operating railroads can act only through their agents, the company may be made subject to a penalty for defaults on the part of its servants.[57] In the absence of any constitutional restriction, the legislature may make whatever disposition of the penalty it may deem proper,[58] and may give the entire penalty to the person injured,[59] or may provide that a part shall go to the informer,[60] or to the prosecuting attorney.[61] The violation of many statutory regulations by railroad companies has accordingly been made the subject of a penalty,[62] such as a violation of speed regulations,[63] obstructing highways with cars or locomotives,[64] cutting through or interfering with a highway without

55. Alabama.— Mobile, etc., R. Co. v. Steiner, 61 Ala. 559, penalty for charging more than legal freight rates.

Minnesota.— State v. Winona, etc., R. Co., 19 Minn. 434, penalty for charging rates in excess of those allowed by law.

Missouri.— State v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 149 Mo. 104, 50 S. W. 278, penalty for failure to give crossing signals.

Tennessee.— Parks v. Nashville, etc., R. Co., 13 Lea 1, 49 Am. Rep. 655, penalty for failure to announce stations.

United States.— State v. Kansas City, etc., R. Co., 32 Fed. 722, penalty for failure to erect depots.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 764.

56. Houston, etc., R. Co. v. State, (Tex. 1908) 107 S. W. 525 [affirming (Civ. App. 1907) 103 S. W. 449]; Missouri, etc., R. Co. v. State, 100 Tex. 420, 100 S. W. 766.

57. Hammond v. New York, etc., R. Co., 5 Ind. App. 526, 31 N. E. 817 (violation of speed regulations); State v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 122 Iowa 22, 96 N. W. 904, 101 Am. St. Rep. 254 (failure to stop trains before crossing other railroads); State v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 149 Mo. 104, 50 S. W. 278 (failure to give crossing signals); Parks v. Nashville, etc., R. Co., 13 Lea (Tenn.) 1, 49 Am. Rep. 655 (failure to announce stations at which trains stop).

58. State v. Indiana, etc., R. Co., 133 Ind. 69, 32 N. E. 817, 18 L. R. A. 502, holding that the penalty is not a fine within the application of the Indiana constitution providing that "the fines assessed in breaches of the penal laws of the state" shall belong to the common school fund.

59. Mobile, etc., R. Co. v. People, 24 Ill. App. 250 (penalty for failure to give crossing signals); Scott v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 38 Mo. App. 523 (penalty for failure to remove dry vegetation and undergrowth from right of way to prevent fire).

60. State v. Wabash, etc., R. Co., 89 Mo. 562, 1 S. W. 130, holding that such a provision is not in violation of the Missouri constitution providing that "the clear proceeds" of all penalties shall belong to the several counties as a public school fund.

61. State v. Indiana, etc., R. Co., 133 Ind. 69, 32 N. E. 817, 18 L. R. A. 502.

62. See the statutes of the different states; and the following cases:

Arkansas.— Kansas City, etc., R. Co. v. Moon, 66 Ark. 409, 50 S. W. 996, failure to pay unpaid wages on discharge of employee.

Missouri.— McFarland v. Mississippi River, etc., R. Co., 175 Mo. 422, 75 S. W. 152, failure to remove dry vegetation and undergrowth from right of way to prevent fire.

New York.— People v. Clark, 14 N. Y. Suppl. 642, 8 N. Y. Cr. 169, 179, heating cars by means of a stove or furnace kept inside of the car.

Pennsylvania.— Simon v. Baltimore, etc., R. Co., 173 Pa. St. 517, 34 Atl. 221, failure to remove obstructions at private road or crossing place after notice.

Texas.— Houston, etc., R. Co. v. State, 61 Tex. 342 (failure to make annual reports to controller of public accounts); St. Louis Southwestern R. Co. v. Terhune, (Civ. App. 1904) 81 S. W. 74 (permitting Johnson grass to mature or go to seed on rights of way).

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 764 et seq.

The Texas statute of 1905, requiring railroad companies under penalty to provide water-closets at all passenger stations and to keep them lighted and in a clean and sanitary condition, was held to be unconstitutional as to the provision requiring their construction, since it did not prescribe the time within which they were to be constructed or allow a reasonable time therefor (Houston, etc., R. Co. v. State, (1908) 107 S. W. 525 [affirming (Civ. App. 1907) 103 S. W. 449]; Missouri, etc., R. Co. v. State, 100 Tex. 420, 100 S. W. 766), and also to be invalid because it failed to designate with sufficient certainty what the railroad company was required to do (State v. Texas, etc., R. Co., (Civ. App. 1907) 103 S. W. 653), but to be constitutional and valid as applied to the lighting and maintenance of existing water-closets (Houston, etc., R. Co. v. State, supra).

63. Wabash R. Co. v. People, 78 Ill. App. 268; Buffalo v. New York, etc., R. Co., 23 N. Y. Suppl. 303 [affirmed in 6 Misc. 630, 27 N. Y. Suppl. 297]; State v. Wisconsin Cent. R. Co., 133 Wis. 478, 113 N. W. 952; State v. Wisconsin Cent. R. Co., 128 Wis. 79, 107 N. W. 295.

64. Indianapolis, etc., R. Co. v. People, 32 Ill. App. 286; Com. v. Capp, 48 Pa. St. 53.

providing a proper substitute,[65] a failure to give crossing signals,[66] to keep flagmen at a crossing,[67] to stop before crossing another railroad,[68] to announce stations at which trains stop,[69] to equip locomotives with bells or whistles [70] or with smoke consumers,[71] to provide blackboards at stations showing the time of arrival and departure of trains,[72] to construct fences,[73] cattle-guards,[74] or farm crossings,[75] or to provide separate accommodations for white and colored passengers; [76] and in one jurisdiction a penalty is provided by statute for injuries resulting in death due to the negligence of an officer, agent, or employee of the railroad company.[77]

b. Construction, Operation, and Effect — (1) In General. Statutes imposing penalties upon railroad companies are strictly construed and will not be extended by implication to cases not clearly within their application,[78] or so as 65. Llewellyn v. Vale of Glamorgan R. Co., [1897] 2 Q. B. 239, 66 L. J. Q. B. 670, 76 L. T. Rep. N. S. 778, 13 T. L. R. 491 [affirmed in [1898] 1 Q. B. 473, 67 L. J. Q. B. 305, 78 L. T. Rep. N. S. 70, 14 T. L. R. 205, 46 Wkly. Rep. 290].

Both public and private ways are within the application of the English statute, the penalty in the case of public ways to be paid to the trustees, commissioners, or other persons in charge thereof, and in the case of private ways to the owner thereof. Llewellyn v. Vale of Glamorgan R. Co., [1898] 1 Q. B. 473, 67 L. J. Q. B. 305, 78 L. T. Rep. N. S. 70, 14 T. L. R. 205, 46 Wkly. Rep. 290.

66. State v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 149 Mo. 104, 50 S. W. 278; People v. New York Cent. R. Co., 13 N. Y. 78 [affirming 25 Barb. 199].

67. Grand Trunk Western R. Co. v. State, 40 Ind. App. 695, 82 N. E. 1017.

68. Indianapolis, etc., R. Co. v. People, 91 Ill. 452.

69. Parks v. Nashville, etc., R. Co., 13 Lea (Tenn.) 1, 49 Am. Rep. 655.

70. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. State, 84 Ark. 409, 106 S. W. 199.

71. Southeastern, etc., R. Co. v. London County, 19 Cox C. C. 721, 65 J. P. 568, 84 L. T. Rep. N. S. 632.

The liability for the penalty depends upon whether the engine was equipped as required by the statute and not merely upon the fact of its emitting smoke, which might be due to the negligence of the person operating it, although it was properly equipped. Manchester, etc., R. Co. v. Wood, 2 E. & E. 344, 6 Jur. N. S. 70, 29 L. J. M. C. 39, 1 L. T. Rep. N. S. 31, 8 Wkly. Rep. 24, 105 E. C. L. 344.

72. State v. Indiana, etc., R. Co., 133 Ind. 69, 32 N. E. 817, 18 L. R. A. 502; State v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co., 8 Ohio Cir. Ct. 604, 4 Ohio Cir. Dec. 372.

73. Cotton v. Wiscasset, etc., R. Co., 98 Me. 511, 57 Atl. 785.

74. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Hale, 82 Ark. 175, 100 S. W. 1148; Choctaw, etc., R. Co. v. Goset, 70 Ark. 427, 68 S. W. 879; Fenn v. Georgia Northern R. Co., 116 Ga. 942, 43 S. E. 378; Kansas City, etc., R. Co. v. Spencer, 72 Miss. 491, 17 So. 168; Burnett v. Southern R. Co., 62 S. C. 281, 40 S. E. 679.

Notice to railroad company.—Under a statute requiring railroad companies to construct cattle-guards where the road passes through "any inclosed lands," and providing a penalty for failure to do so after ten days' notice, the lands may be inclosed before or after the construction of the railroad, but they must be inclosed at the time when the notice is given. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Hood, 67 Ark. 357, 55 S. W. 134. Where the statute requires the notice to "contain a description of the point where such cattle-guard is desired," a notice to the company demanding a cattle-guard between two named lots "where your line of road crosses said line" is sufficient. Fenn v. Georgia Northern R. Co., 116 Ga. 942, 43 S. E. 378. If the statute does not designate upon whom the notice shall be served, service upon a station agent in the county where the action is brought is sufficient. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Hale, 82 Ark. 175, 100 S. W. 1148.

75. Miller v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 133 Wis. 183, 113 N. W. 384.

76. Sturkie v. Southern R. Co., 71 S. C. 208, 50 S. E. 782; Southern Kansas R. Co. v. State, 44 Tex. Civ. App. 218, 99 S. W. 166.

77. Rine v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 100 Mo. 228, 12 S. W. 640, holding that under Rev. St. (1879) prescribing a penalty of five thousand dollars for the death of any person from the negligence of "any officer, agent, servant or employe, whilst running or managing any locomotive, car or train of cars," the negligence need not be that of the superior in charge.

78. State v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co., 157 Ind. 288, 61 N. E. 669; Miller v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 133 Wis. 183, 113 N. W. 384.

Application of rule to particular statutes.—The Indiana statute imposing a penalty of five dollars per day for unnecessarily obstructing a highway does not apply to the failure of a railroad company to restore a highway over which it has by legal authority constructed its road to its former condition as required by statute. Cummins v. Evansville, etc., R. Co., 115 Ind. 417, 18 N. E. 6. A railroad company cannot be subjected to the penalty prescribed by the Mississippi statute for neglecting to comply with an order of the railroad commissioners in regard to the construction of a depot, where the order fails to "prescribe the number and dimensions of the rooms therein for passengers" as required by the statute. State v. Alabama, etc., R. Co., 67 Miss. 647, 7 So. 502. The Mississippi statute providing a to impose a cumulative penalty for successive violations,[79] or a liability upon,[80] or a right of recovery by or for the use of,[81] persons not clearly within the application of the statute; and where the penal clause of a statute is less comprehensive than the body of the statute the liability for the penalty will be restricted to the matters and persons specified in the penal clause.[82] But this rule of strict construction is not violated by the court taking a common sense view of the statute as a whole and adopting the sense of the words which best harmonizes with the clear intent and object of the legislature; [83] and where a statute imposes a duty to which penalty for failure to construct cattle-guards where the road "passes through enclosed lands" does not apply to the inclosure formed by a public fence around a stock law district. Kansas City, etc., R. Co. v. Jones, 73 Miss. 397, 18 So. 684. The Missouri statute imposing a penalty for failing to stop all passenger trains at the junction or intersection of other railroads long enough to allow the transfer of passengers, baggage, mails, and express does not require the stoppage of all trains where there are no passengers, baggage, etc., to be transferred. State v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 105 Mo. App. 207, 79 S. W. 714. The New York statute prescribing a penalty for charging rates in excess of those prescribed by law does not apply to a railroad where it is not shown that the special acts authorizing its formation were followed up by an actual and due formation of a corporation under and pursuant to the general railroad act. Palm v. New York, etc., R. Co., 58 N. Y. Super. Ct. 502, 12 N. Y. Suppl. 554. Under the Texas statute requiring railroad companies to make certain openings or crossings through their right-of-way fences, the penalty prescribed applies only to a failure to make such crossings upon demand of two or more citizens at places outside of inclosures and independent of public highways and not to a failure to make an opening in a fence dividing an inclosure. Missouri, etc., R. Co. v. Chenault, 92 Tex. 501, 49 S. W. 1035. The Texas statute imposing a penalty for charging over a certain "rate" for freight "per hundred pounds" is construed as establishing one hundred pounds as the unit and not applying in the same proportion to shipments under that weight. Murray v. Gulf, etc., R. Co., 63 Tex. 407, 51 Am. Rep. 650. Under the Wisconsin statute imposing a penalty for failure to construct farm crossings for the landowner, where the road passes through "inclosed lands," the lands must be entirely surrounded by a substantial fence or barrier of some kind reasonably calculated to turn stock, and the lands of such owner must be separately inclosed and not merely under a common inclosure with the lands of others. Miller v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 133 Wis. 183, 113 N. W. 384.

The converse proposition is equally true and the courts cannot read into the act any language that will excuse offenders any more than they can language which will increase their liability. U. S. v. Southern R. Co., 135 Fed. 122.

Statutes imposing penalties upon third persons for wilfully taking down, opening, or removing a railroad fence, cattle-guard, or crossing, or any part thereof, are also strictly construed. Oeflein v. Zautcke, 92 Wis. 176, 66 N. W. 108, holding that the statute does not apply to the breaking down of a gate by defendant's runaway team.

Statute of limitations.— Under the South Carolina act providing that the penalty for failing to provide separate coaches for white and colored passengers shall "after paying all proper fees and costs" go into the general fund of the state treasury, the fee referred to relates to the attorney's fee of the person instituting the suit, and to that extent the penalty does not go entirely to the state, and under the rule of strict construction the action must be held to be barred within one year instead of two years as in the case of a "forfeiture or penalty to the State." Sturkie v. Southern R. Co., 71 S. C. 208, 50 S. E. 782.

79. State v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co., 8 Ohio Cir. Ct. 604, 4 Ohio Cir. Dec. 372; Parks v. Nashville, etc., R. Co., 13 Lea (Tenn.) 1, 49 Am. Rep. 655.

80. Bonner v. Franklin Co-operative Assoc., 4 Tex. Civ. App. 166, 23 S. W. 317; U. S. v. Harris, 78 Fed. 290.

81. Kansas City, etc., R. Co. v. Jones, 73 Miss. 397, 18 So. 684.

82. State v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co., 157 Ind. 288, 61 N. E. 669, holding that under a statute requiring a railroad company to maintain blackboards of certain dimensions at stations and to report thereon the lateness of trains, and providing a penalty for each violation of the statute "in failing to report, or in making a false report," the penalty applies only to the reporting of trains and not to the requirement as to the dimensions of the blackboard.

83. State v. Indiana, etc., R. Co., 133 Ind. 69, 32 N. E. 817, 18 L. R. A. 502; People v. Clark, 14 N. Y. Suppl. 642, 8 N. Y. Cr. 169, 179.

Application to particular statutes.—A statute requiring a crossing signal to be given "when the railroad shall cross" any traveled public road, and providing a penalty for every neglect to do so, will not be confined to crossings where the roads are upon the same level, but applies to a case where a railroad crosses a public highway upon a bridge constructed over the highway. People v. New York Cent. R. Co., 13 N. Y. 78 [affirming 25 Barb. 199]. Under a statute imposing a penalty upon the "owner" of a railroad for failure to give crossing signals the company in possession of and operating a railroad will be construed to be the owner a penalty is attached the penalty cannot be avoided by failing to do some other act necessary to the performance of the duty commanded.[84] A statute making the servant violating certain regulations liable to a penalty within certain limits and the company also liable for "the like sum" subjects the company to a like degree of liability and does not contemplate either a sum certain ascertained by a judgment against the offending servant,[85] or the sum prescribed by the statute as a penalty for a single violation.[86] A statute prescribing a penalty for failing to remove obstructions from a private road or crossing place after notice of "at least" a certain length does not fix the limit of time for removal, but merely prescribes the minimum notice under which the company might be held liable, leaving the maximum to be determined by the circumstances of the particular case.[87] In an action by the state to recover a penalty for the violation of a regulation by a railroad company it is no defense that no actual damage has resulted from such violation,[88] or that the company exercised reasonable care and diligence in the matter complained of,[89] or that the act constituting such violation was done by the servants of the company contrary to the rules of the company,[90] or without its knowledge and in violation of express instructions;[91] but it is a good defense as to the liability of both the servant and the company that the servant was exercising due care and making all efforts to avoid the violation but was unable to do so.[92]

(II) SUCCESSIVE VIOLATIONS. Since penal statutes are strictly construed it is held that in the case of successive violations of the statute only one penalty can be recovered for the violations prior to the institution of the suit unless the language of the statute clearly expresses a contrary intent;[93] but where the statute thereof within the application of the statute. State v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 149 Mo. 104, 50 S. W. 278. A railroad company operating a line of railroad is the corporation "owning" the railroad within the application of the Arkansas statutes imposing a penalty on a corporation owning a railroad for failing to equip its locomotives with bells or whistles. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. State, 84 Ark. 409, 106 S. W. 199. A statute imposing a penalty upon any railroad company "operating a line of railway" within the state for failure to provide certain conveniences at stations applies to a company operating a road as lessee. State v. Southern Kansas R. Co., (Tex. Civ. App. 1906) 99 S. W. 167.

84. State v. Indiana, etc., R. Co., 133 Ind. 69, 32 N. E. 817, 18 L. R. A. 502, holding that under a statute requiring railroad companies to maintain blackboards at stations and to report thereon the lateness of trains, and providing a penalty for failing to report such information on the board, the penalty cannot be avoided by failing to provide the necessary blackboards.

85. Toledo, etc., R. Co. v. People, 81 Ill. 141, penalty for obstructing highways.

86. Indianapolis, etc., R. Co. v. People, 32 Ill. App. 286, penalty for obstructing highways.

87. Simon v. Baltimore, etc., R. Co., 173 Pa. St. 517, 34 Atl. 221.

88. Houston, etc., R. Co. v. State, 61 Tex. 342, failure to make annual reports to controller of public accounts.

89. U. S. v. Southern R. Co., 135 Fed. 122, holding that under the federal statute prescribing a penalty for any common carrier to use or permit to be used on its road any car used in moving interstate traffic, which is not equipped with couplers which work automatically and which can be uncoupled without going between cars, it is no defense that the company used reasonable care and diligence as to the discovery and repairing of such defects.

90. Indianapolis, etc., R. Co. v. People, 91 Ill. 452, failure to stop train before crossing other railroad.

91. Hammond v. New York, etc., R. Co., 5 Ind. App. 526, 31 N. E. 817 (violation of speed regulations); Buffalo v. New York, etc., R. Co., 23 N. Y. Suppl. 303, 309 [affirmed in 6 Misc. 630, 27 N. Y. Suppl. 297] (violation of speed regulations).

92. State v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 122 Iowa 22, 96 N. W. 904, 101 Am. St. Rep. 254, holding that where, without any negligence, the engineer was unable to stop a train before crossing the track of another railroad as required by statute, owing to a defect in the brakes, neither the engineer nor the company is liable for the penalty.

93. Fisher v. New York Cent., etc., R. Co., 46 N. Y. 644 (holding that but one penalty can be recovered for charging rates in excess of those prescribed by law under a statute permitting the person paying such excessive rates to sue for the penalty and the excess paid); State v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co., 8 Ohio Cir. Ct. 604, 4 Ohio Cir. Dec. 372 (holding that only a single penalty can be recovered for violations of the statute requiring the erection of blackboards at stations and registering thereon the lateness of trains); Parks v. Nashville, etc., R. Co., 13 Lea (Tenn.) 1, 49 Am. Rep. 655 (hold-clearly so provides an accumulation of penalties may be recovered for each and every violation;[94] and where the statute provides that certain servants of the company shall be liable for a certain penalty "for each offense" and the corporation "for the like sum," the company is also liable for a penalty for each offense and not for the sum prescribed for a single violation.[95] Under the statutes which are construed as allowing the recovery of but a single penalty, other suits may of course be instituted in case of subsequent violations of the statute.[96] Where a statute requiring certain accommodations and facilities at stations prescribes a penalty of a certain amount for each week the company fails to comply therewith, to be sued for by the county attorney, the company is liable for a cumulative penalty for each week but not for a separate penalty for each station within a county.[97]

c. Right of Recovery and Persons Entitled. If the statute provides that the penalty shall be sued for in the name of the state, without any other or further provision as to any person being entitled thereto, the right to sue is vested solely in the state and the action cannot be brought by a private person in the name of the state;[98] but under some of the statutes the penalty imposed is recoverable ing that only a single penalty can be recovered for failures to announce stations at which trains stop as required by statute).

Under the Mississippi statute providing a penalty "for any failure" to construct and maintain "proper cattle-guards," where its road passes through inclosed lands and suitable crossings for plantation roads, only one penalty can be recovered as to all the cattle-guards and crossings which the company fails to construct which are within one inclosure. Kansas City, etc., R. Co. v. Spencer, 72 Miss. 491, 17 So. 168.

A book-account of penalties cannot be run up against a railroad company for successive delinquencies unless the statute clearly provides that there shall be a penalty for each and every offense. Parks v. Nashville, etc., R. Co., 13 Lea (Tenn.) 1, 49 Am. Rep. 655.

94. Illinois.— Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. People, 82 Ill. App. 679 (holding that under the statute prescribing a penalty "for each offense" in obstructing a highway by cars or locomotives, where a train is left standing so that the same train at the same time extends across and obstructs several highways, the obstruction of each highway is a separate offense); Indianapolis, etc., R. Co. v. People, 32 Ill. App. 286 (holding that under a statute prescribing a certain penalty "for each offense" for obstructing a highway, the recovery is not limited to a single penalty but may be recovered for each and every offense).

Indiana.— Southern R. Co. v. State, 165 Ind. 613, 75 N. E. 272; State v. Indiana, etc., R. Co., 133 Ind. 69, 32 N. E. 817, 18 L. R. A. 502; Southern R. Co. v. State, (App. 1904) 72 N. E. 174, holding that under a statute requiring the construction of blackboards at stations and registering thereon whether trains are late or on time, and providing a certain penalty "for each violation of the provision of this act," the company is liable for one penalty for each train during each trip at each station where there is a failure to comply with the provisions of the act.

New York.— People v. New York Cent. R. Co., 13 N. Y. 78 [affirming 25 Barb. 199], holding that under a statute requiring crossing signals and providing a certain penalty "for every neglect of this provision" the company incurs the penalty as often as it crosses any public road without giving the required signal.

Pennsylvania.— Lancaster v. Pennsylvania R. Co., 12 Lanc. Bar 99, holding that under an ordinance prohibiting the running of trains at over a certain rate of speed, the penalty is incurred every time a train is run at a speed in violation of the ordinance.

Wisconsin.— State v. Wisconsin Cent. R. Co., 133 Wis. 478, 113 N. W. 952, holding that cumulative penalties may be recovered for successive violations of a speed regulation, under a statute providing a certain penalty "for each and every such violation."

United States.— Missouri v. Kansas City, etc., R. Co., 32 Fed. 722, holding that under a statute providing that "for each day" a railroad company refuses or neglects to comply with a statutory provision as to the construction and maintenance of depots, it shall forfeit and pay a certain penalty, a cumulative penalty may be recovered for each day prior to the institution of the suit.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 769.

95. Indianapolis, etc., R. Co. v. People, 32 Ill. App. 286.

96. See Kansas City, etc., R. Co. v. Spencer, 72 Miss. 491, 17 So. 168; Fisher v. New York Cent., etc., R. Co., 46 N. Y. 644.

Under the Arkansas statute prescribing a penalty for failure to construct cattle-guards after ten days' notice, a landowner who has given one notice and recovered the penalty prescribed may afterward give successive notices and recover the penalty after each successive failure to comply therewith. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Fitzhugh, 83 Ark. 481, 104 S. W. 175.

97. Missouri, etc., R. Co. v. State, (Tex. Civ. App. 1906) 97 S. W. 724.

98. State v. Marietta, etc., R. Co., 108 N. C. 24, 12 S. E. 1041, construing the provisions of the North Carolina statute imposing a penalty for failing to make certain reports to the governor of the state.

by or for the benefit of the person aggrieved,[99] or person interested,[1] or in case of charges in excess of the rates prescribed by law by the person paying such rates,[2] or in the case of interfering with a road or way without providing a proper substitute, by the trustees, commissioners, or other persons having the management thereof, if a public way,[3] or by the person owning the road if a private way.[4] The fact that any wrongful act on the part of a railroad company is made the subject of a penalty does not prevent a person injured thereby from maintaining an action in tort for the damages sustained;[5] and where the statute imposes a penalty for the benefit of the "person aggrieved" any person sustaining an injury directly due to the act prohibited may recover the penalty regardless of his right to recover damages.[6] Under some of the statutes, however, it is held that the right to recover the penalty prescribed is an exclusive remedy, and that the amount of the penalty is intended as full compensation for the injury received, so that no action for damages can be maintained,[7] or that a statute imposing a penalty for the use of the "person aggrieved" provides an election of remedies,[8] and that a judgment in an action for damages is a bar to an action for the penalty based upon the same act of the railroad company whether the judgment be in favor of plaintiff,[9] or against him;[10] but under other statutes it is held that plaintiff may recover both 99. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. People, 120 Ill. 667, 12 N. E. 207 [affirming 24 Ill. App. 562], holding that a person damaged by reason of his team being frightened by a train running at a speed in violation of a speed ordinance is a "person aggrieved" and entitled to recover the penalty prescribed.

The Missouri statute requiring railroad companies to remove dry vegetation and undergrowth from their rights of way in order to prevent fires does not in terms give the penalty to the person suffering the damage by reason of its failure to do so, but the provision that the company "shall incur a penalty not to exceed five hundred dollars, and be liable for all damages done by said neglect of duty" is held clearly to imply that the penalty is for the benefit of persons so damaged. McFarland v. Mississippi River, etc., R. Co., 175 Mo. 422, 75 S. W. 152.

1. Kansas City, etc., R. Co. v. Jones, 73 Miss. 397, 18 So. 684, holding that the Mississippi statute providing a penalty for failure to maintain cattle-guards "where its track passes through inclosed land . . . to be recovered by the person interested," confers no right of action upon persons who are not owners of lands entered by the railroad.

A tenant or lessee is a person interested and may sue for the penalty prescribed for failure to maintain cattle-guards, provided the road passes through the lands leased by him, although they are not separately inclosed (Yazoo, etc., R. Co. v. Young, (Miss. 1900) 28 So. 826); but not where the road only enters the lands leased by a different tenant of the same landlord, although under the same general inclosure (Southern R. Co. v. Murrell, 78 Miss. 446, 28 So. 824).

2. Fisher v. New York Cent., etc., R. Co., 46 N. Y. 644, holding further that the penalty can be recovered by a person who has paid the excessive fare while riding for the purpose of obtaining the penalty.

3. Reg. v. Wilson, 18 Q. B. 348, 16 Jur. 973, 21 L. J. Q. B. 281, 83 E. C. L. 348, holding that the "person having the management" thereof must be a person clothed with some public duty and that a landowner who dedicated a road to the public and subsequently voluntarily repaired it is not within the application of the statute.

4. Llewellyn v. Vale of Glamorgan R. Co., [1898] 1 Q. B. 473, 67 L. J. Q. B. 305, 78 L. T. Rep. N. S. 70, 14 T. L. R. 205, 46 Wkly. Rep. 290 (holding that the term "owner thereof" includes the owner of any portion of the road interfered with, and that the first such owner suing may recover the whole penalty for his own benefit); Collinson v. Newcastle, etc., R. Co., 1 C. & K. 546, 47 E. C. L. 546 (holding that a tenant of a farm over which the road interfered with passes cannot sue for the penalty).

5. Pennsylvania R. Co. v. Kelly, 31 Pa. St. 372.

6. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. People, 120 Ill. 667, 12 N. E. 207 [affirming 24 Ill. App. 562].

Contributory negligence on the part of the person aggrieved is no defense to an action in the name of the state to recover the penalty prescribed for failing to give crossing signals. Mobile, etc., R. Co. v. People, 24 Ill. App. 250.

7. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Busick, 74 Ark. 589, 86 S. W. 674; Choctaw, etc., R. Co. v. Vosburg, 71 Ark. 232, 72 S. W. 574, each decided under the Arkansas statute prescribing a penalty to be recovered by the landowner for failure of the railroad company to construct cattle-guards.

8. Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. People, 81 Ill. App. 176; Wabash R. Co. v. People, 78 Ill. App. 268, penalty for violation of speed regulations, the company being also liable by statute for damages done by trains in violating such regulations.

9. Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. People, 81 Ill. App. 176; Wabash R. Co. v. People, 78 Ill. App. 268.

10. Terre Haute, etc., R. Co. v. People, 41 Ill. App. 513, holding that where plaintiff the penalty and the damages sustained,[11] and that they may be recovered in the same action.[12]

d. Effect of Operation by Receiver. A railroad company is not liable for a statutory penalty incurred while the road is being operated by a receiver,[13] nor is the receiver liable for such penalty unless he is clearly within the terms of the statute.[14]

e. Actions For Penalties — (I) Nature and Form of Action. The recovery of a penalty against a railroad company must ordinarily be by a civil action instead of by indictment,[15] and by an action of debt instead of an action on the case;[16] but under some of the statutes it may be by indictment,[17] or information.[18] Ordinarily the action should be brought in the name of the state,[19] but under some of the statutes it may be brought in the name of the person entitled to the penalty.[20] An action for the recovery of double damages for injury to stock occasioned by the failure of a railroad company to fence its tracks is not a penal action which must be brought in the name of the state but is properly brought in the name of the owner of the animal injured.[21]

(II) Pleading. The pleadings in actions against railroad companies for penalties are strictly construed, and the complaint must allege every fact necessary to bring the case strictly within the statute creating the liability,[22] must be suffi-elects to sue for damages caused by a train operated at a speed in violation of a speed ordinance, a judgment against him determines that he is not a "person aggrieved."

11. Kansas City, etc., R. Co. v. Spencer, 72 Miss. 491, 17 So. 168, holding that under the Mississippi statute providing a penalty for failing to maintain cattle-guards "to be recovered by the person interested," the penalty is not in lieu of damages and that plaintiff may recover both.

Under the Missouri statute requiring railroad companies to remove dry vegetation and undergrowth from their rights of way in order to prevent fires and providing that for failure to do so the company "shall incur a penalty not to exceed five hundred dollars, and be liable for all damages done by said neglect of duty," it is held that the person sustaining damage by fire so caused may recover both the penalty and the damages. McFarland v. Mississippi River, etc., R. Co., 175 Mo. 422, 75 S. W. 152; Scott v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 38 Mo. App. 523.

Under the New York statute providing a penalty for charging rates in excess of those prescribed by law, a person paying such rates may recover both the penalty and the excess paid. Fisher v. New York Cent., etc., R. Co., 46 N. Y. 644.

12. Kansas City, etc., R. Co. v. Spencer, 72 Miss. 491, 17 So. 168.

13. Arkansas Cent. R. Co. v. State, 72 Ark. 250, 79 S. W. 773 (penalty for failure to give crossing signals); Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Barnbart, 5 Tex. Civ. App. 601, 23 S. W. 801, 24 S. W. 331 (penalty for not properly caring for live stock in transit); Missouri, etc., R. Co. v. Stoner, 5 Tex. Civ. App. 50, 23 S. W. 1020 (penalty for detention of freight after tender of amount due as shown by bill of lading).

14. Campbell v. Wiess, (Tex. Civ. App. 1894) 25 S. W. 1076 (penalty for excessive charges); Bonner v. Franklin Co-operative Assoc., 4 Tex. Civ. App. 166, 23 S. W. 317 (penalty for unjust discrimination in freight rates); U. S. v. Harris, 78 Fed. 290 (penalty for non-compliance with statute relative to transportation of live stock).

15. Choctaw, etc., R. Co. v. State, 75 Ark. 369, 87 S. W. 631; Kansas City, etc., R. Co. v. State, 63 Ark. 134, 37 S. W. 1047.

16. Russell v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 93 Va. 322, 25 S. E. 99.

17. State v. Grand Trunk R. Co., 59 Me. 189; State v. Wabash, etc., R. Co., 89 Mo. 562, 1 S. W. 130.

18. State v. Wabash, etc., R. Co., 89 Mo. 562, 1 S. W. 130.

19. See the statutes of the several states; and, generally, PENALTIES, 30 Cyc. 1347.

20. Kansas City, etc., R. Co. v. Spencer, 72 Miss. 491, 17 So. 168 (penalty for failure to construct cattle-guards); Scott v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 38 Mo. App. 523 (penalty for failure to remove dry vegetation from right of way to prevent fires); Fisher v. New York Cent., etc., R. Co., 46 N. Y. 644 (penalty for charging rates in excess of those allowed by law); Russell v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 93 Va. 322, 25 S. E. 99 (penalty for failure to construct cattle-guards).

21. Seaton v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 55 Mo. 416; Fickle v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 54 Mo. 219; Hudson v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 53 Mo. 525.

22. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. State, 58 Ark. 39, 22 S. W. 918 (holding that where the statute requires a signal to be given by ringing a bell "or" blowing a whistle, either being sufficient, a complaint alleging in the conjunctive a failure to do the one "and" the other does not state a cause of action); State v. Wabash, etc., R. Co., 83 Mo. 144 (holding that in an action for the penalty for failure to construct a depot where a railroad engaged in the transportation of passengers intersects another railroad, the complaint must allege that each railroad was engaged in the transportation of passengers, the requirement being for the benefit of per-ciently definite and certain to apprise defendant of the exact charge against him and the court of the issue to be tried,[23] and must show the statute under which the penalty is claimed and aver that the act complained of was contrary to the form of the statute.[24] Statutes relating in terms to owners of railroads are construed as applying to the companies operating them, and an allegation that defendant was operating the railroad in question at the time of the violation complained of is a sufficient allegation of ownership.[25] In an action for a penalty for failing to give crossing signals the complaint to be sufficiently certain must designate the particular highway crossings where the signal was not given,[26] and should state the time of day when the train crossed the highway, its direction and the kind of train, whether freight or passenger.[27] A pleading, although in the form of an indictment, will be sustained as a complaint if it contains the necessary allegations.[28] sons transferring from one road to the other); New Jersey Cent. R. Co. v. Elizabeth, 64 N. J. L. 534, 45 Atl. 978 (holding that under an ordinance prohibiting the obstruction of a street by a train longer than necessary for the discharge of passengers, etc., and providing that when the obstruction is for over five minutes the train shall be broken at the request of any person desiring to use the crossing, a complaint in an action for the penalty prescribed is insufficient unless it alleges either that the obstruction continued longer than necessary for the purposes mentioned or that any person wishing to use the crossing demanded the train should be broken); Schloss v. Atchison, etc., R. Co., 85 Tex. 601, 22 S. W. 1014 (holding that under a statute prescribing a penalty for failure to deliver freight upon tender of the amount due "as shown by the bill of lading," the complaint must allege that in the particular case the amount due was shown by the bill of lading); Murray v. Gulf, etc., R. Co., 63 Tex. 407, 51 Am. Rep. 650 (holding that under a statute imposing a penalty for charging over a certain freight rate "per hundred pounds" and which is construed as not applying to shipments of less than that weight, a complaint is defective which alleges an over-charge on two packages each under a hundred pounds but together over that weight, where it fails to allege that they were sent by one and the same shipment and the same bill of lading).

Amendment of statutes.— Where a statute requiring trains to stop not less than two hundred feet from the crossing of another railroad is so amended that no distance is prescribed other than that it shall not be over eight hundred feet from the crossing, an action cannot be maintained where the complaint is based upon the statute as it stood prior to the amendment and the offense complained of occurred after the amendment went into effect. Mobile, etc., R. Co. v. People, 29 Ill. App. 428.

In an action by a city to recover a penalty prescribed by an ordinance thereof for obstructing its streets, which ordinance the city was expressly authorized to make by a public act of the legislature, the complaint need not aver the power of the city to enact the ordinance, but it is sufficient if it sets forth the ordinance by reciting its title and giving the substance of its provisions prescribing the penalty. Janesville v. Milwaukee, etc., R. Co., 7 Wis. 484.

Failure to maintain farm crossings.— Under a statute imposing a penalty for failure "to make and maintain convenient and suitable crossings over its track for necessary plantation roads," a declaration sufficiently shows a failure to "maintain" such a crossing which alleges that defendant had constructed a crossing but for six consecutive days left a train standing thereon wholly depriving plaintiff of its use, and that for the six days it "wholly neglected and refused to maintain said crossing." Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Denham, 82 Miss. 77, 33 So. 839.

Alternative allegations.— In an action for a penalty for failure to keep a flagman at a crossing, a complaint alleging that the tracks "are used exclusively or regularly" for switching trains is not bad where either alternative furnishes a basis of liability. Grand Trunk Western R. Co. v. State, 40 Ind. App. 695, 82 N. E. 1017.

23. Ohio, etc., R. Co. v. People, 149 Ill. 663, 36 N. E. 989 [reversing 49 Ill. App. 225, 45 Ill. App. 583].

24. Crawford v. New Jersey R., etc., Co., 28 N. J. L. 479, holding that in an action for a penalty for failing to give crossing signals, an averment in the introductory part of certain counts in the declaration that defendant not regarding the statutes nor fearing the penalties therein contained did the acts complained of is not sufficient.

25. Indianapolis, etc., R. Co. v. People, 32 Ill. App. 286 (penalty for obstructing highway); State v. St. Joseph, etc., R. Co., 46 Mo. App. 466 (penalty for failure to give crossing signals).

26. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Howard, 38 Ill. 414, holding that it is not sufficient to designate the place merely as the crossing of a public highway in a certain county.

27. Ohio, etc., R. Co. v. People, 149 Ill. 663, 36 N. E. 989 [reversing 49 Ill. App. 225, 45 Ill. App. 583].

A mere notice to defendant without any amendment of the pleadings, stating the time, direction, and character of the train, is not sufficient since it is no part of the record and no protection to the company against a subsequent action for the same penalty. Choctaw, etc., R. Co. v. State, 75 Ark. 369, 87 S. W. 631.

28. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. State, 68

(III) Evidence and Burden of Proof. In actions for penalties the general rules of evidence in civil cases apply.[29] The burden of proof is upon plaintiff,[30] and the evidence must establish every fact necessary to bring the case strictly within the statute.[31] The proof must conform to the allegations of the complaint, any material variance being fatal to a recovery;[32] but the proof need not be beyond a reasonable doubt, a preponderance of evidence being sufficient.[33]

8. Offenses in or Affecting Operation of Railroads — a. By Railroad Company or Employees — (I) In General. In many jurisdictions railroad companies are by statute made liable to indictment and fine for various acts or omissions incident to the operation of their roads,[34] such as wrongful death due to negligence,[35] failure to provide certain accommodations and facilities at stations,[36] failure to maintain fences,[37] failure to erect sign-boards at crossings,[38] failure to stop trains before crossing other railroads,[39] operating under a contract or lease without having the same recorded,[40] running freight trains except in certain Ark. 561, 60 S. W. 654; St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. State, 55 Ark. 200, 17 S. W. 806.

29. State v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 122 Iowa 22, 96 N. W. 904, 101 Am. St. Rep. 254. See also, generally, Evidence, 16 Cyc. 821; Penalties, 30 Cyc. 1357.

30. State v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 122 Iowa 22, 96 N. W. 904, 101 Am. St. Rep. 254.

31. State v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 105 Mo. App. 207, 79 S. W. 714; Palm v. New York, etc., R. Co., 58 N. Y. Super. Ct. 502, 12 N. Y. Suppl. 554.

In an action for a penalty for failure to give crossing signals the evidence must show that a public highway existed at the place alleged (Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Adler, 56 Ill. 344), but this may be sufficiently shown by the testimony of witnesses to the effect that there was a public traveled road at the place in question without producing records of the county court to show the legal establishment of the road (State v. St. Joseph, etc., R. Co., 46 Mo. App. 466).

No special damage need be shown in order to authorize a recovery under a statute imposing a penalty for failure to construct cattle-guards on request of a landowner where the road passes through inclosed lands to be recovered by the "person aggrieved." Kansas City, etc., R. Co. v. Pirtle, 68 Ark. 548, 60 S. W. 657, holding that the landowner is "aggrieved" by the mere failure of the company to construct the cattle-guard and is entitled to at least the minimum penalty prescribed by the statute in case it fails to do so.

32. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. State, 69 Ark. 363, 63 S. W. 804, holding that in an action for a penalty for obstructing a highway there can be no recovery where the evidence shows the obstruction to have been at the crossing of a different highway from that alleged in the complaint.

33. State v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 122 Iowa 22, 96 N. W. 904, 101 Am. St. Rep. 254; Houston, etc., R. Co. v. State, (Tex. Civ. App. 1907) 103 S. W. 449; U. S. v. Georgia Cent. R. Co., 157 Fed. 893.

34. See the statutes of the several states; and cases cited infra, notes 36–61.

There is no constitutional objection to statutes making railroad companies criminally liable for the misconduct of their officers and agents in the discharge of their duties (Boston, etc., R. Co. v. State, 32 N. H. 215); or for failure to comply with a valid statutory regulation (State v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 83 Ark. 249, 103 S. W. 623; Southern R. Co. v. State, 125 Ga. 287, 54 S. E. 160, 114 Am. St. Rep. 203); but an act making the killing or injury of live stock by a railroad company a misdemeanor for which certain officers and agents may be indicted in case of refusal to pay or arbitrate the claim for the injury, which applies only to certain localities within the state and deprives defendant of the presumption of innocence by making proof of the injury prima facie evidence of negligence, is unconstitutional (State v. Divine, 98 N. C. 778, 4 S. E. 477).

35. See infra, X, B, 8, a, (II).

36. State v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 83 Ark. 254, 103 S. W. 625 (failure to keep waiting-rooms heated and supplied with drinking water); State v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 83 Ark. 249, 103 S. W. 623 (failure to maintain water-closets at passenger depots); State v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co., 137 Ind. 75, 36 N. E. 713 (failure to keep waiting-rooms open for a period of not less than one hour preceding the arrival of all passenger trains allowed by schedule to stop at the station); Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Com., 103 Ky. 605, 45 S. W. 880, 46 S. W. 697, 20 Ky. L. Rep. 366 (failure to maintain suitable and convenient water-closets at stations in towns and cities); Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Com., 52 S. W. 818, 21 Ky. L. Rep. 569 (failure to provide a suitable and convenient waiting-room and to keep same in decent order and repair).

The absence of waterworks in a town or city does not excuse or affect the liability of a railroad company for failing to maintain water-closets at stations as required by statute. Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Com., 33 S. W. 939, 17 Ky. L. Rep. 1136.

37. People v. New York Cent. R. Co., 5 Park. Cr. (N. Y.) 195.

38. Texas, etc., R. Co. v. State, 41 Ark. 488.

39. Com. v. Chesapeake, etc., R. Co., 29 S. W. 136, 16 Ky. L. Rep. 481.

40. Com. v. Chesapeake, etc., R. Co., 72 S. W. 359, 24 Ky. L. Rep. 1880.

cases on Sunday,[41] heating cars by means of a stove or furnace inside of the car,[42] failure to supply passenger cars with pure drinking water,[43] or wrongfully obstructing streets and highways.[44] Independently of statute railroad companies are indictable for acts constituting a public nuisance,[45] or may be indicted for the non-performance of a statutory duty for which no punishment is specially provided under a general statute providing that in such cases the wilful omission of any duty enjoined by law upon any person holding a public trust or employment shall be punishable as a misdemeanor.[46] In some cases the statutes make particular officers or agents subject to indictment for certain acts or omissions,[47] in which case an indictment will lie only against the particular officer or agent specified,[48] or provide generally that any employee of the company shall be criminally liable for negligence or disobedience of the rules of the company whereby injury or death may result to any person.[49]

(II) WRONGFUL DEATH. In some jurisdictions railroad companies are by statute made liable to indictment and fine for negligent injuries resulting in death;[50] but the action, although criminal in form, is in effect a civil action for

41. Vaughan v. State, 116 Ga. 841, 43 S. E. 249, superintendent of transportation liable to indictment for running freight trains on Sunday.

42. People v. Clark, 14 N. Y. Suppl. 642, 8 N. Y. Cr. 169,,179, holding that either t e corporation or the officer or agent doing or causing to be done the act prohibited is liable to indictment.

43. Southern R. Co. v. State, 125 Ga. 287, 54 S. E. 160, 114 Am. St. Rep. 203.

44. See infra, X, B, 8, a, (III).

45. State v. Western North Carolina R. Co., 95 N. C. 602; State v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 91 Tenn. 445, 19 S. W. 229; Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. State, 3 Head (Tenn.) 523, 75 Am. Dec. 778.

Mode of running trains.— It is an indictable nuisance for a railroad company habitually to run its trains at a public crossing at a dangerous rate of speed and without giving any warning signals or taking any other precautions to avoid injury to persons at the crossing, notwithstanding there is no statute limiting the rate of speed or requiring the giving of such signals. Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Com., 13 Bush (Ky.) 388, 26 Am. Rep. 205.

46. People v. Long Island R. Co., 134 N. Y. 506, 31 N. E. 873 [affirming 58 Hun 412, 12 N. Y. Suppl. 41], holding that within the application of the statute the term "person" includes a corporation and that a railroad company as a common carrier holds a public employment.

47. Vaughan v. State, 116 Ga. 841, 43 S. E. 249 ("superintendent of transportation . . or the officer having charge of the business of that department of the railroad" liable for operating freight trains except in certain cases on Sunday); Becker v. State, 33 Ind. App. 261, 71 N. E. 188 (conductor or person having charge of a freight train liable for allowing train to obstruct highway crossing).

48. Vaughan v. State, 116 Ga. 841, 43 S. E. 249; Craven r. State, 109 Ga. 266, 34 S. E. 561.

49. Com. v. Griffin, 7 Phila. (Pa.) 679.

50. State r. Grand Trunk R. Co., 58 Me. 176, 4 Am. Rep. 258; Com. r. Boston, etc., R. Co., 121 Mass. 36; State r. Manchester, etc., R. Co., 52 N. H. 528.

There is no constitutional objection to statutes making railroad companies criminally liable for wrongful death due to the negligence or misconduct of their agents or employees. Boston, etc., R. Co. r. State, 32 N. H. 215.

Under the Massachusetts statute a railroad is criminally liable for wrongful death due to the negligence of the corporation, without regard to whether it be gross, but the negligence or carelessness of its servants in order to render the company criminally liable must be gross. Com. v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 133 Mass. 383. The liability imposed by the statute applies where the loss of life occurs upon a railroad track not owned by defendant or within the chartered limits of its road or a road then under its control but which is a private track of a coal company upon which the train is run by the mere sufferance and license of the owner. Com. r. Boston, etc., R. Co., 126 Mass. 61. If a person, although in the employment of a railroad company in the sense of working from day to day, is killed while riding on the road during time which is his own and when the company has no authority over him and is riding on a monthly ticket issued to employees containing more rides than necessary for traveling to and from their work, which may be used in private business, such person is a passenger and not "in the employment" of the company within the application of the statute. Doyle r. Fitchburg R. Co., 162 Mass. 66, 37 N. E. 770, 44 Am. St. Rep. 335, 25 L. R. A. 157.

The words "proprietor or proprietors" of a railroad, as used in the statutes, although not the most appropriate term to designate a corporation, apply to a railroad corporation (Com. v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 11 Cush. (Mass.) 512; State r. Gilmore, 24 N. H. 461), and only to the corporation, and do not impose any liability upon the individual stock-holders (State v. Gilmore, supra).

damages.[51] To sustain the action it must appear that the person for whose benefit the fine may be imposed is in existence,[52] and that the railroad company was negligent and that such negligence was the cause of the injury.[53] Contributory negligence on the part of decedent will defeat the action,[54] and the burden is upon the prosecution to show the absence of such negligence.[55]

(III) OBSTRUCTING PUBLIC HIGHWAYS. Independently of statute, a railroad company is subject to indictment on the ground of creating and maintaining a public nuisance by unreasonably or unnecessarily obstructing a public highway,[56] although the obstruction be outside of its right of way;[57] and in some jurisdictions there are statutes expressly making it an indictable offense for a railroad company to obstruct streets or highways, or to do so for over a certain length of time.[58] In a common-law action for nuisance it is a good defense if it be shown

51. Com. v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 121 Mass. 36; State v. Manchester, etc., R. Co., 52 N. H. 528.

A nolle prosequi may be entered by the prosecuting attorney while the case is on trial before the jury and against defendant's objection, the proceeding being essentially a civil action. State v. Maine Cent. R. Co., 77 Me. 244.

52. Com. v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 121 Mass. 36, holding that under the Massachusetts statute, if decedent was not a passenger and left no widow or children, there can be no recovery for the next of kin as is allowed where decedent was a passenger.

53. State v. Maine Cent. R. Co., 77 Me. 538, 1 Atl. 673.

54. State v. Maine Cent. R. Co., 77 Me. 538, 1 Atl. 673; State v. Maine Cent. R. Co., 76 Me. 357, 49 Am. Rep. 622; Com. v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 129 Mass. 500, 37 Am. Rep. 382; State v. Grand Trunk R. Co., 65 N. H. 663, 23 Atl. 525.

But if the negligence of the railroad company was the proximate cause and that of decedent remote, as where notwithstanding decedent's negligence the servants of the railroad company saw his danger and might have avoided the injury, but instead of so doing were grossly negligent and ran over him, the company may be held liable. State v. Manchester, etc., R. Co., 52 N. H. 528.

55. State v. Maine Cent. R. Co., 76 Me. 357, 49 Am. Rep. 622.

But this burden is sustained by proving facts and circumstances from which it may clearly be inferred that the person killed was in the exercise of due care and diligence. Com. v. Boston, etc., R. Corp., 126 Mass. 61.

56. Indiana.— State v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 86 Ind. 114.

Iowa.— State v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 77 Iowa 442, 42 N. W. 365, 4 L. R. A. 298.

Kentucky.— Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Com., 45 S. W. 367, 20 Ky. L. Rep. 115; Com. v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 7 Ky. L. Rep. 305.

North Carolina.— State v. Western North Carolina R. Co., 95 N. C. 602.

Tennessee.— State v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 91 Tenn. 445, 19 S. W. 229.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 778.

The leaving of a hand car on a public road at a railroad crossing, and hanging buckets and clothing thereon whereby the road is obstructed and horses frightened, constitutes a public nuisance. Cincinnati R. Co. v. Com., 80 Ky. 137.

In Pennsylvania, the statute of 1845, providing that any engineer or other agent of a railroad company who shall obstruct a public crossing shall be subject to a penalty of twenty-five dollars, to be recovered in the name of the state before a justice of the peace, is held to be exclusive and to supersede the common-law remedy by indictment. Com. v. Capp, 48 Pa. St. 53.

57. Com. v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 7 Ky. L. Rep. 305.

58. Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Com., 117 Ky. 350, 78 S. W. 124, 79 S. W. 275, 25 Ky. L. Rep. 1452, 2050; Com. v. New York, etc., R. Co., 112 Mass. 412.

In Maine the statute prohibiting the obstruction provides a penalty for each offense, but under the statute regarding penalties the recovery may be by indictment, there being no other mode of procedure expressly provided. State v. Grand Trunk R. Co., 59 Me. 189.

In Mississippi, Code (1892), § 3551, makes it an indictable offense for a railroad company to stop its trains so as to obstruct travel upon a "highway" for over five minutes, or so as to obstruct a "street" for a longer period than shall be prescribed by ordinance of the city, town, or village; but the statute is construed as applying only to a highway in the country, or to a street in a municipality where there is an ordinance in regard to such obstruction, and if there is no such ordinance, the company is not liable to indictment under the statute for obstructing a street. Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. State, 71 Miss. 253, 14 So. 459.

Under the Indiana statute, the conductor, or person in charge of a train carrying freight, is liable to indictment for allowing the train to obstruct the crossing of a public highway. Becker v. State, 33 Ind. App. 261, 71 N. E. 188.

Where a statute and ordinance prescribe different periods of time as rendering the company liable for the obstruction of a highway, the ordinance is void in so far as it conflicts with the statute, and the company will be liable for obstructing a crossing for the time prescribed by the statute, although it is a less period than that prescribed by the ordinance. Louisville, etc., that the obstruction was necessarily incident to the proper operation of the road, and was not maintained for an unnecessary or unreasonable length of time;[59] but under a statute in terms absolute, prohibiting the obstruction of a highway for over a certain length of time, the company is liable without regard to whether the obstruction was reasonable or unreasonable, accidental or intentional;[60] and in neither case is it any defense that the servants or agents, in causing the obstruction, acted contrary to the rules or instructions of the company, provided they were acting within the scope of their employment.[61]

b. By Other Persons Affecting Property or Operation of Railroad — (I) In General. There are statutes in some jurisdictions making various acts of third parties affecting railroads or their operation indictable offenses,[62] such as wrongfully interfering with cars, locomotives, machinery, or appliances,[63] wrecking or obstructing the passage of trains,[64] breaking into cars or depots,[65] unlawfully boarding a passenger train with intent to rob the train,[66] stopping a train with intent to commit a robbery thereon,[67] throwing or shooting at or into trains or cars,[68] or stealing or attempting to steal rides without paying transportation.[69]

R. Co. v. Com., 117 Ky. 350, 78 S. W. 124, 79 S. W. 275, 25 Ky. L. Rep. 1452, 2050.

59. State v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 86 Ind. 114.

60. Com. v. New York, etc., R. Co., 112 Mass. 412.

61. Com. v. New York, etc., R. Co., 112 Mass. 412; State v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 91 Tenn. 445, 19 S. W. 229. Compare Gude v. State, 76 Ala. 100.

62. See the statutes of the several states; and cases cited infra, notes 63–86.

63. Indiana.— Coghill v. State, 37 Ind. 111.

Kentucky.— Thaeker v. Com., 85 S. W. 1096, 27 Ky. L. Rep. 620.

Tennessee.— Harris v. State, 14 Lea 485.

Texas.— Bullion v. State, 7 Tex. App. 462.

Wisconsin.— State v. Bisping, 123 Wis. 267, 101 N. W. 359.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 773.

The Minnesota statute making it a criminal offense to displace, remove, or destroy "a rail, sleeper, switch, bridge, viaduct, culvert, embankment, or structure, or any part thereof, attached or appertaining to, or connected with a railway" is construed as not applying to structures such as railroad fences not constituting any part of the railroad proper. State v. Walsh, 43 Minn. 444, 45 N. W. 721.

64. See infra, X, B, 8, b, (II).

65. Johnson v. State, 98 Ala. 57, 13 So. 503 (holding that it is not necessary to prove that the car was standing on the track of the railroad company); Carter v. Com., (Ky. 1887) 5 S. W. 48.

An attempt to break into a railroad car is not an offense under the Texas statute. Summers v. State, 49 Tex. Cr. 90, 90 S. W. 310.

66. People v. Lovren, 119 Cal. 88, 51 Pac. 22, 638, holding that the phrase "robbing a passenger train" is not meaningless as implying a legal impossibility.

Construction of statute.— The California statute making it a criminal offense to unlawfully board a train with intent to rob the train is declared to be an act to prevent train wrecking, and applies only to an operative train which is being used, so that it is not an offense under the statute to board a train which has already been wrecked with intent to rob. People v. Thompson, 115 Cal. 160, 46 Pac. 912.

67. State v. Stubblefield, 157 Mo. 360, 58 S. W. 337; State v. West, 157 Mo. 309, 57 S. W. 1071.

68. Florida.— Hamilton v. State, 30 Fla. 229, 11 So. 523.

Iowa.— State v. Leasman, 137 Iowa 191, 114 N. W. 1032.

Kentucky.— Burkhart v. Com., 119 Ky. 317, 83 S. W. 633, 26 Ky. L. Rep. 1245, holding that under a statute making it a felony to shoot at "a railroad passenger coach" on or in which are passengers or employees of the railroad company, a person wilfully shooting at a train of one or more cars containing passengers is guilty under the statute irrespective of whether they are such as are generally known as passenger coaches.

Mississippi.— State v. Ray, 87 Miss. 183, 39 So. 521, holding that a person who throws a missile into a coach in a moving train while standing on a platform of the coach violates the statute making it punishable to hurl any missile into a moving train.

North Carolina.— State v. Hinson, 82 N. C. 597, holding that it is not essential to a conviction under the statute to prove that a pistol discharged at a railroad train was loaded with some projectile as well as with powder.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 782.

Shooting at a brakeman is an offense cognizable by the general criminal law and is not within the application of the Michigan Railway Law making it a criminal offense to "willfully endanger or attempt to endanger the lives of persons engaged in the work of said road, or persons traveling on the engine or cars of said road." People v. Dunkel, 39 Mich. 255.

69. Mack v. State, 119 Ga. 352, 46 S. E. 437 (holding that a person who openly enters and remains in a car with no intent to pay his fare is not guilty under the statute, but that if he conceals himself on a

(II) Wrecking or Obstructing Passage of Trains. In many jurisdictions statutes have been enacted making it a criminal offense for any person wantonly and maliciously to injure any railroad,[70] or to wreck or attempt to wreck trains,[71] change or move rails or switches[72] or other fixture attached to the track or switches,[73] alter signals,[74] burn bridges;[75] obstruct an engine or car using or passing upon a railroad,[76] put obstructions upon the track,[77] or salt stock train or in a car for the purpose of avoiding the payment of fare, he is guilty of "attempting to steal" a ride, if removed before the journey begins, or of "stealing" a ride, if not discovered until after the journey is actually begun); Daugherty v. State, 41 Tex. Cr. 661, 56 S. W. 620.

It is within the power of the legislature as a measure conducive to public safety to pass an act making penal the "stealing or attempting to steal a ride" on railroad trains without regard to whether the ride so stolen is the subject of larceny, nor is the act unconstitutional as seeking to punish by fine, imprisonment and penal servitude the non-payment of a debt due to a common carrier for transportation. Pressley v. State, 118 Ga. 315, 45 S. E. 395.

70. Clifton v. State, 73 Ala. 473.

71. Alsobrook v. State, 126 Ga. 100, 54 S. E. 805; Hodge v. State, 82 Ga. 643, 9 S. E. 676, holding that the statute applies to all railroads whether duly chartered as such or not.

What constitutes offense.— Under a statute making it a felony to "wreck or attempt to wreck" a railroad train, the actual wrecking accompanied by any wrongful act tending to produce such a disaster would be a crime, but to constitute a criminal attempt, where no wrecking ensues, an intention or purpose to wreck is essential. Nowell v. State, 94 Ga. 588, 21 S. E. 591.

72. California.— People v. Thompson, 111 Cal. 242, 43 Pac. 748.

Indiana.— Coghill v. State, 37 Ind. 111.

Kentucky.— Conley v. Com., 98 Ky. 125, 32 S. W. 285, 17 Ky. L. Rep. 678.

Missouri.— State v. Johns, 124 Mo. 379, 27 S. W. 1115.

Nebraska.— Davis v. State, 51 Nebr. 301, 70 N. W. 984, holding that a statute making it a felony wilfully and maliciously to displace the fixtures of a railroad track, and providing further that if such displacement causes the death of any one the person displacing such fixture shall be guilty of murder in the first or second degree or manslaughter, according to the nature of the offense, is not unconstitutional.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 780.

73. Rooney v. Com., 102 Ky. 373, 43 S. W. 689, 19 Ky. L. Rep. 1390, holding that a switch light is a "fixture attached to the track or switch" and its destruction an offense within the application of the statute.

74. See Harris v. State, 14 Lea (Tenn.) 485; State v. Bisping, 123 Wis. 267, 101 N. W. 359.

75. Duncan r. State, 29 Fla. 439, 10 So. 815, holding that a statute making it a criminal offense to burn certain structures including a "bridge" applies to a railroad bridge or viaduct.

76. Com. v. Killian, 109 Mass. 345, 12 Am. Rep. 714 (holding that under a statute providing a punishment for whoever "obstructs any engine or carriage passing upon a railroad" the act of a passenger in stopping a train by pulling the signal rope is not an offense whatever may have been his motive in so doing); Reg. v. Hadfield, L. R. 1 C. C. 253, 11 Cox C. C. 574, 39 L. J. M. C. 131, 22 L. T. Rep. N. S. 664, 18 Wkly. Rep. 955 (holding that under a statute making it a criminal offense to "obstruct, or cause to be obstructed, any engine or carriage using any railway" the obstruction need not be a physical one and that to cause a train to stop by altering signals is an offense within the application of the statute).

77. Alabama.— Clifton v. State, 73 Ala. 473.

Georgia.— Sanders v. State, 118 Ga. 329, 45 S. E. 365.

Indiana.— Coghill v. State, 37 Ind. 111, holding that the statute making it a felony to wilfully and maliciously place any obstruction upon a railroad track is not repealed by the statute making it a misdemeanor to in any manner obstruct a railroad.

Iowa.— State v. Hessenkamp, 17 Iowa 25.

Kentucky.— Conley v. Com., 98 Ky. 125, 32 S. W. 285, 17 Ky. L. Rep. 678.

Minnesota.— State v. Kilty, 28 Minn. 421, 10 N. W. 475.

Mississippi.— McCarty v. State, 37 Miss. 411.

Missouri.— State v. Johns, 124 Mo. 379, 27 S. W. 1115.

Nebraska.— Davis v. State, 51 Nebr. 301, 70 N. W. 984.

New Hampshire.— State v. Beckman, 57 N. H. 174.

New York.— People v. Adams, 16 Hun 549.

Tennessee.— Crawford v. State, 15 Lea 343, 54 Am. Rep. 423.

Texas.— Stanfield v. State, 43 Tex. Cr. 10, 62 S. W. 917; Cox v. State, (Cr. App. 1900) 59 S. W. 903 (holding that the obstruction need not be one which would necessarily endanger life, but it is sufficient if it "might endanger life"); Bullion v. State, 7 Tex. App. 462.

Wisconsin.— State v. Bisping, 123 Wis. 267, 101 N. W. 359.

England.— Reg. v. Bradford, Bell C. C. 268; Roberts v. Preston, 9 C. B. N. S. 208, 99 E. C. L. 208.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 780.

The fact that the road is not open for public traffic does not affect the liability thereon,[78] or do any act whereby an engine or car might be upset, arrested, or thrown from the track.[79] Under such statutes the offense is complete by wilfully and intentionally doing the wrongful act prohibited,[80] and it is not necessary that a train should be actually stopped or obstructed,[81] or human life endangered,[82] or that defendant should have intended that any injury to a train or persons thereon should result;[83] nor is it any defense that it affirmatively appears that such was not his intention,[84] or that the railroad at the place obstructed was upon his land and the railroad company had not complied with its contract under which defendant had granted the right of way.[85] To put any object upon the track of such a character and in such a manner as would derail or endanger a train or the safety of the persons conveyed is to "obstruct" the track or train within the application of the statute.[86]

c. Effect of Operation by Receiver. A railroad company cannot be convicted for offenses incident to the operation of its road occurring while the road is being controlled and operated by a receiver;[87] but it may be convicted of offenses occurring prior to the time when the receiver went into possession,[88] and the receiver may be indicted for offenses incident to the operation of the road occurring during his control thereof.[89] for obstructing the track where the road is in operation and being used for the conveyance of workmen and materials. Reg. v. Bradford, Bell C. C. 268.

Liability where obstruction causes death.— In Tennessee there are two statutes, the first making it a felony punishable by imprisonment to put any obstruction upon a railroad track "so as to endanger the safe running of the locomotive and cars," and the second making it a felony punishable by death where the death of any person shall be occasioned by an accident due to such obstruction. Harris v. State, 14 Lea (Tenn.) 485, holding, however, that the latter statute applies only in cases of obstructions endangering the safe running of the locomotive or cars and does not apply to a case where death results from the collision of a hand car with such obstruction.

78. See Clifton v. State, 73 Ala. 473.

79. Rooney v. Com., 102 Ky. 373, 43 S. W. 689, 19 Ky. L. Rep. 1390, holding that the destruction of a switch light is an offense within the application of the statute, although no actual injury resulted therefrom.

80. Clifton v. State, 73 Ala. 473; State v. Kilty, 28 Minn. 421, 10 N. W. 475; State v. Johns, 124 Mo. 379, 27 S. W. 1115; State v. Bisping, 123 Wis. 267, 101 N. W. 359.

Malice will be implied if defendant knew that trains were being operated on the road and he intentionally placed the obstruction upon the track unless he can show that it was put there for a lawful purpose. State v. Hessenkamp, 17 Iowa 25. But see Allison v. State, 42 Ind. 354.

81. State v. Kilty, 28 Minn. 421, 10 N. W. 475; State v. Bisping, 123 Wis. 267, 101 N. W. 359; Reg. v. Bradford, Bell C. C. 268.

82. State v. Bisping, 123 Wis. 267, 101 N. W. 359.

83. Clifton v. State, 73 Ala. 473; People v. Adams, 16 Hun (N. Y.) 549; State v. Bisping, 123 Wis. 267, 101 N. W. 359.

84. State v. Johns, 124 Mo. 379, 27 S. W. 1115 (where defendant removed a rail and then flagged the train in the hope of receiving a reward); State v. Beckman, 57 N. H. 174 (where defendant obstructed the track merely for the purpose of annoying persons using a hand car thereon); Crawford v. State, 15 Lea (Tenn.) 343, 54 Am. Rep. 423 (where defendant obstructed the track and then flagged the train in the hope of receiving a reward). But see Batting v. Bristol, etc., R. Co., 3 L. T. Rep. N. S. 665, 9 Wkly. Rep. 271.

85. State v. Hessenkamp, 17 Iowa 25.

86. Sanders v. State, 118 Ga. 329, 45 S. E. 365; State v. Kilty, 28 Minn. 421, 10 N. W. 475; Reg. v. Bradford, Bell C. C. 268.

But the object must be of such a character as to obstruct the train or endanger the lives of persons conveyed. Bullion v. State, 7 Tex. App. 462.

87. State v. Minneapolis, etc., R. Co., 88 Iowa 689, 56 N. W. 400 (indictment for nuisance in obstructing highway); Paducah, etc., R. Co. v. Com., 33 S. W. 822, 17 Ky. L. Rep. 1161 (indictment for failure to maintain certain accommodations at stations as required by statute); State v. Vermont Cent. R. Co., 30 Vt. 108 (indictment for nuisance in obstructing highway). But see Arkansas Cent. R. Co. v. State, 72 Ark. 252, 79 S. W. 772, holding that a railroad company may be indicted for failure to erect sign-boards at public crossings as required by statute, although at the time of such failure the road was in the hands of a receiver, since this could have been done by the company without interfering with the receiver in the rightful discharge of his duties.

88. State v. Minneapolis, etc., R. Co., 88 Iowa 689, 56 N. W. 400.

89. Com. v. Felton, 107 Ky. 330, 53 S. W. 1046, 21 Ky. L. Rep. 1039, holding that under the Kentucky statute providing that the words "corporation" or "company" may be construed as including any person, a receiver may be indicted for failure to provide certain

d. Indictment or Information — (i) In General. In an indictment against a railroad company it is a sufficient allegation of defendant's corporate existence to state the name of the company, and that it is a corporation existing under and by virtue of the laws of the state, duly organized and doing business;[90] and where the indictment is against the receiver of a railroad an averment that he is the receiver of and as such is operating a certain railroad is a sufficient averment of authority from the court appointing him to operate the road.[91] Where the statute only makes a particular officer or agent of the railroad company liable to indictment, the indictment must show that defendant is the officer or agent specified by the statute.[92] An indictment against a railroad company must allege every fact necessary to constitute the offense charged,[93] and must be sufficiently certain to enable defendant to prepare his defense and to make a judgment rendered thereon available as a bar to another prosecution;[94] and where the offense consists in the omission of some duty which is purely statutory, the duty of the railroad company to perform the act omitted must be averred.[95] But it is not necessary to use the exact language of the statute, certainty to a common intent being all that is required,[96] and an indictment will ordinarily be held good which is sufficiently accommodations and facilities at stations which are required by statute, and that no order of the court appointing him is necessary to authorize him to make expenditures in order to comply with such statutes.

90. State v. Vermont Cent. R. Co., 28 Vt. 583, holding that it is not necessary to allege the time and place, when and where defendant became a corporation.

91. Com. v. Felton, 107 Ky. 330, 53 S. W. 1046, 21 Ky. L. Rep. 1039.

92. Vaughan v. State, 116 Ga. 841, 43 S. E. 249.

93. State v. Kansas City, etc., R. Co., 54 Ark. 546, 16 S. W. 567.

The indictment must allege that defendant was operating a railroad at the time and place mentioned in an indictment for failing to fix and block the frogs on its tracks to prevent injuries to its employees as required by statute (Com. v. Illinois Cent. R. Co., 55 S. W. 10, 21 Ky. L. Rep. 1342); and under a statute requiring railroad companies to provide convenient and suitable waiting-rooms at depots in cities and towns and "at such other stations as the Railroad Commission may require," an indictment for failing to provide a waiting-room at a certain village must allege that the railroad commission had made such requirement (Com. v. Illinois Cent. R. Co., 86 S. W. 542, 27 Ky. L. Rep. 763).

Where the prosecution is in effect a civil action as in a case of prosecution for wrongful death where the fine imposed is for the benefit of decedent's family, the form of the indictment is nevertheless governed by the rules applicable to indictments in other criminal cases (State v. Manchester, etc., R. Co., 52 N. H. 528), and in such case the indictment must show the existence of the persons for whose benefit the fine may be imposed (Com. v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 121 Mass. 36).

94. State v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 83 Ark. 254, 103 S. W. 625 (holding that under a statute requiring a railroad company to provide separate waiting-rooms for white and colored passengers and to keep the same heated and supplied with drinking water, an indictment charging a failure to keep a waiting-room at a particular station heated and supplied with drinking water, but not stating which waiting-room, is void for uncertainty); State v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 83 Ark. 249, 103 S. W. 623; State v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co., 137 Ind. 75, 36 N. E. 713 (holding that an indictment for failing to keep open a waiting-room for a certain period before the arrival of trains as required by statute must allege that defendant had provided a waiting-room at the place in question, the failure to maintain a waiting-room being also an indictable offense).

95. People v. New York Cent. R. Co., 5 Park. Cr. (N. Y.) 195, holding that an indictment for failing to maintain fences must show the duty of the company to fence, either by direct averment or by reciting or referring to the statute in such manner as to show the existence of such duty, and that in the absence of such allegation, the fact that it concludes "contrary to the form of the statute" is not sufficient.

96. Becker v. State, 33 Ind. App. 261, 71 N. E. 188 (holding that, under a statute making it unlawful for a conductor or person having charge of a train "carrying freight" to permit it to obstruct a public highway, an allegation that defendant had "charge of running a railroad freight train and freight cars" is sufficient); Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Com., 103 Ky. 605, 45 S. W. 880, 46 S. W. 697, 20 Ky. L. Rep. 366 (holding that under a statute requiring defendant to provide a "convenient and suitable" waiting-room, an indictment alleging that it was not "suitable" is sufficient, without also alleging that it was not convenient); Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Com., 33 S. W. 939, 17 Ky. L. Rep. 1136 (holding that under a statute requiring the maintenance of certain accommodations at "depots" in towns and cities, an indictment charging defendant with a failure to maintain them at its "passenger station" in a certain town is sufficient).

certain to enable defendant to make his defense and to be available as a bar to a subsequent prosecution.[97] Where a statute specifies several acts separately constituting, or several ways of committing, one and the same offense, for which the same punishment is prescribed, an indictment charging two or more of such acts together in the same count states but a single offense and is not bad for duplicity;[98] but if, under the language of the statute, each of the acts specified constitutes a separate and distinct offense, a joinder of two or more of such acts renders the indictment bad for duplicity.[99] In an indictment for wrongful death it is not necessary to specify the particular acts of negligence by reason of which the injury occurred, or to allege that deceased was exercising due care at the time of the accident,[1] or to set out the names of defendant's servants whose negligence occasioned the injury;[2] but the indictment must show that there is a surviving relative who is entitled to the fine.[3] In an indictment for failing to give the statutory crossing signals, it is sufficient to describe the place of such omission as the crossing of a public highway without alleging when or by what authority it was established;[4] but the indictment should specify which of defendant's trains committed the alleged offense where different trains were operated at the place upon the day specified;[5] and where the statute requires either the ringing of a bell "or" the blowing of a whistle, an indictment alleging in the conjunctive that it failed to do the one "and" the other does not show the commission of 97. Becker v. State, 33 Ind. App. 261, 71 N. E. 188; Com. v. Chesapeake, etc., R. Co., 72 S. W. 359, 24 Ky. L. Rep. 1880; Chesapeake, etc., R. Co. v. Com., 43 S. W. 445, 19 Ky. L. Rep. 1345.

Indictments held sufficient.— In an indictment against a conductor for obstructing a highway with a train, it is not necessary to state the name of the railroad company, defendant's employer, but it is sufficient to describe the way and the obstruction. State v. Malone, 8 Ind. App. 8, 35 N. E. 198. Under a statute requiring all trains to stop at least fifty feet before reaching the crossing of another railway, an indictment alleging that on a certain day defendant failed to stop any of its trains before reaching a certain crossing is not misleading or prejudicial, as a conviction could not be had under the indictment for more than one such offense. Com. v. Chesapeake, etc., R. Co., 29 S. W. 136, 16 Ky. L. Rep. 481. An indictment for failing to keep a waiting-room "in decent order and repair" as required by statute is sufficient where it alleges that it was not so kept, without any further specification. Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Com., 52 S. W. 818, 21 Ky. L. Rep. 569. An indictment for operating a railroad under a lease without having the same recorded is sufficient if it follows the language of the statute and need not allege that the lease was in writing. Com. v. Chesapeake, etc., R. Co., 101 Ky. 159, 40 S. W. 250, 19 Ky. L. Rep. 329.

98. State v. Malone, 8 Ind. App. 8, 35 N. E. 198; State v. Manchester, etc., R. Co., 52 N. H. 528.

Indictment not bad for duplicity.— Under a statute making it a criminal offense to permit a freight train to remain standing on a street or highway, or wherever it is necessary to stop the train across such way to fail to leave an open space of a certain width, an indictment charging the stopping of a train across a street and a failure to leave a space as specified by the statute charges but a single offense and is not bad for duplicity. Becker v. State, 33 Ind. App. 261, 71 N. E. 188; State v. Malone, 8 Ind. App. 8, 35 N. E. 198. Under a statute requiring railroad companies to "provide a convenient and suitable waiting-room" and to "keep and maintain the same in decent order and repair," an indictment charging that the waiting-room provided was not "convenient or suitable" and was not "kept in decent order or repair," charges but a single offense. Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Com., 52 S. W. 818, 21 Ky. L. Rep. 569. An indictment for wrongful death charging that the act was committed by the negligence or carelessness of defendant and by the unfitness, gross negligence, or carelessness of its servants, both being specified by statute, is not bad for duplicity. State v. Manchester, etc., R. Co., 52 N. H. 528.

99. State v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 83 Ark. 249, 103 S. W. 623.

Application of rule.— Under a statute requiring railroad companies to keep waiting-rooms heated and supplied with drinking water, an indictment charging a failure to do both charges two separate and distinct offenses and is bad for duplicity. State v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 83 Ark. 254, 103 S. W. 625.

1. State v. Manchester, etc., R. Co., 52 N. H. 528.

2. Com. v. Boston, etc., R. Corp., 11 Cush. (Mass.) 512.

3. State v. Gilmore, 24 N. H. 461.

4. Chesapeake, etc., R. Co. v. Com., 43 S. W. 445, 19 Ky. L. Rep. 1345.

5. Choctaw, etc., R. Co. v. State, 74 Ark. 159, 85 S. W. 85, holding that a motion to make the indictment more specific in regard to the identity of the train should have been granted.

an offense.[6] In an indictment against a railroad company for a public nuisance the acts constituting the nuisance must be set out with distinctness and certainty.[7] An indictment against a third person for a statutory offense affecting the property or operation of a railroad must allege every fact and circumstance necessary to constitute the offense,[8] and must be sufficiently certain to enable defendant to make his defense and to make a judgment rendered thereon available as a bar to another prosecution;[9] but if the statute itself states the elements of the offense, it is sufficient to charge it in the language of the statute.[10] An indictment for throwing or shooting at a train need not allege an intent to injure any particular person or persons,[11] or allege the ownership of the train.[12]

(II) WRECKING OR OBSTRUCTING PASSAGE OF TRAINS. An indictment for wrecking or obstructing the passage of trains must allege every material fact necessary to constitute the offense as defined by statute,[13] and should inform the accused of the leading and material grounds of the charge against him so as to enable him to make his defense;[14] but it is ordinarily sufficient to charge the

6. State v. Kansas City, etc., R. Co., 54 Ark. 546, 16 S. W. 567.

7. Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Com., 40 S. W. 913, 19 Ky. L. Rep. 455, holding that an indictment for nuisance alleging that the railroad company permitted its engines to remain near a street crossing and allowed smoke and steam to escape therefrom is fatally defective in failing to allege that the engines were allowed to so remain for an unreasonable and unnecessary length of time.

Nuisance in obstructing public highways.— An indictment for nuisance in obstructing a street or highway is sufficiently certain where it charges that the offense was committed at a certain point on a certain street in a certain town by the placing of freight cars across such street (Com. v. Illinois Cent. R. Co., 118 Ky. 775, 82 S. W. 381, 26 Ky. L. Rep. 672); but it is fatally defective if it does not identify the street further than as a public highway in a certain town crossing defendant's track near the depot (Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Com., 117 Ky. 350, 78 S. W. 124, 79 S. W. 275, 25 Ky. L. Rep. 1452). If the indictment alleges the necessary facts to show that the obstruction was a public nuisance, a further allegation that the obstruction was "for longer than five minutes," the period prescribed by statute, may be disregarded as surplusage. Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Com., 45 S. W. 367, 20 Ky. L. Rep. 115.

8. Hamilton v. State, 30 Fla. 229, 11 So. 523 (indictment for shooting into car held insufficient as to allegations of facts constituting the offense); Carter v. Com., (Ky. 1887) 5 S. W. 48 (holding that an indictment for breaking into a car is fatally defective in failing to allege that the car was the property of another than the accused and that the latter had no right to enter it); State v. McKenna, 24 Utah 317, 67 Pac. 815 (holding that an indictment for closing the angle cocks and parting the air hose of certain cars is insufficient, under the Utah statute, where it fails to allege or show that such cars were "attached to or connected with any railroad").

An indictment for attempting to steal a ride is sufficient under the Georgia statute where it charges that defendant fraudulently concealed himself in a car of a railroad company for the purpose of avoiding the payment of fare and stealing a ride (Mack v. State, 119 Ga. 352, 46 S. E. 437); but under the Texas statute the indictment must allege the name of the person in charge of the train or that his name could not by reasonable diligence be ascertained by the grand jury (Daugherty v. State, (Tex. Civ. App. 1900) 56 S. W. 620).

An allegation that the railroad company was "chartered" is not necessary in an indictment under Ga. Pen. Code (1895), § 511, for throwing or shooting at or into railroad cars. Allen v. State, 123 Ga. 499, 51 S. E. 506 [distinguishing Kiser v. State, 89 Ga. 421, 15 S. E. 495, where the contrary was held on an indictment for the same offense but brought under a different statute].

9. Carter v. Com., (Ky. 1887) 5 S. W. 48.

10. State v. West, 157 Mo. 309, 57 S. W. 1071, holding a particular indictment to be sufficient under a statute making it a felony to stop a train with intent to commit a robbery thereon.

