

— The White House “clown” has just negotiated four Middle East peace keeping agreements, something 71 years of political intervention and an endless wars have not produced.

— The White House “clown” is the first president who hasn't involved the United States in a war abroad since Eisenhower.

— The White House “clown” has had the biggest impact on the US economy, brought jobs and lowered unemployment for black and Latinos caused by other presidents.

— The White House “clown” exposed deep, widespread, long-term corruption in the FBI, CIA, NSA, and Republican and Democratic parties.

— The White House “clown” turned NATO around and let the alliance partners start paying their fees.

— The White House “clown” neutralized North Koreans nuclear testings, preventing them from developing another nuclear power and sending missiles to Japan and threatening the west coast states.

—The White House “clown” has transformed relations with the Chinese, brought hundreds of companies back to the US and stimulated the economy.

—The White House “clown” has completed the nomination of three Supreme Court justices and nearly 300 federal judges.

—The White House “clown” cut taxes, raised the IRS standard refund from $12,500, for married couples, to $24,400 - 100 causing the stock market to go at record highs, which positively influences pensions of tens of millions of citizens.

— This “clown” in the White House has revealed widespread pedophile circles in government and Hollywood, revealing the sex trafficking of minors worldwide.

—The White House “clown” works for free and lost over two billion dollars of his own money in service, and he did all that and much more to the undermining and opposition of those threatened because they know they'll be exposed as criminals if he gets reelected.

— I get it, y'all don't like him; many of you even hate and despise him. How clever. He serves the American people and continues to serve everyone. What do you do besides mention his name and make fun of him “catching the Chinese virus”??? And please let me know what Biden has accomplished in his 47 years as a public servant.

— I'll choose a “clown” over a fork tongue any day, over corrupt and hypocritical liars. I don't care whether I like his character or not, but I prefer a strong leader who is not afraid to kick someone's ass. I don't need a liar - that's reserved for Hollywood, CNN, MSNBC, ABC, NBC, CBS, Fox News and the New York Times.

I don't necessarily need someone to help me, but I certainly don't want an obstacle or a senile, demented swamp monster. God bless Donald Trump - the most unappreciated president in history.”
