PREFACE.

The system presented herein is designed for the following purposes:

1. To increase shorthand speed.
2. To supply a method of Shorthand which employs the Longhand characters, but, by using contracted combinations, the out line works more efficiently.

A. KARAM, PROBABLY THE WORLD'S GREATEST SHORTHAND AUTHORITY.

Three years of hard mental work, analyzing words in the dictionary to perfect a practical method of abbreviations to simplify the old complicated Shorthand Systems. And to give people in every walk of life the full chance to write and read Shorthand easily and correctly.

It is not only a system of "Practical Abbreviations" but a real Shorthand written in Longhand-Characters, to eliminate the long and difficult practice necessary to master other systems. And the theory of writing the outline of words, is controlled under specified rules to make Karam's Shorthand—Practical and Simple.

SPEED UNLIMITED: Average people with common school education can write 50 words per minute in longhand (every word in full). NOW, in writing 50 words per minute longhand, you will be able to more than treble your longhand in writing Karam's Shorthand.

KARAM'S SHORTHAND: Can also be written on any typewriter. Many stenographers can write more than 100 words per minute on a typewriter. (Every word in full.) After you master our system, you'll be able to take dictation on a typewriter at extraordinary speed—But remember, all you need is 100 words per minute speed to hold a well paying stenographic position.

KARAM'S WRITERS can always demand the highest salary—because they acquired the most modern Shorthand System.

A TALK WITH THE BEGINNER.

The student should not spend time looking ahead of the present lesson. Do not borrow trouble and you will naturally have less. Be satisfied to cross the river when you get to it. The harder thing will be easy, if you take the easy thing until you reach the harder one. In all your study and practice on the principles think out the spelling of the word or phrase but always write the outline. You are only half studying if you write without thinking or think without writing. You must do both.

Your future success depends to a very large extent on the way you do your work now. In order that your progress may be sure and rapid, master each lesson before you proceed with next.

After completing the principles and taking up the dictation work, you should continue to go over the principles in this book. Do this systematically. Begin with the first lesson and write and study everything over. You can easily go over one lesson a day besides your other work. And you will be rewarded by a greatly increased speed and accuracy. If you have these three qualifications the very best positions await you.

DON'T GET DISCOURAGED.—The complete mastery of Shorthand and Typewriting is worthy of your best efforts, and if you devote yourself earnestly to that work there can be no such thing as failure.

GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS.

1st. You should read these instructions not less than three times.

2nd. In studying the first four lessons you should understand each rule thoroughly, viz.: In what position the vowel is omitted? Whether single or double vowels? One dot or two dots? In the first part of a word or last part?

3rd. Be sure and notice the comma (,) colon (:), semicolon (;), also the small dash (-), long dash (—) or cross dash (|), etc.

4th. Do not try to learn more examples than are given in this book.

5th. The shorthand rules in the text book are very simple, and very important. Therefore it is necessary for a student to follow each rule very closely.

6th. Anything you cannot understand, you should ask your teacher about it.

7th. Use the muscular movement if you can. Have your pencil well sharpened, make your letter small as you can—this is conducive to higher speed.

8th. To become a proficient stenographer it is necessary to possess a complete mastery of the principles of the system. The student is, therefore, urged to become thoroughly familiar with each lesson before proceeding to the following one.

9th. Accuracy and neatness of writing should be the sole aim of the student.

Notice: The students should practice the system only with a pencil, until they pass the 100 words test.

LESSON I.

CONSONANTS: b c d f g h j k l m n p q r s t v w x z

VOWELS: a e i o u y 'w'

Pronounce the above phonetically.

KARAM'S SHORTHAND IS WRITTEN BY SOUND, viz.: ks is written x; th is written z; ge-gi (gey) is written j,—G (gay) as in give, is written g, and the c, as in (cat) is written k, And the sound of (ph) as in PHASE, is written (f).

(th) as in BOTH, represented by (') apostrophe—

OMISSION OF VOWELS

1. If the SINGLE vowel comes FIRST or SECOND or BEFORE the last character in the word, it is omitted. DOUBLE VOWELS are written in one according to the sound,—double consonants are written in one anywhere in the word. (SILENT characters not written or counted.) Viz.: Books, Cat, Box, Germ, Knife, Bought,

LESSON 4.

51. Some words occur so frequently that it is desirable to represent them in the briefest way possible. Each alphabetic character can be employed to stand for one or more words of which it happens to be a prominent sound. These are designated from one third to one half of the words found in any article of speech. They must be thoroughly committed to memory, until they can be written with a degree of speed.

Phrasing

52. By "phrasing" is meant the writing of two or more words together by which means speed is gained. Only such words should be joined which seem to have a natural connection when speaking them.

The examples which are given below are not to be memorized, they should be copied—not less than three lines of each written.

Notice: The authorized for O. K. are: O. K.'d —O. K.|—O. K.'s. The correct possessive form of Co. is Co.'s. The plural of B. L. is written Bs. L., also B. Ls., but the former method seems to be the more logical. The plural of most abbreviations is formed by simply adding s; as, hrs., sts., mfrs. etc. It will be noted that the tendency is to drop the apostrophe in abbreviations like Bldg., Mfg., etc.

56. The stenographer will be able to make special abbreviations for words, names, terms or phrases frequently occurring in his own work.

For example, the law stenographer would adopt small letter p. for "plaintiff," d for "defendant," w for "witness," ws yn for "what is your name?" wdu .z for "where do you reside?" h ng vu lv zr "how long have you lived there?"

57. The words "of the" are omitted when they occur in a sentence—that is, when they occur between other words. The omission is indicated by writing the SUCCEEDING word CLOSE to the word PRECEDING "of the."

Example

Your letter of the 8th.