11. State v. Leasman, 137 Iowa 191, 114 N. W. 1032.

12. State v. Leasman, 137 Iowa 191, 114 N. W. 1032, holding, however, that if it be necessary to allege the ownership of the train, it is a sufficient allegation to allege that it was a train upon the track of a designated company.

13. Sanders v. State, 118 Ga. 788, 45 S. E. 602; State v. Mead, 27 Vt. 722.

Allegations sufficient.— Where the statute defines the offense of displacing or disturbing any "fixture attached to the track or switch," an indictment charging the displacing or disturbing of "the connecting rod of the said switch" is sufficient. Crawford v. Com., 35 S. W. 114, 18 Ky. L. Rep. 16. Allegations held sufficient as to the fact that the obstruction was placed upon the track of a railroad see Furlow v. State, 72 Ark. 384, 81 S. W. 232; State v. Kluseman, 53 Minn. 541, 55 N. W. 741.

14. State v. Wentworth, 37 N. H. 196, holding, however, that if defendant is informed offense substantially in the language of the statute, with the material facts constituting the particular offense,[15] or to set forth all the material matters embraced in the statute going to make up the offense.[16] In an indictment for obstructing a railroad track it is not necessary to allege that any train was actually obstructed or hindered,[17] that the obstruction was such as would endanger the passage of trains or throw them from the track,[18] or that defendant intended to endanger life or the safety of any train,[19] or to set out the names of persons whose lives were endangered.[20] Neither is it necessary to allege who owned the road,[21] or whether it was owned by a corporation,[22] or if owned by a corporation whether it was legally chartered or organized,[23] or was a corporation authorized to do business within the state.[24] If the allegations of the indictment sufficiently charge the offense under the statute, additional and unnecessary allegations may be disregarded as surplusage.[25]

e. Issues, Proof, and Variance.[26] In prosecutions for offenses incident to the operation of railroads as in other criminal cases, the evidence must conform to the allegations of the indictment.[27] So where an indictment for wrongful death specifies the acts of negligence causing the injury, evidence of negligence in other respects is not admissible.[28] So also each material allegation of the indictment must be supported by proof,[29] and any material variance is fatal to a recovery;[30] but it is not necessary to prove all that is alleged if what is proved constitutes a of the place where the track was obstructed, the character of the obstruction and the name of the railroad, he has all the necessary information for this purpose.

15. State v. Clemens, 38 Iowa 257; State v. Oliver, 55 Kan. 711, 41 Pac. 954; State v. Beckman, 57 N. H. 174; State v. Wentworth, 37 N. H. 196; Barton v. State, 28 Tex. App. 483, 13 S. W. 783.

An indictment is not bad for duplicity under the California statute, where it charges defendant with throwing a switch with intent to derail a train, "and" boarding a passenger train with intent to rob the train, both acts being directed against the same train, the statute specifying certain separate acts, including the above, as felonies, but the whole act being designed as a provision to prevent the wrecking of trains. People v. Thompson, 111 Cal. 242, 43 Pac. 748.

The omission of the word "of" between the word "track" and the name of the railroad company, in an indictment for placing an obstruction upon the track, does not render the indictment insufficient. Stanfield v. State, 43 Tex. Cr. 10, 62 S. W. 917.

16. State v. Wentworth, 37 N. H. 196.

The technical name of the offense need not be set out, it being sufficient if the indictment describes the offense in the language of the statute, and states the acts of defendant constituting the offense so clearly that he could not be misled as to the charge against him. State v. Hessenkamp, 17 Iowa 25.

17. State v. Clemens, 38 Iowa 257.

18. Riley v. State, 95 Ind. 446.

19. State v. Beckman, 57 N. H. 174; People v. Adams, 16 Hun (N. Y.) 549.

20. State v. Wentworth, 37 N. H. 196; Barton v. State, 28 Tex. App. 483, 13 S. W. 783.

21. State v. Wentworth, 37 N. H. 196.

22. State v. Wentworth, 37 N. H. 196. See also Alsobrook v. State, 126 Ga. 100, 54 S. E. 805, holding, however, that an allegation that it was the "track of the Georgia Southern and Florida Railway Company" imports a corporation. Contra, State v. Mead, 27 Vt. 722, where the statute defining the offense uses the term "of any railroad corporation."

23. Duncan v. State, 29 Fla. 439, 10 So. 815; State v. Wentworth, 37 N. H. 196. Contra, Sanders v. State, 118 Ga. 788, 45 S. E. 602, where the statute defining the offense specifies a "chartered" company.

24. Rooney v. Com., 102 Ky. 373, 43 S. W. 689, 19 Ky. L. Rep. 1390.

25. State v. Oliver, 55 Kan. 711, 41 Pac. 954 (allegation that defendant's intention was to injure the company, its passengers and employees); McCarty v. State, 37 Miss. 411 (unnecessary allegations descriptive of the nature and effect of the obstruction); Harris v. State, 82 Tenn. 485; State v. Bisping, 123 Wis. 267, 101 N. W. 359 (unnecessary allegation as to defendant's purpose in obstructing the track).

26. See, generally, INDICTMENTS AND INFORMATIONS, 22 Cyc. 450.

27. Com. v. Fitchburg R. Co., 126 Mass. 472; State v. Wentworth, 37 N. H. 196.

28. Com. v. Fitchburg R. Co., 126 Mass. 472; Com. v. Fitchburg R. Co., 120 Mass. 372.

29. Com. v. Fitchburg R. Co., 120 Mass. 372.

On an indictment for a public nuisance consisting in running trains at a dangerous rate of speed through an incorporated city without giving the necessary warning signals at crossings, it is necessary to prove not only the habitual rapid running of trains but also that the warning signals were not given. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co. v. Com., 104 S. W. 771, 31 Ky. L. Rep. 1113.

30. Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Com., 104 Ky. 362, 47 S. W. 255, 20 Ky. L. Rep. 748, 990.

criminal offense of the nature and quality charged,[31] and where time is not of the essence of the offense, it need not be proved as alleged, but the offense may be proved to have been committed at any time prior to the finding of the indictment and within the period prescribed by the statute of limitations.[32] On an indictment for wrongful death under a statute making the company liable for negligence on the part of the company or gross negligence on the part of its servants, an indictment charging negligence on the part of the company is not supported by proof of mere negligence on the part of its servants without proof of any authorization or instruction from the company to do the acts complained of,[33] and where the gross negligence of its servants is relied on, such negligence must be proved as alleged.[34] On a prosecution for placing obstructions upon a railroad track the motive need not be proved,[35] but there must be legal and competent evidence identifying the defendant with the act constituting the offense;[36] and where the indictment alleges that the obstruction was placed upon the track of a particular railroad company, naming it, this becomes descriptive of the track and must be proved as alleged,[37] although if the indictment merely designates the name of the road without any allegation as to its ownership proof of ownership is not necessary.[38] On an indictment for burning a bridge alleged to be the property of a certain railroad company, the proof of ownership is sufficient if it shows that the bridge formed a part of the road-bed of the company named and was actually used by such company;[39] and where an indictment for attempting to wreck a train does not allege that it was owned or operated by a corporation, the state may show by parol evidence that the road was in fact known as the road of the company named in the indictment, without producing the charter of the company.[40] As in other criminal cases the jury is not authorized to convict upon a preponderance of evidence, but must be satisfied of defendant's guilt beyond a reasonable doubt.[41]

f. Evidence. On indictments for offenses incident to the operation of railroads the general rules of evidence in criminal cases apply,[42] except in prosecutions, as for wrongful death, which are in effect civil actions for damages and are governed by the same rules of evidence as civil actions of this character.[43] The evidence to be admissible must be relevant to the issue and have some legitimate bearing upon the question of defendant's guilt or innocence of the offense charged;[44] but

31. Allison v. State, 42 Ind. 354, holding that, on an indictment for obstructing a railroad track by placing pieces of timber thereon, the proof need not correspond with the allegations as to the number of pieces, proof of any number being sufficient to constitute the offense.

32. Cincinnati R. Co. v. Com., 80 Ky. 137 (indictment against a railroad company for obstructing a street); McCarty v. State, 37 Miss. 411 (indictment for placing obstructions upon a railroad track).

33. Com. v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 133 Mass. 383.

34. Com. v. Fitchburg R. Co., 120 Mass. 372.

An allegation of gross negligence is not sustained by proof that at the time of the injury the engine was being run at a high rate of speed, in the absence of any evidence that the servants of the railroad company in so doing were acting in violation of their duty. Com. v. Fitchburg R. Co., 126 Mass. 472.

35. Clifton v. State, 73 Ala. 473.

36. Cox v. State, (Tex. Cr. App. 1900) 59 S. W. 903 (placing obstruction on railroad track); Brown v. Com., 97 Va. 791, 37 S. E. 882 (placing obstruction on railroad track).

37. Blocker v. State, (Tex. Cr. App. 1903) 73 S. W. 955.

38. Clifton v. State, 73 Ala. 473.

39. Duncan v. State, 29 Fla. 439, 10 So. 815.

40. Walker v. State, 97 Ga. 213, 22 S. E. 528.

41. Cox v. Com., 9 S. W. 804, 10 Ky. L. Rep. 597 (indictment for breaking into depot with intent to steal); Stanfield v. State, 43 Tex. Cr. 10, 62 S. W. 917 (indictment for placing obstruction on railroad track).

42. See CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 379.

Evidence held sufficient to support a conviction on a prosecution against a railroad company for failure to give crossing signals see Mobile, etc., R. Co. v. Com., 92 S. W. 299, 28 Ky. L. Rep. 1360.

Evidence held insufficient to support a conviction for failing to maintain a suitable water-closet at a station as required by statute see State v. Baltimore, etc., R. Co., 61 W. Va. 634, 57 S. E. 44.

43. State v. Grand Trunk R. Co., 58 Me. 176, 4 Am. Rep. 258.

44. Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Com., 80 Ky. 143, 3 Ky. L. Rep. 644, 44 Am. Rep.

where there is any question as to whether defendant did the act charged, any evidence is admissible which tends to show a motive for the act.[45] Evidence of acts constituting a separate and distinct offense while not ordinarily admissible is admissible if such acts were so closely connected with the act charged as to be regarded as a part of the same transaction,[46] or for the purpose of showing the motive for committing the offense charged,[47] or the intention with which the act was done,[48] or that defendant was at the time in a position or situation to have committed the offense charged;[49] but the court should in such cases instruct the jury as to the purpose for which the evidence was admitted and limit their consideration of it accordingly.[50] On an indictment for attempting to wreck a railroad train, evidence of prior attempts is not admissible where it does not in any way connect accused with such attempts.[51] On an indictment against a railroad company for obstructing a highway, where each obstruction constitutes a separate offense, the prosecution should be required to elect which offense it will prosecute for, and the evidence should be limited to that offense.[52]

g. Trial and Review. The rules applicable to criminal cases generally apply to the conduct of the trial,[53] and proceedings for review.[54]

C. Companies and Persons Liable* — 1. In General. Owing to the 468, holding that on a prosecution against a railroad company for nuisance in habitually operating its trains at a crossing in a negligent and dangerous manner, evidence is not admissible of the absence of casualties on other roads conducted in a more populous community and at the intersection of highways more generally used than the one in question.

On a prosecution for throwing a switch evidence that defendant knew that his brother was on a train which would shortly pass is inadmissible where its object is to show that defendant was so drunk that he did not know right from wrong, since this fact would not affect his liability. Conley v. Com., 98 Ky. 125, 32 S. W. 285, 17 Ky. L. Rep. 678.

45. State v. Dearborn, 59 N. H. 348, holding that on a prosecution for obstructing a railroad track, evidence that the company had twice caused the arrest of defendant on criminal charges is admissible as tending to show motive.

46. State v. Wentworth, 37 N. H. 196, evidence of placing other obstructions upon railroad track than those charged.

47. Barton v. State, 28 Tex. App. 483, 13 S. W. 783, evidence of placing other obstructions on track than those charged.

48. Stanfield v. State, 43 Tex. Cr. 10, 62 S. W. 917, holding that where, on an indictment for placing an obstruction on a railroad track, it was claimed by defendant that it was inadvertently done, evidence of the placing of a different obstruction upon the same track at a different place at a short time afterward on the same day is admissible.

49. State v. Wentworth, 37 N. H. 196.

50. Barton v. State, 28 Tex. App. 483, 13 S. W. 783.

51. Alsobrook v. State, 126 Ga. 100, 54 S. E. 805.

52. Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Com., 117 Ky. 350, 78 S. W. 124, 79 S. W. 275, 25 Ky. L. Rep. 1452, 2050.

53. See CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 504.

Instructions.—The instructions of the court must not be so framed that the jury might construe them as intimating an opinion upon the merits of the case or placing the burden of proof upon defendant. Stanfield v. State, 43 Tex. Cr. 10, 62 S. W. 917. On a prosecution of a railroad company for obstructing a street, it is not error to charge that malice is not an essential element of the offense, but that it must have been a wilful obstruction, and to define "wilfully" as "intentionally or knowingly" where the jury are also instructed that to be indictable the obstruction must have been unreasonable. State v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 77 Iowa 442, 42 N. W. 365, 4 L. R. A. 298. On a prosecution under a statute making it a criminal offense to wilfully and maliciously disturb any fixture attached to a car by which it might be upset, etc., where there was evidence that defendant in turning on an air cock on the train did the act innocently without any knowledge that its probable effect would be to derail the train, it is error for the court to fail to submit the question of defendant's intent to the jury. Thacher v. Com., 85 S. W. 1096, 27 Ky. L. Rep. 620.

Questions for jury.— Whether a railroad company complies with Ky. St. (1903) § 772, requiring every railroad company to provide convenient and suitable waiting-rooms at its depots for passengers is for the jury, ascertainable on any evidence of the size of the town and the number of passengers arriving at and departing therefrom. Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Com., 99 S. W. 320, 30 Ky. L. Rep. 697.

A special verdict on a prosecution against a railroad company must find defendant guilty or not guilty subject to the opinion of the court upon the law as applicable to the facts ascertained therein. State v. Divine, 98 N. C. 778, 43 S. E. 477.

54. See CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 792.

* By James A. Gwyn.

relations often sustained by two or more companies or persons to the ownership, operation or use of the same road, the question frequently arises as to which or how many of such companies or persons is liable for an injury occurring in the operation of the road; and while there is some conflict of authority as to the rights and liabilities growing out of certain relations,[55] it is well settled that the company to which the franchise for the operation of a railroad is granted by the state assumes by its acceptance the duty toward the public of seeing that it is properly exercised, and cannot without legislative authority farm out its franchises or permit by lease, license, or otherwise, another company or person to exercise them so as to avoid the liabilities incident thereto.[56] It is equally well settled that any company using or operating a railroad, although not the owner of the road, is liable for its own negligence or that of its own servants.[57] A railroad company may also stand in the relation of agent to another so as to render that other liable for its negligent acts,[58] or the relation between two railroad companies may be such as to constitute a partnership with the liabilities ordinarily incident to that relation.[59] One railroad company does not become liable for the acts of the servants of another merely by reason of being a stock-holder in that company,[60] or guarantor of its bonds,[61] as such facts do not of themselves constitute either a partnership or make one company the servant or agent of the other;[62] but where one company actually controls others through the ownership of their stock and operates all of the lines as a single system, although the general management of each road is retained by the company owning it, the dominant company will be liable for injuries due to the negligence of one of the subordinate companies.[63] Where, pursuant to legislative authority for the interchange of business between intersecting roads, two railroad companies maintain at a point of intersection a depot and sidings for their joint use, one of such companies is not liable for injuries

55. Heron v. St. Paul, etc., R. Co., 68 Minn. 542, 71 N. W. 706; Logan v. North Carolina R. Co., 116 N. C. 940, 21 S. E. 959.

56. Georgia.— Macon, etc., R. Co. v. Mayes, 49 Ga. 355, 15 Am. Rep. 678.

Illinois.— Pennsylvania Co. v. Ellett, 132 Ill. 654, 24 N. E. 559; Wabash, etc., R. Co. v. Peyton, 106 Ill. 534, 46 Am. Rep. 705.

Louisiana.— Muntz v. Algiers, etc., R. Co., 111 La. 423, 35 So. 624, 100 Am. St. Rep. 495, 64 L. R. A. 222.

Minnesota.— Freeman v. Minneapolis, etc., R. Co., 28 Minn. 443, 10 N. W. 594.

Missouri.— McCoy v. Kansas City, etc., R. Co., 36 Mo. App. 445.

New York.—Abbott v. Johnstown, etc., Horse R. Co., 80 N. Y. 27, 36 Am. St. Rep. 572.

South Carolina.— Chester Nat. Bank v. Atlanta, etc., R. Co., 25 S. C. 216.

Texas.— Central, etc., R. Co. v. Morris, 68 Tex. 49, 3 S. W. 457.

Wisconsin.— Jefferson v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 117 Wis. 549, 94 N. W. 289.

United States.— Briscoe v. Southern Kansas R. Co., 40 Fed. 273.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 789 et seq.

57. Florida.— Jacksonville, etc., R. Co. v. Garrison, 30 Fla. 557, 11 So. 929.

Illinois.— Wabash, etc., R. Co. v. Peyton, 106 Ill. 534, 46 Am. Rep. 705.

Kansas.— Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Groves, 56 Kan. 601, 11 Pac. 628.

Minnesota.— Cantlon v. Eastern R. Co., 45 Minn. 481, 48 N. W. 22.

New York.— Leonard v. New York Cent., etc., R. Co., 42 N. Y. Super. Ct. 225.

Texas.— Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Ross, 7 Tex. Civ. App. 653, 26 S. W. 728.

United States.— Clark v. Geer, 86 Fed. 447, 32 C. C. A. 295.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 789 et seq.

Liability of lessee see infra, X, C, 4, a, (II).

Liability of company using or operating road of another see infra, X, C, 6.

Penalties.—A railroad company in the exclusive possession and operating the road of another is liable for the statutory penalty for failure to give crossing signals. State v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 149 Mo. 104, 50 S. W. 278.

58. McWilliams v. Detroit Cent. Mills Co., 31 Mich. 274.

59. Block v. Fitchburg R. Co., 139 Mass. 308, 1 N. E. 348; Harrill v. South Carolina, etc., R. Co., 135 N. C. 601, 47 S. E. 730; Lehigh Valley R. Co. v. Dupont, 128 Fed. 840, 64 C. C. A. 478.

60. Jones v. Pennsylvania R. Co., 19 D. C. 178 [reversed on other grounds in 155 U. S. 333, 15 S. Ct. 136, 39 L. ed. 176]; Mathews v. Atchison, etc., R. Co., 60 Kan. 11, 55 Pac. 282; Atchison, etc., R. Co. v. Davis, 34 Kan. 209, 199, 8 Pac. 530, 146.

61. Mathews v. Atchison, etc., R. Co., 60 Kan. 11, 55 Pac. 282; Atchison, etc., R. Co. v. Davis, 34 Kan. 209, 199, 8 Pac. 530, 146.

62. Mathews v. Atchison, etc., R. Co., 60 Kan. 11, 55 Pac. 282.

63. Lehigh Valley R. Co. v. Delachesa, 145 Fed. 617, 76 C. C. A. 307.

occasioned by the negligence of the other in leaving a car belonging to and under the exclusive control of the latter standing upon the siding so as to obstruct the highway;[64] and where the statutes authorize the commitment of the loading of cars by railroad companies to the shipper, the company will not be liable for injuries caused by the negligence of the shipper while loading a car furnished him for that purpose.[65] Private persons will be liable for injuries due to the negligent handling of railroad cars by them or their servants,[66] or injuries due to malicious interference with railroad cars or machinery;[67] and one who owns a bridge connecting buildings owned by him on opposite sides of a railroad track will be liable for injuries to brakemen due to the bridge not being of sufficient height above the tracks.[68] A company operating a private railroad for logging purposes is liable to the same extent as an ordinary public railroad company for the negligence or misconduct of its servants,[69] or for damages caused by fires negligently communicated by its locomotives.[70]

2. Railroad Companies and Contractors For Construction — a. In General. A railroad company may contract for the construction of its road by another person without retaining any control over the manner of doing the work,[71] or may make such contract with regard to repairs on its road;[72] and in case of injuries occurring from the negligence or misconduct of a contractor or his employees or during his control of the road, the liability of the railroad company, as in the case of natural persons, depends upon whether the contractor was the agent or employee of the company or was an independent contractor,[73] and this question is determined primarily by whether the railroad company had the right to control the manner of doing the work,[74] or was in the possession and control of the road or the operation of the train thereon at the time and place of injury.[75] If the contractor for construction is an independent contractor the company will not be liable for his negligence or wrongful acts,[76] subject to the usual exceptions

64. Jolly v. Missouri, etc., R. Co., 38 Tex. Civ. App. 332, 85 S. W. 837; Missouri, etc., R. Co. v. Jolly, 31 Tex. Civ. App. 512, 72 S. W. 871.

65. Washington v. Texas, etc., R. Co., 22 Tex. Civ. App. 189, 54 S. W. 1092.

66. Noble v. Cunningham, 74 Ill. 51.

67. Munger v. Baker, 65 Barb. (N. Y.) 539, 1 Thomps. & C. 122.

68. Dukes v. Eastern Distilling Co., 51 Hun (N. Y.) 605, 4 N. Y. Suppl. 562. But see Stoneback v. Thomas Iron Co., 2 Pa. Cas. 97, 4 Atl. 721.

69. Stewart v. Cary Lumber Co., 146 N. C. 47, 59 S. E. 545.

70. Simpson v. Enfield Lumber Co., 133 N. C. 95, 45 S. E. 469, 131 N. C. 518, 42 S. E. 939; Craft v. Albemarle Timber Co., 132 N. C. 151, 43 S. E. 597.

71. Kansas.— Kansas Cent. R. Co. v. Fitzsimmons, 18 Kan. 34.

Nebraska.— Hitte v. Republican Valley R. Co., 19 Nebr. 620, 28 N. W. 284.

Ohio.— Hughes v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 39 Ohio St. 461.

South Carolina.— Rogers v. Florence R. Co., 31 S. C. 378, 9 S. E. 1059.

Texas.— Cunningham v. International R. Co., 51 Tex. 503, 32 Am. Rep. 632.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 793.

After procuring the right of way the company may delegate to another lawful authority to enter upon the same and make its road-bed and perform other proper acts of construction (Cunningham v. International R. Co., 51 Tex. 503, 32 Am. Rep. 632); and if it retains no control over the manner of doing the work it will not be liable for trespass committed by the contractor or his servants outside of the right of way upon adjoining lands without the assent of the company (Waltemeyer v. Wisconsin, etc., R. Co., 71 Iowa 626, 33 N. W. 140; Hughes v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 39 Ohio St. 461. Compare Cairo, etc., R. Co. v. Woolsey, 85 Ill. 370); but where a contractor wrongfully appropriates land for the right of way, he will not be considered as engaged merely in the work of construction but must be held to be acting for the corporation, and although the act was unauthorized the company will be liable therefor if it receives and enjoys its benefits (Bloomfield R. Co. v. Grace, 112 Ind. 128, 13 N. E. 680).

72. Bibb v. Norfolk, etc., R. Co., 87 Va. 711, 14 S. E. 163.

73. Kansas Cent. R. Co. v. Fitzsimmons, 18 Kan. 34; Hitte v. Republican Valley R. Co., 19 Nebr. 620, 28 N. W. 284; Hughes v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 39 Ohio St. 461; Burton v. Galveston, etc., R. Co., 61 Tex. 526.

74. Rome, etc., R. Co. v. Chasteen, 88 Ala. 591, 7 So. 94; Cunningham v. International R. Co., 51 Tex. 503, 32 Am. Rep. 632; Bibb v. Norfolk, etc., R. Co., 87 Va. 711, 14 S. E. 163.

75. Kansas Cent. R. Co. v. Fitzsimmons, 18 Kan. 34.

76. Kansas.— Kansas Cent. R. Co. v. Fitzsimmons, 18 Kan. 34.

in such cases,[77] that the company will be liable where the act complained of was not merely collateral and occurred incidentally in the doing of the work, but the thing contracted to be done was of itself unlawful, essentially injurious, or a nuisance,[78] and that the railroad company cannot delegate to a contractor so as to escape liability the right to exercise its corporate franchises,[79] or avoid its liability in regard to any general duty or liability to the public imposed by law directly upon the company,[80] such as the statutory duties of constructing and maintaining fences or cattle-guards,[81] restoring highways to their former condition,[82] or keeping the crossings in repair,[83] or the statutory liability for the killing or injury of stock upon its road.[84] A railroad company cannot by contract with a contractor for repairs relieve itself from liability for injuries to the employees of the contractor, not parties to the contract, caused by the negligence of the railroad company in the operation of its trains.[85] A railroad company which furnishes to a contractor defective machinery and appliances is liable for injuries caused thereby to a third person in the use for which they were intended.[86]

b. Operation of Trains or Cars. In case of injuries due to the negligent or improper operation of trains on roads or parts thereof which are being built by construction contractors, the railroad company will not be liable if the train was exclusively controlled and operated by the contractor and his servants,[87] although it belonged to the railroad company and was furnished to the contractor as a part of the consideration for the work done,[88] and the servants in charge of it were employed primarily by the railroad company;[89] but the company will be liable for injuries done by the negligent operation of a train used to deliver supplies and materials to the contractor where it owns the train and operates it by its own servants,[90] although the contractor may have been in control of

Nebraska.— Hitte v. Republican Valley R. Co., 19 Nebr. 620, 28 N. W. 284.

Ohio.— Hughes v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 39 Ohio St. 461.

Texas.— Cunningham v. International R. Co., 51 Tex. 503, 32 Am. Rep. 632.

Virginia.— Bibb v. Norfolk, etc., R. Co., 87 Va. 711, 14 S. E. 163.

England.— Knight v. Fox, 5 Exch. 721, 14 Jur. 963, 20 L. J. Exch. 9; Hobbit v. London, etc., R. Co., 4 Exch. 254; Reedie v. London, etc., R. Co., 4 Exch. 244, 20 L. J. Exch. 65, 6 R. & Can. Cas. 184.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," §§ 793–798.

Fires.—A railroad company is not liable for damages caused by fires due to the negligence of an independent contractor engaged in the construction of its road, although the statute makes the company liable for the acts of "any of its authorized agents or employees" in this regard. Rogers v. Florence R. Co., 31 S. C. 378, 9 S. E. 1059.

77. See MASTER AND SERVANT, 26 Cyc. 1557.

78. Ohio Southern R. Co. v. Morey, 47 Ohio St. 207, 24 N. E. 269, 7 L. R. A. 701. See also Bibb v. Norfolk, etc., R. Co., 87 Va. 711, 14 S. E. 163.

79. Chattanooga, etc., R. Co. v. Whitehead, 89 Ga. 190, 15 S. E. 44.

80. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co. v. Van Dorn, 1 Ohio Cir. Ct. 292, 1 Ohio Cir. Dec. 160; Houston, etc., R. Co. v. Meador, 50 Tex. 77.

81. Pound v. Port Huron, etc., R. Co., 54 Mich. 13, 19 N. W. 570; Gardner v. Smith, 7 Mich. 410, 74 Am. Dec. 722; Houston, etc., R. Co. v. Meador, 50 Tex. 77; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Yarbrough, (Tex. Civ. App. 1896) 35 S. W. 422.

The contractor is also personally liable where the statutory liability in terms applies to the railroad company "and their agents." Gardner v. Smith, 7 Mich. 410, 74 Am. Dec. 722, holding that the term "agents" should be construed in its broadest sense as embracing contractors as well as employees.

82. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co. v. Van Dorn, 1 Ohio Cir. Ct. 292, 1 Ohio Cir. Dec. 160.

83. Taylor, etc., R. Co. v. Warner, (Tex. Civ. App. 1895) 31 S. W. 66.

84. Huey v. Indianapolis, etc., R. Co., 45 Ind. 320; Wichita, etc., R. Co. v. Gibbs, 47 Kan. 274, 27 Pac. 991.

85. Ominger v. New York Cent., etc., R. Co., 4 Hun (N. Y.) 159, 6 Thomps. & C. 498.

86. Conlon v. Eastman R. Co., 135 Mass. 195.

87. City, etc., R. Co. v. Moores, 80 Md. 348, 30 Atl. 643, 45 Am. St. Rep. 345; Hitte v. Republican Valley R. Co., 19 Nebr. 620, 28 N. W. 284; Meyer v. Minland Pac. R. Co., 2 Nebr. 319; Cunningham v. International R. Co., 51 Tex. 503, 32 Am. Rep. 632; Union Pac. R. Co. v. Hause, 1 Wyo. 27.

88. Hitte v. Republican Valley R. Co., 19 Nebr. 620, 28 N. W. 284; Cunningham v. International R. Co., 51 Tex. 503, 32 Am. Rep. 632.

89. Cunningham v. International R. Co., 51 Tex. 503, 32 Am. Rep. 632.

90. Burton v. Galveston, etc., R. Co., 61 Tex. 526.

the company's train and servants to the extent of being authorized to designate when, where, and to what extent the supplies and materials should be transported;[91] and where a railroad company furnishes a contractor with locomotives, and men to operate them, whom it retains in its employ, it is liable for injuries to these servants due to the unsafe or defective condition of the locomotives furnished, although the contractor has exclusive possession of the track and control over the operation and movements of the train.[92] So also if a railroad company permits a contractor to exercise its franchises by running trains for general traffic on the road which he is constructing or repairing, it will be liable for injuries to third persons caused by the negligence of the contractor's servants in operating such trains;[93] but the fact that a contractor operates trains for general traffic will not render the company liable for his acts if he is not doing so for the benefit or with the consent of the company but without its authority,[94] or if the injury complained of was not sustained while the train was being operated for such purposes, but merely for the purposes of construction.[95]

3. Sale or Other Transfer of Railroad — a. In General. Where one railroad company purchases the road of another pursuant to authority vested in the corporations to make such sale and purchase, the transaction stands upon the same footing as any lawful sale or transfer of property made in good faith between private individuals,[96] and their rights and liabilities with respect to third persons are governed by the same principles unless modified by statute or agreement between the companies,[97] or by order of court in case of a judicial sale.[98]

b. Liability of Vendor or Predecessor. Where a railroad company has made a valid sale of its road and franchise for operating the same to another company or the same has been sold at a judicial sale, it is not liable for an injury due to the negligence or improper operation of the road occurring after it has parted with its ownership, operation, and control,[99] nor is this rule affected by the fact that the sale was not registered or that the property continued to be assessed in the name of the former owner.[1]

c. Liability of Purchaser or Transferee — (i) In General. Where there is authority to sell and there is a bona fide and valid sale and not a consolidation or mere change of name,[2] a railroad company which purchases the road and franchises of another is not liable for damages caused by the negligence or improper 91. Burton v. Galveston, etc., R. Co., 61 Tex. 526. See also Coggin v. Central R. Co., 62 Ga. 685, 35 Am. Rep. 132.

92. Savannah, etc., R. Co. v. Phillips, 90 Ga. 829, 17 S. E. 82.

93. Chattanooga, etc., R. Co. v. Whitehead, 89 Ga. 190, 15 S. E. 44; Chattanooga, etc., R. Co. v. Liddell, 85 Ga. 482, 11 S. E. 853, 21 Am. St. Rep. 169; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Whipple, 22 Ill. 105; Lakin v. Willamette Valley, etc., R. Co., 13 Oreg. 436, 11 Pac. 68, 57 Am. Rep. 25.

The contractor will be regarded as the agent or servant of the railroad company employing him if he is exercising the chartered powers and privileges of the company with its assent. Suburban R. Co. v. Balkwill, 195 Ill. 535, 63 N. E. 389 [affirming 94 Ill. App. 454].

Turn-tables.— A railroad company is liable for an injury due to the negligent condition of a turn-table while the completed portion of its road is being operated for general traffic by a contractor for construction. Kansas Cent. R. Co. v. Fitzsimmons, 22 Kan. 686, 31 Am. Rep. 203.

94. Kansas Cent. R. Co. v. Fitzsimmons, 18 Kan. 34.

95. Rome, etc., R. Co. v. Chasteen, 88 Ala. 591, 7 So. 94.

96. Hawkins v. Georgia Cent. R. Co., 119 Ga. 159, 46 S. E. 82; Chesapeake, etc., R. Co. v. Griest, 85 Ky. 619, 4 S. W. 323, 9 Ky. L. Rep. 177; Karn v. Illinois Southern R. Co., 114 Mo. App. 162, 89 S. W. 346.

97. Karn v. Illinois Southern R. Co., 114 Mo. App. 162, 89 S. W. 346.

98. Houston, etc., R. Co. v. Crawford, 88 Tex. 277, 31 S. W. 176, 53 Am. St. Rep. 752, 38 L. R. A. 761.

Liability of purchaser at judicial sale see infra, X, C, 3, c, (II).

99. Western R. Co. v. Huss, 70 Ala. 565; Western R. Co. v. Davis, 66 Ala. 578; Goodwin v. Bodcaw Lumber Co., 109 La. 1050, 34 So. 74.

1. Goodwin v. Bodcaw Lumber Co., 109 La. 1050, 34 So. 74.

2. Hawkins v. Georgia Cent. R. Co., 119 Ga. 159, 46 S. E. 82; Chesapeake etc., R. Co. v. Griest, 85 Ky. 619, 4 S. W. 323, 9 Ky. L. Rep. 177; Karn v. Illinois Southern R. Co., 114 Mo. App. 162, 89 S. W. 346; Pennison v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 93 Wis. 344, 67 N. W. 702.

Consolidated roads see infra, X, C, 7, b.

operation of the road by its predecessor,[3] unless such liability is expressly assumed,[4] or it is otherwise provided by statute;[5] nor does a contract between the companies by which the purchasing company agrees to assume the debts and liabilities of the other confer any right upon a third person to sue the purchasing company in tort upon an unliquidated claim existing against the other company;[6] but the purchasing company will be liable for injuries occurring after the purchase due to the omission of a general statutory duty of a continuing character, although it should have been performed by its predecessor, such as the restoration of a highway to its former condition,[7] or the construction of fences and cattle-guards,[8] or for damages by fire set by its locomotives due to combustible material on its right of way, although it accumulated during the management of its predecessor,[9] or for injuries due to a non-compliance with the obligations imposed by the act authorizing the purchase.[10]

(II) PURCHASER AT JUDICIAL SALE. In the absence of statute or any order or agreement to the contrary, the purchaser of a railroad at a judicial sale under foreclosure or order of a court holding the custody of the property by a receiver, takes the property free from claims against the receiver arising out of his negligence or improper management of the road,[11] although the right of action

3. Georgia.— Hawkins v. Georgia Cent. R. Co., 119 Ga. 159, 46 S. E. 82.

Kentucky.— Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Orr, 91 Ky. 109, 15 S. W. 8, 12 Ky. L. Rep. 756; Chesapeake, etc., R. Co. v. Griest, 85 Ky. 619, 4 S. W. 323, 9 Ky. L. Rep. 177; Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Orr, 10 Ky. L. Rep. 677.

Missouri.— Lawson v. Illinois Southern R. Co., 116 Mo. App. 690, 94 S. W. 870; Porter v. Illinois Southern R. Co., 116 Mo. App. 526, 92 S. W. 744; Karn v. Illinois Southern R. Co., 114 Mo. App. 162, 89 S. W. 346; Burge v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 100 Mo. App. 460, 74 S. W. 7.

Texas.— Texas Cent. R. Co. v. Lyons, (Civ. App. 1896) 34 S. W. 362.

Wisconsin.— Pennison v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 93 Wis. 344, 67 N. W. 702.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 800.

If the original company is in effect dissolved by the sale by having disposed of all its property and franchises, the remedy of plaintiff is to reduce his claim to judgment and enforce the same in equity against the stock-holders who received the purchase-money. Chesapeake, etc., R. Co. v. Griest, 85 Ky. 619, 4 S. W. 323, 9 Ky. L. Rep. 177.

If the purchasing company was in possession and operating the road prior to the actual transfer and at the time when the injury occurred, it would be the real perpetrator of the injury and consequently liable therefor. Karn v. Illinois Southern R. Co., 114 Mo. App. 162, 89 S. W. 346.

4. See Karn v. Illinois Southern R. Co., 114 Mo. App. 162, 89 S. W. 346.

5. New Bedford R. Co. v. Old Colony R. Co., 120 Mass. 397 (holding that under St. (1874) authorizing the purchase of the franchises and property of the Middleborough, etc., R. Co., by the Old Colony R. Co., and providing that the latter was to "be subject to all the duties, liabilities, obligations and restrictions to which" the former "may be subject," the latter became directly liable in an action of tort for damage occasioned by the prior negligence of the former company); Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Lundstrom, 16 Nebr. 254, 20 N. W. 198, 49 Am. St. Rep. 718 (holding that a company purchasing the road of another is liable for personal injury inflicted by the latter, under the Nebraska statute of 1881, providing that the purchaser of a railroad "shall be subject to any and all laws. (liens), incumbrances, or indebtedness existing against the railroad company from which such road may be so purchased").

6. Hawkins v. Georgia Cent. R. Co., 119 Ga. 159, 46 S. E. 82; Chesapeake, etc., R. Co. v. Griest, 85 Ky. 619, 4 S. W. 323, 9 Ky. L. Rep. 177.

The claim must first be reduced to judgment by action against the company whose negligence occasioned the injury complained of. Chesapeake, etc., R. Co. v. Griest, 85 Ky. 619, 4 S. W. 323, 9 Ky. L. Rep. 177.

7. Thayer v. Flint, etc., R. Co., 93 Mich. 150, 53 N. W. 216.

8. Toledo, etc., R. Co. v. Arnold, 51 Ill. 241, holding further that where the statute requires railroads to be fenced within six months after they are opened for use, the purchasing company will be liable for injuries to stock due to the absence of fences, although it has not been in possession for six months, provided the road has been in use for that length of time.

9. Lake Erie, etc., R. Co. v. Cruzen, 29 Ill. App. 212, holding that the purchasing company is liable, although it had been in possession only seven days.

10. Johnson v. Pennsylvania R. Co., 2 Chest. Co. Rep. (Pa.) 315, holding that the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, under the act and contract of purchase from the state, is liable for damages resulting from the unsafe condition of a bridge over which a highway crosses the railroad, although such bridge was constructed by the state before it transferred the railroad to the company.

11. White v. Keokuk, etc., R. Co., 52 Iowa 97, 2 N. W. 1016; Tobin v. Central Vermont accrued after the sale if before its confirmation by the court [12] or delivery of the deed; [13] but after title has vested in the purchaser by confirmation of the sale and deed, the purchaser will be liable for any subsequent torts of the receiver, if continued in possession, occurring between the time of the transfer of title and the final delivery of possession, to the extent of the permanent improvements made upon the property by the receiver with funds derived from the surplus earnings of the road during this period,[14] but in the absence of any investment in improvements of earnings accruing during such period, the purchaser cannot be held liable upon the ground that the receiver was his agent.[15] The court ordering the sale may impose a liability upon the purchaser as a part of the consideration of the purchase,[16] and the purchaser will be liable for claims against the receiver where it accepts the road under an order or decree imposing such liability,[17] or where such liability is assumed by covenant in the deed of transfer; [18] but a liability on the part of the purchaser existing merely by virtue of an order

R. Co., 185 Mass. 337, 70 N. E. 431; Metz v. Buffalo, etc., R. Co., 58 N. Y. 61, 17 Am. Rep. 201; Howe v. St. Clair, 8 Tex. Civ. App. 101, 27 S. W. 800.

A judgment against the receiver for a tort committed by him during his operation of the road cannot be declared a lien upon the property purchased. White v. Keokuk, etc., R. Co., 52 Iowa 97, 2 N. W. 1016.

Although the railroad company is the purchaser and thereby reacquires its property, it takes the same free from all claims against the receiver, except such as may be imposed by the terms of the sale. Howe v. St. Clair, 8 Tex. Civ. App. 101, 27 S. W. 800.

Under the North Carolina statute a purchaser of a railroad at a sale under foreclosure of a mortgage is liable for the torts of its predecessor to the extent of the value of the property purchased, but the judgment against the purchasing company should be credited with any surplus remaining in the hands of a receiver of the old company. Howe v. Harper, 127 N. C. 356, 37 S. E. 505.

12. Metz v. Buffalo, etc., R. Co., 58 N. Y. 61, 17 Am. Rep. 201.

13. White v. Keokuk, etc., R. Co., 52 Iowa 97, 2 N. W. 1016.

14. Houston, etc., R. Co. v. McFadden, 91 Tex. 194, 42 S. W. 593 [affirming on this point (Civ. App. 1897) 40 S. W. 216]; Houston, etc., R. Co. v. Crawford, 88 Tex. 277, 31 S. W. 176, 53 Am. St. Rep. 752, 28 L. R. A. 761; Houston, etc., R. Co. v. Kelly, (Tex. Civ. App. 1896) 35 S. W. 878; Houston, etc., R. Co. v. Strycharski, (Tex. Civ. App. 1896) 35 S. W. 851.

But to authorize a recovery in such cases against the purchaser, it is necessary for plaintiff to allege and prove that improvements were made by the receiver after the sale and conveyance by the application of earnings arising subsequent to the sale (Crawford v. Houston, etc., R. Co., 89 Tex. 89, 33 S. W. 534; Ray v. Dillingham, (Tex. Civ. App. 1897) 41 S. W. 188; Holman v. Galveston, etc., R. Co., 14 Tex. Civ. App. 409, 37 S. W. 464); although it has been held that an allegation that such improvements were made during the period that said property was in the hands of said receiver is sufficient to admit evidence of improvements made at any time during his possession (San Antonio, etc., R. Co. v. Bowles, 88 Tex. 634, 32 S. W. 880).

15. Ray v. Dillingham, (Tex. Civ. App. 1897) 41 S. W. 188. See also Archambeau v. New York, etc., R. Co., 170 Mass. 272, 49 N. E. 435; Fidelity Ins., etc., Co. v. Norfolk, etc., R. Co., 88 Fed. 815.

16. Houston, etc., R. Co. v. Crawford, 88 Tex. 277, 31 S. W. 176, 53 Am. St. Rep. 752, 28 L. R. A. 761.

17. Wabash R. Co. v. Stewart, 41 Ill. App. 640; Central Trust Co. v. Sloan, 65 Iowa 655, 22 N. W. 916; Sloan v. Central Iowa R. Co., 62 Iowa 728, 16 N. W. 331; Memphis, etc., R. Co. v. Glover, 78 Miss. 467, 29 So. 89; Baer v. Erie R. Co., 95 N. Y. Suppl. 486. But see Tobin v. Central Vermont R. Co., 185 Mass. 337, 70 N. E. 431, holding that a decree imposing as a condition of the sale that the purchaser should take subject to "all debts, obligations and liabilities of the receivers" does not authorize a person having an unliquidated claim for a tort against the receivers to sue the purchaser at law either in tort or contract, since the purchaser was not guilty of the tort and the claimant not a party to the agreement, but that such claims should be submitted to the determination of the court under whose authority the original proceedings were begun.

18. Memphis, etc., R. Co. v. Clover, 78 Miss. 467, 29 So. 89; Schmid v. New York, etc., R. Co., 32 Hun (N. Y.) 335; Baer v. Erie R. Co., 95 N. Y. Suppl. 486.

Limitation of purchaser's liability.— If the agreement of the purchasing company is merely to assume such claims as might have been enforced against the property or funds in the hands of the receiver not properly disposed of, it is not liable for the amount of such judgments as might be obtained upon liabilities incurred by the receiver, unless there were funds in his hands which might, in an action against him, have been subjected to their payment. Ryan v. Hays, 62 Tex. 42.

The complaint in an action seeking to hold the purchaser liable upon the ground of contract must set out the terms of the agreement. Houston, etc., R. Co. v. Norris, (Tex. Civ. App. 1897) 41 S. W. 708.

of court can be enforced only in accordance with the terms and conditions of such order.[19] The company purchasing a railroad under a foreclosure sale will be liable for any injury occurring after the purchase due to the non-performance of any duty of a continuing nature, although it should have been performed by its predecessor.[20]

4. Lessors and Lessees — a. In General — (1) Liability of Lessor. A railroad company to which a franchise for the operation of a railroad has been granted by the state cannot, without legislative authority, divest itself of any of the duties and liabilities incident thereto by leasing its road to another,[21] and so it is uniformly held that if the lease is unauthorized the lessor company will remain liable for the torts of the lessee in the operation of the road,[22] and in a few cases it has been stated broadly, without express reference to whether the lease was authorized or not, that the lessor is liable for the torts of the lessee.[23] Where, however, there is legislative authority for the execution of the lease but no express provision as to the subsequent liability of the lessor, there are directly conflicting lines of authority as to the lessor's liability,[24] some of the decisions holding that

19. Houston, etc., R. Co. v. Crawford, 88 Tex. 277, 31 S. W. 176, 53 Am. St. Rep. 752, 28 L. R. A. 761, holding that where the order imposing a liability upon the purchaser for claims against the receiver limits the time for their presentation, the purchaser will be liable only for such claims as are presented within the time limited.

20. Gage v. Pontiac, etc., R. Co., 105 Mich. 335, 63 N. W. 318, holding that the purchaser is liable for injuries occurring after the purchase and due to a failure to restore a highway to its former condition, although this duty should have been performed by its predecessor.

21. Illinois.— Ohio, etc., R. Co. v. Dunbar, 20 Ill. 623, 71 Am. Dec. 291.

Louisiana.— Muntz v. Algiers, etc., R. Co., 111 La. 423, 35 So. 624, 100 Am. St. Rep. 495, 64 L. R. A. 222.

Massachusetts.— Braslin v. Somerville Horse R. Co., 145 Mass. 64, 13 N. E. 65.

Minnesota.— Freeman v. Minneapolis, etc., R. Co., 28 Minn. 443, 10 N. W. 594.

Mississippi.—Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Lucas, 89 Miss. 411, 42 So. 607.

New York.—Abbott v. Johnstown, etc., Horse R. Co., 80 N. Y. 27, 36 Am. Rep. 572.

North Carolina.— Logan v. North Carolina R. Co., 116 N. C. 940, 21 S. E. 959.

South Carolina.— Davis v. Atlanta, etc., Air Line R. Co., 63 S. C. 370, 577, 41 S. E. 468, 892; Parr v. Spartanburg, etc., R. Co., 43 S. C. 197, 20 S. E. 1009, 49 Am. St. Rep. 826; Chester Nat. Bank v. Atlanta, etc., Air Line R. Co., 25 S. C. 216.

Texas.— Central, etc., R. Co. v. Morris, 68 Tex. 49, 3 S. W. 457.

United States.— Briscoe v. Southern Kansas R. Co., 40 Fed. 273.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," §§ 802, 803, 804.

22. Illinois.— Ohio, etc., R. Co. v. Dunbar, 20 Ill. 623, 71 Am. Dec. 291.

Kentucky.— Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Breeden, 111 Ky. 729, 64 S. W. 667, 23 Ky. L. Rep. 1021, 1763.

Louisiana.— Muntz v. Algiers, etc., R. Co., 111 La. 423, 35 So. 624, 100 Am. St. Rep. 495, 64 L. R. A. 222.

Minnesota.— Freeman v. Minneapolis, etc., R. Co., 28 Minn. 443, 10 N. W. 594.

New York.— Abbott v. Johnstown, etc., Horse R. Co., 80 N. Y. 27, 36 Am. Rep. 572.

Oregon.— Lakin v. Willamette Valley, etc., R. Co., 13 Oreg. 436, 11 Pac. 68, 57 Am. Rep. 25.

Pennsylvania.— Van Steuben v. New Jersey Cent. R. Co., 178 Pa. St. 367, 35 Atl. 992, 34 L. R. A. 577 [reversing 4 Pa. Dist. 153].

Texas.—International, etc., R. Co. v. Eckford, 71 Tex. 274, 8 S. W. 679; International, etc., R. Co. v. Dunham, 68 Tex. 231, 4 S. W. 472, 2 Am. St. Rep. 484; Central, etc., R. Co. v. Morris, 68 Tex. 49, 3 S. W. 457; International, etc., R. Co. v. Underwood, 67 Tex. 589, 4 S. W. 216; Missouri, etc., R. Co. v. Owens, (Civ. App. 1903) 75 S. W. 579; Galveston, etc., R. Co. v. Garteiser, 9 Tex. Civ. App. 456, 29 S. W. 939.

West Virginia.— Fisher v. West Virginia, etc., R. Co., 39 W. Va. 366, 19 S. E. 578, 23 L. R. A. 758.

United States.— Briscoe v. Southern Kansas R. Co., 40 Fed. 273.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," §§ 803, 804.

23. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Doan, 195 Ill. 168, 62 N. E. 826 [affirming 93 Ill. App. 247]; Wabash R. Co. v. Keeler, 127 Ill. App. 265; Chicago Union Traction Co. v. Stanford, 104 Ill. App. 99; Smith v. Atlanta, etc., R. Co., 130 N. C. 344, 42 S. E. 139, 131 N. C. 616, 42 S. E. 976; Perry v. Western North Carolina R. Co., 129 N. C. 333, 40 S. E. 191, 128 N. C. 471, 39 S. E. 27; Raleigh v. North Carolina R. Co., 129 N. C. 265, 40 S. E. 2; Benton v. North Carolina R. Co., 122 N. C. 1007, 30 S. E. 333; Kinney v. North Carolina R. Co., 122 N. C. 961, 30 S. E. 313; Norton v. North Carolina R. Co., 122 N. C. 910, 29 S. E. 886; Jackson v. Southern R. Co., 77 S. C. 550, 58 S. E. 605.

24. Little Rock, etc., R. Co. v. Daniels, 68 Ark. 171, 56 S. W. 874; Heron v. St. Paul, etc., R. Co., 68 Minn. 542, 71 N. W. 706; the authority to lease implies an exemption from liability on the part of the lessor for the torts of the lessee,[25] and others holding that no such exemption is implied but that to relieve the lessor from liability there must, in addition to the authority to lease, be an express provision to this effect.[26] Some of the cases make a distinction between injuries growing out of negligence in the operation of trains or the general management of the road over which the lessor could exercise no control and injuries due to the omission of duties owing to the public which are imposed primarily upon the lessor,[27] holding that an authorized lease relieves the lessor from liability as to negligence of the lessee in the operation of its trains,[28] but not for injuries due to defects in the track or road-bed,[29] station houses,[30] or a failure to construct fences or cattle-guards;[31] while in others a further distinction is made between the liability of the lessor to the public generally and to employees of the lessee.[32] Where the legislative authority to lease is given subject to any

Logan v. North Carolina R. Co., 116 N. C. 940, 21 S. E. 959.

The federal courts in determining this question will not be bound by the rule of the state courts in the jurisdiction in which the courts sit. Curtis v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co., 140 Fed. 777; Yeates v. Illinois Cent. R. Co., 137 Fed. 943.

25. Arkansas.— Little Rock, etc., R. Co. v. Daniels, 68 Ark. 171, 56 S. W. 874.

Kansas.— Caruthers v. Kansas City, etc., R. Co., 59 Kan. 629, 54 Pac. 673, 44 L. R. A. 737.

Maine.— Mahoney v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 63 Me. 68 [distinguishing Stearns v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 44 Me. 95; Whitney v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 44 Me. 362, 69 Am. Dec. 103].

Michigan.— Ackerman v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 143 Mich. 58, 106 N. W. 558, 114 Am. St. Rep. 640.

Minnesota.— Heron v. St. Paul, etc., R. Co., 68 Minn. 542, 71 N. W. 706.

New York.— See Philips v. New Jersey Northern R. Co., 62 Hun 233, 16 N. Y. Suppl. 909; Fisher v. Metropolitan El. R. Co., 34 Hun 433.

Pennsylvania.— Pinkerton v. Pennsylvania Traction Co., 193 Pa. St. 229, 44 Atl. 284 [distinguishing Hanlon v. Philadelphia, etc., Turnpike Road Co., 182 Pa. St. 115, 37 Atl. 943]; Sceiwak v. Philadelphia, etc., R. Co., 4 Pa. Dist. 339.

Texas.— Missouri Pac. R. Co. v. Watts, 63 Tex. 549.

Virginia.— See Virginia Midland R. Co. v. Washington, 86 Va. 629, 10 S. E. 927, 7 L. R. A. 344.

United States.— Hayes v. Northern Pac. R. Co., 74 Fed. 279, 20 C. C. A. 52; Arrowsmith v. Nashville, etc., R. Co., 57 Fed. 165.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," §§ 803, 804.

26. Georgia.— Singleton v. Southwestern R. Co., 70 Ga. 464, 48 Am. Rep. 574.

Illinois.— Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Hart, 209 Ill. 414, 70 N. E. 654, 66 L. R. A. 75 [affirming 104 Ill. App. 57]; Balsley v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 119 Ill. 68, 8 N. E. 859 [reversing 18 Ill. App. 79].

Kentucky.— McCabe v. Maysville, etc., R. Co., 112 Ky. 861, 66 S. W. 1054, 23 Ky. L. Rep. 2328; Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Sheegog, 103 S. W. 323, 31 Ky. L. Rep. 691.

Massachusetts.— Braslin v. Somerville Horse R. Co., 145 Mass. 64, 13 N. E. 65.

North Carolina.— Brown v. Atlanta, etc., Air Line R. Co., 131 N. C. 455, 42 S. E. 911; Harden v. North Carolina R. Co., 129 N. C. 354, 40 S. E. 184, 85 Am. St. Rep. 747, 55 L. R. A. 784; Pierce v. North Carolina R. Co., 124 N. C. 83, 32 S. E. 399, 44 L. R. A. 316; Logan v. North Carolina R. Co., 116 N. C. 940, 21 S. E. 959.

Ohio.— Fisher v. Baltimore, etc., R. Co., 6 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 67, 30 Ohio N. P. 283.

South Carolina.— Harmon v. Columbia, etc., R. Co., 28 S. C. 401, 5 S. E. 835, 13 Am. St. Rep. 686.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," §§ 803, 804.

In Georgia the rule that the lessor is not relieved from liability without legislative sanction expressly exempting it has been adopted and codified as a part of the law of that state. Georgia R., etc., Co. v. Haas, 127 Ga. 187, 56 S. E. 313.

27. Lee v. Southern Pac. R. Co., 116 Cal. 97, 47 Pac. 932, 58 Am. St. Rep. 140, 38 L. R. A. 71; St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Curl, 28 Kan. 622; Nugent v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 80 Me. 62, 12 Atl. 797, 6 Am. St. Rep. 151; Hayes v. Northern Pac. R. Co., 74 Fed. 279, 20 C. C. A. 52; Arrowsmith v. Nashville, etc., R. Co., 57 Fed. 165.

Elsewhere it has been expressly denied that any distinction exists with regard to the liability of the lessor company between injuries due to the omission of a duty resting upon the lessor, such as the defective condition of the track or bridges existing at the time of the lease, and injuries due to the negligence of the lessee's servants in the operation of its trains. Harmon v. Columbia, etc., R. Co., 28 S. C. 401, 5 S. E. 835, 13 Am. St. Rep. 686.

28. Hayes v. Northern Pac. R. Co., 74 Fed. 279, 20 C. C. A. 52; Arrowsmith v. Nashville, etc., R. Co., 57 Fed. 165.

29. Lee v. Southern Pac. R. Co., 116 Cal. 97, 47 Pac. 932, 58 Am. St. Rep. 140, 38 L. R. A. 71.

30. Nugent v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 80 Me. 62, 12 Atl. 797, 6 Am. St. Rep. 151.

31. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Curl, 28 Kan. 622.

32. See infra, X, C, 4, h.

conditions or restrictions, the company acting upon such authority is bound by the conditions imposed,[33] and in some jurisdictions there are statutes expressly providing that the lessor shall remain liable as if it operated the road itself.[34] Where the lessor is liable for the negligence of the lessee, such liability applies to an injury occurring at a point beyond the limits of the leased road, upon the track of another company, where the license to use such track was acquired by the lessor and was derived by the lessee through the lease.[35]

(II) LIABILITY OF LESSEE. The authorities are uniform to the effect that the lessee company is liable for its own negligence or that of its servants in the operation of the leased road,[36] and by the weight of authority is subject to the statutory liabilities for fires communicated by its locomotives,[37] and for injury to animals where the road is not fenced.[38] The fact that the lessor company may also be liable in no way affects the liability of the lessee,[39] and as regards the liability of the lessee it is immaterial whether the lease was authorized or not,[40] nor can the lessee avoid its liability as to third persons by any contract or agreement with the lessor.[41] Where a railroad company leases the road of another it takes the road subject to the duties and liabilities imposed by the general law upon the lessor, and cannot, with respect to the operation of the leased road, claim the benefit of any special exemptions from liability contained in its own original charter.[42] The lessee of a railroad is also liable for injuries due to the negligence of the servants of an independent contractor, where such contractor is exercising any of the charter powers and franchises of the company with its assent.[43]

b. Assumption of Liabilities by Lessee. Where the lessor company would otherwise be liable for the acts of the lessee, such liability as to third persons is not affected by any covenant in the lease or contract between the companies, by which the lessee agrees to perform the duties and obligations of the lessor, or to indemnify the lessor for any liabilities incurred by reason of the acts of the lessee.[44]

33. Markey v. Louisiana, etc., R. Co., 185 Mo. 348, 84 S. W. 61.

34. Markey v. Louisiana, etc., R. Co., 185 Mo. 348, 84 S. W. 61; Fisher v. Baltimore, etc., R. Co., 6 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 67, 3 Ohio N. P. 283; Axline v. Toledo, etc., R. Co., 138 Fed. 169; Keller v. Kansas City, etc., R. Co., 135 Fed. 202.

Application of statutes to injuries to employees of lessee see infra, X, C, 4, h.

A railroad company chartered by congress is a "corporation of another state" within the application of the Missouri statute, providing that where a corporation of that state leases its road to a corporation of another state, it shall remain liable as if it operated the road itself. Smith v. Pacific R. Co., 61 Mo. 17.

35. Bouknight v. Charlotte, etc., R. Co., 41 S. C. 415, 19 S. E. 915.

36. Linfield v. Old Colony R. Corp., 10 Cush. (Mass.) 562, 57 Am. Dec. 124; Cantlon v. Eastern R. Co., 45 Minn. 481, 48 N. W. 22; International, etc., R. Co. v. Dunham, 68 Tex. 231, 4 S. W. 472, 2 Am. St. Rep. 484; Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Ross, 7 Tex. Civ. App. 653, 27 S. W. 728.

Crossing signals.—A railroad company operating a railroad as lessee is subject to the statutory liability for failure to give crossing signals. Linfield v. Old Colony R. Corp., 10 Cush. (Mass.) 562, 57 Am. Dec. 124.

Where lessee becomes a new corporation.—The Georgia statute of 1889, authorizing a lease of the Western and Atlantic railroad, provided that the lessee should become a corporation under the laws of that state, to be known as the Western and Atlantic Railroad Company, and subject to be sued for any cause of action to which it might become liable. The Nashville, etc., R. Co. became the lessee. It was held that an action for an injury sustained upon the leased road was not maintainable against the Nashville, etc., R. Co., but must be brought against the Western and Atlantic R. Co., the new corporation which the lessee had become under the provisions of the statute. Nashville, etc., R. Co. v. Edwards, 91 Ga. 24, 16 S. E. 347.

37. See infra, X, C, 4, j.

38. See infra, X, C, 4, i.

39. Davis v. Providence, etc., R. Co., 121 Mass. 134.

40. Gould v. Bangor, etc., R. Co., 82 Me. 122, 19 Atl. 84; Feital v. Middlesex R. Co., 109 Mass. 398, 12 Am. Rep. 720.

41. Clary v. Iowa Midland R. Co., 37 Iowa 344.

42. McMillan v. Michigan Southern, etc., R. Co., 16 Mich. 79, 93 Am. Dec. 208.

43. Suburban R. Co. v. Balkwill, 195 Ill. 535, 63 N. E. 389 [affirming 94 Ill. App. 454].

44. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Curl, 28 Kan. 622 (holding that the lessor company is liable for injury to crops due to the absence of cattle-guards, although the lease provided that the lessee should perform all duties then

c. Liability of Lessee For Prior Acts or Omissions of Lessor. A railroad company operating a railroad under a lease is not liable for torts committed by the lessor prior to the execution of the lease,[45] or for permanent injuries to property due to the original construction of the road by the lessor;[46] but it is liable for subsequent injuries resulting from the continuance of a nuisance on the right of way, although it existed when the lease was made,[47] or for subsequent injuries due to the defective condition of the track or road-bed, although such defects were in the original construction or existed at the time of the lease.[48]

d. Operation by Lessee in Name or Interest of Lessor. The lessor company is liable for injuries occurring in the operation of its road by a lessee, where the road is being operated in the name [49] or wholly in the interest of the lessor company.[50]

e. Retention of Possession or Control by Lessor. Regardless of the effect of a lease in ordinary cases, if the lessor company retains a control over the operation of the road it will be liable for injuries resulting from such operation;[51] and conversely, a railroad company acquiring by lease or contract the right to operate trains over the road of another will be liable for injuries negligently done by such trains, although run in conformity with the time-tables of the lessor,[52] or under the direction and control of an agent or employee of the lessor.[53] If the lessor and lessee have a joint right of control, a person injured may sue either or both.[54]

f. Defects in Road-Bed or Other Property. It is ordinarily held that the lessor company is liable for injuries due to the condition of its track or road-bed,[55] existing or thereafter imposed upon the lessor); Nugent v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 80 Me. 62, 12 Atl. 797, 6 Am. St. Rep. 151 (holding that the lessor is liable for personal injuries due to the defective condition of a station house, although the lease contained a covenant that the lessee would save the lessor harmless against all claims for injuries arising during the term of the lease). Compare Philips v. New Jersey Northern R. Co., 62 Hun (N. Y.) 233, 16 N. Y. Suppl. 909, where, however, it is stated that the contract by the terms of which the lessee became exclusively liable for the negligence of its servants in the operation of its trains was authorized by the legislature.

45. Pittsburg, etc., R. Co. v. Kain, 35 Ind. 291.

46. Guinn v. Ohio River R. Co., 46 W. Va. 151, 33 S. E. 87, 76 Am. St. Rep. 806.

47. Western, etc., R. Co. v. Cox, 93 Ga. 561, 20 S. E. 68; Tate v. Missouri, etc., R. Co., 64 Mo. 149.

48. See infra, X, C, 4, f.

49. Singleton v. Southwestern R. Co., 70 Ga. 464, 48 Am. Rep. 574; Bower v. Burlington, etc., R. Co., 42 Iowa 546.

50. Southern R. Co. v. Bouknight, 70 Fed. 442, 17 C. C. A. 181, 30 L. R. A. 823.

51. Driscoll v. Norwich, etc., R. Co., 65 Conn. 230, 32 Atl. 354 (holding that the lessor is liable where, by the terms of the lease, the managing agent appointed by the lessee was to be a person satisfactory to the lessor, and the treasurer of the lessor was to collect the earnings, pay the expenses, and after deducting the rent due pay over any balance to the lessee); Cincinnati, etc., R. Co. v. Sleeper, 5 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 196, 3 Am. L. Rec. 464 (holding that the lessor is liable where by the terms of the lease the road was to be operated by a committee, one member of which was to be appointed by each company); Chesapeake, etc., R. Co. v. Howard, 178 U. S. 153, 20 S. Ct. 880, 44 L. ed. 1015 [affirming 14 App. Cas. (D. C.) 262].

Where the lease is made by trustees named in a mortgage for the benefit of bondholders, but such trustees by agreement with the lessee continue to operate and control the road, for the lessee, selecting the employees, receiving the earnings, paying expenses, and after deducting the rent due paying over any balance to the lessee, the trustees are liable for injuries occurring in the operation of the road. Ballou v. Farnum, 9 Allen (Mass.) 47.

52. Clary v. Iowa Midland R. Co., 37 Iowa 344.

53. Wabash, etc., R. Co. v. Peyton, 106 Ill. 534, 46 Am. Rep. 705, holding that where the lessee agrees that its trains shall be operated over the portion of the road leased under the orders and control of the yard master of the lessor, he must with regard to such trains be deemed the servant of the lessee.

54. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co. v. Sleeper, 5 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 196, 3 Am. L. Rec. 464.

55. Lee v. Southern Pac. R. Co., 116 Cal. 97, 47 Pac. 932, 58 Am. St. Rep. 140, 38 L. R. A. 71; Southern R. Co. v. Sittasen, (Ind. App. 1905) 74 N. E. 898; Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Sheegog, 103 S. W. 323, 31 Ky. L. Rep. 691; Trinity, etc., R. Co. v. Lane, 79 Tex. 643, 15 S. W. 477, 16 S. W. 18.

Flooding lands.— The lessor company is liable for injury to property by flooding due to defects in the original construction of its culverts, but not for a trespass committed by the servants of the lessee upon adjoining lands when repairing such defects. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Eichman, 47 Ill. App. 156.

or station house,[56] even under circumstances where it is conceded that it would not be liable for negligence of the lessee in the operation of its trains.[57] The lessee company is also liable for injuries due to the dangerous or improper condition of stations or station grounds,[58] or for injuries occurring during its operation of the road due to the defective condition of the track or road-bed, although such defects were in the original construction or existed at the time of the lease.[59]

g. Liability to Passengers or Shippers of Goods. In a number of cases the general rules holding the lessor company liable for the acts of the lessee where the lease was unauthorized or no express exemption from liability provided have been applied, apparently without any question being raised as to any distinction growing out of the nature of the liability, in actions for damages for personal injuries to passengers,[60] loss or delay of shipments of goods in transit,[61] and a refusal to transport goods upon demand,[62] and in a few cases it has been expressly held that no distinction exists between the liabilities arising ex delicto and ex contractu.[63]

h. Injury to Employees. In a few cases it has been held that the liability of the lessor for torts of the lessee, growing out of the fact that there was no authority for the lease or no express exemption from liability granted, applies to injuries to employees of the lessee as well as to the public generally,[64] and this notwithstanding the injury was not due to a defect in the road but solely to negligence in the operation of the trains.[65] Others, while expressly recognizing the liability of the lessor as to the public generally, hold that the rule does not apply to employ-

56. Nugent v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 80 Me. 62, 12 Atl. 797, 6 Am. St. Rep. 151.

Lease of part of right of way for eating house.— The fact that a railroad company leases a portion of its right of way near a station to a private person for the erection of an eating house, in which the railroad company has no interest, will not render the company liable for an injury to a patron of the house due to the defective condition of the steps of the house or the fact that it was not properly lighted. Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Mangum, 68 Tex. 342, 4 S. W. 617.

57. Lee v. Southern Pac. R. Co., 116 Cal. 97, 47 Pac. 932, 58 Am. St. Rep. 140, 38 L. R. A. 71. See also supra, X, C, 4, a, (I).

58. See Montgomery, etc., R. Co. v. Thompson, 77 Ala. 448, 54 Am. Rep. 72.

59. Littlejohn v. Fitchburg, etc., R. Co., 148 Mass. 478, 20 N. E. 103, 2 L. R. A. 502; Wasmer v. Delaware, etc., R. Co., 80 N. Y. 212, 36 Am. Rep. 608; Philadelphia, etc., R. Co. v. Anderson, 94 Pa. St. 351, 39 Am. Rep. 787.

60. Georgia.— Singleton v. Southwestern R. Co., 70 Ga. 464, 48 Am. Rep. 574.

Illinois.—Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Doan, 195 Ill. 168, 62 N. E. 826 [affirming 93 Ill. App. 247]; Chicago Union Traction Co. v. Stanford, 104 Ill. App. 99.

Massachusetts.— Braslin v. Summerville Horse R. Co., 145 Mass. 64, 13 N. E. 65.

North Carolina.— Tillett v. Norfolk, etc., R. Co., 118 N. C. 1031, 24 S. E. 111.

Texas.— International, etc., R. Co. v. Underwood, 67 Tex. 589, 4 S. W. 216.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 812.

The contrary doctrine, recognized in some jurisdictions, that authority to lease exempts the lessor from liability for the negligence of the lessee, has also been applied to cases of personal injuries to passengers. Mahoney v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 63 Me. 68; Fisher v. Metropolitan El. R. Co., 34 Hun (N. Y.) 433; Arrowsmith v. Nashville, etc., R. Co., 57 Fed. 165.

A failure to stop at a station and afford a passenger an opportunity to alight is a breach of a public duty which renders the lessor liable where the road is being operated by a lessee. Pickens v. Georgia R., etc., Co., 126 Ga. 517, 55 S. E. 171.

61. Ohio, etc., R. Co. v. Dunbar, 20 Ill. 623, 71 Am. Dec. 291; Langley v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 10 Gray (Mass.) 103; International, etc., R. Co. v. Moody, 71 Tex. 614, 9 S. W. 465. See also International, etc., R. Co. v. Thornton, 3 Tex. Civ. App. 197, 22 S. W. 67, holding, however, that if the lessor is liable in such cases it is also entitled to the benefit of a stipulation in the contract of shipment limiting the liability to losses upon its own line.

62. Central, etc., R. Co. v. Morris, 68 Tex. 49, 3 S. W. 457.

63. Bouknight v. Charlotte, etc., R. Co., 41 S. C. 415, 19 S. E. 915 (holding that the lessor company is liable for personal injuries to a passenger); Chester Nat. Bank v. Atlanta, etc., R. Co., 25 S. C. 216 (holding that the lessor company is liable for the refusal of the lessee to deliver freight). But see Mahoney v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 63 Me. 68; Arrowsmith v. Nashville, etc., R. Co., 57 Fed. 165.

64. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Hart, 209 Ill. 414, 70 N. E. 654, 66 L. R. A. 75 [affirming 104 Ill. App. 57]; Logan v. North Carolina R. Co., 116 N. C. 940, 21 S. E. 959; Reed v. Southern R. Co., 75 S. C. 162, 55 S. E. 218.

65. Logan v. North Carolina R. Co., 116 N. C. 940, 21 S. E. 959.

ees of the lessee and that they cannot recover from the lessor for injuries due to the negligence of the lessee;[66] and others, while recognizing this latter view as applicable to injuries due to negligence in the operation of trains or defective machinery and appliances, hold that the lessor is liable for injuries to the employees of the lessee due to the condition of the track or road-bed,[67] or station houses.[68] There is a similar conflict even under statutes expressly providing that the lessor shall remain liable as if it operated the road itself; it being held under some that the provision applies to injuries to employees of the lessee,[69] and under others that the provision applies only to the duties of the company as a common carrier and not to injuries to employees due to the negligence of the lessee.[70]

i. Fences, Cattle-Guards, and Injury to Animals. In actions for injuries to animals if the action is based upon the negligence of the lessee the case depends upon the general principles above stated,[71] and the lessor will be liable where the lease was unauthorized,[72] or where it is held that an express exemption as well as authority to lease is necessary,[73] or the statute expressly provides that the liability of the lessor shall continue;[74] but not where the lease is authorized and it is held that authority to lease exempts the lessor from liability for the negligence of the lessee.[75] The lessee will also be liable for its own negligence.[76] Under statutes imposing a liability without regard to the question of negligence, for injuries to animals where the road is not fenced or provided with cattle-guards, it is ordinarily held that the lessor company is liable although the injury is inflicted by the trains of the lessee;[77] and that such liability also applies to injuries due 66. Georgia.— Banks v. Georgia R., etc., Co., 112 Ga. 655, 37 S. E. 992.

Indiana.— Baltimore, etc., R. Co. v. Paul, 143 Ind. 23, 40 N. E. 519, 28 L. R. A. 216.

Kentucky.— Swice v. Maysville, etc., R. Co., 116 Ky. 253, 75 S. W. 278, 25 Ky. L. Rep. 436; Lewis v. Maysville, etc., R. Co., 76 S. W. 526, 25 Ky. L. Rep. 948.

Mississippi.— Buckner v. Richmond, etc., R. Co., 72 Miss. 873, 18 So. 449.

Texas.— Evans v. Sabine, etc., R. Co., (1892) 18 S. W. 493; East Line, etc., R. Co. v. Culberson, 72 Tex. 375, 10 S. W. 706, 13 Am. St. Rep. 805, 3 L. R. A. 567.

Virginia.— Virginia Midland R. Co. v. Washington, 86 Va. 629, 10 S. E. 927, 7 L. R. A. 344.

United States.— Williard v. Spartanburg, etc., R. Co., 124 Fed. 796; Hukill v. Maysville, etc., R. Co., 72 Fed. 745.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 813.

67. Lee v. Southern Pac. R. Co., 116 Cal. 97, 47 Pac. 932, 58 Am. St. Rep. 140, 38 L. R. A. 71; Southern R. Co. v. Sittasen, (Ind. App. 1905) 74 N. E. 898; Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Sheegog, 103 S. W. 323, 31 Ky. L. Rep. 691; Trinity, etc., R. Co. v. Lane, 79 Tex. 643, 15 S. W. 477, 16 S. W. 18. See also Banks v. Georgia R., etc., Co., 112 Ga. 655, 37 S. E. 992; East Line, etc., R. Co. v. Culberson, 72 Tex. 375, 10 S. W. 706, 13 Am. St. Rep. 805, 3 L. R. A. 567.

The proper ground of distinction has been held to be whether the injury to the employee was due to a breach of duty owing to the public generally or a duty arising out of the relation of employer and employee, such as a duty to provide a safe place to work in. Travis v. Kansas City, etc., R. Co., 119 La. 489, 44 So. 274, 121 Am. St. Rep. 526, 10 L. R. A. N. S. 1189, holding that in case of an injury to an employee of the lessee company due to a switch-yard not being properly lighted the duty was of the latter character and the lessor company not liable.

68. Nugent v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 80 Me. 62, 12 Atl. 797, 6 Am. St. Rep. 151.

69. Markey v. Louisiana, etc., R. Co., 185 Mo. 348, 84 S. W. 61. See also Brady v. Kansas City, etc., R. Co., 206 Mo. 509, 102 S. W. 978, 105 S. W. 1195.

70. Axline v. Toledo, etc., R. Co., 138 Fed. 169; Beltz v. Baltimore, etc., R. Co., 137 Fed. 1016.

71. See supra, X, C, 4, a.

72. International, etc., R. Co. v. Dunham, 68 Tex. 231, 4 S. W. 472, 2 Am. St. Rep. 484; Briscoe v. Southern Kansas R. Co., 40 Fed. 273.

73. Harmon v. Columbia, etc., R. Co., 28 S. C. 401, 5 S. E. 835, 13 Am. St. Rep. 686.

74. Brown v. Hannibal, etc., R. Co., 27 Mo. App. 394.

75. Little Rock, etc., R. Co. v. Daniels, 68 Ark. 171, 56 S. W. 874.

76. International, etc., R. Co. v. Dunham, 68 Tex. 231, 4 S. W. 472, 2 Am. St. Rep. 484.

77. California.—Fontaine v. Southern Pac. R. Co., 54 Cal. 645.

Indiana.— Ft. Wayne, etc., R. Co. v. Hinebaugh, 43 Ind. 354.

Missouri.— Price v. Barnard, 70 Mo. App. 175.

Oregon.— Eaton v. Oregon R., etc., Co., 19 Oreg. 391, 397, 24 Pac. 415, 417.

Vermont.— Nelson v. Vermont, etc., R. Co., 26 Vt. 717, 62 Am. Dec. 614.

Washington.— Oregon R., etc., Co. v. Dacres, 1 Wash. 195, 23 Pac. 415.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," §§ 814, 815.

to defects occurring in the fences or cattle-guards previously constructed by the lessor.[78] It is also held that the lessee is subject to the same liability for injuries due to the absence of fences or cattle-guards,[79] or a failure to keep those constructed in repair,[80] and in some cases the statutes imposing the duty or liability apply in terms to lessees.[81] The lessee company cannot avoid its liability by any contract or agreement with the lessor,[82] nor is it material as regards the lessee whether the lease was authorized or not.[83] So also in case of injury to crops by trespassing animals due to a failure to construct cattle-guards as required by statute, where the road passes through inclosed land, it is held that both the lessor [84] and the lessee[85] are liable.

j. Fires. In actions for damages caused by fires communicated by locomotives, if the action is based upon the negligence of the lessee in regard to the operation or condition of its locomotives, the liability of the lessor company depends upon the general principles above stated as to the liability of the lessor for the negligence of the lessee,[86] and the lessee company will be liable for its own negligence.[87] If the action is based upon statutes imposing a liability for all damages by fire communicated by locomotives, the lessor company is liable if the statute authorizing the lease provides that it shall not exonerate the lessor company from any duty or liability imposed by its charter or the general laws of the state,[88] or, it is held, even where the statute merely provides that every railroad company shall be liable for all damages caused by fires communicated by "its" locomotives; [89]

Contra.— Stephens v. Davenport, etc., R. Co., 36 Iowa 327; Throne v. Lehigh Valley R. Co., 88 Hun (N. Y.) 141, 34 N. Y. Suppl. 525; Van Natter v. Buffalo, etc., R. Co., 27 U. C. Q. B. 581.

78. Whitney v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 44 Me. 362. 69 Am. Dec. 103; Harris v. Quincy, etc., R. Co., 124 Mo. App. 45, 101 S. W. 601.

Where the fence is constructed pursuant to a contract between the lessor company and an adjoining landowner that company is liable for injury to an animal due to the defective condition of the fence, although the road is being operated by a lessee. Howard v. Maysville, etc., R. Co., 70 S. W. 631, 24 Ky. L. Rep. 1051.

79. Iowa.— Stewart v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 27 Iowa 282 [distinguishing Liddle v. Keokuk, etc., R. Co., 23 Iowa 378].

New York.— Tracy v. Troy, etc., R. Co., 38 N. Y. 433, 98 Am. Dec. 54 [affirming 55 Barb. 529].

Vermont.— Clement v. Canfield, 28 Vt. 302.

Wisconsin.— McCall v. Chamberlain, 13 Wis. 637. See also Cook v. Milwaukee, etc., R. Co., 36 Wis. 45.

Canada.— Holmes v. Grand Trunk R. Co., 27 U. C. Q. B. 595. Contra, Bennett v. Covert, 24 U. C. Q. B. 38.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," §§ 814, 815.

80. Gould v. Bangor, etc., R. Co., 82 Me. 122, 19 Atl. 84.

81. Wabash R. Co. v. Williamson, 3 Ind. App. 190, 29 N. E. 455; Clary v. Iowa Midland R. Co., 37 Iowa 344; Burchfield v. Northern Cent. R. Co., 57 Barb. (N. Y.) 589.

In Indiana under a former statute it was held that the lessee company was not liable unless operating the road in the name of the lessor (Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co. v. Currant, 61 Ind. 38; Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co. v. Hannon, 60 Ind. 417; Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co. v. Bolner, 57 Ind. 572); but under the statute of 1881 the lessee is liable, although operating the road in its own name (Wabash R. Co. v. Williamson, 3 Ind. App. 190, 29 N. E. 455).

A company operating a road under a contract with the company owning it will be deemed a lessee within the application of the statute. Burchfield v. Northern Cent. R. Co., 57 Barb. (N. Y.) 589.

82. Clary v. Iowa Midland R. Co., 37 Iowa 344.

83. Gould v. Bangor, etc., R. Co., 82 Me. 122, 19 Atl. 84.

84. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Curl, 28 Kan. 622.

85. Missouri Pac. R. Co. v. Morrow, 32 Kan. 217, 4 Pac. 87.

86. Heron v. St. Paul, etc., R. Co., 68 Minn. 542, 71 N. W. 706 (holding that the lessor company is not liable where the lease is authorized, as such authority impliedly exempts the lessor from liability); Fisher v. Baltimore, etc., R. Co., 6 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 67, 3 Ohio N. P. 283 (holding that the lessor company is liable either by virtue of the statute providing that lessors shall remain liable or under the general rule that the lessor is liable, although the lease is authorized, unless there is also an express exemption from liability); Van Steuben v. New Jersey Cent. R. Co., 178 Pa. St. 367, 35 Atl. 992, 34 L. R. A. 577 [reversing 4 Pa. Dist. 153] (holding that the lessor company is liable where the lease is unauthorized).

