“A nation at war with fascist regime of Iran and pleading for justice”

Dear United Nations Human Rights Council,

In all the countries that consist of democratic regimes, people choose qualified candidates from themselves who determine their expediency and defend their rights. These selected individuals gather together in a legislative chamber, which is the parliament of each country, to legislate the laws that guarantee the property and intellectual rights of the people who have chosen them as their representatives in the parliament. On the contrary, in Iran, all of the rights of its citizens have been deprived of them since the establishment of an antihuman Islamic regime and the foundation of this regime is based on creation of fear, giant massacres and killing people, restriction of freedom entities and depriving the citizens of their most preliminary basic rights and every time the citizens intended to defend their civil rights and axiomatic freedoms such as being able to choose how to dress, the government tried to shut them down them with the worst types of assassination and giant massacres. They've been dispatching the IRGC mercenaries and so called Basijis, who are armed to the teeth and have been trained to murder people, to the protesters in order to suppress the outcry of people rebelling against oppression since when the protests started. In this country that rulers exploit the most terrifying methods of creating fear and antihuman tortures in order to stop the pleading for justice voices coming from the people within the society, 230 Islamic Consultative Assembly (Iranian Parliament) representatives who have the obligation to defend people's right, have legislated a shameful and antihuman law that permits these slaughterous representatives to execute the people who speak of their own freedom rights in terms of clothing, therefore, as a well-experienced professor in the field of orthopedics medicine with 65 years of sincere service to people's health and as a person who tends to make the voice of my oppressed compatriots heard by the free world that claims human rights, I ask that legal authority to respond suitably to the call of the Iranian people who seek freedom and prevent the massacre of my compatriots.

Kind Regards, Prof. Dr. Rahim Rahmanzadeh