87. Cantlon v. Eastern R. Co., 45 Minn 481, 48 N. W. 22; Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Ross, 7 Tex. Civ. App. 653, 27 S. W. 728.

88. Bean v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 63 Me. 293; Stearns v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 46 Me. 95.

89. Ingersoll v. Stockbridge, etc., R. Co., 8 and the lessor company, although the lease is authorized, is liable under a statute imposing a liability upon all railroad companies for damages by fire due to a failure to keep their rights of way clear of combustible matter.[90] The lessee company by whose locomotives the fire was communicated is also subject to the statutory liability.[91] A railroad company which leases a portion of its right of way to a private person remains liable for fires due to an accumulation of combustible material upon the portion leased.[92]

5. Companies Permitting Use of Road by Others — a. In General. A railroad company by the acceptance of its charter and franchises from the state assumes a responsibility toward the public for the proper exercise thereof which it cannot escape without legislative authority,[93] and if it permits others to use its road the latter must be deemed to do so as its agents,[94] otherwise the company owning the road might enjoy the pecuniary benefits of its franchise while escaping its liabilities, leaving the public without redress in case those permitted to use the road were irresponsible.[95] So where a railroad company owning a road permits another company or person to use the same, it will be liable for injuries to persons or property due to the actionable negligence of the latter while using the road;[96]

Allen (Mass.) 438, holding that the locomotives of the lessee must be deemed those of the lessor within the application of the statute. Contra, Lipfeld v. Charlotte, etc., R. Co., 41 S. C. 285, 19 S. E. 497 (holding that a statute making every railroad company liable for damages by fire communicated "by its locomotive engines" must be strictly construed, and that the lessor company will not be liable under the statute where the fire was communicated by an engine of the lessee, although such company might be held liable if the action was based upon the common-law liability for negligence on the part of the lessee in the operation of its trains); Hunter v. Columbia, etc., R. Co., 41 S. C. 86, 19 S. E. 197.

90. Balsley v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 119 Ill. 68, 8 N. E. 859, 59 Am. Rep. 784 [reversing 18 Ill. App. 79].

91. Davis v. Providence, etc., R. Co., 121 Mass. 134; MacDonald v. New York, etc., R. Co., 23 R. I. 558, 51 Atl. 578.

92. Sprague v. Atchison, etc., R. Co., 70 Kan. 359, 78 Pac. 828.

93. Georgia.— Macon, etc., R. Co. v. Mayes, 49 Ga. 355, 15 Am. Rep. 678.

Illinois.— Pennsylvania Co. v. Ellett, 132 Ill. 654, 24 N. E. 559.

Missouri.— McCoy v. Kansas City, etc., R. Co., 36 Mo. App. 445.

South Carolina.— Smalley v. Atlanta, etc., Air Line R. Co., 73 S. C. 572, 53 S. E. 1000 [overruling Pennington v. Atlanta, etc., R. Co., 35 S. C. 439, 14 S. E. 852].

West Virginia.— Ricketts v. Chesapeake, etc., R. Co., 33 W. Va. 433, 10 S. E. 801, 25 Am. St. Rep. 901, 7 L. R. A. 354.

Wisconsin.— Jefferson v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 117 Wis. 549, 94 N. W. 289.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," §§ 817, 819.

94. Pennsylvania Co. v. Ellett, 132 Ill. 654, 24 N. E. 559; Harbert v. Atlanta, etc., R. Co., 74 S. C. 13, 53 S. E. 1001.

95. Macon, etc., R. Co. v. Mayes, 49 Ga. 355, 15 Am. Rep. 678; Jefferson v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 117 Wis. 549, 94 N. W. 289.

96. Alabama.— Georgia Cent. R. Co. v. Wood, 129 Ala. 483, 29 So. 775; Highland Ave., etc., R. Co. v. South, 112 Ala. 642, 20 So. 1003.

Arkansas.— St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Chappell, 83 Ark. 94, 102 S. W. 893, 10 L. R. A. N. S. 1175.

Georgia.— Macon, etc., R. Co. v. Mayes, 49 Ga. 355, 15 Am. Rep. 678.

Illinois.— Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Schmitz, 211 Ill. 446, 71 N. E. 1050 [affirming 113 Ill. App. 295]; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Meech, 163 Ill. 305, 45 N. E. 290 [affirming 59 Ill. App. 69]; Pennsylvania Co. v. Ellett, 132 Ill. 654, 24 N. E. 559; Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Finnigan, 21 Ill. 646.

Kentucky.— Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Breeden, 111 Ky. 729, 64 S. W. 667, 23 Ky. L. Rep. 1021, 1763. But see Harper v. Newport News, etc., R. Co., 90 Ky. 359, 14 S. W. 346, 12 Ky. L. Rep. 333, holding that the company owning the road is not liable for the negligence of the servants of another company using the road, where the latter company has the exclusive control and management of the road.

Louisiana.— Hollins v. New Orleans, etc., R. Co., 119 La. 418, 44 So. 159.

Missouri.— Price v. Barnard, 65 Mo. App. 649; McCoy v. Kansas City, etc., R. Co., 36 Mo. App. 445.

North Carolina.— Aycock v. Raleigh, etc., R. Co., 89 N. C. 321.

South Carolina.— Harbert v. Atlanta, etc., R. Co., 74 S. C. 13, 53 S. E. 1001; Smalley v. Atlanta, etc., R. Co., 73 S. C. 572, 53 S. E. 1000 [overruling Pennington v. Atlanta, etc., R. Co., 35 S. C. 439, 14 S. E. 852].

Texas.— Gulf, etc., R. Co. v. Miller, 98 Tex. 270, 83 S. W. 182 [affirming 35 Tex. Civ. App. 116, 79 S. W. 1109]; Ray v. Pecos, etc., R. Co., 35 Tex. Civ. App. 123, 80 S. W. 112; Gulf, etc., R. Co. v. Bryant, 30 Tex. Civ. App. 4, 66 S. W. 804.

West Virginia.— Ricketts v. Chesapeake, etc., R. Co., 33 W. Va. 433, 10 S. E. 801, 25 Am. St. Rep. 901, 7 L. R. A. 354.

United States.— Central Trust Co. v. Den-and if a domestic corporation permits a foreign corporation to run trains over its road as a part of a through line, the domestic corporation will be liable for injuries sustained upon the portion of its road so used caused by the negligence or misconduct of the servants of the foreign corporation.[97] So also the lessee of a railroad which permits another to use the road will be liable for the negligence of the latter;[98] but if a train of one company is without lawful authority trespassing upon the tracks of another, the company owning the road is not liable for injuries due to the negligence of those in charge of the train.[99]

b. Defects in Road-Bed and Other Property. A railroad company owning a railroad which permits another company to use the road is liable for injuries to persons on the trains of the latter due to the defective condition of the road-bed, track, or bridges,[1] or to the defective condition or negligent management of ver, etc., R. Co., 97 Fed. 239, 38 C. C. A. 143. But see Clymer v. Central R. Co., 5 Fed. Cas. No. 2,912, 5 Blatchf. 317.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," §§ 817, 819.

The company using the road is also liable for the negligence of its own servants, but this fact does not affect the liability of the company owning the road. Pennsylvania Co. v. Ellett, 132 Ill. 654, 24 N. E. 559.

Application of rule to particular acts or omissions.— The rule stated imposes a liability upon the company owning the road not only for the negligence of the other company in the operation of its trains (see cases cited supra, this note, in support of text); but also for the negligence or misconduct of the servants of that company in obstructing the track so as to cause a collision (Georgia Pac. R. Co. v. Underwood, 90 Ala. 49, 8 So. 116, 24 Am. St. Rep. 756); obstructing highway crossings with its cars (Bussian v. Milwaukee, etc., R. Co., 56 Wis. 325, 14 N. W. 452); failing to give the statutory crossing signals (Harbert v. Atlanta, etc., R. Co., 74 S. C. 13, 53 S. E. 1001); or in committing an assault upon one of its own passengers (Ricketts v. Chesapeake, etc., R. Co., 33 W. Va. 433, 10 S. E. 801, 25 Am. St. Rep. 901, 7 L. R. A. 354).

Injury on private tracks.— Where a railroad company constructs a switch-track through an elevator building owned by an elevator company, but does not own the switch or exercise any control over its use, such railroad company is not liable for injury to an employee of the elevator company caused by the negligent operation of cars within the elevator by other employees of the elevator company. Sauls v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 36 Tex. Civ. App. 155, 81 S. W. 89. The owner of a private track laid by the owner by permission of a city across a street will be liable for injuries due to the negligence of a railroad company while backing cars upon such track, where the company was not engaged in its own business but was rendering a special and temporary service to the owner of the track. McWilliams v. Detroit Cent. Mills Co., 31 Mich. 274.

Where private persons hire a train to run an excursion, the railroad company will be liable for injuries inflicted by those in charge of the train upon a person who having purchased a ticket from the company at a station attempts to board the excursion train. Chesapeake, etc., R. Co. v. Osborne, 97 Ky. 112, 30 S. W. 21, 16 Ky. L. Rep. 815, 53 Am. St. Rep. 407.

Where a railroad company owns a switch track between its main track and a mining company's mines and furnishes the mining company with cars to be loaded and permits the mining company to return them by loosening the brakes and permitting them to run down a grade, the railroad company will be liable for injuries caused by such cars. Smith v. Atchison, etc., R. Co., 25 Kan. 738.

In New York it is held that under Laws (1890), as amended by Laws (1893), c. 433, authorizing any railroad corporation to contract with any other such corporation for the use of their respective roads, the company owning the road is not liable for the negligence of the servants of another company using the road under such a contract. Cain v. Syracuse, etc., R. Co., 27 N. Y. App. Div. 376, 50 N. Y. Suppl. 1 [affirming 20 Misc. 459, 45 N. Y. Suppl. 538].

97. Ricketts v. Chesapeake, etc., R. Co., 33 W. Va. 433, 10 S. E. 801, 25 Am. St. Rep. 901, 7 L. R. A. 354.

98. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co. v. Campbell, 86 Ill. 443; Suburban R. Co. v. Balkwill, 94 Ill. App. 454 [affirmed in 195 Ill. 535, 63 N. E. 389]. See also Decker v. Erie R. Co., 85 N. Y. App. Div. 13, 82 N. Y. Suppl. 895, where the trains of the company permitted to use the road were operated under the control of the lessee.

99. Wormus v. Tennessee Coal, etc., Co., 97 Ala. 326, 12 So. 111.

1. Central R., etc., Co. v. Phinazee, 93 Ga. 488, 21 S. E. 66; Ellison v. Georgia R. Co., 87 Ga. 691, 13 S. E. 809; Augusta, etc., R. Co. v. Killian, 79 Ga. 234, 4 S. E. 165; Hamilton v. Louisiana, etc., R. Co., 117 La. 243, 41 So. 560, 6 L. R. A. N. S. 787; Southern Kansas R. Co. v. Sage, (Tex. Civ. App. 1904) 80 S. W. 1038 [reversed on other grounds in 98 Tex. 438, 84 S. W. 814]; Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Moore, 8 Tex. Civ. App. 289, 27 S. W. 962.

Condition of place for boarding trains.— The company owning a railroad is not liable for injury to a person about to board a its switches,[2] although the injured persons were employees of the latter company;[3] but one company, by granting permission to another company to run trains over its road, does not become liable for injuries caused by the defective condition of a track constructed and controlled by the latter company for the purpose of connecting the two roads,[4] nor is the company owning the road liable for injuries to employees upon the trains of the other, due to a defective condition of the cars of that company.[5] A refrigerator car company which constructs and furnishes a car for transportation over a railroad will be liable for an injury to an employee of the railroad company due to the defective condition of the car.[6]

c. Failure to Fence and Injury to Animals.[7] A railroad company owning a road which it permits another to use will be liable for injuries to animals caused by the negligent operation of the trains of the latter;[8] and where the statutes require the road to be fenced the company owning it will be liable for injuries to animals resulting from its unfenced condition, although the injuries were inflicted by the trains of the other company;[9] and the fact that the duty of fencing is imposed by the statute upon companies using as well as those owning the road does not affect the liability of the company owning it.[10]

d. Fires. Where a railroad company owning a road permits another to operate trains thereon and property is damaged by fire communicated from the locomotives of the latter, the company owning the road will be liable for its own negligence contributing to the injury in allowing combustible material to accumulate upon the right of way,[11] or in furnishing to the company or person using the road defective or improperly equipped locomotives,[12] and also for the negligence of the company using its road in the operation of the locomotives from which the fire was communicated,[13] or their defective or improper condition or equip-freight train as a passenger of another company using the road, caused by the condition of the road-bed at such place, if it was not the usual place for the reception of passengers and was sufficiently safe and suitable for the ordinary purposes of freight trains. Murch v. Concord R. Corp., 29 N. H. 9, 61 Am. Dec. 631.

2. Peoria, etc., R. Co. v. Lane, 83 Ill. 448; Chicago Terminal Transfer R. Co. v. Vandenberg, 164 Ind. 470, 73 N. E. 990; Stodder v. New York, etc., R. Co., 50 Hun (N. Y.) 221, 2 N. Y. Suppl. 780 [affirmed in 121 N. Y. 655, 24 N. E. 1092].

3. Rome R. Co. v. Thompson, 101 Ga. 26, 28 S. E. 429; Ellison v. Georgia R., etc., Co., 87 Ga. 691, 13 S. E. 809; Chicago Terminal Transfer R. Co. v. Vandenberg, 164 Ind. 470, 73 N. E. 990; Hamilton v. Louisiana, etc., R. Co., 117 La. 243, 41 So. 560, 6 L. R. A. N. S. 787; Trinity, etc., R. Co. v. Lane, 79 Tex. 643, 15 S. W. 477, 16 S. W. 18; Southern Kansas R. Co. v. Sage, (Tex. Civ. App. 1904) 80 S. W. 1038 [reversed on other grounds in 98 Tex. 438, 84 S. W. 814].

4. Gwathney v. Little Miami R. Co., 12 Ohio St. 92.

5. Augusta, etc., R. Co. v. Killian, 79 Ga. 234, 4 S. E. 165.

6. Leas v. Continental Fruit Express, (Tex. Civ. App. 1907) 99 S. W. 859.

7. Liability of company using road see infra, X, C, 6, c.

8. Georgia Cent. R. Co. v. Wood, 129 Ala. 483, 29 So. 775; Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Finnigan, 21 Ill. 646.

9. Illinois.— East St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Gerber, 82 Ill. 632; Toledo, etc., R. Co. v. Rumbold, 40 Ill. 143.

Indiana.— Ft. Wayne, etc., R. Co. v. Hinebaugh, 43 Ind. 354; Indianapolis, etc., R. Co. v. Solomon, 23 Ind. 534.

Kansas.— Kansas City, etc., R. Co. v. Ewing, 23 Kan. 273.

Maine.— Wyman v. Penobscot, etc., R. Co., 46 Me. 162.

Michigan.— Bay City, etc., R. Co. v. Austin, 21 Mich. 390.

Missouri.— Sinclair v. Missouri, etc., R. Co., 70 Mo. App. 588; Price v. Barnard, 65 Mo. App. 649.

New York.— Haas v. New York Cent., etc., R. Co., 11 N. Y. App. Div. 625, 42 N. Y. Suppl. 302.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 821.

10. Bay City, etc., R. Co. v. Austin, 21 Mich. 390.

11. Heron v. St. Paul, etc., R. Co., 68 Minn. 542, 71 N. W. 706; Delaware, etc., R. Co. v. Salmon, 39 N. J. L. 299, 23 Am. Rep. 214; Aycock v. Raleigh, etc., R. Co., 89 N. C. 321.

12. Brady v. Jay, 111 La. 1071, 36 So. 132, holding that where a lumber company owning a logging railroad contracted with a person to cut and transport its timber over the road, the company owning the road furnishing the means of transportation, it will be liable for fires set by locomotives furnished to the contractor which were not equipped with spark arresters, although they were operated exclusively by the contractor.

13. Arkansas.— St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Chappell, 83 Ark. 94, 102 S. W. 893, 10 L. R. A. N. S. 1175.

ment;[14] but a railroad company which permits a municipal corporation to use land belonging to it and not in use for railroad purposes, as a public dumping ground for waste materials, is not liable for damages caused by fire originating in such materials, where the railroad company had no supervision or control over the work at such place and was not guilty of any negligence in respect to the origin of the fire.[15]

6. Companies Operating or Using Roads of Others — a. In General. The liability of a railroad company using the road of another depends upon its control over the agency causing the injury and the duty which it owes to the injured party,[16] and such company cannot be charged with negligence in failing to perform an act unless it has both the power and the right to perform it,[17] as where it could not do so without being guilty of an unwarrantable intrusion or trespass upon the rights or property of the company owning the road;[18] but it has been held that a railroad company, by assuming to use the road of another in a defective condition, must be held to assume a liability for any injuries resulting from such defects in the course of its own use of the road.[19] A railroad company using the road of another is held to the same degree of care in its use as if it owned the road,[20] and is liable for any negligence or misconduct on the part of its own employees while under its control and in the conduct of its business,[21] without regard

Minnesota.—Heron v. St. Paul, etc., R. Co., 68 Minn. 542, 71 N. W. 706.

Missouri.—McCoy v. Kansas City, etc., R. Co., 36 Mo. App. 445.

North Carolina.—Aycock v. Raleigh, etc., R. Co., 89 N. C. 321.

Texas.—Galveston, etc., R. Co. v. Burnett, (Civ. App. 1896) 37 S. W. 779.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 823.

The lessee of a railroad which permits another to use the road will be liable for damages caused by fire due to the negligence of the latter company. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co. v. Camphell, 86 Ill. 443; Heron v. St. Paul, etc., R. Co., 68 Minn. 542, 71 N. W. 706.

In Missouri the statute expressly makes "each railroad corporation owning or operating a railroad" in the state responsible for damages by fire from locomotives used upon the road, and the fact that a subsequent section of the statute authorizes a railroad company to permit another to use its road does not affect the liability of the company owning the road for fires caused by the locomotives of the other. McFarland v. Missouri, etc., R. Co., 94 Mo. App. 336, 68 S. W. 105.

14. Delaware, etc., R. Co. v. Salmon, 39 N. J. L. 299, 23 Am. Rep. 214; Jefferson v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 117 Wis. 549, 94 N. W. 289.

Absence of knowledge on the part of the company owning the road as to the defective condition or improper equipment of the other's locomotives does not affect its liability. Jefferson v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 117 Wis. 549, 94 N. W. 289.

15. Denver, etc., R. Co. v. Porter, 126 Fed. 288, 61 C. C. A. 168.

16. Collier v. Great Northern R. Co., 40 Wash. 639, 82 Pac. 935.

17. Lake Shore, etc., R. Co. v. Kaste, 11 Ill. App. 536, holding that a company having merely the right to run its trains over the road of another is not liable for failing to remove cars over which it has no authority or control which were so placed by another company as to obstruct a crossing.

18. Lake Shore, etc., R. Co. v. Kaste, 11 Ill. App. 536 (holding that a railroad company having merely the right to use the track of another is not liable for failing to construct bell towers at crossings); Collier v. Great Northern R. Co., 40 Wash. 639, 82 Pac. 935 (holding that a company merely having the right to run trains over the road of another is not liable for not repairing defects in a highway crossing).

19. See infra, X, C, 6, b, c.

20. Webb v. Portland, etc., R. Co., 57 Me. 117; McGrath v. New York Cent., etc., R. Co., 63 N. Y. 522; Leonard v. New York Cent., etc., R. Co., 42 N. Y. Super. Ct. 225.

Flagmen at crossings.—A railroad company using the road of another must maintain flagmen at a crossing wherever a failure to do so would be actionable negligence on the part of the company owning the road. Webb v. Portland, etc., R. Co., 57 Me. 117; McGrath v. New York Cent., etc., R. Co., 63 N. Y. 522.

Statutes regulating the liability of railroad companies which are authorized to use the same tracks as between themselves do not affect the common-law liability of each with respect to third persons. Eaton v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 11 Allen (Mass.) 500, 87 Am. Dec. 730.

21. Jacksonville, etc., R. Co. v. Peninsular Land, etc., Co., 27 Fla. 1, 157, 9 So. 661, 17 L. R. A. 33, 65; Cleveland, etc., R. Co. v. Berry, 152 Ind. 607, 53 N. E. 415, 46 L. R. A. 33; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Groves, 56 Kan. 601, 11 Pac. 628; Clark v. Geer, 86 Fed. 447, 32 C. C. A. 295.

Obstructing tracks.—Where two railroads have a traffic arrangement for the interchange of cars and one places cars upon the track of the other at an unusual time of night without notice or danger signals, it is liable for injuries due to a collision with to whether such company owns the train which its servants are operating,[22] or whether at the time they are rightfully or wrongfully in the occupation and use of the road,[23] and notwithstanding there was also negligence on the part of the company owning the road.[24] So a railroad company using the road of another is liable for the negligence of its own servants in the operation of its trains over the road,[25] and this notwithstanding the trains are operated under and subject to the rules and orders of the company owning the road if its servants are guilty of acts of negligence independent of and not attributable to the orders under which they are run;[26] but such company will not be liable if its servants, trains, and all their movements are at the time under the absolute and exclusive control of the company owning the road.[27] A railroad company using the road of another is not liable for injuries due solely to the negligence of the servants of the company owning the road in the operation of the trains of that company;[28] but will be liable for injuries incident to the operation of its own trains due to negligence on the part of servants in the employ of the company owning the road, such as gatemen or flagmen at crossings, whose services it adopts and relies upon instead of employing others of its own for such duties.[29] such obstruction. Lockhart v. Little Rock, etc., R. Co., 40 Fed. 631.

Obstructing highway.—A railroad company using the road of another is liable for injuries due to the wrongful obstruction of a highway by its trains. Hall v. Brown, 54 N. H. 495, holding further that a company using the road of another is a proprietor of the road within the application of a statute providing under penalty that "no such proprietors shall obstruct" a highway with a train for over two minutes.

22. Fletcher v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 1 Allen (Mass.) 9, 79 Am. Dec. 695.

23. Jacksonville, etc., R. Co. v. Peninsular Land, etc., Co., 27 Fla. 1, 157, 9 So. 661, 17 L. R. A. 33, 65; Cleveland, etc., R. Co. v. Berry, 152 Ind. 607, 53 N. E. 415, 46 L. R. A. 33.

Unauthorized use of street.—If a railroad company which has no authority to use a street for the purpose of its road uses a connecting road constructed thereon by the government as a military necessity for its own purposes and not merely for military purposes under orders of the government, it is a wrong-doer and liable for any injury resulting from such use. Mississippi, etc., R. Co. v. Wilson, 10 Heisk. (Tenn.) 496.

24. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Mitchell, 70 Ill. App. 188.

25. District of Columbia.—Mills v. Orange, etc., R. Co., 1 MacArthur 285.

Florida.— Jacksonville, etc., R. Co. v. Peninsular Land, etc., Co., 27 Fla. 1, 157, 9 So. 661, 17 L. R. A. 33, 65.

Georgia.— Seaboard Air Line R. Co. v. Randolph, 126 Ga. 238, 55 S. E. 47.

Illinois.— Chicago Great Western R. Co. v. Mitchell, 70 Ill. App. 188.

Kansas.— Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Groves, 56 Kan. 601, 11 Pac. 628.

New York.— Leonard v. New York Cent., etc., R. Co., 42 N. Y. Super. Ct. 225.

Pennsylvania.— Hanover R. Co. v. Coyle, 55 Pa. St. 396.

United States.— Clark v. Geer, 86 Fed. 447, 32 C. C. A. 295.

Canada.— Brewer v. Lake Erie, etc., R. Co., 2 Can. R. Cas. 257, 2 Ont. Wkly. Rep. 125.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 826.

But a railroad company using a private switch belonging to a manufacturing company, merely for the purpose of switching cars for the manufacturing company under its direction, will not be liable for an injury to an employee of the manufacturing company, which was not due to negligence on the part of the railroad company but to the fact that the place provided for him to work was rendered unsafe by the presence of the railroad company's engines in the proper exercise of its rights under the permission and control of the manufacturing company. Lake Erie, etc., R. Co. v. Gaughan, 26 Ind. App. 1, 58 N. E. 1072.

26. Chicago Great Western R. Co. v. Mitchell, 70 Ill. App. 188; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Posten, 59 Kan. 449, 53 Pac. 465; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Martin, 59 Kan. 437, 53 Pac. 461; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Groves, 56 Kan. 601, 11 Pac. 628; Clark v. Geer, 86 Fed. 447, 32 C. C. A. 295.

27. Smith v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 85 Mo. 418, 55 Am. Rep. 380; Burns v. Delaware, etc., R. Co., 116 N. Y. App. Div. 111, 101 N. Y. Suppl. 225; Atwood v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 72 Fed. 447.

But to relieve the company from liability the control of the other company over its trains and servants must at the time be full and absolute. Garven v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 100 Mo. App. 617, 75 S. W. 193.

Using track of union station company.—Where a railroad company in common with other railroad companies uses the tracks of a union station company, and all trains while on such tracks must be under the full management and control of the station company, the railroad company will not be liable for an injury done by one of its trains while its operation is so controlled. Burns v. Delaware, etc., R. Co., 116 N. Y. App. Div. 111, 101 N. Y. Suppl. 225.

28. Sprague v. Smith, 29 Vt. 421, 70 Am. Dec. 424.

29. Leonard v. New York Cent., etc., R.

b. Defects in Road-Bed, Tracks, or Cars. A railroad company which uses a defective road belonging to another will be liable for injuries occurring in its own use of the road due to its defective or dangerous condition;[30] and it has been held that such liability extends not only to passengers and employees but also to third persons rightfully on or near the track who may be injured by reason of its unsafe condition.[31] So also a railroad company which uses cars belonging to another will be liable for injuries due to their defective condition while using them for its own purposes.[32]

c. Failure to Fence and Injury to Animals. The authorities are conflicting as to whether a railroad company using the road of another is, irrespective of the question of negligence in the operation of its trains, liable under the statutes relating to the fencing of railroads, for injuries to animals occasioned by the unfenced condition of the road. In some cases it has been held that the question must be determined by the terms of the statute,[33] and that the company using the road of another will be liable where the statute in terms imposes the duty or liability upon such companies as well as those owning the road,[34] but not where such companies are not within the terms of the statute;[35] but on the contrary it has been held that irrespective of the terms of the statute the company using the road must on grounds of public policy be held subject to the statutory liability for assuming to use the road in an unfenced condition.[36]

d. Fires.[37] A railroad company using the road of another is liable for damages

Co., 42 N. Y. Super. Ct. 225; Cleveland, etc., R. Co. v. Schneider, 45 Ohio St. 678, 17 N. E. 321; Toledo, etc., Cent. R. Co. v. Hydell, 25 Ohio Cir. Ct. 579.

30. Illinois Terminal R. Co. v. Thompson, 210 Ill. 226, 71 N. E. 328 [affirming 112 Ill. App. 463]; Wisconsin Cent. R. Co. v. Ross, 142 Ill. 9, 31 N. E. 412, 34 Am. St. Rep. 49 [affirming 43 Ill. App. 454]; Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Kanouse, 39 Ill. 272, 89 Am. Dec. 307; Sibbald v. Grand Trunk R. Co., 19 Ont. 164 [affirmed in 18 Ont. App. 184 (affirmed in 20 Can. Sup. Ct. 259)].

Defective sewer.— Where a railroad company takes possession of a railroad built by another company and there is under the railroad a defective sewer, the company will be responsible for damages to property caused thereby after it takes possession. Coyle v. Pittsburg, etc., R. Co., 18 Pa. Super. Ct. 235.

31. Wabash, etc., R. Co. v. Peyton, 106 Ill. 534, 46 Am. Rep. 705. But see Collier v. Great Northern R. Co., 40 Wash. 639, 82 Pac. 935.

32. McCallion v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 74 Kan. 785, 88 Pac. 50; Jetter v. New York, etc., R. Co., 2 Abb. Dec. (N. Y.) 458, 2 Keyes 154; Atcheson v. Grand Trunk R. Co., 1 Ont. L. Rep. 168.

33. Edwards v. Buffalo, etc., R. Co., 8 N. Y. App. Div. 390, 40 N. Y. Suppl. 788.

34. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co. v. Thompson, 21 Ind. App. 355, 50 N. E. 828; Farley v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 72 Mo. 338.

35. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co. v. Bunnell, 61 Ind. 183; Edwards v. Buffalo, etc., R. Co., 8 N. Y. App. Div. 390, 40 N. Y. Suppl. 788; Parker v. Rensselaer, etc., R. Co., 16 Barb. (N. Y.) 315.

In Indiana, under the former statute of 1863, a company using the road of another was not liable for injuries to animals due to its unfenced condition, unless it was operating the road "in the corporate name" of the company owning it (Cincinnati, etc., R. Co. v. Norris, 61 Ind. 285; Cincinnati, etc., R. Co. v. Bunnell, 61 Ind. 183; Cincinnati, etc., R. Co. v. Paskins, 36 Ind. 380); but the rule is otherwise under Rev. St. (1881) §§ 4025, 4026, making any railroad company running trains over the road of another liable in the same manner and to the same extent as if it owned the road (Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co. v. Thompson, 21 Ind. App. 355, 50 N. E. 828).

In New York under the statute of 1892 requiring "every railroad corporation . . . or other person in possession of its road" to fence the same, a company having merely a right to run trains over the road of another under a traffic arrangement is not a person "in possession of its road" so as to be liable for injuries to animals due to its unfenced condition (Edwards v. Buffalo, etc., R. Co., 8 N. Y. App. Div. 390, 40 N. Y. Suppl. 788); and under the former statutes of 1850 and 1854, it was held that the duty of fencing was imposed upon the owner of the road and that another company using the road would not be liable (Parker v. Rensselaer, etc., R. Co., 16 Barb. 315; Shanchan v. New York, etc., R. Co., 10 Abb. Pr. 398), unless it was in effect the owner and operator of the road, as where it was in the exclusive use and control of the road, and the company owning it was merely a company for construction, having no rolling stock and no right under its charter to operate trains upon the road (Tracy v. Troy, etc., R. Co., 38 N. Y. 433, 98 Am. Dec. 54 [affirming 55 Barb. 529]).

36. Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Kanouse, 39 Ill. 272, 89 Am. Dec. 307. See also East St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Gerber, 82 Ill. 632; Toledo, etc., R. Co. v. Rumbold, 40 Ill. 143.

37. Liability of company owning road see supra, X, C, 5, d.

caused by fires due to the negligent operation or defective condition of its locomotives,[38] notwithstanding the fire was communicated directly to combustible material which the company owning the road had permitted to accumulate upon its right of way;[39] and such companies have also been held to be within the application of statutes imposing a liability without regard to negligence for fires communicated by locomotives.[40]

7. Connecting and Consolidated Roads — a. Connecting Roads.[41] Where different companies operate connecting lines of railroad the liability of each is ordinarily, in the absence of statute or agreement to the contrary, limited to its own line,[42] each being liable for the negligence of its own servants in the operation of its trains and not for that of the other,[43] and the fact that one company is a stock-holder in another connecting line does not render it liable for the negligence of the servants of the other company.[44] Where there is an arrangement between the connecting roads for the interchange of cars, it is the duty of each on transferring a car to the other to see that it is in a safe and suitable condition for the use for which it is intended,[45] which duty extends not only to the receiving company as such but to its employees who are to handle the car,[46] and such employees may recover from the company delivering the car for injuries due to its defective condition,[47] notwithstanding the company employing them was also negligent in regard to inspecting and receiving the car;[48] but if the receiving company, after the car should have been returned, fails to do so and uses it in its own busi-

38. Jacksonville, etc., R. Co. v. Peninsular Land, etc., Co., 27 Fla. 1, 157, 9 So. 661, 17 L. R. A. 33, 65; Slossen v. Burlington, etc., R. Co., 60 Iowa 214, 14 N. W. 244, (1881) 10 N. W. 860; Pierce v. Concord R. Co., 51 N. H. 590; Genung v. New York, etc., R. Co., 21 N. Y. Suppl. 97.

39. Slossen v. Burlington, etc., R. Co., 60 Iowa 214, 14 N. W. 244, (1881) 10 N. W. 860; Genung v. New York, etc., R. Co., 21 N. Y. Suppl. 97.

40. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Meilson, 118 Ill. App. 343 (holding that the statutory liability for fires caused by a failure to keep the right of way clear of combustible material applies to a company using as well as a company owning the road); Pierce v. Concord R. Co., 51 N. H. 590 (holding that a railroad company which operates the road of another under a contract for a term of years, which is equivalent to a lease, is the "proprietor" of the road within the application of a statute making "the proprietors of every railroad" liable without regard to negligence for damages done by fire communicated "from any locomotive or other engine on such road"); Bush v. Southern R. Co., 63 S. C. 96, 40 S. E. 1029 (holding that a railroad company operating its trains over the road of another is liable under a statute providing that "every railroad corporation shall be responsible in damages" for property "injured by fire communicated by its locomotive engines").

41. Liability as common carrier see Carriers, 6 Cyc. 478, 571, 584, 598.

42. Pennsylvania R. Co. v. Jones, 155 U. S. 333, 15 S. Ct. 136, 39 L. ed. 176. See also McCaffrey v. Georgia Southern R. Co., 69 Ga. 622.

43. Atchison, etc., R. Co. v. Cochran, 43 Kan. 225, 23 Pac. 151, 19 Am. St. Rep. 129, 7 L. R. A. 414; Pennsylvania R. Co. v. Jones, 155 U. S. 333, 15 S. Ct. 136, 39 L. ed. 176.

44. Mathews v. Atchison, etc., R. Co., 60 Kan. 11, 55 Pac. 282; Atchison, etc., R. Co. v. Cochran, 43 Kan. 225, 23 Pac. 151, 19 Am. St. Rep. 129, 7 L. R. A. 414.

45. Missouri, etc., R. Co. v. Merrill, 61 Kan. 671, 60 Pac. 819; Teal v. American Min. Co., 84 Minn. 320, 87 N. W. 837; Moon v. Northern Pac. R. Co., 46 Minn. 106, 48 N. W. 679, 24 Am. St. Rep. 194; Hoye v. Great Northern R. Co., 120 Fed. 712.

46. Moon v. Northern Pac. R. Co., 46 Minn. 106, 48 N. W. 679, 24 Am. St. Rep. 194.

47. Missouri, etc., R. Co. v. Merrill, 61 Kan. 671, 60 Pac. 819; Teal v. American Min. Co., 84 Minn. 320, 87 N. W. 837; Moon v. Northern Pac. R. Co., 46 Minn. 106, 48 N. W. 679, 24 Am. St. Rep. 194 [distinguishing Sawyer v. Minneapolis, etc., R. Co., 38 Minn. 103, 35 N. W. 671, 8 Am. St. Rep. 648]; Hoye v. Great Northern R. Co., 120 Fed. 712. But see Glynn v. Central R. Co., 175 Mass. 510, 56 N. E. 698, 78 Am. St. Rep. 507, holding that the liability of the company delivering a defective car for injuries to employees of the company receiving it ceases as soon as the latter company has inspected and assumed control over the car.

Where there are three connecting roads and a car in a defective condition is delivered by the first to the second, and then by the second to the third, the first and second are jointly liable for an injury to an employee of the third company, caused by such defect. Missouri, etc., R. Co. v. Merrill, 61 Kan. 671, 60 Pac. 819.

Liability of company employing servants injured see Master and Servant, 26 Cyc. 1086, 1110.

48. Teal v. American Min. Co., 84 Minn. 320, 87 N. W. 837; Moon v. Northern Pac. R. Co., 46 Minn. 106, 48 N. W. 679, 24 Am.

ness, the company owning it will not be liable for injuries to the servants of the other company due to the defects in the car.[49] Where a car is to be delivered to a consignee, to be unloaded by his servants, both the companies loading and delivering the car must see that it is in a safe condition for unloading, but an intermediate connecting carrier is only required to see that it is safe for the purposes of transportation, and is not liable for injuries to the consignee's servants due to defects in the car;[50] and a railroad company which merely delivers cars of another company to a consignee is not liable after delivery for injuries to the servants of the consignee who are engaged in coupling the cars upon the private tracks of the latter, where it had no knowledge of the defect and was not responsible for its existence.[51]

b. Consolidated Roads — (i) In General.[52] It is ordinarily held that where two railroad companies are legally consolidated the new company succeeds to all the rights and liabilities of each of the constituent companies, and is liable for the torts of such companies committed prior to the consolidation,[53] and this notwithstanding the statute authorizing the consolidation preserves the separate identity of the constituent companies with respect to their existing liabilities;[54] and such liability may be enforced directly by an action at law against the new company.[55] So also the new company will be liable for injuries occurring after the consolidation due to the negligence or defective condition of the road-bed, bridges, or culverts constructed by one of the constituent companies,[56] or to the St. Rep. 194; Hoye v. Great Northern R. Co., 120 Fed. 712.

If both companies were negligent, the one in delivering and the other in receiving a defective car, they are jointly liable. Hoye v. Great Northern R. Co., 120 Fed. 712.

49. Sawyer v. Minneapolis, etc., R. Co., 38 Minn. 103, 35 N. W. 671, 8 Am. St. Rep. 648.

50. Sykes v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 178 Mo. 693, 77 S. W. 723 [affirming 88 Mo. App. 193].

51. Atchison, etc., R. Co. v. Bump, 60 Ill. App. 444.

52. Effect of consolidation in general see supra, VII, E, 6; and, generally, Corporations, 10 Cyc. 302.

53. Alabama.— Warren v. Mobile, etc., R. Co., 49 Ala. 582.

Georgia.— Montgomery, etc., R. Co. v. Boring, 51 Ga. 582.

Indiana.—Cleveland, etc., R. Co. v. Prewitt, 134 Ind. 557, 33 N. E. 367; Indianapolis, etc., R. Co. v. Jones, 29 Ind. 465, 95 Am. Dec. 654.

Kansas.— Berry v. Kansas City, etc., R. Co., 52 Kan. 759, 774, 34 Pac. 805, 36 Pac. 724, 39 Am. St. Rep. 371, 381 [distinguishing Whipple v. Union Pac. R. Co., 28 Kan. 474].

Maryland.—State v. Baltimore, etc., R. Co., 77 Md. 489, 26 Atl. 865.

Michigan.— Batterson v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 53 Mich. 125, 18 N. W. 584.

Virginia.— Langhorne v. Richmond R. Co., 91 Va. 369, 22 S. E. 159, (1894) 19 S. E. 122.

Canada.— Brewer v. Lake Erie, etc., R. Co., 2 Can. R. Cas. 257, 2 Ont. Wkly. Rep. 125.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 833.

Where the articles of incorporation expressly provide that the new company does not assume the liabilities of its constituent companies but that their separate existence shall be preserved for this purpose and the property contributed by each be subject to such liabilities, the consolidated company is not directly liable for the previous torts of the constituent companies, but plaintiff must first reduce his claim to judgment against the original company after which it might be enforced against the property of that company in the hands of the new company. Whipple v. Union Pac. R. Co., 28 Kan. 474.

A lease of a railroad for a period of ninety-nine years, although in some respects accomplishing the same purpose and results as a consolidation, is not such in legal effect, and does not render the lessee liable for injuries caused by the negligence of the lessor. Missouri Pac. R. Co. v. Owens, 1 Tex. App. Civ. Cas. § 384.

54. Warren v. Mobile, etc., R. Co., 49 Ala. 582; Pickett v. Carolina Div. Southern R. Co., 69 S. C. 445, 48 S. E. 466.

The original company may be sued where the statute provides that "all rights of creditors . . . shall be preserved and unimpaired; and the respective corporations may be deemed to continue in existence to preserve the same," the term "creditor" being sufficiently broad to include a claim for a tort (Stewart v. Walterboro, etc., R. Co., 64 S. C. 92, 41 S. E. 827); but this does not affect the liability of the new corporation under the other provisions of the statute (Pickett v. Carolina Div. Southern R. Co., 69 S. C. 445, 48 S. E. 466. But see Joseph v. Southern R. Co., 127 Fed. 606).

55. Langhorne v. Richmond R. Co., 91 Va. 369, 22 S. E. 159, (1894) 19 S. E. 122.

56. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Moffitt, 75 Ill. 524; Penley v. Maine Cent. R. Co., 92 Me. 59, 42 Atl. 233.

continuance of a nuisance originally created by one of the constituent companies.[57] A responsibility for the liabilities of the constituent companies is frequently imposed by the statutes authorizing the consolidation,[58] or is expressly assumed by the articles of consolidation,[59] but exists independently of any express provision to this effect as a legal result of the consolidation,[60] and the constituent companies cannot by any contract between themselves affect the rights of persons who have been injured by their torts.[61] Conversely, where a railroad company has made an ineffectual attempt to consolidate with another, it is liable for an injury due to the negligence of the persons operating the road by virtue of the attempted consolidation.[62]

(II) Effect on Actions Pending.[63] In some jurisdictions it is held that the consolidation of two or more railroad companies works such a dissolution of the constituent companies as to abate any actions pending against them at the time of the consolidation,[64] but in others it is held that such actions do not abate by the consolidation,[65] and that the new corporation may be substituted as a defendant after verdict and judgment rendered against it,[66] or that the action may proceed to judgment as brought without change of parties and the judgment be enforced against the new company.[67]

8. Mortgagees and Trustees in Possession. In the absence of statute a railroad company cannot, by the voluntary surrender of its road to a mortgagee or trustee of its own selection, under a mortgage deed of trust for the benefit of creditors or bondholders, escape liability for negligence in the operation of the road.[68] In such case the trustee must be deemed to be the agent of the company,[69] and the action may be maintained against the railroad company,[70] or against the trustee as such if the statute so provides,[71] or the trustee may be held personally liable in the same manner as a lessee or other person in possession

57. Jones v. Seaboard Air Line R. Co., 67 S. C. 181, 45 S. E. 188.

58. Penley v. Maine Cent. R. Co., 92 Me. 59, 42 Atl. 233; Batterson v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 53 Mich. 125, 18 N. W. 584; Pickett v. Carolina Div. Southern R. Co., 69 S. C. 445, 48 S. E. 466.

59. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Marker, 41 Ark. 542; Langborne v. Richmond R. Co., 91 Va. 369, 22 S. E. 159, (1894) 19 S. E. 122.

60. Cleveland, etc., R. Co. v. Prewitt, 134 Ind. 557, 33 N. E. 367; Indianapolis, etc., R. Co. v. Jones, 29 Ind. 465, 95 Am. Dec. 654; Berry v. Kansas City, etc., R. Co., 52 Kan. 759, 774, 34 Pac. 805, 36 Pac. 724, 39 Am. St. Rep. 371, 381; State v. Baltimore, etc., R. Co., 77 Md. 489, 26 Atl. 865.

61. State v. Baltimore, etc., R. Co., 77 Md. 489, 26 Atl. 865.

62. Latham v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 38 Hun (N. Y.) 265.

63. See also supra, VII, E, 6, i.

64. See Corporations, 10 Cyc. 310, 311.

65. Baltimore, etc., R. Co. v. Musselman, 2 Grant (Pa.) 348; East Tennessee, etc., R. Co. v. Evans, 6 Heisk. (Tenn.) 607.

In Illinois the statute expressly provides that a consolidation shall not abate pending actions. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Ashling, 160 Ill. 373, 43 N. E. 373 [affirming 56 Ill. App. 327].

66. Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Summers, 131 Ind. 241, 30 N. E. 873.

67. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Ashling, 160 Ill. 373, 43 N. E. 373 [affirming 56 Ill. App. 327].

68. Jones v. Pennsylvania R. Co., 19 D. C. 178; Wisconsin Cent. R. Co. v. Ross, 142 Ill. 9, 31 N. E. 412, 34 Am. St. Rep. 49 [affirming 43 Ill. App. 454]; Acker v. Alexandria, etc., R. Co., 84 Va. 648, 5 S. E. 688; Naglee v. Alexandria, etc., R. Co., 83 Va. 707, 3 S. E. 369, 5 Am. St. Rep. 308; Pennsylvania R. Co. v. Jones, 155 U. S. 333, 15 S. Ct. 136, 39 L. ed. 176. But see State v. Consolidated European, etc., R. Co., 67 Me. 479.

The company would not be liable if the mortgage were made pursuant to legislative authority and the possession of the trustee was adverse to the railroad company and the result of proceedings in invitum. See Naglee v. Alexandria, etc., R. Co., 83 Va. 707, 3 S. E. 369, 5 Am. St. Rep. 308.

In Connecticut it was expressly provided by Rev. St. (1866) that the property of the road should be responsible while in the hands of the trustees, the liability to be enforced by action against the trustees. Lamphear v. Buckingham, 33 Conn. 237.

69. Jones v. Pennsylvania R. Co., 19 D. C. 178; Wisconsin Cent. R. Co. v. Ross, 142 Ill. 9, 31 N. E. 412, 34 Am. St. Rep. 49 [affirming 43 Ill. App. 454]; Grand Tower Mfg., etc., Co. v. Ullman, 89 Ill. 244.

70. Wisconsin Cent. R. Co. v. Ross, 142 Ill. 9, 31 N. E. 412, 34 Am. St. Rep. 49 [affirming 43 Ill. App. 454]; Grand Tower Mfg., etc., Co. v. Ullman, 89 Ill. 244; Naglee v. Alexandria, etc., R. Co., 83 Va. 707, 3 S. E. 369, 5 Am. St. Rep. 308.

71. Lamphear v. Buckingham, 33 Conn. 237.

and control and exercising for the time being the franchises of the company.[72] An action may also be maintained against the trustees of a railroad company upon the statutory liabilities for injury to animals due to the unfenced condition of the road,[73] or for damages by fires communicated by locomotives,[74] unless the liability of the trustee is expressly defined and limited by statute.[75]

9. Effect of Operation of Road by Receiver — a. In General.[76] The valid appointment of a receiver for a railroad company ordinarily has the effect of placing the property of the company and the actual management and operation of the road in the possession and under the control of the receiver to the entire exclusion of the railroad company,[77] but such appointment does not affect the corporate existence of the company,[78] or its right to exercise any of its corporate powers which it can exercise without interfering with the rights of the receiver under the terms of the order appointing him,[79] or its duty to perform any acts required of it by law which can be performed without such interference,[80] or its liability to be sued upon any cause of action accruing prior to the appointment of the receiver,[81] or subsequently thereto if existing against the company directly and not by reason of any acts of the receiver or his servants in the operation of the road.[82]

b. Liability of Receiver — (i) In General. While the rule varies in different jurisdictions as to the right to sue a receiver and the manner of enforcing liabilities incurred by him in his official capacity,[83] it is well settled that a receiver of a railroad company who is exercising the franchises of such company and operating its road is in his official capacity subject to the same rules of liability as the company would be if operating the road by virtue of the same franchises,[84] and that

72. Sprague v. Smith, 29 Vt. 421, 70 Am. Dec. 424.

73. Union Trust Co. v. Kendall, 20 Kan. 515 (holding that a corporation, although not a railroad corporation, which is acting as trustee for the bondholders of a railroad company, is liable under the statute providing that "every railway company or corporation in this state, and every assignee and lessee of such company or corporation, shall be liable"); Farrell v. Union Trust Co., 77 Mo. 475 (holding that a corporation, although not a railroad corporation, acting as trustee of a railroad company, is liable under the statute, although in terms applying to "railroad corporations running or operating any railroad in this State").

74. Daniels v. Hart, 118 Mass. 543.

75. Stratton v. European, etc., R. Co., 76 Me. 269; Stratton v. European, etc., R. Co., 74 Me. 422.

76. Effect as to liability for penalties see supra, X, B, 7, d.

Effect as to criminal liability see supra, X, B, 8, c.

Liability of purchaser of road in hands of receivers see supra, X, C, 3, c, (II).

Liability for injuries to employees see Master and Servant, 26 Cyc. 1088, 1370.

Leave of court to sue receivers see Receivers.

Priorities of claims see Receivers.

77. Memphis, etc., R. Co. v. Stringfellow, 44 Ark. 322, 51 Am. Rep. 598; Ohio, etc., R. Co. v. Davis, 23 Ind. 553, 85 Am. Dec. 477; Memphis, etc., R. Co. v. Hoechner, 67 Fed. 456, 14 C. C. A. 469.

78. Ohio, etc., R. Co. v. Russell, 115 Ill. 52, 3 N. E. 561; Wyatt v. Ohio, etc., R. Co., 10 Ill. App. 289; Heath v. Missouri, etc., R. Co., 83 Mo. 617; Decker v. Gardner, 124 N. Y. 334, 26 N. E. 814, 11 L. R. A. 480 [reversing 11 N. Y. Suppl. 388].

79. Decker v. Gardner, 124 N. Y. 334, 26 N. E. 814, 11 L. R. A. 480 [reversing 11 N. Y. Suppl. 388].

80. Ohio, etc., R. Co. v. Russell, 115 Ill. 52, 3 N. E. 561.

81. Decker v. Gardner, 124 N. Y. 334, 26 N. E. 814, 11 L. R. A. 480 [reversing 11 N. Y. Suppl. 388]. See also Ohio, etc., R. Co. v. Nickless, 71 Ind. 271; Pennsylvania Finance Co. v. Charleston, etc., R. Co., 46 Fed. 508.

82. Ohio, etc., R. Co. v. Russell, 115 Ill. 52, 3 N. E. 561; Kansas Pac. R. Co. v. Wood, 24 Kan. 619.

83. See, generally, Receivers.

84. Illinois.— McNulta v. Lockridge, 137 Ill. 270, 27 N. E. 452, 31 Am. St. Rep. 362; Robinson v. Kirkwood, 91 Ill. App. 54.

Kansas.— Rouse v. Redinger, 1 Kan. App. 355, 41 Pac. 433.

New Jersey.— Little v. Dusenberry, 46 N. J. L. 614, 50 Am. Rep. 445; Klein v. Jewett, 26 N. J. Eq. 474 [affirmed in 27 N. J. Eq. 550].

New York.— Camp v. Barney, 4 Hun 373, 6 Thomps. & C. 622; Graham v. Chapman, 11 N. Y. Suppl. 318.

Ohio.— Murphy v. Holbrook, 20 Ohio St. 137, 5 Am. Rep. 633; Potter v. Bunnell, 20 Ohio St. 150.

South Carolina.— Ex p. Brown, 15 S. C. 518.

Texas.— International, etc., R. Co. v. Bender, 87 Tex. 99, 26 S. W. 1047.

Vermont.— Newell v. Smith, 49 Vt. 255.

he can claim no exemption from liability on the ground that he is a public officer or officer of the court,[85] or the agent or trustee of persons not directly liable.[86] The receiver as such is also a common carrier,[87] and liable for injury to passengers,[88] or loss or delay of goods in transit,[89] and generally for the negligence of his servants in the operation of the road;[90] but a receiver of a railroad company which furnishes cars to another company under a traffic arrangement whereby the latter company is to operate them is not liable for injuries resulting from such operation upon the tracks of the latter company.[91] The liability of the receiver is not personal but merely in his official capacity,[92] so that an action against the receiver as such is in effect a proceeding in rem, affecting only the fund or property held by him by virtue of his office,[93] from which, however, it follows that where one receiver resigns and another is appointed by the court, an action may be maintained against the new receiver for a tort of the servants of his predecessor in the same receivership.[94]

(II) FENCING AND INJURY TO ANIMALS. Receivers are in their official capacity subject to the statutory liability for injuries to animals due to the road not being fenced,[95] although the statute does not in terms apply to receivers.[96]

(III) WRONGFUL DEATH.[97] Since the right of action for wrongful death is purely statutory, the right to maintain such action against the receiver of a railroad must be determined by the provisions of the statute.[98] Under some of the statutes an action may be maintained against a receiver for injuries resulting in death occurring during the receivership,[99] but others have been held not to include receivers;[1] and where the receiver is not primarily liable no action can

United States.— In re Pope, 30 Fed. 169; Winbourn's Case, 30 Fed. 167.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 838.

Fires.—A receiver as such is liable for damages to property by fire caused by negligence in the operation of the road during the receivership (Peoples v. Yoakum, 7 Tex. Civ. App. 85, 25 S. W. 1001); and is also subject to the statutory liability imposed upon "every railroad corporation" for injuries by fire communicated by locomotives, although the statute does not in terms apply to receivers (Wall v. Platt, 169 Mass. 398, 48 N. E. 270).

Cattle-guards and injuries to crops.—A receiver is liable for injury to crops due to a failure to maintain cattle-guards as required by law where the road passes through inclosed lands. Memphis, etc., R. Co. v. Glover, 78 Miss. 467, 29 So. 89.

85. Murphy v. Holbrook, 20 Ohio St. 137, 5 Am. Rep. 633; Blumenthal v. Brainerd, 38 Vt. 402, 91 Am. Dec. 350.

86. Murphy v. Holbrook, 20 Ohio St. 137, 5 Am. Rep. 633.

87. Paige v. Smith, 99 Mass. 395; Little v. Dusenberry, 46 N. J. L. 614, 50 Am. Rep. 445; Ex p. Brown, 15 S. C. 518; Newell v. Smith, 49 Vt. 255; Blumenthal v. Brainerd, 38 Vt. 402, 91 Am. Dec. 350.

88. Little v. Dusenberry, 46 N. J. L. 614, 50 Am. Rep. 445; Camp v. Barney, 4 Hun (N. Y.) 373, 6 Thomps. & C. 622; Winbourn's Case, 30 Fed. 167.

89. Paige v. Smith, 99 Mass. 395; Newell v. Smith, 49 Vt. 255.

90. McNulta v. Lockridge, 137 Ill. 270, 27 N. E. 452, 31 Am. St. Rep. 362; Camp v. Barney, 4 Hun (N. Y.) 373, 6 Thomps. & C. 622.

91. Thompson v. Dotterer, 105 La. 37, 29 So. 483.

92. See infra, X, C, 9, b, (V).

93. McNulta v. Lockridge, 137 Ill. 270, 27 N. E. 452, 31 Am. St. Rep. 362; Davis v. Duncan, 19 Fed. 477.

94. McNulta v. Lockridge, 137 Ill. 270, 27 N. E. 452, 11 Am. St. Rep. 362.

95. Robinson v. Kirkwood, 91 Ill. App. 54; Brockert v. Central Iowa R. Co., 82 Iowa 369, 47 N. W. 1026; Rouse v. Redinger, 1 Kan. App. 355, 41 Pac. 433; International, etc., R. Co. v. Pender, 87 Tex. 99, 26 S. W. 1047.

96. Rouse v. Redinger, 1 Kan. App. 355, 41 Pac. 433.

97. See, generally, DEATH, 13 Cyc. 310, 337.

98. Yoakum v. Selph, 83 Tex. 607, 19 S. W. 145; Turner v. Cross, 83 Tex. 218, 18 S. W. 578, 15 L. R. A. 262.

99. Little v. Dusenberry, 46 N. J. L. 614, 50 Am. Rep. 445; Murphy v. Holbrook, 20 Ohio St. 137, 5 Am. Rep. 633.

1. Yoakum v. Selph, 83 Tex. 607, 19 S. W. 145; Turner v. Cross, 83 Tex. 218, 18 S. W. 578, 15 L. R. A. 262; Dillingham v. Blake, (Tex. Civ. App. 1894) 32 S. W. 77; Brown v. Record, (Tex. Civ. App. 1893) 23 S. W. 704; Campbell v. Davis, (Tex. Civ. App. 1893) 22 S. W. 244; Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Thedens, (Tex. Civ. App. 1892) 21 S. W. 132; Bonner v. Thomas, (Tex. Civ. App. 1892) 20 S. W. 722; Houston, etc., R. Co. v. Roberts, (Tex. 1892) 19 S. W. 512; Burke v. Dillingham, 60 Fed. 729, 9 C. C. A. 255; Allen v. Dillingham, 60 Fed. 176, 8 C. C. A. 544.

In Texas it was held that an action for wrongful death could not be maintained be maintained against the railroad company for such injuries occurring during the receivership, although the road is returned to the company with betterments.[2]

(IV) PRECEDENT ACTS OR OMISSIONS OF COMPANY.[3] An action for injury sustained before the appointment of a receiver cannot be maintained against the receiver but must be brought against the railroad company,[4] and if instituted against the company it is error to substitute the receiver after his appointment as defendant;[5] but a receiver is liable for injuries occurring after his appointment from a previously existing defective condition of the track or road-bed,[6] and it is no defense to such action that he had not been in possession for a sufficient length of time to repair the defect.[7]

(V) PERSONAL LIABILITY OF RECEIVER. A receiver while acting in his official capacity is not personally liable for the torts of his servants,[8] but only where he himself commits the wrong or injury complained of,[9] or where in respect to such injury the receiver was not acting in his official capacity under the control of the court, but as a natural person,[10] and in an action against him where he is liable only as receiver, the judgment should not be entered against him personally but in his official capacity.[11] If a receiver after confirmation of a sale of the property in his hands retains possession thereof, not as an officer of the court but in his individual capacity, he is personally liable for any injuries occurring in the operation of the road during such period and prior to his delivery of the property to the purchaser.[12]

(VI) TERMINATION OF LIABILITY. The liability of a receiver as such terminates upon his final discharge by the court,[13] and thereafter no action can against the receiver of a railroad under the statute giving such right of action against the "proprietor, owner, charterer, or hirer" of any railroad (Turner v. Cross, 83 Tex. 218, 18 S. W. 578, 15 L. R. A. 262); but the law has been since so amended as to confer the right of action (see Bonner v. Thomas, (Tex. Civ. App. 1892) 20 S. W. 722).

2. See infra, X, C, 9, c, (II).

3. Liability of railroad company see infra, X, C, 9, c.

4. Decker v. Gardner, 124 N. Y. 334, 26 N. E. 814, 11 L. R. A. 480 [reversing 11 N. Y. Suppl. 388, and distinguishing Pickersgill v. Myers, 99 Pa. St. 702]; Hopkins v. Connel, 2 Tenn. Ch. 323; Pennsylvania Finance Co. v. Charleston, etc., R. Co., 46 Fed. 508; In re Dexterville Mfg., etc., Co., 4 Fed. 873. But see Combs v. Smith, 78 Mo. 32 (holding that an action may be maintained against a receiver for a tort of the company in constructing its road upon plaintiff's land without proper condemnation proceedings or making him compensation therefor); Grant v. Omaha, etc., R. Co., 94 Mo. App. 312, 68 S. W. 91 (holding that an action may, with the permission of the court, be maintained against the receiver of a railroad company for damages caused by fire escaping from its right of way, although the cause of action accrued before the receiver was appointed).

5. Decker v. Gardner, 124 N. Y. 334, 26 N. E. 814, 11 L. R. A. 480 [reversing 11 N. Y. Suppl. 388].

6. Bonner v. Mayfield, 82 Tex. 234, 18 S. W. 305; Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Geiger, 79 Tex. 13, 15 S. W. 214.

7. Bonner v. Mayfield, 82 Tex. 234, 18 S. W. 305.

8. McNulta v. Lockridge, 137 Ill. 270, 27 N. E. 452, 21 Am. St. Rep. 362; McNulta v. Ensch, 134 Ill. 46, 24 N. E. 631; Cardot v. Barney, 63 N. Y. 281, 20 Am. Rep. 533; Camp v. Barney, 4 Hun (N. Y.) 373, 6 Thomps. & C. 622; Hopkins v. Connel, 2 Tenn. Ch. 323; Davis v. Duncan, 19 Fed. 477.

9. See Davis v. Duncan, 19 Fed. 477.

Misfeasance and nonfeasance.—A receiver is not personally liable for a mere nonfeasance, such as negligence on the part of his servants in the operation of a train, but is liable for a misfeasance or positive wrong; and a complaint alleging an injury due to a defect in the machinery and equipment of the train, and that the train was being operated with knowledge on the part of the receiver of such defect at the time of the injury states a good cause of action against the receiver. Erwin v. Davenport, 9 Heisk. (Tenn.) 44.

10. Kain v. Smith, 80 N. Y. 458 [reversing 11 Hun 552, and distinguishing Cardot v. Barney, 63 N. Y. 281, 20 Am. Rep. 533], holding that where the receiver of a railroad appointed in one state acquires by contract the operation and control of a connecting road in another state, over which the court has no control, and operates the same not by the direction of any court but merely under his contract as an individual, he is personally liable for the manner in which it is operated.

11. McNulta v. Ensch, 134 Ill. 46, 24 N. E. 631; Robinson v. Kirkwood, 91 Ill. App. 54; Camp v. Barney, 4 Hun (N. Y.) 373, 6 Thomps. & C. 622.

12. Larsen v. U. S. Mortgage, etc., Co., 104 N. Y. App. Div. 76, 93 N. Y. Suppl. 610.

13. Archambeau v. Platt, 173 Mass. 249, 53 N. E. 816; Ryan v. Hayes, 62 Tex. 42.

be maintained against him as receiver,[14] and if discharged after the institution of an action, no judgment can be rendered against him;[15] so as to the receiver such action should abate,[16] unless provision as to pending actions is made by statute or the order of discharge;[17] but until finally discharged, the receiver as such is liable and may be sued,[18] notwithstanding he has turned over the possession of the property to the company or persons entitled thereto.[19]

c. Liability of Railroad Company — (i) In General. Where a railroad has been duly placed by a court of competent jurisdiction in the hands of a receiver who is in full possession and control of the road, the railroad company is not liable for the acts of the receiver or his servants in the operation of the road.[20] The possession of the receiver is not that of the company,[21] but of the court,[22] nor is he the agent or servant of the company or his servants its servants,[23] and the 14. Archambeau v. Platt, 173 Mass. 249, 53 N. E. 816; Davis v. Duncan, 19 Fed. 477.

15. McGehee v. Willis, 134 Ala. 281, 32 So. 301; Averill v. McCook, 86 Mo. App. 346; International, etc., R. Co. v. Ormond, 62 Tex. 274; Ryan v. Hays, 62 Tex. 42; Missouri, etc., R. Co. v. Wylie, (Tex. Civ. App. 1896) 33 S. W. 771; Fordyce v. Beecher, 2 Tex. Civ. App. 24, 21 S. W. 181.

In an action against the receiver alone a plea setting up that since the institution of the suit defendant has been fully and finally discharged by the court appointing him and has turned over all property which he had held as receiver presents a good defense to any further prosecution of the action. McGhee v. Willis, 134 Ala. 281, 32 So. 301.

16. Averill v. McCook, 86 Mo. App. 346.

17. Davis v. Duncan, 19 Fed. 477, holding, however, that a reservation as to pending actions in the order discharging the receiver providing that they may be prosecuted to conclusion and any judgment rendered be a charge upon the property and assets turned over, in the same manner as if he had not been discharged, applies only to pending actions and confers no right to institute a new action against the receiver after his discharge for an injury caused by the negligence of his servants during the receivership.

State statutes and federal receivers.—A state statute providing that the discharge of a receiver shall not abate any action pending against him as receiver does not apply to or control the discharge by a federal court of a receiver appointed by it. Fordyce v. Du Bose, 87 Tex. 78, 26 S. W. 1050; Fordyce v. Beecher, 2 Tex. Civ. App. 29, 21 S. W. 179.

18. Houston, etc., R. Co. v. Strycharski, (Tex. Civ. App. 1896) 35 S. W. 851; Fordyce v. Chance, 2 Tex. Civ. App. 24, 21 S. W. 181.

19. Houston, etc., R. Co. v. Strycharski, (Tex. Civ. App. 1896) 35 S. W. 851; Fordyce v. Chancey, 2 Tex. Civ. App. 24, 21 S. W. 181.

20. Arkansas.— Memphis, etc., R. Co. v. Stringfellow, 44 Ark. 322, 51 Am. Rep. 598.

Illinois.— Ohio, etc., R. Co. v. Anderson, 10 Ill. App. 313.

Indiana.— Godfrey v. Ohio, etc., R. Co., 116 Ind. 30, 18 N. E. 61; Bell v. Indianapolis, etc., R. Co., 53 Ind. 57; Ohio, etc., R. Co. v. Davis, 23 Ind. 553, 85 Am. Dec. 477.

Kansas.— St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Bricker, 65 Kan. 321, 69 Pac. 328; Union Pac. R. Co. v. Smith, 59 Kan. 80, 52 Pac. 102.

Kentucky.— Louisville Southern R. Co. v. Tucker, 105 Ky. 492, 49 S. W. 314, 20 Ky. L. Rep. 1303.

Missouri.—Turner v. Hannibal, etc., R. Co., 74 Mo. 602; Stevens v. Atchison, etc., R. Co., 87 Mo. App. 26.

New York.— Metz v. Buffalo, etc., R. Co., 58 N. Y. 61, 17 Am. Rep. 201.

Pennsylvania.— Howard v. Philadelphia, etc., R. Co., 6 Pa. Co. Ct. 589.

Texas.— Hicks v. International, etc., R. Co., 62 Tex. 38; Dillingham v. Anello, (Civ. App. 1895) 29 S. W. 1103; Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Bledsoe, 2 Tex. Civ. App. 88, 20 S. W. 1135.

United States.— Gableman v. Peoria, etc., R. Co., 82 Fed. 790; Chamberlain v. New York, etc., R. Co., 71 Fed. 636; Memphis, etc., R. Co. v. Hoechner, 67 Fed. 456, 14 C. C. A. 469; Davis v. Duncan, 19 Fed. 477.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 848.

In an action brought jointly against a railroad company in the hands of a receiver and the receiver, where it is determined that the receiver was in exclusive possession, the action may be dismissed as to the company or judgment against it set aside without affecting the right to recover against the receiver (St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Bricker, 65 Kan. 321, 69 Pac. 328); or if there is a verdict and judgment against both, it is not necessary that there be a reversal as to both defendants, but the judgment may be reversed as to the company and allowed to stand as to the receiver (Union Pac. R. Co. v. Smith, 59 Kan. 80, 52 Pac. 102; Louisville Southern R. Co. v. Tucker, 105 Ky. 492, 49 S. W. 314, 20 Ky. L. Rep. 1303).

21. Memphis, etc., R. Co. v. Stringfellow, 44 Ark. 322, 51 Am. Rep. 598; Ohio, etc., R. Co. v. Anderson, 10 Ill. App. 313; Ohio, etc., R. Co. v. Davis, 23 Ind. 553, 85 Am. Dec. 477.

22. Ohio, etc., R. Co. v. Davis, 23 Ind. 553, 85 Am. Dec. 477; St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Bricker, 65 Kan. 321, 69 Pac. 328; Memphis, etc., R. Co. v. Hoechner, 67 Fed. 456, 14 C. C. A. 469.

23. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Bricker, 65 Kan. 321, 69 Pac. 328; Metz v. Buffalo, etc., R. Co., 58 N. Y. 61, 17 Am. Rep. 201; Memphis, etc., R. Co. v. Hoechner, 67 Fed. 456, 14 C. C. A. 469.

company having no control or right of control over them cannot be held liable for their acts.[24] It cannot, however, properly be stated without qualification that a railroad company is not liable for the acts of a receiver of its road under any circumstances,[25] for the company will be liable if the receiver is not in exclusive possession and control but jointly with the company,[26] or where the company is permitted to retain the actual control and management of the road, and the functions of the receiver are restricted to the receipt of the net earnings,[27] or if the receiver was appointed at the instance of the railroad company for the purpose of putting its property temporarily beyond the reach of creditors, and enabling it to tide over financial difficulties;[28] but the fact that a railroad company acquiesces in the action of a court of another state in the appointment of receivers for its lessee and permits them to operate its road does not deprive it of the right to show that at the time of the injury complained of its road was in the exclusive possession and control of the same receivers under an appointment by a court of competent jurisdiction in its own state in an action against it.[29] An action may be maintained against a railroad company for an injury sustained prior to the appointment of a receiver, although at the time the suit is brought the road is in the hands of the receiver.[30]

(II) On Return of Road to Company Without Sale. The fact that a railroad in the hands of a receiver is by order of court returned without sale to the company owning it, does not ipso facto make the company liable for claims against the receiver,[31] unless it is so provided by statute;[32] but if the road is by order of court returned to the company without sale and the receiver has invested net earnings of the road in permanent improvements, of which the company receives the benefit, it is subject to any liabilities incurred by the receiver which would have been enforceable against him and payable out of the funds so diverted,[33]

24. Arkansas.— Memphis, etc., R. Co. v. Stringfellow, 44 Ark. 322, 51 Am. Rep. 598.
Illinois.— Ohio, etc., R. Co. v. Anderson, 10 Ill. App. 313.
Indiana.— Ohio, etc., R. Co. v. Davis, 23 Ind. 553, 85 Am. Dec. 477.
New York.— Metz v. Buffalo, etc., R. Co., 58 N. Y. 61, 17 Am. Rep. 201.
United States.— Memphis, etc., R. Co. v. Hoechner, 67 Fed. 456, 14 C. C. A. 469.
See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 848.

25. Stewart v. Baltimore, etc., R. Co., 11 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 232, 8 Ohio N. P. 179.

26. Washington, etc., R. Co. v. Brown, 17 Wall. (U. S.) 445, 21 L. ed. 675.

27. Pennsylvania R. Co. v. Jones, 155 U. S. 333, 15 S. Ct. 136, 39 L. ed. 176 [affirming on this point 19 D. C. 178].

28. Stewart v. Baltimore, etc., R. Co., 11 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 232, 8 Ohio N. P. 179.

29. Trinity, etc., R. Co. v. Brown, (Tex. Civ. App. 1898) 46 S. W. 926.

30. Ohio, etc., R. Co. v. Nickless, 71 Ind. 271.

31. Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Huffman, 83 Tex. 286, 18 S. W. 741.

32. International, etc., R. Co. v. Cook, (Tex. Civ. App. 1895) 33 S. W. 888; Yoakum v. Kroeger, (Tex. Civ. App. 1894) 27 S. W. 953.
In Texas it is provided by the statute of 1899 that the company upon return of its property by a receiver without sale shall be responsible for all debts and liabilities of the receivership without reference to any question of investment of earnings in betterments (Texas Pac. R. Co. v. Johnson, 76 Tex. 421, 13 S. W. 463, 18 Am. St. Rep. 60; Yoakum v. Kroeger, (Civ. App. 1894) 27 S. W. 953); and the statute has been held to be constitutional (Missouri, etc., R. Co. v. Chilton, 7 Tex. Civ. App. 183, 27 S. W. 272).

33. Mobile, etc., R. Co. v. Davis, 62 Miss. 271; Stewart v. Baltimore, etc., R. Co., 11 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 232, 8 Ohio N. P. 179; Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Bloom, 85 Tex. 279, 20 S. W. 133; Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Comstock, 83 Tex. 537, 18 S. W. 946; Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Brick, 83 Tex. 526, 18 S. W. 947, 29 Am. St. Rep. 675; Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Bailey, 83 Tex. 19, 18 S. W. 481; Texas Pac. R. Co. v. White, 82 Tex. 543, 18 S. W. 478; Boggs v. Brown, 82 Tex. 41, 17 S. W. 830; Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Geiger, 79 Tex. 13, 15 S. W. 214; Texas Pac. R. Co. v. Johnson, 76 Tex. 421, 13 S. W. 463, 18 Am. St. Rep. 60; Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Gaal, 14 Tex. Civ. App. 459, 37 S. W. 462; Brown v. Rosedale St. R. Co., (Tex. App. 1890) 15 S. W. 120; Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Bloom, 60 Fed. 979, 9 C. C. A. 300.
Reason for rule.— The rule as stated in the text is based upon the equitable principle that the company has received the benefit of a fund which was primarily liable for the damages occasioned by the acts of the receiver (Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Huffman, 83 Tex. 286, 18 S. W. 741; Texas Pac. R. Co. v. Johnson, 76 Tex. 421, 13 S. W. 463, 18 Am. St. Rep. 60); and is an illustration of the principle of the Roman law known as universitas juris, or universal succession (Stewart v. Baltimore, etc., R. Co., 11 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 232, 8 Ohio N. P. 179).

provided no rights of third parties have intervened,[34] and the court in such cases has no power to make any order upon returning the property limiting the liability of the company to claims established by intervention in the suit in which the receiver was appointed,[35] or presented to and approved by the court making such order,[36] or limiting the time within which such claims must be established,[37] or to make any decree in a proceeding to which the claimant was not a party which would deprive him of the right to seek his remedy in any court of competent jurisdiction,[38] and within the time prescribed by law.[39] The company is, however, liable only to the extent of the net earnings diverted by the receiver to the betterment of the road,[40] and is not liable upon any cause of action which could not have been enforced against the receiver had he remained in possession.[41] It has been held that after the discharge of the receiver and restoration of the road to the company, the proper remedy for enforcing the liability of the railroad company is by a suit in equity;[42] but under the Texas practice if the receiver is discharged and the road returned to the company after the institution of an action against the receiver, the company may by amendment be made a party defendant,[43] and as regards the statute of limitations the action will be considered as a continuation of that originally brought against the receiver.[44] Where it is sought to render the company liable on the ground that the receiver invested earnings in betterments, this fact must be alleged,[45] and proved;[46] but where plaintiff shows that betterments were made by the receiver the presumption then is that they were made out of net earnings of the road, and the burden is upon defendant to show the contrary.[47] So also if the claims against the company for the acts of the receiver are in excess of the value of the betterments made by him, this defense must be pleaded by defendant.[48] Where it is provided by statute without qualification that the company, upon the return of its property without sale, shall be liable for all claims against the receiver, no allegation or

Where a judgment has been rendered against the receiver before his discharge, an action may be maintained thereon against the company after the road has been returned to it with betterments. Texas Pac. R. Co. v. Griffin, 76 Tex. 441, 13 S. W. 471.

34. See Mobile, etc., R. Co. v. Davis, 62 Miss. 271.

35. Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Bailey, 83 Tex. 19, 18 S. W. 481; Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Watts, (Tex. 1891) 18 S. W. 312; Texas, Pac. R. Co. v. Griffin, 76 Tex. 441, 13 S. W. 471; Texas Pac. R. Co. v. Johnson, 76 Tex. 421, 13 S. W. 463, 18 Am. St. Rep. 60; Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Boyd, 6 Tex. Civ. App. 205, 24 S. W. 1086; Kretz v. Texas, etc., R. Co., (Tex. App. 1890) 14 S. W. 1067.

36. Stewart v. Baltimore, etc., R. Co., 11 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 232, 8 Ohio N. P. 179.

37. Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Watts, (Tex. 1891) 18 S. W. 312; Texas Pac. R. Co. v. Johnson, 76 Tex. 421, 13 S. W. 463, 18 Am. St. Rep. 60; Kretz v. Texas, etc., R. Co., (Tex. App. 1890) 14 S. W. 1067.

38. Stewart v. Baltimore, etc., R. Co., 11 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 232, 8 Ohio N. P. 179; Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Watts, (Tex. 1891) 18 S. W. 312; Texas Pac. R. Co. v. Johnson, 76 Tex. 421, 13 S. W. 463, 18 Am. St. Rep. 60.

39. Texas Pac. R. Co. v. Griffin, 76 Tex. 441, 13 S. W. 471.

40. Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Bailey, 83 Tex. 19, 18 S. W. 481.

41. Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Collins, 84 Tex. 121, 19 S. W. 365; Brown v. Record, (Tex. Civ. App. 1893) 23 S. W. 704; Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Bledsoe, 2 Tex. Civ. App. 88, 20 S. W. 1135.

42. Mobile, etc., R. Co. v. Davis, 62 Miss. 271.

43. Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Comstock, 83 Tex. 537, 18 S. W. 946; Boggs v. Brown, 82 Tex. 41, 17 S. W. 830.

44. Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Huffman, 83 Tex. 286, 18 S. W. 741.

But if the amended complaint sets up a new cause of action charging the railroad company with liability not only upon the ground of betterments but also upon the ground that the receivership was fraudulent and collusive, it will be considered as to such new cause of action a new action against the railroad company. Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Watson, 13 Tex. Civ. App. 555, 36 S. W. 290.

45. Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Adams, 78 Tex. 372, 14 S. W. 666, 22 Am. St. Rep. 56.

46. Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Huffman, 83 Tex. 286, 18 S. W. 741; Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Adams, 78 Tex. 372, 14 S. W. 666, 22 Am. St. Rep. 56.

47. Missouri, etc., R. Co. v. Chilton, 7 Tex. Civ. App. 183, 27 S. W. 272; Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Barnhart, 5 Tex. Civ. App. 601, 23 S. W. 801, 24 S. W. 331.

48. Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Bailey, 83 Tex. 19, 18 S. W. 481.

proof of an investment in betterments is necessary,[49] it being sufficient merely to allege and show the return of the road to the company without sale.[50] If by the terms of a consent decree under which the possession of the road was restored to the company, it was taken subject to all claims and liabilities against the receiver, the company will be liable therefor without regard to the question of betterments.[51]

(III) INVALID OR COLLUSIVE APPOINTMENT. A railroad company is liable for the acts of a receiver whom it permits to take and operate its road under an appointment which is invalid for lack of jurisdiction of the court over the property,[52] or where such appointment was made through fraud or collusion on the part of the railroad company,[53] whether the court had jurisdiction or not,[54] the receiver being regarded in either case as the agent of the company;[55] and if in such case an action has been instituted against the receiver alone, the company may by amendment be made a defendant.[56]

(IV) FENCING AND INJURY TO ANIMALS.[57] Where by statute railroad companies are made liable, without regard to negligence in the operation of their trains, for stock killed or injured upon their roads, where such roads are not fenced, it has been held that an action for such injuries may be maintained against the railroad company, although at the time of the injury the road was operated by a receiver,[58] and in Indiana the statute expressly so provides,[59] and such action may be brought against the company in a state court, although the receiver operating the road was appointed by a court of the United States.[60] So also, where the statute provides that upon failure of the railroad company to fence its road the adjoining landowner may do so and recover double the cost of the fencing, an action for such recovery may be maintained against the company, although the road is in the hands of a receiver.[61]

d. Effect on Liability of Lessor and Lessee. Where one railroad company

49. International, etc., R. Co. v. Cook, 16 Tex. Civ. App. 386, 41 S. W. 665; Yoakum v. Kroeger, (Tex. Civ. App. 1894) 27 S. W. 953.

The contrary decisions holding such allegation and proof to be necessary were all decided under the rule of equity which prevailed prior to the enactment of the statute. Yoakum v. Kroeger, (Tex. Civ. App. 1894) 27 S. W. 953.

50. International, etc., R. Co. v. Cook, 16 Tex. Civ. App. 386, 41 S. W. 665.

51. Missouri, etc., R. Co. v. Chilton, 7 Tex. Civ. App. 183, 27 S. W. 272.

52. Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Gay, 86 Tex. 571, 26 S. W. 599, 25 L. R. A. 52.

53. Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Gay, 88 Tex. 111, 30 S. W. 543 [affirming (Civ. App. 1895) 27 S. W. 742]; Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Gay, 86 Tex. 571, 26 S. W. 599, 25 L. R. A. 52.

The appointment of an improper person as receiver does not make the appointment void or the receiver the agent of the company, but is a fact which may be considered in determining whether the appointment was collusive. San Antonio, etc., R. Co. v. Adams, 11 Tex. Civ. App. 198, 32 S. W. 733.

54. Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Gay, 86 Tex. 571, 26 S. W. 599, 25 L. R. A. 52.

55. Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Gay, 86 Tex. 571, 26 S. W. 599, 25 L. R. A. 52.

56. Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Gay, 88 Tex. 111, 30 S. W. 543 [affirming (Civ. App. 1895) 27 S. W. 742].

57. Liability of receiver see supra, X, C, 9, b, (II).

58. McKinney v. Ohio, etc., R. Co., 22 Ind. 99; Kansas Pac. R. Co. v. Wood, 24 Kan. 619; Central Trust Co. v. Wabash, etc., R. Co., 26 Fed. 12. But see Heath v. Missouri, etc., R. Co., 83 Mo. 617.

Under the Iowa statute it is held that a railroad company cannot be held liable for injuries to stock on account of the unfenced condition of its road, occurring during the operation of the road by a receiver (Schurr v. Omaha, etc., R. Co., 98 Iowa 418, 67 N. W. 280; Brockert v. Central Iowa R. Co., 82 Iowa 369, 47 N. W. 1026), but that the receiver may be held liable (Brockert v. Central Iowa R. Co., supra).

59. Indianapolis, etc., R. Co. v. Ray, 51 Ind. 269; Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Canble, 46 Ind. 277; McKinney v. Ohio, etc., R. Co., 22 Ind. 99.

60. Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Cauble, 46 Ind. 277; Kansas Pac. R. Co. v. Wood, 24 Kan. 619.

But the judgment cannot be enforced by the state court against the property in the possession of the receiver, which is the possession of the federal court. In such cases plaintiff should either apply to the proper federal court for leave to sue the receiver, or for an order from that court upon the receiver to pay the judgment. Ohio, etc., R. Co. v. Fitch, 20 Ind. 498.

61. Ohio, etc., R. Co. v. Russell, 115 Ill. 52, 3 N. E. 561, holding that the company is liable because the duty is imposed directly by law upon it, and the appointing of a receiver does not affect the corporate exist-has leased its road to another and a receiver has been appointed for the lessee company, the lessee company upon the principles above stated [62] is not liable for the acts of its own receiver while in the exclusive control of its road and franchises; [63] but it has been held that wherever the lessor company would be liable for the acts of its lessee, such liability also continues to exist while its road is operated by receivers of the lessee company appointed in an action to which the lessor was not a party,[64] unless prior to the injury complained of such receivers have also been appointed as receivers of the lessor company by a court of competent jurisdiction in an action against that company.[65] Where a receiver of one road leases and operates another as receiver, he is in his official capacity liable for injuries due to the unsafe condition of the track of such road.[66]

10. Joint Liabilities — a. In General. Two or more railroad companies may be separately liable for the same injury and yet not jointly liable; [67] but where an injury is sustained by reason of the joint or concurrent negligence of two railroad companies or a railroad company and another company or person, plaintiff may sue both jointly,[68] and it is not necessary that there should be a breach of a joint duty or any concerted action on the part of defendants, but it is sufficient if their several acts of negligence concur and unite in producing the injury complained of;[69] nor is it material that one of defendants owed to plaintiff a higher degree of care than the other.[70] So in case of an injury growing out of a collision where there was negligence on the part of both defendants, plaintiff may sue jointly, according to the nature of the collision, the two railroad companies,[71] or railroad company and street railroad company,[72] or a railroad company and a hackman in whose vehicle plaintiff was a passenger.[73] A person injured at a crossing may maintain a joint action against the company owning the road and ence of the company or its right or duty to perform any acts required of it which may be done without interfering with the rightful management of the road by the receiver.

62. See supra, X, C, 9, c, (1).

63. Chamberlain v. New York, etc., R. Co., 71 Fed. 636.

64. Harris v. Quincy, etc., R. Co., 124 Mo. App. 45, 101 S. W. 601; Parr v. Spartanburg, etc., R. Co., 43 S. C. 197, 20 S. E. 1009, 49 Am. St. Rep. 826. See also Washington, etc., R. Co. v. Brown, 17 Wall. (U. S.) 445, 21 L. ed. 675, where, however, the receiver was not in exclusive possession and control but jointly with the lessee company. But see Chamberlain v. New York, etc., R. Co., 71 Fed. 636.

Failure to fence.— The lessor company will be liable for injuries to stock which are due to the absence or defective condition of fences or cattle-guards, although the road at the time of the injury is being operated by a receiver of the lessee. Harris v. Quincy, etc., R. Co., 124 Mo. App. 45, 101 S. W. 601.

65. Trinity, etc., R. Co. v. Brown, (Tex. Civ. App. 1898) 46 S. W. 926.

66. Dillingham v. Crank, 87 Tex. 104, 27 S. W. 93.

67. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Rolvink, 31 Ill. App. 596; Langhorne v. Richmond R. Co., 91 Va. 369, 22 S. E. 159.

68. District of Columbia.— Washington, etc., R. Co. v. Hickey, 5 App. Cas. 436.

Indiana.—Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Marshall, 38 Ind. App. 217, 75 N. E. 973.

New Jersey.— Matthews v. Delaware, etc., R. Co., 56 N. J. L. 34, 27 Atl. 919, 22 L. R. A. 261.

New York.— Startz v. Pennsylvania, etc., R. Co., 16 N. Y. Suppl. 810.

Texas.— Galveston, etc., R. Co. v. Croskell, 6 Tex. Civ. App. 160, 25 S. W. 486.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 854 et seq.

69. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Marshall, 38 Ind. App. 217, 75 N. E. 973; Matthews v. Delaware, etc., R. Co., 56 N. J. L. 34, 27 Atl. 919, 22 L. R. A. 261. Compare Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Rolvink, 31 Ill. App. 596.

70. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Durand, 65 Kan. 380, 69 Pac. 356.

71. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co. v. Acrea, 40 Ind. App. 150, 81 N. E. 213, 82 N. E. 1009; Baltimore, etc., R. Co. v. Kleespies, 39 Ind. App. 151, 76 N. E. 1015, 78 N. E. 252; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Marshall, 38 Ind. App. 217, 75 N. E. 973; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Martin, 59 Kan. 437, 53 Pac. 461; Colegrove v. New York, etc., R. Co., 20 N. Y. 492, 75 Am. Dec. 418.

Injuries from collisions see, generally, infra, X, D.

72. Washington, etc., R. Co. v. Hickey, 5 App. Cas. (D. C.) 436; Matthews v. Delaware, etc., R. Co., 56 N. J. L. 34, 27 Atl. 919, 22 L. R. A. 261; Downey v. Philadelphia Traction Co., 161 Pa. St. 588, 29 Atl. 128 [affirming 3 Pa. Dist. 81, 14 Pa. Co. Ct. 251]; St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Wiggins, (Tex. Civ. App. 1908) 107 S. W. 899; Galveston, etc., R. Co. v. Vallrath, 40 Tex. Civ. App. 46, 89 S. W. 279.

73. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Durand, 65 Kan. 380, 69 Pac. 356.

another using it by its permission, where there was negligence on the part of the gateman of the one and those in charge of the train of the other,[74] or the company owning the road was negligent in not maintaining a flagman at the crossing and the other company in the manner of operating its trains.[75] Where two railroad companies operate a road jointly, they are jointly liable for injuries occurring in the operation of the road;[76] and in case of connecting roads, a person injured by a defective car transferred from one to the other may sue both jointly, where one was negligent in delivering a defective car and the other in receiving and using it without proper inspection.[77] A railroad company and a telephone company are jointly liable for an injury to a brakeman caused by a telephone wire being negligently allowed to hang too low across the track, where each knew or should have known of its condition;[78] and a railroad company and a passenger are jointly liable for an assault committed jointly by a conductor and such passenger upon another passenger;[79] and where the roads of two railroad companies intersect, they are jointly liable for an injury to an employee of a third company using the tracks with their permission, caused by the defective condition of the track at the point of intersection.[80] The company owning the road and another company which it permits to use it are jointly liable for the negligence of the latter,[81] or for injuries to stock by the trains of the latter, due to the unfenced condition of the road;[82] and where it is held that a lessor company is liable for the torts of the lessee,[83] both may be sued jointly for an injury due to the negligence of the latter.[84] In case of a joint liability plaintiff is not obliged to sue both defendants but may elect to sue either,[85] and it is no defense for the company sued that the negligence of the other company exceeded its own.[86] So also the jury may find against one joint defendant and in favor of the other,[87] and the former cannot complain that a verdict was rendered against it alone.[88] Where a joint action is brought against a railroad company and a contractor for injuries due to the condition of a crossing, which the contractor had agreed with the railroad company to keep in repair, the jury may, if they find the injury was due to the negligence of the contractor, render a verdict in favor of plaintiff against both defendants, and in favor of the railroad company over against the contractor, where a demand for such judgment is made in the pleadings of defendant railroad company.[89]

b. Acts of Persons in Joint Employ of Different Companies. Where an injury

74. Startz v. Pennsylvania, etc., R. Co., 16 N. Y. Suppl. 810.

75. Cleveland, etc., R. Co. v. Bender, 69 Ill. App. 262.

76. Bissell v. Michigan Southern, etc., R. Co., 22 N. Y. 258; Smith v. New York, etc., R. Co., 96 Fed. 504.

Where a particular train is operated jointly by two railroad companies, they are jointly liable for an injury due to the negligent operation of the train. Chesapeake, etc., R. Co. v. Davis, 58 S. W. 698, 22 Ky. L. Rep. 748, 119 Ky. 641, 60 S. W. 14, 22 Ky. L. Rep. 1156.

77. Missouri, etc., R. Co. v. Merrill, 61 Kan. 671, 60 Pac. 819; Hoye v. Great Northern R. Co., 120 Fed. 712.

78. Southwestern Tel., etc., Co. v. Crank, (Tex. Civ. App. 1894) 27 S. W. 38 [affirmed in 87 Tex. 104, 27 S. W. 93].

79. Georgia Cent. R. Co. v. Brown, 113 Ga. 414, 38 S. E. 989, 84 Am. St. Rep. 250.

80. Indiana, etc., R. Co. v. Barnhart, 115 Ind. 399, 16 N. E. 121. See also Breecher v. Chicago Junction R. Co., 119 Ill. App. 554.

81. Pennsylvania Co. v. Ellett, 132 Ill. 654, 24 N. E. 559; Pennsylvania Co. v. Greso, 102 Ill. App. 252; Pennsylvania Co. v. Greso, 79 Ill. App. 127; Cleveland, etc., R. Co. v. Bender, 69 Ill. App. 262; Hollins v. New Orleans, etc., R. Co., 119 La. 418, 44 So. 159.

82. Berchold v. Lake Shore, etc., R. Co., 4 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 327, 1 Clev. L. Rep. 314.

83. See supra, X, C, 4, a, (1).

84. Wabash R. Co. v. Humphrey, 127 Ill. App. 334; Wabash R. Co. v. Keeler, 127 Ill. App. 265.

85. Wisconsin Cent. R. Co. v. Ross, 142 Ill. 9, 31 N. E. 412, 34 Am. St. Rep. 49 [affirming 43 Ill. App. 454]; Wabash, etc., R. Co. v. Peyton, 106 Ill. 534, 46 Am. Rep. 705; Grand Trunk R. Co. v. Huard, 36 Can. Sup. Ct. 655.

86. Union R., etc., Co. v. Shacklet, 119 Ill. 232, 10 N. E. 896 [affirming 19 Ill. App. 145].

87. Kirby v. Delaware, etc., Canal Co., 90 Hun (N. Y.) 588, 35 N. Y. Suppl. 975.

88. Kansas City, etc., R. Co. v. Stoner, 51 Fed. 649, 2 C. C. A. 437; Lockhart v. Little Rock, etc., R. Co., 40 Fed. 631.

89. Dallas, etc., R. Co. v. Able, 72 Tex. 150, 9 S. W. 871.

is inflicted by a train under the joint control of the servants of two companies or by servants employed by them jointly, the companies are jointly liable;[90] but two railroad companies operating parallel roads and having no business connection and each employing its own servants are not jointly liable for an injury at a highway crossing upon one of them, merely because their flagmen watched and were guided by the movements of each other.[91]

c. Railroad Company and Its Employees.[92] In some cases it is held that a railroad company and its employees are jointly liable for the torts of the latter committed within the scope of their employment,[93] although the acts complained of were wilful or malicious;[94] while others hold that the liability of the railroad company for the torts of its servants is not joint,[95] but that to render the company jointly liable there must have been actual participation or negligence on the part of the company concurring with that of the employee as distinguished from imputed negligence growing out of the relation of master and servant.[96]

11. Liability of Agents and Employees.[97] While some of the cases make a distinction between acts of misfeasance and nonfeasance,[98] it is ordinarily held that an agent or employee of a railroad company by whose negligent or wrongful acts an injury is inflicted is personally liable therefor,[99] and cannot escape liability upon the ground that he was acting merely as agent for another.[1] The term "agents" as used in statutes making railroad companies and their agents liable for injury to animals where the road is not fenced applies to engineers [2]

90. Moling v. Barnard, 65 Mo. App. 600; Nashville, etc., R. Co. v. Carroll, 6 Heisk. (Tenn.) 347.

91. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Conners, 30 Ill. App. 307.

92. See, generally, Master and Servant, 26 Cyc. 1545.

93. Georgia.— Southern R. Co. v. Grizzle, 124 Ga. 735, 53 S. E. 244, 110 Am. St. Rep. 191.

Indiana.— Blue v. Briggs, 12 Ind. App. 105, 39 N. E. 885.

Kentucky.— Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Houchins, 121 Ky. 526, 89 S. W. 530, 28 Ky. L. Rep. 499, 123 Am. St. Rep. 205, 1 L. R. A. N. S. 375; Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Coley, 121 Ky. 385, 89 S. W. 234, 28 Ky. L. Rep. 336, 1 L. R. A. N. S. 370; Winston v. Illinois Cent. R. Co., 111 Ky. 954, 65 S. W. 13, 23 Ky. L. Rep. 1283, 55 L. R. A. 603; Chesapeake, etc., R. Co. v. Dixon, 104 Ky. 608, 47 S. W. 615, 20 Ky. L. Rep. 792.

Massachusetts.— Hewett v. Swift, 3 Allen 420; Moore v. Fitchburg R. Corp., 4 Gray 465, 64 Am. Dec. 83.

New Jersey.— Brokaw v. New Jersey R., etc., Co., 32 N. J. L. 328, 90 Am. Dec. 659.

New York.— Priest v. Hudson River R. Co., 40 How. Pr. 456.

North Carolina.— Hough v. Southern R. Co., 144 N. C. 692, 57 S. E. 469.

South Carolina.— Able v. Southern R. Co., 73 S. C. 173, 52 S. E. 962; Schumpert v. Southern R. Co., 65 S. C. 332, 43 S. E. 813, 95 Am. St. Rep. 802.

United States.— Chesapeake, etc., R. Co. v. Dixon, 179 U. S. 131, 21 S. Ct. 67, 45 L. ed. 121; Riser v. Southern R. Co., 116 Fed. 215; Charman v. Lake Erie, etc., R. Co., 105 Fed. 449.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 858.

94. Able v. Southern R. Co., 73 S. C. 173, 52 S. E. 962. Contra, McIntyre v. Southern R. Co., 131 Fed. 985; Gustafson v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 128 Fed. 85.

95. McIntyre v. Southern R. Co., 131 Fed. 985; Gableman v. Peoria, etc., R. Co., 82 Fed. 790; Warax v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 72 Fed. 637.

96. McIntyre v. Southern R. Co., 131 Fed. 985; Warax v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 72 Fed. 637.

97. See, generally, Master and Servant, 26 Cyc. 1543.

Joint liability of railroad company and its employees see supra, X, C, 10, c.

98. Bryce v. Southern R. Co., 125 Fed. 958 [affirming 122 Fed. 709]; Kelly v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 122 Fed. 286. But see Ellis v. Southern R. Co., 72 S. C. 465, 52 S. E. 228, 3 L. R. A. N. S. 378.

99. Georgia.— Southern R. Co. v. Grizzle, 124 Ga. 735, 53 S. E. 244, 110 Am. St. Rep. 191.

Indiana.— Blue v. Briggs, 12 Ind. App. 105, 39 N. E. 885.

Kentucky.— Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Coley, 121 Ky. 385, 89 S. W. 234, 28 Ky. L. Rep. 336, 1 L. R. A. N. S. 370; Martin v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 95 Ky. 612, 26 S. W. 801, 16 Ky. L. Rep. 150.

New York.— Suydam v. Moore, 8 Barb. 358.

Pennsylvania.— See Rauch v. Lloyd, 31 Pa. St. 358, 72 Am. Dec. 747.

South Carolina.— Ellis v. Southern R. Co., 72 S. C. 465, 52 S. E. 228, 3 L. R. A. N. S. 378.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," §§ 859, 860.

1. Blue v. Briggs, 12 Ind. App. 105, 39 N. E. 885; Martin v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 95 Ky. 612, 26 S. W. 801, 16 Ky. L. Rep. 150.

2. Suydam v. Moore, 8 Barb. (N. Y.) 358; and firemen[3] engaged in the operation of the trains by which such injuries are inflicted.

12. Pleading Ownership and Operation — a. Complaint — (i) In General. In an action for an injury growing out of the operation of a railroad, the complaint must allege such facts in regard to the ownership, operation, or use of the road or the train causing the injury as may be necessary to show a liability on the part of the company or person sued for the particular injury complained of.[4] So although one railroad company may be liable for the acts of another, as in the case of a lease or license to use its road, the relation between the railroads must be pleaded with the facts necessary to create the liability,[5] and the complaint must show by which company the injury was inflicted; [6] but in an action against the company owning a road for the acts of another company which it has permitted to use the same, no further negligence need be alleged against defendant than that of the company which it has permitted to use its road.[7] Where the complaint states a common-law liability and is not based upon a charter provision or statute relating to a particular road, it is sufficient to allege that the injury occurred upon a road in the possession of and operated by defendant and as the result of its negligence, without stating the name of the road,[8] and in an action against a lessee or any company or person operating the road of another, it is not necessary to allege in what name the road was operated.[9] In an action against a consolidated company for a tort of one of the constituent companies, committed prior to the consolidation, it is not necessary to allege an express assumption of such liability by defendant in the articles of consolidation.[10] Where it is sought

St. Johnsbury, etc., R. Co. v. Hunt, 59 Vt. 294, 7 Atl. 277.

3. Suydam v. Moore, 8 Barb. (N. Y.) 358.

4. Pittsburg, etc., R. Co. v. Kain, 35 Ind. 291.

The complaint must show either that the injury was done by defendant or by some person for whose acts it is responsible. Wabash, etc., R. Co. v. Rooker, 90 Ind. 581.

Complaint held insufficient. — In an action for damages caused by fire communicated by a locomotive, a complaint is defective which does not allege that the locomotive was in the use either of defendant railroad company or its lessee (Frye v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 47 Me. 523); and in an action for injury to stock a complaint is defective which does not allege either that the train which caused the injury belonged to defendant or was being run over its road (Toledo, etc., R. Co. v. Weaver, 34 Ind. 298); and where the statute requiring railroad companies to fence their tracks provides that "the corporation and its agents" shall be liable for injuries occasioned by the want of such fences, the complaint must allege that defendant is a railroad corporation or the agent of such corporation (Cooley v. Brainerd, 38 Vt. 394).

Complaint held sufficient in respect to allegations regarding the corporate existence of defendant and the fact that it owned and operated the road at the time of the injury see Lake Erie, etc., R. Co. v. Griffin, 8 Ind. App. 47, 35 N. E. 396, 52 Am. St. Rep. 465.

A complaint which names defendant as lessee of a certain railroad and indicates that defendant is in possession of and operating the road, although not expressly alleging a lease, will be construed as seeking to charge defendant as lessee so as to bring it within the provision of Ga. Code, § 3407, that the lessee or corporation having possession of a railroad may be sued in the same jurisdiction as was the lessor or owner before the lease. Watson v. Richmond, etc., R. Co., 91 Ga. 222, 18 S. E. 306.

5. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co. v. Wood, 82 Ind. 593; Lake Erie, etc., R. Co. v. Rucker, 13 Ind. App. 600, 41 N. E. 470.

6. Central R. Co. v. Brinson, 64 Ga. 475; Wabash, etc., R. Co. v. Rooker, 90 Ind. 581. But see McCoy v. Kansas City, etc., R. Co., 36 Mo. App. 445, holding that in an action to enforce the liability of a railroad company as lessor for the acts of its lessee, it is sufficient to charge the act complained of as the act of the lessor, without reference to the lease or the fact that such act was done by the lessee.

7. Pennsylvania Co. v. Ellett, 132 Ill. 654, 24 N. E. 559.

8. Austin v. New York, etc., R. Co., 25 N. J. L. 381.

9. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co. v. Leviston, 97 Ind. 488; Wabash, etc., R. Co. v. Williamson, 3 Ind. App. 190, 29 N. E. 455.

In Indiana under a former statute a company operating the road of another was not liable for injuries to stock due to the road not being fenced, unless it was operating the road in the name of the company owning it, and such fact was necessary to be alleged (Jeffersonville, etc., R. Co. v. Downey, 61 Ind. 287; Cincinnati, etc., R. Co. v. Bunnell, 61 Ind. 183); but this element of liability and the consequent necessity of such allegation has been changed by an amendment of the statute (Cincinnati, etc., R. Co. v. Leviston, 97 Ind. 488).

10. Pennsylvania Co. v. Ellett, 132 Ill.

to hold a railroad company liable for the acts of a receiver, where the road is returned to the company without sale, and the receiver has made permanent improvements with earnings derived during the receivership, the facts necessary to show a liability upon this ground must be alleged.[11]

(II) JOINT LIABILITIES. In an action against two railroad companies jointly, it is sufficient to charge that the act complained of was done by defendants, without showing what relation they sustained to each other,[12] and if the existence of a particular relation between them is essential to fix a liability upon either, this is a matter of proof;[13] but where the complaint alleges that the injury was done by the train of one company upon the road of another company, and under the statute the liability of each depends upon the relation between them, in such case the complaint must allege such a relation as to bring the case within the application of the statute.[14]

b. Answer. Where defendant pleads as a defense that at the time of the injury the railroad was in the hands of and being operated by a receiver, it is not necessary to set forth a copy of the order of the court appointing the receiver;[15] but where a railroad company pleads that at the time of the injury the road was operated by its vendee, to which it had conveyed its property and franchises, the answer must show that the circumstances authorizing such sale existed.[16]

13. ISSUES, PROOF, AND VARIANCE. As in other civil actions,[17] only such evidence is admissible as tends to support the issues made by the pleadings,[18] and plaintiff must introduce proof in support of every material allegation of the complaint essential to a recovery,[19] unless admitted by the pleadings,[20] or conceded 654, 24 N. E. 559; Cleveland, etc., R. Co. v. Prewitt, 134 Ind. 557, 33 N. E. 367.

11. Dayhoff v. International, etc., R. Co., (Tex. Civ. App. 1894) 26 S. W. 517.

12. Indianapolis, etc., R. Co. v. Warner, 35 Ind. 515; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Clark, 26 Nebr. 645, 42 N. W. 703.

13. Indianapolis, etc., R. Co. v. Warner, 35 Ind. 515.

14. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co. v. Paskins, 36 Ind. 380, holding that the complaint does not state a cause of action against either the owning or using company, where it fails to allege that the former had leased its road or in any manner consented to its use by the other or that the latter was operating the road in the name of the former. See also Jeffersonville, etc., R. Co. v. Downey, 61 Ind. 183.

The Indiana statute was amended by the act of 1877, so that the company owning the road and any lessee or other company or person operating the same are now jointly and severally liable, without regard to whether the road is operated in the name of the company owning it or not. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co. v. Leviston, 97 Ind. 488.

15. Bell v. Indianapolis, etc., R. Co., 53 Ind. 57. But see Ohio, etc., R. Co. v. Fitch, 20 Ind. 498.

16. East Line, etc., R. Co. v. Rushing, 69 Tex. 306, 6 S. W. 834, holding that the answer was fatally defective in failing to allege that the road of the vendee was not a competing line.

17. See, generally, TRIAL.

18. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co. v. Bunnell, 61 Ind. 183.

19. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co. v. Kain, 35 Ind. 291, holding that where the complaint alleges that a particular company inflicted the injury and afterward consolidated with another company so as to form defendant company, a recovery cannot be sustained upon proof of the injury as alleged without proof of the consolidation.

That the injury was done by one of defendant's trains is a material allegation and must be proved. Lake Erie, etc., R. Co. v. Rooker, 13 Ind. App. 600, 41 N. E. 470.

That defendant railroad company is a corporation, although so designated in the complaint, need not be proved by plaintiff where the statute imposes the liability upon "any railway company or corporation" and the action is on an appeal from the judgment of a justice, and defendant made no appearance before the justice. Kansas City, etc., R. Co. v. Bolson, 36 Kan. 534, 14 Pac. 5.

20. Spooner v. Delaware, etc., R. Co., 115 N. Y. 22, 21 N. E. 696; Allen v. Palmer, 101 N. Y. App. Div. 15, 91 N. Y. Suppl. 731.

Matters not admitted.—A plea of the general issue in an action where defendant is sued as a corporation organized by the consolidation of certain other companies, and therefore liable for the torts of one of the constituent companies, admits defendant's corporate existence but not the fact of consolidation upon which its liability depends (Zealy v. Birmingham R., etc., Co., 99 Ala. 579, 13 So. 118); and where two railroad companies own tracks in a street, and in an action against one of them the complaint alleges in general terms that defendant operated trains in that street and all the allegations are denied except that defendant did operate trains in the street, the answer does not admit that defendant operated trains on the tracks belonging to the other company (Collier v. Great Northern R. Co., 40 Wash. 639, 82 Pac. 935).

upon the trial;[21] but where the complaint contains two counts, one alleging that defendant was operating the road under a lease and the other that it was using, running, and controlling the road without specifying under what kind of contract or agreement, evidence of the facts alleged in the second count is sufficient to sustain the action without proof of the lease.[22] So also the proof must conform to the allegations of the pleadings and any material variance is fatal to a recovery,[23] but a variance which could not have surprised or prejudiced the adverse party will not be regarded as material;[24] and where the liability in question applies to a company operating the road of another, so that the question of ownership is immaterial, proof that defendant operated and controlled the road is sufficient, although the complaint alleged that it owned, operated, and controlled the road.[25] Under a plea of the general issue or general denial, defendant railroad company may show that the injury complained of occurred upon the road of a different company and through the negligence of the latter's servants,[26] or if upon its own road that at the time of the injury the road was in the hands of and being operated by a receiver,[27] or a lessee of defendant,[28] or that defendant was operating the road as lessee of another company, where such fact would be a defense as to the liability in issue.[29]

21. Lake Erie, etc., R. Co. v. Wills, 140 Ill. 614, 31 N. E. 122 [affirming 39 Ill. App. 649], holding that an objection that there was no evidence that defendant was the owner of or operating the road is not available after verdict, where the fact that defendant was in possession and operating the road was practically conceded by both parties and the case tried throughout upon that theory.

22. Central R., etc., Co. v. Gamble, 77 Ga. 584, 3 S. E. 287.

23. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co. v. Wood, 82 Ind. 593; Pittsburg, etc., R. Co. v. Kain, 35 Ind. 291.

Variance held fatal.— There is a material and fatal variance between an allegation that the injury was done by defendant and proof that it was done by a different company, a lessee of defendant (Cincinnati, etc., R. Co. v. Wood, 82 Ind. 593. But see McCoy v. Kansas City, etc., R. Co., 36 Mo. App. 445); an allegation that the injury was done upon defendant's road and proof that it was upon a road operated by defendant as lessee (Central R. Co. v. Brinson, 64 Ga. 475; Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co. v. Hannon, 60 Ind. 417); an allegation that the injury was done by a particular company which afterward consolidated with another to form defendant company, and proof that defendant was merely the lessee of the company which inflicted the injury and which occurred prior to the lease (Pittsburg, etc., R. Co. v. Kain, 35 Ind. 291); an allegation charging defendant with liability as the lessor or licensor of the company inflicting the injury and proof that defendant was itself operating the train where the injury occurred (Heins v. Savannah, etc., R. Co., 114 Ga. 678, 40 S. E. 710); an allegation that defendant caused an injury to plaintiff's land by obstructing a watercourse and proof that it was the embankment and culvert of a different railroad company which were located at the point where the damage was alleged to be (Cent. R. Co. v. Flournoy, 69 Ga. 763); an allegation that the train causing the injury was owned and operated by several defendant railroad companies and proof that it was owned and operated exclusively by one of them (Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Rolvink, 31 Ill. App. 596); and an allegation that defendant caused the injury complained of and proof that the road where the injury occurred was owned by a different company, and at the time of the injury was operated by a receiver of that company (Wabash, etc., R. Co. v. McKittrick, 36 Ill. App. 82).

24. Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Wilson, (Tex. Civ. App. 1893) 21 S. W. 373. See also Illinois Terminal, etc., Co. v. Thompson, 210 Ill. 226, 71 N. E. 328, holding that the fact that a complaint charges a railroad company with negligence in regard to "its" track or switch-yard does not necessarily import or require proof of ownership in fee, but is sustained by proof that the company was rightfully using the track and operating its train thereon.

25. Missouri Pac. R. Co. v. Ricketts, 45 Kan. 617, 26 Pac. 50. See also Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Schmitz, 211 Ill. 446, 71 N. E. 1050 [affirming 113 Ill. App. 295].

26. Richmond, etc., R. Co. v. Buice, 88 Ga. 180, 14 S. E. 205.

27. Archambeau v. New York, etc., R. Co., 170 Mass. 272, 49 N. E. 435; Kansas, etc., R. Co. v. Dorough, 72 Tex. 108, 10 S. W. 711; Dayhoff v. International, etc., R. Co., (Tex. Civ. App. 1894) 26 S. W. 517.

28. East Line, etc., R. Co. v. Culberson, 72 Tex. 375, 10 S. W. 706, 13 Am. St. Rep. 805, 3 L. R. A. 567, where the action was brought by an employee of the lessee company against the lessor company for an injury due to the negligence of the lessee for which the lessor company would not be liable.

29. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co. v. Hunt, 71 Ind. 229, decided under an Indiana statute since amended, but under which, prior to the amendment, the lessee of a railroad company was not liable for injuries to stock on

14. Evidence — a. Presumptions and Burden of Proof. While the burden is upon plaintiff to show such facts in regard to the ownership, operation, or use of the road as are necessary to establish a liability on the part of defendant for the injury complained of,[30] it will be presumed in the absence of any evidence to the contrary, where it is shown or admitted that defendant owned the road, that it also controlled and operated it,[31] or if in possession of and operating the road that it is the owner of the road,[32] that trains operated upon defendant's road were owned and operated by it,[33] that a locomotive operated by defendant on its road was its locomotive,[34] or if attached to one of defendant's regular trains that it was under its control,[35] and that a locomotive bearing the name or initials of defendant company was owned and operated by it.[36] Where, however, it is shown that another company as well as defendant was operating trains over the same road, there is no presumption as to which inflicted the injury, and the burden is upon plaintiff to show this fact;[37] but where a locomotive is operated by an unincorporated association of railroad companies, constituting a switching association, it will be presumed that the company owning the locomotive is a member of the association.[38] In an action against a receiver of a railroad where it is shown that he was receiver of the road, it will be presumed that he was discharging the duties imposed upon him by that relation and was operating the road,[39] but in an action against a railroad company for a cause of action arising during a receivership, the burden is upon plaintiff to show that the road was returned to defendant without sale, and with permanent improvements made by the receiver from earnings accruing during the receivership.[40]

b. Admissibility. In regard to the admissibility of evidence the general rules in civil actions apply,[41] and generally speaking any evidence is admissible which is relevant to any material question in issue as to the ownership, operation, or use of the road.[42] In an action based upon the defective condition of account of the road not being fenced, unless operating it in the name of the lessor.

30. Ohio, etc., R. Co. v. Taylor, 27 Ill. 207; Lake Erie, etc., R. Co. v. Rooker, 13 Ind. App. 600, 41 N. E. 470; Georgia, etc., R. Co. v. Baird, 76 Miss. 521, 24 So. 195.

31. Kerr v. Quincy, etc., R. Co., 113 Mo. App. 1, 87 S. W. 596; Peabody v. Oregon R., etc., Co., 21 Oreg. 121, 26 Pac. 1053, 12 L. R. A. 823; Plew v. Missouri, etc., R. Co., (Tex. Civ. App. 1894) 29 S. W. 403; Ferguson v. Wisconsin Cent. R. Co., 63 Wis. 145, 23 N. W. 123.

32. Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Mills, 42 Ill. 407.

33. South-Alabama, etc., R. Co. v. Pilgreen, 62 Ala. 305; Lake Erie, etc., R. Co. v. Carson, 4 Ind. App. 185, 30 N. E. 432; Walsh v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 102 Mo. 582, 14 S. W. 873, 15 S. W. 757; Brooks v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 98 Mo. App. 166, 71 S. W. 1083.

Proof that another company owned the train does not rebut the presumption that it was operated under the control of the company owning the road, where it is conceded that such company was operating its road. Gulf, etc., R. Co. v. Miller, 98 Tex. 270, 83 S. W. 182 [affirming 35 Tex. Civ. App. 116, 79 S. W. 1109].

34. Bush v. Southern R. Co., 63 S. C. 96, 40 S. E. 1029.

35. Spink v. New York, etc., R. Co., 26 R. I. 115, 58 Atl. 499.

36. Ryan v. Baltimore, etc., R. Co., 60 Ill. App. 612.

The presumption is not conclusive and may be rebutted by evidence to the contrary (Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Capek, 68 Ill. App. 500); but such presumption is not rebutted, although it may be somewhat weakened, by proof that at the time of the injury the locomotive was upon the track of a different company (East St. Louis Connecting R. Co. v. Altgen, 210 Ill. 213, 71 N. E. 377 [affirming 112 Ill. App. 471]).

37. St. Louis Southwestern R. Co. v. Heintz, 82 Ark. 459, 102 S. W. 221; Lake Erie, etc., R. Co. v. Rooker, 13 Ind. App. 600, 41 N. E. 470.

38. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co. v. Callaghan, 50 Ill. App. 676.

39. McNulta v. Ensch, 134 Ill. 46, 24 N. E. 631.

40. Dayhoff v. International, etc., R. Co., (Tex. Civ. App. 1894) 26 S. W. 517.

41. See, generally, Evidence, 16 Cyc. 1110.

42. Martin v. Central Iowa R. Co., 59 Iowa 411, 13 N. W. 424; Williams v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co., 102 Mich. 537, 61 N. W. 52.

Evidence held admissible.—As tending to prove defendant's ownership of the road the pleadings in a former suit against defendant, showing that it acquired the road by purchase under a mortgage foreclosure prior to the injury are admissible (Martin v. Central Iowa R. Co., 59 Iowa 411, 13 N. W. 424); and while the mere ownership of stock in one railroad by another does not impose a liability upon the latter for negligence of the former, yet evidence of such fact is competent in connection with other facts and premises alleged to be under the control of defendant, evidence of repairs made subsequent to the injury while not competent as evidence of prior negligence is, if properly limited for such purpose, admissible to show that the place in question was under defendant's control.[43] Where defendant is operating the road of another company as lessee a mortgage executed by defendant several years after the injury complained of is not admissible as evidence that defendant was in possession of the road at the time of the injury,[44] and in an action for injuries growing out of the construction of a railroad, evidence of general reputation in the community that defendant was constructing it is not admissible.[45]

c. Weight and Sufficiency. With regard to the weight and sufficiency of evidence, the general rules in civil actions apply,[46] and plaintiff must show by a preponderance of evidence such facts in regard to defendant's ownership or operation of the road or agency causing the injury as are necessary to create a liability therefor;[47] but direct and positive evidence of such facts is not always essential,[48] and since positive proof of the actual facts of ownership and operation is ordinarily easy for defendant and often difficult or impossible for plaintiff,[49] it is sufficient for plaintiff in the first instance to make a prima facie case by evidence of facts from which defendant's ownership or operation may be presumed,[50] circumstances to be considered in passing upon the question whether the latter road owned and controlled the former (Jones v. Pennsylvania R. Co., 19 D. C. 178; Pennsylvania Co. v. Rossett, 116 Ill. App. 342. Compare Moynihan v. Pennsylvania R. Co., 19 D. C. 573). As tending to show that defendant was in possession of or operating the road at the time of the injury, a traffic agreement authorizing defendant to take possession of the road, which was owned by another company, on a certain date prior to the injury and a mortgage executed by both companies prior to the injury are admissible (Williams v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co., 102 Mich. 537, 61 N. W. 52); and it is also competent for this purpose to show that several months prior to the injury an inspection of the road was made by defendant (Union Pac. R. Co. v. Jones, 21 Colo. 340, 40 Pac. 891); and in an action against a railroad company for injuries to a traveler on a highway, caused by his horse taking fright at a mail crane erected at a crossing, evidence that the railroad company's employees worked on the crane is competent as tending to show that it was erected and maintained by the railroad company (Western R. Co. v. Cleghorn, 143 Ala. 392, 39 So. 133).

43. Bateman v. New York Cent., etc., R. Co., 47 Hun (N. Y.) 429; Skottowe v. Oregon Short Line, etc., R. Co., 22 Oreg. 430, 30 Pac. 222, 16 L. R. A. 593.

44. Williams v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co., 102 Mich. 537, 61 N. W. 52.

45. Missouri Pac. R. Co. v. Owens, 1 Tex. App. Civ. Cas. § 384.

46. See, generally, EVIDENCE, 17 Cyc. 753.

47. Arkansas.— St. Louis Southwestern R. Co. v. Heintz, 82 Ark. 459, 102 S. W. 221.

Colorado.— Denver, etc., R. Co. v. Robinson, 6 Colo. App. 432, 40 Pac. 840.

New Jersey.— Thompson v. New York, etc., R. Co., 7 N. J. L. J. 72.

New York.— Phillips v. New York Cent., etc., R. Co., 84 Hun 412, 32 N. Y. Suppl. 299.

Texas.— Taylor, etc., R. Co. v. Warner, 84 Tex. 122, 19 S. W. 449, 20 S. W. 823; Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Dessommes, (1891) 15 S. W. 806; Texas Midland R. Co. v. Cardwell, (Civ. App. 1900) 59 S. W. 288.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 861.

Evidence held sufficient to show defendant's ownership of the road (Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Mills, 42 Ill. 407; Payne v. Quincy, etc., R. Co., 113 Mo. App. 609, 88 S. W. 164; Oyler v. Quincy, etc., R. Co., 113 Mo. App. 375, 88 S. W. 162; Keltenbaugh v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 34 Mo. App. 147); to show that defendant was operating the road at the time of the injury (Union Pac. R. Co. v. Jones, 9 Colo. 379, 12 Pac. 516; Ft. Scott, etc., R. Co. v. Fortney, 51 Kan. 287, 32 Pac. 904; Reynolds v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 22 Mo. App. 609; Pennsylvania R. Co. v. Sellers, 127 Pa. St. 406, 17 Atl. 987); to show that defendant was the owner of and in control of the road at the time of the injury (Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Meadows, 87 Ind. 441); to show that defendant was the owner of and operating the road (Terre Haute, etc., R. Co. v. Walsh, 11 Ind. App. 13, 38 N. E. 534); and to sustain a finding that a coal house which obstructed plaintiff's view of the track at a crossing was erected and maintained by defendant (Carraher v. San Francisco Bridge Co., 81 Cal. 98, 22 Pac. 480).

In an action against defendants as trustees under a mortgage for the benefit of bondholders, it is not necessary to show that they were actually trustees but it is sufficient to show that they were acting as such and had the control and management of the road. Pearson v. Wheeler, 55 N. H. 41.

48. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Schmitz, 211 Ill. 446, 71 N. E. 1050 [affirming 113 Ill. App. 295]; Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co. v. Knutson, 69 Ill. 103; Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Meadows, 87 Ind. 441; Evansville, etc., R. Co. v. Snapp, 61 Ind. 303.

49. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co. v. Knutson, 69 Ill. 103; Keltenbaugh v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 34 Mo. App. 147.

50. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co. v. Knutson, 69 and this, if defendant introduces no evidence to the contrary, will be sufficient to sustain a verdict for plaintiff,[51] but evidence on the part of plaintiff which merely creates such a presumption is not sufficient as against direct and positive evidence on the part of defendant to the contrary.[52]

15. Questions For Jury.[53] The case should be submitted to the jury wherever there is any competent evidence in regard to the ownership, operation, or control of the road or agency causing the injury which tends to show a liability on the part of defendant therefor,[54] or where the evidence in regard to such ownership or operation is conflicting or different conclusions might reasonably be drawn therefrom.[55]

D. Collisions and Accidents to Trains*—1. Management of Trains—a. In General. A railroad company must exercise due care to prevent collisions or accidents to trains which might result in injury to its passengers or employees, or to the passengers, employees, or trains of another company using the same or intersecting tracks;[56] but the standard and degree of care varies according to the relations between the parties.[57] In guarding against injury to its passengers, it is ordinarily held that a railroad company must exercise a high degree of care and diligence;[58] but this rule does not apply to cases of personal injuries where there is no relation of carrier and passenger between plaintiff and defendant,[59] or as between two railroad companies in regard to the injury by one of the property of the other,[60] and if the train of one company is wrongfully upon the track

Ill. 103; Keltenhaugh v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 34 Mo. App. 147.

Presumptions see supra, X, C, 14, a.

Relation of joint defendants.—Where plaintiff, in an action brought jointly against three railroad companies for personal injuries received at a depot, showed negligence on the part of those operating the train, which was made up of cars belonging to one company propelled by an engine of another by a crew paid by the third, and showed that the depot was maintained for the common benefit of the defendants, between whom some sort of agreement existed, it was held that he had made a prima facie case of joint liability without showing just what were the contract relations of defendants. Brown v. Southern Pac. Co., 31 Utah 318, 88 Pac. 7.

51. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co. v. Knutson, 69 Ill. 103; Moore v. Quincy, etc., R. Co., 121 Mo. App. 674, 97 S. W. 607; Keltenbaugh v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 34 Mo. App. 147.

Application of rule.— In the absence of any evidence on the part of defendant to the contrary, proof of defendant's ownership of the road is sufficient proof that it was operating the road (Kerr v. Quincy, etc., R. Co., 113 Mo. App. 1, 87 S. W. 596; Ferguson v. Wisconsin Cent. R. Co., 63 Wis. 145, 23 N. W. 123); proof that defendant was operating the road is sufficient proof of its ownership (Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Mills, 42 Ill. 407); proof that defendant alone kept in repair the track and used it, although it was used by another company, is sufficient proof of defendant's ownership (Georgia Cent. R. Co. v. Wood, 129 Ala. 483, 29 So. 775); and proof that the train causing the injury was operated on defendant's track is sufficient proof that it was operated by defendant (Walsh v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 102 Mo. 582, 14 S. W. 873, 15 S. W. 757).

52. Chicago Gen. St. R. Co. v. Capek, 68 Ill. App. 500; Phillips v. New York Cent., etc., R. Co., 84 Hun (N. Y.) 412, 32 N. Y. Suppl. 299; Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Dessommes, (Tex. 1891) 15 S. W. 806.

53. See, generally, Trial.

54. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co. v. Callaghan, 157 Ill. 406, 41 N. E. 909 [affirming 50 Ill. App. 676]; Pennsylvania R. Co. v. Sellers, 127 Pa. St. 406, 17 Atl. 987.

In an action against a consolidated company for a tort of one of the constituent companies, if there is any evidence tending to show such consolidation prior to the institution of the action, it is error to direct the verdict for defendant. Zealy v. Birmingham R., etc., Co., 99 Ala. 579, 13 So. 118.

55. Chicago Great Western R. Co. v. Troup, 69 Kan. 854, 76 Pac. 859; Peabody v. Oregon R., etc., Co., 21 Oreg. 121, 26 Pac. 1053, 12 L. R. A. 823.

56. Georgia Cent. R. Co. v. Martin, 138 Ala. 531, 36 So. 426; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Ransom, 56 Kan. 559, 44 Pac. 6; In re Merrill, 54 Vt. 200; Kansas City, etc., R. Co. v. Stoner, 51 Fed. 649, 2 C. C. A. 437.

57. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Kansas City Suburban Belt R. Co., 78 Mo. App. 245; New York, etc., R. Co. v. Atlantic Refining Co., 129 N. Y. 597, 29 N. E. 829 [reversing 13 N. Y. Suppl. 466]; Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. East Tennessee, etc., R. Co., 60 Fed. 993, 9 C. C. A. 314.

58. See Carriers, 6 Cyc. 591, 622.

59. Brimmer v. Illinois Cent. R. Co., 101 Ill. App. 198, holding that as between one railroad company and the employees of another using the same or intersecting tracks, the company is only held to the rule of ordinary care.

60. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Kansas City, etc., R. Co., 78 Mo. App. 245; Louisville, etc.,

*By James A. Gwyn.

of another the latter owes the former no higher degree of care than to any other trespasser under the same circumstances.[61]

b. Rate of Speed.[62] In the absence of any statute or ordinance on the subject no particular rate of speed in running a railroad train is negligence per se,[63] although the rate of speed may be considered in connection with other circumstances in determining the issue of negligence.[64] When the rate of speed is expressly limited by statute or ordinance the operation of trains at a speed exceeding the rate prescribed is negligence per se,[65] and renders the company liable for injuries due to such excessive rate of speed,[66] and such regulations are not intended merely for the protection of the general public in crossing railroad tracks but apply to cases of collision between trains resulting in personal injuries to employees thereon,[67] or damages to the train.[68]

c. Collision of Trains on Same Track. A railroad company is conclusively presumed to know the whereabouts of all of its own trains,[69] and must exercise due care to avoid collisions between its trains upon the same track, and its servants must exercise due care in the observance of schedule time and all rules and orders designed for this purpose.[70] So an employee upon one train may in the absence of contributory negligence recover against the railroad company for injuries caused by a collision due to the negligence of those in charge of another of defendant's trains,[71] or due to the negligence of its train despatcher in sending out trains upon the same section of track without proper orders to prevent collisions; [72] and a person riding upon an engine by invitation of the engineer who had authority to issue such invitation may recover for injuries resulting from a collision due to the negligence of the engineer of the other train.[73] Where two railroad companies by agreement or otherwise are rightfully entitled to the use of the same track, each company is under the duty of exercising due care to avoid injury to the trains and property of the other or to persons rightfully on such trains.[74] So in case of

R. Co. v. East Tennessee, etc., R. Co., 60 Fed. 993, 9 C. C. A. 314.

61. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Kansas City, etc., R. Co., 78 Mo. App. 245.

62. Statutory and municipal regulations see supra, X, B, 4, c.

63. Southern Indiana R. Co. v. Messick, 35 Ind. App. 676, 74 N. E. 1097.

64. Southern Indiana R. Co. v. Messick, 35 Ind. App. 676, 74 N. E. 1097, holding, however, that where the only circumstance shown beside the speed of the train was that it was run backward, it was insufficient to show negligence in a case where a construction train while so operated was derailed and overturned injuring an employee thereon, it being shown that it was safe to run an engine in this manner and that the track was unobstructed.

65. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Mochell, 193 Ill. 208, 61 N. E. 1028, 86 Am. St. Rep. 318 [affirming 96 Ill. App. 178]; Gulf, etc., R. Co. v. Pendery, 14 Tex. Civ. App. 60, 36 S. W. 793.

Railroad companies must take notice of all valid speed ordinances of cities through which their roads run and are bound thereby without any special notice thereof to such corporations or their servants. Cent. R., etc., Co. v. Brunswick, etc., R. Co., 87 Ga. 386, 13 S. E. 520.

66. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Mochell, 193 Ill. 208, 61 N. E. 1028, 86 Am. St. Rep. 318 [affirming 96 Ill. App. 178]; Gulf, etc., R. Co. v. Pendery, 14 Tex. Civ. App. 60, 36 S. W. 793.

67. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co. v. Martin, 157 Ind. 216, 61 N. E. 229.

68. Central R., etc., Co. v. Brunswick, etc., R. Co., 87 Ga. 386, 13 S. E. 520.

69. Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Heck, 151 Ind. 292, 50 N. E. 988.

70. Chesapeake, etc., R. Co. v. Hoskins, 43 S. W. 484, 19 Ky. L. Rep. 1359.

Backing train to avoid collision.— Where a train without fault on the part of the engineer is caught between a train of an intersecting road upon a crossing in front and some detached cars approaching his train on the same track from the rear, so that a collision with the one or the other is inevitable, the engineer is not guilty of wilful negligence in choosing either alternative, and is not guilty of any negligence in backing his train into the approaching cars in order to avoid the collision in front if this course was under the existing circumstances likely to cause the least damage. Chesapeake, etc., R. Co. v. McMichael, 15 S. W. 878, 13 Ky. L. Rep. 758.

71. Chesapeake, etc., R. Co. v. Hoskins, 43 S. W. 484, 19 Ky. L. Rep. 1359.

72. Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Heck, 151 Ind. 292, 50 N. E. 988; Galveston, etc., R. Co. v. Arispe, 5 Tex. Civ. App. 611, 23 S. W. 928, 24 S. W. 33.

73. Whitehouse v. Grand Trunk R. Co., 29 Fed. Cas. No. 17,565, 2 Hask. 189.

74. Georgia Cent. R. Co. v. Martin, 138 Ala. 531, 36 So. 426; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Martin, 59 Kan. 437, 53 Pac. 461; In re Merrill, 54 Vt. 200; New York Cent. Trust collision or accident to trains where there is a joint use of the same track, the employees of one company may in the absence of contributory negligence recover against the other company for injuries due to negligence on the part of that company's servants in the operation of its trains,[75] or in violating rules and orders,[76] as in failing to send out flagmen or to otherwise warn other trains where a train is delayed,[77] or stopped at an unusual place,[78] or run backward,[79] or due to negligence on the part of its switchmen in the operation of switches controlling the use of such tracks,[80] or to negligence on the part of the company in failing to issue proper orders to its trainmen for the prevention of collisions with other trains.[81] The company guilty of such negligence will also be liable for injury to the trains of the other railroad company,[82] or to passengers thereon,[83] and to the other company for liabilities incurred by it to third persons growing out of the collision.[84] Where both companies were negligent a person injured by the collision may sue either, and the company sued cannot urge as a defense that the negligence of the other company exceeded its own.[85]

d. Collision of Trains at Railroad Crossings — (i) In General. It is the duty of those in control of trains moving upon intersecting lines of railway when approaching or passing a railroad crossing to exercise due care commensurate with the danger of the situation to prevent collisions.[86] Due care must also be used to avoid collisions with street cars at the crossing of a street railroad.[87] In Co. v. Denver, etc., R. Co., 97 Fed. 239, 38 C. C. A. 143.

75. Omaha, etc., R. Co. v. Morgan, 40 Nebr. 604, 59 N. W. 81; Gross v. Pennsylvania, etc., R. Co., 16 N. Y. Suppl. 616.

76. Jennings v. Philadelphia, etc., R. Co., 29 App. Cas. (D. C.) 219; Phillips v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 64 Wis. 475, 25 N. W. 544.

Private rules adopted for the regulation and government of trains and trainmen do not stand upon the same footing as statutes and municipal ordinances, and a compliance therewith does not necessarily constitute reasonable care, nor does a violation thereof necessarily constitute negligence as a matter of law; but it is negligence to stop a train at an unusual place without complying with the rule requiring that in such cases other trains must be protected by sending out flagmen or otherwise. Smithson v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 71 Minn. 216, 73 N. W. 853.

77. Phillips v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 64 Wis. 475, 25 N. W. 544.

78. Georgia Cent. R. Co. v. Martin, 138 Ala. 531, 36 So. 426; Smithson v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 71 Minn. 216, 73 N. W. 853.

79. Phillips v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 64 Wis. 475, 25 N. W. 544.

80. Smith v. New York, etc., R. Co., 19 N. Y. 127, 75 Am. Dec. 305; In re Merrill, 54 Vt. 200; Sawyer v. Rutland, etc., R. Co., 27 Vt. 370.

81. Nary v. New York, etc., R. Co., 9 N. Y. Suppl. 153 [affirmed in 125 N. Y. 759, 27 N. E. 408].

82. In re Merrill, 54 Vt. 200.

83. Eddy v. Letcher, 57 Fed. 115, 6 C. C. A. 276.

84. New York Cent. Trust Co. v. Colorado Midland R. Co., 89 Fed. 560.

85. Union R., etc., Co. v. Schacklet, 119 Ill. 232, 10 N. E. 896 [affirming 19 Ill. App. 145].

86. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Ransom, 56 Kan. 559, 44 Pac. 6; Kansas City, etc., R. Co. v. Stoner, 51 Fed. 649, 2 C. C. A. 437; Great Western R. Co. v. Brown, 3 Can. Sup. Ct. 159 [affirming 2 Ont. App. 64 (affirming 40 U. C. Q. B. 333)].

Duty to stop, look, and listen.— If other means are not provided to prevent collisions it is the duty of a person in charge of a train before crossing another railroad to stop, look, and listen for other trains and ascertain whether the crossing may be made in safety. Cleveland, etc., R. Co. v. Gray, 148 Ind. 266, 46 N. E. 675.

Where public notice of the schedule time of trains is required by statute to be given, one company whose road crosses the track of another at a point near a station of the latter will be held to a knowledge approximately of the time when that company's trains should arrive at the crossing and must use such reasonable precautions to avoid collisions as the circumstances demand. Missouri Pac. R. Co. v. Chicago Great Western R. Co., 98 Mo. App. 214, 71 S. W. 1081.

The fact that the air brakes failed to work will not relieve the company from liability if there were other appliances by which its servants might, by the exercise of ordinary care, have stopped the train and they failed to do so. Missouri, etc., R. Co. v. Ransom, 15 Tex. Civ. App. 689, 41 S. W. 826.

Backing train to avoid collision.— Where an engineer having passed one crossing backs his train to avoid a collision with a train upon a second intersecting line in front and strikes a train which had since come upon the first crossing, the company will be liable if there was sufficient room for defendant's train between the two intersections and the collision could have been avoided by due care in backing the train. Kansas City, etc., R. Co. v. Lackey, 114 Ala. 152, 21 So. 444.

87. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Smith, 124

the performance of this duty the train must, before reaching the crossing, be brought to a full stop if a statute so requires,[88] and in any case those in charge of the train must keep a proper lookout for trains upon the intersecting track,[89] and have their train under proper control so that if the necessity arises it can be promptly stopped.[90] In case of collision if only one company was negligent there can be no recovery against the other,[91] but if both were negligent they are both liable,[92] and persons injured thereby may recover against either the full amount of the damages sustained regardless of the negligence of the other;[93] and, in an action by a passenger against both companies for injuries due to a negligent collision at a crossing, it is no defense for one of defendants to show merely that the negligence of the other exceeded its own.[94]

(II) Right of Way Across Tracks. Where the roads of different railroad companies intersect, questions of precedence in the use of the crossing are generally regulated by statute or by agreement between the companies,[95] but if not so regulated each company has an equal right to the use of the crossing.[96] In the absence of any rule or agreement to the contrary, when two trains approach a crossing at the same time, the train which first reaches the stopping place and stops has the right of precedence in passing the crossing,[97] and it is negligence on the part of the servants of one railroad company to attempt to pass a railroad

Ill. App. 627 [affirmed in 226 Ill. 178, 80 N. E. 716]; Central Pass. R. Co. v. Kuhn, 86 Ky. 578, 6 S. W. 441, 9 Ky. L. Rep. 725, 9 Am. St. Rep. 309.

It is negligence where a railroad train approaches in the daytime a street railway crossing in the midst of a dense fog at a rapid rate of speed without giving due warning of its approach. Wabash R. Co. v. Barrett, 117 Ill. App. 315.

88. See infra, X, D, 1, d, (III).

89. Pratt v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 38 Minn. 455, 38 N. W. 356; Kansas City, etc., R. Co. v. Stoner, 51 Fed. 649, 2 C. C. A. 437.

90. Kansas City, etc., R. Co. v. Stoner, 51 Fed. 649, 2 C. C. A. 437.

91. Chesapeake, etc., R. Co. v. McMichael, 15 S. W. 878, 13 Ky. L. Rep. 758; Bunting v. Pennsylvania R. Co., 118 Pa. St. 204, 12 Atl. 448.

92. Washington, etc., R. Co. v. Hickey, 5 App. Cas. (D. C.) 436; Wabash, etc., R. Co. v. Shacklet, 105 Ill. 364, 44 Am. Rep. 791; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Smith, 124 Ill. App. 627 [affirmed in 226 Ill. 178, 80 N. E. 716]; Cincinnati, etc., R. Co. v. Acrea, 40 Ind. App. 150, 81 N. E. 213, 82 N. E. 1009; Baltimore, etc., R. Co. v. Kleespies, 39 Ind. App. 151, 76 N. E. 1015, 78 N. E. 252.

93. Kansas City, etc., R. Co. v. Stoner, 51 Fed. 649, 2 C. C. A. 437; Graham v. Great Western R. Co., 41 U. C. Q. B. 324.

A passenger of one railroad company may recover against another railroad company whose negligence contributes to cause a collision by which he was injured, although the company carrying him was also negligent (Wabash, etc., R. Co. v. Shacklet, 105 Ill. 364, 44 Am. Rep. 791; Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co. v. Spencer, 98 Ind. 186; Baltimore, etc., R. Co. v. Kleespies, 39 Ind. App. 151, 76 N. E. 1015, 78 N. E. 252; Holzab v. New Orleans, etc., R. Co., 38 La. Ann. 185, 58 Am. Rep. 177; Bunting v. Hogsett, 139 Pa. St. 363, 21 Atl. 31, 33, 34, 23 Am. St. Rep. 192, 12 L. R. A. 268; Parshall v. Minneapolis, etc., R. Co., 35 Fed. 649); and a passenger on a street car may recover against a railroad company whose negligence contributed to produce the injury, although those in charge of the street car were also negligent (Georgia Pac. R. Co. v. Hughes, 87 Ala. 610, 6 So. 413; Little Rock, etc., R. Co. v. Harrell, 58 Ark. 454, 25 S. W. 117; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Hines, 183 Ill. 482, 56 N. E. 177 [affirming 82 Ill. App. 488]); or were acting in violation of a contract between the companies as to the precautions to be taken by the employees of the street car company in the use of the crossing (Baltimore, etc., R. Co. v. Friel, 77 Fed. 126, 23 C. C. A. 77).

94. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Ransom, 56 Kan. 559, 44 Pac. 6.

95. See Missouri Pac. R. Co. v. Chicago Great Western R. Co., 98 Mo. App. 214, 71 S. W. 1081 [citing 3 Elliott Railroads, § 1133].

Under the Ohio statute where two trains of the same class approach a crossing at the same time on the main tracks the train of the company having the older right of way has precedence, but passenger trains have precedence over freight trains and regular trains on time take precedence over trains of the same class not on time or having no schedule time. Moulder v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co., 5 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 664, 1 Ohio N. P. 361.

96. Missouri Pac. R. Co. v. Chicago Great Western R. Co., 98 Mo. App. 214, 71 S. W. 1081.

As between a steam railroad and a street railroad the steam railroad has the right of way at a crossing. New York, etc., R. Co. v. New Jersey Electric R. Co., 60 N. J. L. 52, 37 Atl. 627, 38 L. R. A. 516.

97. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Chambers, 68 Fed. 148, 15 C. C. A. 327; Kansas City, etc., R. Co. v. Stoner, 51 Fed. 649, 2 C. C. A. 437.

crossing over which the other company has the right of way when a train of that company is approaching.[98] But on the other hand the company having the right of way cannot exercise such right where the engineer knows or has reason to believe that it will cause a collision,[99] or even rely absolutely upon a recognition and observance of his prior right by the other company;[1] and it is negligence on the part of the company having the right of way to attempt to pass the crossing without keeping a lookout for trains upon the other road,[2] or if such a train is approaching not to ascertain if it is going to stop,[3] or to proceed where it appears that it cannot or will not do so.[4]

(III) DUTY TO STOP BEFORE CROSSING.[5] The failure of a railroad company to bring its trains to a full stop before crossing the tracks of another railroad, if required by statute, is negligence per se,[6] whether there be any visible necessity for so doing or not,[7] and in the absence of contributory negligence renders the offending company liable for any damages directly caused by such omission,[8]

98. Chesapeake, etc., R. Co. v. McMichael, 15 S. W. 878, 13 Ky. L. Rep. 758; Davis v. Houston, etc., R. Co., 106 La. 81, 30 So. 250; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Chambers, 68 Fed. 148, 15 C. C. A. 327.

99. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Rockford, etc., R. Co., 72 Ill. 34.

1. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Ransom, 56 Kan. 559, 44 Pac. 6.

But if the other train has stopped as it was its duty to do, the engineer of the train having the right of way may reasonably presume that it will remain at its place until he has passed the crossing. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Chambers, 68 Fed. 148, 15 C. C. A. 327.

2. Pratt v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 38 Minn. 455, 38 N. W. 356.

3. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Ransom, 56 Kan. 559, 44 Pac. 6.

4. Pratt v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 38 Minn. 455, 38 N. W. 356.

5. Statutory and municipal regulations as to stopping trains before crossing other railroads see supra, X, B, 4, d.

6. Richmond, etc., R. Co. v. Freeman, 97 Ala. 289, 11 So. 800; San Antonio, etc., R. Co. v. Bowles, 88 Tex. 634, 32 S. W. 880.

Construction and application of statutes.— The fact that by stopping within one hundred feet of a crossing as required by statute the rear cars of a train would extend back crossing the track of another railroad does not relieve the company from the duty of stopping. Birmingham Mineral R. Co. v. Jacobs, 92 Ala. 187, 9 So. 320, 12 L. R. A. 830. Where the statute merely requires trains to be stopped before crossing another railroad but does not prescribe the distance from the crossing, they should be stopped at such a distance as under the circumstances common prudence would dictate as necessary to avoid a collision. Ft. Worth, etc., R. Co. v. Mackney, 83 Tex. 410, 18 S. W. 949. The Tennessee statute requiring trains on one railroad to stop before crossing the line of another has no application to the crossing by a steam railroad of an ordinary horse car line. Byrne v. Kansas City, etc., R. Co., 61 Fed. 605, 9 C. C. A. 666, 24 L. R. A. 693. The Wisconsin statute requiring trains approaching a railroad crossing to come to a stop "within four hundred feet thereof" does not require the train to be stopped when the engine reaches the four-hundred-foot post but somewhere between that post and the crossing. Lockwood v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 55 Wis. 50, 12 N. W. 401.

7. San Antonio, etc., R. Co. v. Bowles, 88 Tex. 634, 32 S. W. 880.

8. Richmond, etc., R. Co. v. Freeman, 97 Ala. 289, 11 So. 800; Grand Rapids, etc., R. Co. v. Ellison, 117 Ind. 234, 20 N. E. 135; Cincinnati, etc., R. Co. v. Acrea, 40 Ind. App. 150, 81 N. E. 213, 82 N. E. 1009; San Antonio, etc., R. Co. v. Bowles, 88 Tex. 634, 32 S. W. 880; Great Western R. Co. v. Brown, 3 Can. Sup. Ct. 159 [affirming 2 Ont. App. 64 (affirming 40 U. C. Q. B. 333)]; Graham v. Great Western R. Co., 41 U. C. Q. B. 324.

The train must be stopped near the crossing where the engineer can see if it is safe to cross, and it is gross negligence to stop a train at a distance of seven hundred feet from the crossing where the view of the intersecting road is obstructed and then proceed to cross without again stopping the train, although the engineer may have received a signal from another employee that the crossing was clear. Grand Rapids, etc., R. Co. v. Ellison, 117 Ind. 234, 20 N. E. 135.

The air brake should be applied at a sufficient distance from the crossing to enable the train to be stopped by the hand brakes in case the air brakes fail to work. Great Western R. Co. v. Brown, 3 Can. Sup. Ct. 159 [affirming 2 Ont. App. 64 (affirming 40 U. C. Q. B. 333)].

If the engineer is unable to stop by reason of a failure of the brakes to work, it is negligence for him to approach a crossing at which a train on an intersecting road is due without giving a warning of his approach, especially where a collision might have been anticipated on account of the view of the train being obstructed by a cut. Missouri, etc., R. Co. v. Settle, 19 Tex. Civ. App. 357, 47 S. W. 825.

Persons entitled to recover.— The statute requiring trains to be stopped before crossing another railroad is not intended solely for the protection of trains using the crossing and of persons, employees, and others or both companies in case each of two trains colliding at a crossing neglected to observe the precaution.[9] Merely stopping the train is not a sufficient precaution, but those in charge of the train must ascertain if the way is clear and proceed with due caution, keeping a careful lookout and with the train under proper control.[10] Where the rules of the company require its engineers to stop before crossing another railroad, it is their duty to obey such instructions, although signalled by another employee that the crossing is clear.[11]

(IV) LIGHTS, SIGNALS, GATES, AND FLAGMEN. A railroad company will be liable for injuries due to a collision caused by an engineer disregarding the warning of lights or signal devices at a crossing indicating that the crossing is occupied or that a train on the intersecting track has the right of way,[12] or his failure to observe such lights or signals and ascertain thereby whether he can cross with safety,[13] or for negligence on the part of its servants charged with the duty of giving the signals to trains at the crossing;[14] and where two intersecting roads establish a signal system for use at a crossing and each agrees to conform thereto, the company violating such agreement will be liable for any resulting injuries to the trains of the other, although the agreement contains no provision for indemnity in case of its violation.[15] Where a railroad crosses the track of a street railway it is negligence for a train to approach the crossing without giving a signal of its approach or other warning of danger,[16] particularly if it be dark or foggy so that the view of the train is obscured,[17] and at a crossing in a city which is much used and where street cars pass frequently it is negligence not to maintain gates or a flagman to prevent collisions therewith.[18] If gates are maintained, the railroad company will be liable for injuries resulting from collisions with street cars due to a failure to keep a servant to operate the gates,[19] or due to the negligence of its gatemen in not keeping a proper lookout for trains and cars and failing to lower the gates,[20] or operating the gates in a negligent or improper manner.[21]

rightfully on such trains, but for the protection of all persons rightfully within the region of danger created by a non-compliance with its requirements. Southern R. Co. v. Williams, 143 Ala. 212, 38 So. 1013, holding that a failure of a railroad company to stop at a crossing, whereby a train on the intersecting track is struck and overturned so as to injure a person rightfully walking by the side of the intersecting track, is negligence as to such person.

9. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co. v. Acrea, 40 Ind. App. 150, 81 N. E. 213, 82 N. E. 1009; San Antonio, etc., R. Co. v. Bowles, 88 Tex. 634, 32 S. W. 880.

The fact that another company was also negligent will not relieve defendant in an action against it alone if it was also negligent in failing to observe the precaution. Grand Rapids, etc., R. Co. v. Ellison, 117 Ind. 234, 20 N. E. 135.

10. Pratt v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 38 Minn. 455, 38 N. W. 356; Kansas City, etc., R. Co. v. Stoner, 51 Fed. 649, 2 C. C. A. 437.

11. Wood v. New York Cent., etc., R. Co., 70 N. Y. 195.

12. Baltimore, etc., R. Co. v. Kleespies, 39 Ind. App. 151, 76 N. E. 1015, 78 N. E. 252.

13. Cleveland, etc., R. Co. v. Gray, 148 Ind. 266, 46 N. E. 675, holding that the negligence of a railroad company in running into the train of another company at a crossing is not excused by the fact that the crossing signal lights were hidden by the train of the other company or obscured by an electric light near the crossing, or that a lantern on a platform was mistaken for a switch-light, since such surroundings could have been anticipated and only demanded extra precautions in approaching the crossing.

14. Wood v. New York Cent., etc., R. Co., 70 N. Y. 195; Hydell v. Toledo, etc., R. Co., 74 Ohio St. 138, 77 N. E. 1066.

15. New York, etc., R. Co. v. Grand Rapids, etc., R. Co., 116 Ind. 60, 18 N. E. 182.

16. Missouri, etc., R. Co. v. Batsell, (Tex. Civ. App. 1896) 34 S. W. 1047.

17. Wabash R. Co. v. Barrett, 117 Ill. App. 315.

18. Central Pass. R. Co. v. Kuhn, 86 Ky. 578, 6 S. W. 441, 9 Ky. L. Rep. 725, 9 Am. St. Rep. 309.

19. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Averill, 224 Ill. 516, 79 N. E. 654 [affirming 127 Ill. App. 275].

20. Washington, etc., R. Co. v. Hickey, 5 App. Cas. (D. C.) 436; Toledo Consol. St. R. Co. v. Fuller, 17 Ohio Cir. Ct. 562, 9 Ohio Cir. Dec. 123.

21. Washington, etc., R. Co. v. Hickey, 5 App. Cas. (D. C.) 436, holding that it is gross negligence for a gatekeeper at a crossing to let down the gates upon a passing street car when it is immediately upon the crossing with a train approaching on the other track, whereby an injury results to a passenger upon the street car.

Gatekeeper not negligent.— Where a railroad company's gatekeeper shut the east gate at a crossing behind a west-bound street car

(v) Obstructing Crossings. Where one railroad company negligently leaves cars standing so as to obstruct a railroad crossing it will, in case of a collision therewith and in the absence of contributory negligence, be liable for injuries to the employees upon the train of the intersecting road,[22] and also for the damages done to the train of that company.[23]

2. Defects and Obstructions — a. Defects in Road-Bed or Tracks. A railroad company will be liable for injuries occasioned by the wrecking or derailing of trains due to negligence on the part of the company in the construction of its road-bed, tracks, trestles, bridges, or culverts,[24] or in failing to keep the same in a safe and proper state of repair,[25] or to inspect them with sufficient care and frequency for the purpose of discovering defects therein.[26] In the case of injuries due to the washing away of culverts and embankments by floods and storms the company will be liable if negligent as to their original construction;[27] but not if they are so constructed as to withstand any dangers of this character reasonably to be apprehended and they are destroyed by floods or storms of unusual and unprecedented violence and there was no negligence in the operation of the train,[28] unless the company was negligent in failing to inspect the road-bed within a proper time after such floods or storms.[29]

b. Obstructions on Track — (i) In General. A railroad company will be liable for personal injuries to persons rightfully upon its trains due to its trains running into obstructions upon the track, where there was negligence in the operation of the train,[30] or negligence on the part of defendant in putting such obstrucas it crossed in front of an approaching train and attempted to shut the west gate but a car going east ran under the gate, making it impossible to close it, there was no negligence in raising the east gate to enable this car to escape although it was unable to do so and a collision occurred resulting in injury to a passenger on the street car. Renders v. Grand Trunk R. Co., 144 Mich. 387, 108 N. W. 368.

22. Albert v. Sweet, 116 N. Y. 363, 22 N. E. 762 [affirming 3 N. Y. St. 738], holding further that since the action of defendant was not a legitimate use of the crossing, the fact that it had no notice of the special train upon which plaintiff was employed would not affect its liability.

23. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Kansas City Suburban Belt R. Co., 78 Mo. App. 245.

24. Florida R., etc., Co. v. Webster, 25 Fla. 394, 5 So. 714; Toledo, etc., R. Co. v. Conroy, 68 Ill. 560; McPherson v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 97 Mo. 253, 10 S. W. 846; Philadelphia, etc., R. Co. v. Anderson, 94 Pa. St. 351, 39 Am. Rep. 787.

25. Florida R., etc., Co. v. Webster, 25 Fla. 394, 5 So. 714; Toledo, etc., R. Co. v. Conroy, 68 Ill. 560; Rutherford v. Shreveport, etc., R. Co., 41 La. Ann. 793, 6 So. 644.

Under the Indiana statute imposing upon railroad companies the duty of keeping in repair their tracks at the crossing of intersecting railroads, it is negligence per se to disregard this duty, rendering the company liable for injuries occasioned thereby. Indiana, etc., R. Co. v. Barnhart, 115 Ind. 399, 16 N. E. 121.

26. Toledo, etc., R. Co. v. Conroy, 68 Ill. 560; Libby v. Maine Cent. R. Co., 85 Me. 34, 26 Atl. 943, 20 L. R. A. 812; Hardy v. North Carolina Cent. R. Co., 74 N. C. 734.

At times or places of particular peril greater promptness and vigilance in inspecting a road-bed is required, as in the case of severe storms, and particularly at places most likely to be affected thereby. Libby v. Maine Cent. R. Co., 85 Me. 34, 26 Atl. 943, 20 L. R. A. 812.

27. Kansas Pac. R. Co. v. Miller, 2 Colo. 442; McPherson v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 97 Mo. 253, 10 S. W. 846; Philadelphia, etc., R. Co. v. Anderson, 94 Pa. St. 351, 39 Am. Rep. 787; Great Western R. Co. v. Braid, 9 Jur. N. S. 339, 8 L. T. Rep. N. S. 31, 1 Moore P. C. N. S. 101, 1 New Rep. 527, 11 Wkly. Rep. 444, 15 Eng. Reprint 640.

28. Libby v. Maine Cent. R. Co., 85 Me. 34, 26 Atl. 943, 20 L. R. A. 812; International, etc., R. Co. v. Halloren, 53 Tex. 46, 37 Am. Rep. 744; Withers v. Great Northern R. Co., 1 F. & F. 165, 3 H. & N. 969, 27 L. J. Exch. 417.

29. Libby v. Maine Cent. R. Co., 85 Me. 34, 26 Atl. 943, 20 L. R. A. 812.

The track should be inspected after every severe storm before a train is allowed to pass and if not done and injury results the company will be liable. Hardy v. North Carolina Cent. R. Co., 74 N. C. 734.

30. Kird v. New Orleans, etc., R. Co., 105 La. 226, 29 So. 729; Mexican Cent. R. Co. v. Lauricella, 87 Tex. 277, 28 S. W. 277, 47 Am. St. Rep. 103.

Where engineers are ordered to "slow up" and keep a sharp lookout at a particular place because of a previous malicious obstruction of the track at such place, there must be such a slowing up and degree of watchfulness as will prevent an accident in case of a subsequent obstruction. Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. McKenna, 13 Lea (Tenn.) 280.

tion on or so near the track as to be struck by passing trains,[31] or in failing to discover and remove the obstruction if put there by others.[32]

(II) ANIMALS. A railroad company will be liable for injuries to persons rightfully upon its trains caused by collisions with animals upon the track where there was negligence in the operation of the train,[33] or in allowing bushes to grow upon the right of way so as to conceal the presence of animals thereon,[34] or where the animal was upon the track because of a failure of the railroad company to construct or maintain fences and cattle-guards as required by statute,[35] or was negligently left on or near the track by the servants of the company after being wounded by another of defendant's trains.[36]

(III) LIABILITY OF PERSON CAUSING OBSTRUCTION — (A) In General.[37] A person who wrongfully or negligently obstructs a railroad track will, in the absence of contributory negligence on the part of the railroad company, be liable for injury done to its trains and property by collision with such obstruction;[38] but a private owner of cars who puts them on a railroad track by permission of and at a place designated by the agent of the company will not be liable for an injury to another employee of the company caused by a train colliding with such cars.[39]

(B) Permitting Animals to Be Upon Track.[40] In jurisdictions where it is lawful for stock to run at large the mere fact of permitting them to do so is not such negligence as to render the owner liable to a railroad company in case they wander upon an unfenced track and a collision occurs resulting in injury to the train,[41] but even where it is lawful for stock to run at large they may be permitted to do so under such circumstances as to render the owner liable to the railroad company on the ground of negligence,[42] and in the absence of contributory negligence on the part of the company it may recover for injuries to its trains against the owner of animals which are negligently allowed to run at large in violation of

31. Kird v. New Orleans, etc., R. Co., 105 La. 226, 29 So. 729.

32. Virginia Cent. R. Co. v. Sanger, 15 Gratt. (Va.) 230.

33. Arkansas.— St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Stewart, 68 Ark. 606, 61 S. W. 169, 82 Am. St. Rep. 311.

Illinois.— Atchison, etc., R. Co. v. Elder, 149 Ill. 173, 36 N. E. 565.

Indiana.— Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Grimm, 25 Ind. App. 608, 57 N. E. 640.

New York.— Brown v. New York Cent. R. Co., 34 N. Y. 404.

Texas.— Mexican Cent. R. Co. v. Lauricella, 87 Tex. 277, 28 S. W. 277, 47 Am. St. Rep. 103 [affirming (Civ. App. 1894) 26 S. W. 301].

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 935.

The fact that the animal was a trespasser upon the track is no defense in an action against a railroad company for injuries to a person on the train caused by a collision with the animal. Lackawanna, etc., R. Co. v. Chenewith, 52 Pa. St. 382, 91 Am. Dec. 168.

34. Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Ritter, 2 Ky. L. Rep. 385; Eames v. Texas, etc., R. Co., 63 Tex. 660.

35. Atchison, etc., R. Co. v. Elder, 149 Ill. 173, 36 N. E. 565; Blair v. Milwaukee, etc., R. Co., 20 Wis. 254. But see Buxton v. Northeastern R. Co., L. R. 3 Q. B. 549, 9 B. & S. 824, 37 L. J. Q. B. 258, 18 L. T. Rep. N. S. 795, 16 Wkly. Rep. 1124, holding that the duty to fence imposed by the English statute is for the benefit of adjoining landowners only and that in case of an injury to a passenger caused by a collision with an animal on the track the liability of the company will depend upon common-law principles.

If the railroad company is not required to fence its track, it will not, in the absence of other negligence, be liable for a personal injury due to a collision with an animal on the track and the fact that it has voluntarily fenced a part of its track imposes no obligation upon it to fence elsewhere. Tillotson v. Texas, etc., R. Co., 44 La. Ann. 95, 10 So. 400.

36. Mexican Cent. R. Co. v. Lauricella, 87 Tex. 277, 28 S. W. 277, 47 Am. St. Rep. 103 [affirming (Civ. App. 1894) 26 S. W. 301].

37. Criminal liability for wrecking or obstructing passage of trains see supra, X, B, 8, b, (II).

38. Montgomery Gas Light Co. v. Montgomery, etc., R. Co., 86 Ala. 372, 5 So. 735; Montgomery, etc., R. Co. v. Chambers, 79 Ala. 338; New York, etc., R. Co. v. Atlantic Refining Co., 129 N. Y. 597, 29 N. E. 829 [reversing 13 N. Y. 466].

39. Keeney v. Campbell, 215 Pa. St. 530, 64 Atl. 687.

40. Counter-claim in action for injury to animals see infra, X, H, 15, b.

41. Jenkins v. New Orleans, etc., R. Co., 15 La. Ann. 118. See also Savannah, etc., R. Co. v. Geiger, 21 Fla. 669, 58 Am. Dec. 697.

42. Hannibal, etc., R. Co. v. Kenney, 41 Mo. 271.

law,[43] or in the immediate vicinity of a dangerous crossing where it was probable that they would go upon the track;[44] but not if the railroad company was also negligent in the operation of the train;[45] nor can an employee of a railroad company who is injured by a collision of a train with an animal recover against the owner of the animal if it was upon the track by reason of the failure of the railroad company to fence its tracks as required by law.[46]

3. Negligence or Wrongful Acts of Employees or Third Persons — a. Incompetency, Negligence, or Misconduct of Employees. In case of injuries resulting from collisions or accidents to trains a railroad company is liable for the incompetency of its employees,[47] and for all acts done by them if within the scope of their employment,[48] although the particular act or means employed may have been unauthorized,[49] or even wilful or malicious;[50] but the company will not be liable for injuries resulting from unauthorized acts not within the scope of the servant's employment.[51]

b. Negligence or Wrongful Acts of Third Persons. A railroad company is not liable for injuries due to collisions or accidents to its trains caused by the negligent or wrongful acts of third persons not in the employ of the company and done without its knowledge or consent.[52]

4. Contributory Negligence. In case of damages or personal injuries growing out of collisions or accidents to trains, as in other cases, plaintiff cannot recover if his own negligence or wrongful act contributed directly to produce the injury complained of.[53] This rule applies to actions by one railroad company against

43. Annapolis, etc., R. Co. v. Baldwin, 60 Md. 88, 45 Am. Rep. 711.

44. Sinram v. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co., 28 Ind. 244.

45. Housatonic R. Co. v. Knowles, 30 Conn. 313.

46. Sherman v. Anderson, 27 Kan. 333, 41 Am. Rep. 414; Child v. Hearn, L. R. 9 Exch. 176, 43 L. J. Exch. 100, 22 Wkly. Rep. 864.

47. Grand Rapids, etc., R. Co. v. Ellison, 117 Ind. 234, 20 N. E. 135.

48. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co. v. Kirk, 102 Ind. 399, 1 N. E. 849, 52 Am. Rep. 675; New Orleans, etc., R. Co. v. Allbritton, 38 Miss. 242, 75 Am. Dec. 98; Snider v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 108 Mo. App. 234, 83 S. W. 530; Gross v. Pennsylvania, etc., R. Co., 16 N. Y. Suppl. 616.

49. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co. v. Kirk, 102 Ind. 399, 1 N. E. 849, 52 Am. Rep. 675.

50. New Orleans, etc., R. Co. v. Allbritton, 38 Miss. 242, 75 Am. Dec. 98.

51. Vormus v. Tennessee Coal, etc., Co., 97 Ala. 326, 12 So. 111; Stephenson v. Southern Pac. Co., 93 Cal. 558, 29 Pac. 234, 27 Am. St. Rep. 223, 15 L. R. A. 475; Snider v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 108 Mo. App. 234, 83 S. W. 530; Mars v. Delaware, etc., Canal Co., 54 Hun (N. Y.) 625, 8 N. Y. Suppl. 107.

52. Williams v. Woodward Iron Co., 106 Ala. 254, 17 So. 517; Keeley v. Erie R. Co., 47 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 256; Ebrigh v. Mineral R., etc., Co., (Pa. 1888) 15 Atl. 709; Bunting v. Pennsylvania R. Co., 118 Pa. St. 204, 12 Atl. 448; Latch v. Rumner R. Co., 3 H. & N. 930, 27 L. J. Exch. 155.

The failure of a railroad company to recover a switch key from a discharged employee is not of itself sufficient to render the company liable for the act of such person in maliciously misplacing a switch, in the absence of any reason to anticipate such conduct on his part. East Tennessee, etc., R. Co. v. Kane, 92 Ga. 187, 18 S. E. 18, 22 L. R. A. 315.

Where a railroad company permits third persons to place loaded cars upon a spur-track, it will be chargeable with the negligence of the servants of such third persons in placing the cars so near the main line as to be struck by trains passing thereon. Georgia Pac. R. Co. v. Underwood, 90 Ala. 49, 8 So. 116, 24 Am. St. Rep. 756.

53. Alabama.— Highland Ave., etc., R. Co. v. Fennell, 111 Ala. 356, 21 So. 324.

Georgia.— Central R., etc., Co. v. Brunswick, etc., R. Co., 87 Ga. 386, 13 S. E. 520.

Illinois.— Wabash R. Co. v. Zerwick, 74 Ill. App. 670.

Indiana.— Evansville, etc., R. Co. v. Krapf, 143 Ind. 647, 26 N. E. 901.

Massachusetts.— Fletcher v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 187 Mass. 463, 73 N. E. 552, 105 Am. St. Rep. 414.

Michigan.— Vreeland v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 109 Mich. 585, 67 N. W. 905.

Minnesota.— Mantell v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 33 Minn. 62, 21 N. W. 853.

New York.— Martus v. Delaware, etc., R. Co., 15 Misc. 248, 13 N. Y. Suppl. 417.

United States.— Griggs v. Houston, 104 U. S. 553, 26 L. ed. 840.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," §§ 940, 941.

Facts showing contributory negligence.—A bridge foreman of a railroad, familiar with the operation of the trains thereon, who while not in the performance of any duty for the company but in the pursuit of his own business goes upon the track at night on a hand car, showing no light, and is killed in a collision with a special train at a distance from any crossing, is guilty of contributory negligence and cannot recover against the another railroad company or street railroad company for damages to its trains,[54] by motormen and drivers of street cars against railroad companies,[55] by employees on the trains of one company against the other company,[56] and actions by railroad railroad company even though the train was negligently operated. Russell v. Oregon Short Line R. Co., 155 Fed. 22, 83 C. C. A. 618.

Facts not showing contributory negligence. — It is not contributory negligence on the part of a passenger on a street car to jump from the car in order to avoid a threatened collision, if in so doing he acted as a reasonably prudent person would have done under the circumstances, although it subsequently appears that if he had not done so he would not have been injured. Washington, etc., R. Co. v. Hickey, 5 App. Cas. (D. C.) 436. It is not contributory negligence for a passenger on a street car to sit reading a paper while the street car is about to cross a railroad track if there is nothing to warn him of danger. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Smith, 124 Ill. App. 627 [affirmed in 226 Ill. 178, 80 N. E. 716]. A passenger who sees a train approaching a crossing on an intersecting road is not guilty of contributory negligence in not pulling the bell rope to warn the engineer of danger. Grand Rapids, etc., R. Co. v. Ellison, 117 Ind. 234, 20 N. E. 135. It is not contributory negligence on the part of a railroad company, as between it and a person obstructing the track, not to keep a lookout for obstructions which it had no reason to anticipate or not to maintain watchmen to guard against obstructions; the high degree of care which it owes to its passengers not being required in protecting its own property against the wrongs of others which it has no reason to anticipate. New York, etc., R. Co. v. Atlantic Refining Co., 129 N. Y. 597, 29 N. E. 829 [reversing 13 N. Y. Suppl. 466].

54. Central R., etc., Co. v. Brunswick, etc., R. Co., 87 Ga. 386, 13 S. E. 520; New York, etc., R. Co. v. New Jersey Electric R. Co., 60 N. J. L. 52, 37 Atl. 627, 38 L. R. A. 516; Roganville Lumber Co. v. Gulf, etc., R. Co., 36 Tex. Civ. App. 563, 82 S. W. 816.

Facts not showing contributory negligence. — In an action by one railroad company against another for injury to its trains growing out of a collision, the action of plaintiff company in stopping its train upon a railroad crossing in accordance with a custom long acquiesced in by the other company is not contributory negligence which will preclude a recovery, where defendant company was negligent in sending out a train not equipped with proper brakes and in failing to stop before reaching the crossing as required by law (Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. East Tennessee, etc., R. Co., 60 Fed. 993, 9 C. C. A. 314); and if defendant's train was a trespasser upon plaintiff's track and was there without the knowledge of plaintiff, plaintiff will not be chargeable with contributory negligence, merely because of a failure on the part of its servants to keep a lookout and discover such train at the earliest opportunity, where there was no want of due care in attempting to avoid the injury after it was discovered (Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Kansas City, etc., R. Co., 78 Mo. App. 245).

55. Alabama.— Highland Ave., etc., R. Co. v. Fennell, 111 Ala. 356, 21 So. 324.

Indiana.—Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co. v. Browning, 34 Ind. App. 90, 71 N. E. 227.

Michigan.— Vreeland v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 109 Mich. 585, 67 N. E. 905.

Minnesota.— Mantell v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 33 Minn. 62, 21 N. W. 853.

New York.— Einsfield v. Niagara Junction R. Co., 49 N. Y. App. Div. 470, 63 N. Y. Suppl. 563; Martus v. Delaware, etc., R. Co., 15 Misc. 248, 36 N. Y. Suppl. 417.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," §§ 940, 941.

56. Alabama.— Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Mosby, 125 Ala. 341, 28 So. 43; Southern R. Co. v. Bryan, 125 Ala. 297, 28 So. 445.

Illinois.— Wabash R. Co. v. Zerwick, 74 Ill. App. 670.

Indiana.— Evansville, etc., R. Co. v. Krapf, 143 Ind. 647, 36 N. E. 901.

Michigan.— Kelly v. Duluth, etc., R. Co., 92 Mich. 19, 52 N. W. 81.

Minnesota.— Thompson v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 64 Minn. 159, 66 N. W. 265.

United States.— Northern Pac. R. Co. v. Cummiskey, 137 Fed. 508, 70 C. C. A. 92.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," §§ 940, 941.

A conductor of a railroad train who learns at a station that the train of another company preceding his upon the same track is behind time and only a few minutes ahead of his train is guilty of contributory negligence in not informing his engineer of this fact. Lake, etc., Michigan Southern R. Co. v. Hunter, 13 Ohio Cir. Ct. 441, 7 Ohio Cir. Dec. 206.

Facts not showing contributory negligence. — In an action by the engineer of one company against another company for personal injuries due to a collision, plaintiff is not guilty of contributory negligence because he failed to give the signals at public highway crossings or disregarded a municipal ordinance regulating the rate of speed, since such regulations are not intended for the prevention of collisions between trains (Georgia Cent. R. Co. v. Martin, 138 Ala. 531, 36 So. 426); or in failing to ascertain that defendant habitually ran its trains at a rate of speed in violation of an ordinance (Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co. v. Martin, 157 Ind. 216, 61 N. E. 229); and where one company is using the tracks of another under the rules and orders of the latter, and an engineer of the first under orders from the latter has placed his train upon a siding to await the passage of another train, it is not contributory negligence for him to leave his engine in charge of the fireman and go back into another car to confer with the conductor as to the operation of the train (Mintram v. New York, employees against third persons for injuries due to obstructing the tracks.[57] An employee of one company who was not himself negligent is not precluded from recovering against another company for its negligence by the fact that the negligence of a co-employee contributed to produce the injury.[58] Negligence on the part of plaintiff, in order to preclude a recovery, must contribute directly as a proximate cause of the injury,[59] and mere negligence on the part of plaintiff will not preclude a recovery for wanton or wilful misconduct on the part of defendant.[60]

5. Proximate Cause of Injury. In actions for damages or personal injuries due to collisions or accidents to trains, there can be no recovery, although defendant was negligent, unless such negligence was a proximate cause of the injury complained of;[61] but defendant's negligence will be held a proximate cause of any resulting injury occurring without the intervention of any independent agency which was the natural and probable result of such negligence.[62] It is not necessary etc., R. Co., 104 N. Y. App. Div. 38, 93 N. Y. Suppl. 331); nor is it contributory negligence per se for an engineer of one company to take a train into a switchyard of another over one track in contravention of a rule of the owner that such track shall be used only for outbound trains, he not having notice of the rule and there being evidence that it was not enforced but was habitually disregarded with the owner's knowledge and acquiescence (St. Louis Nat. Stock Yards v. Godfrey, 198 Ill. 288, 65 N. E. 90 [affirming 101 Ill. App. 40]); nor is it contributory negligence per se for an engineer to jump from his engine to avoid a threatened collision, although it subsequently appears that if he had not done so he would not have been injured (Jennings v. Philadelphia, etc., R. Co., 29 App. Cas. (D. C.) 219).

An engineer whose train has the right of way at a crossing has a right to presume that the other company will obey the law and stop its train, but it is negligence on his part, although having the right of way, to go upon the crossing in the face of facts reasonably indicating that it will not do so. Birmingham Mineral R. Co. v. Jacobs, 101 Ala. 149, 13 So. 408.

The degree of care which an employee upon one railroad must exercise in regard to his own safety against collisions with trains of another is merely ordinary care, and his conduct is not to be measured by that high degree of care which he is required to exercise for the safety of passengers upon his train. Thompson v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 71 Minn. 89, 73 N. W. 707.

57. Glover v. Scotten, 82 Mich. 369, 46 N. W. 936; Hanson v. Whalen, 110 N. Y. App. Div. 793, 97 N. Y. Suppl. 237.

The fact that an engineer jumped from his engine where a collision seemed imminent is not contributory negligence which will prevent a recovery against another railroad company which had left cars standing so as to obstruct the track, although it subsequently appears that if he had not done so he would not have been injured. Albert v. Sweet, 3 N. Y. St. 738 [affirmed in 116 N. Y. 363, 22 N. E. 762].

58. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Vipond, 212 Ill. 199, 72 N. E. 22 [affirming 112 Ill. App. 558]; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Raidy, 203 Ill. 310, 67 N. E. 783 [affirming 100 Ill. App. 506]; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Harrington, 192 Ill. 9, 61 N. E. 622 [affirming 90 Ill. App. 638]; Southern Indiana R. Co. v. Davis, 32 Ind. App. 569, 69 N. E. 550 [withdrawing former opinion in (App. 1903) 68 N. E. 191]; Ft. Worth, etc., R. Co. v. Mackney, 83 Tex. 410, 18 S. W. 949.

The fellow servant doctrine (see Master and Servant, 26 Cyc. 1276) has no application to actions for personal injuries not brought against the common master. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Raidy, 203 Ill. 310, 67 N. E. 783 [affirming 100 Ill. App. 506].

But if there was no negligence on the part of defendant company and the injury was due solely to the negligence of the co-employee of plaintiff, he is not entitled to recover. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. McKittrick, 78 Ill. 619.

59. Montgomery, etc., R. Co. v. Chambers, 79 Ala. 338; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Kansas City, etc., R. Co., 78 Mo. App. 245; Lonergan v. Erie R. Co., 67 N. Y. App. Div. 297, 73 N. Y. Suppl. 392 [affirmed in 173 N. Y. 616, 66 N. E. 1112].

60. Birmingham Southern R. Co. v. Powell, 136 Ala. 232, 33 So. 875.

61. Streets v. Grand Trunk R. Co., 76 N. Y. App. Div. 480, 78 N. Y. Suppl. 729 [affirmed in 178 N. Y. 553, 70 N. E. 1109]; Mars v. Delaware, etc., Canal Co., 8 N. Y. Suppl. 107; Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Doherty, (Tex. App. 1890) 15 S. W. 44.

Application of rule.—Where defendant was negligent in leaving an engine on a side-track unattended and with fire in it, such negligence was not the proximate cause of an injury to plaintiff, where the engine was moved to the main track by a wrong-doer and a collision ensued. Mars v. Delaware, etc., Canal Co., 8 N. Y. Suppl. 107. Where plaintiff's ice was destroyed by oil escaping from an oil tank car which was derailed without the fault of the railroad company, causing a leakage which it was unable to stop, plaintiff is not entitled to recover for alleged negligence in opening a valve in the tank where the oil which had previously escaped without the company's negligence was more than sufficient to destroy the ice. Commercial Ice Co. v. Philadelphia, etc., R. Co., 197 Pa. St. 238, 47 Atl. 205.

62. Bunting v. Hogsett, 139 Pa. St. 363, that the particular injury which in fact occurred should have been foreseen,[63] nor is it necessary that defendant's negligence to be a proximate cause should be the sole cause of the injury, a person being injured by the concurring negligence of two railroad companies being entitled to recover against either.[64] So also one railroad company, although negligent in stopping a train upon a crossing, may recover against another railroad company for damages to such train resulting from a collision if the servants in charge of defendant's train saw or could have seen the train and by the exercise of ordinary care could have avoided the collision.[65]

6. Actions — a. Pleading. In an action for damage to property or personal injuries growing out of collisions or accidents to trains, the complaint must allege sufficient facts to show a cause of action in favor of plaintiff against defendant,[66] must allege facts upon which issue can be taken and not mere inferences or arguments,[67] and must not be uncertain or repugnant in its allegations.[68] While there must be an allegation of negligence on the part of defendant,[69] a general allegation that the act which caused the injury was negligently done or omitted is sufficient without setting out the details of the negligence,[70] but the act complained of must be stated.[71] If, however, the complaint undertakes to define the particular negligence causing the injury, its sufficiency must be tested by these special allegations.[72] In most jurisdictions the complaint need not negative

21 Atl. 31, 33, 34, 23 Am. St. Rep. 192, 12 L. R. A. 268.

Where an engineer reversed and abandoned his engine to avoid a collision due to his negligence or the negligence of the company employing him, and after the collision the engine, being left without control, ran back and collided with another train, resulting in injury to a person thereon, the original negligence will be held a proximate cause of the injury resulting from the second collision. Nary v. New York, etc., R. Co., 9 N. Y. Suppl. 153; Bunting v. Hogsett, 139 Pa. St. 363, 21 Atl. 31, 33, 34, 23 Am. St. Rep. 192, 12 L. R. A. 268.

63. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co. v. Acrea, 40 Ind. App. 150, 81 N. E. 213, 82 N. E. 1009.

64. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Averill, 224 Ill. 516, 79 N. E. 654 [affirming 127 Ill. App. 275]; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Harrington, 192 Ill. 9, 61 N. E. 622 [affirming 90 Ill. App. 638]; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Hines, 183 Ill. 482, 56 N. E. 177 [affirming 82 Ill. App. 488]; Baltimore, etc., R. Co. v. Kleespies, 39 Ind. App. 151, 76 N. E. 1015, 78 N. E. 252.

65. Missouri Pac. R. Co. v. Chicago Great Western R. Co., 98 Mo. App. 214, 71 S. W. 1081.

66. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Marshall, 38 Ind. App. 217, 75 N. E. 973.

67. Evansville, etc., R. Co. v. Krapf, 143 Ind. 647, 36 N. E. 901.

68. Highland Ave., etc., R. Co. v. South, 112 Ala. 642, 20 So. 1003.

69. See Evansville, etc., R. Co. v. Krapf, 143 Ind. 647, 36 N. E. 901.

70. Georgia Cent. R. Co. v. Martin, 138 Ala. 531, 36 So. 426; Stephenson v. Southern Pac. R. Co., 102 Cal. 143, 34 Pac. 618, 36 Pac. 407; Evansville, etc., R. Co. v. Krapf, 143 Ind. 647, 36 N. E. 901; Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Jones, 108 Ind. 551, 9 N. E. 476; Ohio, etc., R. Co. v. Selby, 47 Ind. 471, 17 Am. Rep. 719; Southern Indiana R. Co. v. Messick, 35 Ind. App. 676, 74 N. E. 1097; Hannibal, etc., R. Co. v. Kenney, 41 Mo. 271.

Condition of track.— A complaint based upon negligence as to the condition of the track, resulting in the derailment of a train, which alleges that the track was "in bad condition and repair," is sufficiently specific as to the condition of the track. Ohio, etc., R. Co. v. Selby, 47 Ind. 471, 17 Am. Rep. 719.

71. See Stephenson v. Southern Pac. Co., 102 Cal. 143, 34 Pac. 618, 36 Pac. 407; Ohio, etc., R. Co. v. Selby, 47 Ind. 471, 17 Am. Rep. 719.

72. Highland Ave., etc., R. Co. v. South, 112 Ala. 642, 20 So. 1003; Baltimore, etc., R. Co. v. Kleespies, 39 Ind. App. 151, 76 N. E. 1015, 78 N. E. 252.

In an action against several railroad companies for injuries caused by collision a complaint is bad which sets out various acts of negligence, charging them against all of defendants indiscriminately without any particular act or omission being charged against any one or against all of defendants. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Marshall, 38 Ind. App. 217, 75 N. E. 973.

Failure to give signals.— A count alleging as a basis of defendant's negligence a failure to blow the whistle "and" ring the bell is demurrable where the statute requires only the one "or" the other and either is sufficient. Highland Ave., etc., R. Co. v. South, 112 Ala. 642, 20 So. 1003.

Violation of speed ordinance.— Where the complaint alleges negligence on the part of defendant in running a train at a rate of speed prohibited by a city ordinance, it is sufficient to aver the existence of the ordinance without filing a copy of it with the complaint. Madison, etc., R. Co. v. Taffe, 37 Ind. 361.

Failure to stop before crossing other railroad.— A complaint alleging negligence in contributory negligence on the part of plaintiff,[73] and no adverse presumption arises from a failure to do so;[74] but where such allegation is made or necessary, a general allegation that the injury occurred without any fault or negligence on the part of plaintiff is sufficient,[75] unless the inference of negligence arises as a necessary legal conclusion from the facts stated.[76] In an action by a passenger of one railroad company against another company for injuries caused by a collision, it is not necessary to allege that the company carrying plaintiff was without fault.[77]

b. Issues, Proof, and Variance — (i) IN GENERAL. To authorize a recovery there must be proof in support of all the material allegations of the complaint,[78] but an immaterial allegation not essential to establish the cause of action need not be proved.[79] The allegations and proof must correspond and any material variance is fatal to a recovery,[80] so that there can be no recovery on a different cause of action from that alleged in the complaint,[81] and if the complaint sets out the particular acts of negligence constituting such cause of action the issues must be restricted to the acts specified;[82] but no variance should be regarded as material where the allegations and proof substantially correspond or the variance was not such as to mislead or prejudice the other party.[83] Under a complaint alleging "wrongful, wanton, or intentional negligence" on the part failing to stop before crossing the tracks of another railroad as required by statute need not negative the exception made by a subsequent section of the statute as to crossings provided with interlocking switches. Cleveland, etc., R. Co. v. Gray, 148 Ind. 266, 46 N. E. 675.

Negligent operation of gates or switches.— In an action for personal injuries due to a collision between a train and a street car, caused by the negligent operation of the crossing gates, if the complaint alleges that the injury was caused by the negligence of defendant company and its servants and that there was negligence in the operation of the crossing gates, it is not necessary to make a specific averment that the gatekeeper was a servant of defendant or that the latter was bound to maintain the gates (Washington, etc., R. Co. v. Hickey, 5 App. Cas. (D. C.) 436); and in an action for injuries due to a car being derailed by a switch being left open and unlocked by defendant's servants it is not necessary to allege that it was the duty of defendant to keep the switch closed and locked (Chicago Terminal Transfer R. Co. v. Vandenberg, 164 Ind. 470, 73 N. E. 990).

73. Southern Indiana R. Co. v. Peyton, 157 Ind. 690, 61 N. E. 722; Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co. v. Browning, 34 Ind. App. 90, 71 N. E. 227. See also NEGLIGENCE, 29 Cyc. 575.

In Indiana it was formerly held that the complaint must negative contributory negligence on the part of plaintiff, a general allegation, however, being sufficient (Evansville, etc., R. Co. v. Krapf, 143 Ind. 647, 36 N. E. 901); but the rule was changed by statute in 1899 and the statute applies to causes of action existing at the time if the action was not commenced until after the statute took effect (Southern Indiana R. Co. v. Peyton, 157 Ind. 690, 61 N. E. 722).

74. Southern Indiana R. Co. v. Peyton, 157 Ind. 690, 61 N. E. 722.

75. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co. v. Martin, 157 Ind. 216, 61 N. E. 229; Evansville, etc., R. Co. v. Krapf, 143 Ind. 647, 36 N. E. 901.

76. See Evansville, etc., R. Co. v. Krapf, 143 Ind. 647, 36 N. E. 901.

77. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co. v. Spencer, 98 Ind. 186.

78. Heins v. Savannah, etc., R. Co., 114 Ga. 678, 40 S. E. 710.

79. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Vipond, 212 Ill. 199, 72 N. E. 22 [affirming 112 Ill. App. 558].

80. Alabama Great Southern R. Co. v. Hall, 105 Ala. 599, 17 So. 176, holding that where the complaint alleges that deceased was at the time of the accident engaged as a brakeman, proof that he was at the time acting as fireman constitutes a fatal variance.

81. Ely v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 77 Mo. 34.

82. Garven v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 100 Mo. App. 617, 75 S. W. 193.

83. Rio Grande Western R. Co. v. Rubenstein, 5 Colo. App. 121, 38 Pac. 76; Washington, etc., R. Co. v. Hickey, 5 App. Cas. (D. C.) 436.

There is no material variance between a complaint alleging an injury due to "the negligent and dangerous condition of defendant's roadbed" and proof of negligence on the part of defendant's section foreman in failing to inspect the track, all acts of defendant's employees tending to show negligence in relation to the condition of the track being but incidents of proof of the main fact alleged (Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Barron, 4 Tex. Civ. App. 546, 23 S. W. 537); and in an action by an employee of one railroad company against another company for personal injuries, where the complaint alleges negligence on the part of defendant, and the existence of a contract between the companies permitting plaintiff's employer to run its trains over defendant's tracks, the contract is material only for the purpose of showing that plaintiff was rightfully upon the track at the time of injury, and if this is shown a failure to prove the terms of the contract strictly as alleged is not material (Sawyer v. Rutland, etc., R. Co., 27 Vt. 370).

of defendant's employees, plaintiff may recover upon proof of wantonness or wilfulness not amounting to intentional wrong-doing.[84]

(II) EVIDENCE ADMISSIBLE UNDER PLEADINGS. Evidence to be admissible must conform to the allegations of the complaint, and if the complaint specifies the acts of negligence relied on evidence of negligence in other respects is not admissible,[85] but evidence of defects in the road-bed other than that alleged to have been the immediate cause of the injury complained of is admissible in support of an allegation of gross negligence as to the condition of the road-bed and a claim for exemplary damages.[86] An ordinance is not admissible in evidence unless specially pleaded if the action is based upon the ordinance, but is admissible in a common-law action as evidence of negligence, where the ordinance does not itself give the right of action but merely prescribes a duty to be performed.[87]

e. Evidence — (I) PRESUMPTIONS AND BURDEN OF PROOF. In the absence of statute, except in the case of actions by passengers against the company carrying them,[88] negligence on the part of defendant cannot be presumed from the mere fact of the collision or accident,[89] and the burden of proof is upon plaintiff to establish this fact.[90] Where contributory negligence on the part of plaintiff

84. Southern R. Co. v. Bonner, 141 Ala. 517, 37 So. 702.

85. Garven v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 100 Mo. App. 617, 75 S. W. 193.

Evidence held admissible under pleadings. — In case of collision between trains of two companies using the same track, where the complaint counts in a general way upon defendant's negligence in stopping its train without warning, and allowing it to be where it was run into by plaintiff's engine, it is proper for plaintiff to show that it was defendant's duty to send back a flagman to warn approaching trains, and testimony of a custom on well regulated railroads to do so is competent as tending to establish this duty. Georgia Cent. R. Co. v. Martin, 138 Ala. 531, 36 So. 426. Although in an action for injury to an engineer the complaint alleges negligence only as to the defective condition of the track, if defendant sets up contributory negligence on the part of plaintiff in the operation of the train, evidence is admissible on the part of plaintiff that an engineer in charge of another locomotive attached to the same train had full control over the train and air brakes. Southern Kansas R. Co. v. Sage, 43 Tex. Civ. App. 38, 94 S. W. 1074.

86. Texas, etc., R. Co. v. De Milley, 60 Tex. 194.

87. Mulderig v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 116 Mo. App. 655, 94 S. W. 801.

A copy of the ordinance need not be filed with the complaint but such ordinance is admissible under a general allegation of its existence where the action is not based upon the ordinance. Madison, etc., R. Co. v. Taffe, 37 Ind. 361.

88. See CARRIERS, 6 Cyc. 630, 631.

Application of rule as to passengers. — The rule that in case of a collision or the derailment of a train resulting in injury to a passenger on the train of defendant company, proof of such accident makes a prima facie case of negligence and places the burden upon defendant to rebut it, applies to injuries so caused to a mail agent riding in a postal car (Seybolt v. New York, etc., R. Co., 95 N. Y. 562, 47 Am. Rep. 75), or to an employee of an independent contractor riding on a construction train furnished to the contractor and controlled and operated by defendant railroad company (Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Conroy, 63 Miss. 562, 56 Am. Rep. 835).

89. Little Rock, etc., R. Co. v. Harrell, 58 Ark. 454, 25 S. W. 117; Brimmer v. Illinois Cent. R. Co., 101 Ill. App. 198; Southern Indiana R. Co. v. Messick, 35 Ind. App. 676, 74 N. E. 1097; Renders v. Grand Trunk R. Co., 144 Mich. 387, 108 N. W. 368.

90. Arkansas. — Little Rock, etc., R. Co. v. Harrell, 58 Ark. 454, 25 S. W. 117.

Illinois. — Brimmer v. Illinois Cent. R. Co., 101 Ill. App. 198.

Indiana. — Ohio, etc., R. Co. v. Selby, 47 Ind. 471, 17 Am. Rep. 719.

Kentucky. — Central Pass. R. Co. v. Kuhn, 86 Ky. 578, 6 S. W. 441, 9 Ky. L. Rep. 725, 9 Am. St. Rep. 309.

Michigan. — Renders v. Grand Trunk R. Co., 144 Mich. 387, 108 N. W. 368.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 945.

But see Thomas v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 91 Fed. 206.

In an action by a passenger against two railroad companies for injuries due to a collision alleged to have been caused by the negligence of both, the burden is upon the company carrying plaintiff to show the absence of negligence on its part and upon plaintiff to show negligence on the part of the other company. Central Pass. R. Co. v. Kuhn, 86 Ky. 578, 6 S. W. 441, 9 Ky. L. Rep. 725, 9 Am. St. Rep. 309. See also Little Rock, etc., R. Co. v. Harrell, 58 Ark. 454, 25 S. W. 117.

Under the Alabama statute proof of injury to persons or property by the train of a railroad company places the burden upon the company to show that the requirements of the preceding section of the statute were complied with, but this provision applies only to the requirements of that section (Ala. Code (1886), § 1144), and does not include the requirement of section 1145, that trains shall be stopped before crossing another railroad; the burden of proof being upon plaintiff in all is relied on as a defense, the burden is upon defendant to establish it,[91] but plaintiff's own evidence may be considered in determining this question and may be sufficient to show contributory negligence.[92]

(II) ADMISSIBILITY.[93] In actions growing out of collisions or accidents to trains the general rules as to the admissibility of evidence in civil actions apply.[94] The evidence, to be admissible, must be relevant to the matters in issue,[95] and evidence is not admissible of other distinct acts of negligence which could not have contributed to the injury complained of,[96] or of other wrecks or accidents occurring at other places;[97] but in case of accidents alleged to be due to defects in the track or switches, evidence is admissible of other accidents at the same place from the same cause if accompanied by proof that the condition existing at such times was substantially the same.[98] While generally speaking the evidence should be limited to the time, place, and circumstances of the particular accident complained of,[99] this rule cannot be applied with absolute strictness.[1] So in actions based upon a defective condition of the track, road-bed, switches, or signal devices, evidence as to their condition shortly before or after the accident is admissible as tending to show their condition at that time;[2] but the evi-cases except as to the requirements of section 1144. Georgia Pac. R. Co. v. Hughes, 87 Ala. 610, 6 So. 413.

91. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Weaver, 35 Kan. 412, 11 Pac. 408, 57 Am. Rep. 176; Gulf, etc., R. Co. v. Pendry, 87 Tex. 553, 29 S. W. 1038, 47 Am. St. Rep. 125 [reversing (Civ. App. 1894) 27 S. W. 213]; Waterman v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 82 Wis. 613, 52 N. W. 247, 1136.

92. Waterman v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 82 Wis. 613, 52 N. W. 247, 1136.

93. Evidence admissible under pleadings see supra, X, D, 6, b, (II).

94. See, generally, EVIDENCE, 16 Cyc. 1110; NEGLIGENCE, 29 Cyc. 606.

95. Ohio, etc., R. Co. v. Selby, 47 Ind. 471, 17 Am. Rep. 719; Bunting v. Pennsylvania R. Co., 118 Pa. St. 204, 12 Atl. 448.

Evidence as to the number of ties necessary to make a first-class road-bed is not admissible where there is no issue as to the sufficiency of the number of ties but only as to their defective condition. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Lewis, 145 Ill. 67, 33 N. E. 960 [affirming 48 Ill. App. 274].

Evidence of other floods occurring after the washing away of a bridge which is alleged to have been insufficient is not admissible. Kansas Pac. R. Co. v. Miller, 2 Colo. 442.

96. Little Rock, etc., R. Co. v. Harrell, 58 Ark. 454, 25 S. W. 117; Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Fox, 11 Bush (Ky.) 495.

Question to test memory of witness.— In an action for injuries caused by a defective or mismanaged switch, there was no prejudicial error in permitting defendant's switchman to be asked if he remembered a prior act of negligence on his part, where it appears that the question was asked only to test his memory which had seemed to be poor and nothing more was asked in regard to such negligence. Stodder v. New York, etc., R. Co., 50 Hun (N. Y.) 221, 2 N. Y. Suppl. 780 [affirmed in 121 N. Y. 655, 24 N. E. 1092].

97. Missouri Pac. R. Co. v. Mitchell, 75 Tex. 77, 12 S. W. 810; Fordyce v. Withers, 1 Tex. Civ. App. 540, 20 S. W. 766.

98. Morse v. Minneapolis, etc., R. Co., 30 Minn. 465, 16 N. W. 358, holding that evidence that other trains had missed the track at a particular switch, the defective condition of which is alleged to have caused the injury complained of, is competent as being in the nature of experiments to show the actual condition of the instrument alleged to be defective.

Successive breaking of rails at same place. — While disconnected acts of negligence, although of the same character, are not competent to show negligence in a particular case, yet in an action for negligence caused by a broken rail it is proper for the jury to consider the successive breaking of rails at the place of the accident within a short time, to indicate the condition of the track at that point and that the attention of the company had been called to its condition. Cleveland, etc., R. Co. v. Newell, 104 Ind. 264, 3 N. E. 836, 54 Am. Rep. 312.

99. Missouri Pac. R. Co. v. Mitchell, 75 Tex. 77, 12 S. W. 810.

1. Stoher v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 91 Mo. 509, 4 S. W. 389.

Lights shown by semaphore at a different crossing.— In the case of a collision at a crossing where one railroad crosses two other parallel railroads near together and the semaphore lights at each crossing are worked by the same lever, showing the same lights simultaneously at each, evidence is admissible as to a light shown at the crossing other than that at which the collision occurred as tending to show that there was the same signal at that crossing. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Vipond, 212 Ill. 199, 72 N. E. 22 [affirming 112 Ill. App. 558].

2. Stoher v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 91 Mo. 509, 4 S. W. 389; Stewart v. Everts, 76 Wis. 35, 44 N. W. 1092, 20 Am. St. Rep. 17.

Condition of semaphore.— Where a railroad crosses two other railroads which are near each other and the crossings are controlled by semaphores worked at the same time by the same lever, in case of a collision at the first crossing which results in destroying the semaphore at that crossing, and the condition

dence is not admissible if it relates to a time too remote to permit a just and fair inference that the condition was substantially the same at the time of the accident,[3] unless it is accompanied by other direct evidence to this effect.[4] It is also ordinarily held that evidence is not admissible as to defects in the track or road-bed at places other than that where the accident occurred and which it is not shown could have contributed to the injury complained of,[5] although they are in the same vicinity;[6] but where it is charged that defendant permitted its road to become wholly unsafe for travel over it and both actual and exemplary damages are claimed, evidence is admissible as to the general defective condition of the road,[7] and when the negligence alleged is in operating a train at a rapid speed over a defective track, plaintiff may show the condition of the track over which the train passed before reaching the place of accident.[8] Evidence of repairs or alterations made by the railroad company after the accident complained of is not admissible as evidence of a defective or insufficient condition existing at that time or an admission of negligence on the part of the company;[9] but such of the semaphore at the time of the accident is a material question, evidence of the condition of the semaphore at the other crossing shortly after the accident is admissible. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Vipond, 112 Ill. App. 558 [affirmed in 212 Ill. 199, 72 N. E. 22].

Condition of ties found near track.— Evidence is admissible as to the condition of cross ties found shortly after the accident at the place where it occurred and where the railroad company had repaired the track by putting in new ties. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Lewis, 145 Ill. 67, 33 N. E. 960 [affirming 48 Ill. App. 274].

3. Stoher v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 91 Mo. 509, 4 S. W. 389.

Broken rails in evidence.— In an action for injury due to the derailment of a train by a broken rail, it is not competent to introduce in evidence the pieces of the broken rail which had been exposed to the weather for six months after the accident. Stewart v. Everts, 76 Wis. 35, 44 N. W. 1092, 20 Am. St. Rep. 17.

4. Jacksonville Southeastern R. Co. v. Southworth, 135 Ill. 250, 25 N. E. 1093 [affirming 32 Ill. App. 307].

Although repairs have been made at the place of accident evidence is admissible as to the condition of the switch to which it was alleged the accident was due, if such evidence is accompanied by proof that its condition had not been affected by the repairs made and was substantially the same as at the time of the accident. Stodder v. New York, etc., R. Co., 50 Hun (N. Y.) 221, 2 N. Y. Suppl. 780 [affirmed in 121 N. Y. 655, 24 N. E. 1092].

5. Kentucky.— Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Fox, 11 Bush 495.

Minnesota.— Morse v. Minneapolis, etc., R. Co., 30 Minn. 465, 16 N. W. 358.

North Carolina.— Grant v. Raleigh, etc., R. Co., 108 N. C. 462, 13 S. E. 209.

Texas.— Missouri Pac. R. Co. v. Mitchell, 75 Tex. 77, 12 S. W. 810.

Wisconsin.— Stewart v. Evarts, 76 Wis. 35, 44 N. W. 1092, 20 Am. St. Rep. 17.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 946.

Where defendant assumes the burden of proof and its witnesses testify that the track at the place of the accident and in that vicinity was in good repair, plaintiff may in rebuttal not only show the defective condition of the track at the place of accident, but may also show its condition several hundred feet on either side thereof as corroborative. Ohio Valley R. Co. v. Watson, 93 Ky. 654, 21 S. W. 244, 14 Ky. L. Rep. 611, 40 Am. St. Rep. 211, 9 L. R. A. 310.

Where defendant immediately repaired the track at the place of accident so that plaintiff was unable to show its condition at that place, he is entitled to show its condition in the immediate vicinity as being some evidence, although not conclusive, as to the condition at the place of accident. Murphy v. New York Cent. R. Co., 66 Barb. (N. Y.) 125.

6. Morse v. Minneapolis, etc., R. Co., 30 Minn. 465, 16 N. W. 358.

7. Texas Trunk R. Co. v. Johnson, 86 Tex. 421, 25 S. W. 417 [disapproving in part (Civ. App. 1893) 25 S. W. 740]; Texas, etc., R. Co. v. De Milley, 60 Tex. 194.

8. Jacksonville Southeastern R. Co. v. Southworth, 135 Ill. 250, 25 N. E. 1093 [affirming 32 Ill. App. 307].

9. Morse v. Minneapolis, etc., R. Co., 30 Minn. 465, 16 N. W. 358 [overruling Kelly v. Southern Minnesota R. Co., 28 Minn. 98, 9 N. W. 588]; Hipsley v. Kansas City, etc., R. Co., 88 Mo. 348; Aldrich v. Concord, etc., R. Co., 67 N. H. 250, 29 Atl. 408; Texas Trunk R. Co. v. Ayres, 83 Tex. 268, 18 S. W. 684; San Antonio, etc., R. Co. v. Lynch, 8 Tex. Civ. App. 513, 28 S. W. 252; Fordyce v. Chancey, 2 Tex. Civ. App. 24, 21 S. W. 181; Fordyce v. Withers, 1 Tex. Civ. App. 540, 20 S. W. 766. But see St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Weaver, 35 Kan. 412, 11 Pac. 408, 57 Am. Rep. 176; Brehm v. Great Western R. Co., 34 Barb. (N. Y.) 256.

The reasons for this rule are that the fact of making changes or repairs after an accident does not necessarily tend to show any previous negligence, since accidents often reveal defects of such a character that the company was not chargeable with negligence in not sooner discovering them, or induce the company to adopt extraordinary precautions, and further that the admission of such testimony would be contrary to public policy as tending to prevent railroad companies from making repairs and adopting additional precautions after the happening of an accident, if such action on their part should be considered as an admission of guilt. Morse v. Minneapolis, etc., R. Co., 30 Minn. 465, 16 N. W. 358; Aldrich v. Concord, etc., R. Co., 67 N. H. 250, 29 Atl. 408.

evidence if properly limited to the purpose for which it is introduced is admissible to rebut evidence on the part of defendant that no repairs or alterations had been made after the accident,[10] or that the conditions causing the accident could not have been prevented,[11] or for the purpose of explaining other evidence.[12] A municipal ordinance limiting the rate of speed of trains is admissible upon the issue of defendant's negligence in the operation of the train,[13] and also upon the question of contributory negligence on the part of a person in charge of a street car in using a railroad crossing;[14] but such an ordinance is not admissible to charge an employee upon a train with contributory negligence where he had nothing to do with its operation.[15] Rules of the railroad company in regard to the operation of trains under conditions similar to those at the time the accident occurred are admissible,[16] but evidence is not admissible of rules adopted after the accident requiring certain precautions under similar conditions.[17] Rules made by a board of railroad commissioners governing the movement of trains at crossings are not admissible unless it is shown that they have been served upon or in some manner brought to the knowledge of the company against whom they are offered in evidence,[18] and the printed rules of the railroad company are not admissible to show contributory negligence on the part of an engineer in the absence of evidence that such rules were in force at the time of the injury and applied to the place where it occurred.[19] Upon the question of defendant's negligence in the operation of the train, evidence is admissible that defendant's engineer had been drinking;[20] and in the case of a collision between a train and a street car at a crossing, a contract between the companies providing that the street cars should be stopped and the way ascertained to be clear before crossing is admissible;[21] and in case of a collision between the trains of two companies in a switch yard, evidence of the environment and usual manner of conducting the business involved at the place of injury is competent as bearing upon the acts and conduct of the parties.[22] Testimony of a witness that just prior to an accident at a crossing the semaphore which was destroyed by the accident was in good working order is properly regarded as a statement of fact and not objectionable as a conclusion of the witness.[23]

(III) WEIGHT AND SUFFICIENCY. As to the weight and sufficiency of

The fact that a new bridge was constructed in a different manner from the one previously washed away, causing the injury complained of, cannot be taken as an admission that the first was negligently constructed. Kansas Pac. R. Co. v. Miller, 2 Colo. 442.

10. Fordyce v. Moore, (Tex. Civ. App. 1893) 22 S. W. 235; Fordyce v. Withers, 1 Tex. Civ. App. 540, 20 S. W. 766.

11. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Johnston, 78 Tex. 536, 15 S. W. 104.

12. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Johnston, 78 Tex. 536, 15 S. W. 104, holding that evidence of an alteration in the road at the place of accident is admissible where such testimony is offered for the purpose of explaining a photograph of the place taken after such changes were made which had been introduced in evidence.

13. Madison, etc., R. Co. v. Taffe, 37 Ind. 361.

14. Madison, etc., R. Co. v. Taffe, 37 Ind. 361.

15. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Vipond, 212 Ill. 199, 72 N. E. 22 [affirming 112 Ill. App. 558].

16. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Wiggins, (Tex. Civ. App. 1908) 107 S. W. 899; St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Andrews, 44 Tex. Civ. App. 426, 99 S. W. 871.

17. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Andrews, 44 Tex. Civ. App. 426, 99 S. W. 871.

18. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Ransom, 56 Kan. 559, 44 Pac. 6.

19. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co. v. Martin, 157 Ind. 216, 61 N. E. 229.

20. New York, etc., R. Co. v. Grand Rapids, etc., R. Co., 116 Ind. 60, 18 N. E. 182.

21. Connolly v. New York Cent., etc., R. Co., 35 N. Y. App. Div. 609, 55 N. Y. Suppl. 118.

22. St. Louis Nat. Stock Yards v. Godfrey, 198 Ill. 288, 65 N. E. 90 [affirming 101 Ill. App. 40].

23. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Vipond, 212 Ill. 199, 72 N. E. 22 [affirming 112 Ill. App. 558].

evidence the general rules in civil actions apply.[24] In order to authorize a verdict for plaintiff there must be some evidence tending to show negligence on the part of defendant and that such negligence was the cause of the injury complained of,[25] and where there is no evidence produced to sustain the material allegations of the complaint, a nonsuit is properly granted,[26] or the court may direct a verdict for defendant.[27]

d. Damages.[28] Exemplary damages may be allowed in case of gross negligence or wanton or wilful injury,[29] but not for errors in judgment or mere negligence.[30] In an action by a bridge foreman for loss of property on cars furnished him by the company in which to board his crew, caused by a collision, defendant's liability is limited to such property as was necessary to be carried in such cars for the work in which he was engaged.[31]

e. Questions For Jury. The case should be submitted to the jury if there is any evidence reasonably tending to support the issues made by the pleadings,[32] and the issue is for the jury wherever the evidence is conflicting or different conclusions might reasonably be drawn therefrom.[33] So it is ordinarily a question for the jury whether under all the facts and circumstances shown defendant was guilty of negligence,[34] and whether such negligence was a proximate cause

24. See, generally, EVIDENCE, 17 Cyc. 753; NEGLIGENCE, 29 Cyc. 621.

25. Southern Indiana R. Co. v. Messick, 35 Ind. App. 676, 74 N. E. 1097.

Evidence held sufficient to sustain a verdict based upon the negligently defective condition of defendant's road-bed (Booth v. Columbia, etc., R. Co., 6 Wash. 531, 33 Pac. 1075); to show that train was operated at a speed in violation of a city ordinance and that such speed was the cause of the injury (Walsh v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 102 Mo. 582, 14 S. W. 873, 15 S. W. 757); to show that defendant's servant was acting within the scope of his employment (Snider v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 108 Mo. App. 234, 83 S. W. 530); to support a finding that plaintiff was injured in the manner claimed by him and that the injury was not merely feigned as claimed by defendant (Baltimore, etc., R. Co. v. Kleespies, 39 Ind. App. 151, 76 N. E. 1015, 78 N. E. 252); to sustain a finding that plaintiff was not guilty of contributory negligence (Albert v. Sweet, 116 N. Y. 363, 22 N. E. 762); and to sustain a verdict on the ground that defendant could have avoided the collision by the exercise of proper care after the danger was discovered (Cincinnati, etc., R. Co. v. Shroder, 16 Ohio Cir. Ct. 636, 9 Ohio Cir. Dec. 208).

26. Heins v. Savannah, etc., R. Co., 114 Ga. 678, 40 S. E. 710.

27. Brimmer v. Illinois Cent. R. Co., 101 Ill. App. 198; Pennsylvania R. Co. v. Martin, 111 Fed. 586, 49 C. C. A. 474, 55 L. R. A. 361.

28. See, generally, DAMAGES, 13 Cyc. 1.

29. Richmond, etc., R. Co. v. Greenwood, 99 Ala. 501, 14 So. 495; Kansas Pac. R. Co. v. Miller, 2 Colo. 442.

In estimating damages on a judgment by default where the only question is the degree of defendant's culpability the jury may consider not only the particular acts of negligence which directly produced the injury, but also the prior negligence which led up to and produced the occasion for the negligence which directly caused the injury complained of. Kansas City, etc., R. Co. v. Sanders, 98 Ala. 293, 13 So. 57.

30. Kansas Pac. R. Co. v. Miller, 2 Colo. 442; Rutherford v. Shreveport, etc., R. Co., 41 La. Ann. 793, 6 So. 644.

31. St. Louis Southwestern R. Co. v. Henson, 61 Ark. 302, 32 S. W. 1079.

32. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Snyder, 128 Ill. 655, 21 N. E. 520; Wabash R. Co. v. Barrett, 117 Ill. App. 315; Wichita, etc., R. Co. v. Johnson, 47 Kan. 351, 27 Pac. 980; Robertson v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 160 Mass. 191, 35 N. E. 775; Albion Lumber Co. v. De Nobra, 72 Fed. 739, 19 C. C. A. 168; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Chambers, 68 Fed. 148, 15 C. C. A. 327.

33. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Snyder, 128 Ill. 655, 21 N. E. 520; Chicago Terminal Transfer R. Co. v. Vandenberg, 164 Ind. 470, 73 N. E. 990; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Chambers, 68 Fed. 148, 15 C. C. A. 327.

Signal lights at crossing.— Where the evidence is conflicting as to color of the signals displayed at a crossing, where it alleged that an engineer ran his train upon the crossing in disregard of the warning of such lights, the question is one of fact for the jury. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Vipond, 212 Ill. 199, 72 N. E. 22 [affirming 112 Ill. App. 558].

It is only where the facts are undisputed and are such that reasonable men may fairly draw but one conclusion from them that the question of negligence is ever considered one of law for the court. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Chambers, 68 Fed. 148, 15 C. C. A. 327.

34. Southern R. Co. v. Bonner, 141 Ala. 517, 37 So. 702; East Tennessee, etc., R. Co. v. Kane, 92 Ga. 187, 18 S. E. 18, 22 L. R. A. 315; Wabash R. Co. v. Barrett, 117 Ill. App. 315; Chicago Terminal Transfer R. Co. v. Vandenberg, 164 Ind. 470, 73 N. E. 990.

It is a question for the jury whether under the circumstances a railroad company was negligent in failing to recover a switch key from a discharged employee, who afterward of the injury complained of.[35] The same rule applies to the question of contributory negligence where the evidence relating thereto is conflicting or different conclusions might reasonably be drawn therefrom,[36] so that it is ordinarily also a question for the jury whether plaintiff was guilty of a failure to exercise due care under the circumstances which contributed to the injury complained of.[37] used it in maliciously misplacing a switch (East Tennessee, etc., R. Co. v. Kane, 92 Ga. 187, 18 S. E. 18, 22 L. R. A. 315); whether it was negligence for a railroad company to operate a train with the locomotive in the rear (Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Grimm, 25 Ind. App. 494, 57 N. E. 640); whether in case of injuries due to a collision with a switch engine, which defendant's engineer had abandoned to avoid another collision with a different train, the engineer should have heard the signals or was too hasty in abandoning his engine and leaving it under steam without control (Nary v. New York, etc., R. Co., 9 N. Y. Suppl. 153); or whether the rate of speed at which a train was operated at the time and place of an accident was under the circumstances of the case such as to constitute negligence (Wabash R. Co. v. Barrett, 117 Ill. App. 315); and where a train carrying petroleum was wrecked without negligence on the part of the company and the oil ran upon adjacent property, and continued to do so for several days after the wreck and after the company had repaired its tracks, and the company did nothing to stop the flow which caused injury to adjacent property, the question as to the company's negligence in failing to stop the flow of oil is for the jury (Houston, etc., R. Co. v. Anderson, 44 Tex. Civ. App. 394, 98 S. W. 440).

35. East Tennessee, etc., R. Co. v. Kane, 92 Ga. 187, 18 S. E. 18, 22 L. R. A. 315; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Averill, 224 Ill. 516, 79 N. E. 654 [affirming 127 Ill. App. 275].

Application of rule.— Where a collision due to negligence occurred at a station and an engine ran against the waiting-room, and plaintiff, who would not otherwise have been injured, was injured by falling while climbing out of the window to avoid the supposed danger, the fall being due to the crowding of other passengers, it is a question for the jury whether the collision was a proximate cause of the injury. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co. v. Acrea, 40 Ind. App. 150, 81 N. E. 213, 82 N. E. 1009.

36. District of Columbia.— Jennings v. Philadelphia,. etc., R. Co., 29 App. Cas. 219.

Illinois.— Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Harrington, 192 Ill. 9, 61 N. E. 622 [affirming 90 Ill. App. 638].

Maryland.—Baltimore, etc., R. Co. v. State, 104 Md. 76, 64 Atl. 304.

Missouri.— Threlkeld v. Wabash R. Co., 68 Mo. App. 127.

New York.— Harper v. Delaware, etc., R. Co., 22 N. Y. App. Div. 273, 47 N. Y. Suppl. 933.

United States.— St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Bishard, 147 Fed. 496, 78 C. C. A. 62; Albion Lumber Co. v. De Nobra, 72 Fed. 739, 19 C. C. A. 168; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Chambers, 68 Fed. 148, 15 C. C. A. 327.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 950.

37. Southern R. Co. v. Bonner, 141 Ala. 517, 37 So. 702; Birmingham Mineral R. Co. v. Jacobs, 101 Ala. 149, 13 S. W. 408; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Raidy, 203 Ill. 310, 67 N. E. 783 [affirming 100 Ill. App. 506]; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Harrington, 192 Ill. 9, 61 N. E. 622 [affirming 90 Ill. App. 638]; Lake Shore, etc., R. Co. v. Park, 131 Ill. 557, 23 N. E. 237 [affirming 33 Ill. App. 405]; Baltimore, etc., R. Co. v. State, 104 Md. 76, 64 Atl. 304; Robertson v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 160 Mass. 191, 35 N. E. 775.

It is a question for the jury whether an engineer was guilty of contributory negligence in failing to carry a headlight on his engine (Gross v. Pennsylvania, etc., R. Co., 16 N. Y. Suppl. 616); or in failing to stop his train before crossing another railroad as required by law (Lonergan v. Erie R. Co., 67 N. Y. App. Div. 297, 73 N. Y. Suppl. 392 [affirmed in 173 N. Y. 616, 66 N. E. 1112]); or in regard to the rate of speed at which he approached a crossing (Albert v. Sweet, 3 N. Y. St. 738 [affirmed in 116 N. Y. 363, 22 N. E. 762]); or in merely slowing down a train instead of bringing it to a full stop and listening for other trains before going upon a crossing (Kansas City, etc., R. Co. v. McDonald, 51 Fed. 178, 2 C. C. A. 153); or in jumping from his engine to avoid a threatened collision which did not in fact occur (Jennings v. Philadelphia, etc., R. Co., 29 App. Cas. (D. C.) 219); or whether plaintiff, a brakeman on a freight train, was under the circumstances guilty of contributory negligence in not jumping from the train in case of a collision (Hanson v. Minneapolis, etc., R. Co., 37 Minn. 355, 34 N. W. 223); or whether plaintiff, a member of a switching crew, was guilty of contributory negligence in riding on the front foot-board of the switch engine instead of on one of the cars (Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Harrington, 192 Ill. 9, 61 N. E. 622 [affirming 90 Ill. App. 638]); or whether plaintiff, a street-car driver, was guilty of contributory negligence in going upon a crossing, relying upon the absence of defendant's flagman from his post and the want of any danger signal from him as an assurance of safety (Richmond v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 87 Mich. 374, 49 N. W. 621); or relying upon the fact that the crossing gates were open and a signal from a person whom he supposed to be the gateman to cross (Evans v. Lake Shore, etc., R. Co., 88 Mich. 442, 50 N. W. 386, 14 L. R. A. 223); or relying upon the information given him by the conductor as to the absence of danger (Harper v. Delaware, etc., R. Co., 22 N. Y. App. Div. 273, 47 N. Y. Suppl. 933);

f. Instructions.[38] As in other cases, the instructions of the court must conform to and restrict the issues to the evidence,[39] must not be misleading,[40] or assume the existence of material facts in issue,[41] intimate an opinion upon the merits of the case,[42] or in any manner invade the province of the jury.[43] The instructions must correctly inform the jury as to the degree of care required by law in the particular case,[44] and where it is necessary to define the degrees of negligence requisite to authorize a recovery, such definitions must be correctly given.[45] An instruction is erroneous which authorizes a recovery upon a finding of negligence on the part of defendant without regard to whether such negligence was the cause of the injury complained of,[46] or without regard to the question of plaintiff's contributory negligence where the existence of such negligence is put in issue,[47] or which predicates a right of recovery upon a cause of action not stated in the complaint.[48] Requested instructions are properly refused if as applied to the facts of the case they fail to state the law correctly,[49] or are incomplete or obscure,[50] or are so worded as to be calculated to mislead the jury,[51] or if they are not based upon or authorized by the evidence,[52] or make defendant's ignorance whether a person riding on an engine was guilty of contributory negligence in not jumping from the engine in an effort to avoid the injury (Wabash, etc., R. Co. v. Shacklet, 105 Ill. 364, 44 Am. Rep. 791); or whether the conduct of plaintiff, a street-car conductor, in merely going upon a crossing to look out for trains instead of walking all the way across it, as required by an ordinance, was the proximate cause of his being injured by the collision (Southern R. Co. v. Jones, 143 Ala. 328, 39 So. 118); or whether a passenger in a waiting-room was guilty of contributory negligence in trying to climb out of a window when a collision occurred at the station and an engine ran against the building (Cincinnati, etc., R. Co. v. Acrea, 40 Ind. App. 150, 81 N. E. 213, 82 N. E. 1009).

The violation of a rule of a street railway by a motorman as to precautions to be taken at a railroad crossing is not necessarily as between him and the intersecting railroad company such contributory negligence as to preclude a recovery for injuries caused by a collision, but it is a question of fact whether the non-observance of such rule was a want of ordinary care under the circumstances. Threlkeld v. Wabash R. Co., 68 Mo. App. 127; San Antonio, etc., R. Co. v. Way, 9 Tex. Civ. App. 214, 29 S. W. 205.

Although an act may be negligence per se, as running a train at a rate of speed prohibited by an ordinance, such negligence does not as a matter of law preclude a recovery, but it remains as a question of fact for the jury whether such negligence contributed to produce the injury complained of. Lake Shore, etc., R. Co. v. Parker, 131 Ill. 557, 23 N. E. 237 [affirming 33 Ill. App. 405].

38. See, generally, TRIAL.

39. Mulderig v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 116 Mo. App. 655, 94 S. W. 801.

40. Little Rock, etc., R. Co. v. Harrell, 58 Ark. 454, 25 S. W. 117.

Instruction not misleading.— In an action against two railroad companies for injuries caused by a collision, an instruction that if the one company was "wholly at fault" and the other used reasonable care, to find for plaintiff against the one and in favor of the other, and vice versa, was proper, and the language "wholly at fault," used in the sense of "alone," was not calculated to be misunderstood as referring to the measure of care required to be used by defendants. Houston R. Co. v. Ross, (Tex. Civ. App. 1894) 28 S. W. 254.

41. Richmond, etc., R. Co. v. Greenwood, 99 Ala. 501, 14 So. 495; Baltimore, etc., R. Co. v. State, 104 Md. 76, 64 Atl. 304; Stoher v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 91 Mo. 509, 4 S. W. 389; Philadelphia, etc., R. Co. v. Boyer, 97 Pa. St. 91.

42. Central R., etc., Co. v. Roach, 64 Ga. 635.

43. Richmond, etc., R. Co. v. Greenwood, 99 Ala. 501, 14 So. 495; Smithson v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 71 Minn. 216, 73 N. W. 853; Philadelphia, etc., R. Co. v. Boyer, 97 Pa. St. 91; Gulf, etc., R. Co. v. Pendry, 87 Tex. 553, 29 S. W. 1038, 47 Am. St. Rep. 125 [reversing (Civ. App. 1894) 27 S. W. 213].

44. Ft. Worth, etc., R. Co. v. Enos, (Tex. Civ. App. 1898) 50 S. W. 595, holding that an instruction is erroneous which uses the term "proper care" without explaining the meaning of the term, leaving the jury to fix its own standard.

45. Missouri Pac. R. Co. v. Shuford, 72 Tex. 165, 10 S. W. 408.

46. Missouri Pac. R. Co. v. Shuford, 72 Tex. 165, 10 S. W. 408.

47. Wabash, etc., R. Co. v. Shacklet, 105 Ill. 364, 44 Am. Rep. 791.

48. Ely v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 77 Mo. 34.

49. Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Jones, 108 Ind. 551, 9 N. E. 476.

50. Southern R. Co. v. Bonner, 141 Ala. 517, 37 So. 702.

51. Birmingham Mineral R. Co. v. Jacobs, 101 Ala. 149, 13 So. 408; Kansas City, etc., R. Co. v. McDonald, 51 Fed. 178, 2 C. C. A. 153.

52. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Snyder, 128 Ill. 655, 21 N. E. 520; Missouri, etc., R. Co. v. Edling, 18 Tex. Civ. App. 171, 45 S. W. 406.

of the law an excuse for its violation,[53] or predicate plaintiff's right of recovery upon the negligence of one of defendant's servants alone to the exclusion of others whose negligence might have contributed to the injury;[54] but requested instructions which state the law correctly should be given,[55] although it is sufficient if they are covered by the general charge.[56]

g. Verdict and Findings. A special verdict should find facts only and not conclusions of law, and, to be sufficient, must state facts and circumstances from which the court can deduce negligence as a conclusion of law.[57] In case of a general verdict with special findings, all the presumptions are in favor of the general verdict, and if the two can be reconciled judgment must follow the general verdict;[58] but if the special findings are so inconsistent with the general verdict that they cannot be reconciled therewith on any reasonable hypothesis, then the facts so found will control the general verdict and the court must give judgment accordingly.[59]

h. Appeal and Error. It is not the province of an appellate court to weigh the evidence where it is conflicting,[60] and if there is any evidence tending to support the verdict or finding of the jury it will not be disturbed,[61] although the appellate court may be of the opinion that it is against the weight of evidence.[62] A general objection to the admission of evidence which does not assign any reason as to why it should have been excluded will not be considered.[63] A judgment will not be reversed for a technical error which was without prejudice to the complaining party,[64] as in refusing to allow a question put to one witness where appellant was subsequently permitted to prove the same fact by the testimony of other witnesses,[65] or on account of an instruction given which although erroneous imposes upon appellant a less degree of care than the law requires,[66] or the refusal of a requested instruction which was more onerous upon the party asking it than the instruction as given,[67] or for an inadvertent mistake in stating the law to the jury where the mistake was immediately and fully corrected by the rest of the charge.[68]

E. Injuries to Licensees, Trespassers, and Others on Railroad Premises Other Than at Crossings*[69]— 1. Status and Rights of Such Persons —a. Persons On or Near Tracks Generally — (i) In General. As a general rule a railroad track, except at public crossings or in public streets or highways, is the 53. Birmingham Mineral R. Co. v. Jacobs, 101 Ala. 149, 13 So. 408.

54. Birmingham Mineral R. Co. v. Jacobs, 101 Ala. 149, 13 So. 408.

55. Ely v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 77 Mo. 34.

56. Southern Kansas R. Co. v. Sage, 43 Tex. Civ. App. 38, 94 S. W. 1074.

57. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co. v. Spencer, 98 Ind. 186.

58. Grand Rapids, etc., R. Co. v. Ellison, 117 Ind. 234, 20 N. E. 135. See also Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Snyder, 128 Ill. 655, 21 N. E. 520.

59. Grand Rapids, etc., R. Co. v. Ellison, (Ind. 1888) 18 N. E. 507.

60. St. Louis Nat. Stock Yards v. Godfrey, 198 Ill. 288, 65 N. E. 90 [affirming 101 Ill. App. 40].

61. St. Louis Nat. Stock Yards v. Godfrey, 198 Ill. 288, 65 N. E. 90 [affirming 101 Ill. App. 40]; Chicago Terminal Transfer R. Co. v. Vandenberg, 164 Ind. 470, 73 N. E. 990; Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Jones, 108 Ind. 551, 9 N. E. 476; Booth v. Columbia, etc., R. Co., 6 Wash. 531, 33 Pac. 1075.

62. Booth v. Columbia, etc., R. Co., 6 Wash. 531, 33 Pac. 1075.

63. Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Jones, 108 Ind. 551, 9 N. E. 476.

64. Grant v. Raleigh, etc., R. Co., 108 N. C. 462, 13 S. E. 209; Lakin v. Oregon Pac. R. Co., 15 Oreg. 220, 15 Pac. 641; Kansas City, etc., R. Co. v. Stoner, 51 Fed. 649, 2 C. C. A. 437.

65. Grant v. Raleigh, etc., R. Co., 108 N. C. 462, 13 S. E. 209.

66. Houston City St. R. Co. v. Ross, (Tex. Civ. App. 1894) 28 S. W. 254.

67. Ft. Worth, etc., R. Co. v. Mackney, 83 Tex. 410, 18 S. W. 949.

68. Annas v. Milwaukee, etc., R. Co., 67 Wis. 46, 30 N. W. 282, 58 Am. Rep. 848.

69. Companies and persons liable for injuries see supra, X, C.

Injuries at crossings see infra, X, F.

Injuries to employees see Master and Servant, 26 Cyc. 1076.

Injuries to passengers see Carriers, 6 Cyc. 590.

Injuries to persons on highways or private premises near tracks see infra, X, G.

* By Henry H. Skyles.

exclusive property of the railroad company; and all persons who go upon the railroad company's tracks except at such places, without the company's express or implied permission, are trespassers, and subject to certain qualifications hereafter considered, do so at their own peril,[70] especially where a conveniently accessible place for crossing is provided or is used with the company's permission,[71] and this is expressly declared by statute in some jurisdictions.[72] A person may likewise

70. Alabama.— Birmingham R., etc., Co. v. Jones, (1907) 45 So. 177; Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Black, 89 Ala. 313, 8 So. 246.

Georgia.— Rome R. Co. v. Tolbert, 85 Ga. 447, 11 S. E. 840, walking through defendant's yard.

Illinois.— Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Godfrey, 71 Ill. 500, 22 Am. Rep. 112; Galena, etc., R. Co. v. Jacobs, 20 Ill. 478; Cleveland, etc., R. Co. v. Hibsman, 99 Ill. App. 405.

Iowa.— Wagner v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 122 Iowa 360, 98 N. W. 141.

Kentucky.— Shackleford v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 84 Ky. 43, 4 Am. St. Rep. 189; Hulsey v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 87 S. W. 302, 27 Ky. L. Rep. 969; Oatts v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 22 S. W. 330, 15 Ky. L. Rep. 87.

Massachusetts.— Wright v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 129 Mass. 440.

Missouri.— Isabel v. Hannibal, etc., R. Co., 60 Mo. 475.

New York.— Clarke v. New York Cent., etc., R. Co., 104 N. Y. App. Div. 167, 93 N. Y. Suppl. 525; Riordan v. New York Cent., etc., R. Co., 41 Misc. 399, 84 N. Y. Suppl. 1046.

Ohio.— Driscoll v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 1 Ohio Cir. Ct. 493, 1 Ohio Cir. Dec. 274.

Pennsylvania.— Philadelphia, etc., R. Co. v. Hummell, 44 Pa. St. 375, 84 Am. Dec. 457; Comly v. Pennsylvania R. Co., 9 Pa. Cas. 369, 12 Atl. 496.

Texas.— Bradley v. San Antonio, etc., R. Co., 80 Tex. 84, 16 S. W. 55; Houston, etc., R. Co. v. Boozer, 2 Tex. Unrep. Cas. 452.

Canada.— Grand Trunk R. Co. v. Anderson, 28 Can. Sup. Ct. 541 [reversing 24 Ont. App. 672]; Newell v. Canadian Pac. R. Co., 12 Ont. L. Rep. 21.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 1220.

Illustrations.— A former employee of the company who, after quitting its service and receiving his time check entitling him to transportation, does not leave within a reasonable time, but remains about the company's premises without business or lawful purpose, and not intending or expecting to take passage on a train, is a trespasser. Hern v. Southern Pac. Co., 29 Utah 127, 81 Pac. 902. So one who borrows a hand car for use on a railroad from an employee who is without authority to lend it is a mere trespasser. Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Wade, 46 Fla. 197, 35 So. 863. But where the right of way of a railroad intervenes between a street and private lot from which a person desires to set out, he is entitled to walk over the railroad track and his act in so doing is not contributory negligence barring recovery for negligence of the railroad company in running a train over him. Crawford v. Railroad Co., 5 Phila. (Pa.) 359.

A railroad as such is not necessarily a public highway.— Murch v. Concord R. Corp., 29 N. H. 9, 61 Am. Dec. 631.

A constitutional declaration that all railroads are public highways authorizes the use of railroad tracks by pedestrians. McClanahan v. Vicksburg, etc., R. Co., 111 La. 781, 35 So. 902. Contra, Hyde v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 110 Mo. 272, 19 S. W. 483.

That a railroad company does not own its right of way does not affect another's status as a trespasser. Dorsey v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 80 S. W. 1131, 26 Ky. L. Rep. 232.

A policeman, although authorized by the railroad company to patrol its tracks, is nevertheless a trespasser in walking thereon for his own convenience on his way to enter on the discharge of his duties. Pennsylvania Co. v. Meyers, 136 Ind. 242, 36 N. E. 32.

A quarantine guard whose duty it is to prevent unauthorized persons from passing a quarantine line across railroad tracks is not, as a matter of law, a trespasser on such tracks within a few feet of the line; it being reasonably made to appear that the railroad company was probably aware of his presence. Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Goulding, 52 Fla. 327, 42 So. 854.

The mere fact that it is difficult to determine where a highway ends and the right of way of the railroad company begins does not affect the question as to whether a particular person is a trespasser; nor is the fact that it may not have been the intention of such a person to become a trespasser material. Cleveland, etc., R. Co. v. Cline, 111 Ill. App. 416.

71. Wagner v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 122 Iowa 360, 98 N. W. 141; LeDuc v. New York Cent., etc., R. Co., 92 N. Y. App. Div. 107, 87 N. Y. Suppl. 364; Gunther v. New York Cent., etc., R. Co., 81 N. Y. App. Div. 606, 81 N. Y. Suppl. 395; Wilby v. Midland R. Co., 35 L. T. Rep. N. S. 244.

Crossing a track in a city at an opening in a train, at a point one hundred feet distant from the street crossing, is a trespass, where there is no evidence that such opening was made for pedestrians and that it was ever so used. Dahlstrom v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 96 Mo. 99, 8 S. W. 777.

The fact that a party from the nature of his employment is authorized to cross the track of a railroad will not warrant such crossing at a place other than that provided by the railroad or with its acquiescence. Morgan v. Pennsylvania R. Co., 7 Fed. 78, 19 Blatchf. 239.

72. See Morgan v. Wabash R. Co., 159 Mo. 262, 60 S. W. 195; Hyde v. Missouri Pac.

become a trespasser by lingering on the tracks at a place where he has a right of crossing.[73] A child, although non sui juris, may become a trespasser.[74] It has been held, however, that one who goes upon the track in case of an emergency, although without permission, is not a trespasser.[75] Nor is a person a trespasser if he has a right upon the track by reason of his contractual relations with the company,[76] or if he otherwise goes thereon on business connected with the railroad company.[77] A licensee on the railroad's premises is a person who being neither a passenger, servant, nor trespasser, nor standing in any contractual relation to the company, is expressly or impliedly permitted by the railroad company to come on its premises for his own convenience or gratification.[78] But if his being on the company's premises is for the company's interest or benefit, as well as for his own, he is more than a mere licensee, and is upon the premises by the company's invitation, express or implied.[79]

(II) Where Tracks Are On or Crossing Streets or Highways. As a general rule a person is not necessarily to be held a trespasser merely by reason of his being on railroad tracks at a public crossing,[80] and this is true

R. Co., 110 Mo. 272, 19 S. W. 483, under Rev. St. (1889) § 2611.

Under Mass. Pub. St. c. 112, §§ 195, 212, see McCreary v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 156 Mass. 316, 31 N. E. 126; Dillon v. Connecticut River R. Co., 154 Mass. 478, 28 N. E. 899.

73. Birmingham R., etc., Co. v. Jones, (Ala. 1907) 45 So. 177.

74. Baltimore, etc., R. Co. v. Bradford, 20 Ind. App. 348, 49 N. E. 388, 67 Am. St. Rep. 252; Missouri Pac. R. Co. v. Prewitt, 7 Kan. App. 556, 51 Pac. 923; Trudell v. Grand Trunk R. Co., 126 Mich. 73, 85 N. W. 250, 53 L. R. A. 271 (holding that a boy of a little over seven years of age playing on a railroad's right of way is a trespasser as a matter of law); Brague v. Northern Cent. R. Co., 192 Pa. St. 242, 43 Atl. 987.

75. Spooner v. Delaware, etc., R. Co., 115 N. Y. 22, 21 N. E. 696 (holding that a child who goes on a track to save younger children from danger, knowing that a train is coming, is not a trespasser); San Antonio, etc., R. Co. v. Gray, 95 Tex. 424, 67 S. W. 763 [reversing on other grounds (Civ. App. 1901) 66 S. W. 229] (going on track to rescue child).

76. Southern R. Co. v. Goddard, 121 Ky. 567, 89 S. W. 675, 28 Ky. L. Rep. 523; Houston, etc., R. Co. v. O'Donnell, 99 Tex. 636, 92 S. W. 409 [reversing on other grounds (Civ. App. 1905) 90 S. W. 886].

77. Shelby v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 85 Ky. 224, 3 S. W. 157, 8 Ky. L. Rep. 928.

One upon a side-track-seeking employment from a shipper of stock to feed and water his stock is there upon business indirectly connected with the railroad company and is not a trespasser. Shelby v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 85 Ky. 224, 3 S. W. 157, 8 Ky. L. Rep. 928.

Where one railroad company leases certain terminal tracks of another company, a person on such tracks in the course of business with the latter company is not a trespasser as to the leasing company. Connell v. Southern R. Co., 91 Fed. 466, 33 C. C. A. 633.

78. Northwestern El. R. Co. v. O'Malley, 107 Ill. App. 599; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Martin, 31 Ind. App. 308, 65 N. E. 591; McDermott v. New York Cent., etc., R. Co., 28 Hun (N. Y.) 325; Norfolk, etc., R. Co. v. Wood, 99 Va. 156, 37 S. E. 846.

One walking on a path between two railroad tracks on his own errand and on no invitation of the railroad company is a mere licensee. Yazoo, etc., R. Co. v. Metcalf, 84 Miss. 242, 36 So. 259.

Where the dangerous character of the place is manifest and obvious there can be no implied license to the public to cross the track either through open spaces left between the cars or over or under cars, and in order to render the company liable for injury caused to a person who was passing between two cars in such a yard and whose presence and danger were unknown to the agents and employees of the company, there must be proof of an express license from the company. Grady v. Georgia R., etc., Co., 112 Ga. 668, 37 S. E. 861.

Purpose immaterial.— A person otherwise a licensee is not a trespasser because he had gone to the place to see a fight. Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Ball, (Tex. Civ. App. 1903) 73 S. W. 420 [reversed on other grounds in 96 Tex. 622, 75 S. W. 4].

A person on a railroad right of way to drive his calves therefrom, whence they had escaped because of the railroad company's failure to provide proper cattle-guards, is at most an implied licensee. Thompson v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co., 226 Ill. 542, 80 N. E. 1054, 9 L. R. A. N. S. 672 [affirming 123 Ill. App. 47].

79. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Martin, 31 Ind. App. 308, 65 N. E. 591.

A person on the grounds of a railroad company by invitation of the company cannot be treated as a trespasser. Chicago Terminal Transfer R. Co. v. Kotoski, 101 Ill. App. 300 [affirmed in 199 Ill. 383, 65 N. E. 350].

80. Florida Cent., etc., R. Co. v. Williams, 37 Fla. 406, 20 So. 558; Fehnrich v. Michigan Cent. R. Co., 87 Mich. 606, 49 N. W. 890 [distinguishing Kelly v. Michigan Cent. R. Co., 65 Mich. 186, 31 N. W. 904, 8 Am. St. Rep. 876], holding that one using a street even though there is no necessity for his being there,[81] except where he is traveling along between the tracks and is on the crossing merely as an incident of his progress along the railroad.[82] Nor as a general rule is a person a mere licensee,[83] or trespasser in crossing,[84] or in walking along a track laid in a public street or highway,[85] especially where the tracks have been used by the public as a way for many years,[86] unless by the ordinance authorizing the location of the track the public is deprived of that part of the thoroughfare,[87] or unless the company has acquired the right to the exclusive use of the street by prescription.[88] It has been held, however, that a person is a trespasser in walking, without excuse, along a railroad spur track laid on the surface of a public alley,[89] and even in walking along the main line where the track is not imbedded so as to form a part of the roadway itself.[90] In the use of public streets and highways, trains and cars have the right of way over travelers on the highway, but in all other respects their rights to the use of the highway are equal.[91] for the purpose of travel has a right when he comes to a railroad track not merely to cross it squarely but to walk upon it in getting off the street to a more direct route; and he is not a trespasser so long as the track continues along the street. And see infra, X, F, 2.

A child playing on a railroad track where it crosses a street or public highway is not a trespasser. Krenzer v. Pittsburg, etc., R. Co., 151 Ind. 587, 43 N. E. 649, 52 N. E. 220, 68 Am. St. Rep. 252; Tobin v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., (Mo. 1891) 18 S. W. 996.

81. Florida Cent., etc., R. Co. v. Williams, 37 Fla. 406, 20 So. 558.

82. Cleveland, etc., R. Co. v. Hibsman, 99 Ill. App. 405; Robards v. Wabash R. Co., 84 Ill. App. 477; Kelly v. Michigan Cent. R. Co., 65 Mich. 186, 31 N. W. 904, 8 Am. St. Rep. 876.

Such a person may cease to be a trespasser if when entering upon the highway he changes his purpose and uses the street as an exit from the railroad grounds. Monahan v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 88 Minn. 325, 92 N. W. 1115.

83. Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Downey, 18 Ind. App. 140, 47 N. E. 494; Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co. v. Bennett, 9 Ind. App. 92, 35 N. E. 1033; Lampkin v. McCormick, 105 La. 418, 29 So. 952, 83 Am. St. Rep. 245.

84. Baltimore, etc., R. Co. v. Cumberland, 176 U. S. 232, 20 S. Ct. 380, 44 L. ed. 447 [affirming 12 App. Cas. (D. C.) 598], holding that a person is not ipso facto a trespasser in crossing railroad tracks laid through the streets of a city upon or substantially upon the level of the street although he crosses at any point where it is convenient for him to do so instead of going to the regular street crossing.

85. Illinois.— Illinois Terminal R. Co. v. Mitchell, 214 Ill. 151, 73 N. E. 449 [affirming 116 Ill. App. 90].

Indiana.— Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Phillips, 112 Ind. 59, 13 N. E. 132, 2 Am. St. Rep. 155; Manion v. Lake Erie, etc., R. Co., 40 Ind. App. 569, 80 N. E. 166; Pittsburg, etc., R. Co. v. Bennett, 9 Ind. App. 92, 35 N. E. 1033.

Kansas.— Kansas Pac. R. Co. v. Pointer, 9 Kan. 620.

Louisiana.— Lampkin v. McCormick, 105 La. 418, 29 So. 952, 83 Am. St. Rep. 245.

Missouri.— Morgan v. Wabash R. Co., 159 Mo. 262, 60 S. W. 195.

Pennsylvania.— Keller v. Philadelphia, etc., R. Co., 214 Pa. St. 82, 63 Atl. 413.

Texas.— Gulf, etc., R. Co. v. Walker, 70 Tex. 126, 7 S. W. 831, 8 Am. St. Rep. 582; Rio Grande, etc., R. Co. v. Martinez, 39 Tex. Civ. App. 460, 87 S. W. 853. See Galveston, etc., R. Co. v. Lewis, 5 Tex. Civ. App. 638, 25 S. W. 293.

United States.— Smith v. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co., 90 Fed. 783; Toledo, etc., R. Co. v. Chisholm, 83 Fed. 652, 27 C. C. A. 663. See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 1221.

The open spaces between railroad tracks on a public street are public places and persons occupying them are neither trespassers nor licensees. Lampkin v. McCormick, 105 La. 418, 29 So. 952, 83 Am. St. Rep. 245.

Railroad on platted land.— A person is a trespasser while walking on a track which is not within the limits of any city, although it is laid on land which had been platted as a street in a plan for laying out a town which was ineffectual, and there is no roadway on the track for the use of public travel, although people sometimes walk on the track or alongside of it. Chesapeake, etc., R. Co. v. See, 79 S. W. 252, 25 Ky. L. Rep. 1995.

86. Illinois Terminal R. Co. v. Mitchell, 214 Ill. 151, 73 N. E. 449. But see Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Miller, 12 Ind. App. 414, 40 N. E. 539.

87. Smith v. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co., 90 Fed. 783; Toledo, etc., R. Co. v. Chisholm, 85 Fed. 652, 27 C. C. A. 653.

Construction of ordinance as not indicating a purpose to deprive the public of all use of the ground on which the track was laid so as to make one there injured by a train a trespasser see Toledo, etc., R. Co. v. Chisholm, 83 Fed. 652, 27 C. C. A. 663.

88. Smith v. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co., 90 Fed. 783.

89. Montgomery v. Alabama Great Southern R. Co., 97 Ala. 305, 12 So. 170.

90. Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Hairston, 97 Ala. 351, 12 So. 299.

91. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co. v. Warrum,

(III) After Ejection or Alighting From Train. Although a person is wrongfully ejected from a railroad train, he is a trespasser if he walks along the railroad tracks to reach his destination,[92] except in so far as there is no other safe and convenient route from the point of his ejection.[93] Although in such case a person is excusable in using a track until he reaches a point where he can leave it,[94] he is at liberty to walk on the track no further than is absolutely necessary to enable him to reach a position of safety and it is his duty to use any means of egress from the track which would be made use of by a person of ordinary prudence for that purpose.[95] Likewise a passenger who by mistake alights from a train at a wrong place is a trespasser in going along the tracks to reach his destination;[96] but a passenger who is traveling on a drover's pass is not a trespasser in alighting and going along the tracks at a point where the train has stopped, to look after his stock.[97]

(IV) Customary Use of Tracks[98] — (A) In General. The status of one as a trespasser in going upon railroad tracks at a place other than at a public crossing, without express or implied permission, will not ordinarily be affected by the fact that he or others of the public have been accustomed to walk upon or cross the tracks at that place,[99] especially where repeated protests and warnings against such use have been given.[1] Nor as a general rule is the mere fact that the railroad company does not object or passively acquiesces in such custom

(Ind. App. 1907) 82 N. E. 934, (App. 1908) 84 N. E. 356; Jaffi v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 205 Mo. 450, 103 S. W. 1026.

Mutual rights.— In that part of a street or highway in which a railroad track is laid, subject to the reciprocal duty of being diligent to avoid probable danger, the public has the right to use the whole of the street or highway and the company has the right to operate its trains. Southern R. Co. v. Crenshaw, 136 Ala. 573, 34 So. 913; Johnson v. Texas, etc., R. Co., (Tex. Civ. App. 1907) 100 S. W. 206. The act of a railroad company in maintaining a platform in a public street, with the consent of the municipal authorities, does not exclude the public from passing over it; the rights of the railroad and the public being reciprocal. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co. v. Warrum, (Ind. App. 1907) 82 N. E. 934, (App. 1908) 84 N. E. 356.

92. Verner v. Alabama Great Southern R Co., 103 Ala. 574, 15 So. 872; Adams v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 104 S. W. 363, 31 Ky. L. Rep. 987.

93. Verner v. Alabama Great Southern R. Co., 103 Ala. 574, 15 So. 872.

94. Verner v. Alabama Great Southern R. Co., 103 Ala. 574, 15 So. 872.

95. Ham v. Delaware, etc., Canal Co., 142 Pa. St. 617, 21 Atl. 1012, 155 Pa. St. 548, 26 Atl. 757, 20 L. R. A. 682. See also Bourke v. Delaware, etc., R. Co., 1 Lack. Leg. Rec. (Pa.) 108.

96. Indiana R. Co. v. Fierick, 158 Ind. 621, 64 N. E. 221.

97. Elgin, etc., R. Co. v. Thomas, 215 Ill. 158, 74 N. E. 109.

98. As affecting duty of company to give signals and maintain lookouts see infra, X, E, 2, a, (VIII).

As contributory negligence see infra, X, E, 4, a, (I), (E).

99. Arkansas.—Adams v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 83 Ark. 300, 103 S. W. 725, on railroad trestle.

Illinois.— Eggmann v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 47 Ill. App. 507.

Kentucky.— Elliott v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 99 S. W. 233, 30 Ky. L. Rep. 471; Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Redmon, 91 S. W. 722, 28 Ky. L. Rep. 1293; Gregory v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 79 S. W. 238, 25 Ky. L. Rep. 1986.

Massachusetts.— Young v. Old Colony R. Co., 156 Mass. 178, 30 N. E. 560; Johnson v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 125 Mass. 75.

Missouri.— O'Donnell v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 7 Mo. App. 190.

New York.— Hickett v. New York, etc., R. Co., 10 N. Y. St. 398.

Pennsylvania.— Culp v. Delaware, etc., R. Co., 9 Kulp 174.

Texas.— St. Louis Southwestern R. Co. v. Shiflet, 98 Tex. 326, 83 S. W. 677.

Washington.— Hamlin v. Columbia. etc., R. Co., 37 Wash. 448, 79 Pac. 991.

Wisconsin.— Schug v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 102 Wis. 515, 78 N. W. 1090.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 1228.

One who sits on a railroad track and goes to sleep is a trespasser, although at a point where persons are accustomed to cross. Lyons v. Illinois Cent. R. Co., 59 S. W. 507, 22 Ky. L. Rep. 1032.

Where one in going from a depot walks down the track instead of taking a highway near by, he is a trespasser, and the fact that the track is a switch which many other people for years have used in preference to such highway is immaterial. Culp v. Delaware, etc., R. Co., 9 Kulp (Pa.) 174.

Neither an implied dedication nor a prescriptive right is proven by such a user by the public. Manion v. Lake Erie, etc., R. Co., 40 Ind. App. 569, 80 N. E. 166.

1. Denver, etc., R. Co. v. Buffehr, 30 Colo. 27, 69 Pac. 582.

sufficient to constitute such a person more than a trespasser,[2] or at most more than a mere licensee.[3] Where, however, the company's acquiescence is under circumstances, or is accompanied by acts which show an express or implied invitation or permission to so use the tracks, a person going thereon is more than a trespasser. In such case he is either a licensee,[4] or he has a right to be thereon by invitation.[5]

2. Alabama.— Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Mitchell, 134 Ala. 261, 32 So. 735; Glass v. Memphis, etc., R. Co., 94 Ala. 581, 10 So. 215.
Georgia.— Central R. Co. v. Brinson, 70 Ga. 207.
Illinois.— Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Eicher, 202 Ill. 556, 67 N. E. 376 [reversing 100 Ill. App. 599]; Blanchard v. Lake Shore, etc., R. Co., 126 Ill. 416, 18 N. E. 799, 9 Am. St. Rep. 630; Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Godfrey, 71 Ill. 500, 22 Am. Rep. 112.
Kentucky.— Brown v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 97 Ky. 228, 30 S. W. 639, 17 Ky. L. Rep. 145; Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Johnson, 97 S. W. 745, 30 Ky. L. Rep. 142; Chesapeake, etc., R. Co. v. Barbour, 93 S. W. 24, 29 Ky. L. Rep. 339; Beiser v. Chesapeake, etc., R. Co., 92 S. W. 928, 29 Ky. L. Rep. 249; Chesapeake, etc., R. Co. v. See, 79 S. W. 252, 25 Ky. L. Rep. 1995; Wilmurth v. Illinois Cent. R. Co., 76 S. W. 193, 25 Ky. L. Rep. 671; Chesapeake, etc., R. Co. v. Perkins, 47 S. W. 259, 20 Ky. L. Rep. 608.
Maryland.— Baltimore, etc., R. Co. v. State, 62 Md. 479, 50 Am. Rep. 233.
Massachusetts.— Wright v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 142 Mass. 296, 7 N. E. 866.
Minnesota.— Akers v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 58 Minn. 540, 60 N. W. 669.
Montana.— Eagan v. Montana Cent. R. Co., 24 Mont. 569, 63 Pac. 831.
New York.— Le Duc v. New York Cent., etc., R. Co., 92 N. Y. App. Div. 107, 87 N. Y. Suppl. 364.
Oregon.— Ward v. Southern Pac. Co., 25 Oreg. 433, 36 Pac. 166, 23 L. R. A. 715.
Texas.— St. Louis Southwestern R. Co. v. Shiflet, 98 Tex. 326, 83 S. W. 677; Missouri Pac. R. Co. v. Brown, (1891) 18 S. W. 670.
Canada.— Grand Trunk R. Co. v. Anderson, 28 Can. Sup. Ct. 541 [reversing 24 Ont. App. 672].
See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 1228.

Where a railroad track in a deep cut is fenced on both sides and is inclosed by iron cattle-guards at the crossing, the mere occasional passage of unauthorized pedestrians on the track there, with the knowledge of the company, is not sufficient to convert a trespasser there into a licensee. Goodman v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 116 Ky. 900, 77 S. W. 174, 25 Ky. L. Rep. 1086, 63 L. R. A. 657.

Where a third person with the railroad's acquiescence maintains a crossing for the convenience of his own business, it does not import an invitation or license to the public to use the crossing and one crossing the track by it is nevertheless a trespasser. Donnelly v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 151 Mass. 210, 24 N. E. 38.

Where the right of way is not on or parallel to an adjoining street, but is entirely inclosed to prevent its use by the public, its use by the public in sometimes passing that way does not amount to a license. Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Redmon, 122 Ky. 385, 91 S. W. 722, 28 Ky. L. Rep. 1293.

3. Smetanka v. New York Cent., etc., R. Co., 123 N. Y. App. Div. 323, 107 N. Y. Suppl. 973; Cleveland, etc., R. Co. v. Tartt, 64 Fed. 823, 12 C. C. A. 618, holding that one who walks along the track for his own convenience, without any invitation from the railroad company, although it has permitted others to walk along it, is at most a mere licensee.

4. Georgia.— Burton v. Western, etc., R. Co., 98 Ga. 783, 25 S. E. 736.
Montana.— Eagan v. Montana Cent. R. Co., 24 Mont. 569, 63 Pac. 831.
New York.— Swift v. Staten Island Rapid Transit R. Co., 123 N. Y. 645, 25 N. E. 378 [affirming 5 N. Y. Suppl. 316]; Best v. New York Cent., etc., R. Co., 117 N. Y. App. Div. 739, 102 N. Y. Suppl. 957.
Texas.— International, etc., R. Co. v. Ploeger, (Civ. App. 1905) 93 S. W. 226; Trinity, etc., R. Co. v. Simpson, (Civ. App. 1905) 86 S. W. 1034; Law v. Missouri, etc., R. Co., 29 Tex. Civ. App. 134, 67 S. W. 1025; Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Phillips, (Civ. App. 1897) 40 S. W. 344; Galveston, etc., R. Co. v. Lewis, 5 Tex. Civ. App. 638, 25 S. W. 293.
Wisconsin.— Delaney v. Milwaukee, etc., R. Co., 33 Wis. 67.
See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 1228.

Permission to special persons for the benefit and necessity of the railroad cannot be extended to those not in such relation to the company. Galena, etc., R. Co. v. Jacobs, 20 Ill. 478.

A daytime use of a railroad track by the general public does not establish a nighttime use. Frye v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 200 Mo. 377, 98 S. W. 566, 8 L. R. A. N. S. 1069.

A person walking on a track in a populous portion of a city, which track the public is accustomed to use as a footway, with the railroad company's acquiescence, is a licensee. Jones v. Charleston, etc., R. Co., 61 S. C. 556, 39 S. E. 758.

5. Young v. Old Colony R. Co., 156 Mass. 178, 30 N. E. 560; Lynch v. St. Joseph, etc., R. Co., 111 Mo. 601, 19 S. W. 1114; International, etc., R. Co. v. Ploeger, (Tex. Civ. App. 1905) 93 S. W. 226.

A mere permission or license to use the track is not an invitation. Wright v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 142 Mass. 296, 7 N. E. 866.

Circumstances not amounting to an invitation by the company to the public to use the tracks see Wright v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 142 Mass. 296, 7 N. E. 866; Devoe v. New York, etc., R. Co., 63 N. J. L. 276, 43 Atl. 899;

(B) Sufficiency of Permission by Railroad. As a general rule permission sufficient to constitute one a licensee, or more than a trespasser, may be inferred from facts and circumstances short of an actual invitation or consent on the part of the company.[6] But in order to warrant such an inference there must in general be a notorious and constant use of the tracks by the public,[7] and there must be a consent, either express or implied, by the railroad company to that use.[8] Such a license, whether express or implied, must proceed from the fact of someone having authority to grant it; and in the absence of proof it cannot be presumed that the servants of a railroad company who operate its trains have such authority.[9] It therefore cannot be implied from the mere fact that persons were accustomed to use the tracks as a passway,[10] or from mere sufferance or a passive acquiescence by a railroad company, in the occasional use of its tracks or right of way by pedestrians,[11] or from the further fact that the conductor or engineer of a train knew of such custom.[12] But its silence must be under circumstances which show an express or implied permission, or there must be some act on its part showing such permission or invitation.[13] In some jurisdictions, if the use of the tracks continues habitually, with the company's knowledge and without its objection for a long time,[14] as for twenty or more Hammill v. Pennsylvania R. Co., 56 N. J. L. 370, 29 Atl. 151, 24 L. R. A. 531. Where a railroad company ballasted its tracks within switch limits so as to prevent injury to its employees, and made no objection to the use by the public, of a pathway formed by the ballast, it cannot be considered as inviting the public to use the path and persons using it are mere licensees. Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Eicher, 202 Ill. 556, 67 N. E. 376 [reversing 100 Ill. App. 599].

That on two occasions a child was permitted by the railroad company to go on its track, while under the protection of an adult, will not permit an inference of an implied invitation to the child to go on the track unattended. Galena, etc., R. Co. v. Jacobs, 20 Ill. 478.

6. Thomas v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 103 Iowa 649, 72 N. W. 783, 39 L. R. A. 399.

7. Wagner v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 122 Iowa 360, 98 N. W. 141.

The path must be so well defined as to be an invitation to the public to cross, and its use so continuous that the company knew, or with care should have known, of such public use. Atchison, etc., R. Co. v. Potter, 64 Kan. 13, 67 Pac. 534, 56 L. R. A. 575.

8. Wagner v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 122 Iowa 360, 98 N. W. 141.

Where a railroad provides walks which it invites the public to take, it rebuts any notion that it consented to the use of the space between its tracks for public travel. Wagner v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 122 Iowa 360, 98 N. W. 141.

Only express consent will serve to license a thoroughfare under stationary cars. Central R., etc., Co. v. Rylee, 87 Ga. 491, 13 S. E. 584, 13 L. R. A. 634.

Consent.— Express consent is when the consent is actually proved to have been expressly granted by the party giving it; implied consent is when it is not so proved but is to be reasonably inferred or presumed from all the attending circumstances that the party at least tacitly assented to it. Patterson v. Philadelphia, etc., R. Co., 4 Houst. (Del.) 103.

9. St. Louis Southwestern R. Co. v. Shiflet, 98 Tex. 326, 83 S. W. 677.

10. St. Louis Southwestern R. Co. v. Shiflet, 98 Tex. 326 83 S. W. 677.

11. Chesapeake Beach R. Co. v. Donahue, 107 Md. 119, 68 Atl. 507.

12. St. Louis Southwestern R. Co. v. Shiflet, 98 Tex. 326, 83 S. W. 677.

13. See cases cited supra, notes 2–5.

14. Georgia.— Bullard v. Southern R. Co., 116 Ga. 644, 43 S. E. 39; Central R. Co. v. Brinson, 70 Ga. 207.

Illinois.—Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Murowski, 78 Ill. App. 661.

Indiana.— Cleveland, etc., R. Co. v. Adair, 12 Ind. App. 569, 39 N. E. 672, 40 N. E. 822.

Iowa.— Booth v. Union Terminal R. Co., 126 Iowa 8, 101 N. W. 147; Thomas v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 103 Iowa 649, 72 N. W. 783, 39 L. R. A. 399; Clampit v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 84 Iowa 71, 50 N. W. 673.

New Hampshire.— Minot v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 74 N. H. 230, 66 Atl. 825.

New York.— Swift v. Staten Island Rapid Transit R. Co., 123 N. Y. 645, 25 N. E. 378 [affirming 5 N. Y. Suppl. 316]; McCarty v. New York Cent., etc., R. Co., 73 N. Y. App. Div. 34, 76 N. Y. Suppl. 321.

South Carolina.— Matthews v. Seaboard Air Line Co., 67 S. C. 499, 46 S. E. 335, 65 L. R. A. 286.

Texas.— Gulf, etc., R. Co. v. Matthews, 99 Tex. 160, 88 S. W. 192, (Civ. App. 1905) 89 S. W. 983 [reversed on other grounds in 100 Tex. 63, 93 S. W. 1068]; Missouri, etc., R. Co. v. Snowden, 44 Tex. Civ. App. 509, 99 S. W. 865; Texas Midland R. Co. v. Byrd, 41 Tex. Civ. App. 164, 90 S. W. 185; Hutchens v. St. Louis Southwestern R. Co., 40 Tex. Civ. App. 245, 89 S. W. 24; St. Louis Southwestern R. Co. v. Bolton, 36 Tex. Civ. App. 87, 81 S. W. 123; Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Ball, (Civ. App. 1903) 73 S. W. 420 [reversed on other grounds in 96 Tex. 622, 75 S. W. 4]; years,[15] or even for a shorter length of time,[16] it is sufficient permission to constitute one so traveling a licensee or at least more than a mere trespasser, especially where there are no sign-boards or warnings against going on the tracks.[17]

(c) Effect of Sign-Boards and Warnings. As a general rule, pedestrians who use a railroad track as a thoroughfare, despite posted notices and other warnings forbidding it, are trespassers.[18] The existence of the sign-board or warning, however, is not conclusive that a person has no license to use the way;[19] and a license to use the tracks may be acquired by customary use, despite such sign-boards or warnings.[20]

(d) Violation of Statutes. The mere fact that walking upon railroad tracks is forbidden or made an offense by statute does not generally prevent a person from acquiring a license to go thereon with the express or implied permission of the railroad company,[21] although in some jurisdictions such a license cannot be acquired by mere user,[22] except in paths or ways about depot grounds.[23]

Gulf, etc., R. Co. v. Matthews, 28 Tex. Civ. App. 92, 66 S. W. 588, 67 S. W. 788.

Utah.— Young v. Clark, 16 Utah 42, 50 Pac. 832.

Virginia.— Norfolk, etc., R. Co. v. De Board, 91 Va. 700, 22 S. E. 514, 29 L. R. A. 825; Norfolk, etc., R. Co. v. Carper, 88 Va. 556, 14 S. E. 328.

Wisconsin.— Hooker v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 76 Wis. 542, 44 N. W. 1085.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 1229.

Where there is reason to presume that a railroad company had notice that persons were accustomed to walk on its track at a certain place, although no permission so to use it be shown, a person walking on such track is a licensee. Jones v. Charleston, etc., R. Co., 65 S. C. 410, 43 S. E. 884.

15. Barry v. New York Cent., etc., R. Co., 92 N. Y. 289, 44 Am. Rep. 377; Troy v. Cape Fear, etc., R. Co., 99 N. C. 298, 6 S. E. 77, 6 Am. St. Rep. 521; International, etc., R. Co. v. Woodward, 26 Tex. Civ. App. 389, 63 S. W. 1051; Virginia Midland R. Co. v. White, 84 Va. 498, 5 S. E. 573, 10 Am. St. Rep. 874.

16. Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Dick, 91 Ky. 434, 15 S. W. 665, 12 Ky. L. Rep. 772 (one year); Roth v. Union Depot Co., 13 Wash. 525, 43 Pac. 641, 44 Pac. 253, 31 L. R. A. 855 (four or five years).

17. Cahill v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 74 Fed. 285, 20 C. C. A. 184.

18. Koegel v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 181 Mo. 379, 80 S. W. 905; Hyde v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 110 Mo. 272, 19 S. W. 483; Smalley v. Southern R. Co., 57 S. C. 243, 35 S. E. 489; Hamlin v. Columbia, etc., R. Co., 37 Wash. 448, 79 Pac. 991.

A railroad employee passing along the track while off duty is not a trespasser within the meaning of a sign or warning forbidding, as trespassers, all persons except employees from going upon the tracks. International, etc., R. Co. v. Brooks, (Tex. Civ. App. 1899) 54 S. W. 1056.

19. O'Connor v. Boston, etc., R. Corp., 135 Mass. 352.

20. Murrell v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 105 Mo. App. 88, 79 S. W. 505; International, etc., R. Co. v. Brooks, (Tex. Civ. App. 1899) 54 S. W. 1056. See Smalley v. Southern R. Co., 57 S. C. 243, 35 S. E. 489; Hamlin v. Columbia, etc., R. Co., 37 Wash. 448, 79 Pac. 991.

Mere acquiescence on the part of the railroad company in the use of the track by foot travelers is not sufficient to make such a user a license to use the track for such purpose. Beiser v. Chesapeake, etc., R. Co., 92 S. W. 928, 29 Ky. L. Rep. 249.

21. Le May v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 105 Mo. 361, 16 S. W. 1049.

Although an ordinance makes it a misdemeanor to trespass on another's premises without his consent, a person, if run over by a train, while walking on a part of the railroad track habitually used as a footway with the knowledge of the railroad company, is not a trespasser and is therefore not guilty of a misdemeanor. Gulf, etc., R. Co. v. Matthews, 28 Tex. Civ. App. 92, 66 S. W. 588, 67 S. W. 788.

That the railroad company does not prosecute persons walking on its tracks in violation of statute (Me. Rev. St. c. 52, § 77) does not authorize persons to so use its tracks. Copp v. Maine Cent. R. Co., 100 Me. 568, 62 Atl. 735.

22. Anderson v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 87 Wis. 195, 58 N. W. 79, 23 L. R. A. 203, holding that, under Rev. St. § 1811, no mere user of a track by the public will raise an implied license to walk over a trestle one hundred and twenty feet long, unplanked, and so narrow as to leave no room to avoid a passing train.

Under N. Y. Laws (1892), c. 676, § 53, providing that no person other than those connected with the railroad shall walk upon the track, except where the same crosses the streets or highways, a presumptive right to cross the tracks of a railroad company at a point not a highway or street crossing cannot be acquired even by long user, where it is necessary to walk along the tracks of intersecting railroads to reach such point of crossing. Keller v. Erie R. Co., 183 N. Y. 67, 75 N. E. 965 [affirming 98 N. Y. App. Div. 550, 90 N. Y. Suppl. 236].

23. Mason v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 89 Wis. 151, 61 N. W. 300 (holding that Rev. St. § 1811, does not apply to a licensed path in or about depot grounds); Davis v. Chicago,

b. Persons at Stations — (1) In General. Railroad depot grounds and passenger houses, by reason of the general use to which they are appropriated, are quasi-public,[24] and a person going to such houses or passing over such depot grounds, in a proper manner and for a proper purpose,[25] as for the purpose of transacting business connected with the company,[26] or its employees,[27] or for the purpose of meeting friends or others arriving on trains,[28] or to see others depart,[29] or to take a train himself,[30] or for the purpose of passing over such grounds in going from one part of the city to another,[31] is not a trespasser, as the public is invited to use such places. But where one goes upon such grounds out of mere curiosity,[32] or for his own convenience for the transaction of business etc., R. Co., 58 Wis. 646, 17 N. W. 406, 46 Am. Rep. 667.

24. Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Hammer, 72 Ill. 347.

The platform of a railroad company at its station is not a public highway, but is a structure erected expressly for the accommodation of passengers arriving and departing on the trains of the company and, although other persons are usually allowed to walk over it, they have no right as against the company to do so. Gillis v. Pennsylvania R. Co., 59 Pa. St. 129, 98 Am. Dec. 317.

25. Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Hammer, 72 Ill. 347.

Where there is a habit of stopping trains to allow passengers to get on and off whenever signaled, the license to others than those operating trains to occupy the right of way extends only to passengers getting on or off trains. Matson v. Port Townsend Southern R. Co., 9 Wash. 449, 37 Pac. 705.

To read notice.— Where a railroad company is required by statute to post at the nearest station house a notice of the killing of stock by its trains, and one who missed some of his stock goes upon the platform of the station to read a notice posted there, taking another with him to do the reading, and such other in climbing up to get at the notice falls through a defective plank in the platform and is injured, the railway company is liable. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Fairbairn, 48 Ark. 491, 4 S. W. 50.

A person going to a station to mail letters at a mail car of a passing train is not a trespasser. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Parkinson, 56 Kan. 652, 44 Pac. 615.

A person who goes to a depot for a timetable is not a trespasser on the walk leading to the platform. Bradford v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 160 Mass. 392, 35 N. E. 1131.

A policeman whose habit is to visit the station at train time is a licensee. Ingalls v. Adams Express Co., 44 Minn. 128, 46 N. W. 325.

26. Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Hammer, 72 Ill. 347.

Where the only office of an express company is at the depot of a railroad company and the express company is under the control of the railroad company, one going to the depot on business connected with the express company is not a trespasser on the depot platform so as to relieve the railroad company from liability for an injury occurring to such person by reason of a defect in the platform. Smith v. Texas, etc., R. Co., 2 Tex. Unrep. Cas. 329.

Where a person owns and keeps a lunch stand at a railroad station by authority of the company which can be approached only over the company's platform, the company is responsible for its condition to persons passing over it to make purchases at the lunch stand. Dillingham v. Teeling, (Tex. Civ. App. 1894) 24 S. W. 1094.

Where notice from the defendant company that certain goods are at its depot is received by a person, he is a licensee in going through its freight room to see after such goods. Danville, etc., R. Co. v. Brown, 90 Va. 340, 18 S. E. 278.

27. Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Hammer, 72 Ill. 347. See also Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Willis, 123 Ky. 636, 97 S. W. 21, 29 Ky. L. Rep. 1187.

28. Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Hammer, 72 Ill. 347; Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Wall, 53 Ill. App. 588.

One who having an appointment with a passenger enters the company's premises intending in case the appointment be made to become a passenger himself is not a trespasser. Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Best, 66 Tex. 116, 18 S. W. 224.

29. Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Hammer, 72 Ill. 347; Lange v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 208 Mo. 458, 106 S. W. 660; Banderob v. Wisconsin Cent. R. Co., 133 Wis. 249, 113 N. W. 738.

A hackman carrying passengers to a railroad depot for transportation and aiding them to alight upon the platform of the company is as lawfully upon the same as the passengers alighting. Tobin v. Portland, etc., R. Co., 59 Me. 183, 8 Am. Rep. 415.

Where a child accompanies a passenger to a railroad station, and after the departure of the train, and while the child is standing on the platform, servants in charge of a locomotive cause steam to be discharged therefrom, causing the child to go upon one of the tracks in an attempt to escape from the steam, it is not a trespasser while upon such track. Lange v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 208 Mo. 458, 106 S. W. 660.

30. Matson v. Port Townsend Southern R. Co., 9 Wash. 449, 37 Pac. 705.

31. See Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Hammer, 72 Ill. 347; Redigan v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 155 Mass. 44, 28 N. E. 1133, 31 Am. St. Rep. 520, 14 L. R. A. 276.

32. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Fairbairn, 48 Ark. 491, 4 S. W. 50.

in no way connected with the railroad company,[33] no relation exists between him and the company which imposes upon the latter the duty of exercising even ordinary care for his protection. And so long as there is no provision or regulation, by virtue of statute, to the contrary, a railroad company may either exclude from its station or admit upon such conditions as may be thought fit any person not entering thereon for any of the authorized purposes above stated.[34]

(II) On Approaches to Stations.[35] A person is not a trespasser in going upon the accustomed approaches to stations,[36] even in going on or across tracks,[37] except where another place of approach is provided by the railroad company,[38] and except where the person going on the approaches has no business thereon connected with the company.[39] A person is even more than a mere licensee if in the course of business connected with the railroad company he is on an approach provided by the railroad company,[40] or if there is a necessity of using such approach, as in the case of going upon the tracks by reason of the fact that no other means of approach to the station is provided by the railroad company,[41] as in such cases it must be regarded that there is an invitation to use such approaches or tracks.

c. Persons on Trains. One who voluntarily boards a train on which he has no right, without permission, is a trespasser.[42] Where, however, he does so under 33. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Fairbairn, 48 Ark. 491, 4 S. W. 50; Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Lucas, 89 Miss. 411, 42 So. 607.

A person at a station house by mere permission or sufferance, and not for the purpose of transacting any business with the company or its agents or on any business connected with the operation of the road, cannot recover for an injury from its failure to exercise ordinary skill and care in the erection or maintenance of its station house. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co. v. Bingham, 29 Ohio St. 364.

A boarding-house keeper who goes to the depot to meet an incoming train solely on his own business, as for the purpose of securing a boarder, is entitled to no protection by the railroad company in respect to keeping its platform in a safe condition. Post v. Texas, etc., R. Co., (Tex. Civ. App. 1893) 23 S. W. 708.

One paying a friendly visit to a telegraph operator in a telegraph office owned and occupied by a railroad company for its own purposes and convenience, and which is located on its land and near its track, although occasionally messages are sent therefrom and received thereat for outside parties for pay, is at most a mere licensee. Woolwine v. Chesapeake, etc., R. Co., 36 W. Va. 329, 15 S. E. 81, 32 Am. St. Rep. 859, 16 L. R. A. 271.

34. Perth Gen. Station Committee v. Ross, [1897] A. C. 479, 66 L. J. P. C. 81, 77 L. T. Rep. N. S. 226.

Remedy.— If a member of the public believes that he has a right to use the station, and thinks that he has been unreasonably prevented from doing so by the company, his remedy is by an application to the railroad commissioners, or other proper authorities, and not by an action at law. Perth Gen. Station Committee v. Ross, [1897] A. C. 479, 66 L. J. P. C. 81, 77 L. T. Rep. N. S. 226.

35. Contributory negligence of passengers on approaches to stations see CARRIERS, 6 Cyc. 642.

36. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Hedges, 105 Ind. 398, 7 N. E. 801, holding that a person crossing a part of a railway track habitually used by the public in approaching the depot, with the knowledge and consent of the railway company, is not a trespasser.

One seeking to board a train as a passenger who follows a beaten path in an attempt to get on a train about to leave is not a trespasser, although the path is some feet away from the depot. Willis v. Vicksburg, etc., R. Co., 115 La. 53, 38 So. 892.

Permission to use a path along the tracks by persons going to and from trains is not sufficient to constitute one who goes along such path for the purpose of meeting a passenger who was expected to arrive an hour later, and whom he desired to see on business of his own, more than a mere licensee. Pennsylvania R. Co. v. Martin, 111 Fed. 586, 49 C. C. A. 474, 55 L. R. A. 361.

37. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Hedges, 105 Ind. 398, 7 N. E. 801; Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Hirsch, 69 Miss. 126, 13 So. 244.

38. See Adams v. New York, etc., R. Co., 21 N. Y. Suppl. 681.

39. James v. Illinois Cent. R. Co., 195 Ill. 327, 63 N. E. 153 [affirming 93 Ill. App. 294], holding that a person walking along railroad tracks adjacent to a railroad station in the hope of meeting a telegraph operator coming from his house is a trespasser.

40. Watkins v. Great Western R. Co., 46 L. J. C. P. 817, 37 L. T. Rep. N. S. 193, 25 Wkly. Rep. 905.

41. Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Hirsch, 69 Miss. 126, 13 So. 244.

42. Arkansas.— St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Ledbetter, 45 Ark. 246.

Indiana.— Jordan v. Grand Rapids, etc., R. Co., 162 Ind. 464, 70 N. E. 524, 102 Am. St. Rep. 217, holding that a boy eight years of age who climbs on a box car to look at a sale of stock in an adjacent stock-yard is a trespasser.

Louisiana.—Snyder v. Natchez, etc., R. Co., 42 La. Ann. 302, 7 So. 582.

the belief that he has a right to do so because of permission given him by a trainman or other employee of the railroad company, he is not a wilful trespasser,[43] although he is at most a mere licensee.[44]

d. Persons Working On or About Tracks or Cars. Where one is engaged on or about railroad tracks or cars in work which is mutually beneficial to himself and the railroad company, and his work requires him to go on such tracks or cars, his going thereon when required is generally held to be by the express or implied invitation of the railroad company, and he is neither a trespasser,[45] nor a mere Michigan.— Grunst v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 109 Mich. 342, 67 N. W. 335.

Mississippi.—Alabama, etc., R. Co. v. Livingston, 84 Miss. 1, 36 So. 256.

Where a person, although lawfully upon railroad premises, afterward intrudes upon cars of the company on which he has no business, he becomes a trespasser (Snyder v. Natchez, etc., R. Co., 42 La. Ann. 302, 7 So. 582), and especially is this the case where such intrusion is forbidden by the railroad company (see Snyder v. Natchez, etc., R. Co., supra).

Although the company has notice of his obtrusion, and does not object, and no injury is done to its property, the person so obtruding on a railroad may be a trespasser. Littlejohn v. Richmond, etc., R. Co., 49 S. C. 12, 26 S. E. 967.

Where a person not a passenger procures another who is a passenger to transport his baggage for him, such person is a trespasser in going on the train while assisting such passenger with the baggage, notwithstanding it is the company's custom to permit persons to assist passengers, with their baggage, into its trains. Andrews v. Ft. Worth, etc., R. Co., (Tex. Civ. App. 1894) 25 S. W. 1040.

43. Alabama, etc., R. Co. v. Livingston, 84 Miss. 1, 36 So. 256.

44. Powers v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 153 Mass. 188, 26 N. E. 446; Pettit v. Great Northern R. Co., 58 Minn. 120, 59 N. W. 1082. See also Creeden v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 193 Mass. 280, 79 N. E. 344, constable.

One who enters a train under an arrangement with certain trainmen to leave a lunch for them is a mere licensee as to the railroad company. Wencker v. Missouri, etc., R. Co., 169 Mo. 592, 70 S. W. 145.

An employee of an independent contractor with a railroad company, in going to and from his work on the company's train, with the permission of the company's employees operating it, and with the knowledge and acquiescence of its roadmaster, superintendent, and general manager, is not a trespasser as regards the care due him by the company. Gulf, etc., R. Co. v. Lovett, (Tex. Civ. App. 1903) 74 S. W. 570 [affirmed in 97 Tex. 436, 79 S. W. 514].

By carrying on its cars vendors of fruit, etc., for sale to passengers, a railroad company does not invite the public to enter its trains at stations for the sole purpose of making purchases, and the company's failure to object to persons frequently doing so does not create more than a permissive license. Peterson v. South, etc., R. Co., 143 N. C. 260, 55 S. E. 618, 8 L. R. A. N. S. 1240.

45. Illinois.— Southern R. Co. v. Drake, 107 Ill. App. 12, holding that employees of a railroad contractor working on a passage track constructed on the right of way of a railroad company are not trespassers while leaving a dirt train on the passage track and crossing the main track, where the passage track was located by the railroad company for the contractor's use, and such use was by the railroad's permission.

Indiana.—Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Pritchard. 168 Ind. 398, 79 N. E. 508, 81 N. E. 78, 9 L. R. A. N. S. 857 [affirming 39 Ind. App. 701, 78 N. E. 1044].

Kentucky.— Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Farris, 100 S. W. 870, 30 Ky. L. Rep. 1193.

Texas.— Texas, etc., R. Co. v. McDonald, (Civ. App. 1905) 85 S. W. 493, holding that an employee of a person engaged in unloading gravel from cars hauled by defendant company is not a trespasser in taking a seat on a tie at the noon hour with his back against a car.

United States.— St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Miles, 79 Fed. 257, 24 C. C. A. 559, employee of lumber company engaged about a spur track built from the line of a railroad on land of the lumber company for convenience in unloading lumber.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 1225.

A landowner charged with the repair of gates in fences along a railroad right of way crossing his land is not a trespasser, in being on the right of way while inspecting the gates. Houston, etc., R. Co. v. O'Donnell, (Tex. 1906) 92 S. W. 409 [reversing (Civ. App. 1905) 90 S. W. 886].

A track repairer going on the right of way after work hours with the foreman and other members of the gang to take a train to the next working place is not a trespasser. Swadley v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 118 Mo. 268, 24 S. W. 140, 40 Am. St. Rep. 366.

Where certain grounds are jointly occupied by two railroad companies so that the servants of each have to pass over the other's track in the discharge of their ordinary duties, the servants of neither company are trespassers as to the other. Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Frelka, 110 Ill. 498.

Employees's wife.— Where the wife of a railroad employee with the permission of the railroad company and at the suggestion of its agent, under whose orders such employee is working at the time, is on a visit to her husband upon a car on a side-track, she is not a trespasser. Campbell v. Harris, 4 Tex. Civ. App. 636, 23 S. W. 35.

licensee.[46] Nor is a person a trespasser or bare licensee in going upon the railroad tracks where it has been the custom for him to do so in the course of his duties, with the company's express or implied permission.[47] If, however, the work is beneficial to such person alone, or to his employer alone, he is upon the trains or cars at most as a licensee.[48] But if the character of his duties does not require that such person should go on the track or cars, his presence thereon without the company's permission, is a trespass,[49] or at most a bare license.[50] If one who has no interest in the work voluntarily assists railroad employees, either with or without their request, he is nevertheless a trespasser.[51] But if he has an interest in the work, and for his own convenience or to facilitate or expedite his own or his employer's work he assists the railroad employees, at their request or with their consent, he is more than a trespasser, and is entitled to protection against the carelessness of other servants.[52]

2. Care Required and Liability of Railroad Company — a. As to Persons On or Near Tracks Generally — (1) In General. To render a railroad company responsible for injury resulting from the operation of its trains, or otherwise, 46. Froelich v. Interborough Rapid Transit Co., 120 N. Y. App. Div. 474, 104 N. Y. Suppl. 910 (holding that an employee of a switch and signal company, which had a contract with defendant railroad company to install switches and signals, is not a mere licensee on defendant's tracks while engaged in work under that contract); Dempsey v. New York Cent., etc., R. Co., 81 Hun (N. Y.) 156, 30 N. Y. Suppl. 724; Conlan v. New York Cent., etc., R. Co., 74 Hun (N. Y.) 115, 26 N. Y. Suppl. 659 [affirmed in 148 N. Y. 748, 43 N. E. 986] (employee of a third person whose duty it was to receive unloaded cars delivered by defendant at such third person's elevator); Ominger v. New York Cent., etc., R. Co., 4 Hun (N. Y.) 159, 6 Thomps. & C. 498 (workman for a contractor employed by defendant railroad company to repair its track); Collins v. New York, etc., R. Co., 55 N. Y. Super. Ct. 31, 8 N. Y. St. 164 [affirmed in 112 N. Y. 665, 20 N. E. 413] (employee of one who has contracted to lay water-pipes in a railroad yard); Holmes v. North Eastern R. Co., L. R. 6 Exch. 123, 40 L. J. Exch. 121, 24 L. T. Rep. N. S. 69 [affirming 17 Wkly. Rep. 800]. See also Cincinnati, etc., R. Co. v. Rodes, 102 S. W. 321, 31 Ky. L. Rep. 430.

47. Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Hopkins, 200 Ill. 122, 65 N. E. 656 [affirming 100 Ill. App. 594], holding that where plaintiff had for eight years carried meals to mail clerks on defendant's railroad cars under an agreement with the clerks and with the knowledge and consent of defendant, he was on defendant's premises on its implied invitation in a matter in which it was interested and was not a mere licensee.

An employee of one railroad company is not a trespasser or bare licensee in going on the tracks of another railroad company in the course of his duties with such other company's express or implied permission. Watts v. Richmond, etc., R. Co., 89 Ga. 277, 15 S. E. 365; McMarshall v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 80 Iowa 757, 45 N. W. 1065, 20 Am. St. Rep. 445; Turner v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 158 Mass. 261, 33 N. E. 520.

48. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Martin, 31 Ind. App. 308, 65 N. E. 591 (employee of a stone company who continues his work on the stone on a car which is being moved by the railroad company in making up a train); Ownes v. Pennsylvania R. Co., 41 Fed. 187 (person engaged in business near a railroad track whose duties require him to pass from one side of the track to the other).

A person given leave by a yard master of a railroad company to learn the duties of a certain occupation in the railroad yard with the expectation that he will be taken into employment on becoming competent, with the right to devote as much or little time as he sees fit in acquiring the necessary knowledge, is a licensee. Collier v. Michigan Cent. R Co., 27 Ont. App. 630.

One who erects a movable platform on the right of way of a railroad company for his own convenience in unloading freight is a mere licensee and the company is not bound to see that the platform is so placed as not to be struck by a train. McCabe v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 88 Wis. 531, 60 N. W. 260.

That one has been employed by the owner to keep stock off the track does not save him from being a trespasser. Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Vittitoe, 41 S. W. 269, 19 Ky. L. Rep. 612.

49. Cleveland, etc., R. Co. v. Stephenson, 139 Ind. 641, 67 N. E. 720; Sweeney v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 128 Mass. 5.

50. Cleveland, etc., R. Co. v. Stephenson, 139 Ind. 641, 37 N. E. 720.

51. Welch v. Maine Cent. R. Co., 86 Me. 552, 30 Atl. 116, 25 L. R. A. 658.

The mere fact that a railroad employee requests a person to do some act connected with the management of the train does not render such person any the less a trespasser, unless the employee had express authority from the company to make the request. Kentucky Cent. R. Co. v. Gastineau, 83 Ky. 119.

52. Welch v. Maine Cent. R. Co., 86 Me. 552, 30 Atl. 116, 25 L. R. A. 658; Cleveland, etc., R. Co. v. Marsh, 63 Ohio St. 236, 58 N. E. 821, 52 L. R. A. 142; Bonner v. Bryant, 1 Tex. Civ. App. 269, 21 S. W. 549. See also Pennsylvania Co. v. Gallagher, 40 Ohio St. 637, 48 Am. Rep. 689.

to persons on or near its tracks, it must have failed to use ordinary care in the performance of some duty owed to the person injured,[53] and the person injured must have taken ordinary care for his own protection.[54] A railroad company is not an insurer against every casualty that may happen, or liable for an injury attributable to inevitable accident which no vigilance could avoid;[55] nor is it required to provide against what it has no reasonable grounds to anticipate,[56] and if it exercises toward a person on or near its tracks what under the circumstances is reasonable care it is not liable.[57] If persons are accustomed to cross or travel on the railroad tracks at a particular place and this use is well known to the railroad company and its employees, it is the duty of the company to use reasonable care and diligence to discover and avoid injury to such persons, whether trespassers or licensees, whom it may reasonably expect to be on the track at that point,[58] as where the railroad tracks cross or run along a public street or highway and have been long used by pedestrians.[59] Where the company is operating a train on a city street used in common by it and pedestrians and vehicles, it must take precautions against collisions which are not necessary when it is operating trains on its own right of way.[60]

53. Kansas Pac. R. Co. v. Ward, 4 Colo. 30; Galena, etc., R. Co. v. Jacobs, 20 Ill. 478; Atchison, etc., R. Co. v. Whitbeck, 57 Kan. 729, 48 Pac. 16; Ellington v. Great Northern R. Co., 96 Minn. 176, 104 N. W. 827.

54. Galena, etc., R. Co. v. Jacobs, 20 Ill. 478.

Contributory negligence generally see infra, X, E, 4.

Where both parties stand on an equality as to the means of avoiding an accident and both are engaged in a lawful employment no more than ordinary diligence can be demanded of either. Brand v. Schenectady, etc., R. Co., 8 Barb. (N. Y.) 368.

55. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Stumps, 69 Ill. 409; Atchison, etc., R. Co. v. Whitbeck, 57 Kan. 729, 48 Pac. 16; Whitcomb v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 47 La. Ann. 225, 16 So. 812.

56. Little v. Carolina Cent. R. Co., 118 N. C. 1072, 24 S. E. 514.

57. Heck v. New York Cent., etc., R. Co., 94 N. Y. App. Div. 562, 88 N. Y. Suppl. 154; Kent v. New York, etc., R. Co., 51 N. Y. App. Div. 508, 64 N. Y. Suppl. 623; Everett v. Richmond, etc., R. Co., 121 N. C. 519, 27 S. E. 991; Villeneuve v. Canadian Pac. R. Co., 21 Quebec Super. Ct. 422.

A rule of the company requiring its employees to use "great care" to avoid injury does not change the degree of care which the law requires from a company to a stranger. Heck v. New York Cent., etc., R. Co., 94 N. Y. App. Div. 562, 88 N. Y. Suppl. 154.

58. Bullard v. Southern R. Co., 116 Ga. 644, 43 S. E. 39; Cleveland, etc., R. Co. v. Gahan, 24 Ohio Cir. Ct. 277; Chesapeake, etc., R. Co. v. Rodgers, 100 Va. 324, 41 S. E. 732; Nuzum v. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co., 30 W. Va. 228, 4 S. E. 242. And see infra, X, E, 2, a, (II), (III).

59. Georgia.— Bullard v. Southern R. Co., 116 Ga. 644, 43 S. E. 39.

Illinois.— East St. Louis Connecting R. Co. v. Reames, 173 Ill. 582, 51 N. E. 68; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Stumps, 69 Ill. 409, holding that a railroad company must exercise a very high degree of care in operating its road through public streets of a city.

Indiana.— Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co. v. Warrum, (App. 1907) 82 N. E. 934, 84 N. E. 356; Manion v. Lake Erie, etc., R. Co., 40 Ind. App. 569, 80 N. E. 166.

Louisiana.— Lampkin v. McCormick, 105 La. 418, 29 So. 952, 83 Am. St. Rep. 245.

New York.— Brand v. Schenectady, etc., R. Co., 8 Barb. 368.

Ohio.— Cleveland, etc., R. Co. v. Gahan, 24 Ohio Cir. Ct. 277.

Texas.— Gulf, etc., R. Co. v. Hodges, 76 Tex. 90, 13 S. W. 64; Gulf, etc., R. Co. v. Walker, 70 Tex. 126, 7 S. W. 831, 8 Am. St. Rep. 582; Rio Grande, etc., R. Co. v. Martinez, 39 Tex. Civ. App. 460, 87 S. W. 853; Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Roberts, (Civ. App. 1897) 45 S. W. 218 [affirmed in (1898) 45 S. W. 309].

United States.— Barley v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 2 Fed. Cas. No. 997, 4 Biss. 430.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 1235.

A railroad company is held to the same degree of care as the owner of an ordinary carriage would exercise under like circumstances. Beers v. Housatonic R. Co., 19 Conn. 566; Brand v. Schenectady, etc., R. Co., 8 Barb. (N. Y.) 368; Mooney v. Hudson River R. Co., 1 Sweeny (N. Y.) 325.

A private railroad running through and across the thoroughfares of a city has been held bound to use extraordinary care. Wilson v. Cunningham, 3 Cal. 241, 58 Am. Dec. 407.

Where the injury occurs near a public crossing so that the means required to be adopted by those operating the train will enable a traveler to cross in safety at the crossing, if carried out, would have enabled the person injured to cross in safety at the place of the accident, the liability of the railroad company will be measured by the legal principles applicable to public crossings. Florida, etc., R. Co. v. Foxworth, 41 Fla. 1, 25 So. 338, 79 Am. St. Rep. 149.

60. Schwanenfeldt v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 80 Nebr. 790, 115 N. W. 285.

(II) As to Licensees Generally — (A) In General. The rights of trespassers and licensees are entirely different from the rights of persons who are upon premises of a railroad company by invitation, express or implied, for a purpose connected with its business.[61] As a general rule a mere naked licensee on railroad tracks assumes the risks incident to his position,[62] and except where his presence thereon is known,[63] or may be reasonably expected,[64] a railroad company is under no duty or obligation to be actively vigilant in providing against danger or accident to him;[65] and is liable to him only for injuries caused by its active misconduct, or wilful or wanton injury.[66] But where a person is on the right

61. Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Eicher, 202 Ill. 556, 67 N. E. 376 [reversing 100 Ill. App. 599].

62. Schreiner v. Great Northern R. Co., 86 Minn. 245, 90 N. W. 400, 58 L. R. A. 75; Sutton v. New York Cent., etc., R. Co., 66 N. Y. 243 [reversing 4 Hun 760]; Poling v. Ohio River R. Co., 38 W. Va. 645, 18 S. E. 782, 24 L. R. A. 215.

63. Cleveland, etc., R. Co. v. Stein, 24 Ohio Cir. Ct. 643 (holding that a railroad company is bound to use all reasonable diligence to protect such persons after discovering their peril); Norfolk, etc., R. Co. v. Wood, 99 Va. 156, 37 S. E. 846; Hogan v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 59 Wis. 139, 17 N. W. 632.

64. Norfolk, etc., R. Co. v. Denny, 106 Va. 383, 56 S. E. 321; Hogan v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 59 Wis. 139, 17 N. W. 632. And see cases cited infra, notes 67–70.

65. Georgia.— Savannah, etc., R. Co. v. Waller, 97 Ga. 164, 25 S. E. 823, 34 L. R. A. 459.

Illinois.— Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Eicher, 202 Ill. 556, 67 N. E. 376 [reversing 100 Ill. App. 599]; Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Hopkins, 100 Ill. App. 594 [affirmed in 200 Ill. 122, 65 N. E. 656]; Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Janes, 67 Ill. App. 649.

Kentucky.— Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Thornton, 58 S. W. 796, 22 Ky. L. Rep. 778.

Minnesota.— Schreiner v. Great Northern R. Co., 86 Minn. 245, 90 N. W. 400, 58 L. R. A. 75, holding that persons having no invitation to go on railroad tracks but who walk thereon for their own convenience are mere licensees and cannot require the railroad company to protect them from open and apparent dangers.

New York.— Sutton v. New York Cent., etc., R. Co., 66 N. Y. 243 [reversing 4 Hun 760]; Meinrenken v. New York Cent., etc., R. Co., 81 N. Y. App. Div. 132, 80 N. Y. Suppl. 1074; Goodall v. New York Cent., etc., R. Co., 89 Hun 559, 35 N. Y. Suppl. 544.

Ohio.— Cleveland, etc., R. Co. v. Stein, 24 Ohio Cir. Ct. 643.

Texas.— De la Pena v. International, etc., R. Co., 32 Tex. Civ. App. 241, 74 S. W. 58; Reichert v. International, etc., R. Co., (Civ. App. 1903) 72 S. W. 1031.

Virginia.— Norfolk, etc., R. Co. v. Bondurant, 107 Va. 515, 59 S. E. 1091, 122 Am. St. Rep. 867, 15 L. R. A. N. S. 443 (holding that a railroad company does not owe to a licensee the duty of employing competent servants to run its trains); Chesapeake, etc., R. Co. v. Farrow, 106 Va. 137, 55 S. E. 569; Norfolk, etc., R. Co. v. Stegall, 105 Va. 538, 54 S. E. 19.

West Virginia.— Poling v. Ohio River R. Co., 38 W. Va. 645, 18 S. E. 782, 24 L. R. A. 215.

Wisconsin.— Hogan v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 59 Wis. 139, 17 N. W. 632, holding that a railroad company is not liable for injuries to a mere licensee on its track whose presence is unknown and unexpected if the usual signals are given and the usual requirements of caution observed.

United States.— Delaware, etc., R. Co. v. Wilkins, 153 Fed. 845, 83 C. C. A. 27; Morgan v. Pennsylvania R. Co., 7 Fed. 78, 19 Blatchf. 239.

Canada.— Spence v. Grand Trunk R. Co., 27 Ont. 303.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 1236.

A failure to prescribe rules and regulations governing the use of its tracks by its licensees will not render a railroad company liable for injuries to employees or one of its licensees caused by the negligence of another licensee. Texas Transp. Co. v. Shelton, 12 Tex. Civ. App. 651, 35 S. W. 874.

66. Alabama.—Mobile, etc., R. Co. v. Smith, (1907) 45 So. 57.

California.— Means v. Southern California R. Co., 144 Cal. 473, 77 Pac. 1001.

Delaware.— Tully v. Philadelphia, etc., R. Co., 3 Pennew. 455, 50 Atl. 95; Weldon v. Philadelphia, etc., R. Co., 2 Pennew. 11, 43 Atl. 156.

Illinois.— Thompson v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co., 226 Ill. 542, 80 N. E. 1054, 9 L. R. A. N. S. 672 [affirming 123 Ill. App. 47]; Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Eicher, 202 Ill. 556, 67 N. E. 376 [reversing 100 Ill. App. 599]; Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. McMillion, 129 Ill. App. 27, 37; Ahern v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 124 Ill. App. 36; McLaughlin v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 115 Ill. App. 262.

Indiana.— Lingenfelter v. Baltimore, etc., R. Co., 154 Ind. 49, 55 N. E. 1021.

Kentucky.— See Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Willis, 97 S. W. 21, 29 Ky. L. Rep. 1187.

Louisiana.— Settoon v. Texas, etc., R. Co., 48 La. Ann. 807, 19 So. 759.

Massachusetts.— Burke v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 195 Mass. 179, 80 N. E. 695; Griswold v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 183 Mass. 434, 67 N. E. 354.

Mississippi.— Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Lucas, 89 Miss. 411, 42 So. 607; Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Arnola, 78 Miss. 787, 29 So. 768, 84 Am. St. Rep. 645.

of way by the express or implied consent or invitation of the railroad company,[67] as where the public has habitually passed across or along the right of way at a certain place for a long time with the company's knowledge or consent,[68] a railroad company has reason to anticipate his presence on the track at such point

Missouri.— Carr v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 195 Mo. 214, 92 S. W. 874.

New Jersey.— Devoe v. New York, etc., R. Co., 63 N. J. L. 276, 43 Atl. 899.

New York.— Sutton v. New York Cent., etc., R. Co., 66 N. Y. 243 [reversing 4 Hun 760]; Rosenthal v. New York, etc., R. Co., 112 N. Y. App. Div. 431, 98 N. Y. Suppl. 476; Meneo v. New Jersey Cent. R. Co., 84 N. Y. Suppl. 448.

North Carolina.— Willis v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 122 N. C. 905, 29 S. E. 941.

Virginia.— Norfolk, etc., R. Co. v. Wood, 99 Va. 156, 37 S. E. 846.

United States.— Pennsylvania R. Co. v. Martin, 111 Fed. 586, 49 C. C. A. 474, 55 L. R. A. 361; Cleveland, etc., R. Co. v. Tartt, 64 Fed. 823, 12 C. C. A. 618.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 1236.

A departure in some degree or particular from the ordinary course of procedure will not make the railroad company liable for an injury resulting therefrom, unless the doing of an act is shown which might reasonably be expected to cause injury to a person lawfully on the track under a license. Sutton v. New York Cent., etc., R. Co., 66 N. Y. 243 [reversing 4 Hun 760].

Degree of care.— As to active or unstable surroundings or conditions put in motion or caused by a railroad company it owes to a licensee on its right of way a degree of care reasonably commensurate to the known danger; but as to mere accommodations for travel and danger incident to fixed and long established conditions or surroundings, it owes such person no duty. Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Parkhurst, 106 Ill. App. 467.

Licensee traveling alongside of track.— Toward the public traveling on a roadway alongside of a track as licensees rather than by virtue of any legal right, the railroad company is not required to exercise any greater care than toward those traveling on a public highway parallel to its tracks. Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Schmitt, 100 Ill. App. 490.

67. California.— Hansen v. Southern Pac. Co., 105 Cal. 379, 38 Pac. 957.

Illinois.— Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Eicher, 202 Ill. 556, 67 N. E. 376 [reversing 100 Ill. App. 599]; Elgin, etc., R. Co. v. Thomas, 115 Ill. App. 508 [affirmed in 215 Ill. 158, 74 N. E. 109]; Southern R. Co. v. Drake, 107 Ill. App. 12.

Iowa.— Croft v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 134 Iowa 411, 109 N. W. 723.

New Jersey.— Devoe v. New York, etc., R. Co., 63 N. J. L. 276, 43 Atl. 899.

New York.— Flynn v. New Jersey Cent. R. Co., 142 N. Y. 439, 37 N. E. 514.

South Carolina.— Boggeno v. Southern R. Co., 64 S. C. 104, 41 S. E. 819.

Texas.— International, etc., R. Co. v. Howell, (Civ. App. 1907) 105 S. W. 560 [affirmed in (1908) 111 S. W. 142]; Law v. Missouri, etc., R. Co., 29 Tex. Civ. App. 134, 67 S. W. 1025.

United States.— Northern Pac. R. Co. v. Jones, 144 Fed. 47, 75 C. C. A. 205; Tutt v. Illinois Cent. R. Co., 104 Fed. 741, 44 C. C. A. 320.

England.— Marfell v. South Wales R. Co., 8 C. B. N. S. 525, 7 Jur. N. S. 290, 29 L. J. C. P. 315, 2 L. T. Rep. N. S. 629, 8 Wkly. Rep. 765, 98 E. C. L. 525.

Canada.— Collier v. Michigan Cent. R. Co., 27 Ont. App. 630.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 1236.

The gist of the liability in such cases consists in the fact that the person injured did not act merely on motives of his own, to which no sign of the owner or occupier contributed; but that he entered the premises because he was led by the acts or conduct of the owner or occupier to believe that the premises were intended to be used in the manner in which he used them, and that such use was not only acquiesced in but was in accordance with the intention or design for which the way or place was adapted and prepared or allowed to be used. Devoe v. New York, etc., R. Co., 63 N. J. L. 276, 43 Atl. 899.

68. Illinois.— St. Louis Nat. Stock Yards v. Brennan, 126 Ill. App. 601.

Missouri.— Frye v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 200 Mo. 377, 98 S. W. 566, 8 L. R. A. N. S. 1069.

New York.— Swift v. Staten Island Rapid Transit R. Co., 123 N. Y. 645, 25 N. E. 378 [affirming 52 Hun 614, 5 N. Y. Suppl. 316]; McCarty v. New York Cent., etc., R. Co., 73 N. Y. App. Div. 34, 76 N. Y. Suppl. 321 (holding that where boatmen had possessed the right and been in the habit for many years of passing along a railroad track, the company was presumed to know of this custom and was bound to exercise reasonable care for their protection); Larkin v. New York, etc., R. Co., 19 N. Y. Suppl. 479; Winslow v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 11 N. Y. St. 831.

Ohio.— Harriman v. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co., 45 Ohio St. 11, 12 N. E. 451, 4 Am. St. Rep. 507; Baltimore, etc., R. Co. v. Campbell, 28 Ohio Cir. Ct. 662.

South Carolina.— Jones v. Charleston, etc., R. Co., 65 S. C. 410, 33 S. E. 884.

Texas.— Over v. Missouri, etc., R. Co., (Civ. App. 1903) 73 S. W. 535; Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Phillips, (Civ. App. 1897) 40 S. W. 344. See also Missouri, etc., R. Co. v. Brown, (Civ. App. 1907) 101 S. W. 464.

Virginia.— Williamson v. Southern R. Co., 104 Va. 146, 51 S. E. 195, 70 L. R. A. 1007.

Wisconsin.— Davis v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 58 Wis. 646, 17 N. W. 406, 46 Am. Rep. 667; Delaney v. Milwaukee, etc., R. Co., 33 Wis. 67.

and is bound to use reasonable care to avoid injuring him, even though the employees in charge of the engine or cars which caused the injury were ignorant of such custom,[69] or were unaware of his presence on the track.[70]

(B) Children. The above rules also apply to children who are on the track. If the child is thereon as a licensee without invitation, the railroad company owes it no duty except not to wantonly or wilfully injure it,[71] unless its presence is known to the railroad employees, in which case reasonable care should be used to protect it from danger.[72] Likewise where the company has reason to expect that children will be on the track at a certain point, it is under the duty of using ordinary care to discover their presence and avoid injuring them.[73]

(III) As to Trespassers Generally — (A) In General. While the mere fact that a person injured is a trespasser will not generally relieve a railroad company from liability for its negligence in causing such injury,[74] as a general rule a railroad company is under no duty or obligation to exercise active vigilance to provide against injury to trespassers on its tracks or right of way until their presence is known,[75] particularly where the track is fenced and in the vicinity of signs

United States.— Cahill v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 74 Fed. 285, 20 C. C. A. 184.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 1236.

69. Over v. Missouri, etc., R. Co., (Tex. Civ. App. 1903) 73 S. W. 535.

70. Elgin, etc., R. Co. v. Thomas, 115 Ill. App. 508 [affirmed in 215 Ill. 158, 74 N. E. 109].

71. Cleveland, etc., R. Co. v. Adair, 12 Ind. App. 569, 39 N. E. 672, 40 N. E. 822; Byrnes v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 181 Mass. 322, 63 N. E. 897; Schug v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 102 Wis. 515, 78 N. W. 1090.

A railroad company need not keep or warn boys off a public street used by it. Le Beau v. Pittsburg, etc., R. Co., 69 Ill. App. 557.

72. Devereaux v. Thornton, 4 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 449, 2 Clev. L. Rep. 177, holding that where a child six years old is on a railroad track near where the trains of the railroad company stop and move frequently, the company is not relieved from liability merely by ordering the child to go away from such vicinity, but it should see that it does go away.

73. See infra, X, E, 2, a, (VIII), (B), (3).

74. Jackson v. Kansas City, etc., R. Co., 157 Mo. 621, 58 S. W. 32, 80 Am. St. Rep. 650; Patton v. East Tennessee, etc., R. Co., 89 Tenn. 370, 15 S. W. 919, 12 L. R. A. 184 (holding, however, that such fact constitutes contributory negligence to be considered by the jury); Houston East, etc., Texas R. Co. v. Adams, 44 Tex. Civ. App. 288, 98 S. W. 222.

75. Alabama.— Birmingham R., etc., Co. v. Jones, (1907) 45 So. 177; Southern R. Co. v. Stewart, (1907) 45 So. 51.

Arkansas.— St. Louis Southwestern R. Co. v. Bryant, 81 Ark. 368, 99 S. W. 693.

Connecticut.— Nolan v. New York, etc., R. Co., 53 Conn. 461, 4 Atl. 106.

Georgia.— Southern R. Co. v. Chatman, 124 Ga. 1026, 53 S. E. 692, 6 L. R. A. N. S. 283. See Holmes v. Central R., etc., Co., 37 Ga. 593.

Illinois.— James v. Illinois Cent. R. Co., 195 Ill. 327, 63 N. E. 153 [affirming 93 Ill. App. 294]; McLain v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 121 Ill. App. 614; Kinnare v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 114 Ill. App. 230; Cleveland, etc., R. Co. v. Largent, 108 Ill. App. 650.

Indiana.— Brooks v. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co., 158 Ind. 62, 62 N. E. 694.

Iowa.— Earl v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 109 Iowa 14, 79 N. W. 381, 77 Am. St. Rep. 516; Thomas v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 103 Iowa 649, 72 N. W. 783, 39 L. R. A. 399; Baker v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 95 Iowa 163, 63 N. W. 667. Compare Clampit v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 84 Iowa 71, 50 N. W. 673.

Kansas.— Mason v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 27 Kan. 83, 41 Am. Rep. 405.

Kentucky.— Goodman v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 116 Ky. 900, 77 S. W. 174, 25 Ky. L. Rep. 1086, 63 L. R. A. 657; Davis v. Chesapeake, etc., R. Co., 116 Ky. 144, 75 S. W. 275, 25 Ky. L. Rep. 342 [opinion in 70 S. W. 857, 24 Ky. L. Rep. 1125 withdrawn] Brown v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 97 Ky. 228, 30 S. W. 639, 17 Ky. L. Rep. 145; Shackleford v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 84 Ky. 43, 4 Am. St. Rep. 189; Adams v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 104 S. W. 363, 31 Ky. L. Rep. 987; Smith v. Illinois Cent. R. Co., 90 S. W. 254, 28 Ky. L. Rep. 723; Yates v. Illinois Cent. R. Co., 89 S. W. 161, 28 Ky. L. Rep. 75; Chesapeake, etc., R. Co. v. See, 79 S. W. 252, 25 Ky. L. Rep. 1995; Gregory v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 79 S. W. 238, 25 Ky. L. Rep. 1986; Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Vittitoe, 41 S. W. 269, 19 Ky. L. Rep. 612; Embry v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 36 S. W. 1123, 18 Ky. L. Rep. 434.

Louisiana.— Gilliam v. Texas, etc., R. Co., 114 La. 272, 38 So. 166; O'Connor v. Illinois Cent. R. Co., 44 La. Ann. 339, 10 So. 678; Reary v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 40 La. Ann. 32, 3 So. 390, 8 Am. St. Rep. 497.

Massachusetts.— McCreary v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 156 Mass. 316, 31 N. E. 126.

Minnesota.— Ellington v. Great Northern R. Co., 96 Minn. 176, 104 N. W. 827.

Mississippi.— Christian v. Illinois Cent. R. Co., 71 Miss. 237, 15 So. 71.

Missouri.— Barney v. Hannibal, etc., R. Co., 126 Mo. 372, 28 S. W. 1069, 26 L. R. A. warning people to keep off the tracks;[76] and is only bound to abstain from wantonly, recklessly, or wilfully injuring a trespasser,[77] and to exercise reasonable 847; Reyner v. Kansas City, etc., R. Co., 86 Mo. App. 521.

New Hampshire.— Shea v. Concord, etc., R. Co., 69 N. H. 361, 41 Atl. 774.

Oregon.— Ward v. Southern Pac. Co., 25 Oreg. 433, 36 Pac. 166, 23 L. R. A. 715.

Pennsylvania.— Philadelphia, etc., R. Co. v. Hummell, 44 Pa. St. 375, 84 Am. Dec. 457.

South Carolina.— Carter v. Columbia, etc., R. Co., 19 S. C. 20, 45 Am. Rep. 754.

Texas.— McCoy en v. Gulf, etc., R. Co., (Civ. App. 1903) 73 S. W. 46.

Virginia.— Chesapeake, etc., R. Co. v. Farrow, 106 Va. 137, 55 S. E. 569; Norfolk, etc., R. Co. v. Wood, 99 Va. 156, 37 S. E. 846.

Washington.— Dotta v. Northern Pac. R. Co., 36 Wash. 506, 79 Pac. 32.

United States.— Cleveland, etc., R. Co. v. Tartt, 99 Fed. 369, 39 C. C. A. 568; Sheehan v. St. Paul, etc., R. Co., 76 Fed. 201, 22 C. C. A. 121.

England.— Harrison v. North Eastern R. Co., 29 L. T. Rep. N. S. 844, 22 Wkly. Rep. 335.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 1238.

That the trespasser might have been seen before he was, or that the train was running at a dangerous or illegal rate of speed, is merely evidence of negligence which in such cases does not give a right of action for the injury. Cleveland, etc., R. Co. v. Tartt, 99 Fed. 369, 39 C. C. A. 568.

76. Frye v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 200 Mo. 377, 98 S. W. 566, 8 L. R. A. N. S. 1069.

77. Alabama.— Southern R. Co. v. Stewart, (1907) 45 So. 51; Verner v. Alabama Great Southern R. Co., 103 Ala. 574, 15 So. 872; Glass v. Memphis, etc., R. Co., 94 Ala. 581, 10 So. 215.

Delaware.— Tully v. Philadelphia, etc., R. Co., 3 Pennew. 455, 50 Atl. 95; Patterson v. Philadelphia, etc., R. Co., 4 Houst. 103.

Georgia.— Kendrick v. Seaboard Air-Line R. Co., 121 Ga. 775, 49 S. E. 762; Seaboard Air-Line R. Co. v. Shigg, 117 Ga. 454, 43 S. E. 706; Ashworth v. Southern R. Co., 116 Ga. 635, 43 S. E. 36, 59 L. R. A. 592; Grady v. Georgia R., etc., Co., 112 Ga. 668, 37 S. E. 861; Western, etc., R. Co. v. Meigs, 74 Ga. 857.

Illinois.— Bartlett v. Wabash R. Co., 220 Ill. 163, 77 N. E. 96 [affirming 116 Ill. App. 67]; Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Eicher, 202 Ill. 556, 67 N. E. 376 [reversing 100 Ill. App. 599]; James v. Illinois Cent. R. Co., 195 Ill. 327, 63 N. E. 153 [affirming 93 Ill. App. 294]; Blanchard v. Lake Shore, etc., R. Co., 126 Ill. 416, 18 N. E. 799, 9 Am. St. Rep. 630; Janowicz v. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co., 124 Ill. App. 149; McLaughlin v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 115 Ill. App. 262; Kinnare v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 114 Ill. App. 230; Cleveland, etc., R. Co. v. Cline, 111 Ill. App. 416, 424; Cleveland, etc., R. Co. v. Largent, 108 Ill. App. 650; Belt R. Co. v. Banicki, 102 Ill. App. 642; Griffin v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 101 Ill. App. 284; Union Stock Yard, etc., Co. v. Goodman, 91 Ill. App. 426; Jelinski v. Belt R. Co., 86 Ill. App. 535; Robards v. Wabash R. Co., 84 Ill. App. 477; Meehan v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 67 Ill. App. 39; Eggmann v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 47 Ill. App. 507.

Indiana.— Jordan v. Grand Rapids, etc., R. Co., 162 Ind. 464, 70 N. E. 524, 102 Am. St. Rep. 217; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Hedges, 105 Ind. 398, 7 N. E. 801; Terre Haute, etc., R. Co. v. Graham, 95 Ind. 286, 48 Am. Rep. 719.

Massachusetts.— Wright v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 142 Mass. 296, 7 N. E. 866; Johnson v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 125 Mass. 75.

Michigan.— Trudell v. Grand Trunk R. Co., 126 Mich. 73, 85 N. W. 250, 53 L. R. A. 271.

Minnesota.— Ellington v. Great Northern R. Co., 96 Minn. 176, 104 N. W. 827; Lando v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 81 Minn. 279, 83 N. W. 1089.

Mississippi.— Dooley v. Mobile, etc., R. Co., 69 Miss. 648, 12 So. 956; Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Williams, 69 Miss. 631, 12 So. 957.

New Hampshire.— See Brown v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 73 N. H. 568, 64 Atl. 1941, holding that Laws (1899), c. 75, § 2, limiting a railroad company's civil liability to persons injured while engaged in any act prohibited by section 1 to damages occasioned by its "wilful or gross negligence" does not limit the company's liability to damages occasioned by wilful or gross negligence in an action for injuries caused to a person while walking by the side of the track in the absence of a posted notice forbidding such use of the track.

New York.— Rosenthal v. New York, etc., R. Co., 112 N. Y. App. Div. 431, 98 N. Y. Suppl. 476; Clarke v. New York Cent., etc., R. Co., 104 N. Y. App. Div. 167, 93 N. Y. Suppl. 525; Le Duc v. New York Cent., etc., R. Co., 92 N. Y. App. Div. 107, 87 N. Y. Suppl. 364; Riordan v. New York Cent., etc., R. Co., 41 Misc. 399, 84 N. Y. Suppl. 1046.

Ohio.— Wabash R. Co. v. Norway, 7 Ohio Cir. Ct. 449, 4 Ohio Cir. Dec. 674; Driscoll v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 1 Ohio Cir. Ct. 493, 1 Ohio Cir. Dec. 274.

Pennsylvania.— Bourke v. Delaware, etc., R. Co., 1 Lack. Leg. Rec. 108.

South Carolina.— Haltiwanger v. Columbia, etc., R. Co., 64 S. C. 7, 41 S. E. 810.

Texas.— Houston, etc., R. Co. v. Boozer, 2 Tex. Unrep. Cas. 452, holding that the negligence of the company must be so gross that it would have been liable for exemplary damages in case death had ensued.

Utah.—Heru v. Southern Pac. Co., 29 Utah 127, 81 Pac. 902.

Virginia.— Norfolk, etc., R. Co. v. Wood, 99 Va. 156, 37 S. E. 846.

West Virginia.— Huff v. Chesapeake, etc., R. Co., 48 W. Va. 45, 35 S. E. 866.

United States.— Grand Trunk R. Co. v. Flagg, 156 Fed. 359, 84 C. C. A. 263; Kansas care to avoid injuring him after discovering his peril.[73] A trespasser cannot complain of a failure of a railroad company to observe a statute regulating the City, etc., R. Co. v. Cook, 66 Fed. 115, 13 C. C. A. 364, 28 L. R. A. 181.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 1238.

Where a person lying on the track in an unconscious condition is killed, it is immaterial, in the absence of gross negligence on the part of the railroad company, whether such condition is the result of intoxication, or is caused by fever or some uncontrollable circumstance. Missouri Pac. R. Co. v. Brown, (Tex. 1891) 18 S. W. 670.

78. Alabama.— Southern R. Co. v. Stewart, (1907) 45 So. 51.

Arkansas.— St. Louis Southwestern R. Co. v. Bryant, 81 Ark. 368, 99 S. W. 693.

Georgia.—Southern R. Co. v. Chatman, 124 Ga. 1026, 53 S. E. 692, 6 L. R. A. N. S. 283; Hambright v. Western, etc., R. Co., 112 Ga. 36, 37 S. E. 99; Atlanta, etc., Air-Line R. v. Gravitt, 93 Ga. 369, 20 S. E. 550, 44 Am. St. Rep. 145, 26 L. R. A. 553; Atlanta, etc., Air-Line R. Co. v. Leach, 91 Ga. 419, 17 S. E. 619, 44 Am. St. Rep. 47.

Illinois.— Bartlett v. Wabash R. Co., 220 Ill. 163, 77 N. E. 96 [affirming 116 Ill. App. 67]; Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Eicher, 202 Ill. 556, 67 N. E. 376 [reversing 100 Ill. App. 599]; Chicago Terminal Transfer R. Co. v. Gruss, 200 Ill. 195, 65 N. E. 693 [affirming 102 Ill. App. 439]; James v. Illinois Cent. R. Co., 195 Ill. 327, 63 N. E. 153 [affirming 93 Ill. App. 294]; Pittsburg, etc., R. Co. v. Bumstead, 48 Ill. 221, 95 Am. Dec. 539; McGuire v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 120 Ill. App. 111.

Indiana.—Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Pritchard, 168 Ind. 398, 79 N. E. 508, 81 N. E. 78, 9 L. R. A. N. S. 857 [affirming 39 Ind. App. 701, 78 N. E. 1044]; Jordan v. Grand Rapids, etc., R. Co., 162 Ind. 464, 70 N. E. 524, 102 Am. St. Rep. 217; Parker v. Pennsylvania Co., 134 Ind. 673, 34 N. E. 504, 23 L. R. A. 552.

Kentucky.— Chesapeake, etc., R. Co. v. Nipp, 125 Ky. 49, 100 S. W. 246, 30 Ky. L. Rep. 1131; Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Redmon, 122 Ky. 385, 91 S. W. 722, 28 Ky. L. Rep. 1293; Davis v. Chesapeake, etc., R. Co., 116 Ky. 144, 75 S. W. 275, 25 Ky. L. Rep. 342 [opinion in 70 S. W. 857, 24 Ky. L. Rep. 1125 withdrawn]; Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Hocker, 111 Ky. 707, 64 S. W. 638, 65 S. W. 119, 23 Ky. L. Rep. 982, 1274; Brown v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 97 Ky. 228, 30 S. W. 639, 17 Ky. L. Rep. 145; Adams v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 104 S. W. 363, 31 Ky. L. Rep. 987; Prince v. Illinois Cent. R. Co., 99 S. W. 293, 30 Ky. L. Rep. 469; Beiser v. Chesapeake, etc., R. Co., 92 S. W. 928, 29 Ky. L. Rep. 249; Smith v. Illinois Cent. R. Co., 90 S. W. 254, 28 Ky. L. Rep. 723; Yates v. Illinois Cent. R. Co., 89 S. W. 161, 28 Ky. L. Rep. 75; Manning v. Illinois Cent. R. Co., 84 S. W. 565, 27 Ky. L. Rep. 142; Maysville, etc., R. Co. v. McCabe, 82 S. W. 233, 26 Ky. L. Rep. 532; Wilmuth v. Illinois Cent. R. Co., 76 S. W. 193, 25 Ky. L. Rep. 671; Chesapeake, etc., R. Co. v. Perkins, 47 S. W. 259, 20 Ky. L. Rep. 608; Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Vittitoe, 41 S. W. 269, 19 Ky. L. Rep. 612; Embry v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 36 S. W. 1123, 18 Ky. L. Rep. 434; Eastern Kentucky R. Co. v. Powell, 33 S. W. 629, 17 Ky. L. Rep. 1051; Gherkins v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 30 S. W. 651, 17 Ky. L. Rep. 201.

Minnesota.— Hepfel v. St. Paul, etc., R. Co., 49 Minn. 263, 51 N. W. 1049.

Mississippi.— Christian v. Illinois Cent. R. Co., 71 Miss. 237, 15 So. 71; Mobile, etc., R. Co. v. Watly, 69 Miss. 145, 13 So. 825.

Missouri.— Rine v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 88 Mo. 392; Burde v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 123 Mo. App. 629, 100 S. W. 509.

Nebraska.— Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Wilgus, 40 Nebr. 660, 58 N. W. 1125; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Wymore, 40 Nebr. 645, 58 N. W. 1120.

New Hampshire.— Brown v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 73 N. H. 568, 64 Atl. 194.

New York.— Remer v. Long Island R. Co., 48 Hun 352, 1 N. Y. Suppl. 124.

North Carolina.— Harris v. Atlantic Coast Line R. Co., 132 N. C. 160, 43 S. E. 589; Perry v. Western North Carolina R. Co., 128 N. C. 471, 39 S. E. 27; Norwood v. Raleigh, etc., R. Co., 111 N. C. 236, 16 S. E. 4; Lay v. Richmond, etc., R. Co., 106 N. C. 404, 11 S. E. 412.

Ohio.— Erie R. Co. v. McCormick, 69 Ohio St. 45, 68 N. E. 571; Cleveland, etc., R. Co. v. Gahan, 24 Ohio Cir. Ct. 277 [distinguishing Lake Shore, etc., R. Co. v. Orvis, 12 Ohio Cir. Ct. 710, 4 Ohio Cir. Dec. 452].

Tennessee.— East Tennessee, etc., R. Co. v. Fain, 12 Lea 35.

Texas.— Houston, etc., R. Co. v. Ramsey, 43 Tex. Civ. App. 603, 97 S. W. 1067; Smith v. International, etc., R. Co., 34 Tex. Civ. App. 209, 78 S. W. 556; Over v. Missouri, etc., R. Co., (Civ. App. 1903) 73 S. W. 535; McCowen v. Gulf, etc., R. Co., (Civ. App. 1903) 73 S. W. 46.

Virginia.— Chesapeake, etc., R. Co. v. Farrow, 106 Va. 137, 55 S. E. 569; Seaboard, etc., R. Co. v. Vaughan, 104 Va. 113, 51 S. E. 452.

United States.— Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Modawell, 151 Fed. 421, 80 C. C. A. 651, 9 L. R. A. N. S. 646; Tutt v. Illinois Cent. R. Co., 104 Fed. 741, 44 C. C. A. 320.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 1238.

Where a station agent is notified that a trespasser, in a helpless condition, is on the track ahead of a train, his failure to notify the operators of the train renders the company liable for the trespasser's death. Glenn v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 90 S. W. 975, 28 Ky. L. Rep. 949.

Where by reason of night and a curve in the track the operators of a train could not see a trespasser on the track until it was too late to prevent injury, the railroad company is not responsible. Hoback v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 99 S. W. 241, 30 Ky. L. Rep. 476.

[X, E, 2, a, (III), (A)] movement of trains.[79] While in some jurisdictions in order to render the railroad company liable for its failure to exercise ordinary care there must be actual knowledge of the trespasser's peril imputable to the company,[80] in most jurisdictions the company is under the duty of using reasonable care to discover and avoid injuring trespassers whom it has reason to anticipate may be on the tracks,[81] as where within the company's knowledge persons have been accustomed to be on the tracks at a certain place,[82] as in a city or thickly settled community where persons are likely to be found trespassing.[83]

79. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Moran, 129 Ill. App. 38.

The failure to observe a statutory duty does not render a railroad company liable to a trespasser unless the injury was wanton or wilful. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Tice, 111 Ill. App. 161; Chesapeake Beach R. Co, v. Donahue, 107 Md. 119, 68 Atl. 507, failure to stop for a half minute at stations as required by Code Pub. Gen. Laws, art. 23, § 266.

80. Cleveland, etc., R. Co. v. Largent, 108 Ill. App. 650; Thomas v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 103 Iowa 649, 72 N. W. 783, 39 L. R. A. 399; Smith v. Illinois Cent. R. Co., 90 S. W. 254, 28 Ky. L. Rep. 723; Erie R. Co. v. McCormick, 69 Ohio St. 45, 68 N. E. 571.

81. Georgia.— Southern R. Co. v. Chatman, 124 Ga. 1026, 53 S. E. 692, 6 L. R. A. N. S. 283; Ashworth v. Southern R. Co., 116 Ga. 635, 43 S. E. 36, 59 L. R. A. 592. In this state the duty to observe ordinary care to a trespasser on a track does not devolve on the company's employees until his presence is known to them, but where the circumstances are such that the employees are bound on a given occasion to anticipate that persons may be on the track at a certain place, they must take such precautions to prevent injury as will meet the requirements of ordinary care and diligence. Southern R. Co. v. Chatman, supra; Hambright v. Western, etc., R. Co., 112 Ga. 36, 37 S. E. 99.

Missouri.— Eppstein v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 197 Mo. 720, 94 S. W. 967; Koegel v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 181 Mo. 379, 80 S. W. 905.

Nebraska.— Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Wilgus, 40 Nebr. 660, 58 N. W. 1125; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Wymore, 40 Nebr. 645, 58 N. W. 1120.

New Hampshire.— Brown v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 73 N. H. 568, 64 Atl. 194; Myers v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 72 N. H. 175, 55 Atl. 892; Shea v. Concord, etc., R. Co., 69 N. H. 361, 41 Atl. 774; Mitchell v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 68 N. H. 96, 34 Atl. 674; Felch v. Concord R. Co., 66 N. H. 318, 29 Atl. 557.

Oregon.— Cassida v. Oregon R., etc., Co., 14 Oreg. 551, 13 Pac. 438.

Virginia.— Norfolk, etc., R. Co. v. Wood, 99 Va. 156, 37 S. E. 846.

Washington.— Dotta v. Northern Pac. R. Co., 36 Wash. 506, 79 Pac. 32.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 1238.

That the railroad company knows of the presence of a large crowd of people at a picnic ground on the railroad line does not impose on the company the duty of anticipating that any of those persons will trespass upon a railroad trestle situated some distance from the picnic ground, in violation of warning notices erected thereon. Smith v. Illinois Cent. R. Co., 90 S. W. 254, 28 Ky. L. Rep. 723.

82. Delaware.— Patterson v. Philadelphia, etc., R. Co., 4 Houst. 103.

Georgia.— Macon, etc., R. Co. v. Parker, 127 Ga. 471, 56 S. E. 616.

Kentucky.— Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Daniel, 91 S. W. 691, 28 Ky. L. Rep. 1146, 3 L. R. A. N. S. 1190.

Missouri.— Koegel v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 181 Mo. 379, 80 S. W. 905. Mo. Rev. St. (1889) § 2611, providing that if any person not connected with or employed on the railroad shall walk on the track except where the track is laid along a publicly traveled road and be injured thereby, he shall be deemed a trespasser in any action brought therefor, does not destroy plaintiff's right of recovery, since such statute only means that under such circumstances the walking on the track is to be considered negligence per se and will defeat a recovery in a case where contributory negligence would defeat it and does not relieve the company from all duty of exercising care toward a trespasser. Morgan v. Wabash R. Co., 159 Mo. 262, 60 S. W. 195.

North Carolina.— Norwood v. Raleigh, etc., R. Co., 111 N. C. 236, 16 S. E. 4.

South Carolina.— Carter v. Columbia, etc., R. Co., 19 S. C. 20, 45 Am. Rep. 754.

Texas.— Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Watkins, 88 Tex. 20, 29 S. W. 232; St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Crosnoe, 72 Tex. 79, 10 S. W. 342; International, etc., R. Co. v. Ploeger, (Civ. App. 1906) 93 S. W. 226; Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Barrett, 23 Tex. Civ. App. 545, 57 S. W. 602; St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Shifflet, (Civ. App. 1900) 56 S. W. 697.

Virginia.—Blankenship v. Chesapeake, etc., R. Co., 94 Va. 449, 27 S. E. 20.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 1238.

Where an unfenced railroad track is quite generally used as a highway by the public those in charge of passing engines are bound to use reasonable diligence to prevent injury to persons on the track. Corbett v. Oregon Short Line Co., 25 Utah 449, 71 Pac. 1065.

83. Brown v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 97 Ky. 228, 30 S. W. 639, 17 Ky. L. Rep. 145; Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Murphy, 97 S. W. 729, 30 Ky. L. Rep. 93; Chesapeake, etc., R. Co. v. Perkins, 47 S. W. 259, 20 Ky. L. Rep. 608; Pennsylvania R. Co. v. Lewis, 79 Pa. St. 33; Young v. Clark, 16 Utah 42, 50 Pac. 832;

(B) Children.[84] The above rules also apply to children as trespassers; and while the age or discretion of a child is to be considered in determining the question of negligence or contributory negligence,[85] yet it may become a trespasser, and as a general rule a railroad company owes no greater duty to it than to an adult,[86] and is not bound to use active vigilance to discover a child's presence, or to provide against injuring it;[87] but it is bound only to abstain from wilful or wanton injury,[88] and to exercise ordinary care to avoid injuring the child after discovering its peril,[89] or where it has reason to anticipate that a child will be

Lindsay v. Canadian Pac. R. Co., 68 Vt. 556, 35 Atl. 513.

84. Injuries to children on turn-tables see NEGLIGENCE, 29 Cyc. 463.

85. Mack v. South Bound R. Co., 52 S. C. 323, 29 S. E. 905, 68 Am. St. Rep. 913, 40 L. R. A. 679. And see infra, X, E, 4, a, (IV), (A).

86. Alabama Great Southern R. Co. v. Moorer, 116 Ala. 642, 22 So. 900; Lake Shore, etc., R. Co. v. Clark, 41 Ill. App. 343; Felton v. Aubrey, 74 Fed. 350, 20 C. C. A. 436.

87. Georgia.— Southern R. Co. v. Chatman, 124 Ga. 1026, 53 S. E. 692, 6 L. R. A. N. S. 283; Nashville, etc., R. Co. v. Priest, 117 Ga. 767, 45 S. E. 35; Southern R. Co. v. Eubanks, 117 Ga. 217, 43 S. E. 487.

Illinois.— Fitzgerald v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 114 Ill. App. 118; Haberlau v. Lake Shore, etc., R. Co., 73 Ill. App. 261, holding that there is no duty on a railroad company to see that children do not climb upon its trains at street crossings.

Iowa.— Wagner v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 124 Iowa 462, 100 N. W. 332; Horn v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 124 Iowa 281, 99 N. W. 1068; Thomas v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 93 Iowa 248, 61 N. W. 967.

Kentucky.— Jackson v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 46 S. W. 5, 20 Ky. L. Rep. 309.

Michigan.— Hamilton v. Detroit, etc., R. Co., 142 Mich. 56, 105 N. W. 82; Bledsoe v. Grand Trunk R. Co., 126 Mich. 312, 85 N. W. 738.

Minnesota.— Ellington v. Great Northern R. Co., 96 Minn. 176, 104 N. W. 827.

New Jersey.— Delaware, etc., R. Co. v. Reich, 61 N. J. L. 635, 40 Atl. 682, 68 Am. St. Rep. 727, 41 L. R. A. 831.

Pennsylvania.—Estep v. Webster Coal, etc., Co., 213 Pa. St. 471, 62 Atl. 1082; McMullen v. Pennsylvania R. Co., 132 Pa. St. 107, 19 Atl. 27, 19 Am. St. Rep. 591 (holding that, although a boy ten years of age, who was lying across a railroad track just before he was run over, is not accountable for his own negligence, a recovery for his death is precluded by reason of his trespass); Crawford v. Railroad Co., 5 Phila. 359.

Texas.— Flores v. Atchison, etc., R. Co., 24 Tex. Civ. App. 328, 66 S. W. 709.

Washington.— Matson v. Port Townsend Southern R. Co., 9 Wash. 449, 37 Pac. 705.

United States.— Felton v. Aubrey, 74 Fed. 350, 20 C. C. A. 436; Ex p. Stell, 22 Fed. Cas. No. 13,358, 4 Hughes 157, holding that in such case the company is required to do only what prudent owners of railroads are doing in respect to their trains and equipment.

Canada.— McShane v. Toronto, etc., R. Co., 31 Ont. 185.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 1239.

A boy going upon railroad premises to witness the accidental burning of a train of tank cars filled with petroleum assumes the risk of the situation, and although he voluntarily renders some service in preventing the spread of the fire to other property, he cannot recover from the company for injuries caused by an explosion of one of the cars. Cleveland, etc., R. Co. v. Ballentine, 84 Fed. 935, 28 C. C. A. 572.

88. Georgia.— Nashville, etc., R. Co. v. Priest, 117 Ga. 767, 45 S. E. 35.

Illinois.— Kinnare v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 114 Ill. App. 230.

Indiana.— Dull v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co., 21 Ind. App. 571, 52 N. E. 1013, holding that a railroad company is not liable for injuries to an infant trespasser, which are caused by mere negligence.

Massachusetts.— Anternoitz v. New York, etc., R. Co., 193 Mass. 542, 79 N. E. 789 (boys on cars); Morrissey v. Eastern R. Co., 126 Mass. 377, 30 Am. Rep. 686 (holding the railroad company not to be liable, unless the act causing the injury is done maliciously or with gross and cruel recklessness).

Minnesota.— Ellington v. Great Northern R. Co., 96 Minn. 176, 104 N. W. 827.

Mississippi.— Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Williams, 69 Miss. 131, 12 So. 957.

Ohio.— Wabash R. Co. v. Norway, 7 Ohio Cir. Ct. 449, 4 Ohio Cir. Dec. 674; Steele v. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co., 4 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 350.

Washington.— Matson v. Port Townsend Southern R. Co., 9 Wash. 449, 37 Pac. 705.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 1239.

89. Alabama.— Nashville, etc., R. Co. v. Harris, 142 Ala. 249, 37 So. 794, 110 Am. St. Rep. 29.

Delaware.— Tully v. Philadelphia, etc., R. Co., 3 Pennew. 455, 50 Atl. 95.

Illinois.— Union Stockyard, etc., Co. v. Butler, 92 Ill. App. 166.

Indiana.— Baltimore, etc., R. Co. v. Bradford, 20 Ind. App. 348, 49 N. E. 388, 67 Am. St. Rep. 252.

Iowa.— Wagner v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 124 Iowa 462, 100 N. W. 332; Wagner v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 122 Iowa 360, 98 N. W. 141; Thomas v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 93 Iowa 248, 61 N. W. 967, where actually aware of his presence.

Kansas.— Missouri Pac. R. Co. v. Prewitt, 7 Kan. App. 556, 51 Pac. 923.

Kentucky.— Elliott v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 99 S. W. 233, 30 Ky. L. Rep. 471; Jack-on the track and therefore liable to be injured unless precautions to discover its presence are taken.[90]

(IV) Care After Accident. Where a person, whether a bare licensee or a trespasser, is injured without fault on the part of the railroad company, the company is not liable because its employees do not take charge of and care for such person after the accident;[91] although it is otherwise if the company was at fault in causing the injury,[92] or if its employees assume to take charge of and care for the injured person and do so negligently.[93]

(V) By Defects in Roadway or Equipment — (A) In General. A railroad company ordinarily owes no duty to trespassers or bare licensees, including children as such,[94] to keep its tracks,[95] right of way,[96] or other premises,[97] in a son v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 46 S. W. 5, 20 Ky. L. Rep. 309.

Michigan.— Hamilton v. Detroit, etc., R. Co., 142 Mich. 56, 105 N. W. 82; Katzinski v. Grand Trunk R. Co., 141 Mich. 75, 104 N. W. 409.

Minnesota.— Ellington v. Great Northern R. Co., 96 Minn. 176, 104 N. W. 827.

Ohio.— Ludden v. Columbus, etc., R. Co., 9 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 793, 7 Ohio N. P. 106.

Texas.— Gulf, etc., R. Co. v. Cunningham, (Civ. App. 1895) 30 S. W. 367.

United States.— Felton v. Aubrey, 74 Fed. 350, 20 C. C. A. 436.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 1239.

Degree of care.—A railroad company is bound to exercise such care for the protection of an infant, on its property, as would be reasonable under all the circumstances, including the maturity and capacity of the infant and its familiarity with the surroundings; but it is not required to be an insurer of the infant's safety. Tully v. Philadelphia, etc., R. Co., 3 Pennew. (Del.) 455, 50 Atl. 95.

90. Union Stockyards, etc., Co. v. Butler, 92 Ill. App. 166 (holding, however, that a railroad company is not bound to keep a constant watch or to use extraordinary care to prevent children's approach to the track); Wagner v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 122 Iowa 360, 98 N. W. 141; Hicks v. Pacific R. Co., 64 Mo. 430; Missouri, etc., R. Co. v. Hammer, 34 Tex. Civ. App. 354, 78 S. W. 708; St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Abernathy, 28 Tex. Civ. App. 613, 68 S. W. 539. See also Gunn v. Ohio River R. Co., 36 W. Va. 165, 14 S. E. 465, 32 Am. St. Rep. 842.

Illustrations.— Where for two or three years small boys of immature years habitually frequented a railroad track and had persistently ridden on freight trains there, to the knowledge of the railroad employees, it was the duty of the employees to use ordinary care to prevent injuring the boys, although they had attempted to stop the custom. Davis v. St. Louis Southwestern R. Co., (Tex. Civ. App. 1906) 92 S. W. 931. So where children are on or about work trains so frequently that a person of ordinary prudence will apprehend danger to them, the fact that the employees do not know that a child is on the train in a dangerous position does not relieve the company from liability from an accident resulting therefrom. St. Louis Southwestern R. Co. v. Abernathy, 28 Tex. Civ. App. 613, 68 S. W. 539.

Flying switch.— Where the railroad servants know that there are a number of children around and between the tracks at a station, it is negligence to cut a car loose from a train and allow it to pass over a side-track, although the children are trespassers. Lange v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 115 Mo. App. 582, 91 S. W. 989.

91. Union Pac. R. Co. v. Cappier, 66 Kan. 649, 72 Pac. 281, 69 L. R. A. 513; Griswold v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 183 Mass. 434, 67 N. E. 354.

That the company's servants did not use their best judgment in affording the person injured necessary assistance after the accident does not render the company liable where the injury was caused without fault on its part. Griswold v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 183 Mass. 434, 67 N. E. 354.

92. Union Pac. R. Co. v. Cappier, 66 Kan. 649, 72 Pac. 281, 69 L. R. A. 513; Whitesides v. Southern R. Co., 128 N. C. 229, 38 S. E. 878.

93. Union Pac. R. Co. v. Cappier, 66 Kan. 649, 72 Pac. 281, 69 L. R. A. 513; Northern Cent. R. Co. v. State, 29 Md. 420, 96 Am. Dec. 545.

94. Alabama Great Southern R. Co. v. Moorer, 116 Ala. 642, 22 So. 900.

95. International, etc., R. Co. v. Lee, (Tex. Civ. App. 1896) 34 S. W. 160, holding that there is no duty upon a railroad company to keep its switches blocked in private switch yards to lessen the chance of injuring pedestrians.

A defective frog is not negligence as to a trespasser or mere licensee (Akers v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 58 Minn. 540, 60 N. W. 669; Archer v. Union Pac. R. Co., 110 Mo. App. 349, 85 S. W. 934), even though the act of the company in permitting such defect is in violation of a statute (Akers v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., supra).

96. Neal v. Southern R. Co., 128 N. C. 143, 38 S. E. 474; De la Pena v. International, etc., R. Co., 32 Tex. Civ. App. 241, 74 S. W. 58; Houston, etc., R. Co. v. Sgalinski, 19 Tex. Civ. App. 107, 46 S. W. 113; McConkey v. Oregon R., etc., Co., 35 Wash. 55, 76 Pac. 526.

97. Alabama Great Southern R. Co. v. Moorer, 116 Ala. 642, 22 So. 900; Norfolk, reasonably safe condition; and is not liable for a defect thereon, unless its employees in making changes on such premises knowingly left them in an unsafe condition and failed to use reasonable precautions to avoid injury to persons likely to use them or to notify them of the danger.[98] Nor as to such persons, is the railroad company bound to provide and maintain reasonably safe appliances or equipment.[99] But as to a person upon its premises by express or implied invitation, or by right as one of the public, although the railroad company is not required to have its premises and equipment absolutely safe,[1] it is under an obligation to prevent injury to such person from any unseen or unusual danger, and therefore to exercise ordinary care to keep its premises in a reasonably safe condition,[2] and to provide and maintain reasonably safe appliances and equipment.[3]

(B) Failure to Fence Railroad.[4] In the absence of statute there is no duty upon a railroad company to fence its tracks, or right of way, for any purpose; and consequently the failure to do so cannot in the absence of statute be considered negligence as to persons who come upon the tracks at a point where there etc., R. Co. v. De Board, 91 Va. 700, 22 S. E. 514, 29 L. R. A. 825.

98. Norfolk, etc., R. Co. v. De Board, 91 Va. 700, 22 S. E. 514, 89 L. R. A. 825, holding that if a railroad company carelessly or negligently makes an excavation not open to common observation of persons passing along the right of way, and not apparent to one exercising ordinary care, and knowing the premises to be in a dangerous condition, fails to repair the same or to give notice thereof to a licensee, and personal injury results therefrom without negligence on the part of such licensee, the railroad company is liable for damages for such injury.

99. Hortenstein v. Virginia-Carolina R. Co., 102 Va. 914, 47 S. E. 996.

A failure to maintain watchmen or operate gates or give warning of the approach of trains is not negligence as to a trespasser or bare licensee. Cannon v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co., 157 Ind. 682, 62 N. E. 8.

1. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Ferrell, 84 Ark. 270, 105 S. W. 263 (holding that a railroad company is not liable for an injury to a prospective passenger upon its track who stumbled on a stake which was properly there and fell in front of a train); Colorado, etc., R. Co. v. Sonne, (Colo. 1905) 83 Pac. 383; Flynn v. New Jersey Cent. R. Co., 142 N. Y. 439, 37 N. E. 514.

2. Arkansas.— St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Dooley, 77 Ark. 561, 92 S. W. 789.

California.— Hansen v. Southern Pac. Co., 105 Cal. 379, 38 Pac. 957.

Colorado.— Colorado, etc., R. Co. v. Sonne, (1905) 83 Pac. 383.

Georgia.— Burton v. Western, etc., R. Co., 98 Ga. 783, 25 S. E. 736.

Indiana.— Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Phillips, 112 Ind. 59, 13 N. E. 132, 2 Am. St. Rep. 155.

Iowa.— Goodrich v. Burlington, etc., R. Co., 103 Iowa 412, 72 N. W. 653 (space between a main rail and a guard rail wider than usual or necessary, and without proper filling below the balls of the rails); Robinson v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 67 Iowa 292, 25 N. W. 249 (duty to maintain cattle-guards under Code (1873), § 1288).

New York.— Flynn v. New Jersey Cent. R. Co., 142 N. Y. 439, 37 N. E. 514.

South Carolina.— Matthews v. Seaboard Air-Line R. Co., 67 S. C. 499, 46 S. E. 335, 65 L. R. A. 286.

Texas.— Gulf, etc., R. Co. v. Bryant, 30 Tex. Civ. App. 4, 66 S. W. 804, negligence in construction of tracks.

England.—Manchester, etc., R. Co. v. Woodcock, 25 L. T. Rep. N. S. 335.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 1247.

The proximity of a platform belonging to a private individual to the railroad track is not negligence on the part of the railroad company, where it owns only the road-bed at that point and has no interest in or control over either the platform or the ground upon which it rests. Barber v. Richmond, etc., R. Co., 34 S. C. 444, 13 S. E. 630.

Under a Missouri statute (Rev. St. (1879) § 2121, Rev. St. (1899) § 4425), making a railroad company liable for a death "resulting from or caused by the negligence, unskilfulness or criminal intent of any officer, servant or employee while running, conducting, or managing any locomotive, car or train of cars," such a company is not liable for injuries caused to a person walking along its track, who is injured on account of a defect in the construction of the track, which causes the locomotive to be derailed. McKenna v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 54 Mo. App. 161.

To put cattle-guards at places where the statute does not require them is not negligence. Galveston, etc., R. Co. v. Slinkard, (Tex. Civ. App. 1897) 39 S. W. 961.

3. Cederson v. Oregon R., etc., Co., 38 Oreg. 343, 62 Pac. 637, 63 Pac. 763; Gulf, etc., R. Co. v. Walker, 70 Tex. 126, 7 S. W. 831, 8 Am. St. Rep. 582; Lemay v. Quebec, etc., R. Co., 25 Quebec Super. Ct. 82.

Carelessness in loading a freight train of cars or in not attending to the adjustment of the load, by which an injury is done to a passenger in another train, will make the owners of the freight train responsible. Curtis v. Central R. Co., 6 Fed. Cas. No. 3,501, 6 McLean 401.

4. Existence and validity of statutory requirements as to fences see supra, X, B, 6.

is no fence and are injured.[5] In probably most jurisdictions, however, the fencing of a railroad track is regulated by statutes, under some of which the company's failure to erect and maintain the required fences may be considered negligence as to persons injured by reason of such failure.[6] But even under such statutes

5. Connecticut.— Nolan v. New York, etc., R. Co., 53 Conn. 461, 4 Atl. 106.

Georgia.— King v. Georgia Cent. R. Co., 107 Ga. 754, 33 S. E. 839; Western, etc., R. Co. v. Rogers, 104 Ga. 224, 30 S. E. 804.

Illinois.— Wabash R. Co. v. Gaull, 116 Ill. App. 443; Kinnare v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 114 Ill. App. 230.

Kentucky.— Jackson v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 46 S. W. 5, 20 Ky. L. Rep. 309, holding that a railroad company is not negligent in failing to erect a fence to keep trespassers off its switch-yard, especially where a watchman is employed.

Massachusetts.— Mugford v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 173 Mass. 10, 52 N. E. 1078.

Michigan.— Katzinski v. Grand Trunk R. Co., 141 Mich. 75, 104 N. W. 409 (holding that the law does not require a railroad company to fence its railroad yard); Rabidon v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 115 Mich. 390, 73 N. W. 386, 39 L. R. A. 405; Marcott v. Marquette, etc., R. Co., 47 Mich. 1, 10 N. W. 53.

Missouri.— Barney v. Hannibal, etc., R. Co., 126 Mo. 372, 28 S. W. 1069, 26 L. R. A. 847, failure to fence freight yard not negligence.

New Hampshire.— Casista v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 69 N. H. 649, 45 Atl. 712 (infant trespasser); Cornwall v. Sullivan R. Co., 28 N. H. 161.

New York.—Roberton v. New York, 7 Misc. 645, 28 N. Y. Suppl. 13 [affirmed in 149 N. Y. 609, 44 N. E. 1128].

United States.— Reynolds v. Great Northern R. Co., 69 Fed. 808, 16 C. C. A. 435, 29 L. R. A. 695.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 1246.

A railroad company need not fence or place guards along its road where there are cuts or embankments, notwithstanding a public road may run parallel with the railroad. King v. Georgia Cent. R. Co., 107 Ga. 754, 33 S. E. 839; Daneck v. Pennsylvania R. Co., 59 N. J. L. 415, 37 Atl. 59, 59 Am. St. Rep. 613.

6. For the construction of particular statutes and their applicability to persons injured see the following cases:

Michigan.— Keyser v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 56 Mich. 559, 23 N. W. 311, 56 Am. Rep. 405, 66 Mich. 390, 33 N. W. 867 (holding that, in an action for negligently running over a child on a railroad track, it may be shown that the railroad company failed to fence its tracks as required by statute); Marcott v. Marquette, etc., R. Co., 47 Mich. 1, 10 N. W. 53.

Minnesota.— Mattes v. Great Northern R. Co., 95 Minn. 386, 104 N. W. 234, 100 Minn. 34, 110 N. W. 98, construing Gen. St. (1894) § 2692, and holding that such statute applies to cattle-guards as a part of the fence. Failure of a railroad company to fence its road as required by statute is prima facie evidence of negligence. Ellington v. Great Northern R. Co., 96 Minn. 176, 104 N. W. 827; Nickolson v. Northern Pac. R. Co., 80 Minn. 508, 83 N. W. 454. Gen. St. (1894) §§ 2692, 2695, and Gen. St. (1897) c. 346, requiring railroad companies to construct and maintain fences on either side of their tracks, imposes a duty upon railroad companies, which inures to the benefit of children of tender years who may by reason of negligence in that respect be injured. Marengo v. Great Northern R. Co., 84 Minn. 397, 87 N. W. 1117, 87 Am. St. Rep. 369; Nickolson v. Northern Pac. R. Co., supra; Rosse v. St. Paul, etc., R. Co., 68 Minn. 216, 71 N. W. 20, 64 Am. St. Rep. 472, 37 L. R. A. 591. Compare Fitzgerald v. St. Paul, etc., R. Co., 29 Minn. 336, 13 N. W. 168, 43 Am. Rep. 212. Gen. St. (1894) § 2698, was repealed by Gen. St. (1894) § 2055, providing for a barbed wire fence along a right of way. Ellington v. Great Northern R. Co., 96 Minn. 176, 104 N. W. 827.

Nebraska.—Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Grablin, 38 Nebr. 90, 56 N. W. 796, 57 N. W. 522, child.

Ohio.— Ludtke v. Lake Shore, etc., R. Co., 24 Ohio Cir. Ct. 120 (Rev. St. § 3324); Devereux v. Thornton, 4 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 449, 2 Clev. L. Rep. 177, holding that the absence of the required fence is negligence and imposes a higher degree of care on the railroad company to look after a child playing along the track.

Rhode Island.— See Morrissey v. Providence, etc., R. Co., 15 R. I. 271, 3 Atl. 10.

Texas.— Houston, etc., R. Co. v. Boozer, 2 Tex. Unrep. Cas. 452.

Wisconsin.— Stuettgen v. Wisconsin Cent. R. Co., 80 Wis. 498, 50 N. W. 407; Schrier v. Milwaukee, etc., R. Co., 65 Wis. 457, 27 N. W. 167 (holding that the absence of a fence in compliance with Laws (1885), c. 193, is prima facie evidence of negligence on the part of the company); Schmidt v. Milwaukee, etc., R. Co., 23 Wis. 186, 99 Am. Dec. 158.

United States.— Baltimore, etc., R. Co. v. Cumberland, 176 U. S. 232, 20 S. Ct. 380, 34 L. ed. 447 [affirming 12 App. Cas. (D. C.) 598]; Hayes v. Michigan Cent. R. Co., 111 U. S. 228, 4 S. Ct. 369, 28 L. ed. 410.

Canada.— Tabb v. Grand Trunk R. Co., 8 Ont. L. Rep. 203, 3 Ont. Wkly. Rep. 885.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 1246.

Notice of defect.—A railroad company is charged with notice of an opening in the fence inclosing its tracks, when such opening has existed for more than two years and a path has been worn by persons passing to and fro through such opening and across the track at that point. Ludtke v. Lake Shore, etc., R. Co., 24 Ohio Cir. Ct. 120.

A statute requiring fences for the benefit of adjoining owners and occupants does not a failure to fence is not negligence as to persons injured at a point where public necessity or convenience requires that there should be no fences,[7] such as at public crossings,[8] or at points within the limits of station or depot grounds which are either expressly or impliedly excepted by statute.[9] But statutes which are designed solely for the protection of live stock and which require fences along the railroad right of way to prevent stock from going on the tracks do not apply to persons; and consequently a failure to fence under such statutes cannot be considered as negligence as to persons injured at points where such fences are not maintained.[10] So also a duty to fence, as to persons off the railroad, to prevent them from getting upon it, is not due toward passengers or persons already on the line.[11]

(c) Defect in Highway Occupied by Track.[12] Where railroad tracks are laid over or alongside a public street or highway, it is generally the duty of the railroad company to so construct and maintain its road-bed as to restore and keep the street or highway in its former state of usefulness; and if it fails to do so it is liable for injuries caused thereby to travelers on such street or highway.[13] If the railroad company has knowledge of any defect in its road-bed which makes the street or highway more dangerous it is responsible for injuries caused by its apply to persons injured while going on or along the track. Casista v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 69 N. H. 649, 45 Atl. 712 (Pub. St. c. 159, § 23); Cornwall v. Sullivan R. Co., 28 N. H. 161.

A statute providing for guards at the crossing of public roads and private ways does not require such guards along the side of the railroad tracks. King v. Georgia Cent. R. Co., 107 Ga. 754, 33 S. E. 839 (Civ. Code, §§ 2220, 2221).

7. Nicholson v. Northern Pac. R. Co., 80 Minn. 508, 32 N. W. 454.

Under Mass. Pub. St. c. 112, § 115, providing that railroad companies shall maintain suitable fences on both sides of their roads except "in places where the convenient use of the road would be thereby obstructed," the failure to maintain such fence is not negligence, when it was customary to unload freight at the place where plaintiff must have gone on the track. McCarthy v. Fitchburg R. Co., 154 Mass. 17, 27 N. E. 773.

8. Nicholson v. Northern Pac. R. Co., 80 Minn. 508, 32 N. W. 454.

9. Burtram v. Michigan Cent. R. Co., 148 Mich. 166, 111 N. W. 749; Rabidon v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 115 Mich. 390, 73 N. W. 386, 39 L. R. A. 405; Nickolson v. Northern Pac. R. Co., 80 Minn. 508, 83 N. W. 454; Houston, etc., R. Co. v. Boozer, 2 Tex. Unrep. Cas. 452.

10. Illinois.— Wabash R. Co. v. Gaull, 116 Ill. App. 443.

Indiana.— McKinney v. Ohio, etc., R. Co., 22 Ind. 99; Thayer v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 22 Ind. 26, 85 Am. Dec. 409; Baltimore, etc., R. Co. v. Bradford, 20 Ind. App. 348, 49 N. E. 388, 67 Am. St. Rep. 252.

Massachusetts.— Byrnes v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 181 Mass. 322, 63 N. E. 897.

Minnesota.— Fitzgerald v. St. Paul, etc., R. Co., 29 Minn. 336, 13 N. W. 168, 43 Am. Rep. 212.

New Hampshire.— Cornwall v. Sullivan R. Co., 28 N. H. 161.

New York.— Ditchett v. Spuyten Duyvil, etc., R. Co., 67 N. Y. 425; Lehey v. Hudson River R. Co., 4 Rob. 204; Roberton v. New York, 7 Misc. 645, 28 N. Y. Suppl. 13 [affirmed in 149 N. Y. 609, 44 N. E. 1128].

Ohio.— Lake Shore, etc., R. Co. v. Liidtke, 69 Ohio St. 384, 69 N. E. 653.

United States.— Carper v. Norfolk, etc., R. Co., 78 Fed. 94, 23 C. C. A. 669, 35 L. R. A. 135; Walkenhauer v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 17 Fed. 136, 3 McCrary 553. But see Union Pac. R. Co. v. McDonald, 152 U. S. 262, 14 S. Ct. 619, 38 L. ed. 434, holding that a failure to fence as required by statute for the protection of stock is evidence of negligence in the case of a person injured by reason of the absence of such fence.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 1246.

11. Harrold v. Great Western R. Co., 14 L. T. Rep. N. S. 440.

12. Duty of railroad to maintain highway as exonerating public see STREETS AND HIGHWAYS.

Liability of city for defects or obstructions in streets caused by railroad company see MUNICIPAL CORPORATIONS, 28 Cyc. 1354.

13. Wasmer v. Delaware, etc., R. Co., 80 N. Y. 212, 36 Am. Rep. 608; Ross v. Metropolitan St. R. Co., 116 N. Y. App. Div. 507, 101 N. Y. Suppl. 932; Coy v. Utica, etc., R. Co., 23 Barb. (N. Y.) 643; International, etc., R. Co. v. Haddox, 36 Tex. Civ. App. 385, 81 S. W. 1036 (obligation to restore street to former state of usefulness under Rev. St. (1895) art. 4426); Brownell v. Troy, etc., R. Co., 55 Vt. 218; McCandless v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 71 Wis. 41, 36 N. W. 620. See Thompson v. Grand Trunk R. Co., 37 U. C. Q. B. 40.

Notice of a defect caused by a failure to restore a highway on which the track is laid to its former usefulness need not be shown in order to hold a railroad company responsible, as such defect is a public nuisance, and results from a violation of the law. Vaughan v. Buffalo, etc., R. Co., 72 Hun (N. Y.) 471, 25 N. Y. Suppl. 246.

neglect to have the defect repaired,[14] although such defect was not caused by any act on its part,[15] and although it is merely a lessee of the road.[16]

(D) Lights on Cars, Trains, and Tracks. A railroad company owes no duty to a trespasser or bare licensee on its tracks to keep a headlight burning on its engine,[17] or lights on its cars similar to headlights on engines,[18] especially where by reason of a dense fog, or otherwise, it would do no good.[19] It is under a duty, however, to use reasonable care in keeping lights on its engines or cars as to persons whom it has reason to anticipate may be on the tracks.[20] Likewise, while it is the duty of a railroad company to keep lighted at proper times its depot, approaches, and other places connected therewith, which are likely to be visited by passengers and persons lawfully on the premises,[21] it owes no such duty to trespassers or bare licensees.[22]

(E) Means of Controlling Trains or Cars. It is also the duty of a railroad company operating trains or cars at a place where persons are known or may be expected to be on the tracks to provide such trains or cars with the usual means and appliances for stopping, and keep them in proper repair,[23] and with a proper number of brakemen,[24] who shall have the brakes under proper control;[25] and to

14. Oakland R. Co. v. Fielding, 48 Pa. St. 320.

15. Oakland R. Co. v. Fielding, 48 Pa. St. 320.

16. Wasmer v. Delaware, etc., R. Co., 80 N. Y. 212, 36 Am. Rep. 608.

17. Eastern Kentucky R. Co. v. Powell, 33 S. W. 629, 17 Ky. L. Rep. 1051; Frye v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 200 Mo. 377, 98 S. W. 566, 8 L. R. A. N. S. 1069; Williamson v. Southern R. Co., 104 Va. 146, 51 S. E. 195, 113 Am. St. Rep. 1032, 70 L. R. A. 1007.

18. Gilliam v. Texas, etc., R. Co., 114 La. 272, 38 So. 166.

19. Dilas v. Chesapeake, etc., R. Co., 71 S. W. 492, 24 Ky. L. Rep. 1347.

20. Indianapolis, etc., R. Co. v. Galbreath, 63 Ill. 436 (while running through a village); Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. O'Neil, 64 Ill. App. 623 (especially where required by ordinance); Heavener v. North Carolina R. Co., 141 N. C. 245, 53 S. E. 513; Willis v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 122 N. C. 905, 29 S. E. 941; Purnell v. Raleigh, etc., R. Co., 122 N. C. 832, 29 S. E. 953; Canadian Pac. R. Co. v. Boisseau, 32 Can. Sup. Ct. 424 (conductor in defendant's employ). See also Eastern Kentucky R. Co. v. Powell, 33 S. W. 629, 17 Ky. L. Rep. 1051.

That there was no light or flagman on the rear of the end car of a long train which was running backward is immaterial where it is shown that the person injured must have been injured while attempting to cross the track near the engine. Bryant v. Illinois Cent. R. Co., (La. 1897) 22 So. 799.

21. Rozwadosfskie v. International, etc., R. Co., 1 Tex. Civ. App. 487, 20 S. W. 872. See Purnell v. Raleigh, etc., R. Co., 122 N. C. 832, 29 S. E. 953. And see, generally, CARRIERS, 6 Cyc. 609, text and note 31.

22. Houston, etc., R. Co. v. Sgalinski, 19 Tex. Civ. App. 107, 46 S. W. 113; Rozwadosfskie v. International, etc., R. Co., 1 Tex. Civ. App. 487, 20 S. W. 872.

23. Lake Shore, etc., R. Co. v. Hundt, 140 Ill. 525, 30 N. E. 458 [affirming 41 Ill. App. 220]; Waltz v. Pennsylvania R. Co., 216 Pa. St. 165, 65 Atl. 401 [affirming 31 Pa. Super. Ct. 286]; Barley v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 2 Fed. Cas. No. 997, 4 Biss. 430, holding this to be true irrespective of any city ordinance requiring such appliances.

Duty as to appliances or equipment.— It is the duty of railroad companies to use upon their trains, whether for carrying passengers or freight, all improvements in machinery, or in the construction of cars, commonly used by other companies, to enable their employees to control the movement and speed of their trains on seeing persons on the track; and it is negligence if they do not use them, for which they are liable to a person injured if the improvement would in any appreciable degree have contributed to prevent the injury. Costello v. Syracuse, etc., R. Co., 65 Barb. (N. Y.) 92. And see Mott v. Hudson River R. Co., 8 Bosw. (N. Y.) 345.

24. Lake Shore, etc., R. Co. . Hundt, 140 Ill. 525, 30 N. E. 458 [affirming 41 Ill. App. 220], holding that putting a car in motion on a track where it is known that men may be, without any person being on the car and without any means of stopping it, is evidence tending to prove negligence.

Illustrations.— Thus it is negligence for a railroad company to send a car forward through a town or other such place, propelled only by its own impetus, without any one in charge to control it (Shelby v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 85 Ky. 224, 3 S. W. 157, 9 Ky. L. Rep. 928); or to detach a car on a railroad track where persons are liable to be found and send it out of sight around a curve on a down grade, unattended by any one capable of checking it in case of danger (Ky v. Pennsylvania R. Co., 65 Pa. St. 269, 3 Am. Rep. 628).

Number of brakemen.—A railroad company is only bound to manage its trains with a sufficient number of brakemen to meet the ordinary use of its road, unless it has reasonable ground to believe that an unusual exigency will arise. Schmidt v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 83 Ill. 405.

25. Lange v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 115 Mo. App. 582, 91 S. W. 989, holding that it is use proper means of securing cars which are standing at or near a place where persons may be expected to go upon the tracks.[26]

(VI) ARTICLES PROJECTING, FALLING, OR THROWN FROM TRAIN.[27] A trespasser or bare licensee on or near a railroad track cannot recover for injuries caused by articles projecting, falling, or being thrown from a train,[28] unless the railroad company knew of the danger and of the injured party's peril and failed to use ordinary care to avoid the injury.[29] But for injuries caused by such articles to one rightfully on or near the track a railroad company is responsible if it fails to use ordinary care to avoid the injury;[30] but not where the injury is the result of a mere casualty.[31] Although a railroad company is not primarily liable for the acts of third persons, such as mail or news agents, in throwing or delivering packages from its trains or cars, it owes a duty of not permitting dangerous habits of such agents in delivering packages in such a manner as to injure persons lawfully on its premises to continue, and if the company has knowledge, or the practice continues for a sufficient length of time to charge it with knowledge thereof, it is liable to one lawfully on its premises and injured by such practice.[32]

(VII) MODE OF RUNNING TRAINS OR CARS GENERALLY[33] — (A) Care Required in General. As a general rule a railroad company is under no duty to anticipate that trespassers will be on its tracks, and therefore is under no duty to use special care and precaution in the operations of its trains or cars so as to avoid injuring a trespasser or a bare licensee,[34] until after such person's peril is the duty of the brakemen on a car cut loose from a train, in order to allow it to run on the side-track, to have the brake under control so as to be able to stop the car moving on a level grade at the rate of four miles an hour within a few feet.

26. Brown v. Pontchartrain R. Co., 8 Rob. (La.) 45, holding that a railroad company is liable for injuries caused by a car left standing on a side-track and not properly blocked, and which was put in motion by a strong wind, causing an injury to one who was crossing the track at a point over which it was necessary for him to go.

27. Injuries to persons at stations see infra, X, E, 2, b.

28. Thomas v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 105 S. W. 379, 32 Ky. L. Rep. 67; Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Wade, 36 S. W. 1125, 18 K. L. Rep. 549, holding that plaintiff, who was struck while walking between the rails of a switch-track by a timber projecting from a car which was then passing over the main track, could not recover.

A licensee walking near a railroad track cannot recover for an injury received by being struck by a brake-shoe which flies from a passing car. Carr v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 195 Mo. 214, 92 S. W. 874.

29. Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Wade, 36 S. W. 1125, 18 Ky. L. Rep. 549; Missouri, etc., R. Co. v. Scarborough, 29 Tex. Civ. App. 194, 68 S. W. 196.

30. Cleveland, etc., R. Co. v. Berry, 152 Ind. 607, 53 N. E. 415, 46 L. R. A. 33; Fletcher v. Baltimore, etc., R. Co., 168 U. S. 135, 18 S. Ct. 35, 42 L. ed. 411.

Under Ga. Code, § 3033, if the injury was caused by an article either falling or being thrown from a passing train of cars, the necessary inference in the absence of any evidence to the contrary is that the negligence was chargeable to the company's servants while acting within the scope of their duties. Savannah, etc., R. Co. v. Slater, 92 Ga. 391, 17 S. E. 350.

31. Clardy v. Southern R. Co., 112 Ga. 37, 37 S. E. 99, holding that a railroad company is not liable to a licensee who used the right of way as a footpath, for injuries occasioned by a blow from a stone which formed a portion of the ballast of the company's track, and which was casually dislodged from its place therein and hurled against him by a passing train.

32. Illinois.— Ohio, etc., R. Co. v. Simms, 43 Ill. App. 260.

Indiana.— Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co. v. Warrum, (App. 1907) 82 N. E. 934, (App. 1908) 84 N. E. 356.

Michigan.— Shaw v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 123 Mich. 629, 82 N. W. 618, 81 Am. St. Rep. 230, 49 L. R. A. 308.

Minnesota.— Galloway v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 56 Minn. 346, 57 N. W. 1058, 45 Am. St. Rep. 468, 23 L. R. A. 442. Compare McGrath v. Eastern R. Co., 74 Minn. 363, 77 N. W. 136.

New York.— Clifford v. New York Cent., etc., R. Co., 111 N. Y. App. Div. 809, 97 N. Y. Suppl. 954.

33. Injuries to persons at crossings see infra, X, F, 6.

Injuries to persons at stations see infra, X, E, 2, b, (IV).

Injuries to persons working on or about cars or tracks see X, E, 2, c.

34. Chenery v. Fitchburg R. Co., 160 Mass. 211, 35 N. E. 554, 22 L. R. A. 575; Burde v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 123 Mo. App. 629, 100 S. W. 509; Kelly v. Philadelphia, etc., R. Co., 30 Leg. Int. (Pa.) 140; Norfolk, etc., R. Co. v. Stegall, 105 Va. 538, 54 S. E. 19, holding that a railroad company does not owe a duty to a bare licensee on its tracks, of employing competent servants to discovered.[35] This rule, however, is subject to the exception that the railroad company must exercise ordinary care and caution, commensurate with the risk of accidents, in operating its trains or cars at places where persons, although trespassers or mere licensees, are known or may be expected to be on the tracks,[36] as in towns or cities;[37] and for a failure to exercise such care the railroad company run its trains, or to run them in any particular manner or at a particular rate of speed.

Running a train of cars backward is not negligence as to a trespasser or a bare licensee. Yarnall v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 75 Mo. 575; Swindell v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 44 Nebr. 841, 62 N. W. 1103.

Before moving cars standing on a side-track a railroad company is not required to examine them to ascertain whether or not there are any trespassers on or under the cars in a perilous position. Jordan v. Grand Rapids, etc., R. Co., 162 Ind. 464, 70 N. E. 524, 102 Am. St. Rep. 217; Flores v. Atchison, etc., R. Co., (Tex. Civ. App. 1900) 66 S. W. 709.

Rules regulating the distance at which trains shall run from each other on a railroad are intended solely for the protection of the property of the company and the safety of their employees and passengers, and not for persons who may be traveling along the highway; and no inference of negligence can be drawn from the proximity of trains in an action to recover damages for an injury to a person while crossing a railroad track at a place not known or used as a public crossing. Philadelphia, etc., R. Co. v. Spearen, 47 Pa. St. 300, 86 Am. Dec. 544. See also Mobile, etc., R. Co. v. Roberts, (Miss. 1898) 23 So. 393.

35. Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Coleman, 86 Ky. 556, 6 S. W. 438, 8 S. W. 875, 10 Ky. L. Rep. 81; Yarnall v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 75 Mo. 575; Rosenthal v. New York, etc., R. Co., 112 N. Y. App. Div. 431, 98 N. Y. Suppl. 476; Houston, etc., R. Co. v. Hartnett, (Tex. Civ. App. 1898) 48 S. W. 773, holding that in such a case the employees operating engines must use such care as ordinarily prudent persons would exercise under like circumstances.

36. Delaware.— Tully v. Philadelphia, etc., R. Co., 3 Pennew. 455, 50 Atl. 95.

Kentucky.— Oliver v. Roach, 102 S. W. 274, 31 Ky. L. Rep. 284.

Massachusetts.— Chenery v. Fitchburg R. Co., 160 Mass. 211, 35 N. E. 554, 22 L. R. A. 575.

Missouri.— Hicks v. Pacific R. Co., 64 Mo. 430; Burde v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 123 Mo. App. 629, 100 S. W. 509.

New York.— Bernhardt v. Rensselaer, etc., R. Co., 18 How. Pr. 427 [reversed on the facts in 32 Barb. 165, 19 How. Pr. 199 (affirmed in 1 Abb. Dec. 131, 23 How. Pr. 166)].

Texas.— International, etc., R. Co. v. Howell, (Civ. App. 1907) 105 S. W. 560 [affirmed in (1908) 111 S. W. 142].

United States.— Connell v. Southern R. Co., 91 Fed. 466, 33 C. C. A. 633.

Where the public are accustomed to use the railroad track as a passway, the railroad company must exercise a greater degree of care in running its trains or cars at such point than where the track is not so used. Arrwood v. South Carolina, etc., R. Co., 126 N. C. 629, 36 S. E. 151. In such a case it is the company's duty to use reasonable care to see that its tracks are clear before moving trains thereon, and a mere failure to observe persons on the track will not relieve the company from liability for their injuries. Fleming v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 106 Tenn. 374, 61 S. W. 58.

Change in use of side-track.— Where a railroad company has an equal right to the use of two side-tracks, but has been in the habit of using but one, it is not chargeable with negligence in changing to the other without notice to one rightfully on such track, but to whom it does not stand in any special relation. Hoy v. Terminal R. Assoc., 65 Ill. App. 349.

Operating a train in disregard of a flag placed in a certain position as a signal to approaching trains is negligence as to one rightfully on the tracks. Kunsman v. Lehigh Valley R. Co., 10 Pa. Super. Ct. 1.

37. Arkansas.— St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Waren, 65 Ark. 619, 48 S. W. 222.

Florida.— Florida Cent., etc., R. Co. v. Foxworth, 41 Fla. 1, 25 So. 338, 79 Am. St. Rep. 149.

Kansas.— Kansas Pac. R. Co. v. Pointer, 9 Kan. 620.

Kentucky.— Chesapeake, etc., R. Co. v. Davis, 119 Ky. 64, 60 S. W. 14, 22 Ky. L. Rep. 1156, 58 S. W. 698, 22 Ky. L. Rep. 748; Kentucky Cent. R. Co. v. Smith, 93 Ky. 449, 20 S. W. 392, 14 Ky. L. Rep. 455, 18 L. R. A. 63; Conley v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 89 Ky. 402, 12 S. W. 764, 11 Ky. L. Rep. 602; Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Murphy, 97 S. W. 729, 30 Ky. L. Rep. 93, 11 L. R. A. N. S. 352; McCabe v. Maysville, etc., R. Co., 89 S. W. 683, 28 Ky. L. Rep. 536.

Maryland.— Bannon v. Baltimore, etc., R. Co., 24 Md. 108.

Missouri.— Hicks v. Pacific R. Co., 64 Mo. 430.

Pennsylvania.— Holt v. Pennsylvania R. Co., 206 Pa. St. 356, 55 Atl. 1055, holding that the company is bound to keep the train under control.

Texas.— International, etc., R. Co. v. Hall, (Civ. App. 1906) 92 S. W. 996.

Washington.— Roth v. Union Depot Co., 13 Wash. 525, 43 Pac. 641, 44 Pac. 253, 31 L. R. A. 855.

West Virginia.— Ray v. Chesapeake, etc., R. Co., 57 W. Va. 333, 50 S. E. 413.

United States.— Smith v. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co., 90 Fed. 783.

is liable, unless the party injured knowing of the existence of the danger, purposely or negligently puts himself in the way.[38]

(B) Method of Switching Cars. The above rules apply to the operation of switching cars. Thus a railroad company is bound to use reasonable care in switching its cars even with respect to a trespasser or bare licensee after it discovers him in a perilous position.[39] Likewise it is bound to use reasonable care and caution in switching its cars at a place where it may expect persons to be on the track,[40] as in a city or town.[41]

To permit a loaded car to run down a grade alone on a track laid in a street without the exercise of any care or attention to see that no persons are in danger therefrom, constitutes negligence which renders the railroad company liable for a resulting injury. Smith v. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co., 90 Fed. 783. See also Conley v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 89 Ky. 402, 12 S. W. 764, 11 Ky. L. Rep. 602.

Degree of care.—A railroad company operating its trains on a thoroughfare of a town or city must use greater care than in less frequented localities (Florida Cent., etc., R. Co. v. Foxworth, 41 Fla. 1, 25 So. 338, 79 Am. St. Rep. 149; Powell v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 59 Mo. App. 626); but it is only required to exercise ordinary care under the circumstances, or such a degree of care as would be exercised by a person of ordinary prudence under the same or similar circumstances (International, etc., R. Co. v. Hall, (Tex. Civ. App. 1906) 92 S. W. 996); and which is commensurate with the dangers incident to the handling of its cars and trains at such places (McVey v. Chesapeake, etc., R. Co., 46 W. Va. 111, 32 S. E. 1012). It has been held that as great care is incumbent upon operators of a train passing along a public street as at crossings. Houston, etc., R. Co. v. Laskowski, (Tex. Civ. App. 1898) 47 S. W. 59.

That the tracks on the company's right of way are used by the public in a town as a footway imposes on the company the obligation to use greater care in running and managing its trains at such a place than would be required at places where the tracks are not so used. McVey v. Chesapeake, etc., R. Co., 46 W. Va. 111, 32 S. E. 1012.

Municipal ordinances regulating the movements of locomotives and cars create duties, and their violation in case of a person injured as a result of such violation is negligence per se. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co. v. Lightheiser, 163 Ind. 247, 71 N. E. 218, 660. And a railroad company is not relieved from the obligation of obeying all reasonable municipal regulations as to the management of its trains within the corporate limits, by the fact that its tracks, although on ground open to the public, are not upon the highway but on its own private property. Merz v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 88 Mo. 672, 1 S. W. 382.

That the tracks are laid on an embankment, the property of the company, does not relieve a railroad company from the obligation of reasonable care to avoid accidents on railroad tracks running through cities. McGuire v. Vicksburg, etc., R. Co., 46 La. Ann. 1543, 16 So. 457.

38. Conley v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 89 Ky. 402, 12 S. W. 764, 11 Ky. L. Rep. 602; Bannon v. Baltimore, etc., R. Co., 24 Md. 108.

39. Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Coleman, 86 Ky. 556, 6 S. W. 438, 8 S. W. 875, 10 Ky. L. Rep. 81 (holding a railroad company to be liable by reason of the conductor on a detached car not at once putting on the brakes when he saw that a person on the track did not heed the engineer's warning); Menlo v. New Jersey Cent. R. Co., 84 N. Y. Suppl. 448.

40. Illinois.— Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. O'Neil, 64 Ill. App. 623.

Kentucky.— Conley v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 89 Ky. 402, 12 S. W. 764, 11 Ky. L. Rep. 602.

New York.— Heck v. New York Cent., etc., R. Co., 94 N. Y. App. Div. 469, 88 N. Y. Suppl. 154; McCarty v. New York Cent., etc., R. Co., 73 N. Y. App. Div. 34, 76 N. Y. Suppl. 321.

Texas.— International, etc., R. Co. v. Brooks, (Civ. App. 1899) 54 S. W. 1056.

Washington.— Roth v. Union Depot Co., 13 Wash. 525, 43 Pac. 641, 44 Pac. 453, 31 L. R. A. 855.

Reasonable care is the measure of duty in such a case and the company is not bound to use "great care." Heck v. New York Cent., etc., R. Co., 94 N. Y. App. Div. 562, 88 N. Y. Suppl. 154.

Switching cars on a dark night without warning or lights on moving cars at a point where the railroad company knew pedestrians had the right and were in the habit of passing is not exercising reasonable care. McCarty v. New York Cent., etc., R. Co., 73 N. Y. App. Div. 34, 76 N. Y. Suppl. 321.

Running unattended cars at a rapid rate down a grade and around a curve out of sight of its railroad employees and over a track used daily by a number of people as a passway is gross negligence. Roth v. Union Depot Co., 13 Wash. 525, 43 Pac. 641, 44 Pac. 253, 31 L. R. A. 855.

41. Kentucky Cent. R. Co. v. Smith, 93 Ky. 449, 20 S. W. 392, 14 Ky. L. Rep. 455, 18 L. R. A. 63.

Making a running or flying switch on a street in a populous part of a city is a high degree of negligence. Kentucky Cent. R. Co. v. Smith, 93 Ky. 449, 20 S. W. 392, 14 Ky. L. Rep. 455, 18 L. R. A. 63.

(VIII) SIGNALS AND LOOKOUTS [42] — (A) Duty to Give Signals — (1) IN GENERAL. In the absence of statutory requirements, or knowledge of a person's perilous position, a railroad company is ordinarily under no duty to give warning by bell or whistle of the approach or movement of its trains at places other than at public crossings, depots, or in towns or cities; [43] although the trespasser at such points is an infant.[44] This rule, however, is subject to the qualification that where together with other circumstances increasing the risk of accident, the railroad company has reason to anticipate that persons will be on its tracks at certain places,[45] as in towns or cities,[46] or at other places where persons have been accustomed to cross or go upon the tracks for a long time within the railroad company's

42. Injuries to persons at crossings see infra, X, F, 7.

Injuries to persons working on or near tracks or cars see infra, X, E, 2, c, (II), (B).

43. Alabama.— Carrington v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 88 Ala. 472, 6 So. 910.

California.— Toomey v. Southern Pac. R. Co., 86 Cal. 374, 24 Pac. 1074, 10 L. R. A. 139.

Illinois.— Kinnare v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 114 Ill. App. 230.

Kentucky.— Gregory v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 79 S. W. 238, 25 Ky. L. Rep. 1986; Lyons v. Illinois Cent. R. Co., 59 S. W. 507, 22 Ky. L. Rep. 1032; Oatts v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 22 S. W. 330, 15 Ky. L. Rep. 87; Woodyard v. Kentucky Cent. R. Co., 15 S. W. 178, 12 Ky. L. Rep. 800.

New Jersey.— Furey v. New York Cent., etc., R. Co., 67 N. J. L. 270, 51 Atl. 505, holding that a person using a passage between cars of a broken freight train in defendant's yard cannot complain that no signal other than the customary one was given before closing the train.

New York.— Smetanka v. New York Cent., etc., R. Co., 123 N. Y. App. Div. 323, 105 N. Y. Suppl. 973; Enk v. Brooklyn City R. Co., 19 N. Y. Suppl. 130, holding that there is no obligation to sound a whistle or bell at a siding which is at neither a station nor a road crossing.

Ohio.— Driscoll v. Cincinnati, 1 Ohio Cir. Ct. 493, 1 Ohio Cir. Dec. 274.

Oregon.— Rathbone v. Oregon R. Co., 40 Oreg. 225, 66 Pac. 909.

South Carolina.— Cooper v. Charleston, etc., R. Co., 65 S. C. 214, 43 S. E. 682.

Tennessee.— Moran v. Nashville, etc., R. Co., 2 Baxt. 379.

Texas.— Missouri, etc., R. Co. v. Cowles, (Civ. App. 1902) 67 S. W. 1078.

Wisconsin.— Vaundry v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 130 Wis. 283, 109 N. W. 926, holding that there is no statute requiring a railroad company to sound the whistle merely because a train is rounding a curve.

England.— Harrison v. Northeastern R. Co., 29 L. T. Rep. N. S. 844, 22 Wkly. Rep. 335.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," §§ 1257, 1261.

44. McDermott v. Kentucky Cent. R. Co., 93 Ky. 408, 20 S. W. 380, 14 Ky. L. Rep. 437.

45. Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Goulding, 52 Fla. 327, 42 So. 854; Downing v. Morgan's Louisiana, etc., R., etc., Co., 104 La. 508, 29 So. 207; Rathbone v. Oregon R. Co., 40 Oreg. 225, 66 Pac. 909.

At all points of known or reasonably apprehended danger it is the duty of those in charge of a train to give notice of its approach independently of statute. Oliver v. Roach, 102 S. W. 274, 31 Ky. L. Rep. 284; Cooper v. Charleston, etc., R. Co., 65 S. C. 214, 43 S. E. 682.

Where persons engaged in business on the road are called upon to pass from one side of the track to the other, it is the duty of those operating the train when approaching such place to give warning of its approach, although it is not at a public crossing. Owens v. Pennsylvania R. Co., 41 Fed. 187.

Knowledge by a section master and by a supervisor of the road that a certain person had been in the habit of going upon the track at a certain point does not constitute such notice to those in charge of the running of trains as shows a duty on their part to warn such person of the running of an extra train. Comer v. Hill, 101 Ga. 340, 28 S. E. 856.

Failure to ring a bell in running in railroad yards as required by the rules of a railroad company is evidence of want of reasonable care on the part of those in charge, to one licensed to be in the railroad yard. Collier v. Michigan Cent. R. Co., 27 Ont. App. 630.

46. Illinois.— Indianapolis, etc., R. Co. v. Galbreath, 63 Ill. 436, holding that a railroad company is guilty of gross and criminal negligence in running a train in the night through a village without a light or any warning of its approach.

Kentucky.— Chesapeake, etc., R. Co. v. Nipp, 125 Ky. 49, 100 S. W. 246, 30 Ky. L. Rep. 1131; Johnson v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 122 Ky. 487, 91 S. W. 707, 29 Ky. L. Rep. 36; Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Taaffe, 106 Ky. 535, 50 S. W. 850, 21 Ky. L. Rep. 64; Conley v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 89 Ky. 402, 12 S. W. 764, 11 Ky. L. Rep. 602; McCabe v. Maysville, etc., R. Co., 89 S. W. 683, 28 Ky. L. Rep. 536; Chesapeake, etc., R. Co. v. Keelin, 62 S. W. 261, 22 Ky. L. Rep. 1942.

Louisiana.— Downing v. Morgan's Louisiana, etc., R., etc., Co., 104 La. 508, 29 So. 207; Hamilton v. Morgan's Louisiana, etc., R., etc., Co., 42 La. Ann. 824, 8 So. 586.

New York.— Cumming v. Brooklyn City R. Co., 38 Hun 362 [affirmed in 104 N. Y. 669, 10 N. E. 855].

knowledge,[47] it is its duty to exercise reasonable care to give a warning by bell or whistle of an approaching train; and in some jurisdictions such warning, while going through towns or cities, is expressly required by statute or ordinance.[48] And in any case, if a person is seen in a perilous position on or near the track, and apparently is unaware of his danger, a failure to give him timely warning by bell or whistle is negligence,[49] unless such failure is caused by the engineer's Pennsylvania.— Holt v. Pennsylvania R. Co., 206 Pa. St. 356, 55 Atl. 1055.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," §§ 1257, 1261.

47. New York.— Keller v. Erie R. Co., 98 N. Y. App. Div. 550, 100 N. Y. App. Div. 509, 90 N. Y. Suppl. 236 [affirmed in 183 N. Y. 67, 75 N. E. 965].

North Carolina.— Heavener v. North Carolina R. Co., 141 N. C. 245, 53 S. E. 513.

Ohio.— Wabash R. Co. v. Fox, 20 Ohio Cir. Ct. 440, 11 Ohio Cir. Dec. 148, in starting train.

South Carolina.— Boggero v. Southern R. Co., 64 S. C. 104, 41 S. E. 819.

Texas.— Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Watkins, (Civ. App. 1894) 26 S. W. 760.

England.— Dublin, etc., R. Co. v. Slattery, 3 App. Cas. 1155, 39 L. T. Rep. N. S. 365, 27 Wkly. Rep. 191.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," §§ 1257, 1261.

It is negligence per se for a railroad company to permit a train of its cars to be moved at a place where persons are accustomed to walk without having some of its servants in a position to give warning of its approach. Nuzum v. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co., 30 W. Va. 228, 4 S. E. 242.

48. Alabama.— Peters v. Southern R. Co., 135 Ala. 533, 33 So. 332 (ringing of a bell or blowing a whistle at short intervals required by Code, § 3440); Carrington v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 88 Ala. 472, 6 So. 910; East Tennessee, etc., R. Co. v. King, 81 Ala. 177, 2 So. 152.

Georgia.— Georgia Cent. R. Co. v. Bond, 114 Ga. 913, 41 S. E. 70, holding that where a person killed on a railroad was either, under Civ. Code, §§ 2222, 2224, entitled to be warned of the approach of a train by the ringing of the bell of the engine, or whether he was entitled to such notice under a city ordinance requiring the ringing of the bell, it was immaterial whether the neglect of the company in failing to signal was in disregard of the code or of the ordinance.

Illinois.— Southern R. Co. v. Drake, 107 Ill. App. 12.

Missouri.— Eppstein v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 197 Mo. 720, 94 S. W. 967; Rafferty v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 91 Mo. 33, 3 S. W. 393, holding such an ordinance not to apply to setting cars in a car yard over which there is no street crossing.

Tennessee.— Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Davis, 104 Tenn. 442, 58 S. W. 296.

Texas.— Galveston, etc., R. Co. v. Levy, 35 Tex. Civ. App. 107, 79 S. W. 879 (holding that a failure to cause the engine bell to be rung continuously while the engine is in motion in a city as required by an ordinance is negligence per se); Gulf, etc. R. Co. v. Matthews, 28 Tex. Civ. App. 92, 66 S. W. 588, 67 S. W. 788.

West Virginia.— Nuzum v. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co., 30 W. Va. 228, 4 S. E. 242, holding that a failure to ring a bell or blow a whistle as required under Acts (1882), § 61, is negligence per se.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," §§ 1260, 1266.

The word "town" as used in a statute (Milliken & V. Code Tenn. § 1298, subs. 3), regulating railroad signals on approaching a city or town includes only incorporated towns. Webb v. East Tennessee, etc., R. Co., 88 Tenn. 119, 12 S. W. 428.

Absolute liability.— Under Milliken & V. Code Tenn. § 1298, the requirement of the statute is imperative and a breach of it gives a right of action whether its non-observance was a proximate cause of the injury or not. Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Davis, 104 Tenn. 442, 58 S. W. 296.

That the accident did not happen at or near a street crossing is immaterial on the question of the railroad company's negligence in failing to ring a bell continuously as required by a municipal ordinance. Galveston, etc., R. Co. v. Levy, 35 Tex. Civ. App. 107, 79 S. W. 879.

Where an ordinance makes it a misdemeanor to run trains in any part of the city at greater than a certain speed without continually ringing the bell, the neglect of the municipal authorities to enforce such ordinance in a part of the city does not excuse a violation thereof so as to relieve the railroad company from liability for injuries caused by a violation of the ordinance. Gulf, etc., R. Co. v. Matthews, 28 Tex. Civ. App. 92, 66 S. W. 588, 67 S. W. 788.

That the party injured did not know of the ordinance does not affect the railroad company's liability. Gulf, etc., R. Co. v. Matthews, 28 Tex. Civ. App. 92, 66 S. W. 588, 67 S. W. 788.

Where the track is not a part of the roadway itself, it has been held that a failure to sound the whistle or ring the bell while moving through a village as required by Ala. Code, § 1144, is not negligence per se if the engineer was guilty of no intent to cause the injury. Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Hairston, 97 Ala. 351, 12 So. 299.

49. Alabama.— Frazer v. South Alabama, etc., R. Co., 81 Ala. 185, 1 So. 85, 60 Am. Rep. 145.

California.— Holmes v. South Pac. Coast R. Co., 97 Cal. 161, 31 Pac. 834.

Kentucky.— Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Hocker, 55 S. W. 438, 21 Ky. L. Rep. 1398; Louis-

other efforts to avoid an injury.[50] But the omission to sound a bell or whistle, although required by statute, is not negligence as to one who sees or is aware of the approaching train,[51] or as to one who could not have heard the warning if given.[52] But the mere fact that the injured party could have heard the noise of the approaching train in time to enable him to avoid the injury will not excuse a failure to give the signals if he did not in fact hear such noise in time.[53]

(2) Crossing Signals or Warnings. In the absence of a provision in the statute specifically designating persons to whom the duty of giving crossing signals or warnings is due, it is generally held that such warnings are due only to persons on the highway using, about to use, or who have just used the crossing, and not to trespassers or licensees on the railroad tracks or right of way at places other than a crossing,[54] nor to persons riding or driving along parallel to the railville, etc., R. Co. v. Tinkham, 44 S. W. 439, 19 Ky. L. Rep. 1784.

Missouri.— Reyburn v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 187 Mo. 565, 86 S. W. 174; Sinclair v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 133 Mo. 233, 34 S. W. 76 (holding, however, that the fact that the engineer might have seen the trespasser on the track one eighth of a mile from him and gave no warning until within four hundred feet is not negligence if such warning was given in time for the trespasser to have safely left the track); Bell v. Hannibal, etc., R. Co., 72 Mo. 50.

North Carolina.— McCall v. Southern R. Co., 129 N. C. 298, 40 S. E. 67.

Tennessee.— See East Tennessee, etc., R. Co. v. Winters, 85 Tenn. 240, 1 S. W. 790.

Texas.— Texas Midland R. Co. v. Byrd, 41 Tex. Civ. App. 164, 90 S. W. 185; Missouri, etc., R. Co. v. Cowles, 29 Tex. Civ. App. 156, 67 S. W. 1078; International, etc., R. Co. v. Woodward, 26 Tex. Civ. App. 389, 63 S. W. 1051; Houston, etc., R. Co. v. Harvin, (Civ. App. 1899) 54 S. W. 629.

West Virginia.— Kelley v. Ohio River R. Co., 58 W. Va. 216, 52 S. E. 520, 2 L. R. A. N. S. 898; Teel v. Ohio River R. Co., 49 W. Va. 85, 38 S. E. 518.

Wisconsin.— Heddles v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 74 Wis. 239, 42 N. W. 237.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," §§ 1257, 1275, 1276.

50. Heddles v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 74 Wis. 239, 42 N. W. 237, holding that where, after the engineer saw that the person injured was about to cross, he was putting forth other exertions to save such party, and on account of such exertions had not time to have the whistle sounded, his failure to do so would not constitute negligence.

51. Georgia.— Central R. Co. v. Brinson, 70 Ga. 207.

Indiana.— Cincinnati, etc., R. Co. v. Long, 112 Ind. 166, 13 N. E. 659.

Iowa.— Carpenter v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 126 Iowa 94, 101 N. W. 758.

Missouri.— Hutchinson v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 195 Mo. 546, 93 S. W. 931; Skipton v. St. Joseph, etc., R. Co., 82 Mo. App. 134.

Canada.— Shoebrink v. Canada Atlantic R. Co., 16 Ont. 515.

Words of caution if within hearing are as effective to give notice as bells or whistles, and where such caution is given and heard the engineer is not guilty of negligence in not sounding the whistle. Skipton v. St. Joseph, etc., R. Co., 82 Mo. App. 134.

52. Johnson v. Rio Grande Western R. Co., 19 Utah 77, 57 Pac. 17.

53. Trinity, etc., R. Co. v. Simpson, (Tex. Civ. App. 1905) 86 S. W. 1034.

54. California.— Toomey v. Southern Pac. R. Co., 86 Cal. 374, 24 Pac. 1074, 10 L. R. A. 139.

Georgia.— Southern R. Co. v. Flynt, 2 Ga. App. 162, 58 S. E. 374.

Illinois.— Thompson v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co., 226 Ill. 542, 80 N. E. 1054, 9 L. R. A. N. S. 672 [affirmed in 123 Ill. App. 47]; Roden v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 133 Ill. 72, 24 N. E. 425, 23 Am. St. Rep. 585 (holding that the omission to provide a flagman at a crossing and to ring the engine bell when approaching it do not constitute negligence as against a person who is walking along the track); Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Eininger, 114 Ill. 79, 29 N. E. 196; Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Schmitt, 100 Ill. App. 490; Smith v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 99 Ill. App. 296; Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Oberhoefer, 76 Ill. App. 672; Maney v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 49 Ill. App. 105; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. McKnight, 16 Ill. App. 596.

Indiana.— Baltimore, etc., R. Co. v. Bradford, 20 Ind. App. 348, 49 N. E. 388, 67 Am. St. Rep. 252.

Kentucky.— Chesapeake, etc., R. Co. v. Nipp, 125 Ky. 49, 100 S. W. 246, 30 Ky. L. Rep. 1131; Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Willis, 123 Ky. 636, 97 S. W. 21, 29 Ky. L. Rep. 1187; Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Redmon, 122 Ky. 385, 91 S. W. 722, 28 Ky. L. Rep. 1293; Davis v. Chesapeake, etc., R. Co., 116 Ky. 144, 75 S. W. 275, 25 Ky. L. Rep. 342 [opinion in 70 S. W. 857, 24 Ky. L. Rep. 1125, withdrawn]; Shackleford v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 84 Ky. 43, 4 Am. St. Rep. 189; Chesapeake, etc., R. Co. v. Barbour, 93 S. W. 24, 29 Ky. L. Rep. 339; Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Vittitoe, 41 S. W. 269, 19 Ky. L. Rep. 612. But see Rader v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 104 S. W. 774, 31 Ky. L. Rep. 1105.

Missouri.— Zimmerman v. Hannibal, etc., R. Co., 71 Mo. 476.

Nebraska.— Omaha, etc., R. Co. v. Krayenbuhl, 48 Nebr. 553, 67 N. W. 447.

New Hampshire.— Batchelder v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 72 N. H. 528, 57 Atl. 926.

road.[55] In some jurisdictions, however, it is held that while the statutory signals are intended primarily as warnings to persons using or intending to use the crossings and not for those walking along the track or right of way, yet with regard to the latter as well as to the former a failure to comply with the statute is evidence of negligence to be considered by the jury together with other facts tending to show want of reasonable care on the part of the railroad company;[56] but if the failure to give such signals is the only negligence imputable to the railroad company, it is not liable in such cases.[57] Under some statutes such signals or warnings are held to be due to all persons lawfully on or near the crossing who may be exposed to danger by the approaching engine or train whether on the highway or on the right of way.[58] It has been held that a failure to sound crossing signals is not negligence as to a child on the tracks near the crossing and which is too young to understand the signals if given;[59] but on the other hand it has been

New York.— Harty v. New Jersey Cent. R. Co., 42 N. Y. 468; Winn v. New York Cent., etc., R. Co., 65 N. Y. App. Div. 572, 72 N. Y. Suppl. 899.

Ohio.— Cleveland, etc., R. Co. v. Workman, 66 Ohio St. 509, 64 N. E. 582, 90 Am. St. Rep. 602; Lake Shore, etc., R. Co. v. Harris, 23 Ohio Cir. Ct. 400.

Rhode Island.— O'Donnell v. Providence, etc., R. Co., 6 R. I. 211.

South Carolina.— Carter v. Charleston, etc., R. Co., 64 S. C. 316, 42 S. E. 161; Boggero v. Southern R. Co., 64 S. C. 104, 41 S. E. 819.

Virginia.— Hortenstein v. Virginia-Carolina R. Co., 102 Va. 914, 47 S. E. 996.

West Virginia.— Huff v. Chesapeake, etc., R. Co., 48 W. Va. 45, 35 S. E. 866; Christy v. Chesapeake, etc. R. Co., 35 W. Va. 117, 12 S. E. 1111; Spicer v. Chesapeake, etc., R. Co., 34 W. Va. 514, 12 S. E. 553, 11 L. R. A. 385.

Wisconsin.— Schug v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 102 Wis. 515, 78 N. W. 1090.

United States.— Hastings v. Southern R. Co., 143 Fed. 260, 74 C. C. A. 398, 5 L. R. A. N. S. 775 (construing S. C. Civ. Code (1902), §§ 2132, 2139); Pike v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 39 Fed. 754.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," §§ 1260, 1261, 1266.

One injured while standing in a switch-yard of a railroad company and not passing over a crossing cannot recover under a statute requiring crossing signals, although the yard is surrounded by streets. Hale v. Columbia, etc., R. Co., 34 S. C. 292, 13 S. E. 537; Neely v. Charlotte, etc., R. Co., 33 S. C. 136, 11 S. E. 636.

55. Southern R. Co. v. Flynt, 2 Ga. App. 162, 58 S. E. 374; Everett v. Great Northern R. Co., 100 Minn. 309, 111 N. W. 281, 9 L. R. A. N. S. 703; Reynolds v. Great Northern R. Co., 69 Fed. 808, 16 C. C. A. 435, 29 L. R. A. 695, holding that one injured while driving on a highway running parallel to the railroad track through his horse colliding with a train cannot recover on the ground that it failed to whistle for the crossing near the place of the accident, where he had not used and did not intend to use the crossing. And see infra, X, G, 3, c.

56. Georgia Cent. R., etc., Co. v. Golden, 93 Ga. 510, 21 S. E. 68; Georgia R., etc., Co. v. Daniel, 89 Ga. 463, 15 S. E. 538; Central R., etc., Co. v. Raiford, 82 Ga. 400, 9 S. E. 169; Georgia R. Co. v. Williams, 74 Ga. 723; Georgia R., etc., Co. v. Williams, 3 Ga. App. 272, 59 S. E. 846, 4 Ga. App. 23, 60 S. E. 808; Missouri, etc., R. Co. v. Saunders, (Tex. 1908) 106 S. W. 321 [reversing (Civ. App. 1907) 103 S. W. 457]; Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Shoemaker, 98 Tex. 451, 84 S. W. 1049 [reversing (Civ. App. 1904) 81 S. W. 1019]; San Antonio, etc., R. Co. v. Gray, 95 Tex. 424, 67 S. W. 763 [reversing (Civ. App. 1901) 66 S. W. 229]; Houston, etc., R. Co. v. O'Donnell, (Tex. Civ. App. 1905) 90 S. W. 886 [reversed on other grounds in 99 Tex. 636, 92 S. W. 409]; St. Louis Southwestern R. Co. v. Kilman, 39 Tex. Civ. App. 107, 86 S. W. 1050; International, etc., R. Co. v. Woodward, 26 Tex. Civ. App. 389, 63 S. W. 1051; Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Short, (Tex. Civ. App. 1900) 58 S. W. 56. Compare Coleman v. Wrightsville, etc., R. Co., 114 Ga. 386, 40 S. E. 247, holding that a railroad company is under no duty to a person who is unloading merchandise from a car on a side-track into a wagon, to which a horse is hitched, to comply with the requirements of Civ. Code, § 2224, respecting the giving of signals and checking the speed of the train before reaching a public crossing.

57. Atlanta, etc., R. Co. v. Gravitt, 93 Ga. 369, 20 S. E. 550, 44 Am. St. Rep. 145, 26 L. R. A. 553; St. Louis Southwestern R. Co. v. Bishop, 14 Tex. Civ. App. 504, 37 S. W. 764.

58. Lonergan v. Illinois Cent. R. Co., 87 Iowa 755, 49 N. W. 852, 53 N. W. 236, 17 L. R. A. 254 (holding that where the person injured was lawfully on defendant's depot grounds when defendant's engine passed without signal and frightened plaintiff's team causing it to run away and injure plaintiff, the railroad company was liable for failing to give the crossing signal as required by statute, although the person injured was not attempting to use such crossing); Wakefield v. Connecticut, etc., R. Co., 37 Vt. 330, 86 Am. Dec. 711.

59. Nashville, etc., R. Co. v. Harris, 142 Ala. 249, 37 So. 794, 110 Am. St. Rep. 29. See also Baltimore, etc., R. Co. v. Bradford, held that such failure may be negligence, on the ground that the signals might have attracted the attention of the child's parents, if not of the child.[60]

(B) Duty to Keep a Lookout — (1) In General. In some jurisdictions it is held that a railroad company is bound to keep a proper lookout all along its line of track, for trespassers or bare licensees as well as for others, and is liable for injuries caused by its negligence in this respect not only to persons who are actually seen on the track, but also to persons who, by the exercise of ordinary care, could have been seen in time to avoid the accident;[61] and in some jurisdictions such precaution is expressly required by statute.[62] By the weight of authority,

20 Ind. App. 348, 49 N. E. 388, 67 Am. St. Rep. 252.

60. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Logue, 158 Ill. 621, 42 N. E. 53. But compare Chrystal v. Troy, etc., R. Co., 124 N. Y. 519, 26 N. E. 1103 [reversing 52 Hun 55, 4 N. Y. Suppl. 793].

61. Nebraska.— Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Grablin, 38 Nebr. 90, 56 N. W. 796, 57 N. W. 522.

New Hampshire.— Mitchell v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 68 N. H. 96, 34 Atl. 674; Felch v. Concord R. Co., 66 N. H. 318, 29 Atl. 557.

North Carolina.— Sawyer v. Roanoke R., etc., Co., 145 N. C. 24, 58 S. E. 598; McArver v. Southern R. Co., 129 N. C. 380, 40 S. E. 94; Jeffries v. Seaboard Air Line R. Co., 129 N. C. 236, 39 S. E. 836; Whitesides v. Southern R. Co., 128 N. C. 229, 38 S. E. 878; Arrowood v. South Carolina, etc., R. Co., 126 N. C. 629, 36 S. E. 151; Powell v. Southern R. Co., 125 N. C. 370, 34 S. E. 530; Pickett v. Wilmington, etc., R. Co., 117 N. C. 616, 23 S. E. 264, 53 Am. St. Rep. 611, 30 L. R. A. 257.

Texas.— In this state the doctrine that a railroad company owes no duty to a trespasser or one wrongfully on its track, except to refrain from wanton injury to him, has been expressly repudiated; and it is held that the true rule is that it is the duty of the servants of a railroad company operating its trains to use reasonable care and caution to discover persons on its tracks, whether trespassers or not, and that a failure to use such care and caution is negligence on the part of the railroad company for which it is liable in damages for the injury resulting, unless its liability is defeated by the contributory negligence of the person injured. Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Watkins, 88 Tex. 20, 29 S. W. 232; Artusy v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 73 Tex. 191, 11 S. W. 177; Galveston City R. Co. v. Hewitt, 67 Tex. 473, 3 S. W. 705, 60 Am. Rep. 32; Houston, etc., R. Co. v. Sympkins, 54 Tex. 615, 38 Am. Rep. 632; St. Louis Southwestern R. Co. v. Bolton, 36 Tex. Civ. App. 87, 81 S. W. 123; Missouri, etc., R. Co. v. Belew, 22 Tex. Civ. App. 264, 54 S. W. 1079. See Houston, etc., R. Co. v. Smith, 77 Tex. 179, 13 S. W. 972; St. Louis Southwestern R. Co. v. Bishop, 14 Tex. Civ. App. 504, 37 S. W. 764. But it is also held that if the party injured was a wrong-doer or trespasser at the time of the injury, the issue of contributory negligence is, as a general rule, established as a matter of law, so as to defeat his recovery, although not necessarily so (Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Watkins, 88 Tex. 20, 29 S. W. 232; St. Louis Southwestern R. Co. v. Bolton, supra); but that a licensee is not guilty of contributory negligence as a matter of law, and if the railroad company has reason to anticipate his presence on the track and fails to keep a proper lookout, it is liable to him for resulting injuries unless he is otherwise guilty of contributory negligence (Houston, etc., R. Co. v. O'Donnell, (Civ. App. 1905) 90 S. W. 886 [reversed on other grounds in 99 Tex. 636, 92 S. W. 409]); Hutchens v. St. Louis Southwestern R. Co., 40 Tex. Civ. App. 245, 89 S. W. 24; San Antonio, etc., R. Co. v. Brock, 35 Tex. Civ. App. 155, 80 S. W. 422; St. Louis Southwestern R. Co. v. Arnold, 32 Tex. Civ. App. 272, 74 S. W. 819; Kroeger v. Texas, etc., R. Co., 30 Tex. Civ. App. 87, 69 S. W. 809; St. Louis Southwestern R. Co. v. Jacobson, 28 Tex. Civ. App. 150, 66 S. W. 1111), although after discovering his peril it used every reasonable means to prevent the injury (Kroeger v. Texas, etc., R. Co., supra). It has also been held in this jurisdiction that it is not negligence to fail to constantly look out in front of an engine at a place where there is no crossing and where the railroad employees have no reason to expect that persons will be on or along the track. Houston, etc., R. Co. v. Smith, supra; St. Louis Southwestern R. Co. v. Bishop, supra. A second foreman or "straw boss" of a construction crew charged with the duties of indicating to the train crew by signaling when the construction crew was ready for the train to move, etc., is not engaged in the operation and management of the train, so as to render the company liable for his failure to either discover the party injured or warn him of his danger. Forge v. Houston, etc., R. Co., 41 Tex. Civ. App. 81, 90 S. W. 1118.

West Virginia.— Gunn v. Ohio River R. Co., 42 W. Va. 676, 26 S. E. 546, 36 L. R. A. 575.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 1258.

Where a lookout would have been unavailing as where the person injured steps immediately in front of the train or car from a safe place, a failure to keep a lookout will not render the company liable. Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Shivers, (Tex. Civ. App. 1907) 106 S. W. 894.

62. Little Rock, etc., R. Co. v. McQueeney, 78 Ark. 22, 92 S. W. 1120; East Tennessee, however, a railroad company is ordinarily under no duty to exercise active vigilance to keep a lookout for trespassers or licensees on its track, and is liable in failing to use preventive efforts to avert an injury only after it becomes actually aware of danger to such persons.[63] This latter rule, however, in some jurisdic-etc., R. Co. v. Winters, 85 Tenn. 240, 1 S. W. 790; East Tennessee, etc., R. Co. v. Humphreys, 12 Lea (Tenn.) 200; East Tennessee, etc., R. Co. v. White, 5 Lea (Tenn.) 540; Nashville, etc., R. Co. v. Nowlin, 1 Lea (Tenn.) 523; Moran v. Nashville, etc., R. Co., 2 Baxt. (Tenn.) 379 (holding, however, that an engineer need not keep a lookout behind); Towles v. Southern R. Co., 103 Fed. 405; Felton v. Newport, 92 Fed. 470, 34 C. C. A. 470.

Under a Tennessee statute (Milliken & V. Code, §§ 1298–1300), the railroad company's liability for failing to observe the statutory precautions is absolute, and in such case the inquiry is not whether the accident resulted from the failure to observe the precautions mentioned in the statute, but whether the company actually observed the precautions at the time the accident occurred. Smith v. Nashville, etc., R. Co., 6 Coldw. 589; Felton v. Newport, 105 Fed. 332, 44 C. C. A. 530, holding that the mere fact that a lookout was maintained as required by statute, and that he did not see a person on the track does not exonerate the railroad company from liability for the killing of such person, but it must further appear that the lookout could not have seen him in the exercise of due care and watchfulness. Such statute does not permit the running of a train with the engine in the rear even with a lookout in front so as to avoid its conditions. Little Rock, etc., R. Co. v. Wilson, 90 Tenn. 271, 16 S. W. 613, 25 Am. St. Rep. 693, 13 L. R. A. 364. But it does not apply to the making up of trains, and other necessary switching in a company's yards, and a person there struck by a moving car without an engine in front and lookout ahead can recover if at all, only under the rules of common law. Southern R. Co. v. Pugh, 95 Tenn. 419, 32 S. W. 311.

Movement of detached cars.— A statute requiring "the engineer, fireman, or some other person upon the locomotive" of a moving train to be constantly on the lookout "ahead" has no application to the movement by impetus or gravitation of cars detached from the locomotive. Patton v. Railway Co., 89 Tenn. 370, 15 S. W. 919, 12 L. R. A. 184.

Mass. Rev. Laws, c. 111, § 200, requiring that a trusty brakeman shall be stationed on the rear car of every freight train, does not apply to a work train used to distribute ties and sand for the repair of the road. Bacon v. New York, etc., R. Co., 194 Mass. 489, 80 N. E. 458.

63. Alabama.— Duncan v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 152 Ala. 118, 44 So. 418; Southern R. Co. v. Bush, 122 Ala. 470, 26 So. 168; Verner v. Alabama, etc., R. Co., 103 Ala. 574, 15 So. 872; Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Black, 89 Ala. 313, 8 So. 246; Carrington v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 88 Ala. 472, 6 So. 910; Bentley v. Georgia Pac. R. Co., 86 Ala. 484, 6 So. 37; Georgia Pac. R. Co. v. Blanton, 84 Ala. 154, 4 So. 621. While it is the duty of a railroad company to keep a proper lookout for obstructions and other dangers including, it may be, trespassers, it is not an absolute and particular duty as to an intruder upon the track so far as to constitute an omission to discover him and signal, negligence per se as to such intruder. Frazer v. South, etc., R. Co., 81 Ala. 185, 1 So. 85, 60 Am. Rep. 185.

Arkansas.— This rule was formerly adhered to in this state. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Jordan, 65 Ark. 429, 47 S. W. 115; Brown v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 52 Ark. 120, 12 S. W. 203; St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Monday, 49 Ark. 257, 4 S. W. 782. But the rule is now otherwise by statute. See Little Rock, etc., R. Co. v. McQueeney, 78 Ark. 22, 92 S. W. 1120, under Kirby Dig. § 667.

Connecticut.— Nolan v. New York, etc., R. Co., 53 Conn. 451, 4 Atl. 106.

Illinois.— Bartlett v. Wabash R. Co., 220 Ill. 163, 77 N. E. 96; Wabash R. Co. v. Jones, 163 Ill. 167, 45 N. E. 50; Kinnare v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 114 Ill. App. 230; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Urbaniac, 106 Ill. App. 325; Clevelaud, etc., R. Co. v. Hibsman, 99 Ill. App. 405; Smith v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 99 Ill. App. 296; Lake Shore, etc., R. Co. v. Clark, 41 Ill. App. 343; Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Frelka, 9 Ill. App. 605.

Indiana.— Pennsylvania Co. v. Meyers, 136 Ind. 242, 36 N. E. 32.

Indian Territory.— Gulf, etc., R. Co. v. Bolton, 2 Indian Terr. 463, 51 S. W. 1085.

Iowa.— Purcell v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 117 Iowa 667, 91 N. W. 933; Thomas v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 93 Iowa 248, 61 N. W. 967, 103 Iowa 649, 72 N. W. 783, 39 L. R. A. 399, 114 Iowa 169, 86 N. W. 259; Masser v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 68 Iowa 602, 27 N. W. 776; McAllister v. Burlington, etc., R. Co., 64 Iowa 395, 20 N. W. 488.

Kentucky — Johnson v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 122 Ky. 487, 91 S. W. 707, 29 Ky. L. Rep. 36; Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Hathaway, 121 Ky. 666, 89 S. W. 724, 28 Ky. L. Rep. 628, 2 L. R. A. N. S. 498; McDermott v. Kentucky Cent., etc., R. Co., 93 Ky. 408, 20 S. W. 380, 14 Ky. L. Rep. 437; Conley v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 89 Ky. 402, 12 S. W. 764, 11 Ky. L. Rep. 602; Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Coleman, 86 Ky. 556, 6 S. W. 438, 8 S. W. 875, 10 Ky. L. Rep. 81; Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Johnson, 97 S. W. 745, 30 Ky. L. Rep. 142; Chesapeake, etc., R. Co. v. Barbour, 93 S. W. 24, 29 Ky. L. Rep. 339; Beiser v. Chesapeake, etc., R. Co., 92 S. W. 928, 29

tions, is subject to the qualification that it is the duty of those in charge of a train to keep a lookout even for trespassers or bare licensees at places where and times when persons may reasonably be expected to be on the track,[64] as at points in

Ky. L. Rep. 249; Yates v. Illinois Cent. R. Co., 89 S. W. 161, 28 Ky. L. Rep. 75; Hulsey v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 87 S. W. 302, 27 Ky. L. Rep. 969; Vanarsdall v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 65 S. W. 858, 23 Ky. L. Rep. 1666; Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Thornton, 58 S. W. 796, 22 Ky. L. Rep. 778; Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Vittitoe, 41 S. W. 269, 19 Ky. L. Rep. 612; France v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 22 S. W. 851, 15 Ky. L. Rep. 244; Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Kellem, 21 S. W. 230, 14 Ky. L. Rep. 734. See also Rader v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 104 S. W. 774, 31 Ky. L. Rep. 1105.

Maryland.— Western Maryland R. Co. v. Kehoe, 83 Md. 434, 35 Atl. 90.

Massachusetts.— Johnson v. J. M. Guffey Petroleum Co., 197 Mass. 302, 83 N. E. 874; Chenery v. Fitchburg R. Co., 160 Mass. 211, 35 N. E. 554, 22 L. R. A. 575.

Michigan.— Bouwmeester v. Grand Rapids, etc., R. Co., 67 Mich. 87, 34 N. W. 414.

Minnesota.— McNamara v. Great Northern R. Co., 61 Minn. 296, 63 N. W. 726; Hepfel v. St. Paul, etc., R. Co., 49 Minn. 263, 51 N. W. 1049; Studley v. St. Paul, etc., R. Co., 48 Minn. 249, 51 N. W. 115; Scheffler v. Minneapolis, etc., R. Co., 32 Minn. 518, 21 N. W. 711.

Mississippi.— Christian v. Illinois Cent. R. Co., 71 Miss. 237, 15 So. 71.

Missouri.— Williams v. Kansas City, etc., R. Co., 96 Mo. 275, 9 S. W. 573; Powell v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 59 Mo. App. 626; Crow v. Wabash, etc., R. Co., 23 Mo. App. 357.

Montana.— Egan v. Montana Cent. R. Co., 24 Mont. 569, 63 Pac. 831.

Ohio.— Driscoll v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 1 Ohio Cir. Ct. 493, 1 Ohio Cir. Dec. 274.

Oregon.— Rathbone v. Oregon R. Co., 40 Oreg. 225, 66 Pac. 909.

South Carolina.— See Mason v. Southern R. Co., 58 S. C. 70, 36 S. E. 440, 79 Am. St. Rep. 862, 53 L. R. A. 913.

Virginia.— Norfolk, etc., R. Co. v. Denny, 106 Va. 383, 56 S. E. 321.

United States.— Sheehan v. St. Paul, etc., R. Co., 76 Fed. 201, 22 C. C. A. 121; Farve v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 42 Fed. 441.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," §§ 1258, 1261.

A railroad company operating stock-yards owes no duty to keep a lookout for the safety of a mere trespasser or licensee in such yards. Johnson v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 91 S. W. 707, 29 Ky. L. Rep. 36.

A servant of a railroad who uses a tricycle on the track is bound to keep out of the way of trains, and it is not incumbent on the company to keep a lookout for him at places where the presence of persons on the track is not to be anticipated, and it owes him no duty until his presence on the track is actually discovered by those in charge of a train. Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Jolly, 90 S. W. 977, 28 Ky. L. Rep. 989.

A rule requiring trainmen on extras and delayed trains "to keep a sharp lookout for all work trains, section men, and others who may be obstructing the track," does not apply to persons wrongfully on the track. Burg v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 90 Iowa 106, 57 N. W. 680, 48 Am. St. Rep. 419.

64. Connecticut.— Sullivan v. New York, etc., R. Co., 73 Conn. 203, 47 Atl. 131.

Illinois.— Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Frelka, 9 Ill. App. 605.

Iowa.— Thomas v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 103 Iowa 649, 72 N. W. 783, 39 L. R. A. 399, holding that where a railroad company impliedly assents to the use of portions of its track as a footpath, employees operating trains thereon are bound to exercise care to ascertain if persons are on the track at such places.

Louisiana.— Willis v. Vicksburg, etc., R. Co., 115 La. 53, 38 So. 892.

Missouri.— Ayers v. Wabash R. Co., 190 Mo. 228, 88 S. W. 608; Fiedler v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 107 Mo. 645, 18 S. W. 847; Williams v. Kansas City, etc., R. Co., 96 Mo. 275, 9 S. W. 573.

Vermont.— Lindsay v. Canadian Pac. R. Co., 68 Vt. 556, 35 Atl. 513.

Wisconsin.— Whalen v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 75 Wis. 654, 44 N. W. 849 (holding that a railroad company is liable for negligence in not providing a careful lookout in the direction the train is moving at a place where those in charge of the train knew that adults and children in considerable numbers were likely to be passing, although such precaution had not generally been taken at that place); Townley v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 53 Wis. 626, 11 N. W. 55.

United States.— Garner v. Trumbull, 94 Fed. 321, 36 C. C. A. 361.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," §§ 1259, 1265.

A railroad company is not chargeable with notice that a man is liable to be lying on the track at such a place, and the mere fact that an engine strikes a man so lying on the track is not of itself sufficient to justify the inference that the engineer saw him or failed to use ordinary care to discover him in time to prevent injury. Ayers v. Wabash R. Co., 190 Mo. 228, 88 S. W. 608.

Even though the railroad company could not have prevented the injury after discovering the danger, it may be liable for failure to use proper care to discover a person at a place where there was reason to apprehend from the fact of long and extended use thereof by pedestrians that the track was not clear. Powell v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 59 Mo. App. 626.

In private yards.—A railrad company may be negligent in failing to place a lookout on cars in making a flying switch in its private yard, frequently used with its consent by persons having business therein. Reifsnyder cities, towns, and villages where persons are in the nabit of crossing or walking on the tracks.[65]

(2) SUFFICIENCY OF LOOKOUT. A proper lookout within the meaning of the above rule, in the absence of statute otherwise, need only be kept in what is a reasonable and prudent manner under the circumstances, the degree of care being such as a person of ordinary prudence and caution would commonly exercise under like circumstances, and varying as the known probability of danger may vary along the different portions of the route.[66] But it is not negligence to tem-

v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 90 Iowa 76, 57 N. W. 692.

Where the use of the track by pedestrians has been confined largely to Sundays and to reasonable hours in the daytime, the railroad company is not bound to expect or required to be on the lookout for trespassers on the track at that point at midnight. Hoback v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 99 S. W. 241, 30 Ky. L. Rep. 476.

65. Alabama.— Duncan v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 152 Ala. 118, 44 So. 418; Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Black, 89 Ala. 313, 8 So. 246; Carrington v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 88 Ala. 472, 6 So. 910; Bentley v. Georgia Pac. R. Co., 86 Ala. 484, 6 So. 37; South, etc., R. Co. v. Donovan, 84 Ala. 131, 4 So. 142, holding that within the corporate limits of a city or town where necessity may compel or usage sanction walking on the railroad track at places other than at public crossings, it is the duty of those who are engaged in running a train to keep a vigilant lookout even for trespassers.

Connecticut.— Nolan v. New York, etc., R. Co., 53 Conn. 461, 4 Atl. 106.

Georgia.— Brunswick, etc., R. Co. v. Gibson, 97 Ga. 489, 24 S. E. 484, holding that it is a question for the jury whether it was negligence to fail to have a flagman or other person on the rear end of a locomotive, while it was being run backward along a leading city street.

Kansas.— Missouri Pac. R. Co. v. Jaffi, 67 Kan. 81, 72 Pac. 535.

Kentucky.— Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Murphy, 123 Ky. 787, 97 S. W. 729, 30 Ky. L. Rep. 93, 11 L. R. A. N. S. 352; Johnson v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 122 Ky. 487, 91 S. W. 707, 29 Ky. L. Rep. 36; Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Taaffe, 106 Ky. 535, 50 S. W. 850, 21 Ky. L. Rep. 64; Conley v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 89 Ky. 402, 12 S. W. 764, 11 Ky. L. Rep. 602; Chesapeake, etc., R. Co. v. Nipp, 100 S. W. 246, 30 Ky. L. Rep. 1131; McCabe v. Maysville, etc., R. Co., 89 S. W. 683, 28 Ky. L. Rep. 536; Chesapeake, etc., R. Co. v. Keelin, 62 S. W. 61, 22 Ky. L. Rep. 1942; Gunn v. Felton, 57 S. W. 15, 22 Ky. L. Rep. 268.

Louisiana.— Hamilton v. Morgan's Louisiana, etc., R., etc., Co., 42 La. Ann. 824, 8 So. 586.

Missouri.— Lynch v. St. Joseph, etc., R. Co., 111 Mo. 601, 19 S. W. 1114; Williams v. Kansas City, etc., R. Co., 96 Mo. 275, 9 S. W. 573; Guenther v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 95 Mo. 286, 8 S. W. 371, 108 Mo. 18, 18 S. W. 846; Murrell v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 105 Mo. App. 88, 79 S. W. 505.

Pennsylvania.— Kelly v. Philadelphia, etc., R. Co., 30 Leg. Int. 140.

Utah.— Teakle v. San Pedro, etc., R. Co., 32 Utah 276, 90 Pac. 402, 10 L. R. A. N. S. 486.

United States.— Barley v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 2 Fed. Cas. No. 997, 4 Biss. 430.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," §§ 1258, 1259, 1263, 1265.

Backing a train within city limits without a brakeman or other persons on the cars or stationed elsewhere to keep a lookout ahead of the moving cars is negligence for which the railroad company is responsible. Savannah, etc., R. Co. v. Shearer, 58 Ala. 672; Hamilton v. Morgan's Louisiana, etc., R., etc., Co., 42 La. Ann. 824, 8 So. 586; Barley v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 2 Fed. Cas. No. 997, 4 Biss. 430; Levoy v. Midland R. Co., 3 Ont. 623; Bennett v. Grand Trunk R. Co., 3 Ont. 446. Compare East Tennessee, etc., R. Co. v. King, 81 Ala. 177, 2 So. 152. It has been held, however, that such acts of a railroad company are not so gross as to justify an award of punitive damages (Hamilton v. Morgan's Louisiana, etc., R., etc., Co., 42 La. Ann. 824, 8 So. 586); and that they are not conclusive evidence although in violation of an ordinance (Scudder v. Indianapolis, etc., R. Co., Wils. (Ind.) 481).

Compliance with a city ordinance requiring a lookout on a locomotive engine when being used within the limits of a city is not due to persons walking on the private way of a railroad company at an uninhabited point, and not at a street crossing, although in a path used by the public with the silent acquiescence of the company. Baltimore, etc., R. Co. v. State, 62 Md. 479, 50 Am. Rep. 233.

A railroad bridge located within the city limits does not impose a duty on the railroad company as to trespassers on the bridge, where it is twenty-five or thirty feet above the grade of the street. Beiser v. Chesapeake, etc., R. Co., 92 S. W. 928, 29 Ky. L. Rep. 249.

66. Arrowood v. South Carolina, etc., R. Co., 126 N. C. 629, 36 S. E. 151 (holding that more care is required on a frequented track than on a clear one, and more diligence on a winding road than on a straight one); Houston, etc., R. Co. v. Sympkins, 54 Tex. 615, 38 Am. Rep. 632; Houston, etc., R. Co. v. Harvin, (Tex. Civ. App. 1899) 54 S. W. 629. See also Ex p. Stell, 22 Fed. Cas. No. 13,358, 4 Hughes 157.

Where the engineer is unable to keep a proper lookout, it is the duty of the fireman to be on the lookout and conversely. Arro-porarily fail to look out where such failure is caused by a distraction of attention, to avoid personal injury to the employee keeping the lookout,[67] or by his attention being turned to other duties,[68] or by obstructions to sight.[69]

(3) Duty to Look Out For Children or Others Under Disability. In accordance with the above rules,[70] in some jurisdictions a railroad company is under the duty to keep a lookout for children or others under disability on its tracks, although they are trespassers;[71] and this has been held to be true even in jurisdictions in which there is no duty to look out for adult trespassers, on the ground that an infant cannot be a trespasser, or at most only technically so.[72] In other jurisdictions, however, the company is under no duty to keep such a lookout, any more than for adults or able persons,[73] except at places where it has wood v. South Carolina, etc., R. Co., 126 N. C. 629, 36 S. E. 151; Nashville, etc., R. Co. v. Nowlin, 1 Lea (Tenn.) 523. And if the engineer and fireman are insufficient more help should be employed to keep a lookout. Jeffries v. Seaboard Air Line R. Co., 129 N. C. 236, 39 S. E. 836; Arrowood v. South Carolina, etc., R. Co., 126 N. C. 629, 36 S. E. 151.

An employee not on duty but simply being transported on a locomotive is not required to lookout for trespassers on the track, and his failure to do so is not imputable to the railroad company as negligence. Middle Georgia, etc., R. Co. v. Reynolds, 99 Ga. 638, 26 S. E. 61.

The lookout must be in his place and must be vigilant and watchful. East Tennessee, etc., R. Co. v. White, 5 Lea (Tenn.) 540.

Sending a brakeman down a track to see that the same is clear does not relieve the engineer in charge of the engine from the duty of keeping a reasonable lookout while the engine is in motion. Galveston, etc., R. Co. v. Levy, 35 Tex. Civ. App. 107, 79 S. W. 879.

67. Ex p. Stell, 22 Fed. Cas. No. 13,358, 4 Hughes 157, to avoid being hit by an iron door of the furnace while the fireman is throwing it open.

68. Eddy v. Sedgwick, (Tex. 1892) 18 S. W. 564 (looking back to see when the following cars have cleared a switch, and for the signals of the switchman); Teakle v. San Pedro, etc., R. Co., 32 Utah 276, 90 Pac. 402, 10 L. R. A. N. S. 486.

69. Richmond, etc., R. Co. v. Anderson, 31 Gratt. (Va.) 812, 31 Am. Rep. 750, sun shining in his eyes.

70. See supra, X, D, 2, a, (VIII), (B).

71. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Grablin, 38 Nebr. 90, 56 N. W. 796, 57 N. W. 522 (holding that where a child nine years old, while trespassing on the railroad company's track, is struck by an engine, the railroad company is liable if the engineer by the exercise of such careful lookout as was consistent with his other duties could have seen the child in time to have prevented the accident); Sawyer v. Roanoke R., etc., Co., 145 N. C. 24, 58 S. E. 598; McArver v. Southern R. Co., 129 N. C. 380, 40 S. E. 94; Bottoms v. Seaboard, etc., R. Co., 114 N. C. 699, 19 S. E. 730, 41 Am. St. Rep. 799, 25 L. R. A. 784; Bias v. Chesapeake, etc., R. Co., 46 W. Va. 349, 33 S. E. 240; Gunn v. Ohio River R. Co., 42 W. Va. 676, 26 S. E. 546, 36 L. R. A. 575.

In Texas the duty of a railroad company with reference to young children on a track is not to keep a reasonable lookout but to exercise ordinary care under all the circumstances existing, with reference to keeping a lookout. Texas, etc., R. Co. v. O'Donnell, 58 Tex. 27; Olivares v. San Antonio, etc., R. Co., (Civ. App. 1903) 77 S. W. 981, 37 Tex. Civ. App. 278, 84 S. W. 248. See Ollis v. Houston, etc., R. Co., 31 Tex. Civ. App. 601, 73 S. W. 30. If the railroad company could not have exercised ordinary care to discover the child on the track except by keeping a lookout, its failure to keep such lookout is negligence per se. Missouri, etc., R. Co. v. Hammer, 34 Tex. Civ. App. 354, 78 S. W. 708. And the railroad company is not relieved from liability in failing to keep a proper lookout by the exercise of due care after the peril is discovered (Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Harby, 28 Tex. Civ. App. 24, 67 S. W. 541); nor by the fact that a railroad bridge on which the child is run over and killed is not a public bridge (Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Harby, (Civ. App. 1902) 67 S. W. 541).

Where one goes upon a railroad track and becomes insensible from no fault of his own, and while in full view is run over and injured by a train, the railroad company is liable for the neglect of its agents in failing to keep a reasonable lookout (Houston, etc., R. Co. v. Sympkins, 54 Tex. 615, 38 Am. Rep. 632); but if his dangerous position was due to his own voluntary drunkenness the company is not liable unless the injury was wantonly or wilfully inflicted after he was discovered (Houston, etc., R. Co. v. Sympkins, 54 Tex. 615, 38 Am. Rep. 632; Sullivan v. St. Louis Southwestern R. Co., (Tex. Civ. App. 1896) 36 S. W. 1020).

72. Mason v. Southern R. Co., 58 S. C. 70, 36 S. E. 440, 79 Am. St. Rep. 826, 53 L. R. A. 913.

73. Connecticut.— Nolan v. New York, etc., R. Co., 53 Conn. 461, 4 Atl. 106.

Illinois.— Northwestern El. R. Co. v. O'Malley, 107 Ill. App. 599.

Iowa.— Thomas v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 114 Iowa 169, 86 N. W. 259.

Kentucky.— Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Logsdon, 118 Ky. 600, 81 S. W. 657, 26 Ky. L. Rep. 457 [opinion in 78 S. W. 409, 25 Ky. L. Rep. 1656 withdrawn]; McDermott reason to anticipate that such children or persons will be on the track,[74] as in cities or towns.[75]

(IX) RATE OF SPEED[76] — (A) In General. In the absence of a statute or ordinance to the contrary, a railroad company, as a general rule, owes no duty to trespassers or licensees on its tracks as to the rate of speed at which its trains shall be run; and ordinarily it is not negligence per se for it to run its train at any rate consistent with the safety of passengers,[77] until the peril of such trespasser

v. Kentucky Cent. R. Co., 93 Ky. 408, 20 S. W. 980, 14 Ky. L. Rep. 437. But see Cincinnati, etc., R. Co. v. Dickerson, 102 Ky. 560, 44 S. W. 99, 19 Ky. L. Rep. 1817.

United States.—Woodruff v. Northern Pac. R. Co., 47 Fed. 689.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 1262.

That the railroad employees negligently or carelessly looked down the track and failed to observe children thereon does not render the railroad company liable any more than if they had not looked at all. Thomas v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 114 Iowa 169, 86 N. W. 259.

In case of a drunken trespasser on a railroad, the railroad company is not liable for failure to discover his condition in time to prevent injuring him. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Jordan, 65 Ark. 429, 47 S. W. 115; Dugan v. Chesapeake, etc., R. Co., 72 S. W. 291, 24 Ky. L. Rep. 1754.

74. Croft v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 134 Iowa 411, 109 N. W. 723; Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Logsdon, 118 Ky. 600, 87 S. W. 657, 26 Ky. L. Rep. 457 [opinion in 78 S. W. 409, 25 Ky. L. Rep. 1656 withdrawn]; Lindsay v. Canadian Pac. R. Co., 68 Vt. 556, 35 Atl. 513, holding that it is a question for the jury whether the railroad company was guilty of negligence in failing to watch for obstructions.

Where a railroad company has for a long time permitted children to travel and pass habitually over its road at a given point without objection or hindrance, it should, in the operation of its trains and management of its road so long as it acquiesces in such use, be held to anticipate continuances thereof, and is bound to exercise care accordingly apportioned to the probable danger to the children so using its road. Harriman v. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co., 45 Ohio St. 11, 12 N. W. 451, 4 Am. St. Rep. 507.

75. Ashworth v. Southern R. Co., 116 Ga. 635, 43 S. E. 36, 59 L. R. A. 592; Frick v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 75 Mo. 542 [affirming 5 Mo. App. 435].

76. Rate of speed at crossings see infra, X, F, 8.

Rate of speed at stations see infra, X, E, 2, b, (IV).

77. Connecticut.— Nolan v. New York, etc., R. Co., 53 Conn. 461, 4 Atl. 106.

Georgia.— Georgia Cent. R. Co. v. Williams Buggy Co., 121 Ga. 293, 48 S. E. 939; Holland v. Sparks, 92 Ga. 753, 18 S. E. 990; Harden v. Georgia R. Co., 3 Ga. App. 344, 50 S. E. 1122.

Illinois.— Wabash, etc., R. Co. v. Neikirk, 15 Ill. App. 172; Garland v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 8 Ill. App. 571.

Iowa.— Hoffard v. Illinois Cent. R. Co., (1907) 110 N. W. 446 (in rural districts); Heiss v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 103 Iowa 590, 72 N. W. 787; Cohoon v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 90 Iowa 169, 57 N. W. 729.

Kentucky.— Gregory v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 79 S. W. 238, 25 Ky. L. Rep. 1986 (holding that the speed of a train in the country is not a matter that can be negligence as to trespassers on the track whose presence is unknown); Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. McCombs, 54 S. W. 179, 21 Ky. L. Rep. 1232.

Louisiana.— Sundmaker v. Yazoo, etc., Co., 106 La. 111, 30 So. 285; Houston v. Vicksburg, etc., R. Co., 39 La. Ann. 796, 2 So. 562.

Missouri.— Maher v. Atlantic, etc., R. Co., 64 Mo. 267.

Nebraska.— Omaha, etc., R. Co. v. Krayenbuhl, 48 Nebr. 553, 67 N. W. 447, holding that outside of towns and villages no rate of speed, however great, is alone sufficient to establish negligence.

Ohio.— Such v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co., 2 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 352, 2 West. L. Month. 486, holding that the speed is not material unless it exceeds the limitations of due care.

Pennsylvania.— Custer v. Baltimore, etc., R. Co., 206 Pa. St. 529, 55 Atl. 1130 (through the open country); Eply v. Lehigh Valley R. Co., 3 Pa. Super. Ct. 509.

Rhode Island.— Vizacchero v. Rhode Island Co., 26 R. I. 392, 59 Atl. 105, 69 L. R. A. 188.

Texas.— Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Short, (Civ. App. 1900) 58 S. W. 56.

Virginia.— Hortenstein v. Virginia-Carolina R. Co., 102 Va. 914, 47 S. E. 996 (holding that a railroad company owes to a trespasser no duty in regard to the rate of speed on schedule time upon which it shall run its trains); Johnson v. Chesapeake, etc., R. Co., 91 Va. 171, 21 S. E. 238.

United States.— Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. O'Brien, 153 Fed. 511, 82 C. C. A. 461; Farve v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 42 Fed. 441.

Canada.— Colpitts v. Reg., 6 Can. Exch. 254.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," §§ 1269, 1273.

A speed of fifty or sixty miles an hour is not negligence as to persons on the track, where there is no public crossing and where the railroad company is not bound to anticipate their presence. Georgia Cent. R. Co. v. Williams Buggy Co., 121 Ga. 293, 48 S. E. 939.

Exceeding schedule time.— It is not negligence per se for a train to exceed a rate of speed prescribed by the time-table of the railroad. If the time-table is framed with reference to a reasonable limit of safety at or licensee is discovered;[78] but whether it is negligence to run a train at a certain rate of speed at any particular time and place is ordinarily a question of fact for the jury to determine under all the circumstances.[79] This rule, however, is subject to qualifications, under which the speed must be regulated and controlled, even in the absence or independent of statutory or municipal regulations, so as to show due regard for the safety of those of the public who, even without right, are accustomed with the railroad company's knowledge or consent, to pass to and fro over the track and sometimes temporarily to make use of the same by walking up and down upon it,[80] as in populous cities or towns,[81] especially in any given point, then it would be negligence to exceed it; but it is otherwise if it is fixed from considerations of convenience and not with reference to what is safe or prudent. Colpitts v. Reg., 6 Can. Exch. 254.

A speed of twenty-five miles per hour outside the limits of a city or town, even in a thickly settled neighborhood, and at a point where some persons were accustomed to walk upon the tracks, is not in itself sufficient evidence of negligence. Missouri Pac. R. Co. v. Hansen, 48 Nebr. 232, 66 N. W. 1105.

The operation of an electric car in the country at such a rate of speed that the motorman is unable to stop in time to avoid injury after the headlight reveals the injured party is not negligence. Vizacchero v. Rhode Island Co., 26 R. I. 392, 59 Atl. 105.

There is no duty to slacken ordinary speed on approaching a curve, although it is in a cut, as a precaution against injury to persons walking or working on the track, but not known of or seen. Hoffard v. Illinois Cent. R. Co., (Iowa 1907) 110 N. W. 446.

78. Harden v. Georgia R. Co., 3 Ga. App. 344, 59 S. E. 1122; Neier v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 12 Mo. App. 35, holding that, however slow a train may be going after discovery of a person's peril on the track, if the speed may still be further reduced and a collision thus avoided the railroad company is chargeable with negligence in not further reducing the speed. And see infra, X, E, 2, a, (x), (B).

79. Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. McCombs, 54 S. W. 179, 21 Ky. L. Rep. 1232; Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Short, (Tex. Civ. App. 1900) 58 S. W. 56. And see infra, X, E, 8, e, (I), (I).

80. Georgia Cent. R. Co. v. Williams Buggy Co., 121 Ga. 293, 48 S. E. 939; Sundmaker v. Yazoo, etc., R. Co., 106 La. 111, 30 So. 285; Houston v. Vicksburg, etc., R. Co., 39 La. Ann. 796, 2 So. 562; Malmsten v. Marquette, etc., R. Co., 49 Mich. 94, 34 N. W. 373, holding that the running of heavily loaded cars down a wharf at the rate of ten to fifteen miles an hour, without a locomotive, when people are landing from a steamboat, is sufficient to establish negligence on the part of the railroad company. Compare Missouri Pac. R. Co. v. Hansen, 48 Nebr. 232, 66 N. W. 1105.

When it is determined that a certain rate of speed is incompatible with public safety under the circumstances of the place, the rights of the company, even on its own track, are qualified by the law of the public good. Pennsylvania R. Co. v. Lewis, 79 Pa. St. 33.

Permitting a train to get beyond control on a steep grade and to descend the grade so as to drive other cars past the end of the track, where the servants of the railroad company knew or had good reason to believe persons were stationed with vehicles, may authorize an inference of negligence on the part of the company. Southern R. Co. v. Stutts, 144 Fed. 948, 75 C. C. A. 588.

81. Illinois.— Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Dunleavy, 129 Ill. 132, 22 N. E. 15. Compare Garland v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 8 Ill. App. 571, holding that it is not negligence to run a train at the rate of twenty-five miles an hour through an unincorporated village.

Kentucky.— Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. McCombs, 54 S. W. 179, 21 Ky. L. Rep. 1232.

Louisiana.— Sundmaker v. Yazoo, etc., R. Co., 106 La. 111, 30 So. 285; Peyton v. Texas, etc., R. Co., 41 La. Ann. 861, 6 So. 690, 15 Am. St. Rep. 430.

Mississippi.— Alabama, etc., R. Co. v. Lowe, 73 Miss. 203, 19 So. 96.

Missouri.— Haley v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 197 Mo. 15, 93 S. W. 1120, 114 Am. St. Rep. 743; Reilly v. Hannibal, etc., R. Co., 94 Mo. 600, 7 S. W. 407.

Nebraska.— Meyer v. Midland Pac. R. Co., 2 Nebr. 319, holding also that a reasonable rate of speed in the open country is not reasonable in a thickly settled town.

Pennsylvania.— Custer v. Baltimore, etc., R. Co., 206 Pa. St. 529, 55 Atl. 1130; Hagan v. Philadelphia, etc., R. Co., 5 Phila. 179.

United States.— Farve v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 42 Fed. 441, holding this rule to apply to an incorporated city or town.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 1273.

But see Nolan v. New York, etc., R. Co., 53 Conn. 461, 4 Atl. 106, holding that a railroad company is not bound to run its trains at a very low rate of speed through a city on its own right of way where persons have no right to be.

To run within the limits of a city in the night-time at a speed of twenty-five miles an hour, and while racing with a train of a parallel road, is negligence on the part of the railroad company. Crow v. Wabash, etc., R. Co., 23 Mo. App. 357.

Speed necessary to ascend grade.— That the grade of a railroad track laid in a street of a populous city is such that a freight train cannot ascend it without the aid of the momentum to be acquired by a high rate of speed does not justify a railroad company in running its train at such speed, cases where the railroad tracks are laid upon the streets or other public places of such town or city.[82]

(B) Statutory or Municipal Regulations. The rate of speed at which trains may be run is now generally regulated by statute or ordinance,[83] under which it is usually provided that trains or cars shall not be run at more than a given rate of speed through a city or town,[84] for a violation of which the company may be liable to persons injured thereby whether trespassers or not,[85] although there where so doing renders it liable to injure persons who, without negligence on their part, might be on the street, or renders it impossible for the engineer to stop the train in time to prevent such injury after seeing the danger. Haley v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 197 Mo. 15, 93 S. W. 1120, 114 Am. St. Rep. 743.

To run through a village of two hundred inhabitants at twenty miles an hour is not negligence, where it is not shown that the train was improperly equipped as to brakes and brakemen. Johnson v. Chesapeake, etc., R. Co., 91 Va. 171, 21 S. E. 238.

82. Sundmaker v. Yazoo, etc., R. Co., 106 La. 111, 30 So. 285; Barley v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 2 Fed. Cas. No. 997, 4 Biss. 430.

83. See the statutes of the several states; and cases cited infra, note 84.

Speed at crossings.— The violation of a statutory regulation as to slackening speed on approaching a crossing has been held to be evidence of negligence to be considered by the jury as to a person on the track or right of way near the crossing. Cent. R., etc., Co. v. Golden, 93 Ga. 510, 21 S. E. 68. But on the other hand it has been held that an ordinance limiting the rate of speed in passing over crossings does not imply that this rate is not to be exceeded between the crossings. Central R., etc., Co. v. Smith, 78 Ga. 694, 3 S. E. 397.

At drawbridge.—A statute (Ga. Code, § 1689*p*) requiring railroad trains to slow down to a certain rate of speed before running on or crossing any drawbridge over a stream which is navigated by vessels does not apply to the trestles and approaches leading up to the drawbridge proper. Savannah, etc., R. Co. v. Daniels, 90 Ga. 608, 17 S. E. 647, 20 L. R. A. 416.

84. See East St. Louis Connecting R. Co. v. O'Hara, 150 Ill. 580, 37 N. E. 917 [affirming 49 Ill. App. 282]; Martin v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 118 Iowa 148, 91 N. W. 1034, 96 Am. St. Rep. 371, 59 L. R. A. 698 holding that such an ordinance has not for its sole object the protection of those crossing the tracks, but its benefit may be claimed by any person coming within its protection.

Construction of ordinances or statutes.— Particular ordinances or statutes have been held to apply to locomotives running without any cars attached (East St. Louis Connecting R. Co. v. O'Hara, 150 Ill. 580, 37 N. E. 917 [affirming 49 Ill. App. 282]); to a wrecking train consisting of an engine, tender, freight cars, and derrick car (Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Johnson, 53 Ill. App. 478); to a train which has entered the city limits, although it has not arrived at any of the traveled streets (Hooker v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 76 Wis. 542, 44 N. W. 1085, construing Rev. St. § 1809); to a train which is started upon private property, as soon as it passes beyond the limits of such property (Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Pollock, 195 Ill. 156, 62 N. E. 831 [affirming 93 Ill. App. 483]); to a train or cars in the private switch yards of the railroad company (Crowley v. Burlington, etc., R. Co., 65 Iowa 658, 20 N. W. 467, 22 N. W. 918; Jackson v. Kansas City, etc., R. Co., 157 Mo. 621, 58 S. W. 32, 80 Am. St. Rep. 650; Grube v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 98 Mo. 330, 11 S. W. 736, 14 Am. St. Rep. 645, 4 L. R. A. 776. But see Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Redmon, 122 Ky. 385, 91 S. W. 722, 28 Ky. L. Rep. 1293; Green v. Delaware, etc., Canal Co., 38 Hun (N. Y.) 51). On the other hand particular statutes or ordinances have been held not to apply to unincorporated villages (Nolan v. Milwaukee, etc., R. Co., 91 Wis. 16, 64 N. W. 319); nor can such an ordinance ordinarily be restricted in its operation to situations where the question of speed would be of importance to travelers on the streets at grade crossings (Northern Cent. R. Co. v. Herchiskel, 74 Fed. 460, 20 C. C. A. 593). Such an ordinance is not usually construed as applying only to those portions of the city used by the public. Crowley v. Burlington, etc., R. Co., 65 Iowa 658, 20 N. W. 467, 22 N. W. 918.

That the road was built on a grade and curve before the passage of the ordinance, which rendered it impracticable to comply with the ordinance, does not relieve the railroad company from liability, in running its train at a rate of speed greater than that permitted by such an ordinance. Neier v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 12 Mo. App. 25.

85. Alabama, etc., R. Co. v. Carter, 77 Miss. 511, 27 So. 993; Hooker v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 76 Wis. 542, 44 N. W. 1085.

Subsequent ordinance.— The violation of an ordinance limiting the speed of trains to a certain rate is not avoided by showing the subsequent enactment of an ordinance limiting the speed rate with certain exceptions, where the company does not show that it is within any of the exceptions since the original ordinance will be considered as continuing in force. Graney v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 140 Mo. 89, 41 S. W. 246, 38 L. R. A. 633, (1897) 38 S. W. 969.

That it was impossible to stop in time to avoid the injury does not excuse the railroad company from liability where its negligence in violating the ordinance made it impossible to stop. Murrell v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 105 Mo. App. 88, 79 S. W. 505.

was no actual collision.[86] While in some jurisdictions it is held that such speed regulations do not apply to trespassers, and that as to them a violation of the statute or ordinance is not negligence,[87] in most jurisdictions a violation of such statute or ordinance is negligence per se which may be the basis of a recovery by a person injured in consequence thereof, and who was without fault,[88] unless the rate of speed prescribed is unreasonable,[89] although to render such negligence actionable, it must, in some way, have occasioned the injury complained of.[90] In other jurisdictions, however, it is held that such violation is merely prima facie evidence of negligence to be submitted to the jury,[91] and is not of itself wilful or gross negligence which will justify a recovery by a trespasser or licensee,[92] although it, together with other circumstances, may tend to prove gross or wilful negligence.[93] It is not negligence to run a train within city limits at a speed less

That the person injured was an employee of the railroad company, and was engaged in the discharge of his duties at the time of the injury does not relieve the company from liability for running at a greater rate of speed than that permitted by ordinance. Houston, etc., R. Co. v. Powell, (Tex. Civ. App. 1897) 41 S. W. 695.

Where a portion of the track is commonly used as a footway to the knowledge of the company, a person so using it is entitled to the same benefit from the ordinance prohibiting the rapid running of trains as a person at a crossing. Gulf, etc., R. Co. v. Matthews, 28 Tex. Civ. App. 92, 66 S. W. 588, 67 S. W. 788.

Running a train through railroad yards in a city at a speed exceeding the limit prescribed by a city ordinance is not negligence authorizing a receovery by one injured while standing on the track. Ward v. Illinois Cent. R. Co., 56 S. W. 807, 22 Ky. L. Rep. 191.

Where the right of way is not on or parallel to an adjoining street but is entirely inclosed to prevent its use by the public, the violation of a speed ordinance is not negligence as to a person injured thereon. Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Redmon, 122 Ky. 385, 91 S. W. 722, 28 Ky. L. Rep. 1293.

86. Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Crawford, 169 Ill. 554, 48 N. E. 679 [affirming 68 Ill. App. 355].

Injury by suction.— Where a person is injured by being sucked under a train by the current of air put in motion by a train while running at a rate of speed prohibited by ordinance, the railroad company cannot be held liable unless it is shown that it knew that such excessive speed would produce such a result, or that a reasonably prudent man would have apprehended it. Graney v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 140 Mo. 89, 41 S. W. 246, 38 S. W. 969, 157 Mo. 666, 57 S. W. 276, 50 L. R. A. 153.

87. Clemans v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 128 Iowa 394, 104 N. W. 431.

88. Alabama.— South Alabama, etc., R. Co. v. Donovan, 84 Ala. 141, 4 So. 142.

District of Columbia.— Baltimore, etc., R. Co. v. Golway, 6 App. Cas. 143.

Georgia.— Georgia Cent. R. Co. v. Bond, 111 Ga. 13, 36 S. E. 299; Barfield v. Southern R. Co., 108 Ga. 744, 33 S. E. 988. See also Georgia R., etc. Co. v. Williams, 3 Ga. App. 272, 59 S. E. 846, 4 Ga. App. 23, 60 S. E. 808.

Indiana.— Pennsylvania Co. v. Horton, 132 Ind. 189, 31 N. E. 45. But see Scudder v. Indianapolis, etc., R. Co., Wils. 481.

Kansas.— Kansas City Suburban Belt R. Co. v. Herman, (App. 1900) 62 Pac. 543; Erb v. Morasch, 8 Kan. App. 61, 54 Pac. 323.

Missouri.— Jackson v. Kansas City, etc., R. Co., 157 Mo. 621, 58 S. W. 32, 80 Am. St. Rep. 650; Prewitt v. Missouri, etc., R. Co., 134 Mo. 615, 36 S. W. 667; Schlereth v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 115 Mo. 87, 21 S. W. 1110; Murrell v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 105 Mo. App. 88, 79 S. W. 505.

Texas.— International, etc., R. Co. v. Hall, 35 Tex. Civ. App. 545, 81 S. W. 82, 520; Missouri, etc., R. Co. v. Owens, (Civ. App. 1903) 75 S. W. 579.

See 41 Cent Dig. tit. "Railroads," §§ 1270, 1274.

That the engineer who violated the ordinance was ignorant of its existence is immaterial on the question of the railroad company's negligence. Georgia Cent. R. Co. v. Bond, 111 Ga. 13, 36 S. E. 299.

89. South Alabama, etc., R. Co. v. Donovan, 84 Ala. 141, 4 So. 142.

90. Baltimore, etc., R. Co. v. Golway, 6 App. Cas. (D. C.) 143. And see infra, X, E, 5.

91. Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Eicher, 202 Ill. 556, 67 N. E. 376 [reversing 100 Ill. App. 599]; Toledo, etc., R. Co. v. O'Connor, 77 Ill. 391; Southern R. Co. v. Drake, 107 Ill. App. 12; Smith v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 99 Ill. App. 296; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Argo, 82 Ill. App. 667; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Gunderson, 65 Ill. App. 638; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Winters, 65 Ill. App. 435; Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Murphy, 52 Ill. App. 65; Terre Haute, etc., R. Co. v. Voelker, 31 Ill. App. 314 [affirmed in 129 Ill. 540, 22 N. E. 20]; Brown v. Buffalo, etc., R. Co., 22 N. Y. 191; Beck v. Portland, etc., R. Co., 25 Oreg. 32, 34 Pac. 753; Northern Cent. R. Co. v. Herschiskel, 74 Fed. 460, 20 C. C. A. 593.

92. Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Eicher, 202 Ill. 556, 67 N. E. 376 [reversing 100 Ill. App. 599]; Smith v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 99 Ill. App. 296; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Argo, 82 Ill. App. 667.

93. Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Eicher, 202 Ill. 556, 67 N. E. 376 [reversing 100 Ill. App. 599]; Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Jernigan, 101 than that limited by ordinance, in the absence of any peculiar circumstances rendering such speed dangerous.[94]

(x) Precautions as to Persons Seen On or Near Track[95] — (A) In General. Where a person, whether a trespasser, licensee, or not, is discovered by the railroad employees on or near its tracks in a position of danger,[96] it is the duty of the railroad company to exercise ordinary care and precaution, that is, it must use all means at command, consistent with its higher duty to its passengers and others, in moving its trains or cars, to avoid injury to such persons; and if it fails to do so it is liable for the resulting injuries;[97] but not if it exercises such Ill. App. 1 [affirmed in 198 Ill. 297, 65 N. E. 88].

94. Wickham v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 95 Wis. 23, 69 N. W. 982.

95. Duty to discover persons on track see supra, X, E, 2, a, (VIII).

Precautions as to persons seen at or near crossings see infra, X, F, 9.

Injury avoidable notwithstanding contributory negligence see infra, X, E, 6.

Wilful, wanton, or gross negligence see infra, X, E, 7.

96. Hocker v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 96 S. W. 526, 29 Ky. L. Rep. 842 (holding that where plaintiff was injured while standing between two cars by the sudden movement of the train, the mere fact that one of defendant's servants in charge of the train crew saw him crossing the tracks and standing near or at the cars was insufficient to charge defendant with knowledge that plaintiff was in a place of danger); Rangeley v. Southern R. Co., 95 Va. 715, 30 S. E. 386 (holding that where there is no evidence that defendant knew plaintiff was on the track before he was run over and it was shown that he was a young man in possession of all his faculties, it was not error to refuse to charge that defendant was liable if it could have avoided the injury after discovering, or could have discovered by the use of ordinary care, the peril of plaintiff).

That the fireman saw plaintiff approaching a train which was being made up in a switch-yard is not such knowledge that plaintiff would attempt to go between the cars of the train, so as to require the exercise of care in moving the same. Rodriguez v. International, etc., R. Co., 27 Tex. Civ. App. 325, 64 S. W. 1005.

A person between a moving train and some box cars on another track with nearly six feet between the tracks and three feet space between the cars is not in such a position of danger as to make the railroad company negligent in starting and moving its train, although such person is in sight of the railroad employees at the time. Barkley v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 96 Mo. 367, 9 S. W. 793.

97. California.— Esrey v. Southern Pac. Co., 103 Cal. 541, 37 Pac. 500.

Colorado.— Kansas Pac. R. Co. v. Cranmer, 4 Colo. 524.

Connecticut.— Nolan v. New York, etc., R. Co., 53 Conn. 461, 4 Atl. 106.

Kentucky.— Flint v. Illinois Cent. R. Co., 88 S. W. 1055, 28 Ky. L. Rep. 1; Kendall v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 76 S. W. 376, 25 Ky. L. Rep. 793; Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Chism, 47 S. W. 251, 20 Ky. L. Rep. 584.

Michigan.— Bouwmeester v. Grand Rapids, etc., R. Co., 67 Mich. 87, 34 N. W. 414.

Mississippi.— Christian v. Illinois Cent. R. Co., 71 Miss. 237, 15 So. 71.

Missouri.— Reyburn v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 187 Mo. 565, 86 S. W. 174; Reardon v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 114 Mo. 384, 21 S. W. 731; Rine v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 88 Mo. 392; Isabel v. Hannibal, etc., R. Co., 60 Mo. 475; Mathews v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 63 Mo. App. 569.

Nebraska.— Omaha, etc., R. Co. v. Cook, 42 Nebr. 577, 60 N. W. 899.

New York.— German v. Suburban Rapid-Transit Co., 13 N. Y. Suppl. 897, holding that it is culpable negligence for an engineer, after having seen plaintiff in a dangerous position on the track, to back down upon him without looking again to see if he is out of the way.

Pennsylvania.— Kelly v. Philadelphia, etc., R. Co., 30 Leg. Int. 140.

Texas.— Houston, etc., R. Co. v. Finn, (Civ. App. 1908) 107 S. W. 94 [affirmed in (1908) 109 S. W. 918] (holding that those in charge of the train must use all means at command, that may be exercised consistent with the safety of the persons in control and those in their charge); Houston, etc., R. Co. v. Ramsey, 43 Tex. Civ. App. 603, 97 S. W. 1067; International, etc., R. Co. v. Woodward, 26 Tex. Civ. App. 389, 63 S. W. 1051; Houston, etc., R. Co. v. Harvin, (Civ. App. 1899) 54 S. W. 629. Under Rev. St. art. 2899, authorizing an action against a railroad company for injuries causing death when the death was caused by "the unfitness, gross negligence, or carelessness of the servants," of the railroad company, even if such servants saw that a child was in danger the company would only be liable for their gross negligence. Sabine, etc., R. Co. v. Hanks, 73 Tex. 323, 11 S. W. 377.

Virginia.— Norfolk, etc., R. Co. v. Dean, 107 Va. 505, 59 S. E. 389; Chesapeake, etc., R. Co. v. Farrow, 106 Va. 137, 55 S. E. 569; Humphreys v. Valley R. Co., 100 Va. 749, 42 S. E. 882, holding that the railroad company is bound to do all it consistently can, after discovering a trespasser's peril, to avoid injuring him.

United States.— Towles v. Southern R. Co., 103 Fed. 405; Anderson v. Hopkins, 91 Fed. 77, 33 C. C. A. 346.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," §§ 1275, 1276.

Basis of rule.— An injured person's right of action in such case is based upon the prin-care, although the accident is not thereby avoided.[98] Although in such cases the railroad company must use all reasonable means within its power to avert an accident,[99] it is only required to exercise such care as a reasonably prudent man would exercise under like circumstances.[1] If practicable, when it becomes ciple that a failure to exercise ordinary care under such circumstances amounts to a degree of reckless conduct that may be termed wilful and wanton, and when an act is wilfully and wantonly done contributory negligence on the part of the person injured is not an element to defeat recovery. Esrey v. Southern Pac. Co., 103 Cal. 541, 37 Pac. 500.

Where a trespasser is injured while attempting to pass between the cars of a train, by reason of the sudden starting of the train, the railroad company is liable if its employees saw and knew the danger of his position in time to avoid injury to him by the exercise of reasonable care. International, etc., R. Co. v. Tabor, 12 Tex. Civ. App. 283, 33 S. W. 894.

98. Alabama.— Southern R. Co. v. Gullatt, 150 Ala. 318, 43 So. 577; Alabama Great Southern R. Co. v. Moorer, 116 Ala. 642, 22 So. 900.

Illinois.— Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Oswald, 94 Ill. App. 638.

Indian Territory.— Gulf, etc., R. Co. v. Bolton, 2 Indian Terr. 463, 51 S. W. 1085.

Kentucky.— Kendall v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 76 S. W. 376, 25 Ky. L. Rep. 793.

Louisiana.— Sanders v. Texas, etc., R. Co., 118 La. 174, 42 So. 764.

Maine.— Copp v. Maine Cent. R. Co., 100 Me. 568, 62 Atl. 735, holding that where the engineer, as soon as it became evident that the person on the track might not get off in time, did all that he could to avoid running upon such person, he was not guilty of negligence in not sooner apprehending that such person would not leave the track.

New Mexico.— Candelaria v. Atchison, etc., R. Co., 6 N. M. 266, 27 Pac. 497.

Virginia.— Humphreys v. Valley R. Co., 100 Va. 749, 42 S. E. 882; Norfolk, etc., R. Co. v. Carper, 88 Va. 556, 14 S. E. 328.

United States.— St. Louis Southwestern R. Co. v. Purcell, 135 Fed. 499, 68 C. C. A. 211.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," §§ 1275, 1276.

99. Alabama.— Frazer v. South Alabams, etc., R. Co., 81 Ala. 185, 1 So. 85, 60 Am. Rep. 145, holding that it is reckless negligence to omit to use the means at hand to prevent an accident, when a prompt resort thereto might have prevented it, without endangering the train.

Kentucky.— Flint v. Illinois Cent. R. Co., 88 S. W. 1055, 28 Ky. L. Rep. 1.

Missouri.— Mathews v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 63 Mo. App. 569.

Nebraska.— Omaha, etc., R. Co. v. Cook, 42 Nebr. 577, 60 N. W. 899.

Texas.— St. Louis Southwestern R. Co. v. Bishop, 14 Tex. Civ. App. 504, 37 S. W. 764.

United States.— Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Morlay, 86 Fed. 240, 30 C. C. A. 6.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," §§ 1275, 1276.

1. Kentucky.— Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Jolly, 90 S. W. 977, 28 Ky. L. Rep. 989.

Maryland.— Northern Cent. R. Co. v. State, 29 Md. 420, 96 Am. Dec. 545.

Missouri.— Woods v. Wabash R. Co., 188 Mo. 229, 86 S. W. 1082.

Nebraska.— Meyer v. Midland Pac. R. Co., 2 Nebr. 319.

New York.— Stewart v. Long Island R. Co., 54 N. Y. App. Div. 623, 66 N. Y. Suppl. 436 [affirmed in 166 N. Y. 604, 59 N. E. 1130].

North Carolina.— Little v. Carolina Cent. R. Co., 119 N. C. 771, 26 S. E. 106.

Texas.— International, etc., R. Co. v. McDonald, 75 Tex. 41, 12 S. W. 860; Texas, etc., R. Co. v. McCarty, (Civ. App. 1896) 35 S. W. 675, holding that an instruction that the failure to use all the means in its power to prevent the injury is negligence is erroneous.

United States.—Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Harby, 94 Fed. 303, 36 C. C. A. 353.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," §§ 1275, 1276.

The degree of care required varies according to the circumstances, and the more dangerous the indications, the more prudence a railroad employee must exercise, and where the indications are very slight, the degree of care may not be so high, but when the indications become a manifestation of approaching danger of collision, his prudence must rise up to that manifestation. Stewart v. Long Island R. Co., 54 N. Y. App. Div. 623, 66 N. Y. Suppl. 436 [affirmed in 166 N. Y. 604, 59 N. E. 1130].

Persons in charge of a hand-car are not held to the same degree of care in regard to a trespasser or pedestrian seen walking on the track as are persons in charge of a locomotive. Wright v. Southern R. Co., 132 N. C. 327, 43 S. E. 845.

Acts in emergency.— If the engineer or other employee uses such means as in his judgment are, in the emergency, most advisable to prevent an accident, he is not chargeable with negligence although he failed to use other means which were at hand provided he is competent and experienced in his business. Bell v. Hannibal, etc., R. Co., 72 Mo. 50, holding this rule to apply where he applied the air brakes but did not attempt to reverse the engine.

An engineer is not required to provide against what he has no reasonable ground to anticipate, but his obligation is to take proper precautions to guard against what is the usual or justly expected consequence of one's act, and not against unexpected, unusual, and extraordinary results. Little v. Carolina Cent. R. Co., 118 N. C. 1072, 24 S. E. 514. Where an engineer, acting on the reasonable belief that the person was safe, released the brakes when but for such belief he would have stopped the train, such person cannot recover. Little v. Carolina Cent. R. Co., supra.

aware of such person's danger, it should give a timely warning by bell, whistle, or otherwise;[2] and if necessary and practicable, as where under the circumstances it is impracticable to give a warning or it is apparent that the person on the track does not hear or will not heed such warning, due care should be used in slackening the speed of the approaching train,[3] or in stopping it,[4] and in some jurisdictions such precautions are expressly required by statute.[5] It is not negligence, however, to fail to exercise some of these precautions where it is impossible to do so after the person's peril is discovered,[6] as where the manifestation of the peril and the catastrophe are so close, in point of time, as to leave no room for preventive effort.[7]

(B) Duty to Stop or Slacken Speed in General. Since after the railroad employees in charge of a train have given all the usual and proper signals to warn persons of their approach,[8] they have a right to presume that a person seen on or near the tracks ahead and apparently aware of his danger will retreat to or remain in a place of safety,[9] except where regulated by statute,[10] and in the absence of circumstances indicating that such person will not or cannot get out of danger, they are not required to slacken speed or stop the train merely because such person is discovered on or near the track ahead,[11] and does not immediately change his

2. See supra, X, E, 2, a, (VIII), (A), (1).

The alarm signal must be given at such distance before reaching a person seen walking on the track as will enable him to hear it and get off the track. Kelley v. Ohio River R. Co., 58 W. Va. 216, 52 S. E. 520, 2 L. R. A. N. S. 898.

Where the engineer of a train on a side-track fails to warn a person standing on a parallel track that another train is approaching, such failure is not negligence, unless the engineer knew the other train was about to pass, or that plaintiff was unaware of its approach, or unless he suspected plaintiff would continue on the main track. Gregory v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 79 S. W. 238, 25 Ky. L. Rep. 1986.

3. Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Tinkham, 44 S. W. 439, 19 Ky. L. Rep. 1784. And see infra, X, E, 2, a, (X), (B).

4. Reardon v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 114 Mo. 384, 21 S. W. 731, holding that the railroad company would be liable if its servants, after seeing plaintiff in a perilous position, in time to stop the train in safety to themselves and those on board by the use of ordinary means, failed to exercise ordinary care to avert the accident. And see infra, X, E, 2, a, (X), (B).

5. Under Milliken & V. Code Tenn. §§ 1298–1300, if a person appears on a track in front of an approaching train, it is the duty of the railroad employees to have a person on the lookout ahead, to sound a whistle, put down the brakes, and use every possible means to stop the train and prevent the accident. Knoxville, etc., R. Co. v. Acuff, 92 Tenn. 26, 20 S. W. 348; Patton v. East Tennessee, etc., R. Co., 89 Tenn. 370, 15 S. W. 919, 12 L. R. A. 184; Chesapeake, etc., R. Co. v. Foster, 88 Tenn. 671, 13 S. W. 694, 14 S. W. 428.

That the engine was behind the cars pushing them forward at the time of the accident is immaterial. Knoxville, etc., R. Co. v. Acuff, 92 Tenn. 26, 20 S. W. 348.

6. East Tennessee, etc., R. Co. v. Swaney, 5 Lea (Tenn.) 119, holding that if after a person could have been seen on a track by a lookout on the locomotive a compliance with the statute requiring the whistle to be sounded and the brakes to be put down is impossible, the company is not liable for failure to do so.

7. Frazer v. South Alabama, etc., R. Co., 81 Ala. 185, 1 So. 85, 60 Am. Rep. 145; Fisk v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 111 Iowa 392, 82 N. W. 931.

8. Frech v. Philadelphia, etc., R. Co., 39 Md. 574.

9. See infra, X, E, 2, a, (X), (C).

10. See Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Connor, 9 Heisk. (Tenn.) 19, holding that under the requirement of Code, § 1166, it is the duty of all engaged in running the train in whatever department employed to give the entire energies of their bodies and minds to bring into requisition all the means at their command to stop the train and prevent an accident, when a person appears on the track ahead.

11. Alabama.— Southern R. Co. v. Gullatt, 150 Ala. 318, 43 So. 577; Johnson v. Birmingham R., etc., Co., 149 Ala. 529, 43 So. 33; Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Lewis, 141 Ala. 466, 37 So. 587; Frazer v. South Alabama, etc., R. Co., 81 Ala. 185, 1 So. 85, 60 Am. Rep. 145; Mobile, etc., R. Co. v. Blakely, 59 Ala. 471. But Code (1896), § 3440, requires locomotive engineers, upon perceiving an obstruction on the track, to use all means known to skilful engineers to stop their trains. Harris v. Nashville, etc., R. Co., (1907) 44 So. 962.

Florida.— Atlantic Coast Line R. Co. v. Miller, 53 Fla. 246, 44 So. 247; Florida Cent., etc., R. Co. v. Williams, 37 Fla. 406, 20 So. 558.

Illinois.— Bartlett v. Wabash R. Co., 220 Ill. 163, 77 N. E. 96; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Austin, 69 Ill. 426; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Thompson, 99 Ill. App. 277.

Indiana.— Pennsylvania Co. v. Meyers, 136 Ind. 242, 36 N. E. 32; Terre Haute, etc., R. Co. v. Graham, 46 Ind. 239.

position when the alarm signal is given,[12] or merely because a vehicle is seen slowly approaching or standing near the track;[13] and should a person near the track suddenly go upon the track and be injured, the fault will not be that of the company,[14] unless the employees' conduct is so grossly careless that the exercise of proper and reasonable caution by the party injured could not have protected him.[15] Where, however, such employees have reason to believe that such person is laboring under some disability,[16] or has failed to hear and apprehend the signals,[17] or where they otherwise know or have reasonable grounds to believe that such person is in a position of peril and will not or cannot get out of it in time, and then only, it is their duty to use all reasonable efforts within their power, consistent with the safety of the train, to stop the train if possible in time to avoid injuring him; and if they fail to do so the railroad company is liable for the resulting injury.[18] In accordance with the above rule it has been held that railroad

Iowa.— Horn v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 124 Iowa 281, 99 N. W. 1068.

Kansas.— Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Clinkenbeard, 72 Kan. 559, 84 Pac. 142.

Kentucky.— Ward v. Illinois Cent. R. Co., 56 S. W. 807, 22 Ky. L. Rep. 191; Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Hocker, 55 S. W. 438, 21 Ky. L. Rep. 1398.

Louisiana.— Hebert v. Louisiana Western R. Co., 104 La. 483, 29 So. 239.

Maine.— Copp v. Maine Cent. R. Co., 100 Me. 568, 62 Atl. 735.

Maryland.— Frech v. Philadelphia, etc., R. Co., 39 Md. 574.

Massachusetts.— Chisholm v. Old Colony R. Co., 159 Mass. 3, 33 N. E. 927 (construing Pub. St. c. 112, § 212); June v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 153 Mass. 79, 26 N. E. 238.

Minnesota.— Erickson v. St. Paul, etc., R. Co., 41 Minn. 500, 43 N. W. 332, 5 L. R. A. 786.

Missouri.— Jackson v. Kansas City, etc., R. Co., 157 Mo. 621, 58 S. W. 32, 80 Am. St. Rep. 650; Reardon v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 114 Mo. 384, 21 S. W. 731; Boyd v. Wabash Western R. Co., 105 Mo. 371, 16 S. W. 909; Maloy v. Wabash, etc., R. Co., 84 Mo. 270.

North Carolina.— McArver v. Southern R. Co., 129 N. C. 380, 40 S. E. 94.

Ohio.— Cincinnati, etc., R. Co. v. Murphy, 17 Ohio Cir. Ct. 223, 9 Ohio Cir. Dec. 703.

Oregon.— Cogswell v. Oregon, etc., R. Co., 6 Oreg. 417.

Texas.— San Antonio, etc., R. Co. v. McMillan, 100 Tex. 562, 102 S. W. 103 [reversing (Civ. App. 1906) 98 S. W. 421]; Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Roberts, 14 Tex. Civ. App. 532, 37 S. W. 870.

West Virginia.— Teel v. Ohio River R. Co., 49 W. Va. 85, 38 S. E. 518.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 1279.

That a passing train on an adjoining track is making considerable noise does not render an engineer negligent in not attempting to stop, after he has given the danger signals, since it is the duty of a person on the track to look as well as listen. Syme v. Richmond, etc., R. Co., 113 N. C. 558, 18 S. E. 114.

12. Hebert v. Louisiana Western R. Co., 104 La. 483, 29 So. 239.

13. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Austin, 69 Ill. 426.

14. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Austin, 69 Ill. 426.

15. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Austin, 69 Ill. 426.

16. See infra, X, E, 2, a, (x), (B), (1).

17. France v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 22 S. W. 851, 15 Ky. L. Rep. 244; Frech v. Philadelphia, etc., R. Co., 39 Md. 574; Erickson v. St. Paul, etc., R. Co., 41 Minn. 500, 43 N. W. 332, 5 L. R. A. 786; Fiedler v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 107 Mo. 645, 18 S. W. 847.

18. Alabama.— Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Young, (1907) 45 So. 238 (engineer must use promptly every appliance at hand known to prudent men to stop the engine); Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Lewis, 141 Ala. 466, 37 So. 587; Southern R. Co. v. Bush, 122 Ala. 470, 26 So. 168; Alabama Great Southern R. Co. v. Moorer, 116 Ala. 642, 22 So. 900; Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Black, 89 Ala. 313, 8 So. 246; Cook v. Georgia Cent. R., etc., Co., 67 Ala. 533.

Arkansas.— St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Wilkerson, 46 Ark. 513.

Florida.— Florida Cent., etc., R. Co. v. Williams, 37 Fla. 406, 20 So. 558.

Illinois.— Peirce v. Walters, 164 Ill. 560, 45 N. E. 1068 [affirming 63 Ill. App. 562].

Iowa.— Horn v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 124 Iowa 281, 99 N. W. 1068; Vreeland v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 92 Iowa 279, 60 N. W. 542 (holding that the fireman is under no duty to warn the engineer to stop his train until it is reasonably apparent that a person seen on the track by the fireman is in danger); Burg v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 80 Iowa 106, 57 N. W. 680, 48 Am. St. Rep. 419.

Kansas.— Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Clinkenbeard, 72 Kan. 559, 84 Pac. 142.

Kentucky.— Becker v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 110 Ky. 474, 61 S. W. 997, 22 Ky. L. Rep. 1893, 96 Am. St. Rep. 459, 53 L. R. A. 267; Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Taaffe, 106 Ky. 535, 50 S. W. 850, 21 Ky. L. Rep. 64; Chesapeake, etc., R. Co. v. Keelin, 62 S. W. 261, 22 Ky. L. Rep. 1942; Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Pool, 49 S. W. 1060, 20 Ky. L. Rep. 1737; Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Tinkham, 44 S. W. 439, 19 Ky. L. Rep. 1784; France v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 22 S. W. 851, 15 Ky. L. Rep. 244.

Maine.— Copp v. Maine Cent. R. Co., 100 Me. 568, 62 Atl. 735.

Missouri.— Reardon v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 114 Mo. 384, 21 S. W. 731.

employees discovering an object on the track are not under a duty to slow up or endeavor to stop the train, before the nature of the object is known;[19] but on the other hand it has been held that it is the duty of such employees when they discover an unknown object on the track to bring the train under control if possible, until the nature of the object is known, so as to be able to stop if necessary.[20]

Nebraska.— Union Pac. R. Co. v. Mertes, 35 Nebr. 204, 52 N. W. 1099.

New Mexico.— Candelaria v. Atchison, etc., R. Co., 6 N. M. 266, 27 Pac. 497.

New York.— Fitzgibbons v. Manhattan R. Co., 88 N. Y. Suppl. 341.

North Carolina.— McCall v. Southern R. Co., 129 N. C. 298, 40 S. E. 67; McLamb v. Wilmington, etc., R. Co., 122 N. C. 862, 29 S. E. 894. See also Pharr v. Southern R. Co., 133 N. C. 610, 45 S. E. 1021.

Texas.— International, etc., R. Co. v. Garcia, 75 Tex. 583, 13 S. W. 223 (holding that it is only incumbent to stop when it is manifest that such person does not heed the approaching danger); Houston, etc., R. Co. v. Finn, (Civ. App. 1908) 107 S. W. 94 [affirmed in (1908) 109 S. W. 918]; International, etc., R. Co. v. Munn, (Civ. App. 1907) 102 S. W. 442; San Antonio, etc., R. Co. v. Gray, (Civ. App. 1901) 66 S. W. 229 [reversed on other grounds in 95 Tex. 424, 67 S. W. 763]; Gulf, etc., R. Co. v. Hill, (Civ. App. 1900) 58 S. W. 255; Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Roberts, 14 Tex. Civ. App. 532, 37 S. W. 870; Sabine, etc., R. Co. v. Hanks, 2 Tex. Civ. App. 306, 21 S. W. 947.

Virginia.— Savage v. Southern R. Co., 103 Va. 422, 49 S. E. 484.

United States.— Saldana v. Galveston, etc., R. Co., 43 Fed. 862.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 1279.

When an engineer discovers a team dangerously near a track through the negligence of the driver, and he sees that the driver has gotten himself and his team into a place where there is danger of collision if the train proceeds, and that the driver cannot change the position of himself or his team, it is his duty to use all available appliances to stop the train; but if he does so the railroad company is not liable for an injury which follows. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Clinkenbeard, 72 Kan. 559, 84 Pac. 142.

Where it is impossible to stop the train in time to prevent injury on account of the speed at which the train is running, the railroad company is not liable to one injured, for such failure to stop. Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Johnson, 97 S. W. 745, 30 Ky. L. Rep. 142; Haley v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 197 Mo. 15, 93 S. W. 1120, 114 Am. St. Rep. 743.

A physical injury resulting from fright caused by the wrongful act or omission of the railroad's servants in failing to stop a train while crossing a bridge on which the injured person was walking and from which he had barely time to escape before the train reached him, may be recovered for from the railroad company where such servants saw and knew the dangerous situation of the injured person and knew, or should have known, that such person would be frightened and the injury that might result therefrom. Hendrix v. Texas, etc., R. Co., 40 Tex. Civ. App. 291, 89 S. W. 461.

Whether a brakeman on detached moving cars, who has received a danger signal from another railroad employee on the ground, is negligent in merely signaling the engineer to stop without endeavoring to stop the detached cars, where there is evidence that he acted promptly and could have stopped the detached cars before they ran over plaintiff is a question for the jury. Goodrich v. Burlington, etc., R. Co., 103 Iowa 412, 72 N. W. 653.

Where a person upon a railroad trestle upon seeing an approaching train jumps and is injured and the train stops before reaching the trestle, the railroad company is not guilty of negligence. Weeks v. Wilmington, etc., R. Co., 131 N. C. 78, 42 S. E. 541.

The failure of an engineer to stop a train in obedience to signals, although he did not know why he was signaled to stop, renders the railroad company liable for injuries caused thereby to a trespasser. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Pritchard, 168 Ind. 398, 79 N. E. 508, 81 N. E. 78, 9 L. R. A. N. S. 857 [affirming 39 Ind. App. 701, 78 N. E. 1044].

That it is impossible to entirely prevent the accident does not relieve the railroad company from liability for a death if the engineer could have stopped the engine in time to have spared life. Bernhardt v. Rensselaer, etc., R. Co., 23 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 166.

19. Iowa.— Burg v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 90 Iowa 106, 57 N. W. 680, 48 Am. St. Rep. 419.

Kansas.— Missouri Pac. R. Co. v. Prewitt, 59 Kan. 734, 54 Pac. 1067 [reversing 7 Kan. App. 556, 51 Pac. 923].

Kentucky.— Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Hathaway, 121 Ky. 666, 89 S. W. 724, 28 Ky. L. Rep. 628, 2 L. R. A. N. S. 498; Goodman v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 116 Ky. 900, 77 S. W. 174, 25 Ky. L. Rep. 1086, 63 L. R. A. 657.

Mississippi.— Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Williams, 69 Miss. 631, 12 So. 957.

New York.— Murch v. Western New York, etc., R. Co., 78 Hun 601, 29 N. Y. Suppl. 490.

Texas.— San Antonio, etc., R. Co. v. McMillan, 100 Tex. 562, 102 S. W. 103 [reversing (Civ. App. 1906) 98 S. W. 421], holding that a railroad company is not liable for the death of a person upon a railroad track where, when the trainmen discovered him, they did not recognize the object as a human being, and when they so recognized it, it was too late to stop the train before coming into collision with it.

Virginia.— Tucker v. Norfolk, etc., R. Co., 92 Va. 549, 24 S. E. 229.

United States.— New York, etc., R. Co. v. Kelly, 93 Fed. 745, 35 C. C. A. 571.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 1279.

20. Keyser v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 56 Mich.

(c) Right to Presume That Person Will Leave Track or Avoid Danger. It is a well-settled rule that where the railroad employees in charge of a train see a person on or near the tracks in advance of the train, unless they know or can see from his condition,[21] or from the surrounding circumstances that he will not or cannot retire to a place of safety in time to prevent an accident,[22] they have a right to presume that such person is of sound mind and good hearing and eyesight;[23] and where the proper alarm signal or warning, as by bell or whistle, is given to him of the approaching train,[24] they have a right to act on the assumption that he will hear and heed the warning when given, and will retire to or remain in a place of safety in time to prevent injury from the approaching train of which he has knowledge or of which, by the ordinary use of his senses, he should have knowledge.[25] This presumption, however, does not exist as an abstract proposition of 559, 23 N. W. 311, 56 Am. Rep. 405, 66 Mich. 390, 33 N. W. 867; Isabel v. Hannibal, etc., R. Co., 60 Mo. 475. See also German v. Bennington, etc., R. Co., 71 Vt. 70, 42 Atl. 972.

21. See infra, X, E, 2, a, (x), (e), (2).

22. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Monday, 49 Ark. 257, 4 S. W. 782; Peirce v. Walters, 164 Ill. 560, 45 N. E. 1068 [affirming 63 Ill. App. 562]; Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co. v. Judd, 10 Ind. App. 213, 36 N. E. 775; Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Morlay, 86 Fed. 240, 30 C. C. A. 6.

That a person was sitting on a track on a trestle or was stooping over it before he was struck is no evidence that he was in a position from which he could not extricate himself, precluding the engineer from assuming that he would get off the track when the train came near. Smalley v. Southern R. Co., 57 S. C. 243, 35 S. E. 489.

23. Alabama.— Frazer v. South Alabama, etc., R. Co., 81 Ala. 185, 1 So. 85, 60 Am. Rep. 145.

Florida.— Atlantic Coast Line R. Co. v. Miller, 53 Fla. 246, 44 So. 247.

Kansas.— Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Clinkenbeard, 72 Kan. 559, 84 Pac. 142.

Missouri.— Jackson v. Kansas City, etc., R. Co., 157 Mo. 621, 58 S. W. 32, 80 Am. St. Rep. 650.

Nebraska.— Omaha, etc., R. Co. v. Cook, 42 Nebr. 905, 62 N. W. 235.

Ohio.— Cincinnati, etc., R. Co. v. Murphy, 17 Ohio Cir. Ct. 223, 9 Ohio Cir. Dec. 703.

Texas.— Gulf, etc., R. Co. v. Hill, (Civ. App. 1900) 58 S. W. 255.

United States.— Finlayson v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 9 Fed. Cas. No. 4,793, 1 Dill. 579.

See 41 Cent. Dig. tit. "Railroads," § 1280; and cases cited infra, notes 24, 25.

Adults are presumed to be of sound mind and body and capable of avoiding accidents; and if an adult person is killed on its right of way by a railroad train, the company cannot be held liable until it is shown that such person was in a helpless condition and that the engineer had knowledge of such helplessness in time to have stopped his train and prevented the accident. Teel v. Ohio River R. Co., 49 W. Va. 85, 38 S. E. 518.

Where there is nothing in the appearance or conduct of such person to indicate that he was deaf, insane, intoxicated, or otherwise incapable of using his senses and exercising discretion, the engineer may safely assume that he will heed a warning signal if given in time, and get off the track. Ludden v. Columbus, etc., R. Co., 9 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 793, 7 Ohio N. P. 106.

24. Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Hocker, 55 S. W. 438, 21 Ky. L. Rep. 1398; Hebert v. Louisiana Western R. Co., 104 La. 483, 29 So. 239; Starbard v. Detroit, etc., R. Co., 122 Mich. 23, 80 N. W. 878; Finlayson v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 9 Fed. Cas. No. 4,793, 1 Dill. 579.

Necessity for signal.— In some jurisdictions employees in charge of a railroad train are not authorized to presume that a person seen on the track will leave it in time to avoid injury unless some warning is given. Houston, etc., R. Co. v. Harvin, (Tex. Civ. App. 1899) 54 S. W. 629; Kelley v. Ohio River R. Co., 58 W. Va. 216, 52 S. E. 520, 2 L. R. A. N. S. 898.

25. Alabama.— Southern R. Co. v. Gullatt, 150 Ala. 318, 43 So. 577; Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Lewis, 141 Ala. 466, 37 So. 587; Southern R. Co. v. Bush, 122 Ala. 470, 26 So. 168.

Arkansas.— St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Cain, (1907) 104 S. W. 533; St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Monday, 49 Ark. 257, 4 S. W. 782; St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Wilkerson, 46 Ark. 513.

California.— Holmes v. South Pac. Coast R. Co., 97 Cal. 161, 31 Pac. 834.

Florida.— Atlantic Coast Line R. Co. v. Miller, 53 Fla. 246, 44 So. 247.

Illinois.— Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Thompson, 99 Ill. App. 277.

Indiana.— Ullrich v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co., 151 Ind. 358, 51 N. E. 95 (holding that the reliance upon such presumption is not wilfulness); Pennsylvania Co. v. Meyers, 136 Ind. 242, 36 N. E. 32; Indianapolis, etc., R. Co. v. McClaren, 62 Ind. 566; Terre Haute, etc., R. Co. v. Graham, 46 Ind. 239; Scudder v. Indianapolis, etc., R. Co., Wils. 481; Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Cronbach, 12 Ind. App. 666, 41 N. E. 15; Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co. v. Judd, 10 Ind. App. 213, 36 N. E. 775.

Iowa.— Fisk v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 111 Iowa 392, 82 N. W. 931.

